SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
Scripture: Genesis, Chapters 23-25
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
In a pastoral country, when water is scarce and flocks are large, wells and watering places are of the utmost importance in the maintenance of life and prosperity. The stories of strife over such places by rival herdmen in the Bible are but a part of the historic records of such strife in many lands and at many times.

Water has assumed in the records of the past much the place of importance and rivalry that oil assumes in the rivalry of nations today.
Great and worthy honor was attached to the diggers of wells, and to those who kept them clean and open. The well at Sychar, where Jesus met and conversed with the woman of Samaria, was known as "Jacob's Well," though Jacob had been dead for many generations.
Among Abraham's great achievements as a civilizer and nation builder was his digging of wells. In spite of his magnanimous attitude and his peace-loving nature, however, he had trouble over the wells, and when he made a compact with Abimelech, he complained to that king because his servants had "violently taken away" a well that Abraham had dug. Abimelech professed ignorance of the matter, and the adjustment of their dispute was signalled by naming the well "Beersheba" or "the well of the oath."
But the trouble was not ended. Abraham, it must be remembered, though he loved peace, was and was willing to make such sacrifice of his personal interest to secure it, was a vigorous warrior when forced to fight. When in the way of the King of Genesis, Chapter 14, his kinsman Lot, and his family, and his possessions, had been carried off in an assault on Sodom, Abraham organized his men, pursued and slayed the aggressor, recovered the captives and the loot. The victory may have had its reprisals, and may have accounted for those who could not defeat Abraham in the field taking their revenge by filling up the wells that he had dug. In any case, these wells had been filled up in the troubled times, and among the best things recorded concerning Isaac is that he dug again the wells of Abraham that the Philistines had stopped up.
This wasn't enough, however, for a new strife arose between Isaac's herdmen and those of the herdmen of Gerar, where Isaac had settled. But Isaac had inherited Abraham's conciliatory nature and his persistency. When the herdmen fought over one well, Isaac called it Esek, meaning Contention; when they fought over another, he called it Sitnah, meaning Hatred; but when he dug another well, for which there was no strife, he called it Rehoboth, meaning Room. "For now," he said, "the Lord hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land."
There is a parable in all this for those of us who live today. God has really made room for us all, if we choose to live in peace and fruitfulness. Appeasement in our time has been accompanied with disregard for right and justice, and the results have been disastrous; but this should not blind us to the general fact and law that good will begets good will. There is wisdom still in the magnanimity of Abraham, and in the policy and method of Isaac. His persistency well-digging won out over his well-destroying enemies.

"Spirit" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 12.

Church Women Work In Many Countries

By MARY FOWLER

Women and girls who have left homes and families to engage in war work may become the "forgotten people" of this generation, warns Miss Eleanor Neff, of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service, urging churches everywhere to go out and draw them into active membership.

"When a patient goes to a hospital in Paris these days, he is expected to take his bed sheets along with him" says Mrs. Marc Boegner, wife of the head of the French Protestant Federation, now visiting America. She is suggesting that American women share their bed-sheets, blankets and quilts with the families of pastors, some of them refugees, in not only France, but also in Belgium and Holland. "There could hardly be a greater act of friendship on the part of American women than to share their bed-linen with these distressed families," she says. The international church committee on overseas relief and reconstruction is cooperating with this request of Mrs. Boegner by making their depot (United Church Service, New Windsor, Maryland) a receiving point for these supplies for government and military use.

The Chinese women, many of them educated in America, who comprise the board of the Y.W.C.A. in Chengtu, West China, have been meeting and conquering unfamiliar problems in entertaining GI's in that ancient and conservative center. They have learned that the Americans want to date, to dance, to consume coffee and doughnuts. But the conservative community does not approve dating of people of such different traditions as lonely Americans and refugee Chinese girls; the Chinese government has banned dancing for the duration, and neither coffee nor doughnuts are available. So a committee of young married Chinese women act as hostesses at the Y. W. for "Saturday-Afternoon-at-Home" gatherings. Programs of Chinese music, concerts, shadow boxing, sword play, ping-pong, table football, bridge, chess, etc., are arranged, and sometimes hostesses help the Americans in their shopping for gifts for mothers, sweethearts, etc. Everything seems to be successful except the cups of tea—the GI's still don't like tea. And the programs have grown from Saturday afternoons to almost every day of the week, while men crowd the Y. W. by the hundreds.

This Colonel Can Shoot Too, Right Along With the Men

SAN FRANCISCO.—(AP)—There used to be a saying in the First infantry division: "The good die young, and Peters will live forever."

Peters—now Lt. Col. Leonard T. Peters—became headquarters commandant of the American Fifth corps during the last stages of its march through Germany and Czechoslovakia.
A headquarters commandant is a grand-scale army housekeeper. It is his task to see that the camp is laid out and functions properly.
Pete is a sort of Aladdin in uniform. When other outfits were griping about canned powdered eggs, Pete was mysteriously dishing up omelettes fresh from the hen. When neighboring headquarters were wailing contemplating warmed over C rations, Pete's boys were serving second helpings of fresh beef stew or steak. He had chicken on Sun-

Hansford Bomb Plant Receives $1 Profit

RICHMOND, Wash., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Belief that use of atomic energy should always remain in the control of the government was expressed today by Walter O. Simon, civilian manager of the Hansford bomb plant, who reported the du Pont company will receive a $1 profit from the $350,000,000 operation.
Simon said the firm is giving no thought to postwar operation and that to his knowledge, it is the only plant du Pont is operating on a cost-plus $1 fee basis.

day and ice cream every other day. How he managed to put fresh eggs on the combat menu in Turkish deserts and trot out steak in arid Sicily is something Pete would rather not discuss in detail.
"There haven't been any lawsuits," he says and adds cautiously, "yet. Pete is only 29. He is deceptively blue-eyed and usually wears a sandy mustache left over from the days in Africa when every First infantry division officer looked like Buffalo Bill.
Pete had only one falling. He always liked to be his own Daniel Boone in picking camp sites, and he chose them close enough to the front to collect his war souvenirs personally from the living body of the enemy.
At Mons in the great three-day battle during which the First division captured 21,000 prisoners, he was knocking off Germans with his carbine alongside the doughboys. That's something of a luxury for a commandant, whose hobbies ordinarily keep him closer to headquarters.

Home Demonstration Council Plans Food Exhibit To Be Held Aug. 11

Gray county home demonstration council members will sponsor a garden and canned fruit exhibit, Aug. 11, in the windows of the Southwestern Public Service company, from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m.

Each club will prepare and arrange an exhibit under the direction of the exhibit chairman of the club.

Chairmen in charge include: Mrs. T. Anderwald, Bell club; Mrs. J. S. Fugan, Wayside club; Mrs. T. J. Cobb, Concess club; and Mrs. Verril Savage of the Hopkins club.

The council ordered one dozen corn cutters which will be available at the office of Miss Millicent Schaub, demonstration agent.

Many interesting demonstrations were given by the clubs at the club camp which was held recently. Victory club members won first place for their demonstration on "Making Fabrics Fire-Proof".

To fire-proof curtains, and clothing, material should be washed in soap and water, rinsed, starched, and dried thoroughly, then dipped in the solution. The material may then be dried and ironed. The process must be repeated with each washing of the material.

Solution given includes water, 2 quarts; borax, 7 ounces, and boric acid, 3 ounces.

Mrs. O. G. Smith of the Worthwhile club demonstrated the proper method of killing and dressing chickens.

Mrs. H. H. Kealey of the Bell club demonstrated the proper method of sharpening knives.

Hair styling was demonstrated by members of the Morten club. Good posture was given by the Colto club, and sewing tips were presented by the Hopkins club. Foot exercises were demonstrated by members of the Wayside club.

Evening Glamor Out of The Past

By EPISE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—New fashions in evening gowns are out to whoop up your mood for masquerade, and will turn you in a twinkling into a Grecian column, a Minoan lady or one of Louisiana M. Aleotti's "Little Women."

There are three "Greek column" dresses, for instance, in one New York collection, and one is shown left a Bruno-designed beauty with a draped one-shoulder bodice gathered to a short tunic and banded with delicately traced gold beading. In the same collection are sarong-wrapped dresses in Olympian red and black, highlighted by gold traced Grecian motifs, which are reminiscent of what Minoan Greek ladies wore many centuries ago.

From modern pages comes the idea for the simulated chain armor bodice on the dress, right, which is the result of Elsa's researchings in 13th century times. This "theme" dress of Cistercian white crepe upon which a series of designs has been adapted, like a long basque top that is smocked and pailletted in gold and is set on a low hipline skirt with a self sash.

Seeds Should Be Sown Deeper in August; Dry Weather Bound to Come

By HENRY L. FREE
Written for NEA Service

August finds the vegetable garden at its height and sounds the final call for sowing autumn maturing vegetables. The old gardener says dry weather is bound to come and it is advisable to make the seed row a little deeper than recommended for spring, and water the bottom of the row before sowing. Germination is much better by this method. Surface irrigation at this season on fresh sown seed will create a crust, making it difficult for the seedling to break through.

Much of the early potato crop was damaged by aphids, flea beetles and leaf hoppers, and much of this damage would have been avoided if a regular spray program had been practiced. Early blight caused considerable damage, too, and the smart gardener will continue to spray or dust his vines. It is most important to keep the leaves green for as long as possible. Be sure to dig your early potatoes as soon as the stems have died down.

Soil conservation and soil improvement should be the rule in every garden. Good garden practice includes sowing rye or other cover crops in any vacant areas. A cover crop sown during August will be heavy enough to turn under in late autumn. Every bit of organic material (humus) added to the garden now will make the soil much easier to dig and plant next spring.

My sweet potato vines are sending out long-runners in every direction and encroaching on the adjoining rows of beans and beets. These runners should be trimmed back to within two feet of the main plant for the mutual benefit of the potatoes and the nearby vegetables.

Blackberry and raspberry canes that have fruited may be removed and burned as soon as the crop is harvested. This provides room for new canes, improves the appearance of the patch and destroys many insects. Incidentally, black raspberries should be planted 300 feet from red raspberries in order to prevent transfer of virus diseases from the reds.

Nearly twice as much money is in circulation in $1,000 bills as in $500 bills.

Poem Submitted by Mrs. J. E. Mitchell

(Editor's Note: The following poem was submitted by Mrs. J. E. Mitchell, whose son, Sgt. Duward F., was killed in Germany, May 12, 1944. This poem, we feel, is not only for Mrs. Mitchell, but for all mothers who have lost their sons. The poem was sent to her.)

KILLED IN ACTION
Son, you were so very young, when you enlisted,
With fiery eye, and sort of double listed,
You went to do your bit. Today, dear you're listed—
Killed in action.

Somehow, you never quite grew up, like other boys,
You seemed more like a child with growl; you toys
Your life was filled with ordinary joys,
'Till war came!

Then, a year ago today, you went away
Grimly and determined that those men should pay
For all that they had done, to make the world this way
You gave your life dear!

But, son, you have not lost your life, we know,
And in a happier land, no tears will flow,
As flow they must, in this world here below,
'Where sadness is'

God must have loved you too, my son,
He must have needed someone, full of fun
Perhaps, to counteract the sound of gun,
And hatred, here on earth.

And so again, today, you went away
But not to fight this time, dear—
Just to stay
Around God's throne, where little children play,
For of such, 'is the Kingdom of Heaven!

Popular Hostess Is One Who Puts Guests at Ease

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Putting shy people at their ease is the social obligation of a hostess, or of the chairman who presides over a small chatty group. Possessing and freely using this social technique gives many a woman her rating as a successful hostess and wins many a club-woman the votes that make her the chairman.

Because no one is more successful at this technique than a woman radio commentator, whose job is to "draw out" one of the smoothest at this sort of thing—to tell her secrets.

"I ask short, encouraging questions," says Nancy, who insists that if you'll tactfully query people about what work they do, what their home interests are and what hobby they pursue, not even the shyest soul will falter for an answer.

Rallying to her subject and encouraged by your interest, a timid person is easily coaxed into objective conversation. At that point, says Nancy, someone else will join the talk and you are free to move on where you can put someone else at ease.

When readers complained that it contained no punctuation, he printed a new edition with four solid pages of periods, commas, etc., at the end and said: "Here they are, folks."

DID THE ALCOHOL MEAN ANYTHING?

Often we get bits of information which we cannot publish. Sometime it is important. Since Russia has declared war on Japan, the reader will probably be interested in the following information which was written by Roy Tucker, Washington correspondent for this newspaper. It was written June 19, after the Germans had been defeated and while Russia was enjoying a brief respite between wars.

The following material, heretofore not for publication, is given verbatim:

"The details of the resumption of industrial alcohol shipments to Russia are more important than I dare to write for publication in so far as they bear on the Soviet Union's imminent entry into the war on Japan.

"Although Byron Price has asked us not to speculate on this possibility, so many high military men and diplomats have discussed the question that his polite prohibition has gone into the discard. Byron admits it privately.

"Japan expects to have to face Russia on the battlefield. Prince Kanoye's diplomatic journey is a desperate effort to insure continued neutrality. Japan has an ambassador in Moscow, and he could handle any routine matters with the Kremlin. For a member of the royal family to make the special trip at this moment suggests that relations between Tokyo and Moscow are extremely critical.

"When the war ended in Europe, shipments of our industrial alcohol to Russia were stopped because she was no longer a military ally. She was not at war with Japan.

"In fact, a tank ship was then being loaded with Kansas-Nebraska-lowa grain alcohol when Washington sent orders to Seattle to halt further exports of this all-important fluid to the Soviet Union. The state department was observing protocol rather strictly.

"Stalin's commercial attaches attending the San Francisco conference went into a huddle with representatives of Secretary Stettinius at the Golden Gate. I cannot vouch for what happened in the meantime, but within 24 hours Washington authorized its Seattle office to load the tanker mentioned above and send it to Vladivostok.

"Then came WPB's announcement that volume shipments would be resumed. The logical conclusion appears to be that Russia is coming in and that Japan may soon beg for peace!"

Trying to Serve Two Masters

When we try to analyze the cause of our moral and economic troubles we find that they come from disobeying the admonition of Jesus that we cannot serve two masters.

And what does this admonition really mean? It really means that we cannot have contradictory principles. If we try it, we get in trouble.

The two masters the American people have more and more tried to serve, especially during the last decade, are force and individual freedom. That is, attempting to serve the sword and, at the same time, peace and good will among men. That is, using force rather than persuasion and enlightenment to bring about a result.

Probably the most outstanding example of using the sword or force rather than voluntary persuasion that is, in serving force rather than persuasion is public education.

We are attempting to serve society by using compulsion rather than by enlightening the public as to their duties as individuals. It is little wonder that the belief in force and the belief in a government of bare majority rule has grown and grown in our midst when in every community in the land we are practicing the attempt to serve two masters: force and voluntary agreements.

Another example of serving two masters is immigration restrictions. The former is the state's right to restrict the right of freedom of the individual as set down by the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount and the Declaration of Independence.

Progressive taxation is another attempt to use force to rob one group to benefit another group. Computer science is another example of attempting to worship force while professing to believe in freedom.

Judging from our collective actions, the American people are having less and less faith in this truisim expressed by Jesus. They are coming to believe more and more that we can serve both God and Mammon.

But it does not seem to work. We are reaping exactly what we have sown. Any individual who understands the precepts taught by Jesus could have foreseen what would happen. Any man who believes in the precepts of Jesus can see nothing but a dark picture ahead unless the people collectively come to believe and practice the rules of life set down by the Great Teacher. There is none of them more important and more harmful to society when violated than the rule that we cannot serve two masters.

The words "vested interests" are usually used as sneer words. Every man has vested interests. These are his inalienable rights as set forth in the Declaration of Independence.

I can see nothing but conflict and recrimination for capitalism in America unless we provide a program which will insure employment for all Americans who are able and willing to work.—Sen. James H. Murray.

Our comment on the news that Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt wanted out of the army can be confined to two words: "Who doesn't?"—Salina, Kans., Journal.

SO IT WAS TWO RUSSIANS

(The Daily Oldhamian)

Thanks to a favorite and oft-quoted columnist the country now has the exact lowdown on that Russian-published and OWI-supplied charge that eight of our western states are practically barren wastes and utterly unacquainted with industry. It seems that the disturbing story was written by "two Russians."

Hence, the OWI is completely exonerated. It cannot be blamed for the outbreak or even chided, for none of the explosive copy hastened to the Russian publishers was written by native-born, 100 percent Americans. Every line of it was written by two Russians, and that explains that.

Unfortunately, it doesn't go all the way. It fails to explain why the national government, through and by the OWI, is hiring Russians to write the American propaganda that is being prepared for Russian perusal. Presumably, we have plenty of Americans who are capable of writing our propaganda.

Presumably, those Americans know more about the inner workings of our country than any two average Russians can possibly know. Then, just why should the OWI reach over the ocean to hire two "Uncle Joe's" pencil pushers to tell the Russian people what Washington in its wisdom believes that all Russians ought to be told?

Not yet has Mr. Stalin seen fit to hire a couple of Yankees to write his propaganda. Possibly, he will be moved by this exhibition of American generosity and goodwill and proceed to attach a few Yankee scribes to his Muscovite payroll. He may even decide to employ Bill White to enlighten the American people concerning Russian customs and resources. Strange things are being done nowadays.

Still, we don't understand why our government is hiring Russians to write our propaganda.

Nowadays, with the nations of the world settling their differences at the conference table I don't see why California and Florida can't do the same and make a gentleman's agreement. Goodness, it shouldn't be any more difficult than the lion and the lamb lying down together although we always wondered if the lion was inside or outside the lion at the time.

For instance, I neglect that Florida admits the mosquitos are pretty heavy there now. Ordinarily Californians would make a sarcastic remark but under the new gentleman's agreement they couldn't take advantage like that. They'd have to be polite and report that a Laguna Beach farmer had sought 140 skunks in one week in his corn patch. More gentlemen, isn't it?

And if the Golden State had any admit that too, but you never find them in California.

For months the administration has been warning our own people that this country has neither the coal nor transportation to supply fuel needs. Yet they seem to have no difficulty in finding 6,000,000 tons of coal for Europe, including the Nazis.—Sen. Styles Bridges, of New Hampshire.

News Behind the News

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

PETAÏN—Marshal Henri PetaÏn's dense, heavy in his treason trial could obtain excellent ammunition for their side were they permitted to scan the secret files of the American state department. In fact, Franklin D. Roosevelt would have been his finest witness were he alive today and felt that he could intervene in a seemingly domestic problem.

The Allies played PetaÏn for all he was worth as a national and heroic symbol after the French armies collapse. But the assignment of handling "the old man" by the state department's decision of him—was entrusted to the United States because of Parisian hostility toward England at that particular moment, and especially after Churchill's warships bombarded French fleet units interned in North Africa.

Washington deliberately sent Admiral William D. Leahy as ambassador to Vichy because he had been a world war I crony of PetaÏn. He was supposed to be the one American representative who could influence the March in favor of the United Nations. State department gossip, reveling in their cleverness, used to tell of the two veterans' wine dinners at Vichy, their reminiscences of their experiences in the war, and of Leahy's "way with PetaÏn."

For the same reason we maintained close relations with the French ruling group in North Africa, although we suspected that the late Admiral Darlan and other colonial figures were pro-Nazi. Cordell Hull, it may be remembered now, was subjected to severe criticism because he permitted Robert D. Murphy and his staff to remain there and because we also shipped food, oil and machinery to that area.

SPIES—In off-the-record, defensive conferences former Secretary of State Hull used to explain in detail but guarded language that both policies were based on selfish, materialistic and pragmatic diplomacy.

Mr. Hull pointed out that by maintaining close relations with the PetaÏn government through Admiral Leahy, we hoped to prevent French from letting Hitler get the French fleet and from using unoccupied France and Spain as bases from which Der Fuehrer might have blocked our invasion of North Africa.

By keeping Mr. Murphy at Casablanca, Mr. Hull boasted, we kept alive Free French hopes of eventual American entrance into the war and of liberation of France and her colonies from the German grip.

Mr. Snyder's needling is inconsistent in other respects. Compliment is made that government-owned war plants haven't been released for civilian production fast enough. Yet the policy has been to keep government plants going on war production so that privately-owned plants could be freed for reconversion.

Peter Edson's Column: MR. SNYDER GETS THE NEEDLE

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Banker John W. Snyder, of St. Louis, the new assistant president in charge of the home front, has just had a needle stuck into his backside, right up to the eye—of the needle. So far he hasn't said much, and probably won't. He has a reputation for being tough-skinned and able to take it.

The sharp stab given to Mr. Snyder through the needle was the fourth annual report of Sen. James M. Mead's war investigating committee. The report found that "reconversion has not proceeded as swiftly as it should have." And that the office of war mobilization and reconversion, acting too often as a conciliator rather than an executive, fails to fill the need.

The job wasn't aimed primarily or personally at Snyder, but at the two men who preceded him in office, Justice James F. Byrnes, who is now secretary of state, and Judge Fred M. Vinson, who is now secretary of the treasury.

In Hollywood

Ed's Note: Hollywood notables have volunteered to serve as guest columnists while Erskine Johnson is on vacation. The column below was written by Actress Linda Darnell.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 10.—My husband was quietly reading while I was sculpting a head of him the other night, when the telephone rang. When I answered I heard a gasp, some un-musical stuttering, and finally a friend's voice said: "You're still there? It isn't true, is it Linda? You haven't left Pev for Alan Dale!"

The rest of the evening was spent answering similar queries. It seems a radio commentator had just announced that he had "the inside on the breakup of Linda Darnell and her husband, Peverell Marley"; that the "other man in the case was Alan Dale, owner of the Villa Nova and one of the film couple's best friends, and that the star and the restaurateur would be married as soon as Miss Darnell could get a divorce."

The one grain of truth in the whole statement was that Alan Dale is a good friend of ours. Pev and I couldn't figure out how such a rumor got started until my best friend, Ann Miller, called. Annie remembered that the day after I finished work in Twentieth Century Fox's "Fallen Angel," I said I was dying to go the races. Pev was still busy on "The Two Mrs. Carrrolls" and I didn't want to go alone, so a couple of days later when Ann had a date to go to Santa Anita with "Al Hurd, she took me along. I was just a third party. Alan stopped at the studio to us, and Ann and Al went off for five minutes to get some sandwiches.

I've denied separation and divorce rumors on the average of once a month since Pev and I were married April 18, 1943.

And, though I've been married only 27 months, if I credited gossip, I'd have had 17 children by now! The first baby rumor started when I stopped for a layette for my sister. My saleslady told somebody who told somebody who told their favorite columnist, and—the next thing I knew I was publicly, if not privately, expecting the stroke!

I've been killed off via gossip half a dozen times, and maintained so frequently I'm amazed I have a finger or toe left. The other day, for instance, a famous columnist accurately reported that my hand was cut by flying glass during a ship chustening in San Francisco. But the day after her item appeared, my mother called up in a great dither. She'd had a wire from a friend urging that I try another doctor before permitting an amputation.

PLENTY OF ROMANCES

Before I married Pev, I suffered from the same rumoritis every single actor and actress in Hollywood goes through. I couldn't get out with a man without prompt announcement we were "the most torrid two-some in town."

Rep. Mahon Wants a Reduction in Points

LUBBOCK, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Rep. George Mahon, (D-Texas) has asked General George Marshall to request joint requirements immediately to make an additional one million men in the army eligible for discharge.

Mahon said he sent the request to Marshall yesterday in a telegram, in view of the success of the atomic bomb and the entry of Russia into the war.

He leads them into the hall and to the foot of the stairs.

UNCLE GEORGE: Now, Harry, you will stand with C—and at the head of those stairs—and at the first strains of the Wedding March—

MR. ARCHER: What? Who's going to play it? UNCLE GEORGE: (soothingly) That's all taken care of, Harry. Louise plays it beautifully. Now, you two go on up there now when I say "Go."

MR. ARCHER: (peering around from the living room) Oh, George—where shall I— UNCLE GEORGE: Coming, my dear, coming. He bustles happily back into the living room as Corliss and her father slowly go up the stairs to take their appointed places.

Texas Produces Record Rice Crop

A record rice crop for Texas this year is forecast, but the department of agriculture said yesterday (Wednesday) cotton yield would be average, less than 1944.

The peanut crop which has begun moving in South Texas was reported encouraging if weather remains favorable, and the citrus crop in the Laredo section of the Rio Grande valley was reported to have weathered heat and dry weather.

Rice mills plan to begin operations about the middle of August, the USDA marketing service said yesterday. Indications were that July forecasts of a record harvest would be realized. Harvest of the crop became more general in the state during the past week.

The season's first crop rice in Calcasieu parish, Louisiana, was laid during the week at selling prices less discount for moisture.

Though milled rice for domestic distribution remained small, about 900,000,000 pockets are expected to be available if present record prospects in the south are realized.

A good yield of grapefruit, oranges, tangerines and kumquats in the latter part of the year was forecast in the valley. Growers of Webb and Zapata counties have transplanted tomato and sweet (bell) pepper plants to open fields, and seedbeds of Bermuda onions to be planted in December are being laid out in the Laredo district.

South Texas peanut crop was expected to be moving generally by Sept. 1, the USDA said. Harvesting is underway in some sections already.

The USDA report on the Texas cotton crop said the north central and eastern parts of the state had too much rainfall while continued drought in the northwest reduced acreage and delayed the crop.

A yield of 2,100,000 bales was estimated for 1945, with the Aug. 1 condition 72 per cent. Last year's harvest totaled 2,946,000 bales.

The nation's only woman flag pole painter is, naturally, a Texan. She is Mrs. Eddie Mae Flanagan, 30 of Houston. She weighs 80 pounds, is a blonde with blue-green eyes, wears smart green slacks, a white blouse and a captain's cap on the job. She is a native of Sulphur Springs.

Her 11-year-old son Rex carries her equipment and accompanies her to work.

Jess Gibson of Houston says she makes a trim addition to a flag pole.

Mrs. Flanagan says she isn't at all scared of her work.

She got into the business last year. She said she became fascinated while watching J. B. Hassell at work on a swaying pole.

"I decided if poles didn't break with him, they wouldn't break with me, so I started out," she explained.

She says it's a pretty good occupation. All she needs, besides nerve, is some rope, a small boss's chair, a little paint and a small brush.

She said she painted the 100-foot pole on the Cameron Iron works in 10 minutes. And was paid $15 for it.

She described how flag pole painters work: You take a couple of ropes, space them about three feet apart with double clover hitches around the pole; you sit in the bottom one with the boss's chair and inch the top one up a bit; then you grab it, lightly and pull up the one with the chair in it.

First thing you know you're at the top of the pole. Then you begin to

New Consultations On Bomb Are Held

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—New consultations by American, Russian and British leaders on IC implications and methods of control of the revolutionary atomic bomb were forecast today by military experts.

These sources said development of the new explosive may already have outdistanced certain decisions made at Potsdam and earlier conferences of the Big Three powers.

Such a destructive weapon, they said, alters the importance of the control of certain frontiers, ports, rivers and mountains and places an entirely new aspect on many matters of strategy and security.

The new British cabinet held a lengthy, almost unprecedented night meeting last night with military chiefs who were closest to the direction of the British war effort.

The prolonged session, second of the day for the cabinet, was believed to have revolved around discussion of the effects of the dropping of the first atomic bomb on Japan.

Mountbatten Says Japan Will Fight

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Russia's entry into the war will bring the major part of the Japanese army into action for the first time, "most certainly" speed up hostilities, Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten said today.

The supreme Allied commander in the Southeast Asia theater added: "The major part of the Japanese army still is in China, where it has suffered least so far in the war. The only way we can get to them is by means of amphibious operations while the Russians already are knocking at their back door."

So far, she has painted poles atop the Brazos and Auditorium hotels, several for the Cameron Iron works, one for McEvoy, and others.

She looks forward to her next big job—painting the flag pole atop the Gulf building, the highest flag pole in Houston.

With this he descends the stairs in a triple of maniacal bounds, obviously intent upon mayhem. Corliss tries to grab her father, but it is too late. Pringle backs down the hall towards the porch.

MR. PRINGLE: Now wait a minute, Harry. MR. ARCHER: Get out of my house! He chases Pringle onto the porch.

Uncle George is standing over her and, in an effort to point out a place where Louise is playing incorrectly, is justly singing the refrain for her. It is evident to the others that something is going on in the hall, and the Franklins and Dexter go out of the living room to ascertain the cause of the racket. Louise and Uncle George are still absorbed at the piano.

MR. PRINGLE: Relax, Harry—look at this telegram! Archer, however, is in no mood to look at telegrams. Brushing past assorted Pringles, he dives into the garden with Archer at his heels. Raymond, sensing an imminent fight, skates out after them.

U. S. Forces University Study Center Opens for Students in Florence, Italy

THE REPLACEMENT AND TRAINING COMMAND, Italy — War department plans which have been maturing for two years today became a reality with the opening of the University Study Center at Florence, the first GI university overseas to operate on a full-time basis.

With impressive dedication day exercises held on July 9, 1945, which were attended by military, diplomatic and educational dignitaries, troops awaiting redeployment to the United States or other theaters of operations began or started to further their college education "until their ship comes in."

Principal speaker was Lieut. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, Jr., commanding general of the Fifth Army, who advised the students: "In your hands lies the responsibility for the future of our country and the world. I hope you will never forget that this priceless liberty for which we have fought four major wars is worth fighting for."

General Truscott was introduced by Major General L. C. Jaynes, commanding general of the replacement and training command, which operates the university study center.

Brig. Gen. F. L. Tate, commanding general of the university training command, read congratulatory messages from Secretary of War Henry Stimson and Brig. Gen. George B. Born, director of the information and education division, army service forces. In his message, the secretary of war said, in part: "This is a most significant occasion, marking a return to the higher arts of civilization of our military personnel in the land where some of the world's bitterest fighting was waged."

Notables attending included the United States Ambassador to Italy Alexander Kirk, Professors G. Valeri and C. Orsini of the University of Florence, Major Gen. George P. Hays, commanding general of the 10th Mountain Division, Brig. Gen. John B. Corlier, commanding general of the 85th Infantry Division and Major Gen. James M. Bevans, commanding general of air forces.

Others present were: Brigadier General George L. Eberle, G-3 MTOUSA; Brigadier General James C. Fry, 88th Infantry Division; Brigadier General John S. Wood, 92nd Infantry Division; Brigadier General Pierre Mallet, commanding general of Florence redeployment training command; Brigadier General Harry B. Sherman, 34th Infantry Division; Walter W. Orneburg, United States consul; Colonel A. P. Lacy, United States VI Corps; Colonel Norman B. Ames, I and E of floor air forces; Colonel Milton O. Beebe, chief of chainlains; Colonel Quinton R. David, chief of special branch, G-1 MTOUSA; Colonel James B. Colson, deputy commander, Adriatic base command; Lt. Col. Daniel J. Leary, education officer.

PEP; Lt. Col. William G. Neely, 91st Infantry Division and Capt. L. Marlow, British education officer, Florence Allied area command.

The student body of the new university is drawn from every branch of service in the Mediterranean theater, and includes WACs and nurses, officers and enlisted men. Eligibility to attend the university depends upon meeting one of these three qualifications: (1) graduation from high school; (2) attendance at college; or (3) a grade of 105 or more on the army general classification test. In view of the number of applicants qualified for instruction, it is expected that enrollment will be stepped up to a maximum of 4,000 by 1 September.

Students take three courses, classes in each being held five times weekly. In this way, it is possible to do the equivalent of a semester's college work at the university in two four-week sessions. The American council on education in the United States has agreed to review all courses offered at the center and to make recommendations for appropriate college credits in American universities.

"G. I.'s" attending the university, who represent each of the 48 states and the District of Columbia, have made selections for study from a curriculum which offers 67 courses ranging from agriculture to sociology. Shakespeare to beer production. Most popular is business administration, with 923 students, followed by the social sciences, with 798, and languages, with 473. A special post-graduate course for students working individually under faculty supervision is also provided.

Soldiers can enroll in the university without any fear that it will delay their return home. If a student's outfit is alerted for shipment back to the States, or if he becomes eligible for discharge, he will be immediately released.

Following an extensive study by the classification section of the replacement and training command at Ft. Shikhspeare to select personnel in the Mediterranean theater of operations without regard to military rank based on their academic ability to teach particular subjects. The faculty staff of 95 includes 48 civilian faculty members from the most qualified personnel in the Mediterranean theater of operations without regard to military rank based on their academic ability to teach particular subjects. The faculty staff of 95 includes 48 civilian faculty members from the most qualified personnel in the Mediterranean theater of operations without regard to military rank based on their academic ability to teach particular subjects.

Brigadier General F. J. Tate, educated at Louisiana State university and West Point, and former instructor at the Command and General Staff School and the Virginia Military Institute, as commanding general of the university training command occupied a position similar to that of the president of one of our civilian universities. Lt. Col. Irving S. Whittemore, of Belmont, Mass., who holds the M. A. and Doctor of Education degrees from Harvard, and was formerly lecturer in physiology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and professor of psychology at Boston university is the assistant commandant and executive officer.

The new university is located in the historic city of Florence, shrine of Renaissance culture, and home of world-famous art treasures. It occupies the buildings of a former fascist school of aeronautics, which has also served as a German military hospital, and, on the liberation of Florence, as an American hospital. Now it's nine major buildings and a score of lesser structures set in tree-lined lanes and gardens.

The university study center buildings have been renamed Harvard Hall, Duke Hall, Yale Hall, Stanford Hall, and Cornell Field house, bringing a touch of home to Cowboy Mike, pictured above, is typical of the type of quarter horses which will be shown at the Top 'O' Texas rodeo next week. The owner of the horse is Bill Starnes of Stinnett. Entries in the quarter horse show must be turned in to J. P. Smith before August 13 as entries close at that time.

Facilities include a theater, chapel, discussion center, library, swimming pool, riding stable and Red Cross and social center. Arrangements have been completed to make available to students some of the rich culture facilities of the Florence, including the experimental laboratories of the Florence Institute of agriculture, two of the city's famous libraries, and a modern printing plant. Students attending the university need incur no expenses, even text books being furnished without charge. According to Gen. Tate, every effort will be made to maintain as purely scholastic an atmosphere as possible in the university.

German prisoners of war are used at the university to maintain and keep house for the students, doing all the regular army duties such as K. P., cleaning quarters and other duties, so that students will be able to devote their time to study. Planning for the university study center by the war department began more than two years ago. The curriculum was based on surveys made in combat and service organizations under the direction of Major General F. H. Osborn, directors of the information and education division, army service forces, war department; Col. Francis T. Spaulding, chief of the educational branch and former dean at Harvard; Col. William P. Scooby, Major Erwin H. Miner and Capt. Harry E. Dickerman, educational program coordinator.

Committee Sponsors Statewide Convention

Producer Challenges Memphis Censor Board

MEMPHIS, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Hollywood movie producer David Loew fired some Memphis attorneys yesterday and challenged the Memphis censor board's legal right to ban his picture "The Southerner."

Loew wired the commercial board: "Evidently this guy Binford (board chairman Lloyd T. Binford) saw 'The Southerner' and didn't like it. Well, that's too bad, we're sorry. But it's not a good enough reason to keep everybody else in Memphis from seeing it."

Binford in banning the picture, said it pictured the southerners as "illiterate mendicants." "The Southerner" is the film version of "Hold Autumn in Your Hand," a novel by the Texas author, George Sessions Perry. In recent weeks the Memphis censor board has banned five pictures from local screens.

Detroit Tigers Accept Flutterball Hurler, Jim Tobin

Braves Turn New Pitcher Out of Ranks

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Detroit has a fourth front row hurler to take a turn with Hal Newhouser, Al Benton and Dizzy Trout today in flutterball Jim Tobin who was waived out of the National league in a mysterious case similar to an affair Borowy.

While the other National league clubs turned up their noses on Tobin at a $7,500 ticket, the Boston Braves waived him out of the league and into the American where the Tigers were eager customers at an unannounced price.

Although Tobin's current record of 9 won and 14 lost is far below his 1944 standard when he captured the nation's imagination with a pair of no-hit games, the capable right-hander should be a terrific lift to the Bengals whose vital need has been pitching depth.

Trout went the route for the second time in a month yesterday, and although he parceled out 10 hits to Boston in an 11-5 triumph, his performance must have been encouraging to O'Neill. A year ago the Dizzy one had won 18 to only 10 today, but his return to form for the final seven weeks can make all the difference.

Rudy York also showed encouraging signs of striking his customary August home run pace by bashing two into the stands in successive innings off Emmett O'Neill and Clem Hausmann. The star slugger has hit only nine all season and is batting in the low .270s.

Washington struck within one game of the Bengals by turning the tables on Chicago's upstart White Sox, 7-2.

Joe McCarthy's return to the helm of his New York Yankees struck an auspicious note as Red Ruffing trimmed Cleveland, 3-2 for his third straight since returning to civilian life. Marse Joe had been away from the club since July 20 because of poor health.

At Hollingsworth of St. Louis lefthanded the Athletics into submission with three hits, 1-0, beating Bobo Newsum in the only night game.

The St. Louis Cards moved to within 5 1/2 games of first place Chicago by whipping New York, 5-3, while the Cubs were bowing to an old roommate, Bill Lee of the Boston Braves, 7-3.

Brooklyn gained on both the first and second place clubs by trimming Cincinnati twice, 9-2 and 4-3.

Freshman Ken Gables of Pittsburgh earned his seventh big league decision at Dick Barrett's expense in downing the Phillies, 3-1.

Sports Round-Up

By BILL KING
Pinch-hitting for H. Fullerton, Jr. BOSTON, Aug. 10.—Standing on his rights as general manager Jimmy Gallagher boldly predicts that his Cubs will win the National league pennant—"I haven't seen anyone who can beat us out," he explains. "We've got the best pitching in the league and the most power." — But manager Charlie Grimm continues to hedge—"we're not talking pennant yet," said the bawdy maestro. "Anything can happen. Take the Tigers. Last week they had a six-games lead and today they're barely hanging on."

WATCH OUT NELSON

Fred Corcoran, visiting the old homestead between tournaments, has tabbed three newcomers to big-time golf who will be pressing Byron Nelson. They are Claude Harmon, the Detroit pro who went to the semi-finals in the recent PGA championship, Virgil Shreve of San Francisco, and Jim Gaunt of Ardmore, Okla.—Fred reports that Sammy Snead's arm is fully rested and he'll be out to atop Nelson's string of 11 straight major titles in next week's Memphis tourney.—Fred has high hopes of spotting next year's PGA classic for one of the greater Boston courses.

BIG DOUGH

Corcoran figures that his pros are shooting for a total of $500,000 this year and predicts that they'll perform before a half-million spectators before winding up their 1945 program in the southwest—the pros have raised more than $200,000 for veterans' rehabilitation funds, the largest donation coming out of the PGA affair in Dayton, which yielded $51,600.

SERVICE NOTES

It took Gus Broberg less than a month to become a smooth left-handed penman—that recent Dartmouth basketball great lost his right arm as the result of a July 4 plane crash at Okinawa. He has written Ossie Cowles, his court tutor, about his tragic accident.

The Solid Platform

Shamrock Coach Takes New Post

SHAMROCK, Aug. 10.—Bob Clark, director of athletics at Shamrock high school for the past three years, has submitted his resignation to take a similar post at Tucumcari, N. M. He will assume his new duties Sept. 1.

Clark, who came to Shamrock from Sayre, Okla., to work at football, basketball, and track, and tutored a boxing team which was a standout in Golden Gloves and inter-school competition.

However, Clark's activities were not always confined to major scholastic sports. He worked for the promotion of swimming, and when Shamrock built a municipal swimming pool, he superintended several outstanding water carnivals.

It was Clark who organized the Commando division at Shamrock. This consisted of 150 boys and girls for training in sports and other outdoor activities.

"I have enjoyed my work at Shamrock," Clark said, "and I hate to move. But I believe Tucumcari offer a wider scope of activity."

No successor to Clark has been named by Shamrock school officials.

Pampa Flyers To Lose Mentor

Locals To Meet Clovis Nine Here Saturday, Sunday

Hopes for the Pampa army air field Flyers in the forthcoming Houston Post tournament were dealt another staggering blow today with the announcement from PAAF headquarters that Lt. Joseph Mariana, Flyer coach, has been transferred to another base.

Coming on the heels of the transfers of Mike Greek and Homer Durden, the departure of Mariana leaves a considerable dent in Flyer player personnel.

Under the tutelage of their departing coach, the Flyers won 17 of 22 contests, with three of the five defeats administered to them by Amarillo AAF's powerful Sky Giants. Latest winning streak of the club included seven consecutive victories over army and civilian teams.

When the Flyers take the field against Clovis AAF in games this Saturday and Sunday on the post diamond, they will be under the supervision of Lt. John A. Houston, post physical training director. Lt. Houston has appointed Elmer "Pap" Berry, veteran catcher, as field captain, and he will direct the strategy of the club.

The Clovis team will take the field Saturday at 3:00 p. m., set to even a few scores with the locals, who copped both games of a double-header from the Superforts at Clovis a couple of weeks ago. They will undoubtedly pitch their star right-hander, Menard, in one of the week-end melees. He will be opposed by either Tony Reis or Walt Petricky who administered the double defeat to the New Mexicans at Clovis.

The Flyers will probably line up as follows for the week-end contests:

- Mick ..... first base
- Buckley ..... second base
- Koch ..... shortstop
- Laux ..... third base
- Petty ..... center field
- Henry ..... right field
- Berry ..... catcher
- Reis ..... pitcher

TRY THE CELLAR

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Police Patrolman E. R. Mills said he looked up and saw a man balancing precariously on two power wires suspended 10 feet above an alley.

"I asked him what he was doing and he said he was looking for the jangle," Mills reported.

The man was jailed on a charge of drunkenness.

T Formation Is Rated Second

ABILENE, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The North All-Stars, a power unit operating with the wingback formation, were rated top favorites today in the annual football game of the Texas high school coaching school set for tonight at Eagle stadium.

Despite the fact that the North's passing is not up to the standard demanded by Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian university in operating with the wingback style of play, a ground game that seeps power was considered the edge over lighter opponents from the south, being taught the T formation by Coach Skip Palrang of Boys Town, Neb.

The south, however, gave promise of making it a high-scoring game. Boasting greater speed and a fine passer in Leon Joslin of Waxahatchie, the group could win the battle and it would be considered no major upset. Absence of three members of the squad—Dick Hoerster of Fredericksburg, Ben Proctor of Austin and August Erturth of Brackenridge (San Antonio) the first two days of practice and the fact that the south is trying to adjust itself to the intricate T formation in four days of work were contributing factors in ranking Palrang's squad below Meyer's brawny gang.

Meyer appeared settled on a backfield of Sammy Piere of Vernon, George Graham of San Angelo, Bill Engle of Greenville and George Sims of Seymour, a hard-running unit. Top men of his line are R. W. Moyer of Lubbock and all-state Dick Harris of Wichita Falls.

Proposed Amendments May Be Approved

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Rep. Julian P. Green, Elkhart believes all four proposed amendments to the state constitution will be approved by voters Aug. 25 and that a heavy vote will be cast. "The amendment creating a ceiling on public welfare spending and making possible larger old age assistance payments, together with the amendment calling for an enlarged supreme court, is catching the fancy of the people," Greer, a former state senator said.

The other two amendments call for exemption of poll taxes for servicemen and women, otherwise qualified to vote and a salary increase for members of the state legislature.

Nation's Strike Total Dropped 41,000 Today

By The Associated Press
The nation's strike total dropped to around 41,000 today, the lowest in a week, as some 23,000 war workers at the Wright Aeronautical corporation in Cincinnati ended a five-day walkout.

The striking workers at the big plant engaged in the production of engines for B-29s last night voted to go back to their jobs on today's first shift. The vote came after a stormy three-hour session and followed a war labor board back-to-work directive and an appeal by Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio.

Union officials had termed the strike the "culmination of a long list of grievances," and said it was "touched off" last week when 14 foundry employees were transferred to lower pay jobs in the same department.

Two-Thirds of Money Overcharged Is Paid

CONROE, Tex., Aug. 10.—(AP)—James V. Allred, Houston, attorney for the San Jacinto conservation and reclamation district, said here today that two-thirds of the $24,673 overcharge made by Halle and McClendon, Houston engineering firm, already had been refunded and that the balance would be forthcoming within ten days.

Farmers Refuse Labor Ceiling

DALLAS, Aug. 10.—(AP)—A proposal to notheast Texas farmers that they set ceiling prices on farm labor has been turned down by the farmers. More than 100 farmers from 20 northeast Texas counties met here yesterday. They were told by D. A. Adams, representing a state board of farm labor in College Station, that if such ceilings were set, a farmer who violated them would not be allowed to deduct labor from his income tax.

Everybody's talking about what a grand job Herb Helm is doing at the war plant. Not just one shift, but two a day—to help build the war materials our men need.
Good for Herb! But I'd like to say a word for Mary, Herb's wife. She runs the house, cooks the meals, takes care of the children, and works on salvage drives and bundles for the Red Cross. Believe me, that's tiring work for any woman!
Yet when Herb comes home—too tired to talk or watch where he drops his ashes, maybe—she makes allowances, keeps smiling, brings him a restful glass of beer, and makes enough conversation for them both. Next morning, Herb goes to work refreshed and cheerful.
From where I sit, women like Mary Helm are doing a great war job themselves... being tolerant and kind to husbands who are working under a heavy wartime strain. Bully for them!

City Editor Loses Naval Pilot Buddy

In a very personal letter, rather than the usual official type letter of information, the navy department acknowledged the death of Ensign Clifford F. Wick, yesterday.

Wick, whose home was in Hempstead, New York, was the best friend of Larry Jones, city editor of the News. This friendship was started in Florida in 1941 and continued through a very enjoyable navy career, only to be terminated by Wick's untimely death.

In the letter from the officials at the naval air station, Clinton, Oklahoma, Wick was described as "beloved by his associates here, being a dependable aviator, and of excellent character."

The cause of the plane crash in which he was killed is being called due to power failure. One other naval flier escaped with minor injuries. Wick was killed instantly.

Realizing that Ensign Wick's death is not of much interest to the people of this area the city editor is only trying to explain how hard it is to lose a buddy.

Truman Speech

mie bomb prompted him to move it up to August 9.

"The Japs will soon learn some of the other military secrets agreed upon at Berlin," Mr. Truman said. "They will learn them first-hand—and they will not like them."

Mr. Truman said Hiroshima was chosen as the initial target for the atomic bomb because it was a military base and "we wished in this first attack to avoid, insofar as possible, the killing of civilians."

"But that attack is only a warning of things to come," he continued. "If Japan does not surrender, bombs will have to be dropped on war industries and, unfortunately, thousands of civilian lives will be lost."

"I urge Japanese civilians to leave industrial cities immediately, and save themselves from destruction."

Realizing the "tragic significance" of the atomic bomb, Mr. Truman said it had to be developed because enemy nations were after it also.

"We shall continue to use it until we completely destroy Japan's power to make war," he asserted. "Only a Japanese surrender will stop us."

In reviewing the results of the Berlin conference, he hit these high points of political settlements for Europe:

1. The Big Five council of foreign ministers was set up to settle the peace of Europe in a cooperative and orderly manner.
  2. This council will draft a peace treaty for Germany but it cannot be made effective until "Germany has developed a government."
  3. The basis of reparations is that Russia and Poland shall get half of what is taken from Germany and the rest of the Allies the other half.
  4. The decision to give Russia the northern third of East Prussia, with an ice-free port at Koenigsberg, actually was secretly agreed upon at Yalta and therefore was binding on the Berlin conference.
  5. Eastern European countries "are not to be spheres of influence of any one power." The Allied control commissions for Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria "have not been functioning completely to our satisfaction, but improved procedures were agreed upon at Berlin."
  6. The Big Three also agreed that in those countries, plus Finland and Poland, "the Allied press would enjoy full freedom from now on to report to the world on all developments." The American declaration at Berlin had been "much disturbed," the President said, over the inability of the press to get information out of the former Axis satellites in the Balkans.
  7. The United States submitted at Berlin a plan for free use of the great waterways of Europe—the Danube, the Black sea straits, the Rhine, the Kiel canal and the others.
- Europe is hungry today, the President said, and it faces a terrible winter which holds great dangers.
- "If we let Europe go cold and hungry," he declared, "we may lose some of the foundations of order on which the hope for worldwide peace must rest."
- "We must help to the limits of our strength. And we will."

Enemy's Terms

ty not be compromised, the Potsdam declaration said.

"We will not deviate from our terms. There are no alternatives. We shall brook no delay."

Departing from the meeting with President Truman, Forrester said, however, that he hoped the surrender report is legitimate. He added that he expected a development "soon."

Stimson had nothing to say. A few minutes later Secretary Byrnes came out and said he had received nothing officially.

Byrnes observed to newsmen, however, that in the event a surrender offer is officially received, it still would be necessary to communicate with the other Allied governments before a decision is made.

"We shall take no action without consulting the other Allied governments," Byrnes said.

The offer was transmitted by the official Domei agency at 6:30 a. m. central war time, and picked up in the United States by The Associated Press and government monitors. But it had not come through official diplomatic channels and the White House said at 9:40 a. m. that the United States was continuing to fight.

Japan, through her official news agency, said the offer was being transmitted via Sweden and Switzerland, and the Moscow radio said Russia's ambassadors in Tokyo had been officially informed by Japan's foreign minister, Shigenori Togo.

Once the offer is transmitted through official channels, the condition imposed by Japan—that Hirohito remain in power—may prove a stumbling block to immediate acceptance of all the Potsdam stipulations—the United States, Britain, Russia and China. The Potsdam declaration itself did not mention the emperor's status, but broadcasts of the U. S. office of war information have refrained from attacking Hirohito. Capt. E. M. Eacharbas, in an official U. S. broadcast last month, told the Japanese they would be able to form their own government under the Atlantic charter, once the Allies' terms of unconditional surrender were met.

FCC monitors said the Japanese offer, was transmitted only overseas, and not carried on the Japanese home radio.

Trading was suspended on the Tokyo stock exchange "under orders of the finance ministry," Domei said.

The Domei agency broadcast expressed hope that an answer will be "speedily forthcoming."

Japanese acceptance of the Potsdam ultimatum would mean that the nation would surrender unconditionally, disarm and give up her conquests, returning Manchuria and Formosa to China and paving the way for an independent Korea. She would withdraw from Malaya, the Netherlands East Indies and China.

kind."

The Pampan, in his letter to The News, added further:

"I think that if some of our boys who will never get to come back home, were able to read this they would rise up from their graves and wonder if this was the kind of democracy they fought and died for. I, myself, even wonder if that's what we are going to come home to."

"We have a good bunch of officers, and we have a good bunch of men, and a good part of them have been successful business men before entering the service. I cannot see where the discrimination should be carried into civilian life."

"We are engaged in a war, so that every man will have equal rights, and freedom of speech. That's democracy. Let's keep it that way."

Train Crash

urnishings and berths jammed into a compact mass at its front while the car's steel shell remained supported by the locomotive of the following train.

John Burnham, a staff correspondent for the Fargo, N. D. Forum, who was at the scene, said only two men among the passengers on the ill-fated car escaped. These were an unidentified sailor and soldier who saw the second section bearing down on them and jumped, the soldier suffering severe cuts in going through a window.

H. E. Nelson, Grand Forks, N. D., the engineer, although suffering from shock, was pulled otherwise unhurt from his cab which was beneath the steel observation car shell. The fireman, George Harris, also from Grand Forks, saw the crash coming and leaped from the cab.

Ben Baker, Plainview, was injured when thrown from a Brahma bull and taken to Loretto hospital where a preliminary examination indicated a fractured rib. X-rays had not been taken, but a hospital spokesman said he probably would be released today.

Johnny Spruiel, Canadian, was knocked out when thrown from a bronc, but quickly recovered and made another ride later in the evening.

churia along three main routes of invasion, the Russians had opened up "numerous gates" in the enemy's carefully prepared defenses and apparently were bent on a non-stop offensive. Moscow dispatches said. These advances declared gains of up to 35 miles yesterday were being enlarged seasonally today.

The first Soviet blow was so well prepared along the pattern of the Red army's European offensives that the Japanese were unable to hold a single defensive line along the frontier, one Soviet dispatch reported.

In the northeastern sector, where the Russians struck from the maritime provinces to protect their important naval and air base of Vladivostok, the Russians were making steady progress from Khabarovsk and captured Fu Yan toward Harbin, rail heart of Manchuria 400 miles distant.

Moscow dispatches said the weight of the Russian attack in the east apparently had not been fully developed.

An Imperial headquarters communique broadcast from Tokyo by Domei said the invasion of Korea was in the vicinity of Keiko, about 20 miles northwest of Changkueing.

The invasion of Japan's half of Sakhalin island was at several points along the 80-mile frontier, Tokyo announced.

Bombardments at Bulka and Handa were mentioned by Tokyo. The southern half of this island, which is called Karafuto by the Japanese, was awarded to Japan as a result of the treaty of Portsmouth in 1905.

Moscow dispatches said veterans of the war with Germany, veterans of previous clashes with the Japa-
