Senator Taft Blasts 'Can't Win' Bugaboo

House Passes Compromise Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House last night passed, 194 to 142, and sped to President Truman a compromise 10-month extension of price and wage controls due to expire at midnight Monday.

The Senate had approved the measure earlier in the day on a voice vote. The compromise had been hammered out by a Senate-House conference committee in a grueling night session that ended early Saturday.

Although the administration did not get all it asked, by any means, the bill was regarded as something of a victory for President Truman. The Senate-House amendment by Rep. Taft (R-Ohio) to remove controls from all commodities not under rationing or allocation.

Since nothing is rationed now, and few things are allocated, this would have been a body blow to the administration control plans.

The conferees also drastically modified a provision by Rep. Cole (R-Kan) to guarantee sellers their price markups based on individual rather than industry-wide profit margins before the outbreak of the Korean War.

The version adopted by the conferees on this point amounts to a restoration of present law.

The administration suffered a blow when the conferees decided to retain a provision exempting processed fruits and vegetables from price controls.

In the brief House debate preceding last night's vote, nobody seemed happy with the new bill. Some Democrats thought it didn't go far enough and didn't give the administration enough control authority to do the job properly.

COME ON! TURN ON THE FAN! — As the temperatures soared toward the hundred mark for the third consecutive day in Philadelphia, Pa., Pandora, the Philadelphia Zoo's pet chimpanzee went looking for relief. The chimp used an umbrella to keep off the hot sun, an ice bag, a cake of ice and an electric fan which the zoo keeper had not turned on. The weather bureau said scant relief was in sight. Claims Foes Have No Other Argument

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio blasted Saturday at the "can't win" bugaboo he said is his chief remaining hurdle in the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

Taft told a news conference there isn't any other effective argument being used against him except what he called the mistaken belief on the part of some delegates that he would have difficulty beating the Democratic nominee in November.

"The only thing anybody has got against me is the claim that I can't carry the election and there is no basis for that," he said. "It's the only effective argument left. There is no other argument."

"Whether you win depends on the kind of campaign you make and I think I have convinced most people I can make it win this campaign."

Senators had not said he added that he could carry Ohio. This was a reference to his sweeping electoral victory in 1948.

The Democrat also claims that about half of the 1948 delegates to the convention opening July 15 in Chicago are expected to be loyal to Eisenhower. He will leave for Chicago tomorrow night.

After conferees with early arriving delegates, he plans to return to Washington July 3. He said he expects Congress to work Independence Day and Saturday, July 5, in efforts to clean up its legislative docket for a pre-convention adjournment.

Thus Taft will be back in Washington at the time Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his chief rival for the GOP nomination, expects to arrive in Chicago to take to delegates.

Taft told reporters he believes Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania still is remaining neutral in the contest between the Ohio senator and the general. Fine is credited with being able to influence a sizeable bloc of Pennsylvania delegates, but has not announced his choice between the two candidates.

Taft said he thought that claims of Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, Eisenhower's national manager, of "being all right, and testing contact only."

Attendance picked up for the night performance, but even it was a scant 2,500.

Joe Doherty, executive ruler of the Pampa ladies' auxiliary, reported the organization would "just about break even" on the project.

One Injured In Accident

One man was hospitalized and another jailed on drunk driving charges Saturday afternoon when the car they were riding in skidded into a barbed wire fence one and a half miles east of Pampa on U. S. Hwy. 60.

Hospitalized with severe lacerations of the throat, back, arms, and other parts of the body was Theodore L. Graver, 41, of Canadian, Garver is considered being in critical condition.

Jailed and charged with driving while intoxicated was Goldie Cecil Daniell, 46, of Berger.

State Highway Patrolmen said Daniell was driving east on U. S. Hwy. 60 and passed another car going in the same direction. As he pulled over to the right side of the road his car went into a sideways skid, ramming and fell into the wire fence.

Police said Garver apparently attempted to jump from the car and fell into the wire fence.

Other than springing the right door, the Daniell car was not damaged and was driven to town by a highway patrolman.

Political Camps Hurl Charges Of Trickery

Charges of trickery and inconsistency were exchanged by the camps of the two leading candidates for the Republican presidential nomination yesterday and Sen. Estes Kefauver said his chief opposition comes from men more interested in controlling the Democratic party than in winning.

"We can win against any candidate the Republicans put in the field against us, unless some of the leaders in our party deliberately decide to throw an election away," Kefauver told a Democratic State Convention at Golden, Colo.

Among the Republicans, whose nominating convention opens in Chicago a week from tomorrow, verbal blows were traded by David S. Ingalls and Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, respective campaign managers for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"Taft and his advisers are resorting to desperate last-minute tricks to thwart the will of the rank and file of the Republican party," Lodge said in a statement. He said defeated national committeemen from Vermont and Rhode Island were seeking to seat proxies on the committee "in a barefaced bid to keep control" for Taft forces.

Ingalls contrasted the announcement that Eisenhower will move his headquarters to Chicago during the convention with the January statement by the general that he would not actively seek the GOP nomination. He said it emphasizes the inconsistency of the general's whole demeanor in the 1952 presidential campaign.

Two Texans Killed As Planes Collide

DALLAS (AP)—A big American airliner and a small two-passenger private plane collided Saturday as both were coming in to land at Dallas Love Field.

The two young men in the private plane were killed as the craft, one wing storn off by a propeller of the airliner, spun to the ground.

But the four-engine DC-6 landed safely. A dent in a propeller of the No. 4 engine and a torn radio antenna were the only damage.

Killed were Paul W. Brown, 20, and Don Walker, 20, both of Denton and both employees of Dallas of Central Airlines.

Officials of the Civil Aviation Authority said it would take several days' investigation before they could answer the question of who held the right of way.

"We were letting down for a landing and heard the tower (CAA control) calling to the airplane that it was to land," said Capt. G. H. Woodruff, CAA representative, pilot of the airliner.

"I didn't see the other plane but I heard the tower operator tell him to hold at the outer marker to make a turn. The first thing I knew I saw a flash of white and our right wing was hit. We lost a pin, but it was only slight."

Woodruff said he supplied James E. Don Smithfield, 70, with a copy of the report.

Agin' The Law... Chief Gives Warning On Firecrackers

Police against the law to sell and use fireworks within the Pampa city limits, according to Police Chief Jim Chamber.

And there is a fine law which prohibits any girl, aged 16 or over, from using a quantity of more than 100 lbs. Part of the text of the law reads:

"Any person who discharges or causes to be discharged any fireworks, or any other explosive, within the city limits of Pampa, Texas, shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $500, or imprisoned not less than 30 days nor more than 90 days, or both, at the discretion of the court."

Chief Chamber says that in the city ordinance and the state law, "it is illegal to use fireworks."

Steel Strike Cutting Into The Number Of New Oil Wells

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The steel strike is cutting into the number of new oil wells being drilled. The situation will inevitably worsen, even if the steel strike were to end.

From 60 to 200 tons of steel, mostly in the form of pipe, is needed for an oil well. The flow of oil pipe has been falling off progressively since the steel strike began June 2.

Even if the strike were to end now, oil industry sources estimate it would take up to a month to get newly-manufactured pipe "on location" at the drilling site.

A. W. Thompson of Houston, president of the American Association of Oil Well Drilling Contractors, said Saturday in a statement to the Associated Press:

"The steel strike already has caused a serious slowdown in drilling operations and if continued for another 30 days it is estimated that from 600 to 900 rigs will be shut down. It will be impossible to complete the

Cop Had No Place To Pin His Badge

NEW YORK (AP)—A policeman, clad only in his pajama bottoms but with his service revolver in hand, chased a burglar from his 96th Street apartment early Saturday and captured him on busy Second Avenue.

In felony court, where the prisoner, Crosby Littlejohn, 33, was held without bail, the policeman, John P. Kennedy, 35, told the judge:

"I was embarrassed. I had no place to pin my shield."

Inside The Republican Party: GOP Faces Most Critical Fight In Its History

BY JOHN GUNTHER
Written for NEA Service

The first thing to say, looking into the exposed viscera of the Republican party, is that this make-or-break campaign is probably the most critical in its history. And for several reasons it differs strikingly from any other presidential campaign in recent years. As to why:

1. For the first time since 1928 — one could even say 1924 — both conventions, not just one, are as open as a sword swallower's gullet. For more than 20 years, the American people have watched the campaigns go into the home stretch with the candidate of at least one party unmistakably visible. But not today. It's a fight at both conventions.

2. For the first time since 1928, neither candidate is an incumbent of the White House. For the first time in six elections, the major issue is not that of re-electing somebody (Hoover succeeded Hoover, 1928 as a candidate in 1932, Roosevelt served four terms, and Truman followed Truman in 1948).

3. For the first time since 1936, the Republicans do not know what they will be up against. When F.D.I. and Truman were winning the opposition knew exactly who it had to attack.

4. This will be the first election fought under the full, pill-glossy eye of television.

5. Not since the McAdoo-Smith fight in 1924 has there been such intra-party bitterness on either side. The Taft and Eisenhower forces are slugging at each other, within the Republican party, fully as much as at any Democrat. The Eisenhower people say, "If you nominate Taft it means suicide." The Taft people say, "This is a

ARC To Try Bloodmobile

Pampa will have a bloodmobile project in the next 100 days, according to the American Red Cross. The project will be a mobile unit that will carry blood to the homes of patients who need it. The unit will be a truck with a built-in refrigerator and a pump to draw blood from donors. It will be used to deliver blood to patients who are unable to come to the hospital. The project is being financed by the American Red Cross and the Pampa community.

Governors Expect Answers Today On Political Questions

HOUSTON (AP)—The 14th Governors Conference opens today and there is an undercurrent of bustling expectation that has nothing to do with the official agenda.

The hotly for the presidential nominations of both parties overshadow the round table discussions on taxes, fiscal policy, Indian affairs, highway construction and safety the governors will hold.

The Republican convention is just a week away and most observers think the conference here would be an ideal place for Gov. Allan Stevenson (D-III) to clarify his record "that remains to be seen" in a "draft" of the Democratic nomination.

Gov. John S. Fine (D-Tenn) to expand his statement that he would back Gen. Eisenhower if he was sure the GOP couldn't win with another candidate. Does it mean he's jumped on the general's bandwagon, or will the estimated 20 delegates he controls?

Agriculture Dept. Blamed For Losses On Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee said Saturday an over-estimate of the 1951 cotton crop by the Agriculture Department caused a serious break in cotton prices and a resulting loss of millions of dollars to cotton farmers.

A large part of the over-estimate "could and should have been avoided," the subcommittee charged.

Chairman Coady (D-N.C.) of the full Agriculture Committee, made public the report of the subcommittee which was headed by Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss.).

Coady named the subcommittee to investigate the department's crop reporting and estimating procedures upon request of Abernethy and others who complained that the estimate of cotton production dropped two million bales between September and December.

In assigning the reason for the over-estimate, the subcommittee said that about 200,000 bales were attributed to an error in calculating the average in cultivation to failure to reflect properly and promptly bad weather during July and August.

The subcommittee said it was "encouraged to find that the general accuracy of the department's cotton estimates has improved over-estimate of the 1951 cotton crop by the Agriculture Department caused a serious break in cotton prices and a resulting loss of millions of dollars to cotton farmers.

State Department Sends Apology To Owen Lattimore

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department apologized publicly to Owen Lattimore Saturday and revoked the order barring the Far Eastern affairs specialist from leaving the country.

In a formal statement the department described as false a tip received to the effect that Lattimore was planning a trip behind the Iron Curtain. It was on the basis of this tip that the department directed customs officials to stop the Johns Hopkins University professor from leaving the United States.

"The Department of State," yesterday's statement said, "expresses its sincere regret over the embarrassment caused him."

Brower and Walker were thrown clear of the wreckage. The Swift 125 fell head-on into the pavement of Lombardy Lane, just off busy Lemmon Avenue.

Brower, son of a Denton rancher, owned the plane and was believed to be at the controls. He and Walker, son of J. E. Walker, manager of the TSW golf course at Denton, remained in the wreckage until they were rescued.

The airplane flight 910 coming in from San Francisco, Tucson and El Paso, carried 55 passengers and a crew of five.

American Airlines said Wood-weaver heard the control tower instruct a private plane to turn away from the landing path.

"All members of the crew were alerted to spot the private plane, but did not see it until it had struck the top part in the vicinity of the outboard engine on the right hand side," the air line account said.

Two cars collided on Francis, west of N. Cavalier, at 5:18 p.m. Friday when a third vehicle, with an unidentified driver, backed out from the curb, causing one car to stop quickly and the other to collide with it.

One car, a pickup driven by Richard E. Wright, 28, of 212 N. Houston, was only damaged to the extent of $10. The other, a 32-point car driven by Donald J. Stenbridge, 16, of 212 W. Thut, received damages estimated at $60.

Both vehicles were going east on Francis when the third car caused the collision. There were no arrests and no injuries.

West Has No Pat Answer On How To End Korean War

By HAL BOYLE
DENVER (AP)—Travel notes from a curbstone philosopher's diary:

"What can we do about it?" the people ask.

They have no pat answers to it. They want it solved. But they are tired of the cut-and-dried approach to the problem.

A lot of sons from this area have fought in Korea, many are still there. The western people accept the sacrifice of military service as a national duty more readily, one feels passing through, than some other parts of America do.

But if either the Republican or the Democratic Party - or the State Department - has a fresh avenue of solution to the stalemate with the Chinese Reds, it is most likely of acceptance here.

In New Mexico I visited a suburb where they have a local zoning law that prohibits the creation of homesteads of less than two-and-one-half acres.

To one like me who lives in the past where the row-on-row houses shoulder each other, it seemed like a wise provision.

You can look up on a dark night and feel like the stars crowded the sky, and nobody on earth was nudging you. And the funny thing about it is this, the more space there is out here between you and your neighbor, the closer and more dependent you are to each other in emergencies.

In big cities it is the other way around. Neighbors are most reluctant to call upon each other - or answer each other - when they are most in need.

Most of the sympathy that people feel for semi-savages is wasted. Just because someone doesn't enjoy the plumbing that you have is no proof that he doesn't have more fun out of life.

A case in point is the average Indian who ambushes the visiting tourist everywhere in the Air Force Cancels $100 Million In Barracks Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nearly 100 million dollars in proposed barracks—which a House watchdog committee has termed "unnecessary" - are being cancelled by the Air Force.

An expenditures subcommittee headed by Rep. Hardy (D-Va.) the Air Force agreed with its critics that the housing projects were unnecessary and is starting action to eliminate them.

The committee made its recommendation after studying 105 major air force bases. Many of the projects to be eliminated were planned for Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico bases.

The committee said overplanning resulted from two errors in computing needs: 1. The Air Force underestimated available housing near its bases. 2. The Air Force concluded 80 per cent of its personnel was unmarried and would need dormitory housing, but statistics show only 70 per cent are unmarried.

Dazed Master Tries Beating Tough Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

It was a bitter blow to Al Nussnoff to find that dummy had such a weak trump holding in the hand shown today. The bidding seemed quite reasonable, but the contract seemed quite sour. What to do? Should he lay down a high trump in the hope of finding the queen and jack along in either hand? And, if he were lucky enough to drop should he then finesse or play for a drop?

Mr. Nussnoff decided against any such wild optimism. The chances were that the trumps were 3-2, with the honors split. The slam could still be made, however, if he merely timed the tricks correctly to bring about the right end situation.

After winning the second trick with the jack of hearts (West took the first trick with the ace), declarer ran the three top diamonds, discarding two clubs from dummy. Holding his breath, he then led the fourth diamond and ruffed it dummy.

When both opponents followed, life was a bit easier. Mr. Nussnoff led the king of hearts from dummy, and East discarded a club.

By his time it was clear that East had started with only six red cards, and therefore seven black cards. Four clubs and three spades was the most probable distribution, so declarer had a full count on both hands.

He carefully ruffed dummy's king of hearts, cashed the king and ace of clubs, and then led a low club towards dummy.

West had to discard a heart, ruffing dummy's ruff and returned the queen of hearts.

At this moment, East and South had two trumps each, while West and dummy had one heart and two trumps each. What could they do to win a trump trick? Nothing effective, strangely enough.

If East ruffed low, South would over-ruff and take the last two tricks with trumps. If East ruffed with the jack, South would then ruff the ten for a finesse through West's queen of trumps.

Long, Careful Search Pays Off With Drug For Epilepsy

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—A long and careful drug-building search has paid off with a new drug for epilepsy.

The drug, PM334, works well and safely to control one form of epilepsy—petit mal or little attack. In petit mal, people nod or blink out for two to 10 seconds. They don't usually fall and don't suffer from the convulsions of grand mal or severe epileptic attacks.

PM334 came from a search started 15 years ago by Drs. Frederic Zimmerman, Lauren Long, andraham Chen of the Neurologic Institute, College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University.

The team created and tested thousands of drugs, each slightly different from the others. But each had a basic structure or molecule, a part which is common to most anti-convulsant drugs and sedatives.

As scientific cooks, the team shuffled atoms and used different chemical ingredients to make several tries of new drugs with this basic structure.

PAMPA OFFICERS—Major Edwin S. Vicars, left, and Major Wilfrid J. McNeill arrived at Amarillo Air Force Base June 23, to take part in the first Civil Air Patrol encampment ever held in the Panhandle. The two Pampa majors will head the administrative staff for the ten-day summer program which provides CAP cadets with advance technical training and familiarizes them with Air Force life and military aviation.

Pampans Help Plan First CAP Meet In The Panhandle

Two Pampans are on the planning staff of the first Civil Air Patrol summer encampment in Panhandle history which got underway June 23 at the Amarillo Air Force Base.

Majors Edwin S. Vicars and Wilfrid J. McNeill, both of Pampa, head the reservists on the encampment planning staff. With four other reserve officers from Amarillo, the two majors will be helping in conducting the program and serve on the administrative staff.

Fifty young CAP cadets from 14 Texas cities are attending the 10-day encampment. The camp program stresses technical training courses for the cadets. These courses provide additional training which could not be accomplished in the CAP units.

In the technical line, the cadets will receive instruction in airplane and engine mechanics, communications aviation and the fundamentals of maintenance and weather.

Other courses include parachute packing instruction, crash and rescue procedure, physical training and military drill. One of the highlights of the program will be a flight for the cadets in one of the base's aircraft.

Comprising one squadron, the cadets will take an active part in the daily review of student troops by the commanding officer of the 3320th Technical Training Group.

The cadet contingent will graduate from their encampment training July 3 in an official graduation ceremony at the base. Each cadet will receive two diplomas and a personal scrapbook of the 1952 project.

Agriculture Shows Nature New Tricks

By OVID MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—One of Agriculture's big jobs is to teach nature how to help save manpower.

Power machinery and the heavy loss of farm workers to city jobs and the armed forces is putting a special premium on breeding plants which will make harvesting tasks easier.

Breeders have developed, for example, a variety of sugar cane that sheds its leaves naturally. This eliminates the need of stripping off leaves by hand before the cane can be harvested.

Researchers are working on the problem of developing plants and trees that will hold their fruit and seeds more firmly so they will be more suitable for mechanical harvesting.

Others are working on new methods of controlling plant diseases. Officials say the use of chemicals for systematic control of such diseases is an increasing possibility. They say there is growing evidence that certain antibiotics or chemical substances can be absorbed by plant tissues.

Perhaps the biggest research job in agriculture is to keep ahead of new diseases. The best way to do this, scientists say, is to develop disease-resistant types. New diseases keep bobbing up. As a consequence, the plant breeder must be a jump ahead.

Enough Straw For Good Stubble Mulch

Wheat is now producing enough straw to make a good stubble mulch if properly handled, according to the Roberts county soil conservation agency.

The best protection that can be obtained against erosion of cultivated land, the agency maintains, is cover. When left on the surface of the land, this straw not only protects it from wind and water erosion but also returns a great deal of plant nutrients to the soil.

Another advantage of leaving it on the surface, according to the agency, is that it doesn't cause a loose seed bed as it will when buried.

The straw should not be burned at it leaves no erosion protection and approximately 95 per cent of the fertilizer value goes up in smoke.

Almost Completed . . . Area Wheat Harvest Coming Along Better Than Expected

The wheat harvest is coming along better than earlier reports had predicted.

About three-quarters of the crop has been gathered in the four-county area of Gray, Roberts, Hemphill and Wheeler. Foster Whaley, county farm agent, estimates that 80 per cent of the harvest has been handled. The Texas Employment Commission makes a more conservative estimate of 65 per cent.

Whaley figures that about 1 million bushels will come from this area, and that the average yield per acre is running around 22-23 bushels. Some farmers, however, have been getting up to 30 bushels per acre.

The remainder of the harvest should be wrapped up by next week end. The Commission figures July 3, while Whaley puts the date two days later.

This has been an "unusual year" according to Whaley, because the farmers have been mainly cutting summer followed land. The weather has had little to do

Increase In Copper Permitted By NPA

The current steel strike has resulted in an indefinite postponement of the contemplated increase in steel for various types of construction, according to the National Production Authority.

As of July 1, however, 750 pounds of copper may be self-authorized for commercial construction per project per quarter instead of the 200 pounds now allowed. And 250 pounds of aluminum may be self-authorized per project per quarter. These changes are the result of an amendment to CMP Regulation 6.

The present restrictions affecting recreational and amusement type construction will remain unchanged.

The residential order, effective July 1, will allow slight increases in copper for construction of one through four family residences.

Helicopters Aid Survey In Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Helicopters are making possible the continent's biggest scale photography and surveying job.

The project will be carried out this summer for the third straight year in Alaska by the 30th Engineer Base Topographic Battalion from San Francisco, a unique unit of the Corps of Engineers.

Survey data is combined with aerial photos to make large scale layouts of militarily important areas in the vast territory. Last year they surveyed 24,000 square miles in 81 days. Thirty-six helicopters are scheduled for the 1952 project.

Nazarene Churches Planning Enlargement

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A program calling for 1,000 new churches and 10 million dollars for world evangelism in the next four years has been outlined before the 13th quadrennial assembly of the Church of the Nazarene.

It was placed before the convention by Dr. Hardy C. Powers of Dallas, chairman of the Board of General Superintendents, the ruling body of the Church.

The Church was organized as a union of Holiness groups at Pilot Point, Tex., in 1908.

Potato Bug Charge Revived

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communists have evaded for another summer the charge that the United States is to blame for the annual appearance of potato bugs in Czechoslovakia.

The Colorado beetle, which is being brought into our country by the Western imperialist, has again appeared in the Karlovy Vary region," said a domestic broadcast by the Prague official radio reported today by U. S. government monitors.

The charge was ridiculed by the State Department last year when it was the subject of a diplomatic exchange of notes.

Man Wins Britain's Needle Arts Trophy

LONDON (AP)—The National Needle Arts Bureau has announced with surprise that a man had won its annual national sewing contest.

Harry Leonard, a 49-year-old health inspector, copped the $10 (50 pounds) first prize by sewing himself a blue suit in 330 hours of his spare time.

Morgan Mansion To Be Auctioned

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (AP)—The former mansion and estate of the late financier J. Pierpont Morgan will be auctioned off July 12 to satisfy $50,000 in back taxes. The Glen Cove City Council, has decided.

The 56-room stone edifice was built in 1910 at a cost of 2 1/2 million dollars. It occupies a three-acre site on East Island, off the north shore of Long Island.

After 15 Years Of Rowing, Italian Builds His Bridge

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—After 30 years of rowing across the Arno near here, Guido Bartolini built his own bridge across the river.

Guido was born on the river one stormy night in May, 1859. His mother had refused to let his father row some passengers across alone. When his father died, Bartolini took over the ferry business.

It was tiresome work, rowing across. Guido decided to improve his craft. With a pulley and several hundred yards of rope, he managed to operate his boat while standing on one bank.

Still it was too much trouble. Before he became old and feeble, Bartolini wanted a bridge, so his passengers could walk across the river for a small fee.

No bridge spans the Arno between Florence and Rignano, 25 miles to the east. L'Archetta, Bartolini's home, is half way between the two points.

When he had saved about $650, he sketched a bridge and went to see the public work officials in Florence. They smiled at the drawings of this man who had gone only through the third grade. His project was rejected.

From that day on, Guido combined Tuscany looking for metal scrap to build his bridge. He bought pieces of old railway rails, war destroyed airplane hangars, and bits of wrecked factories. A friend arranged a bank loan.

Working alone most of the time, Guido dug two large holes in the ground, stuck his rails upright and filled the holes with cement. Those became the bridge's pillars.

From an old cableway near Pimbinio, he bought yards of steel cable. Then he started working in a small chair suspended from the cables. He worked for over two years. Eventually the bridge was finished.

He called his wife and asked her to bring over some wine. They drank a glass each, the rest was poured on the new bridge for good luck.

Public works officials came around, tested its strength and told him it was safe enough for pedestrian traffic.

Now Guido sits in front of his little house. He charges 15 lire (2 1/2 cents) for pedestrians, and 80 lire (14 cents) for motor scooters and bicycles. After three years of operation, his bridge has paid his debts, bought him a small automobile, and is providing a good income for his old age.

ON CRUISE — Emerson L. Campbell, seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Campbell, 1129 Terrace, is among 132 naval reservists who boarded the destroyer escorts, USS Haas and USS Willett, June 17 for a month-long cruise to Caribbean and South Atlantic ports. This marks the first 30-day cruise for naval reservists in the 8th Naval District. The training unit will visit Ciudad, Trujillo, Dominican Republic; Barranquilla, Columbia and Colon, Panama, before returning to New Orleans July 11. Before boarding his ship, each man was paired off with a "shipmate," who is a regular crew member. "Shipmates" take the reservists assigned them in tow and teach them their jobs step by step. Off the coast of Florida, the men will fire the guns of the destroyer escorts, drop depth charges and hold anti-submarine and anti-aircraft drills. In civilian life, Campbell is a student at Texas Tech.

Canadian Planning Old-Timer Reunion

CANADIAN (Special) — Canadian's annual Old-Timers Reunion, a regular feature of the Canadian Fourth of July celebration, will be held this year on the second day of the show — Saturday, July 5. Old-timers will convene at the air-conditioned American Legion Hall, with registration beginning at 9:30 a. m. Badges will be provided for all registrants — and there will be a special "bonus" this year for the older settlers.

Those who have been residents of the Panhandle for more than 50 years will get free admission to the rodeo. Their 50-year badge will be their "pass." Old settlers who have lived in the Panhandle for 60 years or longer will get purple badges this year. Those who have been here 50 years will get gold badges. Both will be good for admission to the rodeo.

Red badges will go to those who have lived in the Panhandle 40 years, and all later - comers will have white identification badges.

All the old settlers who will rate purple badges are requested to be at the Legion Hall at 10:30 a.m. when group pictures will be made.

Committee members Alex Simpson, Wayne Newell, Hez Wood, Paul Patton and Frank Biggs have planned an all-day program of entertainment for the reunion. Featured event again this year will be an old fiddlers contest, with cash prizes offered the winners.

Wayne Newell will furnish a large float on which the old-timers will be invited to ride as guests of honor in the parade on Saturday morning.

The traditional chuck-wagon dinner will be served at noon at the Legion Hall, and old-fashioned dancing will continue throughout the day.

The reunion will end at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

NO MONKEYSHINES FOR AL CONVENTION — NEW YORK (AP) — This year's American Legion convention will have its emphasis on seriousness, with such gadgets as water pistols and electric canes on the out-of-order list. American Legion officials announced these plans for the Aug. 25-28 convention at a news conference Friday. They said seriousness was in order because of international tension and the national elections. However, the officials said that there will be the usual big parade Aug. 26 on Fifth Avenue with 100,000 marchers and 800 bands. The convention will be the legion's first here since 1947.

"Do you guys call that groovy? You could do better with a lawn mower!"

Seven Airmen Die In Crash

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Seven Air Force men were killed when a twin-engine C47 plowed into a Bliss Mountain peak near a road and burned. None survived. Wreckage of the plane was found Friday and climaxed a search which started Wednesday night when the plane was last reported after it took off from Norton Air Force Base, San Bernardino, Calif., bound for Van Nuys a 35-minute hop.

Forest rangers were directed to a rugged hillside scene by Warrant Officer Frank Anderson, who sighted the splintered wreckage on his plane. Huge trees were felled by the impact. Plane and passengers were torn to pieces and debris was scattered for half mile.

STATIONED AT SHEPPARD FIELD — Airman 1/c Kenneth Florenco, Lefors, has recently visited his family. He is stationed at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Tex.

NO ACCOMPANIMENT FOR BALTIMORE BIRDS — BALTIMORE (AP) — From now on the birds in the Baltimore Zoo will have to sing for their supper without accompaniment. A local firm has been piping recorded music into the bird house for the past month on a trial basis. The birds never sang louder or prettier. Now that the trial period is up, the firm wants $60 a month to give the feathered warblers their background tunes. But the park board decided it couldn't afford it so the birds will have to sing what comes naturally.

No Monkeyshines For AL Convention

VISITING HOME — Airman 2/c Donald R. Rice, Lefors, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Rice, following completion of technical training at Chamite (Ill.) Air Force Base. Airman Rice was graduated in 1949 from Lefors High School, where he was an outstanding athlete. He enlisted in the Air Force in March, 1951, being sent to AE school at Dallas. Rice will report to Great Falls (Mont.) Air Force Base next week.

Soviet Newspapers Blast Yalu Bombing

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet newspapers hammered Saturday the American bombings of the Yalu River power plants in an obvious effort to prove that the U.S. is not interested in a Korean truce.

"An intentional effort to prevent the establishment of peace in Korea," one headline in the Moscow paper declared. Another said:

"What Street does not want to end the war in Korea."

The Communist party newspaper Pravda said the world press is proceeding against the barbarous American bombings in Korea. It carried dispatches from the U.S., Britain, Austria and Denmark reporting criticism of the air strikes.

The Russians have made it clear that the bombing of the hydroelectric plants across the river from Manchuria may have an adverse effect on the Korean truce talks.

Some diplomats here believe the Russians may feel strong enough about the bombing to try to bring the issue before the U.N. Security Council next month.

There was every indication that the Soviet press attacks were only the opening shots in what will probably develop into a full-fledged condemnation campaign similar to those on the German warfare charges and accusations of mistreatment of war prisoners.

The Russians are expected to interpret the parliamentary debate in Britain over the bombings as a sign of growing U.S.-British differences.

Nothing has yet appeared in the Soviet press about the criticisms of the bombings voiced in the House of Commons by former Prime Minister Clement Attlee and other British Laborites.

This is not unusual, however, since Russian newspapers normally wait until such an issue runs its course before having their say.

MPs Discuss Pelican's Sex

LONDON (AP)—How do you tell a girl pelican from a boy pelican?

You can't unless they are four or five years old, the House of Commons has been told.

The pelicans don't even seem to know themselves, the minister of works, David Eccles said.

He was being questioned by Conservative Fitzroy MacLean, who wanted to know the sex of four pelicans presented to St. James Park by Galveston last November. MacLean didn't say why he wanted to know about the birds, named Gal, Ves, Ton and Tex.

"I am advised," Eccles said, "that the birds are still too young to reveal their sex."

Laborite F. G. Bowles said he had it on pretty good authority there is a sure way of finding out, no matter how young they are.

"You take a needle and thread and stick it over a cork and hold it over a pelican," he explained.

"If it is a male it will swing in a line and if it is a female it will go around in circles."

A reporter called up St. James Park and talked with Tom Minton, the bird keeper.

Tom said he has been watching the Texas pelicans closely without result. He also has been keeping an eye on Peter and Paul, a pair of Pelican pelicans which also arrived last November.

"I've a feeling Peter is a male," Minton said cautiously. "He is becoming a little playful with Paul. But there's not a lot to go by yet."

To Publish Ballads

CLEVELAND (AP)—Prof. Henry Lee Bidenour used to delight his English students by breaking into song right in the middle of a lecture.

Now the veteran professor, for 26 years head of the English department at Baldwin-Wallace College is returning to prepare for publication his collection of English folk songs and ballads. Student enthusiasm for the ballads developed into a regular course, that offered eight years ago.

Ronald Amundsen journeyed to the South Pole to raise funds for a trip to the North Pole.

At this critical time it is important that the people know the political theories of men who aspire to public office. We must return to Lincoln's philosophy of a government of the people, by the people, and for the people, which is the only philosophy of the politicians, and for the politicians. I shall report to the people on my tenure in office through this newspaper and the radio in the next few weeks.

When I went to the Senate floor in Texas was almost 33 per cent above the national average and our school system was as low as 37th among the states. Our rural school teachers' salaries averaged only $23.00 per month which we raised to a $2600.00 per year minimum. We now spend approximately 39 per cent more on education than the average of the states, and Texas has come from 37th place up to approximately 18th place in the national rating.

Our insane asylums were closed by the national association of hospitals as the worst in the nation. At the special session two years ago adequate appropriations were made to remove our insane and mentally ill from inhuman physical surroundings and environment to places of decency where mental improvement is to be expected.

We have increased old age benefits from an average of $9.09 per recipient per month to the present average of approximately $24.09 per month. I was the author of the present law which permits recipients of old age pensions to earn $250.00 per year without having the same deducted from their pensions. However, the federal administration partially struck down the effects of this bill.

We appropriated money for our penitentiary system in order to separate first offenders from habitual criminals and moral perverts.

However, I think our increased spending has been wise and reasonable. Much increased spending was forced on us because of the great increases in cost of living resulting from the inflationary trends of our national government. We had no other course. But, in spite of our increased spending, we have never been close to voting a sales tax nor a state income tax. We are one of six states in the 48 that has neither a sales tax nor a state income tax, and we shall never have either one as long as I am here.

Neither does Texas have a state ad valorem tax. The taxpayers are interested to know that Texas spends 20 per cent less per capita on state government than the national average. Our tax levies are 25 per cent less than the average of any other state. At the same time, the average other state has three times the per capita debt as Texas. In fact, we have no debt and we pay as we go. We must have efficiency and economy in government—nothing is more important—but we have to invest in those things.

State Sen. Grady Hazlewood enumerated above for the good of everyone.

Two attempts have been made to take away the gasoline tax refund to farmers, which I opposed on both occasions, and, on one occasion, I was chairman of the subcommittee that killed it. I was the author of the Canadian River Compact Commission in furtherance of the Canadian River Dam Project, and I was also the author of the Panhandle Sportsmen's Bill which permits sportsmen of this area to provide for their own game limits and seasons except where regulated by federal laws. I voted against the whole departmental appropriation bill this last session because of certain bureaucratic riders that delegated power and authority to individuals who were totally ignorant of the responsibilities given them. These riders have hampered soil conservation work and crippled the efficiency of other governmental agencies. I was the author of the gas bill providing for the use of sweet gas in the manufacture of carbon black where the well owner had no sale or outlet for his gas. This has already increased the price of that gas 33 per cent. I was the author of the minimum price bill for gas, which would give the farmers, ranchmen, and royalty owners a decent price for their gas. I was also the author of Senate Bill No. 240 in behalf of the Texas service stations which passed the legislature, as well as the bill which exempted all veterans of the last war from the payment of tuition in our higher state educational institutions.

My legislative record is much too long to set out here and I again invite the people of my district to listen to my reports over the radio from time to time, and, if elected, I pledge the same legislative performance as I have in the past.

Although I have a law office in Amarillo, I live on and operate an irrigated dairy farm in Randall County, north of Canyon, which makes it difficult for me to see and visit the people. However, I do expect to get around as much as I can, and I certainly will appreciate the vote and support of everyone.

First Slated On Primary Election Day

By HENRY S. GORDON

The new round of precinct, county and state conventions is now history by a month.

So, now get set to do it all over again.

But, this time for an entirely different purpose.

1-24 hold FIRST SLATED

The first shot in the second round—known as the "Governor's Convention"—will be fired on July 26, primary election day. That will be the precinct conventions.

Then will come the county conventions on Aug. 2—one week after primary election.

Next will come the Republican state convention on Aug. 26 at San Antonio.

Last will be the state Democratic convention on Sept. 9, at Amarillo.

Both conventions are equally as important as the May presidential conventions. They can undo some things done at the May conventions, namely changing up the list of presidential electors.

But, so long as delegates to the national conventions are concerned it will be too late since both party presidential nominees will be selected by that time, and delegates will have finished their work and have been back home by more than a few days.

For the Republicans, the principal business will be selection of nominees for county, district, and state—i.e., congressional, senatorial, gubernatorial and other offices.

The GOP will also name its state chairman, vice-chairman and executive committee, made up of one man and one woman from each state senatorial district.

In addition they will build up the platform on which their party's gubernatorial candidate will run in November.

The Democrats will do the same in Amarillo in September with one exception—they will certify the list of party nominees instead of selecting them, since the Democrats hold a primary and the GOP nominates by convention.

The method of selecting delegates from precincts to county conventions and from county to state convention is conducted the same as in presidential conventions.

A precinct is allowed one delegate to the county convention for each 25, or major fraction, votes cast for the party's candidate for governor in 1950.

The county, in turn, is authorized one delegate to the state convention for every 300 votes, or major fraction, cast for its nominee for governor in 1950.

The conventions will also set up party machinery that will function for the next two years.

This round of convention is called the "Governor's Convention" because it deals largely with gubernatorial platforms in November elections.

Members of the Democratic Executive Committee from this district are: Mrs. A. B. Crump, Wheeler; and Lawrence Hagy, Amarillo, who was appointed earlier this year to fill the vacancy created by Charlie Gibson's resignation when he became state commander of the American Legion.

Republican State Executive Committee members from this district are Mrs. Ruthelle Bacon, Amarillo, who faces a stiff battle for reelection; and L. R. "Buck" Miller, Pampa.

Local Republicans expect plenty of fireworks in San Antonio if Eisenhower is nominated, but not if Taft wins out.

The Democrats still have the so-called New Dealish Loyalists to cause trouble and will be putting forth an all-out effort to keep control of the party in the hands of the conservative element.

Developments, of course, in both conventions will depend largely on what happens in Chicago next month.

Only One Type Brake Allowed On Soap Box Derby Racers

A drag brake operated by a foot pedal is the only kind of brake that may be used on a Soap Box Derby racing car.

The brake must be built so that it will stop the car in a straightline.

"A good brake is almost as important to a Soap Box Derby racing car as wheels and steering gear," says M. E. Scott, general manager of the All-American Soap Box Derby. "A good racer must stop in a straight line. Be sure your brake is well built and that it works smoothly."

One simple method of building the brake is shown in the Official Rule Book. It is two blocks of 2x4 wood, hinged at the center. This type forces the drag brake down when the upper portion of the block is pulled forward. The cable connected to the foot pedal operates the "V" action. The brake is pulled up by ordinary screw-down springs.

Another method of construction uses a pulley block mounted on the lower side of a 2x4 piece of wood. As this block is pulled down by the cable, the pulley wheel rolls against the brake and forces it down.

Brake cable may be guided by eye-bolt, metal tubing or pulleys. Like the steering cables, the brake cable must not run through acerw-eyes, staples or nails.

The 9 - square - inch brake facing must be a piece of tire tread or other "equally effective material." The bolts that hold the facing to the brake shoe must be countersunk so they do not touch the ground when the brake is applied.

Be sure the brake facing is no more than 18 inches from the rear of the car, and that it is in the exact center of the width of the car.

Another rule often overlooked provides that the bottom of the car, including the brake shoe, must be at least three inches above the ground.

Air Force Shows Off New Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has shown off its new flying van as a versatile plane capable of carrying big cargo loads and paratroopers and of landing on short fields.

The new transport—the C119F—was demonstrated this week-end by the Fairchild Aircraft Division.

The firm also demonstrated a detachable cargo pod which can be unhooked from its airplane and hauled down a highway like a truck trailer. This is an improvement on the XC120 pack planes, whose present packs cannot be used on highways.

The flying van was designed to move more than 10 tons of cargo and with greater range than aerial boxcars now in use.

The demonstration plane took off and landed in less than 11,000 feet. With one engine off, it maneuvered, turned and banked easily on its single remaining engine. It flew at 260 miles an hour and then came back at 71 miles an hour, a safe speed for the discharge of paratroopers.

Fox, Power End Longest Film Contract

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A moving van recently pulled up before Tyrone Power's dressing room on the 20th Century-Fox lot and hauled away the actor's personal effects. This signaled the end of one of the longest and most successful contracts in movie history.

Power is not completely severed from the studio. He still has a picture to do there in 1953 and another in 1954. But for the first time in 16 years, he is free of studio control.

How does it feel?

"Great," he replied. "I'm beginning to realize what the outside world is like. After all, I was 16 years at Fox and I did only one picture for another studio. That was 'Marie Antoinette,' which was 14 years ago!"

Power was frank to admit that his severance was initiated by the studio. His regular contract would have expired in December, and the studio wanted to make an adjustment. "I wanted to be free right away so I could take this deal," he remarked.

By "this deal," he was referring to his current picture, "Mississippi Gambler." It is one of those fabulous contracts which U-I has also offered to such stars with gubernatorial ambitions: Errol Flynn, Gregory Peck, Irene Dunne, James Stewart and Alan Ladd. The stars get no pay for their films, but take 50 per cent of the profits.

"It's the only kind of a deal that makes sense in these times," Powers remarked. "Every if Fox let me go five times what I was getting, I couldn't keep any more than I do. But under the U-I deal, the money comes in over a period of time and piles up in those countries. Then I can go to those countries and spend it."

He remarked that the system was also good for the studio, which might not be able to make the picture if it had to pay a top star's salary. The bill would come to 25 per cent of the picture's cost.

Power was reflecting on his long career at Fox, and I asked him to name his best picture during that time.

"As far as I was concerned 'Nightmare Alley,' " he answered without hesitation. "But the studio did nothing to sell it, and it wasn't a success."

"As far as the studio was concerned, I guess the most successful pictures were 'Alexander's Ragtime Band,' 'Jesse James,' 'Mark of Zorro' and 'Blood and Sand.'"

I also asked which of his pictures he liked the least.

"There were a lot of them," he replied. "There was a dilly called 'Daytime Wife,' and 'Prince of Foxes,' 'Captain from Castle' and a thing called 'Rose of Washington Square.'"

Air Official Is Willing To Bare Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Finletter is willing to risk exposure of some military secrets to let the American people know what is going on.

Finletter was one of the key Pentagon witnesses who testified behind closed doors of the Senate Appropriations Committee on the multi-million-dollar defense money bill.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said the testimony would become public later and asked if Pentagon officials might not be revealing military weapons to possible enemies.

"In my opinion, although there may be some slight modicum of security involved, it is worth running that risk in order to get the story before the people," Finletter said.

He said he believed the program could not be put across unless it was backed by the people. And, he said, to get this backing, officials must tell them what is being done.

"I do not feel that we can say to the American people we need this, that, and the other; we are not going to tell you what it is all about, but you give us the money; 'I do not think our country works that way.'"

United States Has First New Immigration Bill Since 1798

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation today has its first new immigration law since 1798. Congress approved it Friday over the veto of President Truman.

It becomes effective in six months. Immigration officials said it is so complicated—completely overhauling the immigration and naturalization laws—it may take them even longer than that to put it into full operation.

It was a sharp rebuff for the President—the first overriding of a veto on major legislation since 1947 when Congress put the Taft-Hartley Law on the statute books over his protests.

Truman said the new immigration law is unworthy of the nation's ideals. He contended it would sap U. S. leadership for peace.

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), a co-sponsor of the measure with Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) hailed the veto overturn as in the interest of the nation's welfare.

Among other things, the bill retains the present system of immigration quotas based on national origins. It boosts but slightly the number who may enter this country annually.

White Warns Wheatmen

DALLAS (AP)—Agriculture Commissioner John C. White warned Texas farmers to "know with whom you are dealing when you store your grain."

White was here Thursday in his campaign for re-election. He said he had just returned from West Texas where there is a heavy wheat crop this year and where the United States Department of Agriculture is urging farmers to lay up grain stores this year.

"In view of the recent grain storage scandals, the farmer should know with whom he is dealing when he puts his grain in storage," White said. "I supported a bill in the last Texas legislature which would have provided for inspection and bonding of warehouses storing grain in Texas."

"Although the bill did not pass
I think there will be no difficulty in getting a good warehouse bill next time. Until then, however, it is up to the farmer to watch out for himself and his own interests," he said.

Legitimate grain men are the strongest supporters of the proposed bill, White added.

Cox Says Houston Health Conditions Bad As Can Get

HOUSTON (AP)—State Health Officer Dr. George W. Cox branded health conditions in Houston as "bad as they can get."

He said after a tour of the industrial area and ship channel that only when an enlarged citizenry joins with city and county officials can the city hope to clean up.

Cox said it will take time and millions of dollars to do the job properly. He termed Houston's health conditions the "worst in the state," simply because it is the largest city in Texas. "The conditions in the state are bad," he said.

Mother Takes A Dim View Of 11-Year-Old Daughter's Marriage To AF Enlisted Man

DENISON, Tex. (AP)—A mother who takes a dim view of her 11-year-old daughter's marriage to an Air Force enlisted man talked to his superiors Saturday about an annulment.

Mary Kendrick, an apple cheeked girl who will be 12 on July 19, and airman Sergio Maldonado Tristan, 21, of San Antonio, were married Wednesday at Sherman, Tex.

After a one-day honeymoon they decided to go to Durant, Okla.,
and tell her mother, Mrs. Cleo
Kendrick, about it.

But Mrs. Kendrick already had asked police to pick up the couple.
The police found them at Denison Thursday and held Mary until her mother came for her. They sent Tristan back to Perrin Air Force Base. He got put on KP.
"She looked more than 11 to me," said Justice of the Peace

Cliff of the Denison Herald.
Tristan later told Cliff he had nothing to say until he sees a lawyer.

Mary who completed the fifth grade this spring, said she had read books on how to cook.

Mary is a big girl. She's 5 feet
1-2 and weighs 115.

Mary's mother, who has eight other children, said:
"If I thought she had any idea of what marriage meant, I'd leave them alone. I told that boy my daughter was only 11."

Mary sobbed:
"Yes, and I told Tristan not to believe her or anyone else. I told him I was going on 17. But I do love him. I'd rather be with him than anyone. We were just going to talk to mama. But we

Teurist Discovers Famous Sleuth Better Known In U. S.

By CHARLES HONCE
NEW YORK (AP)—Durante
was a hit at London's Palladium
Noel Coward was doing right well around the corner, but that didn't bother me: I was the sensation of Baker Street on a recent Saturday afternoon.

Instead earlier streets began checking up on me. The situation came about this way: Just as I was sailing for Europe a rather large package was delivered to my state room.

Although big, the package was light. Inside I discovered a described. That's one of about nine and-it was Sherlock Holmes used to wear when he was traipsing
Professor Moriarty and other crooks around London.

The hat, it turned out, was a fascist gift from my A. S. Gar-Press associates. It was accompanied by a caricature of me wearing the hat and bearing the legend "sleuth street or case."

On visiting the old Sherlock Holmes message story after arriving in London, I put on my overcoat and stood at foot of the building and then marched up and down for several minutes.

Some people stopped and stared.
Others went by with smiles, outright laughter, or with looks of awe or amazement on their faces.

Apparently no-one knew what the device I was wearing, something of a point I already had suspected that Sherlock Holmes is a much bigger name in the United States than at his own doorstep.

Then my wife and I went the whole area the once over. Around a corner from Baker Street we found a short, narrow passagway called Sherlock Mews, but whether the name had anything to do with the detective I could only surmise.

When I stowed my overcoat and came home content that I had done my duty by the refired sleuth.

A reproduction of Sherlock's flat, exhibited last year in London, goes on display in New York on July 2. That will help to keep the No. 1 British mystery given if no one ever

Ask Bids For Rivets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep-vise (R-Wis.) relates how government's housekeeping ag-advised for bids for some ets to fix hinges on a post rice door instead of simply ing them for a few cents.

This is how it happened,
said in a statement:
A few rivets came out of hinges of a door on the Argo, Tex., post office.

The General Services Administration checked hardware in San Angelo and Dallas didn't find the exact rivets wanted. So it asked rivet manufacturers as far from Texas as Wisconsin to submit bids.

The cost of issuing the for bids probably was more the cost of 48 rivets," he said. "As a matter of fact, GSA needed that many rivets, but it wanted some spares in case an-

Fortin Hangs Onto Batting Leadership For Second Week

Joe Fortin, slugging Lamesa outfielder, hung onto the batting leadership in the West Texas-New Mexico League for the second straight week, official league averages released yesterday showed. Fortin, though his average slumped six points to .387, still had a two-point lead on Windy Eldridge of the Borger Gassers, who rose to .385.

Francis Rice of Clovis and I. B. Palmer of Lubbock continued to be dual departmental leaders as Rice headed the league in runs scored (69) and total bases (160), while Palmer led in hits (95) and two base hits (28). Merv Connors, slugging Abilene first baseman, retained the home run production lead with 22, while Art Cutti of the Dukes was the tops in driving teammates across, with 70 RBI's.

Otho Nitchols, the grey-eyed Abilene mound star, moved to the fore in the pitching department, turning his season's record to 10-2, one loss less than Red Dial of the Clovis Pioneers. Ray Machado continued to be the league's workhorse, with 129 innings pitched. Ed Flanagan and George Payte of the Borger Gassers ran one-two in getting strikeouts, Flanagan with 82, Payte with 81.

Clovis showed the best fielding and was second in team batting, two points behind the Lamesa Oilers. The Oilers moved to sixth in team batting during their home stand and hold down second place in team fielding.

9 Teams Honored For All-Star Tilt

CHICAGO (AP)—Nine different teams are honored on the American and National League starting units for the all-star game, selected in a poll of nearly 4 million fans.

The poll conducted by the Chicago Tribune was headed for the second straight year by Stan (The Man) Musial, brilliant St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, who bagged 1,292,532 votes.

The first-place New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians dominated the American League with three starters each, the Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox landing one apiece.

The National League's eight starters included two each from the Cardinals, first-place Brooklyn Dodgers and runner-up New York Giants, and one apiece from the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phils.

Here's the way the 3,991,281 voting fans ordered Managers Casey Stengel of the Americans and Leo Durocher of the Nationals to start the all-star teams:

AMERICAN LEAGUE
 First base — Eddie Robinson, Chicago.
 Second base — Bobby Avila, Cleveland.
 Third base — Al Rosen, Cleveland.
 Shortstop — Phil Rizzuto, New York.
 Center field — Dom DiMaggio, Boston.
 Catcher — Larry Berra, New York.
NATIONAL LEAGUE:
 First base — Whitely Lockman, New York.

Cleveland Moves From 4th Place

CHICAGO (AP)—Cleveland moved from a fourth-place tie to a near second-spot deadlock Saturday with a 5-1 win over the Chicago White Sox behind Mike Garcia's canny eight-hit pitching and a 10-blow attack, including homers by Larry Doby and Mike Easter.

Top Shooters Vie For Rich Pot In Skeet Tournament

DALLAS (AP)—Outstanding skeet shooters of the Southwest will vie for a rich collection of trophies and cash awards in the annual Pan-American Open tournament Thursday through Sunday.

With the exception of the national championships, which will be held here July 20-26, this is the Southwest's biggest skeet show and will draw approximately 150 competitors.

An added attraction is the target event scheduled Saturday afternoon when competitors will be graded by gun gauges and assigned weapons on the basis of the 1951 and 1952 registered averages.

The first half of the Pan-American 20 target all-gauge championship will be fired Saturday morning and the last half Sunday.

One of the most keenly contested races will be the junior championship for lads under 17 years old. Among the expected entries are Jimmy Clark of Bartlesville, Okla., who won the national small gauge championship last summer; Leo Henslee of Galveston, newly crowned Texas champion and open high-over-all runner-up in the recent Far West Nationals at Elko, Nevada; Eddie Harris of Galveston, who set a world's record winning the national sub-junior title here last year; Jack Rogers of Palestine, 150 national sub-junior titlist; and Jimmy Bradshaw of Waco.

Rookie Race Is Wide Open

NEW YORK (AP)—With the campaign approaching the halfway mark, the battle for major league baseball's rookie of the year honors is a wide open affair.

Outfielder Jim Rivera of the St. Louis Browns and pitcher Wilmer (Vinegar) Ben Mizell of the St. Louis Cardinals were pre-season favorites to cop the freshman awards but both are finding the going a bit rough.

Rivera, after a slow start, is beginning to click while Mizell, always a slow starter, has flashed now and then the form that made him a standout in every minor league in which he performed.

Outfielder Bob Nieman of the Browns and pitcher Willard Schmidt of the Cards also are numbered among the candidates for the recruit laurels.

Cubs Defeated By Ninth-Inning Rally

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, virtually helpless against the pitching of Bob Rush for eight innings, pushed across two runs in the last of the ninth Saturday for a 3 to 2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The victory ended a five-game Cincinnati losing streak.

Rush had held the Reds to three widely scattered hits until the ninth.

In the ninth with Cincinnati behind 2-1, Ted Kluszewski scored Grady Hatton with a single and made second when Gene Hermanski's throw got by Bill Sereno.

Rush walked Willard Marshall intentionally and Seminick delivered his game winning wallop after Joe Adcock has fled out. The drive brought in Bob Borrowski, who was running for Kluszewski.

A's Humiliate Yankees 12-0

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Shantz, the mighty mite of the Philadelphia Athletics, breezed to his 13th victory of the season Saturday as the A's humiliated the world champion New York Yankees, 12-0.

Shantz permitted only two safeties and also participated in the 14-hit assault against Johnny Sain and Tom Morgan, driving in two runs on a single, double and squeeze bunt.

Gus Zernial was the big man for the A's, batting in five runs on his 11th and 12th home runs of the season. Zernial connected with one aboard in the first inning and climaxed a six-run second inning uprising with a three-run homer.

Walt Masterson Averages Discard

BOSTON (AP)—Discarded by the Boston Red Sox about two weeks ago, veteran Walt Masterson avenged himself against his former teammates Saturday by turning in a five-hit pitching performance that gave the Washington Senators their fifth straight victory 5-1.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Stan Musial blasted a triple to run his consecutive hitting streak to 24 games and Solly Hemus smashed his eighth home run as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 today.

Pitcher Johnny Yuhas, who relieved Joe Pesko in the seventh inning, won his second victory in as many days.

Rain Washes Three Westex's Battles

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain washed out three West Texas-New Mexico League games Friday night and enabled the Albuquerque Dukes to move into a tie for second place.

The Dukes beat Abilene 4-1 on a four-hit pitching job by Jesse Priest. It was the eighth win in nine starts for Albuquerque in a drive that has carried them from seventh place.

Priest had a shutout cooking until the ninth when two singles, a walk and an outfield error brought the lone Abilene run across the plate.

Fred Schmidt gave only six hits in losing. The teams warmed up their current series last night.

Friday, Lamesa was rained out at Clovis, as was Lubbock at Amarillo and Pampa at Borger. Doubleheaders were scheduled in three towns last night.

Steve O'Neill Takes Over As Manager Of Phillie Kids

League Goes To Supreme Court

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Interscholastic League looked toward the State Supreme Court today in its fight to enforce a rule forbidding all-star football games on high school property.

Losing both in the Trial Court and the Court of Civil Appeals, the league, said its director, K.J. Kidd, will ask a rehearing and falling there will take the case to the highest court in the state.

If the opinion of the Court of Civil Appeals at Fort Worth stands, it is indicated that all-star games will be allowed to function anywhere school boards furnish the stadium in which to play.

The ruling of the appeals court yesterday at Fort Worth was that the league had no power to ban high school all-star games such as the Oil Bowl at Wichita Falls.

It was over the Oil Bowl that the league got into court. Midwestern University filed suit for injunction to prevent the league from penalizing Wichita Falls High School for allowing use of its stadium for the Oil Bowl game, a football contest in August that matches high school stars from Texas against Oklahoma. Midwestern has a lease on the stadium to stage six games a year. It has been giving over one date to the Oil Bowl.

Sports Entertain Wheeler Nine

The Pampa Sports will play host to the Wheeler home team baseball nine this afternoon at Oiler Park. Game time is 3 p.m.

The Sports, one of the strongest amateur ballclubs in the area, has several members who have played college ball as well as having played professional ball at one time.

This afternoon it is expected that Andy Troop will try and fireball the Sports past the Wheeler club. Admission is 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

All-Stars Win Third Straight

LEFORS (Special) — The Lefors All-Stars girls' softball team, won its third consecutive game here Wednesday night, downing Shamrock Lassies, 6-3.

The All-Stars hold wins over Wheeler, 19-1, and Mobeetie, 19-6.

The All-Stars are still looking for games within a hundred miles of Lefors. They may be scheduled by writing or calling C. A. Martin.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies, floundering in the National League's second division, changed managers in mid-season today with veteran Steve O'Neill replacing onetime college professor Eddie Sawyer "for the good of the club."

Owens, Bob Carpenter announced the shift Friday night at a hastily called meeting of sportswriters in Shibe Park clubhouse following the Phillies' 6 to 0 win over the New York Giants.

Carpenter didn't say it, but it was apparent he was trying to put some whiz back in the "Whiz Kids" — the collection of youngsters who slid into the National League pennant on the final day of the 1950 season and have had to be content to rest on these laurels ever since, despite some fretful goading by the usually quiet spoken, easy-going Sawyer.

City Women Golfers Awarded Trophies

Contestants in the Pampa Women's City Golf Tournament were awarded their prizes yesterday afternoon at a luncheon held at the Pampa Country Club. The tournament finished its three day run Friday morning with little 15-year-old Lila Austin unseating veteran champion Jean Duenkel as city champion.

Lynda Gayle Austin was the winner of the first flight, defeating Orpha Mitchell, 1 up on 19 holes. Shirley Austin edged Oak Ave Whittle, 2-1, for the consolation crown in the championship flight, while Juanita Tinsley captured the first flight consolation.

BUD ABBOTT

Huber Invitational Underway Thursday

The second annual Huber Invitational Golf Tournament will get underway this week with a West Texas Pro-Amateur Tournament on July 3. The tournament itself will run through three days, July 4-5-6.

Medalist play is slated for July 4 and an exceptionally large field is expected due to the three-day holiday many area linksters will enjoy.

Bud Abbott, defending champion, is sure to be back and he is sure of all kinds of competition from such veteran golfers as Amarillo's Chick Dawson, C. F. McGinnis, Clare Freeman and Grover Austin, Jr., of Pampa, W. L. Erady of Borger and some junior golfers named Rex Baxter, Jr., and Tommy Hale.

Trophies and prizes such as watches, luggage and golfing equipment in store for winners. A Dutch Lunch and Calcutta pool will be held on Friday night July 4.

Two matches will be played on July 5 and the semifinals and finals on July 6. Entry fee is $7.50. Home pro is Joe Houck.

Any Pampa golfers wishing to enter the pro-amateur are requested to notify Johnny Austin, phone 4410, before 10:30 a.m. Thursday so that handicaps may be established. The pro-am is open to men, ladies and juniors.

Hooper Ahead Of His Schedule

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Darrow Hooper of Texas A&M is ahead of his schedule in the shotput.

Hooper upset National Champion Parry O'Brien, Southern California, and the world record holder, Jim Fuchs of the New York Athletic Club in winning a place on the U. S. Olympic team.

Darrow, beaten this spring by both O'Brien and Fuchs, won with the best toss of his life, 57 feet 1 5/8 inches.

honors with a 7-6 victory over Barbara Austin.

The prizes were awarded by Professional Johnny Austin, and a hort talk was given by Warren Hasse, sports editor of the Pampa Daily News.

Among those present at the luncheon was Mrs. Grover Austin, Sr., who has turned out many fine golfers for the city of Pampa.

Greens Gossip

By HOGAN O'SNEAD

There was plenty of golfing last week for Pampa links fans, and this week promises to be just as big, if not bigger, starting today. But we'll never know how close we came to having things quieted down. Up until the rain Thursday and Friday the idea of closing the course until moisture arrived was being toyed with, in order to insure the life of the greens.

But, with the moisture, the city tournament swings into its final lap today in nearly every flight. The big scrap is going to be in the championship flight, and we'll be right on hand to see those fellows leave the first tee at 1 p.m.

Then later this week, starting on Thursday with a pro-am, the Huber Invitational gets underway. We — Pampa — ought to have a good representation over there and maybe bring home some of the over $1,000 worth of prizes. Borger and Phillips always support our Top of Texas well, so let's get a good crowd over there this weekend. If you can play in the pro-am, notify Johnny Austin before 10:30 Thursday morning.

We're going to be sweating out Jack Earle in that pro-am. He has now won four straight. Johnny says he hasn't won one in five years.

And a final word on that Huber Tournament, Joe Houck, the home pro, said he wouldn't be able to hold the tournament unless Tommy White showed up. So anybody knowing his whereabouts, get him over there.

Gals Tournament

The gals completed a fine, though small, tournament Friday. And it was a big thrill for little 15-year-old Lila Austin to capture her first tournament. And we say first because that girl is destined to win many more before too long. At the same time, little 12-year-old Lynda Gayle Austin also was a champion, winning the first flight crown. These young ladies are just as tough as the junior boys.

And speaking of junior boys, we saw seven of them playing Saturday morning out there, for all they were worth. And they play for tees each hole just like the adults play for dimes.

We saw little Lila, the new women's champion, hit that lengthy number four green with a drive and a four iron in her final round. That's powdering the ball, especially when it is a pair of woods and a pitch for most men.

One of the best matches of the men's tournament was the one last Sunday between Grover Heiskell and Marvin Harris. Grover was even par over the 18 to win a 2-1 victory. He birdied 10, 11; pared 12-13; and then birdied 14 with a hole-out on an 80 foot approach shot.

And talking about salty golfers, George Thompson and George Casey are moving about Hal McCray being rough. Seems they lost some soda pops to the little round man with the personable smile.

We'll see you out at the first tee this afternoon. Good luck to you two finalists.

Big Train Clements To Face Dory Funk On Local Mat Card

Professional wrestling will return to Pampa July 1. Promoter Howard Vineyard has announced. And he has secured the makings of an outstanding card for the fans.

Headlining the program will be a pair of great Pampa favorites, Big Train Clements and Dory Funk. Both have held the Southwestern Junior Heavyweight Championship, now worn by Tony Morelli. Both are well known and rough.

Big Train drew the ire of most of the Pampa fans in his appearances here during the winter as he huffed and puffed his way to many victories in methods that didn't exactly correspond with rules laid down in rule books on wrestling.

Funk, the former Big Ten 175 pound king and more recently foreman at Boys' Ranch, is starting the comeback trail in an effort to regain his Southwestern title.

The matches will again be held at Oiler Park, with complete information on the rest of the card and ticket information being released later.

Why Use A Scope Sight

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

Most people think of telescopic rifle sights as twentieth century gadgets, newfangled niceties like those ventilator holes on the family sedan. But optical sights were in use before our Civil War, and in that fracas snipers used scope-up rifles to knock generals off their chargers.

Early examples of rifle glassware were crude and extremely fragile, although they made possible fine long-range accuracy with ponderous .50 caliber muzzle-loaders. The speed-up in rifle sight design began about 20 years ago, with the German optical plants taking a lead that wasn't fully wiped out until after this past war.

At that stage of the game, the scope really began its heyday in this country. U.S. rifle shooters now have available glass sights that are the best in the world for ruggedness against kick and the beating we give our hunting rifles, for exactness of adjustment, for brilliance and those other points of optical quality that mean real seeing excellence.

For almost any kind of rifle, big game, small game, or paper targets, they're as far ahead of iron sights as a 1952 Cadillac is ahead of a 1920 Overland. So now I've gone out on a limb—let's see why it's a tough one to stay off.

With any type of iron sights, the Rocky Mountain buckhorn or flat-topped leaf, the peep sight on the receiver or the tang, your eyes are up against a tough problem in optics. With open sights you must focus on three points all at once—on the notch of the rear leaf, the blade or head of the front sight, and on the target way out yonder.

With a peep, proper aiming procedure calls for letting the peep ring or hole go fuzzy, but the eye is still expected to focus both on a front sight perhaps 30 inches away and on a bull's-eye or a buck's shoulder a hundred yards out. Young eyes can get away with such stunts. Old ones can't, and the eyes of the average guy past 40 have lost much of their power of multiple-distance focus.

With the scope there's no such problem. You look through the glass only at your target; and the reticle or aiming point, be it crosshairs, a vertical flat-topped post, a round dot, or any combination of these, seems to be projected out into space, pasted flat on your target. To hold high for a long shot, you just move that aiming marker where you want it on the animal.

And the target comes in closer. If the scope you're using is a 2½X, the magnification most common for big game use, the bull elk looms up at only 40 yards instead of 100. If it's four-power, a sheep 200 yards down the slide appears to you at 50. You can see what you're shooting at. The glass will tell you whether that set of legs in the brush belongs to a buck or a doe, because you'll be able to see antlers, if there are any, some 2 1/2 or 4 times as clearly as with the naked eye. You can see what you shouldn't shoot at, too. I've never heard of a hunter being mistaken for a deer by a rifleman using a scope.

You can see later into the evening than you can with iron sights. One Quebec moose I killed was to the naked eye just a blob against the dark spruces. Through my scope it showed as a good bull, with the shoulder clear enough for a certain shot.

Has Traveling Hurt Maxwell?

DENTON, Texas — Billy Maxwell, the 21-year-old U. S. Amateur golf champ, is doing more traveling than ever these days. And the long jaunts may be telling on the youth's performances.

After winning the second Southern Intercollegiate golf tourney with a 72-hole total of 283 he hot-footed it for Europe. His first title was the British Amateur title. But he was eliminated by David Blair, a retired British Army major, early in the going.

Next stop for Billy was a hop across the channel to Paris for the French Amateur championship. This time he lost in the finals to a fellow American, Dick Chapman.

As soon as this tourney was completed Billy rushed for a plane that zoomed him back to Texas for the U. S. Open at the Northwood Club in Dallas. He arrived just in time for the first day's activities. But was eliminated after the first two rounds.

Maxwell will defend his U. S. Amateur crown Aug. 18-23 in Seattle, Wash.

Clem Koshorek, rookie infielder for the Pittsburgh Pirates, was born in Royal Oak, Mich., but both of his parents were born in Poland.

DANGER OF DIETS CITED IN ARTICLE

For many of this country's 25,000,000 overweight adults, watching diets have become a dominant theme. But the frightening fact is that many of the most popular diets are extremely dangerous. In an article titled, "Which Diets Are Dangerous," a recent issue of a national magazine lists some of the most prevalent reducing plans and tells why they can cause serious trouble.

Why not try the Barentzate way to take off ugly fat? Barentzate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction. No starvation diet. No calorie counting. No vitamins, for you can't live on vitamins. You must have food to live. Nothing harmful in Barentzate. Nearly four and a quarter million bottles sold in Texas in nine years. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barentzate. Pour into a pint bot-le or jar. Add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If your first bottle doesn't show you the way to reduce easily, sensibly and safely, return it empty bottle for your money back.

10 Pounds Lost
"My doctor told me I must lose weight so I started taking Barentzate. I lost 10 pounds taking eight bottles," writes Mrs. John Truhan, Route 1, Box 102, Alta Loma, Texas. "I ate what I wanted and I feel better than I have in several years. I think Barentzate is wonderful."

Reduces 12 Pounds
Mrs. Maude Kelley, 1720 Avenue E, Georgetown, Texas, writes us as follows: "I have lost 12 pounds taking Barentzate and think it is a wonderful medicine."

LaMesa Park Putting On Polish For Opening; Pampa Horses Set

LA MESA PARK, Baton, N.M.—LaMesa Park is ready to open its Seventh Annual Race Meet with a three day weekend on Friday July 11th. All of the more than 500 stalls on the grounds have been reserved and Racing Secretary Harvey Foster has more than three hundred Thoroughbreds and Quarter Horses registered in his office.

Presiding Steward Max L. Hoops is on the ground, prepared to keep La Mesa Park racing improving with each year of operation. A. E. "Sport" Barrett, Clerk of the Scales and Associate Steward, is supervising the 'schooling' of horses out of the starting gate.

Increased interest in the 1952 Race Meet is reflected in the biggest flood of stall applications in history and the fact that all Box Seat tickets for the opening weekend have already been sold. Horse Owners and Trainers from the five states which annually lead in attendance at La Mesa Park, who are scheduled to perform this year include:

White Deer Pastor Moves

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Rev. M. V. Mears, who recently resigned as pastor of the First Baptist Church here to accept the pastorate of the First Southern Baptist Church of Buckeye, Ariz., will preach his last message at White Deer Sunday, June 29.

He has served as pastor of the White Deer church for two years and four months. During this time 118 additions, 54 by baptism, have been made to the church.

Sunday school attendance has increased 73 per cent; a training union was organized with Harvey Bates as director; a men's brotherhood group was organized with Clifford C. Kelley as president; and the support of Rev. and Mrs. John C. Cory, missionaries among the Pema-Melicopa Indians near Lehi, Ariz., was made part of the church program.

The nursery department was reorganized and auxiliary units of the Royal Ambassadors, Girls Auxiliary and Sunbeams were organized.

Farmers Urged To Hold Wheat Off The Market

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is urging wheat farmers to hold some of their grain off the market during the current harvest season to keep prices from falling.

This action is being taken at a time when political leaders are keeping a close tab on farm prices for possible influence on farmer voting in the presidential election. Literature being circulated in wheat-producing areas, the department's production and marketing administration is telling farmers this year's prospective big crop could cause prices to drop considerably.

One way to prevent this, it says, is to store wheat under the department's price support program until prices get better. A sharp drop in prices might well become a campaign issue, as was the case in 1948. In the last election, Democrats named a Republican Congress, contending it weakened the government's ability to support prices by limiting the department's authority to provide storage facilities.

This year the Democratic administration has had a free rein in setting farm policies and programs. It has set price supports for wheat and other major crops at the top limit of price support legislation, and has had full authority to provide storage facilities.

This year's wheat crop has been forecast at 1,326,000,000 bushels, a third larger than last year. The administration has promised to support the grain at a national average of not less than $2.10 a bushel.

In its circular to growers, the department said records of past performance in the marketing and price of wheat show that historically more than a third of the crop is sold in July and August.

"Prices during these months in the big crop years are usually considerably below wheat prices during the remainder of the year, and also below the support price," it says.

The department says farmers should not sell lower than the government support price. If market prices drop below support levels, it says, farmers should store their grain on the farm or in approved warehouses and get a government price support loan on it.

A similar "hold-off-the-market" campaign was carried on by the department in the case of cotton last year, when cotton prices started tumbling after prospects of a big crop.

Officials said plans are being made to use the same technique for corn, soybeans and other crops should big production start pulling prices downward.

Mary Elizabeth Logan And W.R. Cree Wed In Abilene

MRS. WILLIAM RICHARD CREE

Before an altar banked with greenery and baskets of pink and white gladioli and flanked with candelabra, wedding vows were exchanged between Miss Mary Elizabeth Logan and Mr. William Richard Cree Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Central Presbyterian Church in Abilene.

Miss Logan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Logan, 218 Douglas, Sweetwater, and Mr. Cree is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Cree, 1100 Mary Elen.

Rites for the double-ring ceremony were read by Rev. Frank B. Travis. Pre-nuptial music included "Moonlight Sonata," "Lord's Prayer," and "Claire de Lune" by Mrs. J. Gordon Weiss, organist.

Miss Dell Aevitt of Abilene attended the bridesmaid and honor attendants were Mrs. Reid, sister of the bridegroom, Pampa, Miss Marion Pechacek and Miss La Verne Livingood, both of Abilene.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids were dressed alike in pale yellow, strapless dresses fashioned with chintilly lace bodices which ended in points at the waistlines. Bouffant skirts of nylon net were capped with plenums of chintilly lace.

Bridesmaids carried pink and blue flowers shaped with blue nylon net fans. The maid of honor's flowers were blue.

L. A. J. Berry of Ft. Stockton served as best man. Ushers were R. L. Scheig, Pampa, W. E. Howard Jr., Beaumont, and W. C. Swain, Houston.

The flower girl, Miss Diane Reid of Pampa was dressed in a yellow organza dress and matching hat. She scattered rose petals in the bridal path from a white satin basket trimmed with blue streamers. G. B. Cree III, nephew of the bridegroom, Pampa, was ring bearer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candelight satin dress with a long, chapel train. An overdress of chintilly lace came to a point just above the hemline in front and rounded above the train in back. The bride's finger - tip veil of French illusion flowed from a Juliet cap of chintilly lace.

A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray E. Body, 865 Styles Blvd., Abilene, followed the ceremony. Assisting the couple in receiving guests were the bride's mother, the bridegroom's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Cree Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Cree all of Pampa.

A color scheme of pink, blue, yellow and white was used in the flower decorations throughout the house. The bride's table was laid with imported linen cloth and was centered by a fan-shaped arrangement of pink and blue flowers flanked by silver candelabra. A silver punch service was used in serving guests.

Guests were present from Pampa, Sweetwater, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Beaumont, Austin, Killen and Wichita Falls.

Following a wedding trip to the West Coast, the couple will make their home at 1733 Sycamore, Abilene. For her traveling ensemble the bride chose a steel blue two-piece dress with blue and white trim and all-white accessories. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

The bride is a former student of Texas Technological College, Lubbock. Mr. Cree attended Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., and Texas University where he was a member Theta Xi Fraternity. He is connected with the Cree Production Co.

Sound Off By A Leaguer

Character close-up of the week concerns Mrs. W. B. Herr, chairman of voters service. In the League of Women Voters, voters service includes giving information to the public about qualifying to vote and voting, explaining public questions appearing on the ballot, giving information about candidates for office, their records and their opinions on important issues; holding candidates' meetings; reaching new voters in a word, all the many activities that the League undertakes to develop a more informed and responsible electorate.

Mrs. Herr, nee Margie Crawford, was born in Muenster, Texas, a town in which her family was the only non-German household. From choice Margie studied German throughout grade school with the result that when she entered college she was given three language credits. She was graduated from Kidd Key, a college in Sherman, Texas, with a major in Public Speaking with a minor in Child Psychology. Upon completion of special education courses at Denton she taught in public schools for four years, serving as Principal for one year.

She grew up with the boy who later became her husband. They went through grade and high schools together. Mr. and Mrs. Herr have two children: Gayle, a student at Arlington State College, and Billy, who will be a Senior in Pampa High School this September.

Gayle has been an honor student throughout her college career and has received honorable mention in three categories: creative design, fashion design, and fashion illustration. Since the age of ten her heart has been set upon reaching the goal of a fashion designer. As proof that her art is not purely theoretical, she designs and makes all her own clothes.

Billy was signally honored this spring by being chosen to represent Pampa at Boys' State in Austin early in June. Mr. and Mrs. Herr have lived in Pampa ten years. Last November they celebrated their silver wedding anniversary.

Margie's hobby, aside from her church work, which amounts almost to a lifework, and her family, is bridge. "I find it completely relaxing," she said, "and I can lose myself in a lively game." She enjoys reading of a more serious nature and the preparation of plenty of what she calls "good, plain food."

Her hope for the League is to see it grow and continue to render a service to an ever widening citizenry. "Voters service is a year-round job, in all years, not just election year, but it reaches its peak just before an election. Our goal is to reach the maximum number of potential voters with information that

A reception in the home of Mrs. McConnell, the groom's mother, honored the bride-elect. The living room was decorated with roses and snap dragons. Teens Learn Charm And Good Grooming

By ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor. The ability to be charming depends very much on your grooming. This may sound far-fetched, but actually it is not at all. As a teen-ager you can't learn this lesson too well.

Imagine, for instance, how impossible it would be for you to appear relaxed when you knew your lipstick had been applied haphazardly, your hair was hanging in limp strands, and your shoes were scuffed and soiled.

How often have you refused to join the gang for a last-minute gathering because you were ashamed of the way you looked? You'll never learn the techniques of charm if your appearance makes you feel self-conscious and shy.

There is nothing that will give you as much confidence as knowing that you are perfectly groomed. Allow yourself enough time to apply make-up, comb your hair and dress with care. Once you leave the privacy of your room, you should not have to think about your appearance. And this is the secret of charm.

By turning your thoughts away from yourself, you will be able to show an honest interest in your friends. Saying and doing the gracious and charming things will become a natural part of your personality. Everyone will love having you as a part of the group.

The next time you find yourself sneaking looks into your handbag mirror, patting and primping your hair, and picking at your peeling nail polish, recognize the truth of the matter. These are actions that destroy your attempts at charm. Whether or not they succeed is up to you.

PERFECT MERINGUE
 To make a meringue for a nine inch cream pie, beat two egg whites with one-quarter teaspoon salt until stiff, then beat in four tablespoons sugar slowly until smooth and glossy. Bake in a low (325F.) oven until meringue is brown on top and firm.

State Health Officer Outlines Eight Steps In Fighting Polio

AUSTIN, Texas — A long-range battle plan against rampaging polio was outlined Wednesday by the State Department of Health, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox recommended these eight points of action in combating the disease which this year is striking harder at Texas than at any other part of the nation.

1. Spot spray insect breeding places after they have been cleaned up and destroyed. Spraying indiscriminately might kill a few mosquitos on the wing, but it won't do the job. It might kill valuable plants and create a false sense of security.
2. Get rid of animal shelters in urban areas. They cannot be kept clean and consequently create a health hazard as fly breeders.
3. Get rid of dump piles, tin cans, old tires, and accumulated debris which breed flies and mosquitos and provide harborage for rats.
4. Provide a properly operated sewerage system, and get rid of all surface toilets. Dr. Cox believes surface toilets constitute one of the major health hazards facing Texas.
5. Provide a source of pure water.
6. Protect food supplies in wholesale business houses, retail shops, and in private homes.
7. Make regular inspections of all premises to see that no possibility exists for fly breeding. If you have flies, somebody is maintaining a breeding spot.
8. Garbage should be placed in fly tight garbage cans until time of disposal. Tubs, boxes, lidless garbage cans, etc., are of no value.

Smith Heads Dimes Drive

AUSTIN — Brig. Gen. Robert J. Smith of Dallas, president of Pioneer Airlines, has been named Texas state chairman for the 1953 "March of Dimes" appeal for funds to carry on the fight against polio.

The appointment was announced today by Basil O'Connor, national president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. General Smith will succeed Lloyd Gregory of Houston, Texas state chairman for the March of Dimes held last January.

"I have long been closely interested in the national foundation's fight against polio, and I welcome the opportunity to be able to participate in the March of Dimes and personally help the campaign to overcome the disease," Gen. Smith declared.

General Smith, one-time attorney with a background of more than 25 years in aviation, has been head of Pioneer Airlines, operating in Texas and New Mexico, for six years. He previously held executive posts with American Airlines and Braniff Airways, and during World War II was a brigadier general in the Air Transport Command, serving in North Africa.

One Man's Opinions ... MacArthur Labeled As A Man Who Places His Country First

By HENRY McLEMORE

More Things I Believe: This country is on the skids when a man has to pay two dollars and a half for a watermelon, and not a ripe one either. I will remember the day when you could buy a watermelon for a nickel, and the sickle watermelon had a deep red heart, coal black seeds, and the sweetness of a stolen cookie.

Ninety per cent of the men who make the laws which regulate this republic are dull, ill-mannered, and could not successfully run a bank or a big industry, or write their own speeches. If this sounds harsh, it is harsh only because of the legislators I have met. If it came to a show-down I would choose Bill O'Dwyer as the very nicest politician I ever met. Without knowing, I assume he cut a few corners, but he's been persecuted and is being persecuted worse than men who jeopardize this country's safety. It makes no sense. O'Dwyer is gracious, knowing, sentimental, and gentlemanly. Please pause to think of the hoodlums this country has spawned without one of them being given the bitter treatment O'Dwyer has had to endure. I believe that politicians are trying to go to Albany and Washington over his body and I don't like it. They are using the Irishman for a steppingstone they hope. I'm going to be in Mexico in a couple of weeks and I suppose some people will think I'm writing this in the hope of an Embassy favor. Nothing could be further from the truth. This is written in the cause of fair play, and for no other reason.

Things I Don't Believe: That you have to walk forty miles to lose a pound. That people who own poodles own poodles because they love poodles and do not consider them fashionable. That green grass, trees to climb, and rivers to swim in, build healthier bodies than the cement playgrounds of cities. For proof I offer you the guarantee that the toughest prize-fighters who ever lived came off the hard, uncomfortable pavements of big cities. If you want more proof, study where, the good football players come from. They come from coal mine cities where life is hard.

That announcers of television sport shows are necessary. If your television set is all the manufacturer said it was, a viewer could see with his own eyes what is happening. To continue what I don't believe, I don't believe that men tiptoe upstairs after poker parties or hate their mothers-in-law, or that processed cheese has any taste. Or that advertising men are human. Or that white eggs are any better than brown ones, or that rich women wear furs in the summer because they're cold.

What a parcel of beliefs I have given you today! You can't say I'm not generous with my little mind.

Claims Livestock Decline Seasonal

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A spokesman for the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association believes the current livestock market decline "is just sort of a seasonal flop in prices."

Horace Hening, Albuquerque, secretary of the association, said he believed prices will pick up again soon.

"We checked the markets over the country and it is a general nationwide situation," he said after he and members of the Clovis Stockyard Association discussed the matter. "We believe it is just seasonal and prices will pick up when cooler weather arrives."

Clovis prices dropped $1 to $4 last week.

The Dominican Republic, West Indies, contains more than 70 varieties of minerals.

Rationing On Some Types Of Ammunition

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department says it has been forced to ration some types of ammunition in Korea.

But the department said such rationing is not an unusual military situation and does not mean soldiers are without shells for their guns.

Pampa Attorneys Will Hear Writer

At least four Pampa attorneys will get to hear novelist Earl Stanley Gardner next week when he addresses the 70th annual Texas State Bar convention, July 2 to 5, in Houston.

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. — (AP) — The sesquicentennial celebration in this community promises to produce an excellent and varied crop of beards.

Other awards will be made for the best "mutton chops" with a mustache, the best goatee, the best handle-bar mustache, the best Van Dyke beard, the best Gabby Hayes beard and the baldheaded man with the longest beard.

Rats Like Money

NAGOYA, Japan (AP) — Kintaro Murakami, a lumber dealer, didn't like rats. He hid yen worth $150 behind a picture frame.

One day he found it gone. He called police. They found his hoard, but it was in the ceiling. Rats had torn it into bits to make a nest.

Conditioning Industry Welcomes Summer Weather

NEW YORK (AP)—Sweltering ahead will be welcomed by air conditioning industry as the latest phase of the industry, started 50 years ago—in a Brooklyn printing plant. For years conditioning was confined to industrial—still major users. Commercial buildings took it up in the 1920's, theaters, restaurants, and finally stores and buildings. Chicago's convention building has just put in a system, designed to keep politicians cool month.

Now air conditioning has gone into a billion-dollar industry. And if a round air conditioner for the home is right down in cost to the owner of the lower end home, the industry might make a major move.

More than three million tons of air conditioning capacity is in use in this country. It is installed in the last years. Carrier Corporation says the practical air conditioning system was installed in a Brooklyn printing plant by Dr. Will's carrier just 50 years ago month. It was designed to control humidity and make printing better.

Conditioning entered the electrical industry in 1908 when Carrier Corporation supplied refrigeration for a Newark, N. J., making a film base for infant moving picture industry. The system eliminated the specks early movie goes to see. Then conditioning has spread through many industries. Conditioning is used to control water vapor in textile mills, to get the correct humidity of a metal mainspring in watch, to permit accurate measurements in turning out high-

New Type Of Gold Rush Is Underway

By DOROTHY ROE
NEW YORK (AP)—A new gold rush is under way. This time the prospectors are traveling by airliners instead of covered wagons, and their tools are scissors and needles instead of picks and shovels.

But the movement is still westward, from Paris to New York, and the French have struck it rich in the good old U.S.A.

French designers are cleaning up as they stake out sections of the $1 billion U. S. fashion business, and things never looked so good.

Leader of this new Gallic invasion is Christian Dior, who rocketed to fame a few years ago as father of the post-war "new look," and now is branching out in all directions on both sides of the Atlantic.

The astute and bookish-looking Dior maintains his custom salon in Paris for purposes of prestige, but his big operations are in New York, where he has ventures in many lines of clothing and accessories, including men's ties.

Previewing his fall collection of dresses, suits and coats to some 150 visiting fashion editors during New York's hectic press week, Dior unveiled what he calls "the campaign look," named after a church bell tower.

Dior announces that the sharply nipped waist is out this year, and now "the tendency is only to caress the figure."

Trail blazer for the Parisian prospectors was Mme. Elsa Schiaparelli, who now conducts a highly successful wholesale coat and suit business in New York's garment district, manufacturing perfume and stockings in addition, and designing everything from mattresses to dolls at various times. She also is taking a whirl at the lucrative men's tie business.

Pierre Balmain and Jacques Fath also present American collections.

Noting the success of the French in the U.S. fashion gold mines, Italian designers now are following suit, with Mme. Micol Fontana among the first to set up shop in New York.

Austria Bans Sew Cure-All

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Austrian government has banned the country's latest fad wonder cure-alls—half-hatcheggs.

Officials said nine-day-old emchicks were a great restoration source of hormones applied in Austria about three months ago.

Merchandise suddenly found bustling, with the half-incubated eggs selling for seven or eight times the price of a fresh egg.

St. Anna's University Clinic tests the claims. One doctor and 15 patients took the nine-day-old eggs every day for a month, first in the morning.

The patients claimed they felt "stronger" than before.

The clinic's official verdict: they don't appear to do any good, and they don't appear to do harm.

The Ministry of Social Welfare banned sale of the eggs.

"Under the food laws," the ministry said, "they are spoiled. Under the drug laws, medicine can be sold only in drug stores."

Million Dollars For Campaigning

STON (AP)—Sinclair Weeks, national finance chairman of the Republican Party, says the GOP needs of the Chicago convention will have about one million dollars on hand for campaigning—more than ever in history.

Here's Advice For Gin Players

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOOD
Written for NEA Service

One of the questions that puzzle many gin rummy players is when to take the up-card just because it happens to be a very low card.

For example, suppose your opponent is the dealer and turns up an ace. You practically never use to pick up an ace. It's not only a matter of how important the ace is to help you reduce; will surely take the ace if you refuse it.

Even if you don't need it much yourself, you must prevent your opponent from getting that ace.

Duces are slightly less valuable, but the same argument holds good for the most part. A trey is less valuable than a deuce, but still worth something as a reducer. A four is just barely worth some consideration as a reducer, but not much consideration.

In general, you pick up an ace or deuce, but you tend to refuse a three or a four. We assume, of course, that the low card does not fit your hand. If it gives you a meld, pick it up automatically. If a three or a four gives you additional combinations, without ac-

The trouble with making combinations with low cards is that you practically commit yourself to accumulate three melds before you can knock. The ideal style in gin is to play for two melds of high cards and a few low cards that total 10 points or less. It's usually harder to accumulate three melds.

Hence if you are considering picking up a three or a four because it gives you additional combinations, you must decide whether or not you have good chances to make three melds quickly. You must also decide how likely you are to get two melds and some low cards if you refuse this three or four.

Here's a pointer that will surprise most gin players. When you deal a low up-card, and your opponent refuses it—be careful of picking it up as a mere reducer.

Hints Two New Atom Plants In U. S.

CALGARY, Alta., (AP)—Carl O. Nickle, progressive conservative member of parliament, has declined to elaborate on his statement that two atomic power plants will be built in the United States, one of them in Texas.

Nickle only repeated what he said last Tuesday, when he revealed he had learned one such plant was under construction in Northern Michigan. He would not say where the Texas plant would be built.

Nickle said he disclosed this information to stress the importance of speed in reaching a decision on Canada's national natural gas policy.

ANOTHER METHOD OF DESTROYING LOCUSTS, SAWYER, IS TO HERD THEM INTO A MASS... THEN POUR POISONED OIL OVER THEM. THE U.S. IS MERELY SUPPLEMENTING SUCH EFFECTIVE METHODS BY DEMONSTRATING A PROGRAM OF AERIAL SPRAYING.

ALSO WE'RE TRAINING THEIR PILOTS SO THEY CAN DO THE WORK WITHOUT OUR HELP. OUR SOLE AIM IS TO HELP PREVENT A FAMINE, TO CONVINCING THE PEOPLE OF THE EAST THAT FRIENDLY NATIONS WORKING TOGETHER CAN DESTROY A COMMON ENEMY LIKE THE LOCUST.

New Oil Completions Set Pace For Panhandle

Operators Final 11 For 809 Barrels

Oil completions set the pace in the Panhandle last week and 11 new oilers, including a wildcat, were filed with the Railroad Commission with a total increased potential of 809 barrels, a new high for the month. Four gas wells were completed for 7,227 MCF and two wells were plugged.

The wildcat oiler was Gulf's No. 2 Haggard in Roberts County with a commission potential of 111 barrels. Operators staked six new locations. This does not include the No. 1 Locke wildcat staked this week end by G. B. Cree Jr. et al.

Cuba Rounding Up
 REDS AFTER RIOTS

HAVANA (AP)—Police ordered a roundup of Cuba's major Communist leaders today following a Red riot against Gen. Fulgencio Batista's government in which a bystander was killed.

Amibal Escalante, publisher of the Communist newspaper Hoy, was arrested in his office after the rioting last night.

Others tagged for arrest were Juan Marinello, president of the Socialist Popular Communist party; Party Secretary General Blas Roca, labor leader Lázaro Peña, and three Red members of the Chamber of Deputies—Manuel César Vilar.

Police who broke up the demonstration said the rioters fired first. A bystander, Martin Soterra Galegui, 67, died from a bullet wound received during the fracas.

Authorities said the demonstration protested Batista's decree dissolving all political parties until a new electoral law is ready.

Sun Cooker Developed
 NEW YORK (AP)—British scientists have come up with a "sun cooker" which may eliminate charcoal from the backyard barbecue, the British Information Service reports here.

The device collects heat by a system of mirrors ad lenses and focuses it on the cooking chamber. Scientists believe solar energy for industry may develop from this small start.

Greek Plays Slated
 SYRACUSE, Sicily (AP)—For the 12th time in this century, Greek tragedies will be performed in the ancient open-air theater here.

The two plays chosen for this season are "Oedipus at Colonus" by Sophocles and "The Trojan Women" by Euripides. The ancient grey stone Greek theater faces the beautiful bay of Syracuse, among the olive groves in a perfectly Hellenic setting.

New Process Makes Lignite Profitable To Use In Texas

ROCKDALE, Tex. (AP)—Here the middle of oil and gas in Texas will come a major test, a competing industrial fuel, lignite, coal which lies on surface and underground, too, a wide band across Texas and many parts of the West and Midwest.

A poor grade of coal, lignite, is the industrial fuel for the million-dollar Aluminum Company of America aluminum smelter plant which will go into operation near this Midland town this fall. The plant will be first aluminum smelting plant in nation to use electric power generated by burning lignite.

A profitable by-product is the tar separated from the lignite by the process.

The mining itself will not be expensive. At the start it will be strip mining, the lignite lies within sight of the plant. As the nearby surface deposits are scraped away, deeper deposits will be mined by conventional underground slope mining.

Texas Power & Light Co. itself uses lignite a number of years ago at its Trinidad, Tex., power plant but later switched to gas. The process which made lignite economically feasible had not yet been developed.

Among the first Texans to dream of putting lignite to extensive use was Dr. E. P. Schoch, retired professor of chemistry at the University of Texas. A more colorful contributor was J.S. Cullinan, wealthy Houston oil man. He spent his own money on lignite research but this stopped soon after Cullinan died of a heart attack in the San Francisco earthquake.

It was Cullinan who flew a skull and cross bones flag over his Houston headquarters when he won one of his many fights with other oil men.

In Texas' early days, lignite and the state's few bituminous coal deposits were an industrial mainstay. But the discovery of oil and gas saw the lignite and coal mines close, one by one.

ALCOA saw the first lignite drier unit, the most complete and tried operation, are scheduled for later this year. The big ALCOA plant is expected to be in complete production sometime next year.

More important, probably, is a by-developed process which has made it possible to convert raw lignite into a powerful fuel.

Dr. D. Harper, who will be in charge for ALCOA here, says ALCOA's decision to use lignite as a source of power was because we are hopeful with the development of the process, we will have the fuel that is competitive with all other sources of power, including natural gas.

The production of aluminum fires huge amounts of electricity. By keeping our power low—and we hope the cost of lignite-generated power will be as low as other sources of power—we can keep the cost of producing aluminum as low as steel.

Though lignite is a poor grade of coal, it is plentiful. Geologists there are 150 million tons in Com County, in which Rockdale is located.

There are very rich deposits in the Dakota and Montana and Texas but large deposits in the parts of the nation.

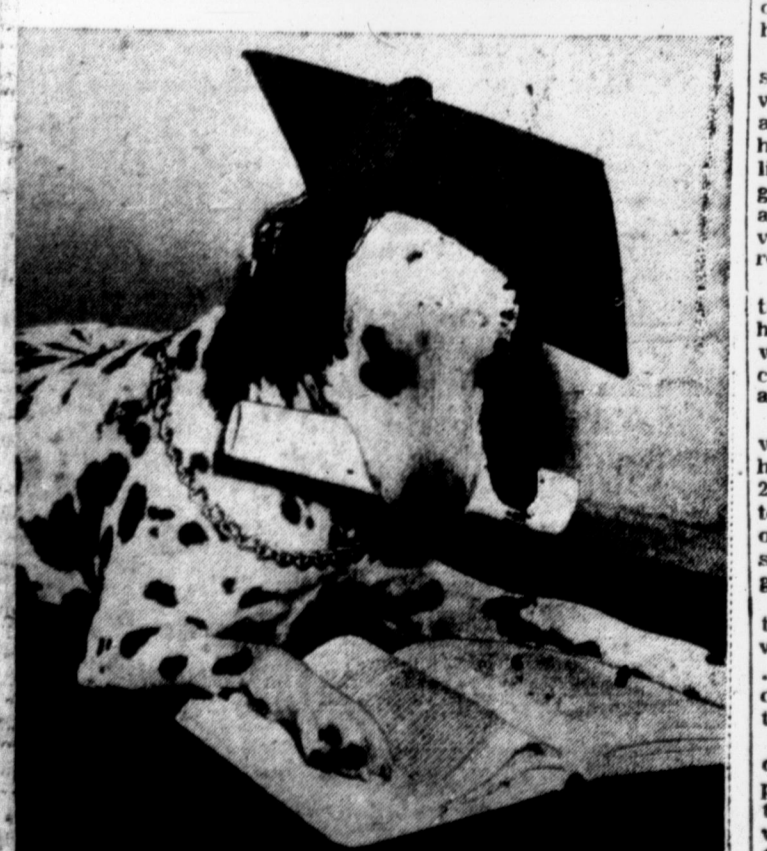

The lignite will undergo expensive processing before being used by O.A. Texas Power & Light Co. scored a two-year research contract undertaken by the U.S. Bureau of Mines which produced process.

White House With A Picture Window Ernie Pyle Memorial

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—After the man lies down and dies, his house stands and remembers.

Sometimes strangers take over the house, and the man who built it is forgotten.

It has been the other way with Ernie Pyle. Thousands of strangers have passed through the

Builds To Suit Self

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—After 40 years of working on houses for other people, John Ciesla, 62, a retired concrete worker, in building one to suit himself.

Ciesla just indulges his construction whims. For instance, there's a giant clock set in the house's cement finish that has immovable hands set at 11:28. He's not sure just why he picked that particular time.

The house is trimmed in varied shades of yellow, green, blue and red, sprayed over the cement. Green Cement flowers run up the sides of the building. The railing posts of the outside steps are adorned with cement heads with caricature-like faces.

Another cement face overlooking the outside stairs has eyes which are really concealed peepholes. And Ciesla is not finished yet.

Texan Stricken With Arthritis Wins Help From Strangers

LINCOLN, Texas (AP)—A man who fought a losing battle against the twisting torture of arthritis for 18 years has gained new courage because strangers 55 miles away had come to his aid.

Oscar Schiwart, his body immobilized by the wracking pain which held him on his bed as surely as if he had been chained all these years, headed for Seton Hospital in Austin.

Two doctors awaited his arrival. Their services will be without charge.

The hospital room and nursing care also will cost nothing for Schiwart, a 45-year-old man who had to be declared a pauper to qualify for $25 a month from Lee County. The county, a rural area of Texas, had no charity hospital or county nurse to help care for Schiwart.

The ambulance carrying Schiwart to Austin made the trip without charge.

Drugs which the doctors hope will kill the pain and help Schiwart's rehabilitation will be furnished by a druggist "at cost."

All this was made possible by the efforts of two Austin businessmen who heard of Schiwart's state and determined to help him. The men, Conrad Fath and Bob R. Lockart, knew what Schiwart was suffering because they had also suffered arthritis.

Fath and Lockart went to state agencies which they thought should be able to lend assistance. The answer was always the same: "Sorry, he doesn't qualify for help under the law that covers our work."

Fath and Lockart shifted their search to private citizens of Austin. There they found response. Joe Mann, volunteered the ambulance. Dr. Jim Kreisler and Dr. Lawrence Griffin offered their services. Druggist Everette Kelly agreed to supply the drugs on a non-profit basis.

The Rev. Albert F. Jesse of St. Paul Lutheran Church told his congregation about Schiwart and received pledges of financial assistance. He contacted Lee County Judge John S. Simming and gained a promise that Schiwart's monthly allotment would be raised to $40.

ness here, the vastness, the rabbits that came out every evening, the quail on his lawn every morning, the meadow larks across the unpaved road that said things like "your face is awfully pretty," and "here comes the preacher."

The rabbits, the quail, and the view are partly gone. They paved the street by his house, built new houses across the road that hide the faraway mountain except in winter. But there are children across the way, and Ernie, I am sure, would prefer them to his mountain view.

Most of those who come to his former home today are children, eager for the dreams that books bring. But also some 10,000 adult visitors have come to see the unpretentious home that Ernie built.

Hank Finds Love Life Of An Oyster An Interesting Study

By HENRY McEMORE
One of the nicest things about being a newspaperman is that you meet such interesting oysters.

Those who are not newspaper people met them only on the half shell, or in a bowl of stew, or disguised in a coat of mail made of cracker crumbs. I'm quite sure that the large majority of American oyster eaters associate them with the kitchen rather than the sea, and consider them extraordinarily palatable creatures.

Nothing could be further from the truth. An oyster has a little mind, a little heart, a fat stomach (which endears him to me even more), working hours and loafing hours, and, in short, is almost like us.

When I write as emphatically as this, most of my readers want to know how in the world I found out. They have accepted me through the years as one who clicks his heels in glee when he adds 5 and 6 and they come out 11, and when I use a three-syllable word my readers write and wire to congratulate me.

I learned about oysters when I paid a visit to a lovely gentleman named Royal Toner, who holds the resounding titles of Chairman of the Board of the National Fisheries Institute and Vice-President of the Oyster Institute of North America. He lives in a century-old home in Greenport, Long Island. It's at the very tip of Long Island and is the only home I have ever visited where tides change in the living room. Royal owns 4,000 acres of underwater oyster beds. He can trace his possession of this beneath-the-sea farm to the original Queen Anne grant.

For these acres of underwater "farms" he pays the same taxes as those who own acres of land. Each one of his "farms" is slaked out and the taxes go to pay for schools, fire departments, mayors' salaries, and paving. So far no one has seen an oyster go to school, run for mayor, catch on fire, or need a hospital, but the little fellows help pay for those things.

Royal and I rode around Peconic Bay on his boat, watching his oyster boats in operation. Oysters are just as good in months without R, but oyster growers have to have a few months to transplant oysters, to breed oysters, and to do everything else but lift them from sixty feet of water and lug them.

There are three necessary and risky steps in the development of oysters. The breeding of an oyster is just as scientific as the breeding of horses. Breed oysters are dropped overboard. Mama lays millions of eggs. Papa fertilizes them. The eggs ride on the surface for days, prey to every known bird of fish. Then the little ones who survive drop to the bottom and cling to anything they can find for a period of three months to one year.

Then they are scooped up and put into deeper water where there is more food. They stay there for two years, and just when they have their houses in order, they are dug up again and put in even deeper water, called "marketing water." There they stay for two years, or until they become five years old, which is their age when you eat them.

No one has yet been able to tell a boy oyster from a girl oyster. Girl oysters don't wear pink and boy oysters don't wear blue. But they have great versatility. Drop two boy oysters together and one of them will change into a girl, or drop two girl oysters and one of them will change into a boy.

I want to thank Mr. Toner and Mr. Abel Kessler for adding to my fund of knowledge, and my increased appreciation of the phrase, "I'll have a half dozen on the half shell."

Youngster Gets Lost

DETROIT (AP)—Little Michael Arvon, 2, apparently awoke from a nap, unhooked the screen door with a broomstick and just went for a walk.

Everything went along fine until he got scared of a dog. Neighbors reported he jumped into a parked car. When picked up by police the youngster was clutching a doll he had picked up in his travels.

Communist Action

The woman hanged herself because she was depressed by a letter from her mother in Kwei Ching. Her mother had written that her brother, having married a second time, had invoked a new Communist law which states that each household has to live by itself, and had thrown her aged mother out.

1952 POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Seven-year-old Karen Blecha enacts 1952 polio precautions recommended by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. When polio is around, the National Foundation cautions parents to watch for these signs: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, tenderness and stiffness of neck and back. A person showing such symptoms should be put to bed at once, away from others. Then, call your doctor and follow his advice. If polio is diagnosed, call your local chapter of the March of Dimes for advice and assistance including needed financial help.

North, East Texans Prepare For Polio

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS) Doctors in North and East Texas made plans Saturday for the expected spread of polio infection to their areas from the Houston epidemic.

Hospital administrators of Wichita Falls, Tyler, Dallas and Fort Worth met in Fort Worth Friday to discuss a growing shortage of hospital facilities for expert treatment of polio.

In Houston — as six new polio cases were reported — local authorities announced that 35,000 children will be used in a test that is hoped will prevent the crippling polio paralysis.

At the Fort Worth meeting it was decided that the movement of the disease from its source in Houston toward North and East Texas from Houston.

Three new polio patients were diagnosed in Dallas Friday. Fort Worth reported three new patients and one possible victim.

The Fort Worth City-County Hospital also refused its first patient — a McKinney child — because there was no space for out-of-area patients. Parkland Hospital in Dallas has been accepting only Dallas County patients for some time.

From now on the Fort Worth Hospital will accept polio patients from a 15-county trade area only.

"It may soon be that we'll just have to take care of the sickest," said Hospital Administrator Lowell Hudson.

Administrator Al Schreidt of Parkland said the meeting at Fort Worth recommended that the isolation period be shortened and home care encouraged where patients needed no specialized equipment.

Schreidt said the administrators also agreed on the relatively simple care needed by most polio patients — treatment which could be given at almost any hospital at the local level.

Paul Anstody of Wichita Falls General Hospital said he would have his hands full taking care of polio patients in his immediate vicinity.

In Houston the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is launching the mass inoculation of children — aged one to six. Half of the children will get a shot of common blood factor (gamma globulin) and the other half will get a non-effective substitute. The inoculation starts next Wednesday.

Hemphill Sees Bumper Year For Wheatmen

CANADIAN — (Special) — The two elevators in Canadiana had handled a total of 275,000 bushels of wheat during the present harvest, as of Saturday.

R. A. Ford, manager of the Canadian Grain Co-op, stated that slightly over 400,000 bushels had been handled by that elevator. The average test ran about 62 pounds per bushel, he estimated the harvest to be about completed.

Ford would not hazard a guess as to the general average per acre for the area served by his elevator, but stated that the best crop average of the few that have been completed and figured was the 31 1-2 bushel per acre average turned in by Henry Porter of near Durham, Oklahoma.

Jimmie Forrest, manager of Fraser Grain Company, stated they had handled 175,000 bushels, and that tests were running unusually good — the best to date being wheat delivered by J. P. Russell from southeast of Canadian, which tested 65.7 pounds per bushel.

Forrest said harvest was almost completed, and estimated that the general average for the area served by his elevator would be near 20 bushels per acre; one of the better yields turned in having been that of Raymond Hall — 35 bushels per acre.

Both elevator men stated that this harvest was one of the best as to quality, there being no trouble with moisture or weed seed.

The Tulsa World survey also found 114 completions including 45 oilers, two gasers, 50 dusters and four abandoned sites against 252 finals a week ago.

The average initial output of crude amounted to 4,918 barrels a day; of gas, 3,804,000 cubic feet daily; with a total depth drilled of 402,622 feet.

Book Sales Lagging MILAN — (AP) — Italians buy less than one book per capita each year.

Italian book publishers announced some 37 million books were sold last year to more than 67 million Italians. Those in the Lombardy region are the most avid readers, they said.

Parents Hold 'No Malice'

LUBBOCK (AP) — The Rev. and Mrs. Anthon Wade of Aztec, N. M., told the woman who is charged with kidnapping their son, they hold "no malice" toward her.

And they sent a Bible to her cell in the Lubbock jail.

Charges of kidnapping were filed yesterday against Fred Rodgers Elrod, 25, an oilfield worker from Wyoming, and his wife, Mrs. Tommie Nell Elrod, 22.

The couple had been living in Levelland, Tex., with 3-year-old Johnny Wade who was taken from the front porch of his home last May 4. The boy was found Thursday by officers in the Elrods' apartment.

"Nobody ever took better care of a baby," Mrs. Wade said in an interview, as she told of taking him to a doctor to clear up a rash on his arm. She constantly referred to Johnny as "My baby."

Johnny's father is pastor of the First Baptist Church at Aztec.

Sharp Decrease In Sooner Activity TULSA (AP) — A sharp decrease in oil field activity over Oklahoma the past week was indicated as first reports slumped to 103, a drop of 26 starts since the previous count.

The Tulsa World survey also found 114 completions including 45 oilers, two gasers, 50 dusters and four abandoned sites against 252 finals a week ago.
