President Truman Announces Big Three Meeting Has Now Been Scheduled

Five State Witnesses Are Called in Garland Pearce Murder Trial

Results at Moscow and London Good

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—President Truman announced today that a Big Three meeting has been set, but he said he could not announce the time or place until his arrival there.

In obvious good humor following an earlier conference with Harry Hopkins and Joseph E. Davies, his representatives to Moscow and London, the President told the reporters the results they had obtained have been completely satisfactory and gratifying.

He said he would take Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., James F. Byrnes, former war mobilization director, and Davies to the Big Three meeting, but he said he would not go if his health permits.

The President said the all important thing was that London, Washington and Moscow continue the unity, confidence and respect which brought results in the military picture to make sure a lasting peace.

He, Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill, he said, must trust each other.

Discussing last night's announcement regarding the forthcoming meeting of American, Russian and British representatives with three groups of Polish representatives, the President said he thought we are on the way to a complete settlement of that issue.

He said that while no members of the present Polish government in London were invited to the meeting, the United States still recognizes the London-Polish government.

He expressed some concern when reporters sought to pin him down.

FEPC Backers Are Looking To Republicans

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—Southern democrats, with fair employment practices legislation shelved aside, banked today on a senate filibuster threat to smother house-approved legislation to abolish poll taxes.

Hardly had the house voted 251 to 105 late yesterday to outlaw poll tax payments as a voting requirement in federal elections before southern senators promised an all-out fight against the measure.

"We'll speak as long as we have to in order to prevent passage," Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) told a reporter.

Senate filibusters, or threats of them, have blocked enactment of similar legislation passed by the house in the two preceding congressional sessions. Seven southern states have poll tax laws.

With southern democrats equally adamant against setting up a permanent fair employment practices commission.

Attempt To Intervene Is Testified

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
News Staff Writer

The state was calling its fifth witness this morning in the trial of Garland Pearce, charged with the slaying of Leonard Brown, last March 17.

Elmer Tracy, a driver employed at the Courtes Cab company, at the time the shooting occurred, took the stand when the 31st district court reconvened this morning at 9:30.

Tracy testified that he was at the stand until a few minutes before the shooting.

On being asked if he and Pearce had any conversation at the cab stand Tracy testified that he tried to dissuade Pearce from causing trouble.

Tracy said that Pearce pointed the gun at him and told him "to get out."

He said that he got in his cab and drove out on South Cuyler to Five Points, an intersection of five streets and then turned around and drove back to the cab stand.

After the selection of the final juror yesterday afternoon, the trial got underway with District Attorney Hagers calling the state's first witness, Mrs. Mary Love, who was on duty as dispatcher at the taxi stand at the time of the shooting.

Mrs. Love testified that there was an argument between Pearce and Brown on the length of validity of a driver's license. She said the two men made a bet at 20 to 1 odds, with Pearce betting that Brown would win 20 dollars or lose one dollar.

Mrs. Love's testimony revealed that a tentative agreement had been reached whereby one of the persons in the stand was to telephone the highway patrol to settle the question.

However, she said, Pearce produced a driver's license which showed an expiration date one year from the date of issue. She said Pearce then demanded that Brown pay him, but that Brown refused and Pearce left shortly afterward with Carl Ragan, a driver for the firm.

On her return to the cab stand, after going to the K C Waffle House for coffee, she said Brown was there.

Frisco Treaty Is Expected To Be Submitted Soon

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—Senate officials heard today that President Truman plans to submit the San Francisco treaty to the chamber by Monday June 25 with a request for ratification by July 15.

The President was reported to be acting on the assumption that the United Nations conference will be concluded Wednesday June 20.

Mr. Truman it is understood has ordered full speed ahead in the technical details of delivering the formal documents to the senate. He hopes senate sources said that the United States will be the first nation to ratify the pact.

The treaty is expected to be approved by July 15 meets with the consent of the majority leadership in the senate.

The foreign relations committee will hold hearings on the treaty with Chairman Connally (D-Tex) and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), two of the delegates to the coast conference, as the principal witnesses.

Garrett Baby Is Seriously Burned

Jimmy Garrett, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Garrett, 1304 Duncan street, was badly burned at the family home this morning when a pot of steaming coffee was accidentally overturned on him. The one serious burn was on his stomach, but there were other burns about his hands, feet and legs. His face was slightly burned.

The child is in the Worley hospital under the care of Dr. Charles Ashby.

The father is a merchant here and at Borger, connected with Pampa Supply here and with Western Auto at Borger.

Pampa Swimming Pool Enjoying Good Start

The Pampa Municipal Swimming Pool has had 113 customers since its opening last Monday, even though the weather has been cold and rainy. Coach Otis Coffey, manager, announced today.

The pool is, at the present, opening at 1 p. m. and closing at 7 p. m. Within the next few days these hours will be lengthened an hour.

The adult admission price is 35 cents and 25 cents admission for children and servicemen.

Serving the pool as lifeguards are Johnny Kimoro and Bernie Brown. Bernie has recently returned from Camp Eto Vista, near Kerville, Tex., where he took an advanced water safety course. He is now qualified to instruct swimming and elementary diving.

Doris Shackelford and Mrs. May Stange are the office assistants, but Miss Betty Wilson is substituting for Miss Stange this week.

Gas Agreement Is Not a Violation

AUSTIN, June 13.—(AP)—A gas pooling agreement does not necessarily violate terms of a lease contract, a court ruled today in a case from Nueces county.

The court upheld both district and civil appeals courts' findings in favor of the Chicago corporation in a suit brought by Mrs. Addie Knight and others, involving 320 acres in Nueces county.

Mrs. Knight brought the suit to terminate a lease executed by her to the Richardson Petroleum company. Prior to the filing of the suit, the opinion by Judge J. E. Hickman of the commission of appeals noted, the Richardson company had entered a gas pooling agreement with the Chicago corporation. Mrs. Knight refused to join in the agreement.

The district court instructed the jury to return a verdict for the Chicago corporation and this was affirmed by the court of civil appeals.

Noting that the pooling agreement enhanced the value of the leasehold estate, Judge Hickman said in his opinion:

"It is disclosed that under rulings of federal and state commissions, and because there was no market in this area for gas in its natural state, a re-cycling program could not be put into operation in this field unless several leases in the field were pooled, and pooling agreements provided the only method for producing, processing and marketing the gas derivatives."

Right of the petitioners to oil payment and royalties was not impaired by the district court judgment, the opinion said.

HAIL THE CONQUERING HEROES: SAN ANTONIO PREPARES TO WELCOME VETERANS

SAN ANTONIO, June 13.—(AP)—Twelve generals and 40 other officers and enlisted men arrive from European battlefronts today and this old fortress city brought out flowers and lined streets and a few cows alongside the Alamo.

For Lt. Gen. Ira Eaker, chief of air staff and his companions, San Antonio readied a 17-gun salute, two parades, a reception, a banquet with stuffed quail and chicken-under-class. Troubadours dusted off their tinsel costumes and tuned their guitars, patrolmen prepared to handle a crowd of up to 200,000. Thousands of flowers would be strewn at the feet of the conquering heroes.

Three of the generals were coming back home to Texas: Eaker, who commanded the Mediterranean Allied air forces and who calls Eden, Texas home; Lt. Gen. Lucian Truscott, Jr., tough commander of the Fifth army who was born at "hatfield, Texas, and Brig. Gen. Harold L. Clark, 52nd troop carrier wing, Ninth troop carrier command, of San Antonio.

Ninth U. S. army's MP's tie 17-year-old Josef Schorer, German Hitler Youth member, to a stake after he and Heinz Petry, 16, convicted of spying against U. S. troops on the western front by hiding in foxholes and attempting to learn military secrets. Both boys were tried at Munchen Gladbach and shot by a firing squad near Braunschweig, Germany.

Poles Scheduled To Meet With Big Three Friday in Moscow

LONDON, June 13.—(AP)—Poles and Big Three representatives will discuss reorganization of the Polish provisional government in Moscow Friday, it was announced today.

A British foreign office commentator said a very serious deadlock has been broken, but cautioned that "it is contrary to all our experience to say that it is going to be clear sailing from now on."

A simultaneous announcement in London, Washington and Moscow said reorganization of the Warsaw regime on a broad democratic basis as "provided" in the Crimea agreement on Poland would be discussed in the Soviet capital by representatives of Britain, Soviet Russia and the United States, spokesmen for the provisional government in Warsaw and Polish democratic leaders.

Members of the Polish government in London, which was recognized by Britain and the United States, were conspicuously absent from the list of Poles who will take part in the discussion.

Responsible quarters here said that Julius Zeligowski, 48-year-old architect and one of three London Poles invited to the conference, had decided to turn down the bid on the ground that he has never been connected with politics.

A dispatch from Moscow by Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore said a reliable diplomatic authority stated the conference was to be held on the basis of reorganization of the government with the Soviet-sponsored provisional government as a nucleus.

Principal Polish leaders, selected to attend the meeting were Boleslaw Bierut, president of the Warsaw provisional government; Wladyslaw Witos, former premier and leader of the democratic group inside Poland not affiliated with the Warsaw government; and Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, peasant party leader who resigned as premier and withdrew from the exiled government in London last year.

Management and Union Officials Asked To Explain

DALLAS, June 13.—(AP)—Management and union officials appeared before the eighth regional war labor board today in a hearing to show cause why 400 striking bus drivers and mechanics of the tri-state transit company did not head a WLB back to work order.

The regional board issued the order yesterday. The strike started in Jackson, Miss., Saturday night in a dispute over wage scales to be incorporated in a new contract. The case was certified to the national WLB by Secretary of Labor Perkins yesterday, and the regional board's directive followed.

Company officials said approximately 250 buses were idle in Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas, Kentucky and Missouri.

Two units of the Amalgamated Association of street electric railway and motor coach employees (AFL) voted last night to disregard the WLB order to return to work.

The Jackson, Miss., unit offered to haul military personnel without pay, provided the company would furnish buses free. The Shreveport local voted against a return-to-work recommendation of its president, Otto De Bate.

Representing the American federation of labor at the show cause hearing were De Bate, president of local 1127, and international vice president of the union; J. L. Smith of Jackson, Miss., vice president of local 1127; H. B. Taylor of Shreveport, secretary-treasurer of local 1127; W. L. Bryan of Alexandria, La., secretary of the union; and J. E. Hickman of the commission of appeals noted, the Richardson company had entered a gas pooling agreement with the Chicago corporation. Mrs. Knight refused to join in the agreement.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD: DIVISION'S PART IN VICTORY IS REVEALED

ASCHAFFENBURG, Germany, June 13.—(AP)—The gallant 99th Texas-trained division, whose glowing pages in the battle of the Belgian bulge but "throughout the war the spectacular feats of this fighting unit were largely veiled by military security."

But now it can be told—this story of a division made up of men from all over the nation and trained at Paris, Texas, and the part it played in holding the line against German's last great bid for victory.

It was put into the line in the Ardennes forest near Elsenborn, Belgium, and was strung out dangerously thin on a defensive position where all available troops and armor were being concentrated elsewhere for a big push.

The Germans had a tremendous concentration opposite the American lines in an area unsuitable for large-scale tank tactics. On Dec. 17, 1944, the Germans launched their counter-offensive and the 99th was hit by two Panzer and two infantry divisions. With almost no armored support, the checkerboard division fought fiercely for five days and nights. In some cases companies of 200 men were reduced to 40, but the

Japanese Adopting Scorching Tactics

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Japan's last defense line on Okinawa began to crack today under pressure of American power applied in predawn attacks on both flanks which took the defenders by surprise.

Simultaneously the Japanese adopted scorched earth tactics in one of the finest oil fields on newly-invaded Borneo.

Nipponese set fire to tanks in Borneo's Seria oil fields, capable of producing 6,000,000 barrels a year, when invading Australian forces were 60 miles away and cut off by thick jungles.

Ingenious American tankmen packing 500 foot extension hoses up sheer cliffs helped infantrymen cut deeply into the enemy's narrowing hold on southern Okinawa.

Japanese flamethrowing tanks failed to halt U. S. 37th division infantrymen pushing into Cagayan valley of Northern Luzon island for the final battles of the Philippines. Seven were knocked out.

Enemy forces did succeed in temporarily halting the advance of the 96th division into Bougainville island in the Solomons, and engaged Chinese forces in see-saw campaigns on the continent.

At home the Japanese cabinet made hurried use of newly granted powers to rule by decree. The war ministry was given control over all truck transport, preparing for the day when American planes will harry communications lines in Japan as they are in the Pacific, where six more ships were sunk, and in China where trains are wrecked daily.

Pre-dawn sorties carried U. S. Tenth army units into the eastern battle raged around the ridge and western anchors of the three mile long Japanese plateau defense on southern Okinawa.

With machine guns and ammunition strapped to their backs, U. S. Seventh division infantrymen scaled ropes to reach the top of sheer cliffs on the eastern end of the line. Tankmen ran hoses up the height to pipe flames from their tanks into Japanese caves and strongpoints.

On the western flank First division marines advanced 1,000 yards through light resistance to seize strategic Kunishi ridge. A daylong battle raged around the ridge and nearby Kimshi town.

On the north the 96th infantry captured Yuza town and high ground to the south. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz offered no confirmation of a Japanese report of an American amphibious landing to the south.

A smaller second force of Japanese was being steadily squeezed out by the Sixth marine division south of Naha.

One U. S. ship was damaged in Japanese suicide attacks. Fourteen Japanese planes were destroyed in the area.

Congress Asked by Truman To Allow All of OWI Budget

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—President Truman expressed the hope today that congress would restore the entire budget estimate for the office of war information, which the house has sharply slashed.

He told his news conference that in his judgment OWI is doing a job that needs to be done in the interest of a nation still fighting a war far from over.

OWI's work in the domestic and foreign field, he declared, is being done by a trained, integrated organization, adding that to abolish any major functions while the war continues would be a mistake. He said it also would be a mistake to try to reorganize these functions on a major scale at this time. Acting Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn.) of the senate appropriations committee told a reporter he felt the senate should return at least part of the $17,000,000 house cut in OWI's funds for the next fiscal year. He expressed the view the cut was "too drastic."

OWI CHIEF

The Associated Press reports that Elmer Davis will appear before an appropriations committee in executive session tomorrow. The house pared OWI's appropriation to approximately $18,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Sunday Driving Still Thing of Past

"Sunday driving isn't back yet and probably won't be for some time to come," District OPA Rationing Executive William G. Williams declared today in explaining eligibility requirements for increased gasoline rations.

Not every "B" ration holder will be eligible for increased gasoline rations now that ceilings have been raised to 650 miles per month throughout the country, Williams said.

Only those "B" ration holders whose essential occupational driving needs exceed the present "B" ceiling of 475 miles a month will be eligible for an increase. The amount of the increase for eligible "B" category holders will vary with their actual occupational driving needs, but in no case may their total ration exceed the new ceiling, he said.

"Most 'B' ration holders—such as home-to-work drivers who are getting what they need under the 475 ceiling—should not apply for any increase since their applications will have to be rejected and will only add to the work of the local war rations and rationing boards.

Williams also announced that motorists are no longer required to use "A," "B," "C" and "T" windshield markers.

"Although V-E day has made possible a 10 percent increase in the amount of gasoline in filling stations, the supply is still a long way from meeting public demands. Rationing boards will have to continue to say 'no' to many car owners who do not need additional gasoline for essential driving."

Texans Urged to Help Navy by Employment

"Damaged fighting ships are arriving at west coast navy yards faster than repaired ships can be sent back to fight Japan," said B. W. Phillips, local secretary of the U. S. civil service board of examiners yesterday. "President Truman, Chairman McNutt of the W.M.C. and Admiral Nimitz declared these repairs must be hastened. Other ships scheduled to be overhauled after 40,000 miles have made near a quarter of million miles without overhaul, and are being forced to come in for repairs and replacements, regardless of the need for them in Japanese waters."

"As the President says, electrical, mechanical and steel metal workers are urgently needed at these yards," Phillips said. "Point and Puget Sound navy yards. Qualified men are hired on the spot. Travel and eating expenses en route are paid and living quarters are assured at the navy yard where they choose to work."

Texans anxious to help the navy do its best can get employment at north recruiting stations in Fort Worth, Dallas and other points. They and others may get informa-

One Finance Officer Really Knows Finances

OLESSA, Texas, June 12 (AP)—Sgt. William Alden Rogers, former Olessa accountant, is one finance officer who really knows his finances.

With the United States occupation forces in Germany, Rogers recently sent $1,000 home for deposit in a local bank.

He said the money came from sale of a fraternity pin he designed for his buddies in Hamborne, Germany, where he is stationed. He sold 20,000 of the pins in April and has 16 employees, he added.

"All this is keeping us from doubling production is getting enough silver from manufacturers in the States," explained Rogers.

His father, R. W. Rogers, lives in Mexia, Texas.

OPA Said To Be Victim of Play

NEW ORLEANS, June 13 (AP)—President Fred Dykhuizen of the Louisiana meat packers' and processors association said there is more beef and veal ready for slaughtering pens in Louisiana than ever before—with less fresh meat available.

The OPA is a "victim of the greatest squeeze play yet perpetrated by the big packers," Dykhuizen said. He also announced that Gov. James H. Davis would be asked to exercise state rights to protect slaughterers by butchering beef.

OPA regulations, he said, have cut quotas to such an extent there is "little hope" for a civilian supply unless the states act to protect interest of independent slaughterers and distributors.

Pullman Space Will Be Reduced 50 Percent

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Fifty percent less Pullman space and 10 to 12 percent fewer railroad coaches will be available for civilian travel in August and thereafter, transportation director J. Monroe Johnson said today.

The critical shortage will last through next March as battlefront troops from Europe move from Eastern ports to Western embarkation points, Johnson said.

The office of defense transportation will seek to avoid travel rationing or train priorities, he told a news conference, "but if necessary, we'll ration."

Footnote on the Bulge

First newspaper accounts of the German breakthrough in Belgium last December were serious and concerned. But soon we civilians were given to understand that the whole operation had been a "calculated risk," that the attack had been expected, and that the trap which the Allies eventually sprang on the Nazis had been deliberately set.

Now we learn that the attack really was a stunning surprise. General Hodges and his staff narrowly escaped both capture in Spa and death on the bomb-blasted road to Liege. The Germans came within 500 yards of a 3,000,000-gallon octane gasoline dump which, if taken, might have made the counter-attack's eventual outcome a different story.

The discrepancy between the two accounts is past history, of course, and perhaps not worth worrying about. But it does seem that an army might have believed that the civilian public, told the real story within bounds of security, would not have thought the less of our generals because on one occasion they didn't behave like omniscient heroes of fiction.

However, it does seem proper, before dismissing the subject, to pay belated tribute to the soldier cooks and bakers and the military censors who dropped their skillful and blue pencils to take up rifles and stem the German tank attack. Their now-it-can-be-told exploits make better reading, it seems to us, than the earlier version of the same story.

Under most civilized law, a person accused of crimes is presumed innocent until proven guilty. For that reason the rights of the accused are protected by an elaborate system of safeguards and delays which, although often abused, are retained to guard against a miscarriage of justice.

And for the same reason it seems pointless to debate whether the Nazi criminals should be tried by ordinary judicial procedure, or to haggle unduly over the definition of a war crime. These are not ordinary cases or ordinary criminals. There is no injustice in presuming such men as Goering and Doenitz guilty before trial.

Goering's order for the obliteration of surrendered Rotterdam, Doenitz's order for the slaughter of seamen who survived U-boat sinkings; these are blatant crimes in defiance of international agreements and treaties, and it's only a start. Testimony of people who journey to Washington boosting the idea is very clear. It translates the handwriting on the wall. They expect the first bill is passed. I also think it would grow in less than ten years from federal subsidy to federal control.

I am opposed to federal aid for several reasons: (1) It will lead directly to federal control of education. (2) When the national government controls the local schools, the children's parents have no place at school. (3) It happens, popular education, so dearly bought, will be nothing but a handy stepping stone toward political dictatorship.

THE PLANNER'S VISION

The Oxford (Penn.) Press Those in charge of so-called post-war planning seem not to understand the driving force of individual incentive which grows from free opportunity to produce and sell. The limit of their vision seems to be to ration constantly dwindling supplies, rather than promote conditions which increase production with resulting increase sales of food and commodities of all kinds, with countless new jobs resulting therefrom.

While our national government talks about free markets abroad, it does not forget that the success of such a policy so far as the United States is concerned, rests first upon a national policy that encourages free markets at home where the initiative of the individual is not restricted by some government bureau at every turn.

A DASH OF COMMON SENSE

(Fort Wayne News Sentinel) President Robert Hutchins of the University of Chicago, has added a dash of common sense to all the wild talk about punishment of war criminals. "I venture to predict," say he, "that the present excitement about war criminals will seem ridiculous a few years hence. At this juncture we can afford to remember what Edmund Burke said to us: 'I do not know the method of drawing up an indictment against a whole people.'"

"We cannot support the thesis that because German leaders acted illegally, therefore they should be treated illegally. Two wrongs do not make a right. It is easy to understand why Mussolini was lynched; it is more difficult to see why Americans should gloat over it."

"The most distressing aspect of present discussions of the future of Germany and Japan is the glee with which the most inhuman proposals are brought forward and the evident pleasure with which they are received. The wildest atrocity stories cannot alter the simple truth: that all men are created equal and that no man is a beast."

"Let us remember that vengeance is the Lord's."

Mr. Hutchins is one of the Nation's leading educators, and an outstanding genuinely liberal thinker. His words are worth pondering.

LOOKING AHEAD

By GEORGE S. BENSON President, Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas

Two years ago when national legislation affecting schools was proposed (S-637) nobody who favored the bill ever called it the "federal school control bill." That alone would have defeated it. No sincere friend of America's public schools wants them bossed by the national government. The thing was referred to always as "federal aid to education." That sounded much better.

But a great many people were not fooled at all. They had seen baited hooks used to hide hooks before by political as well as practical fishermen. Although the bill started right in Section One, that it would be a nice little law if passed and not help any government man, or group of men, grab the schools and run away with them, the platitude captured in Spa and Liege, and death on the bomb-blasted road to Liege.

Aimed by Senate

On the floor of the Senate the "federal aid" bill underwent some changes. As changed, no part of it was discussing the merits of, nor any part of the local funds thereby supplemented could be used to make or maintain any distinction between races. That's federal control, beyond dispute. I am not discussing the merits of the amendment. I am saying this Federal control will follow federal aid as night follows day.

The subject is alive again now. A committee in the House and another committee in the Senate are once more considering legislation that flies the flag of "federal aid to education." Once more I am emphasizing that financial aid to local schools from far-away Washington will bring federal control of local schools in spite of all the protective clauses ever built out of words.

It Is Federal Law

The Supreme Court of the United States, the most powerful tribunal on this war-cursed earth, has established a precedent in favor of federal control. The Supreme Court has ruled that which the federal government can control, which it subsidizes, little, protesting sentences in the preamble of new legislation figuratively fade away in the light of this Supreme Court ruling.

Some people may want to argue that federal aid to schools is not federal subsidy of schools. I maintain that any distinction between the two things is a distinction without a difference. I have learned quite a little about these twin bills recently, and about people who advocate their passage. The bills are practically alike and they point to government control like a compass points to the north.

The Entering Wedge

Both bills call for a 300 million dollar annual outlay of federal funds, and it's only a start. Testimony of people who journey to Washington boosting the idea is very clear. It translates the handwriting on the wall. They expect the first bill is passed. I also think it would grow in less than ten years from federal subsidy to federal control.

I am opposed to federal aid for several reasons: (1) It will lead directly to federal control of education. (2) When the national government controls the local schools, the children's parents have no place at school. (3) It happens, popular education, so dearly bought, will be nothing but a handy stepping stone toward political dictatorship.

When a new labor contract comes up for negotiation in San Francisco today and the demands of the unions are presented to the employer, they are first tossed into the research department of the employer's council. Here a staff of experienced labor economists takes the demands and analyzes them. Arguments are developed on each point—its merits and demerits—and the case is prepared for management.

The council does not attempt to dictate a labor policy for any employer-member, but it does advise the employer on what demands are fair and just, what may lead to trouble, what should be resisted even to the point of accepting a strike to force a settlement, what company labor practices should be changed to improve employee relations.

When the demands have been analyzed in this manner, there is a meeting between negotiators for the unions and the management. FORMALITIES, THEN BRASS TACKS This first meeting is pure window dressing. The demands are formally presented and an equally formal reply is made for management. This satisfies the union members that their demands have been given consideration. Then the business agent for the union and the negotiator for the employers' council get down to brass tacks.

Negotiation for management is not carried on by the employer but by a staff of ten or twelve negotiators employed by the council. These negotiators are not lawyers, because usually the unions don't trust lawyers. Negotiators are just smart fellows with good personalities who have the knack of establishing confidence with the unions and conciliating differences between employer and employee.

Is It Hot Enough For You?

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS The National Whirligig

WASHINGTON By RAY TUCKER

BEST BET—Robert H. Jackson has suddenly leaped into the field as a prominent possibility as secretary of state in place of Edward R. Stettinius Jr. It is understood that the latter will be rewarded with a major ambassadorship for his acceptable performance as justice and former attorney general is admittedly qualified for the post of President Truman's foreign minister; his present service as American prosecutor of war criminals will furnish him with further experience. When he has completed that task, few men in or around Washington will have enjoyed a more intimate association with postbellum problems and personalities.

Mr. Jackson also fills the bill as a prospective White House occupant in the event he is summoned to that office. He would make a helpful running mate for Mr. Truman in 1948, a factor which must be considered in manning that office. The secretary of state of the world's No. 1 power will be in the headlines every day when Japan has been vanquished.

From the standpoint of practical politics, the associate justice has many assets. He is regarded as a sound liberal, but he does not stand so far left as does Henry A. Wallace. He is not a hard-boiled organization man, but the politician like him. Coming from New York, he would give geographical balance to a ticket headed by the man from Missouri.

H. S. T. has, naturally, been canvassing the field for a person who would bring strength to his cabinet and to his political household, despite denials that Mr. Stettinius would be supplanted. Others mentioned have been James F. Byrnes and William O. Douglas. But so far Mr. Jackson appears to be the best bet. He would be permitted to finish his present assignment, which means that the prospective change is not imminent.

ANSWER—Experts on the structure of government agree with President Truman that members of congress should receive more money, although many place the top figure at $15,000 or $20,000 instead of the $25,000 suggested by the former member of the senate. But they doubt whether the increase would improve the caliber of the membership.

Numerous states, and especially New York, have boosted the pay of members of the judiciary in order to get better men on the bench. Although the Empire state has had many fine men on its supreme court, enriching the incentive has not attracted a higher type of candidate. In many instances, in that commonwealth and elsewhere, it has persuaded political hacks to make the race. And sometimes they win.

LABOR RELATIONS HAVE BEEN SIMPLIFIED

By PETER EDSON NEA Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco employers' council, handling labor relations problems for 300 business firms in this area, now believes it has developed collective bargaining for management to the point where it takes most of the monkey business out of labor contract negotiations.

This process is of interest to the whole country because any employer, any union representative, any working man or woman, any newspaper reader who follows the endless bickering which goes in when labor disputes is in the air knows how these things upset a whole community.

When a new labor contract comes up for negotiation in San Francisco today and the demands of the unions are presented to the employer, they are first tossed into the research department of the employer's council. Here a staff of experienced labor economists takes the demands and analyzes them. Arguments are developed on each point—its merits and demerits—and the case is prepared for management.

Future Position Of Pres. Truman May Have Grown

By ALBERT LEMAN

MINORITIES—New York political experts declare that President Truman strengthened himself greatly in the Empire state by urging congress to direct the air war against Japan. The bill liberal groups here have been somewhat wary of the new chief executive because conservatives paint him as an Ozark Calvin Coolidge.

Minority rights are always an important issue in New York City. Its seven and a half million residents comprise members of every race, religion and nationality under the sun. Persons of foreign stock live here in number more than a million. Italians, one million Russians, five hundred thousand Germans, four hundred thousand Poles, three hundred forty thousand British.

Approximately four hundred eighty thousand non-writers are listed. President Roosevelt's ardent championship of these rights and his early hostility to Nazi race theories are reasons why he rolled up such huge pluralities in this center. He always received more than normal democratic ballots.

The metropolis is filled with people who came to make their way, often from places in the United States or abroad where they had been oppressed or ostracized. He always received more than normal democratic ballots. An individual has a chance to succeed regardless of his blood or background. If one racial bloc tries to hog the scene there are enough others to knock it down; no single strain dominates the "melting pot."

POLITICS—New Yorkers favor legislation anywhere that aims to eliminate race bias. There are enough liberals—in the old sense of the word—to balance the scales in any election. Governor Dewey realized this when he insisted that the state pass the Ives-Quinn Act, which outlaws discrimination in employment because of color or race.

Powerful republicans opposed the measure because they said it would do more harm than good and arouse prejudice where none existed before. But the governor's tough talk over them and won, thereby receiving praise in the city.

Because minority groups have the balance of power, they can decide not to New York will swing in the next presidential campaign—as goes the Empire state, so goes the election. Mr. Truman's action on FEPC pushes this commonwealth toward the 1948 democratic column.

AP Foreign Affairs Japanese propagandists have been threatening their people with an imminent American invasion—although they know that we are not yet set for climactic action. They intend to use the next few months to prepare in every way which our bombers will permit. They make much of forming a civilian defense army. But they say nothing of the two or three classes of men in reserve and in war plants that they are active.

With the end of the Okinawa campaign and the arrival of the monsoons in southeast Asia, we probably are entering a period of great preparation rather than great deeds.

The Japanese have important forces—some say 250,000 men—in Malaya, Indo-China and Thailand. The British can be expected to continue and enlarge their Burma campaign with this direction.

Knowing that the Japanese people will be unable to see the massing of Allied millions about them, the enemy propagandists are trying to make it appear that General Buener and his 10th army will ride die smoke of the smoldering battlefields of Okinawa to the main islands. His failure to do so will be portrayed as a great victory for the Japanese navy and air force; the people will be too frightened to grumble over a ration situation which obviously is becoming serious; politicians will rest more securely in their jobs (although after Okinawa's fall it is likely this will apply more to Suzuki's successors); and some propaganda will be made on a Japanese "volksturm" which

ST. ELMO'S FIRE

III

YOU miss crashing like that once in a lifetime, and when you do, you lean back and say, "Thanks, God." After that, if you have time, you cry it again and again, and then again. But I didn't have time for more than the first one.

I kept the motors at full throttle and took the highest altitude the ship would take, 21,000 feet; then I motored Fox to take off his mask. I put on my own and took a couple of deep draughts. I looked back at Tsui and saw the blues filtering through his yellow skin. He was out cold.

Even while we were gaining altitude I had begun to correct our course, pulling the ship hard to the southwest, and the fight became a battle not only against the winds blowing north but against the ice that kept dragging us down. We could hold only to 21,100 feet even at full throttle for a matter of 10 or 15 minutes; then the altimeter began to show a steady decline. Our only hope was to get out of the high-mountain-ranges-before-we were dragged to low.

At the time of that flight, in February of 1942, Bill Fox had only been with us a couple of months. He still hadn't checked out as a full pilot, and there were a lot of things he hadn't seen that most of us with C. N. A. C. were more or less accustomed to—and I say "more or less" advisedly.

St. Elmo's Fire, for instance. I don't care how many times a man sees that, it always does something to him. Gingias, Privensal, Johnson, "Skippy" Lane, all the boys I flew with in China, they all felt the same way.

We pulled through those Tibetan peaks by the grace of God—there's no other way of accounting for it—and got ourselves well south of the heavy ice. But when the ice began to thin, it turned into just plain ice water, then this phenomenon of St. Elmo's began.

I HAD been riding with it for some 10 minutes—Fox was only semi-conscious in the cockpit's seat—and the blue flame licking at the windshield and along the leading edges of the wings wasn't bothering me at all. That is, I had overcome that initial fright that it always brings with it.

But I reached out to set the gyrocompass and that was when Fox first noticed it. My hand was still two inches away from the instrument when the blue flame leaped across like an arc light, throwing a dim blue flash through the cockpit. Fire screamed—I know he did, although he always denied it—and I laughed. I felt as though I had pulled a trick that he couldn't understand. I was delighted—in the way, of course, that only a man with too little oxygen in his lungs can be delighted. And for all the tungssten-I had carried from China to India I couldn't have explained to poor Fox then that St. Elmo's Fire was a phenomenon of static electricity, generated by the rain beating against the plane, under peculiar climatic conditions that exist in only a few parts of the world. The fire is truly dangerous because it's real fire. If you were carrying a cargo of gasoline it could easily mean an explosion in mid-air. Our cargo was not combustible, so I was not worried on that score, but Bill Fox passed washed up and four times he came back bigger than ever.

"Only dix washed up business was humbling in," the Schnoz said. "The Schnoz said I was washed up. I was making $3500 a week in night clubs and on Broadway."

Durante was a howling success at the Copacabana. Telling a friend about the crowds, Jimmy said: "The joint was so crowded one night that when I dropped a collar button, a waiter threw a table cloth over it and seated five people before I could recover it."

Maybe one of the things those post-war auto designers should consider is having animal quarters in the car. I've just read about two accidents, one of which was caused by a mouse running up the steering wheel, and the other by a kitten jumping on the same apparatus.

Of course, accidents like that are bad enough, but imagine what could have happened if that mouse and that kitten had been riding in the same car!

It isn't hard to understand how mice get in cars these days. The cars stand in garages so long without gas that I suppose the mice think they're old houses. And I guess that the kittens go into the cars looking for the mice.

My goodness, before I take the car out I'd better get some cheese and catnip.

The President reminded his questioners that Russia had done some very pleasant yielding on this and some other questions and that all should keep their heads.

The Russians, he said, are just as anxious to get along with us as we are with them.

He would not give reporters any hint whatsoever on the locale or time of the Big Three meeting.

Asked what would happen to the Polish exiled government if a unified Polish government is set up as a result of the Moscow conference, he said it would go out of existence since the meeting is to set up a new government in which all could participate.

The President was hearty in his praise of the work of Davies and Hopkins crediting the latter particularly with persuading the Russians to yield from their stand on the Big Five power veto at San Francisco. Asked if Hopkins' mission had anything to do with that, he replied: categorically it did.

He said Hopkins also discussed the recent arrests of 16 Poles in Russia which brought about a halt to Polish issue negotiations at San Francisco.

Mr. Truman said he had no announcement about the arrested Poles at this time. He cautioned reporters repeatedly not to muddy the waters, asserting that every effort is being made to work the problem out. There will be further discussion of the Polish situation at the Big Three meeting, he added.

He said he hadn't heard a report mentioned by one questioner that the London Polish government had declared it would have no hting to do with the meeting that starts Friday in Moscow.

The chief executive said that press secretary Charles G. Ross also would accompany him to the Big Three meeting and that he would do everything possible to see that American newspapers get equality of treatment as to the conference developments, which in itself, he added, will necessarily be secret.

Subsequently the President released this written statement for direct quotation on the Hopkins-Davies missions:

"In order to secure an interchange of views more satisfactorily and quickly than by cable, I sent Mr. Hopkins to Moscow and Mr. Davies to London.

"Their discussions covered the arrangements for the time and place of the meeting of Prime Minister Churchill, Marshal Stalin and myself, as to what would be most convenient for all three.

"Since their return, Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Davies have made their reports to me. The results have been completely satisfactory and gratifying.

"The all important thing which confronts us in that the unity, mutual confidence and respect which resulted in the military victory should be continued to make secure a just and durable peace."

In addition to his civilian staff, the President said he would be accompanied to the Big Three meeting by his personal chief of staff, Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, and representatives of the joint chiefs of staff.

In discussing Ross' role, Mr. Truman emphasized that the American press will be given exactly equal consideration with all the rest of the world's newspapers.

Texas Officers Plagued By Calls for Runaways

AUSTIN, June 11—Public safety director Homer Garrison, Jr., reports that Texas officers are being called upon to search for missing persons (many of them runaway girls) at the rate of 20 per day.

The total of such cases to date is 1,796, double last year, said Garrison.

He attributes this, as well as the marked increase in general juvenile delinquent cases to the "uncertainties of our times."

In the department's quarterly statistical report the arrest of 5,472 minors in the first quarter of this year was listed as compared to 5,343 juvenile arrests in the same period last year.

99th stood fast.

When the bulge was pressed back to the Siegfried line, the 99th attacked across blizzard-swept plains. For three days the men fought against dug-in enemy troops that were well camouflaged in snow suits.

Next the division was transferred to a section of the Siegfried line near Udenbreth and, after several days of fighting against superb German defenses, captured numerous huge pill-boxes and expanded the gap in the German line. From there it dropped back into corps reserve for a few days to prepare for the grand Allied offensive. The division jumped off with the First army across the Cologne plains, swept up the Ertf canal to Norf, captured thousands of prisoners and took many towns.

The 99th was the first complete division to cross the Rhine, pouring across a bridge captured by the 6th armored division as it rolled into Remagen.

When the division reached Wezlar it swung left and took a major part in mopping up the Ruhr pocket.

When the Ruhr pocket finally surrendered en masse, the 99th raced to the expanded American front deep in Germany.

The division was selected to make an assault boat crossing on the Danube and by clever maneuvering sent the 38rd regiment across downstream 800 yards from where an attack had been feinted, gathering up the surprised wehrmacht soldiers, encircling and annihilating SS troops and shoving inland.

At Landshtut, Germany, the division again made a river crossing, charged up to the city and took it, then moved on toward Munich. When 25 miles northwest of that city while hot on the heels of the SS troops who had fled Landshtut, the 99th was halted and informed Germany and surrendered. The division returned to Landshtut and Mrs. Love testified that Pearce arrived a few minutes later and asked Brown if he was going to pay him (Pearce) the money. Brown refused, she said, and picked up a length of pipe.

It was then, she said, that she saw Pearce's gun. Pearce ordered Brown to put down the pipe, and he did.

Tomy Roan, another driver for Mrs. Love to the door, telling her to go outside just in case something happened, she testified.

She testified that when she looked in the window, Brown had gone out the side door of the building and that Pearce was also going out the door.

Mrs. Love said she went in the front door just as Pearce was leaving the other door and it was then that she heard "several shots."

She testified that she went to the front door and saw Brown emerge from the rear of the building and collapse against one of the taxis after which she heard another shot.

She said that Pearce then entered the stand, laid the gun on the desk, but picked it up and walked out.

The defense then asked Mrs. Love if she heard one "harsh or uncouth" word spoken between the two men, but she answered in the negative.

The state then called Tommy Roan, at that time a cab driver for Morshead called on MacArthur aboard his ship and they both went ashore immediately to establish the first Australian divisional headquarters. MacArthur walked about a half mile to the most forward Australian scouts, who were engaged in flushing out Japanese. And his party attracted enemy fire. All but the two generals dropped to the ground.

veto issue assured the big-power victory, were beginning to rally behind a proposal that they should be promised another crack at the veto about 10 years hence.

In other words, they are calling for the right to amend the charter in future without any of the big powers being able to exercise a veto over the amendments. The Big-Five are dead set against this.

Delegates said these produced several warm moments—one when Peter Fraser of New Zealand briefly led into Senator Tom Connolly of the United States.

The committee scheduled two more meetings today, in an effort to wind up its work. The next big vote, presumably would be the one approving the veto voting formula.

Yesterday a commission unanimously approved United Nations charter provisions empowering the council to maintain peace and security by force if necessary.

Last night's committee session on the veto issue was easily the most heavily attended of the entire conference. There was much discussion of the large number of nations which abstained from voting. Several had warned before hand that while they would not fight the big powers on this critical issue when the showdown came they also would not support them.

Screened from the millions still in Europe these men crossed to the shores of home by swift planes and are eligible for discharge from the army within the next three days.

The glittering array of rank—29 silver shoulder stars in a row—would be enough to shake even brass-wise eyes of San Antonians blink. And more stars would be furnished by commanding generals of Eight military installations in the San Antonio area who were to welcome the visitors.

All the day's arrangements were touched with drama and color: 80 bombers and fighters would escort the three luxurious C-54 skymasters to a local airport; genuine cowboys rolled around the horses and cows placed in corrals at the Alamo and the Spanish governor's palace. And the evening parade would be a beautiful trip in Gondolas down the winding San Antonio river—and along the way choirs and troubadours would sing from the decorated, brightly-lighted banks. This then was San Antonio's welcome to heroes. The chamber of commerce called it the biggest celebration of its kind in its history.

Flyers at Top Strength for Weekend Tilts

The Flyers of Pampa army air field, at top strength for the first time in a number of weeks, will play both Saturday and Sunday to the baseball team representing Big Springs AAF on the new post diamond.

Return of Pitcher Tony Reis from furlough and the addition of two new stellar performers to the roster have made the Flyers a far stronger outfit than their seven won, seven lost record would indicate, and the boys will be gunning for a clean sweep of the set with their week-end foes.

LT. Eddie Klein, the Flyers' new center fielder, made an auspicious debut in the recent Children's series, when he drove a long home run to the road in right center on his first trip to the plate, to score the first three Pampa runs in their 18 to 2 victory.

Shortstop Johnny Bulkley, second of the Flyer players, had four hits in seven times at bat against Children's and he teamed with Marty Knehl around the keystone to turn in six fast double plays in the two games. His addition has considerably strengthened the Flyers' inner sanctum.

Meanwhile, the hitting of first baseman Malcolm Mick has been the talk of PAAP in the past three weeks. The speedy southpaw has batted out 10 safeties in his last 14 times at bat, to raise his season's mark to a class 389.

Quiet, hard-working Elmer "Pay" Berry will, it is usual, hold down the PAAP catching assignment Saturday. Berry, a clever handler of pitchers, is a farm hand of the Cincinnati Reds, and deserves much of the credit for the recent improvement in the Flyer pitching staff. Berry is also a hard and timely hitter.

Third base will be manned by Homer Durden, who has caused plenty of comment by his work around the hot corner.

Planking Klein in the other outfield positions will be Lt. Vernon Laux, who has turned in some excellent performances recently, and either Ray Johnson or "Ish" Henry. The latter has been in a terrific batting slump, but should be about due to start hitting at the clip he maintained early in the season when he was the leading batsman on the club for several weeks.

Starting pitchers will be selected from Johnson, Mike Greek, Tony Reis and Al Kaplan, with Greek and Reis the more probable nominees.

Civilians of Pampa and surrounding towns will be admitted free to these contests and will be issued passes at the main gate at the airfield.

Over 100 Report At Texas A. & M.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., June 12 (AP)—Texas A. and M. plunged into summer football practice today with more than 100 aspirants for the team flooding Kyle Field for a show-off before coaches Lil Dimmitt, Bochey Koehy and Pete Jones. Head coach Homer Norton is in a hospital at Rochester, Minn., recovering from an operation.

Eight lettermen, including Monte Moncrief, all-southwest conference tackle who suffered a broken leg in a motorcycle accident last winter, were among the 105 hopefuls. Moncrief was getting around well and appeared ready to enter his third season as a first-stringer Aggie-lad.

Bob Butchofsky and Stubby Matthews, backs; Grant Darnell, Bill Crer, Scooter Yeargan and Norton Higgins, ends; Sleepy League, guard and Cush Denton, tackle, were experienced men on hand.

Hub Ellis, center; Tom Daniel, quarterback; Morton Shetts, tackle; Oscar White, end, and Bullet Gray, guard, are other old heads expected to report soon.

Some of the better known newcomers are Jim Winkler, Temple's star tackle; Warren Settegast of Houston, brother of Marion Settegast who was a top-flight Aggie wingman of 1943; Preston Shugart and John Motley, backs, and Homer Johnson, center, from Garland; Marvin Butler, Kenedy, ratty tackle; Rob Good, Backup, 300-pound passer; Wicker and runner; Duane Atwood and Glenn Beard, guards from Kermit, and Jerome Grossenbacher, Eagle Pass tackle.

Preston Smith, all-state back from Bryan, and Joe Dalsa, end of the 1944 Bryan team, will report in August.

Carnival Reported Off To Good Start

With ideal carnival weather prevailing, one of the largest opening crowds of the season packed and jammed the Brown street show grounds, last night, for the formal opening of the Greater United Shows—a two-week engagement under the combined auspices of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The many and varied riding devices proved to be the popular magnet for the majority of the midway visitors, although the tented show theaters all reported good patronage.

One of the big features of the Loos organization is the attractions entering to the children and these features all were well received.

The carnival will be open nightly for the balance of the local stand, with officers of the combined Veterans Posts manning the gates and ticket lines.

Futile Phillies Lose 15th Straight Game

Tigers Annex 1st Place in Junior Circuit

By JACK HAND (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Shed a tear for fat Freddy Fitzsimmons whose futile Phillies are rushing madly toward an early clinching of their usual fervor by losing 15 in a row.

Not since 1932 when Burt Shotton led them to the giddy heights of fourth place have the Phils failed to finish either seventh or eighth and seven times it was last.

Managers came and went but Jimmy Wilson, Doc Prothro, Hans Lobert, Bucky Harris and Fitz saw nothing but the cold grey walls of the National League dugout with an occasional next-to-last-place reprieve.

They remain the one consistent team in wartime baseball.

Boston hung No. 15 on Fitz and his groggy crew yesterday, 10-0, for the Braves' eighth successive win, five of which have been over their old mates. New blood and new money are producing in the hub to push the Braves up into the race on a 3 1/2 games back of New York.

Johnny Hutchins did the job on the Phils, a four hitter.

At the rate the Giants are tumbling, only an extended series with the Phils will save their lead. Losing seven of their last eight the New Yorkers have seen their lead pared to a single game. Yesterday's 7-4 drubbing by Brooklyn ended the last victory streak they were nursing.

Van Mungo's six straight pitching wins. Vic Lombardi limited the leaders to seven hits.

Pittsburgh's night triumph over Chicago, 9-3, boosted the Buccos up to within one length of the Giants as Al Gerhauser, a refugee from the Phils, showed his relief by contributing four singles to the Pirates' attack in addition to throwing a nine-hitter at the Cubs.

Detroit regained the American league lead that changes hands every day and took a half game margin over New York by trimming St. Louis 2-1 in 11 innings after Washington beat the Yankees, 5-3.

Bobby Mader's single pushed across the winning run for Hal Newhouser.

Rookie Fred Vaughn, an ex-Yankee, blasted a triple, double and single to make Dutch Leonard's sixth victim in the last of the ninth. Senators routed Walt Duhziel in the seventh.

Thornton Lee turned in the best pitching job of the day, a three-hit effort for Chicago against Cleveland. It took Bill Nagel's bases-loaded single in the last of the ninth to assure him a 1-0 edge. The veteran left-hander struck out 13 Indians.

Dick Siebert came through with a dramatic two-run homer in the 12th to give the Philadelphia Athletics a 7-5 triumph over the Boston Red Sox and Russ Christopher his 10th success.

The Cincinnati at St. Louis National league tilt at which the National league 1944 pennant was to be unfurled was rained out.

By a 6-6 vote yesterday, the rules group refused to send the legislation to the house floor.

Establishment of FEPC on a permanent basis in an effort to prevent discrimination in employment because of race, creed or color was asked last week by President Truman.

The discharge petition has about 125 signatures; it needs 218 to take the FEPC bill away from the rules committee.

Most Players Selected for All-Star Game

(By The Associated Press)

Forty of the fifty-eight youngsters who will play in the annual All-Star game of the Texas high school coaching school at Abilene Aug. 10 were announced today.

Eck Curtis, coach of Highland Park (Dallas) heads the committee selecting the south All-Stars, has picked 23 including two All-Stars—Preston Smith of Bryan and Byron Gillyou of Marshall, backs.

Pt. Gerald, coach of Vernon heading the committee on selection of the north squad, has acceptances from 17. Only one All-State man is on his roster—Dick Harris, Wichita Falls center.

Players who have finished their high school eligibility will appear in the game. Some of those chosen already are in college.

Skip Palrang, coach of Boys Town, Neb., will coach the south All-Stars. Duff Meyer, coach of Texas Christian university, will lead the north. Palrang and Meyer are head instructors at the coaching school scheduled Aug. 6-10.

Here are the acceptances received to date by Curtis:

Centers—Alberus Guinn, Edinburg; Gene Clark, Gladewater; Robert (Red) Simmons, Temple.

Guards—Gene Reed, Austin (Houston); Charles Shurtluff, Mt. Vernon; Bob Terry, Cameron; Johnny Staewen, San Antonio Tech.

Tackles—Odie Gilliam, Hondo; Kenneth Ferguson, Milby (Houston); Benton Ratcliff, Marshall; Warren Settegast, Lamar (Houston).

Ends—Desmond Kidd, Austin; Joe Dalsa, Bryan; Lillard Hart, Tyler.

Backs—James Aycock, Longview; Bill Bounds, Cleveland; August Erfurth, Brackenridge (San Antonio); Mervin Bingham, Orange; Perry Samuels, Jefferson (San Antonio); Dick Hoerster, Fredericksburg; Preston Smith, Bryan; Rob Goode, Bastrop; Byron Gillyou, Marshall.

Acceptances received by Gerald: Centers—Dick Harris, Wichita Falls; Sam Callan, San Angelo; Thomas Murphy, Sunset (Dallas).

Guards—Corky Totten, Sherman; Guy Daniels, Abilene; Eldon Dawson, Greenville; Wilbur Milner, Paschal (Fort Worth).

Tackles—John Basham, Foley (Ft. Worth); Ernest Kieley, El Paso high.

Ends—Harold Clark, Highland Park (Dallas); Alonzo Robertson, Memphis.

Pitching Is Main Factor in Tigers' First Place Spot

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, June 12 (AP)—It isn't the hitting that has the Detroit Tigers on top of the heap in the American league, that's for sure.

With the season nearly one-third gone the banjo-hitting Bengals, with a second division team batting average of .240, are a half game out front of the New York Yankees.

The reason? It's pitching, sharply reflected in the records which show that Detroit has won exactly half its 26 victories by one-run margins.

To date the Tigers record in one-run decisions is 11 won, four lost.

Poor Digestion? Headache? Sour or Upset? Tired-Listless?

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poor digestion? Do you feel cheerless and happy again your food must be digested properly? Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested, leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly. Given in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 25c.

"Sent Pop a Y-B cigar band a while back—just to sort of rib him a little. He writes me back that gain' short on Y-B's is okay with him so long as he knows we're smokin' 'em... Sort of noble, I'll say."

Why Phillips is Today One of the Country's Greatest Producers of Butadiene for Synthetic Rubber

But that truck also represents one of the biggest headaches tire men—and oil men—have had to face in this war!

You see, our synthetic rubber program has had to overcome more than the lack of raw rubber from the Jap-held East Indies. It has had to cope with a fantastic demand for tires for Army trucks and other vehicles.

Why is that demand fantastic? Well, just imagine speeding along roads pitted by shellfire and sprinkled with shrapnel... hub-deep in mud, or rutted in frozen ridges. Under those terrible conditions, tires have become frayed and useless at an appalling rate.

That American industry has been able to meet this terrific demand for all-important truck tires is due, to a great extent, to companies like Phillips.

For long before Pearl Harbor, Phillips scientists foresaw the possibilities of butadiene in producing synthetic rubber. As a result, when the blow fell at Pearl Harbor, Phillips great research and production facilities were ready to step into the breach.

Today, the Phillips 66 Shield stands for one of America's leading producers of butadiene for synthetic rubber... as well as a great producer of 100-Octane Aviation Fuel, and an almost endless list of newer and better products from petroleum gases and petroleum.

TEXAS U. IS TEACHING English With Pictures
AUSTIN, June 13—Freshman English students at the University of Texas soon will "see" where the commas and semi-colons should be placed, and what a dandy participial is, for Dr. Joseph J. Jones, assistant professor of English, is now preparing film strips for use in the classes. The film will stress the fundamentals of English—grammar, spelling, punctuation, and sentence structure.

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT Asks Surplus Status
The department of commerce, office of surplus property, has announced the procedure to be followed by its regional offices with respect to sales to tax-exempt, non-profit educational institutions and hospitals. The clarification of the status of these institutions with regard to the acquisition of surplus property will be welcomed by them.

Now that the War in Europe is over

What about travel?

Now, you may naturally ask, "Won't it be a little easier to get accommodations?" . . . "Won't it be a little more comfortable to travel?"

We of the Santa Fe would like to hold out some hope to our friends who have good reasons for taking a trip, but who find it difficult to do so.

We would like to give those who do travel all the little niceties of service that are part of the Santa Fe tradition.

Bigger Traffic Loads
Our stubborn facts are that the traffic in our Pacific ports of war is stepping up instead of letting down!

This means, in the war days to come, there will be more passenger and freight traffic—new loads and greater loads and less space for civilian travelers than ever on Santa Fe rails.

In The Meantime
Santa Fe facilities have been enormously increased—bigger yards; more freight Diesels; centralized traffic control at key points; and improved shop tools and practices which keep our locomotives rolling.

In peacetime these increased facilities will enable us to provide better service than ever. But in the meantime, the stuff needed to lick Japan is top priority.

So—again we ask, "Unless your trip is essential, can't you put it off until we have a little better opportunity to serve you in the traditional Santa Fe manner?"
