Anxiously, Mankind Awaits Japan's Decision on Terms

THIS MAY BE IT

Mustering-Out To Come Fast Following V-J

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Five million men may be released from the army within 12 months after V-J day.

This is the estimate of military experts familiar with problems confronting the army; the war department is saying nothing officially.

The first to get out, it is believed, will be the 550,000 soldiers who already had a score of 85 points for combat, service and dependency and are eligible now for release.

The critical point score or discharge is expected to be cut promptly after Japanese surrender and there was some speculation that the older men in the army might be given earlier discharges. This would mean, informed sources estimated, the release of an additional 1,000,000 or 1,500,000 within three or four months.

By that time, the Japanese territory should be fully occupied and the army then in position to release an additional three million or more men in the ensuing 8 or 9 months.

This would leave a force of 3,000,000 or less. The occupation of Japan is expected to require perhaps 1,000,000 men. The German occupation force is now fixed at 400,000. Garrisons such as Alaska would take approximately 500,000 and the remainder presumably would be assigned to army centers in this country to operate the supply system, hospitals, ports and similar installations.

Local Discussion On Jap Surrender

We, the American people, have always had the right to condemn or substitute our form of government.

Saturday morning, following the announcement that the Big Four would accept Japanese surrender if the Emperor would submit to Allied jurisdiction, there was much speculation, among Pampa citizens.

As a result of a public opinion poll, 59 of the 106 persons interviewed, favored the step taken by the Allied supreme command. There were 47 who firmly believed the Emperor should be eliminated and ten persons were undecided.

Several believed the Big Four did right in offering the announced peace terms, but thought something should be done in the near future to separate the religion from the state. One local merchant considered the terms acceptable because our military leaders have studied the point thoroughly and know the best means for keeping peace.

The general feeling among those who favor the Allied agreement, however, was that the Emperor be retained as a religious figurehead only.

American forces stood guard in the Pacific today against possible Japanese treachery while Russia's Red army surged on through Manchuria pending the Tokyo government's decision on conditional acceptance by the Allies of its surrender offer.

Admiral Nimitz alerted the fleet and other units of his Pacific command Saturday against possible treachery and other American commanders cautioned their men that they were still at war.

The alert continued into Sunday with Nimitz declaring at Guam that only instruction from Washington would bring any relaxation of his order.

Moscow announced two prongs of the crushing red army sweep into Manchuria were less than 500 miles apart in their drive to cut off Japanese forces in the north.

The announcement disclosed that Marshal Alexander Vasilevsky, former commander of the Third white Russian army in east Prussia, was

Central American Dignitary Dead

DALLAS, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Theophile Maurice Solomon, 78, one-time confidant of President Zalaya of Nicaragua and friend of Poncho Villa—a man whose career embraced 34 colorful years in South America—died here yesterday of a heart attack.

A native of New Orleans, Solomon shipped from New York as a cabin boy at the age of 15 and went to Bluefields, Nicaragua. Four years later he had made $50,000 as a rubber and gold trader far up the Rama river.

Solomon made $1,000,000 on the rise of the peso after obtaining a loan from J. P. Morgan to stabilize the currency of Nicaragua.

Deep in the Nicaraguan jungles a native whom Solomon had befriended attacked him with a machete and almost severed his neck. A negro found him, but him in a canoe and raced for five days to Barb wire at Lewis Hardware Co. (Adv.)

ANXIOUSLY THEY ARE WAITING

Typical of crowds all over America, the scene of crowds waiting for the sensational news was taken in front of the White House. Throughout the country crowds they hope will come almost any time.

KEEP TUNED TO KPDN

IF and when the news comes of the surrender of Japan, bringing to an end the greatest war of all time, readers are urged to keep tuned to The Pampa Daily News' Station KPDN.

Station KPDN, through the world-wide facilities of the Associated Press service as provided by The News, and the Mutual broadcasting system will give full coverage as events develop.

Vast Cutbacks Planned When Japs Give Up

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Well over $12,000,000,000 in war material cutbacks, coincident with the swift Japanese slide downhill toward surrender, were reported officially and unofficially today.

Meanwhile, the White House took over on official news of reconversion and put out the only formal report on the cutbacks—a $1,300,000,000 navy reduction in shipbuilding.

That that announcement, by John W. Snyder, war mobilization and reconversion chief, came shortly after heads of other government agencies had received instructions from the White House to keep their postwar programs under wraps until President Truman gives the signal.

The purpose of this taboo, it was explained, is to allow coordination of plans of various agencies and to prevent disclosure before peace is an accomplished fact. The edict caused cancellation of at least one

V-J Day Will See OPA Relaxations

DALLAS, Aug. 11.—(AP)—W. A. Orth, regional director of the office of price administration, said controls will be lifted speedily on some items following V-J day and slowly on others, depending on supply.

He predicted the early release or material relaxation of controls on gasoline and tires but indicated shortages will cause slow release of many food items such as sugar fats and oil.

He predicted that rent control will not be lifted until the supply and demand in living quarters reach something close to a balance.

Japanese Halt All Military Operations

LONDON, Sunday, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Reuters quoted the Chungking radio today as saying the Tokyo radio had reported that all military operations have been cancelled. (There was no official confirmation of the broadcast.)

The suggestions are to go into effect after the big siren sounds at the fire department building. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Allies told quavering Japan today they would dictate orders to her emperor 'from the moment of surrender' and tossed back to Tokyo the bitter decision of immediate peace or more war.

But to Washington, London, Moscow and Chungking the hour of final victory appeared near in history's most horrible war.

The latest declaration of Allied plans was transmitted through neutral Switzerland. Bern handed it over late today to Japan's minister in the Swiss capital, for relay to Tokyo. It was the answer to Japan's offer yesterday to surrender—provided she could keep her emperor and his sovereign prerogatives. The White House sent its staff home and said "there will be no announcements tonight."

Tomorrow it may be a different story.

Tomorrow may be V-J Day.

The Japanese people eventually will decide for themselves, they said, whether there is to be an emperor at all.

The fate of the man the Nipponese consider a combination of god and emperor—and the question whether he or others can guarantee surrender compliance—were the only obstacles to peace. Otherwise both sides were willing to abide by surrender terms laid down in the proclamation of Potsdam. Under the declaration Japan would lose her stolen empire and shrink to peaceful existence in the home islands.

From the Swiss legation here, where it was delivered by a state de-powers, and failed, there were high expectations around the world that she would yield to the will of the Allies. A diplomatic expert on far Eastern affairs predicted here that the land of the Setting Sun would "snap up" the latest Allied conditions.

From the Swiss legation here, where it was delivered by a state department official, the Allied statement of intentions toward the emperor went by radio to Bern.

There the chief of the political department's foreign division called in Pictured above is Gen. Douglas MacArthur, commander of forces in the Pacific. He is being mentioned, along with Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. army chief of staff, for the job of supreme commander of the Japanese empire when and if the Japanese accede to demands made of them by the Big Four yesterday. It was stated specifically that the commander would be an American, but no names were mentioned officially.

Two girls, who gave their names as Emma Ella Doracci and Evelyn Webb, were injured at 3 o'clock Saturday morning when they were struck by a car as they sat on the curb in the 300 block on W. Brown, the Amarillo highway.

Marine Generals On the Whole Are Considered Young

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 — The United States Marine Corps, whose personnel — enlarged from about 20,000 in September 1939 to a present strength of about half a million — has served in every theater of the war with such outstanding success and heroism, is operating under the leadership of generals whose average age on May 1, 1945 was just past 52; about one-third of them were under 50, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

"The gigantic task of organizing, equipping, training and putting into combat large numbers of men has required a considerably expanded leadership," the statisticians observe. "Just before our vast expansion program was launched, there were 16 generals on active duty in the Marine Corps—four major generals including the commandant, and 12 brigadier generals. On May 1, 1945, there were 76 generals on active duty—the commandant, who is a full-ranking general, a lieutenant general, 29 major generals, and 54 brigadier generals. "The commandant, General Alexander A. Vandegrift, is 58 years of age; Lieutenant General Holland M. Smith, five years older, is 63. The average for the major generals is 54.3 years, and for the brigadier generals, 51.0 years.

"The average age of the top leadership in the Marine Corps has been reduced considerably during the war period. As of May 1, 1940, the average for major generals was 60.5 years, 6.2 above the figure five years later; for brigadier generals, the average age has been lowered by 6.4 years. This decrease in age for the high command of the Marine Corps has been even more marked than that observed in the navy."

In the United States Coast Guard, transferred in November 1941 from operation under the treasury department to the navy department, "the top leaders on active duty August 1, 1945," the statisticians explain, "comprise the commandant with the rank of admiral, and 24 rear admirals. Admiral Russell R. Waesche is 59 years of age. The ages for rear admirals, ranking from 46 to 71 years, average 58 years. Only three months earlier the average was 59.9 years."

Special Meeting To Be in Dallas

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 11—(AP)—Dr. I. P. Trotter said today that a meeting of organizations and agencies at Dallas Aug. 23 had been called to put into operation an intensive fall and winter garden program for Texas.

Trotter, director of the Texas A. and M. college extension service, said such a program was needed badly because "the general outlook for ample food supplies in Texas and the nation is not promising."

"For most food commodities, the ration point values continue to increase. Indications are that there will be 10 to 15 percent less processed vegetables on grocers' shelves in 1946 for civilian use than at present," Trotter said in a letter telling of the meeting.

He added that 10 most effectively put the garden program in operation representatives from each of 30 to 35 organizations, associations, agencies and others had been called to a statewide conference at Dallas Aug. 23.

Air Mail Anniversary To Be Commemorated

Did you happen to receive a letter carried in the nation's first coast-to-coast air mail service on September 8, 1920?

If you did, and if you'll let the United Air Lines know about it, you will receive a specially-cashe-t envelope flown over the same route on the 25th anniversary of that airway, September 8, 1945.

United, said today it is seeking names of persons who received letters when the post office department inaugurated coast-to-coast air mail service over the New York-San Francisco route on September 8, 1920. Letters carried on it: 25th anniversary of that event will be photographed and delivered to them personally by Capt. E. Hamilton Lee, 4,000,000-mile dean of the world's airmen, when he flies the airway September 8, 1945—that is, if they can be on hand to meet Captain Lee at airports where he will stop—New York, Philadelphia, Akron-Canton, Cleveland, South Bend, Chicago, Des Moines, Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City, Reno and San Francisco. Incidentally, with him will be his son, Capt. Robert E. Lee, also a pilot of United Air Lines.

John J. Hart, manager of postal service for United's air cargo department, said that those who received air mail letters carried on

Stevenson Impressed With Truman's Talk

Stevenson said that while he did September 8, 1920, should send their names to him at United Air Lines, Room 867, Continental Bank Building, Chicago. He added that those unable to meet Lee on his flight will receive their anniversary letters by air mail.

He said he had listened carefully to President Truman's address to the nation last night, and was greatly impressed at his "tone of humility and sincerity."

IT'S NOT TIME YET

Ever let a neighbor down? No. You'd never think of doing such a thing. Yet, if you sell a single one of your bonds today, or even tomorrow, or many of your bonds right after peace is signed, you'll be doing just that—letting down a neighbor.

Your neighbor speeded victory the day he sold you that bond.

He volunteered his services to the treasury department as did six million other men and women all over the land, so that the cost of selling war bonds turned out to be the cheapest underwriting ever conceived—one-third of one percent.

If you sell your bonds too soon, all of that good work will be undone.

Your government still needs your loan more than you need that money. A normal economy cannot be expected to spring up overnight.

Industry is not yet ready to sell you all the goods that you expect—it may take two years instead of two weeks to deliver all the cars and radios and electrical gadgets you're dreaming of.

Don't ask too soon for too great a share of the good America can give you.

Don't let a neighbor down.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

I want to quote a few more statements made in a new book, "Tom Paine: America's Godfather," by W. E. Woodward.

Paine lived in America when Continental currency was in circulation. He saw the dangers of a money not backed with gold.

This book might be a good one for anybody to read who believes that the government can control prices. The 13 original colonies tried to control prices through the Continental Congress. Tom Paine said he paid $300 for a pair of socks. The book relates how the United States government exchanged one dollar for 40 of the old dollars issued by the Continental Congress. Later it offered to give one dollar for a 100 dollars of the old currency.

At that time, like the present, most people did not want to hear the truth. For this reason Tom Paine had plenty of enemies. The author of the book explains this fact by saying, "He was far too outspoken for a civilization where courtesy was honored above ideas and where a duelist would bow gracefully to his opponent before sending a bullet through his heart."

Paine's character is well described in the book by the following statement:

"But Tom Paine was so constituted that he could not remain, even for an hour, in a party of any kind without setting forth his political ideas. They were his whole life; he lived among them. He existed in an unborn universe where freedom, justice, democracy, truth and kindness were the sun, stars and planets; and all of the same manner as other men live in their own worlds of commerce, science, poetry, or greed."

Thinking people in America during the last few decades are beginning to appreciate the great service Tom Paine rendered to humanity. Here is what Thomas A. Edison had to say about Paine:

"I have always regarded Paine as one of the greatest of all Americans. Never have we had a sounder intelligence in this republic."

Edison said further:

"It was my good fortune to encounter Thomas Paine's works in my boyhood. I discovered a set of the writings of Paine on my father's bookshelves when I was 13. It was, indeed, a revelation to me to read that great thinker's views on political and theological subjects. Paine educated me then about many matters of which I had never before thought. I remember very vividly the flash of enlightenment that shone from Paine's writings, and I recall thinking at that time, 'What a pity these works are not today the schoolbooks for all children!' My interest in Paine and his writings was not satisfied by my first reading of his works. I went back to them time and again, just as I have done since my boyhood days."

Paine seems to have had a good effect on Thomas A. Edison. Would that more people knew the real Tom Paine. Had we a few thousand Paines in America today, our future would be much brighter.

The Nation's Press

THE SAME OLD HERSEY (The Chicago Tribune)

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, said in Indianapolis Saturday that he would continue inducting men after the defeat of Japan. He said that the draft will take 100,000 men a month for the next year and that it will be continued into 1946 to obtain troops in the necessary numbers for occupation duty while veterans are being discharged under the point system.

It would be illuminating to find out from the general where, in the selective service act, he thinks there is any warrant to continue the draft into peace time. It is generally understood that men taken for service are to be held for the duration and six months. Possibly Gen. Hershey thinks that in the kind of peace that is shaping up both in Germany and the Pacific, when no treaty of peace may be signed for an indefinite period, the "duration" can be prolonged at the administration's pleasure. If so, the parents who are giving their sons, the wives who are separated from their husbands, and all of the young men in uniform who are giving their best years will want to know about it.

This is not the first time Gen. Hershey has opened his mouth to put his foot in the President's camp. Last year he was envious by his contribution that there would be no employment problem when the war ended, because, as he said, it would be necessary to carry the men in the relief rolls. The White House, much embarrassed, took prompt steps to disavow the impression that the general was speaking authoritatively.

From Indianapolis to Potsdam is a considerable distance, but modern communications may have acquainted President Truman with Gen. Hershey's latest pronouncement, for the President was quick to say that he hoped to get the soldiers back home without too great delay. The occupation of Europe, Mr. Truman said, is temporary, and he recalled that as a soldier in France after the 1918 armistice, his one desire was to get home as soon as possible.

Gen. Hershey, however, ought to be compelled in justice to the people and to all men in the service and those coming of military age to disclose his basis for stating that the draft can be continued into the peace. If he is reflecting the views of the administration, there is going to be a terrific outcry. If he is jumping the gun in anticipation that congress will pass a peace time military training bill, he still owes the nation an explanation. A prolonged occupation of distant lands by American boys will not set well with this country whether the forces are to be held over from those who have fought the war or are conscripted after the war is over on the pretext that their training is necessary to America's safety.

Well, it looks as though science has gone and invented something almost as destructive as the little boy next door. It is something called an atomic bomb and there is a rumor that the Japanese generals refer to it as the "atom's apple."

Guess this is because they get a lump in their throat every time they think about it.

But science claims the atoms can be useful in other ways, and that some day atomic energy will do all our housework. Why, they say a little bit of substance the size of a pea can drive an ocean liner around the world. Can you imagine! No one used to believe me when I said my husband George was so strong, even when he had muscles the size of a pea, and George was always too proud to prove it to them.

News Behind the News

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

PEUD—President Truman must tackle his first full-blown cabinet feud immediately upon his return from the Potsdam conference. After trying to settle the future of the world, he must now referee a departmental dispute.

Such quarrels were endemic in the last administration. But in this instance the clash does not involve "curmudgeon" Harold L. Ickes versus Cordell Hull, Harold L. Ickes versus Harry Hopkins, Harold L. Ickes versus Jesse H. Jones or Harold L. Ickes versus the world in general, including himself. This is a controversy which can have far-reaching, and possibly disastrous, domestic and foreign implications.

The duel has been precipitated by certain state department officials' insistence on placing labor attaches in every American embassy and legation around the world. It reflects again Washington's realization that the working men may become the dominant influence on the domestic and international stage of the future.

SHIPPING

The army and navy and maritime commission, however, furnish statistics which give the knockout blow to Harlow's gesture. His brain trust apparently never gave a second's thought to the transportation and manpower problems involved in the shipment of coal.

Hauling six million tons of coal from the mines in West Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Illinois, etc., would require at least 80,000 cars at a time when our plants need cars for the war against the Japs. Transporting the Ickes total to Europe would tie up at least eight hundred fifty 10,000-ton vessels when every ship we can command is needed to bring the boys home from Europe and forward supplies to those still carrying on against our Far Eastern enemy.

LABOR

Here is the inside story: Since 1938 the labor department has toyed with the idea of appointing labor relations representatives in such class-conscious countries as England, Russia, France, Germany and Scandinavia. Having been deprived of all authority on the home front, Frances Perkins hoped to win her spurs—or something—in the foreign field.

DISPUTE

The lady yielded to Mr. Grew, and it was not until a few days after Mr. Schweilenbach took his oath that he discovered that another function had been stolen from his office. It is ironic that he had accepted the post only on condition that he be permitted to consolidate under him the twenty-odd bureaus dealing with domestic and foreign labor problems.

COAL

Experts in the coal industry, including both the miners and the employers, characterize as "asinine" Secretary Ickes' proposal that the United States ship six million tons of this essential fuel to Europe for the 1945-1946 winter. The unpublished fact is that the secretary of interior, who has been showing off the front pages since Truman took office, grabbed the idea from a subordinate "brain trust" without giving it a thorough examination.

Jeep for Civilians

Classification as Truck

Classification of the army jeep, now being manufactured for civilian use, as a truck and not a passenger car, was announced this week by John J. Van Pelt, district manager of the office of defense transportation at Lubbock.

In other words, unless buyers are eligible for a certificate to purchase a new truck, they will be unable to buy one of the new civilian jeeps. The new civilian vehicle was classified as a truck because it is essentially a property-carrying vehicle, the ODT official explained.

Allocation of the new vehicles will be limited to persons contributing directly or indirectly to the prosecution of the war. Those eligible include farmers.

These restrictions do not apply to surplus military jeeps sold through the surplus property board.

Peter Edson's Column: HEAT IS NOW ON IN THE HOUSING RACE

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A great race between Sen. Bob Taft of Ohio and Sen. Bob Wagner of New York came down the stretch on the last day of congress in session. It ended in a photo finish, or maybe Wagner by a nose. It was a race to develop a postwar housing policy.

Senator Wagner is, of course, the author of nearly all the new deal legislation on housing. And, as chairman of the senate banking and currency committee, he presides over the early destiny of any new housing legislation that comes up.

Taft is a minority member of the banking and currency committee, but he is also chairman of a senate postwar subcommittee on housing. That has made him top man in the long series of hearings on postwar housing policy. They began in June, 1944, and ran until February, 1945. They enabled Taft to steal the housing spotlight from Wagner. A natural rivalry as well as a traditional political jealousy developed.

Twice during the Taft committee hearings Wagner rose to announce that this was only an advisory subcommittee and had no authority to do anything about legislation, which would have to be referred to his Wagner's banking and currency committee, later on.

Taft went ahead, however, and took five months to prepare a report which he filed on the last day of the senate in session. The report is one of the most liberal and far-reaching programs for the development of public housing ever to get before congress. Taft has a reputation as a conservative who is sometimes called a reactionary.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Both are recommended reading for anyone interested in public housing and postwar private housing. Builders, contractors, realtors, landlords and building trades union leaders who start reading before bedtime shouldn't count on getting too much sleep. There are things in these proposals to keep them awake and worrying for some time to come.

In Hollywood

Ed's Note: Hollywood notables have volunteered to serve as "guest columnists" while Erskine Johnson is on vacation. The column below was written by star Brian Donlevy.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 11.—During the past few years, I have come to know two different kinds of newspapermen: the real newspaperman and the reel newspaperman. The two types are as different as Margaret and Ingrid Bergman.

Every studio in Hollywood has a huge research department to see that a particular event or character is depicted in an authentic light when projected upon the screen.

Dentists on the screen look like dentists. So it is with doctors, and artists and musicians and laborers. In fact, all the way down the line, until you come to the newspapermen. Here the comparison ends. I have yet to meet a member of the press who believes he acts in any way like the reporters who cavort on the screen.

Directors, it seems, just aren't satisfied when handling a newspaper reporter unless every scribble and sequence in it is wearing a suit and in need of pressing, a shirt open at the neck, an old, beaten hat and a pad and two dozen pencils sticking out of the breast pocket.

I guess this idea of how a newspaperman should look on the screen is an outgrowth of the first movie, to my recollection, which dealt with the newspaper game, "Front Page."

Maybe back in the early 30's, reporters and newsmen in real life were as pictured in "Front Page." But they're changed, they've grown up. Not so with the celluloid scribbles.

THESE ARE EXCEPTIONS

Now let's remember that I'm talking about the majority of newspapermen with whom I've come into contact. There will always be isolated cases, but my argument is that the movie newsmen rarely resemble the average journalist.

Young To Start Housecleaning

DALLAS, Aug. 11—(AP)—Robert R. Young, who yesterday became interim U. S. district attorney for the northern Texas, had conferences here today with federal judges T. Whitfield Davidson and William H. Alwell as he took up duties of his new office.

Young said his first task would be the investigation of the federal attorney's office when it was occupied by Clyde O. Eastus and that he will seek the help of justice department attorneys in Washington in the probe.

"Before anything else comes the investigation of alleged violation during my predecessor's term," Young said.

Young, released this week from the army air force, said he also would ask the appointment of assistant to fill two vacancies, one in Dallas and the other in Fort Worth.

Coach Skip Palrang, of Boys' Town, Nebr., Visits Here

Noted Mentor Will Go from Here To Coach School, Tulsa University

Skip Palrang, Boys' Town, Nebr., athletic director and head coach in football, basketball, and baseball, visited Pampa last night as the guest of Coach Otis Coffey, Pampa high mentor. The two were scheduled to leave today for Tulsa, where they will attend coaching school this week.

Coach Palrang will be a head instructor at the Tulsa coaches school. He will tutor a group of freshmen which will compete with another team coached by Jeff Cravat, head coach at Southern Cal.

Boys' Town football team is one of the most outstanding in the country. The boys play a 12-game season, and then make a three-week trip during the summer as a reward for their efforts. Coach Palrang said. Last season they played at Spokane, San Francisco, and Los Angeles.

Coaches Palrang and Coffey have just returned from coaches' school at Abilene, where Palrang was one of the head instructors.

Palrang, one of the most sought-after exponents of the T formation, coached a victorious team at Abilene.

Gross receipts for that game, the north-south all-star football game, totaled $6,066.25. W. R. Carmichael, executive secretary of the Texas high school coaches association, told AP last night.

The receipts topped those for all previous games in the 11-year series, Carmichael said.

This was Palrang's first visit to Pampa. The author of a new book on the T formation, he will deliver a series of lectures on coaching at the second annual University of Tulsa coaching school which will open tomorrow. The school will last for five days. Del Morgan, Texas Tech, will be on the list of notables at the grid clinic, the Association, and plays under the

(The Tulsa event will be covered by the Pampa News sports editor, Scott Rafferty. Special dispatches will be received from him within a day or two.)

Palrang is thoroughly "sold" on Boys' Town. There are 415 boys there now between the ages of 12 and 18. "Father Flanagan is doing a wonderful job taking care of them," he said. "About 90 per cent of them are either full or half orphan."

The "town" is a member of the Nebraska High School Activities association, and plays under the rules, regarding eligibility, semester attendance, age limit, and so on. This season the team hopes to be able to travel to Detroit, Baltimore, and Washington, D. C., for games.

Asked when he hoped to be able to come to Pampa, he said: "Next year we hope to go to the Southwest, and then the next year to the Southwest."

MOSCOW INFORMS PUBLIC
NEW YORK, Aug. 11—(AP)—The Moscow radio informed the Russian people tonight, without comment, of the reply to the Japanese government's surrender offer sent by the United States on behalf of all the Big Four nations.

There have been suggestions in congress that the government keep its fingers on athletics in peacetime—Fingers which pinched sports hard during wartime.

But we have found no person in a position of any real authority who entertains such a notion.

The government's agency that might be of future assistance to sports is the state department.

Some members of congress suggest that a man well grounded in athletics be attached to the state department primarily to help pave the way for a vastly expanded program of international games in the next few years.

Spirited Flyers Battle to Win Over Clovis Nine

A hard fighting PAAP Flyer baseball team battled behind yesterday afternoon to subdue a stubborn Clovis AAF aggregation in a thrilling 9-to-7 contest on the post diamond.

Explosing for six runs in the seventh after the Superforts had assumed a five-run lead in the first two innings, the Flyers racked up their eighth consecutive victory and their sixteenth in their last 16 games.

Clovis scored three in the first and two in the second, touching Tony Reis for six hits in the two frames. However, Reis braced and gave up only four hits the rest of the way, including a ninth inning home run by Abernathy, Clovis first sacker.

The Flyers reduced the score to five to three in the third on the first of two long triples by Johnny Bulkley and hits by Mal Mick and team captain "Pap" Berry, coupled with an outfield error.

Decisive inning was the big seventh for the Flyers when they tallied six times on a triple by Bulkley, singles by Berry, Cleo Petty, Tony Reis, Jimmy Austin and Bulkley, two errors and a fielder's choice.

The Flyers touched Rushing and Menard, Clovis chucks for 14 hits, including three each by Bulkley and Berry and two for Cleo Petty and Tony Reis.

The two teams tangled again today at 2:30 p.m. with Lefty Walt Petriksy slated to take the pitcher's mound in quest of his seventh victory of the year. Menard will probably pitch for the Superforts.

The score by innings:
Clovis 320 000 011-7-10-4
Pampa 003 000 008-9-14-3
Batteries: Rushing, Menard and Willard; Reis and Berry.

Sports Round-Up

By BUS HAM
(Pinch Hitting for H. Fullerton, Jr.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—(AP)—This should give you a clearer idea of how rapid-fire war developments have affected sports.

Two days ago, professional football people were quite put out over ODT's treatment of their transportation problem for the approaching season.

It seemed important to them then when Col. J. Monroe Johnson, ODT chief tentatively "disapproved" professional football's 13 non-championship games.

Elmer Layden, national league commissioner, normally as unfruffed as a state department attaché, almost exploded because Johnson talked with him only a few minutes.

"They called me in here but I don't get an opportunity to satisfactorily present our case," the old "four horseman" said. "I may as well have stayed in Chicago."

Kiwanis League Girls Round Out Play, Ready for Finals

The First Baptist and the Presbyterian girls' softball teams emerged this week as the two top winners for the last half of play in the Kiwanis softball league here. The teams came through each with six games won and one lost. Play is complete in the regular schedule, and all that remains is the playoff games. Since First Baptist has won a first place in both halves, Calvary Baptist, third-place winner in the first half, has been selected to round out a group of four teams to play in the finals.

They are First Baptist, Presbyterian, First Methodist, and Calvary Baptist.

These playoff games, as well as those of the two boys' leagues, will be played the week of August 19-25 at Boardrunner park.

All games in the junior boys' league have been played except one. On August 14, at the Lion park, the Frances Avenue Church of Christ team will play Central Baptist junior boys in a game that was not previously scheduled through an error.

This last game, it was said, has a definite bearing on the standings in that league. If the Frances Avenue Church of Christ team wins this game, they will be tied with the First Methodist for first place in the second half of junior boys' play, with six games won and one lost.

If they lose, they will be tied with Central Baptist for second place. In either event, the four teams in the playoff in this league will be the First Methodist, First Baptist, Frances Avenue Church of Christ, and the Central Baptist.

In the boys' senior league, several games are yet to be made up, and there are five games still regularly scheduled. On August 13, the First Baptist will play Holy Souls at Woodrow Wilson, with Hueyn Laycock as umpire. Others: August 14, Presbyterian versus First Methodist, Sam Houston diamond, Joe Fisher umpire; August 14, Central Baptist versus First Baptist, Magnolia park, Lieb Langston umpire; August 15, Presbyterian meets Holy Souls at Sam Houston, Joe Wells umpire; August 16, First Christian versus Holy Souls, Sam Houston, Ed Wells, umpire; August 16, Central Baptist versus First Methodist, Magnolia park, Joe Wells umpire; August 17, final game of the second half, First Christian versus Presbyterian, Sam Houston, L. N. Atchison umpire.

Officials noted the change in all games previously scheduled for high school diamond, to either Woodrow Wilson or Sam Houston diamond, as given by the Kiwanis.

Kiwanis officials said that, although it is not possible to determine final standings in the boys' senior league, it can be determined by the time the playoffs begin. The Flyers touched Rushing and Menard, Clovis chucks for 14 hits, including three each by Bulkley and Berry and two for Cleo Petty and Tony Reis.

The two teams tangled again today at 2:30 p.m. with Lefty Walt Petriksy slated to take the pitcher's mound in quest of his seventh victory of the year. Menard will probably pitch for the Superforts.

Saddle from Reno, Horse from Tokyo, Rider from Fleet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—A $2,000 silver-encrusted saddle will be flown to Admiral "Bull" Halsey if he decides to ride Emperor Hirohito's white-charger through Tokyo after the Japanese surrender.

The treasury said today that the western stock saddle of blonde leather ordered for Halsey by the Reno, Nevada, chamber of commerce has been finished. When the Pacific war ends the navy will air express the saddle to Halsey's headquarters, the treasury said.

Halsey said several months ago that he hoped to lead a parade through Tokyo on Shirayuki, the emperor's white horse.

news conference on reconversion plans. The meeting of chairman J. A. Krug, of the WPB, with newsmen was put off to V-J day.

Snyder, in announcing the navy cutback, said only that "the army also will make immediately a sharp reduction in its buying program."

Elsewhere, there were well-backed indications that ground forces procurement would be trimmed by at least $1,000,000,000 a month—some sources said the figure would be nearer $1,500,000,000—for a yearly total of between $12,000,000,000 and $18,000,000,000.

Army air forces figures—presumed to be huge—still were missing from the picture.

The program, announced and indicated, threw into sharp focus the prediction of government officials that around 5,000,000 munitions workers will lose their jobs in 60 days after the Japanese quit.

More than half of these—approximately 3,400,000 persons—are engaged in shipbuilding and in the

After returning to the United States, Solomon was an importer and represented Nicaragua at New York and New Orleans. This resulted in recovery of the cotton for the owners plus a profit for Solomon and Villa.

V-J announced in the afternoon or evening (that is, from 12 p. m. to midnight)—businesses asked to close that day and the following day.

All churches asked to hold prayer services during the day of victory announcement.

A community thanksgiving program will be held at the Junior high school auditorium at 8 p. m. following announcement.

Liquor stores are asked to close for a minimum period of 48 hours following the announcement.

Merchants are asked to display flags during daylight hours following announcements, for a maximum of one day.

of the Potsdam declaration, and shall issue his commands to all the Japanese military, naval and air authorities and to all of the forces under their control wherever located to cease active operations and to surrender their arms, and to issue such other orders as the supreme commander may require to give effect to the surrender terms.

"Immediately upon the surrender the Japanese government shall transport prisoners of war and civilian internees to places of safety, as directed, where they can quickly be placed aboard Allied transports.

"The ultimate form of government of Japan shall, in accordance with the Potsdam declaration, be established—by the freely expressed will of the Japanese people.

"The armed forces of the Allied powers will remain in Japan until the purpose set forth in the Potsdam declaration is achieved.

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration, James F. Byrnes, secretary of state."

Local Discussion

world war believed the Allies should demand unconditional surrender and then place the Emperor where they saw fit.

He also, said even if it would save lives now to accept Japanese terms, more lives would be saved in the future if unconditional surrender was demanded.

A local merchant was heard to say that $300,000,000,000 had been spent to annihilate the Japanese and now we should go all the way.

"Losing my husband in the Pacific was enough to make me prejudice against the Japanese, but now I believe anything should be done to save American lives," one local woman said.

Another woman reported that she had seen three wars. She saw her brother go to the Boxer Rebellion and come home with war unfinished. Her nephews and brothers fought in the first world war and came home with war unfinished.

Now she has three sons in this world war and she doesn't want them to come home until they have stamped out wars completely.

"In that way, my grandchildren won't have to know war," she said.

The young people of Pampa, contrary to popular opinion, are taking Japanese surrender terms seriously with mature viewpoints. In questioning the teen-agers, one found them able to discuss current events intelligently without skepticism.

The majority of young Pampans verified the Big Four decision at this writing and with the rest of the world were anxiously awaiting two words from Japan—we accept.

Pacific War

Japanese Minister Shumshi Kase and handed it over at 2:25 p. m. (CWT.)

Kase dashed from the parliament building to a waiting automobile, promising the document to Tokyo at once. He had no comment beyond this: "I'm in a hurry."

FORT WORTH, Aug. 11.—(AP)—U. S. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel voiced confidence today that any basis for peace accepted by President Truman will be such that "when he gets through with the Japanese, they'll know they've been whipped."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—If Japan surrenders, the Allies may force revision of the Japanese constitution to give the people an immediate voice in government.

This developed today as one of the likely key points in the long-planned campaign to bring democracy to the Japanese. The campaign would be launched as soon as Allied forces occupy the islands.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee predicted today Japan would accept Allied conditions of surrender, within two or three days.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Surrender of Japan would mean liberation for approximately 16,700 Americans presently interned in the home islands or enemy-occupied territory, a check of war, navy and state department records disclosed today.

CHUNGKING, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Gen. George E. Stratemeyer's China theater air force headquarters said today that operations against the Japanese were continuing without regard for the surrender negotiations.

CHUNGKING, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek tonight appealed to people in occupied areas, particularly underground workers, to maintain peace and order, to remain at their posts, awaiting instructions, and not to take any action without explicit orders from him.

Radio Tokyo appeared to be preparing the Japanese people for surrender. Here in Washington, government authorities tolled on reconversion plans, and Senate Majority Leader Barkley said congress probably would cut short its vacation on September 4.

At his Georgia home, Senator Walter F. George disclosed he had talked with President Truman. The senator interpreted today's Allied declaration as still meaning unconditional surrender.

It stated that "from the moment of surrender, the Emperor will be subject to every dictate of a still unnamed supreme Allied military commander.

The once bellicose but now cringing warlords of Japan thus had only a clear-cut choice between: As if to give them a taste of what peace would be like, the Japanese got a temporary respite from the terms of Superforts, from the ravages of atomic bombs. Land fighting went on.

But it was clear the Pacific enemy had had enough. Japan decided yesterday to tell the Big Four Allies she would quit if she could keep Hirohito and his powers.

For 24 hours Washington, London, Moscow and Chungking considered the offer. Back today by way of neutral Switzerland went a final answer, submitted for all four powers by Secretary of State Byrnes. The French asked to be associated in the signing of any surrender.

"From the moment of surrender," the Allied message said, "the authority of the Emperor and the Japanese government to rule the state shall be subject to the supreme commander of the Allied powers who will take such steps as he deems proper to effectuate the surrender terms."

Ultimately, the Japanese people would be allowed to determine the kind of government they wanted—an opportunity they never before have had.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross disclosed that the supreme commander "will be an American."

Ross could not say at the time who the man would be. Speculation centered at once on General Douglas MacArthur. There was mention also of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz and General George C. Marshall.

The terms sent to Tokyo today reaffirmed that surrender must be in accordance with the Allied proclamation issued at Potsdam July 26. Under that declaration the enemy would be stripped of her power to make war, would be bottled up in four principal islands.

Retention of the Emperor on any terms would give Japan a chance to save face. Congress, however,

One of the red prongs, which pushed 50 miles Saturday through passes of the Khingan mountains, was under Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, victor at Budapest and shared in the capture of Vienna.

Russian liberation of Americans held in Japanese prison camps in Manchuria was expected.

The only reported Pacific action Saturday was a Tokyo-announced raid by about 150 Okinawa-based American bombers and fighters against the Murume area of north-west Kyushu.

These would be planes of the Far East air forces which General MacArthur had declared, while not confirming the Tokyo report, would carry on "their missions against Japan."

Army units were cautioned by MacArthur and the strategic air forces by General Spaatz that hostilities had not stopped, though MacArthur declared "I hope from the bottom of my heart this is the end of the war."

Antiaircraft shell fragments killed at least six Americans on Okinawa and wounded 30 others during the shooting and shouting "victory" celebration Friday night. Commanders finally put a stop to the shooting by ordering an air raid alert.

The navy announced the loss of the submarine Bonefish and destroyer Callaghan, the latter in the Okinawa area recently. The Bonefish was overdue from patrol and presumed lost.

American Superforts were held at their Marianas bases while their crews and commanders assessed the damage inflicted by the atomic bombing of Nagasaki Thursday and strikes at the Tokyo arsenal and Amagasaki refinery Friday.

Reconnaissance photographs disclosed that Nagasaki, the second Japanese city against which the devastating new weapon was used, was 30 per cent destroyed.

Admiral Halsey's Third fleet observed Nimitz' alert order in the Okinawa waters, ready to move in for new attacks or, perhaps, to accept an actual surrender.

Nimitz announced that the Third fleet's carrier planes destroyed 523 Japanese aircraft in their Thursday and Friday sweeps over northern Honshu and that heavy damage was inflicted by the warship bombardment of Kamashi Thursday.

Miss Virginia Ruth Washington and Sgt. Marvin G. Tate Are Married

Sgt. and Mrs. Marvin G. Tate

Miss Virginia Ruth Washington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Washington, 328 N. Banks, and Sgt. Marvin G. Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Tate, Goldsmith, Texas, were married Wednesday, Aug. 1, at 4:30 p. m. in the home of the bride's parents.

The double ring ceremony was performed with Carlos D. Speck, minister of the Central Church of Christ, officiating. A large window in the living room decorated with large baskets of asters in pastel shades and tall tapers in candelabra on either side, formed the background for the bridal party. A bouquet of mixed gladioli placed on the library table completed the decorations.

Miss Molita Kennedy, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a two-tone blue street length dress, with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink split carnations. Clara Mae and Donna Faye Washington, younger sisters of the bride, lit the candles before the ceremony.

Billy Washington, brother of the bride, served the bridegroom as best man. The bride chose for her wedding a street length dress of blue crepe, trimmed with blue lace, and white accessories. For something old, she wore a string of pearls which were given to her by the bridegroom; for something borrowed, she carried a white Bible topped with white split carnations with streamers of white ribbon. Her corsage was an orchid.

Mrs. James Washington, mother of the bride, wore a green and white dress and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held. The lace covered table was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and was served by Miss

Boyle Describes German Blunders

By HAL BOYLE
SAN FRANCISCO — (AP)—What were the great German blunders of the war?
Crushing defeat robbed the Nazi armies of their glamor of greatness, but also destroyed the illusion that the Germans, trained all their lives in the arts of war, have any proficiency on military brains.
One American operations expert believes that the famous "battle of the Belgian bulge," hailed for days as a great German tactical victory, actually hastened the collapse of Nazi arms by six full months.
That was only one of at least a half dozen major tactical and strategic blunders committed by the Nazis in their long joyride to the Atlantic.

"The biggest mistake the Germans made toward the end of the war was laying everything on the line when Von Rundstedt struck against our positions last Dec. 16," said Col. Russell "Red" Akers of Nelson county, Va., who played an integral role in the planning of the amphibious landings in North Africa, Sicily and Normandy.

"After the initial breakthrough itself," he said "their next biggest mistake was in failing to drive harder through the Malmédy and Stavelot sector straight toward Liege, an American army center which was one of their chief goals."
That would have cut the Allied forces squarely in half at the Meuse river line and perhaps even forced a withdrawal of all American troops back beyond the Meuse to prevent possibility of another Nazi surge through France.

HIGHWAY MARKERS
AUSTIN, Aug. 11—(AP)—To promote safety on highways, a uniform system of marking with six-inch center stripes and four-inch barrier stripes to warn of a dangerous crossing, has been devised by the state highway department.

The program is being carried out on the main highways at present and engineers hope to complete the project by January 1.

Texas Today ...

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff
There's nothing uniform about men in uniform.

A Texan who arrived by air at the Miami, Fla., air field from the Mediterranean area had an officer going in circles.
He was Cpl. Raymond O. Riddle, and he was asked where he was from:
"From Italy, Sir."
"Where are you going?"
"To Italy, Sir."

The officer said it sounded like double-talk, went over the routine again patiently—but finally understood that Riddle actually came from Italy, in Europe, and was heading for Italy, Texas.

Using a pocket knife and an old piece of salvage lumber, Pfc. Harry T. Owens, of Thomasville, Ga., is creating three-dimensional pictures at the Harlingen army air field.

One of Owens' favorite subjects is the "sad sack" of cartoon fame. He has two complete panels carved out of wood on this well-known character.

Bill Morgan, of Kingston, Penna., has become a Texan because he spent a couple of years in England.
Morgan said he got so tired of fogs and piercing cold weather that he is starting civilian life in a warm, dry climate. He selected Wichita Falls, Texas, and is hunting a house.

Lt. Ralph Logan of San Angelo finally got home, but for a while he thought the elements were conspiring against him.

He was in two typhoons in the Pacific. He said wind registered 140 miles an hour, and waves were 70 feet high. He was in the storm which broke off the nose of the cruiser Pittsburgh.

Cut Wires Result In Deer Straying

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 11—(AP)—Bithely unaware of the meat shortage, 92 deer are wandering about Kansas City today, fugitives from Ewope park.
Someone cut two eight-foot wire fences last night, permitting the animals to leave their new corrals at the zoo.

Wedding Is Ordeal For Luling Hero

AUSTIN, Aug. 11—(AP)—James H. Logan, Congressional Medal of Honor winner, was so jittery during his marriage at Luling, Texas, yesterday to Agnes Pauline Burk of Clarksburg, West Va., that he dropped the ring as he was attempting to put it on the bride's finger.
Logan, discharged sergeant who fought with the 36th Division in Europe, swallowed nervously during the church ceremony.

WLB DIRECTIVE
DALLAS, Aug. 11—(AP)—The Dallas area labor-management committee has recommended immediate lifting of manpower controls over women but advocates retention of restrictions on male labor unless Japan surrenders immediately.

Olin Culberson Charges Greed Blocked Pipeline

AUSTIN, Aug. 11—(AP)—Chairman Olin Culberson of the Texas railroad commission today charged that "monopolistic greed" has blocked efforts to build an oil pipeline from West Texas to California.

"Those in authority in such matters in Washington, many of whom are dollar-a-year-men on leave from the organizations they represent, invariably rule against extending any consideration to those rugged individuals and groups who seek to make their contribution toward winning the war by proposing to enter into the competitive field of business controlled by monopolistic groups, said Culberson in a written statement.

Texas Schools Get Revenue From Many Different Sources

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
AP Staff Writer
Texas' public schools derive revenue from many sources, in fact there are few taxable Texas items and services that do not aid in the operation of the vast school system.

As an individual, you contribute when you pay your state property taxes, purchase cosmetics and automobiles and other items; or perform many other actions such as servicing an oil well, opening a store, producing crude oil, leasing state land for grazing purposes or transferring stock.

There are but a few sources of revenue estimated to produce for public schools in the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1 a total of $61,204,970 in state financial aid.
The aid comes in two forms, the available school fund which is distributed on the basis of scholastic population—$30 per child of school age in every district next year—and the equalization fund (rural aid) which goes mostly to rural districts on the basis of budgetary need.

Per capita apportionment next year will be $44,945,970 after deduction of $2,250,000 for purchase of textbooks. Thus the available school fund will pay out $47,195,970. Rural aid payments will be about $14,000,000 since that is the amount appropriated by the legislature.

The available senior fund's operation is complex.

Part of its income is from a state property tax which has been set at 35 cents per $100 valuation for next year (payable beginning Oct. 1).

The tax will produce about $14,546,700.
Other sources will supply an estimated $35,049,387—and these are the sources that tap the pocket-books of many more persons than pay property taxes.

They touch many phases of business and personal activity.
Based on comptroller's estimates here's what some taxes, other than property, and certain other sources, will turn into the available school fund in the next year:

Poll tax, $1,200,000; motor fuel tax (one cent of which goes to the school fund), $10,865,000; oil production $7,492; occupation tax on insurance companies, $1,502,500; cigarette stamp tax, $2,909,475; liquor tax, $1,815,750; beer stamp tax, $739,250; interest on securities owned by the permanent school fund, $2,790,000.

The fund also will receive money in smaller amounts from applications for grazing permits, grazing lease rentals, surface easements, depository interest, interest on land sales, chain store tax; gross receipts and production taxes on express companies, telegraph companies, utilities, collection agencies, car lines, cement companies, natural and casinghead gas, textbook publishers, telephone companies, sulphur production, pullman companies, carbon black manufacturing and motor carriers; occupation taxes on vending machines, awards, admissions and other sources; and taxes on wine, ale, radios and playing cards.

The fund also receives a share of motor fuel and cigarette tax enforcement funds and of course, derives benefit from collection of delinquent property taxes.

The rural aid or equalization fund is appropriated by the legislature from the state's general fund which derives revenue from many sources including some not touched by the operation of the available school fund. Some of the sources, besides payment of property taxes (there is also a 35 cent rate on state property tax for support of the general fund) include franchises, charters, penalties, court costs, inspection and examination fees, confiscations, sale of hides and prison operations.

Phillips Tests Deepest Well

Phillips Petroleum company, is claiming a number of records at its No. 3 schoeps, in the E. M. Milligan survey, Brazos county, the Texas gulf coast area.

It is the world's deepest hole, having gone to 16,655 feet, where it developed a fishing job. The company attempted to penetrate the Cretaceous age formation never before tested in the coastal basin.

After fishing for 37 days the 5 1/2-inch casing was set at 12,000 feet in the Eagleford zone. Operators now are testing it just below this depth.

Prior to the fishing job at total depth, crews had lost only a half-day in fishing.

Record depth was reached at 354 elapsed days from moving in; there were 315 operating days, total 15 1/2 days being lost while repairing equipment.

The wildcat penetrated 3,687 feet of solid salt between 5,655 and 9,342 feet, the thickest section yet encountered anywhere. This zone was cased off with 9 1/2-inch pipe set at 9,531 feet.

Company tools are being used, and the company has maintained a mud and geological laboratory at the well; fifty-seven wire line and conventional cores were pulled; nine pilot removers, 27 drag bits and 135

Decline Reported In Oil Production

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 11 — (AP) — Led downward by Kansas, which slumped 20,900 barrels to 257,550, daily average crude oil production over the United States declined 3,600 barrels to 4,919,000 in the week ending August 4, the Oil and Gas Journal reported last week.

Texas came up 13,300 barrels, mostly in the west and east central sections, to 2,222,700, and Illinois reported a gain of 4,100 barrels to 204,000. California production, went down 3,900 to 942,250, but Oklahoma increased 450 to 390,850.

The Rocky Mountain area of Colorado, Montana and Wyoming declined 800 barrels daily to 143,700. Mississippi increased 1,100 barrels to 52,750.

Gasser Opens New Texas Area

A new gas-distillate area has been opened in east Texas by the T. G. Shaw, Inc. No. 1 Bolton, in Cherokee county and immediate development of the district is slated. The gasser tested an estimated 60,000,000 to 70,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day with spray of high gravity oil.

A distillate from four feet of pay sand at total depth of 1,177 feet. The discovery is located in C. L. Wigdore survey, eight miles southeast of Jacksonville.

Shaw, Inc., are scheduled to start another test soon and the Panhandle Refining Co., is expected to start an offset well in the immediate future.

T. G. Shaw, Inc., also completed a new producer for the Lone Star field, in Cherokee county. It is the No. 2 Bailey, in W. H. Walters survey, which tested 163 barrels oil through a 1 1/4-inch choke in 48 hours from eight feet of Woodbine pay at 3,932 feet, total depth. Further development was also seen for this area but it is expected to be slow.

Other work in east Texas showed the Magnolia Petroleum No. 1 Beville, in H. Arnold survey, three miles northeast of Yantis, in Hopkins county, drilling at 7,660 feet. Humble Oil and Refining was to plug and abandon the No. 1 Nichols, in G. W. Friddle survey at total depth of 7,935 feet.

Petroleum Production And Atomic Competition

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 — (AP) — About 50 percent of the petroleum industry's annual output is safe and secure from competition from atomic power, Dr. Gustav Eglolf, a leading authority on petroleum technology, said Friday.

Dr. Eglolf, chief chemist at the Universal Oil Products company and a pioneer in a process known as "oil cracking," said in an interview that nearly half the industry's production is utilized for purposes other than power.

LARD ORDER
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 — (AP) — The government's lard set-aside order, which becomes effective at 11:01 P.M. tonight, does not affect lard produced in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky, the agriculture department said yesterday.

'DRILLING AHEAD'

By LARRY JONES Oil Editor

Humble Oil and Refining is preparing to seek deep production in the Boggy Creek field, original discovery of the Woodbine horizon in East Texas. Location has been staked for a 9,500-foot test in the David Roberts survey, Anderson county, in the heart of the oil field.

Harry C. Weiss, president of Humble at Houston, has been elected to membership on the corporation of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, succeeding Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., former secretary of state.

Rogers Lacy, Longview independent, has announced plans for construction of a 20-story, 700-room hotel in Dallas, after the war; it will cost $4,000,000.

HOLE-MAKING SLANG
A boll weevil is a bug that ruins a cotton crop and in the oil business it's a fellow who doesn't know much either.

An "idiot's spoon" is a short-handled shovel. . . . A "go devil" is a pipe scraper which is propelled by pressure, while a "pig" is a scraper or cleaner which is either pushed or pulled through the pipe.

"Jink" and "rigmacks" are species of the gremlin family and bode no good to anybody around a rig floor.

J. E. McWilliams, for the past year director of production for the PAW at Washington, has returned to Tulsa to join the Carter Oil as vice-president and director of the production department; he also will assist in handling public and industrial relation matters. Prior to going to PAW last year he was manager of Carter's northwest division at Billings, Mont.

Millard Neptune, formerly with the PAW in Washington and now with Phillips Petroleum, is stationed at Caracas, Venezuela.

GULF CHANGES
Gulf Oil has shifted personnel of its Texas division putting members of the geological staff in key production division posts, effective September 1, it is announced by F. J. Adams, general agent at Fort Worth.

B. E. Thompson, with Gulf 28 years, has been named division production superintendent. Gordon H. Fisher, engineer-geologist, is chief production engineer in the production division, and T. W. Rhoades, assistant production superintendent, will have supervision of all natural gasoline and gas operations.

Movement of crude oil through the "big inch" pipeline from East Texas to the Atlantic coast will continue at its present rate during the summer and winter, the PAW has announced. The line now is moving about 320,000 barrels of oil a day, has dropped as low as 300,000 barrels.

B. O. Lilly, superintendent for Hughes Tool here is combining his vacation with a bit of business. Reports from his office indicate that for pleasure, Lilly is also lending his able assistance to a Texas Co. wildcat near Clayton, N. M. Hope he's enjoying his vacation as much as the boys here at the office are.

Also from Hughes is the report of a big fishing trip up at Lake Friar. Three of our local oil gentlemen made up the party and had quite a time. Don Saulsbury with Hughes was accompanied by Clarence Ware with Republic Supply, and Custer Lovvy, a gauger for the Texas Co. They reported a record catch of 30 fish, each one over 9 feet long, (but we know better) anyhow, a good time was had by all.

Here's a bit of late news for the local scouts and other field meep around here. At the last Wednesday meeting of Panhandle Oil Scouts association, H. D. McCool, scout for Humble was elected president, succeeding George Miller, Lone Star Gas company scout from Shamrock; Bill Hamilton with J. M. Hurlock, Inc., succeeded McCool as secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Tommie Stone, secretary to Texas Co.'s one and only Judge Grant is reported to be "beating the heat" in cool, colorful Colorado. While being popular at Texas Co., she is also the president of the local Business and Professional Women's association.

Here comes my sample-catcher with a bit of news. Seems that the Cree-Hoover office is the local hangout for all scouts good or bad. "Doc" Schwartz was host this week to a couple of dignitaries from Amarillo, namely the aforementioned McCool, and "Red" Glasscock with the Sinclair-Prairie.

Also enjoying the flora and fauna of some distant wonderland while we're waning and waxing is Frank Anderson, geologist for the Skelly Co. Postmarks show he is probably catching all the fish in some beautiful Wisconsin lake.

And now "ye Ed" brings this column to a close with another request that material for this feature be sent in during the coming week. Until then we'll just keep turning to the right.

DESERTED CHILDREN PROBLEM IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO — (AP) — Child desertion cases here have increased 50 per cent in a year, officials estimate.

Sometimes the mothers are mentally retarded but more often it is a bad mother made worse when the husband left for war. Dr. David Rotman, municipal court psychiatrist, reports.

Texan Originates 'Stratovision'

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—(AP)—Post-war television and FM programs may be transmitted by airborne antennae, carried in airplanes "flying in lazy circles 30,000 feet above the earth," Westinghouse Electric corporation announces.

coast-to-coast television and FM broadcasting possible even to the most remote farm house "years ahead of any previously suggested system" and at reasonable cost, Walter Evans, Westinghouse vice president said.

Evans said "stratovision" was originated by C. E. Nobles, 27, of Paris, Texas.

"Television and FM radio waves travel in straight line and for all practical purposes stop at the horizon," Evans said. "This means that television broadcasts from the highest practical tower erected on the ground cannot be received much more than 50 miles away."

Under the new system, however, "shortwaves sent out from this airborne antenna would blanket the earth's surface like a great inverted ice cream cone, covering an area 422 miles across or equal to about the combined area of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey."

Fourteen planes could provide coverage for 51 per cent of the national area, with 78 per cent of its population, Evans said, adding that Westinghouse already has applied with the FCC for test flights this fall.

Broadcasts would be transmitted from a low-powered station on the ground to a slow-flying plane, which is being designed by the Glenn L. Martin company. A "standby plane" also would be aloft at all times.

Nobles said the idea of stratovision came to him as he was flying over his native Texas late in December, 1944.
