Record Bomb Blast Strikes Jap City

Smoke Swirls Five Miles Above Osaka

By LEONARD MILLMAN
Associated Press War Editor
New five-engine bombers in a 600 plane raid on Osaka, industrial metropolis of Japan, added to the 88 square miles previously burned out of Nippon's war production centers as Allied forces pushed the enemy back on all fronts and regrouped for greater assaults against the island empire.
Smoke swirled five miles above Osaka after successive waves of more than 450 Superforts, escorted by 150 Mustang fighters, tossed 3,200 tons of incendiaries in a daylight strike. The raid was in the same strength as Tuesday's flaming blow against Yokohama which, photographs disclosed today, swept over 6.9 square miles, virtually destroying the principal portion of the port city.

This air-brought havoc was matched by sensational ground gains on stormy Okinawa, 325 miles south of Japan, and bitterly won victories in scattered sections of China.
Five American divisions on Okinawa, killing Japanese at the rate of 1,000 a day, closed a double ring around Shuri, falling keystone of the enemy's broken defense line. Some of the approximately 22,000 Japanese surviving from an original garrison of about 85,000 were trapped in Shuri town. Others were not hard pressed they couldn't establish a new defense system.
At Chungking, a Chinese spokesman promised a grand counter-offensive "earlier than originally planned" as Japanese halted their extensive northward withdrawals on the continent at least temporarily. South China columns expanded their breach in the enemy's Indo-China corridor to 145 miles and seized two bitterly defended cities. Small, vicious Japanese counter-

Truman in Accord With Britain's Action in Syria

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—President Truman said today that he was in constant communication with Prime Minister Churchill on the French-Lebanon situation.
The President told his news conference that he and Mr. Churchill were exchanging views every day. The chief executive said he had fully approved the dispatch of British troops into Syria and added that the French have ceased firing as the result of the stern message Mr. Churchill sent to Gen. Charles de Gaulle.
He has received no word from the general, he added.
The President said there had been no agreement to hold a tri-partite meeting to discuss the situation, although he thought this government would be interested in such a meeting.
He added at another point that no definite date had been set for a meeting between himself and General De Gaulle, but that the French controversy with Syria and Lebanon would not affect the holding of a meeting.
The President also said he was hopeful that the San Francisco conference could be completed within ten days.

Japanese Beheaded Missionaries, Boy

NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—The American Baptist Foreign Mission society reported today that 11 Baptist missionaries and a nine-year-old boy were beheaded by the Japanese in 1943 on Pansy Island in the Philippines.
The execution occurred Dec. 19 or 20, 1943, but the society said it had not received permission from the war and state departments until now to make the information public.
Those put to death had fled to a mountain refuge which they named Hopewell, in order to carry on their "preaching, teaching and healing mission" after the Japanese invasion, the society said.

Gray County Bond Sales Picking Up

Bond sales in Gray county total $22,212 according to Judge S. D. Shenn. Gray county war finance chairman.
Sales picked up yesterday as banks and post offices and other agencies in the county issued $13,442.75 in bonds. With less than a month to go in the Seventh war loan drive, this means that not quite half of the quota has been raised, Judge Shenn said.

Nips Due To Suffer Severe Jimmy Doolittle Headache

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Jimmy Doolittle is teaming up with the Superfortresses to finish the job he started three years ago with his world-startling air attack on Tokyo.
Disclosure that the mighty B-29s, scourge of Japan's skies, will be a part of Doolittle's eight airforce in its aerial war against the empire was only one piece of news the army uncorked yesterday to let the Nipponese know the worst is yet to come.

1. Undersecretary of War Patterson served notice that Japan will be pounded harder from the air than Germany ever was.
2. American units of the British-American eastern air command in the India-Burma theater are showing out for places from which they can get a better crack at Japan.
3. Superfortresses in the last three months have cascaded tons of bombs on Japan, damaging or destroying top-priority war production plants in Tokyo, Nagoya, Osaka and Kobe.

Inclusion of the Superfortresses in the Eighth will put three B-29s into the Pacific theater against Japan. The 21st (Superfortress) bomber command has been pounding Japan steadily from the Marianas, and the 20th bomber command for several months struck the homeland and the southern extremity of the empire from bases in India and China.

AMERICAN DIVISION HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, June 1.—(AP)—The Nips keep learning more English but they still don't fool the GIs with it.
The other day a Japanese officer yelled to the Americans, during a patrol skirmish, "Throw a grenade, throw a grenade."
Pfc. Jewell Jordan, Texarkana, Tex., scratched his head, shrugged, pulled the pin and let fly—"Okay bud, you asked for it."
The Jap officer was killed.

LADIES FIRST: FRENCH WOMAN PRAISES ANGLO-SAXON HUMOR

HOUSTON, June 1.—(AP)—A story of aiding in the escape of 15 Allied airmen in France, of killing three German soldiers while evading capture, and of four years' work with the French underground was told last night by Capitaine Louise de Mont-Reynaud, 24.
Capitaine Reynaud is in Texas as a good will envoy sponsored by the French ministry of information. She came to Houston yesterday from San Francisco where she served with the French delegation to the conference. After several days visit here, she will go to Corpus Christi.

Budget Estimates of War Agencies Trimmed

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—The house appropriation committee today cut sharply into the 1946 fiscal year funds for a group of war-born agencies in a bill it described as "the beginning of the end" of such agencies.

With one exception, the committee trimmed budget estimates for every agency which already had been reduced by President Truman, as it sent the $769,764,850 measure to the floor for house action next week. The exception was a $325,000 allotment for operation of state marine schools, which the committee left untouched.

"This bill," the committee told the house, "marks the beginning of the end of those agencies established during the war to develop and maintain the war production machine, to furnish the necessary civilian assistance to the armed forces, and to adjust the civilian economy to wartime necessity."
One war agency, the office of civilian defense, already is being liquidated, the committee pointed out, and another, the war relocation authority, soon will go out of business.

Withheld from the bill at the last moment were funds for the office of price administration and the fair employment practices committee. Legislation affecting OPA and the FEPC is pending in congress.

One war agency, the office of civilian defense, already is being liquidated, the committee pointed out, and another, the war relocation authority, soon will go out of business.

The total in the bill fell $111,812,650 below budget estimates and $209,384,880 under current year funds.

Largest individual allotment went to the war shipping administration, which was earmarked for $437,325,000. The agency's cut was $48,270,000 below budget estimates.

Other large allotments, and the reduction in final victory money included:
—Office of scientific research and development, $70,000,000, down $7,500,000.
—Office of war information $35,000,000, down $7,000,000.
—War production board $35,000,000, down $4,148,000.
—Office of strategic services, $20,000,000.

Date for Rodeo Tentatively Set

A tentative date for a horse show and rodeo has been set.
The show, if held, will take place on August 24, 25 and 26, a board of directors decided last night.

O. W. Hampton of the horse show and rodeo and a name was tentatively adopted for the event. Subject to approval by next Thursday night, the name will be 'Top O' Texas at Rodeo, Horse Show and Fair Association, Inc.'

On the advice of Arthur Teed, who was appointed as legal advisor for the association, it was decided to incorporate without capital stock.

A finance committee composed of Crawford Atkinson, Wade Thompson, Floyd Inel and Irvin Cole was appointed to conduct a campaign to raise approximately $2,500 which, it was said, would take care of the initial expenses of the association.

Subscriptions to the association would be accompanied by membership in the organization.
Various committees to make plans for the show are being appointed by the board of directors and will be announced after a meeting next week.

Directors of the association present at the meeting were Crawford Atkinson, president, Arthur Teed, Roy Sewell, Orville Christopher, Orvin Cole, John Haynes, Floyd Inel, W. A. Harwell, Arlie Carpenter, and "Red" Wedgeworth.

Big Three Meet Won't Be Affected By 'Frisco Delay

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—President Truman said today that a meeting of the "Big Three" was getting closer.

The President told his weekly news conference that a delay in the conclusion of the United Nations conference at San Francisco would not affect in the slightest plans for a meeting with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin.

The President also said he was giving full support to the British in their intervention in the French-Lebanon situation.

Asserting the Big Three conference was getting closer he said he thought he could say it would take place in the not far distant future.

He said there was a possibility it would take place in this country but that this was by no means a probability.

The President was asked if the projected meeting with Churchill and Stalin might be enlarged to a "Big Four" or a "Big Five" conference—that is, to include France, or France and China.

He said flatly it would not and that the only meeting he had ever discussed was a meeting of the heads of the British, American and Russian governments.

HOME IS BEGUN
WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—A 350-bed old soldiers home to be operated by the veterans administration will be located at Bonham, home town of Speaker Sam Rayburn.

The administration announced construction of the home Tuesday, and yesterday Rayburn explained the institution would not be a hospital, but a home for aging ex-servicemen.

Rayburn said he had urged use of the army air training base for a home. He said also the Bonham home eventually would be enlarged.

Allied Request To Withdraw Refused

LONDON, June 1.—France refused today to comply with Prime Minister Churchill's request that French troops in Syria retire to their barracks to avoid the possibility of clash with the British, but in a conciliatory move ordered her troops to "cease fire."

"French troops will remain in their positions," said a French communique issued in Paris after a cabinet meeting.

By ordering French troops to cease fire the French thus complied with half the request of Churchill, backed by President Truman, to take steps to end the bloodshed.

In further steps to resolve the dispute that threatened to plunge the Arab world into revolt, it was disclosed that the United States had agreed to sit with other powers in the role of mediator.

The British foreign office announced that France had been invited to participate in a London conference with Britain and the United States to settle the issues involved in the Arab-supported demands of Syria and Lebanon for full independence and Allied insistence upon safe-guards for the communications lines to the Pacific war areas.

Beyrouth dispatches said all was quiet in Syria and Lebanon after the French finally stopped their shelling and bombing of Damascus, Syrian capital, and that small-arms fire had ceased. At least 400 persons had been killed and 500 wounded.

The British commander in the Middle East, Gen. Sir Bernard C. Patten, flew to Beyrouth this morning in a bomber escorted by Spitfires, British destroyers swung at another in Beyrouth harbor.

British troops, tanks and vehicles moved along the main roads toward Damascus yesterday following Prime Minister Churchill's orders to intervene.

Paris newspapers used the term "ultimatum" in describing Churchill's note asking Gen. de Gaulle to halt French military activity in Syria, but discussed the situation in generally moderate terms.

Some French newspapers did not comment at all. Others cautioned Britain that "appeasement" on the Arabs in the case of Syria held dangerous possibilities for Britain elsewhere in the Middle East.

Some criticized Gen. de Gaulle for taking a more aggressive following Prime Minister Churchill's orders to intervene.

PRISONERS RIOT: GUARD IS KILLED AS REVOLT STARTS FIRE

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.—(AP)—A guard was shot and killed and three prisoners were wounded, one of them seriously, during a riot and fire last night at the U. S. army disciplinary barracks at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Major General James L. Collins, commanding officer of the Fifth service command who was at Fort Harrison when the rioting started, said in a report forwarded today to the war department that there were indications "that the riot was a planned affair."

He reported fires broke out in a barracks and an infirmary at two widely-separated spots in the compound while the rioting was in progress. He estimated the fire damage at $100,000. Nine barracks buildings were burned.

General Collins estimated 1,900 prisoners were involved in the rioting. All were American soldiers, many of them court-martialed while serving overseas for serious offenses, including murder and rape.

Minimum Unemployment Is Goal of Reconversion Plans

WASHINGTON.—Approximately 3,000,000 persons will be unemployed in the United States this summer while industry is partially reconverting to civilian production. This is the estimate of government and business, while labor organizations fear that more than that number will be out of jobs. If reconversion is accomplished as planned by the war production board, however, officials hope it will drop to 1,000,000 or less before the end of the year.

These Tricks Keep Accessories White

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Make reversible collar and cuffs, button on clothes for turnabout duty, and employ other such ingenious tricks to keep white accessories white a little longer. Preserving their lily-like splendor calls either for a lot of ingenuity or a lot of laundering. Why not be ingenious, as so many busy career girls and movie stars have learned to be?

Duplicates of the white collar, which can also be turned over and worn twice—this goes also for the snappy gilet or vest—help many a movie star to keep fresh the frosty touch which sharpens a dark dress or suit, while its twin is in the hamper.

For a strategic bit of white which launders like a handkerchief, wear what the French call "little sleeves". They button on to wrists instead of to costume sleeves which are easy on the upkeep.

White hats? As impractical as it sounds, a white hat can see you through a season looking as spotless as a halo, if you'll pick a straw with a hard, smooth and roughly textured surface. Soft, dull and closely woven straw or felt holds more attraction for smudges but even these can be grazed off—says film actress Eleanor Parker, who has tried the trick—if you'll rub sandpaper over the spots. Smudges can be fended off, she says if you'll handle your hat with freshly-laundered fingers; will keep it in tissue when it's not on your head.

Gloves? To have plenty on hand, buy the kind that wash and dry quickly, and remember that double-woven cottons can look as swank as suede. For "extra" nicety of touch, carry "spares" in your handbag, and switch from soiled to fresh before making an entrance.

If you simply won't be a nurse-maid to collars, cuffs and gloves which have to be changed often, you can be an indifferent guardian of white bows, jabots and eye-catching little tabs planted at the neckline of dark outfits. They enjoy a safe-keeping point that keeps them safe from soil and relieves you of that constant care.

Four Pointers Will Brushoff Mr. Sun During Hot Summer

When Old Mister Sun climbs to his highest perch in the sky and the humidity breaks all records, it's time to think of keeping cool. Here are four pointers to take the swelter and discomfort out of summer.

1. Start the day off with a warm shower so that you will feel thoroughly clean and refreshed.
2. Put on your coolest, lightest clothes so that you will feel immaculate. Light colors are high in favor because they do not absorb heat as readily as dark hues.
3. Keep vitamin and mineral content high by sipping cooling fruit and vegetable juices. The use of drinking straws will prevent you from gulping cold beverages too rapidly and causing discomfort. Individually wrapped drinking straws are available at fountains and restaurants.
4. Act cool, think cool, and you will be cooler.

Games of various sorts are being arranged with instructors for each, with definite arrangements being made by Mrs. Carl Snow, summer activities chairman.

Brownie Scouts will attend day camp at the Scout House with Mrs. R. H. Neustiel and Mrs. Noel Dalton, directors. Special features of the camp will be meetings in the park, and at Camp Sullivan.

Because leaders and scouts have expressed a desire to learn more songs and games, a general "Scout Sing" is being planned for Friday evening, June 22, at the City park.

"Take it easy, mom," grinned Lt. William (Bud) Richards, 22.

"It's me. Just back from China."

And for the first time in three years, Lt. Richards swept his mother, Mrs. Sally Richards of Miami Beach, into his arms. He had flown back from China to pick up a load of serum.

USO-Camp Show To Be Pampa Air Field Next Friday

"Chicks and Chuckles" another in the popular series of USO-camp shows, arrives at the PAAF theater next Friday night with seven novel acts, headed by the blackface comedy team, "Two Black Crows."

Two performances of the show are scheduled, one at 7 o'clock and the other at 9 o'clock. There will be no night showing of the movie. The USO show is free to all military personnel.

George Moran, who with his late partner, made up the famous team of Moran and Mack, has acquired a new vis-a-vis, Rade Saddler, to continue the "Two Black Crows" tradition. Moran has appeared all over the world and has been in show business for 46 years.

Estelita Zarco, exotic young dancer from El Paso, Texas, specializes in Spanish dances. Offering a magic "blackboard" as his versatile stooge, Johnny Hyman presents an original mental act.

Other performers in "Chicks and Chuckles" will include Hunt and Juliet, in a well-equipped magical comedy act; the Six G-ful Girls, consisting of two blondes, two brunettes, and two titans; Coco, Steve and Johnny and their knock-about, rowdy antics; and Josephine Bond, talented pianist and musical conductor.

We, the Women

By RUTH MILLETT

A prominent New York club woman who, in a newspaper interview, grew eloquent over woman's place being in the home, hastened to add, "But please don't refer to us as housewives. Women don't like the word housewife."

Well, if housewife is a word entirely without glamor, one in which women can take no pride, it's the fault of housewives themselves. They go around saying apologetically to any woman with any kind of outside job, however dull it may be, "I'm just a housewife."

It is "just" that has ruined the word and made women a little ashamed of it.

It is that "just" that has forced so many women to run around in circles, pretending to be interested in any convenient project that will permit them to say to themselves: "See how much I'm going outside my home. I'm not just a housewife. I'm like so many women."

And the outside projects often aren't half as important as the job at home that is neglected so that a woman won't have to think of herself as "just a housewife."

For all the career women there are in the world today, the majority of women are housewives.

So it is pretty dumb of them to be apologetic about the career they have chosen for themselves, and make it sound totally unimportant by sticking "just" in front of the title.

You don't hear any group of career women going around saying, "I'm just a secretary" or "I'm just a designer" or "I'm just a movie star."

Common Ground

By R. G. HOLMES
 "Men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil."

The Rule of Law
 I ran across a statement the other day in a reprint from Fortnightly under the heading, "The Rule of Law." The article said much in a few words. I had never seen the expression so concisely put.

The author was attempting to show the difficulty of reconciling administrative law with the Rule of Law. He made this statement: "The problem before us is how to reconcile the use of a government with that of a government of law rather than a government of whim or caprice."

I presume this expression of open, certain and equal treatment of all, which he calls the Rule of Law, is what is generally meant when we speak of a government of law rather than a government of whim or caprice.

It will be remembered that Fortnightly is an English paper and when we read of the Labor party demanding the overthrow of the present Parliament, we see the truth of the following statement taken from this treatise: "Outside a very limited circle, the indifference and ignorance of the principles and ideals upon which the Rule of Law depends are alarming. The abandonment of the study of classical philosophy and politics has robbed the governing classes of that libertarian assurance which they derived from their earlier acquaintance with Aristotle and with Cicero."

Defining Democracy
 The word "democracy" has many different meanings to different people. This can cause untold harm. In an article issued by the Society of Individualists and National League for Freedom of London, England, the writer states the conception of democracy that existed in England during the last half of the 19th century. Discussing the milk marketing control in England, he shows how the experience of collectivism had not only increased prices but even reduced importation of milk. Here is his description of democracy: "The essence of British democracy is not the rule of the majority but the fact that our ideas of liberty control the rules that those limited fields where the individual is not free to rule himself. If democracy is to survive, a majority must always arise from the disinterested decision of the voter." The danger of American government is that the voters are not disinterested in their voting. They are voting themselves bonuses, subsidies, protection against competition and favoritism in taxation.

Due to the fact that we have discarded the Rule of Law in our government, an attempt to make it a government that gives assistance; in short, a government of whimsical men; we are in the gravest danger of our democracy surviving. It is solely because of the voters' not making disinterested and intelligent decisions that we had before the war the worst and longest depression in our history, that we had such stupendous taxes and yet were not able to pay our government costs.

First Essential of Patriotism
 Almost everyone would like to be patriotic but patriotism is more than a desire. It is intelligent effort.

The first essential in patriotism is to know what a good government is—to know what kind of government will, in the long run best promote the character and virtue of its citizens.

This knowledge, this understanding of a good government will not come to an individual out of the air. It will come only through the study of the great writers who probably be the most effective in reading the great thinkers of the ages who have stood and fought for freedom or a definite limited government.

The document that best summarizes the great thinkers of the ages on the function of a good government is the Declaration of Independence. Read it and reread it and you will understand it.

Many people do things that they think are patriotic when, in reality, their patriotism is doing more harm than good.

Yes, the first thing to do to be patriotic is to learn the definite limitations of a good government.

Every treaty made by preceding governments; every foreign debt which Russia had ever incurred; every foreign right and property interest that she had in the territory of Russia lawfully repudiated all religions and established a new moral code for the proletariat, or propertyless class.

THE "A. P." KEEPS FAITH
 (Oakland) (Cal.) Tribune
 Mr. Edward Kennedy's Associated Press dispatch reporting the unconditional surrender of Germany to the western allies and to Russia was the greatest news event of our time. . . . Millions of mothers, fathers, sons, other kind of our armed forces in Europe were thus given the authentic news that they had been longing and praying for and of which they were entitled.

Mr. Kennedy did his full duty and only his duty when he filed his epochal story. . . . And yet an unprecedented situation of official agreement to withhold or delay information is a campaign or election going on, get all heret up over issues or personalities, put on the robes, collect and pay the campaign expenses, get out the vote. In the crisis politician class would be such organizations as the P. A. C., the "Ham-and-Eggers" and the crusaders.

Both elements are considered necessary and when they work together, they achieve political victory. But when professional and crisis politicians work at cross purposes to achieve pet aims and ends, then things go haywire and the party meets defeat.

Reorganization Plans Approved By Senator Byrd

(Editor's Note: The following statement has been released by Senator Harry Byrd Virginia Democrat, following a recent statement by the President that he planned thorough reorganization of the government.)

I am very much pleased by the message of the President, announcing his determination to effect a thorough reorganization of the government. When I last talked with him he told me of his purpose to do so.

I have always contended that through reorganization could only be accomplished by effective cooperation between the President and Congress.

At the conclusion of the war, we will be faced with a colossal task in reorganizing three million civil service civilian employees. Likewise, there are many duplications of effort and conflicting authorities existing among the nearly 1200 main governmental departments and bureaus.

Any effective reorganization must include the thousands of branch offices that have been established throughout the country, in many instances side by side, performing work of a similar character.

The joint executive committee, of which I am chairman, has been working for months on a definite plan of governmental reorganization. The report of our committee will be made to the President and the Congress very shortly. This report will outline in definite terms those agencies that should be abolished and those agencies that can be consolidated for the improvement of the public service, together with an estimate of the reduction in the number of employees that can be made.

I agree with the message of the President with respect to legislation similar to the reorganization act of 1939, especially the re-enactment of Part 2 of Title 1 of that act. This section protects the congress in the disapproval of any executive orders by the passage of a concurrent resolution, which is not subject to presidential veto.

I think the scope of the legislation should be as broad as is wise in effecting all the agencies of government, excepting that, there be certain agencies such as the national court system and others performing semi-judicial functions that perhaps should be exempted, as was done in the reorganization act of 1939.

I am convinced that the President is very much to be commended in his setting up of the colossal governmental structure on a sound basis, eliminating unnecessary agencies and employees and increasing the efficiency of those that remain.

WORLD TODAY

By DeWitt MacKENZIE
 AP Foreign News Analyst

Maybe in the long run the Franco-Syrian approval will prove to be a good thing, for it demonstrates anew that the whole of Europe and the Mediterranean countries are as inflammable as tinder and that anybody who flips a lighted match carelessly aside these days is begging for catastrophe.

We've come mighty close to another great conflagration. You can't rekindle the fire anywhere without the terrible danger of its spreading.

And Syria isn't the only danger spot by a long shot. Europe is full of delicate political situations, any one of which could easily precipitate a fresh tragedy. The present affair seems at this writing to have been got in hand. John Bull stepped in to halt the fighting—and he was wearing his guns loose in their holsters.

At the same time British Prime Minister Churchill told General de Gaulle in Paris that "once firing has ceased and order has been restored we shall be prepared to begin a serious discussion here in London." This means that the United States and Britain are ready to sit down and thresh the Syrian difficulty out with France. That's the language of peace.

This bloody lesson may have a salutary effect in another way. It shows that the great powers intend to maintain order. It shows that they intend to do so even if they have to employ force. They want to settle disputes by mediation, but abject appeasement is out the window. Britain and America have acted promptly in this matter, and it must be assumed that Moscow is in accord and would have taken an active hand if necessary.

Probably the Syrian imbroglio also will lend force to the argument that the peace of the world, for the time being, rests mainly on the shoulders of the Big Three—America, Russia and Britain. That perhaps isn't an ideal situation, but it is based on the horse-sense that this trio of great powers are the ones which have the physical strength to maintain order so long as they stand together.

Causes Of Divorce

HOW many wives are bitterly jealous when their husbands speak to attractive women, yet often enough, when the marriage breaks up and the husband marries again, he chooses a good companion with not half the sex appeal of the wife he has left. Men cannot live by bread alone.

Jealousy and possessiveness are character traits and personality qualities which create more havoc than people are likely to realize. They are usually an outgrowth of poor home training. The chief trouble is that the possessor of these unattractive qualities invariably throws all the blame on others instead of where it belongs—on himself. For both traits are manifestations of egotism and self-love.

Surely there is little faith or trust or peace in a marriage where the man or the woman is constantly tormented for fear the other will meet a more attractive person. These jealous people seem to feel that only by keeping their married partner shut away from all the world can they be any safety. Jealousy, like possessiveness—to which it is a blood brother—is an unattractive quality at best. One cannot sympathize with it. But it brings its own destruction in the suffering which it causes.

There are few forces as destructive as possessiveness. It turns love into a grim battle for the survival of a personality and, more often than not, it kills the thing it loves.

APPROXIMATELY one marriage out of six ends in divorce. And these are only the failures which reach public attention. Of the others, a vast number are unhappy—but in many cases, unnecessarily so. I am convinced that the number of happy marriages can be greatly increased by the use of intelligence and good will.

One thing seems to be certain. A man and woman who are successful as lovers are able to over-

Marriage is a Serious Business

by Randolph Ray

SO many times, the woman takes life—and her husband—for granted. She becomes sloppy, uninterested, and uninteresting. Her husband, meanwhile, either forces her to stay in the same place, or he is going ahead, he is developing, competing with other men, his interests are keen and varied. At his side are women working in business, alert, well-groomed, and making him feel that he is an important and interesting whether he is or not.

To go home and find his wife badly dressed, careless, not caring what he has been doing, not trying to understand, gives the other woman all the business of the world.

The woman, of course, is not always the one at fault. The husband, too, begins to take things for granted. He who was so eager to appear at his best before the girl he wanted to marry, forgets to ask her to go places. After all he has given her, he says, "hasn't he?" He forgets to pay her little compliments, to notice how she looks. Small wonder if she loses interest in her appearance.

It is not easy, in the intimacy of daily life, to keep attractive. Many marriages founder into cold routine because no effort is made to keep one's less attractive aspects hidden. A woman who flaunts a cold-creamed face, hair curlers, and a chin strap may look attractive in public, but she is repulsive in the privacy of her home, where it is more important. This is one reason why each individual should be able to have privacy in his own home.

Spiritual privacy, by the way, is as essential as physical privacy. Divorce is a problem which cannot be solved because no effort is made to keep one's less attractive aspects hidden. ● SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
The life of Jesus was a ministry. He said concerning Himself: "The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many."
In one aspect of that life it might be summed up in the saying, "He went about doing good." But that was only one aspect. Jesus was not only a doer of good, a minister bringing help, and comfort, and blessing as He went about Galilee and Judaea; He was a teacher, and a guide, and a Savior. His ministry was to go far beyond His earthly life. It was everlasting in its nature, and boundless in its outreach.

The significance of Jesus was the Gospel that He brought to the world. We call Christian ministers today "ministers of the Gospel," and happy is the church and community that has as its religious leader a true minister of the Gospel, and not just a useful counsel, and a man of good will, and a minister described! Except for those who professed His coming, Jesus was the first, and the supreme, minister of the Gospel.

He brought the news of God's grace to men, and of that grace there is no limitation, in its availability, and in its effectiveness. It is of this gospel of the grace of God that the hymn-writer has written: "It streams the whole creation reach; So plentiful is the store; Enough for all, enough for each; Enough forevermore."

But the Gospel was not only a message, a teaching; it was Jesus Himself. He did not just tell men of the grace of God; He lived it. And that ministry that dealt with the sublime, and all that was noble and greatest, was great in all the little things. He took the children up in His arms and blessed them, when the disciples would have sent them and their mothers away; He noticed the widow giving her mite in the Temple, and He commended her above all the wealthy givers; He washed the disciples' feet, that He might enforce His lesson concerning humility and service; and the richest and deepest of His teachings He gave to a woman whom He met at a well, a stranger, of a people with whom the Jews had no dealings. Well might the disciples marvel when they came from the city and found Him thus conversing far apart from the woman being a Samaritan, it was against all the conventions of the time for a man thus to be publicly conversing with a woman.

He dared, even in the face of His critics, to receive sinners and eat with them; His counting was as sublime as His faith and His graciousness. He who warned His disciples to "beware of men" had no fear of men, or of what men might do to Him. He cared only about doing His Father's will, and about finishing the work that the Father had given Him to do.

He dared, even in the face of His critics, to receive sinners and eat with them; His counting was as sublime as His faith and His graciousness. Production Cutbacks May Ease Food Strain

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—War production cutbacks and reconversion may team up to ease some of this country's food supply strain by the end of the year.

This possibility is being considered by food officials in connection with plans for sharing American food with hungry peoples in Europe.

Agriculture department economists say that reduction in military output now taking place should tend to reduce consumer incomes. And smaller consumer buying power should be reflected, they add, in a somewhat reduced demand for food.

Similarly as industrial reconversion gains momentum and is able to put larger quantities of non-food items on the market, there will be a tendency, the economists say, for consumers to divert money from food to other items coming back into production.

Boston's Dave Ferris Hurls Seventh Straight Victory

Amarillo Field Has Hard Time Finding 'Good' Competition

AMARILLO, June 1—(AP)—What the Amarillo air field baseball team craves is some competition.

The Sky Giants have already marked up ten victories against no defeats this season to bring their winning streak to 18—they had taken eight straight at the close of last year's campaign. In this season's ten games they have scored 135 runs or an average of 13.5 per contest. Their opponents have managed for 33.

Skipper Hoot Gibson explains the "large figure" for the opposition by the fact that he needs to give his younger pitchers experience in the late innings of every game.

One hundred and twenty-seven base hits have rattled off the Amarillo field nine's bats. The team batting average for the 10 games is .372.

Teams beaten by the Sky Giants this year include Hobbs, N. M. army air field, three times; Midland army air field, three times; Big Spring army air field, twice; and Lubbock army air field, twice.

Liberal, Kan., army air field will play a two-game series with the Giants in Amarillo this weekend.

Mauriello Meets Dudas in Battle Of Heavyweights

NEW YORK, June 1—(AP)—Madison Square Garden will present a battle of heavyweights tonight as Tami Mauriello of the Bronx clashes with Steve Dudas of Edgewater, N. J.

Mauriello, a 2 to 5 favorite to defeat Dudas, won his last fight at the garden outpointing Lee Oma in a ten-round bout March 23. Dudas is in the midst of a comeback, having beaten Jimmy Carrola and Fernando (the mighty) Menichelli among others.

Radio Station KPND will air tonight's bout through the facilities of the Mutual Broadcasting System at 9 p. m. tonight. The Madison Square fights can be heard over KPND Friday night.

Bums Go Into 2nd Spot By Downing Bucs

By JACK HAND
 Associated Press Sports Writer

If Dave Ferris and Les Mueller are fair samples, the GI athlete with big league ambitions is headed in the right direction.

Ferris, a two-year veteran of the army air corps, is the only unbeaten pitcher in either league with more than three decisions. In circling the American league for the first time, the Boston Red Sox freshman has wheeled to seven straight victories, at least one over each team except Washington, and he hasn't faced the Senators yet.

Throwing hard with his right hand isn't Ferris' only accomplishment. His .444 batting average is best in either league and he is used as a pinch-hitter almost every day. In 63 innings of pitching, the ex-serviceman has allowed only five runs and 36 hits and boasts four shutouts, one more than Detroit's Al Benton.

Cleveland was Ferris' latest victim yesterday when he threw a five-hitter at the tribe to coast home 6-2 behind an 11-hit attack, including two of his own singles. The win hoisted the Red Sox into fifth place, jumping two pegs.

Mueller's case is different because he was later betting started and didn't graduate into a starting role until yesterday, but his debut was as sensational as Ferris'. Opposing New York in the second Yankee stadium twilight tilt before 5,300 fans, the Detroit righthander blanked the Yankees, 2-0, with two singles.

Four years ago Mueller was a Tiger rookie but he joined the army in the spring of 1942 and had worked on relief only three times since receiving his honorable discharge last fall. Off his performance in the stadium, manager Steve O'Neill is counting on the giant-sized vet to take up the slack in the Detroit staff caused by the loss through a broken leg of ex-sailor Al Benton.

Mueller pulled the Tigers to within one game of the leading Yankees in a day that found seven teams changing positions.

Brooklyn went into second place in the National by topping Pittsburgh in 13 innings, 6-4, on Goody Rosen's triple that doomed Nick Strincevich. Reliever Clyde King received credit for his first victory.

The St. Louis Cards climbed back into the first division, passing Chicago, by slugging the Boston Braves, 9-4, as Jack Creech teetered through on a 10-hit pitching job.

Walter "boom boom" Beck lowered the boom on the Phillies, 8-1, to give Cincinnati a clean sweep of the three-game set. New York and Chicago were rained out.

Washington dropped below Cleveland into seventh spot by bowing to the St. Louis Browns, 5-2. One four-run inning on Mickey Haefner did the trick for the Browns.

Bobby Estrella's eight inning stop.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
 NEW YORK, June 1—(AP)—A survey conducted by Eddie Barnes, Colgate coach, shows that only 242 of the 682 American colleges list baseball as an official sport. . . . and the 242 include those which let the national game drop during wartime and those which have only intramural competition. . . . that's the big reason why Eddie and Penn State's Joe Bedenk have called a "revival meeting" of college coaches for the end of this month to see what they can do for the game.

PICK UP THE MARBLES

Orin Benson of Eagle, Wis., a professional handler of field trial dogs, manages to make out all right in spite of the shortages of ammunition and red points. . . . during the preparations for the recent trials at Fargo, N. D., a hen pheasant escaped and took refuge in a clump of trees. . . . Benson, who was exercising his dogs, told them to sit, pulled out a slingshot and a handful of marbles and went hunting. . . . eventually he hit the mark; the pheasant's head . . . and came home with something for dinner.

Pampa Flyers To Oppose Childress AAF in 2 Games

The crippled but hard-fighting PAAFF Flyers will play host to the baseball team from Childress AAF this week-end in games Saturday and Sunday, with Saturday's games getting underway at 4:30 p. m. and the Sunday contest at 2:30.

Big Ray Johnson, who is rapidly becoming the ace of the Flyers' mound staff, will undoubtedly hurl one of the contests for Pampa, with Lefty Al Kaplan slated to take the hill in the other.

The Flyers will be playing their first game under the tutelage of their new coach, Lt. Joseph Marfina of the physical training department, and will be out to repeat their recent sweep of the two-game series with the Childress club. The locals downed the Childress nine 12 to 3 and 9 to 5 in games at Childress.

Civilians will have no trouble entering the field to see these games and are cordially invited to do so. Lt. George M. Sylvester, physical training officer at PAAFF, announced today.
