Macaroni salads take on a starring role during the summer. They are hearty enough to feature as main dishes for luncheon and supper menus and, unlike most salads, they can be completely prepared during the coolest part of the day and allowed to stand for hours before serving.

To be at their best, macaroni salads should contain something crunchy like crisp celery, something colorful like strips of green pepper or grated tomatoes and something to give them zest like scallion onion or a tangy salad dressing. There's no limit to the number of possible combinations.

Another advantage to macaroni salads is that they are the perfect picnic salad. They wait almost without wilting and they are mighty satisfying after a few hours of outdoor activity.

Textured knit nylon, hand washable and crease resistant, provides one theme for clothes to live in this summer. These designs by Stephanie Koret of California spotlight permanent pleating and quilting in separates. Knit nylon and acetate is the fabric used (left) for blouse with higher, wide neck and skirt with big pockets; for permanently pleated skirt and shirt cinched at the waist by leather belt. Short-sleeved cardigan is accented by quilting (right) and so are skirt pockets. Permanent pleating is used in turtle-neck blouse and contour skirt for separates with a one-piece look. —By Gale Dugas, NEA Woman's Editor.

Activity Varied On Police Front Over The Week End

Activity on the police beat was moderate, though varied over the three-day Fourth of July week end.

City police handled two minor automobile accidents, a man charged with disturbing the peace and a man illegally carrying firearms. County authorities took care of one check-forger, two people charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor and three youngsters who broke a window at a local drive-in theater.

Justice of the peace courts were busy, too. On their dockets were four charged with driving without an operator's license, three with no mufflers, two with speeding and one with intoxication.

Highway Patrol reported good news. No automobile wrecks were handled in the Pampa area during the entire week end.

The two minor car accidents occurred within five minutes of each other in Pampa. Elvin Wesley Totty, 35, of 903 E. Brown, driving a '47 sedan, and William Dudson Shay, 31, of 213 E. Five minutes earlier a '41 coupe driven by David Hugh Sutton, 15, of 702 S. Gray, and a '48 sedan, driven by Donald Nelson Gray, 25, of 407 Lefors St. Pampa, were damaged for an estimated $300. The accident happened in the 800-block of W. Foster. Police were unable to determine the actual cause of the mishap. No arrests were made.

Jimmie Lee Grays, Pampa, was picked up for firecracker - shoot-charge of unlawfully carrying firearms. Grays was handed over to county authorities Monday morning.

Judge Bruce Parker fined him $100 and costs. David Pope, Pampa, pleaded not guilty to charge of disturbing the peace in corporation court and posted a $15 bond. Trial was set for July 10.

Both city police and the county juvenile officer reported no one picked up for firecracker - shoot-charge during the week end.

The sheriff's office had Jim Bell, 66, of 605 Kansas St., Eldorado, Kan., in tow Saturday on a charge of forging a check for $6500 some seven months ago. Bell voluntarily signed a waiver of extradition. He is now awaiting court action.

H. A. Doggett, county juvenile officer, was called out to the Top O' Texas Drive-In Theater at 1 p.m. Friday to handle a case of Pampa; and Billie Eugene Brown, Pampa; Brown paid $10. Other two are yet due to appear. The two specifiers were Gordon Jack Addington, 20, Pampa, and Billie Bert Bray, 29, of White Deer. Addington was fined $14 and Bray was not shown up yet.

Wheat Harvest In Area At An End

Almost the entire wheat crop in the Panhandle area has been harvested, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

Operations are now considered complete, reports the TEC, except scattered fields with mostly late variety wheat. Some combining, of course, is expected to go on for the next week or so. But this activity will be very limited.

No further problems in the supply of workers or equipment are in the offing.

The wheat harvest is now in full swing in Kansas and Nebraska. Both labor and equipment are reported in sufficient supply in those areas.

paign that results in values rising and doubling within a few years.

The new city manager was introduced by Mayor C. A. Huff, who briefed Cruce's history and explained the background of the council-manager form of government, calling it a "union of democracy and efficiency."

The mayor pointed out democracy is retained by the citizens voting on the city council and efficiency maintained by the council hiring a professionally trained man to administer the day-by-day affairs of the municipality.

The program was introduced by Hugh (Buck) Burdette, vice-president of the chamber.

Eurletie referred to Mayor Huff as the best man who could have been named as mayor of Pampa "even if all of we citizens would have gone out over the country beating every bush in sight."

PRIEST TO THE MAGICIAN

INSIDE THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

By JOHN GUNTHER
Written for NEA Service

Why, I asked a weightily prominent Democratic politician, does the Democratic convention always come later than the Republican. Answer: "Because we're smarter."

As a matter of blunt fact, the Republican convention has followed the Democratic only twice in history, and the last time was back in the 80's. But the reason is not that the Democrats are "smarter" or planned it that way, but the natural course of events and the fact that the Republicans, for prestige purposes, like to come first.

This year, however, Guy Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican national committee, cautiously sounded out the Democrats as to what they would think if the Republicans broke precedent and held their convention in August instead of July, i.e., later than the Democrats. The cagey reply he got was, "Then we'll hold ours in September."

The Democrats, in other words, think that there is a psychological advantage to coming second, particularly in this unprecedentedly crucial year. So they will meet in Chicago on July 21, a fortnight after the Republicans, and 1230 shouting, steaming delegates will be there. Since the total is 1230, the number necessary to nominate is 616.

To analyze what will probably happen we have to start with the fact that Estes Kefauver is the strongest candidate, if Adlai Stevenson, between now and the namely that most professional politicians would rather lose with somebody they like than win with somebody they hate.

Kefauver still has a long way to go to reach 616. The problem for the bosses will be (a) to keep him from getting there, which means (b) that they will have to unite on a powerful enough opponent. Kefauver, they agree, is the man to beat. But you can't beat somebody with nobody. Beat Kefauver with whom?

The first, obvious answer would be Stevenson. If Stevenson will not accept a draft, some would like Sen. Paul Douglas. But this presents a pungent difficulty in that, first, Douglas himself says that he does not want to be president, and, second, he Democrats to have come out for — Kefauver! (Another, oddly enough, is Jimmy Roosevelt of California, who was for Eisenhower in 1948.)

If Stevenson and Douglas are unavailable, if Harriman doesn't turn out to be strong enough, if Bob Kerr and Dick Russell are clearly out of the question, if favorite sons like Humphrey and McMahon remain mere favorite sons out in the provinces, if Chief Justice Vinson refuses to be tempted, if Speaker Sam Rayburn (who is 70) feels that he ought not run, who else is there? Who? That is Kefauver's chief strength — not his voting power, but the grim absence of anybody else.

Truman? No. He is out, really out, and I am convinced that nothing in the world — not even the spectre of Bob Taft, becoming president — will bring him in.

In conclusion we should perhaps mention three enormous pools of voters, aside from Negroes, who will get particular attention from the Democratic candidate no matter who he is. First, women. Second, Labor. Third, the farmers.

There is no such thing as a rigid women's vote in this country. American women over 21 outnumber men by roughly 81 million to 49 million, but in 1948 many more men voted than women, roughly 27 million as against 22.

A higher proportion of women will, the prophets say, vote this year. Among the Democratic candidates, Kefauver will probably be the chief beneficiary of the women's vote, because of his crusade — however ineffectual it may have been — against crime and gambling.

Labor is as hard to predict as the weather. There are about 15 million Americans in organized labor, but not all of them are voters by any means. In recent elections roughly two-thirds of the labor vote has gone Democratic; some Democratic labor leaders would claim more.

A great deal depends on who the Republican candidate is, as it is only too obvious; labor (though it has criticized Eisenhower on occasion) would certainly prefer him to Taft.

Among the Democrats, labor would probably turn thumbs down brutally on Kerr and Russell, he on the fence in regard to Harriman and Kefauver, and actively, earnestly favor Stevenson or Barkley.

As to the farm vote, there has been a natural tendency for years to think of it as always predominantly Republican; this is not necessarily true today.

Truman, be it remembered, won in 1948 partially at least by reason of the farm vote; he lost the tremendous industrial states of New York, New Jersey, Michigan and Pennsylvania, but he won Ohio, California, most of the West, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and even Iowa. Farmers, by and large, have prospered mightily under the New Deal and Fair Deal, and many of them will vote for continued price support.

The ideal candidate, so far as the rural and other vote is concerned, would be one who could somehow keep prices up, and at the same time get taxes down.

In any case it is the individual voter, you and me, who is sovereign in this country, and who will finally decide. Many voters hope above all that they will get a clear choice between two good candidates, one conservative, one liberal.

"George can't resist watching the Republican convention but he refuses to listen to it—he's a Democrat!"

See Weapon In Atom Sub

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Defense Department official says America's "one significant advantage" over Russia—sea-borne air power—will be strengthened even further with development of a submarine for launching atomic guided missiles.

John J. Floberg, assistant secretary of the Navy for air, said in an American Legion recorded broadcast that the Navy is converting two cruisers to guided missile ships, and added:

"There's some appreciation, I think, of the submarine as a guided missile ship in the plans that the Navy is making."

Roswell Gilpatric, undersecretary of air, said on the same program that guided missiles "in a period of years" will replace piloted aircraft.

Gilpatric said the day of complete replacement of aircraft by guided missiles will dawn gradually—"more or less a process similar to that of the replacement by jet engines of the conventional piston-type engines."
