Early Victory Will Cut Budget Estimate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt laid before Congress today his second $100,000,000 war-time budget embodying plans for at least 18 months more of global conflict but at the same time reflecting preparations to absorb the impact of sudden victory in Europe.

Crop Benefit Payments Are Cut by FDR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt today called for the greatest production of food on record to meet expanding war demands in a budget message which eliminated major crop benefit payments to farmers for the first time since the birth of the agricultural adjustment administration in 1933.

Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation would give the department its smallest appropriation since 1934, when $338,000,000 was provided.

Solons Favor Special Meet To Provide Soldiers Vote

Poll Tax Can Be Abolished, Says Favors

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—All members of the Texas legislature who have expressed themselves on the question of a special session to facilitate soldiers voting in 1944 are in favor of the idea, although some qualified their statements.

Rep. Ennis Favors of Pampa who originally opposed the idea revised his opinion after study and declared the legislature could abolish the poll tax for soldiers since it has exempted all honorably discharged veterans for the first year after their discharge.

Others favored the proposal, some conditionally. Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith that by invoking a public calamity clause in the constitution the poll tax could be forgiven for soldiers.

Rep. Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo "I favor a special session to pave the way for servicemen balloting. We could accomplish it in a very short time if I believe the sentiment of the legislature is for it.

Rep. Clifford C. Gardner of Gainesville Favors session. Former Rep. Robert Avant of Marshall who resigned his seat, is entering the army. Considers it fair to call a session.

Rep. Ben Sharpe of Paris: In favor of a session if it is necessary to facilitate soldier voting.

Rep. M. A. Bundy, Roger G. Mills and C. M. McFarland of Wichita Falls: All favor session. "I certainly think our soldiers should be permitted to vote. I think we should take any steps we can that will give them this right."

Movie Fare in Italy Punk, Say Soldiers

By HAL BOYLE AN AMERICAN AIRFIELD IN ITALY, Jan. 5 (Delayed)—(AP)—One thing army life overseas has given the American soldier is a golden opportunity to study the history of the cinema.

Possibly nowhere else except in the archives of the Museum of Modern Art in New York could he view so many priceless and obscure relics of the screen. After a quick brush-up on "The Great Train Robbery," "The Birth of a Nation," and a few Fatty Arbuckle comedies, the average soldier feels he could teach a course in the ancient and medieval motion picture.

Showdown Looms For New Guinea Control

(By The Associated Press) American and Australian forces hammered today at the Japanese and their weakened supply line in the Southwest Pacific in steady assaults which foreshadowed a possible showdown fight in jungle-covered northern New Guinea.

Shifting of General MacArthur's air units to new forward bases in New Guinea was disclosed in a move to intensify the already heavy siege laid down on the enemy, and perhaps prepare for the next Allied offensive.

Foot Soldiers Fight Way Three Miles Of Cassino, Italy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 13 (AP)—Virtually the entire American Fifth Army was on the move today as it broadened its offensive from near the coast to control Italy and sent French units hammering through 3,000 and 4,000-foot high mountains to threaten Cassino from a third side.

American infantry swept to within three miles of Cassino in a frontal attack with the capture of Cervaro at 1 p. m. yesterday after almost surrounding the village, headquarters announced. The Germans already had announced its loss.

In the first day of the French offensive in the mountains of central Italy, Gen. Alphonse Juin's troops advanced two-thirds of a mile southwest of Roccheta, 12 miles northeast of Cervaro. They captured a 3,000-foot peak overlooking the road winding almost due west of Isernia between Colli and Altilia, took several points on the 4,000-foot Motta Cassale range and recaptured two peaks previously lost—Mt. Mollino overlooking Acquafredda, seven miles northeast of Cassino, and Mt. Raimo, in the same area to the north of Vituliano.

The Allies thus held mountains overlooking Vituliano from two sides. The surprise German advance caught a number of German prisoners. On the Eighth Army front there were only patrol activity and heavy artillery fire.

U. S. Cripples Nazi Fighter Production

LONDON, Jan. 13 (AP)—New American bombers were already on the runways today to replace the 50 lost in Tuesday's spectacular raid on central Germany, and fliers who took part in that great three-hour battle were eager to get on with the campaign against the Nazis.

Both Allied leaders and Germans linked the clash between possibly 1,200 American fighters and bombers and formations of Nazi fighters as a forerunner of the mighty struggle for air supremacy expected to accompany the land invasion of western Europe.

Ayers Visits Pampa After 18 Months In Caribbean Area

The United States looked plenty good to Opl. Albert Ayer of Pampa when he returned to this country after 18 months in the Caribbean area with the air force.

Corporal Ayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ayer, 415 N. West, was stationed at a U. S. army field in Trinidad, the little British island off the northeast coast of South America.

He arrived in New York on Thanksgiving day and was sent to Kelly Field, San Antonio, for advanced air depot work.

He was in Pampa several days ago on a 21-day leave, his first since joining the army Dec. 20, 1941.

Corporal Ayer was one of Pampa's outstanding football and basketball players and track and field star.

Texas Opposes Claim For Padre Island

AUSTIN, Jan. 13. (AP)—Attorneys for the state argued before the supreme court that records in the land office are devoid of any instruments backing the claims of Alberto Balli and others to title and possession of Padre Island.

The dispute involving the narrow strip of sandy land offshore in the Gulf of Mexico between Corpus Christi and Brownsville was formally submitted to the court Tuesday.

On Nov. 3, the court agreed to review the case because of its importance.

Both the trial court and the court of civil appeals have denied the state's claim to the land. The original suit, against Balli and 245 others, was brought in a Nueces county district court in Feb. 1940.

Subsequently the state has claimed that 80,000 acres of the island are a vacancy.

Attorney Robert E. Keyke, arguing for the state, said that the Texas constitution of 1826 had the effect of forfeiting the Balli claim to the island and further that there had been no final grant to the original claimants because they had not complied with various requirements of Mexican law in effect at the time.

Assistant Attorney General Fagan Dickson told the court that even if the original claim is valid, it covers only 11 and one-half leagues of land, and that the state has a vacancy that should revert to the state.

Fascist Purge Underway In Northern Italy

By FRANK BRUTTO
AT THE SWISS-ITALIAN FRONTIER, Jan. 13—(AP)—Execution of Count Ciano and four other members of the former Fascist grand council on charges of treason to the Mussolini government was viewed here today as part of a purge directed at all who opposed Italy's continuance as a partner of Germany.

The death sentences imposed on Benito Mussolini's son-in-law, Marshal Emilio de Bono and other high Fascists put teeth in an announcement that provincial trials of "traitors" in Nazi-occupied northern Italy would start next Saturday.

One of the first to be brought before these courts is expected to be Carlo Scorza, Fascist party secretary, who voted to sustain Mussolini in the meeting of the great council last July but is accused of failing to mobilize the party after Mussolini's arrest and also of having later offered his support to the Badoglio government. Scorza was reported under arrest at Rome.

The British radio said that "75 prominent Fascists have been assassinated in northern Italy by Italian patriots" in the last 10 days, and "another wave of strikes in fascist-occupied Italy, the third outbreak in four weeks."

A dispatch to the Gazette de Lausanne said Italian reaction to the Verona trials was that they were only another sign "of the depth to which Italy has fallen under German occupation, the ineffectiveness of the present Fascist government, the complete lack of power of Mussolini, who did not appear at the proceedings."

Most Italians, it was held, believed that the last that the accused Fascists would not be put to death. Ciano's execution Tuesday was the first time in history that a member of the Annunziata—Italy's cousin of the king—had been put to death. Among the 13 others condemned in absentia were two who also wore the order, Count Diano Grandi, president of the fascist chamber who led the revolt against Mussolini; and Luigi Federzoni, president of the Royal Academy.

The Swiss Telegraph Agency said a memorandum by Ciano was read to the court in which he declared, "I could have been mistaken, but could never have betrayed."

Under questioning Ciano was reported to have admitted asking Marshal Badoglio for passports for himself and his family.

Ciano was quoted as saying that after being relieved as minister of foreign affairs and assigned as ambassador to the Vatican he no longer had an opportunity to see Mussolini and had been unable to confer with his father-in-law before the session of the grand council.

The dispatch said the executions were carried out one at a time by a firing squad. Ciano last to go, was granted a request that he remain unbound and face the guns without being shot in the back.

The others named were De Bono, Carlo Perucchi, Giovanni Marinelli and Luciano Gottardi. Another, Tullio Cianetti, was sentenced to 30 years in prison.

WAKE-UP AMERICA

AMERICANIZING EUROPE (The Los Angeles Examiner)

By Benjamin DeCasseres
Thinking out loud!
Watch AMGOT, fellow Americans. The words mean American plans for governing populations that are freed from the Axis or territory taken over by us. The New Deal semi-Red gang in Washington will attempt to make guinea pigs of millions of people. Socialist experimentation and WPA "nut" stuff will be rife under the lullaby slogan of "Americanizing Europe and Asia." The AMGOT may even set itself up as a counter-Communist "scheme of life" in Europe. It will hardly differ from Joe Stalin's ball and chain system. The New Deal foxes in Washington already are conscious of the vast possibilities of AMGOT, for which you, fellow Americans will pay—and how!—in the postwar years.

An authority states that in November, 1938, in the United States 21,964,000 persons were on relief rolls, Federal, state and municipal. That was after five years of the New Deal. And yet persons have howled at me in letters "What do you mean by the old deal—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover?" No, I don't mean that by the "old deal." I mean the American way from 1789 to 1933—economically and politically. But if anyone thinks I mean 1929 to 1933 by the "old deal," well, let it go at that. Looing back, it seems to me that there were not 22,000,000 persons on doles in those 13 years.

Liberty, not security, is what we are fighting for. The security of our liberties—that's the only security worth while for free, enterprising, creative men and women. On this subject, the best thing I've read lately is the following by W. Somerset Maugham, the British novelist. It is in his "Strictly Personal."

"If a nation values anything more than freedom, it will lose its freedom; and the irony of it is that if it is comfort or money that it values more, it will lose that too."

Have we American got to learn that mighty and eternal truth through the blood, sweat and tears of an era of governmental slavery? I hope not, but when the Vice President of the United States says that there can be too much of the Bill of Rights and the President's wife says that maybe we're not fit for democracy, well, my "hope" seems a brittle thing . . . that we have faced since the Civil War." —Congressman Lyle H. Boren, Oklahoma.

"America is being made over—and we don't like it!"—Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, Wyoming.

"If this country ever gets a system of governmental regimentation, labor will suffer most. Labor, therefore, is deeply interested in the preservation of private business; and labor should everlastingly maintain that the owners and managers of business are entitled to a fair and just return upon their investments." —Wm. Green, President, A. F. of L.

"I accuse the present administration of being the greatest spending administration—in all our history. One which has piled bureau on bureau, commission on commission. Bureaus and bureaucracies have been retained at the expense of the taxpayers." —Franklin D. Roosevelt, Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 29, 1932.

BUDGET

nevertheless voiced the "hope that this total war program will never be fully obligated and spent."

Bartering a European victory on other major development, the war program from the start of defense preparation in mid-1940 to June 30, 1945 will involve a total of $397,000,000,000—of which $292,000,000,000 will have been actually spent. The rest will represent unspent obligations in the form of contracts for future delivery.

The president said January 1944 marks the beginning of "offensive warfare," the last phase of the war while foreseen. The twin possibilities of an unfavorable turn in military events or victory in Europe "earlier than assumed," the president declared the time is at hand not only for wartime readjustments but for preparations for peace.

He set forth seven problems he said require a "positive, not negative," approach: Contract termination, surplus property disposal, industrial reconversion, manpower demobilization and reemployment, public works planning, veterans' legislation and social security, and international readjustment.

The budget sets aside 90% of the 100 billion dollars for "war activities," but Mr. Roosevelt said that in addition to his thin distinction between "war" and "non-war" spending, still another classification—"aftermath-of-war"—was emerging.

In this category he placed three-fourths of the $3,750,000,000 item for interest on the national debt, more than half the anticipated $1,250,000,000 outlay for veterans, and a large portion of the $1,799,000,000 contemplated as the cost of repairs, primarily excess profits and other wartime taxes.

Excluding such costs, Mr. Roosevelt said, the total of "other" governmental activities would continue the "steady decline which has been maintained since 1939."

The $2,953,000,000 estimate for these purposes, he added, is "only half the comparable total of $5,897,000,000 expended in 1939."

The president included in his message requests for immediate appropriations of $17,000,000,000, of which $7,000,000,000 would be for war purposes, leaving $10,000,000,000 for war purposes to be appropriated later. He said the aggregate of new appropriations for the year probably would not exceed $70,000,000,000, compared with $100,000,000,000 appropriated during fiscal 1944. Remaining funds to finance the $100,000,000,000 program would come from requests to reappropriate unobligated funds previously allotted.

Included in the $53,000,000,000 in war activities appropriations Mr. Roosevelt said would not be sent to congress before spring were such agencies as Secretary James' solid fuels administration and petroleum administration for war, the office of price administration and the office of censorship.

The Purse The Power Of

(The Chicago Tribune)

The Senate got down to the fundamentals of representative government on Wednesday, when it enacted a series of restrictive measures designed to prevent misuse by the executive departments of funds appropriated by Congress.

After the War department announced that it would not spend 13 1/2 million dollars of its appropriations recently, President Roosevelt's budget bureau attempted to keep control of the funds, by impounding them for later use, without congressional authorization. The Senate stopped that by ordering the funds turned into the Treasury, where they belong. It also wiped out the privilege which the War department had previously had of transferring up to 10 per cent of its appropriations to use other than those for which the money was voted. Inasmuch as the department has had tens of billions in appropriations, a 10 per cent leeway permitted it to do anything in any field, without congressional sanction.

For nearly 200 years the fight for political liberty centered about the power of the public purse. Charles I lost his head because he sought to tax and spend without sanction of parliament. After the principle was established in England that the executive may spend only what the legislative body gives him, and in the manner that the legislature directs, the royal governors in America sought to reimpose the executive power over the purse and in so doing helped to bring on the Revolution. The question was settled for all time in our Constitution.

Under the plea of war emergency, Mr. Roosevelt has sought to go back to the absolutism of the Stuarts in fiscal matters. Appropriations, the greatest in the history of any nation, were voted, and voted in lump sums, on the plea of the executive departments that for them to specify what they intended to do with the money would betray military information to the enemy. By transfers of funds and the use of the borrowing power of the federal corporations which the New Deal has sought to make independent of the will of Congress, the Roosevelt administration for the first two years of the war has known no restraint whatever upon its spending.

This action by the Senate cannot be construed merely as a belated recognition of the principle that the legislature ought to keep its power over the purse. That was never doubted. Like many other limitations in our system of government, that limitation on executive spending power was relaxed on the plea of war time emergency. It is being reimposed because Mr. Roosevelt has been caught time and again in the abuse of the privilege granted. He has wasted billions of dollars and he unrepentantly and brazenly lions more unless Congress stops him, as its members now seem determined to do.

Any war time claim that the funds are for the Navy or War department is supposed to meet all congressional opposition. It did for a while, until Congress, like the rest of the nation began to understand that funds voted for the Army or Navy were not necessarily spent by Army and Navy officers, but by the same sort of wasteful New Dealers who are entrenched in every other department of the government. War department funds have been thrown about by the hundreds of millions of dollars, as the Truman committee demonstrated when it uncovered the Canol oil scandal in Canada. Sen. Truman warned his colleagues that there are more Canol cases and that his committee will be reporting on them soon.

It cannot be fairly argued that a single activity in connection with the prosecution of the war will be hampered in the least by Congress reasserting its power of the purse. As Sen. McMillan said, Congress is in session and it will meet all requests for military appropriations. All that has been hampered is Mr. Roosevelt's power to deceive and waste.

fighters that attacked the great armada.

There was speculation in the United States that Tuesday's operation might have been the eighth air force's first under the command of Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle.

A dispatch from Stockholm quoted a German military spokesman in Berlin as describing the three-hour air battle as a "rehearsal for the German defense force which will have to meet Allied invasion air fleets."

"Were it not for continuing attacks against the production capacities of German aircraft factories," he told a press conference in Wichita, Kan., "Nazi efforts to double their fighter strength might have succeeded, with the result that the difficulties which must be overcome by Allied air attacks and also by amphibious landing forces would be incalculably increased."

His views were generally accepted here, and the Daily Express declared the attack "indicates the United States bomber force based in Britain has reached a new strength which may soon equal the RAF's thousand plane (bomber) raids."

More than 700 heavy bombers and a likely record fighter escort constituted the American aerial task force.

The attacks, directed against factories at Ocherseleben, Halberstadt and Brunswick (Braunschweig), all within a radius of 120 miles of Berlin, constituted possibly the most crippling blow of the war against the Nazi air arm.

Results were described officially as excellent. In beating their way to and from the objectives and unloading their explosives, the Americans shot down more than 100 of the challenging enemy aircraft.

In addition, smashing of the factories means that hundreds of projected German fighters never will be manufactured, Gen. Arnold said.

The London press was virtually unanimous in hailing it as a mighty blow to German air defenses.

An eight air force communique late yesterday said the resounding assault cost 64 planes, a record loss. Fifty-nine were Flying Fortresses and Liberators and five were fighters.

In contrast, Berlin propaganda outlets this morning still were declaring 124 bombers and 12 fighters were shot down.

Supper Salutes Pampa Field PRO

A salute to the public relations office of Pampa Field was given in the supper honoring enlisted men their wives, and civilian employees of the department, held last night in the city club rooms at the city hall.

Attendance at the supper, which was given by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, totaled 100.

Ferris G. Oden, a member of the advisory board of the chamber, gave statistics on the number of stories and photographs published by Pampa Field directly and Pampa indirectly, prepared by the public relations office.

Those present were introduced in a clever thumb-nail biography fashion, with Carl Benefield, chamber of commerce president, master of ceremonies, introducing the soldiers and their wives, and Cpl. Leo Patrick Murray of Glen Cove, Long Island, New York, introducing the civilians.

Honor guests were Col. Daniel S. Campbell, commanding officer, Lieut. Col. Walter B. Marschner, executive officer, and Lieut. Harold B. Smith, public relations officer, of Pampa Field.

Chamber of commerce members prepared the meal which included ham and pork, peas, mashed potatoes, coffee, and ice cream. Attendance at the supper included CC members and officers, and members of the editorial department of The Pampa News.

Lone Arab Nearly Prevented Invasion

NEW YORK, Jan. 13—(AP)—Andre Maurois, author now a captain in the French army, has revealed that a lone Arab, hidden on a beach near Algiers, almost upset the Allied invasion of North Africa.

The writer told this story: The Arab detected the landing of Lt. Gen. Mark Clark and his party when they arrived by submarine Oct. 29, 1942, for a secret conference with French leaders.

Believing the rendezvous to be a black market operation, the Arab went to police bent on receiving a reward. Meanwhile, Allied strategy for the Nov. 8 landing was being planned in a nearby farmhouse.

A French coast guard officer, however, learned of the Arab's action and put out of order all the police cars and motorcycles.

This delayed the inspectors long enough for the conferences to be completed, the French officers to leave and the Americans to conceal themselves in the farmhouse cellar.

Plains Flyers Is No Longer Half-Zero Man

By FRED HAMPSON
VELLA LAVELLA, Solomons Islands, Dec. 31. (Delayed) (AP)—Marine First Lieut. Gene F. Groom is no longer a one-half Zero man. He was beginning to find it embarrassing.

Several weeks ago in an aerial fight over Bougainville the Amarillo, Tex., flier collaborated with a Japanese fighter. It was his first confirmed victory but he got only half a plane.

Groom got to feeling that a one-half Zero man was neither fish nor fowl and he faced the prospect of an early furlough home with some chargin.

"You don't know how it makes a guy feel," he said, "when people ask you how many planes you shot down and you have to reply 'one half a Zero.'"

But Groom got out of the one-half Zero class on Christmas day in a big fighter sweep over the Japanese base at Rabaul. He bagged a Zero with no help from anybody and is no longer tortured by the fraction, he's a 1 1/2 Zero man now.

He is a member of a Marine corps northern Solomons squadron and flies a Corsair.

National Service Act Lauded, Attacked in Many Quarters

(By The Associated Press)
London newspapers praised President Roosevelt's request in his message to congress for national service legislation, while Berlin and Tokyo seized upon it as a sign of "dictatorship" in the United States, and an indication that the war is not going so well for the Allies.

But if national service became necessary—and the president now says it is—McNutt and his advisors have shown they would prefer a law that would:

1. Be based on cooperation between labor and management in attacking manpower problems. If labor's rights have to be curtailed during the war, restoration of these rights after the war should be guaranteed.
2. Interfere with family life no more than absolutely necessary. A national service act wouldn't necessarily mean dictatorial action, McNutt said in a recent article.
3. Keep the "localized" approach to manpower problems. Working things out on local and regional levels is considered by WMC officials the fundamental principle of the manpower program.

Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson declared enactment of a national service act would result in stabilization of labor in critical industries and would provide a definite morale boost for troops overseas.

Patterson, obviously elated that President Roosevelt had recommended such legislation in his message to congress, said in an interview that he thought "there would be little compulsion" of labor beyond requiring workers to retain jobs for which they have been trained.

Some transfer of skilled labor or drafting of new workers might be involved in an occasional program, Patterson said, but in all likelihood there would be little if any drafting of new workers for industry.

"It would be the enactment of a moral principle that everyone has always admitted—the duty of every citizen to contribute according to his ability," said Patterson, who long has been outspoken advocate of such legislation.

MONTGOMERY WARD

TODAY on the HOME FRONT

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Many million Americans would feel the weight of the labor draft law proposed by President Roosevelt although it might force only a comparatively handful into jobs they didn't seek.

Reasons:

1. The president emphasized it would prevent strikes, now running about 10 a day. Therefore, all labor would be affected.
2. All men and women not disqualified by age or other reasons would be subject at any time to orders where to work, even if it meant moving to another city.

It is notable that nowhere in his lengthy message to congress did the president refer to labor except once in passing and then he coupled the word with government and management, warning against relaxing the war effort.

He left nodoubt, however, that a primary aim of the labor draft would be to stop strikes although there has been an anti-strike law since July 1.

That law has not stopped strikes. They're occurring at a rate higher than last year. Why? That's debatable. One congressman said the law would work if the president "would only enforce it."

Nowhere in his message did the president give figures to show what 1944 manpower needs would be and therefore why a labor draft law would be necessary to fill them.

The president said "it is argued that we have passed the stage in the war where national service is necessary but our soldiers and sailors know that this is not true."

Nevertheless, the labor draft proposal comes at a time when a num-

Three ATC Flyers Killed in Missouri

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 13—(AP)—Three flyers from Escanaba Field ATC base here, were killed late Tuesday when their twin-engine bomber crashed and burned a few miles west of the city on a Kansas farm.

Less Cattle Feed Predicted for 1944

PORT WORTH, Jan. 13. (AP)—W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal industries of Texas Technological college at Lubbock, was elected president of the Texas Agricultural Workers association for the next two years.

Other officers elected as the association closed a two-day meeting here Tuesday were T. P. Priddie of Houston, vice president; Miss Lida Cooper of College Station, secretary, and L. J. Campbell, of Dallas, treasurer. D. T. Simons of Fort Worth, retiring president, was made a director.

The state's livestock producers probably will have less Texas-grown grain and protein concentrates for feeding in 1944 than last year, B. F. Vance, of College Station, chairman of the USDA war board for Texas, told the association.

Vance was unable to be at the meeting because of a call to Washington and his paper was presented by H. H. Marshall, chief statistician for the state AAA office, which Vance heads.

Vance predicted that grain available for feeding in 1944 will be from 7 to 10 per cent less than last year, while the number of livestock to be fed in Texas will be 10 per cent higher.

FDR Submits Road Proposal To Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has submitted to congress a proposal for development of a national highway system of approximately 34,000 miles to provide a network of modern roads "essential to the future economic welfare and defense of the nation."

Mr. Roosevelt did not say how much of the 34,000 miles represented new construction and how much represented improvement of existing roads. Nor did the president say whether both federal and state governments would be expected to share the cost of the highway system.

U. S., Mexican Company Formed

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Formation of a new company by United States and Mexican banking interests to aid in the development of Mexican economy was announced today.

Lehman Brothers and a group of Mexican bankers and industrialists chose Compania de Fomento Panamericano, S. A. as the name of the new undertaking, which means Pan American Development Co., with headquarters at Mexico City.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Belief that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey would consent to be drafted as Republican candidate for president mounted today after his failure, in answer to a direct question, to eliminate himself from consideration for the nomination.

Spinach Not Always Good Old Spinach... DALLAS, Jan. 13. (AP)—In some cases spinach is not always spinach. State Soil Conservationist Paul H. Walser of the soil conservation service, Temple, told Texas hardware dealers here.

"You may feel complacent about your health because you are eating your share of spinach, or tomatoes, or other protective foods, but if those vegetables were grown on eroded, mineral-depleted land you are very likely short of the minerals and vitamins you think you are getting," he explained.

Walser cited statements by Dr. William A. Albrecht of the soils department, University of Missouri, and Dr. Jonathan Forman, editor of the Ohio State Medical Journal.

"Dr. Forman has said that the quality of our nutrition depends on the quality of our food, and the quality of our food depends primarily upon the quality of the soil upon which it is grown," the state soil conservationist said.

Soil conservation farming methods not only improve the quality of food products but they also greatly increase acre yields, Walser asserted.

"Many Texas farmers have doubled acre yields of crops after the establishment of a complete soil and water conservation system, and on the average yields have risen at least 30 per cent an acre on treated land."

Gasoline Ration Plan Is Now In Effect Here

Motorists and automobile dealers of Gray County were reminded today by R. E. McKernan chairman of the county rationing board, that the new plan designed to assure the return of outstanding gasoline rationing coupons for all new and used automobiles and trucks that are sold is now in effect.

Since Jan. 1, persons buying new or used vehicle from anyone, whether a dealer or a private individual, have had to obtain a duplicate receipt for surrendered gasoline rationing coupons from the seller in order to be eligible for a gasoline ration, McKernan explained.

"Under the plan, the owner of a vehicle intending to sell it must return to the board, in person or by mail, all unused ration coupons issued for the vehicle," he said.

"After it receives the coupons the board will issue in duplicate, a receipt for surrendered gasoline rationing coupons. Both copies of this receipt together with the tire inspection record are to be given by the seller to the person buying the car or truck."

Like private individuals who sell their cars, automobile dealers are to obtain duplicate receipts for surrendered rationing coupons for each car they have for sale, and will deliver both copies of the receipt to the buyer when a car is sold by January 11, each dealer must report his inventory as of December 31 to the local board, and the board will send him a receipt in duplicate, for each car reported by him.

McKernan explained that the buyer of a vehicle is to give the original copy of the receipt for surrendered gasoline rationing coupons to the state motor vehicle registrar when applying for a new registration certificate. The duplicate copy of the receipt and the tire inspection record are to be given by the buyer to his local board when he applies for a new gasoline ration for his car.

Without this receipt the board cannot issue a new gasoline ration, McKernan said.

U. S. Uses 3 Million Acres in Southwest

HOUSTON, Jan. 13. (AP)—Approximately 3,000,000 acres of land are being used by the government for military installations in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, reports Lt. Col. Leonard M. Cowley of Dallas, chief of the real estate branch of the eighth service center.

Less than half the total acreage under use was acquired through purchase in fee, Colonel Cowley told the Houston real estate board.

"Almost two-thirds of the entire area lies in New Mexico in two air forces' projects," he said.

Dead Navigator Tossed Out to Save Bomber

A U. S. LIBERATOR BASE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 13. (AP)—The crew of a shattered Liberator struggling back from France on only one engine threw the body of their dead navigator into the English Channel to help lighten their ship—and credited this with saving their lives.

Jettisoning their comrade's body was "a grim decision to have to make, but with the plane dropping rapidly toward the ocean—and four wounded and two frostbitten men who would have drowned if the plane had "ditched" in the sea—and the crew throwing everything loose overboard, from guns and ammunition to their radio and even their helmets, it was considered justified in an effort to save the lives of the other nine."

The Liberator, "Conquest Cavalier," was jumped by eight twin-engine Messerschmitts and a Junkers-88 rocket plane soon after it bombed northwest Germany a few days ago.

Crewmen included Sgt. Charles R. Jones, Fort Worth, Tex.

Papers Oppose U. S. Newsprint Plan

NEW YORK, Jan. 13. (AP)—The Publishers Association of New York City opposes the war production board's plan for a government-owned stockpile of newspaper paper on the grounds that it is impracticable and that "it would be unwise thus to open the door for the substitution of government-owned officials for that of newspaper publishers."

A unanimous resolution of the 15 major papers of the metropolitan area said:

"The sounder method would be to distribute all paper produced as it becomes available, leaving to the determination of individual publishers the extent to which inventories may be increased and leaving to the judgment of these publishers the decision as to when and how newspaper may be used within the limitations of the newspaper conservation order."

The WPB is working on a stockpile it developed after Canada increased to 200,000 tons a month, from 182,000, the amount of newspaper it expected to ship to the United States in the first half of 1944. The WPB curtailed United States consumption to match the 182,000-ton rate and plans to store the balance.

British King Decorates 18 U. S. Generals

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 13. (AP)—Eighteen American generals, including Lt. General George S. Patton, Jr., and Mark W. Clark, have received British decorations by order of King George VI for meritorious action in the Mediterranean.

Patton, commander of the U. S. Seventh Army, was made a companion of the Order of the Bath on recommendation of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Allied commander in Italy.

The citation said the decoration was for his work as commander of the American second corps during the Makansay battle in southern Tunisia last year and added, "this officer took over the corps at a difficult time and by his undoubted powers of leadership was directly responsible for the success of these operations."

The decorations were conferred by his work as commander of the British 1st Airborne Division, in a colorful ceremony, Tuesday. The other generals were praised in their citations for staff work and field leadership.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The stock market faltered today after failure of early efforts to extend yesterday's upturn and industrial leaders generally retreated to around a point.

The decline was attributed to what speculative sources conceived as an impaired technical position rather than news developments, although domestic political events were cited as a reason for some buying caution.

Persistent heaviness of steel and certain popular specialties helped to bring out selling in the late proceedings. Rails were irregular. A few gold mine issues moved up in the final hour. Transactions totaled about 700,000 shares.

State Chiropractic Law Is Challenged

AUSTIN, Jan. 13. (AP)—Constitutionality of Texas' new chiropractic law was attacked in arguments before the court of criminal appeals in the case of W. G. Halsted from Johnson county.

Halsted was represented by Atty. Otis Rogers and State Rep. Jack Love of Fort Worth.

Judge Lloyd Davidson of the appeals court said Halsted was charged with violating the act, passed by the last session of the legislature, and that the challenge was made by write of habeas corpus.

The chiropractic law, first such regulatory legislation in Texas, was attacked in its entirety on the grounds that it was discriminatory, incapable of interpretation and that its alleged conflicts could not be reconciled.

Halsted claimed specifically that the law contained different penalties for the same offense.

"The state did not present an argument in the case."

Cromwell Says Doris Threw Him Out In Favor of British M. P.

ELIZABETH, N. Y., Jan. 13. (AP)—Counsel for James H. R. Cromwell has charged in court that the former Doris Duke Cromwell had turned him out of their home in favor of an unidentified member of the British parliament.

"The acme of refined cruelty was reached," Lawyer James E. Toolan told Advisory Master Douglas Herr in chancery court, "when Mr. Cromwell's valet, calling at Duke Farms for Mr. Cromwell's clothes, was compelled to wait several hours, until noon time, because Mr. Cromwell's bedroom was then occupied by his successor in his wife's affection, a trustee member of the British parliament who found Duke Farms as well as Mrs. Cromwell's home in Honolulu more relaxing than London, then undergoing the fury of Teutonic bombing."

"She saw no virtue in concealing her current affection," said Toolan, state senator from Middlesex county.

Toolan also charged that the former Doris Duke, tobacco heiress often referred to as the wealthiest girl in the world, had "humiliated" her husband while he was minister to Canada and contributed heavily to his defeat in an election for United States senator from New Jersey.

More or Less Too Indefinite for Court

AUSTIN, Jan. 13. (AP)—The supreme court has dismissed condemnation proceedings brought by the state for two tracts of Big Bend park land, after inquiring how much is "more or less."

The state's description of the land, approximately 200 acres in Brewster county owned by Joe S. Wooten and wife, contained the qualifying phrase "more or less," three times.

This, the supreme court held, made the descriptions so indefinite and uncertain that they failed to meet the statutory requirement that land to be condemned for public use must be identified with reasonable certainty.

In reversing county court and court of civil appeals rulings in favor of the state, the supreme court's opinion said:

WHITER MALE PREROGATIVES?

LOS ANGELES — Prentiss Kirk was granted a divorce decree from Genevieve Ellen Kirk on testimony that she:

ion said:

"The substance of the description is: 60 acres more or less, off the north end or part of one tract, and 140 acres, more or less, off the north end or part of the other tract. Is it 60 (and 140) acres or more than 60 (and 140) acres, or less than 60 (and 140) acres? If more, how much more? If less, how much less?"

The opinion does not preclude the state from filing new condemnation proceedings with more adequate descriptions of the land involved.

Pony Cagers Clinch Place In Southwest

(By The Associated Press)
Southern Methodist's Mustangs gained a firmer grip on second place last night in the Southwest Conference basketball race by downing Texas Christian 40-30 at Dallas, while the Texas Longhorns eked out a 50-49 non-conference victory over Bergstrom field at Austin.

The SMU win was their second against one loss and left them just behind Arkansas, Rice and Texas, in a triple tie for first place with no defeats. TCU has lost three games in as many starts.

All the clubs are inactive tonight. Only in the first three minutes of play were the TCU basketballers ahead of SMU last night, who held a 24-19 advantage at the half. Scott Ernest paced the Mustangs with 12 points and TCU's guard, Bruce Johnson, made 10 for his club.

Texas had to garner 10 points in the last five minutes and four in the last 13 seconds of play to nose out the Bergstrom Flyers. Roy Cox sank the deciding goal with five seconds remaining. He led scoring honors with 21 points. Bergstrom substituted for the Corpus Christi naval air center quintet when the Comets were grounded because of weather conditions.

Friday night Arkansas plays Rice at Houston and on Saturday, those two clubs meet again. Texas plays A. & M. at Austin and Baylor battles TCU at Fort Worth. The Aggies have lost both their games and Baylor has one win and two defeats.

Pro Grid League Plans To Include Three New Teams

CHICAGO, Jan. 13. (AP)—The growing National Football league is trying to put the right foot forward without tripping over itself.

Castling an eye beyond 1944 to the post-war future, executives convened today in the final session of their annual midwinter meeting with action still to be taken on bids for franchises from Buffalo, N. Y., Los Angeles and San Francisco.

After spending 15 hours yesterday attempting to determine whether it liked or disliked the feeling of growing pains, the pro circuit flushed with one of its most successful financial seasons in history in 1943, still pondered problems originally before it—that of expansion.

There appeared to be three alternatives emerging from yesterday's blustery oratory:

- 1—To continue its pre-war size of 10 teams by having two clubs merge such as Philadelphia and Pittsburgh did last year.
- 2—To operate as an 11-team set-up with Boston, which was granted a franchise last June, going into business as a sixth member of the eastern division.
- 3—To accept Buffalo's franchise and operate as a 12-team league with Buffalo joining the western division.

Heisman Trophy Given Bertelli

NEW YORK, Jan. 13. (AP)—Angelo Bertelli, leader of Notre Dame's football team until called up by the Marines in mid-season, yesterday received the Heisman trophy, annually awarded by the Downtown Athletic club to the outstanding gridiron player of the season.

After being described by his coach, Frank Leahy, as "the greatest of all time" formation quarterback ever to play college football, Bertelli received the trophy from club President Joseph R. Taylor and then presented it to Notre Dame.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13. (AP)—Rising a long-range prediction: The post-war sports boom you've been hearing about will be in the amateur, rather than the professional, field. . . . Pro sports won't find the going very easy under the proposed national service law, although some may survive. . . . Meanwhile college athletics get the benefit of navy support and leaders feel certain that any demobilization plan will include subsidies of some sort to enable them to resume their college studies. . . . That should equip the colleges with mature, experienced athletes and at the same time eliminate the lure of a little quick dough for playing professionally. . . . Another prediction: If all this takes place, the colleges will spoil their own racket by hoisting prices to five bucks for any $150 football game, just as they did back in the twenties.

Anonymous Admiral

When Admiral William Halsey returned from the South Pacific just in time to see the Shrine East-West football game New Year's Day, he tried to slip into his seat without being recognized. He almost had succeeded when his foot slipped and landed on the toes of an army private. "Ow," protested the soldier, "look where you're going, Mac." . . . The admiral turned and the private, recognizing the grin he had seen in newspaper photos, flushed and snapped into a salute. Then he stuck out his other foot and asked: "Please step on that, too."

Shorts and Shells

Although Miami odd experts figure it's a 1,000 to 1 shot that anyone will get beamed by a falling coconut, Hialeah Park is having them removed from the tall palm trees along the paddock promenade. Drumbeater Dave Woods explains: "Longshots have been known to score at Hialeah."

Draft Breaks Up Classic of Boxing

DETROIT, Jan. 13. (AP)—If he didn't have a date next week with his draft board, Fritz Ziv's fistie series with Jake La Motta might become a road show with real depth of tradition.

Flat-nosed Fritz, last of Pittsburgh's fighting Zivic clan, tackles Jolting Jacob of the Bronx tomorrow night in the fourth match of a series which La Motta leads, 2 to 1. New York and Pittsburgh liked the show and so will Detroit. Matchmaker Nick Londe declares, pointing to a big advance ticket sale.

Football Crown Nets $18,196 For An Angelo School

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 13. (AP)—It certainly pays to win the Texas schoolboy football championship. San Angelo, which swept through 14 games undefeated and untied, netted $18,196.52 on the season.

The school athletic committee has recommended that $10,000 worth of war bonds be purchased in the fourth war loan drive.

(This is another in a series, written expressly for the Associated Press, by sports leaders in which prospects for 1944 are discussed.)

By FRANK LEAHY
(Director of athletics and football coach at Notre Dame, the nation's ranking No. 1 team of 1943.)

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Jan. 13. (AP)—The 1943 football season produced many outstanding players and some of the greatest games in football history, but the real heroes of the game last fall were the coaches of those colleges, not aligned with the navy training program, who decided to continue football with what they had, win, lose or draw.

Acting on the theory that what is important to have during peace times was even more important to have during wartime, these colleges fielded young, inexperienced teams. But at the same time, they afforded an opportunity for countless young men to participate in a competitive sport and also provided wholesome, clean cut recreation for thousands of spectators in every section of America.

Very important also, is the fact that servicemen from overseas are requesting more football movies than we are able to supply.

Many people thought it unwise to have these "civilian" teams, composed in the main of 17 and 18 year olds, compete against the more mature teams of navy training colleges. It is my opinion that this presented an unusual opportunity to these young lads to battle against great odds, thus better fitting themselves for the greater military battles which lie ahead. Many coaches have told me that this very thought was expressed by the players themselves.

LeFors Enters Irish Annual Cage Tourney

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
SHAMROCK, Jan. 13.—The annual invitation basketball tournament will be held in Shamrock Jan. 21 and 22.

Thirteen boys' teams and nine girls' teams have already entered. Coach Bob Clark has announced.

Towns entering boys' teams are LeFors, Lakeview, Groom, Canadian, Wellington, Childress, Quail, Hedley, Samnorwood, Kellon, Mobeetie, Carey and Shamrock.

Girls' teams entered include Lakeview, Groom, Canadian, Quail, Hedley, Samnorwood, Kellon, Mobeetie and Shamrock.

Several other teams are expected to send in entries before the deadline Jan. 18.

Two good officials have been secured in the persons of Lt. "Bull" Gray and Bill Lynch, both of the Childress field.

Chicago to Repeat V-Golf Tournament

CHICAGO, Jan. 13. (AP)—The first Victory National Golf tournament which drew the country's leading players last summer, again will be staged in Chicago in 1944, the Chicago District Golf association has decided. The 72-hole medal play competition, won last year by Sammy Byrd, will be held from June 2 through July 2.

The association also announced the national pro-amateur tourney again will be held in conjunction with the event and voted to add a new feature—a national pro-ladies' tourney.

Panhandle Man On Leatherneck Eleven

CM. James P. Meek, of Garbey, Hemphill county, former West Texas State college football player, now in the U. S. Coast guard and stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C., marine corps base, was a tackle on the leatherneck eleven during last season.

Meek was Alamo conference tackle in 1939 and 1940 and in the latter year was voted the most valuable lineman on the West Texas State college squad.

Ump Ziggy Sears Rules Out Illness

FORT WORTH, Jan. 13. (AP)—John (Ziggy) Sears, National League umpire, has recovered from a serious illness that retired him from action and kept him out of the World Series last fall.

Sears is 30 pounds heavier than when he came home last August and has resumed his work as an athletic official. He officiated in a Southern conference basketball game this week.

Ziggy says he is all set to resume his umpiring in the big leagues next season.

Detroit U. Floors An All-Star Frosh Basketball Team

By NEA Service
DETROIT, Jan. 13.—University of Detroit is playing freshmen, but Lloyd Brazil's basketball squad has an unusual distinction. The five regulars are the players who composed last season's Detroit all-schooled team. They do not strike an unusual height average—though it is better than six feet—but put so much emphasis on speed and drive that sports writers have already tabbed them as a new edition of the Whiz Kids.

Draft May Remove Pecos Peach From Horned Frog Eleven

FORT WORTH, Jan. 13. (AP)—Jim Lucas, the Pecos Peach who led Texas Christian's offensive in football last season, probably won't be back in 1944.

Lucas, who is 18, was notified by his draft board that he would not be able to finish his semester's work here so he withdrew from school and hopes to get in the Navy's V-5 program. Should he get into that program he might be returned to T. C. U. and could play football for the Horned Frogs next fall.

Condensing Newspapers
Newspapers and magazines will be thinner in 1944, under the new rules of the war production board. There will be as much news as ever, perhaps more, but the paper supply is limited. Quantities used will be cut on a rising scale running to 24 per cent, according to consumption. Obviously this scale will encourage editors and publishers to limit their paper to the essential news and feature material as usual. The reading public will have to accustom itself to a more condensed newspaper. Features and illustrations may be expected to lighten the loss of space.

Editors and writers will confess that there may be some good in this forced condensing. Greater efforts will naturally be made, in writing and making up, to condense without leaving out important matter.

Readers will notice that on today's front page of The Pampa News another change has been made to conserve space. This change has to do with the page title line. The News also has been forced to reduce the size of The Little Harvester, high school publication, from a full page to a half-page.

Good Spotting
One evening in mid-October, it was permissible to report, a Junkers Ju 88 bomber that had spanned the Atlantic ocean flew across the eastern United States and landed at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

The bomber was one which a young German pilot, who decided the war had gone far enough so far as he was concerned, delivered to an Allied airfield in the Mediterranean. It was brought to this country for study by our experts. But spotters along the route did not know that. To them it was a Nazi bomber. Frantic reports came into control centers. Three of them correctly identified the plane as a Ju-88.

Such alert, intelligent spotting is encouraging. So is the fact that there were numerous occasions when the Junkers would have been shot down if its American crew had not identified themselves thoroughly. The whole story of the bomber's flight would contain small comfort for any Nazi idea of sneaking planes over here.

THE FLAGS AT TARAWA
(New York Times)

An interesting sequence included, we think, only in the unexpurgated Tarawa film show the American flag going up over Tarawa after the victory. The American flag going up beside the words of the Cairo agreement: "The three great allies (Britain, China, U. S. A.)... have no thought of territorial expansion," but they intend to get back what has been snatched from them.

Thus, we are fighting to restore the British, Dutch, perhaps French empires in the far Pacific, to free the Philippines and guarantee their freedom forever, and to get no territory for the United States. From the Cairo agreement it does not even appear that the United States has any thought of adhering to itself a strategic set of airfields to use as air bases for the outer Pacific defenses.

All this means that future wars in the Pacific and in the far east are in the womb of time even now. The Japanese, Chinese, Burmese, Malaysians, Javanese, and Indians have all shown, with varying degrees of vigor, that they do not like to have white men from the orient running things in the orient. As long as the white man maintains imperium in the orient, he will have intermittent wars on his hands. But maybe he figures it is worth it.

TAX DON'TS
TAX PLOT AND KETTLE
(The Wall Street Journal)

So far as recollection unrefreshed by minute research runs, no president has vetoed a revenue bill passed by Congress. Grover Cleveland signed a tariff bill which he did not like and Calvin Coolidge signed the Revenue Act of 1924 although Secretary of the Treasury Mellon had registered his opposition with the White House. Neither Mr. Cleveland nor Mr. Coolidge were timid about exercising one of the veto powers on occasion.

It is probable that presidents have signed because it was almost certain that Congress would override the veto. The cornerstone of the conservative parliamentary government is control of the purse strings that is both raising and

Common Ground
By R. C. HOILES

"I speak the universal truth, I give the law of democracy, by God I will accept nothing which all nations have not accepted on the same terms."
—WALTON WHITMAN.

Let's Find a Starting Point
A defender of compulsory public education writes, "I believe in the principles that govern free men as much as you, but I cannot see that a system of public education, properly controlled and temperately used, can materially interfere with that freedom."

He gives no figures or rules by which he measures our different beliefs in the principles that govern free men. Yet he makes the assertion without any evidence.

Just as we cannot measure distance without some fixed rule, so we cannot measure the benefits of public education unless we have some impersonal rule as a fixed standard by which to compare it. I can think of no rule under which public education is operated other than the force of the majority, the rule that the majority is right. Thus the majority is the norm of honesty and progress. If any defender of public education can think of any other impersonal rule by which it can be justified, from which to reason, I would be glad to have it set forth. If so one can, then public education can be justified on the grounds that the end justifies the means and that force determines right from wrong.

But the results of force do not look too inviting with two world wars in the memory of the man of average age. Let the defender of public education set forth the impersonal rule by which he measures rightness or admit that he is using the will of the majority as a norm of rightness. And this resolves itself into the will of the individual, because all these advocates of the majority having the right to interfere with the personal rights are always trying to change the will of the majority. If the majority be the proper norm of rightness, then why should any believer in a standard of rightness try to change the will of the majority? A man can prove anything by being himself as the norm or measure of standard of rightness or honesty.

Roosevelt Abandons Privy Program
Clayton Rand of Mississippi, who lectures on "Dictatorial and the New Deal," points out that everything that the New Deal has tried was tried in the time of Caesar and Dictatorial excepting the program of building privies.

It will be remembered that the slogan in Roman times was "Free bread and free circuses." Free bread means then just what "social gains" means under the New Deal. People were to have rents and wages fixed with food prices, clothing prices, working hours—everything—regulated by the government. They were even to have free circuses which includes free entertainment.

It was the free-bread-and-free-circuses movement that destroyed the Roman Empire, just as the New Deal policy is so raising the cost of living as eventually, if continued to destroy our form of government.

People are beginning to realize that the New Deal means a higher and higher cost of living. Roosevelt wants to get rid of this trade mark and substitute some other that has more appeal for votes, such as Win the War. As if the winning of the war was a party move and the New Deal a socialist move were fighting the battle and furnishing the munitions.

spending of money, by the parliament. Congressmen are so well aware of this that resentment over the mere suggestion of executive interference cut party lines and takes precedence over other loyalties.

In light of the record one may be pardoned for questioning Washington dispatches that Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's denunciation of the Congressional tax bill prepares a presidential veto; or if there is a veto, one would be very unsafe in jumping to the conclusion that there will be no tax bill. The chances of Congress overriding would be very strong.

Both House and Senate versions of the tax bill are weak. Neither of them will collect the revenue that could and should be collected for war purposes at the time when war needs are creating that income. However, it seems to us that Secretary Morgenthau's strictures come with poor grace for his own tax plan made very poor by his own tax plan made very poor.

Both officers of the Administration and Congress are loath to lay taxes that will tap the war created income. In the face of indications that the country, including the people who would be affected, expects them to do just that, they hesitate. There have been intimations that if Congress took the responsibility, the Administration would stand aside, but Congress wants the Administration to share the responsibility.

The right kind of tax bill would be passed if all the elected servants of the people were willing to do their duty without party fears. So long as they hesitate, no one is very much fooled by the names they throw at each other.

News Behind The News
The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER
HARMFUL—The smarter Republicans in the Senate are trying to stage a fight over leadership. Jealousy torments them. Able to get on well enough with inferiors and equals, they are painfully upset by those who edge ahead of them in the race.

The paradox in the situation is that all of us ought to be sensitive to whatever the civilian aide's revelations are. Stephen Early, White House secretary in charge of the press, and Elmer H. Davis, head of the Office of War Information, whether they can persuade F. D. R. to seal the lips of trouble-mongers is another matter.

Steve, who has a made-in-Virginia temper, broke loose when he learned of the civilian aide's warning about the American cause in that must be expected in a European invasion.

"That guy," he said in effect, "may have an office in the Executive Building, but that doesn't give him the right to shoot off his mouth."

He was more kindly toward the military officer who denounced strikes as prolongers of the war, but he thought the indictment unwise and unnecessary.

BLOWS—Mr. Early, it is understood, spoke his mind to the president affectionately calls "the boss" President Roosevelt. But he himself does not know whether or not his advice will be taken.

Gradually, and largely because of the Chief Executive's absorption in international problems, the close bond between these two old friends is breaking. For Mr. Roosevelt is an unrelenting disciplinarian, the former newspaperman has one of the soundest minds in the official family.

Mr. Davis would quit his job if he could muster up the courage. He has been snubbed ever since he came to Washington. The failure to take him to the Cairo and Tehran conferences showed what little weight he carries in the eyes of the president. He is a man who has been snubbed for the "freedom of the press."

But the worst blows of all were that he was not notified in advance that the Emperor would be in Washington, and that the statements were not cleared through him.

FAMILY—Probably the most unusual living arrangement in the Capital is that of Admiral Ernest J. King. Although he has a lovely red-brick Victorian home at the U. S. Naval Observatory, one of the woodiest and most beautiful sections of Washington, he prefers being on board the Dauntless. The converted yacht, which has a displacement of only 125 tons, is anchored at the Navy Yard, in a shabby part of the city.

The Commander in Chief, United States Fleet, and Chief of Naval Operations, is a man who has been snubbed more than usual, had become Teckla's closest friend, and been asked to dine with Teckla's father. She had also, entirely against the college etiquette of waiting for the president's wife to call first, popped in on Mrs. Bull and, after being kicked and petted more than usual, had become Mrs. Bull's closest friend.

Peter Edson's Column:
STORY OF A ROUGH GAS SUPPLY ROUTE

By PETER EDSON
Pampa News Washington Correspondent

The startling fact that American heavy bombers stationed in China must make four flights over the Himalaya mountains in order to pick up and transport their own gasoline and bombs back to their Chinese base, before they can have enough supplies to make one bombing attack against the Japanese, is disclosed by the commanding general of the army air forces, Henry H. Arnold, in his report to the secretary of war.

The details of this one supply operation emphasize the problem of getting supplies to the front. China remains our most effective base for aerial operations against Japan, says General Arnold. Yet before a B-24 Liberator heavy bombardment group can carry out one mission from its base in China, the bomber crews must haul in their own supplies over what is unquestionably the most difficult flying terrain in the world from Assam in northeastern India to Kunming.

OVER THE 'HUMP'
The distance over this route is not great—only 250 miles. To cover that distance, however, the supply planes must climb over 17,000 feet high mountains, flying much of the time by instruments. This is the famous "hump" about which all flying men from the Asian theater speak with such respect. For reasons of military security, not a great deal has

Sensitiveness Creates Hell for Some, But Happiness for Others
One of the most important forks in the road of evolution came when organisms—afterwards clams, oysters, crabs, and lobsters—began putting their skeletons on the outside, and their nerves on the inside, while others risked the great experiment of putting their skeletons within and their nerves without.

So began a creature, one of whose essential characteristics was exposed sensitively. Concerning this basic quality of all emotional life—sensitiveness—it is obvious that we must do something with it one way or another. We cannot dull it without becoming stupid, or elide it without dehumanizing ourselves. All druging of it by drink or opiate is a transient palliative. To despise it is absurd, for it is man's glory. Without sensitiveness there is no creativity.

Some of its most typical abuses are seen in hypersensitive people—touchy, irascible, peevish, petulant. They create hell out of the same quality—sensitiveness—that well used makes happiness possible. Let us be touchy about our touchiness, testistically touchy about and he will gain valuable insight into his personal problem.

Some are hypersensitive about the sex. They are Stephen Early, Jealousy torments them. Able to get on well enough with inferiors and equals, they are painfully upset by those who edge ahead of them in the race.

THE STORY: As Dean of Kinnikinnick College in 1926, Gideon Planish is well-remembered, in departmental public opinion, as a "leader of humanism." His wife, Peony, is a lively, extravagant and ambitious.

It was the Dean's happy belief that, despite his own eloquence, force and fact, it was really Peony who had made him dean, with a salary of two hundred dollars a year more than a full professor's, with more control over the students, and with less necessity of pretending that he had read the latest works of Mrs. Wharton and Miss Cather and this new fellow, Hemingway.

Following their marriage, Peony had called on Teckla Schum and after being snubbed more than usual, had become Teckla's closest friend, and been asked to dine with Teckla's father. She had also, entirely against the college etiquette of waiting for the president's wife to call first, popped in on Mrs. Bull and, after being kicked and petted more than usual, had become Mrs. Bull's closest friend.

Peony had urged her husband to offer himself to President Bull for every style of committee work, and within a year it was expected that whenever a Visiting Celebrity was to be introduced in Assembly, or a program made for combining the organic chemistry and salad-making courses, it would be Professor Planish who would take on the ordeal. When the old dean died, in harness though also in liquor, the choice of Planish for the deanship was inescapable, and his child-like wife considered not unworthy of the purple.

She was an earnest young matron as they drove into the county seat, Mabel Grove (pop. 11,569). One who knew her high position would have supposed that she was thinking of racial problems or social hygiene, but she was staying to the Dean:

"I think we can sneak in a glass of beer at the Appleton House without getting caught. But first I get something to show you; the most fool extravagance you ever heard of, and how I want it! Do I get it, Gideon?"

"What are you asking me for?" he said fondly.

She bade him stop at an old brown house with the modest sign, "T Shop & Antiques." She looked America's air-fleet administered a major defeat, physical and moral, to the Hitlerites in Tuesday's giant battle over Germany.

We have carried our attack to the very heart of Nazi defensive strength—a grand achievement. We have done great damage to three of the chief aircraft assembly plants of the hard-pressed Reich, thereby inflicting a grievous wound on enemy aircraft production at the crucial moment of the war when the Nazis are girding themselves for invasion of western Europe.

Our airmen shot down some hundred fighter planes. But only hundreds of aircraft were destroyed in the blitz at Cachenledob, Halberstadt and Brunswick. Only the Germans can say how much their warplane production has been cut down by this attack, but it undoubtedly is large.

We did a good job. I hear a lot of folk trying to estimate the value of that daring operation by the number of men and aircraft we lost. Certainly a loss of 500 men and 64 warplanes, including 59 huge bombers, is a tough blow. But you just can't figure the thing on that basis.

When our air command considers such an attack the cardinal question to be asked is: Are the objectives worth the risk? If that can be answered with a "yes," then the project is justifiable. It would remain justifiable even if the

Tribute Is Paid To Marines Who Died on Tarawa

The following story was written by S/Sgt. Fred Feldkamp, of Newark, N. J., a Marine corps combat correspondent, and distributed by the Associated Press.

TARAWA—(Delayed)—The Marines who survived the battle for Tarawa paid tribute to their fallen fellow warriors.

At a memorial service just off the fighter air-strip, Protestant and Catholic chaplains commemorated the cause for which the Marines who fell gave their lives.

The setting for the service consisted of sheared-off coconut palms mutilated by our shell-fire and the wreckage of weirdly-twisted Japanese planes which had been destroyed on the one side and the cemetery of cross crosses on the other. A simple altar and two pulpits had been erected by the seabees.

Chaplain W. W. Lumpkin, Episcopal, of Charleston, S. C., second division chaplain, told the Marines in attendance:

"We must dedicate ourselves to the example of the fallen for the duty to come.

"We, their friends, will remember their parents, wives, children, brothers, and sisters, and send out to them a tide of sympathy.

"Tarawa is now history, and will be written on the heart of every Marine, everywhere."

The navy has announced that, during the 10-day period from Nov. 20 to Nov. 30, the casualties on Tarawa were 1,026 dead and 2,557 wounded.

Of the former number, 500 are buried in marked graves on Betio, 200 in the cemetery where the memorial service was held.

One such hero the legend: "You killed 10 Japs—it will take 100 to avenge your death."

Army Puts Doctors In Veterans Hospitals

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Cause of growing shortage of doctors in veterans' hospitals, the army now is enrolling them in active military service and ordering them to remain on their jobs.

In making this known, the veterans administration said many of the approximately 1,400 doctors who are civil service employees in the hospitals have held reserve commissions. But this wasn't enough to keep them. Some were resigning, waiting 60 days and entering active army duty.

Under a new agreement between the veterans administration and war department, those with reserve commissions are being called up and assigned to their present posts. Also, those without reserve commissions are being given commissions if they can meet the physical requirements. It is expected that the remaining civilians who can't meet army tests will stay on their jobs. In this connection, the war manpower commission announced that doctors and dentists in essential activities may not change their jobs without approval of the U. S. employment service.

Stamp Plan Hearing Scheduled Friday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Amid growing congressional controversy over the stamp plan for subsidizing the food bills of low income families, a Senate agriculture subcommittee today prepared to start public hearings on the legislation Friday.

The decision to open the hearing this week announced by Senator Gillette (D-Ia), subcommittee chairman, apparently assured the stamp plan concurrent consideration with pending legislation to abolish general food price control subsidies.

Gillette said officials of the war food administration, who endorsed the stamp plan last week, may be invited to testify at the initial hearing along with Senators Aiken (R-Vt) and LaFollette (Prog-Wis), co-authors of the bill. Representatives of farm organizations and labor groups will be called later.

Put forward as a substitute for the administration's present subsidy policy, the stamp plan would provide for the distribution of coupons good for food purchases to persons whose incomes were insufficient to provide a basic diet.

An annual rainfall of 562 inches has been recorded at Maui in the Hawaiian Islands.

THE PUP GREW UP

Poultry Production Puzzles Missourian

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Rep. Bennett (R-Mo) said today the war food administration advised him it wants to reduce the nation's chicken stocks by 50,000,000 birds in 1944.

WFA seeks this action, he declared, because the market is becoming glutted with chickens and eggs, thus resulting in low prices to producers.

"On the other hand," Bennett asserted, "another agency has just announced it will try to increase poultry production by prison convicts."

The Missourian declared "the whole thing has been mismanaged."

69 Air Bases Over Country Closed by AAF

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The army air force has reached the peak of its unit strength and is gradually shifting to a replacement training basis.

That explanation was supplied today for the closing of 69 air bases throughout the country, a figure estimated by several fields being closed between 5 and 7 per cent of all AAF installations in the United States.

New units will be organized as the war progresses, but for the most part they will be replacement organizations.

The number of installations placed on a "standby" basis, with only custodial employees to keep them in repair for use if needed, was disclosed by Senator McNary (R-Ore), who said he was told by the war department that several fields being closed by the air forces in the Pacific Northwest were among the 69.

Closing the airfields was the latest of a series of steps cutting back surplus military equipment. The air forces training program levelled off. For several months the air forces has omitted to renew expiring contracts with privately-operated schools for training radio operators, mechanics and other technicians. More recently, scores of hotels leased for school purposes have been returned to their owners.

Keep Men in Uniform Until Jobs Found, Hershey Suggests

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Soldiers and sailors should be kept in uniform until jobs are waiting for them, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, believes.

"In demobilization it will not be the part of wisdom to send home thousands to areas in which there is employment for hundreds," he said.

He discussed the problems of filling current draft quotas of 300,000 a month in the face of dwindling supplies of physically fit men between 18 and 37.

At one point he asserted elimination of the present blanket deferment of fathers may be necessary.

FDR Message Seen As Fourth Term Bid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Shorn claims that President Roosevelt drafted his new legislative program with a fourth term in mind were raised in Republican ranks today amid signs of mounting political acrimony in congressional debate.

From House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts came the assertion that "never for a moment did the chief executive's annual etching of the union outline 'forget that there is an election ahead.'"

The Democratic leader, Rep. McCrackin of Massachusetts, however, halted it as "a fighting message from a fighting president."

"It all adds up to a fourth term bid," said Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio), chairman of a Republican food study committee, in commenting upon Mr. Roosevelt's program for securing wartime economic stabilization while developing a long range plan for "security and prosperity."

Rep. Summers (D-Tex.), veteran chairman of the house judiciary committee, scored the plan.

One tablespoonful of kitchen fat will make five machine gun bullets.

Dust from burned-out meteors sifts constantly to the earth, adding slowly but surely to its bulk.

Wounded German Curses His Mates

TEMPLE, Jan. 13 (AP)—Company aid men are saving more lives at the battlefield than all the doctors, a doctor with the 36th Division who returned to McCloskey general hospital this week in the air evacuation convoy from the Italian battlefield, said on his arrival.

He is Capt. Jack O. Atkins of Tulsa, whose wife and two children are living temporarily at Bauxite, Ark.

Captain Atkins, a company commander with a medical battalion, was wounded in action at Salerno, Sept. 9, when he was hit with machine-gun fire during a tank attack. He lost his left foot as a result of that action.

"I was treating a German officer about three miles inland. He had been shot through the leg. He was scared to death and was crying. He had been told if he was captured by an American officer he would be killed. When I was shot, he started rubbing my head and sobbing, 'poor comrade, those German doctors are splendid!'"

The company aid men deserve more credit than any one outfit. I saw them go out under shell fire and never bat an eye. Five of my own men were killed. The medics are splendid."

Captain Atkins said he never saw so much shooting as he did from the darkened positions of the ship enclosing him to Africa that night.

"One thing you can say," he added. "I never saw an American boy holler out while he was being treated. They've got guts, those boys."

Returning The Railroads

(The Chicago Tribune)

There is no longer the remotest excuse to justify the government's possession of the railroads of the nation. They were seized last Monday night on orders of the President to avert a threatened strike. In fact, all but 150,000 of the 1,450,000 organized railroad workers had agreed before the President issued his order that they would not walk out. For all practical purposes, therefore, the threat was nonexistent at the time the President signed the decree.

Meanwhile, the three unions which still held out on Monday night have fallen into line. That being so, there is no longer even a nominal justification for depriving the owners of their property. The railroads should be returned to private management at once.

Any one who will take the trouble to examine the record can hardly escape the conclusion that Mr. Roosevelt's goal all along has been seizure of the railroads. If his administration had taken the people into its confidence on the conduct of the war there would be little labor unrest in the country.

When, months ago, his mediation boards had awarded increases amounting to about 8 cents an hour to some of the railroad unions his stabilization director refused to permit increases of more than 4 cents an hour. The railroad workers knew that the larger increase was fair and the railroads were willing to pay it. Mr. Roosevelt also knew that the 8 cent raise was fair and the proof is that the moment he was accepted as arbitrator he awarded it to the engineers. In fact, he gave them not the 8 cents that would have averted all danger of a strike but 9 cents—the 4 cents they were allowed by Mr. Vinson and a bonus of 5 cents in lieu of demands that they have been willing all along to waive if they were given their 8 cents.

Obviously Mr. Roosevelt went through this elaborate maneuver for a purpose; and his purpose could have been none other than to find an excuse for seizing private property. He may intend to keep the railroads, as his Communist friends desire him to do, or he may return the properties before long, but in either event he has taken another step in accumulating the American people to the seizure of private property. He wants them to think it is a costless, harmless, temporary expedient.
