PRICE DANIEL ... wins Senate race

Shivers, Daniel In; Dies Leading Smith

By TIM PARKER State Editor The Associated Press

Tall, handsome Allan Shivers will sit in the Texas governor's chair another two years. And Attorney General Price Daniel was promoted to the U.S. Senate seat which colorful Tom Connally of Marlin is giving up.

At 1 a.m. Sunday the Texas Election Bureau in Dallas had counted 550,000 votes — about half the total if predictions hold up.

Shivers led Ralph Yarborough by 348,632 to 203,561. Mrs. Allene Traylor, San Antonio housewife, was a poor third.

The 550,000 votes represented a complete count from 38 counties and incomplete figures from 191 counties.

Daniel's margin over stocky, energetic Congressman Lindley Beckworth of Gladevater approached the three-to-one mark. E. W. Napier, the Wichita Falls stockman and lawyer, was a poor third.

Martin Dies, who made headlines ten years ago as chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, may go back to Washington.

Top Of The Heap — The Lufkin lawyer was at the top of the heap in the seven-man scramble for congressman — at large. But it was too early to say whether he would get more than half the vote. If he doesn't, he'll have to face the next highest man in the Aug. 23 run-off primary.

Despite oppressive heat and overwhelming interest in the Chicago conventions, Texas voters turned out in which may be record numbers.

Generally, they liked incumbents. Among those with sure winners leads was Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, the 48-year-old San Augustine lawyer. Ramsey was ahead of Frank Hesebrook Morales, Austin funeral director, by about five to one.

Whits Ahead — Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, the 27-year-old former Wichita Falls agriculture teacher, was polling about twice the combined vote of his two opponents.

Land Commissioner Bascom Giles was in no trouble with a two-to-one lead over Guy Paterson, the Eastland real estate man. And John Ben Shepperd of Gladevater held a similar lead over Curt Stiles of Dallas in the attorney general race.

Sam Rayburn, speaker of the house and chairman of the Chicago convention, seemed sure of re-election from the Fourth District for his 21st term. But two of the 11 incumbent Texas Congressmen who had opposition were running in difficulty.

Egypt's King Farouk Abdicates Throne

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — King Farouk I abdicated his ancient throne in favor of his 7-month-old son, Crown Prince Ahmed Fuad, under the pressures of an Army cleanup campaign Saturday and sailed without his family into exile aboard his royal yacht.

The troops of Lt. Gen. Mohamed Naguib Bey, Egypt's new strong man as the Army's self-proclaimed commander in chief, surrounded the royal estates and arrested a number of Royal Guard officers in the showdown at the Ras el Tin Palace in Alexandria, Egypt's summer capital.

Street crowds applauded the outcome. Groups formed everywhere, clapping their hands happily, as the news spread.

The Army said Farouk, a fabulously wealthy ex-playboy, sailed into the Mediterranean alone aboard his yacht Mahroussa. He is going to Italy, perhaps eventually to the United States. His 18-year-old Queen Narriman, and the Crown Prince stayed behind.

Queen Narriman said she wished to follow Farouk into exile, but was prevented from doing so because "she must take care of the baby crown prince and help bring him up."

The monarch had advance notice Friday of potential trouble in the anti-corruption drive when

Gun Battle Fought In Hotel Lobby

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the nation's top criminals walked into an FBI trap Saturday, but killed an FBI agent before being shot and captured in a blazing gun battle at a Manhattan hotel.

The man, Gerhard A. Puff, 38, was listed among the top 10 criminals wanted by the FBI. He was sought in a series of Western bank robberies.

He battled it out with a dozen FBI agents inside and outside the Congress Hotel, just off Central Park on West 69th Street, before he was wounded in the leg and captured.

Shot In Back — One of the agents, Joseph Brock, 38, died of bullet wounds 40 minutes after the fight.

Police said Puff pumped several bullets into Brock's back. Two unidentified women also were taken into custody after Puff's capture.

FBI officials said the women, Puff and another man had registered at the hotel last Sunday. Puff was the second of the FBI's 10 most wanted to be captured in two days.

An alleged confederate, George Arthur Heron, 22, was captured Friday in Miami, Fla.

Authorities said the two couples registered at the hotel here as "Hanson" and "Burns."

Became Suspicious — The hotel management became suspicious and notified the FBI. A dozen or more FBI agents stood by in and around the hotel lobby.

Agent Brock was posted behind a partly frosted glass door which looked out on the lobby elevator entrance from a fire stair exit.

Early Saturday afternoon, the two women entered the hotel and went up to their quarters. A short time later Puff came in, telephoned upstairs and then went up in the elevator.

However, Puff's suspicions apparently were aroused.

Democrats Strive For Solidified Party

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, Illinois (AP) — The Democratic party placed Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama by the side of presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson Saturday for the great political war against the Republicans.

Then it adjourned its 31st national convention in a glow of outward harmony. Sparkman accepted the vice presidential nomination with a pledge to "take the message of democracy to the people of this country."

"I believe, I earnestly believe," he said, "that we will go out of this convention with greater solidarity, greater unity in all sections of the country and in all segments of our party than we have been able to achieve in a long, long time."

Sparkman was the Stevenson choice for a running mate. And the convention whooped it through by acclamation.

The North-South hook-up of the Illinois governor and Alabama senator represented a new found and incomplete — unity in the party.

Battled Furiously — The Democratic clans had battled furiously, spectacularly, all week long over candidates, the civil rights issue and a party loyalty oath repulsive to parts of the South.

Even as they turned to Stevenson early Saturday to lead them into the 1952 campaign there were cries of "deals" and "payoffs" from opposition camps.

Die-hard backers of Sen. Estes Kefauver, who ran second in the presidential derby, considered entering him for the vice presidential spot, even after it became known that Sparkman was the man Stevenson wanted. Kefauver himself called them off. Usually it's just a matter of routine for a convention to take the unquestioning person the head of the ticket prefers.

By and large, party leaders were saying Sparkman was entirely acceptable. Here and there on the fringes there was a noticeable lack of warmth toward the Alabama senator.

Hard To Sell Negroes — Executive Secretary Walter White of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said of Sparkman that "It will be difficult, if not impossible, for the Democratic party to sell to Negro voters and other civil rights advocates a nominee whose voting record has been one of consistent opposition to the civil rights objectives of the Democratic party."

Death Comes To Eva Peron

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Mrs. Eva Peron, wife of Argentine President Juan D. Peron, died last night.

The cause was believed to be cancer but this was not officially acknowledged in her long illness.

Her age was officially listed as 39 and this had been used by her political enemies as an argument against her running for vice president in last year's elections. The opposition said under Argentine law she was too young, at 29, to run for that office.

GOVERNOR ADLAI STEVENSON ... wins honor he didn't seek

Claim Republicans Blocked In South

CHICAGO (AP) — Democratic leaders made it clear Saturday they believe they have blocked Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower off from the South by their choice of the Stevenson - Sparkman ticket.

Eisenhower's reputed popularity below the Mason-Dixon Line had a great deal to do with the selection of Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama as vice presidential running mate for Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

Sparkman's nomination gave the Deep South representation on a ticket that probably can't be attacked successfully by Dixie Democrats, even though it runs on a platform hardly less strong in its civil rights provisions than that of 1948.

Each State Vital — The 1948 revolt took 39 electoral votes from President Truman and through all of the North-South poker game bluffing that enlivened the 31st Democratic Convention ran the belief the party can't afford to lose a single Southern state this year.

There have been confident Republican predictions that Eisenhower will break into the South in November, picking off states (See BLOCKED, Page 8)

Gas Tax Not Constitutional

AUSTIN (AP) — A state tax on the gathering of natural gas was declared unconstitutional Saturday by Dist. Judge Jack Roberts less than one year after it took effect.

A prompt appeal to higher courts was considered certain, but Judge Roberts' ruling appeared likely to hasten a state deficit. He held the tax was a burden on interstate commerce and therefore unconstitutional.

Some pipe line companies have been paying the tax without protest while others were fighting it in court. Should all the pipe lines quit paying the tax in view of today's decision, the state might go in the red before the Legislature meets next January.

State Comptroller R. S. Calvert would not venture a guess, but he said a deficit had been anticipated just about the time the Legislature will convene. The tax of nine-tenths of one cent per 1,000 cubic feet of gas gathered from the ground was enacted by the last Legislature to raise an estimated 14 million dollars per year.

The Demo Team

Demo presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson is described as a middle-of-the-roader who is considered far to the right of the Truman administration on domestic policy. Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), candidate for the vice-presidency, is seen as an advocate of the New and Fair Deal except on civil rights. For more about this Democratic team, please turn to Pages 4 and 5 for biography and records.

Shivers Demos, Ike GOPmen Hold Control Of Conventions

Conservative Democrats and Eisenhower Republicans, on the basis of incomplete returns, retained control of precinct conventions yesterday and by all indications will repeat that performance at county conventions Aug. 2.

In at least three instances Republican precinct convention attendance outweighed Democratic attendance yesterday as 100 per cent harmony reigned — at least on the surface.

Loyalists Quiet — If Loyalist Democrat opposition — the Truman followers — appeared at any of the conventions reported they said nothing, and conservative measures were rammed through.

Only a spark of strife between Ike men and Taft people glowed. But by quick compromising the spark was killed off without any show of emotions.

In Precinct 10 — the county's largest — attendance was almost 3.5 to 1 in favor of the Republicans. In Precinct 16 it was a three to one and in Precinct 14 it was five to one.

Resolutions were few and far between with none of them displaying any bitterness. Most of the conventions lasted less than 30 minutes.

The only split voting to appear was in a contest for Republican county chairman between Don Conley, incumbent, and George B. Cree, Jr. Tabulations of results from all Republican precinct conventions will be totaled at the county convention next week to determine the winner.

Conservative Democrats split mildly in Precinct 10 over a resolution calling for a mandatory national wide presidential primary. Opponents argued that such a resolution is a little premature at this time and it would be best to wait and see how it is set up before supporting it blindly.

Steel Mills Begin Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Philip Murray of the CIO steel workers union finally ordered his 80,000 men back to work in the mills and mines Saturday with an announcement that the last issue in the steel strike had been settled.

Murray said "complete agreement" had been reached between the union and the steel industry. The steelworkers' union spokesman said that this means some blast furnaces will be fired almost immediately.

Basic terms for settling the 55-day-old strike were agreed on at the White House Thursday and ratified by the steelworkers' Policy Committee here yesterday.

But a last-minute dispute involving 2,000 iron ore workers, mostly in Minnesota, unexpectedly delayed the march back to work across the nation.

Kefauver Backer Switches To Ike

CHICAGO (AP) — Carl Estes, publisher of the Longview, Tex., News and Journal and ardent supporter of Sen. Estes Kefauver for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Saturday he will campaign for Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Estes said he sent telegrams to Gov. James Duff of Pennsylvania and Jack Porter of Houston, an Eisenhower worker, saying: "As soon as I can get rid of New Deal fleas I picked up over the country during the last six months, I want to start doing what I can to help elect Dwight D. Eisenhower. We saw a different kind of 'deal' in the Chicago stockyards Friday night but whenever it is I want no part of it. The coon has been skinned, but nobody seems to know who did it."

Estes flew more than 100,000 miles during Kefauver's campaign and was a contributor to the Tennessee senator's campaign.

Early Saturday he cracked out an "I Liked Ike" sign in the convention hall, and Texas delegates and others good naturedly snatched him along.

Korean War Has Engulfed Unification

By Elton C. Fay
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The Korean War has engulfed the armed unification program which Congress approved five years ago today.

Plenty of money for the military, more than some of the services could spend immediately, revival of old rivalries and the plain fact that in any war the armed forces cooperate as a matter of course, all have helped overshadow the project.

Co-ordination
 On July 26, 1947, Congress passed and sent to the White House the bill to integrate the policies and administration procedures of the armed forces, to provide "co-ordination and unified direction under civilian control of the secretary of defense" and give the Air Force equal status with the Army and Navy.

By mid-1950 the unification machinery was beginning to run smoothly. Some overlapping operations of branches of the armed forces were eliminated by setting up single agencies. New and needed agencies were formed.

Iron Hand
 In the beginning, the persuasion of the late Defense Secretary James Forrestal and the iron hand policy of his successor, Louis Johnson, helped suppress the jealousies and competitions of the services and their chiefs. An even greater moderating factor was the economy trend in government; the sentiment for a tight purse for the military in peacetime.

But the Korean conflict broke out. The military appropriation bill skyrocketed from its original estimate of $13,272,000,000 buy- ing authority for the armed forces to more than 41 billion by the end of the first year of war. The budget has been even bigger in subsequent years.

The competition of World War II days for money, for materiel, for manpower, was renewed.

Rivalry
 With a step-up in preparedness for a possible Communist expansion of the Korean aggression into full world war, there has been revival too of the rivalries over the missions of the armed forces. The Air Force got money for more long-range, heavy, strategic bombers and won its plea for expansion to a 143-wing force. The Navy, seeing this, reopened the case for supercarriers. With congressional backing, it has authority to build two 60,000-ton flattops and now advocates construction of at least eight more.

If savings were achieved by the consolidations during the first three years of unification, they have been at least diminished by the harsh demands of the Korean War and general rearmament.

He Got 'em Across! Hank And His Two Cats Swim Rio Grande And Are In Mexico

By HENRY McLEMORE
 KNEE DEEP IN THE RIO GRANDE — A man must explain a dateline like this, and I'm very happy to.

I am knee deep in the Rio Grande because I am smuggling two cats into Mexico. I tried the formal procedure and it didn't work. For some odd reason, Mexico does not extend tourist courtesies to tom-cats. Bidey and Duffy, have no passports because in order to pass, date of birth must be certified.

Bidey has no idea of the name of his father or the maiden name of his mother. The same is true of Duffy. They can't answer the questions they would have been asked at the border. They may or may not have criminal records. They may or may not have money with them and they have no promise of a job. But they are my friends and I didn't want to go to Mexico unless they went with me.

Deep in my heart I knew that after all, they came all the way from New York with me. I put Duffy in the water first and he started to swim dog paddle style. I called to him to stop swimming dog paddle fashion and start swimming cat fashion. He responded, and struck bravely for the Mexican shore, with only his little ears and soft neck above water. He looked so sweet I was tempted to swim out and pet him, but I remembered just in time that I didn't talk to Bidey and Bidey didn't talk to me, because a writer starts talking back and forth with an animal the chances are that he'll prove that he not only can't write but has no taste.

But I can record Bidey's reaction to crossing the Rio Grande. With Duffy in mid-stream, valiantly breasting a current, Bidey was on the shore sharpening his claws by rubbing them against a B. C. rock. I would like to be able to tell you that he was sharpening his claws for fights with Mexican tomcats, but he wasn't.

The three of us are now on the Mexican side, well, happy and headed for Monterey. The cats, I think, are happier than I am because there is no extradition law for tomcats.

Will Teach Music In Shamrock Schools

SHAMROCK (Special) — Mrs. Myrtle Lewallen of Amarillo will teach music under the supervision of the Shamrock schools this year. Following a conference with Supt. Elmer J. Moore, Mrs. Lewallen will offer private lessons in piano, accordion, violin and theory.

She studied at the St. Louis Institute of Music, St. Louis, Mo.; was a student at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls; and studied piano with Frank Renard of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Lewallen plan to move to Shamrock from Amarillo. For the past four and one-half years she has been teaching in the Musical Arts Conservatory in Amarillo.

brother waving from the other side. I wasn't lying to him. Having made it, Duffy shook a happy forepaw at us.

Bidey and I picked each other up and waded out. I hoped and prayed he wouldn't splash water on my back until I got in real deep. To make sure that he didn't get ahead of me, I splashed a little on his back. It cost me half an earlobe and for the rest of my life I'll probably suffer from claws-trophobia, but it was worth it.

MEN AND WOMEN TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugist and ask for a can of liquid Barcetrata. Pour into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill and add just two table-spoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if you can't lose pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 32 Pounds
 "I am writing to tell you how much good Barcetrata has done for me" writes Mrs. H. J. Fontenat, Box 428, Anahua, Texas. "I weighed 195 pounds when I started and am now down to 163 and am still taking Barcetrata. I feel better than I have in six years and I cannot begin to tell you how good I am to lose weight."

And Mrs. J. W. Hays, 608 S. Cedar, Cleburne, Texas, writes to say: "I think Barcetrata is wonderful. I lost 20 pounds taking it—from 140 to 120. I now have my normal weight and feel like a new person."

Timelessness Is Success Secret For Originator Of 'King Kong'

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The man who made the current box office champion, "King Kong," has a unique formula for movie success: Make 'em timeless.

The 29-year-old "Kong" is the surprise hit of the year, outdrawing most of the 1952 films at the nation's box office. Merian C. Cooper, who made the picture with Ernest Schoedsack, should be klicking himself, but he isn't. It's the only movie Cooper has made without holding a percentage of the profit.

No Regrets
 "I have no regrets, what's past is past," said peppery Cooper, a brigadier general who served in both world wars. "I hold no grudge against RKO, which is distributing the picture. I'm happy to see 'Kong' making money for them."

"Kong's" success bears out Cooper's theory of movie making. The veteran film producer, long associated with director John Ford, shuns subjects which will be dated by the passing of time. "Ford and I both foresaw the value of the reissue market and of television," Cooper remarked. "Since the war, we have made only timeless pictures. The only modern story we made was 'Mighty Joe Young.' That was during the time of the new look," but I had the women dressed in classical lines.

"Those are the things that date a picture — the women's dresses and hats. I try to avoid filming styles that will appear grotesque in future years. Also, the cars date a picture, but there's not much you can do about that."

Film Westerns
 Lately, Cooper and Ford have made a lot of Westerns. But you can tell where Cooper's great interest lies. He spoke earnestly about his two spectacular projects, "Kong" and "Mighty Joe Young."

"It cost about $400,000 to make 'Kong' and it took us a year," he reported. "All of it was filmed in Hollywood, with the exception of some post scenes, which we made at San Pedro. Willis O'Brien, who did the technical work, and I had to invent the 'trick stuff' as we went along. We had to do the same thing with 'Mighty Joe Young.' It didn't do as well as 'Kong' because it wasn't as good a picture. Also, it cost too much — a little over two million. I had just returned from the war, and I didn't realize that costs had doubled."

Another In Mind
 Does Cooper have another spectacular film in mind?
 "You bet I do," he replied positively. "It's just as wild an idea as 'Kong,' and I have hired O'Brien to start working on the technical aspects. But I'm not telling what it's about. I think there is more value in projects like these if I keep them secret. Nobody knew what we were doing when we made 'Kong.' When it opened in the Radio City Music Hall, it hit like a bombshell."

Islam Limits Female Role

CAIRO (AP) — Women are awe-ayed by their feelings and affections in their judgments and are given to "straying from the path of wisdom."

Also, they are biased and incompetent in contrast with men, who are balanced, impartial and self-controlled.

No Suffrage
 That's what the "Supreme Court" of Moslem law says, ruling that for these reasons and others, women among the 275,000,000 Moslems all over the world are not entitled either to vote or hold public office.

The decision was made by the 1,000-year-old Al Azhar University Fetwa Committee. Al Azhar is the greatest religious education institution in the Islamic world. The rector of Al Azhar is Islam's highest ranking religious figure. The Fetwa Committee is the supreme authority on the interpretation of Moslem law.

Follows Agitation
 The announcement followed recent agitation throughout the Moslem world, particularly here in Egypt, for women's right to vote and hold public office.

There are two kinds of authority — private and public — the decision says. Private authority, which includes the guardianship of minors, administration of property and phases of charity, is properly in a woman's domain. In this she has the same rights as men. But office — holding and voting, which are a public authority, are confined by Islamic law to men.

PROPOSED NEW HARRAH CHURCH—Pictured is a plan of the new Harrah Methodist Church accepted by the board recently from Architect Waldon Moore. The building program is underway at the church with a financial campaign to raise $50,000 for the new sanctuary. Completed project, to include a sanctuary, educational building and parsonage, will total approximately $80,000, according to Rev. Raymond Dyess, pastor. Funds for the building, to be located at the present site, are to be obtained by the pledge system from each member of the church. Construction is scheduled to go underway in August. Crowded conditions of the church torium now in use will seat comfortably only 100 of the approximately 250 members. (News Photo)

Greek Tragedy . . .

Pampan In Movie

ABILENE — Filming of "Medea," Greek tragedy, by McMurray College Speech Department has reached the halfway mark, as completion is set for Aug. 28. Deon Martin, McMurray College student from Pampa is playing the role of "Aegus" in the production. Theatre critics over the Southwest have been predicting that the speech department will be acclaimed nationally on the completion of the movie since it is the first Greek tragedy to be filmed by any group in the United States, professional or nonprofessional, Hollywood included. The World Premier will be held at McMurray at the $600,000 Radford Memorial Student Life Center in October, with special guests to the preview including outstanding theatre and drama professors from colleges and universities all over Texas. "Medea" was selected as the movie to be filmed in full-color and sound by Adams as he explained that he felt Hollywood was definitely "missing the boat" by not making movies such as his. Martin is a ministerial student at the college who has been cast in several stage productions such as "Merchant of Venice" and "Dust of the Road."

Dollar At A New Low

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The buying power of the dollar is at a new low. The cost of living is at a new high. And some folk suggest that this should shed a new light on many of the facts of life—even including the price of shares on the stock market.

Painful Facts
To look at the painful facts first the government's consumer price index in June pushed above the previous peak reached last January.

Based on this index, the buying power of the dollar has slipped to around 83 cents—that is, the dollar will buy only a little more than half as much in goods and services as it would in the 1929-30 period.

In these terms its buying power has been below 60 cents ever since the post-war inflation got rolling.

Now to take a cost-of-living look at the stock market: The Associated Press average of 60 stocks is at its highest point in 22 years—expressed in conventional dollars.

Inflation Still Here
But translate stock prices over the years into cost-of-living dollars—that is, value them in terms of what a dollar would buy at the time—and the AP stock average now would be below the 1946 bull market peak and also the 1937 bull market peak.

No Snoring In Meet
HYDERABAD, India (AP)—Members of the Hyderabad State Assembly may sleep during sessions—but snoring is a breach of order. The speaker so ruled when one member called the chair's attention to a sleeping member. He said gravely that members might sleep if they wished so long as they did not disturb the proceedings of the house by so doing.

Sparkman Faithful To New, Fair Deals Except Civil Rights

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — John J. Sparkman has a skeleton in his campaign closet. He's the Democratic nominee for vice president, but once upon an election he came out for the man who is now heading up the Republican ticket.

It happened in 1948, when, for the first time, the civil rights issue threatened to upset Democratic equilibrium. Before the '48 convention, Senator Sparkman came out for Dwight Eisenhower for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Afterwards, when Harry Truman had been formally nominated, Sparkman joined the Dixiecrat movement and supported the States' Rights candidacy of J. Strom Thurmond. Except for the question of civil rights — and allied issues, such as the filibuster problem — Sparkman has diligently and faithfully walked the New Deal-Fair Deal road in both the House and Senate. But, as a native Alabamian, he has broken with President Truman over civil rights and makes no bones about it.

He is, however, not as vehement as most Southern legislators. He simply asks he does not favor a federal law compelling fair employment practices, and lets it go at that. He makes no enemies over it.

And that's fairly typical of John Jackson Sparkman in action. He has many friends, few enemies. He's a big, genial, popular man, given to the gay Dr. Walter H. Juniper, Dean. He has a youngish, ruddy-checked face — someone once called him "the only cherub in the Senate" — topped by curly, graying hair. Some of his colleagues feel he'll "grow up into something like Albert Bartley." Sparkman looks far younger than his 52 years.

The junior senator from Alabama is a vice-presidential candidate of the old, traditional school. He was a poor boy the son of a tenant farmer who got where he is by dint of hard work and a winning personality. He's a self-made vice-presidential candidate.

Sparkman bottled his way through college. He borrowed money on a cotton crop he raised during the summer after he graduated from high school. That financed his freshman year at the University of Alabama, and commander, Guy Hardin was elected adjutant. J. W. Blake, out-going commander, presided at the election of officers and in the selection of delegates for the state convention to be held in Dallas Aug. 8-10. W. R. Ritter and E. W. Poole will represent the Shamrock post at the convention. The largest group of Legionnaires to attend a meeting in months was on hand for the

WAVES Due 10th Birthday Wednesday

Ten years of service in the Navy will be marked Wednesday by the WAVES. Some 9,000 WAVES on active duty salute the occasion with formal observances. They are stationed all over the world, continental United States, Japan, Hawaii, Norway, Germany, France, Alaska and England. Capt. Joy Bright Hancock, USN, director of the WAVES, will follow Navy tradition by using a sword to cut a 10-candle cake at the Naval Receiving Station, Washington, D. C. WAVES (Women Appointed for Volunteered Emergency Service) became a part of the Navy July 30, 1942, when Congress authorized the commissioning and enlistment of women in the U.S. Naval Reserve. More than 79,000 WAVES were on duty in 900 continental shore activities and performed 450 different kinds of jobs during World War II. Over 4,000 were assigned to duty in Hawaii.

House of Representatives in 1936. Appropriately, his first speech in the House was in support of a law to aid tenant farmers.

After five successive terms, he ran for the Senate, to fill out the unexpired term of the late Sen. John H. Bankhead, of the Tallulah Bankhead clan. He was reelected again in 1946.

His Congressional record has been studded with important issues. In the House, he had much to do with pushing through legislation having to do with the Tennessee Valley Authority.

He was one of the first to urge President Roosevelt to seek a fourth term. During his last term in the House he was Majority Whip.

In the Senate, he authored a vital bill on housing. Although he first voted for the Taft-Hartley law, he later turned around and voted to sustain President Truman's veto of that measure.

Northerners, as well as his Southern colleagues, respect his ability to make and keep friends, to see both sides of a question, to keep calm in times of crisis. They figure those qualities are prerequisites for a vice president.

Capt. O. B. Franks Takes Over Guard Post At Shamrock

SHAMROCK (Special) — Capt. O. B. Franks has received orders of his appointment as new commander of Shamrock's Battery "C" of the National Guard. He has been acting commander since June 10 when Capt. G. B. Purcell went to Canada. He recently appeared before the federal examining board at Amarillo for federal recognition of his new grade and has already received orders from the State Adjutant General's department of his promotion to captain.

Franks has just completed a tour of duty as communication officer and assistant S-3 on the staff of Lt. Col. James T. Clark, commanding officer of the 47th FA, Oben, Pa., to which the local battery is attached.

On Captain Purcell's return from Canada, he will begin his duties as battalion survey officer on Col. Clarke's staff.

Other officers attached to the Shamrock unit are Lieut. B. D. Sims and Bobby Purcell, warrant officer Douglas Rives, who received the rank of warrant officer four months ago, and First Sgt. Mack Smith are on full-time duty.

Plans are being made to participate in summer camp at Fort Sill, Okla., Aug. 17 to 31. Battery "C" recently added three 6x6 GMC trucks and two new Jeeps to its mobile equipment. The total mobile equipment now is five trucks and two Jeeps.

Candidate Stevenson

By WADE JONES
NEA Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO (NEA) — When Adlai E. Stevenson was just a little tot he yanked the table cloth one day, as little tot will, and considerable china got broken.

Whereupon, in what has come to be a characteristic Stevenson gesture, young Adlai betook himself out to the dog kennel where his worried parents found him several hours later sleeping on the straw.

From that day to this the modest, self-doubting Democratic presidential nominee has been casting himself in so many figurative doghouses for his imaginary shortcomings that some people are wondering how he would bear up under the many woes of the White House.

Adlai (rhyme it with "gladly") has wondered, too. After declining last Spring a Democratic nomination which was virtually assured, he said in explaining his decision:

"I just didn't feel that I had any God-given powers to figure out the solution to co-existence with the Soviet Union and all our other problems."

"I had no such self-confidence at all but yet didn't want to seem to shrink from the job out of fear. I didn't want it — it seemed to me to mean honor, yes, but also misery."

That kind of talk had an odd sound indeed in a season when presidential hopefuls, with no apparent self-doubt whatsoever, were confidently prescribing for this world's ills all sorts of remarkable cure-alls.

Then there was the time back in 1948 when Stevenson, plucked from political nowhere, had just careers in Illinois history and it revealed a great deal about Adlai Stevenson, the man.

One thing it revealed as a good bit of the reason for his unusual personal modesty. The point seems to be that he sets extraordinarily high standards for himself. Then when he fails to meet his self-made goods, a very active conscience begins goading him.

That's the way he is now, that's the way he has been during his four-year term as governor of Illinois, and the way he was as a top U. S. Navy troubleshooter during World War II and United Nations smoother-out in the years just after the war.

When Stevenson began campaigning for governor in 1948 he'd never campaigned for office before and had little help in getting started.

"I just had to start out on my own," he says, "learning by doing, sweating it out on every street corner all over the state. Money was so short I got out my own press releases and drove the car."

"At first I wasn't sure of myself, so I worried all the time when the political veterans told me, 'Say this, don't say that, trade me on the other.'"

"Then I realized I was being all sorts of dishonest character I really wasn't, so I began to say what was in my heart and mind. The voters seemed to like that."

They sure did. In the election Stevenson polled a 572,000 majority, the biggest any Illinois governor ever got. He carried downstate Illinois for the Democrats for the first time in history. And that was only the beginning.

No. 2
When Adlai Stevenson became governor of Illinois, he started out to clean house in a state where corruption was almost the rule instead of the exception. And he succeeded, despite the fact he was working half the time with a republican legislature.

The Commerce Commission, which regulates public utilities, had become heavily bogged down in graft. He took it up and put it on a non-political basis.

One school system was virtually starving for lack of state help. He gave it a big boost by doubling its aid from about $30,000,000 to $60,000,000 a year.

When he came into office, Illinois' once fine highway system had largely disappeared. The Federal Bureau of Roads called the worst in any major state. He pushed through gas taxes and truck license fees, despite heavy opposition of the gas and trucking lobbies, and set out on a road-building program that will put Illinois up with the best in a few years.

The state police, which had become soft and ineffectual because it was full of political appointees, was shaken up and put on a merit system.

The state hospitals had reached a notoriously low level. But changes were made and they now rank among the top 25 per cent in the country.

The recent horse-meat scandal rose up to muddy this record of solid accomplishment. But to Stevenson's credit, he dealt with the situation quickly and firmly, firing an old friend who was one of the top state officials involved, as well as several others.

These increased services cost money, but the new governor cut a lot of fiscal corners where he could and the result is that the annual budget of Illinois is now only a little over $600,000,000. And that's still below what it was in 1949.

As a great admirer of the balanced budget, "the country can't spend and tax itself into collapse."

WITH A VICE-PRESIDENT: Baby Adlai poses with grandmother Adlai Stevenson, who was vice-president under Cleveland.

WITH A PRESIDENT: Stevenson, campaigning in 1948 for first time, talked with Campaigner Harry Truman in Illinois.

Stevenson is proud of the financial accomplishments of his administration.

But he is equally happy about the way in which it was done. "In the long run," he says, "I believe you win by doing what you think is right, and explaining your reasons sensibly and straightforwardly to the voters."

"You've got to assume that the people of the state are just as able as you are to understand what's best for the state, and want what's best for the state just as much as you do. You can't be contemptuous or tricky or condescending or secretive with the electorate."

Stevenson's modesty comes to the fore when he's asked other reasons for his accomplishments in Illinois. He gives a big share of the credit to the people he picked to help him.

He got some top flight ones like Carl Kresl, chief purchaser for Illinois, who formerly was Sears Roebuck purchasing director and George W. Mitchell, former Federal Reserve Bank president, who as Stevenson's first Finance Department director, was chief whittler on the state budget.

It was largely because he didn't want to run off and leave such people after persuading them to give up high-paying jobs to work for the state that Stevenson was so reluctant to accept the Democratic nomination of President.

In appearance Adlai Stevenson is more interesting than imposing. At 62, he is getting a little hefty around the middle. He stands 5 feet 2 1/2 inches and wears good clothes and wears them well, with the exception of an old pair of spikeless golf shoes and very old hat which he often bursts forth in. His manner is earnest his dark eyes alert.

He eats grilled tomatoes for breakfast and drives an ancient Cadillac with some 300,000 miles on it, works hard and does little socializing. He and his wife, the former Ellen Borden, were divorced in 1945. They have three sons, John, Borden, and Adlai, Jr.

Stevenson has been called Abe Lincoln in a buttoned-down shirt. He wears buttoned-down shirts, all right, and as for the rest he has had some surprisingly close connections with Honest Abe.

Stevenson's great-grandfather on his mother's side, Jesse W. Fell, an Illinois lawyer, was a friend of Lincoln and laid the ground-work for the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates. His other great-grandfather, the first Adlai Stevenson, also an Illinoisian, knew both Fell and Lincoln and was Grover Cleveland's vice-president for one term.

The present Adlai's father was Lewis Green Stevenson, a newspaper executive and one-time secretary of state of Illinois.

No. 3
As a boy Adlai Stevenson was sensitive and rather shy. He didn't begin attending school until he was 5, being tutored at home by his mother. When he was 12 his mother and father took him to Switzerland and he was in school there for a year.

When he returned to Illinois he finished grade school and high school at Bloomington, and for a time attended State Normal University, at Normal, Ill., which had been founded by his great-grandfather Fell.

Then he went to Princeton, from there into a Navy reserve unit during World War I, and after that to Harvard Law School. He didn't like Harvard and trans-

ADLAI STEVENSON in action before the convention microphones: "If there is Democratic dirt, turn the flashlight in every corner."

Stevenson's Record: Holds Middle-Of-Road Ideas

By BRUCE BOSSABT
NEA Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO (NEA) — Illinois Governor Adlai Stevenson's publicly-voiced ideas on government add up to a man who is a middle-of-the-road Democrat many paces to the right of the New Deal-Fair Deal.

Thus, though he embraces most of the present administration's foreign policy, its record in the domestic field cannot be fastened upon him. He had no part in its making, and he feels no deep accord with it.

In the nearly four years he has been governor, Stevenson has etched his views sharply over the whole range of government policy. There are no important blank spots. And in the process of getting himself on the record, he has revealed a notable talent for phrase-making.

His speeches shine with rhetoric that can be remembered, with lines tinged with humor. His welcoming speech to the Democratic Convention underlined this characteristic. For example, he jibed at the Republicans for being "out of patience, out of sorts, and, need I add, out of office."

Stevenson's utterances show him fearful of further enlargement of federal operations and consequently cautious on health insurance, public housing, and nationally-enforced civil rights. In this caution lies the secret of his acceptability to all wings of his party. He has outraged no one.

Here are excerpts from his speeches, covering a wide field: "I do not identify big government with good government. . . I think government should be as small in scope and as local in character as possible. But it is the job that needs doing that must shape and delimit the area of governmental activity." (New York, 1949.)

Health Insurance
"I am against the socialization of the practice of medicine. If the insurance principle could be brought to bear on catastrophic illnesses, it would largely eliminate the specter of terror from the average home. I am sure that this objective can largely be realized without the destruction of professional independence." (Chicago, 1949.)

"I am this much of an expert on the Tatt's Hartley law: I know that anyone who says flatly he is either for or against that law is indulging our common weakness for over-simplification. . . Some features of the law seem to me to advance the cause of good labor relations, and other features do not. I think the Democrats should recommend modification. We must learn that whether we work in a factory or in the front office, whether we are employes or employers, we have the same stake in interest in the harmonious management of our affairs. There is no such thing as a victory of one segment of our society over another; we progress on a common front or we don't progress at all." (Chicago, 1949.)

"The more we do for ourselves, the less demand there will be upon government to do it for us. If the communities shift part of their normal responsibilities to the state or Federal governments, their state or Federal taxes will be higher and their control over the spending of their tax money will be further from their hands. It is as simple as that." (Farmerville, Ill., 1950.)

received the Democratic nomination for governor of Illinois.

Troubled by characteristic doubts as to his worthiness, Stevenson was on his way to Springfield by train to receive the nomination, formally from the state committee.

Stevenson asked Jake Arvey, the Chicago Democratic bigwig, whether he should give the committee a speech of acceptance. Arvey explained that under the circumstances such a speech was in order.

So Stevenson started back to the club car to write out a little talk, saying, "I suppose I'll make a mess of it, as usual, but still I'll try to work something out."

"He was back in the club car in about an hour," Arvey relates, "and when he came back he had a speech that would take about eight minutes to deliver. I read it over and then I said, 'Don't ever let anyone change a word of it, or of any speech you ever write. You've got a new approach to politics.'"

What he had written was short, pointed, and exactly what he felt. It carried conviction and it went over great with the committee.

It was to be the keynote of one of the most remarkable political

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—especially women—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflo Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuckholes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Drop in—or pick up your phone—and arrange to give this marvel a tryout. Even the price says, Better buy Buick now.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

Kiwanis Set August 1 For Oiler Appreciation Night

THE TROPHIES — Shown looking over the trophies which will be presented to the Junior girls champion and the outstanding participant award which will be presented to a boy or girl athlete... (News Photo)

Oiler Appreciation Night, the annual baseball game sponsored by the Pampa Kiwanis Club, will be held on August 1 when the Oilers play the Lamesa Lobos in the first of a three-game series.

Tickets for the game are now on sale and may be obtained from any member of the Pampa Kiwanis Club. Special guests for the occasion will be the local businessmen that night will be the members of the Pampa-Church summer softball program. The proceeds obtained from the Aug. 1 game will be used to help defray the expense of the summer program.

A big night of special entertainment has been planned by the Kiwanis Club. In addition to the game, which is a continuation of the big fight for first division, there will be pregame ceremonies which will include the presentation of the championship trophies and the presentation of the outstanding participant trophy, award to be made to the boy or girl selected on a basis of playing ability, sportsmanship and overall contribution to the league.

The softball teams will go to the game in groups, and their tickets may be picked up Thursday or Friday at the Kiwanis Club office, 115 W. Kingsmill.

In other pregame ceremonies a western band will be on hand to play before the game and their tickets may be present, in full dress, to show off their styles before the rodeo gets underway the next week.

Mathias Captures Decathlon; Yanks Win One, Two, Three

HELSINKI (AP)—Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif., won the Olympic decathlon tonight, shattering his own world record for this supreme test of all-round athletic prowess, and an unknown Luxembourg chemical engineer won the spotlighted 1500-meter on the carnival track program.

Mathias, winner of the 1948 Olympic decathlon laurels as a 17-year-old youth, scored 7887 points in the gruelling two-day, 10-event competition which only the world's best athletes try.

Milton Campbell, a New Jersey schoolboy, was second with 6973 points while Floyd Simmons of Pasadena, Calif., was third with 6748. This one-two-three U. S. sweep shunted Vladimir Volkov of Russia, to fourth place with 6674.

The decathlon record, the 24th Olympic mark set in the games whose track phase comes to an end tomorrow, was set by Mathias four years ago. His world record of 7825 points was set at the recent Olympic trials.

Bob McMillen of Occidental College almost brought the United States another track first in the 1500-meter, or metric mile, which went to Joseph Barthel of Luxembourg.

McMillen, who caught up with Barthel on the final stride, and the winner were given exactly the same time of 3:45.2, which is the equivalent of running a mile in 1:03 or better.

And so great was the field in this race, which lured 70,000 fans to Helsinki's soggy stadium, that eight finishers were under the Olympic record of 3:47.8 set by the immortal Jack Lovelock of New Zealand in 1936.

The day's other record was set by big, blonde Galina Zybulina of Russia. She threw the shot 15.5 meters (50 feet, 2.38 inches). Other records tumbled in swimming and weightlifting.

After the day's competition had been completed Russia held the overall team lead with 222 1/2 points followed by the United States with 182, Hungary had 110, Sweden 100.2 and Germany 76.

3 Pampans In Tourney Silver Dollar Wins Title

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Big Don Bispinghoff, Orlando, Fla., fingering a lucky silver dollar when ever the going became rough, Saturday won the national junior golf title. He beat plucky Eddie Meyerston of Los Angeles, 2 up, in a stirring 18-hole final.

To get into the play-off tussle, Bispinghoff had to knock off the 1951 champion, Tommy Jacobs of Myerson had to eliminate Peter Montebello, Calif., 3 and 2, and Geyr of Monterey, Calif., 4 and 2, in semi-final tests that morning.

Qualifying rounds are to be fired on the 27, 28 and 29 with the tournament finishing up on Aug. 3.

Clements Wins Over Funk; Gains Right To Meet McShane

When Dory Funk threw referee Dory Detton out of the ring Friday night at Oiler Park he lost more than just the match to his opponent, for he also lost the right to meet Danny McShane, the world's junior heavyweight champion, in a non-title match to be held here next month.

Funk was disqualified Friday night when, after Detton had already given him the fall he kept twisting Big Train Clements' leg with a spinning step - over toe hold. Clements kept yelling that he had given up, but Funk kept right on.

With Funk's refusal to let Big Train up the referee then stepped in and proceeded to break up the melee.

Detton got Funk off and told him that Big Train had given him up long ago and that the second fall was his which would have Train in victory. This bit of Funk argued that Big Train had not given up and proceeded to return and continue his hold. Detton tried to stop him but in the process got picked up by Funk and thrown completely out of the ring.

Funk then returned to Big Train and continued his hold. Detton climbed back into the ring and raised the hand of Big Train in victory. This big action of Detton was greeted by a chorus of boos from the large throng of fans witnessing the brawl.

Funk tried to get back at Big Train but Detton wouldn't let him. The whole purse went to Clements as it was a winner time limit to the match and it could have proceeded a lot longer than it did had it not been taken all match. There was no foul disqualification.

In the semi-final event of the evening, the popular Cowboy Carlson and newcomer Dale Haddock fought to a draw when time ran out in their two-out-of-three fall match which had a 45-minute time limit attached to it. Haddock got the first fall when he got Cowboy in a position that he could not escape. Detton raised Haddock's hand in victory for the first fall amid the boos of the fans. Haddock took this fall in 15 minutes.

Carlson came back to take the second fall in 16 minutes. He started out strong and looked as if he was going to win the second fall early, but Haddock again got the advantage and almost forced the Cowboy to surrender. Carlson however got loose in time enough to capture the fall.

In their final round neither got the advantage and the time proceeded to run out.

Preliminary action had Ace Freeman and Chris Belkas holding on each other but neither could bring up enough strength to pin the other's shoulders to the mat.

It was a clean match all the way as both boys broke cleanly when the referee asked them to.

This was greeted by applause from the fans who appreciated this fine show of sportsmanship.

This marked the third of Premier wrestling programs. The big motor Howard Vineyard's Summer will be next month when Clements meets McShane.

Keller Signs Contracts With St. Louis Cards

By JOHN HOLLIS
NEA Special Correspondent

HOUSTON, Tex. (NEA)—At 14 the Yankees, who didn't know his real birthday, offered him a contract.

At 16 the Red Sox were casting longing glances.

Three seasons later, Jonesboro's juvenile jolter, 19-year-old Charley Keller, no relation to the former Yankee King Kong — was worth a fat bonus to the Cardinals as a first baseman.

Seems like everyone wanted the young southpaw swinger with the fine batting eye. The Yankees called first, but Charley wasn't ready to go. The Red Sox, Dodgers, Tigers and Pirates haunted the Keller home. So did the Cardinals.

Detroit offered an astounding $65,000, but in a red-hot, Cardinal town such as is Jonesboro, Ark., the final decision wasn't hard to make. So young Keller played his first professional baseball game with the Houston Buffs.

Almost shy, Keller is about like any other 19-year-old. He likes cherry cokes, ham sandwiches, could eat his weight in beans and potatoes, "especially navy beans," and can't quite get over what has happened to him these last few weeks.

"I just happened to Charley is indicative of the lengths big-league teams will go to tie up untired and untested talent.

"I never expected to get any kind of bonus," Houston's newest arrival nodded.

"All I wanted was a chance," he said, "and was just hoping to get even that."

"All the folks in Jonesboro (population 20,000) wanted to see me in pro ball, especially with the Cardinals. So, while I didn't even plan on going into pro ball at first this year, when the Cards made me such a nice offer I took it."

"It wasn't a case of selling to the highest bidder. I've always liked the Cardinals. Them and the Yankees. I've been to see several Cardinal games."

Keller, only a year removed from high school and with one season's freshmen basketball under his trunks at Kentucky, never came out and admitted the St. Louis Nationals gave him a $75,000 bonus. But he did mention that Detroit offered him $65,000.

A student at Jonesboro High Charley's folks with riding.

"A 'bonus boy,'" he grinned, "has the pressure on him because he signed for a bonus without ever showing what he could do against pro opposition. I know I'll take a lot of ribbing, but that never has bothered me. Ever since I got to where I could hit better than most others I've had to put up with that riding business."

"Buddy (Buddy Lewis, Card scout who also signed Vinegar Bend Mizell) mentioned Houston as the place he thought would be best for me to play. This is my first time in Texas."

"I've always heard this was a pitchers' league. Sure hope I can hit."

Off the first impression, Keller isn't an ordinary hot prospect. This lad, six feet, 175 pounds and fast foot, is likely to be a real phenomenon.

"He looks like a sharp hitter," Manager Al Hollingsworth said. "Takes a good, solid cut."

Other Buff veterans were impressed with his poise, wrist action and level swing.

"Takes a good, sound stance," he said, enthusiastically.

"I've never changed it," Charley Keller said.

"My Dad and my uncle, Floyd Coleman, always told me never to change my natural stance."

In Friday night games at the Skellytown Softball tourney at Schafer park Phillips won over Pampa Foundry by the score of 4 to 2. The Amarillo hill Lions won over the Northern National Comp. ers by the score 8 to 4.

Finals of this tournament will be held Monday night with four champions being crowned.

G. W. Killinger Sports Editor Belleville Daily Advocate Belleville, Ill.

A. You are correct. On this play the runner can start the moment it touches the first fielder's glove. Otherwise, the ball would juggle the ball all the way to the infield and the runner would not have a chance.

Lamesa Lobos Whip Oilers 7-4 To Grab Series Opener

Lamesa's Lobos drove across smash a double to left field out into the lead with a single two runs in the sixth inning last night to gain a 7 to 4 victory over the Pampa Oilers as Lefty Wilcox picked up his fourth win of the season against two losses. Losing pitcher for the Oilers, was starter Morris Shipman who went five innings. Kirk gave up eight hits while the three pitchers of the Oilers gave up nine runs between them.

Shipman started off in trouble from the very start as he walked four straight men in the first inning to force in one run. The inning started off with Jackie Wilcox flying out to Doug Lewis in right field, Shipman then gave to Viv Garcia and it a booming up the first hit of the ball game triple, between right and center. Then came the four successful walks. That put the Lobos in front at the end of the first inning by a score of 2 to 0.

The Oilers came right back in the top of the second as they scored one run when Ed Sudol led off the inning with a walk. Don Moore then proceeded to center. Lewis then walked sending Moore to second. Don Kirk then loaded the bases but he got out of it without any more damage as he struck out Stout to end the inning.

Lamesa came back in the sixth and went out in front for good as they scored two runs sending Shipman to the showers. He was relieved by Stan Karpinski, who faced one man. He walked Gardner the side by striking out and relieved Karpinski and re-called. Ted Gardner then came in Don Stokes.

The Lobos picked up an insurance run in the seventh when Kennedy hit a home run over the centerfield fence. This ended the scoring for the night.

The Lobos management has moved today's scheduled contest part of a doubleheader. The back to Monday night to form move was an effort to escape the playing of a Sunday afternoon contest under the torrid south plains heat. Manager Jake Phillips is expected to throw Tommy Thompson and Ted Gardner Monday night while Manager Jackie Sullivan will likely counter with George Payle and Lee West Texas New Mexico League last night Clovis 8, Amarillo 3, Abilene 8, Lubbock 4, and Albuquerque 8, Borger 3.

Soaring Sox Win Again

By The Associated Press

The soaring Amarillo Gold Sox banged out six homers last night to win another West Texas-New Mexico League game 11-9 over the Albuquerque Dukes.

At Borger, the home-town Gasers edged Clovis, the league leaders, 8-7, Pampa whitewashed Abilene 5-0, and Lubbock downed Lamesa 9-6.

Three of Amarillo's circuit blowers were by third baseman Johnny Bruzza, two of them with one ahead. The other big blowers were by Les Mulcahy, Clyde Perry and Stank Machinsky.

On the other side, Hal Abbott blasted a two-run homer for Albuquerque in the ninth. Amarillo's win was its ninth in succession and its 21st in the last 25 starts.

A single by Hal Epps in the ninth saved the game for Borger. Epps singled in Jim Wright for the decision over Clovis. The lead changed hands four times before the final frame. It was the second defeat for Clovis in the night at the hands of the Gasers.

Longhorn League

By The Associated Press

The Longhorn League resumes its regular scheduled play Saturday night with four games but hardly anything the eight teams pull off from now on will be more amazing than in the All-Star game Friday night.

The underdog All-Stars, a 20-point weaker hitting club by composite batting averages, used their foos' own weapon, the home run, to take an 8-2 victory over the West. The game at San Angelo attracted 3,552.

Four homers produced the East's first victory in six All-Star classics. John Tayan of San Angelo blasted a one - on homer, Witty Quintana of Big Spring a three - run circuit clout and Warren Slier, San Angelo, topped off the East's six - run first inning spree with a solo home run.

Lorenzo Continues to Set Pace For League Swatters

Little Pat Lorenzo, Berger Gasser outfielder who was brought into the League by La Mesa about two months ago and then swapped to the Gassers for George Payne, continues to set the pace for the hitters in the West Texas-New Mexico League. The little outfielder boosted his average to the .416 mark during the past week to take a substantial lead over his closest pursuer, Cully Rikard of the Albuquerque Dukes.

Rikard, the former Pittsburg Pirate outfielder, maintained his hitting with a .385 mark to edge Les Mulcahy of the Gold Sox by five points. In fourth place is Windy Eldridge of the Berger Gassers, with .378. Eldridge, incidentally, has been named to the northern all-star team to replace Hal Epps, a teammate, who had been named on the starting team. Epps came up with a pulled groin muscle and has requested to be excused from the game. President Ray Winkler okayed the action and named Eldridge, who was next in the balloting to replace him.

Mel Kramer, veteran Clovis sinder artist, and workhorse Red Dial of the Pioneers, continue to pace the pitchers. Kramer absorbed his first loss against eight wins last week while Dial ran his victory total to 17 with only five losses. Otho Nicholas, newly appointed Abilene manager, is third with 14-3.

Includes all games thru July 23 except Pampa at Abilene, Lubbock at Lamesa, both games July 22.

Stewart Takes Post Of Trainer For West

George Stewart, chairman of this year is a distinct honor, and he feels that the coaches Greenbelt Bowl Football Game, announced that Mr. C. Lee Brigham has accepted the invitation of the officials for the Greenbelt Bowl Game to serve as trainer for the West Squad this year.

Lee graduated from Denison, Texas, High School in 1938. He lettered in football three years and participated in track and basketball. In 1939, Lee entered Austin College, and while attending Austin College, played football two years. At this time, in July, 1942, Lee's college education was interrupted, as millions of other men's, to serve his country. He entered the U.S. Navy Seabees in January, 1952. He was discharged in 1945 and returned to Austin College in January, 1946, to complete his college education.

Lee Brigham graduated from Austin College in May, 1947, with a BA degree in physical education. His first job, upon graduation, was football coach at Iowa Park, Texas, for the school years of 47-48 and 48-49.

Following 1949, Lee became high school trainer at Denison High School. Lee holds the distinction of being the first high school trainer in Texas. During the summer of 1950, he decided that he would work on his Masters Degree in physical education, and graduated in the summer of 1950. During the last two years, Lee was trainer at Sherman High School, Sherman, Texas.

In January, 1952, Lee Brigham received national publicity and honors for his article, "The Training Program at Sherman High School." Lee authored this article, and it was published in the January issue of the MENTOR.

On June 1st, of this year, Lee assumed duties as head athletic trainer and assistant professor of physical education at his alma mater, Austin College. Lee is married to the former Georganna Morris, of Sherman, Texas, and they have two sons, Edward and Donald.

Chairman George Stewart stated that having Lee Brigham of Austin College, and Mr. Blaine Rideout, formerly of the University of Nebraska, as trainers of the East and West Squads.

White To Again Pilot Midwestern

CHILDRESS — Dixie White, amiable head coach and athletic director, will pilot the Midwestern Indians for the second year this fall, after a better-than-average season his freshman year at the job.

A former Texas Tech great during the late thirties, White held many assistant coaching and line coaching jobs prior to his appointment as head coach at Midwestern in the spring of 1951.

White enrolled at Texas Tech in the fall of 1936 after four years of football at Lubbock High School. After one year of freshman football, he took over the starting guard position on the 1937 Red Raider eleven. The following year he made the All-Border Conference team, and his senior year he played on the famous undefeated, untied Texas Tech eleven which earned a brilliant season with a Cotton Bowl game against St. Mary's. At the end of the season, he was a unanimous choice for all-conference honors.

Upon graduation from Tech, White was line coach for the Red Raider freshman team, but in 1940 he moved to Lubbock High School where he began a six-year tenure as line coach for one of the top teams in Texas schoolboy football.

In the spring of 1947, he moved to Denison High School and was line coach for the Yellow Jackets during the '47 and '48 campaigns. In '49 White came to Midwestern as line coach, and the powerhouse lines he molded during two years at that post are a typical example of his ability to work with men.

Molberg Captures Number 13 Whitewashes Blue Sox 5-0

ABILENE (AP) — The Pampa Oilers worked four hits to the utmost here Friday night as they salvaged the final game of the three-game series with the Abilene Blue Sox, 5-0. Max Molberg, going home righthander, held veteran righthander, notched his 13th win of the year and his second shutout as he held the Sox to six well-scattered hits and walked one.

Sports Shot

By HAROLD RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor Five weeks hence the biggest football campaign in Texas history rolls open.

The quality is only problematical, but the quantity is certain there will be more teams than ever before. Twenty-six senior colleges will play the game, eighteen junior colleges will field teams. High School gridiron outfits will number 83.

There is no increase in senior colleges' over last year — the number remains the same. But one more junior college will be in the swim. And one junior college conference has branched out to two in teams from three states. This is the Big Six, a misnomer because it really has only five teams. Kilgore, Paris and Tyler in Texas, Cameron Aggies of Oklahoma and Little Rock Junior College of Arkansas form this conference.

It is an important league — it produces a Little Rose Bowl team almost every year. Texas has six teams in the Southwest Conference, the Glamour of football in this area. They are Baylor, Texas A&M, Rice, Texas Southern Methodist and Texas Christian.

There will be the same five teams in the Texas Conference. McMurry, Abilene Christian, Texas A&I, Austin College and Howard Payne.

The Lone Star Conference also has the same makeup; Southwest Texas State, Sam Houston State, Sul Ross, East Texas, State Stephen F. Austin and Lamar Tech.

The Lone Star Conference also has the same makeup; Southwest Texas State, Sam Houston State, Sul Ross, East Texas State, Stephen F. Austin and Lamar Tech.

University of Houston is in the Missouri Valley conference, Midwestern, North Texas A&M, and Trinity University make up the Gulf Coast Conference.

West Texas State, Hardin-Simmons, Texas Tech and Texas Western are in the Border Conference.

The only independent college left is Texas Lutheran. It actually is a member of the Big State Conference but that circuit does not have football.

In junior college football there are four conferences, counting the Big Six. The Pioneer Conference has San Angelo, Schreiner Institute, Ranger, Arlington State and Tarleton State. The Texas Junior College Conference has Navarro, Blinn, Allen Academy, Cisco, Decatur, Henderson County and Southwest Texas.

The South Texas Conference again will have only three schools — Del Mar (Corpus Christi), Wharton and Victoria.

Texas Southmost of Brownsville, Pan-American of Edinburg, Laredo and Southwest Texas had talked about forming the Rio Grande Conference but never made it as far as football is concerned. These schools may compete in basketball and track as a conference but for a variety of reasons won't go into football.

Elk City has long been known for its super-strength semi-pro teams which annually take high honors in the national semi-pro tournament at Wichita, Kan. In addition, Elk City has sent many players into the West Texas-New Mexico League including the Oilers' Dick Woldt and Cliff Pemberton of the Clovis Pioneers.

To Market, Winner CHICAGO (AP) — King Ranch's To Market won the $100,350 Arlington Handicap by about 10 lengths today with Oil Capital second, Rubie third and Pet Bull fourth in the field of ten.

Polio Movie Is Slated

What people can do about the ravages of infantile paralysis is the subject of a film to be shown at 3 p.m. Aug. 3 in Elks Hall.

Titled "In Daily Battle," the picture will deal with the work of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and its various local chapters. According to H. D. Foster, it is being presented to Pampa as a public service.

If President Truman had been the nominee again, that prediction might have had more weight.

Different Breed

But Stevenson, with a close family tie in the South, is a different breed of political cat.

Most Southerners feel he won't give them the kind of treatment Truman dished out on civil rights bills, although he supports the party platform firmly.

With Sparkman on the ticket as spokesman for what might be called the "New South," party leaders think Stevenson has little to fear.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina and Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia may be going home dissatisfied with the convention's action, but the betting here is that they will not lead any party-splitting revolt in November.

Fall Into Rank The reaction of most of Dixie may have been keynoted by Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, who told the convention he would "fall into the ranks" and work for the nominee in November.

Russell, a practical and sensible politician, apparently never had any real belief that he could win the nomination. But friends said he had accomplished some important objectives by his campaign.

They listed these as (1) a clear realization of his candidacy that the South would not take Truman again, (2) approval by the convention of a compromise of sorts on the civil rights plank and (3) forcing recognition for Dixie on the ticket.

Elections Make Little Change In Officeholders Over Area

By RO ELLISON

Few turnovers in officials for neighboring Carson, Hemphill, Wheeler and Roberts Counties resulted from yesterday's Democratic primary polling.

In Carson County the only change will be County Attorney Frank Dove of Groom, replacing H. H. Smith, now completing his fourth term of service. Dove tallied 968 votes to Smith's 786.

O. R. Beddington, with 902 votes, will begin his sixth term as county judge after defeating his opponent B. R. Weeks by a margin of 29 votes. Weeks received 473.

Unopposed officials in Carson County include Clarence Williams, sheriff since 1943; Mrs. Fannie Williams, beginning her fifth term as county and district clerk; Oneita Hanson, treasurer; Frank Spark, O. Murray, R. C. Barrett and J. C. Jackson, commissioners.

Wheeler County. County judge, commissioners

Shivers Wins (Continued From Page One) trailing Jack Cox, young Breckenridge car dealer, in 10:30 p.m. returns. And Rep. Clark Thompson of Galveston was pushed by colorful Wharton Lane.

But the 11 p.m. count reduced Lane's narrow lead and returned Burleson to the front position. Yarborough still wasn't conceding in the governor's race. The Austin attorney said "It's too early and the returns are inconclusive."

He said he would wait to hear from more small towns and cities before admitting Shivers had won. In the U. S. Senate race, Beckworth couldn't be reached at 11:30 p.m. for his reaction to Daniel's wide lead. Those phoning his Gladeview home and office were told the young lawmaker was not there.

Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at 1 p.m. from 191 out of 254 counties in the state including 36 complete, show the following totals for candidates in Saturday's Democratic Primary Election: Governor: Shivers 548,332, Traylor 14,415, Yarborough 203,561.

Senator: Beckworth 119,944, Daniel 388,936, Napier 33,291. Agriculture Commissioner: Beard 83,104, McKay 82,983, White 303,624. Land Commissioner: Giles 342,142, Patterson 145,123. Criminal appeals: Owens 230,703, Woodley 223,182.

Railroad Commissioner: Culbertson 362,213, Laird 124,097. Congressmen: Shivers 348,332, Dickson 29,918, Dies 242,751, Hamberger 29,410, Nimitz 23,549, Petry 41,837, Selman 18,907, Smith 88,378.

Cousins, Eric Cubine, Mrs. Eric Cubine, J. R. Glass, Mrs. Dora Sanders. A resolution to place the delegates under the unit rule was adopted.

Republicans Pct. 1 — Lefora: Incomplete report showed four favored Don M. Conley for county chairman.

Pct. 2 — Baker School: Delegates to county convention: Gene Lewis, Mrs. M. E. Cooper, Mrs. R. F. McCallip. Alternate delegates: Mrs. R. M. Barrett, Oscar Johnson, Mrs. John Wilkinson. Precinct chairman for ensuing two years, Mickey Ledrick. Supported Don M. Conley for county chairman.

Pct. 9 — Woodrow Wilson School: Delegates to the county convention: Hank Nippert, J. O. Cree, O. B. Worley. Voted to have one former Taft supporter on each list of delegates.

Pct. 10 — Courthouse: Permanent Chairman, DeLa Vicars; permanent secretary, Arlen Rose. Delegates to county convention: C. A. Husted, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, L. R. (Buck) Miller, DeLa Vicars, Mrs. Rex Rose. Convention named DeLa Vicars precinct chairman for ensuing two years and gave Conley 48 votes to 28 votes for George Cree, Jr., for county chairman.

Pct. 14 — Horace Mann School: Delegates to county convention: John M. Brown, Jay Meador. Alternate delegates John M. H. Gardner, Allan Wise, Cast 12 votes for Conley as county chairman.

Pct. 18 — Purley Motor Co. Permanent chairman, D. E. Williams; permanent secretary, Mrs. J. P. Curtis. Delegates to county convention: Williams (by an 84 vote over George Clark). Named Williams as precinct chairman.

and precinct No. 3 constable races limelighted the Wheeler County polling.

In the run-off for the county judge's seat left vacant by the retirement of George Heffley will be D. A. Hunt with 1097 votes to his credit and H. S. Sims, 709. Heffley resigned after 14 years of public service, six as judge. Other contenders for this post were Glenn King, 556, and Marvin Shelburne, 167.

W. L. Erwin returns as commissioner in Pct. No. 1 and W. E. Mason and H. H. Walter will battle it out in the second primary for commissioner of Pct. No. 2. The loser in this race was Floyd Morris, tallying 109 votes.

Sam McMurry returns as commissioner in Pct. No. 3 and Lorain L. See defeated his opponent, W. J. Gillis, 771 to 308 to regain commissioner's title in Pct. No. 4.

In the constable race for Pct. No. 4 and 5, J. H. Templeton, with a vote of 709, defeated his opponent, Harry H. Hunt, marking up 600.

The heaviest voting on record in Wheeler County was reported yesterday at 2,635. This returned unopposed officials including Sheriff Bus Dorman, Homer L. Moss, County Attorney, Harry Wolford, clerk, Therman Reeves, tax assessor, and A. C. Wood, county surveyor.

Hemphill County. Hemphill County's new judge will be E. C. Fisher, who ousted H. M. Wood at the completion of his fourth term. Fisher, with 637 votes to Woods' 283, will return to a position formerly held for four years prior to the election of Wood. Trailing in this race was W. L. Helton, 259.

Ora! Cornutt tallied 625 votes to win a second term as commissioner of Pct. No. 1 against alim 134-vote opposition put up by R. H. Shaller. Paul Ramsey scored 92 votes to gain position as commissioner of Pct. No. 3 replacing N. C. Pycatt, who stepped out of office this election. H. R. Warren received 66 votes in this contest.

In Precinct No. 4 Ross Adcock was re-elected with 575 votes to his opponent Guy Hazlitts 450.

Back in office with no opposition are Clyde Risley, sheriff and tax collector; Hiram Perkin county and district clerk since 1936 with a complete no-opposition record; and Tom Tipton, commissioner, Pct. No. 2.

Only one office was sought by more than a single candidate on the Roberts County ballot and the results of this precinct were not available last night. James Flowers and J. T. Webb were both seeking the post of commissioner of Pct. No. 3, now held by Frank Russell.

Others on the Roberts County ballot were C. E. Haynes, appointed to succeed Woody Palm as county judge during the current term; M. M. Craig, Jr., county clerk since 1916; W. H. Carr, sheriff and tax collector; Mrs. Annie Keen, county treasurer; and Willis M. Clark, commissioner, Pct. No. 1, and Paul Taylor, commissioner, Pct. No. 3. Nobody's name was on the ballot for justice of the peace in Pct. No. 1, but a run-off between Elmo Gill and Robert Howard was made necessary by 10 write-in votes, will serve as justice of the peace in Pct. No. 4. Woods King, elected entirely by write-in votes for each commissioner's race is to be re-elected Monday.

Atty. E. O. Northcutt, Amarillo, for the court of civil appeals with 2,178, Hal Houston, also of Amarillo, who did not even have a license to practice law in Texas, came in second with 685. Joe Moss of Post was third with 388 and Harry Bunnenger of Wichita Falls brought up the rear with 249.

Bascom Giles held his vote appeal in Gray County, polling 2,223 votes to beat Guy Patterson with 1,349.

The four-man battle for Place 1 of the Supreme Court went to spurgeon Bell with 1,090 votes, Glenn R. Lewis, only West Texan in the race, polled 684; Frank P. Culver ran third with 839 and A. R. Stout polled 597.

Associate Justice Graham H. Smedley carried the county with 1,719 to 1,519 for Robert B. Kennan.

Jesse Owens polled 1,922 to beat Kenneth K. Woodley with 1,297, in the race for the Court of Criminal Appeals.

John Ben Shepherd romped over his opponent, Curt Stiles, 3,687,819. Ben Ramsey was O. K. for Pampa voters, too, as lieutenant governor for another two years. He took his opponent Morales, 3,203,521.

The county gave its strength to damage estimated at $80 in accident here. A small accident involving total estimated damages of $80 has been reported by city police.

William E. Hodges, 68, Clarendon, Tex., was driving west on Kingsmill, trying to pass a car driven by Alva Phillips, 83, Pampa, going west on Kingsmill, when a third car, operated by an unidentified person, came from the opposite direction and forced Hodges and Phillips to collide.

Dies, Smith Fight Close Race Locally

Although former Rep. Martin Dies was far out in front over the state, it was nip and tuck between him and his nearest opponent, John Lee Smith, in Gray County.

Dies polled 1,596 to Smith's 1,552 in the 18 boxes. Smith, however, carried eight boxes and Dies carried nine. The two men tied in Box 8 with 18 votes each.

Gov. Allan Shivers walked away with his two opponents tallying 9,222 to Judge Ralph Yarborough, 9,171. Mrs. Allene Traylor registered a poor 971.

But it was Price Daniel who slugged down supposedly strong opposition from Rep Lindley Beckworth, and mediocre opposition from third entrant, Daniel, polled 3,285 to Beckworth's 455. E. W. Napier polled 318.

The county gave State Senator Gray Hazelwood of Amarillo only 2,693 over Jim Crow of Canadian, with 1,294. Then it turned around and carried Railroad Commissioner Olin Culbertson over Joe Laird, 2,691 to 1,072.

Culbertson is the man who fought the "sweet gas" bill of 1947 that permitted local gas producers to sell their gas to industry instead of to the pipelines. Hazelwood introduced the bill and fought it through even to arguing the late Gov. Beauford Jester into signing it over the strong protests of large pipeline companies.

Voters appeared to be confused in the numerous appellate court races. Many of them, according to the votes, passed over the court races and went on to the next office.

The county gave its strength to damage estimated at $80 in accident here. A small accident involving total estimated damages of $80 has been reported by city police.

Mrs. Ada Sutton Services Monday

Last rites for Mrs. Ada Sutton Skellytown will be read in the Nazarene Church at Konawa, Okla., tomorrow at 2 p.m. Burial will be in Konawa Cemetery.

Mrs. Sutton died Thursday in an Oklahoma City hospital at the age of 38. She had been in failing health for a number of years.

Mrs. Sutton was born near Konawa and lived there until 1929 when she moved to Tecumseh, Okla. She moved to Shawnee, Okla., in 1932 and in 1937 came to Skellytown where she had made her home until her death.

Survivors include her husband, Silas Sutton, two sons, Darwin Cecil and Leon, one daughter, Evon Fay, all of Skellytown; three sisters, Mrs. Bertha May Maciel, Tracy, Calif., Mrs. Nelie Terry, Berkeley, Calif., Mrs. Filchic Sutton, White Deer; and three brothers, Rev. Earl Gunn, Shawnee, Jasper N. Gunn, Konee; and Carl H. Gunn, Konawa.

Roesch Brothers Funeral Home in Shawnee is in charge of arrangements.

Rites Monday For Mrs. Mima Dodd, 77

Funeral services for Mrs. Mima Dodd, 77, will be held at 4 p.m. Monday at the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Chapel. Burial services at 4 p.m. will be in the Mulhall (Okla.) Cemetery.

Mrs. Dodd died at 8:55 a.m. Saturday at the home of her brother, John Nixon, 319 N. Perry by city police making her home in Pampa for the past two years.

Survivors include two other brothers, Walter E. Nixon, Watts Okla., W. H. Nixon, Denver. Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home will be in charge.

200th Accident

Two hundred automobile accidents have now been recorded by city police since the first of the year.

The 200th mishap was a slight 527 affair that occurred at 11:20 a.m. Saturday in the 200-block of W. Foster, just west of Russell. A '48 model car driven by Barney C. Priest, 883, driven by Browning, was going south on Frost and making a left turn onto Foster when it became involved in a collision with a car operated by Ben Weatherly, 26, Borger, which was going east on Foster.

Priest was given a ticket for failing to grant the right of way. No casualties were reported.

Ray Riley Speaker At First Baptist

Speaker for the evening service at the First Baptist Church today will be Rev. Ray Riley, chairman of the Pampa and now pastor of the First Baptist Church, Alford.

Rev. Riley was engaged in oil work in Pampa until 1938. He attended Baylor University, and at the present time lacks one year completing his training at the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

Dr. J. W. (Bill) Marshall, president of Wayland College, Plainview, will be the morning speaker.

A Gesture The delegates — loose still in town and able to make it — handed the nomination to the senator after women in the party paid a complimentary gesture to Mrs. India Edwards of Maryland, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Judge Sarah Hughes of Dallas.

The names of the women were put in nomination as a complimentary gesture and promptly withdrawn so Sparkman's nomination could be unanimous.

Sparkman is a non-smoking, non-drinking man. But he does chew gum. And the Stevenson speech was so short he had to get rid of a stick of it hastily before he could hop in to his own brisk acceptance address.

Mystery Of Strange Base Still Perplexes Greenland Natives

By OLIVER G. CLAUSEN
COPENHAGEN (AP) — The slant-eyed, sealskin-clad natives of Marraq, Greenland, are still puzzled by the Americans who came out of the air one fine day, set up a huge airbase in the barren Arctic wastes — and then suddenly vanished, leaving millions of dollars' worth of runways, equipment and gasoline. They aren't likely to forget those incredible days when a roaring piece of America was planted amidst the vast silence of their black mountains and endless white plains. Tell Strange Tale In the tiny settlements along the West Greenland Coast, they sit in aluminum chairs made for American fliers and excitedly tell to occasional visitors the strange tale of the dead airbase. The Americans, it seems, discovered Marraq when the fury of the war was at its height. Behind the desolate, rocky coast some 60 miles south of Godthaab they found what appeared to be the ideal site for an airbase. A flat, sheltered sand bank covering an area of some five square miles. During the summer of 1944 warlike 20th century civilization was brought to the wilderness through the air and in huge barges navigating the treacherous waters of nearby Weeping Fjord. When the U. S. Air Force was at last installed, Marraq had been turned into a town of 23 buildings. It had its own electricity plant, cinema, workshops, radio station and cold storage depot. Stayed Two Years Seven thousand big steel mats had been rolled out across the sandy expanse as runways, and nine tall radio towers pointed toward the pale arctic sky. For two years the Americans stayed at Marraq. When the end came, it came suddenly. One day in 1946, the Americans boarded their planes and roared out to sea, never to return. The curious Greenlanders were soon awarming over the base, pillaging and babbling excitedly about their good fortune. What they found was incredible. On the dining tables in the messes were half-eaten meals indicating the order to clear out had been given unexpectedly. But there were other things which delighted the natives far more. Scattered around the base were thousands of barrels of gasoline and a vast confusion of trucks, automobiles, bulldozers, tractors, radio transmitters, spare parts for planes, furniture, electrical equipment and ensembles of all kinds and sizes. Base Is Quite Today in their primitive homes along Weeping Fjord, the Greenlanders sleep in American beds and relax in comfortable chairs which once belonged in planes. Godthaab, capital of Denmark's arctic colony, has not had to import gasoline since the Americans flew away. Peace has returned to Marraq. The dead airbase is still littered with gasoline barrels and broken-down houses but it is strangely quiet. Only the fox and the grouse leave their footprints on the snow-covered runways and the majestic arctic eagle slowly circles in the skies where American warplanes flew. Diamond cutting was first developed in ancient India.

Fairview Cemetery

One Of The Most Beautiful Cemeteries In Texas

The above picture of Fairview cemetery was taken just inside the main gate looking north-east . . . the well kept lots show the extreme care that is given to all the grounds. Assorted trees and shrubbery add to the natural beauty and serenity that is more evident at Fairview than most any cemetery found in this area.

Facts About This Home-Owned Institution:

Fairview Cemetery which started with one grave nearly fifty years ago on a plot of prairie north of town donated by the White Deer Land Company is now one of the more beautiful burial places in the State. This has come about because of the untiring efforts over the years of citizens of Pampa who have been directors of the Fairview Cemetery Association all of whom have donated their time and labor without compensation.

A Perpetual Care charter was obtained in 1937 and since that time there has been accumulated in the Perpetual Care Fund over $65,000., which has been invested in U. S. Bonds. This fund is under the supervision of the Department of State.

Lots in the Fairview Cemetery are priced from $80. to $100., and from this amount forty cents per square foot is set aside in a separate fund for perpetual care.

This is strictly a non-profit Association. The lot owners are the stockholders and own the Cemetery. Five men are employed in the care of the cemetery and the directors see to it that no effort is spared to keep our cemetery in its present fine condition and to improve it within the limit of our income.

All surplus funds from the sale of lots, after provision is made for the Perpetual Care Fund and maintenance of the cemetery, are used for improvements. One of the recent improvements has been paving the main street through the Cemetery. Mr. Ed Foran, the Superintendent, lives on the premises and can be reached at any time.

Stroup-English Vows Said In First Methodist Church

In an all-white wedding Sunday, July 20, in the First Methodist Church, Miss Joan Harriett Stroup, daughter of Mrs. Jessie Stroup and the late James Stroup, became the bride of Leon W. English, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. English. The double-ring ceremony was read by Rev. Newton Starnes, pastor of the church. The bride and groom were accompanied by Mrs. Roy Johnson, organist, and Mr. Johnson who sang "Always, Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt on a satin pillow following the exchange of vows.

Miss Donna Robinson and Miss Betty Wilson, bridesmaids, and Mrs. James Holt, matron of honor, wore identical dresses of white chrysanthemum with white lace bodices, patterned after the bridal gown. They wore matching stoles and halos of white net and lilies of the valley. The attendants carried crescent-shaped bouquets of white chrysanthemums with Hahn's ivy and white satin ribbon. White pearl earrings were their only pieces of jewelry.

Frank Harrell of Sanderson, Texas, college roommate of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsman were Bill Derrington and Derron Davis. Ushers were Hugh Gracey and Jack Sutton. Mr. Sutton and Mr. Derrington lighted candles.

The bride entered with her uncle, Mr. Carl B. Teagarden of Dallas, who gave her in marriage. Her gown of white slipper satin featured a fitted bodice covered with lace of intricate floral design. The high collar was set off with marquisette shoulder flaps outlined in seed pearls. Full-length sleeves, fitted at the wrist with satin covered buttons, extended to points over the hands. The full ballerina-length skirt worn over crinoline, was styled with panels of lace in an inverted petal effect. The fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a crescent-shaped headpiece of white satin overlaid with fluted net and seed pearls. She carried a single white orchid atop a white Bible belonging to Miss Betty Joyce Scott, sorority sister of the bride.

New Imported Beauty Serum Helps Women Fight War With Father Time

As inevitable as night follows day, there comes a time in the life of every woman when she begins to feel her skin is her chief traitor in her war against that aged look. Wrinkles creep out of hiding—and all her defenses crumble.

When this happens, efforts toward maintaining a slim figure and a youthful outlook seem almost in vain. Observers' eyes never seem to travel beyond those tell-tale signs on her face.

If this is your problem, you may enlist in your defensive forces a new import which makes claim does much to negate the advances of your enemy, Father Time.

This product, well known in France for years, has recently been brought to the women of America by a well-known American cosmetics house. It's described as a serum, named after the French beauty who developed it.

Her beauty treatment consists of the smoothing on of the contents of tiny vials, each of which contains enough serum for an individual application.

Prescribed intervals for application vary. You begin by using a whole vial every night for five nights; then you space the treatment, applying the serum the next two weeks, twice a week is often enough, makers say.

MISS EDITH TAYLOR (Qualls Pampa Studio)

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Taylor of Pampa announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Edith Taylor, and Mr. David E. Green of Pampa.

The wedding is to be solemnized August 10 at the First Assembly of God Church.

Marriage Of Miss Carol Sloan And Robert Hayes Solemnized In Chapel

The First Methodist Church Chapel was the scene of the marriage July 19 of Miss Carol Sloan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Sloan, and Mr. Robert Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hayes.

Rev. E. Douglas Carver officiated at the double-ring ceremony read before an altar decorated with tall baskets of white gladioli and seven-branch candelabra.

Mr. Roy Johnson sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Johnson who played a prelude of wedding music, and traditional wedding marches.

The bride's only attendant, Miss Dixie McMullins of Ozona, wore a pink silk shantung street-length dress with black accessories. She carried a cascade of feathered blue carnations.

Jimmy Hayes, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white cotton lace dress over ice blue satin. A short veil was attached to her matching lace hat. She wore rhinestone earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white orchid showered with feathered chrysanthemums.

The bride's mother wore a natural cotton lace dress with white and brown velvet accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother was attended in a navy crepe dress with matching accessories.

Mrs. Nelson, Austin; Derral Davis, Artesia, N. M.; Frank Harrell, Sanderson; Harbord Cox, Amarillo; Mrs. Grady Alcock, Linda and Judy, Miami; Mr. and Mrs. O. Z. Spearman, Britton, Okla.; Mrs. Preston James, Paul and Joyce, Lubbock.

Miss Fraser, Mr. Lyon Wed In Formal Ceremony

Miss Mary Nick Fraser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Fraser, became the bride of Mr. William Dwayne Lyon, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lyon of Olton, in a single-ring ceremony read here July 18 by Rev. Tom M. Johnston in the First Methodist Church.

Tall baskets of pink gladioli and carnations were flanked by floor candelabra holding cathedral-tapers. The altar railing was covered with emerald fern, and white satin bows were used on family pews.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, organist, played "Nocturne" by Chopin, "Traumerei" by Schumann, "Seaside" by Jocelyn Godard, "Reverie" by Debussy, and "Serenade" by Sigmund Romberg. Traditional wedding marches were used, and Mrs. Johnson accompanied Mrs. Roy Johnson as he sang "The Pledge" by Black. Bridesmaids, Miss Angela Duncan and Miss Norma Pirtle, wore identical gowns of pink marquisette over taffeta. The gowns were fashioned with fitted bodices and bouffant, ballerina-length skirts over crinoline. Dresses were trimmed with pleating of self material, and their picture hats were trimmed with streamers of aches of roses velvet ribbon.

They carried cascade bouquets of pink roses tied with velvet ribbon to match their hats.

Miss Linda Fraser, served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a gown identical to the bridesmaids. Her hat was trimmed with blue velvet ribbon streamers, and her bouquet of pink roses was centered with cornflowers and tied with blue velvet to match her hat.

All attendants wore cameos tied with velvet material, and their matching earrings, gifts of the bride.

Mr. Fraser gave his daughter in marriage. Her bridal gown of French lace over net and satin, was styled with a fitted bodice which joined a bouffant, ankle-length skirt. The bodice came to a deep point at the waistline and was closed in front with covered buttons.

Her tiered veil of French illusion was attached to a half-hat of lace over satin and trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and fleur d'amour.

The bride's mother wore a navy sheer dress with navy and white accessories, and a corsage of roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a white dress with navy and white accessories, and a corsage of roses.

The bride was graduated from Pampa High School in 1949, and later attended Texas Technological College. She is now employed by the Cabot Co.

Mr. Hayes, also a Pampa High School graduate, attended West Texas State College. He is now employed by the Texas Co.

Skelly-Schafer Club Elects New President

SKELLYTOWN (Special)—The Skelly Schafer Club met recently in the home of Mrs. L. F. Karlin for election of a new president.

Mrs. George Porter was recognized as a new member. Refreshments were served to Mrs. M. C. Heaton, Curtis Huckabee, Harmon, Fred Geneit, Russell Veal, L. D. Cowart, H. W. Genet, T. A. Ingram, L. Barrett, Fred Powell, L. F. Karlin, and Mrs. R. E. McAllister who assisted the hostess, Mrs. Karlin.

One out-of-town guest, Mrs. Ervin Brown, was also present.

Mrs. Lyon was graduated from Pampa High School in 1948, and attended Southern Methodist University. She is now employed by the Cabot Co. The bridegroom was graduated from West Texas State College in Canyon, and is now line coach and physical education instructor at Pampa High School.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Vervie Trusty and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Campbell and Carmelita of Olton; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nicholson of Terrell; Mrs. Dorothy Nicholson and David of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Jarrell and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Slay of Wellington; John and Margie Lee, Mrs. Margie Emery, and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Crowell of Groom; Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Angel of Canyon; Jans Innon of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Lyon of Lockney; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Weston of Phillips; Mrs. John Fraser of Amarillo; and Mr. Lyle Montgomerie of Denton.

Among the pre-nuptial courtesies was a luncheon for the bridal party in the French Provincial Room of the Amarillo Club with Dr. Emily T. Hicks as hostess. The table was centered with large pink-tinted foam bells interspersed with pink rosebuds and greenery. Placecards were decorated with bells and rosebuds in the same shade of pink.

Individual cakes, decorated with pink rosebuds and guests' names, were served with French coffee ice cream.

Guests included the honoree, Miss Fraser, and the bride's attendants, Miss Linda Fraser, Miss Norma Pirtle and Miss Angela Duncan, and Miss Betty Joyce Scott, Joan Appleyard and Miss Betty Cooper.

Others present were Mrs. William T. Fraser, Dr. Hicks and Mrs. Fraser's sister, Mrs. Russell Weston of Phillips.

Certain household pests may invade the home, especially during the summer months. How to get rid of them, is on the mind of those disturbed by these pests. Among them are the various types of ants. You may get temporary relief inside the home by spraying with a two per cent DDT emulsion, or a wettable powder spray around windows and door facings where ants enter. They sometimes seek damp places, so try spraying around water pipe fittings of sinks and wash basins.

However, a more permanent control may be obtained by treating the outside premises around the house and the foundations. By thus destroying the colonies, you may prevent reinfestations. Either chlordane dust or spray may be used on the outside. A five percent chlordane dust applied on the surface of the ground feet out from the house, is very effective. A spray, made from the wettable powder of the emulsion form, may be used in the same manner. Dilute according to the manufacturer's directions. Individual colonies can be treated by dusting on and around the entrance with chlordane dust; or by pouring a small amount of the spray material into the opening.

Several commercial baits, which are in the form of poisoned syrups, jellies and fats are on the market. They sometimes are very useful in mopping up operations of a successful ant control campaign. These different controls help to rid the premises of the last ant, and are good to be used together, very often.

Cockroaches may suddenly enter the home. There are three different kinds of them but they are all quite quick on the move. Some are large, reaching a length of about two and one-half inches. Others are only a fraction of an inch in length. They feed on much of the foods as man, but they especially like sweets and starches. Sometimes they will eat the starch from your wallpaper.

Before using any control measures, be sure to get the foods off shelves and out of cabinets, where they frequent. Chlordane sprays will control them the same as ants, but it takes only a two per cent solution. Be sure to spray cracks and crevices or baseboards, where they have been seen. A thorough treatment will give control for six months, but be sure not to wipe it off the surface during that time.

One of our worst enemies is the housefly. A five per cent bell and Carmelita of Olton; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nicholson of Terrell; Mrs. Dorothy Nicholson and David of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Jarrell and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Slay of Wellington; John and Margie Lee, Mrs. Margie Emery, and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Crowell of Groom; Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Angel of Canyon; Jans Innon of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Lyon of Lockney; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Weston of Phillips; Mrs. John Fraser of Amarillo; and Mr. Lyle Montgomerie of Denton.

McKinney-Wagner Vows Exchanged Here In First Presbyterian Church Chapel

Miss Betty McKinney of Pampa and Bryan Wagner of Wichita Falls were united in marriage Friday afternoon, July 18 at three o'clock in the Little Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church, Pampa, Texas.

Dr. Douglas E. Nelson read the double-ring ceremony before a background of Kentia palms and candelabra with white tapers, flanked by baskets of white streamers.

Mrs. H. A. Yoder, organist, played, "Love Song," by Cadman; "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" by Victor Herbert; "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," by R. M. Stull; and Melody by Tschakowsky, and accompanied Mrs. Kay Fancher who sang, "Bless This House," by Taylor and Brahe.

Fletcher M. McKinney, Jr. gave his sister in marriage. The bride wore a gown of white imported, ribbed organdy designed with a rounded neckline and three-quarter length sleeves, both of which were trimmed with narrow satin binding. The moulded bodice was caught at the waist with a wide satin belt. The floor-length skirt was gathered over layers of white organdy and taffeta. Her shoulder-length veil of sheer nylon tulle was attached to a headpiece of organdy petals sprinkled with rhinestones. Her elbow-length mitts were also of nylon tulle, matching her veil. She carried a bouquet of feathered white chrysanthemums and white marine tufts centered with a single white orchid and trimmed with white satin ribbon.

Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls given her by the bridegroom.

Miss Gerry Arruth was the bride's only attendant. She wore a ballerina-length frock of pink embroidered eyelet with Juliet cap and matching mitts. Her bouquet was of pastel tinted mums in colonial design with satin ribbon.

The mother of the bride wore a natural linen dress with Venetian lace yoke and matching accessories. Her hat was of summer velvet in burnt-cinnamon tone with contrasting veil trim. Her shoulder corsage was of be used about the house to help control it. A five per cent DDT emulsion, or a wettable powder spray is favored for barn and outside buildings. If DDT appears to be unsatisfactory, either a two per cent chlordane spray or a combination spray, containing two and one-half per cent DDT and two per cent chlordane should give good results. Remember the watchword for fly control is SANITATION.

With the use of the various control measures on the market today, people should not be troubled with these pests for any length of time.

Another encouragement is to tell a child that whatever he earns strictly on his own his parents will match. That helps if the thing he is working for costs so much that the figures he never will be able to earn it all.

Of course, getting the children working is of no real value to them unless they are held to some sort of standards.

Summer vacation is the ideal time for teaching school-age children to take on some of the responsibilities of family living. Parents who let their school-age children do nothing but play for the three vacation months are missing a good bet.

During those three months, when Mom has the sole care and guidance of the children, is the time to get them started assuming a little responsibility.

A boy can take over the care of the yard—for pay. A girl can start learning some of the home-making skills that will serve her all the rest of her life.

And if the children are old enough, they can be encouraged to get out into the neighborhood and line up a few paid jobs for themselves.

The easiest way to encourage, of course, is to get a child interested in earning money for a certain thing, whether it is two weeks at camp, a gun, or any other objective.

Another encouragement is to tell a child that whatever he earns strictly on his own his parents will match. That helps if the thing he is working for costs so much that the figures he never will be able to earn it all.

Miss Doris Noel Becomes Bride Of Mr. Donald Grant In Home Ceremony

Miss Doris Jeannine Noel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Noel, became the bride of Mr. Donald D. Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grant of Keene, Texas, in a ceremony read July 13 in the home of the bride's parents.

Elder I. V. Stonebrook officiated at the vows read under an arch covered with white roses and flanked by baskets of white gladioli. Candelabra on each side of the arch were made by the bride's brother, Duane Noel. Miss Edna Grant, the bride's sister, lighted candles.

Mrs. Irvin Cole, the bride's aunt, played traditional wedding music, and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Rogers who sang "Always." At the close of the ceremony, Mrs. Cole accompanied Miss LaVada Grant who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Jessie Cole, sister of the bride, was the only attendant. She wore an orchid nylon ballerina-length dress and a corsage of white and orchid carnations.

Mr. Clarence Grant, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length dress of white tulle with a white net yoke and tight-fitting bodice. Her dress and fingertip-length veil were decorated with white forget-me-nots.

She carried a white Bible topped with white carnations. The bride's dress and veil were made by an aunt, Mrs. Henry Lee. Mrs. Noel selected a light blue nylon dress, and the bridegroom, presided at the brides' book, and Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Lee presided at the table.

For traveling, the bride selected a navy nylon dress with red accessories. After a trip through Kansas, Colorado, and Yellow Stone Park, the couple will be at home at College Place, Washington.

The bride attended Pampa High School and South Western Junior College in Keene, Texas, where she was a member of the Ta Wa Si Club. The bridegroom also attended South Western College, and will complete his ministerial work at Walla Walla College in College Place.

Cook's Nook

How do you like your jam? Firmly jelled, or a little on the "runny" side? Some families like it one way, some the other. And each group feels strongly on the matter. Sort of like members of political parties. Here are helpful hints for making jams and jellies turn out the way you want them.

1. If you prefer thick jam, use powdered or liquid pectin (following directions that come with the package or bottle), rather than cook away the fresh fruit flavor by long boiling.

And even when you are not adding pectin, you'll have a prettier, fresher-tasting jam if you boil it rapidly a short time rather than rather slowly a long time.

2. Be sure to use a really big, broad pan so that the jam or jelly can bubble violently without boiling over, and excess water can evaporate quickly. Stir constantly — with a long-handled wooden spoon to avoid burns from splattering syrup.

3. Old-time jelly-makers used to boil down fruit juice before adding the sugar. And they used to heat the sugar, too. Now, the best jelly-makers simply add the sugar to the cold fruit juice and stir while heating.

4. When you use liquid or powdered pectin in making jams and jellies, be sure you time the cooking accurately. For timing one or two minutes, if you haven't a clock with a second hand, use an egg-timer, or count seconds by saying "one-and, two - and, three - and," etc. Over-cooking makes for toughness.

5. Remember that jam thickens considerably during cooling, and still more during storage. Even when you add pectin, you'll find some jams and jellies need to stand a few days to stiffen properly.

6. Why do some recipes for jams, preserves, marmalades, and

Recent Bride Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. H. M. Killough, the former Miss Juanita Cox, was complimented at a shower recently in the home of Mrs. Derrel B. Hogsett. Co-hostesses included Mrs. Eugene Turner, Kermit Rascoe, Jay Mitchell, W. A. York, David Tubbs, Derrel Hogsett, and Miss Virginia Bates.

The honoree was presented a corsage of blue and white daisies tied with blue ribbons, to carry out her chosen color scheme. Decorated cakes and punch were served at a table covered with a crocheted cloth, centered with a floral arrangement. Blue napkins were engraved, "H. M. and Juanita."

Mrs. Hogsett and Mrs. Turner presided at the table.

Mrs. Rascoe and Mrs. Killough welcomed guests. Participating in shower were Mrs. Olga Smith, E.P. Pursley, Elmer Francis, Denver Tucker, Elmer Prescott, Hugh Layne, Bill Cox, L.N. Mitchell, J.P. pickles call for adding the sugar in installments? That is because the pieces of raw fruit can absorb a thin syrup better than a thick one. When the sugar is added gradually, the fruit takes up the syrup more evenly. And so the pieces do not tighten up into tough little knots, as sometimes happens when they are started cooking in a very heavy syrup.

7. Why do some recipes call for pouring the hot jam into a shallow dish and stirring once in awhile as it cools? That's so the pieces of fruit will absorb syrup and plump up, and won't float. In a cool climate it is all right to pack this jam cold in sterilized small jars.

8. Is it necessary to boil jelly glasses to sterilize them? No, if you wash them in hot soapy water, rinse them thoroughly in boiling water, then drain them thoroughly upside down on a stick, they'll be all right.

The large amount of sugar in these products acts as a preservative, so the ordinary cleanliness of good housekeeping is sufficient.

9. As soon as the jam or jelly is in the jars or glasses, cover with a thin layer of hot paraffin. Pour the melted paraffin from a tablespoon, using just one spoonful to a glass. (Old recipes used to call for adding a thick layer of paraffin, but modern experts find it works better to use a thin one.) Put on the metal lids, label, and store in a cool, dark place.

The Mature Parent

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Someday Stub's brown hair will lie meekly down, neat and close to his head. Now it won't. Now his 12-year-old hair looks, as he yanks off his baseball cap, as though it were trying to grow in several directions at once. His T-shirt is dirty. Into his mother's kitchen he brings the clean smell of children's sweat, of summer and sun. His nose is peeling.

On the table is a pile of corn to be shucked for dinner. Stub shoves them aside to make room for his cap, mitt and baseball bat. When two ears of corn fall to the floor, he ignores them. Sniffing loudly, he reaches on top of the shelf above the sink. When he has filled his glass with water, he drinks thirstily with happy gasps of satisfaction.

Then lifting his shoulder, he wipes his mouth against his shirt sleeve and says to his mother, "We just chased that kid sister of Whitey's home again. We chased her good. She makes me sick to my stomach the way she hangs around . . ."

Stub's mother listens until he has relieved some of his indignation at Whitey's kid sister. Then she says, "Stub, put your cap, your mitt and your bat in the hall closet."

Stub obeys. He likes the way his mother knows what she wants done and lets him know. He likes her simple directions. They do not ask him to think, but to act.

His mind is occupied with outrage and sympathy for Whitey, whose kid sister insists on persecuting him with her attentions. So he is grateful not to be asked to consider the virtues of neatness or the inconvenience of baseball equipment in kitchen tables. He is glad to have a mother who does the thinking and only asks action from a little boy.

When Stub was a baby, his mother squeezed oranges to get their juice for him. When she had the juice, she threw the pulp away. She did not feed the pulp to him because she knew that his baby digestion could not separate the nutritious juice from the coarse fibre. So she performed this digestive function for him.

Now, when she gives Stub simple orders, she again performs a digestive function for him. Knowing that he cannot distinguish between what is essential and non-essential in what is said to him, Stub's mother strains her talk to give him the essence of her meaning. She says, "Put your belongings in their place."

What she has done is not easy. It is not easy, for example, to say to Kathie, returning from an errand without the cream we've been waiting to whip for supper, "Go back, Kathie—and get the cream we need." The overwhelming temptation is to say, "You mean to tell me you forgot my cream? Where's your head, for heaven's sake? Now maybe the store's closed and it's too late to get my cream for supper. If you'd only listen to what is said to you, you wouldn't have to run errands twice."

The overwhelming impulse is to discuss our emotions about shortcake without cream, the littered table, unmade bed, the rip in the new shorts. It takes self-discipline to say simply, clearly without rancor, "Get the cream, clear the table, make the bed, get my needle and thread."

The fact is, simple orders force us to think before we speak. They force us to speak without complaints, without reproaches. Stub and Kathie do not think as clearly as we do, but their intuitions are sharp. They go for parents who can give orders simply, clearly, without rancor because they sense that such a parent has already exerted discipline upon himself.

Little Change in Number... White Collar, Skilled Workers Lead Local Job Replacements

More white-collar and skilled workers and fewer unskilled laborers have been placed in jobs in the first six months of this year as compared with the same period of 1951, according to the local office of the Texas Employment Commission.

Yet the number of job placements, says TEC, did not change measurably during the same time-span.

At the same time, TEC reports, fewer non-agricultural jobs were filled in the six-month period of 1952 while more people found work in agriculture.

A total of 1426 persons were settled in new jobs this year from January through June. That figure is but nine less than last year's job placement total.

Of those totals, 256 were placed in professional, managerial, clerical, sales and service jobs in 1952 as against 192 last year. Ninety-one found skilled or semi-skilled jobs this year; in 1951 only 73 did.

But the real change is shown in the decreased number of persons this year who were employed in unskilled work. In 1951, the TEC found non-skilled work for 1,062 applicants; while there were only 888 such jobs filled in the first six months of this year.

Even down into agricultural and non-agricultural categories, the number of non-farm placements dropped from 1,327 to 1,245 and the total of farm workers employed rose from 108 to 181.

Strike May Halt B-36 Production

FORT WORTH (AP) — Production of the mighty B-36 will probably be cut back in September unless the steel strike is "settled shortly," officials at the Convair aircraft plant here said yesterday.

Delivery schedules this month and next month will be met, Convair said, but the plant "probably will not be able to meet them for the remainder of the year unless the steel strike is settled shortly."

Announcer Quits

FORT WORTH (AP) — After 79 days of flagpole sitting, radio announcer Barry Lloyd was forced to give up his try at a new world record yesterday because of a cold.

Aiming at the 124-day record for that high occupation, Lloyd had been aloft over the Fort Worth baseball park since May 5. He had resolved to stay there until the local team clinched their berth in the Texas league playoff.

Agriculture Insists Farm Production Can Be Boosted

WASHINGTON (AP) — If any Americans are worrying about their next meal is coming, or how their children fare in years ahead, Department of Agriculture report put them at ease.

The report says the ability of U. S. to produce is so enormous as to meet any foreseeable demand for food and fibers — even here's a war.

An important part of this study is another conclusion authors reached. They say it is possible, because of farm production, to increase production tremendously without the aid of new machinery.

On the contrary, they say, land would be made richer after year.

The report is based on state studies made by land colleges and the Agriculture Department. It was started shortly after the outbreak of the Korean War to determine how the farm might fare in another war.

Without a war and de-huge population increases, report indicates, standards of living need not be limited by farm production.

The report says that by 1955 production of farm products will be increased by one fifth from 1950, which was among the farm years in all history.

In 1955, it assumed, the population may increase by about 10 per cent. Census Bureau estimates indicate the gain may be less than this — but even so, the rate of food production could be many times the population increase. Thus amount of food available for person would be increased.

"A higher level diet would be provided through more emphasis on livestock and livestock products," the report says. "Total production of meat including poultry would increase from 178 pounds per capita in 1951 to 199 per capita for the population expected by 1955."

The increases are possible without substantially increasing the number of acres in crops and without increasing the number of farm workers, the report says. As a matter of fact, war conditions might make fewer farm hands available.

All the increases are possible, the report says, through applying the technical knowledge now available to farmers about growing crops and livestock; giving farmers the incentive (high enough prices) to grow big crops; making more fertilizer available, and producing more farm machinery to take the place of vanishing farm hands.

Farm experts agreed that if all farmers could take advantage of all the know-how available to them today, and farm their lands diligently with these methods, production would be half again as great as in 1950. But they also agreed that as a practical matter not every farmer could apply all this knowledge, or obtain all materials needed, and so they settled for the estimate that it is possible to increase production one fifth.

The report said that in normal times farm production is limited by:

1. Lack of knowledge by farmers of new farm practices developed by scientists and the highest-producing farmers.
2. Uncertainty whether to risk

Canadian Resuscitator Drive Doubles Goal in First Week

CANADIAN (Special) — A drive launched last week end by Fire Chief John Wilkinson to raise funds for the purchase of a portable resuscitator unit as a part of the Fire Department's community service equipment went over the top with a bang.

By Tuesday morning, firemen had enough money in the bank to purchase not one machine but two... and the fund is still growing.

Citizens subscribed $1141.50 by Wednesday morning to make possible the purchase of a resuscitator unit for the Hemphill County Memorial Hospital in addition to the portable unit to be kept ready for emergency use by the Fire Department.

One hundred and fifteen business firms and individuals had contributed to the fund.

Response to the appeal was immediate and enthusiastic, Chief Wilkinson said. He credited Mauf Abraham with a big assist Saturday afternoon in contacting donors.

The resuscitator... to the layman, a "breathing machine", was placed on display, and in operation on a model doll, Saturday afternoon in the show window at The Toggery. Wilkinson set up a table on the street, accepting donations from passers-by.

Nearly $900 was collected Saturday, and additional donations continued to arrive this week.

One of the biggest was a check for $100 delivered by Ivan Conklin, local manager of the Public Service Corporation. Conklin's supervisor, I. E. Horowitz of Fort Worth, president of the firm, had read of the drive last week end, and immediately forwarded instructions to Conklin to turn that amount over to the fund on behalf of the company.

H. S. Wilbur, president of the First National Bank and member of the hospital board, who had pledged $50 for the first and an additional $50 if a unit was purchased for the hospital.

Irish Class Has Reunion

SHAMROCK (Special) — A banquet-reunion was held Saturday night by the 1942 Shamrock graduating class. The class was unable to take the usual senior trip at graduation because of gas and tire rationing so it bought a bond and labeled it "Reunion in '52." This year, twenty-one classmates with their husbands or wives accepted the invitation to attend. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of Abilene. He was class sponsor and both were teachers in the Shamrock school when the class was graduated.

Toastmasters for the banquet were Mr. Walker and Thurman Rives of Wheeler. Main discussion, other than talking old times and catching up to the present, was how best to start a movement for an annual homecoming of Shamrock High School graduates. Committee, Thurman Rives, Charles Sanders, Billy Walker and Martin Exum, were appointed to contact representatives of as many graduating classes as possible to make plans and set the date for a reunion next summer.

Mrs. Frances Peterson (Ruby Jean Butts) came from Turlock, California to attend. Other classmates attending from out of town were Billy Jackson, Berger; Thurman Rives, Wheeler; Gladys (Morgan) Purcell, Lamessa; Peggy (McBurnett) Denton; Dalhart, Virginia (Davis) Allen; Wellington, Mary (Rhodes) Daniels; Dumas; Willie Beth (Scruggs) Ray; Odessa; Marcia Joyce (Cox) Rives, Twitty; Joe Veasey, McLean; Merville Staggs, Phillips; Minneola (Bruce) Wischkamper, Sannorwood; and the class's only bachelor present, Clyde Meekler, Jr. of Amarillo.

Local graduates are William Glover, Charles Sanders, Martin Exum, H. W. Cullen, Jr., Glendean (King) Tolat, Billie Wall and Marita (Clay) Purcell.

S. Nationalists Can Repel An Invasion

MANILA (AP) — Adm. William M. Fechteler, U. S. chief of naval operations, said that Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa have "better than a good chance" of repelling any Communist invasion attempt.

He also told a news conference the U. S. Navy in Korea has planes capable of carrying tactical atomic bombs.

The admiral, on a tour of U. S. Navy establishments in the Far East, called the Philippines a key post in the whole general concept of Western Pacific defense and said if the Philippines were attacked "we would step into the picture."

...the Carefree kitchen— OF COURSE IT'S ELECTRIC!

She'll be out of the house in a moment—but she'll leave no unfinished cooking task behind, for she has an automatic electric range. When she returns from a pleasant afternoon, she'll have a delicious dinner ready for her family—right on time, too.

Take care of your cooking the carefree way. Of course, it's electric.

CLIP AND SAVE THIS RECIPE

7-MINUTE ICING

1 1/2 cups sugar
3 egg whites
1/2 cup water

1/2 teaspoon Cream Tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix ingredients in a sauce pan. Place on small unit of electric range turned to low or fourth heat. Beat constantly with electric mixer until icing stands in peaks.

Buzz Sawyer

ARE WE IN TIME, SKIPPER? SURE, WE'RE TRYING TO MAKE A COMPLETE KILL OF THE LOCUSTS IN THIS AREA.

MEANWHILE, FAR-FLUNG IRANIAN SPOTTERS KEEP AN ETERNAL LOOKOUT IN THE DESERT.

LOOK! LOCUSTS... BY THE MILLIONS!

THEY'RE SPROUTING WINGS!

SOON THEY'LL BE SWARMING TOWARD THE FARMLANDS.

WE MUST REPORT THEM AT ONCE!

FINALLY, BILL, WITH THE THIRD SPYR PLANE, JOINS BIZ AND ALL.

Jackson Twins

WAKE UP, JILL! WAKE UP!! I'M JUST DYING TO ASK UNCLE BART IF WE CAN GO ON THE TRIP!

A FEW MINUTES LATER... SURE, I GUESS IT'LL BE ALL RIGHT! THEY'LL TAKE EXTRA GOOD CARE OF YOU!

AND WHERE YOU'RE FRIENDS OF THE COLONEL'S. THEY'LL TAKE EXTRA GOOD CARE OF YOU!

DON'T LOOK SO WORRIED, JUNIOR! YOU CAN GO TOO!

THEY'VE GOT A LOVELY LITTLE PONY FOR YOU!

YAHOO!! WE'RE OFF TO WHITE SKULL MOUNTAIN!

ME NO LIKE TWO-SQUAW-SAME-FACE AND LITTLE TERMITES GO THERE! THIS NO GOOD!!

Blondie

TO WHO DO YOU WANT TO SPEAK TO?

COOKIE-COME HERE

SHAME ON YOU FOR BEING SO CARELESS! WITH YOUR GRAMMAR! IT'S TO WHOM DO YOU WISH TO SPEAK TO? NOT TO WHO?

NOW GO BACK AND SAY IT CORRECTLY

HUH?

TO WHOM DO YOU WISH TO SPEAK TO?

Alley Oop

THE ROOM WHERE I SAW OOLA HAS JUST GOT TO BE AT THE HEAD OF THESE STAIRS!

CLANG CRASH BANG JANGLE

OOLA! HOLYOW, THIS ROOM IS EMPTY!! WHERE'D SHE GO?

Bo

I'M STAYING CLOSE TO THIS HOLE SO I CAN DUCK UNDER THE HOUSE WHEN MR. GREEN WALKS IN... HE'LL BE SNORTING MAD.

NOT ME, BO I'VE GOT ANOTHER SYSTEM.

LISTEN, BO! ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS FLATTER THE GUY'S EGO... ACT LIKE YOU FEEL INFERIOR AND HE'LL SOFTEN UP... HERE HE COMES NOW... WATCH ME.

YOU'D BETTER CRINGE AND CRAWL... WELL, AS LONG AS YOU FEEL GUILTY I WON'T PUNISH YOU... BUT DON'T DO IT AGAIN.

ALL I DID WAS PRETEND TO BE SORRY, AND THE BIG SAPI DIDN'T DO A THING.

THAT PHONE GIVES ME A PAIN.

Ozark Ike

YOW! -TH' BUS CATCHERS THROW IS INTO CENTER FIELD!

HORNBL0 FAILED TO COVER THE BAG AS THE ION RUNNER STOLE SECOND!

HE'S RACING FOR THIRD!

HEY, ELMER!... STILL COUNTIN' YOUR BONUS MONEY?

SOREHEADS!... I GOT MORE DUBS THAN MOST OF THE TEN-YEAR MEN IN THIS GAME!

AND AS THE BALL IS JUGGLIN' IN THE OUTFIELD, THE DIE-BREAKING RUN ROUNDS THIRD!!

MISTAKING AMAIZA SIGNAL FOR A DESTRUCTIVE BEAM, PLANETEBERS OPEN FIRE WITH THE DEADLY FISHNATOR.

I CAN'T RETURN THEIR FIRE - I MIGHT KILL SOME OF CHRIS WELKIN'S FRIENDS!

AMAIZA AVOIDS DESTRUCTION ONLY WITH THE UTMOST SKILL.

THE ENEMY GOT AWAY, CHRIS... I'VE GOT TO HAND IT TO HIM, HE REALLY KNOWS HOW TO JOCKEY THAT SPACE CHARIOT!

I'LL USE THE INTER-STARLAR OVERDRIVE--

Mutt & Jeff

JEFF, WHAT ARE YOU DOIN'?

I'M BUYING MYSELF A WHOLE NEW OUTFIT!

REALLY? ON WHAT?

ON ACCOUNT!

ON ACCOUNT OF WHAT?

ON ACCOUNT OF I HAVEN'T ANY MONEY!

FRIENDLY CREDIT $2 DOWN! AND $2 A WEEK WHEN WE OATON YOU!

Bugs Bunny

I GOT A NEW LINE OF SWANKIES, ELMER! HOW ABOUT A CAN OPENER, BOTTLE OPENER, SHOE-STRINGS, TOOTH-PASTE, THUMB TACKS, HAIR OIL... NO!

I KNOW ONE WAY TO GET WID OF YOU... GET 'EM, MOVIE! ...TOOTH-PICKS, SAFETY PINS, SOAP... Y-I-I-P-E.

I AIN'T GIVIN' UP ON MAKIN' A SALE YET, ELMER...

...HOW ABOUT A MUZZLE FOR YER MUTT?

Maude's Pop

POP! COME QUICK!

PRISCILLA'S AT THE BOTTOM OF THE LAKE... ON HER HANDS AND KNEES!

WHY DID YOU PULL ME OUT? WAS PRACTICING MY NEW STROKE!

FOOLISH GIRL! WHAT KIND OF A STROKE DO YOU CALL THAT?

T'IE CRAWL!!

OUT OUR WAY By J. R. WILLIAMS

YOU MOTHERS WITH JUST GIRLS DON'T HAVE TO SCHEME LIKE THIS! I CAN ONLY WORK A STUNT ON HIM ONCE - I'LL LOOSEN THIS DOORKNOB, AND WHEN HE SNEAKS IN TO RAID THE REFRIGERATOR THE KNOB WILL DROP ON THE FLOOR AND--

WELL, I WISH YOU HADN'T SHOWN ME! I'LL NEVER GET INTERESTED IN BRIDGE - I'LL BE LISTENING FOR THAT THING, TOBY.

WE'D BETTER TELL THE OTHERS, OR THEY'LL BEAT US EVERY HAND!

MARATHA MIGHT NOT UNDERSTAND

Vic Flint

OH, YES, MR. ORREN TRIPP, WON'T YOU ACCEPT THIS SFT OF $100 AND HAVE DINNER WITH ME AT THE COUNTRY CLUB?

PEACHES, YOU SLAY ME, WHO IS THIS SAL WITH CNOTES TO LAVISH ON YOUR ORREN?

MUSHY, TO THIS GIRL $100 MEANS LESS THAN A DIME TO ME. SHE'S ALL GOIN' HARDSTAY AND SHE'S A WALKING MINT!

I'M GOING TO CALL HER HIGH-NESS UP AND TELL HER ORREN BELONGS TO ME--PEACHES LORENZO, CHORUS GIRL AT THE CLUB CORONADO.

NOY PEACHES! YOU'LL RUIN ME!

HON'T HARDESTY'S DAUGHTER? THE

CHIP

IF HE'D WASH HIS FACE IT WOULD IMPROVE HIS APPEARANCE!

YOU'VE NEVER SEEN HIS FACE!

FINISH UP! WASTE NOT! WANT NOT!

WANT, NOT!

CASINO'S GANG MAY BETTER KEEP OUTA SIGHT!

AND LET THEM PERPETRATE THE MOST OUTRAGEOUS CASE OF WANDALISM IN ALL HISTORY!! NO, INDEED!!

SLOWLY ZE SOLVENT REMOVE MCKEE'S SMAGERS, KNEELER, AND REMBRANDT'S OILS EMERGE UNHARM.

STOP, YOU WRITCHES, OR I'LL OOPS!

VOILA! GET EES MCKEE! HE WEE! UPSET EVERYTHING.

NOT BY THE TIME WE GET THRU WITH HIS BASE!

Boots

HUH! IF YOU ASK ME, "POOR WILLIE'S GHOST MUST'VE RUN INTO A TERRIFIC HOUSING SHORTAGE!"

AIN'T NO LAUGHIN' MATTER, MISS PUG!

O-O-O-O-O, LOOK!!! ON OUR BOAT!!

WRIT, PLAIN AS TH' NOSE ON MY FACE!

Mickey Finn

I SAW IN THE PAPERS THAT YOU'RE ALREADY GOT IT!

THAT'S RIGHT, I DECIDED I'D LIKE TO HAVE IT FIVE TIMES - BUT THIS WILL BE THE LAST!

WELL, FRANKLY, I'M SURE I HAVE! NOW THAT THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE KNOWS I'M WILLING TO SERVE ONCE MORE I THINK IT'S ALL CUT AND DRIED!

PHIL!

THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE HAS JUST ISSUED THE LIST OF CANDIDATES--AND YOUR NAME ISN'T ON IT!

Penny

I UTTERLY AND COMPLETELY BELIEVE IN DREAMS, MOTHER.

LAST NIGHT I DREAMED ELMWOOD WAS TAKING ME TO THE COUNTRY CLUB FOR A SOCIAL AND TODAY I FOUND OUT HE REALLY IS!

INCREDIBLE!

DID IT COME ABOUT JUST THE WAY IT WAS IN YOUR DREAM?

ALMOST, MOTHER, EXCEPT IN MY DREAM--

...ELWOOD ASKED ME FOR THE DATE!

Freckles

NOW, NOW, DEAR-- WE'VE GOT OUR BOY BACK!

SURE, MRS. SMITH!

WE GOT TO... LARDS MY PAL!

THE BANK ROBBER HAS BEEN IDENTIFIED AS CLIP HOPPER, PUBLIC NUMBER ONE-A-PLUS!

I KNOW, JOE, AND I GOT THE WHOLE THING FIGURED OUT! CLIP CAME BACK TO THE STATION, GOT THE BANK MONEY AND KIDNAPED LARD!

ALERT ALL CARS! INSTRUCT STATE PATROL TO SET UP ROAD BLOCKS! GET J. EDGAR HOOVER IN WASHINGTON-- WE'VE GOT TO GET THAT BOY BACK ALIVE!

WELL, CERTAINLY ANY OTHER WAY WOULD BE A BIG DISAPPOINTMENT LARD!

WORLD NEWS IN PICTURES

CHANGES WERE MADE—John H. Waite, Jr., 34, of Boston, who went to Europe 10 years ago as a bachelor GI, arrives in New York with his wife and family. Three children are Waite's own, three are Mrs. Waite's by a previous marriage, and the seventh was adopted.

A KING-SIZE SWORDFISH—Mrs. Mildred Allison of Los Angeles stands with four companions at Antofagasta, Chile, under a 750-pound swordfish she hooked off Tocopilla Bay with a 30-thread line. She claims a world record for the catch.

IN SPITE OF HEAT—Huge snowbanks defy July sunshine near the top of Logan Pass, through which this highway crosses the Continental Divide, Glacier National Park.

TO STUDY U. S. HOSPITALS—Amir Abdullah Al Faisal, left, Saudi Arabian Minister of Health, arrives with bodyguard in New York to start tour of American hospitals.

CHIEF WAHOO—Allie Reynolds, New York Yankee hurler, of Indian descent, should be no problem in this costume for experts guessing identities on a TV show.

HAPPY TWOSOME—Mrs. Joan Moorhead totes her 4-year-old son, Dickie, Indian-fashion as they head for the beach at Atlantic City, N. J., for relief from the heat.

WEIGHT LIFTS—Mrs. Stanley W. Wasyk checks weight of sons, LeRoy, left, and Larry, who weighed 15 pounds, were reported in January as the heaviest twins ever born at St. Anne's Hospital, Chicago. They now scale 42½ pounds.

NEW-SEA QUEEN IS HOME—America's new superliner United States is welcomed to New York after setting trans-Atlantic records for eastward and westward crossings.

UP AND AT IT—Speck, recent spotted porpoise addition to Oceanarium at Marineland, Fla., proves it is quick to learn as it outjumps older residents to get daily meal of fish.

ALL MARCHED OUT—His drum corps drill mates continue on after Harlan Hall, of Gloversville, N. Y., Yellow Jackets, collapsed from heat in "Pageant of the Drums" at Syracuse.

BUSY AT WORK—Barbara Swanson, 18, preparing batter for angel food cake at Jamestown, N. Y., was chosen "Young Homemaker of Year" by the Golden Rule Foundation.

PISTOL CHAMP—Detroit's H. W. Reeves, left, is congratulated by A. M. Vik, Norwegian Shooting Association head, after winning pistol shooting championship at Oslo, Norway.

EASY DOES IT—A British gasoline truck reaches an awkward though impressive position 17 feet above ground in a demonstration by a new forklift truck. The powerful machine has a claimed load capacity of 18,000 pounds and a lift of 20 feet.

WATCHING HER 'LITER'—Susie, two-year-old cocker spaniel of Mrs. Florence Lowry of Norwood Park, Ill., keeps a watchful eye on rabbit and robin she has "adopted."

WIRED FOR SOUND—Latest in hidden hearing aids is metal necktie with microphone in jeweled ornament. Flesh-colored cord to earpiece is wound around pearls.
