Yule Lighting To Bring City To 'Life' Again

The Christmas lights are going on in Pampa once more after three years of "darkness" caused by the war.

Pampa's Junior chamber of commerce, headed by B. B. Altman, will have charge of putting up the lights across the downtown streets, including Cuyler, Foster and Kingsmill.

D. L. Parker, chairman of the Christmas decorating committee of the Jaycees, has asked the cooperation and help of all merchants and business men located in the downtown areas.

Lights and spruce roping will be strung across Cuyler street at intervals, starting at the underpass and extending to the corner of Cuyler and Franks.

Lights will also be strung from Oiler west to Somerville, east to Ballard and also on Kingsmill street.

Work has already begun on stringing the wire for the decorations and it is believed that plenty of decoration will be available.

Most merchants have already begun decorating for Christmas, dressing up store windows and installing attractive lighting and two establishments, Montgomery Ward and Levines have Old Santa Claus ready to receive children's requests.

Prior to the war, the Pampa Garden club sponsored home Christmas decoration contests but exist-

Over 200 Attend Chemurgic Meet

More than 200 West Texans, including City Manager, Garland Franks, Chamber of Commerce Manager E. O. Wedgeworth and Reno Stinson, Cabot official, attended the Wichita Falls regional chemurgic clinic, which closed its two-day session yesterday.

Many phases of chemurgy, the science of converting agricultural products into industrial products, were discussed by leaders in that field, including Dean R. C. Goodwin, Texas Tech, E. D. Marshall, Lubbock, and Dr. E. H. Johnson, Texas university.

It was pointed out by Marshall, who is head of the Texas forest laboratories, that even the lowest mesquite could be used to produce many varieties of plastics so important in the post-war area.

E. A. Bandeen, manager of the West Texas chamber of commerce, said that sheep men of Texas have discovered that low grade, dirty wool is our most important source of lanolin, one of science's greatest recent discoveries in the field of medicine.

Guests at the clinic were feted by the Rotary club in a banquet at the Kemp hotel yesterday.

FREED UNDER BOND

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Municipal Judge John T. Zuris was tried and found guilty in his own courtroom—in a "kangaroo court" proceeding—and was sentenced by a Congressional Medal of Honor winner to buy a $1,000 War Bond.

Judge Zuris agreed to comply. He had been charged with failing to lead the Lithuanian nationality group of Chicago over the top in its Victory Bond sales campaign. T/Sgt. Stanley Bender of Chicago imposed the "sentence."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall told Pearl Harbor investigators today that Admiral Harold R. Stark thought warnings to Pacific commanders on Dec. 7, 1941, would "only confuse them."

So Stark, then chief of naval operations, at first opposed sending such warnings after it became clear the trouble was brewing for the United States that day, Marshall told the senate-house committee investigating the attack.

Marshall, wartime army chief of staff, testified he called Stark back on the White House telephone, however, and insisted on sending the messages. Then the admiral acceded, Marshall said, and asked that the army warnings be amended so that naval officers at Pacific outposts would be advised.

Stark, later naval chief in the European theater of operations, was a spectator in the hearing room as Marshall testified.

Major Fight Building Over British Loan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull today endorsed the Anglo-American loan and trade deal as a step in building world peace.

In a statement issued through the state department, Hull declared that the nation may be now confronted with its "final opportunity to make a peace that will last."

TO BUILD BETTER WORLD

He said that through the American government's policy to grant Britain a $4,000,000,000 loan and Britain's agreement to work for freer international trade, "our country is taking another long step forward to build a better world by profiting from the bitter lessons of the past."

"I believe the government's overall policy regarding the loan and the prerequisites to economic prosperity and improved standards of living in our own and all other countries," he said.

Vast Sea and Air Armada Searches For Navy Airmen

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 7.—(AP)—A vast sea and air armada was ordered today to scan 100,000 square miles of the Atlantic in a "last chance" effort to rescue 27 men who disappeared with a formation of five Lockheed bombers and a missing search plane.

The navy alone ordered 248 planes into the air, while 18 surface craft made it probably the biggest rescue effort of peacetime.

Two clues seemed sufficiently definite to remove some of the mystery that cloaked the disappearance of the entire formation of bombers, carrying 14 men, and the big Martin rescue craft that joined them in the Atlantic's limbo Wednesday with 13 men on board.

One was word from a passing ship, the S. S. Gaines Mills, that it was an explosion at sea off New Smyrna beach at 7:50 p.m. Wednesday, and what appeared to be an airplane falling.

The other clue was a report by the airport weather station at Miami that a large area of turbulent air rolled out of a storm centered over Georgia, swept over Jacksonville about noon and reached Miami by nightfall.

The missing formation was last heard from at 5:25 p.m. At that time the planes had slightly more than one hour's fuel supply.

"Can't tell whether over Atlantic

Truman Plans To Break Bottleneck In Home Building

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—President Truman was reported today to be planning to restore building materials to a priorities system in an effort to break a bottleneck in home building.

Officials of government agencies said it had been agreed that there must be a move quickly to get home construction rolling.

These officials, who asked that their names not be used, said Mr. Truman might announce some action at his news conference scheduled for 3 p.m. (CST) today.

The plan would be to make sure materials get into hands of contractors who want to build homes.

Said one official, "virtually all materials and construction labor are going to commercial and industrial building projects."

There is a possibility that any priorities set up may earmark materials for low and moderately-priced houses only. One top figure which has been mentioned is the $8,000 sale ceiling.

Also in the picture, it was reported, is a preference rating for veterans wishing to build homes.

The plan is not to prohibit commercial and industrial construction, but to allow it only in cases where materials are available after home needs have been met, officials said.

They added that the home construction industry has been one of the chief advocates of restoring priorities.

City Fines 12 for Traffic Violations

Twelve persons paid fines for traffic violations this morning as police began enforcing downtown traffic rules because of the influx of Christmas shoppers.

Most of the fines were for parking in bus zones and for overtime parking at the post office. There is a 15-minute parking limit in front and at the side of the post office.

'HOUR OF DEMOCRACY': TEXAS YOUNG DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE FOR POLITICS

By DAVE CHEAVENS
FORT WORTH, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The state democratic organization that took the party over at a history-making pro-Roosevelt convention a year ago, today had a firm grip on the Texas young democrats embarking on their first postwar political year.

Many of the leaders of the "loyal democrats" faction that stampeded all opposition and took control in a lightning thrust early in the young democrats' first postwar convention were also identified with the group that

Trials of Nippon War Criminals Set for January

TOKYO, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Chief Prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan announced today that the first war crimes trials in Japan tentatively were scheduled for January—with Warlord Hideki Tojo and his Pearl Harbor cabinet leading the parade of defendants.

"The accused will be presumed innocent until proved guilty," Keenan said in a statement.

General MacArthur's special staff counsel, told a news conference. But he added that:

"Japanese war criminals must be punished and humiliated so that they will go down in history as ordinary felons of the lowest type."

He declined comment on the Allied attitude toward Emperor Hirohito.

The death penalty will be asked at the trials, he indicated.

Like their German counterparts, Japanese war crimes suspects will be tried in groups. An international court seems likely.

On top of General MacArthur's order for the arrest of Marquis Kojichi Kido, the rival of Keenan in Japan brought full realization to

Observance of Pearl Harbor Day Is Light

By The Associated Press
Only four Texas cities, Denton, Galveston, Corpus Christi, and Houston, reported Pearl Harbor day celebrations today (Friday).

Barr holders at Denton take chances on postwar gems—a new car, a new electric sweeper, an electric washing machine and a radio.

The navy struts potent war-time weapons at Corpus Christi today in observance of Pearl Harbor day. Barrage rockets mounted on jeeps and combat vehicles, were to be fired by a navy unit. A band concert, drills and speeches were also on the day's program.

Galveston citizens hold a victory jubilee celebration while Houstonians conduct memorial services.

Special Training for Spanish Teachers Set

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Special training for American school teachers of Spanish—plus $100 bonuses—will be available at the field school of the University of Texas in Mexico City next summer.

Only 100 applications will be accepted, said Dr. Francisco Villagrán, director of the summer school.

Secretary of State Byrnes Hits Back Sharply at General Hurley

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes hit back sharply at Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley today for his attacks on state department foreign service diplomats, and asserted that Hurley had failed to sustain his charges.

Byrnes appeared before the senate foreign relations committee which has been looking into the background of Hurley's abrupt and dramatic resignation last week as ambassador to China.

Byrnes specifically upheld the two "career men" whom Hurley has charged with seeking to sabotage his efforts to bring about a unified China, while he held the Chungking post. Hurley assailed this conduct as "disloyalty."

The secretary of state told the committee:

NO SPECIFIC EVIDENCE

"Ambassador Hurley has not furnished me, nor do I understand that he has furnished the committee, any specific evidence to prove that any employe was guilty of such conduct."

Hurley was in the audience as Byrnes began his testimony and listened intently from a front row seat.

Foreign Chiefs May Call Meeting

LONDON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was expected to make an announcement, possibly late today, about a possible meeting of the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, Russia, France and China.

Reports circulated in well-informed quarters that the five foreign ministers might meet in Moscow soon.

The spokesman said no further indication of the nature of Bevin's announcement could be given now.

Such a meeting would be the first for the five foreign ministers since their inconclusive conference in London last October.

Members of parliament hurried into the commons chamber twice this afternoon in the expectation that Bevin was about to make the anticipated announcement. But the foreign secretary did not appear either time.

The London evening Star said it was understood a proposal for a five-power meeting came from Moscow.

At the previous meeting wide differences appeared among the delegates over such questions as European boundaries, peace treaties for the Balkans and trusteeships for colonies. It finally ended without the settlement of the major questions.

Roping Contestants Vie for $1,000 Purse

A $1,000 matched championship roping contest, featuring Perry Franks of Pampa, and Red Whalley of Wichita Falls, will be staged at the rodeo grounds here Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30, it was announced yesterday.

The contestants will rope 12 calves each. Ticket sales for the event will begin at 12 noon Sunday.

Franks said the event, which features two professional ropers, is sponsored by the rodeo committee of the Top of Texas Rodeo and Fair association.

Whalley defeated Franks here this fall in a similar contest.

Jaycees To Hold Banquet Tuesday

As a part of its drive to build membership up to the pre-war level, the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce will hold its first banquet in the city banquet room, Tuesday at 12 o'clock.

Jaycee President B. B. Altman has extended an invitation to all former Jaycee members and especially to veterans who are interested in the civic work the club carries on.

Altman said that an interesting program is being planned and that it will be a good opportunity for young men of the city to become acquainted with the work of the organization.

Joe Maher and Dr. N. L. Nichols, are chairman of the membership campaign. Fisher pointed out yesterday that the Junior chamber has been hit hard by the war and the organization is anxious to build back to its old place in civic activity.

The membership drive of the Junior chamber has been delayed for several months because of the lack of a place to meet.

Those who plan to attend the Tuesday meeting are asked to make their reservations at the Pampa chamber of commerce before Monday noon. The chamber telephone is 383.

Temporary Sugar Scarcities Expected

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Temporary sugar scarcities will develop in some sections after new ration stamps are validated Jan. 1, OPA warned today.

Sugar will be hardest to find on the East Coast.

Individual consumer's sugar ration stamp 39 will be valid from Jan. 1 to April 30. It will be good for five pounds. Sugar stamp 38 expires Dec. 31.

Influenza Reported Increasing in State

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The state department of health reported today marked increases during the past week for both influenza and undulant fever.

Both are five times or more above their meridian with influenza expected to show a further rise as winter advances.

Commander of Philippines Is Given Death

MANILA, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Tomoaki Yamashita has a date with the hangman.

A five-general military commission today convicted the former Japanese commander of the Philippines of having permitted "a series of atrocities and high crimes by Japanese armed forces under your command" and passed the death sentence.

Those brutalities "were not sporadic incidents, but were often methodically supervised by Japanese officers and non-commissioned officers," Maj. Gen. Russell B. Reynolds, president of the commission, stated as he read the verdict.

FIRST CONVICTED

Yamashita thus became the first top war criminal of the Pacific to be convicted and sentenced.

Before hearing the verdict, the stocky defendant stood, visibly nervous, while an interpreter read this statement to the court.

SWEARS INNOCENT

"I wish to stand here today with a clear conscience and swear to God I am innocent of these charges. I wish to take this opportunity to express gratitude to the United States officers of the defense, brilliant and upright officers. I want to thank the commission for a fair trial."

As the interpreter spoke, Yamashita nervously removed his wrist watch, wound it fumblingly.

When the commission was ready to pronounce sentence, the three-star general was led before the bench by his chief counsel, Col. Harry E. Clarke.

Yamashita's shoulders sagged as he heard the sentence, but he straightened quickly and made a curt bow to the commission.

In Tokyo a few hours before the verdict was read, the general's wife said she had declined suggestions from friends to appeal to Mrs. Douglas MacArthur for "help and justice for my husband."

"The method of justice on the American side is admirably fair," she was quoted by the newspaper 'Maine'

HALTED BY BAD WEATHER: DOCUMENTS SHOW NAZI PLOTS FOR INVASIONS

NUERNBERG, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Hitler's armies were poised for the invasion of the low countries and France Nov. 7, 1939, but the attack was postponed week by week for six months because of bad weather, official German records disclosed at the war crimes trial here today.

While the rest of the world spoke sarcastically of "a phony war," the German military machine was ready and "waiting only for favorable weather," according to records.

British prosecutors turned most among the 30 top-ranking Hitlerites accused of war crimes, pointing out that part in plans for the crushing invasion while Hitler deceitfully told Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg that he had no plans to attack them.

The fifth column conquest of Norway and Denmark was only a prelude to the invasion a month later of the low countries, the evidence showed.

Prosecutors introduced German naval orders revealing that German war ships and camouflaged

GM Strikers Reject New Wage Offer

DETROIT, Dec. 7—(AP)—An air of optimism for early settlement of auto industry wage disputes continued to pervade Detroit today despite union rejection of another General Motors offer.

The CIO united automobile workers again were to send its top officials into conference with the corporation, whose offer of a 13 1/2 cents an hour increase was turned down yesterday at the first regular negotiating session since the vast GM strike was called Nov. 21.

H. W. Anderson, General Motors vice president, termed the proposal a "reinstatement" of the pre-strike offer of approximately 10 per cent, which he said would boost wages of GM workers to 30 per cent above the January, 1941, level.

However, Walter P. Reuther, UAW vice president, estimated it would raise the average rate of $1.15 an hour by 11.7 per cent.

Union officials, still demanding 30 per cent above present levels and within the present price structure, said the company's refusal to discuss "ability to pay" provided the chief stumbling block.

A General Motors spokesman had listed the union's insistence on using "assumed ability to pay" as a basis for bargaining and its "illegal" picketing methods as principal obstacles to a settlement.

The latter issue was waived after a secret meeting of company and union heads with CIO President Murray at Pittsburgh Wednesday.

A citizens' committee of 14 businessmen, clergymen and educators meanwhile came to the union's support to the extent of saying use of wage-price-profits relations in settling the dispute would not deprive management of its rights.

These were the other developments:

War veterans idled by the GM strike held a mass meeting last night to demand unemployed compensation which they claim is due them under the GI bill of rights.

The Detroit department of welfare reported nearly 100 applications for relief of GM strikers and their families.

Two federal labor conciliators arranged conferences with UAW-CIO and Chrysler corporation officials. The Chrysler-union contract expired Tuesday midnight. Strike action has been approved in government vote but is being withheld.

The United Electrical workers (CIO) demanding a $2 a day increase, also received a 13 1/2 cents an hour offer from General Motors.

Yamashita, who already has lost an appeal to the Philippines supreme court to take jurisdiction of his case and free him from the military trial still has an appeal to the United States supreme court pending and at least three additional appeals to make.

Defense counsel has indicated it will take full advantage of every possibility because the Yamashita case is precedent-setting in international law.

Yamashita's first appeal will be made to Lt. Gen. W. D. Styer, commander of army forces in the eastern Pacific. If Styer upholds the commission, he may appeal to Gen. MacArthur, as Allied commander of the Pacific; then to the U. S. supreme court.

Marshall

Secretary of State Hull, indicating abreast in relations with the U. S. The note, intercepted was decoded, was sent to Japanese "Peace Envoys" with instructions to deliver it to Hull at 1 p. m. (Washington time) the hour of the assault on Pearl Harbor.

RELATES DAY'S AFFAIRS

"On that morning," Marshall related, "I had breakfast, I presume about 8 o'clock, according to the routine of previous Sundays. I went riding.

"I must have ridden later than 8:30. I suppose I read the Sunday papers and then went riding. My rides were x x x about 50 minutes.

"While I was taking my shower, word came to me that Col. (R. S.) Bratton had something very important ACD wished to come out to Fort Myer. I told him I was coming to the war department directly.

"My shower; probably took 10 minutes. On my arrival there, Bratton handed me these intercepts. When I reached the end, and it was a long message, some of which I read twice, on the next sheet was the 1 o'clock message.

"That of course was an indication to me of some very definite action—1 o'clock on a Sunday in Washington, involving the secretary of state was very unusual.

"I called Stark and he said he had seen it.

"I proposed messages to the Pacific commanders. Stark felt we might confuse them. I hung up the White House telephone and wrote out a message in long hand. I called him back. The effect of our conversation was then that he wished me to add to my messages 'show this to your naval officers.'

"There was some talk of typing the message but the decision was that there was not time to type it. Bratton took the messages and I asked him about the time involved in getting them off. I sent him back for estimates and I sent him and Col. Bundy back a second time to make sure."

Marshall disputed previous testimony before the committee and the army board of inquiry, published last August, that he telephoned the warning message to General Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines.

Marshall said he gave no instructions on the method of sending the messages, that it was the business of the message center to get them out "by the most expeditious means."

He said he did not know until long afterwards that the message to Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, army commander at Pearl Harbor, went to San Francisco by Western Union and thence by RCA cable to Hawaii.

Marshall related that Stark recalled asking him whether the army had need of navy facilities. Stark told him he replied it did not, Marshall said, "and he must be right."

He remarked that he was "much taken aback" at the time lost in reading the long diplomatic message before reaching the one referring to "the critical time" of 1 p. m.

Marshall said Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles, then head of army intelligence, could not have sent a "command message," with instructions. But he did have authority to pass on the information, Marshall added.

Marshall referred to Mrs. Marshall's engagement book to help him remember the evening of December 6. He said they did not go out for dinner, out calling or to the movies.

A secret meeting of the Pearl Harbor committee delayed for half an hour today the resumption of General George C. Marshall's story of the last hours before this country was plunged into war four years ago.

Rep. Keefe (R-Wis), a member of the senate-house group investigating the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, told reporters that the executive session dealt with the admission of certain evidence. The said it was decided "evidence should be entered in its entirety."

The two governments climaxed three months of diplomatic talks yesterday by announcing a broad economic agreement tied to financial help from this country.

That help would come to a $3-

Hurley had assailed the assignment recently of Atcheson and Service as political advisors to General MacArthur at Tokyo, but Byrnes said that "men who have rendered loyal service to the government cannot be dismissed and their reputations ought not to be destroyed on the basis of suspicious entertained by any individual."

The documents which Byrnes referred to in the cases of these two men were a telegram to the state department from Atchison on February 18, 1945 and a memorandum from Service on October 10, 1944. Byrnes said that Hurley replied most strongly on these two messages for support of his charges against Atcheson and Service.

Byrnes entirely defended the propriety of both communications. He said that Atcheson sent his telegram recommending "a readjustment of our immediately strategy" in China nine days after Hurley had left the Chungking embassy to return to Washington and three days before Hurley arrived in Washington. He said that Atcheson actually proposed that the subject of his message be taken up with Hurley and with General Wedemeyer, then U. S. commander in China, while they were in Washington.

"There is nothing to indicate that he (Atcheson) sought, to circumvent Service as political advisor to General MacArthur," Byrnes said.

Byrnes said the October 1944 memorandum from Service was "written in forceful language" and recommended a basic change in the U. S. policy toward the central government in China. Byrnes did not particularize what this was, but asserted the policy then and now was to support the central government.

Byrnes remarked pointedly that at this particular time Hurley was not the U. S. ambassador to China but the personal representative of President Roosevelt there, and hence he was not in charge of the embassy staff. Also, Service was responsible only to Gen. Stilwell.

Byrnes opened his appearance before the committee by reiterating U. S. support for the government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek but he added:

"We also believe that it must be broadened to include the representatives of those large and well-organized groups who are now without any voice in the government of China."

750,000,000 cash loan and $650,000,000 settlement for postwar lend-lease and war surplus. Both would be repaid at two percent interest over a 50-year period beginning in 1941.

Only the outright loan needs congressional approval, but every sign pointed to a bitter struggle. Harsh words were heard from a democrat as well as a republican in the house.

Asking anonymity, state department and treasury officials who participate in the talks here said today they are convinced that any major change in the loan terms would force Britain to reject the loan altogether and pursue her own economic course within a restricted bloc of countries.

As a part of the credit agreement, Britain agreed to cooperate with this country by lowering such barriers as tariffs and cartels.

Senator Lister Hill (D-Ala) said: "The loan should be made. In making the loan we are promoting the interests of the United States as well as the stability and peace of the world."

On the other hand, Rep. Dan Reed (R-NY) declared: "The slogan of the new deal now is 'come one, come all and get our billions.' I'm opposed to this loan. These loans will not be repaid."

In the house yesterday Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo) said he would not vote one dollar "as long as they've got the crown jewels in London." And Rep. Emanuel Celler

There is a difference in cleaning. Try us and be convinced.

SOCIETY

First Baptist W. M. U. Officers Are Installed at Church Luncheon

Fifty women attended the covered dish luncheon which was held in the diningroom of the church for members of the First Baptist W. M. U. Wednesday.

Members of Circles Four and Five had charge of serving and table decorations, and Mrs. G. L. Craddock gave the invocation.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. G. L. McKinney, acting chairman in the absence of the president, Mrs. E. L. Anderson, introduced Mrs. R. G. Harvey, from the Central Baptist church.

Mrs. Harvey installed new officers for the year, using a flower ceremony in which corsages in various colors were presented, signifying the duty and obligation of each office.

Officers installed were: President, Mrs. Homer Doggett; vice-president, Mrs. A. L. Prigmore; recording secretary, Mrs. Jack Morris; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Chuck Hogan; Young Peoples chairman, Mrs. L. M. Wagoner; stewardship, Mrs. R. W. Tucker; missions, Mrs. Bob Allford; Community missions, Mrs. E. L. Anderson; periodicals chairman, Mrs. D. A. Caldwell; Bible study, Mrs. F. E. Leech; benevolence, Mrs. W. R. Bell; Margaret fund, Mrs. L. H. Simpson; education, Mrs. Rufe Jordan; social, Mrs. L. L. Allen, and publicity, Mrs. Bo Barrett.

Circle chairman were: Mrs. O. A. Davis, Mrs. W. B. Henry, Mrs. Bill Mitchell, Mrs. C. L. McKinney, Mrs. S. E. Waters, Mrs. Louis Tarpley, and Mrs. A. Z. Griffin.

At the conclusion of the installation, a short business session was conducted by Mrs. McKinney, and Mrs. Doggett, incoming president, outlined plans for the year's work.

"Facing Tomorrow With God," was the subject of the mission program, with Mrs. Louis Tarpley as leader. Mrs. S. W. Brandt presented the devotional.

Assisting with the program were: Mrs. L. H. Simpson, Mrs. Ewell Mote, Mrs. Chuck Hogan and Mrs. J. A. Meek.

Philathea Members Meet in Shamrock

SHAMROCK, Dec. 7.—(Special)—The Philathea class of the First Methodist Sunday school met Friday evening in the basement of the church for a covered-dish dinner.

The affair was given honoring Rev. and Mrs. Hubert Bratcher with the husbands of the members as special guests.

Cut flowers were used in attractive decorations.

Mrs. Glyn Bell presided at the register, requiring guests to give their name, address and occupation, which was later used in a clever way of introducing those present.

Mrs. J. R. Benson, Mrs. Earl Hamill, Glyn Bell and Ernest Henderson, sang "In the Garden," with Mrs. Glyn Bell at the piano.

About 40 attended the dinner.

George Gershwin never played a piano concerto until he wrote one.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Cremulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Cremulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

As long as our country's supply of industrial fats is so low, the government must determine how much fat can be released to make soap and other peacetime goods.

Any let-down in your saving of used kitchen fats will make our fat supply even less... and the amount allowed for soap manufacture may have to be cut accordingly. The end of rationing of food fats doesn't change the picture. Industrial fats are still very short. So keep turning in your used fats, won't you?... and speed the return of more soaps to your dealer's shelves.

Mrs. J. C. Jarvis Entertains Club In Skellytown

Mrs. J. C. Jarvis of Skellytown was hostess to members of the Eleanor Roosevelt Study club, Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. P. M. Statten presided in the absence of Mrs. S. C. Dickey.

Arrangements were made to send the regular donations sent each year to various organizations, including the Red Cross and Boys Town.

Plans were also completed for the annual Christmas party to be held the evening of Dec. 18, in the home of Mrs. Rolla Sparks.

After the business meeting Mrs. J. W. Lee was leader of a program on "Art." Mrs. H. C. Boyde read an interesting paper on "Fingertip Art," and Mrs. J. C. Collins discussed, "Art in the Home."

Refreshments were served by the hostess to: Mrs. Sparks, Mrs. W. C. Corley, Mrs. B. A. Wesner, Mrs. H. C. Boyde, Mrs. Gene Harlan, Mrs. J. L. Morris, Mrs. E. J. Haslam, Mrs. Statten, Mrs. J. C. Collins, Mrs. A. D. Parsons and Mrs. Lee.

Brenda Sue Cantrell Is Party Honoree

SHAMROCK, Dec. 7.—(Special)—Brenda Sue Cantrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Cantrell, was complimented by her mother with a party Wednesday afternoon.

The occasion was the anniversary of her fourth birthday, and she received many gifts from her guests.

Outdoor games provided entertainment for the group.

The birthday cake was decorated in a pink and white color motif and topped with four lighted tapers.

Youngsters attending included: Linda and Marita Isaacs, Karen Castleberry, Shelly Pennington, Rose Ann Cantrell, Barbara Tugwell, Fat and Mike Cantrell, Judy and Kay Morgan, Bill Neal Roach, Jerry Hrcner, Ronnie Cantrell, Tommy Ryan, and Tommy Cantrell.

Mothers and other guests present were: Mesdames John Hrcnar, Fred Tugwell, John Pennington, Rubert Castleberry, Jim Orrick, Mrs. Brown E. Dugger, J. T. Issacs, Travis Pennington, Billie Cantrell, Arthur Roach, C. G. Cantrell, Jr., T. H. Morgan, C. G. Cantrell, Sr., and Mrs. P. A. Anderson and Miss Freeda Tugwell sent gifts.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz was born in Fredericksburg, Texas.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS

Shown above are typical holiday greetings for this first peacetime Christmas in four years. Peace is the central theme this year, but there is plenty of humor to be found, too.

By KATHARINE SHERWOOD - NEA Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK.—Peace on earth. This Christmas message, ringing out after five dark war years, is the joyous theme of 1945 Christmas cards.

The shadow of wartime economy persists, however. Greeting-card production restrictions were lifted too late in the year to assure unlimited supplies for this holiday season, but those available are exceptionally well designed and printed.

Early selection and mailing are urged by army and navy postal inspectors and women who still will be overseas at Christmas. To insure pre-Christmas delivery, send the cards by first-class mail in sealed envelopes not later than December 15. All domestic Christmas cards, packages and letters should be mailed by Dec. 10.

Sentiments and verses on Christmas cards, the greeting card industry reports, are shorter and more to the point than in the past, allowing plenty of space for a personal holiday message from the sender.

CLEVER ART WORK

No taint of the hackneyed mars the freshness of the designs which are the work of some of the leading American artists and designers. Everywhere the return of peace is heralded. Angels look down over a broad and peaceful land. Soldiers gratefully lay down their weapons before the cradle of the Prince of Peace.

The heart-warming welcome home, reuniting families separated during the war, is reflected in familiar scenes. Horse-drawn sleighs stop in front of snow-covered homes whose windows are cheerfully ablaze with light. Other cards depict families gathered around the Christmas turkey, or happily distributing gifts around the tree. A benevolent minister shovels the snow from his church door, inviting parishioners to a prayerful observance of their holiday reunion. Silhouetted against a window, Scotties watch expectantly for their master's arrival home.

FUNNY ONES, TOO

Old Saint Nick, appearing in a variety of predicaments, replaces last year's emphasis on wartime shortages and inconveniences in the humorous category. Santa is shown as a gentle little man looking suspiciously like Father with whiskers, an urbane playboy, a jolly kibitzer, a winning prize-

'Christmas' Is Education Club Program Topic

Mrs. R. K. Edenborough, of White Deer, was hostess to members of the Parent-Education club when they met Tuesday afternoon in the City club room for a Christmas program, with Mrs. Joe Key, as leader.

Mrs. Ed Weiss, Jr., sang "Ave Maria" and "White Christmas," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Malcolm Brown.

Dr. Douglas Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was guest speaker for the occasion, and he told the origin of various Christmas legends.

Mrs. R. H. Nienstiel presided at the business session, and Mrs. Farris Oden was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Julian Key was nursery hostess.

Present were: Mrs. L. N. Atchison, Mrs. E. L. Biggerstaff, Mrs. Bob Curry, Mrs. Edenborough, Mrs. Joe Gordon, Mrs. J. Earle Gray, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mrs. Joe Key, Mrs. Nienstiel, Mrs. Aubrey Steele, Mrs. Arthur Teed and Mrs. Weiss.

Lunsford-Fowler Rites Announced

SHAMROCK, Dec. 7.—(Special)—Miss Betty Sue Lunsford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Lunsford, became the bride of Doyle Fowler of Vernon, Saturday, November 24, at the First Christian church.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of navy blue and black accessories. Her corsage was of white chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom is owner of a garage in Vernon, where the couple will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler left for a wedding trip to Dallas where they will visit before returning to Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Robinson, uncle and aunt of the bride, were present at the wedding.

fighter and a street photographer.

For the first time a group of fashion artists has turned its rare sense of color and line to the creation of Christmas cards. One artist uses clear peasant costume colors in a stylized treatment of the Christmas story. Others treat traditional Christmas skating and fire-side scenes with sophisticated finesse.

Modern and imaginative, this year's cards picture the national desire for a truly old-fashioned Christmas.

Fruit Desserts Trim Waistlines

By ALICIA HART - NEA Staff Writer

How often have you heard a chubby friend say, "I'd like to diet, but I have my husband and the children to cook for and I don't have time to cook special meals for myself?" Well, she's either kidding herself, or she has the wrong idea of diet.

Dieting to reduce doesn't mean a lamb chop and a lettuce leaf at every meal. It also means cutting down the intake of certain foods.

The busy homemaker who is interested in shedding a few pounds will serve dessert to the rest of the family and content herself with the fresh fruit. After several days of forgoing sweets, her craving for them will diminish, as well as her waistline.

When she broils chops for dinner,

Christmas Is Featured by W. S. C. S. When Circle Members Meet in Homes

Christmas programs and gift exchanges were featured when members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church met in the homes of members, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. G. F. Branson was hostess to members of Circle One for an all-day meeting with six attending. Each member brought a paper sack lunch, and the day was spent sewing for the Red Cross. Twenty pairs of foot warmers were completed to be sent to convalescent soldiers.

Mrs. Sam Cook, circle chairman, was presented a book of poems by the group.

Mrs. E. B. Bowen read a Christmas story from the Bible when members of Circle Two met in the home of Mrs. W. D. Waters. She also told the story of "Darius, a Little Boy Whose Face Saved Him."

Gifts were exchanged from a Christmas tree by the 11 members attending. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Knox Kinard, assisted by Mrs. Loyse Caldwell, as co-hostess, entertained members of Circle Three. Games, pertaining to Bible characters, were played, and jingles were written and read.

Gifts were exchanged from a Christmas tree, and Mrs. R. W. Lane, chairman, was presented a gift from the circle. Mrs. Joe Shelton, devotional leader, also received a gift.

Refreshments were served to 13 members.

Christmas carols were sung when Mrs. W. E. Campbell was hostess to 12 members of Circle Four. Mrs. E. Beard led in prayer, and Mrs. H. R. VanSickle gave the devotional.

Outstanding Christmas experiences were related, and gifts were exchanged. Refreshments were served.

GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Adela Rodriguez of Caracas, Venezuela, a delegate to the National 4-H Congress, saw the "good neighbor" policy in operation yesterday.

The 20 year old extension student at the University of New Hampshire, Durham, N. H., lost $115 and her return train ticket in a loop theater just before the close of the congress.

But her fellow 4-Hers, at a farewell luncheon, took up a collection and presented Adela with $115.00.

she will eat only the lean meat and let the fatty strips alone, as well as her share of the gravy. She will drink skimmed milk while the children drink whole milk. Her own "special food" should be a mineral oil salad dressing, which is equally tasty but far less fattening than regular oil dressing.

Parent-Teacher City Council Hears Program

"Together We Build" was the topic discussed by W. B. Weathered, when members of the City Council Parents and Teachers met in the reading room of the Junior high library Thursday afternoon.

The speaker stressed the importance of education and character building.

Mrs. H. M. Stokes presided at the short business meeting when cooperation in the sale of T. B. Bangles was approved. Reports were given by delegates who attended the State convention.

B. M. Baker school was in charge of the program, with 20 representatives from Pampa P.-T. A. units attending.

Miami Methodist Women Elect New Officials at Meet

MIAMI, Dec. 7.—(Special)—Mrs. C. Sheld was hostess to members of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon when the society met for the election of officers and other business.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the president, Mrs. W. H. Craig, and Mrs. C. C. Carr gave the devotional.

The nominating committee gave its report, and officers were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. Hall Nelson; vice-president, Mrs. W. H. Craig; recording secretary, Mrs. H. H. Hardin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edna Newman.

Victory Loan Drive Topped; 'E' Quota Lags

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The government's goal in the Victory bond drive, ending tomorrow, was $11,000,000,000. So far it has sold $12,285,000,000.

So, generally, before it officially closes the drive has been a success. But it is lagging in the sale of "E" bonds.

When the government set the $11,000,000,000 goal, it divided it this way:
To non-individuals (such as corporations, organizations, groups): $7,000,000,000. This group topped the goal, bought 18,076,000,000.

To individuals: $4,000,000,000 in all classes of bonds. Individuals have topped the goal by buying $4,212,000,000.

But—of that $4,000,000,000 goal for individuals the government wanted to sell $2,000,000,000 in "E" bonds—those bonds which range from $25 to $1,000.

So far it has sold only $1,165,000,000.

Actually, though, this drive which started Oct. 29 doesn't end tomorrow—so far as final results are concerned—but on Dec. 31. This is why:

The bulk of "E" bond sales are made through payroll deductions. The government doesn't count a sale until money for the bond has been paid.

A lot of people so far in December have promised they would buy bonds, but until the money has been taken out of their paychecks by Dec. 31, their promise can't be counted.

Since the first drive in May, 1941 and up to Oct. 31, 1945, individuals have bought $28,448,000,000 in "E" bonds. They've cashed in 18,604,000,000. Which means: They've kept 78 per cent of the bonds they bought.

Individuals can continue to buy bonds after the drive ends.

Nazi Plots

troop transports carried British flags and signals to screen the attack on Norway and Denmark.

Hitler signed his directive for attack "as soon as possible" on the low countries on Oct. 9, 1939—five weeks after the invasion of Poland, it was disclosed.

On Nov. 7, the German armies were massed along the border for the attack on Belgium, Luxembourg and other high command orders showed. The actual attack did not start until May 10, 1940.

Another surprise was the disclosure by the prosecution that a large portion of the German air force's plans for parachute operations during the lowlands invasion fell into allied hands on Jan. 10, 1940—just four months before the Nazis actually jumped off. The plans were found in a German plane which crashed in Belgium.

Read into evidence before the International military tribunal was the order of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, commander in chief of the German navy, to use British flags on German ships which slipped into Scandinavian ports on the eve of invasion.

The detailed story of treachery and intrigue leading to the downfall of Germany's little neighbors in April, 1940, disclosed that the plot to use the fifth column of Vidkun Quisling in obtaining Scandinavian U-boat base was engineered largely by German Admiral Erich Raeder and Alfred Rosenberg.

Official German navy orders introduced as evidence included instructions that "the disguise as British craft must be kept as long as possible." The German government repeatedly in 1940 that their vessels had flown British flags.

Admiral Raeder, who maintained under questioning after his capture that he had no hand in Hitler's plotting and was merely a bluff old sea dog doing his duty to his country, was disclosed by his own records to have sold Hitler on the idea of invading Norway.

Rosenberg was disclosed to have

Production of Atomic Energy Is Expensive

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Atomic energy is expensive to produce and uranium is not likely to replace coal as a fuel for some time, believes Dr. T. R. Hogness, university historicist.

Speaking at a public meeting last night, which preceded the regional meeting today of the American chemical society, Dr. Hogness noted that a pound of uranium equals 1,500 tons of coal in energy value.

"To complete economically," he said, "uranium would have to be produced for $7,500 a pound or less."

Not far some time to come can this production figure be met, said

AP News Features
MADURA—Swami Yogiraj Sri Nilamanda Kavishwar is out with a prediction that India will have freedom in February, 1946, or something very near like freedom.

Also, he says, the atomic bomb will end wars for 12 years.

A copy of his forecasts was sent to the Associated Press of America at the request of the Swami. He had already established himself as a man with capacity to see far into the future, his friends say, and point to published stories claiming that he foretold, among other things, the death of President Roosevelt and the end of the war in June, 1945.

"Of the situation in India, he said: 'By Oct. 10, 1945, the atmosphere will be vibrant with hope to meet on a platform of a new common understanding. By February, 1946, down the time when India's future

Shamrock Girl Serves as Assistant To Marine Post Protestant Chaplain

SHAMROCK, Dec. 6.—(Special)—In almost two years at the post chapel at Camp Pendleton, Calif., where she is Protestant chaplain's assistant, Cpl. Freida Hise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Hise of this city, has had three free weekends. Looking forward a month to the time when she is discharged, she's counting on a Texas Christmas these days but hates a little the thought of leaving the chapel.

The hope that her strictly marine corps family will all be at home for the holidays is about to materialize. A brother, Maj. Bill Hise, already back in Texas, phoned home Tuesday to tell his parents that he is at Eagle Mountain making base waiting to be discharged and expects to be at home in a few days. Major Hise flew from the west coast having arrived from Japan. He has had five years of service, four of which were combat service. One of the first of our boys to go into Henderson field and Guadalcanal, he has received many decorations and has a brilliant military record.

Pvt. Bob Hise, 18, recently received his medical discharge, for wounds received overseas, and is at home. Pfc. Betty Hise is also at Camp Pendleton.

"But how I hate to leave," Cpl. Hise declares.

Organist, chaffeur, receptionist and chaplain corps' happiest representative, she has worked in the post chapel since it was built and the offices first opened. She was organist at the dedication services there, has supplied the organ music for more than 20 weddings, played for choir rehearsals and for all Protestant services as well as for occasional Catholic, Norman and Jewish ceremonies.

She plans to return to the Chicago Conservatory of Music for further musical study.

Presence of American Marines in China Becoming More Controversial

By JAMES D. WHITE
AP Staff Writer
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The presence of American Marines in China is becoming more controversial.

Today these developments were reported:

1. Two Marines hunting rabbits northeast of Tientsin were fired upon by a Chinese civilian armed with a pistol. One was killed, the other wounded.

2. Marines in Tientsin today feared they would be there some time. They understood they have 30 days ration on hand and 120 more on the way.

3. Twelve hundred miles away, American officers at Canton who operate a Chinese airport, received an anonymous letter threatening an "American blood purge." No reason was reported, but the dispatch mentioned the well-known fact that ven that far south there is a concentration of Chinese communists. Chinese communists want American troops to leave China, because, they say, their presence there helps Chiang Kai-shek government in China.

4. In Kunming, a good thousand miles away from the nearest American leatherneck, 5,000 students are in strike after issuing an open letter to President Truman and American students. A report from Shanghai quotes this letter as saying:

"While we appreciate your help in defeating Japanese fascism, we hope you will reconsider your unreasonable policy and cease to help those who are responsible for civil war."

5. In whom the students seem to think is responsible for civil war. Since no one has accused Americans of helping the communists, it can only be assumed that the students are thinking of Chiang Kai-shek's government.

The students are striking it reported, in protest against the continued presence of American troops in China and against the official government ban which has been clamped down on student meetings.

Rinnen of the same town. They met eight months ago in Los Angeles on a trolley. He was working at Camp Cook and he was on shore leave.

It didn't take them long to decide to get married, but his ship sailed before they could say "I do." Later, they tried a second time. They planned a telephone marriage. The groom, who enlisted for service at the age of 17, was a minor and had to have his parents' consent. Before this could be arranged, his ship sailed again.

But now they're married. Shirley was aboard the U. S. S. General R. E. Callan in New York harbor, and Lucy was in Levelland, but they got married anyway—by proxy.

It was a formal church ceremony. The groom's picture was displayed prominently by the chancel rail of the United Pentecostal church. The Rev. Sam A. Thomas of the first Methodist church performed the rites.

The bride, whose only relatives had been killed in action in the war, was given in marriage by the groom's father, M. L. Lindsey. The groom's grandmother is Mrs. J. K. Wester (922 Avenue S) Lubbock.

The third time was the charm for Shirley and Lucy—and very charming it was.

Shirley is seaman Shirley Lindsey of Levelland. Lucy is Lucy Pansy

Week of Prayer Is Observed by Shamrock First Baptist Women

SHAMROCK, Dec. 7.—(Special)—The W. M. S. of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon for the annual Lottie Moon Week of Prayer program.

Mrs. Charles Green presided over the business session. The meeting opened with a piano number by Mr. E. F. Kern.

During the business session, the meeting time was changed from 3 o'clock to 2:30 o'clock during the winter months.

Invasion Canteens During War Supplied By Salvation Army

In major Allied amphibious landings, Salvation army mobile units—"invasion canteens"—rolled down the ramps of LST's along with jeeps, trucks and tanks. Upon landing they set up shop on main roads leading to the front and they advanced with the invasion armies. In France alone 23 Salvation army mobile units were attached to the "invasion army."

Salvation army mobile caravans have to date traveled a distance equivalent to four times around the world, the units accompanying, and, in some instances preceding, the Allied fighting forces. Many of these mobile canteens went into the field equipped with library, radio set, a film projector and film, and a record-player, and had facilities for serving 4,000 men on a single trip. With curtains drawn these canteens offered a place for meditation or for religious services.

Church of Brethren Sermon Topic Told

"The Lord's Prayer and World Peace" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. Russell G. West at the Church of the Brethren on Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock.
Sunday school opens at 9:45 with classes for all. Visitors are always welcome.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
Scripture: Matthew 5; Timothy 2:1-4; Titus 3:1-5; 1 Peter 2:17.
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
The first Scripture passage associated with this lesson is the first portion of the Sermon on the Mount, containing the Beatitudes, and the words of Jesus concerning the critical value and relationships for those who would follow the ways of the kingdom of heaven.

The prevalent beatitudes of our modern world, especially of a world cast in the psychology of war, are very different from the Beatitudes of the Sermon on the Mount. These practical beatitudes of the life surrounding us say: "Blessed are they who are self-sufficient and self-assertive," "Blessed are those who are free from trouble," etc.

Was Jesus right when He put the beatitudes of the other world in the meek; Blessed are the poor in spirit; Blessed are they that mourn; Blessed are the persecuted; Blessed are those who hunger after righteousness. These things do not seem to have much to do with the safety and welfare of nations. Yet the more we reflect upon it, the more we must realize that the Beatitudes of the Sermon on the Mount are those who are free from trouble, etc.

Take out of a nation all the unselfishness, the other world, and unselfishness, who are sympathetic and helpful, and who set the value of good and gracious living above all self-interest and the selfishness of the soul. What a nation that would be!

So, the supreme need of the nations is for Christians—that is for genuine, practical Christians, who accept and follow the way of Jesus, putting love and service above self-interest, and mere gain for themselves. "Christians" in this sense, we should not define in any narrow way. There is the Jew, who is a Christian, and the Gentile, who is a Christian, and the principles and teachings that Jesus said He had come, not to destroy, but to fulfill, are the same for all.

Christians, who put many professing Christians to shame by the quality of their lives and their service to others.

The strength of a democracy lies first of all in the lives of its citizens, in their integrity and vision, and it lies secondarily in their sense of community, their acceptance of responsibility for the common welfare, and their willingness to help one another. That is Christianity in action; and nothing less fills the true demand of righteousness. Righteousness exalteth a nation, but nation's righteousness is the righteousness of its citizens.

Church Women Work In Many Countries

In the Harlem section of New York, where from three to four thousand persons live in one block, Miss Lenchen Coleman, of the Women's Missionary society of the United Lutheran church, carries on a religious ministry to negro families—and prays for reinforcements.

Among her activities are: teaching in two released-time religious schools, where she emphasizes "training in cooperation;" conducting recreational program and sponsoring boys and girls clubs; training teachers for the daily vacation Bible schools; sending children to summer camps; counseling family groups; promoting "a spirit of racial unity" in a church, which serves both white and negro families; conducting a "church-going companion" project—members calling at the Salvation Army Servicemen's club Sunday mornings to escort servicemen to church.

When Miss Wilhelmina Erbst of Minneapolis, Minn., stepped off a transport in San Francisco the other day, she was almost literally returning from the dead. For Miss Erbst, a missionary of the Methodist church, Cagayan Valley, Luzon, P. I., and principal of the Methodist Girls school at Bayombong, was reported dead behind Japanese lines two years ago. But during all the war years, it can now be told, she was with her Filipino girls though far part of the time a prisoner of the Japanese. When found by the American army she was suffering from malnutrition and near-starvation, and was nursed back to health in the U. S. army 91st hospital.

One of the greatest mass movements for education in the world's history is now in progress throughout Latin America—and women of the churches are having a leading role in the drama. It is the movement to teach people from the Rio Grande to Terra del Fuego to read and write. There are in the more than twenty republics of Latin America more than 60,000,000 illiterates; and the slogan is "An illiterate people cannot be free." Using the so-called Laubach method, developed by a Congregational missionary to the Philippines, hundreds of thousands are being taught to read in a few weeks' time. Some 90,000 women of the evangelical churches are among the teachers. So enthusiastic is Mexican President Camacho that he has decreed that every citizen between six and forty must know how to read and write by February 28, 1946.

'A Clean Heart' Is To Be Presented by First Baptist Choir

The morning service begins promptly at 11 o'clock at the First Baptist church, and the pastor, the Rev. E. Douglas Carver, will bring the message. Special music by the choir, directed by R. Virgil Mott, will include the song, "A Clean Heart." This service will be broadcast over Radio Station KPND.

Sunday school is scheduled for 9:45 a.m., at the church and the Everyman's Bible class will meet in the City hall at 11 o'clock.

Evening services begin at 6:30, when the Training Union assemble in their individual departments. The evening worship service will open with congregational singing, directed by Mr. Mott. The Reverend Carver will preach a special sermon at this hour.

There will be no rehearsal of the Pampa Civic chorus Monday evening, since it will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the church auditorium.

"The Messiah" will be presented Sunday afternoon, Dec. 16, at 8 o'clock, in the auditorium by the chorus, under the direction of Mrs. May Foreman Carr, assisted by Mrs. H. A. Yoder and Miss Eloise Lane, accompanists, at the two pianos.

Dr. Kermit Melugin To Continue Revival At Central Baptist

Rev. Rudolph Q. Harvey, pastor of the Central Baptist church, announces that the series of revival services now in progress in that church will continue through Dec. 16. Interest is growing in the messages being presented by Dr. Kermit Melugin, visiting evangelist.

Of special interest Sunday night will be the special musical program to be presented by a chorus of forty male voices. A maie quartet will also be featured.

Regardless of church affiliation, the public is invited to attend the services each day at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. "You will enjoy worshiping in this "neighborly church for a neighborly people," the pastor stated.

St. Matthew's Church Services Announced

"Let's Christianize Christmas," will be the sermon subject at the 11 o'clock Communion service in St. Matthew's Episcopal church, 707 West Browning, next Sunday. There will also be an early Communion service at 8 o'clock. Sunday school meets every Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

In preparation for the Christmas season, the Rev. Edgar W. Henshaw, priest-in-charge of the local church requests that any visiting Episcopalians, or any who have recently moved to Pampa, contact him, or mail him their present address. He also requests that wherever there may be sickness in families, which would prevent any members of the family from receiving their Communion during Christmas or the preceding Advent Season, that he be notified. Wherever this condition exists arrangements will be made for private services in the homes affected.

On Christmas Eve there will be the regular Midnight Eucharistic service. This service will start at 11:15, the evening of December 24.

Songs and Sermons Announced for Sunday At First Methodist Church school begins at the First Methodist at 9:45 a. m. on Sunday. Morning worship in the sanctuary starts at 10:55.

Rev. E. B. Bowen, the minister, will speak at both the morning and evening hours of worship. Miss Mildred Martin will be at the organ for both the worship services. Her numbers for the morning will be "Serenade" by Schubert, "Romance" by Zitterbart, and "Postlude in C" by Cappelen, and for evening hour, "Songs in the Night" by Spinney and "Traumerei" by Schumann.

The choir, under the direction of Warren Hohl, will sing the anthem, "Cast Thy Burden Upon the Lord" by Mendelssohn. G. F. Branson, will present a solo "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

The evening service begins at 7:30, and special music for the service will be organ numbers by Warren Hohl. The Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30.

B. Palmer Lewis To Present Lecture on Christian Science

Tuesday evening, a Christian Science lecture will be given at 8 o'clock in the Junior high school auditorium. The lecturer, B. Palmer Lewis, C. B. S. of New York City, has chosen the subject, "Christian Science, Its Teachings and Its Practice."

Mr. Lewis is a member of the board of lecturership of the mother church in Boston, Mass.

This lecture is free, and is sponsored by the First Church of Christ Scientist, of this city.

The public is invited to attend.

'Christian's Platform' Is Sermon Subject at Francis Ave. Church

The Francis Avenue Church of Christ, East Francis at Warren, invites the public to attend the services of the church. The regular worship and preaching services are at 10:45 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. each Lord's day.

Sermon subjects for Sunday morning, "The Christian's Platform," and evening, "Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God."

At the mid-week services each Wednesday evening at 7:30, a series of studies on the general theme "All About the Bible" is being conducted. Luther C. Roberts, the regular minister of the church, is the teacher for these lessons.

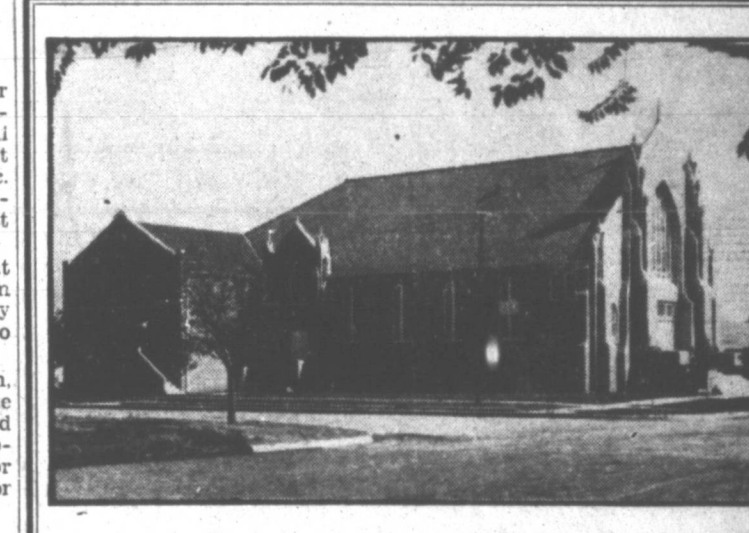

The public is invited to attend the services.

BIG TELEPHONE CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

is under way
Telephone service for those waiting is first goal of $53,000,000 project for Texas

The slower, more complicated job of building and installing central office equipment, in the many towns where it is needed, is being pushed. A lot of progress will be made by the middle of 1946, and most of this job should be completed by the end of the year.

Service will be even better
When waiting customers have been served, the job of expanding the telephone system to provide the kind and amount of service people want will get into full swing. These include individual lines and residence—extensions. More equipment—and the most modern devices also will be added.

Hundreds of miles of long distance lines will be placed in underground cable, and steps will be taken to introduce in some places a system by which operators can dial telephones in distant cities.

In the next five years, we plan to install 165,000 new rural telephones, more than doubling the number of farm telephones in this territory.

The conversion of telephone exchanges from manual to dial telephones will be resumed. Mobile radiotelephoning—whereby drivers of buses, trucks, and automobiles can talk through the central telephone system—will be developed.

How much? How long?
Besides the $140,000,000 for special construction and improvement, another $100,000,000 will be spent for the normal growth of the business. Several years will be required to complete the entire program.

ALL IS WELL HERE, EITHER

From this day on—unless some more historical incident is placed in the bloody history of man—this day, December 7, will be used as an excuse by newspaper and radio for a de-against the forces of aggression and unlawfulness.

The more we think about the $100,000 foundation established by the Arkansas-Texas publisher, Palmer, a few weeks ago, the more we believe that he has something which is needed as much as anything else in these days of postwar confusion and immorality.

Palmer has devoted that much money to a program of so-betterment among our people. This man, like so many other people, has recognized the great need in this land of a turn to a system of social standards compatible with clean, honest living.

The attack on Pearl Harbor—premeditated and hell-bent—salient example of lawlessness on an international scale, caused war with all its attendant horror, and those who perpetrated it are now feeling its retribution.

That is the most imminent lesson we get today from the incident of Pearl Harbor; and it is derived from a realization that, indeed, not all is well in our land.

W DESCRIPTION

An editorial in the United Mine Workers Journal states: three times in 1943 it became necessary for the UMWA to re the public from a coal famine that would have resulted in the obstinacy of the coal operators' determination to fight to the bitter end.

No doubt one reason for the nation's lack of appreciation that most of its citizens are still so old-fashioned as to con- the rescue from coal famine and the miners' "patriotic vice" as just another of John L. Lewis' strikes.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

"Liberty cannot be established without morality, nor morality without faith. It is impossible to have a reading public. The principles of the Bible are the ground-work of human freedom."

Check-Off

Most people think that collecting a check-off is all right; but they object to the check-off. They think labor leaders and their unions ought to be efficient enough so that men are not compelled to support them.

Public Educators Use Check-Off

But the check-off in labor unions is exactly what public educators and those who believe in it. Tax-supported schools are advertising a check-off system.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The major assault against the new labor government by the conservatives under the leadership of former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, didn't get the Tories very far—a result which the veteran generalissimo of course had expected since it was a foregone conclusion that the socialists would defeat the motion of censure by a smashing majority.

By RAY TUCKER

AMMUNITION.—The top leaders of the republican party will assemble at Chicago next week-end in the most cheerful mood they have been able to muster since Franklin D. Roosevelt steam-rolled them on the political log in 1932.

They may be kidding themselves—again—but they cite substantial evidence that the G. O. P. has a chance to make a comeback. Money has been pouring into the coffers and headquarters from individual and corporate contributors in the last few months.

Conservative democrats of the Ehrlich-Jones stamp have been providing them with ammunition by their public criticism of the Truman administration. A combination of Southern democrats and northern republicans on Capitol Hill has thwarted the chief executive's legislative program.

HOPEFUL.—Still another sign of republican rejuvenation, in the opinion of the overnight competition of numerous ambitious politicians for the republican presidential nomination in 1948. Several months ago, when the country acclaimed Mr. Truman so warmly and rejoiced over the winning of the war, there was a dearth of candidates.

Now the G. O. P. has an embarrassing quota of hopefuls. The stable consists of such men as Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, Governor Earl Warren of California, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Ohio, Senator Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, ex-Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Governor John H. Bricker of Ohio, who may become a senator from that state before long, former China ambassador Pat Hurley and many others.

PHILOSOPHY.—The opposition bosses date the improvement of their fortunes and chances from the delivery of President Truman's navy day speech in the first week of September—an address which was flagged by Charles G. Ross as the "most important" of the chief executive's ever made.

Mr. Truman's opus on that day ranked him alongside the extremely "left of center" groups in the country. Some G. O. P.-ers like it willing to believe is that he always observed Christmas customs. Goodness, you can look at his shape and be sure that he didn't hold back when the roast goose and plum pudding were being passed.

REFLECTION.—(1) Had Mr. Hurley, as he claims, patched up all differences between Chiang Kai-shek and Josef Stalin, why should Mr. Truman drag General George C. Marshall from a well-deserved rest and retirement to compose the Moscow-Chungking difficulties? The mere appointment of such a distinguished American as the architect of victory in the global war is a reflection to Mr. Hurley. It suggests that we are now sending a man on an errand he has failed to do.

(2) Secretary Byrnes was dumfounded when Pat resigned after having agreed to return to China with blanket authority given him to deal with the struggling factions there. He still cannot understand the reasons for the resignation of an obscure congressman's speech—Hugh De Lacey's—to force him to break his word and resign in a huff. "Jimmie is mad!"

(3) Chairman Connally has already characterized the Hurley case as a "directly responsible" error. The Texasian is an extreme partisan, and as head of the senate committee responsible for keeping an eye on the management of foreign relations, he feels that Mr. Hurley's attack amounts to a reflection on his guardianship. In any battle of words between Pat and Tom, the writer would bet on the Texan.

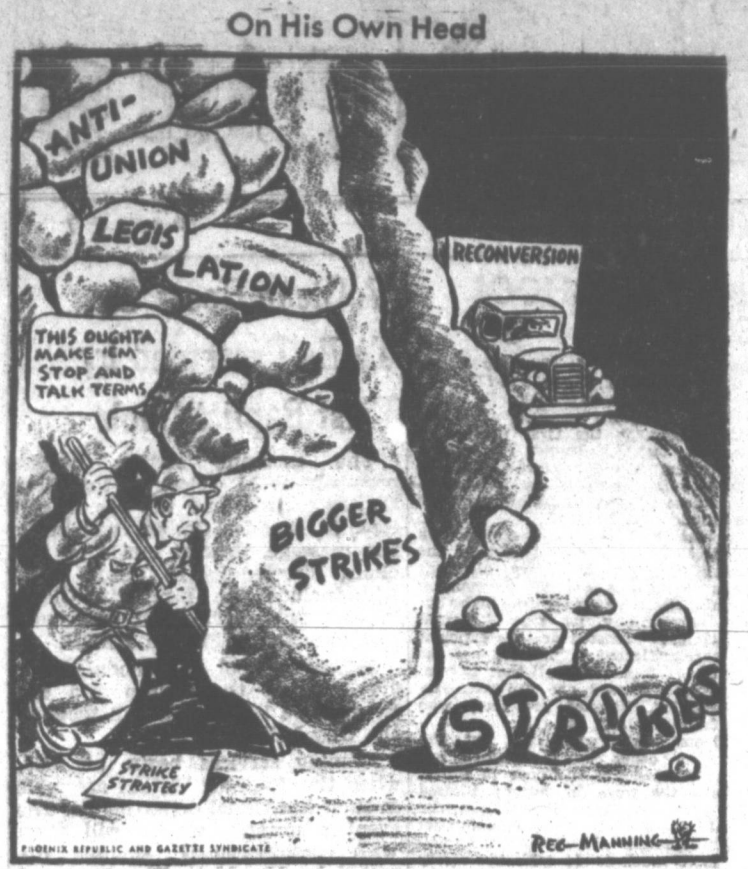

If people would read the Bible one-tenth as much as they read far less important literature, there would be much less war and much more progress.—Portsmouth, Va., Star.

There has been no national planning organization in the government since Uncle Frederick A. DeLano's national resources planning board was given the axe by congress two years ago. Whatever kind of full or high-level employment bill is passed, it will create a council of economic advisers to the President, and it will require the President to submit an annual economic report to congress. Also, it will create a joint committee in congress to consider the report.

With these minimum requirements, the executive end of the government will be put on the spot. To name its advisers, have them make their recommendations, and have the President prepare and submit his report.

There are now two messages which the President sends each new session of congress. First, his annual message on the state of the nation; second, his annual budget message. Of President Roosevelt's two messages in January, 1945, his budget message was far more revealing of his plans and policies.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The major assault against the new labor government by the conservatives under the leadership of former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, didn't get the Tories very far—a result which the veteran generalissimo of course had expected since it was a foregone conclusion that the socialists would defeat the motion of censure by a smashing majority.

I sat in the commons gallery during the two-day debate and, while Churchill's personal contribution was impressive for its superb craftsmanship, it struck me that it didn't carry the conviction we've been used to getting from him. Still, it was like old times to watch him in action again on the floor of the house, as I first did 30 years ago.

Let's see, he would have been in his happy forties then—a nice age at that, when you're old enough to have acquired wisdom and still young enough to want to climb fences. Churchill hasn't lost any of his punch with passing time, and the laborites listened to him with vast respect, but I'm afraid he was trying to lay bricks with very thin mortar.

Without attempting to prejudice the Oklahoma oil magnate, here are a few signs that President Truman Secretary James F. Byrnes and Chairman Tom Connally of the senate foreign relations committee will try to discredit him:

REFLECTION.—(1) Had Mr. Hurley, as he claims, patched up all differences between Chiang Kai-shek and Josef Stalin, why should Mr. Truman drag General George C. The mere appointment of such a distinguished American as the architect of victory in the global war is a reflection to Mr. Hurley. It suggests that we are now sending a man on an errand he has failed to do.

(2) Secretary Byrnes was dumfounded when Pat resigned after having agreed to return to China with blanket authority given him to deal with the struggling factions there. He still cannot understand the reasons for the resignation of an obscure congressman's speech—Hugh De Lacey's—to force him to break his word and resign in a huff. "Jimmie is mad!"

(3) Chairman Connally has already characterized the Hurley case as a "directly responsible" error. The Texasian is an extreme partisan, and as head of the senate committee responsible for keeping an eye on the management of foreign relations, he feels that Mr. Hurley's attack amounts to a reflection on his guardianship. In any battle of words between Pat and Tom, the writer would bet on the Texan.

Facts FOR THE VETERAN

RED CROSS SERVICE

George B. 21, after three years as a private first class in an infantry unit in the South Pacific has recently been discharged from the army. He was a battle casualty, but has completely recovered. Apparently the only visible result of his wound was a superficial scar on the right leg. On his return home he relaxed and rested for three months. Finally he decided he ought to know more about his rights as a veteran. So one day he looked up the home service chairman of the Red Cross chapter in his home town.

The chairman was a veteran of the first World War who was known in the community for his deep interest in veterans. He was glad George had called on him and wanted to tell George and other veterans what the government had provided for them even though they were not disabled. He knew that George had been wounded, but George told him he was in just as good shape as when he entered the service—in fact, he felt better.

The home service chairman advised George to file a claim anyway and get service connection on the scar. It might, he pointed out, come in handy some time in the future. So George was helped to fill in the Veterans Administration form. Word also was sent to greatly afraid that America will get the idea Britain is going extremist. England wants American friendship. Apart from all other considerations, John Bull has been terribly hurt by the war, and he's feeling mighty lonely these days.

the Red Cross field director so that he could represent George before the Veterans Administration officials. Then George was asked what he was going to do now that he was home. George said he wanted to be an electrical engineer, but it seemed remote because his family was not financially able to educate him. The home service chairman explained to George that he could pick out his school and arrange for training through the Veterans Administration. He told George that he would receive $50 a month for subsistence and all his school expenses, not exceeding $500 per school year, which would be paid by the Veterans Administration.

Next, the home service chairman inquired about his government insurance. George said he hadn't thought about it and, besides, he couldn't afford to carry it. The chairman explained that George really ought to continue his insurance for the time being on the "term" plan and, he explained, "if you get in a tight spot on paying the premiums, come in and see me."

George left feeling that his visit had been well worthwhile and with the knowledge that competent, personal advice was always available through the home service chairman of his Red Cross chapter.

Report On the War

By General George C. Marshall

Biennial Report of the Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army 1943 to 1945, to the Secretary of War

Published by WEA Service, Inc., in co-operation with the War Department

THE BATTLE OF GERMANY was the knockout blow. Speedily, irresistibly, Allied columns and air power slashed up the enemy. General Eisenhower wrote: "I am confident that he can do nothing about it."

This is the 23rd of 42 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II.

THE KNOCKOUT

The entrance of the Fifteenth Army, under command of Lt. Gen. W. G. C. Gerow, into the 12th Army Group on 30 March gave more freedom of action to the First and Ninth Armies, enabling them to increase the weight of the offensive into Germany. Ninth Army tanks immediately broke out of the area north of the Ruhr and swept eastward in a powerful thrust toward Munster. On 1 April the enveloping columns of these armies made contact west of Paderborn, cutting off the Ruhr and a large area to the south, in the largest pocket of envelopment in the history of warfare.

Elements of 18 German divisions from the First Parachute, Fifth Panzer, and Fifteenth Armies were encircled in this skillful maneuver. Leaving strong forces to contain and reduce this giant encirclement, the First and Ninth Armies continued eastward toward the line of the Weser. Spearheaded by the Allied offensive, they headed for Leipzig and a pre-arranged junction with the Soviet forces. There was no loss of momentum, no respite for the enemy forces, and by the end of the first week of April both armies had crossed the Weser in the area north of Kassel.

On 6 April, General Eisenhower wrote me: "As you can see from the reports, our plans have been developing almost in exact accordance with original conceptions. You must expect, now, a period in which the lines on your map will not advance as rapidly as they did during the past several weeks because we must pause to digest the big mouthful that we have swallowed in the Ruhr area. . . . The enemy has been making efforts to break out of the area but our persistent policy of knocking out his communications to the eastward, and his lack of mobility within the pocket, both make it very difficult for him to launch a really concerted attack. I am confident that he can do nothing about it."

The Ninth Army advance from the Weser to the Elbe was featured by armored gains of 30 to 40 miles a day against little or no resistance. By mid-April our troops were along the Elbe near Wittenberge and Magdeburg and had established bridgeheads across the river. In rear of the armored columns, the cities of Hanover and Brunswick fell to Ninth Army infantry. Bypassing Leipzig and strong resistance in the Harz Forest, the First Army drove eastward to the Mulde Valley south of Dessau.

Ruhr Pocket Yields 300,000

While these extensive operations continued, the battle progressed against the trapped Germans in the Ruhr. With the Fifteenth Army holding the west face of the pocket along the Rhine, and armor and infantry of the Ninth and First Armies driving in from the north, east, and south, the formidable enemy forces were crushed in just 18 days. More than 300,000 prisoners were taken in this unique victory, won far behind our forward positions and squarely astride our lines of communication.

Soon Leipzig and the Harz Mountains were in American hands, and the Ninth and First Armies closed on the line of the Elbe-Mulde, the forward limit, which had been arranged with the Soviets. To establish contact with our Allies from the Eastern Front, First Army patrols pushed east of the Mulde to Torgau, where the long-awaited juncture with the Red Army occurred on 25 April. In the north, the British Second Army advancing on the Osnabrück-Bremen axis, had crossed the Weser on a broad front near Minden early in April and was at the outskirts of Bremen by the middle of the month. From their Weser crossings the British struck northward toward Hamburg, reaching the Elbe southeast of the city. The Canadians forced the IJssel River and pressed on through the Dutch towns, liberating the remaining sections of eastern and northern Holland.

Far to the south, the Third Army, after capturing Muhlhausen, Gotha, and Erfurt, crossed the Saale River and turned southward toward the mountains of Czechoslovakia and the Danube Valley. This advance was designed to establish firm contact with the Soviet forces in Austria and to prevent any effective reorganization of the enemy remnants in mountainous regions to the south. On the right, the Seventh Army encountered bitter resistance in Nuremberg, but quickly captured the city and then swung south into the Bavarian plain. On the first of May the Third Army was advancing into Czechoslovakia on a hundred-mile front southeast of Asch, along the Danube. Other elements had driven 20 miles into Austria. The Seventh Army had taken Munich, birthplace of the Nazi party, and was sweeping southward toward the Inn River. Along the upper Rhine, the First French Army captured Karlsruhe and Stuttgart in turn and proceeded with the reduction of enemy forces caught in the Black Forest. By the first of May the French had cleared the Swiss border west of Lake Constance and were driving into western Austria alongside the Seventh Army.

Surrender

In northern Germany, the British Second Army, reinforced by the XVIII American Corps under Maj. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, broke out from the Elbe River late in April and reached the Baltic on 2 May. This action established contact with Soviet forces at Wismar and cut off the Danish Peninsula. Further resistance on this front was hopeless. On 5 May, the German commander surrendered all forces in northwest Germany, Holland, and Denmark.

Along the Danube, the Third Army continued the advance into Austria and entered Linz on 5 May. Next, day Pilsen fell to our forces in Czechoslovakia. General Patch's Seventh Army swept across the Inn on a wide front and drove 40 miles to capture Salzburg and Hitler's stronghold at Berchtesgaden. Other Seventh Army troops who had taken Innsbruck drove through the Brenner Pass to establish contact with the Fifth Army at Vipiteno. Since its landing on the Riviera, the Seventh Army had advanced an average of more than 3 miles a day against what had been the most formidable army in the world. At noon on 6 May, Army Group "G," comprising all German forces in Austria, surrendered unconditionally to our Sixth Army Group, just 11 months after the landing in Normandy.

The powerful Wehrmacht had disintegrated under the combined Allied blows, and the swift advances into the mountains of Austria and Bohemia had prevented the establishment of an inner fortress. Surrounded on all fronts by chaos and overwhelming defeat, the emissaries of the German government surrendered to the Allies at Reims on 7 May 1945, all the city and then swung south into the Bavarian plain. On the first of May the Third Army was

Texas University Purchases $85,000 Surplus Property

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—(P)—J. Neils Thompson, coordinator of surplus property at the University of Texas, estimates that $85,000 worth of surplus equipment from the army has been obtained without cost by the university.

The equipment, donated by the army under the provisions of a department procurement regulation No. 1, ranges from turret lathes air compressors and punch presses valued in the thousands of dollars to such minor items as carpenter's hammers, welding goggles and 44 gallons of red paint.

The board of regents recently allocated $15,000 for packing, shipping and storage costs, which is the only expense to the university of getting the equipment, said Thompson.

Including the approximately $85,000 worth of machinery, tools, etc., already obtained, the university has submitted requests totaling about $500,000 for excess army property and equipment, Mr. Thompson estimated, adding:

"We have high hopes of getting at least a good share of the things we asked for."

Of the government equipment available the particular need is for lathes, drills, woodworking machines, etc., to replace obsolete equipment in the mechanical engineering, much of which was obtained after the first world war through a similar procedure, Mr. Thompson said.

Most of the heavy equipment already on hand was obtained in Texas, Colorado, and Oklahoma through the St. Louis ordnance district. A majority of the smaller items came from the chemical warfare service through its procurement district at Dallas.
