Officers, Wives Will Celebrate 'Gay Nineties'

A group of officers at Pampa army air field will take off their uniforms for a short time Saturday night to try their histrionic abilities before officers and their ladies on a stage set up in the Officers' Mess as a part of a gay nineties entertainment, which will include a dance and refreshments.

All officers and their ladies have been invited to the entertainment and have been asked to enter into the gay nineties atmosphere. The club will be decorated with pictures and scenery designed to bring back the days when money was flowing, society was high, and nobody had troubles but the poor heroine of the so popular, tear-jerking melodrama, one of which the officers will take their hand at staging for the entertainment, they hope, of their fellow officers and ladies.

The Pampa army air field orchestra, temporarily labeled—or dressed—the "Bovary Bums," and dressed suitably, will play for the dance and provide the proper background music for the melodrama. Free refreshments will be served, and a $25 war bond will be awarded to the winner of the most original costume.

Leaves From A Correspondent's War Notebook

By BARBARA WACE
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

WITH U. S. INFANTRY DIVISION INSIDE BREST! Sept. 12—(Delayed)—Today from inside the city I watched hundreds of Germans surrender while the story of how these Nazis, literally were dug and burned out of their holes was told to me by Sgt. Mark Barron, former Associated Press drama critic in New York, and a native of Waco, Texas.

Barron, who wanted to see something of the street fighting himself, had reached one block from the American front lines when a sniper started shooting at his jeep from a four-story building on avenue Jean Jaures, Brest's main street.

"We jumped out of that jeep faster than you would believe possible," Barron said, "and made for the houses on the other side of the street. Incidentally, the owner of the house had the most wonderful library of wines—that I had ever seen. That hour went quickly."

Barron told how mortars had been called up by Lt. Col. O. M. Bassant, of Tonopah, Nev., while our tank destroyers poured shells to blast Nazis from the church fortifications. Shells from the most wonderful German resistance on the Crozon peninsula landed in the city streets.

"I sure wanted to get at that sniper," Barron said, "but you can't get near when they go into one of those high buildings. They hide themselves with a full vision of the street and the only way you can move them is by shellfire."

Barron described how army engineers with bulldozers were keeping right up with the infantry to clear streets of debris so that troops could follow quickly.

Groups of battered Germans taken as prisoners passed by every few minutes. They had been rounded up from nearby houses.

I talked to prisoners who said they would have surrendered earlier but their officers kept them covered with machine guns.

Barron told me that when a German machinegun nest caught fire today GI's went in to help them escape (including some to a prison camp and the injured to a first aid station—even though that nest was a spot from where the jerries relentlessly had swept doughboy ranks, causing many casualties).

Battlewagons Swing a Lot of Weight

There are silhouettes of 120 four-engined bombers in above, prepared by the Navy Department. A modern U. S. ship can blast an enemy with projectile weight equal to total bomb load.

Corsicana Will Be Buried Today

CORSICANA, Sept. 29—(AP)—Funeral services were planned here at 4 p. m. today for J. E. Watts, 72, of Gladewater, who died in his hotel room yesterday at Pleasant Hill, La., near Mansfield.

He was a native of Corsicana. Surviving are his widow of Gladewater, two daughters, Mrs. W. C. Stroue, Corsicana, and Miss Jess Watts, Dallas; two sons, Gordon Watts, Gladewater, and Edward Watts, Dallas.

Onions must be mature and thoroughly dry to keep. Slated crates or woven baskets that permit ventilation are good containers.

After washing hands, give them an additional rinse. Often it is the soap left on the skin that lays the groundwork for chapping.

Ickes Says He'll 'Gladly' Step Out

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes today made public a letter addressed to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in which he promised the republican presidential nominee he will step down from the cabinet "if and when the incredible comes to pass and you become the president of the United States."

Ickes gave out the letter at his news conference and said it had been mailed today. Dewey recently gave Ickes a high priority rating in projected cabinet changes.

The secretary told the assembled reporters it was customary to give a brief statement of the reasons for a "resignation" and that he had given these to Dewey:

"First, your disregard for the truth; second, your unrelieved record of contempt for civil liberties; and, third, my unwillingness to serve under a man whose chief qualification for public office, aside from his hunger for it, is his proved willingness to frighten the mothers of soldiers and by reckless seeming to cause prejudice and hatred."

Men Seeking Discharges Are Sent To Separation Camps for Checking

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of Veterans' benefits, ranging from demobilization to jobs and pensions.)

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—The soldier about to be discharged back into civilian life is sent to a separation center at army camps across the country.

There, his papers are checked and he is given a record—called a separation qualification record—of his civilian and military occupational training.

Which means: The kind of jobs he had done in civilian life and the kind of jobs he learned to do in the army. It is intended to help his readjustment to civilian life and for this reason:

The record will be the veteran's official army introduction to future employers, educational authorities or any civilian agency with which he deals for a job.

The soldier attends lectures, the last he will hear in the army, about his return to civilian life and his new responsibilities. He is also told about his rights and benefits as a veteran.

He turns in all his equipment. The army takes back everything except one complete uniform, one extra shirt, gloves, ties, socks, underwear, towels, toilet articles and personal belongings.

He is permitted to wear the uniform 90 days after discharge although most veterans probably will wear it only until they get civilian clothes. He can, of course, wear it as 1465.

15,000th Pacific Flight Completed

United Air Lines today announced, with war department permission, that it had completed its 15,000th flight across the Pacific in rushing military men and materials to the South Pacific war theater for the army air transport command.

United's record showed approximately 11,000,000 miles flown over the more than 7,200-mile route between California, Hawaii and Australia since such operations were begun late in 1942. Two daily round trips now are being flown with a fleet of 20 Douglas C-54, four-engine transports of the ATC in keeping pace with the tempo of increased South Pacific combat activities, officials reported.

United reported that average elapsed time for the westbound flight from San Francisco to Townsville, Australia, with stops at Honolulu, Canton Island, Tarawa, Guadalcanal and Port Moresby, is 50 hours.

In its Pacific operations, United has carried 21,033,704 pounds of men, material and mail. Passengers have totaled 38,990; cargo, 4,346,619 pounds, and mail, 6,030,512 pounds.

Such operations are in addition to Alaskan flights conducted by United for the air transport command and to the regularly scheduled passenger-mail-express operations carried on commercially over the company's coast-to-coast and Pacific coast system.

WINGS AND BOOTS
Pfc. Herschel Nipper, son of Mrs. R. A. Nipper of LeFors, has won the right to wear wings and boots of the paratroopers. He has completed four weeks of jump training during which he made five jumps, the last involving a combat problem on landing.

PROMOTED
Post headquarters at the Liberator pilot school has announced that M. Smith Wise, Jr., has been promoted to first lieutenant.

Lieutenant Wise is an engineering officer at the B-24 school. He is a rated pilot, having received his wings in July, 1943, at Blackland army air field, Waco.

A petroleum engineer in civilian life, Lieutenant Wise is a graduate of the University of Texas, with a degree in petroleum engineering.

New Building Plaster Sound-, Fire-Proof

Add to the wonders of postwar living one more—sound conditioning.

New types of plaster have been developed, the Gypsum association has announced, which makes it possible to have every room "conditioned" to sounds as they can now be conditioned to temperatures.

Sound conditioning and sound-proofing are distinctly different, the Gypsum association's announcement pointed out.

"A room is soundproof if sounds originating in it cannot be heard outside the room, and vice versa. Sound conditioning has to do with the control of sound reverberations and the curtailment of echoes—the absorption of sound waves after the action that created them has ceased. Sound conditioning is the control of sound waves to reduce undesirable noises.

Greatly advanced over previous materials of its type, the new gypsum acoustical plaster is inexpensive. It is very porous, the air passages "blotting up" the sound. In most cases its use on ceilings alone is sufficient.

The plaster has the additional advantage of being fireproof.

Applied very much like ordinary gypsum plaster to scientifically determined thickness, these acoustical plasters also add beauty to the room. They are already available in abundance, the report concludes, and have proved themselves in recently completed buildings.

Fats In Dutch

LYONS, Kansas, Sept. 29—(AP)—After hunting weeks for somebody to dig a 100-foot ditch so that a new water pipe could be laid at his home—and finally doing the job himself—a Lyons physician said: "Some night one of these fellows afraid of hard work is going to call me out of bed to hurry to save his life. You know what I'll do? ... Yes, I'll get up and go."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?"

"In 'The Stars and Stripes'... the newspaper of the U. S. Armed Forces in Europe. Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?"

"It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?"

"Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control.'"

"Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

First Lt. James P. Brumley has been awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious achievement in action while serving with the 91st infantry division on the Fifth army front in Italy.

Brumley, battalion communications officer, maintained an efficient and successful system of communications throughout the division's drive to the Arno river. Many times he exposed himself to enemy artillery fire to insure maximum efficiency of the telephone lines in his charge so that there would be an uninterrupted channel of communication.

Brumley received his commission at the infantry officer's candidate school, Ft. Benning, Ga., Dec. 21, 1942.

Brumley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brumley, owners of Brumley's food store, and husband of Mrs. Rachel Brumley, employed by Gabot shops, graduated from Pampa high in 1932. He was a member of the football squad that beat Amarillo that year. Lieutenant Brumley graduated from Arkansas university in 1938.

Shows Travel on Stomach, Too

Napoleon said "An army marches on its stomach," but the same condition can apply to a big traveling show, according to William B. Naylor, press representative for Al Wagner's Cavalcade of Amusements, the big railroad show that will come to Pampa next week.

There are between 450 and 500 people on the show," said Naylor. "and they have to be fed. Probably 60 people, mostly executives stay in hotels, the others in the show Pullman cars and house trailers. We purchase in Pampa diesel oil for our eight light plants, gasoline to run our tractors and rides, bread for the cookhouse, buns and hot-dog rolls by the thousands, milk, meats in wholesale quantities and groceries. It is new business for Pampa store people, and it is good business because it is for cash."

The old brocade that a big railroad show takes money out of a city has long since been charged up to plain bunk. A responsible show brings people into the city from surrounding counties because they advertise in the towns within a radius of 50 miles," said Naylor.

Texans Disagree On Peace Terms

BEFASST, Iceland, Sept. 28—(AP)—Two touring Texas members of the national house of representatives—O. C. Fisher of San Angelo and W. R. Poage of Waco—don't agree on what type of peace terms Germany should be offered.

On a tour of Europe as representatives of the house foreign affairs committee, Fisher in an interview suggested that "collaboration among great Allied Nations could resolve possibility of a misunderstanding" in treatment of Germany, while Poage said he favored a hard peace. "It shocks me," Poage declared, "to hear some British talking about Germany being a great nation. I talked to a lot of people in England who said they wanted to help rebuild Germany, and I simply was amazed."

"If by a soft peace Germany is encouraged to launch a third war in Europe I don't see how America could be expected to take part. Central Europe is rotten to the core, and if we don't cut out that core we have a rotten apple."

"We must not spare the knife."

Makeshift Gun Crew Given High Credit

By WALTER CRONKITE
Representing the combined American press

VEGHEL, Holland, Sept. 28—(Delayed)—(AP)—A makeshift crew of three handling a U. S. glide-borne anti-tank gun which made a hasty emergency shot that knocked out a German tank was credited today with saving possibly hundreds of British and American soldiers.

The crewmen were Lt. Col. B. Cox, San Angelo, Tex.; Capt. Adolph Guymard, Baton Rouge, La.; and Pfc. Roger Roberts, Fort Arthur, Tex. They were rushing the gun up to meet a reported German tank threat to the Veghel road two days ago and saw a Mark-IV tank working on another anti-tank gun and heading for a position to fire down the road where dozens of ammunition and gasoline trucks were jammed.

As the tank swung to meet them, the three unhit their gun. They had to make the first shot count. They fired without fixing the gun's trails to get a solid foundation, knowing its recoil would be dangerous.

They hit. The tank got it through the side turret. They fired twice more and hit both times. None of the three was injured.

The tank was the second credited to the gun, which also got three half-tracks and one scout car.

In seeing it that Germany does not become a menace again to succeeding generations."

Other than on this point, Mr. Roosevelt's order to Crowley covers the three unhit their gun. They justifying its long-standing operations to the defeat of Germany.

"Lend-lease should continue to be furnished in whatever amounts are necessary for affording increased opportunity for private industry and private trade."

2. Strategic and critical raw materials which FEA has purchased abroad should be adjusted to meet the reduced needs of waging the war against Japan.

3. Preclusive buying has already passed its peak but should be continued in so far as necessary to aid the war against Japan.

4. Economic warfare, concerned with evaluating the enemy's war potential, must be focused on Japan.

5. Lend-lease should be continued to the extent necessary to defeat Japan as quickly as possible.

6. Surplus property accumulations as a result of FEA purchasing programs abroad should be avoided.

7. Control of the war-making powers of Germany must be subject of accelerated study.

8. Reconstruction and future foreign trade. Of first importance the President said that it is in the interest of this country and the rest of the United Nations that "the destruction and devastation of war be repaired and that the foundations for a secure peace be laid." Of foreign trade, he said that any improvement in economic conditions in this country will improve the condition of "peace-loving peoples of the world" and aid materially "in the building of a durable peace."

The President said reports of a cabinet split over a plan by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau to de-industrialize Germany at the war's end were newspaper stories and described them as essentially untrue in basis facts but he did not go into detail. But Mr. Roosevelt said he expected no further meetings of the cabinet committee—Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of State Hull and Morgenthau—which has been working on a German plan.

tion of a Pampa, the members of the post-war planning committee themselves included additional park space for Pampa and set aside $50,000 for another park for white residents and one for colored. The sites of these recreational centers have not been divulged.

Street Lights
The committee has been assured additional street lights and poles to be placed on heretofore unlighted streets. This will entail the expenditure of approximately $3,000 from the funds of the Southwestern public service company.

Among other items included in the list of improvements is the installation of a water softening plant at an expense of $75,000.00, and the erection of a much needed public building at a total cost of $75,000.00.

Storm Sewer
Pampans in the past have been stranded on street corners when thunderstorms came. The committee has approved plans for the installation of a storm sewer at a cost of $300,000.

Farm-to-Market Roads
Of vital importance to the post-war planning committee is the development of county roads leading from farm-to-market.

Viewing condition of county roads, the committee set aside $50,000 per year for a four-year period to be expended on the black-topping of farm-to-market roads.

Though the county does not adequately meet the demand for better roads, the committee plans the surfacing of a few miles each year, gradually placing Gray county with other counties that have first class farm-to-market roads.

Even these figures do not cover greater postwar pampa. Phillips Petroleum company has planned a pipeline from Phillips to LePort.

In addition to the Phillips project, the Cabot Carbide company plans equipment repairs that will entail the expenditure of thousands of dollars, and employ a number of workers.

The postwar planning committee is composed of Joe Key, chairman.

Pioneer Physician Dies at Age of 69

WHITE DEER, Sept. 28—Funeral services for Dr. C. B. Merrill, 69-year-old pioneer physician of the Panhandle, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist church here by the pastor, Rev. D. R. Davidson.

Dr. Merrill died of a heart attack last Sunday at the home of his son, Zene Merrill, at O'Donnell.

He had practiced medicine in White Deer for about 20 years before going to the South Plains where he had made his home with his sons for the past eight years.

Although the funeral services were conducted Tuesday, the burial is awaiting the arrival of the two sons from California. After their arrival another brief service will be held at the graveside in the White Deer cemetery.

The other sons are Jerome of Borger, Cecil, who was recently discharged from the navy now working in San Francisco; and Clore of Glendale, Calif.

Occupation Plans 'Nearly Completed'

LONDON, Sept. 28—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told Commons today that "nearly completed" arrangements for occupying Germany were taking into account reports that Heinrich Himmler was gaining fanatical young Nazis for post-occupation resistance.

The continent of Antarctica is the highest in the world, rising to an approximate mean altitude of 6,000 feet.

Though the United States has been in possession of the continent since 1791, it has not been fully explored. The only expedition to the continent was made by the British in 1911. The United States claims the continent as a whole.

Once Upon A Time, There Was a Big, Bad Wolf - - -

At story telling time there's often another "big, bad wolf" to watch out for... eyestrain that lurks in the shadows of weak and inadequate light, that feasts on glare from badly shaded lamps, that strikes when dust on bulbs and bowls blot out the light you're paying for.

Do something about it now before eyesight suffers. Be sure the light you use when eyes are working is SUFFICIENT FOR GOOD VISION! That doesn't mean to waste light... little light is needed for romping, active play... no light at all when rooms are vacant. But for reading, sewing or other close work, don't skimp on light... it's folly to conserve on light and squander sight.

Harvester and Sooner Gridders To Clash Tonight

Prominent Grid Men Officiate

Whether the Harvesters pack the punch to stop Oklahoma City's Central high Sooners will be seen tonight, for plans are now complete for a grid classic that can be termed super-duper.

Tonight fans will see something new added in Harvester park, for ducat sales have soared skyward and additional bleachers have been placed at the south goal to accommodate Pampans that have never before attended a grid game.

Cochran Ols Coffey will not take his Harvesters on the field anticipating defeat. Even though the Sooners outwigh the Harvesters many pounds the Harvesters expect to do things to Les Ming, the 185-pound fullback captain of the Sooners.

Whether it is known in Pampa or not Ming packs a mean punch when it comes to passing and running. He has already rolled up quite a record for himself this year. He has been the cog in the wheel that has led the Sooners to victory in both of their games this season. Ming is an all-American high school

Rain Sends Tigers Into Doubleheader

By JACK HAND (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Rain sent the "experts" hunting for new angles today to figure out whether Detroit, St. Louis or New York would profit most by postponements in the American league pennant race. The answer appeared to be Detroit.

If it pours until Sunday night, the Tigers could sit home by the fire and plan their world series strategy while the Browns, one game back, and the Yankees, three lengths out, rued lost opportunities.

All clubs were scheduled for doubleheaders today after yesterday's complete washout but even another day of rain wouldn't wash any games off the calendar for keeps. The same teams play up one another the rest of the season four games back, and the Yankees, three lengths out, rued lost opportunities.

In the east, the pennant-winning St. Louis Cardinals were polishing off some unfinished business with the Giants and getting lined up for Wednesday's opener in Sportsman's park. Billy Southworth took Stan Musial, Walker Cooper, Ray Sanders and Marty Marion out for a rest and only used Johnny Hopp in the last of the ninth yesterday as Rookie Blix Donnelly blitzed New York, 2-0, with five innings.

Ray Mueller set a new Major league record by catching his 152nd game in Cincinnati's 10-6 romp over Brooklyn. Leo Duracher learned just before game time he had been named to boss the Dodgers in 1945 but his joy was short lived as the Reds scored nine runs in the fourth. Other National leaguers were not scheduled.

Frankie Hayes of the A's can also pass out Ray Schalk's old catching record, upping his total to 152 by catching both games in Cleveland.

The bottom by any means but holds fourth place with their grid games.

Rice Owls Will Meet Randolph Gridsters

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF (Associated Press Sports Editor)

The Rice Owls, pushed into the top bracket against the better judgment of their coach, are going to meet the Randolph gridsters in the southwest conference football campaign tomorrow night. They'll have to indicate it is still worth being there.

Because the youthful Owls meet Randolph in a concentration point for star football players, Randolph is embarking on a schedule as ambitious as any college ever attempted. It includes three southwest conference teams—Rice, Texas and Southern Methodist—in consecutive weeks.

The Rice-Randolph battle at Houston tomorrow night is a schedule bringing all six conference members into action and with prospects that 70,000 will witness the six games.

Arkansas starts the ball rolling for the week when the Razorbacks meet Oklahoma A. and M. at Oklahoma City tonight. At Oklahoma City tomorrow Texas Christian moves against South Plains army air field at Fort Worth. Texas plays Southern Methodist at Dallas, 3 p. m. (5:00); It won't be as bad as what Tulsa did but the Mustangs shouldn't have much trouble—Southern Methodist by 26 points.

Texas Tech vs. Texas A. and M. at San Antonio, 8 p. m. (10:00); ought to be a good game but the Aggies will win by three touchdowns to one.

Rice vs. Randolph field at Houston 8 p. m. (10:00); Too good and too many for the Owls; Randolph field by 13 points.

Irish Confident Of Win Over Phillips Tonight

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS. SHAMROCK, Sept. 29.—What will probably be the best football game of the season will be played on Denver Field Friday night when the Phillips Blackhaws and Coach Bob Clark's Irishmen battled to a scoreless tie on a rain-soaked field in Phillips. Later in the season the two teams met on Denver Field in the regional play-off game. Again the score was tied, 6-6, 20-yard penetrations were even, 2-2, and the Blackhaws were crowned regional champions on first-down honors.

Cochran Clark stated this week that his Irish proteges had rather trample the Blackhaws than any other club on their 1944 schedule. The boys are exhibiting an inspired spirit in their daily work-outs this week and with the return of three regular starters, co-captain Kilman, Anderson and Close, an Irish team far superior to that of last Friday night, will face the Phillips team.

To strengthen the line, Coach Clark has this week shifted Kilman from his fullback position to left end, moving Wilton Cole from that position to right guard.

The transferring of Kilman to an end position will strengthen the Irish passing attack and Coach Clark stated that if Phillips puts their usual powerful line on the field Friday night that the passing arm of Co-captain Olford Nolan will come in for a lot of exercise.

Cochran Walker has established a phenomenal record as coach of the Blackhaws. During his seven years as mentor of that grid machine, the boys have been crowned regional champions four times.

To date this season, the Blackhaws have played two games, being defeated by the Class AA Pampa Harvesters 13-0, and defeating the McLean Tigers 20-6.

Top O' Texas Tournament Starts Today

By JACK HAND

Entries in the Top O' Texas invitation golf tournament, to be played at the Pampa country club beginning today and lasting through Monday, have been pouring into the office of Frank Baker, professional golfer, who is in charge of arrangements.

Also filing entry blanks are Johnson, Hobbs, and six outstanding golfers of the southside country club, Enid, Oklahoma. Play begins today in the tournament, but golfers have until tomorrow afternoon at five o'clock to file their entry blanks.

The tournament, under the direction of the pro will feature a holes of medal play with qualification in the first 18 holes.

A Dutch lunch and Calcutta pool will be enjoyed by the contestants at the close of play tomorrow afternoon, Baker said.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—If the Tigers win the pennant or even if they don't, they will be a hard job trying to decide between Dizzy Trout and Hal Newhouser for the most valuable player award of course, that Dodge the issue by giving it to Dick Wakefield on the grounds that before Wakefield Detroit was just a seventh-place club in the American league and he was the only Dodger fan who knows who should get the least valuable award, but he ain't a player.

—Perhaps it doesn't mean anything, but tonight's Willie Puchalski Wright bout marks the first time a boxing title, "frozen" for the duration, has been thawed out—Jedgo W. G. Bramham, the minor league baseball boss who was a lot sticker than folks let on, now is reported to be "much better."

SHORTS AND SHIELDS

Sid Luckman, who "retired" until late November a couple of days ago, will stage another farewell football performance in the playoffs and appear in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night, not in a track suit.

He'll speak at a religious gathering, completely forgetting the tradition established by Frank Leahy, coach Ed McKeever of Notre Dame has this to say about halfback Bob Kelly: "If he is a better runner and kicking back in the country, I'd like to know who he is."

Rick Ferrell, who will be 38 in October, wants to stick around long enough to break Gabby Hartnett's record of catching 1,790 major league games. Rick has about 40 to go.

BLACK BUSTER

Ross McKelvey, Canadian rugby star from Toronto who went south to play American football at Auburn, was given defensive assignment in a recent practice game—Art Ballard, the offensive end, drove in hard to take the Canadian kid out of the play—before Ballard could put the Pirates through long yardage. McKelvey, he found himself blocked instead with a beautiful hip-rolling job that flattened both—explaining the unrehearsed maneuver. The coach said we had to be good blockers to make the Auburn team."

LeFors Pirates Oppose Broncos In Tough Game

The LeFors Pirates will be host to the Clarendon Broncos in LeFors Friday night at 8:30. This will be the first conference game for the Pirates in the tough District 3A. Following a defeat at the hands of the White Deer Bucks and an open date Coach England has been putting the Pirates through long yardage drills.

Injuries have been dogging the squad and it is feared that the team will not be at full strength when it meets the Broncos Tuesday night in England, however, hopes to be able to put a team on the field that will give a good account of itself.

The Clarendon Broncos have a light team, but are speedy and have a fighting spirit that wins football games. They won their first conference game last Friday night from a strong Lakeview team by a score of 7-0 and the Pirates are expecting one of their strongest conference foes when they meet the Broncos.

Su. Carolina meets Athens Ga. Navy. V.M.I. meets Cataula. William & Mary meets Ft. Monroe. Southwest Rice meets South Plains. S.M.U. meets North Texas Aggies. Texas Tech meets Texas Tech. T.C.U. meets South Plains AAF. Rocky Mountain Colorado meets New Mexico. Colorado U. meets Colo. Springs AAF. Denver meets Fair West. California meets U.C.L.A. Utah meets Utah State. Collegiate Schedules Peppered With Nation's Top Grid Teams

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The football season swings into high gear this weekend and we're hoping we'll do the same after a not to be proud of performance last week of 23 victories, five defeats and one tie.

Wake Forest-Georgia (Friday)—Wake Forest surprised by whipping North Carolina last Saturday and it's never safe to bet against the Bulls and Georgia.

Arkansas-Okl. Aggies (Friday)—A toughy but year-in, year-out it's usually a good policy to pick a southwest conference team over a Missouri valley eleven. So it's Arkansas.

Kansas-Denver (Friday)—If for no other reason than home state pride we'll string along with the Jawhawkers.

Alabama-Louisiana State — The word is out that Frank Thomas has combed the highways and byways and come up with a pretty fair outfit. Alabama.

Euke-Pennsylvania — Wish we could pass this one. Our southern scout says the Blue Devils are loaded, but the Quakers like Franklin field, on a hunch, Penn.

Georgia pre-light-South Carolina—A close one, with the navy boys from Georgia taking the decision.

Holy Cross-Dartmouth — Dartmouth, hailed as one of the power houses of the east, should have no trouble taking the green crusaders. Illinois-Great Lakes—The Illinois have come up with a high scoring combination, but it'll take plenty of touchdowns to match the sailors' output. Great Lakes.

Indiana-Michigan—Don't hesitate, Michigan.

Kentucky-Tennessee—Annie, our red-haired copy girl, says Tennessee because she likes Knoxville. They're playing in Knoxville so we'll string along with her.

Wisconsin-Northwestern — The Wildcats are scheduled to make trouble in the big ten. They'll start this week Northwestern.

Missouri-Ohio State—The Buckeyes may prove to be the strongest civilian team in the country. Until they show otherwise it's Ohio state.

Marquette-Purdue — Without the use of a coin, Purdue.

Notre Dame-Pittsburgh — Clark Shaughnessy apparently is coming up with a strong attack at Pitt, but we can't see the Panthers stopping another strong Irish outfit. Notre Dame.

starting to roll toward their most successful season in years. Army.

North Carolina pre-light-Navy—The pre-fighters have Otto Crumham, period. The midshipmen in a half-dozen men of almost equal caliber. Navy.

Mississippi-Florida—Again we're ed on our southern scout and he says to string along with Florida.

Nebraska-Minnesota—On the basis of the Gophers' fine showing last week against Iowa pre-fighters we'll take Minnesota.

Pacific-Southern Calif.—Southern California without much argument.

Second Army Force-Coronado—Two Superbonbers are loaded and have been playing for a month. Second Army Force.

U. C. L. A.—California—The UCLA came from behind to tie the Southern Calif. last week. On that impetus they should take the Golden Bears.

Skipping over the county: Maryland over Hampden, Sydney (Friday); Temple over Swarthmore (Friday); Cornell over Bucknell; Colgate over Rochester; Bainbridge over Camp Lee; Georgia Tech over Clemson; Virginia Military over Catawba; Camp Peary over Choate; Point Marines; William and Mary over Ft. Monroe; Iowa state over Gustavus Adolphus; Mississippi state over Jackson AAB.

Fern State over Muhlberg; Southern Methodist over North Texas; Oklahoma over Norman Navy; North Carolina over Virginia; Randolph field over Rice; Texas Christian over South Plains Army air field; Texas Aggies over Texas Tech; S. Coast Guard Academy over Yale; Columbia over Union; Brown over Tufts; Washington over Whitman; Kansas State over Wichita; Howard over Worcester; Utah over Utah (southern branch); and Colorado college over New Mexico.

4 YEARS IN HITLER'S GRAY PAREE

Parisian, Whose Name Must Remain Anonymous for Time Being, Was Stranger in Own City Under Nazis

WRITTEN FOR NEA SERVICE
 (This is the first of three articles on life in Paris during the German occupation. These articles were written by an eminent journalist who lived in Paris during the entire occupation. Since he has relatives still in German-occupied countries, his name must be withheld.)

PARIS, Sept. 28—This is the story of my four years of life in Paris under Nazi rule. I lived through the days darkened in the "City of Light." I saw "Gray Paree" literally transformed into "Gray Paree" as hordes of German troops in fieldgray uniforms tightened their throttle-hold on resentful, suffering Parisians.

From the moment the Germans entered this city, Parisians began a series of moral sufferings which can hardly be described. The Germans roped off the glorious Arc de Triomphe and hoisted a swastika on its peak. Within a few hours the city was covered with German signs. The capital itself became "Cross-Paris." The Place de l'Opera was soon "kommandanturplatz" and the Place de la Concorde "Hauptquartier." Whole streets were closed to all civilian traffic and the headquarters to the "Militarbefehlshaber" at the Hotel Majestic was barricaded from public approach from this first day of the occupation until the day towards the end of August, 1944, when the people of Paris themselves tore down this modern Bastille.

"Paris under the occupation was anything but a pleasant place for us men."

At least half of Paris' police force was kept busy day and night guarding such headquarters of the supermen as the hotels, headquarters, movies, clubs, restaurants and bars which were set aside for Germans. Parisians were not allowed to use the sidewalks in front of these "sacred" places.

From the first day the Nazis entered Paris the display of the French flag was verboten. It was replaced everywhere by the swastika. The price of removal of the swastika was the life of the French policeman on whose beat it flew. The only exceptions to the no-Tricolor rule were for a handful of favored traitors: Herr "Von" Brinon, the ambassador from Vichy; "Hauptmann" Darriann's militia; and barracks of the Anti-Soviet Legion, composed of a few thousand Russians led by pro-Nazi Dorjot and Deat. The only French flags which escaped the prying eyes of the conquerors were those painted on the entrance of the city's public laundries.

SHOW COLORS
 Ingenious Parisians always found some means, however, to display the French national colors. Shop windows were arranged so that, by accident, the goods displayed were in sequence blue, white and red. Despite the most careful guard, every morning there appeared on the grave of the Unknown Soldier at the Arc de Triomphe a fresh tribute of blue, white and red flowers.

Street arrests were of course, commonplace. The stories of gettogo brutalities in Paris would fill volumes. I will cite only a few examples which I personally witnessed.

Whenever the Allied air forces came over Paris, the French would stand on the streets and watch quietly, but proudly. One night a man dressed in civilian clothes pointed to bombers overhead and said: "That's their liberation. Bombs on civilians."

"They never bomb the city, but only the factories in the suburbs," corrected a young bystander of about 14. Whereupon the civilian proclaimed himself to be a Gestapo agent, struck the youth hard in the face, handcuffed him and dragged the boy away with him.

It goes without saying that no one could express an anti-German opinion without the greatest of caution. It was doubly hard to hold one's tongue because the Germans seemed to delight in provocation. There was, for example, the daily parade of the guard at 1 o'clock from the Place de la Concorde to the Arc de Triomphe. During this lunch hour display of arrogance no one was permitted to cross Paris' most famous boulevard.

HOTELS RESTRICTED
 Normally the curfew was either 11 o'clock or midnight. If one could not get home before that hour, it was best to stay in a hotel somewhere. Even that was not easy, in all but a handful of the hotels no native Parisians were admitted. Indeed, before one could enter any hotel at all he had to be invited by a resident. And, of course, the Ger-

Plans to Sever Germany Denied

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(P)—The official Russian news agency Tass denied Thursday that the tri-power European advisory commission in London is considering cutting up Germany into small states upon her unconditional surrender.

In a Moscow broadcast, the agency said: "The problem is often raised in the British and American press concerning the possibility of Germany's dismemberment into several independent small states. Projects of this kind, however, have not been and are not considered by the European advisory commission."

Soviet Russia, the United States and Britain are represented on the commission.

The Russian news agency said that the following conclusions on the results achieved by the European advisory commission could be drawn from available reports out of London:

(1) The commission has "approved the most important document, namely, on Germany's unconditional surrender."

(2) Representatives of the big three powers agreed on the procedure for disarming Germany. Tass said the agreement "also points out that Germany must be demilitarized in the interests of the preservation and insurance of peace."

(3) The commission approved a document on the procedure of the occupation of Germany. Tass said, "according to the draft of occupation elaborated by the European advisory commission, Germany shall be divided into three zones of occupation. The eastern part of Germany, including also East Prussia, shall constitute the zone of occupation by the Soviet and armed forces."

(4) The agency said Berlin, although it falls into the zone of occupation of the Soviet armed forces in conformity with the agreement reached shall also be divided into three zones and occupied by the troops of the three powers. The rest of Germany shall be divided into two—northwestern and southwestern—zones, one of which shall be occupied by the British and the other by the American troops.

(5) That the three Allies commanders-in-chief will form an Allied control council exercising supreme power in Germany.

Lost Ditch Defense Work

Chinese coolies, working desperately against time, dig defense trench near Kwelin, major Allied air base in China, in effort to forestall rapid Japanese advance. Loss of Kwelin airfield would curtail bombing of enemy shipping to the extent of greatly prolonging the war against Japan, and might even rank as major upset.

Byrnes Says Control Must Be Continued On Prices, Wages

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(P)—War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes said yesterday the government must continue its controls over prices and wages after the war "until the dangers of inflation are passed."

Although he did not mention specifically the Little Steel formula limiting wage increases to 15 per cent above January, 1942 levels, he said: "While we are prosecuting the war we must continue just as wage control must continue, and the relationship between wages and prices must be stabilized."

The war labor board now is conducting final hearings on labor demands that the Little Steel formula be scrapped.

Byrnes cited bureau of labor statistics figures showing a 25.3 per cent rise in the cost of living since January, 1941, but said average weekly earnings have gone up 51.3 per cent and average hourly earnings have increased 36.4 per cent.

Texas Professor Is Helpful to Mexico In Dairy Industry

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 28.—Plans of the Republic of Mexico to put its dairy products manufacturing industry on a modern and sanitary basis have been aided by a good-will tour of duty lasting six months for A. V. Moore, dairy products specialist of the department of dairy husbandry of the agricultural and mechanical college of Texas, who has just returned from the national school of agriculture at Chapingo, 25 miles out of Mexico City where he taught a course in dairy products manufacturing and put the new creamery at the school in operation.

Buildings housing the school once constituted a hacienda belonging to former President Porfirio Diaz who gave them to the Mexican government in 1924. Enrollment in the school is limited to 400, Moore reported, and these are handicapped through the office of the secretary of agriculture from all over the country. A student must have a high school education, and the course at Chapingo requires seven years. It includes generally the agricultural course such as given at schools in this country like the Texas A&M college, and also gives the fundamentals of engineering. When a student finishes the course he is sent to an isolated and undeveloped section where he performs duties similar to those of our county agricultural agents, Moore said.

The Mexican government pays all costs of the student's education at Chapingo, including books, clothes, meals and lodging, and transportation to and from the school.

Chapingo is in the area of greatest dairy cattle development in Mexico. Professor Moore advised the quality of the cattle and feed raising facilities are very good. A cooperative milk marketing association has been formed whereby members bring their milk to the new creamery for pasteurization at a small fee, then it is sold in Mexico City. The national school of agriculture has its own dairy herd and produces its requirements of milk, butter, cheese and ice cream.

The purpose of the school is not only to train its food producing experts but to establish facilities, like the creamery, which will serve as models for similar plants throughout the country, Moore stated.

L. D. Mallory, agricultural attaché to the American ambassador at Mexico City, is working closely with the Mexican government in getting specialists in this country, like Professor Moore, assigned to various experimental enterprises. It is largely through his efforts with the U. S. department of agriculture that specialists from the Texas A&M college are putting our good neighbor policy into practical application.

WAR FUND WEEK
 AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—(P)—The week of October 9-14 will be observed as war fund week in Texas public schools.

In a letter to Ben H. Powell, president of the United War Chest of Texas, State Supt. L. A. Woods said that all teachers, students, and patrons would be urged to support war chest agencies.

Loan Rate on Life Insurance Policies Lowest Since 1920

LIFE insurance policy loans outstanding at mid-year reached a record low for the past 15 years and the ratio of policy loans to total policy reserves is now the lowest since 1920, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. By June 30, the total policy loans had dropped to approximately $2,100,000,000 from the peak to $3,800,000,000 reached in 1932, at the bottom of the depression, and the loan ratio declined to 0.13 per cent from the 0.35 per cent of 1932. By December, it is expected the loan total will have declined to about $1,800,000,000 and the loan ratio to 0.08 per cent.

Anti-inflation Aid
 "By year-end the total of policy loans outstanding will have been reduced by over a billion dollars or about 50 per cent of the total of the war," Holgar J. Johnson, president of the Institute, said today. "The total of loan repayments in these areas has been even greater as the net reduction takes into account new loans made. This loan reduction has been an important anti-inflation contribution to the national economy. It represents a strengthening of the resources of our people with which to meet future emergencies and a strengthening of their insurance security programs."

Policy loans relate to an important extent to the general tone of business and family financial conditions, the Institute said in its report. A survey has been conducted since 1940 shows that high points in the ratio of loans to reserves have always been reached during periods of general depression and low points during periods of relative prosperity. In the opening years of this century, when the general tone of economic welfare was good. There were several minor depressions in the ensuing years and the period, not one of outstanding prosperity, culminated in the panic of 1907. During these years the loan ratio increased.

There was a slight decrease in 1909, in the recovery following that panic, but the loan ratio increase was then resumed, reaching a high point during the pre-war depression of 1914.

Followers Business Trends
 In the years of World War I prosperity, the loan ratio was sharply reduced, reaching a low point in 1920, when the first post-war depression broke. Concurrent with that, the loan ratio turned sharply upward. In the pre-1929 years of relative prosperity, the loan ratio dipped again, but when the depression broke in 1929, the loan ratio pyramided, reaching an all-time high in 1932. During the recovery years and the present steadily declining, reaching a new low since 1900 this year, as the business index has reached a new high. Some part of the decrease has been due to the shift to bank loans, with policies as collateral, but overall there has been a consistent decrease since 1932.

"The relationship is a natural one," the Institute continued, "because policy loans primarily represent financing aid to families in emergency circumstances. These emergency circumstances are naturally at a peak in times of depression and at a minimum in times of prosperity. Life insurance reserves are the last line reserve of most families, but they are called upon and render an important service in time of need."

FDR Believed Not In Favor Hall Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(P)—President Roosevelt, it is said on high authority, has told peace planners that he will not accept Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's plan to reduce postwar Germany to an agricultural state.

The president, it is said, may issue a specific policy order clarifying the life American planning should take on German peace policy or he may pounce on the Morgenthau plan, saying nothing about it formally.

Before Morgenthau advances his de-industrialization policy for Germany, American planning called for Allied control of Germany's post-war industry.

Russian and British attitudes on political and industrial control of post-war Germany and the extent to which the Reich will be partitioned are not fully known here.

The first paper mill in the United States was built in 1800 at Germantown, Pa.

Commons Reminded Of U. S. Elections

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill reminded commons today that an election was on in the United States and told members "not to be startled or carried away by sensational reports" during the campaign.

"The U. S. is a land of free speech," he said, "nowhere is speech freer. Not even here where we sedulously cultivate it, even in its most repulsive form."

"But when I see some of the accounts given of conversations I am supposed to have had with the President of the United States, I can only recall a Balfourian phrase of many years ago when he said that the accounts given bore no more relation to the actual facts than the wildest tales of the Arabian Nights to the ordinary incidents of domestic life in the east."
