Where's the Ninth? It May Be 'King Pin'

LONDON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Where is Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's U. S. Ninth army? Secrecy with which Allied headquarters is surrounding this fighting force has left its movements and probable present location a matter of conjecture on both sides of the western front. Its whereabouts, when finally made known, may be the key to Allied strategy—the master plan to deliver a final knockout blow to Germany. Allied headquarters emphasized the element of mystery concerning Simpson's Ninth army when it officially disclosed last night that the French First army has been combined with the American Seventh army to form the sixth army group holding the extreme right flank of the western front. Previously, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had said only that the new army group was composed of "French and American units."

Willkie's Body Is Returned to Home

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The body of Wendell L. Willkie was en route today to his native Indiana after funeral services attended by the great and obscure at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday. At Rushville the massive bronze casket will be placed in a crypt to await the return of Willkie's son, Lt. (jg) Philip Willkie, from Atlantic convoy duty. Edward Willkie, a brother, accompanied the body to Indiana while Mrs. Willkie remained here to meet her son. Mrs. Willkie declined an offer from the office of the secretary of war for burial of her husband in Arlington National cemetery. Lamoyne Jones, Willkie's secretary, said.

Fire Extinguishers Will Be Inspected

The junior chamber of commerce at its regular luncheon meeting in the Hillson hotel yesterday, voted to make a thorough inspection of all fire extinguishers in the Pampa business district tomorrow and Friday. The organization, headed by B. B. Altman, Jr., president, will conduct the inspection as its part in the observance of National fire week, and will make recommendations to extinguisher owners as to the methods of recharging, and replacing cylinders that need replacing. Fire Chief Ben R. White said.

Boldest Foray of Pacific War Is Delivered Japs, 89 Planes Downed

By LEONARD MILLIMAN Associated Press War Editor
Hundreds of carrier-borne American planes, ranging in time to within 200 miles of Japan, struck at the Ryukyu Islands Monday (U. S. time) in their boldest attack of the Pacific war, destroyed 89 planes and sank or damaged 58 surface craft. Tokyo radio said today 400 torpedo bombers and fighters participated in the surprise raid. It said they came in four waves, from dawn until mid-afternoon, roving over 500 miles of the island chain between Southern Japan and Formosa.

QUITE A DUCKY IDEA

On land and water, the "duck" is a versatile vehicle, as is evidenced above. Two of them, lashed together, form a catamaran to transport a P-38 from ship to shore. Until a year ago, fighter planes were disassembled before shipment, but, thanks to the "duck," planes now sent overseas reach destinations ready to fly.

Farmer Has Been Slighted, Says Kansas Governor

Renewed attention to the farm vote brought into the presidential campaign today a republican view of the American farmer as a man harassed by "overlapping control agencies" and a democratic assertion that under the new deal one poor soul has been made to bloom. It was probably the closest approach to Japan of any great U. S. naval force during this war. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported the supporting ships were damaged and losses to Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carrier planes were light. Tokyo asserted 26 attacking aircraft were shot down.

The attack, the first in the area at the very gates of the East China sea, failed to stir out the Japanese home fleet or the air armadas based in Nippon and Formosa, both of which should have been within range of the American carriers. It was probably the closest approach to Japan of any great U. S. naval force during this war. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported the supporting ships were damaged and losses to Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carrier planes were light. Tokyo asserted 26 attacking aircraft were shot down.

Newspaper Accuracy, To Him, Is First

DALLAS, Oct. 11.—(AP)—G. B. Dealey, dean of American publishers, chairman of the board of The Dallas Morning News, today rounded out 70 years continuous work with the oldest business institution in Texas. His celebration called for an eight-hour work day.

He remembers Atlantic sailing ships, civil war heroes and reconstruction. He remembers Ulysses S. Grant at Galveston in 1860, when he showed the globe-trotting president a new addressing machine. Phil Sheridan was there too. The recent Sheridan who had said, in 1866, "If I owned Texas and all hell, I'd rent out Texas and live in hell!"

He buys his copy of his newspaper, and buys copies for grandsons, nephews and other kinsmen in the services, about whom he has had news of heroism and tragedy. Plans for celebration of today's anniversary were waved aside by Dealey because of war conditions and because he says people have done too much for him.

All the honors the Lone Star state can heap on a distinguished Texan have been accorded. He carries them lightly. Everything from his Phi Beta Kappa key—honorary, he points out—to his Knighthood of San Jacinto, the order founded by Sam Houston after the battle for Texas independence.

U.S. Heavies Strike Behind Enemy Line

LONDON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Germans rushed up troops tonight in efforts to reinforce Aachen, which American artillery and planes were pounding after the Germans rejected a surrender ultimatum. Berlin announced that the great German-held port of Memel was surrounded by Russians who reached the Baltic sea north and south of the city. Moscow last reported the Red army within seven miles of the port. The Germans, reporting two great Russian attacks north of Warsaw, said the Red autumn offensive was in full swing and that the general attack against East Prussia had begun.

Big Shells Fall in Doomed City

A terrible weight of heavy shells and air explosives was loosed upon Aachen, fulfilling the pledge of the commander of encircling U. S. First army units that it would be ruthlessly wrecked if the garrison fought on. It was a warning to all Germany that her cities are subject to ruin one-by-one if Hitler's orders for defense to the last are heeded.

Aachen Test of German Morale

First major German city to be invested by the Allies, this ancient seat of Charlemagne's empire provided the first test whether the Germans will see their civilian centers destroyed to carry out Hitler's stand-or-die orders. The garrison within the stronghold was estimated at 1,500, mostly fanatical S S troops. Of the city's 165,000 civilians, all but about 15,000 have been evacuated.

County GOP Will Stay With Dewey

George Cree, chairman of the Gray county republican committee, announced this morning to The News that the group would work for Tom Dewey and John Bricker, GOP nominees for the nation's highest offices respectively. Chairman Cree, replying to a suggestion by the Texas regulars earlier this week that the GOP in Texas should rally to the side of the regulars and support their electors, said he had received a telegram from the state GOP national committee, urging intensified work for Dewey and Bricker.

Belgium To Be Repaid

Business Women Celebrate Silver Anniversary at Formal Dinner

Pampa Business and Professional Women's club celebrated the silver anniversary of their national federation last night at a formal dinner given at the Country Club.

Dinner was served from tables placed in a "W" shape lighted by candles in crystal holders. Fall flowers of chrysanthemums and autumn leaves decorated the tables and place cards were individual corsages.

Tommie Stone gave the invocation after which the welcoming address was given by the local club president, Muriel Kitchens. Miss Willard Ekins sang "Alice Blue Gown" and "Among My Souvenirs" with Inez French accompanying at the piano.

Main speaker for the evening was Audrey Fowler, state legislator chairman. Her topic was "Silver Jubilee."

A quarter of a century ago the women workers of America found themselves projected into an exciting new set of circumstances. Suddenly the obstacles which had barred their entrance into business and professions were down, leveled by the emergency of war.

The hostess served refreshments to thirteen members of the club: Mesdames Charles Schuyler, C. N. Barrett, Roy Bourland, Curtis Douglas, Wm. Fraser, George Friant, E. L. Green, Frank Perry, Bruce Pratt, Walter Rogers, E. C. Siskewil, Arthur Tread, and V. Wilkinson.

Make Children Learn Responsibility At Home To Defeat Juvenile Delinquency

By MARIANNE PACHNER NEA Staff Correspondent MARYSVILLE, Ohio - "Teen-age cantons? Tommyrot!" says Marguerite Reiley, superintendent of Ohio's progressive reformatory for women here in Marysville. "Kids are beginning to feel they must be entertained! That it's the responsibility of their elders to keep them amused. Why, when I was a youngster, we made up our own games. We used our imaginations. And we played in our own back yards, or in the parlor. We were at home or we were near it. Where we belonged."

The large, motherly woman whose initiative, intelligence and humanity have transformed the one-time dreaded penal institution into a feminine version of Father Flanagan's Boys' Town, emphasized a favorite word of hers. The word "home."

"Youngsters today are over-stimulated and 'over-entertained,'" she went on. "They have no sense of responsibility. All of their inclinations are away from the home instead of towards it. And that's where trouble starts!"

Marguerite Reiley doesn't speak only as a woman whose business it has been to deal with people. She speaks also as the mother of two grown children.

"After all," this wise-eyed woman continued, "children are a product of environment. If they're part of a home that has roots and a feeling of permanency about it, if they have certain duties toward that home, they are automatically anchored to responsible living and are not likely to go off at a tangent."

"Why shouldn't 15-year-old Johnnie put the manual training he receives at school into practice around the house of evenings? Instead of asking father for a half dollar, if he has done nothing to earn, to spend at a movie house opera down the block? The chances of his becoming a cowboy are extremely remote, yet all of his imaginative energy is being slanted in that direction. He is much more likely to become a railroad brakeman with a home of his own which will one day be the source of his greatest pleasure and greatest responsibility. Why not slant his energies toward that?"

Why shouldn't motherless 17-year-old Mary curl up with a love confession magazine after school until such time as her dad gets home from the defense plant where he's working and can prepare supper? "I'm not making that up - it's a true story. Mary's father came to me just the other day and asked what he should do about it. After supper Mary sits around and waits for a phone call that will take her out 'joking.' And dad is left to wash the dishes. Mary feels no obligation at all toward her home, or toward the father who supports her."

The teen-age problem today can be traced almost back to the cradle, thinks Mrs. Reiley. To concentrate attention on Baby Sally by making her recite for company, to forego discipline when little Teddy bangs away at the neighbor's piano, is to develop an ego that must be continually nourished. And this attitude comes smack up against the basic rule of democracy: "Do what you want as long as you do not trespass on the rights of others."

Juvenile delinquency is trespassing on the rights of others. An unmanageable juvenile is not necessarily a criminal but there are some vicious knicks in the law whereby he may be treated as such. And therein lies a threat to the future.

"Juvenile delinquents aren't criminals. They're just kids who aren't taught responsibility at home."

ACCIDENTS COME IN DROVES WATERLOO, Iowa - (AP) - Mrs. Martha Brown felt she was entitled to a quiet and uneventful trip when she left to join her husband, a war worker in Los Angeles. During the few days before the journey she caught and tore two fingers in a washing machine, suffered three gashes on the forehead while preparing a meal, sprained a wrist, was bitten by a stray dog, had an abscess removed from her eye and broke her clasp.

Mary feels no obligation toward her home or the father who supports her.

WHAT HAS WAR DONE TO YOUR SON?

He's Nervous, Explosive, Impatient, High-Strung-- To Be Normal Again, He Needs Your Sincerest Help

From mine fields...

By DIXON WEXTER
Author of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home"
(Written for NEA Service)

No manual has even been written for changing the soldier back into a civilian. Yet at vital war's end this is the most vital problem on the home front. The most important post-war surplus is not guns and planes, or munition factories, but the millions of hands and brains with their nerve reflexes trained for a job that no longer exists. Just now, vocational experts in Washington and elsewhere are trying to translate the skills of a radar operator, bombight mechanic, or flash ranging observer into peaceful tasks that come closest to matching. But the personal and emotional readjusting of a man, from war to peace, is even more basic. So far it has received little attention.

"You get scared to death in the morning, come through it, and spend the afternoon reading or playing cards," writes a dictioneer pilot in the South Pacific to his mother. From accumulating experience at the rate of 400 miles an hour, how is he going to sily back into the life of a dairy farmer in upper New York state? Certainly no man-made machine could be expected to pass abruptly from full speed ahead into reverse without stripping the gears, or some kind of functional damage. The human nervous system is far more adaptable, but even so, tension takes its toll.

NEEDS FRIENDSHIP
Young soldiers now returning on three-week furlough after 18 months overseas, under the army's rotation plan, are apt to be nervous, explosive and impatient; chain-smokers, seekers after stimulants and diversions. They blow off energy in rough and tumble play among themselves, often worrying about their blood-pressure or insomnia, or critical about "the way things have been going in their absence." Also, civilians as a whole But this does not mean that the average man will return a hopeless nihilist. He needs a friendly briefing on what to do. The ideal counselor is a veteran of World War I, who has both seniority and understanding of the problem, and whose advice will be heard respectfully by his junior. Also, civilians as a whole—mothers, sisters, wives, neighbors, friends, employers—should learn as much as they can about the psychology of veterans, and act accordingly. The returnee can no more slip effortlessly into the old life than he an blot out the memory of a thousand things which the stay-at-homes have not shared with him.

These experiences no one else can quite understand, save fellow veterans and preferably the men in his old outfit. For this reason he will seem for a long time more at ease among ex-soldiers, who speak his language, than among even his home folks. His desire to be with them should cause no jealousy or ill-will from wife or mother. In time he will rebuild the bridge of his own experiences and communication with those he loves at home. They are his debtors for sacrifices made, and should treat him patiently, tactfully.

HE'S DISCIPLINED
What has war done to him? First of all, it has disciplined him to take orders from superiors, to wait endlessly for other people, and sink his identity in a serial number. Being an American, not a Prussian or Jap, he has no stomach for regimentation as a way of life.

Once out of uniform, he will want to be the captain of his soul. He will not like to beg for a job, cap in hand. On escaping from orders, he'll be an individualist rampant, often with a touch of youthful rebellion against elders and people in civil authority. But with the help of civilian understanding, his pride in himself and what he has done should turn not into arrogance but into a deeper self-respect.

After the last war, much was said about "the silent soldier," the boy who refused to talk about the war. Today many stay-at-homes have been forewarned, and talk only of tedious neighborhood gossip until the man on furlough sometimes bursts "But, Mother, don't you care what I've been through?"

No two soldiers are alike, or have exactly the same battle memories. Some want achingly to talk, to their family and friends, about the war. They gain a certain relief from spilling it. Often it is better to unclog painful memories than try to forget them. On the other hand, few soldiers like to be lionized on a sick, and air the grim, sometimes terrible recollections of Anzio or Tarawa.

The essence of tact is to let the veteran alone, to steer questions, interviews, and spilling solely according to his inclination. If he wants to sit in a rocking chair in the sun, smoking and thinking, it is unwise to interrupt his reverie. He wants sympathy and friendship rather than parades.

At the end of the war the veteran will come home restless, with a nervous energy that the old routine of desk or work bench cannot absorb. Sometimes he will stride outdoors to walk off in the wind and rain. If long exposed to battle fire, he will be moodily-depressed by gloomy weather or personal failures, prone to worry, or find his nerves frayed by noises like the backfiring of a car. After his leave-up state, he will need what the air force calls decompression—of relaxing slowly under the sedative routines of civil life, while finding safety valve for his energy in outdoor sports and games.

No. One American Farmer Got Start With Pig, a Crop

AUSTIN, Oct. 11—(AP)—Twenty-year-old Elton Ellison of Ralls, Crosby county, announced yesterday as the star American farmer of the future farmers of America, began his agricultural career with a pig, a feed crop and a cotton patch.

Today he owns a tractor, other farming equipment, five cows, two brood sows and a flock of 400 hens and until he entered the armed forces operated the home-farm in partnership with his father, purchased an additional 200 acres in partnership and rented an additional 270 acres.

Accepting vocational agricultural knowledge he acquired in Crosbyton and Lorenzo schools and Texas Technological college, he progressed to the point where farming earned him a net of $3,505 last year.

He was unable to appear in person at the FFA convention in Kansas City to hear himself proclaimed the "best all-around young farmer" among 250,000 members of the organization and receive a $500 award. It was the first time the award went to a Texas.

Robert A. Manire, state director of vocational agriculture for the state board of vocational education, said that from the time he first enrolled in vocational agriculture Ellison has been a member of the FFA and has served on several judging teams. He participated in 15 projects undertaken cooperatively by members of his chapter while in high school and since graduation has been a member of the Lubbock county cooperative association and the Ralls cooperative.

He studied at Texas Tech for three semesters and lived on the home farm for two of these semesters. The third semester he lived on the college farm.

Farming hasn't always been easy for him. He has contended with droughts, pestilence and low prices. But, says Ellison: "I like farming. It's the only life for me. And I believe it will be good to the soil it will be good to us."

TAKES CHANCES

Before he has settled into old grooves, the veteran is prone to be a shade more reckless in taking chances—whether in driving a car or picking a wife or making a business speculation. But he also craves security, after the vast uncertainties of war, with a job and a home of his own. While a man in uniform, certain responsibilities have been suspended for him, whether that of figuring up his income tax or the choice of a career, and at first the spur of making endless decisions may seem painful. He may almost pine for somebody in authority to tell him what to do.

On the other hand, army life has often taught him lessons of leadership, technical know-how, and self-confidence from travel and new associations. He returns more mature, and like all "old soldiers" will think of himself as aged beyond his years. He has known fear, and learned something about his inmost self in meeting it.

War's effect is to accent a man's traits more often than to change them. But whether he thinks in terms of God, or Fate, or chance, he will have reached certain bedrock conclusions about his own courage and reliance upon a Power outside himself when the going gets hard. And on getting home he is apt to feel that America, untouched by the ravage of war thanks to his efforts, is a beautiful country and one that was worth fighting for.

Billions Needed For China Relief

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—China figures it will need almost $2,500,000,000 worth of relief supplies in the first year after liberation, and has asked the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration to provide $945,000,000 of this total.

UNRRA published the Chinese program today, stating that for the first 18 months after liberation, China will require 10,000,000 tons of imported supplies with 55 per cent for rehabilitation and 45 per cent for direct relief.

About 320 technical experts will be needed to administer relief in China, the report estimated, although recommendations are made for establishment of Chinese government commissions to direct the program.

An example of the extent to which the Chinese expect to make clothings, which will be of cotton only, is cited in the request for 983 tons of needles.

The first broadcast of London's Big Ben was made in 1923.

County Petition Being Studied

Petitioning state war chest officials to place Gray county's 1944 chest quota at a figure in accordance with population, E. J. Hanna, delegate of the Gray war chest committee, yesterday conferred with Judge B. L. Powell, Texas chairman of the National War Chest Fund Inc., in Austin.

Hanna in a report to Pampa announced that while the state officials did not accept the Gray proposal, they did not refuse the petition.

The state chairman, after deliberation, according to Hanna, will render his decision through the mails to J. W. Garman, Gray county war chest chairman.

A quota of $18,422 was originally assigned to Gray county.

Resuming his work of clearing the Gray county court docket of cases, Judge Sherman White yesterday imposed a fine of $200, plus 60 days jail sentence on C. L. Henderson of McLennan, on a charge of drunken driving.

The case of Earl Kitchens, Miami, saw a docketed jury until a late hour last night. Kitchens is alleged to have been operating a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicants. The case will remain on the county docket subject to call.

HEALTH QUIZ

Do you have poor digestion?  YES  NO
Do you feel headachy after eating?  YES  NO
Do you get sour or upset easily?  YES  NO
Do you feel tired—listless?  YES  NO

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested, leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 10¢ and 25¢.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Back in their offices today after a trip to England and France were six members of a bipartisan congressional group.

The party, representatives Poage and Fisher, Texas democrats; Hayes (D-Ark.), Miller (R-Neb.), Phillips (R-Calif.) and Stockman (R-Ore.), arrived in New York yesterday by ship.

"We visited hospitals and army installations throughout England and France, as well as cities and towns which have been devastated by the German war machine," said Fisher.

"We learned a great deal first hand about the war and its problems and feel that it will help us in post-war planning and in enactment of legislation to help returning American veterans."

"I'm in a Cold Sweat!"

FEAR IS WHAT DOES IT, and many a car-owner has felt that freezing chill this summer, when a sudden, new noise from his motor has filled him with dread that his car was chugging its last.

There's nothing like that fear to make a stupid driver resolve to follow better driving practices. The intelligent motorist needs no such warning; and he always makes certain that the motor runs only with quality oil in the crankcase.

Obviously there are a number of such oils. And to help you select one of them, easily and with certainty, Phillips gives you these facts:

Phillips offers a number of oils because car-owner's preferences and pocketbooks vary. But when you want our best oil, remember Phillips tells you frankly that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer to average motorists.

It's good for your motor, under today's reduced driving conditions, to change oil every two months, say experts. For that change, and for seasonal draining and refilling, you make sure of getting a quality lubricant, when you simply say: Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

Harvesters Begin Practice for Heavy New Mexico Wildcat Tilt

REMEMBER Oklahoma City's Cardinals, with tough Les Ming, fullback, that the Harvesters kept to a 7 to 0 score in Harvester Park, September 29?

Well the Harvesters' next foe, Clovis, New Mexico, Wildcats, will make the Cardinals look like midgets. Coach Otis Coffey of the Harvesters is taking advantage of a two-week respite between the Quana and Clovis games in drilling and training his Harvesters for tough meets they have ahead.

The Wildcats are boasting such plays as a shift from a short punt formation, into a double wing. They also run from a punt formation, and put a man in motion on a shift from double wing, after putting the quarterback out wide, forming a single wing with a flanker attack.

LeFors Will Meet Fast Skyrockets

Clovis formations are adaptable to fine passing attacks. The forming of the single wing from double is one of Coach "Dutch" Meyer's prize weapons for T. C. U.

The strong Wellington Skyrockets will invade Shaw Park, the home of the LeFors Pirates, in LeFors Friday night. Game time has been set at 8:15.

The Pirates are expecting the hardest game of the season when they take on the Skyrockets. Wellington has been picked as the winner of District 3A, from the beginning of the season, while the Pirates have been another team in the conference. The teams that these two clubs have played, and their season standings show that Wellington has much the stronger team.

The Skyrockets have lost only to the strong Childers AA team, while the Pirates have won only two games. The only team which both clubs have played is the Glendon Broncos. Wellington easily defeated the Broncos last Friday night by a score of 21-0, while the week before the Pirates were able to score only two touchdowns against, the same team.

In the coming battle the Skyrockets will have much more experience on their club and a big added advantage in having had the same coach over a period of years.

The Pirate coach, H. C. England, is new both to LeFors and the district. The Pirates have made rapid strides of progress under Coach England's guidance, and it is their wish that they might have encountered Wellington later in the season.

Although definitely the under dogs in this grid battle Friday night, the LeFors boys promise to give a good account of themselves. They will give the Skyrockets a good work-out when they entertain them at Shaw Park. This will be the outstanding game for the Pirates this season.

From now on are tough competition. The Harvesters are going on every grid field, and against every opponent to play for keeps, because every game is a "re-ouster."

About 300 people are killed and 1,000 injured every year in home fires and explosions due to improper use of inflammable cleaning fluids.

Joe Louis Back From War Theaters

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 11—An Ohio football official reports finding the toughest and best football player in the world in a game between Columbus St. Charles and West Jefferson—West Jefferson pass was intercepted and as the official headed toward the pileup, one West Jeff boy called "Hey, Ref watch that 79. He's slugging me on every play." Five steps further on another kid complained "Gee whiz, watch that 79. He just slugged me." As he stopped where the players were being untangled, the official heard still another West Jeff boy remark "Keep your eyes on that 79; he just slugged me." When the pile of players finally was loosened there on the bottom was 79—with the ball—along the same lines is a story they tell in town about heavy Graham, who used to referee a lot of big games—on one occasion a player kept complaining that a rival was slugging, asking "Did you see that?" twice Graham ignored the complaint, then after a third terrific belt, the player again asked "Did you see that?" "Yeah, red pill the Graham." "Wasn't it a daisy?"

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Joe Glicker, Paterson, N. J. Evening News: "Similar to end all similars; as ineffective as a St. Louis Browns pitcher."

The champion arrived here by plane yesterday, and was to depart today for his permanent base at Camp Sibert, Ala.

While in Italy he took several artillery shots at the German Gothic line, pulling lanyards on big guns manned by the 82nd division.

The champ, now 30, said he'd be ready to defend his title when the war ends.

"Lots of fellows have been good heavyweights at 35 or 36," he said. "I guess I'll be all right for a while. The army is treating me right, letting me fight like this, and keep close to the game. But there's gotta be lots of good boys come out of that army—yes sir, lots of 'em."

Texas Grid Battles Loom With Bombers

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 11—The second army air force's Superbombers, their two-year football winning streak broken by the Iowa Sea-hawks, are preparing for a two-game invasion of Texas gridirons.

Saturday, the flyers go against the University of New Mexico in the Sun Bowl at El Paso and the following week they take on the North Texas Aggies at Odessa.

El Paso will be a familiar setting for Maj. William B. (Red) Reese of the Superbombers two years ago he led the team, then known as the bombers, to a 13-7 victory over Hardin-Simmons in the Sun Bowl.

New Mexico, fast and tricky, took heart from the 12 to 8 victory of the Sea-hawks over the 2AAF outfit which had breezed through five victories this season.

The Reese attack spluttered and stalled against pre-flight in Memorial stadium at Linton, Neb., before 29,000 spectators. The Sea-hawks were strengthened by the addition of several hard-bitten offensive gridmen. Two of these, tackle Vic Scheich and end Jim Poole, were the outstanding linemen on the field and conspired to check the 2AAF passing act. Glen Dobbs, who managed to complete only eight of 20 throws for 71 yards.

Dobbs, however, owns one of the outstanding passing records in the land, with a season's showing of 32 completions in 50 throws for 451 yards, six of his passes going for

Pug Is Still Plugging the Name Manders

By HAROLD Y. RATTAP
ABLENE, Oct. 11—You'd have to go a long way back to find a full week-end that one of Albert Manders' boys wasn't on the favorite team of Milbank, S. D., whether it be Milbank High, Minnesota, Drake, South Dakota, the Chicago Bears or the Brooklyn Tigers.

Seven husky Manders lads have cavorted on the gridiron and one of them still is going strong.

He's Clarence (Pug) Manders, co-captain of the Brooklyn professional Tigers, who trained here, the 190-pound Pug is in his sixth campaign with the Flatbush footballers.

Pug played at Milbank High and later at Drake, where he was quite a star. He was in the college all-star game at Chicago in 1939 and went immediately into pro ranks.

Perhaps his biggest year was 1941 when he led the professional league in ground gained and made the touchdowns. And Texas fans will see in Johnny Straykalski one of the hardest-running backs in service football. The former "Marquette" sophomore has carried 31 times for 273 yards, an average of 8.8 yards per try.

Baltimore Leads In Little Series

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11—The Louisville Colonels of the American association face an uphill fight in tonight's sixth little world series game with two victories to Baltimore's three.

Baltimore's Orioles, champions of the International league, pounded three Louisville nipers last night to fashion a 10-0 victory behind the four-hit pitching of Charles (Red) Emmer, ace of the Oriole staff.

DEER TAG ON GARBAGE CANS
CHICAGO—Violators of the garbage ordinance in Hays, Kan., are notified of their infractions by tags tied to their garbage pails, says the Public Administration Clearing House. The tags list the five regulations covered in the ordinance.

Brother To Play Brother Saturday

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 11—Brother will face brother at Ann Arbor, Mich., Saturday when Northwestern and Michigan football teams meet in a Big Ten conference game.

They are Duane Sickels, veteran Northwestern end, and Quentin Sickels, a freshman who has won a guard post with the Wolverines. Both were outstanding high school athletes in their home town of Benton Harbor, Mich.

Gyroscopic motor cars, with only one front and one rear wheel, have been operated successfully.

If U. S. farm fire losses could be reduced by 50 per cent, about 1,750 lives would be saved each year.

Don't Keep Your Folks In the DARK

There's no reason for empty sockets or poor home lighting today.

Most electrical dealers now have lamp bulbs in all common home sizes.

Of course, you need more than bulbs to produce the proper light for easy, comfortable seeing.

Put the right size bulb in each lamp or fixture.

If possible, have white linings in your lamp shades, to reflect more usable light.

Move lamps closer to points of use, so they shed more light directly on the work.

In rearranging lamps, you may also be able to make them serve two people.

and so increase their usefulness.

Your family needs good light, for the long evenings of fall and winter.

Make sure they get it. Sight is priceless—light is cheap.

Stalier Fracas Is Being Probed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Senate investigators have made only a preliminary inquiry into the "battle of Stalier," and it is still to be decided whether there will be a full-fledged investigation, Chairman Green (D-R-I) of the campaign expenditures committee told reporters.

"You might say we have made just a preliminary exploration," Green said. "There was so much smoke we wanted to find out first if there was any fire. If there was any fire, we would go ahead with a full investigation."

He declined to identify any of the witnesses questioned thus far in the fist-throwing incident which followed President Roosevelt's opening campaign speech before the AFL teamsters union last month. Two naval officers reported the fight grew out of a series of political questions put to them by members of the union after the address. Union officials and the White House have denied any knowledge of the affair.

NEWSPAPER

agreement to his son, Ted Dealey, in 1940.

His lifelong motto has been: stick to the job. Today his interest in rounding out seventy years on the News was equalled by anticipation of starting the 71st.

Managing Editor Harry Withers, a mere youngster of 46 years service on the News, counts on "Mr. G. B." as one of his good news sources. He knows people, he participates in the life of his city. This summer he went on a 1,500 mile tour with a Dallas town planning committee. He vacationed in the hill country of Central Texas, but thinks a vacation serves mainly to make a man appreciate home.

Always deeply interested in the editorial page, Dealey reads the proofs of all the News editorials—and corrects occasional errors in dates. He says "accuracy" remains the most important word in the newspaperman's dictionary.

Informative, independent editorial pages remain one of the bulwarks of the American press, in his opinion.

He wants his newspaper to carry on under the simple rule of a free and freedom-preserving press to chronicle the day's events without bias or disproportion and to interpret them honestly in the interest of the public, according to its best light and ability.

The longer he lives and works, G. B. Dealey becomes more convinced that men and women who can create good humor are the greatest public benefactors.

THE STORY OF A NEW OUTFIT:

Alamo Scouts, Pride of Gen. Walter Krueger's Army, Have Nerves of Steel, Kill Men With Their Bare Hands

Editor's Note: This is the first of three stories on the exploits of the Alamo Scouts, whose operations on reconnaissance patrol have been disclosed only recently by the army.

By MURLIN SPENCER

AN ADVANCED DUTCH NEW GUINEA BASE—(AP)—The Alamo Scouts are the most skilled of Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger's famed Sixth Army of jungle fighters. They kill a man with their hands or a knife. Equally important, they can write a full page description of a coconut tree.

They are men like Lt. John R. C. McGowan of (236) Lipscomb St., Amarillo, Tex., who led a daylight scouting patrol to heavily-defended Le Negros island and came out with highly valuable information.

They are men like Lt. John M. Dove who led a feign-like reconnaissance patrol deep within Japanese positions at Hollandia.

They are men like Lt. Michael J. Sombor of Los Negros, Tex., who led a patrol that rescued more than 100 missionaries in Dutch New Guinea.

Men long have thrilled at the heroism and skill of the western scouts who inspired the battle cry "Remember the Alamo." The daring, bravery and skill of the modern Alamo Scouts are no less than the men after whom they were named.

For nearly a year the Scouts have been a military secret. They are the pride of General Krueger who personally commands them and named them for the Alamo in his home city of San Antonio, Tex.

General Krueger's idea of teams of patrol scouts paid dividends from the very beginning. The first cavalry division under Maj. Gen. William Chace had been ordered to make a reconnaissance in force against the Admiralty Islands and, if feasible, to seize and hold them.

Chase's dismounted cavalrymen already were under way from the north side of New Guinea when General Krueger sent his scouts in for a final check.

In the darkness of a tropical night a Catalina flying boat sped them to Los Negros. McGowan and his scouts tumbled into a rubber boat and peddled hurriedly toward the south shore of Los Negros. They knew the Japanese were there.

The patrol quickly learned there were Japanese by the hundreds. Throughout the day the patrol hid in the jungle and early the next morning came out by Catalina.

HOLLYWOOD—Have you seen the latest product of the cigarette shortage—the pipe-smoking girl?

It seems that cigarette shortages started the fad when cigarette shortages first became scarce and now even the movie actresses here in Hollywood are taking up the pipe. Think what this could do to the movies!

Somewhat just can't picture Paul "Heuroid" putting two pipes in his mouth, lighting them and giving one to Bette Davis as he did with cigarettes in "Now, Voyager."

And Ginger Rogers might not have had a career at all. You'll remember Ginger made her hit as a seductive siren in "Young Man of Manhattan" with the tag line, "Cigarette Me, Big Boy. How seductive could she have been, saying, 'Corn Cob Pipe Me, Big Boy?'"

Paris Security Trading Resumed

PARIS, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Trading in foreign securities on the Paris Bourse, suspended since the Germans occupied the city, has been resumed.

The market opened in a state of uncertainty due to the publication of a decree in today's official journal ordering all persons and corporations owning foreign securities to turn in a list of them.

This led to belief in financial quarters the government might be planning to requisition the securities and use them to help pay off its foreign obligations.

ARMY FINALLY LOCATES ALEUT IN ALEUTIANS

AN ALEUTIAN ISLAND BASE—(AP)—Until recently, thousands of American soldiers and sailors have spent months and years on the Aleutians without seeing a native or recognizing one if they did see him. All the Aleuts were evacuated early in the war to southeastern Alaska, except a few on Attu who were captured by the Japanese.

It took an army special service officer to locate a native Aleut on the Aleutians. He turned out to be Eric Ralph Prokopoff, who returned to the islands after being drafted more than two years ago from his home on Atka Island.

About 200 farm buildings burnt every day in the United States and Canada.

Various Civilian Goods To Be Made In Near Future

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Some of the things Americans have wanted badly since the war started are being made now—or will be shortly—but don't expect the market to be flooded with them any time soon.

They include: domestic vacuum cleaners, aluminum ware, domestic electric cooking and heating appliances, kitchen and household utensils, medical office furniture, plated silverware.

The number of such items being produced will not fill all civilian needs. This kind of production is fairly scattered and limited, and many of the plants are small.

But these items and many others are being made under what the war production board (WPB) calls spot authorization. This is how it works:

On Aug. 15, WPB said in effect: plants which are not needed in whole, or in part, for war work, which are in areas not too badly pressed for manpower, and which can be spared the materials will be allowed to make civilian goods.

Plants in such a situation ask for permission. If they fulfill the requirements listed above, WPB gives the permission on materials and the war manpower commission on manpower.

The plan is intended to help plants reconform to civilian production where they can do without injuring the war effort. It starts the general reconversion rolling.

At the same time such plants—until Germany collapses and almost all government controls are lifted—will be kept employed, and they can be used for producing civilian goods.

Since Aug. 15, WPB has received 2,500 applications for spot authorization permission and has approved about 500.

(This spot authorization program is in addition to WPB's longstanding "programmed" production plan under which it orders certain plants to make certain needed civilian items.)

ST. MIHEL OLD STUFF TO THIS SOLDIER

NANCY, France.—(AP)—A tall, named captain in a cafe at Bar Le Two lifted his glass of beer and remarked: "I walked through this town 26 years ago as a private attacking St. Miheil. I've been in the army 26 years and enjoyed every minute of it."

He is Capt. Austin Collins of Fort Worth, Texas. He has made four "victorious" landings in this war. He is proud of being a rarity in the American citizen army—a professional soldier.

The final battle undoubtedly would have been more difficult if the cavalry had encountered the full Japanese forces at Hyane Harbor. Among captured documents was one in which a Japanese officer admitted: "We were fooled."

gusted as a liberal movement to deceive gullible and unthinking people."

The representative said in a prepared address that as the result of his work as chairman of the House committee on un-American activities he had made discoveries which showed the new deal opposing democracy as Texas and southern democrats have known it.

Said he: "There are certain telltale earmarks by which you can recognize the alien character of the new deal. We judge men by the company they keep. The communists, socialists and racketeers with sure instinct of kind of prey flocked to the new deal in such numbers that they have driven out the elements that might have kept it democratic and American."

"The un-American character of the new deal is shown by its policy in promoting class and racial consciousness in America. In their speeches to Negroes and the foreign-born in the East, they have said everything they could to stir up hatred against Southern people."

"There has been no demand among the Negroes for social equality or the right to vote in our primaries until the new deal agitated the question for political purposes. The new deal wants to build up in the south the same kind of political machines upon which they depend for elections in the East."

A. B. Culbertson of Fort Worth, a member of the Texas regulars executive committee, presided at the meeting. Merritt Gibson of Louisiana, campaign chairman for the regulars, introduced a second speaker, T. H. McGregor of Austin, who stated: "We are in a battle for principles and not for anybody's political ambition."

Columbus Day Will Be Commemorated

Commemorating Columbus day, the Pampa army air field band will play appropriate music when the regularly scheduled Thursday "Footlight Fantasies" makes its appearance in the enlisted men's service club at 8 p. m. tomorrow, followed by a dance which will be also attended by USO girls.

Music will range from barrelhouse boogie-woogie to modern and light classical stage music by such composers as Jerome Kern, George Gershwin, Victor Herbert and Cole Porter. One of the features of the evening will be several compositions played by the boogie-woogie John Kirby organization of the band.

Big French Liner Is Going 'Begging'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The one-time French luxury liner Normandie has become a "white elephant" which no one seems to want.

Since the navy some time ago halted its work looking forward converting the ocean giant into a transport, numerous official discussions have been held looking to the disposition of the vessel, but the navy has found no takers.

Soil Condition Is Favorable

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Rains and wet fields have delayed harvesting and other field work, but moisture conditions are highly favorable for rangelands and pastures and for growth of late feeds, the United States department of agriculture reported today.

Reviewing farm and ranch conditions for the week ending Oct. 9, the USDA reported:

Cotton was opening rapidly in northern, northwestern and western areas, and much was ready for pickers as intermittent rains again delayed harvest and lowered grades. Many north central counties were at the peak of harvest and picking was still active in south central counties, when weather permitted.

Small grain seeding made little progress during the week. Much of the Panhandle acreage is already up to a stand and will afford additional feed in a few weeks. Small grain fields in remaining areas, were up to a stand, were making very good progress.

Full vegetable cultivation in the Rio Grande valley and coastal bend districts was active under mostly favorable weather conditions.

Livestock held their recent gains and were in good condition. Stock water was generally adequate and pastures were in excellent condition, with the exception of a few eastern counties where general rains would be helpful. Prospects for winter grazing and feed appeared favorable.

SANDBERSON RITES

TRINITY, Texas, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday for Paul T. Sanderson, 56, president of the committee to honor a man who died in Mexico Monday. Burial will be in Texas State Sunday.

Sanderson, a brother of Mrs. Tom Connelly, wife of the senior U. S. senator for Texas, was chairman of the state prison board.

-Now fenders he Treats tenderly

War has proved the value of considerate driving.
And now this fine national habit keeps spreading.

There's been a fellow-feeling about cars. When it comes to even a dented fender it's no longer a question of who's to blame, but of sparing one another from costly slow repairs—and footwork. Some such spirit has been making live-and-let-live driving so general. It's only logical to be fully as thoughtful of your engine. You'll exercise wise foresight by having it OIL-PLATED.

You can defy internal acid corrosion... engine suicide! ... by means of OIL-PLATING. You can do it by changing to popular-priced patented Conoco Nth motor oil—energized to surface your engine's interior with an acid-resistant shield of OIL-PLATING. This is the result of the special Conoco Nth ingredient developed by costly pioneer research. And while fluid oil alone goes draining down to the crankcase, OIL-PLATING remains as closely attached as if it were chromium plating—keeps on serving its special purpose of hampering contact between corrosive acids and metals!

These unavoidable acids of combustion—always bad—reach their worst in cold weather, when there is rarely heat enough to get rid of acids. Hence they linger inside—aplenty. But every OIL-PLATED surface is armed against the spread of acid corrosion. That's why you want Conoco Nth oil now... from Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. He knows your correct seasonal grade. Continental Oil Company
