Mairzy Doats and Gise McToons and nuttie alia singem—which needs to be translated for Mairzy Doats addicts into "Mares eat oats and guys make tunes and nuts will always singem." And if you live within screaming distance of a radio or juke box, you'll know what we're talking about. Above are three perpetrators of "Mairzy Doats," the latest "nut" song to sweep the country. Left to right, they are: Al Hoffman, Milton Drake and Jerry Livingston. Drake got idea for ditty when his 4-year-old daughter slurred together words of "Mares eat oats and does eat oats and little lambs eat ivy."

"NOT INTERESTED"
HACKENSACK, N. J.—A woman summoned for jury duty in Bergen county wrote Jury Commissioner Cover L. Goodroy:

Social Security Can't Detail 1943 Wages

Don't ask your social security board field office for a statement of your 1943 earnings for income tax purposes, Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo field office, requested today.

The social security board cannot help you because your employer's tax return will not have reached the board in time to permit it to make available a statement of your annual earnings for income tax returns, he said.

Reed said that each year "come income tax time," hundreds of people request statements of their annual earnings for use in making out income tax returns, because they know that the social security board keeps careful records of wages paid to workers in jobs covered by the old-age and survivors insurance system. It is on the basis of these records that benefits are calculated for the insured worker or his family.

Wages paid during the last three months of 1943 will be reported to the collector of internal revenue during January, Reed said. During February and March these reports will be forwarded to the Baltimore office of the bureau of old-age and survivors insurance. There the wage amounts will be recorded in the social security account maintained for each individual worker. This will not be completed until the end of June. "More than 600,000 wage items are received each day in the accounting offices of the social security board, so it is understandable why it will take until June 30 before the wages received during 1943 by the 47,000-000 persons who worked last year in jobs covered by old-age and survivors insurance are totaled for each individual. We are sorry—but when it comes to income tax returns, the social security board cannot be of help," he said.

Medical Acceptance Same as in Army?

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—A government attorney insisted before the supreme court that the induction of a drafted man occurs at the moment he is accepted by medical examiners and that refusal to take the oath does not keep him out of the army.

Edward G. Jennings, special assistant to the attorney general, made the contention in supporting a tenth federal circuit court ruling that Arthur Goodwyn Billings, former University of Texas teacher, was taken into the army when the oath was read to him even though he refused to subscribe to it.

Jennings told the court that Billings informed his draft board in Ottawa county, Kansas, that he would never serve in the army. He was classified 1-A, denied reclassification as a conscientious objector, reported to Fort Leavenworth for final physical examination, was classified in 1-B for limited service, and then refused to take the oath.

Spreading Influenza Is Warned Against

AUSTIN, Feb. 3.—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, today issued a warning to every victim of influenza, colds, or upper respiratory infections to be on guard against the possibility of spreading these diseases or a pneumococcus infection through coughing and sneezing.

"Persons who cough or sneeze without the proper use of a handkerchief will be very likely to be responsible for the spread of pneumonia. Placing a handkerchief over the mouth or nose when coughing or sneezing will help prevent the spread of infections," Dr. Cox said.

"The air is the medium through which influenza spreads. A person coughing or sneezing in an unventilated room where the air is stale and moist will almost certainly pass the infection on to others."

The increased prevalence of influenza is usually associated with an increased incidence of pneumonia. The sharp rise in the incidence of pneumonia in the past few weeks has demonstrated that influenza victims by coughing and sneezing have almost certainly been responsible for the present large number of pneumonia cases reported, Dr. Cox stated.

"A person who is not suffering from pneumonia may still have the pneumococcus germ in his throat or upper respiratory tract and can very easily pass the disease on to others. Considering the fact that pneumonia is a dangerous killer, especially in children and old people, every person should guard against spreading this infection among his fellow men," Dr. Cox declared.

38 States Will Provide Voting

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Thirty-eight out of 48 governors who replied to telegrams assured members of the senate today that their states either have made or will make special provision for absentee balloting by their citizens in the armed forces.

The question of whether states can provide the necessary machinery to record the votes of service personnel has figured in the senate debate on a proposed federal war ballot bill. Senator Byrd (D-Va.) placed the governor's telegrams in the record in support of his contention that the states are acting.

AMG Restores Life, Order To Old Naples

By TOM WOLF
NEA Staff Correspondent

NAPLES, Feb. 3—Three months ago when the Fifth Army fought its way into the most important city in southern Italy, the prize they saw was a ghost. Naples had no water, no power, no light, no telephones, no transport, little food, no garbage collection, no police, no schools, no courts.

The Fascist mayor had fled. The port seemed a heap of rubble. A time-bomb wrecked the post office; shops were closed; criminals had been freed; the dead were unburied; the living—two-thirds of Naples' 1,000,000 population had stayed in the city—were hungry, dirty, many of them living in quarry caves at night, looting by day.

Only Mount Vesuvius was unchanged—a smoldering beacon to guide German night bombers to the completion of the destruction.

Two months later, Naples had water. There was light in most of the city. There was phone service for essential Army uses. There was transportation—even a few taxis for civilians. Now, there is food; garbage is being collected; the police force is at work; courts are open; schools will open soon.

HARBOR IS BUSY

The port, as the Germans know only too well, is doing a lot of business. Postal service is being resumed. Shops are doing a land-office business. The dead are buried; looting is stopped; trolleys are running.

Such is the Allied Military Government's answer to its critics. Naples still is in bad shape. It will be years after the war before this city is really back on her feet. But Naples is alive today despite the supreme efforts of Germany's most expert destroyers.

The Germans did their best to wreck the city completely. They took only a few examples. Thirty German sappers spent two weeks doing nothing but mine the machinery at the important Iliwa steel mill. Mines in Naples' most important telephone exchange wrecked 20,000 dial numbers and many other important installations. The electric power network was systematically blown up. The aqueduct was blown up in a dozen major places.

"The restoration of the water system in incredibly fast time was our biggest and best job," said Lt. Col. A. Kraege of Burlington, Kan.

AMG's senior officer in Naples. Incredibly fast time it was, too. The worst damage was the complete destruction of one long section spanning a deep valley. Civilian experts said it couldn't be repaired in less than three months. The Fifth Army engineers with civilian help bypassed the place in three days. Water was coming through within eight days.

The water ran at a comparative trickle because, without electric power, pumps could not work to keep the main reservoir at its proper level. The rigging up of makeshift electrical system was AMG's second biggest job.

NAZIS HOLD POWER PLANTS

Makeshift, it had to be. The Germans had destroyed all four of Naples' chief power substations. They held and still do the main sources of Naples' power—hydro-electric plants to the north.

Captain Harvey P. Wingate, upper Montclair, N. J.—the AMG officer who has been in charge of the water supply—went to work on power. A new transmission line was built to southern hydro-electric plants in Allied hands. Emergency lines were rigged. By November 1, the first job was completed. Because of the danger of mines wired to the power system, the line was moved out of the sections of Naples to get power while the test was made. It worked without incident. Power was turned on in the essential areas for special uses two days later.

Throughout this crucial month, civilian health somehow remained good, except for a threat of typhus. Other problems still remain. There are no phones for civilians. There is a shortage of coal (the Germans set fire to 4000 tons). There is no gas.

And all over the city there is a need for more food, relief and industry.

DON'T BUY ANOTHER DEPRESSION

It is this What You Are Fighting For? Want to see bread lines in this country again. A nation where your children grow up to get a handout instead of a job. Your answer is YES if you are buying anything today you can get along without . . . Your answer is NO if you're saving every penny you can. When you blow your dough, you're hurting yourself. And your country. Spending today shoots prices up. That's because there's more money to spend today than there are things to buy. And rising prices are tough to stop. That's inflation, and every inflation has been followed by ruinous depression. If you're fighting for a place in a bread line tomorrow, go ahead and spend. But if you're fighting for a future of security and comfort your money will do a lot more good for you . . . and your family . . . and your country in War Bonds, in life insurance, and in a savings account. DON'T BUY ANOTHER DEPRESSION.

You're a FOOL, MRS. PUBLIC . . . Sure all that stuff looked grand in the store. And Someone told your prices were going up. So you thought it would be smart to stock up plenty now . . . That wasn't smart Mrs. Public . . . Not Today. Everytime you buy anything you don't absolutely have to have right now you're sending prices up . . . That means you're helping to bring on inflation . . . And inflation always ends in depression . . . You wouldn't deliberately bring on another depression, would you? Then STOP every bit of spending that isn't absolutely necessary. Look hard at every cent before you spend it. Then put it into War Bonds instead . . . and leave it there. Buy more insurance. And add to your savings account . . . You'll be buying future security for yourself and your family. And you'll be helping America to stay prosperous and provide jobs for everyone. DON'T BUY ANOTHER DEPRESSION.

think of a boy who never will...*

THINK OF HIM—and ask yourself this question: Which of you—this boy or yourself—could more truthfully have said today: "I'm sorry—I've done all I can"?

To that, there is only one answer. For no sacrifice any of us made this day can ever begin to measure up to his final and supreme sacrifice—his very life.

So, when we're asked to buy an extra $100

War Bond this month—over and above what we'd been planning to buy—how can we find it in our hearts to say, "I'm sorry—I've done all I can!"

Think it over—and help get this war over sooner by doing your share.

Buy an extra $100 War Bond tomorrow! At least $100. Better $200, $300, or even $500. You can afford it.

Germans Fight Bitterly to Keep Yanks from Road

ON THE RAPIDO RIVER FRONT AT CASSINO, Feb. 1. (Delayed) (AP)—Doughboys of the Fifth Army advancing under covering fire of friendly tanks entered the northern half of the old Italian barracks of the Nazi Gustav line, and took a number of prisoners.

"Look at them—nice fellows!" said Capt. Edwin B. Olson of Fargo, N. D., communications officer of the tank unit which supported the attack, as a column of blue-clad young Nazis walked back cheerfully under guard.

"Supermen! They shoot until all their ammunition is exhausted and they have killed and wounded a lot of our men and then they crawl out of their bunkers and give up."

The prisoners' clothes were soiled and mud-stained and they looked as if they had been in the line a long time without relief. Most were unshaven.

The Americans attacked through a heavy mist across the soggy valley to a corner of the barracks which long had been a troublesome center of enemy fire. They captured a number of long, flat buildings in the barracks so well fortified that steady shelling for days had not reduced the defenses. The Germans also used the barracks as one of several shelters for roaming, self-propelled 77-millimeter guns. Two of these wandering field pieces have been destroyed by U. S. tanks and one was captured by the infantry in the last few days.

Fuzes pushed to within 300 yards of Cassino overnight, but withdrew under heavy machine-gun fire. The Germans have staffed their defense with "suicidal squads" to delay the Americans as long as possible through the Cassino corridor while they hurriedly strengthen other positions behind their punctured present line.

This strategy has as a key factor the denial to the Allies of highway

It's a Bird of an Idea

Customers in Chicago barber shop of Peter Badali, right, get free cigarette-putting-out service along with their shaves and haircuts. Above, Tommy, the bluejay, removes a cigarette from the mouth of Mario Nottoli, a customer. Tommy also picks up change, files to the cash register, and drops it in.

No. 6 passing through Cassino and leading straight to Rome.

The infantry who drove through to the barracks in the face of small arms and direct artillery fire were commanded by Major Warren Chapman, Nevada City, Calif. Capt. James R. McClymont, 27-year-old Holdrege, Neb., stockman, told how a relative handful of Germans remaining in the Cassino positions have been able to hold the Yanks off this long by skillful use of rugged terrain admirable for defense, but hell on the attackers.

"The Germans directed the river into the irrigation canal, making a terrific obstacle for the infantry," McClymont said. "These ditches were 10 feet wide and three feet deep and when our boys got to the other side of the canal they had to find a way to scramble up a six-foot canal wall."

"Then they come out on flat marshy ground that gives no protection from enemy fields of fire. The hills around Cassino still are full of machine-guns and bunkers although we captured a lot of their men in the last few days."

"In moving across the valley our Doughboys find it almost impossible to dig foxholes because the ground is so swampy the holes fill up almost immediately with water."

PAAF Officer Will Instruct Bible Class

Lt. T. W. Camp, ground school instructor at Pampa Field, will teach the Everyman's Bible class in the city club room at the city hall next Sunday morning. J. Ray Martin, class president said today.

A graduate of Yale, where he received his B. A. and Ph. D. degrees in 1926, Lt. Camp, prior to entering the army air forces in July, 1942, was a member of the faculty of the University of Texas for four years and at Texas Tech for seven years. At Yale he was a student of the late famed William Lyon Phelps, one of the best known English instructors of his day.

Although Lt. Camp's small son is the first in over seven generations to be born outside New England, he is very proud he is a Texan and can claim Pampa as his birthplace.

Mr. Martin has extended an invitation to all former students of Texas and Texas Tech to attend the Everyman's Bible class next Sunday between 10 and 10:45 to hear Lt. Camp.

Testimony Of Soldier Reverses Liquor Decision

AUSTIN, Feb. 3 (AP)—Testimony of an army sergeant assigned to the Texas liquor control board caused reversal of a $100 fine assessed Weldon (Jim) Nabors in Rains county for conviction of selling a pint of liquor to the sergeant.

The criminal appeals court agreed with Nabors' contention this testimony by Sgt. J. S. Alred was prejudicial and inflammatory.

"We have to protect the boys in the army from people who violate the law and sell whiskey to our soldier boys and things that interfere with their work—we ride highways and search houses."

In an opinion Judge Thomas Beauchamp said this evidence served no purpose and was prejudicial and quite inflammatory "under the conditions."

Alred who testified he was a U. S. army investigator assigned to work with a liquor control board inspector said he purchased a pint of whiskey from Nabors in a filling station and took a drink of it.

Alred said he was stationed at Majors Field, Greenville. Rains county is dry.

C. A. Paxton, chief enforcement officer of the Texas liquor control board, said army personnel frequently is assigned to work with board.

Amarillo Firemen Lose Overtime Suit

AUSTIN, Feb. 3 (AP)—Application by attorneys for firemen at Wichita Falls and Amarillo for a hearing of suits in which they sought overtime pay was denied by the supreme court.

The firemen claimed overtime on the basis that they were required to work at least part of each calendar day and were not allowed a day off each week as defined by law. The justices contended the law merely contemplated that firemen have a 24-hour rest period during the week, and countered that firemen actually received three such rests.

Effects of the ruling was to make the decision final.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster— Now her Backache is better

Many millions relieve aching backache quickly, and they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help meet the needs of the body.

When function of kidney permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sex and energy, vertigo, night sweats, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with stinging and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 45 million of kidney trouble sufferers receive from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

PACIFIC

(Continued from Page 1) knocked out but so were the minds of those who had miraculously managed to live through the bombing that sheared the tops off coconut trees.

The Japanese sniped from trees and roofs of pillboxes. The Marines picked off hundreds of them before nightfall the first day. After dark, the enemy began infiltrating, but they were systematically thwarted. The Marines took some prisoners, including crack naval guard forces.

The Japs' cockiness was gone. They looked frightened. One trembling prisoner told an American officer that he and others on the island knew that the Japanese no longer had a chance to win the war.

All buildings on Namur were razed except one badly battered concrete structure. Only the steel framework of hangers at Roi were left standing. Coral runways there were pocked with bomb craters as was Namur's coconut grove and beach area as Marines used the craters for foxholes until they had time to dig in.

I slept in a foxhole. Enemy bullets whined overhead throughout the darkness. Our casualties appear light. I saw one pillbox where 18 Japanese, including several officers, had been exterminated by the naval bombardment. Their charred and broken bodies were buried in debris. Two prisoners were taken from the same pillbox.

The pier at Namur was left a mass of debris. A giant steel crane at its end was twisted like so much wire. Ammunition dumps were still exploding when I walked to the beach with two colonels. We dived toward a tank for protection. I fell alongside Alton Thomas, a big broad-shouldered Texan, and we were showered by rocks, concrete and wood as an ammunition dump near the middle of the island exploded.

"You know," Alton drawled, "I'd just as soon be reading about this in the morning paper." Barracks once dotted Namur and it was marked off by streets. But they're hard to find now. The maps given us to find our way around were outdated after the savage salvos from the navy's big guns the day before the Marines landed on Roi and Namur.

Dead Japanese sent up a sickening cloud and marines began moving to foxholes farther from the bodies until they could find the time to bury them. Col. Hart sent his men today to wipe out the last Japanese resistance and before nightfall expects the enemy to be cleaned out except for scattered snipers.

Accidental Child Deaths Increase

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (AP)—A sharp rise in accidental deaths among the nation's children during the war period was reported today by the National Safety Council.

The council said 11,500 children under 15 years were killed in home and public accidents last year, compared with 9,300 in the pre-war year of 1941, an increase of 23.5 per cent. The child fatalities were included in the 1943 total of accidents of all kinds of all ages—94,500 killed, 9,700,000 injured and an economic loss of five billion dollars.

In the home, the council said, there were 1,200 more deaths among children under five years in 1943 than in 1941, an increase of 23 per cent, while in the 5 to 14 year group, the increase in home deaths was approximately 400, or 34 per cent.

Fatalities in 1943 among children in public places, other than traffic, increased by 600, or 21 per cent, and most of this hike—500, or 21 per cent—was among children 5 to 14 years old.

In contrast with the total increase among children of 2,200 deaths, or 23 per cent, in home and public (non-traffic) accidents, among adult civilians in the 15-64 year age group dropped 1,400, or 9 per cent.

Catholic Leader Says Reds Want Separate Peace

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—A Russian writer's charge that the Vatican had pursued a pro-Fascist policy against Russia's counter-accusations by a Catholic leader that Russia is laying the groundwork "for alienating itself from the Allies and making a separate peace with Germany."

"Soviet condemnation of the Vatican is merely an item in a pattern which Russia is skillfully working out," said Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen, associate professor of philosophy at Catholic university and widely known as a writer and conductor of the Radio Catholic Hour.

His comment, in the form of a prepared statement, followed publication by Ivestia, official Soviet newspaper, of an article by Dimitri Petrov, which said that "the Vatican has assumed the position of direct accomplice of Fascism." Petrov asserted that Pope Pius XII had "maintained diplomatic relations with Hitler" and "helped Hitler strangle the Italian people, including Catholic groups opposed to Fascism in Germany as well as in Italy."

Assailing what he described as Russia's "rigorous censorship" of the press, Msgr. Sheen stated: "Every other nation on the face of the earth knows that the Vatican condemned Fascism in an encyclical written in German, and Communism in an encyclical written in Latin. To the land therefore that allows no infiltration of religion, we should apply the words of the Savior on the cross: 'Father forgive them. They know not what they do.'"

The Evestia criticism, he said, "is one of one piece with the recent Soviet condemnation of the British for their alleged attempt to make a separate peace with Germany," and added: "It is thus prepared for its own infidelity by accusing a spouse of infidelity. Having accused the political order of connivance with an enemy, it now accuses religion. This does Russia prepare both politically and religiously for alienating itself from the Allies and making a separate peace with Germany."

"Stalin does not hate Nazism or the German army. He hates only Hitler. He made this statement to Harry Hopkins in December, 1941. He repeated it in another form in February, 1942."

"It is therefore not at all unlikely that once Hitler is overthrown from within, that Stalin will make separate peace with the German military staff. Perhaps that is why the words 'unconditional surrender' were left out of the Teheran declaration."

Two of 400 workers suffered minor injuries.

Allied forces made new progress in the Southwest Pacific offensive against Madang, Japanese-held key to Northern New Guinea. Australians in the Ramu valley were reported less than 35 miles south of the big base. On the coast, Japanese troops fled into the mountains in an attempt to escape an Allied pincer. Many others were disclosed to have died of starvation.

Nipponese plane losses at Rabaul for January climbed to 567 destroyed or probably destroyed as 15 more planes were knocked out in two raids on the battered New Britain base at the close of last month. The latest attack cost the Allies four planes. A 5,000-ton enemy freighter was sunk by Liberator bombers at Hansa bay, Northeastern New Guinea.

Army forces battling the Japanese on Bougainville threw tanks into the fight for the first time Monday and knocked out 19 pillboxes during an all-day assault on the east side of the Tokorina river mouth. At least 80 Japanese were killed.

"Big Moose" Scowls On Rabbit Ball

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—(AP)—This vitamin-filled "rabbit ball" the major leagues are using now, there's something big Ed Walsh, the old Chicago White Sox pitcher, doesn't approve.

Walsh came to Chicago from his Meriden, Conn., home to be guest of honor at tonight's annual old-timers baseball banquet—an event attracting some 1,000 yarn-spinners. He's carrying the torch for the outlawed spitball, which he reinstated or the lively ball kicked out.

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Baseball's hot stove league was working overtime today as the game's old timers gathered in Chicago for the diamond jubilee dinner of the old time baseball players' association.

Some 1,100 former and current diamond greats and just plain fans will attend tonight's dinner commemorating 75 years of pro baseball in Chicago.

Among the guests of honor will be Ed Walsh, the famed White Sox pitcher; Mordecai (Three Finger) Brown, old time Chicago Cubs hurler; Tony (Cotton) Mullins, Cincinnati Red Stockings pitcher in the '80's; Charlie Grimm, Milwaukee manager and ex major league player and manager; and Ray Schalk, former White Sox catcher and Walsh's battery mate.

"Only one in 20 pitchers can throw a real curve today," says the "Big Moose," who was drafted by the late Charles Comiskey for a mere $750 in 1904 and turned into an amazing 40-game winner four years later. "Put the spitball back in and let 'em get their curves with it. Or put a ban on this danged rabbit ball. This generation is getting too home-run conscious. The spitter acts just like a curve, but breaks more on the end."

The 195-pound master of the spitball will be 64 years old in May. He is one of baseball's all-time greats as well as all-time bargains and is confident he could win 50 games or so today despite the revigorated ball.

"Course, I couldn't step up on the mound and do it right now," he contends, with some restraint. "But if I had the arm I had back in the good old days—"

After mastering the vicious spitter, Walsh won 17 games in 1906, 24 in 1907 and his incredible 40 in 1908, winning against such greats as Ty Cobb, Sam Crawford, Eddie Collins and others. In six years he appeared in 356 games. His arm simply wore out.

"I predict that when Ted Williams comes back," Walsh says, "He'll smash Ruth's all-time record of 60 homers. Ted is about the most powerful smash hitter I've seen."

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Baseball men likely will raise a howl about Alva Bradley's statement that he'd rather close the Cleveland ball park than present anything but "high quality" baseball (and he'd better start overhauling the pedlocks now), but they all are giving serious consideration to possible shortages—one of the likely moves will be to relax the rule against trading after June 15, except by waivers—if a club should lose its only shortstop, for example, it would have to make a deal in a hurry and not wait for the three-day waiver period to expire.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR Ray Garrett, Hamilton (O.) Journal-News: "The former Cincy Red and New York Giant, Bill Werber, is battling a million in the life insurance league. In his first full year in his new profession, Bill has written over $1,500,000 worth of insurance. Maybe another erstwhile Giant, Bill Terry, wasn't so far wrong after all—There's no money in baseball."

SERVICE DEPT. Bus. William Scheerer, athletic officer of the Oklahoma U. naval ROTC unit has invented a new game which has caught on with the army and navy trainees. It involves tossing a medicine ball over a rope, like volleyball. Scheerer calls it "v-ball" but some of the guys who've played it call it murder.

Hugh Casey, the old Dodger hurler, is a swimming instructor at the Norfolk naval air station and says he "never was happier." Pvt. George Agovino, an also-ran in two National A. A. U. mile races, has twice made the best time in the 100-yard swim at Fort Monmouth, N. J.—Lieut. Joe Belnor, the Redskin turned marine, writes from the South Pacific about diving down 30 feet to spear baby rays. He has to admit that he's not talking about the Green Bay tackle.

Carver Opens Cage Season Here Tonight

Opening their basketball season, the Carver High school basketball teams of Pampa will play the Patton High school basketball teams of Amarillo, boys and girls, at 8 o'clock in the Pampa Junior High school gymnasium.

The girls' game will be the opener with the game between the boys' teams will wrap up the twin-bill.

South side gymnasium seats will be for Negroes and north for whites. Carver High school, having no gymnasium, is using the junior high gymnasium. This makes their basketball season open later than would be the case ordinarily. This year they are opening their cage season a little ahead of the customary time.

The game against the Amarilloans, while opening the conference schedule for Carver, is the second game they have played as the boys' team played a Negro team from Pampa Field in a practice contest some time ago.

After playing Patton, other games will be played by the Carver basketball team with Clarendon, Childress and Quanah quintets, according to Aaron Meek, Sam Houston school principal, whose work includes supervision of Carver, the local Negro school.

March 28 Set For National Cage Finals

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 3.—(AP)—District committee to select teams to compete in the national collegiate athletic association's 1944 national basketball tournament were announced today by H. C. Olsen, Ohio State University coach and general tournament chairman.

Under the tournament setup, the committee in each of the association's eight districts will select the outstanding teams in its area. Teams from the four districts east of the Mississippi river will compete at Madison Square Garden, New York, March 23 and 25 while the four western outfits will clash at Kansas City March 24 and 25.

The two survivors of these meets will tangle in Madison Square Garden March 28 for the NCAA title now held by the University of Wyoming. The Cowboys won the crown last year, defeating Georgetown in the finals.

Arizona Amateur Golfers Tee Off In Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Arizona's best amateur golfers stepped into big-time competition with the nation's leading professionals today in the pro-amateur match on Friday's opening round of the $5,000 Phoenix open golf tournament.

It was strictly a tune-up performance for the 35 pros entered in the main event, as they were teeing off with as many as three partners each from the heavy field of simon-pures. The flat fairways but were striped greens of the Phoenix Country club's 18-hole, par-71 layout won't see the real crowds until tomorrow when the money makers start matching strokes for the 72-hole crown.

It will be the rubber-test in the Byron Nelson-Harold (Jug) McSpaden winter tour rivalry which started with the Los Angeles open earlier this year.

Both pros made a tactical secret of their practice rounds on the Phoenix course yesterday while Harry Cooper of Minneapolis posted a 64, seven under par.

W. Willie Goggin, New York; Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, Calif., former national tennis title-holder, and Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., posted 68's.

Craig Wood, Mararoneck, N. Y., duration national open champion, and Tony Penna of Dayton, O., carded 69's and one-off-par 70's were turned in by Ed Dudley, Colorado Springs; Jimmy Hines, Alameda, N. Y.; and Sam Byrd of Detroit.

Nelson and Jug Meet Third Time In Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 3.—(AP)—The professional rivalry of Byron Nelson, Toledo's superb golf star, and Harold (Jug) McSpaden, the former Philadelphia, reaches its third 1944 round this week-end when they vie for war bonds in the $5,000 Phoenix open.

They—and probably 25 other pros and 80 amateurs—will match strokes over the tree-bordered fairways and well-trapped greens of the Phoenix Country club, site of two western opens in pre-war days.

Nelson comes here at the peak of his game after topping the San Francisco open January 17 with a spectacular 72-hole total of 275—13 strokes under par.

McSpaden, who placed second at San Francisco six shots behind Nelson, has been playing brilliantly on the war-abbreviated western winter swing of the first-windling pro golf brigade. "Jug" took top money in the rich Los Angeles open earlier this year with a 278 to establish a new 72-hole record at the Wilshire Country club.

Nelson, holder of the national open championship in 1939 and the professional golfers' association title in 1940, carried a morning round 79 and an afternoon 69 over the Phoenix layout yesterday, McSpaden, playing with Nelson, record a 69 and a 71.

Beau's 1-A Changes Three Fight Dates

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Because Beau Jack has been reclassified 1-A by his August 6, draft board, Promoter Mike Jacobs has switched the dates of the two shows involving Jack, Bob Montgomery and Sammy Angott leading to an undisputed lightweight champion.

As it stands now Jack and Montgomery will meet March 3, instead of March 31, with the winner fighting Angott, the NBA champion, on March 24 instead of May 26.

Primarily because of lend-lease, U. S. exports for the first nine months of 1943 amounted to $9,197,000,000, compared with $5,575,000,000 for the corresponding period a year ago.

Herbert Enters Millrose Races

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Jim Herbert, veteran New York middle-distance runner, completed the field in the Millrose 600 and ended his feud with the track meet's management today by filing his official entry blank.

The little Negro, now 28, has won the event four times in a row and his presence in the 1944 classic completes the five-man field that includes Johnny Pulten of Stamford, Pacific Coast AAU quarter-mile king; Bob Ufer of Michigan, Big Ten champion; Charley Grohsberger of Dartmouth; and Joe Nowicki, now a navy trainee at Rochester but NCAA and IO-4A winner at 880 yards while at New York university last year.

Although Herbert has a chance of equalling Alan Heifrich's five consecutive triumphs, Herbert played hard to get until late yesterday.

Earlier in the week Herbert had said he might not run because Prud Schmetz, manager of the meet, had doled out two tickets behind a post in Madison Square garden for Herbert's parents in 1940.

"I wasn't doing too well in 1940 because I was going to law school at night and working in the post office during the day and so the officials stuck my folks behind a post. This year I couldn't go to law school and am getting plenty of sleep.

"I am running well again and of course the management can't do enough for me again. I don't like it. Schmetz, I understand, only countered with the offer of four good tickets for the Herbert family but the athlete said he needed time to think it over.

Lon Gehrig Leads Gotham Sports Poll

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—It is still Lon Gehrig in the hearts of American sportsmen as the late Yankee first baseman continues to lead the popularity poll which is being conducted by a New York sports committee of the Fourth War Loan drive.

Ward Cuff, Giants' pro football star, ranks second with Babe Ruth third. Mel Ott, manager of the New York Giants, has moved into fourth place, displacing Lt. Don Bugde, Patry Berg, famous golfing star, spurred into fifteenth place as a new women's leader.

Farrell Flyers Blast Phillips Oilers, 40-15

Looping the basket 17 times for field goals and netting six free throws out of 13, the basketball team composed of training squadron 1 players, made a "milk run" against the Phillips Oilers in a game at Pampa Field Tuesday night, the birdmen whipping the petrol owners 40 to 15.

WAKE-UP AMERICA

HIGGERS OF TEXAS

This is about Biggers of Texas, pamphletter extraordinary, printer for plain people, our modern Tom Paine. He got completely fed up one day on bureaucrats, politicians and alphabets. He made a list of some of them and sent a few copies to his friends with the suggestion that it be filed away as "an index of the goofiest period of American history."

When the responses began to roll in Mr. Biggers was surprised, astonished, amazed, overwhelmed. That was last April. Mr. Biggers is more surprised today, nine months later. His gentle little snowflake became a pellet, a snowball, a snowdrift, an avalanche, the homely stuff struck home. "The common people heard him gladly," He told them what they wanted to hear.

His first print of 1000 copies has now gone to four million, with another four million rolling off the presses. He is getting eight hundred letters a day and averages 40,000 copies in his outgoing mail between dawn and dark. Last Saturday his postage bill was $256.00.

The public relations experts in New York and Washington who never undertake a job for less than a ten or fifty thousand dollar fee might say "pooh-pooh" to all this. Biggers may seem small to them. But when better and bigger Biggers are built, I want to order one. Biggers is a big man today just because he is a small business man and knows what the other little people are up against. He talks their language.

Biggers is a small printer and at first he rolled his own. But now he is drowned in the flood of orders, fighting for air. He can't handle the stampede. So he is turning over the print job to other printers as far as Chicago, a million at a time. Claiming no copyright, he tells one and all to help themselves and print their own. The result is that millions of copies are being printed, of which he knows nothing. But it is likely his salty Epistle to the Bureaucrats will run twenty million copies before it loses speed. If folks vote as they write Biggers' letters a sea-tide flowing up the Potomac.

There is a human interest story in this man Biggers and his inky little shop that the SATEVE Post, Collier's or Life ought not to overlook. He is lean as Lincoln, sunburned as Davy Crockett and steady on the trigger. Ben Franklin, Tom Paine, Dean Swift, Voltaire would love this man from Texas. So would old Tom Jefferson who was no slouch himself when he took pen in hand.

But I forgot. Congressman Fulmer of South Carolina got one of the Biggers Block Busters last June, and undertook to set Mr. Biggers back on his haunches. All that he got in return for the Honorable wished he had never mailed. Biggers bounced off the canvass, oiled up his leathery fist, and let 'er go on the Honorable. Wham! He sent copies of this out to his friends also, and did it all in one letter. They wolfed it down and howled for more. And so not only his Index of the Alphabets but millions of his Fulmer letters are going out into every county in the U. S., including the Congressman's counties. The Fulmer district is full of them. It's rare reading, folks—"a bunch of fan-tailed theorists who are attacking everything that has made America great, even its geography, calendar and clock."

So the letters pour in to Biggers—from railroad conductors, a CIO organizer in Detroit, AF of L men, soldiers, sheep men, cow punchers, miners, ministers, all wanting copies. Maybe you will want some too. If you do, a dollar will bring you a hundred. The address is—E. M. Biggers, 100 Sabine Street, Houston, 10, Texas.

TODAY ON THE HOME FRONT

by James Marlow and George Zielke

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Here is a question-answer explanation of the congressional fight over soldier voting.

Q. What are the main arguments?

A. Whether there should be a federal ballot or state ballots.

Q. What is the federal ballot and how would it work?

A. The servicemen would not vote in the primaries and would not vote for candidates for state or local offices. They would vote only in the final contest for president, vice president and members of congress from their states.

They would vote on blank ballots supplied by the armed services, either writing in the name of the candidates or merely the name of the party, Democratic or Republican, as they chose.

The candidates' names would be supplied the armed services by a federal ballot commission of two Democrats and two Republicans appointed by the president, with senate confirmation.

Q. What is the state ballot and how would it work?

A. The details on the state ballot system are still up in the air but do this: The 48 states would make up their own ballots, with the names of the various candidates for federal, state or even local offices. Servicemen, on postcards supplied by the army, navy would write their state secretaries for ballots, vote them, and send them back via the armed services to the state secretaries.

Or—the states would print their ballots and turn them over to the armed forces for distribution to the men of each state, without necessarily having a serviceman writing in to request a ballot.

Q. Which would be the easier to handle, the federal ballot or the state ballot?

A. There is no doubt that the federal ballot could be distributed and collected much more easily.

Q. Why is congress debating the measures instead of passing the federal ballot plan?

The best known federal ballot still now in congress still gives aside state laws on voting. It doesn't do it directly. It does it indirectly by not mentioning—and not attempting to amend—that section of the 1942 law which says poll tax or registration requirements or rules against absentee voting can not stand in the way of a serviceman's vote.

Some Democrats and Republicans are fighting the federal ballot plan on those grounds: That states' rights are being violated, that only the states and not congress have a right to say who shall vote in any state.

County Expenditures During 1943 Reported at New Low

Gray county spent less money in 1943 than it did in either 1939, 1940, 1941 or 1942, the annual report of County Auditor Ramon C. Wilson presented to the county commissioners reveals.

In the past year Gray county spent $245,305.59, or $94,441.12 less than in 1942. For the entire period, 1939-42, expenses are down one-third. This is true on dollars, but Auditor Wilson cautions, "it is inaccurate insofar as the 1943 dollar has declined in

For 1942, disbursements totaled $338,806.71; 1941, $321,049.72; 1940, $366,932.83; 1939, $478,318.63. The 1943 figure does not include bonds purchased.

Receipts during the past year totaled $458,797.78.

Turning to post-war plans, the auditor states:

"We believe there can be no serious quarrel with the present policy of building reserves to care for what might be referred to as fixed expenses suspended by war time restrictions, i. e., machine and major road and bridge repairs, and maintenance of ample balances in all accounts.

"Continuation of this policy together with a constant and alert study of changing conditions and possibilities may be the practical extent of such planning until it is possible to compile a definite list of needs and establish relative importance of such needs."

"Our records show that replacement costs of road equipment and machinery for the years 1938 to 1941 inclusive averaged slightly less than $20,000 per year and to prevent the pent-up demand for such machinery coming as a charge against the revenues of one or two years, bonds have been purchased to serve as a cushion to the impact of heavy purchases that must be made when machinery is again available.

"Tax payments have maintained a high level and registration fees from motor vehicles have greatly exceeded anticipated income from this source.

"Reduced tax rates by both state and county have given the lowest levy in effect since 1916 when the state rate was 45 cents and the county rate was 35 cents, a total of 80 cents.

"The present tax rate is 47 cents state and 50 cents county, a total of 97 cents.

"Assessed valuation of Gray county for 1943 is $28,722,651; in 1942, the figure was $29,396,117; in 1929, $4,038,903.

Bank balances as of Dec. 31, 1943, on the 15 funds: General, $83,368.76; jury, $7,793.91; road and bridge, $3,015.46; road and bridge 1, $14,938.18; road and bridge 2, $29,840.87; road and bridge 3, $7,346.02; road and bridge 4, $10,318.34; court house and jail, $3,282.38.

Bond interest and sinking fund, $15,866.21; court house and jail interest and sinking, $27,277.24; road and bridge interest and sinking, $3,006.04; special, $5,691.40; salary, $10,289.42; permanent school, $1,352.20; lateral road $4,492.80; total bank balance, all funds, $217,897.53.

"Transfers from general to salary and from special to various tax supported funds totaled $168,039.44, of which $29,000 was from general to salary and $143,039.44 in the other category.

"Bonded outstanding indebtedness of the county as of Dec. 31, 1943, is $509,000.

Cities, Camps Get Awards For Water Plants

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 3.—(AP)—W. H. Hicks, city engineer of Paris, was elected president of the Texas waterworks and sewage short school for 1944, sponsored by the Texas A. & M. engineering school, the state health department and the Texas division of the American Waterworks association.

He succeeds Roy Matthews, Albany waterworks superintendent. Other officers elected were: W. M. Joiner, San Marcos, first vice-president; Joe B. Winston, University of Texas medical school, Galveston, second vice-president; F. M. Ehlers and Mrs. Earl H. Goodwin of the state health department, re-elected secretary and assistant secretary-treasurer.

Col. W. A. Hardenbergh of the army sanitary corps designated malaria as the big overseas problem. Malaria, he said, accounts for one-third of the hospital cases — 10 times the number of battle casualties.

The sanitary corps comprises 2,550 officers of which 35 are Texans, with 18 in overseas duty. As a result of supervision of the water supply, there have been no water borne disease outbreaks in service camps of the United States since outbreak of the war.

Presentation of awards to outstanding water or sewage plant developments were made to the following cities and camps by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer: Laredo, Victoria, Seguin, Houston, Lubbock, Hallinger, Fort Worth, Camp Wolters, Blackland Army Air Field, Kerrville, Tyler, Austin and El Paso.

Life memberships for outstanding services rendered in 1943, was awarded to C. L. Billings, superintendent of water purification at Dallas, and D. W. Robinson of the Community Public Service Co. of Fort Worth.

At the same time three lawyers appointed by Judge Davidson to counsel with the men and women defendants in the cases lost at trials on the cost-plus contract system.

Sentences assessed were: James Dean Gos, Madalyn Louise Sparks, Alice Fay Tacker, Gladys F. C. Sides and Sarah Wilmerth Dees

Papers Plan Two February Holidays

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Major New York afternoon daily newspapers plan to omit publication on Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12, and on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, to save newsprint, it was learned today.

They are the World-Telegram, Sun, Post, Journal American and the Brooklyn Eagle.

It was made clear, however, that in the event of an invasion of Europe or other national emergency, which would require publication in the public interest, the plan to suspend for the holidays would be dropped.

Cosmic Evolution Study May Be Aided

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The elliptical-shaped star, the first non-round star ever seen, which was announced from Harvard's South African observatory, holds the promise of new information about cosmic evolution.

The South African director, Dr. J. S. Parakevopoulos, suggested that the star may be an example of the cataclysm which creates planetary systems, which are earths like ours and the rest of the sun's family.

This observation comes on the heels of two of the most sensational astronomical discoveries ever made, both almost positive evidence of the existence of planets in far off space, the first ever found. Both discoveries were made within the past year and lost in the war news.

The Harvard observation, while it does not yet necessarily mean that planets are being formed, fits in with other recent observations and theories which would make formation of planets fairly frequent, instead of, as thought until a few years ago, one of the rarest things in creation. In fact now the possibility of so many other planets is envisioned that there is a chance of somewhere another earth just like ours, even to the climate.

The two new planets have not been seen directly, but their presence was detected by the gravitational pulls they put on their parent stars, pulls which dragged those stars a little off their proper orbits.

One of these new planets is in the star system 61 Cygni, which is two stars revolving around each other. The weight of the new planet there can be calculated and is about 10 times that of Jupiter, the second planet outward from the earth, and biggest in the sun's family.
