Field Engineers Meet at Austin

AUSTIN, July 26—(AP)—District engineers from the field conferred here today with state highway department administrators on postwar building programs.

Primary purpose of the conference was to acquaint the engineers with standards specified for postwar construction of farm-to-market, urban and primary federal aid roads and other technical aspects.

Texas is on the threshold of a $174,000,000 road building program for the immediate postwar period, to be financed equally by federal and state funds. Construction work will begin at the end of the war or possibly sooner if employment requirements dictate.

The state department has $65,000,000 worth of plans ready for submission to bids and more plans are coming from drafting boards daily. It also has $30,000,000 in state funds available for matching when federal funds are released.

Chamber Office Is Odd Job Agency

By JACK RUTLEDGE

The life of a chamber of commerce manager isn't all lanquets, back-slapping and bragging.

Harry Cook of Edinburg is a little bewildered at times by the odd requests he receives, and the strange things people expect him to do. He recalls a few:

A party was in progress and songs were being sung. One particular song couldn't be remembered. A man telephoned Cook, explained he had "thought and thought" but just couldn't get it right, so could he—Cook obliged, crooned the tune over the telephone.

Often he receives S. O. S. calls like this:

"I'm out here in the country and I'm writing a letter. I don't know how to spell this word."

It's natural to receive pleas for aid in obtaining a place to live these days but one middle-westerner set a new high of some sort when he wrote for a winter home—for his bees.

Recently a northern business concern wrote and asked Cook for the names of all the vegetable growers in Hidalgo county. He wanted them to use as a free mailing list. Cook says such requests can be irritating with the Valley girl after having contacted her through a matrimonial agency. But he was not entirely truthful of the girl's description of herself, sent Cook a list of points to check up on, such as the true color of her eyes "and other useful information."

That's one he turned down.

But all in all, Cook likes the work. He's the dean of lower Rio Grande Valley chamber of commerce men.

McGinnis Takes City Golf Crown

C. F. McGinnis shot a par 72 to capture the championship in the annual city golf tournament, being held at the country club. Not all of the matches in the various flights have been played.

In the consolation round of the first flight, the winner of the Warren Fatheree-D. M. Dickey match will play Buck Jay.

The semi-finals of the second flight are not as yet complete. W. B. Weathered beat A. D. Graham 5-4 but a match between Frank Lane and M. V. McCorkle is yet to be played. Walt Fade will play B. O. Lilly for the right to meet Mutt Loney in the second flight consolation.

Walt Warner won the third flight, defeating Hoyt Rice 1-up. Luke McClelland took the consolation prize, winning over C. E. McGrew 1-up.

SEABEES HAVE SEADOGS TOO

ABOARD A TRANSPORT IN THE NORTH PACIFIC—(AP)—The Seabees, indubitably all, shuffled aboard, bent beneath overstuffed duffel bags. Struggling up the gangplank, one hugged a heavy sea bag and a small handbag from which the nose and tail of a dog protruded.

"I hope," said a young seaman, "that the officer of the deck don't make him put that dog ashore. He's a truck driver and he ran over that pup by accident. Stopped and picked it up and nursed it back to health. Now they are inseparable. Pup's name is Seabee."

The officer of the deck must have seen the dog for he looked the other way.

Nails Should Be Kept Immaculate

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
Because colored polish makes dirt caught up by fingernails almost invisible, many women fail to flush out the soil as often as they should. What brings this up is a manicurist's remark that she's always shocked at what polish remover brings to view on the nails of fastidious customers.

Colonies of bacteria in staggering numbers thrive in fingernail dirt. We say this not to frighten you, but in order to open your eyes to the fact that the more germs there are, the greater is the risk of harboring enemies.

The frequent contact between fingers and food and fingers and mouth makes it all the more important that nails be kept as meticulously clean as soap, water and a scrub brush will make them. A safe routine is to scrub under nails every time you wash your hands.

Salad dressings and mustard-flavored spreads add flavor and some calorie value to sandwiches, but should not be used as a substitute in nutritive value for butter or fortified margarine.

Books of Today

By W. G. ROGERS
"UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER," by Everett Holles (Howell, Soskin; $2.50).
Just 18 days after Germany surrendered at Rheims and ended the war in Europe, this history of the military struggle in that theater, from Africa to Berlin, was placed on sale. That's quick work.

As the author, who is on the CBS staff, acknowledges, there are some omissions, such as details about V-2 rockets and about the aerial assault on Germany.

The book undoubtedly would have been improved by more information about the all-important bomber raids which paved the way to victory; and also by a few area maps on a larger scale than the endpapers.

Aside from these lacks, this is it. If you want to know what's been going on, Holles can tell you. He has a surprising wealth of facts, innumerable bits of information ranging from A to Z to V-E day. Time may make some changes, but this general this book may last as is for the period from November, 1942 to May, 1945.

"ENGINEERING PREVIEW," by L. E. Grinter, Harry N. Holmes, H. C. Spencer, Rufus Oldenburger, Charles Harris, R. G. Kioeffler, V. M. Fairies (Macmillan; $6).
An introduction to engineering, with sections on chemistry, drawing, mathematics, thermodynamics and so on. This is a technical book, but a thorough-going one, containing substantial surveys of what the future student must know in this field.

"AIR NEWS YEARBOOK," volume 2, edited by Philip Andrews Duell, Sloan & Pearce; $4.75).
Dedicated to the gallant men of our armed forces, this indispensable volume describes various aspects of aviation in general and the airforces of the principal powers. It is illustrated with photographs.

"EMERALDS FOR THE KING," by Constance Savery; "ARROW FLY HOME," by Katharine Gibson; "CATHY," by Siddle Joe Johnson (Longmans, Green; each $2).
All pleasantly illustrated, these books are for young people. Miss Savery's story is told in the time of Cromwell, Miss Gibson's in American Indian country; the first is a boy-and-girl story, the second of rather more interest for boys. "Cathy" will be the girls' favorite; it's done in big type for beginners' eyes.

For easier dish washing, rinse milky dishes in cold water before placing them in warm soapy water.

Road Amundsen is presumed to have met his death in the Arctic wastes on the night of June 18, 1928, at the age of 55, while searching for the Noble Expedition.

Cellophane was invented by Dr. J. E. Brandenberger, a Swiss chemist.

Sailors Will Lead Hat Parade

The long dreaded "day to wear a hat" is over for the younger set! This fall hats will retire the "beanie" from the junior miss head. Hats are slated to be worn everywhere but to bed and leading the parade will be the "beanie" successor, the "Pacific Flyer."

This style-sweep from aerial heroes is a square-crowned, closed cap, and is pictured at the upper left. Designed by Dobbs, this jaunty cap is proving to be the rage of the day.

For more hat, the big news is in cloches, visored berets, Glengarry caps, towering pillboxes, "beef pies" and both double-topped sailors with upturned brims and sissy sailors.

The sailor, however, that's going to be on more heads and win the most whistles of approval is big and definitely a flat-top. Typical of this hat is the one above, center. Those ribbons streaming down back aren't original, but they have the innocent look of a two year old.

"Date-hat" headpieces are either fancy victorian half-hat or unfussy cloches of gleaming black satin.

What the girls will love though, are pearls which encircle the crowns. The filmy veils designed to be worn, fencer fashion over the face, are also fetching.

Five-Year Term National Service Insurance Extended Three Years

Recent enactment by congress of a bill to extend five-year term National Service life insurance for three additional years makes it unnecessary for active servicemen or veterans to convert their government insurance within the original period, according to Mrs. Betty Hastings, home service secretary of the Pampa Red Cross chapter.

The National Service life insurance act of October 8, 1940, provided that all policy holders convert their insurance within a five-year period to 20-year pay, 30-year pay, or ordinary life. Under terms of this act, many policyholders in service from the time of the law's enactment and remaining in service through October of this year would have faced the possibility of having their policies voided through no fault of their own.

Public 118, signed by the President July 7, extends the term of this insurance for a period of three years.

"The new law will have the effect," Mrs. Betty Hastings said, "of giving veterans who are undecided on the matter of converting their insurance, a more leisurely decision on this important matter."

Both of these ideas are practical and simple enough so that they could be used in any town or city.

Teen-agers rightly claim that it isn't much fun to be young in wartime. They don't have the same kind of good times that kids have in peacetime.

But their young years needn't be quite as drab as many schools and communities have let them become. There is no reason why the young folks still at home can't benefit from the same kind of planned recreation given their older brothers and sisters in service.

All it takes is some thought and planning on the part of schools, youth clubs, women's organizations, church groups.

Superfort Workers Strike in Chicago

CHICAGO, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—Work on Superfortress engines was curtailed in six plants today as labor disputes kept more than 30,000 workers away from their jobs.

A fast spreading strike at the huge Dodge Chicago plant of the Chrysler Corp., the world's largest airplane engine factory, idled an estimated 10,400 workers.

In five New Jersey plants of the Wright Aeronautical corporation, production of B-29 engines for the Superforts were reported at a virtual standstill as an estimated 20,000 employees continued their work stoppage. The plants were in Wood-Ridge, Paterson and East Paterson.

The more than 30,000 war workers in the six plants comprised almost half of the approximately 68,000 workers idled throughout the country by walkouts and strikes.

The Dodge Chicago strike was described in a company statement as "carefully organized," a spokesman for the CIO United Automobile Workers said, "the workers apparently were just fed up with the company's refusal to deal with grievances. We feel that the company provoked the strike."

awa. His confidence, echoing comments of other ranking American air, sea and army commanders in the Pacific, was expressed shortly after B-29 headquarters on Guam announced 143 square miles of 39 Japanese industrial cities have been reduced to rubble or ashes.

Tokyo seemed to be of the same opinion. In one of its most amazing broadcasts the government-controlled radio said the emperor's military leaders would gladly stop the war right now if the United States eased up on its demands for unconditional surrender.

Simultaneously, Russia's Stalin was reported to have carried a Japanese peace offer to President Truman at the Potsdam conference. This report, published by Newsweek magazine, said Japan offered Manchuria to the Soviet Union for non-intervention, agreed to withdrawal from Asia, and American occupation of Korea and Formosa, but no occupation of the sacred islands themselves.

Japan's desire to quit is receiving a provocative boost from Admiral Halsey's allied fleet. On Tuesday alone, some 1,200 planes from the fleet's carrier damaged the greater part of the bedraggled Imperial fleet and knocked out 150 planes. Twenty warships were bombed or torpedoed, including three battleships, six aircraft carriers and five cruisers. Twenty merchant ships were sunk. Sixty-two other cargo vessels and smaller craft ranging down to barges were damaged.

This toll was taken along the Inland sea, most of it at the once great Kure naval base.

Rolling banks of fog interrupted continued carrier attacks yesterday. But a partial return of the day's work showed 39 more Japanese planes destroyed or damaged.

less, it gave the impression that Japan would be definitely interested in peace if only the unconditional surrender formula could be softened.

The broadcast, heard by the federal communications, came on the heels of the most disastrous two weeks the empire has undergone.

The Japanese peace feeler said there really are no "problems" between a "liberal America" and Japan and claimed that "liberal America has never given occasion for Japanese militarists to rise, but America now talks of unconditional surrender."

"In short, they (American officials) intend to mete out such a retribution that the Japanese people are more determined than ever to unite and resist as a united mass of 100 million souls and will so continue as long as American minds remain dictatorial and oppressive," declared the Japanese commenorator.

"Should America show any sincerity of putting into practice what she preaches, as for instance in the Atlantic charter, excepting its punitive clause, the Japanese nation, in fact the Japanese military, would automatically, if not willingly (several words missing) follow in the stopping of the conflict and then and then only will sabers cease to rattle both in the east and in the west," he continued.

through the whole congress in the form of resolutions or bills.

A resolution or bill needs the approval of both house and senate but only by a simple majority vote in both.

The United Nations charter has come to us in the form of a treaty. So the senate's working on it.

But maybe a year from now, when the United Nations organization is operating, we'll have to decide how many troops and ships and planes we'll put at the disposal of the United Nations to keep peace.

We'll have to decide whether those armed forces can be called into action by the United Nations to suppress aggression anywhere, or just where we'll let them be used.

If we put drastic limits on the size of our armed forces (for United Nations use) and limits on where they'll be, we may destroy the United Nations.

At any rate, we'll have to work all that out in the form of an agreement with the United Nations.

So this is the question: Will that agreement be in the form of a treaty, of a bill, or of a resolution?

Churchill Defeated

Ramsay MacDonald, and held power until 1931 when it was forced to go to the people on the gold standard issue.

Following that election it was forced to lean heavily on the liberal party section of the government coalition and in 1935, Britain's last general election until July 5, Stanley Baldwin led the conservatives into power.

In one of the most acrimonious campaigns in Britain's history, the labor party pledged itself in this election to support a program of national socialization of heavy industry, transportation, mines and the bank of England.

The first thing Attlee and his party probably will attempt to do when they take over the government will be nationalization of these enterprises, including the iron and steel industry and all forms of inland transport.

"When monopoly gets into the hands of a few men, then the only safe monopoly is a monopoly of the community," Attlee has declared.

He has promised political liberty for India "if they can achieve it for themselves" and he has declared for the closest possible relations with the United States and Russia.

There has been little outward difference of opinion between the labor and conservative parties on foreign policy, as shown by Attlee's willingness to accompany Churchill to Potsdam. The laborites did challenge Britain's position in Greece.

The question of who will be chosen Eden's successor as foreign secretary remained undetermined, but speculation has centered around three names in this order—Ernest Bevin, Hugh Dalton and Herbert Morrison.

All three served in the coalition cabinet of Churchill, Bevin as labor minister, Dalton as president of the board of trade and Morrison as home secretary.

The laborites will "carry on the foreign policy of the coalition government," Bevin asserted as he received the returns acid cheers at labor headquarters.

"I'm speechless—just speechless," he added, as he laughed off questions as to what post he expected to receive in the new government.

There was no halfway trend in the election pendulum. Many conservatives had counted upon the liberal party, which stands midway between the two major parties, splitting the labor vote. But the liberal party returned few members and several leaders were defeated. Among them were Sir William Beveridge, father of the "cradle to the grave" security plan, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, air minister.

The normal procedure, now that Churchill has been defeated, would be for him to call upon the King and tender his resignation as prime minister.

The King then would call upon Attlee to form a new government.

Attlee's new government then would be presented to parliament for a vote of confidence when parliament convenes Aug. 8.

Brothers Distract Mates in Navy

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 26.—(AP)—To the constant distraction of their mates, three sets of identical twins, all of the same age, have been assigned to company 130 in the naval training center here, and mastering the ways of the navy is an easy task compared to the problems of determining which brother should answer to which name.

The three sets of duplicates are the Moore twins, Lloyd and Floyd—names easily confused. Add the Owen twins, Hugh and Bert, and the Chinn twins, Hubert and Ebert. Ebert, offspring of Chinese parents, and you have the ingredients for plenty of mix-ups.

The Moore twins are from Marshall, Texas, the Chinn from Los Angeles, and the Owens from Jacksonville, Texas.

of Great Britain's foreign policy. Attlee has fought in politics for 26 years for the cause of socialism in England and today was on the threshold of No. 10 Downing street, residence of British prime ministers. He was graduated from Oxford.

If he steps into Churchill's shoes,

Brothers Distract Mates in Navy

he will direct one of the most sweeping changes of modern times. His party advocates a "socialist commonwealth of Great Britain," with nationalization of all its basic industries, public ownership of the Bank of England and ultimately nationalization of the land.

Attlee lacks the vivaciousness of Churchill, but there is no doubt about his integrity and his fighting spirit.

In a measure, Attlee after Churchill would be to Great Britain what President Truman is to the United States after President Roosevelt.

Both men believe in committee action. Both are unpretentious, yet abounding in courage and determination. President Truman is perhaps more of a politician; Attlee more of an academician.

The great difference between the two leaders, however, is Attlee's firmly anchored socialism. He has been a member of the Fabian society since 1906 and one of the strongest pillars in the labor party in its rise to political domination.

Condition of Iwo Jima Undesirable To U. S. Marines

By ROBBINS COONS

IWO JIMA (AP)—Even with all the improvements brought by Americans since they took Iwo Jima from the Japanese in a terrible ordeal of battle last February and March, the island is still repulsive. Among the far-scattered sites of Pacific islands, it remains an ugly duckling.

Marines who fought here would now see many changes in war-making facilities.

Buildings have sealed Mt. Suribachi and carved a wide road to its summit. They have pushed cliffs aside, wiping out many of the old Japanese caves.

Traffic dust clouds the dozens of new roads. Sleek asphalt airstrips dispatch and welcome hordes of fire Mustangs and Black Widow fighter planes which scourge the enemy homeland. Many days and nights the distinctive roar of engine-bound B-29s is heard. The Superforts are certain of haven here if they cannot make their Marianas bases. Fleet air wing 18 from bases here searches and harasses enemy waters and coasts, and air-sea rescue units have bases. Iwo is serving its purpose magnificently.

But physically the place remains so barren and cheerless that it is a constant reminder and symbol of war's desolation, a preview of what the whole world might well be if another war were permitted to send the race back to its lowly beginnings.

Iwo's is the very face of war, with Suribachi an ungainly, monstrous war upon its almost animate grimace. From its black and bloodsoaked beaches to its northern cliffs, the face of Iwo still tells. It is a grotesque face, exuding a foul and sulphurous, steaming break from many evil mouths.

Here, too, are other constant reminders crying for lasting peace—the inevitable, sure harvest of war for victor and vanquished, the white markers, row on row of them, in the military cemeteries.

Nation's Strikes At Standstill

By The Associated Press

The nation's strike thermometer cooled off today, the number idled by labor disputes dropping to approximately 40,000, the lowest total in almost a week.

There also was a forecast of further reduction in the total as steps were taken to end a work stoppage of 11,000 employees in 200 lumber yards in the Detroit area, and 4,000 distillery workers in 10 plants.

Although a half dozen walkouts ended during the last 24 hours, controversies in more than a score of cities and towns, affecting a variety of industries. Many of the stoppages affected only small groups of workers, with the largest single group being the lumber yard employees in the Detroit area.

A break appeared possible in the dispute between operators of the lumber yards and AFL-carpenter's union members. The operators advised the regional war labor board they planned to meet within 24 hours and that a settlement proposal was likely. The yards closed last week after a strike at 12 yards over demands for a closed shop, unionization of foremen and wage increases.

Reporter Finds People Careless And Forgetful

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Do you laugh at the absent-minded professor who eats his morning paper while he reads his ham and eggs? A glance in a mirror may show you someone just as forgetful.

The Marshall News Messenger made a survey and found that the average man and woman is a very careless character.

First a reporter named Marna Downey checked hotels. One would expect persons to leave things behind in hotels. They do. Women who clean the rooms said they found almost anything from razor blades to diamond rings. Some articles mentioned include glasses, tooth-brushes, bedroom slippers, a watch, a lady's red purse, pajamas, ear rings, billfolds, combs, bobby pins and even a pre-war giraffe.

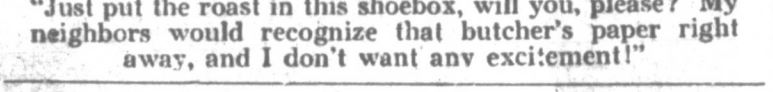

Articles are left behind in stores, too. Recently, Marshall stores said they had found car keys, gloves, packages from other stores, books, buttons, socks, several cans of paint, a personal notebook, thread, and a child's prayer book.

And taxi cabs! They really come up with an odd collection. The things left behind by absent-minded fares include raincoats, cosmetic kits, overnight bags, cameras, tennis rackets and money.

But, the number-one spot is a theater. The ushers say it's really funny. The staff of a Marshall theater said they looked forward to getting a look at the day's collection of oddities. Patrons frequently don't get out of the movies all they brought in.

Here is a one day's list: Wallet, coin purses, a pair of baby shoes, a hat, a collection of soldiers' caps, a flash light, a baby bottle, handkerchiefs, sun glasses, ladies vanities, heels from shoes, hip sticks.

What happens to these lost items?

Vacation Train Travelers Due To Be Stranded

Warning to vacation and other non-essential travelers that they may find themselves stranded, if they make railroad trips this summer, was given in Dallas today by E. O. Walker, district rail director of the office of defense transportation.

The director called attention to the fact that the ODT had placed all railway passenger coaches into a pool to be available upon demand for the use of the armed services.

"The order provided that all railway passenger, baggage and express cars (exclusive of Pullman sleeping cars) may be used for such purposes as the ODT shall direct. The new order, the ODA said, makes more passenger equipment available for military use and will result in further curtailment of civilian passenger service.

"The assignment of passenger cars for military use will mean their withdrawal from civilian service as required, the ODT said. The demands of the armed forces for passenger equipment under the army redeployment plan, the ODT further stated, are expected to increase to the point where at times regularly scheduled passenger trains will have to be suspended in order to provide the cars.

"There is likely to be less space on other passenger trains, travel will be more uncomfortable than before and the avoidance of all unnecessary rail journeys is more imperative, it was emphasized. Persons leaving home on unnecessary rail trips may find themselves unable to return, the ODT warned.

"The military requirements must and will be met," said Col. J. Monroe Johnson, ODT director, in Washington.

The order, effective July 17, will remain in effect until the end of the war unless terminated earlier. By the terms of the order any rail carrier in possession of any passenger car, baggage car or express car, or combination passenger and baggage car, shall cause such car (1) to be used for such purpose and in such service as the ODT shall direct or (2) or shall be leased, rented, hired or furnished to such other rail carrier or other person as the ODT shall designate."

Origin of Diamond Insignia Obscure

By GEORGE TUCKER

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—Officers in the fiscal section of the U. S. Army wear diamond-shaped insignia of such obscure origin that apparently no one knows what it means.

Infantrymen wear the familiar crossed rifles, military police crossed pistols—insignia whose meaning and origin are perfectly clear—but I have asked scores of officers over the European theater about the fiscal diamond and none has been able to provide the answer.

Capt. Ernest E. Brown of Oklahoma City, Okla., said he believed the diamond was chosen because the diamond represented permanent value. Brown is a former infantry officer who fought in Italy.

"I used to wonder about it in Washington and I asked several people in the treasury what it meant, but none of them knew," Brown said.

This conversation took place in a transient officers' mess in Verdun recently where we shared a small table for a night meal. Brown had been to Paris from his headquarters near Heidelberg, Germany, and was pushing straight through on the return trip.

Sometimes money is lost, such as Italian. The last time I took eight tons, I had to overload a five-ton truck to do it.

The army handles money like that, in sales of paper currency. "It was a pretty hard trip," he said. "I just took two tons of money to Paris. All kinds of money—South African, Palestinian, Egyptian, the millions destroyed during Field Marshal Von Rundstedt's Ardennes offensive last December. That money had to be destroyed to prevent it from falling into German hands. Now, since the overall picture of the AEP is breaking up due to redeployment, much money assembled in central points is withdrawn to headquarters in Paris.

Catapult Seat Is Developed

NEW YORK—Development of a catapult seat which will allow aeronautical designers to make use of the efficiencies of pusher-type aircraft propulsion is reported in the current issue of Product Engineering, McGraw-Hill publication.

"The seat, development of which has been completed by Vultee division engineers of the Consolidated Vultee organization, amounts to a miniature elevator, powered by an electric motor," the article explains. "When the plane is on the ground, it can be lowered below the fuselage, allowing the pilot to sit down and be lifted into the plane. During flight, the pilot may pull a lever and be thrown clear on the plane and its propeller.

"One of the factors mitigating against widespread use of pusher planes is the danger of striking the propeller when leaving the plane in an emergency."

DOUBLE REWARDED

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—When Joseph Kratzle learned a tenant in the apartment house where he works had lost two checks totalling $114,000, he began searching and envisioned a substantial reward.

He found the checks. His reward—$5 cents and a solicitation offer by his hands resulting from digging three hours through trash and garbage.

Reporter Finds People Careless And Forgetful

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Do you laugh at the absent-minded professor who eats his morning paper while he reads his ham and eggs? A glance in a mirror may show you someone just as forgetful.

The Marshall News Messenger made a survey and found that the average man and woman is a very careless character.

First a reporter named Marna Downey checked hotels. One would expect persons to leave things behind in hotels. They do. Women who clean the rooms said they found almost anything from razor blades to diamond rings. Some articles mentioned include glasses, tooth-brushes, bedroom slippers, a watch, a lady's red purse, pajamas, ear rings, billfolds, combs, bobby pins and even a pre-war giraffe.

Articles are left behind in stores, too. Recently, Marshall stores said they had found car keys, gloves, packages from other stores, books, buttons, socks, several cans of paint, a personal notebook, thread, and a child's prayer book.

And taxi cabs! They really come up with an odd collection. The things left behind by absent-minded fares include raincoats, cosmetic kits, overnight bags, cameras, tennis rackets and money.

But, the number-one spot is a theater. The ushers say it's really funny. The staff of a Marshall theater said they looked forward to getting a look at the day's collection of oddities. Patrons frequently don't get out of the movies all they brought in.

Here is a one day's list: Wallet, coin purses, a pair of baby shoes, a hat, a collection of soldiers' caps, a flash light, a baby bottle, handkerchiefs, sun glasses, ladies vanities, heels from shoes, hip sticks.

What happens to these lost items?

Shackleford Deputy Shot, Suspect Caught

ABILENE, Texas, July 25 (AP)—A search for a man suspected of abducting and shooting Emory Morris, Shackleford county deputy sheriff, ended today when a group of west Texas officers picked the man up on a highway near Ivan, in Stephens county.

A man forced Morris into Morris' car in Albany Sunday as the officer arrested him. A few hours later Morris jumped from the automobile and ran toward timberland and near Elvasville. As Morris ran he was shot by the man, one bullet going through his leg and the other hitting him in the side.

Morris was taken to a Graham hospital. His automobile was recovered on the highway after his assailant had fled on foot.

Years ago deserters from the army were branded with the letter "D" in irremovable ink or gun-powder two inches below the left armpit.

Texans Will Vote August 25 On Supreme Court Membership

The voters of Texas on August 25 will vote their opinion on the question of whether the number of judges on the state supreme court shall be increased from three to nine members.

This question will be submitted to the people in the form of a constitutional amendment, along with three other proposed amendments.

Under the provisions of the constitution of 1875 the supreme court consists of three members. Prior to 1895, in consequence of the rapid growth of the state and the increased litigation, the court could not keep up with its work. The legislature of 1915 created a statutory court known as the appellate court in the disposition of its business.

Following is the amendment as it will be submitted to the people. It is known as S. J. R. No. 2.

Proposing an amendment to the constitution of the state of Texas, providing for a supreme court of nine members; prescribing their election; tenure of office and compensation.

It is resolved by the legislature of the state of Texas:

Section 1. That section 2 of article 5 of the constitution of the state of Texas be amended, to read as follows:

"Article 5. Section 2. The supreme court shall consist of a chief justice and eight associate justices, any five of whom shall constitute a quorum and the concurrence of five shall be necessary to a decision of a case provided that when the business of the court may require, the court may sit in sections as designated by the court to hear argument of cases and to consider applications for writs of error or other preliminary matters. No person shall be eligible to the office of chief justice or associate justice of the supreme court unless he be at the time of his election, a citizen of the United States and of this state and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty-five years and shall have been a practicing lawyer or a law teacher for a year or more and shall have been a member of a bar of lawyers for at least ten years. Said justices shall be elected three of them each two years of the qualified voters of the state at a general election, shall hold their offices six years, or until their successors are elected and qualified, and shall receive such compensation as shall be provided by law. In case of a vacancy in the office of any justice of the supreme court the governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for state officers, and at such general election by the qualified voters of the state. The justice of the supreme court who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of his term of office under the present constitution and until their successors are elected and qualified. The judges of the commission of appeals who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office as such associate justices of the supreme court until January 1st next preceding the expiration of the term in which he has been appointed and until his successor shall be elected and qualified."

"Sec. 2. Said proposed constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at a special election to be held throughout the state on the fourth Saturday in August, 1945, at which election each voter opening said proposed amendment shall scratch off the ballot with a pen or pencil the following word printed on said ballot:

"For the amendment to the state constitution on providing for a supreme court of nine members"; and each voter shall propose amendment shall scratch off the ballot in the same manner the following words printed on said ballot:

"Against the amendment to the state constitution providing for a supreme court of nine members."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said amendment, the same shall become a part of the state constitution.

Sec. 3. The governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published and said election held as provided by the constitution and laws of this state.

Nino Sees Home With Army Aid

NEW YORK, July 25.—From Nurnberg on the Pacific where Metropolitan opera tenor and film star Nino Martini was singing for the USO, to Verona on the Adige since 1938, is about 250 miles.

"How far away is Verona, anyway?" the handsome Nino asked a colonel who had a flock of planes at his disposal.

"Just over the Alps. Why?"

"Well, I was wondering. My family is there and I haven't seen them for seven years."

"When are you going tomorrow?" the colonel asked.

"My day off."

"So with official permission, and taking along an American general to hitchhike, they flew across the Alps from Nurnberg to Verona in an hour and a quarter.

"My people were very kind," Martini reported this week when he came back to New York for a few days.

He had three sisters, six nephews and two brothers-in-law, one of whom is believed to be a prisoner of the Russians. He owns the house in which they live, but he never before had seen it.

Martini gave one USO program in his native country, the first time he had sung there since he was famous in this country. He came to the U. S. in 1929 and is now a citizen. As a guest of the mayor and the military governor, he also attended a civilian sympathy concert. His family was invited, too, and it took four army cars to get them all there.

His family also was invited to an army dinner. Col. M. E. Lazar of Chicago was host. It was the first time the sisters and nephews had seen their brother in some four years.

Martini wants to sing again. He would like to sing "Butterfly" in Tokyo.

Popular Aircraft Sold At Large Dallas Sale

DALLAS, Texas, July 25.—The sale of 40 airplanes and one glider totaling $144,149, to purchasers in seven states, is revealed in the eleven semi-monthly report of sales of government owned surplus property announced by L. E. Glidden, manager of the Dallas loan agency of the reconstruction finance corporation.

The average price per plane was $3,591.22. Lowest priced planes disposed of were at $275 for the Fairchild PT-19A, primary training planes, of which 13 were sold. Highest sale price was $8,500 for the twin engine Cessna UC-28 models, eight of which were sold at that price. Other Cessna planes were sold at $4,500, but have been available as low as $3,900. All were sold on prior basis. Purchasers included oil field officials, military pilots, service mechanics and aircraft dealers. This report brings the total aircraft sales of the Dallas agency to $964,765.28. All of this equipment had been used by the army and navy before being declared surplus to the reconstruction finance corporation.

The number of purchasers represented in this semi-monthly report by state is as follows: Texas, 17; California, 9; Illinois, 2; Arizona, 2; Maryland, 1; Kansas, 9; Oklahoma, 1.

Men Charged With Draft Evasion Aid

HOUSTON, July 25.—(AP)—Marine Sgt. William M. Fiegle, 46, a much-decorated hero of World War I, an army sergeant and a draftsman were under bond today on federal charges of irregularities in the rejection of inductees.

Fiegle, Sgt. Thomas-Guenter Redwine, 25, of Little Rock, Ark., and Albert W. Charpent, garage operator, were charged yesterday with abetting a draftsman in evading the selective service act.

Sgt. Fiegle, whose home is at Galveston, holds the Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Cross and two Oak Leaves; the French Croix de Guerre with star, which was pinned on him by Gen. Petain; the Purple Heart and the Marine Good Conduct Medal.

Bond for the sergeants was set at $1,000 each, and that of Charpent at $2,500.

O. R. McSwain, special agent in charge of the Houston office of the federal bureau of investigation, said the two non-commissioned officers were questioned after an indorsement reported to the FBI that he had been approached with a proposition that for a small sum he could be rejected for medical reasons.

Your GI Rights QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON SERVICEMEN'S PROBLEMS

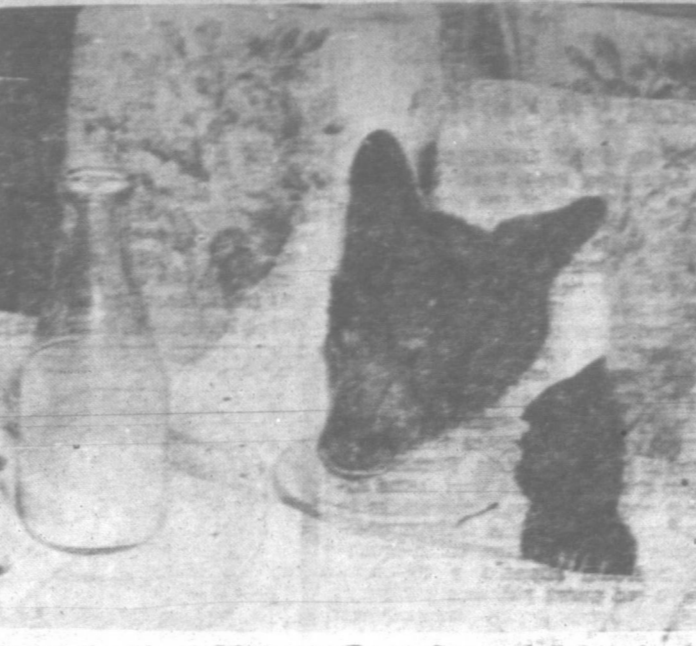

By DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Pensions and payments for disabilities incurred in the service are the basis for the following questions:

Q. I wonder if you could tell me what some of the payments are for service connected disabilities?

A. The rates range from $11.50 a month for a 10 per cent disability to $115 a month for total disability, plus a 15 per cent increase in most cases as provided in a recent law. Where specific disabilities, such as

Government Won't Pay Any. What Possible Explanation Can There Be For His Not Getting Some Money From The Government For His Bad Foot?

A. The probable explanation is that he may have sustained the injury as the result of his own willful misconduct. The government does not pay pensions for that type of injury. We still could have been honorably discharged. If there is some question about it, however, he can appeal his case and can establish it as a service-connected disability and get a pension.

Q. Wonder if you could explain the difference between "compensation" and "pension"?

A. "Compensation" describes payments for benefits paid for service-connected death or disability resulting from service in World War I. Corresponding benefits payable on account of service other than World War I are termed "pensions." The latter term is also used to describe non-service connected payments including those to World War I vets or their dependents.

Rescue Is Made Near Shanghai

OKINAWA, July 25.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Seven Liberator airmen of a crew of 12 were snatched from Japanese-controlled waters in the Yellow sea near Shanghai by a daring navy PBM Dumbo pilot.

The rescued airmen of the Seventh air force told of a new way of scaring off sharks.

During a 20-hour battle against a choppy sea, cold night and a scorching day, the men saw the fins of many large sharks circling their interests.

S/Sgt. Arthur Stanford of 2105 avenue H, Galveston, Texas, remembered he had the booklet "Survival At Sea" stuffed into his pocket but he didn't take time to read the chapter on sharks.

Instead Stanford ripped the page from the booklet and threw the crumpled paper at the sharks while his companion in the raft, S/Sgt. Fred R. Cianfrino of North Tona wards, N. Y., churned the water with his feet. The sharks fled.

The Liberator was hit by flak seconds after "bombs away" on a Shanghai target and had to be abandoned after three engines conked out near the mouth of the Yangtze.

Five crew members were lost but bailed out successfully through heavy overcast into Japanese-controlled waters.

A Dumbo rescue plane made a difficult landing after spotting their markers, plummeting into the sea.

Four hours later the men were aboard a hospital ship wrapped in blankets and sipping hot chicken soup and eating steaming steaks.

'Mars Task Force' Famous for Jap Chasing, No More

By MARC PERDUE
NEW DELHI (AP)—The famous "Mars task force" which chased the Japanese from central Burma in a trek of 350 miles and helped clear the old Burma road is no more.

Dissolution of the combat team, which was flown to China over the Himalayas after its mission in Burma to fight for several months with the U. S. army's Chinese combat command, was announced by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer's headquarters in Chungking.

Known officially as the 532nd brigade, the Mars task force, formed in August, 1944, as a long range penetration combat unit, was composed of the 475th infantry, drawn from the original Merrill's marauders and veterans of the Myitkyna campaign, the 124th cavalry, a Texas National guard unit, and other groups.

Fighting over some of the most difficult country in the world, the Mars force acquired a spectacular reputation in Burma, where in clearing the Japanese from the Burma road, the two regiments, moving independently, lunged well over 200 miles through jungle, over mountains, across rapid rivers, cut off completely from friendly forces and depending entirely on air supply.

Days were terrifically hot and nights freezing cold. On occasion, the Mars men marched 22 hours a day. Some days they could make only three and a half miles. The 475th reached the old Burma Road first and held a dominating position between Wanting and Lashio with artillery, mortars and machineguns for 18 days before enemy resistance collapsed.

The 124th cavalry, assigned to destroy Japanese supplies in the Namhpaka area, established contact in January 19, and fought continuously for 17 days as it established itself on a hill opposite that held by the 475th on the other side of the road.

At the conclusion of the campaign in mid-February, the force commander, Brig. Gen. John P. Willey, said, "the Mars task force has covered the most hazardous terrain in Burma ever traversed by an American unit. A magnificent job of SOUTHERN GERMANY—(AP)—Apart from tickets to the United States, the things most in demand by American soldiers in these parts are cameras.

The particular craze, which has been spreading like wildfire for months, is for miniature models and the demand is almost as great for reflex jobs.

Anybody who has one and is willing to part with it can just about name his own price. There have been unconfirmed reports that in Paris they will bring as much as a thousand dollars—three or four times the normal price. But that isn't too astonishing. Paris prices being what they are, Women's high quality silk panties, for example, are priced there at $50.

Germans who managed to conceal their better cameras—or any at all—from the first waves of advancing soldiers now bring them out of hiding only when they want something in a bad way, such as cigarettes or food. It's generally believed that when things get really tough this coming winter some choice cameras and attachments will be dug up and sacrificed for food. Barter markets are rising and the longer they wait the more they'll get.

Southern Germany's scenery is a photographer's paradise. So far there has been a fair amount of 35 millimeter film available one way and another and it's being shot by the mile. That, of course, creates a demand for developing and printing and any German lucky enough to have some chemicals and printers,

A DIFFICULT JOB WELL DONE

Most Americans are prepared to join enthusiastically now in seconding the statement that the women's army corps has made an outstanding contribution to the victory already gained, as well as to the victory still to be gained, in the global war.

This attitude has not always prevailed. More than a little skepticism existed when the organization was in the formative stages. More than a few people didn't like the idea of trying to make soldiers out of women. Ridicule was not uncommon. The WAAC or the WAAC, as officially designated originally—definitely was in the position of having to prove its value.

Most people are now ready to agree that the organization has done just that. It has proved itself very much worthwhile. Some of the most lavish praise for the organization has come from "hard-bitten" army men who, in many cases, made no secret of prejudice at the outset.

If the WAC has proved itself—as we think it has—then no one can deny that a large share of the credit for whatever the corps may be, and for what it has done, must go to Col. Oveta Culp Hobby, who resigned recently as Wac director after having been in command since the earliest organizational stages. Anyone prepared to say—as nearly all Americans do say—that the WAC has done a splendid job, automatically say, at the same time, that Col. Hobby likewise has discharged, splendidly, the difficult task assigned to her.

How Seven Million Human Beings Live on a Small Island Covered With Cement

By ROSE WILDER LANE

(Author of "Let the Hurricane Roar," "Give Me Liberty," and "The Discovery of Freedom.")

As I said last week: In 1900 640 million Europeans were living in all parts of the world (in a handcraft economy) had supported 160 millions. What were the extra 480 million living on? To what did they owe their very existence on this earth?

Well, the same thing occurred here. Seven million persons are living on Manhattan Island, which, covered with cement, has a population of 7,000,000. Where do they live? The Russian leaders are stark realists who cannot possibly attach the slightest importance to a meaningless formula. Beyond that, they take up a strong line over the policies of dreamland as a bargaining counter to secure what they want in the world of warring nations. Why do they insist upon them? It cannot be simply to bring joy to the hearts of the international idealists. The real motive has yet to be disclosed. When it is revealed, one fancies that it will be nothing more savory than a "legal" march into Argentina or Spain.

ROSE WILDER LANE

I CAN TELL YOU, because for one horrible week I saw it happening in Vienna when in 1919-20 the governments gave "control" of this modern economic complex to new States surrounding Vienna, two million Viennese starved to death. They stood calmly in line with their ration cards until they couldn't stand any longer and lay down on the sidewalks and died. And nobody wanted to starve them. No more than the OPA officials want to keep meat out of New York.

THE MURDEROUS IDIOTRY of the professional thinkers! Listen to Havelock Ellis, writing in 1934: "What we witnessed during the last century was a new and incalculable increase of human power over the processes of Nature, leading to an enormous increase of production... without any corresponding increase in the control of production."

CAN YOU top that? This well-meaning boobey, as guileless ignorance of agriculture work as a child in arms, actually imagines that mere, accidental chance has constantly supplied New Yorkers with milk from Vermont, bread from Kansas, Lady Godiva silk, fruits from California and the Argentine, silks from France and Japan, tea from India, cigarettes from Turkey. He fancies that miraculously appearing, sensitive functional, infinitely intricate and totally new means of supplying human needs just happens, that isn't organized, it isn't planned, it isn't controlled. If he'd even so much as delivered an order of groceries, he'd know at least that the grocer organizes and controls a grocery store, and that he, himself, controlled that order of groceries from the store to the kitchen door.

He continues, "What we witness in the present century is the result of that disorganized production." And this, he imagines, is that result: "In some regions wheat and cotton and rubber and coffee are left to waste and even positively destroyed, while in other regions the whole population are languishing or even starving for lack of these products which they cannot afford to buy."

THIS IDIOTRY comes from too much book-learning. This great thinker never thinks of asking the growers WHAT suddenly stopped their selling products. The answer isn't in a book, so he supposes that the men who had the brains to create and operate this wholly new economy that feeds, clothes, and yours and mine, are fighting on Okinawa, and why a 25-cent cotton apron now costs $1.25; one cause produces both results. But farmers, stockmen, and merchants don't write books, and they are not invited to speak on radio forums. (More next week.) (Released by The Pittsburgh Courier)

The Nation's Press

(Truth London England)

The hearts of the Liberal Utopians need flutter no longer, for the world has been snatched from the burning and eternal peace assured. San Francisco is to go on. Russia saved the day. During several obstinate weeks she insisted that in the new Security Organization a Great Power must be able to veto discussion of any act of aggression which she may prefer not to have discussed. Now she has relented. Henceforward, such aggression may be mentioned in polite international circles, the right of veto being narrowed down to ensure that protected aggression, however much discussed, shall go unmentioned.

What, in sanity's name, is this gigantic bluff which is being carried out in the balmi Californian air? The Russian leaders are stark realists who cannot possibly attach the slightest importance to a meaningless formula. Beyond that, they take up a strong line over the policies of dreamland as a bargaining counter to secure what they want in the world of warring nations. Why do they insist upon them? It cannot be simply to bring joy to the hearts of the international idealists. The real motive has yet to be disclosed. ### Gracie Reports

Consolidated News Features It seems that when I mentioned grown women wearing little-boy pants, I only scattered the surface of the clothing mix-up.

And from the looks of things I'd better not scratch any further than the surface. For Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan told a sympathetic Senate that men are buying and wearing women's panties because they can't get men's shorts. And a clothing authority at the University of Illinois charged that teen-age girls are using their father's scarce shirts for work pants.

Poor father! He's probably end up playing Lady Godiva. At least, had her long blonde tresses to protect her. I don't know what some of the fathers I know are going to do. They haven't enough hair on their heads to make a pair of trousers for a potato bug.

8th Command Handles 25,000 Discharges

DALLAS, July 26.—(P)—Lt. Gen. W. H. Walker, commander of the Eighth service command, in an address Wednesday said that since the middle of May his command has handled the discharge from the army of 25,000 men.

He said three large personnel centers, at Camp Chaffee, Ark., Fort Bliss and Fort Sam Houston, have been established to handle men returning from Europe.

Of the more than 35,000 men passing through the personnel centers of the command during the past month, he said, very few have remained at the centers more than 24 hours.

ous new economy, upon which human lives depend. Stockmen from the Rio Grande to Canada could tell him—and have told Senate committees. Cotton merchants in New Orleans know why their sons, and yours and mine, are fighting on Okinawa, and why a 25-cent cotton apron now costs $1.25; one cause produces both results. But farmers, stockmen, and merchants don't write books, and they are not invited to speak on radio forums. (More next week.) (Released by The Pittsburgh Courier)

News Behind the News

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER The basic reason for the current disappearance of sugar from family tables and corner grocery stores lies in the Roosevelt administration's fierce suspicion and hatred of the so-called "sugar trust" in the days when the reformers and ideologists were riding high at Washington.

Mr. Wallace was author of another curious quirk partially responsible for today's lack of sweets. He regards himself as an authority on diet and he has an obsession against sugar.

And when they issued a formal list of seven basic foods as essential for the ideal menu of war workers, they did not include this energy-building and tasteful tidbit!

LAUGHS AT THE PIANO

Borge has been laughing at the piano ever since the age of 17 when he was giving a serious piano recital in Copenhagen, his home town.

PRICES—These poleaxes and produdges have already made it impossible to boost the sugar supply for the rest of this year and 1946 to any appreciable extent.

MONOPOLY—In signing the sugar act of 1937, which provided that imports should enter the country in raw form and be processed along the Atlantic seaboard, the late President Roosevelt took a sideswipe at the alleged monopoly.

WALLACE—Needless to say, these men shared the late chief executive's enthusiasm for "sucking the

Peter Edson's Column: WASHINGTON AND MANY OF ITS FOLLIES

Back in World War One, however, Judge Patterson had a slightly different slant, and he tells a story on himself to prove it.

He was a captain in the A. E. F. then, and it seems that some of the Yanks in his command, billeted in a small French farm village, stole the honey and destroyed the beehives belonging to a peasant. The bees died and the farmer put in a claim. Not knowing just who had stolen the honey, all the soldiers living in the billet closest to the beekeepers home were assessed for the damage. That satisfied the Frenchman, but Judge Patterson says he can't defend it today as an example of good administration of military justice.

What to do with cranks who write letters asking for endorsements of screwball projects is of concern to congressmen and government administrators. If the official tries to be polite and writes back a letter which says nothing more than, "Your idea on tax reform is interesting, the crackpot is apt to take that letter and use it as proof that he has official backing for his plans."

REVERSE LEND-LEASE GOES TO THE HOGS One of the minor problems of Gen. MacArthur's Army Service Forces in trying to wind up the war on some of the now peaceful islands of the Southwest Pacific is what to do with thousands and thousands

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 26.—Some day soon, we hope, Hollywood will discover Victor Borge, the unmelancholy Dane who goes delightfully berserk at the piano.

Hollywood discovered him last year but it didn't count. He appeared with Frank Sinatra in "Higher and Higher," playing an English crook. It was the most atrocious piece of miscasting in Hollywood history, like having W. C. Fields playing Admiral Nimitz.

"How can I cultivate an accent," wailed Borge to the producer, "that it has taken centuries of head colds and adenoids to produce?"

The producer said that was not in his department. So Borge played an English crook. He had a couple of numbers at the piano but they landed on the cutting room floor where the story and Sinatra got out of hand.

It was, as Borge puts it, "a mess."

But there's still hope of Hollywood yet discovering him, letting him do the things which kept him on the Bing Crosby air program for 56 weeks, at the Wedgewood Room of the Waldorf-Astoria for 13 weeks, at the RKO theater in New York for five weeks.

HE'S ABSENT-MINDED

He delights in belling of the hilarious absent-mindedness in his family and in his early career as a child prodigy pianist.

"My father," he says, "used to call me Borge. He could never remember my first name."

Even today the Borge memory is conveniently hazy and no sharper than that of his forgetful father.

"I am going to play the 'Minute Waltz,'" Borge will announce solemnly. "Is the first piece of music I ever learned. My sister taught it to me. She is a brilliant person and my favorite sister. Her name is..." Borge blinks his eyes and looks crestfallen. "I'm sorry, I can't remember her name. But I know her when I see her."

In 1940 he and his wife came to the United States. Unable to tell the local elephant hide that is Yankee show business in New York, they moved on to Hollywood "because it was cheaper to live there."

Then radio discovered him. But Hollywood, except for that false start at RKO last year, hasn't found the right niche for him yet. But Hollywood will, we are positive, because he is a one-man show.

Biggest English Ships Fighting in Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—(P)—All of Britain's greatest battleships, the largest carriers now are fighting in the Pacific with American fleet units, Admiral Sir James F. Somerville, one of England's three active "Five Star" admirals, announced at a press conference here.

"Sea and seven" is in the Burma waters, fighting a war much bigger than most people think," he said. Somerville is head of the British admiralty delegation in Washington, and a member of the Allied combined chiefs of staff.

For some three weeks Tokyo has been nervously forecasting a British attack on the mammoth naval base of Singapore which for nearly three and a half years has been one of Japan's key positions for offense and defense.

Frequently when the Mikado's spokesmen broadcast prophesies like that they are fishing for information from the Allies—hoping that we shall be foolish enough to make a retort that will divulge our plans. In this case, however, the Japs undoubtedly are sincere, as witness that they have been evacuating civilians from the island to the Malayan mainland and are preparing for attack.

Well, they may be right. My information from good sources is that Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, commander-in-chief in the southern Pacific, has been getting a lot of ships and materiel from Europe and is fairly well set for major action. It's worth noting, too, that Mountbatten attended the Big Three conference at Potsdam yesterday. Certainly it's a position for us to watch.

Recapture of Singapore would be one of the big victories of the war, for it would permit the Allies to reopen the narrow strait of Malacca between the Malay peninsula and Sumatra. Through this strait, which is a short-cut between the Indian ocean and the South China sea, the British East India fleet could pour for operations against the Chinese coast and Japan proper.

It will be a great moment for John Bull when he starts his assault to avenge the disaster which the Japs inflicted on him at the beginning of '42. "Invincible" Singapore fell on February 15 at one of the blackest periods of the world war for the Allies.

For some three weeks Tokyo has been nervously forecasting a British attack on the mammoth naval base of Singapore which for nearly three and a half years has been one of Japan's key positions for offense and defense.

Frequently when the Mikado's spokesmen broadcast prophesies like that they are fishing for information from the Allies—hoping that we shall be foolish enough to make a retort that will divulge our plans. In this case, however, the Japs undoubtedly are sincere, as witness that they have been evacuating civilians from the island to the Malayan mainland and are preparing for attack.

Well, they may be right. My information from good sources is that Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, commander-in-chief in the southern Pacific, has been getting a lot of ships and materiel from Europe and is fairly well set for major action. It's worth noting, too, that Mountbatten attended the Big Three conference at Potsdam yesterday. Certainly it's a position for us to watch.

Recapture of Singapore would be one of the big victories of the war, for it would permit the Allies to reopen the narrow strait of Malacca between the Malay peninsula and Sumatra. Through this strait, which is a short-cut between the Indian ocean and the South China sea, the British East India fleet could pour for operations against the Chinese coast and Japan proper.

It will be a great moment for John Bull when he starts his assault to avenge the disaster which the Japs inflicted on him at the beginning of '42. "Invincible" Singapore fell on February 15 at one of the blackest periods of the world war for the Allies.

Truman's Flag-Raising Statement Is Likely To Provoke Some Discussion

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(P)—President Truman is a cinch to be asked what he meant by saying: "There is not one piece of territory we want out of this war."

The statement—made at an American flag-raising ceremony in Berlin—has caused much speculation here.

Most certainly reporters will ask him to explain before he leaves Europe or when he resumes his White House news conferences here.

He could have meant one or both of two things.

1. We want no territory our troops took in Europe.

2. We want no territory taken from Japan in the Pacific.

If he was talking of Europe only, he was saying nothing new. We've never figured on keeping European territory.

But it was new and startling if he meant we want no Japanese territory under any circumstances. It's doubtful he meant any such thing.

The navy is on record as wanting to keep some seized Japanese islands as naval outposts to guard against attacks from Asia. The navy is not likely to be ignored.

It's possible—although Mr. Truman himself will have to clear up the point—that we do not intend to hold Japanese islands and say outright to the world "These belong henceforth to the United States."

There is a way in which the United States could keep possession of seized Jap territory for generations to come and yet not claim full possession.

This could be done under the trusteeship system of the United Nations.

When the United Nations drew up their charter in San Francisco, they provided for a trusteeship system for seized axis territory and said its purpose would be to "Promote the political, economic,

Undefeated Odd Fellows Take Slim Lead in City Softball League

Knights of Pythias Win Over Kimboys 4-2; Oilers Win 13-3

With four straight wins behind them, including a 4 to 2 win over Phillips last night, the Pampa Odd Fellows took over the lead in the city softball league, although they are technically tied with the Pampa Merchants and the Knights of Pythias.

The Pythians won their third straight triumph last night as they blasted the PAAAF Kimboys from the "Big Top" with a 4 to 2 win. Junior Gage, ace K. P. Hurler, gave up five hits while his teammates were collecting only four of the Kimboys' hurrier, Burgess.

Another streak was ended last night as the Junior Oilers, their hitting improved 100 per cent, trounced the Cabots 13 to 3 for the first win after three straight losses.

His hard by the loss of Pitcher Earl Davis, the Oilers had not put up much of a fight in losing their first three games but last night's game proved to be a definite change of pace for the Oilers. At night's win puts them in ninth place.

The team that can't seem to win the second half on its first half reputation, the Squadron B outfit, will get its fourth test of the season tonight when it plays the PAAAF Merchants in an important game.

Along with Cargray, the two are tied for seventh place in the league.

The Squadron B-Medics game is the second of a double-header. The first will match the Communications against the Pampa Merchants in a crucial game. The Communications have won two out of three games.

The double-header will start at 8 o'clock. There is no game scheduled for tonight at Magnolia park.

The standings:

Ship Is Named for Tom Green County

SAULALITO, Calif., July 26.—(AP)—The U. S. S. Concord, a navy oiler built through purchase of war bonds by residents of Tom Green County, Texas, was launched at Marinhship Corporation's shipyard here yesterday.

Mrs. James Bennett of San Angelo was official representative of Tom Green county at the ceremonies.

The ship's sponsor was Mrs. Dan J. Johnson and the matron of honor was Mrs. Guy B. Black, wives of Marinhship production executives.

There will be a permanent plaque on the vessel stating it was sponsored and paid for by the people of Tom Green county. The ship is 523 feet long.

Fish and Game Disruptions To Be Ended

AUSTIN, July 26.—(AP)—Before Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today was a request from Texas sportsmen that he end disruptions in the game fish and oyster department.

The request was made at a conference yesterday when the delegation of sportsmen headed by Henry W. Flagg of Galveston told the governor it thought "corrections" should be made.

Flagg was referring, he explained, to recent administrative changes in the department including the resignation of Will J. Tucker as executive director and his appointment as director of lakes from which subordinate position was fired a week later.

Said Flagg, on emerging from more than a hour's closed meeting with the governor:

"We feel that besides the question of possible injustices to individuals that the methods employed by some members of the game commission were entirely out of order and improper."

He explained that he understood that Tucker's resignation and appointment to the subordinate job was agreed upon by the commission but that his discharge from the lakes division directorship was not in accordance with the agreement.

Flagg said the governor gave the delegation "the whole story as far as he knew it," but that the delegation, like the governor, had not learned why the agreement had been ignored.

Before Tucker's resignation and his appointment as lakes director was announced members of the game commission conferred with the governor and agreed to the arrangement.

Tucker's discharge as lakes division director was announced several days later, an action the governor said was "at variance" to the agreement. Since then the governor has not conferred with game commission members.

Older Naval Men Now Eligible for Release

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—Older navy officers and men now may apply for discharge—if they have the points.

The navy's previously announced point system was placed in operation yesterday, but some releases may be months coming through. The plan provides one credit for each year of age at the nearest birthday plus another for each four months of active duty since Sept. 7, 1939.

Requirements are 53 points for reserve lieutenants, enlisted regulars serving under expired enlistments; 55 points for reserve officers of the supply corps and 57 for reserve officers of the civil engineers corps.

Flyers Will Play Clovis AAF This Week-End; To Enter Meet

Seeking their seventeenth and eighteenth victories of the season, the PAAAF Flyers travel to Clovis, N. M. this week-end for two games with the Clovis AAF baseball team.

The Flyers were scheduled to play the Pampa Oilers yesterday afternoon on the post diamond, but the semi-pro nine failed to put in an appearance and robbed Tony Reis of an opportunity to win his third victory of the season, against a similar number of losses.

Loss of Mike Greek will put additional hardships on the remainder of the Flyers pitching staff, but the return of Al Kaplan from furlough and the addition of right-hander Dan Williams to the hurling corps will make up for the loss of their northpaw as to a certain extent.

Greek had won four games and lost two for the season, and was one of the finest sportsmen ever to wear the livery of Pampa Army Air Field. His presence is sure to be missed in remaining games.

The Flyers have entered the Houston Post Tournament, scheduled for Sunday, August 19, Lt. John A. Houston, post physical training officer, announced today. The tourney will include many of the finest team in this area, and the PAAAF boys will be out to build up their prestige by making a good showing against the Texas elite.

Malcolm "Bunny" Mick, popular first sacker, continues to head the Flyers hitting parade with an average of .385. Johnny Bulkiey is in second position among the regulars with .318 followed by Marty Knell, who has raised his mark to .296. "Pap" Berry, iron man catcher, has been at bat 111 times, to give him work-horse honors. Berry has claimed out the most doubles, with seven to the six piled up by Mick. Homer Durden has a big lead in triples, with five, and leads Mick five to three in home run production.

Following are the team averages at the close of last Tuesday game with Dalwhart AAF:

Golfers Go for $60,000 Pot o' Gold At Chicago's Tam o' Shanter Meet

By L. E. SKELLEY

CHICAGO, July 26.—(AP)—The boys went after golf's $60,000 "pot of gold" at Tam O'Shanter today.

And promoter George May was confident that records would fall in the four-day hunt for the $10,200 (war bond cash value), first prize in the all-American open in which 139 of the country's top players, including 128 professionals, were entered.

The present record for the 72-hole stretch is 278 but May said he believed it would take a 277 to win this year.

As the field teed off on the first holes today the consensus seemed to be that the firing would develop into a personal duel between Lord Byron Nelson, who has won the tam three times in its four-year history, and Lt. Ben Hogan, on furlough from the army air forces.

Nelson, who made his last appearance in wining the PGA title two weeks ago, returned to action with his strained back ready for another stern test.

Hogan tied the course record with a blazing 65 earlier this week but he philosophically dismissed that performance with "you get those kind of rounds in practice."

The open also found alumnin' Sammy Snead again mingling with the top money shooters. The hard-hitting West Virginian, however said his wrist, injured in a softball game several weeks ago, was "no good."

"If I finish in the money and get my expenses back, I'll be satisfied," Snead said.

In the final qualifying test yesterday for the non-exempt professionals, slim Jim George Payton of Hampton, Va., turned in a four-under-par 68 to lead 92 players who sought 40 positions in the open.

There were 27 amateurs entered in their division and 32 contestants, including the defending champion, Betty Hicks, in the women's section.

Oil Land Profits Are Held as Being Taxable

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—(AP)—The U. S. fifth circuit court of appeals held here that profits from a transfer of surface lands by the West Foundation in Texas to the Humble Oil and Refining company was a sale, instead of a lease, and was taxable under the capital-gains provision of the revenue act of 1938.

The decision was given in consolidated cases of Wesley W. West and others, against the commissioner of internal revenue, and involved claimed income tax deficiencies for the year 1938.

The record showed that on Dec. 28, 1938, J. M. West and wife, two sons and others, acting as trustees for the West Foundation conveyed to Humble, subject to certain royalties reserved, title to 23,155.60 acres of land and minerals from 710.67 acres.

The barn dance of American origin, came about because farmers who wished to build a new barn called in their neighbors for a "working" and finished the job by having a dance.

Roadside Canteens Serve To Cheer Returning GI Joe

By GEORGE TUCKER
WIESBADEN, Germany. — (AP) — The army has flung a chain of roadside canteens through southern Germany, Luxembourg and northern France to cheer departing GIs on their way back home to civilian life or to the Pacific.

The canteens have coffee and sandwiches available at all hours of the day and night. They are not under single roofs but are flung out for a quarter of a mile in separate roadside tents so that entire convoys can spill out of their jeeps and trucks and refresh themselves without having to queue up in time-wasting lines.

I recently made an 800-mile trip in a jeep with Pct. George Fitzsimmons of Hillsdale, N. J.

We found one canteen occupying six big tents, each 100 yards apart. There were wooden benches with dozens of basins of water for the Yanks to rinse their hands. The coffee was in 10-gallon urns, scalding hot. Sandwiches were in mounds two feet high and the sky was the limit.

In Saarbrücken the French occupation forces were giving the German civilians a realistic lesson in what it means to start a war and then lose.

Saarbrücken is one of the utterly destroyed big towns in the European theater.

French MPs in immaculate white helmets, belts and leggings swarmed all over the place. French artillery would rattle through the rubble heaped streets. Tanks puffed in and out of central sector and officers were everywhere barking orders.

Watching all this with a wondering eye was the entire population of the town who had been herded onto the sidewalks and curbs so that they could get a good look and never forget what the victorious army looked like. It was Fitzsimmons who pointed out that only women and children were doing the looking. The French had most of the German men working like mad cleaning up the wreckage.

War Materials Will Clear at Corpus Christi

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—More than 10,000 tons of war materials soon will be returned from Europe through the port at Corpus Christi, Texas.

This was disclosed by Adm. F. J. Horne, vice chief of naval operations, in a letter received today by Senator Connally (D-Tex.). The senator had urged full utilization of all Texas ports in redeployment of armed forces.

"In surveying the utilization of Texas ports we find that in our opinion they are being used nearly to capacity," write Admiral Horne. "Corpus Christi is idle at the moment but is set up to receive returning materials of which we expect over 100,000 tons in the near future."

Uncertain about the wording in the communication, Connally telephoned the admiral's office and was told that all the tonnage referred to would "move through" Corpus Christi.

Connally recently received word from Chairman Emory S. Land of the war shipping administration that military movements soon would tax all Texas Gulf ports to capacity.

Recent trouble experienced at some Texas ports in getting cargo moved to and from the docks on week-ends was noted by Admiral Horne.

"We have experienced some small delays to vessels loading in Texas ports within the last month," he added, "and the committee on port utilization was considering reducing the volume of shipping in that area. Vessel time is extremely critical and every effort is being made by all agencies to reduce time in ports to a minimum. Port utilization must be such that we obtain the maximum efficiency from our available shipping."

"Where it will further the war effort, we will most certainly use the facilities of Texas ports to the utmost."

Ship Named for Texas County Is Given Big Task

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—Four months after her commissioning, the USS Navarro, an attack transport named for Navarro county, Texas, participated in the toughest and largest amphibious operation of the Pacific way, the assault on Okinawa.

The navy told the story Wednesday. Designed as a motor cargo vessel, built by Kaiser Cargo Co., Inc., Richmond, Calif., the Navarro was commissioned Nov. 15 last year.

She discharged more than 1,000 marine and navy personnel on Blue Beach, Okinawa, completed her assignment and emerged undamaged.

One man aboard was injured by a shell fragment. The ship unloaded in addition to personnel 28 landing craft, many vehicles and hundreds of tons of ammunition, supplies, radios and medical equipment, and other gear.

The ship also brought to the beachhead a platoon of marine corps war dogs.

When the ship was commissioned, 75 per cent of her enlisted men had never seen a sea-going vessel before reporting for duty. Few of her officers had been in an amphibious operation. But the commanding officer, Commander Fred E. Angrick, U. S. N. R. of San Francisco, Calif., reported that the performance of the ship and the ships' company was excellent.

The Navarro experienced a period of intense amphibious training in the San Diego, Calif., area. In February this year the ship proceeded to a staging area in the Solomons where troops and supplies were combat loaded.

Each day off Okinawa brought several air alerts, but only once did a plane single out the Navarro for attack. That one was deflected off its course by anti-aircraft fire and flamed into the sea. So effective were screening and air cover that the gun crews of the Navarro were required to fire at enemy craft only on three occasions.

When personnel and equipment were unloaded, medical officers and corpsmen rigged the Navarro's wardroom as an emergency casualty station. Later, landing craft brought the wounded out.

The Navarro remained a week in the transport area.

We can't repay the men who return from battle lame, half or blind. But we can help give them what they now hope for most: a chance to live normal lives, to become useful members of their communities—a chance to work.—Lima Ohio News.
