Aerial Resupply Reported To Be On Record Scale

By RICHARD BERGHOLZ
U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Philippines — (AP) — Aerial resupply of American forces smashing Japanese resistance through the jungles and mountains of big Mindanao island has been on record-making scale, Eighth army officers report.

Supplies dropped to front line troops range from such items as 155 mm. howitzer ammunition to cartons of cigarettes and blood plasma.
For weeks rugged old C-74's—the reliable Douglas transports—have been dropping from 75 to 125 tons a day to troops spread all over Mindanao.
Officers say that's the greatest use yet made of aerial resupply in the Pacific war and possibly, during six weeks of May and early June, the greatest over a similar period in any war theater.
A number of factors brought about the reliance on air drops—miserable weather, bad roads, difficult terrain and a tactical situation that often saw troops advancing so fast their ground supply couldn't keep up.

Then too, in Central Mindanao the terrain was suitable for quick leveling of dry-weather airstrips, so that transports didn't have to drop supplies but could land only a short distance from the fighting forces.
Crews of the C-47's take their transports out for trips under probably the world's worst flying conditions. Then they have to wrestle with the problem of how to get low enough to make an accurate drop, yet pull out in time to miss the ever-menacing peaks.
The job is being done by the 13th air cargo resupply squadron.

Vienna today is like an attractive grande dame who has been hit by a truck but is recovering with only occasional lapses into delirium.
Despite her wounds she still is able to pluck on a harp—at times feverishly, as if to drown the bitter memory of the low-born Austrian house painter she believes pushed her into the path of the truck. In moments of sober calm, she tries to tidy herself and hide her lacerations, while nibbling on starvation fare.
In her delirium she cries out against the Russians who pulled her from under the grinding wheels of war and imagines a young Prince

Shangri-La

"What I want most is a shower and a permanent wave."

Cpl. Hastings, Lt. John E. McCollom of Treason, Mo., and Sgt. Kenneth Decker of Ketch, Wash., were the only survivors of a plane crash that killed 20 army personnel on the Orange mountain wall of the valley May 13.

They had been on an aerial sight-seeing tour of the strange area, which has been dubbed "Shangri-La" after the James Hilton book on a Tibetan Utopia.

At headquarters here today they told their story.

Dazed and bleeding, they found themselves on the slope near the burning plane. Two other fellow passengers were alive. McCollom gave them morphine to ease the pain of their wounds. But both died within 24 hours. Among the dead was McCollom's twin brother.

At night they shivered under a collapsed life raft in the rain.

Four days after the crash a flier spotted the yellow raft, and soon food, clothing and medicine were parachuted to them. Two Filipino medical air-men arrived by parachute.

Capt. Cecil Walters of Portland, Ore., and the Filipino parachute troopers came in and began hacking out a glider-landing strip.

While the glider strip was being built rehearsals were held near here in picking up a glider with a transport plane and a Nylon cable. Accidents and injuries to crewmen tempted Col. Ray T. Eismore of Menlo Park, Calif., to drop a bulldozer to make a regular plane field in the valley.

But yesterday dawned fair, and it was decided to try with the glider.

The glider "Panless Feggot," piloted by Lt. Henry E. Paver of Baton Rouge, La., was dropped.

The WAC, the two airmen and two of the Filipinos got aboard the glider and the cable was made ready on poles.

Then another C-47 transport skimmed across the valley at 20-foot altitude.

The hook caught, there was a jerk, the glider was airborne.

After the tumultuous welcome here and a luncheon of T-bone steaks, the rescued group regaled their rescuers with tales of Shangri-La, where life was idyllic but a lone.

The natives, they said, were dark-skinned people, averaging about five feet, seven inches in height, and awed at the sight of the white persons they never had seen before.

"We weren't afraid after the first encounter with them," said McCollom. "They carried spears and bows and arrows, but from the way they looked at us from behind trees, we knew they were more afraid of us than we were of them."

World Records Set in Spending By Government

WASHINGTON, June 30—(AP)—The government passes the books Saturday on a fiscal year in which it spent nearly $100,000,000,000 and collected about $46,000,000,000, thus setting two new world records.

These records are likely to stand for a long time. The budget bureau has forecast reductions in spending and collections during the fiscal year 1946 which starts Sunday, July 1.

The latest daily treasury statement shows the condition of the treasury on Saturday, June 23. With one full week to go, the situation looks like this:

Total government spending—Not including government corporations—was $97,827,000,000. This was already far above the previous record of $93,744,000,000 last year.

Receipts on June 23 were $44,902,000,000. This already has beaten the previous record of $44,149,000,000 last year.

The public debt has increased $53,064,000,000 so far in the fiscal year, but it isn't likely to break a record.

Year before last, the debt rose $63,805,000,000; and last year $61,830,000,000.

Idle Workers

Libbey-Owens-Ford glass company located in 11 cities are ordered back to work by their union, the federation of glass, Ceramic, and Silica sand workers of America (CIO).

A thousand employees of the Anchor, Hocking glass company, Conneville, Pa., also were idle because of a strike by 150 AFL machinists in a jurisdictional dispute with the AFL glass bottle blowers union.

Auto Parts:

Four auto parts plants in New Jersey and Pennsylvania totaling 3,500 employees, were idle. A dispute between the united autoworkers (CIO) and the Mack manufacturing company closed the concern's New Brunswick, N. J., plant employing 2,500 Monday.

Sympathy walkouts Thursday closed the International-Plainfield motor company plant of 2,000 workers in Plainfield, N. J.; the Mack plant, Plainfield, with 1,000, and the Mack plant in Allentown Pa., with 3,000.

About 1,000 idle workers of the Motor products corporation, Detroit, agreed to return to work Monday. Officers of UAW-CIO local 203 said.

And approximately 22,000 employees of the Packard motor car company, Detroit, also chose Monday to return to work. Another 16,000 at three Ford plants and 7,500 at Budd wheel company, both Detroit, returned to their jobs yesterday (Saturday).

Growing Menace

Pens have turned to meat and sugar, looking for an easier market, Orth said.

"We have successfully checked the counterfeit racket in the gasoline program, and are in a position to stop this and other rackets just as decisively wherever they appear."

J. C. (Pete) Flanagan, chief special agent in charge of the six-state region's currency protection branch, disclosed that counterfeit red stamps had come to the center from St. Louis, Mo., Dallas and Brownwood, Texas, and that counterfeit sugar stamps had shown up from Dallas and New Orleans.

Flanagan said investigations in each city were under way. He estimated that within the last 15 days 14,500 counterfeit red stamps had come from St. Louis; that in the last 45 days, 41,500 counterfeit sugar stamps had arrived from New Orleans. He said he could not release figures on the other points.

Used ration currency which reaches the verification center comes from 2,600 banks participating in the program in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Pacific War

Radio Tokyo ignored the loss of Luchow, but told the United States that most of Japan's Kamikaze suicide air force was intact and waiting for an Allied invasion move on the Nipponese homeland.

The broadcast said that suicide aircraft sent against the United States forces in the Okinawa area were merely out-of-date planes, with Japan's best flying men and equipment being retained for the home battle.

The enemy radio also reported without confirmation that two American Superforts yesterday made the first B-29 appearance over the southern section of Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost home island. Southern Hokkaido is several hundred miles north of the farthest penetration of Marianas-based B-29 Nippon raiders.

Loss of the U. S. submarine Kete, overdue from patrol, was reported by the navy department yesterday. The Kete, carrying a crew of from 80 to 85 men, was the 44th undersea boat listed as lost in this war.

In the wake of Japanese predictions of further American thrusts northward from Okinawa, the Tokyo radio said U. S. destroyers and mine-sweepers had made a coastal reconnaissance of Okinorabu island, 40 miles northeast of Okinawa and 275 miles south of Kyushu, Nippon's southern home island.

U. S. 20th air force headquarters said Marianas-based Superforts which hit the vital Kudumatsu oil refinery on Honshu island, Japan, before midnight Friday obtained excellent results. All planes returned safely.

Chinese troops have reoccupied Linhai, on the China coast 360 miles northwest of Kume island, which American units from Okinawa occupied a few days ago. The Chinese advance up the Asiatic "invasion" coast in the wake of withdrawing Japanese put them near Tentai, 145 miles south of Shanghai.

While the Japanese were withdrawing from Luchow to Kweilin, Chinese forces also were converging on the latter city. The Chinese were last reported to be within 10 miles of Kweilin, also a U. S. air base abandoned by the Yanks in the Nipponese offensive last fall.

Recapture of Luchow put the Kweilchow-Kwangsi railroad back into Chinese hands—the first partially or totally Nipponese-held rail line to revert entirely to Chinese control.

The Chinese high command said Chungchinfu, on the frontier between Kwangsi and Indo-China,

West Point Has Graduated Seven In Single Family

WIESBADEN, Germany—(AP)—One of the generals who did not get home to see his son graduate from West Point this year is Gen. Edwin Luther Sibert, chief of the G-2 section of the 12th army group.

His son, William C. Sibert, and the sons of about 40 other generals became second lieutenants in the U. S. army on June 5. Lt. Sibert hopes to be sent to the China-Burma-India theater.

Young Sibert has something of a strangehold on West Point's tradition for in addition to himself he has a cousin, an uncle, a father, two grandfathers and one great grandfather who were graduated from there. The rebel of the family was his older brother, Edwin Luther Jr., who chose the naval academy and now is an destroyer in the Pacific.

Lt. Sibert's cousin is Franklin R. Sibert who commanded a battalion in the Huertgen Forest before transferring to the Pacific to command a battalion against the Japanese.

His uncle is Maj. Gen. Franklin C. Sibert, commanding general of the 10th corps in the Philippines.

When all the army group commands disappear in the next few weeks, Brig. Gen. Sibert will assume charge of the over-all G-2 section for the American forces headquarters.

"This calls for some reorganization. With Germany destroyed, the job becomes more of an FBI affair with the primary function that of de-nazifying the country."

Consequently—Brig. Gen. Sibert is getting ready for a long stay in Germany. It will be nice, he thinks, if the army permits families to come over.

Rankin said the committee will send investigators to the Hollywood area immediately. In fact, he hinted, they may be there already.

"The information we get," he said in his statement, "is that this is the greatest hotbed of subversive activities in the United States."

The committee's action was taken in the absence of Chairman Hart (D-N.J.), with whom Rankin has differed frequently in the past.

Subsequently it was learned that six of the nine committee members attended the meeting.

"We met to hear some transcriptions in the OPA case," one of them said later. "Mr. Rankin offered a motion to send investigators to Hollywood. We don't know what information he has but the motion was agreed to on the theory that we ought to find out whether our acting chairman is having nightmares or whether there really is something that ought to be investigated."

"It involves propaganda, both clever and childish, in movies."

Equality Stressed For Texas Schools

AUSTIN, June 30—(AP)—The low educational level in Texas, compared with other states, is due to different systems applicable to Anglo-American children on one hand and on the other hand, to Latin-American and Negro children, State Superintendent of Education L. A. Woods asserted recently.

Speaking at a training institute at the University of Texas, Dr. Woods declared:

"I truly believe in democracy then we believe that every person should have his chance to make the most of his life. We must do more for the Negro and the Latin-American than we have in the past, if we are to raise our educational level."

He said the average schooling for Texas children, including the Negro and Latin-American is eight grades. The Anglo-American in Texas gets an average of 10 and a half years training, compared with 12 years in other states.

We, the Women

By RUTH MILLETT

A recent story from Okinawa reported that 55-point Yanks were zealously protected by their buddies—so that nothing would happen to them before the day they were scheduled to go home.

If war wives back home could take that protective, interested attitude toward the wives who are soon to get their men back, instead of being jealous of their good fortune, every homecoming would be a sign for rejoicing among all war wives.

And that is just what is happening in a good many cases. A war wife whose husband is coming home on points is often swamped with offers of help and best wishes by less lucky war wives whose men are still swamping it out.

"I'll keep the kids for you if you want to meet your husband when he lands," one war wife will say.

And another will look after the house and garden. And others are interested in the clothes she buys—waiting her to have only the most becoming things.

ADVICE GIVEN FREELY

The wives aren't even hesitant about giving advice or saying, "Now it were Bill who were coming home, I'd do so and so."

Talking another war wife's good luck in that manner is, of course, the happiest reaction war wives could have. For there is nothing in that attitude that tears down their own morale.

The thing that ticks them is making bitter comparisons and thinking, "She's getting her husband back—but nothing is changed for me."

If the men can want their friends to get home so badly, they treat them "like expectant mothers"—as the news story pointed out—so that nothing will happen to them before they can be on their way, then surely war wives at home can be that generous in their attitude toward the lucky women who are soon to have their men back with them.

Books of Today

By W. G. ROGERS
"The Happy Time", by Robert Fontaine (Simon & Schuster; $2.50).
A boy, his father, mother, grandfather, uncle and a few girls and women are the subject of this first book.

It's not a novel nor a series of short stories; it's a string of incidents told by the boy as he grows from early-grade-school age into long pants. It is life seen with an unspoiled eye, and the effect of the naïvete is heightened, legitimately enough, by an occasional quaintness of phrase borrowed from the French—the scene is Ottawa.

There are passages of a discouraging length which are so naïve as to be a bore, when I would have swapped willingly the innocent happy time for a meatier sophistication.

However, Fontaine occasionally slips in a touching incident. Oddly, he is most successful when writing about what his characters wear. It is clothes that make the book.

In particular I enjoyed the stories about nightgowns, including the one brought for a queen and the many stolen from Mignonette; about the trousers that went to a dance, and came back the worse for wear; about the puttees and pants that wouldn't stay up; and about the hats, gloves and stockings—no more—to be worn by the six imaginary beauties whom Uncle Desnonne wanted to invite to what he expected would be his last banquet.

"All In Line" by Saul Steinberg (Duell, Sloan & Pearce; $2.50).

Why Steinberg had to wait until now to have his first book of cartoons published I can't imagine, because his sketches, of a dour mock solemnity, are among the best being produced. He's one artist who'll never pass the acid test; he's all acid.

I wish, however, that he would stay home. Some of these 200 drawings were done in Italy; North Africa, India, and China, perhaps the foreign subjects are less familiar. You will enjoy most his pictures of us—of you—playing the violin, at the oculists, being an artist, polishing your shoes, playing with Junior, coming up out of the subway, reading the headlines at the newstand.

Pampa Industries Given Certificates

For establishing outstanding safety records, General Atlas carbon plant and Cabot carbon company have been presented certificates of achievement by the Texas safety association.

The contest is sponsored annually by the Texas safety association. Its purpose is to inspire employees, as well as management, to lower the death and injury rate in their respective duties.

The safety efforts have been responsible for saving approximately 36 percent in the number of accidents and costs during the last ten years.

The annual contest is open without charge to all members of Texas industries with 25 or more employees. All concerns are urged to participate in future contests and support the endeavor of reducing the high cost of accidents to Texas industries.

ODT Official Says Take Care of Car

In an appeal to passenger car owners to conserve their automobiles, John J. Van Pelt of Lubbock, Texas, district manager of the office of defense transportation, today warned that it will be at least three years before many millions of private car owners and prospective car owners who want new automobiles, will be able to get them.

The ODT official said this fact "has not been generally realized in the first rosy flush of enthusiasm over the limited resumption of passenger car production." Although it is expected that 240,000 passenger cars will be built this year, that number will replace less than one percent of the nation's automobiles.

Four hundred and fifty thousand cars are scheduled for production during the first quarter of 1946 and a ceiling of 2,146,000 cars has been set on passenger car production for the period July 1945 to June 1946, he added.

"Months will elapse before the first automobile company gets into production and there is no assurance that the materials needed to make new cars actually will be available," it was said.

"The new car quota for the year ahead is only a drop in the bucket compared with the pent-up needs of a nation which has been losing cars to the scrap heaps at the rate of about 4,000 a day since Pearl Harbor."

"Care of present-day cars is a 'must' as none of the cars produced in the near future will go to the average driver. They'll go, in-
