PHILADELPHIA TO OKINAWA

From Philadelphia's Independence Hall, where on July 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was signed, to Okinawa, far-flung outpost near Japan's homeland, the national independence for which the Stars and Stripes stands has spread. Nations subjugated by the Nazis in Africa and Europe are liberated—peaceful island people of the Pacific hail the rebirth of freedom after the tyrannical rule of Nippon. Independence Day, 1945, is not what we used to call a "safe and sane Fourth." Sanly and safety left the world in September, 1939, and madness and danger have piled one upon the other in the intervening years. Yet today the world can see ahead to the return of a safe and sane life in

Japanese Told To Tighten Belts; First Yank Enters Berlin Center

Women Joyful At Sight of U. S. Soldiers

BERLIN, July 3.—(AP)—The veteran Second armored (Hell on Wheels) division of the American army deployed in the suburbs and the first American soldier entered the Russian-held center of Berlin today.

A red-skinned hero of the U. S. army leaped down Unter Den Linden and women wept with joy at the sight of the American.

Private First Class Harvey Natchees of the Ute Indian reservation, who wears a Silver Star, Bronze Star and Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster, was the first American soldier to enter the center of the capital.

The main force of the division was deployed in suburban Zehlendorf to the south.

(Exchange Telegraph, in a dispatch to London, said the British occupation force of about 15,000, was expected to arrive in the main part of the city tonight, the dispatch said, while the main British force would arrive tomorrow.)

After rounding a shell-scarred victory monument in the Tiergarten, taking a smart salute from a Red army woman traffic cop, and started for the remains of the Kaiser's palace, a lot happened to Natchees in a few minutes.

A Berliner on a bicycle asked the American from Utah to look up his brother, Private William Schwelbeck, somewhere with American forces in France.

Margaret Tite, who said she was born in Sheephead Bay, N. Y., pleaded for a ride to Potsdam.

On the rubble-lined street that is the once-famous Wilhelmstrasse Natchees inquired the location of Hitler's chancellery. A middle-aged German woman, nervously, replied, "Rustan?"

"Lady, I'm an American," said the khaki-clad private.

"God be thanked," she exclaimed.

Restaurants In Amarillo May Close

Most restaurants in Amarillo, closed down yesterday because of food and ration point shortages, reopened today, but owners were uncertain how long they could remain open.

Of 560 eating places in the city, 70 per cent were shut down yesterday. The current shortage of ration points for restaurants and cafes has not affected Pampa to a drastic extent up to this date, although many have shortened hours and remain closed on Sunday.

A local restaurant spokesman said that most operators here would know by July 15 whether they would have to close. The OPA has indicated there may be another cut in food allotments for such establishments. The bakery situation in Pampa was described as drastic by a local baker who has had to cut out his wholesale delivery altogether. He said that, unless some adjustment can be made on his sugar supply, the situation may grow worse to the extent of stopping retail sales.

B. E. Trigg, region five OPA food ration officer, said in Dallas today that he had just returned from Amarillo and that "a point adjustment was made for all restaurants in Amarillo" and that there was "no reason insofar as rationing is concerned for any restaurant to close."

A number of Amarillo restaurants which had been overdrawn on points were given some aid by the OPA to permit them to continue operation, Trigg stated.

Fred Sayles, spokesman for the Amarillo Restaurant association, said: "Something must be done immediately or Amarillo restaurants now open will have to close."

Three of the city's largest cafes were still closed today. Another was reopened after being closed two

British Leaders Gathering Vote Followers for Election

LONDON, July 3.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill and former Deputy Prime Minister Clement Attlee—leaders of Britain's strongest political parties—marshaled their followers today for a last-minute drive for the votes that will decide Thursday's national election.

After crossing swords in a sharp exchange of letters, Churchill, who heads the conservative party, and Attlee, who leads the laborites, planned to mount speaking tours to keynote their parties' semiformal round of oratory.

Both parties concentrated their closing fire on London where a fifth of votes are bunched. Churchill brought out an explosive head last night with a letter demanding that Attlee explain to the nation just what controls the labor party's executive committee might exercise over the government if the laborites won Churchill pointed out that the executive committee was not elected by the voters.

Attlee replied that the executive committee had no control over labor members of parliament and added: "I am sorry you are so distressed, owing to your lack of acquaintance with the ordinary procedure of democratic parties in general and the labor party in particular."

Attlee expressed the labor party's sentiment when he said in a speech: "Give us the chance to govern—we've never had it."

HOOMETOWN BOY

KANSAS CITY, July 3.—(AP)—Drill, KP, and other sundry tasks at his army camp near Greenville, N. C., kept Pfc Latahaw Miller, 22, from reading the Kansas City Star, his hometown paper.

When the worded papers filled all available duffel bags and were stacked by his bed, inspection officers and his buddies began to complain.

To ease the situation, he offered the papers to the Greenville Public Library, the Greenville county courthouse, and a Greenville business concern. No luck. Finally, as a last resort, he offered them to the paper salvage drive and the offer was accepted. The papers weighed 400 pounds.

Automobile Use Stamps Are Still Being Sold

Automobile use stamps are still on sale at the Pampa post office, according to an announcement made by W. B. Weathered, local postmaster.

These stamps were to have been purchased and placed on vehicles on or before July 1; however, they will be sold through July.

Weathered reported that the internal revenue department will check on the use stamps some time in the near future. Persons not having the stamp will be penalized accordingly.

The stamp should be placed on the car, preferably on the windshield where it is visible, Weathered said.

"The revenue department finds it more convenient to check stamps when they are on the car than when placed in a billfold," he added.

The stamps are on sale at all the post office windows except the general delivery window.

Meager Food Supplies To Be Cut More

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

N Japanese were told today to tighten their belts and prepare to eat food made from mulberry leaves and potato vines as Allied bombers knocked out 23 more ships trying to run tightening Allied blockades.

Tokyo announced Japan's already meager basis food supply would soon be cut ten per cent until the fall harvest. Nipponese scientists were reported pushing experiments to develop starches "to ease the critical food situation" from 19 different plants, including the mulberry leaf on which silk-worms fed in pre-war days.

Nippon's equally vital oil supply, essential food for mechanized armies and air forces, was cut severely by Australian ground forces on Borneo and B-29s making their third strike in a week against homeland refineries this morning.

Australian troops have driven into the suburbs of Balikpapan, Borneo's greatest oil center. Australian broadcasts reported the Sepinggang and Manggar airfields have already been captured in the three-day-old invasion. This would give the Aussie Seventh division control over a 12-mile length of the Balikpapan area. Official announcements said they held a three by two mile area.

"Strategically," said Lt. Gen. Leslie J. Morshead, Australian corps commander, "the campaign was won in the first few hours overlooking gorges seized a ridge overlooking Balikpapan's flaming refinery."

Reinforced, tank-led Aussies — Tokyo said there were 7,000 men ashore led by 52 tanks—pushed inland against increasing resistance and drove toward the burning heart of Balikpapan.

The advance was halted temporarily yesterday when a storage tank burst open like a volcano and poured rivers of flaming oil down ravines.

Oil fires were started on Japan's mainland before dawn today by 58 Superforts. They dropped demolition bombs in a precision strike on the Maruzen Oil Refinery, 35 miles from Osaka. Towering columns of black smoke, returning raiders said, made them confident they wouldn't "have to go back there again."

It was the second B-29 raid in 24 hours, the sixth in eight days and only one of several reported by

County Still Short Of E Bond Quota

Heretofore Gray county has always oversubscribed its E bond quota.

According to Judge S. D. Stennis, chairman of the local war finance committee: "We are nearing the $525,000 quota, but it will be a black mark for our county if we don't surpass it."

On Monday, July 2, $4,887.75 E bonds were sold. "That leaves the total sales to date $484,325," Stennis said.

By Saturday, July 7, Judge Stennis pointed out, "we must purchase $40,675 to count on the E bond quota."

"Who's the voice?" It's me, a voice replied. "The mother-in-law went back to sleep, thinking the voice was that of John's sailor brother who was expected to come home late. Next morning John found his car missing, also his 16-A gas stamps and $150 in cash."

Miraculous Recovery Made By Victim of Japanese Atrocity

PORT WORTH, July 3.—(AP)—Doctors of two hemispheres had given him up for dead but yesterday Cpl James E. Newman came home with a smile on his face and a civilian but cocked over one eye.

It's true he came home in an ambulance, but he rode the stretcher jauntily and his head was propped up on an elbow.

His recovery from the hardships of a Japanese prison camp still will be a battle but he's with his folks now, and he's confident that he'll pull through.

Six feet two inches tall, he weighs only 98 pounds today, the result of malnutrition, beri-beri, laryngitis and finally tuberculosis contracted after three years in Jap prison camps.

But the smile he wore yesterday was the same he had when he enlisted in the army, a minor, three years before Pearl Harbor.

He was captured on Bataan. He participated in the famous march of death, walking the last five miles unconscious. He became ill, and he thinks the original cause was the bite of a poisonous mosquito peculiar to the Philippines.

He could not eat when the meager rations of the prison camps.

He was at Campunatan when the Rangers raided the camp behind Japanese lines. He rose from his sick bed and stumbled five miles

New Secretary of State Sworn In

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—James S. Byrnes was sworn in as secretary of state today.

President Truman and the highest officials of the government looked on as the oath was administered to the man who would succeed to the presidency, under present statutes, should Mr. Truman be unable to complete his term.

After Byrnes was sworn by Chief Justice Richard S. Welles of the court of claims, in a brief ceremony on a sun-wet White House terrace, he said:

Dumas Is Said Returning Here

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Inogene Stevens, 24-year-old wife of Maj. G. Ralsey Stevens, III, a paratrooper officer, held under $50,000 bail on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Albert Kovacs, 19-year-old submarine sailor, cabled her husband to come home.

Nothing has been heard officially from him but a deputy at the jail said "it was understood the major had been granted leave and was on his way back from Germany."

It was reported that Mrs. Stevens' father, J. O. Dumas, a Pampa, Texas, policeman, who came here last week to be with her, would return today to Texas, taking with him her six-year-old daughter by a previous marriage, Paula Kathleen Funderburg.

The child is the daughter of Carl Funderburg, a soldier recently returned from Germany where he was a prisoner of war.

At Amarillo, Funderburg, when he heard that Dumas was bringing his daughter back to Texas, said "I'll talk with Dumas as soon as he gets back to Texas. I'm pretty sure I'll retain custody of Paula Kathleen."

SMALL BUSINESS:

EXCESS PROFITS TAX EXEMPTION IS PROBED

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—Small businesses will find postwar reconversion much easier, a couple of Texas congressmen believe, if legislation is adopted to raise the tax exemption on excess profits.

The house is scheduled to take up such a bill Thursday. Leading the hearing for the affirmative will be Rep. West, democrat and lone Texan on the house ways and means committee, and Chairman Patman (D-Tex.) of the house small-business committee.

A third Texan, Chairman Maury Maverick of the smaller war plants corporation, also is vitally interested in the legislation, but he is out of the city and is not available for comment.

The bill, reported favorably by the tax-levying ways and means committee last week, would amend revenue statutes so that the excess profits tax exemption would be increased from $10,000 to $25,000, effective with the 1946 tax year.

Around the World

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—The Big Three are going to meet in Potsdam just outside Berlin. CBS Correspondent Richard C. Hottelet reported today in a broadcast from Berlin describing the entry of American troops into the German capital.

MEXICO CITY, July 3.—(AP)—Mexican military attaches accredited abroad will serve only two years in that capacity, the defense department ordered yesterday.

The object of this order is to give more opportunities to younger officers to study foreign armies.

LIMA, Peru, July 3.—(AP)—Former President Oscar Raimondo Benavides, 69, died in a hospital here yesterday after suffering a heart attack.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 3.—(AP)—Lt. Leonard William Swenson, USNR, Austin, Texas, was killed in a plane crash, witnessed by his wife and a previous marriage, Paula Kathleen Funderburg.

His plane crashed off the runway at the Klammath Falls, Ore., naval air station as his wife, Mrs. Jeanne Lenor Swenson, looked on. The accident was blamed by naval authorities on mechanical difficulties.

PARIS, Texas, July 3.—(AP)—Fumes from a smoldering mattress were fatal Sunday to Oscar B. Bone, engineer at the Paris sanitarium. He was overcome and died.

NANCY, July 3.—(AP)—The bodies of 12 American soldiers killed in a train wreck near here Sunday night have been recovered, it was announced today. Twenty-five injured Americans are in hospitals.

The French press agency said a U. S. military train carrying leave personnel smashed into a freight train stopped on the tracks.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—(AP)—Bill, a South Seas turtle at Steinhart aquarium, had a whole tank to himself today.

For ten years he shared the place with a spotted tang, a slick fish he chased day after day without success. But time slowed the fish and the other day Bill snapped off a hunk of white meat. The tang was put in another tank.

Yanks Leave 16 Stranded on Bases but Divide Twin Bill

Brownies Blast Boston Twice as Kreevich Stars

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The second place Yankees of the American league who are kicking the ball around in their current western trip, reached the point yesterday where they booted a chance to set a new major league record for leaving men on base. The Yanks have committed 17 errors in nine games.

Going into the eighth inning of the second game with the White Sox at Chicago's Comiskey park it seems a cinch the McCarthy-men would wipe out the present war of 18 stranders. They had 16 runners marooned in the first seven innings.

In the eighth, however, only one man was left and Bud Metheny cut short even a chance to tie the record by grounding into a double play in the ninth which returned the Yanks with the sacks clean.

The Yanks were happy, though, for despite leaving 17 stranded, they snapped a five-game losing streak by beating the Sox, 6 to 1, to gain a split for the afternoon. Bill Zuber scattered seven Sox hits while the Yanks rapped three Chicago twirlers for 12 hits and were aided by 11 walks, one hit batsman and two errors.

The Sox moved into third place by taking the opener, 11 to 6, behind Ed Lopat as the Yanks made five errors. Four runs in the fourth and five in the fifth made it a runaway for Jimmy Dykes' men.

Chicago, although losing the second game, retained third place when Mike Kreevich, virtually single-handed, dropped the Boston Red Sox from third to fourth as he sparked the St. Louis Browns to a double win, 7 to 1 and 3 to 2.

Kreevich, Browns' centerfielder, socked a bases-full home run in the opener to back up Sig Jakucki's five-hit pitching.

In the afterpiece he came up in the ninth with the Browns behind, 2 to 1, and doubled home the tying and winning runs. It was his only hit of the second game and spoiled Randy Hefflin's bid for victory in his first starting role after two years in the navy. He had held the Browns to three hits for eight innings, but yielded three more in the ninth.

Junior Oilers Beat Phillips 4 - 3 As Two Games Are Postponed

Landis Made Few Mistakes While Spending Money

CHICAGO July 3.—If the late Kenesaw M. Landis made mistakes in investing funds of the office of baseball commissioner, it was a minor one that he voluntarily repaid more than four times over.

Baseball owners, Senator A. B. Chandler, the new commissioner, and Mr. John Q. Fan himself had that word today from Leslie M. O'Connor, who served as Landis' secretary for 24 years and now is listed as Chandler's "executive secretary."

O'Connor said yesterday, following the midsummer meeting of the American league club owners, he had voluntarily sent a statement detailing the handling of the surplus funds in the office of the commissioner to Sen. Chandler. The report, O'Connor said, was made up and sent to the new commissioner because, "There were exaggerated reports that Judge Landis diminished the commissioner's office funds through poor investments."

Under Landis, there were expenditures of $767,589.20 from the surplus funds. The statement listed, among other things, a $29,000 loss through investments made in interest-bearing Insull Corporation securities, but O'Connor explained it was at the time Landis took a voluntary reduction in salary.

"His act repaid the loss 400 per cent, since he took a total reduction of more than $100,000," O'Connor said.

The statement showed Landis disbursed $417,366.91 to the American League for its Junior baseball program; $105,437.89 to the Red Cross; $64,285 to reimburse the American and National leagues for promotional expenses; $5,399.40 for baseball's centennial; $49,000 to the bat and ball fund which supplies playing kits to servicemen, and $30,000 to the ball player's association.

and the St. Louis-New York game in the National were rained out. All the other clubs had an open date.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—The innocently-recorded claims of Tulsa, Okla., Dabque, Ia., and Butte, Mont., that they had more baseball per square foot than any other towns in America have stirred up a flock of rivals. Reported in the past few days were:

Lansing, Mich., pop. 120,000—45 teams comprised of 645 players; Norristown, Pa., 50,000—40 kid teams and a semi-pro league including the Valley Forge General hospital team; Madison, Wis., 67,000—52 teams, 600 boys; Holyoke, Mass., 60,000—39 school teams from fifth grade thru Junior high, 50 summer playground teams; a 35-year-old Parks league and five high school teams for graduates; Hastings, Neb., 22,500—13 teams; Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., 11,000—eight-team Junior league, 135 boys, plus a Junior Legion club; Williamsport, W. Va., 7,800—six clubs, 100 boys. Figure out the density of players for yourself—and by that we're not hinting they're dumb.

Sports Shots

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, July 3.—(AP)—Of course it won't be a jam-up test but the All-Star football game to be played at Abilene Aug. 10 is being heralded as quite important in the controversy between advocates of the T formation and the wingback style.

Skip Halrang of Boys Town, Neb., one of the leading exponents of the T, will coach one squad and Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian, who is one of two coaches in the Southwest who are still holding out against the T, will tutor the other.

Coaches can't take schoolboys and teach them the intricacies of the T formation in a week's time even though some of those boys already have had experience with it. The T is such a thing as finding out which boys are most adaptable to the positions. An example of that was last year's game in which Bobby Layne, a star in anybody's league, did absolutely nothing because he was not in the position to bring out his best conference. His coach, Jimmy Meyer, would best make the T click. And some of them, Layne particularly, were playing the formation entirely new to them.

Meyer and Rusty Russell of Southern Methodist are the only conference coaches sticking to the wingback style. Last year Meyer had great success in holding the T, defeating Rice, a foremost exponent, and Texas A. and M., while tying Arkansas.

This year will offer a tougher test. Texas is turning part way to the T and Baylor will reenter intercollegiate football with it. Lessons learned last year should make Rice, A. and M. and Arkansas more expert in its use.

And Abilene Palrang will have among his players one Perry Sautel, a sprinter who runs with a football about like he does on the track; August Erfurth, another track star, and Byron Gillory, one of the fastest boys in a football uniform ever seen on a Texas gridiron. The T formation makes the best possible use of small, fast backs.

Meyer sticks with the wingback system because he thinks it's better for passing and passing is what Dutch always has plenty of.

The game at Abilene, staged in connection with the annual Texas coaching school, will be a test between Meyer's defense and Palrang's offense. Meyer already has proven that he can get desired results advancing the ball if he has boys who can throw and catch the pigskin.

Round three in the baseball contest.

trovsey between Waco army air field and Amarillo army air field. It all started when Amarillo insisted that WAAP wouldn't play it on a home-and-home basis. Waco immediately answered that it had tried to play Amarillo and Amarillo wouldn't because of travel restrictions.

So WAAP bounced back and shouted it would meet Amarillo at Waco July 1 with the offer of a return game.

But, says Amarillo, it already had a game for July 1. Further, Amarillo, through the field newspaper, says it never said WAAP was trying to duck strong opposition, that the fact that WAAP is defending state semi-pro champion was indication enough that Waco played the best of them.

Adds Sgt. Herb Bleeker in the Amarillo field paper. "The Sky Giants aren't a wonder team but they are good and they figure that they won't be the easiest team Waco played this year."

either. And they are still very willing to try the champs. Let's hope that some satisfactory home and home series can be worked out. At any rate the "little west Texas town" of Amarillo is quite flattered that Waco army air field recognizes the Sky Giants at all!"

(Note: WAAP had referred to Amarillo as a "west Texas town.")

Texas did better than O. K. in the national AAU track and field meet last week-end. It brought San Antonio more track glory than has been won by any city in the nation over a two-year span.

Last season Charley Parker rolled to victory in the Junior 100 meters and Senior 200 meters. This year his former shadow, Perry Samuels, didn't just reach Parker in victories but he did all right just the same. He won the Junior 100 meters in 10.5 and he placed second in the Senior 100 meters behind the veteran Barney Ewell, who has been running in top competition for a long time. Ewell had to tie the record at 10.2 to beat Perry.

Then, there was AUGUST ERFURTH who won the Junior 110-meter hurdles in 15 seconds and placed second in the Senior division, won by Charlie Morgan of New Orleans in 14.9. That's mighty good for schoolboys from Texas.

John Donaldson, Rice Institute's discuss thrower, was the big star of Texas contestants. He won the junior and senior championships. Then old father time of Texas track himself—Ted Haese of Fort Sam Houston—got third in the broad jump with 22 feet 5 5/8 inches.

Haese is 27 years old and doesn't get much practice since he's drill instructor at the war department personnel center at San Antonio, but he's a fine jumper and runner. Ted started back at La Varnia high school in 1937, starred there and then for four years at Southwest Texas State college. He volunteered for army service twice and for the navy once only to be rejected, then was drafted. He is classified for limited service because of a football knee.

GIs' British Brides Learn Lessons On United States Life and Customs

By BERT BRANDT
NEA Staff Correspondent
LONDON, July 3—British brides of American servicemen will be kept up to date on what is what in America when they arrive in their new home land. They're learning to talk American, calculate in dollars and cents and contend with the "strange" customs of their citizenry.

These lessons in life in America began quite by accident on Christmas Day of 1943 when the Red Cross invited a group of American soldiers and their English wives to a tea party. The Red Cross workers, the first American women many of the British girls had met, were backed into a corner and bombarded with questions about "What is the climate in Kansas?" "Do American girls wear their GI husbands?" and "Is everyone in the States really cooking with gas?"

There wasn't time at the tea to answer all the questions, so the Red Cross started a "School for GI Brides" on the third floor of London's famous Rainbow Corner Club. Here hundreds of the estimated 24,000 British brides of Yanks meet the first Sunday evening of each month to learn about life in America, minus the tinsel and trimmings that Hollywood gives it.

Sometimes it takes a bit of persuading to convince them that there are actually people in America who make only $20 a week, and that there are still thousands of homes without telephones and plumbing. These forums lead some of the wives to suspect that their GI husbands have not been exactly factual in describing their station in life and their civilian incomes.

When the brides register, they list the state in which they will live after the war. The Red Cross then keeps them notified on things that will interest them, and accounts them with other girls who will be living in that section of the country.

To help them remember these tips, they're given booklets of "Favorite American Recipes," and "A Bride's Guide to the U. S. A.," which explains American customs and translates such British expressions as cab rank, char, chips and geyser into their American equivalents of taxi stand, maid, French fried potatoes and water heater.

Cub Scouts of Den One, Pack 14 met recently in the home of Mrs. Glen Radcliff with Mrs. Walter Biery, den mother, directing the activities.

Gregory Keys was selected denner to replace Claude Money, who has entered Boy Scouts, and Robert Kelly succeeded James Prichard as keeper of the buckskin.

Following the business session, a wiener roast was held.

Attending were Bob Biery, Lee Frazer, Leland Fowler, Gregory Keys, Robert Kelly, Leroy Ellis, James Prichard, Richard Radcliff, Mrs. Radcliff, Mrs. Biery and son, Ray.

Saturday the group was entertained by Mrs. Biery with a swimming party and picnic.

Diet Should Be Checked To Avoid Vitamin A Lack

Food for thought is that a scarcity of butter and other fats is apt to cause a Vitamin A deficiency in your diet. Without a sufficient Vitamin A content in your three-a-day, you can't hope for a healthy skin, lustrous hair, dazzling teeth and good vision.

So, in order to tell you what's what in dependable sources when red points run low or the grocer says "No," we queried the nutritionists, who say: "Eggs, spinach, kale, squash, carrots, milk and ice cream."

In an average serving of ice cream, they say, you get 277 units of Vitamin A, and a food that is available and causes absolutely no pain to take.

If you worry for fear ice cream is a figure threat, slim Adele Jergens—star of "Thousand and One Nights"—reassures you that ice cream contains the same number of calories as a luscious baked apple, which, as you know, is right up front on many reducing diets.

Raisin-Meringue Pie Made Without Sugar

Here are some recipes for events which you can make without even touching the sugar bucket. Make them often and you will keep your family happy—and healthy too!

Raisin-Meringue Pie
1 cup raisins
2 cups hot water
1-3 cup cold water
6 tablespoons cornstarch
1-4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup old fashioned molasses
2 eggs (save 1 egg white for meringue)

1-2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Mix cornstarch with cold water in top of double boiler. Add molasses and 1 cup hot water. Cook raisins with 1 cup of the hot water about two minutes. Drain water off raisins and add this water to mixture. Cook over hot water until thick. Beat one whole egg and egg yolk together and stir into the mixture. Cook about one minute. Add raisins. Remove from heat. Pour into 9-inch baked pastry shell. Cover with meringue made with the egg white saved. Yield: one 9-inch pie.

Meringue
1 egg white
1-3 cup white corn syrup
Pinch of salt
Put all ingredients in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water, heating constantly about 2 minutes or until it stands in peaks. Spread over top of pie. It is not necessary to brown this meringue.

Mrs. Gray Entertains White Deer Club For Study of 'American Folk Music'

WHITE DEER, July 3—The program on "American Folk Music," given in the home of Mrs. Buel Gray this week was one of the most interesting and informative programs of the year. The speaker was Miss Juanita Gray, a graduate of White Deer high school and now a student at West Texas State college.

American folk music, Miss Gray told club members, includes music derived from older countries, music of the American Indian, of the American Negro, and of the Southwestern cowboy.

Very few people realize the important part the music of the American Indian played in the cultural development of the nation. The music of the Indian was dependent for its rhythm on whether the tribe was a warlike or a peaceful agricultural tribe. The warlike tribes played on tom-toms and skin drums, and the music was measured in rhythm and martial in feeling.

The peace-loving tribes played the flute, and the flute was one of the most prized possessions of their chiefs. The flute love-calls of the peaceful tribes are the best known of all Indian music. These tribes also had working songs. Both peaceful and warlike tribes had the songs and dances of the medicine men and those which were their prayers to the Great Spirit.

Among the composers and arrangers of Indian music, as it is known today are Charles Skilton and Thurlow Lawrence. Miss Gray played Lawrence's "Waters of Minnetonka," as sung by Ernestine Schumann-Heink, which tells the story of the brave and maiden who played on the flute and sang to each other of their love, and who drowned themselves in the waters of the Minnetonka because their marriage was forbidden, since they were of different tribes.

The music of the American Negro was the music of an oppressed people. Nearly all of their music contained a personal appeal to the Maker. The songs of the upper south where the Negro was a respected part of his "white family," was care-free dance music through which ran strong, but happy, religious fervor. The music of the lower south, where the Negro was most oppressed, was songs of despair and lamentations which yet showed the utter faith of the Negro in a happy life to come. "Old Black Joe" and "Old Folks At Home" by Foster, are typical of the songs of the lower south. Other composers include Henry Bierie and Nathan Detl.

Product of this region were the cowboy ballads, born on the cattle drives. Though many cowboy songs have been compiled, the names of the authors in most cases have been lost somewhere along the trails. While some of these songs were derived from songs the cowboys learned back east, they were mostly "made-up" of the cowboy's experiences while on "night guard." It is only in the last few years that they have been brought into the ranch house. Many cowboy songs were of religious nature, as is always the case where the original composers live close to nature. Typical songs of the cowboy are "The Last Roundup," "When the Work's All Done This Fall," and "Bury Me Not on the Lone Prairie."

Among the songs brought from other countries may be included some of the hymns. The Puritans did not believe in musical instruments or in carol songs, and merely chanted their religious hymns—but it is from those hymns that much of the church music of today is derived.

The settlers in Virginia brought much stately music with them from England. They danced these stately airs to the music of orchestras. When the plantation slaves took up this music they changed the rhythm so that it changed into what is known as "fiddle tunes," such as "The Wednesday Night Waltz."

Mrs. E. B. Jones demonstrated a typical American folk dance, the "double-time two-step," to club members.

The sentimental songs of the southeast were derived from old English love ballads. "It Makes No Difference Now," by Timpan and Davis, was given as an example.

The Spanish influence may be detected in the music of the southwest and of California. "La Paloma" by Yradier, is one example of this influence.

After the main program, club members heard the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "Porgy and Bess," by the composer George Gershwin, the first American composer to bring opera "down to earth" and make it understandable to the average listener. "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp Along the Highway" and "I'm Falling in Love With Someone," by Victor Herbert and from the opera "Naughty Mariette" were also played.

All club members and one visitor Mrs. B. R. Moore, were present.

Fidelis Members Meet for Social And Plan Picnic

Members of the Fidelis class of the Central Baptist church met in the home of Mrs. B. A. Stephenson, with Mrs. Frank Silcott and Mrs. R. C. Rowden as co-hostesses.

The devotional from the 100 Psalm was given by Mrs. Rowden, and Mrs. H. A. Holtman directed the games. Secret pals were revealed, and gifts exchanged.

Plans were made for a family picnic for the next social.

Cake and punch were served to two visitors, Mrs. Gene Smith and Mrs. Glen Adams, and Mesdames H. A. Holtman, Ralph Richardson, Gene Gates, T. V. Parks, Jewell Broome, Frank Silcott, R. C. Rowden, A. B. Stephenson and R. L. Higginbotham.

UPTON CLOSE: Russian Foreign Policy Designed To 'Make Face'

Without malice and without smugness and without sentimentality, let's try to understand just what Red Russia's foreign policy has been doing to us. I think some experience of Orientals helps one to understand it, for it is based on the predominant oriental concept of 'face'.

This is no new trick with the Bolshevik regime. Litvinov did it when he proposed total disarmament to the United States, Britain and France and the rest of the League of Nations, back at the time when they were talking limitation of armaments.

Under Molotov this policy of making face for Russia and robbing the "democracies" of face has been consistent and successful. Before Molotov openly displaced Litvinov he was becoming the power in foreign relations.

World Today

As our brand-new peace charter comes up for ratification by the United Nations, what do you yourself think are its chances of working?

There have been folk in every age who have viewed all projects through dark glasses, even though they believed in the principles. Probably some of those who heard the Sermon on the Mount shook their heads and said: "It won't work. You can't change human nature."

So if the United Nations want the peace charter to work, it will work. One big reason the League of Nations didn't function properly was that important countries didn't really want it to work—that is, according to the covenant.

going to do with our charges. Much earlier, as we jogged down the river road on our elephants, we had decided on names for the cats. Gingsis, insisting that there was a resemblance to a girl in Calcutta, had named his "Margie."

It was goodby to a wonderful bunch of boys—courageous, hard-working lads who liked their jobs and the thrills they entailed just as much as they did; who liked to laugh and drink and play cards; who liked carousing and song and women—and who day after day risked their lives on the toughest airline route in the world not because they had to but because they wanted to.

Tony and Suzy Q flew back to Kunming from Dinjan while Gingsis and I—and our cats—went down to Calcutta to arrange for our return to America. I knew it would be good to see the States again, to visit with my family and friends back home.

Sure, and I could still fly an airplane and the C. N. A. C. needed all the pilots it could get to fly its transports across the Himalayas. But it was like that old soldier: "The best soldier is the one who stays on the job." I stayed on the job. I stayed on the job. I stayed on the job.

This Matter of Freedom

On such occasion as the Fourth of July, the day set aside to commemorate the independence of thirteen colonies, out of which has grown one of the greatest nations of the world, Americans traditionally turn to contemplation of the wealth of freedom which has been theirs.

Such things as the Constitution, with its Bill of Rights, the Monroe doctrine, the stand of a handful of New England Minutemen, the Alamo—they are all both cause and effect in the rich heritage of Americanism.

If we had the space and the time, we could elaborate many unassuming paragraphs on this heritage. Take for instance, one phase of this heritage, embracing the lives and habits of 140 million people who have wrought by hand and mind and heart a vast land empire—and all with liberty and justice for all at times with a just land empire—and all with liberty and justice for all at times with a just land empire.

Because it is so easy for us Americans to take for granted the many liberties we possess, we forget the great chasm lying between our system of freedom and those of most of the other lands of the world. But, once we have studied the freedoms in contrast with those of other lands—if those of other lands can be called "freedom"—we are amazed at the great differences. There are many of them, and they are great.

Freedom is not complete in America, either. No, no. Those of us who study the country and its peoples realize that. (We use the word "people" here in its true and primal meaning.) But, perhaps complete freedom will not come until sometime, but it will come some time. That is a certainty. That is a fact in sociology, just as there are certain inexorable facts in biology. It may take many years, and between now and then there will be many unhappy years for our people. As we have made definite progress for racial freedom in the past, so it is that there will come gradual steps of progress in the future.

Black Market in Poultry May Lead To Egg Shortage

By OVID A. MARTIN
 WASHINGTON, July 3—(AP)—A nationwide black market in poultry threatens to bring on an acute egg shortage and possibly to destroy the nation's laying flocks.

The house food shortage investigating committee found on its tour of the Midwest and far west that in many sections more than half the poultry moving to market is sold at from 10 to 50 percent above legal prices.

Testimony was offered that fly-by-night dealers are driving up and down the countryside in search of poultry. The offer to buy laying hens, roosters or any kind of chicken available at prices which poultrymen find hard to resist.

Case after case was cited in which these illegal dealers bought entire laying flocks. Egg production in these cases will drop until hens can be replaced by new layers next year.

Poultrymen testified that prices offered by black markets were such that most farmers could make more money by selling their flocks now than by holding the hens for the eggs they would produce the rest of the year.

The poultrymen would not only

Smaller War Plants Is Now Buying Agent for All Vets

Smaller War Plants corporation on July 1 became the "buying agent" for all veterans who wish to purchase government surplus goods to start or maintain their own small businesses before the surplus items are thrown on the open market.

Wm. O. Coleman, SWPC district manager, announced today.

"The power to use its priority preference as a federal agency to buy up to $2,500 in surplus commodities for the veteran of this war has been granted SWPC by the surplus property board.

The veteran desiring to obtain surplus items for any commercial, industrial, manufacturing, financial, service, medical, dental or legal enterprise of his own with an invested capital of not more than $50,000 should immediately make his needs known to the Smaller war plants corporation, Coleman said.

"The SWPC is not only geared to locate and exercise its priority preference to buy surpluses for the veterans, but it can also extend him credit or make him a loan up to 85 percent of the purchase price of the item.

"The new regulation of the surplus property board in effect not only gives the veteran a high priority for the buying of surplus items, but also gives him a price preference, since with the help of SWPC he is able to buy direct from the disposal agency," Coleman declared.

Furthermore, the veteran has the special advantage of a chance to buy from the growing stockpile of surpluses before these items are put up for sale to other civilians.

There is a limitation on the type of goods a veteran can buy under this system, Coleman explained. No personal purchases can be made under this veteran's preference, except for business or agriculture, and all such property purchased shall not include any property to be resold, with or without reprocessing or refabrication. In the regular course of the business of the purchasing enterprise.

All sales will be made to SWPC for direct delivery by the disposal agency to the veteran under the office of price administration regulations, and in no instance will the price be greater than the original cost to the government, less allowance for depreciation, obsolescence, etc. The veteran may buy either for cash or on credit. In cases of credit, interest is charged at the rate of 4 percent per annum.

Germans Never Knew How Lucky They Were in Raid

By GEORGE TUCKER
 WIESBADEN—(AP)—Remember the big raid on Bari harbor in December, 1943? The Luftwaffe came in low just at sunset, its favorite moment for attack, and got 23 ships. What made it so bad was the four ammunition ships. They made a big show when they went up together.

Here is a hitherto unpublished angle of that costly affair. In all the maze of shipping crammed into that Italian harbor, one English ship which had run out got a bomb dead center hit with a 500-pound bomb.

Almost its entire personnel died, in a manner everyone hoped never would be necessary in this war. The ship was loaded with poison gas. All arms have to carry it—just in case. The Germans never knew how lucky they were.

The prettiest dog I ever saw is a big rangy animal named "Smoky Joe Bright." He is shaggy without being unkempt. He is feisty but not lazy. His coat is a gorgeous hue that seems to catch fire when the sunlight hits it. Women all over the world have tried for a henna to match this rippling running flame but few ever matched it.

"He was only a little fella when I picked him up," said Lt. H. R. Birht, Dallas, Texas. "He was St. Lo. His leg was broken. I took moaning in a bombed-out house at him to second general hospital and they X-rayed it and put a plaster cast on him. He's been with us ever since."

"Us," I gathered, was the 1374th engineers petroleum distribution company.

"Old Smoky come around and wakes us all up every morning," said Sgt. L. D. Harris of Shreveport, La. "I brush his teeth every morning when I brush mine. I give him two malted milk tablets every day to keep him healthy. Folks send 'em to me from home."

Economic, Social Council Is Dark Horse at Meet

By JAMES MARLOW
 WASHINGTON, July 3—(AP)—Starting from practically nowhere and winding up front with the winners, the Economic and Social Council (EASC) was the dark horse of the United Nations Conference at San Francisco.

Before the conference started everyone knew that the three important agencies of the United Nations after the war would be these: The Security Council (to prevent wars), the General Assembly (to discuss world problems), and the International Court of Justice (to try to settle international disputes by legal means).

Everyone knew there would be an Economic and Social Council but many—including some of the American delegates—looked upon it as a stepchild that might be helpful but not important.

As the conference wore on this view changed. Now, with the conference over, it emerges as one of the most important agencies of all.

After this war, the problem of reconstruction—including trade, education, health will be huge.

And it is right there that EASC has a job. It can start studies in all those fields.

Don't expect anything sensational from the EASC. It can do little in a direct way.

But it can spread information and make reports that would be helpful generally and, through embarrassment caused by publication of these reports whip into line nations that are out of step with the rest of the world.

The EASC has no power to force any government to do anything. All it can do is report and recommend to the General Assembly or members of the United Nations things it thinks should be done.

The EASC still is in a sort of formative state. This much is definite: It will have 18 members elected by the General Assembly. The Big Five—United States, Britain, Russia, France, China—will not dominate the EASC.

The EASC will coordinate the work of the various international agencies now operating or soon to operate in the fields of food, health, labor and finance.

Reporting Under Pacific Dateline

By ROBBIN COONS
 GUAM—(AP)—Here's a place where it ought to be easy to pick up a nice lot of quaint, native-made souvenirs to send to folks back home, but the line forms at the right and runs far back.

Guamanians are weaving, wood-carving, stringing shells and seeds, and metal-working as they probably never did before, and they still can't meet the demand. They're simply faced with too many customers at a time when Uncle Sam is building up his naval, air and army bases here and has better jobs to offer. This leaves trinket-making a mere sideline to many.

Under the military government's Department of Industry and Commerce, arts and crafts section, Guam's handicraft business rose to $5,200 gross in May from a $1,000 level in March.

The department's purpose is to build up the native industry, and to save the dollars of servicemen.

They've been known to offer shell purses $25 to $50 for a shell purse with a ceiling price of $10.

A girl who is a proficient weaver can make three pandanus cigarette cases a day and earn $2 to $2.25. An average weaver, however, makes 75 cents to $1 a day—and can do better taking in washing for several GeesEye customers.

If she's a waiz at shell purses—made by crocheting and stringing small tree-snail's houses together—she can make a seven-inch model (unlined, unslipped) in a day and get $6.20. But cost of punched, cleaned shells and other materials lowers her net profit to around $3.50. For some reason the purses, which are beautiful or monstrosities according to your taste, are in great demand.

Jap Officer Pays Rare Compliment To U. S. General

By RICHARD GERHOLZ WITH FORTIETH DIVISION, Philippines—(AP)—The captured Japanese officer paid something of a rare compliment to Maj. Gen. Rapp Brush and his 40th division infantrymen when he remarked: "It is deplorable that we should have retreated before such an American force."

Brush took only five battalions and landed on Negros against a force of Japanese estimated as high as 15,000. He moved so fast and so hard that before the Japanese could stop fleeing and make some reservations are taken care of with the utmost in efficiency.

Six's is completely air conditioned and the utmost in comfort is afforded by clean, well cushioned booths and tables.

For reservations for parties or luncheons call 1356.

THOU WILT KEEP HIM IN PERFECT PEACE, WHOSE MIND IS STAYED ON THEE, BECAUSE HE TRUSTETH IN THEE.
Isaiah 26:3
"When thou passest through the waters, they shall not overflow thee." (Isa. 43:2)
"When thou passest through the waters" Deep the waters may be, and cold, but Jehovah is our refuge.
And He promises in His word:
For the Lord Himself hath said it, He, the faithful God and true:
"When thou comest to the waters, Thou shalt not go down, but through."
Sea of sorrow, seas of trial, Bitterest anguish, fiercest pain, Rolling surges of abjection, bring, Sweeper over heart and brain, They shall never overflow us,
For we know the word which is true! All His waves and all His billows He will lead us safely through.
Threatening brakes of destruction, Doubt's insidious undertow, Shall not sink us, shall not drag us Out to ocean's depths of woe:
For His promise shall sustain us— Fringe the Lord, whose word is true! He shall not go down nor under; He hath said, "Thou passest through."

In front of the Berlin cathedral, his huge dome witted by bombs and fire, Natchez was given a set of pre-war Berlin postcards by a street peddler who said, "Gee, it's great to see Americans again."

Registering the distance on his speedometer, Natchez went eight miles through Berlin without seeing one block of buildings that was intact.

"It took quite a beating," he commented. The east-west Axis boulevard through the blasted Tiergarten was still decorated with colossal portraits of Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill which had been raised for the previous red army celebration.

Scattered over the city were posters stuck up by the Russians telling Germans of the unity of the United Nations.

The 25-year-old American Indian who is coming home on points after a few more days in Berlin drove this correspondent up from Halle this morning with Brig. Gen. John H. Collier of Dallas, Texas, in the lead and Collier's Second armored division in the rear of a 4,000-vehicle convoy that stretched out many miles.

In Zehlendorf a German child approached and complained of hunger and received a share of the American's K rations. An old woman said she got only a small amount of bread and she received the rest of Natchez's lunch.

"Back home I've got 200 head of cattle on my ranch and I'll never have to worry about going hungry," he said.

Market Briefs

By The Associated Press WALL STREET

NEW YORK, July 2.—(AP)—Stocks continued their comeback on a selective basis in today's market although many leaders displayed considerable apathy toward the advance.

From the start low-quoted utilities monopolized the ticker tape with sizable blocks but elsewhere dealings were slow. Transfers for the full session were around 1,400,000 shares, among the smallest for a two-hour stretch in a month.

Tops for 1945 or longer were recorded for Electric Power & Light, Columbia Gas, International Hydro Electric "A" and American of America & Foreign Power.

Ahead the greater part of the day were American Water Works, American Telephone, N. Y. Central, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, United Aircraft, Standard Oil (NJ), Woolworth and Johns-Manville. Occasional losers included Santa Fe, Great Northern, Douglas Aircraft and U. S. Rubber.

Next Move

Sunday from the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, to go back to their jobs. Off their jobs for a week were 24,000 other rubber workers because of shutdowns of three Akron firms for overhauling and repairs of equipment left only 1,500 employees producing tires in the rubber industry capital.

The 32,700 striking rubber employees accounted for the bulk of the 54,000 men and women across the nation who stayed away from their jobs because of labor disputes.

In Akron, C. V. Wheeler, local head of the Goodyear union, indicated the WLB's latest move would not end the strike. He said: "They've taken away our rights. We'll stay out until we get 'em back."

Later he advised the strikers to apply for unemployment compensations, telling them "this forced strike is a lockout because of intolerable working conditions."

The WLB, earlier, had ordered cancellation of occupational deferments for the strikers registered for the military draft.

Apparent defiance also met the WLB's directive to striking deliverymen for New York City newspapers to go back to their jobs or appear in Washington tomorrow at a show case hearing. A spokesman for the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers union (unaffiliated), said the men "had no intention of going back to work under present arrangements."

Vice Chairman William Mapel of the Publishers Association of New York, representing 11 major dailies, said the newspapers would be printed today. Fourteen daily newspapers and three racing papers were affected.

The number of idle was expected to drop today as the last of the striking glass workers returned to plants of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company in Ford City, Pa., and of the Libbey-Owens-Ford company in Charleston, W. Va. Some 15,000 glass workers in 11 plants had been on strike last week.

There were no indications of early settlement of the other stoppages. In New Jersey and Pennsylvania, an automobile parts industry strike at four plants kept idle 7,800 as the New York regional WLB acted to effect a settlement.

weeks to accumulate food points.

Allen Woods, a leading baker, said Amarillo also faces a prospect of a carefree and peaceful month in August, due to shortages in lard and sugar.

Meanwhile, four downtown restaurants in Wichita Falls were closed and others threatened to close if conditions do not improve.

The case was closed, Marshall said, because the owner said it was out of meat points.

At Lubbock, a wholesale grocery, three cafes and a retail grocery were closed. One cafe was closed in San Antonio.

Trigg said he planned to go to El Paso where restaurant men appear to be facing a situation similar to Amarillo's.

He stated that a small reduction in points for restaurants had been ordered for July and August.

"To July 1, restaurants have been favored in points," he said. "The idea on point reduction for July and August is to put restaurants on an equal basis with the average consumer."

Trigg explained that restaurants, where rationed foods are concerned, operate on a so-many-points-per-customer basis. They may receive a replacement point when they report the number of customers served.

At Amarillo, Gene Millican, secretary and general manager of the Panhandle Restaurant association, recalled the lead placed on restaurants caring for customers of closed restaurants "unfair" and said: "We will have to close in a body if we don't get relief. That is the only solution."

Lack of ration points forced one Galveston cafe to close.

In Wichita Falls, Paul Cameron, a director of the State Restaurant association, said labor and ration point shortages had closed many eating establishments over the state.

Small Business

should the war end in 1945.

Although Patman is supporting the excess profits exemption increase in the belief it would aid small business in the reconstruction period, he has some misgivings on the measure as a whole.

Some of the provisions, which deal with such intricate items as post-war credits and refunds for excess profits, are designed to aid large rather than small business, he feels, and he says he's particularly interested in small business.

If all the provisions now in the bill are left in, he estimates that business, both large and small, will gain by $5,000,000,000.

West believes the house not only will agree to a $25,000 exemption, but also will amend it to provide for the 1945 coverage. The proposal was defeated in committee, 14 to 11.

"Should the war be over by the end of this calendar year," he commented, "the excess profits provision of the bill as presently written won't mean a thing."

Like Patman, he finds some of it should be amended to be applicable to profits since Jan. 1, 1945. Many of these war contracts already are being cancelled and when the fighting with Japan ends the bulk of the remainder will be reworked.

"The excess profits provision will be a big help to small business firms and medium sized corporations and help them in reconstruction."

After all, he said, "we must remember we have a national debt to pay off."

Tokyo today, Two B-29s were lost in yesterday's record 600 plane fire raid on four cities. All but two airplanes were rescued.

A total of 117 square miles of Japanese industrial cities have been knocked out by B-29s. Superfort headquarters announced after studying photographs of four cities hit last Friday, including the Sasebo naval base.

Tokyo's unconfirmed reports of new B-29 blows included extensive mine-sowing operations in the Japan area; a midnight fire strike at Kanan, 50 miles southwest of Osaka and a 17 plane raid in Kumamoto on Kyushu Island yesterday afternoon, 12 hours after it was hit in the 800 plane attack.

Tokyo warned that large numbers of new crack interceptor planes would soon attack the big raiders. Kyushu, southernmost island of Japan, was reported ready for the next American invasion with every islander "determined to die to the last man."

At the other extremity of the empire, non-essential civilians were ordered evacuated during the Singapore naval base, now threatened by the Australian hold on Borneo.

Texas Today . . .

By JACK RUTLEDGE

General Dwight D. Eisenhower's triumphant return to the United States has revived the popular interest in the pastime known as I-Knew-Him-When.

At least two Texans play it unusually well. In fact, their contributions should rank among the best in the country.

Take, for example, Miss Jennie Jackson of Denison.

Miss Jackson bounced like on her knee when he was just a couple of weeks old. At the time she was an 18-year-old school girl, and the Eisenhower lived across the street.

She recalls that Mrs. Eisenhower was worried about finances, and was concerned over whether the family could properly educate three boys.

Miss Jackson today is a civic leader, and a retired school teacher. She has followed Eisenhower's career, and they correspond frequently.

Her major objective now is to erect a shrine in Eisenhower's honor. She is chairman of the Eisenhower memorial committee, and hopes to get a veteran's hospital on the shores of Lake Texoma.

But James Redmon, a retired Katy engineer of Denison, has the best story. He knew-Him-Before-When, you might say.

Redmon was the man who went for the doctor who brought Ike into the world!

He says he remembers quite well the cold October night 54 years ago when he went for the doctor. He recalls he was living in an upstairs apartment in the Eisenhower home. He had just come in from his night's railroad run. Several women had gathered to act as midwives in case they were needed.

"I was the only available man, except the husband, so they sent me for the doctor," he says proudly.

"I found one, and brought him back."

"I had no idea a celebrity was being born," he admits.

BCK IN THE FOLD

CHICAGO, July 3.—(AP)—Farmer Frank Kunze lost his sheep and didn't know where to find them. He left them alone but they didn't come home, so he went to Sheriff Michael Muleady.

"You peeped rather late," the sheriff quipped as he reminded Kunze he should have reported the disappearance of his 25 sheep when they strayed away on June 16.

But the sheriff said they were found and Kunze could have them by paying a fee to a farmer for their upkeep.

Vets Reminded of Strict Limitation On New Vehicles

Calling attention to the announced policy of the office of defense transportation that every possible assistance be given to returning veterans, District Manager John J. Van Pelt, of Lubbock, Texas, today cautioned returning service men that strict limitations still stand on allocation of new vehicles.

"The ODT is eager to help every returning member of our fighting forces," said the manager. "Our general orders provide that any war veteran may apply for and receive from the ODT a non-transferable certificate of war necessity for one property carrying commercial motor vehicle for use by him in a business activity controlled by him, when the issuance of the certificate will not adversely affect the war effort."

"A veteran is not required to show that the proposed operation is necessary for the war effort, as is the case with non-veterans."

When a veteran can arrange to purchase a used truck, every effort will be made to eliminate red tape and make it possible for him to operate it, the ODT official said.

"We will give every possible attention to speedy handling of applications in such instances," said the district manager. "But the arrangement necessarily has to be different in regard to new trucks."

"No preference can be given a veteran who desires to acquire a new property-carrying commercial motor vehicle. To obtain a new truck, it is necessary that a veteran meet the same requirements as a non-veteran; namely, that the use to which the vehicle will be put is necessary to the war effort or essential to civilian economy."

"This is necessary because during the war wholly inadequate supplies of new vehicles have been made available for civilians on account of the requirements of the military forces for such vehicles to carry on the war."

"Until the demands of the military are lessened and truck production increased, allocation of new vehicles must continue to be carefully screened to assure their being placed in service necessary to keep war freight moving and hasten the end of the war."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON SERVICEMEN'S PROBLEMS

By DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON—Here are some questions on the education benefits of the GI Bill of Rights:

Q. My brother has just been discharged from the army. He is interested in woodcraft and carpentry work and wants to use the education provisions of the GI Bill of Rights to learn about it. So far he hasn't been able to find out where such a subject is taught. How can he find out?

A. The nearest office of the United States employment service will furnish information about apprenticeship training in that field, and the regional office of Veterans administration can tell you where the best available training is to be found in carpentry and woodwork.

Q. I understand there is a lot of red tape involved in getting an application for training okayed by Veterans administration. What do you suggest is the fastest method?

A. Fill out Veterans administration rehabilitation form 1950 very carefully and completely, and send it with a certified photostatic copy of your certificate of discharge to the nearest VA regional office. This is the fastest way to get your request approved. Or it can be handled through the school or institution which you plan to enter.

Q. They tell me that Veterans administration tells you what you have to take in order to get money from the government to go to school. I want to take a couple of art courses that have nothing to do with getting a job. Do you think they will let me?

A. You can choose your own courses and the school you want to go to as long as it is accredited. Veterans administration will advise you, but the final decision is to what courses you take is yours.

Q. Can I receive my pension while I receive subsistence for school at the same time?

A. Yes. But it will be adjusted to suit your special case.

RIVERSIDES didn't come on my car

CHOOSE THEM!

Your neighbor's Riversides didn't come on his car; he chose them himself . . . to replace the tires he found on his car as "original equipment"! He is one of the millions who have chosen Riversides deliberately in preference to the brands that come on new cars, as well as all other famous makes! Why? For the same reason that makes so many car owners switch to Riversides today:—

More MILES-OF-SAFETY ON RIVERSIDES

TODAY . . . Riversides are actually stronger than Wards pre-war tires! Each ply is stronger because each cord is stronger to begin with; then chemically-strengthened to stay strong, to provide greater protection against blow-outs!
