Johnson Questions Maintenance of 8,000,000 Army

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(AP)—War department and selective service met with tight-lipped silence today, considered a demand of Senator Johnson (D-Colo.), that the army be scaled down from 8,000,000 to 3,000,000 men.

Targets of Johnson's caustic criticism in the Senate yesterday, both branches declined comment. Army public relations officers, however, pointed to a war department statement of May 5 which said the general staff had recommended a force of 6,968,000 to crush Japan "in the shortest possible time and with the smallest cost in American lives." Johnson called his Senate speech "a shot in the arm, hoping they will pay some attention."

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 2.—(AP)—Blondie the mare and her delayed action motherhood has local veterinarians—and her owners—guessing.

Early in May Blondie became a mother, then late in June she gave birth to a second colt. The vets say the 11-month rule of nature hasn't changed, so the second arrival must be a belated twin.

U. S. Fleet Bombards Wake Island

By LEONARD MILLEMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Solid walls of fire swept over four Japanese cities hit today in the world's greatest air raid.

"Incredible" flames raging over three forewarned railway centers and an aluminum-producing city were only part of the day's work of 820 Superforts which unloaded 6,632 tons of destruction in the early morning hours shortly after four American naval bombardment and rescue operations stretched across 3,000 miles of the Pacific.

Mine-laying B-29's reached almost to Soviet Russian territory in their biggest penetration of the Nipponese empire. It was only one phase of a widening campaign which Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault, retiring leader of America's Flying Tigers in China, said would cut off Japan completely from the Asiatic mainland within a month.

This Patriarch Makes Violins as New Trade

Seventy-year-old W. E. Mauldin of Dallas is living proof one is never too old to learn a new trade. Mauldin, with a long white beard and curling hair trailing over his shoulders, makes and sells violins. But originally he was a clock repair man.

He became interested in violins at an age when most men begin to think of retiring. He was 55 when he saw a book on violin making in a second-hand store.

He bought the book, and has been producing violins ever since. It takes him about six months to make each instrument, but he says he has a ready market for all he can turn out.

Girls Train for Careers as Housewives

By RUTH MILLETT

A woman whose YWCA-USO job takes her to college campuses all over the country reports that the question most often asked today by co-eds is, "What can be done to become as mature as the young men our age who have gone to war?"

It is a good thing college girls are really interested in growing up fast enough to be on a level of understanding with the young men who have gone to war. Still they shouldn't expect to mature as fast on a college campus as a man matures who is facing death in a fox-hole.

Nor will they mature in the same ways. But they can grow up enough to be good companions and understanding wives to the man who traded college for war.

Of course, they ought to know as much as possible about the war and the world today, so that they won't seem like dummies to the young men who have been learning history and geography the hard way.

REAL CHANGE
But where they have a real chance to gain knowledge and maturity that will really help them and the young man they will marry is in taking training that will make them better wives, better homemakers, and eventually better mothers.

For their marriages and their homes and their children are going to be deeply important to the young men who come back after lonely years in strange places. And the girl who is capable and understanding in the role of a wife and mother will be mature enough for any young man.

It is more important for her to be able to create a happy home for her young man, than to be able to share with him the knowledge of what it is like to live in a fox-hole.

Letter Telling of Manner of Son's Death Is Received

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mitchell, 1300 W. Wilks, have received a letter from Richard Bates, who was a member of a bomber crew along with the Mitchell's son, Sgt. Duward Mitchell, who was killed over Germany May 12, 1944.

Sgt. Mitchell was reported missing in action on that date. His death was confirmed by the war department a few weeks ago.

The letter, which was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell by Bates' parents, said that Sgt. Mitchell was killed by enemy fire about one hour before the bomber on which he served as a gunner was shot down.

He was on his eighth mission over enemy territory. Bates was the only surviving crew member when the plane was shot down.

The soldier's parents have also received the Air Medal and the Purple Heart, awarded posthumously to Sgt. Mitchell.

In a letter to the family, Secretary of War Henry Stimson said: "We profoundly appreciate the greatness of your loss. I want you to know that the medal goes with my sincerest sympathy and the hope that time and victory of our cause will finally lighten the burden of your grief."

Sgt. Mitchell, who was 21 years of age at the time of his death, was a graduate of Pampa High School where he was a member of the tennis and basketball teams. He was a member of the basketball team that went to the state tournament in 1940.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two brothers, A. J. of Pampa and Coach Odu Mitchell of Marshall, Texas, high school, and three sisters, Mrs. Marie Murry, Floydada, Mrs. Inez Wittill, Bobtown, Texas, and Mrs. Irene Maddox, Orange, Calif.

Coch Mitchell was coach of the Pampa high football and basketball teams for 13 years.

ning perhaps 6,000 words, is expected to be issued tonight.

The King and President met in a double ceremony, dictated by diplomatic protocol but dominated by American-British cordiality.

The first president to visit England since Woodrow Wilson in 1919, Mr. Truman flew in from Potsdam, boarded the Augusta and then was ferried out to the British Battle Cruiser Renown.

"Welcome to my country, Mr. President," said the King, greeting him with outstretched hands.

The heads of the two greatest English-speaking nations dined and chatted for two hours before Mr. Truman returned to the Augusta.

There, within a few minutes, the King came aboard and returned the President's visit and wished him godspeed.

The British monarch and the first American president to visit after World War I met aboard the British Battle Cruiser Renown at 12:40 (6:50 a. m. Central War Time).

"Welcome to my country," the King said.

The President and the monarch shook hands with cordiality and stood chatting while clasping hands.

Mr. Truman wore a light gray lounge suit with a red overcheck, brown shoes and a light grey hat.

He made the visit to the Renown after boarding the U. S. Cruiser Augusta, which had brought him to Europe for the Big Three conference at Potsdam.

The President, with Secretary of State Byrnes and Adm. William A. Leahy, boarded the Renown from a bright green barge flying the presidential flag.

The King waited at the rail with the Earl of Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, and officers of the battle cruiser. The President's party was piped aboard.

Mr. Truman stood hales at attention at the top of the ladder while royal marines played the Star Spangled Banner.

He and the king chatted on the quarterdeck and then the President inspected the guard of honor. After Mr. Truman introduced members of his party to the King, he and the monarch went into the admiral's quarters and chatted privately for 20 minutes before luncheon.

vigilance committee, 7 E 42nd St., New York, which said:

"American veterans who had the honor of serving in France under Gen. Pershing and who have admired you through the years as a soldier and patriot salute you in this grave hour. With abiding affection and confidence, we condemn your trial as unrepresentative of the great French people and pray that the conscience of France will compel termination of the proceedings."

"Two months after the armistice, the marshal told me that Germans would never cross unoccupied France and would never cross Spain," Serjny testified. "Gen. Paul Andre Doyen (once a member of the armistice commission) disclosed that at that time Vichy had given French artillery in north Africa to the Germans. This was the price Petaín had to pay to keep the Germans away from Gibraltar and from north Africa."

Serjny said he and Petaín quarreled in November, 1942, when the Germans occupied all France after the Allied landings in Africa. Serjny said he tried to persuade his old friend to leave Vichy for north Africa and told Petaín he should join Gen. De Gaulle because there was nothing more he could do for France.

He said Petaín responded: "You are probably right, but I cannot go. I promised the French people to remain with them until the end and I intend to keep my promise. If I should go, what would happen? Every time I have threatened to leave, Hitler replied he would put a German gaudler in my place. I have no choice but to try to save the French people."

Charles Trochu, business man and president of the municipal council in Paris during the occupation, was questioned by the defense about the hooded rightist organization "La Cagoule." It has been alleged that Petaín was connected with the organization.

"I met Eugene Deloncle, head of La Cagoule, three times," Trochu said. "He wanted my opinion of Petaín, what he was doing and thinking. I gathered from Deloncle that he knew nothing about Petaín and I concluded that Petaín never had any contact with La Cagoule. I have never changed that belief."

Three jurors fell asleep before Trochu finished testifying, Petaín, too, slept, but awakened when Trochu raised his voice to a shout.

case, and asked for a new trial. It was read into the court record.

Each of the council witnesses testified he had not made a full investigation personally of the trial.

The witnesses were Rex Vickrey (CQ) council secretary; Frank C. Bonner, chairman; Aubrey Daly, Lester Wolff, and A. H. Siler, members.

Conway Craig, publisher of the Caller-Times, Bob McCracken, managing editor, and Tom Mulvany, a reporter, testified yesterday in the hearing held before County Judge Joe D. Browning. Testimony was expected to be completed today after which Browning will hand down a judgment.

Last June 4, Browning caused citations to be issued against the three men, citing them for contempt of court and sentencing them to serve three days in the county jail. The allegations were brought as the result of newspaper coverage of a suit of forcible entry and detainer tried before the judge May 25, 26 and 27, styled Bush M. Jackson, Et Al. vs. Joe L. Mayes, Et Al. The hearing now in session is to give the trio opportunity to answer allegations in the citation or to "purge" themselves of the alleged contempt.

McCracken testified that he still believed a county judge should be an attorney and still stood on opinion expressed in a "Crows Nest" column of last May 30 which said in part:

"A layman occupying its bench is bound to end in hot water sooner or later when he is sitting on a case where first points of law are argued."

"The column was one of the causes of the contempt action and dealt with reports of the forcible detainer suit. Jerry D'Unger, special county attorney prosecuting the case, read from the column, which had been entered as a part of the court records.

In the outer suit, court records show that a six-man jury twice refused to sign an instructed verdict for Jackson, saying they could not find "against their conscience," the jury later signed the verdict.

"Browning's behavior and his attitude has brought down the wrath of public opinion upon his head, properly so," McCracken wrote in his column.

"It is difficult to believe that any lawyer, even a hack, would have followed such high-handed procedure in instructing a jury."

D'Unger asked McCracken whether he thought the newspapers presentation of the outer suit was "fair, accurate, impartial and complete."

"I think it was fair, accurate and impartial," McCracken replied.

1-Card of Thanks
 THE BEYOND
 It seemeth such a long time
 Across that strange country, The Beyond;
 And yet not strange, for it has grown
 To be the home of those whom I am so fond.
 And so far there is no death;
 It is but resting with abated breath,
 A little strip of earth, and a few flowers,
 To find one's loved ones waiting on the shore
 More beautiful, more precious than before.
 God never really takes away from us, out of our life, any gift or blessing that He bestows.
 The flower we love may fade, but the flower is in our heart and in our memory. You can walk with you a few days and then vanish as to his human presence, but the threads of his life are so intricately entwined with yours that he can never be really separated.
 We wish to express our deep gratitude to our kind friends and neighbors who ministered to us in words, deeds, and floral offerings in the dark hour of tragedy.
 in the loss of our beloved son, brother, and grandson, Raymond Max Jones, who so kindly came from downtown in Ardmore, Okla., to assist in taking his grandparents. Raymond was born in White Deer, where he had gone to high school in Pampa. He was 14 years old. He will be sadly missed by his classmates, friends, and loved ones.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones, and Betty Ruth, Pampa.

 more, Okla.

Cubs' Lead Slashed to Five Games as Pirates Win 1-0

Mel Ott Becomes Third Member of 500-Home Circle

By JACK HAND (AP Sports Writer) Babe Ruth and Jimmy Fox had to shove over today to make room in the 500-home run club for Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants.

Ruth still had plenty of elbow room with his lifetime total of 714 round trippers but Fox, who is finishing his active career with the Phillies, can feel the hot breath on his neck. Double-X has 531, counting four this season, and Ott hit the half-million mark last night off Boston's portly Johnny Huchings.

Things have been breaking tough for Ott since his Giants ran out of a spry pennant fever and contracted a lingering case of second division blues but the 36-year-old skipper hasn't let it hurt his hitting. Battering 336, fifth in the league, with 19 doubles, 11 homers and 53 RBIs, the personable manager has done a good job of trying to lift his team up by his boot straps.

Nobody ever will point to New York's 9-2 romp over Boston as a prime example of baseball as it should be played but the date will live in the record books on Ott's No. 500. That's an average of 35 a year over a 20-year span, a real standout mark even if the polo grounds short foul lines do give a fellow a little help.

Far more important to the overall scheme of things was the combination of Pittsburgh's 1-0 shutout of Chicago and St. Louis' 15-3 slaughter of Cincinnati. Sliding the Braves' national league lead to five games and restoring the champs to second place over the Brooklyn.

Max Butcher blanked the Cubs with four hits while Frank Colman, who replaced the ailing Babe Dahlgren, drove home the big run with a seventh-inning double to beat Claude Passeau.

Johnny Hopp socked a bases-loaded homer as the cards went wild in an 8-run second inning to crush the Reds with a 19-hit barrage, letting Charley Barrett coast home to his 14th success. Marty Marion also poked a four-master, his first of the year.

Brooklyn's two-night doubleheader in Philadelphia was washed out for the second night in a row. The Bengals bounced back with four in the last of the ninth to shoo St. Louis 6-0, on Roy Collier's double with the sacks packed and Vern Stephens' costly error.

Flyers Beat Star-Studded Pampa Oilers in AAF Celebration Game

He's Misunderstood, That's All

Lashing out 15 hits, including home runs by Malcolm Moej and Johnny Bulkeley, the Pampa AAF Flyers romped over Frank Leders' Pampa Oilers 13-9 in yesterday's AAF anniversary game.

The Oilers' star studded line-up of former West Texas-New Mexico league players couldn't hold the Flyers down and kept them from winning their nineteenth game of the season. Twelve of the last 15 Flyer games have been wins.

The Oilers line-up included such well-known players as Grover Setz, former manager of the Pampa club of the WT-NM league, Bob Bailey, and Mober Vannoy, former Pampa team member and several other stars of the WT-NM league—Al Summers, Ralph Mangels, Whitney Warren, Jake Stevenson, Bill Rodgeway, Ernie Myers, Van Pate and Chuck Hogan.

Summers, Warren, Vannoy and Myers came over from Berger to play the game.

The Flyers are scheduled to entertain the Frederick AAF team here this weekend. The first game will be played at 4:30 Saturday afternoon and the second at 2:30 Sunday. Both are to be played on the post diamond. The public is invited to attend.

Although hampered by the loss of Homer Durden, star third baseman, the Flyers seem to have lost none of their hitting power, although they will miss Durden's doubles, homers and triples which accounted for exactly half of his hits.

Al Kaplan relieved Dan Williams in yesterday's game to receive credit for the win.

MacPhail Has No Tears for Borowy Deal

By AL VERMEER NEA Staff Correspondent NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Larry MacPhail is honest enough to admit he wouldn't have let his ace pitcher, Hank Borowy, slip into the hands of another American league flag calendar because he doesn't like the idea of seeing his Yankee beaten by a hurler who was once in their family.

But in sending Borowy to the Cubs, Larry spurns no tear over the impending fall of the Cardinals, Dodgers, Pirates or any other National league club which still held hopes of squeezing into first place ahead of the fast-moving Bruins. It was the first time since man remembereth when that an American league official virtually settled a National league race.

It is true that no legal squawk can be aimed at MacPhail for he stayed within the laws of the waiver rule. But a holler can and is being raised against the waiver rule itself, a holler which will likely develop into the first "hot potato" which Commissioner Happy Chandler will be asked to handle during the off-season meetings.

The waiver rules encourage shenanigans. A ball club can place its entire roster on the waiver list, then withdraw that list as soon as a league brother shows $7500 worth of interest in a listed player. This goes on and on—waivers asked and waivers withdrawn—until finally the other clubs grow weary. They let the matter slide, perhaps feeling no club would give up its pitching star, anyway. Then—bingo!—the four-day claiming period elapses and the club can deal off its ace hurler in any way it pleases.

In this case it pleased the Yankees to peddle Borowy to Chicago for $100,000. It will be Clark Griffin, 73-year-old boss of the Senators, who will lead the fight against the waiver law this winter. Griffin knew he would never have taken him to Borowy for $7500, yet his white locks turned curly when he picked up a paper and learned Hank had been squeezed out of the American league to the National. He wants the rule changed so waivers can be withdrawn only once. Second time around, says Griffin, they should be playing for keeps.

However, if Griffin feels bitter, imagine how National league clubs must feel. Washington's chances, if any, were enhanced by the deal. But the Cards, Dodgers and Pirates were virtually shut out as pennant possibilities.

Parker Hurls One-Header As Merchants Beat Oilers

Only one of the three scheduled games in the city softball league last night and the Junior Oilers probably wish they had taken the night off.

Using every method in the book of scoring runs, the Pampa Merchants beat the Oilers 10-0 by romping to a 10-0 win over the hapless Oilers. It was the Merchants sixth win of the season against no losses and gives them a one-half game lead over the Knights of Pythias, undefeated in five games.

Bill Parker of the Merchants buried one-hit ball as Daniels and Stevens each blasted home runs. Parnell hit a triple but went on to score when the throw in from the field hit him on the head.

The Merchants' next game is with the Kinboys, now tied for third place.

The Oilers are now only one-half game in front of the eleventh and twelfth place Cabot and Phillips teams.

The other two games, between the Medics and Skellytown and the Kinboys and Phillips, were postponed because of activities at Pampa field.

The Medics have a game scheduled tonight with the strong Cargray club, a team that finished last in the first half of the season but is tied for seventh with Squad-

In the afterpiece of the double bill, the first game starting at 7 o'clock at Roadrunner park, the Odd Fellows, knocked out of first place by the Pampa Merchants, will play Squadron B, first half champions.

Ferriss' Plight Recalls Famous Baseball Hexes

By BUS HAM WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Dave Ferriss' recent inability to beat the New York Yankees set tongues wagging here today about famous hexes.

The big Boston Red Sox freshman has lost only four games while winning 17, with three of his defeats at the hands of the Yankees. His lone win over the Yanks, 5-0, was posted May 6.

With Connie Mack and his Philadelphia Athletics in town, owner Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators recalled that one of Mack's greatest pitchers, Robert Moses Groves, had his hex too.

Griffith himself put the evil eye on Grove the year before he came into the American league and the jinx worked for several seasons.

Grove was pitching for Baltimore in the International league. "Griffith related, "He had been ripe for the majors for some time, and Baltimore fans were so high on him they kept challenging the Senators for a match game. Finally we arranged a game in Baltimore."

"Old Tom Zachary was pitching for us in those days with a bonus clause in his contract."

"For five innings, neither side could score, but in the sixth we rapped for six runs, and won nicely."

"The next season, Mack brought Grove up to the A's."

"By chance, the first time Grove walked into our ball park, I met him coming in."

"Mose, you'll never get over that game; you'll never be able to beat us," I told him.

"He started against us 19 times before he won one. It got so bad, they wouldn't use him against us as good as he was."

"But once he beat us, we could never do a thing against him thereafter."

So the moral of this story for Ferriss may be: Keep pitching, Dave, a hex tests a hurler's greatness.

B-29 Tire Supply Said To Be Critical

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Lamay, in a cablegram made public today by the war department, said "I have news which indicates that a serious interruption to our B-29 tire supply is imminent."

"If our supply of tires is interrupted, our strategic bombing operations against the Japanese military and industrial installations must cease," said the message to Lt. Gen. Ira G. Foker, chief of staff of the army air forces.

At the war labor board, it was said today that a strike at the Detroit plant of the U. S. Rubber company was the only labor disturbance at present affecting the output of military tires.

Japan should have a fair chance to make a decent living—but there is no road to this goal except by way of complete defeat.—Bay City, Mich., Times.

No Houses Available In Rio Grande Valley

McAllen, Texas, Aug. 1.—(AP)—For the third year in a row the McAllen Chamber of Commerce is telling inquiring residents of the north-who would come to the Lower Rio Grande Valley on tour that there is no housing here for them.

"If we had 150 housing units available now we could fill them by the end of the week. If there were 500 available every last one-would be occupied not later than Nov. 1," says Chamber of Commerce Manager Paul Vickers.

Timothy Dexter, the famous 18th century eccentric of Newburyport, Mass., wrote a strange book called,

Sports Round-Up

By FRANK CRAWFORD KANSAS CITY, August 2.—(AP)—It said on the piece of paper (signed by the boss): "Fesse have a pinch hit" column ready August 22 to sub for Hugh Fullerton, Jr.'s 'Sports Roundup'.

"So you have to pinch one out in the clutch," said Casey Stengel, jovial, big-eared skipper of the Kansas City Blues. "Well, it isn't so tough. Pick out a vacant spot in the outfield, line up a pinch and poke it out there. . . . Casey should know. He parked a couple outside the polo grounds in the 1921 world series."

"I recall a big barrel-chested fellow, Ruth I think his name was," continued after-cafe Casey, "who even pointed out the spot. And bingo! He patted it right where he said he would. . . . Yes Casey, but this 'blank spot' is on a piece of copy paper and besides we don't do any part 'em where we point."

"You're telling me," said the man with the ever-ready comb, "Well I remember another fellow, Stengel his name was, who swaggered to the plate one day in Brooklyn waggling a handful of bats and turned restlessly toward the fence. There he missed a 'third' strike by eight inches. It was in Brooklyn, remember. Boy, I can hear those 'cheers yet!' . . . 'I guess that big fellow what's his name, uh, Ruth, was tops," mused old Casey, who may get a call to pinch hit for the Yankees if Marse Joe McCarthy really gives up the reins as manager."

"There were a lot of good ones in at the end of an inning and squirmed on the manager's bench in the National League. . . . Frank Schulte of the Cubs was one. He looked sleepy and lazy until the ball was almost in the catcher's mitt. Then he'd wake up the outfielders who had decided to doze with him. . . . Lefty O'Doul had a little trick of picking up the ball as he came in and at the end of an inning handling it to the visiting pitcher pal like . . . then he would go to bat and pin the poor chucker's ears back," chuckled the seamy-faced manager with the ample tonneau.

Austrian Town To Hold Old Festival

SALZBURG, Austria.—(AP)—For the first time in eight years Salzburg is going to have its beloved "Festspiel"—three weeks of all the music that can be crowded in—without Goebbel's hitting in to decide what can be played and who can play it.

Baron Henry Putz, who has been directing the annual music festival for 20 years — except last year when Goebbel's ordered its cancellation — looked very tired and awed by the magnitude of his task when he announced that the festival would open Aug. 13 and run through Sept. 1.

With the help of a little American gasoline, a few trucks and some food for the artists, he is confident he will be able to restore the annual festival of song here in Mozart's birthplace, which in peacetime attracted as many as a hundred thousand music lovers.

The baron's actors, actresses, singers and musicians are scattered all over central Europe. He has no transportation of his own to gather them for the festival. He can't even telephone or write letters to them, but American army officers have promised to help bring his talent together and a good start has been made.

Eight weeks ago there were only 22 members of the Salzburg festival orchestra here. Now there are 87 and Putz hopes to have 110 by the time of the first concert.

In the old days the festival lasted four or five weeks and included ten operas, ten to 12 concerts, eight

Proper Education Planned for GI's

DALLAS, Aug. 2.—(AP)—It is impossible for veterans to be exploited by colleges under the GI Bill of Rights, Dr. J. A. Hill of Canyon, president of West Texas state teachers college and also head of the council composed of the presidents of the seven teachers college of the state, said today.

Replying to recent criticism that a majority of state-owned schools of higher learning are using the veterans for their own selfish interests by charging the federal government abnormally high tuition fees for service men and women enrolled, Dr. Hill declared:

Austin Family To Use Hitler's Silverware

AUSTIN, Aug. 2.—(AP)—A dinner party, the table spread with Adolf Hitler's silver, is one of the post-war social events planned by Lt. Col. and Mrs. Willard White of Austin.

Col. White, a combat engineer who was among the first American soldiers to reach Berchtesgaden, sent the trophies of war to his wife. The trophies include more than 100 pieces of flatware and a dozen pieces of hollow ware, along with the insignia "A. L." beneath the imprint of the German eagle and the swastika.

Impartial Judicial System Is Needed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Appointment of a republican to succeed retiring supreme court justice Owen J. Roberts was urged today by representative Martin of Massachusetts, house republican leader.

He did not suggest any names, but Senator Austin (R-VT) has been mentioned frequently as a possible choice for the post.

Train Service From Mexico City to US

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Express trains with streamlined locomotives will be placed into service between Mexico City and the U. S. border at Nuevo Laredo, it was reported today in offices of the national railways.

The trains are to clip 10 or 12 hours off the run, which now is scheduled for 32 hours.

Only five or six stops, possibly at Queretaro, Empalme Escobedo, San Luis Potosi, Vanegas, Saltillo and Monterrey, will be made on the new schedule.

Army Evacuates Men From Flowing Volcano

UMNAK, ALASKA, Aug. 2.—(AP)—(Delayed)—Old Mother earth, ordinarily a docile old soul, grumbled way down deep.

Hot volcanic ash lumps of 1,000 degrees centigrade temperature shot a thousand or more feet into the air from the huge eight mile crater which is called Tullik for want of an official name.

Mindful of the last big eruption in this area, when Katmai volcano on the Alaskan peninsula rumbled in 1912 and formed what is now known as the valley of ten thousand smokes, the army sent out a call for an expert to look over the crater.

In six days Dr. Howell Williams of the University of California geology department showed up. He made several trips to the area of activity and finally pronounced the crater safe for the time being. He said it showed no evidence of overflowing the eight mile crater bowl.

Survey Is Not Meant To Criticize Governor

AUSTIN, Aug. 2.—(AP)—A survey of parole conditions ordered by the Texas Police Association is not a criticism of Gov. Coke R. Stevenson or the state board of pardons and paroles, Association President E. E. Corneley of Dallas said in a letter to the governor.

Corneley said he named a committee to make a survey of pardons and paroles as they affected crime with the idea that if the final report justified it, the matter can be discussed with the governor and the pardons board.

WE CANNOT AFFORD TO TALK "How Your Words Get to Japan" is the name of a booklet just distributed to newspaper editors by the Security of War Information committee, Washington. We think it is a timely and pertinent piece of material.

And as the committee says "The shores of Japan are now within reach of our fighting forces and there is an increased urgency to protect all information of possible military value to the enemy."

Needless to say, the most of us had thought that since the Japanese were already on the ropes, there was not as much need for talking security precautions as there was when the Jap navy and air force were roaming the Pacific, molesting our forces on all sides.

But the enemy agents in this country continue their work, and will do so until the Mikado gives up or is destroyed.

In one section of the pamphlet it reads: "Little facts betray big secrets. The whereabouts of one man can locate a division. His date of departure can disclose the sailing of a ship or a convoy. His equipment can disclose where he is going—his training, the type of operation planned. The Japs gather every scrap of information possible, sort it, study it to learn our larger plans."

As an example of the assertion that information gets out of this country, the bulletin says the enemy knew about the B-29 six months before it was put into action. "This was dramatically revealed," the booklet says, "by the capture of a Japanese document in far-off Burma by Allied forces early in 1944. Much of this information, of necessity, came from the United States."

For the safety of our men, we cannot afford to talk.

The Flies in the Bretton

I want to quote further today from the pamphlet issued by the National Economic Council and written by John T. Flynn on the flies in the Bretton Woods Ointment. In the last issue, I ended the article by quoting from Lord Keynes, saying that this proposal was a far-reaching formula. I continue to quote:

"Far-reaching is hardly the term. And 'free will' is equally inappropriate. It was not offered by the Americans. It was fabricated by Keynes. The American delegates—not the American people (who do not understand what they are doing or even know about it)—have fallen for it out of their almost apocalyptic dumbness. Those politicians who approve it have little regard for their future against the day when this weird institution begins to spread its evil effects upon this country and when the American people awake slowly to a realization of what has been done to them. There is little doubt that, while the dollars in the Fund last, foreign trade will be stimulated. Put another way, there is little doubt that foreign trade will buy from us as long as our dollars in the Fund hold out. Then will come the day of reckoning. We will have to put up more dollars. If we do not, we must subject our economy to an interference and economic arrangements to the will of our debtors. If we do not like this we can design from the Fund and take a complete loss on our contribution and the odium of having welched on our impossible commitments."

"There is more to this. The Fund cannot only lend our dollars, but it can (Article IX) contract and acquire and dispose of property. If it does, it can sell this property in this country 'immune from all taxation and from all customs duties.'"

"Dr. White of the Treasury says: 'The Fund is the cause of the scarcity of dollars in the country whose currency was scarce of a failure to undertake adequate international investment and it would propose appropriate remedies.'"

"Translated this means that the Fund might find us guilty of refusing to find enough money abroad or guilty of refusing to lend more dollars to the Fund or guilty of keeping out European goods with our tariff. In that case the Fund could 'propose appropriate action.' What action? Lord Keynes tells us. There is nothing in our proposals, he says, to stop the Fund 'requiring a country from which we import to take in return a stipulated quantity of our exports.' What that quantity is he decided by what we permit to pass one vote against three for our creditors."

"Can the Fund Stabilize Currencies? 'Obviously the purpose of the Fund is to enable member nations to stabilize their currencies. The value of a nation's currency outside its own borders depends on many considerations. Generally speaking, the most fundamental of these is that the currency shall have actual value in gold. And this value depends on a number of factors. If a nation cannot balance its budget—if it is in perpetual fiscal difficulties—the international value of its currency will decline. If a nation is in economic distress, the value of its currency will decline. A nation may debase the value of its currency voluntarily for political or economic reasons."

"If we survey the world today outside America there is nothing but economic disaster and disarray on the international scale. But also there is political chaos. Europe, outside Russia and Britain, is in a state of revolutionary storm. Various systems of political and economic organizations are at death grips with each other. No man can foresee how long these storms will last. Every currency in Europe is in a state of instability. Here is

RUBBER—The current and forthcoming Anglo-American offensives in the East Indies, Malaya and Indo-China are motivated by the Allies' growing need for raw rubber for the closing stages of the war against Japan and resumption of the rubber plantations in the relatively stable dollars of the United States.

Until political and economic order reappears in Europe, currencies cannot be stabilized. It is argued that by contributing our dollars to aid in stabilization we can hasten political and economic equilibrium. Moreover, the nature of the political upheavals in Europe is pathetically ignored by this argument. World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Prof. Harold Laski, intellectual socialist and is chairman of the British Labor party's national executive committee, has issued a strong statement of governmental policy which gives one to wonder whether the himself doesn't represent an anomalous figure in the new political set-up.

Custom in the past has left such pronouncements to the Prime Minister, as leader of the party and very definitely skipper of the ship of state. Of course, the broad governmental policies naturally spring from the party, but the Prime Minister has had the last word and generally has acted as his own spokesman in matters of moment. It therefore sounds strange to hear the law coming from Prof. Laski who isn't even a member of parliament, although he is one of the strong personalities of the socialist party and is head of its policy making body—the National Executive Committee.

Now this column isn't trying to convey the impression that Laski is the power behind the new Prime Minister's office, although some observers take the view that he swings to the left wing of the socialist party and there are many of the laborites who are far to the right of him and don't agree with all his views.

Prof. Laski's text was that "this is the critical of the people in power." One highly interesting point in Laski's statement yesterday was that the labor party abhorred any system of government "in which a small class, living in privilege, rules by exploit, as in Spain it has exploited for centuries, the mass of the community." That seems to turn thumbs down on the Franco government.

The first term of nationalization, as outlined by Laski, is governmental acquisition of the ancient bank of England—the Old Lady of Threadneedle street.

After that will come the nationalization of the coal mines, the steel industry, the iron and steel industry, the iron and steel industry, the iron and steel industry.

Lois of you fellows have asked me where are the best places to see movie stars? Besides the Canteen, the movie and radio studios, here are a few suggestions:

At the American Legion fights on Friday nights, you will probably spot Frank Sinatra, Dana Andrews, Fred MacMurray and Gracie Allen, Fred MacMurray, Al Jolson, and Betty Grable with Harry James.

Also Symphonies The night baseball games at Hollywood Park on Beverly Boulevard usually bring out George Raft, Walter Pidgeon, the Ritz Brothers, William Powell and Diana Lewis, and Joe E. Brown.

If you're lonesome lean toward the cultural, be sure not to miss "Symphonies Under the Stars" at the Hollywood Bowl. If you look carefully you will see the Edward G. Robinsons, Norma Shearer, Claudette Colbert, Oscar Welles and Rita Hayworth, and Joan Hersholt.

Peter Edson's Column: YOU, TOO, CAN BE A DIPLOMAT

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Do you have trouble answering your mail? Do you blush when you enter a drawing room to stand there Miss Josephine de Oakes to whom you owe a thank you note for having invited you to cocktails on the 13th ult? Do you lie awake nights worrying about all those letters you have forgotten to write to your relations, doctor, dentist, grocer, butcher and landlord, thanking them for their services and, incidentally, enclosing check?

Ah, We thought so. You are just the party to whom this is addressed. This will help you, but definitely, you will never forget the day you read here how easy it is to get your mail answered within three days after receipt of same, banishing all your cares.

In one easy lesson it tells here how the efficiency experts in the department of state figured out a system whereby the secretary of state could get his mail answered without forgetting.

It seems that some months ago the secretary's office was having real trouble getting his mail answered. A letter would come in which the secretary himself couldn't reply to because he didn't know the answer, or was over at the White House, or something.

EDITORS: Hollywood notables have volunteered to serve as "guest columnist" while Erskine Johnson is on vacation. The column below was written by Actress Joan Crawford.

HOLLYWOOD—Welcome to Hollywood, soldier! For years you have been reading about our glittering, glamorous little town, and now you are here. We in the movie industry are happy to have you with us.

If you happen to see some of your favorite movie personalities at a restaurant or at a ball game or walking on the street, don't be bashful. Walk up and introduce yourself. If you would like an autograph, ask for it and I'm sure you'll receive it.

There's a lot to do and a lot to see, and I'm going to give you a few suggestions. If you can get into the Hollywood Guild canteen, your lodging and food problem is solved. This wonderful home, operated by Anne Lehr, gives you a bed, meals, entertainment of all kinds, a swimming pool, pretty hostesses, and even midnight snacks at no cost.

During the evening and on Sunday afternoons, the Hollywood Canteen is definitely the place to go. A War Bond is given away each night to a lucky serviceman, and it's very likely that the stage show which goes on about 8:30 will include lots of important movie names in the lineup. If you happen in on a Monday night from 7 to 9:30 come up to the Snack Bar, and I'll give you a cup of coffee, a sandwich and an autograph—if you like.

British Housing Gets First Place Rating

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The problem of providing houses for Britain's homeless was given top priority today on the Labor cabinet program which Prime Minister Attlee's new labor cabinet has begun drafting for submission to parliament when it convenes Aug. 15.

Opening of the first parliament session in British history to be controlled by a clear labor majority was postponed last night from Aug. 3 in order to give Attlee more time to complete his cabinet and prepare the speech in which he will outline his government's plans.

Political observers agreed in predicting that in addition to housing these other matters also would rank high on the government's domestic program:

- (1)—Speeding of demobilization to free men for vital production.
- (2)—Reduction or modification of the income and excess profits taxes to lift the burden from the middle classes and industry.
- (3)—Nationalization of basic industries.
- (4)—Inauguration of a social insurance plan.

A scheme under which a huge government credit would be provided for homebuilding is reported under preparation.

ALCOBRAG ESCAPE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—An Air Force pilot attempted to escape from the fortress-like Alcatraz island prison today by stealing an army uniform from the prison laundry and boarding an army launch. He was caught as the boat docked at nearby Angel island, an army base.

The desperate attempt at freedom from "The Rock" was made by John E. Giles, 50, serving 20 years for post office robbery in Salt Lake City.

Production of synthetic rubber this year is scheduled at more than 1,000,000 long tons.

Kiss and Tell

By F. HUGH HERBERT

An Actual Movie Shooting Script

INT. PORCH XXIII

MRS. ARCHER sits on the couch staring helplessly into space. Mr. Archer is at the phone dialing. He is still in a fine lusty frenzy.

MR. ARCHER: (into phone) Hello, Doctor Faubus, come in yet?—Yes, I'm the party who called before, and I'll call as often as I like—What the devil do you—Testily he jiggles the hook up and down. He slams the receiver back on the hook. He is quite indignant.

MR. ARCHER: Hung up on me. Can you beat that for deliberate rudeness?

MRS. ARCHER: Not home yet? MR. ARCHER: No, (he sighs and down) And I've tried every country club in town, too. An obstetrician has no right to play golf!

SHOOTING TOWARDS KITCHEN Louise comes bustling out of the kitchen bearing a tray of food. She carries this to the stairs. Mr. Archer follows her glaring. She pays no attention to him and starts up the stairs.

MR. ARCHER: (yelling) Louise, where're you going? LOUISE: (calmly) I'm taking Corliss her dinner.

MR. ARCHER: (howling) She's not to have any dinner! She's to stay in her room—incommunicado—until I say different! LOUISE: (calmly) She needs nourishment. She's got two mouths to feed now.

Without batting an eyelash she starts up the stairs again. Archer is almost apoplectic with rage.

MR. ARCHER: Louise—did you hear my orders? In a resigned manner Louise stops halfway up the stairs.

MRS. ARCHER: (pleading) Harry, please—do you want the Franks to hear you yelling?

Louisiana Union Men Go to Dallas

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2.—(P)—Union men said today they had asked for gasoline rations to make a trip to Dallas by automobile to present their side before the regional war labor board, in connection with a four-day-old strike of bus drivers on the Teche Greyhound lines in five southeastern states.

The board directed company and union to send representatives to Dallas for a hearing at 10 a. m. today.

Otis Page, president of the union, and his four other union representatives would leave here shortly after noon, provided the ration board granted their request for rations.

Page said it now appeared "impossible to get to Dallas in time for a hearing today." He heads division 1174, Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric and Motor Coach Employees of America (AFM).

It Vaner Greenfield, Greyhound vice-president, announced last night that he was flying to Dallas for the hearing.

Page said that while the discharge of the five men was the main issue in the strike, the union would oppose a system under which, he said, cash penalties were assessed for infractions of rules.

Greenfield said about 950 employees were off the job, including drivers, mechanics and station employees. The bus line has service in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida and handles an estimated 26,000 passengers daily, about 50 per cent of their military personnel.

TRIP TO THE STUDIOS

Naturally you will want to see how motion pictures are made. Use centers throughout the city conduct studio tours, and if you get in on one of these it will really be an experience for you to write home about.

If you happen to visit Warner Bros. Studio, try and get in on the "Confidential Agent" set. You'll probably see your new dream girl, Lauren Bacall, giving Charles Boyer "The Look." And if you look close you might see a man named Bogart waiting to take his "Baby" to lunch.

Walking in Hollywood proper will be fun for you. You can see footprints of Hollywood stars in the forecourt of Grauman's Chinese Theater, and if you drop in at NBC and CBS I am sure you will be able to get tickets for some of the big radio programs. Just a block away is Earl Carroll's Restaurant and the Palladium.

Lois of you fellows have asked me where are the best places to see movie stars? Besides the Canteen, the movie and radio studios, here are a few suggestions:

At the American Legion fights on Friday nights, you will probably spot Frank Sinatra, Dana Andrews, Fred MacMurray and Gracie Allen, Fred MacMurray, Al Jolson, and Betty Grable with Harry James.

Also Symphonies The night baseball games at Hollywood Park on Beverly Boulevard usually bring out George Raft, Walter Pidgeon, the Ritz Brothers, William Powell and Diana Lewis, and Joe E. Brown.

If you're lonesome lean toward the cultural, be sure not to miss "Symphonies Under the Stars" at the Hollywood Bowl. If you look carefully you will see the Edward G. Robinsons, Norma Shearer, Claudette Colbert, Oscar Welles and Rita Hayworth, and Joan Hersholt.

Pete's sake!

Louise vanishes up the stairs, and Archer suddenly starts for the hall.

MRS. ARCHER: Where're you going, Harry? MR. ARCHER: I'm going to take a walk around the block and try to pull myself together. MRS. ARCHER: That's a good idea. Archer goes out.

INT. CORLISS' BEDROOM She is leaning out of the window once more, and, presumably, she sees her father leave. Instantly she dashes over to the door and tiptoes down the stairs.

INT. PORCH MED. CLOSE SHOT—SHOOTING TOWARDS STAIRS Mrs. Archer is in the foreground on a couch. In the b.g. Corliss appears slowly down the stairs looking at her mother, anxiously. She sits down on the stairs leaning against the newel post. She is wearing absurd, childish bedroom slippers, and Mrs. Archer has not heard her yet.

CORLISS: (finally, very small voice) Mother— Mrs. Archer glances around. MRS. ARCHER: What is it, Corliss? CORLISS: Where did Daddy go? MRS. ARCHER: Around the block. (severely) You were told not to leave your room, Corliss. CORLISS: (glibly) I left my door open. That's practically almost the same as still being in it.

Mrs. Archer looks away. It is extremely hard and painful to reconcile that childish figure on the stairs with what the unhappy door supposes to be true. Corliss looks at her mother unappetizingly. CORLISS: (whispering) Mother—do you think I'm awful? MRS. ARCHER: (sadly) I've already told you what I think and it seemed to be true. Corliss looks at her mother unappetizingly. CORLISS: (whispering) Mother—do you think I'm awful? MRS. ARCHER: (sadly) I've already told you what I think and it seemed to be true. Corliss looks at her mother unappetizingly. CORLISS: (whispering) Mother—do you think I'm awful? MRS. ARCHER: (sadly) I've already told you what I think and it seemed to be true.

Common Ground

By R. C. BOILES

I want to quote further today from the pamphlet issued by the National Economic Council and written by John T. Flynn on the flies in the Bretton Woods Ointment. In the last issue, I ended the article by quoting from Lord Keynes, saying that this proposal was a far-reaching formula. I continue to quote:

"Far-reaching is hardly the term. And 'free will' is equally inappropriate. It was not offered by the Americans. It was fabricated by Keynes. The American delegates—not the American people (who do not understand what they are doing or even know about it)—have fallen for it out of their almost apocalyptic dumbness. Those politicians who approve it have little regard for their future against the day when this weird institution begins to spread its evil effects upon this country and when the American people awake slowly to a realization of what has been done to them. There is little doubt that, while the dollars in the Fund last, foreign trade will be stimulated. Put another way, there is little doubt that foreign trade will buy from us as long as our dollars in the Fund hold out. Then will come the day of reckoning. We will have to put up more dollars. If we do not, we must subject our economy to an interference and economic arrangements to the will of our debtors. If we do not like this we can design from the Fund and take a complete loss on our contribution and the odium of having welched on our impossible commitments."

"There is more to this. The Fund cannot only lend our dollars, but it can (Article IX) contract and acquire and dispose of property. If it does, it can sell this property in this country 'immune from all taxation and from all customs duties.'"

"Dr. White of the Treasury says: 'The Fund is the cause of the scarcity of dollars in the country whose currency was scarce of a failure to undertake adequate international investment and it would propose appropriate remedies.'"

"Translated this means that the Fund might find us guilty of refusing to find enough money abroad or guilty of refusing to lend more dollars to the Fund or guilty of keeping out European goods with our tariff. In that case the Fund could 'propose appropriate action.' What action? Lord Keynes tells us. There is nothing in our proposals, he says, to stop the Fund 'requiring a country from which we import to take in return a stipulated quantity of our exports.' What that quantity is he decided by what we permit to pass one vote against three for our creditors."

"Can the Fund Stabilize Currencies? 'Obviously the purpose of the Fund is to enable member nations to stabilize their currencies. The value of a nation's currency outside its own borders depends on many considerations

Iwo Jima Is Now Haven to Planes in Distress; It Was Not Always That Way

By ROBBIN COONS
TWO JIMA, (AP)—Almost nightly now the air over Iwo throbs steadily, hour after hour, with the purposeful drumming of the big parade of Japan-bound B-29s from Marianas bases.

mechanics, the men in charge of billeting, the cooks and mess sergeants who must feed the arriving crews.

Once the Superforts gave Iwo a wide berth, especially on the return trip where Japanese fighters could lie in wait like vultures for the crippled sky kings. Now Iwo is heaven, coming or going. That is part of the fruits of the marines' costly victory here.

Col. John G. Fowler, of Newman, Ga., is in charge of the Superfort base on Iwo, with Lieut. Col. Max E. Pennell of Seattle, Wash., directing landing operations.

Long before daylight, long before the first wounded or fuel-thirsty planes return, Iwo is ready for them. The welcome mat is out.

Fennell, whether in the tower or about the field, is in constant touch by radio. Today his job is not too hard. Weather has been fair, enemy opposition light, and most of the planes are coming in merely for refueling.

When the B-29s had to land on the short, muddy Japanese runway in the early days, before the modern asphalted strip was ready, there was suspense, excitement and dread on Iwo.

Those days, and there have been several, Fennell had to limit Iwo's hospitality. One day all but seven planes, those in most serious trouble, had to be sent on to their home bases without landing. It was wild, nerve-racking business, fighting to save those lost men of the air who could not even see the runway for the fog. There were bail-outs, some over the island, some over the sea, and there were crashes. But 75 of the 77 men were rescued.

Fighters Wore Boots Over Tokyo and Osaka

Back from Okinawa and the Philippines, 63 Texans rested today at McCloskey general hospital and spun tales of hard fighting in the sky and on land.

Some of them arrived in the cowboy boots they wore over Tokyo.

Army Medic Pfc. Fred L. Woodward of Santa Anna, was shot through the neck and shoulders while bandaging a wounded infantryman on Okinawa.

Texas To Take Part In Recruiting Workers

ADSTIN, Aug. 2—(AP)—Texas can share in supplying 3,000 women social and recreational workers needed by the American Red Cross for work in military hospitals at home and abroad.

Pfc. David Campos of Austin got a sniper's bullet in his leg on combat patrol on Mindanao. Shell fragments hit Pfc. Merlin O. Bennett of Lorraine June 17 in the left foot, right hand and back on Okinawa as he was digging in for the night.

Other Texans returning included: Sgt. James G. Price of Denton, and Pfc. J. C. Cook of Pampa.

Pvt. Wildon L. Harrison of Jacksonville, a member of the 24th division, was wounded in the right arm by a machine gun bullet while attacking Mindanao.

The Red Cross chairman said 3,000 women workers are needed of which 750 must be trained psychiatric, medical and generic social workers and 600 recreation workers.

Refugees Increase Present Problems

ENNS, Australia, Aug. 2—(AP)—A mass of unhappy, restless refugees—nearly 400,000 in the American zone alone—stand athwart Allied and Australian hopes to build a free, independent democracy out of the political chaos in Austria.

A Rocket

Busy American officers, pondering means of moving the masses back to their homelands without the necessary facilities, already have two counts against them, they say, in starting their experiment in establishing a democracy.

Mattresses Used To Plug Holes In 'Mississippi'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Even mattresses were used to help stem leaks punched in the battleship Mississippi January 9 by a bounced-about Japanese suicide plane that took the lives of 22 men.

The navy told yesterday of the action in Lingayen gulf in the Philippines. It added that the 26-year old battleship was "fully operable" after the attack and that in later overhaul at Pearl Harbor "her fire power was increased 300 per cent."

This increased power, it added, "probably will save the lives of hundreds in the future." There were 18 injured, in addition to the dead, in the January 9 action.

It was early afternoon when the suicide plane, a carrier-based dive bomber, began its plunge toward the Mississippi.

"Several small anti-aircraft guns in the plane's path were damaged and two larger guns were put out of action temporarily. Gun shields were performed and 75 shrapnel holes were found in the skin of the ship. There was slight damage to some communications channels as the bomb explosion punctured four blisters, watertight compartments along the ship's side.

"The partially flooded blisters were the first consideration. A cofferdam was constructed of metal, mahogany and masonry, and rigged to conform to lines at the ship's side.

"Forced into position by flotation pressure, the cofferdam stopped the leak enough to enable welders and cutters to repair the shrapnel holes, and eventually empty the flooded areas.

"The ship, known far and wide as 'old miss,' did not drop out of the firing line. She continued to carry out assignments until March, when she went to Pearl Harbor for general overhaul and permanent repair of battle damage.

Prize Sheep Sold at San Angelo Sale Today

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 2 (AP)—E. C. Patterson of Mayville, N. Y., bid $750 for a Rambouillet stud ram bred by Leo Richardson of Iran to top the ninth annual San Angelo sheep sale today.

The first pen of five range rams, consigned by J. K. Madsen Rambouillet Farms, Mount Pleasant, Utah, was purchased by Virgil Powell of San Angelo at $210 a head.

BURIED TREASURE

BOGOTA, Colombia — (AP) — A half-page advertisement for a "mine and treasure finder" similar to mine detectors used by the army has appeared here. The manufacturer recalled that pre-Columbian Indians left royal tombs containing gold pieces and ornaments. Many people in this country hunt for "guacas" (Indian treasure) as a trade.

Gain Forecast in Unemployment Pay

AUSTIN, Aug. 2 (AP)—Layoffs from war jobs have had small effect on the number of claims for unemployment benefits in the first half of 1945 but indications are the claim load may increase materially in the last half of the year.

This is the report of Harry B. Crozier, employer member of the Texas unemployment compensation commission who noted in an analysis 11,815 claims for the first six months of this year against 9,389 for the same period in 1944. Benefits were $356,076 and $247,287, respectively.

Part of the increase was due to the fact claimants received an average of $2.40 more per benefit this year than last. Another increase may be expected after Sept. 1 when an amendment to the jobless benefit law increases the maximum weekly benefit from $15 to $18.

As of July 21 Texas had $149,308,804 in its jobless benefit fund, including $11,890,851 in interest credited since 1936 when the fund was created. The fund is invested in government securities.

Crozier said the commission contemplates no heavy run on reserves this year since it is believed industry will continue to absorb the major portion of workers separated from wartime jobs.

Secret Pier Disclosed To Be in Jersey City

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—As the last ammunition ship to leave New York steamed out of the harbor, the New York port of embarkation disclosed today that a "secret pier" in Jersey City, N. J., was the major munitions shipping point for world war two.

The pier, "largest installation of its kind in the world," was the load-192 site of 2,896,811 measurements of bombs and ammunition—ranging from six-ton blockbusters to small arms and loose powder, the port's announcement declared.

From now on, bomb and ammunition loading will be done at other points on the Atlantic seaboard, removed from populated areas.

"The operation, one of America's best-kept secrets of the war, was carried out with such devotion to safety precautions that there was only one serious fire," the statement said.

The last ammunition ship to leave was the Polish freighter Stalowa Wola, laden with seven tons of lend-lease explosives.

Gaven Point was constructed by the government in October, 1941, at a cost of $17,000,000.

MEXICAN PILOTS
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 2 (AP)—Seventeen pilots who graduated from the Guadalajara Military Aviation school July 1 left yesterday for Alabama, where they will be retained to replace casualties occurring in the Mexican expeditionary air force, now with MacArthur.

Among them was a son of Gen. Gustavo Sillman, named after his father, who is chief of Mexico's military aviation.

Escapes Captured, One Still at Large

GREENVILLE, Texas, Aug. 2 (AP)—Three of four men who escaped from the Hunt county jail July 22 have been recaptured but no trace as yet has been found of the automobile belonging to Roy Jaco that was stolen here the night of the jail break.

Two of the escapees—Guy Long, Jr., and Floyd Johnson—are being held by authorities at Kearney, Neb., while the third, Harold Beck, was arrested at Atoka, Okla., Sheriff Frank Wolfe said.
