British Assure U. S. Of Post-War Bases

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—American officials have advised the British government that the United States does not intend to use its superior resources in long-range airplanes to squeeze Britain out of competition in commercial aviation after the war.

Navy Opposes Unity Plan

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—The navy flatly opposed today immediate action to consolidate the army, navy and air forces into a single department of war and urged congress to give careful study to proposals for post-war consolidation. Its views, given to the house committee on post-war military policy, were stated by Undersecretary James Forrestal in these words: "The position of the navy is that the whole question of military organization deserves and should receive a most objective and thorough study. It believes the question should be approached by detailed examination with the conclusion to be reached at the end of such an examination rather than acting upon the assumption that the case is already established. I don't believe this."

Earlier this week, War Secretary Stimson endorsed the creation of a single department for the armed forces—the actual consolidation to be put off until after the war—and recommended prompt congressional approval of the principle of consolidation.

8 Vegetables Ration-Free

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—Tomatoes, corn, beans, asparagus and four other vegetables will be added Sunday to the list of processed foods housewives may buy without ration stamps.

May values announced today by the office of price administration include a zero point rating for canned spinach, leafy vegetables, black-eye peas and garbanzo beans, a foreign dish ingredient.

"The move making eight additional vegetables point-free was taken to clear store shelves for the new seasons' pack, now in production."

"The present low values on canned vegetables may be compared to an old-fashioned year-end bargain sale," said OPA Administrator Chester Bowles. "When the supply of 'point bargains' has disappeared, higher 'point' prices will have to be restored to spread new supplies evenly through the year."

Current values on No. 2 can sizes of the more important vegetables made point-free are: Tomatoes, 8 points; corn, 8 (vacuum packed) 6; asparagus, 10; beans, 3; leafy greens, 4; and spinach, 6.

In other changes in processed food values, reductions are ordered for all condensed and concentrated soups, the type generally sold. From the current four-point value on 10 1/2-ounce cans, two points are trimmed for clam chowder and other seafood soups, while all other kinds are cut one point.

A number of varieties of fruit butter as well as grape and tomato preserves and apple, grape, mint and plum jellies in one-pound containers are reduced two points to a

Christian Science Sunday Study Topic

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 30.

The Golden Text is: "Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?" (Ezekiel 18:31)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy" (Proverbs 28:13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We should examine ourselves and learn what is the affection and purpose of the heart for in this way only can we learn what we honestly are" (page 8).

Sunday School Lesson

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. Prejudices die hard. And the finest of faiths and convictions tend to become affected by prejudice unless preserved by constant watchfulness.

The story of the way in which well-intentioned Christians sought to prevent the fullest manifestation of the grace of God in the early church ought to be a warning; but the same sort of attitude and prejudice has marred the entire history of the Christian church, and persists, a blot upon the church of today.

Paul, when he had discussed these prejudices and rebuked them, said, "I do not frustrate the grace of God." That is an impressive statement. Are we, by any chance, setting up our fallible opinions, or insisting upon our ways and our practices to the frustration of the grace of God?

The well-intentioned disciples who rebuked the mothers who brought young children that Jesus should bless them were in a sense frustrating the grace of God. Jesus was "much displeased." When we seek to impose ideas, and rites, and formal observance on others because they mean much to us, we are in danger of frustrating the grace of God. For it is sound Christian principle that the Christian must grow in grace according to God's guidance and the light of his own conscience.

When the power of the Gospel became manifest in the gentiles and these gentiles took their place in the fellowship of the Christian church, the Jewish Christians, or some of them, at least, who still observed many of the requirements of the Jewish law, sought to impose these obligations upon the gentile converts.

Against such an attitude Paul took strong and uncompromising ground; but it is instructive to note the discriminating factors in Paul's own attitude. Paul was a Jew and proud of his Jewish heritage; he had a devout attitude toward the Jewish law and he evidently maintained much of its precepts and requirements in practice; it was his belief that the law could not perfectly be fulfilled, and so he laid great stress upon faith as "the end of the law for everyone that believeth"; apart from this he does not seem to have taken a revolutionary attitude, or to have sought to persuade Jewish Christians to abandon Jewish rites and practices, but he was insistent and uncompromising. In his demand that new Christian converts should not be subject to the ritual requirements of the Jewish law.

Thus Paul observed an attitude of tolerance and gentleness toward the Jewish Christians, and he upheld at the same time the rights and liberties of the gentile converts. It was an attitude consistent with the facts and principles of the Christian way as taught and exemplified by Jesus.

We hold our own liberties in an honorable and justifiable way only in so far as we seek to uphold the rightful liberties of others. What right have we to be free, if we seek to impose burdens on others?

This is a lesson that applies very closely to many situations and issues of life today. The forms and manifestations of prejudices and intolerances change, but in essence they are the same.

Traffic deaths are still piling up at a rate that indicates that the 1943 total will approximate 24,000.

Houston Minister Begins Revival Meeting Sunday

DR. F. B. THORNE Services Sunday will mark the opening of a special series of evangelistic meetings at the First Baptist church.

Dr. F. B. Thorne pastor of the Second Baptist church of Houston, is to lead in the revival campaign, E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the local church, announced today.

Dr. Thorne, recognized as one of the leading Baptist pastor-evangelists of the South, will speak at 10:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. daily except Saturdays.

Leaders of the First Baptist church say that a feature of the revival will be the musical program led by the large, forty-voice robed choir under the direction of H. Paul Briggs.

"The musical program will play an important part in this meeting, and we expect to have the finest and most varied program of music possible. Stirring congregational singing along with thrilling numbers by the choir supported by solos, duets, trios and quartets will be a drawing-card throughout the meeting," music director Briggs said.

Opening services Sunday will be conducted by Pastor Carver who will speak at the morning hour on, "The Sound of Victory." His sermon-subject for the 8:00 p. m. service will be "The Price of Victory." The meeting will close on Mother's Day, May 14.

ANZIO BEACHHEAD, April 28—(AP)—The biggest pistol-packing paper in the army air forces seldom get a headline.

They fly extra fast fighter planes but they rarely fight.

They hate flak but they stooge around in it two to four hours a day.

They belong to the most decorated order of the eight events will be States but one of the pistol-packers went home on leave the other day after 90 missions without even an air medal to show for it.

Today's double assignment for Lt. Ernest C. Perry, Nashville, Tenn., and Edward F. Cornwell, Jr., Melrose Highlands, Mass., was just a routine part of the schedule of the oldest U. S. tactical reconnaissance squadron in the Mediterranean.

The two pilots left their pistols behind in the Anzio beachhead but, weaving in and out of the enemy ack ack at almost straining altitude, they stayed deep in German territory for most of the morning and afternoon, pinpointing American fire on a total of nine German field guns.

Observation for long-range artillery is outside the province of little cub-type planes which hop around inside the beachhead perimeter. It takes a fighter like the P-51 that can look the wickedest ME-109 square in the nose.

Since the beachhead turned into trench warfare, counter-battery fire has become increasingly important. Four or five German guns are knocked out each day, thanks to the visual fire direction from the air which the Luftwaffe cannot match.

Artillery Captain Paul R. Lowry of Beaumont, Texas, briefs the pistol-packers here as to their targets and describes them as "the most unglorified kids in the air."

"Yesterday one of the pilots, Lt. Owen J. Lee of Nashville, Tenn., caught a packet of flak just barely righted his plane from a spin and bailed out while he was diving at 300 miles an hour at Anzio harbor," Lowry said.

Lowry talks to his friends in the air via a jeep with radio. When they tell him the target, "Black Magic" or "Sugar Baby" (they change the names every day), they are blanketed by their artillery concentration, he rests easy. They always bring air photographs to prove it.

A GERTRUDE is a soldier who holds down a desk job in an office. Even though he may be a grizzled sergeant with a whole mess of service behind him, he is stuck with the title GERTRUDE. Many soldiers who prefer the rugged outdoor life shudder at the thought of becoming a GERTRUDE cooped up in an office. A GERTRUDE is a good guy to know, for he has the latest dope from headquarters, but he is prone to paint it up till it's hardly recognizable. His dope will ultimately come back to him twisted around in such a manner that he is tempted to believe it himself. GERTRUDES usually are exempt from extra duty—probably that's why they were given such a flattering nickname.

Service Magazine Will Get to Men, Women Overseas

Men and women in the U. S. armed forces, serving overseas, will soon be receiving free copies of the American Legion magazine, sent to them by the American Legion.

In this project, the Legion is asking persons to submit names and addresses of service men and women so that individual copies can be mailed.

Residents of Gray county are asked to turn in to Jim Turner, 107 N. Front, names of their sons and daughters serving in the armed forces overseas.

The purpose in sending the magazines is to develop interest in Legion affairs, so that when the men and women return home they can take over active control and leadership in the Legion.

Analyst Urges Use Of Price Control, But Modification

AUSTIN, April 28—(AP)—Dr. F. A. Buechel, university of Texas business analyst, has urged extension of the emergency price control act but suggested it should be simplified.

Authority now vested in overlapping agencies should be consolidated into one efficient organization, said Dr. Buechel in a statement.

Dr. Buechel said that the price control act is certain to be extended, "despite widespread, although often unwarranted criticism," and added that it will point toward "the likely course of commodity prices over the balance of the war period and the transition era that will follow."

He stressed, however, that "the best insurance against inflation is, after all, the promotion of production and this can best be accomplished by the removal of unnecessary government controls and the encouragement of optimum use of the nation's industrial plant."

Two Killed, Seven Injured in Wreck

MEMPHIS, April 28—(AP)—Two seven persons injured seriously yesterday, when the Louisville & Nashville's Pan-American passenger train was derailed near Keelung, Tenn., 35 miles from Memphis.

The trainmen killed were C. J. Lewis, engineer, and J. P. Throgmorton, fireman, both of Memphis. Conductor M. R. Ham, also of Memphis, received an injured shoulder.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK WALL STREET
NEW YORK, April 27—(AP)—The recovery theme again dominated today's stock market with leaders selling fractions to around 2 points to Wednesday's comeback.

The principal flaw in the bullish picture, however, was the buying limit. Dealings were slow from the start and the recovery for the full proceedings of about 500,000 shares was among the smallest for a 4-hour stretch this year. Closing prices were at or near the best.

In front were Union Pacific, Santa Fe Southern Railway, American Sugar, Texas Co., Westinghouse, Union Carbide, J. O. H. a-McNeill, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward Sears Roebuck, Bethlehem and Oliver Farm.

State Handicapped Men, Women Will Hold Annual Picnic

SAN ANTONIO, April 28—(AP)—The "Cheerleaders," an organization composed of handicapped men and women of Texas, will hold their annual picnic, business session and social gathering here Sunday.

Although many are crippled or confined to wheel chairs, it was reported about 100 members are expected to come from Beaumont, Houston, North Zulch, Alice, Falfurrias, Alvin and other cities.

Local members of the "granderstanders," an organization of persons who are not handicapped and who assist at the cheerleaders, have arranged the program.

Industry Denies Gas Sales Have Increased

MEXICO CITY, April 28—(AP)—Petroleros Mexicanos, the government oil industry, which has a monopoly of the domestic trade, denies reports that gasoline sales have increased near the frontier.

Specifically, it reported that Ciudad Juarez has received only 23 cars of gasoline since Jan. 1—an average of 15 cars per week, of which nine cars were of 72-octane gasoline and the remainder a lower grade.

Gasoline is expensive in Mexico because of its scarcity in the border areas and, in addition, some export authorities to not allow the tourist to take out of the country more gasoline than he had in his tank when he entered.

Petroleros Mexicanos said Mexico recently imported 250,000 gallons of gasoline through Matamoros for distribution along the frontier, because of difficulties in moving fuel from the oil fields to this region.

Negro Vote Decision Not Expected to Have Much Effect on Vote

AUSTIN, April 28—(AP)—Because so few Negroes have paid poll taxes, the U. S. Supreme Court decision opening the Democratic primaries to Negro voters will have little effect on 1944 elections, says Dr. O. Douglas Weeks, professor of government at the University of Texas.

Speaking to the exchange club here, Dr. Weeks also expressed the opinion that pending anti-poll tax legislation before congress is unconstitutional, and that the soldier vote bill is inadequate.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"We can't argue with the Judge on that point, can we Mabel? It's not fair to penalize the many for the actions of the few."
"That, folks, is exactly what we would be doing in this country if we ever voted for prohibition again. Authorities who have made a careful study of the problem, report that only about 5% of those who drink abuse the privilege occasionally...95% drink sensibly. Probably doesn't compare with the number of folks who overeat and do other things to excess. Prohibition certainly isn't the answer. It's not that simple. We had nearly 14 years proof of that, didn't we?"
"The real answer is education and better control. In fact, the responsible members of the distilling industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want anybody to abuse the use of their product any more than the three of us do."
"If everybody would take that sensible attitude, Judge, and cooperate as more and more are now doing, we'd be a lot better off a lot quicker."

Hold Your Hats!
The appearance of some Swiss magazines containing pictures of extravagantly large, Paris-styled hats, has thrown the Fifth Avenue fashion dictators into a talspin. The jitters have even spread to Washington.

It seems that some weak-kneed patriot in the hat designing business could not resist copying these creations, which use more veiling and other material than wartime law allows. Equally weak-kneed customers bought them. Their conduct to the war whose austere of other chapeaux created a storm in cafe society.

The Milliner Stabilization Committee sounded the Fifth Avenue alarm and sent telegrams warning members of the industry to be on their guard. The FBI took a look at the insidious magazines. A WPA spokesman said they couldn't be used—was quoted thus by a New York paper:

"The third Swiss publication featuring Paris styles to be sent to the United States has dispelled the last doubt that the Nazis are waging psychological warfare against the American fashion industry. The purpose of their schemes is to produce styles in America which cannot be produced within the limitations of government material conservation orders."

All this, in case you were looking the other way, actually happened. Now into this tempest in a shallow hat crown Rosette Hargrove has dropped what seems to be a sensible explanation. Mrs. Hargrove is a Paris-born American war correspondent for NEA Service, stationed in London and visiting in this country. A former Paris hat writer, she has been in touch with a former colleague who escaped from France within the past two months. In short, she should have a fair idea of whether Paris hats are the Nazis' long-feared secret weapon.

Her explanation is that the fanciful creations are just another subtle nose-thumbing at the Germans, who have declared French fashions to be decadent and degenerate, and have tried to shift the style capital from Paris to Berlin and Vienna. She learned that these "Nazi-inspired" hats were a year old.

Our perturbed Washington authorities might have figured out something of the sort without Mrs. Hargrove's help. Underestimating our resourceful enemy a bit to think that, on the eve of invasion and with his back to the wall, he could dream up no better psychological weapon than a picture hat.

Stop looking under the bed, boys, and don't listen to any more military atrocity stories.

That was before his shorter and somewhat less successful trip to the White House. With the political conventions coming up in Chicago (also in "early summer") Mr. Wallace couldn't be blamed if he were to pause and contemplate the Wilkie journeys aghast, and to question the political desirability of trying to reach the vicinity of Lake Michigan by way of China.

WHEN DO WE TRY KIMMEL AND SHORT?

(The New York Daily News)
It is news conference day before yesterday. Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said he is going to ask Attorney General Francis Biddle whether there must be courtmartial trials by June 7 of Adm. Husband Kimmel and Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short. Kimmel and Short were the Navy and Army commanders, respectively, at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, one of the most fateful days in our history.

Why Knox has to ask Biddle anything about this matter is beginning to try Kimmel and Short on or before June 7 may not be clear to non-legal minds. Congress last Dec. 7 adopted a resolution requiring that the two-year statute of limitations on these trials be extended to Dec. 7, 1943; the extra six months will expire next June 7.

In the course of debate on the resolution, some hot remarks were passed back and forth, among them Senator Bennett Champ Clark's (D-Mo) "There is nothing to prevent the War and Navy departments from preferring charges within an hour" and the same Senator's "If Knox and Stimson do not perform their duty today, they ought to be impeached."

It is clear that Congress intended to order these trials to begin on or before next June 7. Why does Knox raise doubts now?

Pearl Harbor was the most perilous moment through which this nation has passed since the Civil War. Had the Japs been a little smarter and followed through from their initial punch, they could have taken the Hawaiian Islands, then Alaska, then parts of our West Coast.

Kimmel and Short were trained officers supposed to know how to defend against surprise attacks. They failed to prepare for this one. On Saturday night, Dec. 6, the higher Navy and Army officers by and large were at parties in and around Honolulu, and the Junior officers were in charge of the battleships of the Navy. (The other half were in the Atlantic, unofficially conveying war materials to Britain.) Our airplanes,

Private Enterprise and State Education

It is foolish for a man to pretend he believes in private enterprise and, at the same time, claim to believe in state education. Educating the children is the biggest enterprise — the biggest business — people have. When they attempt to turn over to the politicians this most important of all their duties, it is absurd for them to pretend that they understand or believe in private enterprise.

It is, in fact, declaring that Jesus was wrong when He said one cannot serve two masters. One cannot respect the individual's natural rights, and at the same time attempt to have the state deny him the right to be owner of himself and all he produces.

When the state takes part of what a man produces by taxation, it is a slave — to that degree is he not free. A man who really understood the meaning of free enterprise never would advocate the government taking part of what he produces.

Price Ceilings A Dam

Present price ceilings are just a dam delaying the day when all this dishonest money will bring about a deluge. When ceiling prices are taken off, prices will increase and largely wash away the savings of all those people who have their savings in the form of credits, just as the breaking of a dam destroys the property in its way.

We are doing about what they did in France prior to the French Revolution. We are issuing a lot of what is, in reality, interest-bearing currency in the form of bonds. These bonds are the most all payable in 60 days' time.

When people begin to cash these bonds, the dam will break and the flood waters of inflation will produce the deluge. Never in the history of the United States has there been such ground work laid for inflation.

It either will be inflation or regimentation with the accompanying loss of production. And reduced production also causes real inflation, i. e., more effort to satisfy a human want. So whether it be price fixing, or this mountain of check-book money raising prices, it will require more work to satisfy a human want. And that is the end result of inflation.

Price ceilings only delay the day of the law of action and reaction operating in its natural course.

Ideas of Monopoly

One gains the impression from hearing defenders of the New Deal talk that they regard anything as a monopoly that they themselves cannot produce, or do not have the ability to produce.

Invariably they want to set the price on what they themselves cannot produce.

War Today

Chungking's announcement that the Japanese have captured the important railway junction of Chenghsien, in their new offensive in the Yellow river region, emphasizes the menace of this drive. It is a serious threat to an already terribly hard hit China.

While the ultimate aim of this fresh assault isn't wholly clear, it has the appearance of being a defensive measure calculated to remedy the weakness in the Japanese continental fortress.

The underlying strategy probably is the idea that if Nippon can hang onto this fortress she may be able to tire the United Nations out and achieve a stalemate. Indeed we know from reliable sources that the Japanese militarists recognize they can't win. They're going to salvage what they can, and already are planning another war against the western world twenty-five years hence.

Chungking believes that one Japanese objective is to secure full control of the great Trunk railway which runs from Peiping in the north clear down to Canton and Hongkong on the south coast. This is to strengthen their interior communications in China and

NIX ON THE RUMORS ABOUT SUGAR SHORTAGE

By PETER EDSON
Sugar, these days, is being made into dynamite. No—not the kind they use to blow up bridges in wartime, but the much more highly explosive stuff known as political dynamite. It's this way:
Twice in fireside chats, since sugar first went under rationing two years ago, the President has indicated that sugar rations might be increased and has even hinted that the ration would be entirely removed. Thus far, he has not been able to make good.

The President's two hints on easing the ration naturally started a lot of rumors. Naturally, everyone in the industry agreed with the President and for once they all thought he was wonderful. The big question was: "When?"

All branches of the trade—growers, refiners, shippers, importers, processors, confectioners, makers of soft drinks and syrups—the whole sugar lobby began turning on the heat to force the issue. They built up stockpiles of sugar, they showed that the present restrictions, particularly on industrial uses—were entirely unnecessary. Whatever the figures, the Combined Food Board, Chill Williams—the girl in the blue and white polka dot bathing suit—is very sorry, boys, but she just can't send you those photographs you requested by letter, via airmail special delivery, V-mail and carrier pigeon. At least not until she gets $2,000.

Score to date is 100,000 requests for her photograph in that polka dot bathing suit, she says. Pan photos cost $20 a thousand. You'll have to get $2,000. "I haven't even got the money to buy the stamps," she admitted, ruefully.

Chill Williams is the girl who latched on to the movie on her second try—after her picture in that polka dot bathing suit appeared in a national magazine and made her the No. 1 pin-up girl of the armed forces.

Her first try in front of the movie cameras wasn't so good. Warner Bros. brought her from New York for screen tests of a day. They gave her a little coaching and then had her play a couple of scenes from "Kitty Foyle" and "Old Acquaintance."

"It was heavy drama," Chill said. "I had never acted in my life. I was scared silly. A couple of directors thought I was a potential, but the studio didn't sign me."

POLKA DOTTS TO APPEAR

Later Chill signed with RKO, at a modest salary but with a promise of good roles. She went into her screen debut soon in the Pat O'Brien picture "Having Wonderful Crime." She'll wear a polka dot bathing suit in her first picture. She won't be wearing THAT polka dot bathing suit, though, because it was borrowed from Ewing Krainin, New York photographer who took the picture. It cost only $187 but Krainin won't give it up.

Despite all the publicity she received, Chill didn't do too financially until she landed that RKO contract. She signed a release when photographer Krainin took her picture in that bathing suit. She was the other day she was walking along and saw the picture on a billboard, helping advertise a soft drink.

"I got mad," Chill said, "but there was nothing I could do about it. I had signed that release."
Her real name is Marian Sorenson. She's 22, was born in Minneapolis of Danish parents who have been divorced for "years and years." After graduating from high school, Chill Williams went to New York to become a Harry Conover model. Harry gave her the name of Chill. Not because she likes child, but because he gives all his models the names like Choo-Choo-Johnson and Happy Holiday.

CHILL AT HOME

Somebody, Chill said, "told me he dreamed up the name Chill Williams a couple of years ago. But he didn't find anybody it would fit until I came along."
Working with photographer Krainin was Chill's first big job. The photo in the polka dot bathing suit was one of many but it was the one that clicked.

Chill shares a Hollywood apartment now with another New York model who landed a film contract. She drinks two quarts of milk a day. She has a mole on her chin, collects maps and does needle point.

She doesn't like clothes. "I run around the house in as little as possible." Sometimes, Chill admitted, she doesn't wear anything at all. She has a brother in the navy and a 20-year-old sister back home in Minneapolis.

News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER
WEIGHT: The most astute political analyst in New York (and it is not James A. Farley) believes that Thomas E. Dewey will sweep every large eastern state, including New York, and another F. D. R. if the President seeks a fourth term.

He also reveals, in a letter commenting on this writer's recent discussion of current politics that the Chief Executive has told a close acquaintance in the Senate that he "feels it his duty to run again." The White House confidant has been associated with Mr. Roosevelt since the two were legislative kindergartners in Albany more than thirty years ago.

"This is the first time, so far as this columnist knows, that anybody enjoying such an intimate relationship has quoted the President as admitting that he will seek a fourth term," he cannot be published, but every expert on partisan affairs and every novice alike would recognize, if his identity were made known, the weight that may be attached to his words. He is not in politics, but of it. He hobnobs with the leaders of all factions in the Democratic Party.

He has enjoyed the friendship and confidence of every important Democrat in the east for more than thirty years. He has a fine private position in a great corporation and, therefore, he has no axes to grind. He is not unfriendly to Mr. Roosevelt.

EDGE—"You were right," he declares, "when you indicated that a Democratic victory in New York would mean the end of Tammany at the moment. Tammany is completely disorganized, and there really is not a district leader sincerely favorable to Roosevelt. In fact, most of them will vote against him and do no work for him."

"Queens County is definitely anti-Roosevelt, and so is Richmond County (Staten Island). I doubt if Brooklyn, once our greatest Democratic borough, is safe for him. In the Bronx the Jewish vote will probably make it possible for Ed Flynn to carry the county by a reduced plurality."

"Granted this condition continues, so try to offset the Allied ravages on Nipponese sea communications. There are two other objectives which the invaders likely have. The 1,800 square miles or more which they already have overrun along the Yellow river valley is a strategic area that is expected to produce a record crop this season. The Japanese need this grain for their armies and home consumption, and they would recognize, if his identity were made known, the weight that may be attached to his words. He is not in politics, but of it. He hobnobs with the leaders of all factions in the Democratic Party.

"The belief here is that Roosevelt will have great difficulty in carrying out the New England states. (The writer gives him a chance to win Rhode Island). That goes for New Jersey as well.

"Most of the polls here expect the minimum of the soldiers' vote will be polled, not exceeding twenty per cent. This would mean a great loss to Roosevelt.

"That Dewey might be a close election, how can the President win without New York, and how can New York be carried by him unless the organization is whipped into shape?"

"My views go along with those you have written and expressed on the radio except that I am of the opinion that if the election were held tomorrow, several of your newspaper conferences in the radio forum and the authors of rival columns would be amazed to discover what his attitude would be in case Wilkie were to turn against Dewey. (The writer said that the former Under Secretary of the Treasury, although an original Wilkie booster, would probably repudiate his former hero and declare for the Governor.)"

"The belief here is that Roosevelt will have great difficulty in carrying out the New England states. (The writer gives him a chance to win Rhode Island). That goes for New Jersey as well.

"Most of the polls here expect the minimum of the soldiers' vote will be polled, not exceeding twenty per cent. This would mean a great loss to Roosevelt.

"That Dewey might be a close election, how can the President win without New York, and how can New York be carried by him unless the organization is whipped into shape?"

"My views go along with those you have written and expressed on the radio except that I am of the opinion that if the election were held tomorrow, several of your newspaper conferences in the radio forum and the authors of rival columns would be amazed to discover what his attitude would be in case Wilkie were to turn against Dewey. (The writer said that the former Under Secretary of the Treasury, although an original Wilkie booster, would probably repudiate his former hero and declare for the Governor.)"

MAYBE IT'S HERE: Leaves From The Editor's Notebook

An editorial in a recent issue of the Publishers' Weekly contains the startling news that the censoring activities of the Post Office Department, which were disagreeably evidenced last fall in the instance of the periodical Esquire, have now extended to the prohibition of the listing for sale certain volumes of which it does not approve. According to the writer of the editorial, the post office authorities returned a catalogue to a New York bookseller as unacceptable because it included three titles: Voltaire's "Candide," Balzac's "Droll Stories" and Radclyffe Hall's "Well of Loneliness." Nor is that all. The post office reports, according to the same writer, that it has a "list of unprintable books," not a list of unmarketable books, but one of titles which cannot be listed.

Such news would be ridiculous were it not so dangerous. One finds it difficult, if one truly loves liberty and respects the rights of others, to agree with the principle of censorship, other than that of military necessity. There are times, though, when one cannot fail to recognize that certain publications have no serious intention, but are obvious attempts to pandar. Such efforts are not to be confused with a serious artistic production, intended to enlighten the public mind, and hence both the intention of the writer and the attitudes of the period out of which the writer wrote.

"Candide" is three centuries old; "Droll Stories" has passed its hundredth birthday. Both have achieved that distinguished stature called classic. The writers of the books are among the brightest stars in the galaxy of French literature. It is inconceivable that any serious student of the literature of the world is ignorant of them. College graduates who speak with a knowledge of them and, doubtless, have read them. If the mere knowledge of their titles were contaminating, it seems positive that it would not have remained for the American postal authorities of 1944 to discover it. "The Well of Loneliness" is, frankly, a dull and dreary book. It was written out of an attitude of sympathy for a certain form of abnormality. It has had previous help, no particular infringement when they heard Hitler was burning books. When they awoke to a realization of how much prescription could be extended to all writings, and speaking, and how that, through control of all sources of information, could lead even to the control of thinking, it was too late.

We of America have long prided ourselves upon our belief in democratic principles, the right to live and think and speak as we wish, so long as we do not infringe the similar rights of others. On such grounds, we must oppose the censorial attitude of those who believe they are sole judges of what is right and what is wrong. Besides censorship; that way has danger—Chattanooga (Tenn.) TODAY the Japanese language teacher with the flat face and the underling behind was not giving Lincoln Belt any special attention in the way of insults. It was worrying Link.

Thirteen prisoners were in the language class today. The 13, all captured flyers and all Americans with the exception of two Englishmen and one Australian, were not attending the Japanese language class willingly. It was forced.

Today's lesson had to do with how to give the consonant letter "u" the Japanese sound. Apparently you did this the same as when speaking Italian, by bringing the tip of the tongue in contact with the upper teeth, instead of touching the front of the roof of the mouth, as when speaking American the way they spoke it for instance in Kansas City.

When the Japanese language teacher mentioned Kansas City, Lincoln Belt was seized with ecstasy, Kansas City.

Link mentally parked his car on the steep hill at Ninth and Walnut streets in Kansas City. He ran into a restaurant, had three straight bourbons and ate a steak as thick as a mattress.

Swab Judas! Better stop treating his mind to such joy. They might become real in his poor brain. Already he had all the trouble he needed.

He smirked at the Japanese language instructor.

"A che ora," said Link, "parte il treno seguente?"

The Japanese linguist didn't get it. "What do you say?"

"I was," hastily explained Link, "just mumbling."

"You mumbled a regrettable habit of people from Kisouru!"

Link then looked as noodle-headed as he could and wished he hadn't spoken the travel book nonsense in Italian. He hoped the Jap would skip it.

TEACHER didn't know Italian, but acted as if he did. So what? Link couldn't understand why, there for a moment, the matter seemed important enough to investigate.

Trivialities had a silly way of taking on consequences when you had been an inhabitant of Niji Prison for several weeks. You got different. You got so you yelled bitter insults at the drop of a hat over such trivia as whether a piece of fish had or had not been near the fish soup.

Link thought of a truth. It went: There is nothing like being an Army Air Corps radioman in a place like Niji Prison to let you see how your mental bones can be broken.

R. E. Warren, Jr. Honored at Buffet Supper Here

A buffet dinner was held Wednesday evening to honor R. E. Warren Jr., who will leave soon to enter the Navy.

The party was given in the home of Mrs. Allen Say with Mrs. Frank Poarch as co-hostess.

Red, white and blue were colors used to decorate the table. Following the dinner games were played and gifts presented to the honoree.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Poarch, Mrs. R. E. Warren Sr., Don and Janice Warren, Mrs. Berry Gains and Karla of Borger; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Warren Jr., and sons Bobby and Charles Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Say.

Ledbetter-Hill Vows Are Taken

In a marriage ceremony read Saturday afternoon, Miss Virginia Ledbetter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ledbetter, became the bride of Charles Hill of Shamrock.

The ceremony was read in the home of the Rev. W. S. Vanderpool of Hollis, Okla.

The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill of Luttie.

The bride wore a sky-blue dress with an off-the-face hat and carried a white linen and lace handkerchief which she received as a gift from Mrs. Bus Walker.

The bride groom is engaged in stock farming south of Shamrock where they will make their home.

Avoid Hairline Shadow by Using Lotion to Clean Feathery Edges

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

That exposed hairline—the one that frames your face like a trimming—frames a picture—may mean a step to add to your grooming routine.

If you've never suspected that your hairline could look anything but immaculate, here's a warning from now-famous Patricia Dunlap, star of radio's "Bachelor Children," who tells this one on herself.

Noticing a dark shadow outlining her slicked-back coif one day, she grabbed a washrag and giving her hairline a rub, discovered the worst. The cloth was plenty soiled. Ever since, Patricia has made it a point to take a piece of cotton, dampen it with freshening lotion, and clean up feathery edges.

"Tap lightly," says Patricia, "and you can clean up make-up blurs and dust that accumulate during the day without disturbing your hair."

Her trick for fastening down stray wisps, is helpful, too. She nails them down with a lacquer-scented pad, kept handy in a jar.

Guest Day Held By Miami Club

Special To The NEWS.
MIAMI, April 28—Highlighting the social affairs of the year Guests' Day was observed by members of the Child's study club recently featuring a Colonial Costume Party in the home of Mrs. W. D. Allen.

There were over 30 members and guests in attendance, representing the gay nineties in colorful frilly frocks, hats and furbelows. Mrs. D. W. Stribling's costume was awarded first place for guests and Mrs. Willis Clark for members.

"Forty-two" was a chosen diversion for the afternoon, following a short program composed of songs by the group and a reading given by Mesdames W. D. Allen and The Jenkins. At the conclusion of the games the hostess served a delicious refreshment course.

Dinner Attended By 30 Guests In Shamrock Church

Special To The NEWS.
SHAMROCK, April 28—Thirty guests attended a covered-dish dinner at the home of Mrs. W. Y. Burden last week.

Hostesses were Mrs. H. C. Weatherly and Mrs. Chester Tindall, leaders of opposing sides in a recent membership drive for the Philathia class of the First Methodist church, which ended in a tie.

Mrs. Marshall Adams, president of the class, assisted with the party plans, and Mrs. Lewis Hill served as general membership leader.

The guests were seated around a "T" shaped table which was attractively decorated with sweet peas and iris. Miniature green umbrellas were used as place cards, with a clever scheme worked out for finding places.

Mrs. Weatherly served as toastmaster, through a lively program during which time Mrs. Claude Montgomery was chosen as the outstanding pencil sketch artist. Much talent was revealed in the "quiz" program conducted by Mrs. Weatherly.

Mrs. Bedford Harrison, guest speaker, gave her interpretation of a group of poems.

During a brief business session Mrs. K. P. Lee was elected as vice president to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Lewis Hill, who is to teach in another department.

Mrs. S. Q. Scott, is teacher of the Philathia class.

Mrs. Elton Beene Entertains Guests In White Deer

Special To The NEWS.
WHITE DEER, April 28—Honoring Lt. Virginia Martin and S/Sgt. Dorothy Wittliff, both former teachers in the White Deer High school, Mrs. and Mrs. Elton Beene entertained with a buffet supper at their home, Sunday evening.

Lt. Martin is new mess officer with the Women's Army Corps at Mitchell Field, N. Y., and Sgt. Wittliff is mess sergeant at Fitzsimmons General hospital at Denver.

Present at the supper were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Freeman and daughter, Linda; Mrs. B. R. Weeks, Mrs. Juno Duval, Mary Lee Davis, Bobby Roberts, Almarene Atkinson, Claudia Everly, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Strickland, and daughter, Kaynele.

Kitchens-Jenks Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Truman C. Kitchens are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Arneitha Faye, to Lt. Paul M. Jenks, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Jenks of Pampa.

The wedding will take place in the Assembly of God church Sunday at 12 o'clock noon.

There are 300,000 miles of city streets in the United States.

Recent Bride Is Shower Honoree In Shamrock

Special To The NEWS.
SHAMROCK, April 28 — Mrs. Claude Johnson, recent bride, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower, at the home of Mrs. A. S. Jones, in Maple City Monday, with Mrs. P. L. Garrison, Mrs. C. G. Altom and Mrs. Jones as hostesses.

The brides chosen colors, pink and blue, were carried out in the decorations, centering the table in the dining room, a white wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, made an attractive centerpiece, with pink and blue streamers extending the length of the table.

Mrs. Johnson was the recipient of many useful gifts. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

The guest list included Mesdames White George, Calvin Evans, W. D. Clark, M. S. Kallenbaugh, J. L. Pearson, J. W. McWhirter, J. B. Cook, C. W. Fuiks, Wm. Wilder, Paul Bentley and the honoree.

Those sending gifts were: Mesdames V. W. Bentley, W. D. Teague, Douglas Groves, W. C. Coit, Catherine Oaborn, Bob Millum, H. R. Braly, A. E. Connell, Misses Gladys Graebel and Jean Garrison.

Judge Hill Will Speak Sunday At McCullough Church

Judge H. B. Hill, lawyer and Methodist lay-leader from Shamrock, will speak at the morning worship service of the McCullough Memorial Methodist church Sunday.

The pastor, who has been engaged in conducting a revival meeting at the Higgins Methodist church, will be back in his pulpit for the evening service. His subject will be "A Revival for You."

"The public is invited to attend these services at their neighborhood Methodist church," said the Rev. R. Lawrence Gilpin, minister.

Bethany Class Has Covered-Dish Lunch

A luncheon was held recently by members of the Bethany class of the First Baptist church in the church basement.

After a regular business meeting a program in charge of Mrs. D. M. Scafe was given.

Attending were: Mesdames H. C. Wilkie, L. A. Baxter, Charles Kentling, Ella Brake, A. N. Thorne, D. M. Scafe, T. H. Baker, Ellen Chapman, James H. Richey, Mamie C. Hartgroves, W. E. Towse and T. B. Solomon.

Quake Is Believed To Be In New Guinea

BOMBAY, April 28 — An earthquake shock of great intensity was recorded at the Bombay observatory shortly after 9 o'clock last night, it was announced today.

Observers official said the epicenter was approximately 4,200 miles from Bombay and estimated it to be in the vicinity of New Guinea, where Gen. MacArthur's forces are now engaging the Japanese.

WASHINGTON, April 28 — (AP)—The first 12 weeks of the new mustering-out payment law, the army has paid $653,800 to 3,345 honorably discharged personnel or their survivors, War Secretary Stimson announced.

As of April 25, 279 men and women had received the maximum $300 payment, authorized for those with overseas service; 2,594 had been paid the $200 authorized for those with more than 60 days service, all within the United States; and 178 had been paid the $100 authorized for personnel with less than 60 days service.

PAAF Needs Circus Talent

Lion tamers, fire eaters, crack trapeze artists, even sword swallowers are on the list of talent needed by the special services department at Pampa army air field for a circus planned to hit the sawdust trail May 11 at the local air base.

Other talent needed are singers, dancers, trick rope artists, magicians, "kooch" dancers, acrobats, and all types of animal acts.

"If you have any special talents or stunts that may be used in the circus, call Capt. Willis D. Cowan, phone 1700, extension 340," it was stated today.

Albrecht Slayer Will Give Life

AUSTIN, Texas, April 28 — (AP)—Juan Gutierrez of Hidalgo county will be executed at the state penitentiary May 2 for the slaying of M. A. Albrecht, deputy sheriff.

The board of pardons and paroles yesterday denied his application for a commutation of sentence from death to life imprisonment. He had been granted a 60-day stay of execution on March 3.

Many bombers, returning to England by night with their instruments shot away, have been saved by a "road of light," a series of lighted searchlights which point the way to the nearest landing field. As many as 30 planes have been so brought home in one night.

The general meeting opened with the hymn "Jesus Calls Us" followed by the Lord's prayer. Mrs. M. E. Cooper was leader for the afternoon. Mrs. G. E. Rhodes gave "Jilo Relocation Center." "Missionary Work in West China" was reviewed by Mrs. W. L. Waggoner. Mrs. Cooper gave the story "Behind the House by the Side of the Road" closing with "The House by the Side of the Road" by Sam Poole.

"Look, I'm making that new quick cake!"
—says Kate Smith

"What cake, Kate?"
"Why, that wonderful, easy-to-mix cake that everybody's talking about. Just watch me!"
"No creaming?"
"No creaming. And see—the dry ingredients go in all together. What's more—you beat the batter only three minutes!"
"And you really get good cake?"
"You sure do! If you follow the directions exactly... and use the ingredients called for... you get the loveliest, lightest, finest cake! You know... the kind you always expect from Double-Acting Calumet! These new cakes taste even richer... keep fresh longer, too!"

TRY THIS CALUMET RECIPE!

Speedy Spice Cake (2 eggs)

2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour (Not ordinary flour)	1 1/2 cups sugar	1/2 cup milk
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder	1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, and allspice	2 tablespoons molasses
1/2 teaspoon salt	1/2 cup vegetable shortening	2 eggs, unbeaten
		1 teaspoon vanilla
		Praline Topping

• Sift Swans Down Cake Flour once; measure into sifter with baking powder, salt, sugar, and spices. Have shortening at room temperature; stir just to soften. Sift in flour mixture; add 1/2 of milk, molasses, eggs, and vanilla. Stir until all flour is dampened; then beat 1 minute. Add remaining milk, blend, and beat 2 minutes longer. Grease 10x10x2-inch pan, line bottom with waxed paper, and grease again. Turn batter into pan and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 40 minutes, or until done.

• Spread hot cake carefully with Praline Topping, a small amount at a time. Return cake to oven and bake 5 minutes longer.

Note: Time may be taken out of baking, but count only actual beating time. Or count beating strokes. Allow 100 strokes per minute. If electric mixer is used, proceed as directed, using low speed. Scrape down bowl and beater often during mixing.

Praline Topping: Mix together 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1 tablespoon Swans Down Cake Flour, 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon water, and 1/2 cup finely chopped nut meats.

(All measurements are level.)

Candidates May Get Campaign Gasoline

AUSTIN, April 28—(AP)—Under certain conditions, bona fide candidates for public office may obtain special gasoline rations for use in campaigning, the state Democratic committee announced yesterday.

Charles E. Simons, secretary of the committee, said that under section 395 of office of price administration regulations, candidates may be issued such rations "in the absence of alternative means of transportation."

Guayule Potential Reported Great

EDINBURG, Texas, April 28—(AP)—An estimated 300,000 acres of fertile lower Rio Grande valley land is lying unused, covered mostly by native brush, report two soil experts now concluding a survey of 1,300,000 acres of land in this area to determine the Guayule-growing possibilities of deep South Texas.

The survey is by Glenn Robinson, former research assistant at Purdue University, and J. B. Hammond of California, previously employed on the rubber emergency project in Arizona.

"We estimate that 100,000 acres

Silas Clay is complaining that his wife's new hat cost more than a bull calf. "And I wouldn't mind it, if it was a hat," he says, "but all it is, is a small bow and a piece of feather."

"It isn't the size of the hat that counts," says Bivon Earp, reproachfully.

"Well, what is it that counts?" asks Silas, exasperated.

"I'll tell you what it is that counts," says Doc. "It's the hif that a new hat gives to any woman. It sort of picks up their spirits... boosts morale. Little things can do that. Like the flower in your buttonhole," he says to Silas, "or that glass of beer that you're enjoying."

From where I sit, Doc has given us a mighty good definition of morale. Important little things. A flower in your buttonhole... a kind word from a stranger... a mellow glass of beer with friends. Little things especially important in these days of strain.

Non-Hit Mark Set By Tobin, Braves Hurler

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The secretary is hereby instructed to cast one unanimous ballot for Jim (Nothin' Ball) Tobin as a member of the 1944 National League All-Star team.

Even if Tobin doesn't get anybody out from now until the Pittsburgh classic in July, his feat of hurling the first no-hit, no-run game since 1941 and hitting a home run yesterday to help the Boston Braves trim Brooklyn, 2-0, rates him the job. If he hadn't washed Paul Waner in the first and ninth he would have tossed the first perfect game in the league since 1880.

In three appearances the former Yankee farmhand who was traded to Boston by Pittsburgh for one John Lanning way back in 1937, has yielded a grand total of four hits, has blanked the opposition for 26 innings and pitched 12 successive hitless frames.

Outside of getting his name into the record as the first Brave to throw a no-hitter since Tommy Hughes did the trick in 1916, Old Abbadaba's most immediate reward was a guarantee of a week's free room rent from his hotel manager.

While history was being made in Boston, the St. Louis Cards were getting back into the win column in the only other National league game, today when they pinch-hit double in the ninth gave the Red Birds a 3-2 nod over Cincinnati.

The St. Louis Browns set a new American league record with their eighth straight victory since the season opened. When the Browns trimmed Cleveland, 5-1, behind Nelson Potter, they collected only four safeties but made them good for five scores with the help of several walks from three Cleveland hitters.

Another St. Louis triumph today would tie the modern big league mark for the most consecutive games won at the start of a season, being jointly by the 1918 Giants and the 1940 Dodgers.

Hal Newhouse's brilliant four-hit performance at Detroit shaded Chicago, 2-0, in 12 innings likewise was lost in the excitement over Tobin's feat. Newhouse hooked up with Thornton Lee in a 0-0 southern battle until Catcher Bob Swift doubled with two on in the third overtime heat. The blow, and Rudy York's rejection, made good news for the Tiger fans.

The New York-Philadelphia and Houston-Washington games in the American and New York-Philadelphia, Chicago-Pittsburgh tilts in the National were postponed.

Eye-Poppers

By MIKE JACOBS
Fight Promoter

Joe Louis came out throwing punches like a machine gun in his second fight with Max Schmeling to give me my biggest thrill, and I have had many down through the years.

Louis took Schmeling too lightly two years before, was badly hurt in the first round and damaged to an even greater extent by a punch landed after the bell had ended the fifth.

I try to be impartial in all my promotions, but couldn't help having a rooting interest in Louis, the attraction. Besides, Joe was too young and brilliant to have his career ruined by carelessness or a tactical mistake.

I suspected Louis would start quickly, yet feared he might again feel Schmeling out and be tagged early by a punch from which he would not completely recover. That was the story the first trip.

My eyes popped out when he called in. There was the real Louis. In belting Max Schmeling into a state of helplessness in 2 minutes and 4 seconds, Joe Louis was the most devastating fighter I ever saw.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, April 28—(AP)—When the A. A. U. advised the Penn relays to toss out one of the competitors, Secretary Dan Peters apparently wasn't worried so much about the possibility that 2,000 kids would be "tainted" by competing against professionals as the likelihood that the A. A. U. would be accused of butting in where it wasn't concerned. . . . But, come to think of it, the A. A. U. exists largely to draw the line between amateur and professional and it has worked out a fair compromise to allow service participation in most events. . . . From a competitive standpoint, there wouldn't be much difference between allowing Pvt. Blozis to meet this year's college shot putters and letting Sgt. Joe Louis fight in the Golden Gloves because he's a soldier.

A ROOKIE A DAY

Frank Mancuso, Browns' catcher. His name alone ought to make him the club's star. He's a brother of the Giants' Gus. After the 1942 season at San Antonio he got a chance with the Browns and a chance at O. C. S. at Fort Benning and took the latter. . . . On his fifth jump as a paratrooper he apparently thought he was Ernie Lombardi and got his left foot entangled in the guide lines; result, a badly wrenched left knee, side and back and an honorable discharge. He'll fall, dark and handsome, which shouldn't hurt attendance on ladies' days.

BOOT ON THE OTHER FOOT

Wendell Lalime, who used to have trouble making folks believe his tall tale of salmon fishing at Newport, Vt., now is complaining about too much credibility. In a recent business men's Red Cross basketball game, Howard Davis ended the show by kicking the ball the length of the gym and out the window. To make the story better, Lalime reported the ball landed in a passing freight car and was carried to Montreal. Now he and Davis are hiding up alleys to avoid questions such as "how did you know it was the same ball?"

Wilson Challenges Writer's Football Season Forecast

Ramon C. Wilson, quarterback of the Pampa Harvester team back in the roaring 20s, has called the sports editor's hand on his listing the chances of the Green and Gold team in the 1944 season. Wilson wants to know how the sports editor arrived at the figure that the Harvesters would be lucky to win half their games.

Scuffing at an explanation, which he labeled "as complicated as some accounting problem", Quarterback Wilson challenged the newsmen to show which games he meant.

Since going out on a limb at Vernon last December with that 13 to 6 prediction victory for Pampa, which turned out Vernon 20, Pampa 7, the sports editor has been wary of forecasts but just to show he can still take it, here's his prediction on the 1944 games:

Harvesters to lose to Plainview, Brownfield, Lubbock, and Amarillo; Harvesters to defeat Phillips, Quanah, Midland, and Borger.

Just to make it interesting, let's guess on the scores:

Pampa 12, Phillips 7
Pampa 20, Midland 9
Pampa 21, Quanah 6
Pampa 7, Brownfield 28
Pampa 9, Amarillo 20
Pampa 6, Lubbock 14
Pampa 35, Borger 7
Pampa 9, Midland 21

Four Pampa Women Bowlers to Compete in Dallas Tourney

Pampa will be represented by four entrants at a four-state bowling tourney to be held in Dallas Saturday and Sunday, when bowlers from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and New Mexico compete.

Contestants from Pampa will be Mrs. Jean Duenkel, Mrs. Ina Petrie, Mrs. Oak Allee Whittle, and Miss Bettie Moonie. Each will bowl three sets of doubles and one single.

Miss Moonie and Mrs. Petrie took first place in an Oklahoma City tourney last January while Mrs. Whittle won eighth place in the same meet. Mrs. Whittle and Mrs. Petrie took second place in a recent tourney in Amarillo.

Other Pampa bowlers in the Dallas tournament, besides the Pampa quartet, will include five from Borger and four from the helium city.

Boston Yank Coach Charis Ivory Hunt

By STEVE O'LEARY
BOSTON, April 28—(AP)—Herb Kopf, new duration coach of the Boston Yanks, always was one for flash, offensive gestures and he thinks he may be able to spring some surprises in the National Pro league next fall—if he can dig up enough players to field a team.

The former Manhattan coach and Georgetown and Columbia aide has arrived in Boston with Tilly Manton, his chief scout, and the pair are mapping plans for an optimistic scouting of the hills and dales in search of talented operatives who will be available for no more serious combat than pro football come September.

"That's the main problem right now," confided the personable and energetic Kopf. "After all, how in Hades are you going to play those pro clubs unless you have at least 11 men of your own? If they're to be had, we'll get 'em."

Parker To Run 100, 220 and Relay in State Tournament

SAN ANTONIO, April 28—(AP)—There will be no change after all in the schedule of Flynn' Charley Parker, Thomas Jefferson's great schoolboy sprinter.

Coach Barlow (Bones) Irvin had planned to use Parker in the mile relay in an effort to add another first place at Austin next week since the battle for the title looked like virtually a dead heat between Jefferson and Brackenridge.

Irvin had figured his sprint relay team without Parker good enough to take first place but Jack Grieder, a star member of the quartet, injured a leg muscle in the regional meet and can't participate. Therefore, Parker will not run the quarter mile either individually or in the mile relay but will stay with the spring relay team.

This means Parker will run the 100, 220 and relay in his final meet as a schoolboy. Parker holds the state record in both sprints at 9.5 and 20.5 and was a member of the sprint relay team that set the present state standard of 43.1.

AAU Cards Eleven Service Track Meets

NEW YORK, April 28—(AP)—With the idea of providing as much competition as possible for service men, the Amateur Athletic union and its member clubs have arranged a schedule of 11 outdoor track and field meets during the next three months. Another is definitely scheduled for New Haven, Conn., in August and several more are contemplated, in addition to national and sectional A. A. U. championships.

Wilson Challenges Writer's Football Season Forecast

Ramon C. Wilson, quarterback of the Pampa Harvester team back in the roaring 20s, has called the sports editor's hand on his listing the chances of the Green and Gold team in the 1944 season. Wilson wants to know how the sports editor arrived at the figure that the Harvesters would be lucky to win half their games.

TEXAS SCHOOLBOY Swimming Tourney Slated For May 13

COLLEGE STATION, April 28—(AP)—Texas schoolboy swimmers will come here May 13 for their annual state meet scheduled in Downs natatorium at Texas A. & M. College.

Medals will be awarded for first, second and third places with trophies to team and relay winners.

Arthur Adamson, Texas A. & M. swimming coach who directs the meet, said preliminaries would be held at 2:30 p. m. and finals at 7:30, and that several high schools in each Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio were expected to file entries, along with a scattering of schools from over the state.

Interscholastic swimming rules will govern the meet and state interscholastic swimming rules will apply. Each individual entry is limited to two events.

As prescribed by national interscholastic swimming rules, the order of the eight events will be: 50-yard free style, 100-yard breaststroke, 220-yard free style, 100-yard backstroke, 100-yard free style, low board fancy diving, 100-yard relay and 160-yard free style relay.

Brackenridge of San Antonio won the meet last year with Highland Park (Dallas) second and Lamar (Houston) third.

Bagby Still at Ouis With Indian Manager

ATLANTA, April 28—(AP)—Jim Bagby, Jr., 17-game winner for the Cleveland Indians last season, declared Thursday that his feud with Cleveland's manager, Lou Boudreau, "will never be settled."

"That business of Boudreau and me buying the hatchet was no bunk," said the janky pitcher as he swung aboard a northbound train and headed for maritime service boot training at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y.

Bagby's dispute with Boudreau flared last season after the Indians manager benched him for "being out of condition." Bagby denied it. Bagby said he hoped to return to baseball after the war—but not with Cleveland.

policy despite recent "excellent predictions" from Secretary of State Hull.

The people were agreed overwhelmingly, he said, on these foreign policy objectives: to carry the war to total victory; to cooperate with other nations in organizing "a structure of peace backed by adequate force to prevent future wars"; to promote world-wide economic stability.

Dewey said the initial measures taken to disarm Germany and Japan to prevent a resumption of power politics after the war would not have permanent value "unless they fall within the setting of a durable cohesion between Great Britain and ourselves, together, I hope, with Russia and China."

Fire Chief Urges Clean-Up Drive

In connection with the annual spring clean-up campaign of the city, set for next week, Fire Chief Ren E. White today emphasized that every family take advantage of the warm days ahead to clean up attics, basements, storage places, garages, back yards, and vacant lots, both as a fire protection and a health safeguard measure.

"Protect the health and safety of your family by getting rid of waste materials," he said, "and help the war effort by donating paper, rubbish and other needed materials to salvage."

He also advised householders to make all repairs that may be needed to keep their home safe from fire. "Track down frayed electric cords and defective electrical appliances and see that they get fixed. Inspect your heating equipment, furnaces, stoves and heaters. And, if you do any paint-up jobs, don't smoke or allow open flames to come in contact with flammable vapors."

Replace lids on cans, clean paint brushes immediately after use, and dispose of all paint-soaked rags. He then reminded family heads to check up on the home's fire-fighting equipment. You may not need an extinguisher for more than two minutes out of 20 years, but during those two minutes you really want it to work.

The extinguishers should be recharged once each year. Why not do a thorough job and clean up some of those dangerous habits that cause so many fires? Cigarette smoking is the nation's No. 1 fire-breeder. Using flammable cleaning liquids, polishes and insecticides is another.

"And don't forget that children make up the largest class of fire victims. Keep matches out of their reach and warn them against playing with fire."

200-mile stretch of coastal area southeast of Altpae.

Fifth airforce planes, already operating from the Hollandia airdrome, staged a 60-ton raid on the four Wevok airfields 250 miles southeast of Hollandia and a major Liberator bomber sank 10 troop-laden enemy barges, two cargo ships, fired two fishing boats and shot down an enemy bomber 700 miles northwest of Hollandia.

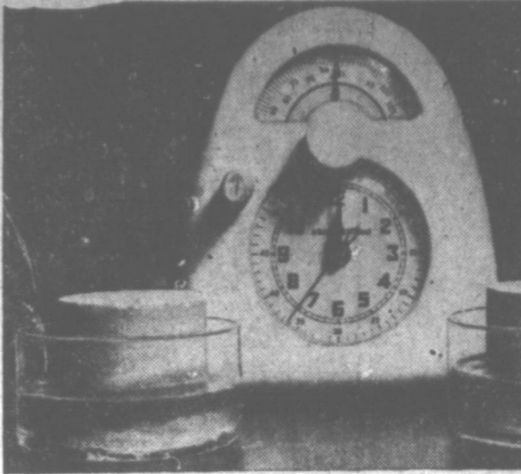

Other Allied planes ranged far into the central Pacific to blast Woleai atoll in the western Carolines and Truk and Satawan in the central Carolines.

Presaging mightier blows against Japan's Pacific defenses, MacArthur and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Allied commander-in-chief in the Pacific, conferred prior to the Hollandia invasion to achieve "a maximum of cooperative effort" in the two commanders' converging operations.

A Chinese headquarters spokesman reported a Japanese drive on Loyang in northern Honan province has been driven back 10 miles and another enemy column advancing on Loyang from the east has been halted.

Chinese also announced Japanese troops captured Chengshin April 22.

In top picture, two cores of earth, one at right treated with stabilol, have water poured on them at 12 noon. Bottom photo shows result 20 minutes and 45 seconds later. Stabilolized soil at right still supports one-kilogram weight, while untreated soil at left has disintegrated into watery mud. Stabilol has already been used to prevent mud on roads, landing fields and other construction projects here and abroad.

new value of two. But raspberry and strawberry jams and preserves, in short supply, are increased to 16 points a pound jar, double the present value.

Also sharply boosted is the value of cranberries and cranberry sauce, up eight points to a new total of 15 for a No. 2 can. Prevailing high point values on all other canned fruits are maintained.

To slow the rapid movement of tomato catsup and chili sauce, the ration cost of these items goes from 23 points to 30 for a 14-ounce bottle, but spaghetti sauce, packaged with cheese, gets a value of three instead of six points for an eight-ounce jar.

Heavy demand hikes the point value on a 46-ounce can of tomato juice two points to 18, while the six-pound size will cost 36 points instead of 31.

Also listed on the May chart are point values for a new total of foods that are sold. For containers over 14 ounces and including one pound-two ounces, points assigned are: Fruits, 10; juices, 2; vegetables, 1; spreads, 4; and special products, 12. The point-free rating assigned last month for all frozen foods is continued through May.

to Frank Knox. As a Rough Rider he was in Cuba with Theodore Roosevelt in 1898. During the first World War he became an artillery officer in France, there earning under fire his title "Colonel" by which most of his long-time friends knew him. Few knew his full name—William Franklin Knox.

In this war he regretted that he was too old to go into uniform again, and he gave all his energy to the job of being civilian boss of the biggest American navy in history.

When Knox became navy secretary America was faced, as he saw it, with at least a two-ocean war and it had an inadequate one-ocean navy. His big job therefore was to promote the building up of the fleet.

He rarely claimed any special credit for what he contributed to this task, but it was with the utmost pride that he announced from time to time the addition to the growing fleet of new battleships, aircraft carriers and other craft.

Only last March 15 he told a press conference that nearly a dozen ships a day would go into service in 1944. A few months earlier, on Navy Day last October, he had stated his life philosophy in a general order to the fleet.

"To the men of the fleet I say with confidence and with pride: Seek out the enemy—and destroy him! Today, tomorrow and tomorrow we must attack!"

Texan Would Name Justices on Basis Of Geography

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(AP)—Rep. Gossett (D-Texas) has introduced legislation which would require appointment of supreme court justices on a geographical basis.

Gossett's measure would provide that at least three justices be residents of states west of the Mississippi river and that the "old south," including West Virginia, be represented by at least two members.

The Texan told the house that "this bill is not an effort to pack or un-pack the Supreme Court. It is not a reflection upon the court as at any time constituted. It seeks rather to give the various political, economic and geographical areas of this great country proportionate representation."

tions are favorable now for powerful blows not only from the east but from the south and west."

Nosy German planes scouted England by night looking for signs of invasion. Nazi troops moved nervously in Denmark, scaring Swedes. Probably not 50 men in all the world know when Eisenhower will spring from isolated Britain.

The British lost 30 planes last night. In the record daylight attacks yesterday, nine heavy bombers and nine lesser planes were lost and three Nazis were destroyed. Chief rail targets of the night were Montzen in Belgium and Aulnoye in France. Mosquitos struck Stuttgart; other planes laid mines. Targets yesterday were military citadels, railroad airdromes, road junctions and the like—mainly in northern France and Belgium where invasion threats are the most real. Weather again grounded the bulk of the Allied Mediterranean air fleets.

The Romanians chattered officially again about powerful tank-supported Russian attacks north of Euphrates where Red army penetrations were "sealed off or reduced." The Russians said they sank seven more water carriers off Sevastopol, wiped out a regiment of up to 3,000 men on the second Ukrainian front, and killed 400 in old Poland near Stanislawow. Stockholm said the Germans were expecting a Russian offensive in the far north of Finland on the Salla sector.

Group Named To Get Labor For Local Industry

To help carbon black and oil companies, and other vital industries secure enough labor to carry on their war-essential work, a local committee was formed at a meeting held at 2 p. m. yesterday in the city commission room.

The meeting, called by F. A. Wells, Amarillo, Panhandle area director for the War Manpower commission, had been scheduled for the district court room but was changed to the city hall when the court room was found in use.

Wells told the group of 40 attending that while the manpower situation was not yet critical, it would likely be so within the next six months, as the armed forces kept on drawing men into the services.

He pointed out that it was better for local persons to hold local jobs, rather than to be constantly shifting about. Also, that unless local persons handled the local situation, Pampa might face a problem created by the presence of numerous migrant workers here when the war was over.

Airplane factories have been authorized to the extent that residents of areas where carbon black is produced overlook the fact that carbon black is needed in tire production, was another point brought out at the meeting.

The Pampa committee, will seek to encourage local persons to take jobs in war essential industries in Gray county, which is a part of the 43-county Panhandle area, that extends south to Gaines, includes Garza and Cottle, goes east of Childress and the Oklahoma line, and includes all the Panhandle.

E. J. (Jack) Hanna, general manager of The Pampa News, was named chairman. Other members are: Rene Stinson, Cabot companies executive assistant; Daniel Glaxner, district superintendent, Columbia Carbon company; Dallas Bowsher, district superintendent, Skelly Oil company; Fred Shryock, superintendent, Danciger Oil & Refining company.

James A. McCune, safety engineer, General Atlas Carbon company; Ben Barrett, farmer; First Lieut. Michael Shores, civilian personnel officer, Pampa field; Vaughn Darnell, employes' counselor, Pampa field; Otis R. Terry, manager, U. S. Employment service.
