Marshall Says Army Expected Attack at Plane Plants--Not Hawaii

Word of Attack By Telephone Termed Unsafe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—Axis agents, listening in on even the trans-Atlantic conversations of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, made it unsafe to telephone a warning to Hawaii on Dec. 7, 1941, Gen. George C. Marshall said today.

That was the reason, he told the Pearl Harbor investigating committee, that the telephone was not used to advise Hawaii commanders that Japan apparently was going to make some move at 1 p. m., Eastern Standard Time (down in Hawaii).

RAID ON HAWAII

He had testified earlier that the U. S. high command, for that matter, considered a raid on Hawaii less probable than attacks on airplane plants at Seattle, Wash., and San Diego, Calif., or on the Panama Canal.

WHY NOT TELEPHONE

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) wanted to know why the telephone was not used.

"President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill were in the habit

Merchants Warned Against Check Thieves, Forgers

Chief of Police Louie Allen stated yesterday that the U. S. Secret Service had requested his cooperation in warning businessmen to be on the lookout for check thieves and forgers, who usually become very active during the rush of business of the pre-holiday shopping season.

"Merchants should talk this over with their employees now," Chief Allen said. "All clerks and cashiers should be cautioned to be even more careful than usual in accepting their government or commercial checks from strangers. No check should be accepted from any stranger unless properly identified."

Chief Allen referred to the campaign to prevent check forgery, which has been conducted for the past several years by the U. S. Secret Service Treasury Department, and police departments throughout the country.

According to Chief Frank J. Wilson of the U. S. Secret Service, even though the number of forged checks have increased, due to the great number of checks being issued, crime prevention methods have reduced the actual rate of forgeries from 99 per million in 1939 to 38 per million at the present time.

This could not have been accomplished without the full cooperation of the police departments throughout the country.

These departments through their efforts, have obtained cooperation from many merchants.

"Many juveniles from 12 to 17 years of age have stolen, forged and cashed government and commercial checks."

'STRONG GERMANY'

Sen. James O. Eastland of Mississippi, democrat, bluntly calls for economically-strong Germany as a bulwark against Russia, who, he tells the senate, was a "predatory, aggressor nation."

Russian Support On Atomic Control Sought by Brynes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes and Foreign Minister Bevin almost certainly will seek Russian support for a formula to give the little fellows a voice in control of atomic energy when they meet Foreign Commissar Molotov in Moscow next week.

Diplomatic officials said today that preliminary agreement on some sort of atomic control formula will be an important step toward building closer relations among the great powers. The problem is to come up formally at the United Nations assembly meeting in January.

Byrnes reportedly wants the assembly of the United Nations rather than the security council to handle it because (1) 51 nations rather than 11 would play some part, and (2) the big-power veto would not apply. Authorities here believe the British share these views.

Here are high spots of the days developments building up to the Moscow talks:

1. The state department made public the text of the Russian note rejecting an American proposal that Soviet and British troops as well as American be pulled out of Iran by Jan. 1. Russia blamed uprisings in Iran on "reactionary elements"

Former No. 3 Nazi Answers AP Questions

(Editor's Note: Rudolf Hess, through his Attorney Gunther von Rohrscheidt, answered a written list of questions submitted by the Associated Press giving his answers directly in writing. This is the first direct communication from Hess to the press since his sensational flight to England in 1941.)

NUERNBERG, Dec. 8 (AP)—Rudolf Hess declared today that he flew to England to try to halt the fight between two "noble races"—England and Germany—and not to enlist British aid in the attack on Russia, as widely believed.

LONG PLANNED FLIGHT
Hess asserted he had planned the flight for nearly a year before the invasion of Russia, and even had taken off for England several times from June, 1940, onward, but each time was forced back by bad weather. The successful attempt came on May 10, 1941.

PROPOSED BIG LOAN TO BRITAIN IS SIGNED

The proposed $4,400,000,000 loan to be granted by the United States to Great Britain to aid her in recovering from the war is signed by United States and British officials before it is sent to congress and the house of commons for ratification. At the state department ceremony are (L to R): Lord John Maynard Keynes, head of the British Loan mission; Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the U. S.; Secretary of State James Byrnes, and Fred Vinson, Secretary of the treasury.

Homma Formally Charged With Bataan Death March; Trials Set

TOKYO, Sunday, Dec. 9 (AP)—The United States today formally charged Japanese Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, conqueror of the Philippines, with permitting the death march of Bataan and other atrocities against Filipinos and Americans.

The indictment, made public by General MacArthur, also named four other officers accused of sanctioning murder, brutalities and other crimes during the early months of the war in the Philippines.

Homma, 58, who is held at Omori prison camp outside Tokyo, will be taken to Manila for trial shortly, presumably before the same type of military commission which two days ago sentenced Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita to death.

Some of the other officers named already are in the Philippines. The trial dates will be announced

Issues on Loan To Britain Take Form in Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—Arguments for and against the proposed loan to Britain took form today as congress studied the complicated terms worked out by Anglo-American experts.

Meantime preparations went forward for President Truman to send a message to congress soon, asking for approval of a $3,750,000,000 loan. The tentative agreements signed by the two governments call for total credits of $4,400,000,000.

Following are the questions being asked most often about the proposal. The answers are based on official statements by American and British officials—or on information supplied by them:

Q. Why do the British need a loan?

A. The British exist by exporting and importing. Their money reserves were seriously depleted during the war and their trade was cut by 70 percent. They said they need

Week's Review of Business, Finance

By The Associated Press

The pulse of business and finance beat more orderly this week.

There was a slight decrease in the number of workers made idle by strikes, although the total still hovered near the one-half million mark.

The stock market threw off restraints of the preceding week and dashed to new 15-year highs to the tune of 2 billion shares daily.

Bonds and commodities were more conservative but progress was the rule.

The price of stock exchange memberships bounced up and down like a rubber ball. Four changed hands at these prices $89,000, 90,000, $88,000, and then again at $90,000, the highest since July 20, 1937.

A curb exchange membership sold at $32,000, best since 1937.

Christmas business at from 20 to 25 per cent better than last year.

Bank clearing was the highest in 16 years at $15,250,658,000, up 54.6 per cent from $9,864,385,000 in the previous week and 28.8 per cent better than $12,829,282,000 last year.

Electric power output climbed back to 4,042,915,000 kilowatt hours from 3,841,350,000 in the previous week compared with 4,524,257,000 last year.

Crude oil output averaged 4,448,100 barrels daily, against 4,469,000 a week earlier and 4,712,900 a year ago.

Engineering construction awards totaled $80,341,000, up 35 per cent

Shamrock May Have Commercial Airline

SHAMROCK, Dec. 8.—(Special)—Plans are underway for the inauguration of an unscheduled airline route between Shamrock and Amarillo and Shamrock and Oklahoma City.

The plans are being formulated by Doyle Reynolds and Stuart Legassick, veteran air pilots of World War II, who since their discharge have been pilots for the Columbia Airlines in Baltimore, Md. The two former capt.ains are contacting persons whom they think might be interested in buying stock and forming a corporation to carry on the operation of the proposed airline.

If enough interest is shown in the proposed route, a hangar will be built on the CAA Landing Field at Twitty. In addition to the airline route, flight instruction courses will be offered. A single engine, four-passenger Cessna will be used for the transportation of passengers, while a single engine Aeronca, a private pilot's plane which seats two persons side-by-side, will be used for instruction purposes.

Reynolds and Legassick have seen and assisted in the operation of such lines back east and are anxious to pioneer the field in this section of the country, being sold one hundred per cent on the possibilities.

Reynolds is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Reynolds and was decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters and the Presidential Citation for his seven months of service in Italy.

Legassick was a RCAF captain, serving eight months in India with the China National Aviation Corporation.

When fully grown the California condor measures nine to 11 feet from wingtip to wingtip.

over the previous week and 343 per cent better than last year.

Business failures climbed to 15 from 7 in the previous week and compared with 26 a year ago.

Shamrock Hopes To Top Seal Sale

SHAMROCK, Dec. 8.—(Special)—Flake George, chairman of the Christmas Seal Sale in the Shamrock area, expressed confidence this morning that the goal of $1,000 would be reached and possibly exceeded during the current drive.

Committees are now at work and although figures are not available George stated that the solicitors are being greeted with generous response and that he feels sure the results of the campaign will be most gratifying.

Committees composed of two members are calling on every business house in town contacting both employers and employees. No canvasser will be made of the residential section because most families will be contacted through members in the downtown places of business.

Persons who are not contacted may purchase the Seals at the Shamrock post office or the chamber of commerce office, George declared.

Everyone is familiar with the purpose of the Christmas Seal Sale. Proceeds of the sale are used to combat tuberculosis, a disease that kills almost as large per cent of persons as did the Japanese and Germans during World War II.

A Wheeler County Tuberculosis Association has been organized, headed by Dr. H. E. Nicholson of Wheeler with Flage George as vice president. Through this organization, 80 per cent of the money raised in the current drive will be kept here to air in the fight of the dread disease.

Give generously when the committee calls on you. You might save the life of your neighbor's child!

Biggest Buzz in Washington Is In Committees

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The big buzz in congress this week was at the committee hearing, not on the floor of house or senate.

That's good to remember; if you come to Washington, drop in at committee hearings. Lots of people don't.

They swarm through the capital, look at statues of statesmen long dead, sit through droning speeches in house and senate.

They leave, thinking they've seen congress at work. But they've only seen congress on display.

They don't walk across the street to the huge building where the senators have their offices and committee rooms nor to the two big buildings which serve the same purpose for the representatives.

The real work is done in the committees. Most of the hearings are open to the public. It's first come, first served. There you get a real close-up of congress in action. Take this week for example:

The senate foreign relations committee in a room jammed to the doors with spectators and newsmen, listened while Maj. Gen. Patrick Hurley thundered out why he quit as ambassador to China.

A good deal of it was dramatic. The seats were free. Just down the hall the joint house-senate committee investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster shot questions at the former chief of staff, General George C. Marshall, now ambassador to China.

This hearing, too, was open to the public and it drew a packed house for no one doubted this one was going to be in the history books.

Meanwhile, all over the senate and house office buildings other hearings were going on about atomic energy, compulsory military training, housing, the army-navy merger.

7 Nippon Soldiers Came Down From Mountains to Die

MANTLA, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Seven ragged Japanese soldiers tramped painfully out of the jungle-covered mountains of Mindoro island, held up a Chinese truck, and rode for miles to reach the provincial capital of Calapan—just so they could commit hara-kiri in my front yard," says Lt. Edwin J. Frick, of Jersey City, N. J.

"And after coming all that way to surrender—yeah, they said surrender—they wanted to shoot me for trying to prevent their suicide," Frick lamented.

"They missed him. The final score was four Japanese dead, three alive with headaches.

Frick tells the story: The Japanese, their food exhausted, left their mountain hideout to hike up the highway toward Calapan. They halted a truck and were deposited in the Calapan plaza.

A excited crowd quickly gathered. Eventually a Filipino told the military police commander a few guests were waiting to see him.

The commander sent Frick and Lt. Robert Mitchell, Seattle, Wash., to "accept the surrender" of the armed Japanese.

Mitchell motioned them to lay down their arms.

The Nipponese leader shouted an order; his men paired off, raised their weapons and began shooting each other.

American waded in and subdued three, with skull taps from rifle butts. The other four Japanese were beyond taping—and beyond saving.

NEW PASSENGER CAR TIRE

Coming soon: new B. F. Goodrich synthetic TIRE THAT OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

It's today's best: tire for your car

A MIRACLE, some have called it! Few believed that a tire could ever be made of synthetic rubber that would actually outdistance those made of prewar natural rubber. Yet, here it is, the new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown. And here are some of the reasons for its longer-than-prewar mileage:

New, better synthetic rubber

A new rubber, so superior that for a long time it was a closely guarded military secret, was developed by B. F. Goodrich. Tires made with this rubber wear longer, run cooler. They have greater resistance to cracking—actually are more resistant to bruising and damage from accidents. But rubber is only one reason why the new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown outwears prewar tires.

New road-level tread—stronger body

In the picture above, note how the tread is flatter—puts more rubber on the road. This means that more rubber shares the wear, spreads it evenly over the whole tread surface. No more worn-out-in-the-middle treads. The result: more mileage, better traction, more skid-resistance and greater safety.

The tire body is more rugged, too. B. F. Goodrich developed a stronger cotton cord for this tire. And more cords are used than in prewar tires. Another feature that means more miles, greater safety for you.

Nearly 17 million test miles

Over 2,000 tests have been made with this new tire. Taxi fleets, state police cars, and the B. F. Goodrich test fleet have rolled up nearly 17 million miles under all kinds of driving conditions. The new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown gives longer tread wear . . . actually outdistances prewar tires.

Backed by 3 years' EXTRA synthetic tire experience

The first B. F. Goodrich tires containing synthetic rubber were sold to American motorists 18 months before Pearl Harbor. That was three full years before any other tire manufacturer . . . three years' extra synthetic rubber tire experience. This three-year head start is another reason why you can count on extra mileage . . . extra safety . . . extra value from the new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown. Supplies are still limited, of course, but we hope to have much larger quantities in the hands of most dealers within the next few months. The B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, Ohio.

More Youngsters Write Christmas Wishes to Santa

Dear Santa:
I am a little boy six years old. I go to school. I have the flu now. I been a good boy. Please bring me a football, boat and some candy and horses, candy, fruit and nuts. Don't forget the other children.
Your little friend,
Bernie Gail Sparks.

Dear Santa Claus:
I am a little boy six years old. I am in the first grade. For Christmas I would like a football, a sled, a scabbard for two guns, a policeman's set with a pin and handcuffs, a dump truck and train, and anything you think a good six-year-old will like.
I love you very, very much.
Raymer D. Fellman.

P. S. Be sure to take care of my friends. I hope you get here all right. Our roads are being worked on, so be careful.

Dear Santa Claus:
I am little boy 4 years old, and I have tried to be good. Please bring me a blackboard, an airplane, and a gun. Also some nuts, fruits, and candy. I have a little brother two year old, his name is Lonnie. Please bring him some toys, too.
Your little friend,

Dear Santa Claus:
I am a girl four years old and my brother is one. We are hoping we will get to see you when you come. Will you please bring me a little wadding doll, a suitcase, and a high chair for my doll. And don't forget my little brother. He wants a little toy doll.
Bre, Santa. With love,
Jeanne Renfro
And Lowell.

Dear Santa:
I am a good little girl who will be 2 years old the 25th of this month. I would like a football, some wishes, some nuts and candy, and another dog to play with the one I have.
Love,
Johnnie Alvina.

Operation May Save 'Blue' Baby

BALTIMORE, Dec. 8.—(AP)—A mother's two-year search for someone who could save her "blue" baby from death apparently met success today on an operating table at the Johns Hopkins hospital.

Dr. Alfred Bialock, professor of surgery at Hopkins, operated on Judy Hackman, two, of Buckley, Wash., in an attempt to avert surgically what had once seemed inevitable—Judy's death from insufficient oxygen in her blood.

Although hospital officials emphasized that the 48 hours following the operation's end at 10:45 a. m. were a period of crisis, they said that as far as could be determined now, the operation was successful. Dr. Bialock said the operation went "quite well" and Judy was "doing very nicely."

In 1788, a year before the U. S. constitution was drafted, some Philadelphia printers struck for a 54 week wage.

Coyotes Come From Behind to Blast Sandies 26 to 7

Hawks Play Rocketts For Region I Crown

PHILLIPS, Dec. 8.—Coach Chesty Walker's Phillips Blackhawks will meet Wellington Skyrockets here next Friday afternoon at 2:30 for the Class A, Region I football championship.

The Blackhawks won the right to meet Wellington here Friday when they scored a penetration win over the Hereford Whitefaces after the two teams had fought to a 14-14 tie.

Fullback Dick Jackson was the sparkplug of the Phillips offensive as he ran over one touchdown and also galloped for the two extra points.

Hereford took a 7-0 lead in the second period when Bishop Whiteface quarterback, passed from the 32-yard line to close, left halfback, who went from the 18 across the goal. Davis kicked the extra point to give Hereford a 7-0 lead at half-time.

In the third period Phillips drove to the Hereford 10 from where Dick Johnson plunged through the center of the line for the touchdown and added the extra point the same way.

On the first play of the fourth period, Leonard Henderson took the ball on the Hereford 20 and went around end for the score with Jackson again adding the extra point.

With his team trailing 14-7, Worrell took the Phillips kickoff and ran from his own 32 to go over standing up. Davis tied it up by kicking the extra point.

Phillips counted three penetrations to win the game. Hereford drove inside the Phillips 20 two times.

Statistically, the Blackhawks had the edge in nearly every department, piling up 13 first downs to Hereford's three and gaining 205 yards from scrimmage to Hereford's 105.

Wellington won the right to play in the regional round by defeating Floydada 18-12 last week. Phillips holds a 20-7 victory over Wellington in an early-season game but three Wellington regulars were absent from the line-up.

Goose Creek, Odessa, Waco Win Other Saturday Contests

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, Dec. 8.—(AP)—After taking a drubbing in the first two quarters, the Wichita Falls Coyotes turned on the power in the second half here today to defeat the Amarillo Sandies 26 to 7.

During the first half the Coyotes seemed pretty slow, chalking up only two first downs to nine for Amarillo. Seale, Sandie fullback score in the second period, driving over from the one-foot line.

Wichita Falls came back strong to stop Amarillo dead as the second half opened. Then Bigham, Coyote tackle, blocked an Amarillo punt and Washburn of Wichita Falls recovered on the Amarillo 20. The Coyotes drove on down to score. Joe, Dean Tidwell, going over from the one-yard line.

Later in the third period, Lindy Berry passed 14 yards to Biggy Pyle over the goal line.

In the final stanza, Tidwell scored his second touchdown from the two-yard line. Then, with only 30 seconds to go, Pyle ran 29 yards for the last Coyote score.

Wichita Falls made 172 net yards rushing to 141 for the Sandies and completed four passes for 65 yards to Amarillo's two passes for 14 yards.

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Robert E. Lee's hard driving Ganders from Goose Creek pushed the big Milby Buffaloes all over the Houston high school stadium this afternoon to win their bi-district game 14 to 6.

A colorful crowd of 22,000 spectators turned out for the battle and saw the Ganders out-rush Milby 161 yard to 5 and hold an 11 to 1 edge in first downs for the first half. But the score-board didn't change a bit during all of that, and when the clubs left the field at intermission, it was 0 to 0.

But the Ganders scored twice in the third chapter, and just as the fans were leaving the park convinced that Milby was going to be dunked, the Buffs tallied in three plays from the 19 yard line after Oliver Anglin blocked a punt.

Ted Hunt scored both Gander touchdowns. He tallied the first from the one yard line after Jack Kraft had converted a fumble on the Buffs' 12 and he counted the second from one to one close out a 36-yard drive which got into operation as Byron Haney intercepted a pass.

For the day, the Ganders rushed for 271 yards against 33 for Milby, and had 15 first downs, while the Buffs ended up with five first downs.

EL PASO, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Odessa's Bronchos backed their way into the state football quarter-finals here today when they defeated the El Paso High Tigers, 20-7, at College of Mines Kidd field.

Odessa scored with the game but two minutes old when J. W. Thompson took a lateral and circled left end for a score from 20 yards out. Byron Townsend converted.

El Paso flashed back in the first quarter after recovering a Broncho fumble on the 33. On the first play, Bill Chesak lateraled to Russell Waterhouse who went over standing up. Lulu Quijand converted.

In the second quarter, Odessa drove over after recovering an El Paso fumble on the 40. A lateral to Townsend who tossed a forward to Taylor in the end zone went for the score. The conversion attempt was wide.

El Paso outplayed the winners in the second half until the Bronchos put the game on ice in the waning minutes with another touchdown from a lateral-forward, this time to Partridge in the end zone. Townsend converted.

WACO, Texas, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Waco's Tigers rolled to a 20-0 victory over Breckenridge's Buckaroos today to advance to the quarter-finals of the Texas schoolboy football race where they will meet Marshall's Mavericks, 13-8 victors yesterday over Lufkin.

Jack Scarborough, Marvin Brenner, Cliff Lindloff and Bob Sallee, operating effectively behind a line sparked by all-state Friggie Williams and tackle Ralph Murphy, whipped up touchdowns in the first, second and third periods, and handcuffed the Buckaroos with only 5 yards rushing and 60 in the air while the Tigers were blasting to 291 on the ground and passing for one touchdown.

Brenner crashed over from the three-yard line in the last minute of the opening period, for the first touchdown. The next score came in the fading minutes of the second period on a 49-yard drive with Lindloff passing nine yards to Williams for the touchdown. Williams converted.

Waco's final counter came when Buddy Purrer intercepted a pass and looped 20 yards unimpeded to a touchdown. Williams again added the extra point.

The brace of four bi-district games Friday brought about two startling upsets—Marshall's win over hitherto unbeaten Lufkin and Fort Worth's North Side coming out on top of Crozier Tech.

Marshall's Mavericks clipped the high-ranking Panthers 13-8 Friday while North Side (Fort Worth), picked by everyone to lose to the Dallas eleven, bounced the Wolves 16-0 by outplaying them all the way.

In other first-round games Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) beat Brownsville 29-7 and Highland Park (Dallas) knocked Paris from the ranks of the undefeated and united with a 33-7 victory.

Marshall, which had lost to Highland Park 26-0 in mid-season, jumped out to score two touchdowns in the first half and the Panthers never could catch up. Both Mavericks touchdowns came on passes from Billy Dinkie to Morris Jones.

Bill Moxley went over for three touchdowns as Highland Park completely overshadowed Paris while Thomas Jefferson had only minimum trouble downing Brownsville, scoring three touchdowns before the Eagles could get a pay-dirt drive under way.

North Side amazed a crowd of 22,000 at Fort Worth by holding the hitherto high-powered Crozier Tech offense to a single first down. The Dallas team never got past the 50-yard mark and the Fort Worth team clashed in on a field goal and two intercepted passes that led to touchdowns.

27 Cage Quintets Enter Tourney

SHAMROCK, Dec. 8.—Twenty-seven teams representing 15 towns have already entered Shamrock's annual invitation basketball tournament to be held in the gymnasium here on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 11 and 12. Coach Bob Clark, director of the event, announced this week.

The tournament this year will be for both Class A and Class B schools, with the winner of each of those classes playing for the grand championship, Coach Clark stated. No Class AA schools will be entered.

Penants bearing a large Shamrock with "1946 Championship" will go to the Class A winner, the Class B winner and the champion of the Class A and Class B.

Gold basketballs will be presented players chosen on the all-star teams in all divisions.

Coaches who wish to enter teams should contact Coach Clark as soon as possible. The deadline for entering is Jan. 6. Brackets of play will be mailed to teams on Jan. 7. Clark said.

Teams that live outside a radius of 30 miles of Shamrock will be furnished rooms Friday night. Officials will be Bill Clynch of Childress and Tom Riley of Canadian.

Teams entered to date are: Class A and B girls—Wheeler, Quail, Kelton, Mobeetie, Groom, Samnorwood, Canadian, Hedley, Vega, McLean, Miami and Shamrock.

Class B boys—Quail, Kelton, Mobeetie, Groom, Samnorwood, Hedley, Vega and Miami.

In starting an automobile, keep the clutch pressed down. It makes for easier starting, especially in the winter, and guards against accidents if the transmission happens to be in gear.

Dew or moisture condensing on a car is especially harmful to the finish. For that reason, if for no other, a car should be kept in a closed garage at night.

Rice Rebuked By Southwest Faculty Group

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF DALLAS, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The southwest conference faculty committee today issued what was construed as a rebuke to Rice Institute for giving over its stadium to the Oil Bowl football game at Houston with adoption of a resolution reading:

"There is no change in the relation of the conference to the Cotton Bowl Athletic association. The conference is committed to support of the Cotton Bowl game."

This merely reaffirmed the agreement between the conference and the Cotton Bowl which permits the football champion to the Dallas New Year's classic but coming at this time, when there was so much discussion pro and con regarding Rice's move and on the heels of Southern Methodist university's action in turning down a bid to play in the Oil Bowl with the statement that it did not desire to support a competing game, it was apparent that the faculty committee was taking a rap at Rice, institute.

It also was indicated that this resolution had the effect of stating that the conference would not give permission to any team in the conference to play in the Oil Bowl.

The faculty committee voted to continue suspension of the one-year residence rule, thus allowing freshmen and transfers to participate in varsity athletics through the 1946-47 school year.

The rule transfer which prohibits a boy who has participated in athletics at a senior college from participating at a conference school was continued in effect with no specific provisions for returning servicemen but it was stated that such cases would be handled individually on their merits so that no injustices might be done.

Hack Miller Named As Lubbock Manager

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Sam Rosenthal, president of Lubbock in the West Texas-New Mexico league, announced today that he had signed Jim (Hack) Miller as club manager.

Miller, the Detroit Tigers' bullpen catcher last year, hit more than 700 in his few games with the world champions in 1944. He managed Lubbock in 1938 and 1939 going to the Tigers in 1944.

New Items for This Christmas

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Simply elegant or impudently gay are the Christmas cosmetic packages for this year. Though ornate and fussy boxes are still few and far between, millady is quite apt to receive her favorite scented astride a tiny horse, or bedded sleekly in a crystal-clear lucite box.

Studies of cosmetics generally will be much greater than last year, and the return in quantity of perfume and alcohol-base eau de cologne, so strictly rationed during the war, is promised.

COSMETIC "BOOKS"

Favored by some houses are the "leather" bound volumes, looking like handsome additions to the library, but containing adult knowledge of a woman's beauty needs in perfume and powder. Symptomatic of the trend to simplicity is packaging of one brand new bath line in pure white boxes, with a single deep pink rose imprinted as the only decoration.

Anticipating a travel revival, cosmetic houses are showing smart leather travel cases, many with fashion-wise over-the-shoulder straps fitted with basic skin and makeup essentials. And with the release of steel for civilian use, complete manicure sets are reappearing.

(Helena Rubinstein)

Knowing that a Christmas gift of powder, perfume or cologne is always acceptable, this pretty girl has selected scents which best fit the personalities of her friends. Favorites with her and many other women are ensembles of soap, powder and cologne, a lipstick wardrobe in a case, and eye make-up kits.

(La Cross)

Steel manicure sets return in time for Christmas. This brown leather case lined with suede has scissors, clippers, nippers, file, tweezer and pusher.

Novel Christmas version of the Magic Slipper is the bright blue hobnail glass container above, filled with a haunting pot-pourri.

This sprigged Blue Grass Christmas heron, crowned with flowers and tied with ribbon, carries on its saddle a bottle of perfume.

Williams-Roach Rites Are Read In Price Home

Miss Lucille Williams, daughter of C. V. Williams, 531 S. Gray, became the bride of James M. Roach, son of Mrs. W. H. Riel, of Memphis, Dec. 1, at 11 p. m., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Price.

Nuptial vows were exchanged by the couple in a single ring ceremony, with the Rev. Will M. Cullwell, pastor of the McCullough Methodist church, officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a two-piece dress of white wool, with black accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

The bride's step-mother, Mrs. C. V. Williams, was attended in a street-length dress of aqua with brown accessories.

Mrs. L. O. Flaherty, sister of the bride, wore a two-piece dress of black, with black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Roach will be at home in Memphis.

The bride was employed by the M. E. Moses company at the time of her marriage, and was a former employe of Pampa army air field.

The bridegroom was recently discharged from the infantry, and he was awarded the Purple Heart and Cluster. He served with the 17th army in Europe for about 17 months.

Guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Frank Price, Flora Jean Price, Mrs. C. V. Williams, Mrs. L. O. Flaherty, Orville Holt and Mrs. Williams.

Rebekah Noble Grand Is Named

Mrs. Elmer Rupp, was elected to serve as Noble Grand, and Mrs. Hazel Franklin was named vice-Grand, when members of the Pampa Rebekah lodge met Thursday evening.

Other officers, who will be installed in January, include: Mrs. Mae Phillips, secretary, and Mrs. Elsie Coe, treasurer.

Noble Grand Bessie Mastin presided at the business meeting, and the degree of Rebekah was conferred on Mrs. Mildred Guthrie.

Initiatory degrees were awarded two candidates, Mrs. Irene Werth and Mrs. Aladeen Rose.

Members with birthdays in November and December will be honored at the meeting Thursday evening.

It was announced that Mrs. Mattie E. Knauff, president of the Rebekah assembly will be in Amarillo, Dec. 11, at a meeting of the Amarillo Rebekah lodge, at 7:30 p. m., and all Pampa Rebekah members have been invited to attend.

Present were: Mesdames Hazel Franklin, Elsie Coe, Mrs. Phillip Gertrude Culbertson, Lillie Patterson, Sannie Sullivan, Grace Noble, Nora Jamison, Lillie Hollis, Ethel Wilson, June Rowe, Lillie Noblitt, Dorothy Voyles, Lodema Mitchell, Oma Cole, Edna Nolan, Ouida Morris, Frances Hall, Edna Braly, Etta Crisler, Lols King, Ellen Kretzmeier, Mildred Guthrie, Bessie Mastin, members, and Mrs. Zedeker, Ruth Camp and Fred Paronto.

Ester Club To Meet On Monday Evening

All attending are requested to bring gifts less than one dollar in cost.

Presentation Dance Planned by Sub Debs

Anita Lane, 887 S. Barnes was hostess to the Sub Deb club Thursday evening at 7:30, when plans were discussed for the presentation dance to be held after the Christmas holidays.

The club concluded the football season with a dance for members and guests at the Country club recently.

Volunteers Are Needed by Red Cross To Cut And Make Children's Garments for War Relief

Material for Foreign War Relief garments is being received by the Red Cross daily. These garments will be given to the unfortunate children of the world.

Volunteers will start cutting materials on Jan. 4 in the Red Cross production room in the basement of the post office, says Mrs. C. E. High, volunteer special service chairman. She is asking that volunteers start arranging their household duties in order to be able to assist with this humanitarian program of service to the needy children of the world.

The following garments are to be made: 240 woolen snow suits for 2-year-olds; 240 woolen overalls for 2 to 4-year-olds; 100 boys shirts ages 2 to 4 year old; 120 woolen capes for children, ages 4 to 10.

Mrs. R. J. Epps, production chairman, reports that the 862 garments for the denim-lavettes have been completed. She wants the volunteers to know that their efforts in getting this quota out of the way on time were very greatly appreciated.

In addition to the above quota, convalescent hospital garments for our hospitalized servicemen and women are just about completed, 400 hot water bottle covers; 144 bed socks; 48 convalescent robes; 141 sweaters; and 38 mufflers are expected to be shipped by Jan. 1, 1945.

Even though the war has ended, the Pampa Red Cross volunteers realize that their services are still needed in making the adjustment back to peacetime.

Dear Friends: Though you might be interested in the travels of one of the kit bags your chapter packed.

The kit I received was issued to me on 29 August, 1943 while I was aboard the Dorothy L. Dix, enroute to Oran, Africa. After a short stay in Oran, our outfit moved to Algiers. From there we moved to Phillipville and then embarked for Naples. After quite a stay in Italy, we moved into Southern France.

SOCIETY

Plans for Teen Canteen To Include Festive Activities for Christmas

Harold Wright, general chairman of the Teen Canteen, has announced that members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion are rapidly completing the organization, and that Mrs. Julia Pagan, former Pampa USO director, has been secured to supervise activities of the Canteen.

Mrs. Pagan, well known in this city, will be on duty at all open hours, and she will direct the various youth recreations, assisted by members of the executive board, and corresponding committees of the youths, themselves.

It is the purpose of the group, that members of the canteen be allowed to govern themselves, and an election of officers will be held soon. Each youth committee will be advised by a member of the executive board.

Membership cards will be issued to all boys and girls of the community between the ages of 13 and 19, who wish to join. There will be no membership fee, and Mrs. Lynn Boyd will serve as adult membership chairman.

The board of directors consists of the Commanders of the VFW and the American Legion, the presidents of the two auxiliaries, and members of the permanent building committee. This board will meet monthly with the executive board to discuss and make plans for the canteen.

It is hoped, officials stated, that all organizations will consider the canteen a community project.

All local women, who wish to assist as chaperones, are invited to contact Mrs. G. C. Blalock, hospitably chairman.

The canteen, which has been closed temporarily because of the flu epidemic, will reopen Dec. 10, and plans are under way for a Christmas party.

J. Ray Martin is co-chairman of the canteen, and members of the board of directors are: Ed Dunigan, American Legion; Mike Rohe, VFW; Mrs. Leroy Francis, Legion Auxiliary; and Mrs. G. C. Blalock, VFW Auxiliary.

Members of the permanent building committee are: Jake Garman, Dan Williams, Floyd Imel and A. A. Schumaker.

Executive board members to correspond with the youth committees are: Harold Wright, J. Ray Martin, Mrs. Pagan, and Mrs. Frank Lard, secretary-treasurer; Miss Maurine Jones, entertainment chairman; Mrs. Roy Chisum, house committee; Mrs. C. E. High, refreshments; Mrs. Paul Taber, decorations; Mrs. Jack Hanna, special events; Mrs. G. C. Blalock, hospitality; Mrs. E. E. McNutt, publicity; Mrs. Lynn Boyd, membership; Harold Wright, rules and regulations; Harold Wright, Mrs. Chisum and Mrs. McNutt, constitution and by-laws.

Frederick Smetana, Bohemian composer, was practically self-taught until he was 20.

Local Music Teachers and Guests Are Entertained at Banquet and Program

Christmas season was observed by members and guests of the Pampa Music Teachers association with a banquet and program Friday evening in the Church of the Brethren.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. L. D. Fagan, Mrs. Roy Reeder and Miss Eloise Lane.

Tables were attractively decorated in the Christmas motif and colors.

Mrs. H. A. Yoder presided at the business session in the absence of the president, Mrs. May Foreman Carr.

Prelude music was provided by Mickey Jeanne Casada and Mildred Martin. Jack Dunham sang several songs, accompanied at the piano by Miss Wanda Gordon.

Two saxophone solos were played by Donald Max Noel, accompanied by Mrs. Fagan. Piano solos were presented by Bob Oden, who played, "Minute," by Paderewski, and Mickey Jeanne Casada who gave, "Malgueña," by Lecuona.

Mrs. Fagan, program leader, discussed the topic: "Art Songs," including the serenade, barcarolle and reverie. She related facts about the life of Franz Schubert.

Mrs. Yoder played, "Reverie," by Debussy, to illustrate that type of music.

Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robbins, Warren Hohl, Mrs. Yoder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meech, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Fagan, Mrs. Lilly Hartfield, Mrs. Faudie Gallman, Miss Elizabeth Sewell, Miss Evelyn Thoma, Miss Hart Anderson, Miss Maribelle Hazard, Mrs. Ted Slonecki, Miss Elsie Donaldson, Bill Haley, Miss Mildred Martin, Miss Eloise Lane, and Ken Bennett.

Games were played during the evening, and gifts were presented to the honoree.

Refreshments of cake and coffee with nut cups were served.

Pampa Girls To Play Parts in Wassail Party

Miss Marilyn Hobart of Pampa will act the part of Frances Howard, Lady Hertford, in the annual Christmas Wassail party to be given sophomore students of Hockaday Junior college in Dallas at 3:30, Thursday afternoon, in the Great Hall. Representing Christmas revels at the Court of Queen Elizabeth in 1586, the Wassail party is a combination pageant, drama, and social affair, with the original script written by the students.

In addition to acting in the Wassail party, Miss Hobart is one of the 11 students who prepared the script.

Among the entertainments of the afternoon, two short contemporary plays will be presented. In Elizabeth's day, the ladies and gentlemen of the court acted in the plays which were presented for the monarch. Miss Hobart will act the part of Lachesis, one of three Fates, in the second play, an adaptation of George Peele's "The Arraignment of Paris."

Following the plays, the steaming wassail bowl and the holly-decked burning plum pudding will be brought in for the queen's approval, after which the guests will be served.

Miss Hobart is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hobart, of this city.

Another Pampa girl taking part in the Wassail party is Miss Doris Anne Davis, who, as Lady Isabel Holcroft, will perform in a courtly dance which takes place during the acting of the second play. Miss Davis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel B. Davis, 1117 Christine.

4-H Club Council To Have Party Saturday

The 4-H Club Council is sponsoring a Christmas party next Saturday at 10:30 a. m. in the City club rooms for all 4-H club members. The program is in charge of the Blue Ribbon club, with Berdene Laycock as mistress of ceremonies. Mary Jo Steward will lead the Christmas carols.

The LeFors 4-H club and Busy Bee 4-H club will have charge of the recreation. Louise Whipple will be in charge of the guest register, and La Rue Whipple will direct some special Christmas games. Council officers for 1946 will be installed with Aitha Belle Steward as leader. Emma Mae Sing will give a special selection and Ruth Helen Steward will give a special number. Other numbers will be presented by each club attending.

Each club member attending the party is to bring a gift for the gift exchange. The gift is not to exceed fifty cents. The giver's name is to be put on the gift. A Christmas tree will be the center of attraction, and refreshments will be served by the Blue Ribbon club.

McCoy-Hartwell Vows Read in San Diego

SHAMROCK, Dec. 8 (Special)—Maye McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McCoy, formerly of Shamrock, became the bride of Mr. Ellsworth Kendall (Bud) Hartwell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Hartwell, Nov. 10.

The nuptial vows were spoken in the Brooklyn-Heights Presbyterian church of San Diego, Calif., with Rev. G. A. MacInness, former pastor of the Magic City Presbyterian church, officiating.

The altar was banked with white chrysanthemums and gladioli, and candlelight provided illumination for the ceremony.

Preceding the vows, Katherine Ann Williams sang, "At Dawning" and "Because."

Mrs. J. C. Livingston, sister of the bridegroom, served as matron of honor, and Miss June McCoy, sister of the bride, Miss Doris June Martin, Miss Virginia Budzisko and Miss Mary Lou Beville, were bridesmaids.

J. C. Livingston was best man, Stanley Crocker, Erwin Huff and Harold Spitz, served as ushers.

The attractive bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore broadened satin and tulle with a fingertip veil. She carried a powder puff bouquet of white orchids with a ribbon shower.

A reception followed the wedding in the church social hall. Mrs. McCoy was assisted in receiving by the bridegroom's mother.

For traveling the bride wore a grey suit with black accessories.

The Labrador duck was first known to science in 1788, and the last reported member of its tribe

Golden Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated by White Deer Couple

WHITE DEER, Dec. 8.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Harris were honored on their fiftieth wedding anniversary, Tuesday evening, with a program and reception at the Presbyterian church.

Rev. Shan Hull, pastor of the Methodist church, was in charge of the program. After the scripture reading from Ephesians 5 and a prayer, he gave a brief resume of the lives of the honorees. Mrs. J. C. Jackson, accompanied by Mrs. Neal Edwards, then sang "I Love You Truly" and "When You and I Were Young, Minnie." Dorothy Marie Poe and Emilene Rapstine sang "For You" and "As We Walk into the Sunset," and Rev. Hull concluded the program with a brief talk on the elements of a happy marriage.

Those present then went into the reception room where the gifts were displayed, and Mr. and Mrs. Harris received the congratulations of their many friends. Mrs. Harris wore a green dress with a corsage of yellow roses.

Two of the granddaughters, Miss Ouida Nell Overstreet and Mrs. Eugene Pixler, presided at the refreshment table, which had for a centerpiece an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and candles.

A similar bouquet decorated the mantle and a large basket of mixed flowers with yellow mums predominating the gift of Mrs. Harris' brother, W. S. White of Olney, was placed on the table where the other gifts were displayed.

In charge of the guest book was Miss Lea Mae Harris, assisted by Mrs. Pixler, and Mrs. Joe Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris were married at the home of her parents near Whitewright, Texas, Dec. 4, 1895. She, nee Minnie Lee White, was a native of Tennessee, although she had lived in Texas since she was about eight years old. He was born in Grayson county.

In 1916 they came with their family of six children to White Deer, where, though they have lived in town most of the time, they have been engaged in farming until

Beta Sigma Phi Sponsors Exhibit Of Texas Art in Pampa Library

Pampa art lovers are enjoying the traveling exhibit of the State Art Association which is now on display in the library in the basement of the City hall under the sponsorship of the Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

In view of the interest shown in this exhibition, the following excerpts from an article by Grace Cornell, of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York City, may lead to a fuller appreciation and enjoyment of these pictures.

"Many people miss the satisfaction and enjoyment they should receive from looking at pictures because they make the wrong approach. Too frequently a hasty glance is given each picture when if we would pause and give each picture our full attention—wonder what in the artist's life made him wish to express the particular thoughts in his painting; why he used certain colors; why he emphasized certain details and left others to the imagination—the picture would mean much more.

"We should also accept the fact that no one painting appeals to everyone. Do not try to give an artificial appreciation. The true relationship is a personal thing between you and the painting. 'Beauty,' 'enjoyment,' and 'interest' such as, 'I could not live with that picture; I would not want it hanging in my room' limit many to a misconception of what experiences we should expect from paintings. When we go to the theater we don't expect the play always to soothe us. There are plays that rouse us with their force, or wring our hearts with their poignant drama. This is true of the books we read. We, therefore, should not expect the pictures we view in exhibitions and museums to interest us only because of their 'beauty' or 'charm.'

"A work of art is not just a welter of emotion running loose over the canvas or is it merely an imitation of the objects of the scene which is depicted. The painter ponders well the thing that he is creating. He tries to control and organize and bring together the design, form, color, space relationships, dark and light, balance, harmony—all the elements of his work and thus create unity, influenced by his emotion, intellect and environment. 'The old stories concerning the artist who painted a curtain so realistically that a brother artist tried to pass through it or the one who painted fruit in such a natural manner that the birds pecked at it, show a limited view of art as mere representation. A real artist tries to put into his picture the significance of the scene to him, and his interpretation of the scene and his response to it, is the thing that makes a picture interesting and important. For exact and detailed representation of a subject the camera is the medium that should be used.

"We should not be unduly influenced by what the critics say or what we are 'supposed' to like, but we should bear in mind that our response to a picture is conditioned by our mood at the time, our understanding of what the painter is trying to say and why he has chosen the particular method used in his picture to express his idea. The picture we do not enjoy today may mean more to us at some future time."

Century Culture To Have Annual Party

Mrs. V. L. Hobbs, 1021 Christine, will be hostess to members of the Twentieth Century Culture club Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the annual Christmas party.

Each member is asked to bring a gift for the exchange. Mrs. Joe Key will present the "Christmas Story," and carols will be sung by the group.

Party for Your Christmas Visitors

Appetizers! These party "snacks" make up a whole meal.

By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Staff Writer

Christmas season is hospitality time. So begin now to gather recipes for snacks and novelties to serve to well-wishers who drop in to see the tree.

The snacks given here can be arranged attractively on one large tray and passed to the guests. The spoon eggnog is something special.

Liverwurst Toasties (Yield—18 toasties)

Cut unsliced white bread in 9 thin lengthwise slices. Cut each slice in half widthwise. Spread with mixture of 1/4 pounds washed liverwurst, 3 tablespoons real mayonnaise and 2 tablespoons mustard-with-horseradish. Roll up and fasten with toothpick. Toast under broiler until brown.

Olive-Cheese Biscuits (Yield: 1 1/2 dozen biscuits)

Sift, measure, 2 cups enriched flour. Resift with 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cut in 1/4 cup butter or fortified margarine with pastry blender. Add 1 1/8 cups milk and mix lightly with a fork. Drop by tablespoonful into well-greased small cup cake pans. Press a stuffed olive into each. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 minutes.

Avocado Pin-Ups (Yield—18 pin-ups)

Spread 1 1/2 dozen large slices of bologna or boiled ham with a mixture of 1 medium avocado, washed with 2 teaspoons real mayonnaise. Fasten each roll with a colored toothpick.

Spoon Egg Nog (Serves 8-10)

One and one-half packages prepared vanilla pudding, 3/4 cup milk, 2 egg yolks, 1/2 pint whipped heavy cream, 1 to 2 tablespoons rum extract, 2 stiffly beaten egg whites, cherries.

Add combined milk and egg yolks to pudding gradually and stir until smooth. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Cool, stirring occasionally to prevent forming on top. Fold in whipped cream. Add flavoring. Serve in punch cups topped with stiffly beaten egg white and cherry. This eggnog is to be eaten with a spoon.

Pampa Book Club To Meet Monday

Mrs. Quentin Williams will lead a discussion on books which members have read recently, when the Pampa Book club meets in the City club room Monday evening at 7:30. Mrs. H. Y. Cornelius, president, will conduct the business session. All members and prospective members are invited to attend.

Mrs. W. L. Morrison Is China Flat Hostess
SHAMROCK, Dec. 8 (Special)—The China Flat home demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. W. L. Morrison for an all-day meeting Wednesday.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Morrison gave a demonstration on uses of whole grain. She made a maize custard pie, stating that there is need in limiting the uses of whole grain to cereals. "Many wholesome dishes may be made by the use of various whole grains," stated Mrs. Morrison.

Those attending were: I. N. Gill and Louise Alexander, guests; and the following members: Mesdames T. H. Morgan, J. D. Dunlap, J. H. Humphrey, A. B. Sims, W. E. Sheegog, J. P. Hall, E. E. Sheegog, Guy Valentine and Hartman.

At the age of 13 Stephen Foster composed a waltz for a quartette of flutes.

We, the Women

By RUTH MILLETT NEA Staff Writer

Perhaps you don't know there is a man whose specialty is teaching others how to grow old "gracefully." Well, there is. He's Dr. George Lawton, director of the New York City Old Age Counseling Center. Dr. Lawton also is to teach Cooper Union's new course in Aging Successfully.

Dr. Lawton's theory is that the advantages to growing old stack up pretty well with the advantages to being young—if you just know how to make the most of them.

He thinks every old person should have several hobbies, one of which makes him work with his hands. For, says he, "the older person needs outlets for his emotions not involving people."

GET OUT OF CITY

Furthermore, he advises women: "Act your age and dress it. And if you possibly can, get out of a city to grow old."

If there is any one thing the women of America need to be taught it is how to grow old successfully. For those who make a business of selling "youth" that each birthday after 30 is a painful, depressing milestone.

The older they get, the more furiously they work to look young. But the struggle to defeat age doesn't fool anybody—least of all themselves.

BEHRMAN'S Exclusive But Not Expensive

Warner's Great Story of George Gershwin Opens at LaNora Today

Joan Leslie whispers encouragement to Robert Alda, who portrays George Gershwin in "Rhapsody in Blue," with Alexis Smith and Charles Coburn.

By SCOTT RAFFERTY Stupendous in the magnificence of its music, Warner's long-awaited "Rhapsody in Blue" opens at the LaNora today for a three-day engagement and we'll bet it's one of the finest made in a long time. "Rhapsody in Blue" has to be good because it's the story of George Gershwin, master of American music and one of the world's great musical figures. Warners delved deep into the ranks of the unknown to find an actor to play the part of Gershwin and we believe they came up with exactly the right answer in Robert Alda, whose performance is so sincere that not even Hollywood's greatest stars could have surpassed it. With Alda in the cast are Joan Leslie, Alexis Smith, Charles Coburn, Albert Besserman, Robert Shayne and many others. And, they even found actors to portray the great Rachmaninoff, Walter Drosch, Jacha Heifetz, Maurice Ravel, Max Dreyfus and other famous musical figures. But, cast or no cast, there's such much as the title theme, "Rhapsody in Blue," played by Paul Whiteman and the orchestra with piano solo by Oscar Levant, "Embraceable You," sung by Joan Leslie, "Love Walked In," sung by Stephen Richards, and more of George and Ira Gershwin's great songs. We could go on forever. Turning to more worldly things, David Selznick's "Since You Went Away" returns to the Rex screen for a Sunday-Monday-Tuesday showing. Needless to say, it's one of Selznick's best, although it doesn't compare with "Gone With the Wind," "Rebecca" or other Selznick productions. The producer assembled a million-dollar cast, however, and its outstanding entertainment. There's Claudette Colbert, Joseph Cotten, Jennifer Jones, Shirley Temple, Robert Walker, Monty Woolley, Lionel Barrymore and many others who give good performances, especially Cotten. We always said every man has a right to make a living, but why does Boris Karloff keep plugging away trying to scare the public when all he does is succeed in making them laugh. However, maybe that isn't so bad after all. This all leads up to the fact that there's a double-feature horror bill showing at the Crown today and tomorrow. We don't know what order the projectionist will run them but we'll take the best one first. It's the "House of Frankenstein" and we've seen worse scare pictures. Boris Karloff turns on his worst leer and Lon Chaney actually tries to be a good boy but what we liked best about the picture was J. Carroll Naish as the hunchback. Just wait till you see him in a "Medal for Benny". The other half of this gruesome-ness is "The Mummy's Curse", the kind we were scared to go to when we "wuz two". Martin Kosleck, Peter Coe and Kurt Katch mess things up here and somehow Lon Chaney pulled a fast one on the audience and donned a paper mache outfit to be the monster.

We were stationed in Marseilles, Cannes, Nice and other towns. Our next move was to Rheims. Then on the journey homeward we came through Namur, Belgium and jumped off for the States from Antwerp, Belgium. We landed in New York. I received the long awaited piece of paper in Jefferson Barracks. I still have the kit bag. I appreciated the kit bag very much indeed. Thanks a million. Regards, A. K. Smith (ex T/Sgt) Kansas City, Missouri.

The quoted letter was received last week from a serviceman who received one of the kits made and filled by volunteers in the Pampa chapter. This chapter accepted a quota of 452 filled kit bags for 1945; 235 of these have already been made, filled and shipped to an embarkation center, where they were given to servicemen embarking for overseas. We have been waiting to receive the material to make the 197 kits. This material has now been received, the kit bags have been made with the exception of 40 which we expect to get finished this week. We hope to have the 197 kit bags on their way by next weekend. These kit bags contain the following articles: Housewife, hard candy, playing cards, cigarettes, pencil, stationary, pocket book, razor blades, shoe brush, shoe polish, cloth, soap and soap box. The Veterans club deserves a vote of thanks for its interest in the kit bag program. The Pampa chapter has been receiving contributions toward the kit bag program each month from this club since Sept. 1942 to Jan. 1946.

The Vanishing Amateur No longer can it be said that—"A volunteer is a woman with a lump in her throat and nothing in her head." In her place today is that happy paradox, the professional volunteer; she has dropped her amateur standing. Her increasing power comes from one factor more than any other, training. The professional volunteer will not sit out the peace any more than she sat out the war. Ahead are frontiers of necessity; the nation's health, the field of nutrition, adult education and the wiping out of illiteracy, rehabilitation and therapy. Awakened now to her power, the volunteer accepts tomorrow's stewardship. Her horizons are larger than her own front yard. As she grows in awareness, her isolation recedes. In all countries but her own, women have undergone actual suffering; her home and children alone have been safe. If there is to be safety for all—if there is to be permanent peace—she will accelerate her planning. There will come tomorrow's volunteer a new selflessness, an eagerness to play her full part in the world's spiritual renaissance. Ten quilts were recently shipped to National headquarters from where they will be shipped to foreign countries to people who are in dire need of such things. Five quilts were recently given to a local family which had suffered from a fire. This has cut into the chapter surplus. We need volunteers to make more quilts. There are plenty of scraps. There are also tops to be quilted. Any group interested in having a quilting bee should go to production room in postoffice for materials. Production room in basement of postoffice will be closed from December 19, 1945, to Jan. 4, 1946, in order that volunteers will have time off for Christmas. Mrs. W. R. Campbell, disbursing agent for the camp and hospital committee, reports that all materials returned by the local army air field have been returned to the givers or given to local organizations dealing with youth or returned servicemen. Most of it was given to the youth center under the auspices of the American Legion. Some was given to Boy Scout troops. Miss Billene Moseley is the new office assistant in the Red Cross office. She is taking the position occupied by Mrs. Stephanie Magdecki, whose husband has been transferred to Randolph Field. Miss Moseley has been employed in the registrar's office of the station hospital at PAAF during the past year. Two hundred and sixty cases in home service were open during the month of November, according to Mrs. P. M. Culbertson, chairman of the corps. Of this number 137 were army cases, 41 navy, 78 ex-service, and 4 civilian. The increasing number of ex-service cases indicates that Red Cross is being constantly consulted by veterans who are in need of help with personal and family problems, which have arisen since their discharge from the armed forces. Last month the local Red Cross chapter with the aid of eight volunteer home service workers assisted ex-servicemen with a total of 14 different services. Among these was assistance with disability pensions, converting insurance, death claims, obtaining hospitalization, and review of discharge certificate. Perhaps the greatest service rendered this month to the veteran was the completion of Form 1900, the form which the veteran with a disability completes, in order to obtain vocational rehabilitation, training. Nine veterans were assisted in completing Form 1950, which the veteran uses when he wishes to continue his schooling or to train on the job. After a Form 1900 or 1950 is submitted to the Veterans administration, the veteran will be mailed a Form 1953 which is his certificate of eligibility showing that he is entitled to the particular training for which he has applied. Volunteers completing a total of 491 hours of home service work in November were: Mesdames Dorothy Chase, F. M. Culbertson, Betty Henderson, Joyce Hickman, Knox Kinard, J. B. Massa, Gene McConkey, L. K. Stout, and Carl Wright.

Stay Away From Overcrowded West Coast Cities, Red Cross Warns Families of Servicemen. False reports are leading many relatives of servicemen to make trips to California on the mistaken belief that Red Cross chapters there can assist them in securing housing accommodations. Pacific coast city chapters report that they are being deluged by appeals for housing help from relatives en route to, or already arrived in, California to be with men ordered to or returning from the Paeffic. No such help is available, nor can it be anticipated, because of the extreme housing shortage. At many points it is practically impossible to find any type of accommodation at any price. The report that housing can be obtained is similar to the recent broadcast over a national network, which stated that the government would pay air transportation charges to the West coast for next of kin of liberated prisoners of war. "There is absolutely no truth in the statement," a war department denial in the press stated emphatically.

Project Involves 995 Wells In West Pampa Oil & Gas Field

Repressuring of the West Pampa pool extending over 14,320 acres from the west city limits of Pampa to the northwest boundary of Gray county, expected to be in operation in February, 1946, is the biggest and most modern development that Pampa and her vicinity has seen since the Panhandle gas and oil field was first discovered.

This progressive venture is being carried out by 26 independent and major companies operating in the West Pampa area of the Panhandle field, who have formed the West Pampa Repressuring Assn. Local management of the project is under the direction of Fred Neslage.

Engineers who have worked in the development of the six million dollar West Pampa project feel that the program, when well under way, as a secondary-recovery operation will rank with the largest in the country, and ultimately may be, on an intensified basis, the largest of all such recovery applications.

Repressuring to Activate Wells Otherwise Abandoned

The average West Pampa well currently has a sustained producing capacity of no more than 13 barrels of oil a day. Without repressuring it is estimated that within the next few years the majority of the wells at the present rate of decline, would not be able to produce economically and would therefore have to be abandoned. When the repressuring studies were first started, nearly three years ago, the pool allowable had been about 15,500 barrels a day, with some 21 operating days a month. When permissible operating days were gradually increased to 30 or more per month, the near-to-capacity nature of the production was emphasized. Production now averages about 13,000 barrels of oil a day.

Through gas repressuring the average well, engineers estimate, might continue to produce at nearly the present rate for several years and to decline at a much lesser degree than under primary or present methods of operation. It is therefore believed that the economic life of the field should be increased appreciably.

Repressuring Replaces Reservoir Energy

The principle of repressuring is to replace the lost and replace reservoir energy by the injection of gas into the producing formation, causing more oil to be forced from the formation, dolomite in this instance.

Present reservoir pressure is approximately 300 pounds per square inch.

WPERA Project Involves 995 Producing Wells

The West Pampa project involves 11,500 productive acres, 99 individual leases and 995 producing wells. Initially, one well on each 40 acres will be converted to gas input service, each injecting about 100,000 cubic feet of gas a day, giving a total of 75 wells injecting 7.5 million cubic feet of gas into the reservoir daily.

It is expected that further expansion will require that to each quarter-section, with an anticipated injection of 30 million cubic feet a day. Equipment being installed will be able to accommodate the expansion.

Two Service Agents Will Compress and Treat Gas

Compression and treatment of the gas injected will be performed by two gasoline plants to be known as service agents. Surplus residue gas from the five gasoline plants in the field will be gathered and compressed. Gasoline plants are those of Skelly, Cities Service, Shell, Magnolia and Portland companies.

Gas to be injected in the northwestern section of the block undergoing repressuring will be handled by one service agent, that for the southeastern by a second service agent.

The Skelly Kingsmill gasoline plant will act as the service agent for the northwest sector, and during initial operation will also carry the load of the southeastern area, later to be serviced by the Cities Service Oil Co. plant.

Forty Miles of Pipeline To Carry Desulfurized Gas

The former plant is now being equipped to compress, dehydrate and desulfurize the gas. Sour gas will be treated to reduce the hydrogen sulfide content to less than 1 grain per 100 cubic feet, eliminating possible formation of undesirable sulphide compounds and corrosion of equipment. Moisture will be removed to prevent freezing.

Forty miles of pipeline throughout the field is being laid, starting from the booster station with 10-inch pipe which gradually decreases in size to 2-inch lines in order to maintain adequate pressures.

Boosting equipment in the northwestern sector will handle 18,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day at pressures of 475 pounds per square inch; that for the southeast 12,000,000 cubic feet at pressures of 275 per square inch.

Surveys show that there are approximately 15 million cubic feet of returnable gas available for injection purposes. Present average producing gas oil ratio is 1.500 cubic feet per barrel.

Ten Million Additional Barrels To Be Recovered

It is conservatively estimated that a minimum of 10 million additional barrels of oil will be recovered, with a maximum of 30 million barrels possible. Ultimate recovery is therefore increased from 100 million to between 110 and 130 million barrels of oil.

Pioneer WPERA Project May Instigate Similar Action

Should the program develop successfully in the West Pampa field, which is centrally located in a long trend of individual pools making up the Texas Panhandle oil-producing area, the work undoubtedly will spread to the other Panhandle pools, covering 153,058 acres.

For this is the first repressuring project of any consequence to be attempted in the limestone or dolomite formations of the Panhandle field. Such projects have been operated very successfully in sandstone formation.

Preliminary secondary-recovery examinations are in progress in the Watkins pool, located in South Hutchinson county and extending northward to the Canadian river. This territory includes about 1,000 wells also.

Pampa Business Hinges on Local Field Developments

The success of the West Pampa Repressuring Assn. project, extending over 14,320 acres west of Pampa to the northwest boundary of the country, will have lasting influence on Pampa, her business and development. Following are a few pertinent considerations of interest to Pampa business men and women:

1. Over one-third of the 4,360 persons employed in Pampa, are employed in the petroleum industry, according to a recent survey made by the chamber of commerce.

2. Initial major development of the oil properties in which repressuring is being instigated was in 1927-28. Pampa's major development has occurred since 1930.

3. Average future life of the Panhandle oil and gas field is estimated at 10 years, considering primary means of recovery only; the period may be prolonged from 15 to 25 years, depending on the success of repressuring, or secondary means of recovery.

4. Ultimate recovery without repressuring is estimated at 100 million barrels of oil. Additional oil recovered by repressuring is expected to range from over 10 to 30 million barrels—increase of recovery from 10 to 30 per cent.

5. Repressuring may be instigated in other pools in the Panhandle field, depending on the success of the pioneering project of the West Pampa Repressuring Assn. The dolomite formation which is being repressured extends from the northern boundary of Moore county in a southeasterly direction to the southeast border of Wheeler county.

Eighty men of supervisory capacity representing the 26 companies within the association's repressuring area, are attending the classes which have been in progress during the past two months.

An instructor's committee of six is composed of Fred J. Neslage, chairman of the WPERA; C. L. Chapin, Stanolind Oil and Gas Co.; Earl Gray, Shell Oil Co.; P. F. Thomason, Sinclair-Prairie Oil Co.; Robert Wilkins, Phillips Petroleum Co., and James Chervenka, Texas Co.

Perkins Elected To API Post

Norman Perkins, superintendent of production for the Phillips Petroleum Co. of Borger, was selected chairman of the American Petroleum Institute's division of production. He succeeds D. B. Wanser of Pampa, district production chief of Skelly.

The election was held at the API chapter's annual dinner meeting at the Pampa Country club, Tuesday night.

Earl Gray of Pampa, district production chief for Shell, was elected first vice chairman and Fred Shroyock, Danciger superintendent, second vice chairman.

Decrease Shown In Crude Stocks

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Bureau of Mines reported today that stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum totaled 218,845,000 barrels on Dec. 3, a net decrease of 518,000 barrels for the week. Domestic crude decreased 482,000 barrels; foreign crude decreased 36,000.

Daily average production was 4,448,000 barrels, a decrease of 21,000. Runs to stills averaged 4,690,000, a decrease of 42,000.

Stocks, by grade or origin, and change from previous week (in thousands of barrels) in Texas: East Texas 17,313, decrease 7; West Texas 32,649, decrease 701; Gulf Texas 29,959, increase 426; other Texas 24,913, decrease 349.

Government records show the heaviest snowfall in the United States in one day was 60 inches at Giant Forest, Calif., Jan. 19, 1933.

Five and one-half percent of the total population of the United States consists of persons more than 65 years of age.

KEEP HIM SAFE

his 250,000 Godfathers no longer can!

Yes, he's a war baby, born after December 7, 1941, the date that will live in infamy. Since then some 250,000 American men have died that he might live and grow in a world of peace—that he may never have to take up arms to defend his country and his loved ones.

Our heroic dead have left us a legacy—and a trust. To us they have given the knowledge that free men will fight, and die, to preserve that freedom, not only for themselves but also for those who come after them.

To us, too, they leave the solemn duty of making certain that America will remain spiritually, economically and financially sound... truly a land of freedom and opportunity for little children, rich and poor, in a world at peace.

Think of those who fought and died—and then join with a generous heart and an open pocket-book in this last great Victory Loan. The money we lend will help to lay the groundwork of a finer, better America. It's our last great fight. Let's stand shoulder to shoulder till it's won.

*Following the Victory Loan, the sale of U. S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorized agencies and through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Improvement of Sanitary Sewer Main Outfall Lines City of Pampa, Texas Advertisement For Bids

Sealed proposals will be received by the City of Pampa, Texas, at the office of the City Manager until 10:00 a. m. December 20, 1945, for the construction of

CERTAIN SEWERAGE IMPROVEMENTS and at that time the proposals will be publicly opened and read in the City Commission Room of the City Hall.

The proposals must be accompanied by a bidder's bond or a certified check in the amount of Five percent of total bid payable without recourse to the order of the City of Pampa, Texas, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract and execute a Performance Bond essentially in accordance with the forms bound in the contract Documents and Specifications within ten (10) days after notice of award of contract to him.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a Performance Bond for 100% of his total bid, written by a responsible surety company satisfactory to the City Commission. The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive formalities.

Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding local conditions.

Plans, specifications, and other proposed contract documents are on file at the office of the City Manager at Pampa, Texas. Copies may be secured upon the deposit of Fifteen dollars, ($15.00); Ten dollars ($10.00) of which will be returned if the contractor submits a bonafide bid accompanied by the plans and specifications or if he returns the plans and specifications before the bid opening.

The proposed work includes approximately the following:

31,500 feet of Vitrified Tile Pipe Sewers, including 11,000 feet of 18 inch, 20 feet of 15 inch, 12,900 feet of 12 inch, 1,200 feet of 10 inch, 2,900 feet of 8 inch, 3,180 feet of 6 inch, and 300 feet of 4 inch; 380 feet of Bell and Spigot Cast Iron Pipe, including 108 feet of 18 inch and 104 feet of 12 inch new pipe and 120 feet of 16 inch and 48 feet of 6 inch pipe now in use; 31,200 feet of trenching and backfill for sewers varying in depth from 0 to 26 feet deep; 61 manholes varying in depth from 3 feet to 27 feet; and accessory construction, including 10 manhole drops, 5 sewer cleanouts, 17 cubic yards of structural concrete, 110 cubic yards of concrete pipe casing, 26 square yards of cutting and replacing asphalt pavement on caliche base, and 100 feet of boring under obstructions.

Approximately 12% of this project will consist of constructing and reconstructing sewers and appurtenances along the locations of existing sewers.

Duck Hunting in Japan Is Different From U. S. Sport

By HAMILTON W. FARON
TOKYO, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Notice to all duck hunters: You can't fail to bring home a good bag from Sal-tama preserve and there's no day or season limit.

But, as in all good things, there's a hitch. The preserve, located some 20 miles from Tokyo is the property of the Emperor. Only by invitation from the imperial household can one hunt the royal birds.

Duck hunting in Japan is a ceremonial, tradition-filled and sometimes downright fantastic sport.

To begin with, there is no shooting—it's all done with nets—and the entire hunt is conducted in silence.

Visitors enter the preserve between ranks of bowing, smiling attendants.
Walking across the green lawn, they are seated at tables which resemble tea tables at a British cricket match.

Sure enough, there's the inevitable tea to be sipped before approaching the day's business.

Then comes the alignment of hunters into teams of 10 each with the names and positions of each team member carefully recorded on red paper placed in corresponding positions in a square box replica of a trap.

Then it's time for action. The circle team goes first—because each tag bearing the number of his position. The other team is equipped with diamond-shaped tags.

While the first group makes the rounds, the diamond team, on which we are playing, rests—fantastically.

We are escorted to a fish pond and equipped with a schoolboy bamboo rod, line, hook and worm. We drop the lines into the water while attendants stand by to change worms, unsuspecting tangled lines and net the carp. When the carp are taken from the hooks they are placed in tubs and subsequently disappear, presumably back into the pond.

But this isn't a fishing party—it's a duck hunt. The first group comes back and takes its turn fishing.

We troop down a long path between rooftop-high willow hedges.
There, ahead, is a net rack. Stacked upright against it are a dozen or so overize butterfly nets with long bamboo poles.

We continue down the path and finally turn into a side clearing toward what looks like an underground air-raid shelter. It's a blind.
Each air has a tiny peephole.
Game keepers peer through the holes and then signal gleefully.
There are 15 ducks on the other side.

Finally the gamekeeper signals again and there is a rush around the barrier. There we find a five-foot deep rock-lined channel which is about two feet wide. Team members' positions are marked by numbered posts. The gamekeeper stirs up the birds in the channel. They soar toward the sky while the hunters wildly swing nets, endeavoring to capture them in the air.

Many are caught. As each bird is netted, an attendant dashes forward, snatches the net from the successful hunter and hands him another.

Channel after channel is hunted.

Regardless of luck, everybody gets a bag. Our day's bag was a mallard and two teal for each party. Meanwhile a duck dinner for the Tokyo press club.

It is estimated that the average number of school years completed by city children is 8.7; the average for county children 7.7.

The black back still may require four years to attain maturity, but sometimes lives to the century mark.

PAMPA LIONS BRING CLYDE BROTHERS INDOOR CIRCUS HERE ON DEC. 12, 13

Coming all the festive fairyland that is wondrous and appealing in the enchanted realm of sawdust and spangles, yet presented in the comfort and safety of the huge Junior high school auditorium, the Pampa Lions' club announces the coming to Pampa of the Great Clyde Bros. circus for two days, Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 12 and 13.

For several years circus lovers all over the world have clamored for a real circus where rain, heat, cold and other inclement tricks of nature would fall to dampen the ardor of the circus goer, and in recent years entertainment of this nature has been presented successfully in all of the huge auditoriums of the larger cities of the east and west. Clyde Bros. circus was a pioneer in the showing of a circus indoors and this year is considered one of the finest of the indoor circuses.

Embracing the cream of the world's choicest circus talent, the program features such famous acts as: Miss Evelyn Ross, considered to be the world's premiere lady acrobat; Gus Kanerva, performing his death-defying head balance on the flying trapeze; Captain Leo Albrecht and his trained animal groups; Comedy Cloud, world-famous juggler; and a skillful team of acrobats in a performance of equilibrium that defies the law of gravity; Miss Ruth Ray and her pet from every clime; The Corners Family, renowned artists of the Rolling Globes; Art and Marie Henry, wizards of the silver strand; Jimmie Armstrong, famous juggler; his galaxy of funny clowns; the Famous Clyde Bros. circus Military Drill, an equestrian display of shetland ponies; and scores of other daring features.

The circus comes to Pampa under the direct sponsorship of the Pampa Lions' club, and the advance sale of tickets which the organization has offered for sale is assurance of a huge attendance at each performance.

Retired Methodist Minister Dies at Shamrock Home

SHAMROCK, Dec. 8 (Special)—Hundreds of friends and relatives gathered at the first Methodist church Saturday afternoon to pay final tribute to Rev. Thomas Benson Hilburn, 89-year-old resident of Shamrock and father of A. M. Hilburn of this city.

Mr. Hilburn passed away at 1:25 p.m. Friday in St. Mary's hospital. He had been in ill health for six years but had been confined to his bed less than a week.

Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of the First Methodist church, was in charge of the services, assisted by Rev. Elmer D. Landreth, district superintendent and Rev. Ed R. Wallace.

Funeral bearers were: Aubrey Hilburn, Ted Bones, Haskell Dunaway, Howard Westberry, Allen Kennerly and Edward Burkhalter. Honorary pall bearers: J. B. Clark, O. T. Nicholson, Dr. Jas. A. Hall, A. J. Laycock, W. S. Pendleton, H. S. Pendleton, Earl Koger, A. S. Martin, C. H. Burkhalter, J. R. Brown, Gld. Bell, S. W. Norwood, J. Aubrey Hilburn, D. P. Spruill, Wm. Kyle, Sol Blonstein, Eli Smith, J. H. Caperton, Earl Ester, Ben Wofford, Henry Holmes, W. G. Mayfield, G. F. Geyer, M. Reynolds, Henry Hise, J. B. Zeigler, E. K. Caperton and H. B. Hill.

Interment was in the Shamrock cemetery with Clay funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Rev. Hilburn was born near Gainesville, Ark., on March 18, 1856. He had lived in Shamrock only three and a half years, having moved here from Goose Creek, Texas, where he had resided the preceding seven years.

On Dec. 5, 1882, at Harrisburg, Ark., he was married to Miss Mary Florence Ussery, who, together with five sons and two daughters, survive him. One child died in infancy.

Rev. Hilburn entered the ministry and was admitted to the Methodist Conference in 1880. He retired 48 years later, in 1928.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Mary Florence Hilburn, Shamrock; five sons and two daughters: Oscar Hilburn, Belleville, Texas; A. M. Hilburn, Shamrock, with whom Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn have made their home the past few years; John Thomas Hilburn, Dallas; J. Aubrey Hilburn, Gillett; Sam H. Hilburn, Boulder, Colo.; Mrs. Beulah Mae Seals, Goose Creek, Texas; Mrs. Albert Bones, Amarillo; 18 grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Klough Culver, Arlington, Texas.

O'Daniel Wins Verdict In Eviction Action

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. — (AP)—Senator O'Daniel (D-Texas) is a little nearer today to occupancy of the 40-room apartment building he has purchased to remodel into a home.

A municipal court jury returned a verdict for the senator in an eviction action he brought against W. W. Brater, one of the three tenants still living in the building.

Brater had contended that O'Daniel had not brought the eviction suit in good faith but intended to rent rooms to tenants of his choosing. O'Daniel testified he wanted the apartment house solely for use of his family.

In the early Roman constitution the citizens, all of them soldiers, were classified according to the equipment which their means made possible. Soldiers in early armies equipped themselves.

Faith Is Answer Cynicism, Says Kiwanis Speaker

The Rev. James Glenn, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Borger, interestingly treated the subject, "Cure for Cynicism," as guest speaker at the Kiwanis club here Friday noon.

The Borger Kiwanian, Art Nelson, furnished a program for the local club, a tradition among the clubs. Mrs. Jerry Merrell, also of Borger, was featured in accordion numbers. Also present from Borger were Mrs. L. N. Laekner and R. P. Watts, the latter of whom "dropped in" to make up for missing the Borger luncheon.

Rev. Glenn, artfully blending anecdotes with serious material, set forth four propositions which he believed caused cynicism, or were the result of cynicism in the nation.

1. The belief among our people that there will always be war, that it cannot be avoided.

2. The belief that there will always be a "race problem."

3. Belief that there will always be ignorance among the masses of the world.

4. Belief that there will always be "frailty of the human soul."

he said, is faith—faith in a higher being—faith in the ultimate solution of our many problems.

Of war, he said there will some day be a solution of the problem. He inferred his belief in a world government with reference to "a higher sovereignty" among people. "War between social groups," he said, "ceases when law is given into the hands of a higher sovereignty."

But, he added, "on this day of Pearl Harbor (Dec. 7) we must not forget to have faith in the destiny of our country." We must have, he declared, "a sense of mission" for our land. If we do not "we will lose our heritage."

In time, he said, the problem of racial groups will be solved.

Of ignorance among the masses, he said the continual spread of education in this country is proof that it can be spread to other countries, too.

In answering the fourth proposition of cynicism, he said that, since we are created in the image of God, we are capable of leading exemplary lives—if we are willing to devote our lives "to a higher cause," Christianity.

Newspaper Guild Presents Awards

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. — (AP)—The Newspaper Guild of New York Thursday night presented "Page One Awards" to 23 individuals, two theatrical productions and the army Magazine Yank at its page one of 1945 ball in Madison Square Garden.

The Guild awards committee also voted a posthumous award to War Correspondent Ernie Pyle, in selecting what it judged to be outstanding figures in the fields of stage, screen, radio, music, letters and public affairs.

Included among the awards were those of two theatrical productions—"Deep Are the Roots" for its courage in attacking a domestic problem, and "On the Town," voted the most original show.

Other awards included: Entertainment—Joe E. Lewis, Jane Froman, Frank Sinatra; motion pictures—Bing Crosby, Frank Capra, Gene Kelly, Ingrid Bergman; stage—Laurette Taylor; radio—Fibber McGee and Molly, Norman Corwin, Frank Kingdom; music—Irving Berlin, Dean Dixon, Duke Ellington, Eddie Condon; letters—Bill Mauldin, Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., and Milton Caniff; sports—Hank Greenberg; public affairs—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Jo Davidson.

The word soldier means "paid man." The first soldiers were mercenaries, bodies of troops attached to a leader who hired himself and his force to any power that would pay them.

A FORWARD STEP

This past week the first community affair was held in the new City Banquet room of the city hall. The Rotary club was the first to hold its luncheon there.

The new hall was finished at a cost of about $6,000, and will seat around 200 people—sufficient room for most functions of that sort. A portion of the space is elevated slightly, making it convenient for a speaker to face his audience.

A plan has been worked out, whereby arrangements can be made by any and all organizations and groups to meet there. There will be, of course, a slight charge for use of the room. And that is as it should be.

This is a great improvement for the community. In the past banquets and the such have either been held at the schools, or in a hotel or in a private room at one of the churches. All these institutions have been nice, but they have not always been able to furnish a banquet table on short notice. This new arrangement will be better for everyone. It is a forward step for the community.

HOLIDAY TRAVEL

Christmas won't be entirely merry for those whose plans include train travel. At least, it won't be unless the traveler decides in advance that he is going to make the best of conditions that are almost certain to be crowded and uncomfortable.

Rail travel is at its wartime peak right now. Some 2,000,000 veterans will have arrived in east and west coast ports in November and December, headed for home and civilian life. There is an average of six rail moves for each serviceman during the redeployment process. And when the boys finally start for their home station, virtually all of them will travel by train.

Some recent figures put out by the Pullman Co. give a rough idea of a wartime transportation job that is continuing at peak level more than three months after V-J Day. Since Pearl Harbor, Pullman has provided 98 billion passenger miles of service, 44 billion of which were performed for 33,000,000 troops in military movements. That's an average trip of 1,300 miles for each serviceman carried.

About two-thirds of all these troops have traveled in sleeping cars. But today, more than 90 percent of the homeward-bound veterans are being carried in sleepers. Some 895 sleeping cars were transferred from regularly scheduled trains to the military pool last July, and are still there. With the holiday rush just around the corner, 151,000 Pullman sleeping accommodations are available exclusively for the military. That leaves only 57,000 berths for the civilians.

Obviously this is going to drive a lot of would-be Pullman travelers up ahead into the day coaches, where they will sit on the laps and tread on the toes of people who intended to go by day coach in the first place. It is inevitable that a lot of corns and tempers are going to be bruised.

But there probably isn't anything to be done about it. For people are going to travel this Christmas. Thousands, released from war jobs, will be heading for the first family reunion in two or three years. Thousands more, who patriotically refrained from unnecessary travel during the war, will now take that long-promised trip.

It won't all be pleasant. But it won't be so bad if the holiday traveler will remember that the bulk of the best accommodations are reserved for the men and women who best deserve them.

Arbitration Is Abdication

General Manager Charles E. Wilson of the General Motors Corporation aptly expressed what the government and labor unions are asking General Motors to do when they ask to arbitrate their differences: they are asking them to abdicate.

Arbitration, of course, is a nice sounding name and is certainly a proper course of action when there is a misunderstanding that can be arbitrated. That is not, however, what the unions and the government are asking General Motors to do. They are asking them to arbitrate something that is not arbitratable.

To arbitrate what wages an employer will have to pay and disregard the law of supply and demand and the relative wages that other people get is like throwing dice. One's whole business can be thrown away by the decision of a man who does not know values but has been given unearned power. And there is no man wise enough to know the relative values of wages at different times and different places.

If General Motors would arbitrate what they should sell their cars for, and what they should pay their workers, and the kind of cars they should make, they would, as Mr. Wilson said, be abdicating their management.

The purpose of management is to serve all people, their customers as well as their workers. Management is only a steward and agent for the customers, trying to supply them a service at the lowest possible cost and, at the same time, reward capital and labor for their sacrifices as much as the law of supply and demand will permit.

The General Motors Corporation has no moral right to consent to pay more for labor than their customers who buy their cars are willing to do the same job for. To do so is to rob the customer of the man who furnishes the tools.

Neither the labor unions nor any man who advocates collective bargaining can write an impersonal rule by which to determine wages, if they are not to be determined by a free market. There is no more need of arbitrating the wages men get than there would be to arbitrate whether a woman should marry a man she did not want to marry, or whether the General Motors cars should sell their cars for a penny or a million dollars.

If the workers can find any employer in the land who will pay them more, or if they can rent the land, hire the labor and the capital and make more than General Motors will pay them, they are free to do it. To want more is to deny the American system and establish the caste system. It is to want special privilege.

WPE is to be replaced by CPA—Civilian Production Administration, it is announced from Washington. But Washington may not have heard the voice of the people correctly. It is abolition of bureaus they want—not merely labels.

Well, a Michigan congressman made a statement telling the people how to live as cheaply today as they did before the war. This is, sir, pricing, because congress is the last place you'd expect an economy lesson to come from.

He said his motto is, if it costs more than it did before the war, don't buy it. And he added that the one thing that cracked his budget was having to buy a pair of shoes. He probably wore out his old ones looking for the things that don't cost any more than they did before the war.

He also claimed that he washed his own socks and underwear, and if that qualifies a man for office, George should run. He's already on our house committee in that department and does such a fine job that I even trust him with my last pair of nylons.

Whether the nation can reconvent its industrial facilities to peacetime production without stumbling into a vicious spiral of inflation, which will be followed by depression and unemployment, is of vital concern to every man, woman and child.—Marion, Ind., Chronicle.

I support it (compulsory military training) just as I support high taxes, as a disagreeable but necessary measure of national safety.—William R. Russell, dean of Teachers College, Columbia university.

While prices are rising, some because of increased costs and others because of unbridled craving for profits, it would be well for all of us to buy only those things that we really need, and to delay the purchase of those for which we have no immediate pressing use.—Gov. Frank L. Lausche of Ohio.

Right when he refuses to arbitrate on the grounds that General Motors would be abdicating and thus betraying the public.

News Behind the News

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

ANNIVERSARY—Although today marks the fourth anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the several investigations of that disaster have brought out little more information than Washington or the American people possessed soon after the tragic event.

The current congressional inquiry has thrown some beams into a few dim corners, but so far the searchlight has been carefully withheld from the full and moving scene. The squabbling investigators may yet provide answers to a few pertinent questions, but it is doubtful whether they will be able to fix responsibility on any individual.

It is even more questionable whether any decision by so openly partisan and unjudicial a body will be accepted as the last word by the American public.

BLAME—The outcome of the inquiry can be foretold now in a general way. The democrats, who have a majority, will prepare a report exonerating the Roosevelt administration from any blame, although that may reduce a few army and navy individuals not associated with either the democratic or republican party. Naval and military personnel usually eschew party ties.

Among those who may be mentioned critically are Major General Sherman Miles, then head of army intelligence but later removed, and the two Pearl Harbor commanders—Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and former Lieutenant General Walter C. Short.

G. O. P. members will undoubtedly find that the late Mr. Roosevelt's secret agreements and general foreign policy were partially responsible for our negligence and weakness at one Hawaiian outpost.

He will be criticized for devoting too much attention to the European theater, for making commitments to Britain and Russia which overextended our lines, and, particularly, for dividing the Pacific fleet by dispatching powerful units to the Atlantic.

MIND—A more impartial verdict, based on a careful study of the evidence so far, and a canvass of disinterested spectators, and participants, might be that the tragedy directly and indirectly was a state of mind which prevailed in Washington's off-halldom from the White House to the officers' mess at Honolulu.

The "yellow peril" had been a political topic at the capital and elsewhere since the extremely difficult immigration problems of the middle twenties. The prospects of war with Japan had been discussed and discounted at periodical meetings of the top councils of our naval and military startests.

QUESTIONS—In view of this attitude and atmosphere, it is possible to attempt to sift the wheat from the chaff in relation to the answers to several key questions bearing on the Dec. 7 incident. They are:

(1) Was the Hull note of Nov. 27 an ultimatum that "touched off the bomb?"

(2) What Pearl Harbor kept silently informed and was not? The answer is that Kimmel and Short were warned too many times over too long a period and in somewhat vague terms. They were fed up with so many injunctions from so many sources at the capital that these messages conveyed no sense of immediate urgency.

(3) Did considerations of global war influence Washington to the detriment of our Pacific defenses? The testimony suggests an affirmative answer. The Pacific fleet was divided to do convoy duty for lend-lease arms and supplies en route to the European theater. Plans, specially trained units, anti-aircraft radar and communication reinforcements had to be withheld from Guam, Hawaii and the Philippines.

It seems obvious that the strategic, diplomatic and military, at Washington aimed to "hold Japan" pending the final defeat of Germany. F. D. R.'s speeches beginning with his "quarantine the aggressor" demand of October 1937, were designed to fulfill this purpose. But Tokyo refused to be lulled or bluffed.

ATTITUDE—It is almost certain that President Roosevelt never dreamed that a country consisting of a string of volcanic islands would ever dare to make war on the United States.

It is a moral certainty that many high naval officers thought we could lick Japan with "one hand tied behind our back," and that the conflict would never develop into a major trial of arms.

This attitude explains why almost every warning sent to Hawaii and to General Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines envisaged a Japanese onslaught on the British, Dutch and French possessions on the China mainland and in the adjacent archipelago—not on Pearl Harbor.

QUESTIONS—In view of this attitude and atmosphere, it is possible to attempt to sift the wheat from the chaff in relation to the answers to several key questions bearing on the Dec. 7 incident. They are:

War Editor's Column

WHAT MAKES THE JAPANESE TICK

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—Bulk of the 5000 Japanese prisoners of war brought to the United States will be shipped back home within the next six weeks, but two groups of volunteers are to be kept in an ex-German prisoner of war camp at Huntsville, Texas, for a unique psychological research experiment.

The big idea is to find out how the Japanese people are going to react to democratic ideas, says Maj. Gen. Archer L. Lath, provost marshal general, whatever is learned at Huntsville is to be used in Japanese newspapers, books, pamphlets and films. These materials also will be made available to occupation forces charged with reorienting the Japanese along democratic lines.

If it strikes you that this experiment is getting under way a bit late, the answer is that before V-J Day it was no use trying to indoctrinate the Japs with anything. Now that they know they've lost the war, they're more willing to listen to reason. All the Jap prisoners going to Huntsville are volunteers who have expressed a desire to learn a little more about American democratic ways.

The first class at Huntsville is made up of 15 or 20 well-educated Japs, scholars and university men from the upper levels of the Jap social scale. To them is given the preliminary research on how democratic principles should be modified to make them understandable to the Japanese people.

RESULTS TRANSLATED TO LOWER CLASS

When the scholars have finished their work, results are passed on to the lower class. In this group are some 700 less-educated men, representatives of the common people—farmers, fishermen and factory workers.

Before this can be done, however, the classical language of the scholars must be recast into the Japanese vernacular so the common people can understand it. In this lower class speech, the articles will be printed in Japanese newspapers and pamphlets. Also they will be passed on by the spoken word in informal lectures and discussions.

Here will enter one of the most interesting aspects of the experiment. Among the 5000 Jap prisoners now in the United States has been found a "story-teller." Those story-tellers in rural Japan are a good thing, like the ballad singers of the middle ages. At Huntsville the experiment of trying to spread democratic ideas to a no-doubt completely bewildered lot of Japanese Japs is going to be made through a story-teller.

AMERICAN EXPERTS ARE IN CHARGE

The Huntsville school is under command of Lt. Col. Boudc C. Moore, who was born in Japan of U. S. missionary parents. Colonel Moore lived in Japan from 1924 to 1940 and did post-graduate study at the imperial university. During the war he was on the faculty of the army's school of military government at Charlottesville, Va. Assisting him will be Dr. Charles E. Hepler, who has spent 30 years in the Far East. During the war Dr. Hepler was on the overseas staff of OWI and he has done a great deal of research on liberal thought in Japan during the 20th century.

There is a considerable lot of democratic opinion in the Japanese language. It consists of newspaper editorials, magazine articles, speeches and writings of Japanese leaders who in the past 30 years have opposed the rise of the military clique and supported democracy. Colonel Moore and Doctor Hepler will use this material as text books at Huntsville.

Among them will be the speeches of Finance Minister Takahashi, made in 1936 for proposing a cut in the military budget; a Doctor Minobe, who was dismissed from the imperial university faculty for teaching that the emperor was an institution and not a divinity; and Comita Inagi who, when assassinated by the Japs, cried, "You may kill Inagi, but freedom will live forever."

UPTON CLOSE:

Work Contracts Must Be Met by Industry, Labor

MUST UNIONS PAY FOR WILDCAT STRIKES?

The Ford Motor company is proving the "bete-noir" of the labor bosses at the head of the UAW-CIO. While General Motors has adopted the policy of sitting tight and refusing to open its books for an inspection of its profits, by its union, Ford has whipped out a cat-o-nine-tails and is leathering the union in its most sensitive spots. Two weeks ago it laid down thirty-two points which it described as providing "company security," and declared there would be no new contract until this security was assured by the UAW-CIO. But it has now made yet more embarrassing demand—little "spoken of in public as yet. Ford has demanded that the union pay the company five dollars for each man-day lost through wildcat strikes!

Here is a poser for the Thomas-Reuther leadership. The industry has been plagued with innumerable shut-downs because of alleged unauthorized cessations of work by numbers of unionists. The wildcat strike at Kelsey-Hays Wheel company in July and August of this year, tied up the giant plant of the Ford company in Detroit and, because of a lack of wheels, also many other automotive plants. This year a strike against the employer; hours and wages were not involved. It was a revolt against a ruling of government itself concerning the discharge of a group of foremen. The company was helpless. The government was helpless. According to the statements of R. J. Thomas, head of the UAW-CIO at that time, union leaders were helpless.

Ford has raised the question of compensation for damages resulting from such stoppage. If this is refused, and unions cannot guarantee against further stoppages, then of what value to an industry is a contract with UAW-CIO? Why not throw it in the ash-can as a scrap of paper good only for compliance on the part of the employer and for utter disdain on the part of the union?

There can be no principle to collective bargaining at all unless it is bilateral, comprehensive, and implies equal responsibility on the part of both sides. If cannot be said that responsibility must be maintained on the part of management but not on the side of the union. However, spurred by the Wagner act and a clique of labor-appealing new dealers, union heads have smirked and turned their glances out of the window when the strikers' demands for the contract with management, the laughing-stock of thinking people throughout the nation.

IS RESPONSIBILITY "MILK-SOP?"

Following the "sit-down" strikes of 1937, a clerically-minded man by the name of Homer Martin was elected head of the UAW-CIO in the Detroit area. Steadfastly and consistently he campaigned for "responsible unionism." He maintained that, unless the UAW-CIO became thoroughly imbued with a sense of responsibility and reciprocal justice, the labor movement as a whole would seriously suffer.

This attitude was considered a little bit too milk-soppy by the radicals who were seeking control of the automotive workers. They edged out Homer Martin, and the Thomas-Reuther-Addes triumvirate took over. There has been little responsibility in automotive unionism since then. Would it not be fair to consider the embarrassment of workers in the giant River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor company if the foremen should not declare wildcat strikes, or let us say, the paymaster? Great would be the consternation thereat, and the union would undoubtedly demand pay for all time lost. Who then can deny the same right to the company in the event of wildcat strikes?

Leaders of a union can either control the action of their bodies, or they cannot. If they can, then they must concede that wildcat strikes are purposeful and permitted in order to take advantage in some way outside of the contract. If, on the other hand, exposed that the union means to the average working man and woman in England?" I asked.

"Yes," she nodded vigorously. "We are interested in relief from this hard life. It's not only the shortage of food, but of all necessities."

"Well, then, what will be the effect of this loan on relations between your country and mine?" I asked.

"Good," she exclaimed without hesitation, "you know we were feeling pretty sore about the stoppage of lend-lease. We thought the people of America didn't want to help us any more. We didn't understand. But now everything is all right again, and the feeling in England will be better."

LONDON, Dec. 8.—When I returned to my room yesterday afternoon I found a hen's egg carefully cradled on the pen-tray of my writing table—but without rhyme, reason or explanation of where it came from.

My first thought was that something likely the distaff side of this partnership was playing a joke on me. After all, an egg is a most unusual thing for a gentleman to find on his writing table in one of London's elite hotels. On examination, however, there was the number of our room printed in big figures across the white shell, and on the other side was a green stamp saying the egg came from Canada.

Then, suddenly I remembered fresh eggs are so scarce in England that, while the ration varies, the Briton and visitors are lucky to get one or two a month, the rest being in the form of egg powder. So this was either Mrs. Mac's egg, or mine, and the other would be along in due course.

Well, I went about my business, but that egg haunted me. It worried me so much I enlisted Mrs. Mac's aid and we went in search of an answer, which we finally got from a special police constable and his young wife, who invited us to their home.

They live in a tiny, three-room apartment with their school-age daughter. The wife works in an office and their combined income is about thirty dollars a week.

The wife said, "My immediate reaction is that you've found a jewel. That egg is a wonderful meat! You can't imagine how we treasure eggs, with our short and monotonous rations. It's been tough-going, especially since lend-lease stopped and cut us off from tinned meat."

Whipped an evening newspaper from a table and held it up so I could see a banner headline. It proclaimed "more food, clothes by spring," and was based on the success of the new Anglo-American loan negotiations.

"That's the brightest news we've had since the war ended," she said. "It's what we've been waiting for and longing for."

"Is that what the loan means to the average working man and woman in England?" I asked.

"Yes," she nodded vigorously. "We are interested in relief from this hard life. It's not only the shortage of food, but of all necessities."

"Well, then, what will be the effect of this loan on relations between your country and mine?" I asked.

Successful Grid Year Ends With 8 Wins and 2 Losses

The 1945 Harvester football season ended last week with eight wins and two losses. Both of these losses were to conference teams—Plainview and Amarillo.

Harvesters chalked up a total of 161 points to their opponents in five of the ten teams scored by the Harvesters.

Harvesters' first game was scheduled to be rough, for Ector had eleven returning regulars, but the Harvesters triumphed 14-7. In their second game the green and gold grid machine reaped revenge for their 18-13 defeat of the year before by beating Midland 25-6.

Phillips Blackhawk's ego was deflated when the Harvesters romped to a muddy field to score of 27-6. The Harvesters then journeyed to Vernon and took the surprised Lions into camp in a dense fog, 14-0. A group of rabid Harvester fans followed the boys to Norman for their next game and witnessed another Pampa victory 6-0.

The Harvesters opened their conference schedule against Brownfield, and sparked by George Johnson's 29-yard touchdown run, won over the Cubs by a 25-0 score.

Lubbock's Westerners played over their heads to hold the Harvesters in a scoreless tie. The Harvesters won on penetrations 4-1. Pampa's football pride bounced back against Borger and ran over the befuddled Bulldogs 33-0.

Basketball Season Opens With a Bang; 150 Expected to Sign for Training

Bring out your shorts and jerseys; the 1945-46 Harvester basketball season has started with a bang! Fifty boys came out the first day and a total of 150 boys is expected by Coach Otis Coffey.

Since buses can be used, the teams are going to play a double schedule, with the Gorillas traveling with the Harvesters.

Several teams will be organized this year, including the Harvesters "A" and "B" teams, the Gorillas and a special new team from the junior high eighth grade and freshmen.

Coach Coffey said the only problem was that of room for practice, with gym space limited.

The Harvesters will be coached by Mr. Coffey; "Jiggs" Whittington will be in charge of the Gorillas; and Jack Davis from junior high will coach the eighth grade and freshmen teams.

Among the players for the Harvesters will be Randall Clay and Earl Davis from the 1944-45 "A" team. Also on the team will be Calvin McAdams, Leon Crump, Bernie Brown, Don Humphreys, Bill Spear, and Junior Coffey.

Sandlotters Gather In Park For Football

"Hold 'em gang!" "Stop that center plunge!" Oris such as these may be heard by people who pass the park by Sam Houston elementary school.

Here many PHS boys gather each afternoon after school to receive treatment that would make Doktor Goebels stutter with horror.

Largest player is Bobby Boyles, 210 pounder, who, according to some reports, carries the ball in the characteristic Boyles' tradition. Jimmy Cox and Ramon Hernandez are among the smaller regulars.

Hansel Kennedy received a badly sprained ankle in a recent afternoon's play. Richard Hughes has had five sweat shirts torn and a tooth chipped, and several have received battered noses.

Each afternoon the same procedure takes place—punting, passing, fooling around—then the sides are chosen and after that the onslaught begins.

Quite a few "sandlotters" come to play each day and some perform the spectacular playing. Some of these boys are: G. W. Gambin, Malcolm Fagan, Burke Mordy, Don Lane, Tommy Chisholm, A. Z. Griffin, Douglas Mills, Jerry Barber, Jerry Gillis, Charles Lockhart, Donald Thut, Malcolm Douglas, Tommy Riggs and Russell and Donald West.

Emiline Bogue, Dramatic Artist, To Appear in Paid Assembly

Emiline Bogue, dramatic artist, will appear in the first paid assembly of the year Thursday at 2:30 p. m.

Miss Bogue is spending thirty weeks in the South and Southwest this season, with engagements before audiences ranging in age from six to sixty.

Her training includes work in the Phidelah Rice School of the Spoken Word.

Admission to the program will be 10 cents.

Warren pointed out that students had a greater part in planning all activities in Pampa than did the students in the two Dallas schools, and that PHS compared favorably in almost every department.

Miss LaNelle Scheihagen led the students in singing some old favorites—"Oh! Susanna," "I've Been Working on the Railroad," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Jenny," and "Dear Old Pampa High School."

Jones and Mordy Senior Play Cast Report to Students And Crew Named

Characters and stage crew for the senior play "Three Corned Moon" were chosen by senior sponsors last Tuesday afternoon following try-outs.

Chosen for parts were Phyllis Ann Parker as Elizabeth Cripple-gar, James Harrah as Douglas; Bob Parkinson, Kenneth; Betty Schuler as Jenny; Pat King as "Ma"; Colleen Voyles as Kitty; and Mary Rutherford as Mrs. Rimplegar.

Stage managers are Erma Lee Kennedy, Sybil Pierson, Frank Stallings, and Rusty Neff. Property managers will be Joyce Pratt, Alberta Williams and Barbara Norris.

The play is a sophisticated comedy and all the characters are adults. It is the story of a moon-struck family of Rimplegars and the way they lived in the early 1930's.

Rehearsals began last week.

Lonnie Williams Is Chosen School Favorite Wednesday

Lonnie Williams was elected all-school favorite by the student body Wednesday in home rooms.

Lonnie, who is a senior, has blue eyes, blond hair, and is probably best known for his broad shoulders.

Lonnie is planning to attend college, but at present has not determined which one.

Faculty, Students Give Opinions On Atomic Bomb

The atomic bomb was the subject for discussion among teachers and students last week.

Several teachers disagree about the disposal of the bomb. Miss Anne Louise Jones and Miss Mary Gordon share the same opinion—that the secret should be held back from Russia but that it should be given to a central committee composed of members of the United Nations who would take care of it.

Other opinions were: Viola Wilson: Not until matters are straightened out between the United States and Russia.

Mr. Clude "Jiggs" Whittington: I don't believe it should be given to Russia because they have too much territorial power already.

Fashion Lashes

By JOANN COONROD

The time for mistletoe and popcorn balls is nigh, kids, so most of the girls have gone on a fashion spree to get all their winking apparel in real Christmas style.

Several girls have been mysteriously "jingling" along the halls and come to find out that they are wearing bells on their shoes, in their hair, around their necks, and even around their ankles.

Mistletoe, all tied up in red ribbon, make adorable little hair "dodads" or corsages, according to Aurenia White and Ramona Matheny.

Crazy Costumes Highlight Party

Amid "oh's" and "ah's" in appreciation of everyone's costume, the senior masquerade party started with a bang Friday night.

The unmaking at 9 p. m. brought the hour-long party. Randall "Lil Abner" Clay had everyone fooled, as did Pat Miller, who was the "Angel in disguise," with stars dangling her costume. Beverly Candler, Erma Lee Kennedy, Mary Rutherford, Bob Troop, Lonnie Williams, Don Rowe, and Horace Saunders were a few of the many who looked like anything but themselves.

Games consisted of relay races, quiz games, tag and general kid games. The greatest amount of fun came with the breaking of the pinatas, from which poured surprises as well as excitement. The Spanish custom impressed everyone so much that the seniors are now called "senior and seniorita."

Dancing and refreshments added to the festivities.

Girls' Christmas Party Planned

Circus and possibly Plainview vs. Pampa movies, floor shows, musical numbers, twelve class programs, group singing, folk dancing, ball room dancing, caroling and skating will be some of the features of the Christmas party to be held in the gym from 7 till 11 Thursday night.

The party is sponsored by the girls' physical education classes and all girls are invited to attend, whether they take physical education or not. Tickets to the party will be sold by squad leaders only with the price set at 40 cents.

Skating and dancing will last from 7 until 8 with refreshments and entertainment being furnished afterwards. Carolling has been planned to conclude the program.

Miss Dorothy Hoyle's squad leaders are in charge of decorations. Miss Nina Owings squad leaders will furnish refreshments for the group.

Editor of Harvester Nominated for Post

Anna Merle Cox, editor of the Little Harvester, has been nominated for vice president of PHSPA, Panhandle high school Press Association.

Other candidates are Patsie Northcutt, editor of Amarillo's The Sandstorm, for president; Jo Ella Hussey, editor of the White Deer Buck's Tale, for secretary; and Alvin Jennings of West Texas High at Canyon for treasurer.

A conference will be held in Canyon in February for member schools of the PHSPA who will hear talks exchange ideas and get acquainted with other schools.

Sophomores Go To A Party, Dogpatch Style

Sophomore boys rushed away from school Friday so that they might not get caught for the Dogpatch party which was held Saturday night in the cafeteria.

The girls had a race starting at 3:40 and lasted until 7:00. If the boys were caught they had to take the girls to the party.

At the party were Daisy Maes, Lil Abners, Mammy and Peppy Yokums and Tobacco Rhodas.

Anyone not dressed Dogpatch style had to pay one dollar extra to gain admittance.

Frank Green and Hansel Kennedy are scheduled to leave tomorrow to visit Waco high school in Waco.

This will be the second group of student council representatives to visit other schools.

Lane Replaces Mordy

Don Lane has been elected president of sophomore home room 106 to replace Burke Mordy, who is moving to El Reno, Okla.

A gift was presented to Burke Wednesday by the home room in appreciation of his services to the class.

Students Unappreciative

That the students of PHS do not appreciate their opportunities for self-expression was pointed out by Warren Jones in assembly Wednesday.

In many larger schools the assembly programs, parties, schools paper and annual are the responsibility of the teachers alone.

Many students do not take advantage of these opportunities. Let's show our appreciation of them by taking part in assembly programs when asked, cooperating with party chairman, and entering into more school activities.

Tri-Hi-Y Outlines Church Doctrines

Doctrines of various churches represented in Tri-Hi-Y were outlined by members in Monday's meeting.

Jean Pratt spoke about the Presbyterian church; Edith Morrow the First Baptist; Alverna Miller, the First Christian; and Doris Shackelford, the Methodist.

Beauty Is Joy Forever

The lack of art in Pampa high school is painfully noticeable. We believe that there should be an effort to procure more beautiful things, for art is a creator of culture.

There are very few places in our vicinity where we can see paintings, sculptures, metal work, or other forms of art. These things would make our school a much more attractive place in which to work.

The new "All-Angle" machine received by Mr. W. E. Adams, machine shop teacher, is a very valuable addition to the equipment, he has announced.

The new machine, which is a precision instrument used on very delicate things, was sent to the shop by the state.

National Honor Society Elects To Be Active

In a meeting Monday night, the National Honor Society voted to be an active club rather than merely an honorary society.

Other business included the discussion of an assembly program and publicity for the club.

Scott Rafferty Speaks To Journalism Class

Scott Rafferty, sports editor of the Pampa News, spoke to the journalism class Thursday afternoon on sports writing.

Scott pointed out that sportsmanship comes first and loyalty second. He remarked that feuds and rivalry should not be carried on in the paper. He listed statistics that a sports writer should observe in writing football, basketball, track and intramurals, and gave other practical suggestions to the beginning sports writers.

J. R. Hale New Fish Science Instructor

J. R. Hale, recently discharged from the Army air forces, has just been added to the PHS faculty. He is replacing Miss Virginia Goode, general science teacher, who was married Tuesday.

Mr. Hale received his B. S. degree from Ohio State. His home is Buckeye Lake, Ohio.
