Ike Blasts Administration As A 'Mess Of Corruption'

Carswell Bombers Damaged By Storm

FT. WORTH (AP) — Carswell Air Force Base was a shambles today after a windstorm last night took a multi-million-dollar swipe at America's long-range aerial striking power. One three-million-dollar B-36 bomber was destroyed, six others received major damage and several others were damaged to an undetermined extent. Two airmen were slightly injured.

A civilian, Mrs. W. C. Connor, 44, was killed when her automobile was struck by a sign board blown down by the storm. Ten other civilians in the vicinity were reported hurt. Capt. Burton Wilder, base public information officer, said several buildings suffered "severe damage" when the winds struck shortly before dark.

Maj. Gen. Samuel E. Anderson, commanding general of the Eighth Air Force, estimated damage to planes at the base at 25 per cent. The B36 which has been called America's "atom bomb carrier" is the Air Force's largest, longest-ranged bomber in service and was designed to carry 10,000 pounds of bombs on a 10,000-mile mission.

Also damaged was the 90-mile-per-hour winds struck the vicinity was the plant of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., which manufactures the huge six-engine intercontinental B36. Aircraft plant officials said power was disrupted and extensive damage done to service docks at which the big planes are serviced. Wind blew the tail from one of the giant bombers and left it shattered in a ditch. Others were strewn about the ramps and taxiways of the base.

Three Injured In Labor Day Mishap At Lake McClellan

Three persons were injured, at least one seriously, in a Labor Day accident near Lake McClellan. Geraldine Avery, 5, was in fair condition in Highland General Hospital this morning after the car in which she was a passenger overturned about four miles north of Lake McClellan. Also injured were her mother, Mary Avery, 29, 421 Elm, and Luther V. Nickerson, 26, of the same address. Nickerson told Highway Patrolmen he lost control of his car after being forced off a dirt road into a bar ditch by a truck passing another car. The accident occurred about 4:45 p. m. The car is owned by A. V. Adkison, 852 S. Somerville.

Trades For Comfy Shoes

LARNED, Kan. (AP) — An elderly man didn't like any of the shoes shown to him in a store here but as he was leaving he noticed those worn by another customer, Chester Crane. He asked Crane to let him try them on. Crane consented. The result: Crane walked out in a new pair of shoes paid for by the elderly man, and the latter walked out in Crane's slightly worn, comfortably broken-in shoes.

Small Fire Put Out

A Pampa fire truck has been called but once in the last 24 hours. Some grease caught fire on the stove of Light Foot, 811 S. Gray, about 9:20 p. m. Monday. The fire department reported. There was no damage. For livestock transportation call Lloyd Kuntz, 2030-J or 1802. Adv.

Investigators Query Caudle

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators called T. Lamar Caudle into a closed-door session today to tell about his handling of tax cases before he was fired as an assistant attorney general last Nov. 16. Caudle's name figured in two cases which came under the scrutiny of a House judiciary subcommittee last week.

Husband Arraigned On Murder Charge

BALTIMORE (AP) — G. Edward Grammer, 25-year-old New Yorker, is scheduled to appear in Central Police Court today for arraignment on charges of beating to death his Sunday school teacher wife. Murder charges were filed against the grave manager of a Manhattan metals and mining concern yesterday by Baltimore State's Atty. Anselm Sodaro. The body of 33-year-old Dorothy May Grammer was found early in the morning of Aug. 20 in the car her husband gave her as a wedding anniversary present. Police said her death, set up to appear as an automobile accident, was actually murder. Sodaro said Grammer has made a "statement," but the contents of the statement have not been revealed.

Medics Say Ears Made From Knees

CHICAGO (AP) — New ears made from knees were described today to the International College of Surgeons. The ear is fashioned around a piece of cartilage, shaped like a half-moon, taken from a joint in the knee. It supplies a natural half-moon shape for the ear. The cartilage is obtained from knees lost through amputations, or taken during surgery to six "trick" knees. The cartilage is quick-frozen and kept in a bone bank until the plastic surgeon needs it to build a new ear to replace one lost by accident, or to give ears to children born without them. Skin is grafted around the cartilage to form the artificial ear. The cartilage supplies a soft, flexible, normal-feeling ear, said Dr. Leslie H. Backus, University of Buffalo Medical School.

New ears can be made from rib cartilages, or from things like ivory, rubber or plastics. None gives perfect ears because of difficulties in grafting skin to give all the contours of an ear. The artificial ears don't affect hearing, for ability to hear depends upon the inner ear.

City Treated To Cool Front With 47 Low

The tang of fall was in the air today. The mercury dropped to a low point since June 1. The high Monday was an easy 76. The low Monday night of 47 degrees, low at 11 a. m. today the temperature stood at the 69-degree mark. Elsewhere over the nation, severe wind and rain storms lashed wide areas of the Eastern and Southern areas over Labor Day causing millions of dollars damage to property, including several B36 bombers at Carswell Air Force Base in Ft. Worth, Tex. At least five persons were killed in the storms.

Another Long Seeks To Extend Dynasty

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Another member of Louisiana's Long dynasty seeks election to Congress today in one of the state's two Democratic runoff primaries. Dr. George S. Long, Pineville dentist and brother of former Gov. Earl Long and the late Sen. Huey P. Long and uncle of Sen. Russell B. Long, faces Mayor Carl Cose of Alexandria in the 8th Congressional District. Dr. Long, 68, who is also a lawyer and makes a patent medicine as a sideline, is making his third race for the post now held by Rep. A. Leonard Allen, 61.

Driver Averts Bus-Train Tragedy

ARLINGTON (AP) — A fast-moving bus driver was credited by his passengers today with averting tragedy yesterday when his bus was struck by a passenger train here. Several bus passengers were hospitalized but none was believed seriously hurt. Nobody was killed. Francis E. Marchbanks, 33, of Grand Prairie turned his vehicle parallel to the tracks when he saw the train approaching and realized he couldn't make it across the intersection. Car by car, the train clipped the protruding rear end of the bus as Marchbanks raced it down the tracks. There were 26 or 27 passengers on the Texas Motor Coaches bus. Officials weren't sure. Engineer M. N. Aldridge of Fort Worth said his eastbound Louisiana Eagle No. 22 was making about 60 miles per hour when the accident occurred about 5:35 p. m.

Flames Spread Over Central California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Flames spread over some 10,000 acres of bone-dry Northern and Central California timber and grasslands, but with luck, most fires will be controlled by mid-week, the State Division of Forestry reported today. Protest Delays Annexation Of Grade School

Opposition to annexation of the area surrounding the proposed grade school in the southwestern section of town delayed action by the city commission today on bringing that area into the city limits. A petition, signed by 30 residents of the 70-acre area was presented by John Wilde, to the commission prior to the meeting.

General Calls For Wholesale Clean-Up

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower cut loose at the Truman administration in earnest for the first time today, calling it a mess of corruption and scandal that needed a wholesale clean-up. "This Washington mess is not a one-agency mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess — it is a top-to-bottom mess," the Republican presidential candidate said in an Atlanta address opening a Southern tour. He said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for their jobs, too big for their breeches, and too long in power."

A petition, signed by 30 residents of the 70-acre area was presented by John Wilde, to the commission prior to the meeting. Dr. T. J. Worrell, veterinarian, told the commission he did not feel the area was ready to come into the city limits immediately and that many of the residents didn't "know exactly" what the facts surrounding the move are. He explained that some are not clear on what changes would have to be made in the area to conform with city regulations — water, sewer mains, restriction on buildings, divisions of existing properties for streets and alleys etc. Wilde said people who signed the petition understood in some instances that their present water lines might have to be replaced, and feel that coming into the city limits holds definite advantages. The commission decided to hold up acting on the petition until "more unity" among residents of the area has been obtained, or to the discussion — there were no heated words — the commission passed two routine paving ordinances and approved a refund payment for sewer line in Prairie Village amounting to $889.31.

Holiday Death Toll Mounts To More Than 500

More than 500 persons lost their lives in accidents over the Labor Day holiday but the toll was far below the record of 658 violent deaths a year ago. The death toll for the holiday, the last long week end of the summer season, was 524. Accidents on the highways, as usual, took the heaviest toll, with 403 killed in traffic mishaps. Fifty-two persons drowned and 69 others lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents. The traffic toll compared to last year's record 461 deaths. It was below the 480 deaths estimated for the three-day holiday by the National Safety Council. The accident toll averaged the period from 8 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday local time. The safety council reported that this far in 1952 there have been 94 traffic deaths every 24 hours. This includes deaths occurring from injuries, days, weeks or months after the accidents.

Deputy Leaves To Return Hoodlum From Wichita Falls

Deputy Sheriff Buck Haggard was on his way this morning to Wichita Falls to return the fourth member of a burglary ring broken here last week. Haggard was to pick up James Montee Stevens who was arrested in a Wichita Falls hospital Monday. Stevens, 22, is one of four men charged with robbery by firearms of several businesses in the area, including a service station in Amarillo and an attempted break-in of a grocery store here. Also charged were Roy L. Fortune, 25, Abilene; Delvin Willingham, arrested in Abilene, and a 16-year-old youth arrested here. Stevens, according to sheriff's report here, was arrested in the hospital where his wife was confined.

Daniel Tells Texas Demos It's State Or National Leadership

DALLAS (AP) — U. S. Senate Nominee Price Daniel took to a statewide radio network Monday night to defend his position in the bitter fight between state and national factions of the Democratic Party. Daniel told Texas voters listening to his 9 p. m. speech that they must choose this year between the state leadership of the party and national leadership. He blasted away again at Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic Presidential nominee's stand in advocating federal ownership of the tidelands and repeated previous assertions he could not support Stevenson for President. Daniel declared he pledged his allegiance to the state faction and said he hoped the Democratic state convention at Amarillo, Sept. 9, would devise "some honorable means" to place separate sets of electors for the two fac-

WATER STAY 'WAY FROM OUR DOOR—Women push water away from a flooded store doorway in Plymouth, one of many English coastal cities flooded by torrential rains. In England's most disastrous floods in a century, at least 41 persons were drowned and 28 others missing and presumed dead. More than 3000 persons were left homeless, with property damage nearly $20 million.

Steelmen Hoping To Break Records But Doubts Arising

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry hopes within a month or so to be breaking all records of production. But it has some doubts as to how long it can keep that up and find customers. And it has some other headaches today, too:

1. Earnings of 39 iron and steel companies for the first half of 1952 fell 43 per cent behind the first six months of 1951. And Secretary of Commerce Sawyer the third quarter doesn't look says: manufacturers may not be able to pass much of that extra steel cost along in higher prices on the end product. Competition and customer price resistance may prevent it.

They Don't Make Sense . . . Hank Finds Foreign Language Phrase Books Give No Help

By HENRY McLEMORE
MEXICO CITY — Guided tours are not my cup of tea when visiting a foreign country, but there is one I'd like to make and that is with the men who compile the so-called handy phrase books.

They must be an odd lot and travel in strange circles because I have yet to buy one of their books that made any more sense than a demented frog. I've bought handy phrase books in eight or ten countries and they have never aided me one whit.

The one I bought in Germany years ago is typical. The opening phrase in it was: how to say to a barber, "Please do not put the irons to my moustache." It didn't tell me how to tell the barber that I didn't want any smelly lotion put on my head, or that I'd like to get my shoes shined while he was cutting my hair, or, please brush off the back of my neck because some hair had gotten down my back and was itching like the devil.

PROVED POINT

To prove effectiveness of the bow and arrow, Dr. Saxton Pope and Arthur Young, both of San Francisco, obtained a permit to shoot five grizzly bears in Yellowstone Park in 1920. Not only was the test successful but, in some cases, only one arrow was needed to bring down the mighty grizzly.

READS OVER BOTH SHOULDERS—Eddy Merky, in Frankfurt, Germany, has the answer for people who don't buy their own newspapers and subsequently have to strain their necks to read someone else's. Eddy demonstrates his way on a park bench. Yep—he's a circus performer.

STOPS GENERAL—At Camp McCoy, Wis., Cpl. Bernard B. Wascher of Clinton, Ia., above, was assigned to guard a road and ordered to let "no one" pass. Along came a motor convey carrying four full companies. Corporal Wascher stopped it cold. Noncoms argued. Company commanders argued. Battalion officers argued. No dice. Finally a Maj.-Gen. Ray of Cam Fountain tried to pass. Still no dice. "Someone checked" Corporal Wascher's orders and found he'd been posted on the wrong road. After that, everybody passed and the general officially commended the corporal "for the attention to duty and soldierly qualities exhibited by you."

Adlai And His Pals

Adlai Stevenson, the Great Hope of the New Deal, has picked up a couple of pals — Phil Murray's CIO and the American Federation of Labor.

The AFL's announcement was tricky; and the poor working stiffs who are supposed to put-up and shut-up must be wondering who's on second base.

The AFL's hierarchy said the AFL was in favor of Adlai, but the Federation wouldn't come right out and support him. You figure it out.

The CIO, and the successor of its notorious Political Action Committee (PAC), came right out and said Adlai was a gorgeous fellow and a sure-enough Valentine.

Considered from a realistic viewpoint, the two monsters of organized labor hung an albatross around the neck of Mr. Stevenson. The last time both of them gangbanged up to support a candidate, they took a shellacking they'll be a long time living down.

You may recall the Ohio Affair when the CIO and AFL announced they would not permit the reelection of Bob Taft as senator from Ohio. Millions of dollars extracted from American workmen who are required to pay a union for the privilege of earning a living were chucked into the Ohio debacle. The top-ranking thugs, second-story men, ear-benders and strategists of the AFL and CIO were shipped into Ohio to insure the success of a candidate who made such a Grade Z showing nobody remembers his name any more.

Taft won "handily," as the political cliché goes. The "captive" union members voted as they pleased; and the professional politicians began to wonder if the pledge of union support was not a mad, mad hallucination.

In all the huffing and puffing about labor unions and their self-proclaimed "power," the American politician has lost sight of the actual relationship between the union czar and the tribute-paying boobs who keep him in Cadillac.

The strength of organized labor — that is, union bossism — lies not in itself but in the police powers of the United States government.

Consider for a moment the case of the young man who wants to break into the newspaper business.

He tucks his beautiful new journalism diploma into his side pocket and bursts into the office of an aging, dyspeptic and rheumatic editor who has developed a sort of immunity to young genius. The young man wants a job — quite naturally — as publisher of the paper, or chairman of the board of directors. If such a vacancy is not readily available, he'd settle for a signed column on the front page.

And so — nobody knows just why — the editor decides to take him on . . . as a cub reporter.

The young man, if he has been hired by a large newspaper, probably will find he is working a probationary period of 10 days to three months. At the end of that time he is required to join the CIO American Newspaper Guild or quit his job.

Now, under such a loveless marriage, it doesn't figure that the young man is going to be an utterly devoted subject of the Guild. He joined because he had to; and if the Guild undertakes to "deliver" his vote to any politician, it is talking through its hat.

There is a cold-blooded relationship between the union and its members — an atmosphere of mutual distrust. Even union zealots have expressed themselves as opposing the entrance of the gang leaders into national or state politics. That is, purely and simply, distrust.

When Phil Murray told his vassals the other day that Harry Truman is the best friend the unions have, thousands of union members must have wondered if Phil didn't mean that Harry is the best friend Phil has. There is a tendency among the union commissars to confuse their own welfare with that of their serfs.

There is, of course, no certainty that the CIO or AFL can "deliver" a single vote to any candidate. The American workman has lost most of his freedom under the cozy alliance affected by the administration and the unions; but the one freedom he maintains is that of voting according to his prejudices, whims, fancies and logic.

The vote of a great number of distrustful persons just can't be "delivered" with any success.

The CIO's star has set, and the Murrys aren't going to take it lying down. At the polls, Phil, and Bill Green, and the Reuther clan, and Don Tobin are only ghosts and shadows.

It was different back in the old days, when Sid Hillman was the undisputed shepherd of the flock. The Old Master told the Great Unwashed that they'd clear everything with Sidney and no sass!

But that was when there was no disputing who was tall in the saddle. The Rubber Stamp Congress passed whatever was thrust before its nose by the administration. Federal judgments were nothing but a means to insure the constitutionality of the New Deal. Every quasi-legislative bureau was packed with men of unerring devotion and indebtedness to the Administration.

In those days, control was tight; and a union leader could deliver a vote because he also could deliver the pay-off.

But, Sidney, like the Old Master, proved to be mortal and not an indestructible. The complexion of the Congress changed, if not toward the side of consistency, at least in the direction of independence. The structure changed. The twilight of the gods had begun. And to make matters worse, there was no telling when some unconstructed young headline-hunter would start "investigating" a closet which wouldn't stand up to close inspection.

The AFL probably is a little smarter than the CIO. It has its own escape clause in case Adlai takes a bad beating.

But there's no reason to believe the victory of either candidate will do anything toward freeing them, and the nation, from the grip of the union bosses.

This just isn't going to be the year for a striking blow for liberty.

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILMS

When Should Labor Unions Be Resisted?

A piece of literature issued by United States Steel recently came to my desk containing an article by the Chairman of the Board, Benjamin F. Fairless.

Mr. Fairless recites some of the losses due to the 54-day steel strike that came to a state of truce on July 26. He points out that some 7,000,000 ingot tons of steel were not produced. He also explains how other industries, including the automobile industry, were affected by lack of steel. He points out the difficulties facing the steel companies due to the companion strike in the iron ore mines in the Lake Superior region and that there were some 2,000,000 tons less steel than are usually mined in the summer period and shipped before the lakes are frozen over.

Stand Against The Union Shop

Mr. Fairless recites the record of union shop they got in this manner:

"The signing of this memorandum, the terms of which are given below, followed a meeting between Philip Murray, President of the Union and myself at the White House on July 24. Hitherto four successive offers had been made to the Union, the last on July 12, and each had been refused. It became evident as early as April that the roadblock to settlement was the Union's demand for compulsory Union membership. Granting this demand would have violated the right and privilege of employees to decide for themselves whether to join the Union. An amended offer was initiated on July 20 in an endeavor to provide a fair and workable compromise and still preserve this freedom of choice.

"Had it not been for the compulsory unionism issue, settlement on substantially the economic terms finally agreed upon when, undoubtedly, there would have been possible before the unfortunate seizure of the steel industry which was subsequently declared illegal by the Supreme Court of the United States. Certainly a settlement would have been possible even before this issue more than a month before the strike ended, when agreement existed on virtually the same wage and working conditions as were finally arranged. That the strike was called by the Union and prolonged after such virtual agreement on wage increases and benefits at hand is greatly regretted by United States Steel.

"On the subject of Union membership, the terms provide that no employee is required to join the Union in order to hold his job. Each new employee, when hired, will sign an application card which will not become effective for 30 days, and will not become effective at all if it is revoked by the employee at his option during the last 15 days of the 30-day period.

"Losing employment: For employees who are Union members there is a withdrawal privilege giving them the right to drop their membership during the last 15 days of the new contract. If they do not do so, they are, not now members, do not have to join the Union."

What it seems that industrial leaders, like Fairless, do not understand is that while men do not have to join the union, they have to be controlled by the union whether they are members or not. They cannot sell their services on any other conditions than those specified by the union. They have to work for the employer as a contracting party. In other words, the employer is a party to taking away from an individual his God-given right to use his conscience to sell his services in a way that he believes will furnish more prosperity and more and better jobs for everybody. That makes the individual a slave to the labor unions and the employer who enters into a conspiracy with labor unions that takes from individuals their God-given right to choose. It makes not a particle of difference whether it is a nation-wide strike or a small business employing a handful of men that takes away from an individual his right to choose, the act is just as immoral. And when an act is immoral in a small way, it is bound to grow if not exposed.

The time to resist unionism in union labor relations is when it is small and not wait until it gets so powerful that it is hard to resist. Judge Elbert Gary thirty years ago was a man of foresight when he was head of United States Steel and had the vision to see that unionization that took away from an individual the right to sell his services as he saw fit was not to the public interest and was not to the general welfare.

The idea that moral, Christian, American men have a right to join or not join a union that deprives a single individual of his right to help establish a wage scale. No man has any more moral right to deprive an individual of part of his liberty than he has a right to join with a group of bank robbers that attempt to deprive the individuals of part of their property.

The objective of every labor union is to take away from a man part of his God-given natural rights. Every union leader will contend that he cannot do anything for his group as long as individuals are free workers and free to help establish wages. And there can be no true value of anything as long as some men are deprived of their right to help establish values.

The real time to resist union labor that is trying to establish a monopoly is all the time. Once the belief is established that men have a moral right to join labor unions that attempt to set the wages for individuals who do not want them to set their wages, we have granted an immoral act that is bound to grow and grow and get more despotic and tyrannical as it gains more power.

Fair Enough McCarthy Was Target Of Adlai And Ike At Legion Convention

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Both presidential candidates took advantage of the hospitality of the American Legion last week to on and Stevenson can concentrate their attack on the betrayers. McCarthy is the man who has done most of all to expose the traitors.

General Eisenhower's comments sounded to me as though he had been put up to a smear-job by political handlers who told him this was a good way to catch some of the members who were brave enemies of Nazi Fascism. He was a liar by the clock because he had absolute knowledge that this thing was a Soviet military force organized in New York, with the consent of the Administration that a vote for him is a vote of confidence in George Marshall's political conduct was objective, precise and truthful. Even Eisenhower, who served as Marshall's subordinate and owes him much, could not come out with a direct challenge on one single allegation of fact. Ike dealt altogether in generalities which is the very essence of the anti-Communist have been hollering at McCarthy all this time.

If Ike makes the proposition that a vote for him is a vote of confidence in George Marshall he introduces a new factor into the campaign. In that case he will have to defend Marshall on his record. He had better not try that because Marshall was a poor soldier with troops, a flunkey and so stupid that he couldn't be persuaded to give a thought to the political balance and the division of conquered area between Russia and the West after the victory of arms. Ike has insisted that he had no authority in the political decisions which have now made necessary the appalling task of rearming the country and working up a belly for a fight in Western Europe. He admits that the decisions were bad, but that they were made by higher authority. Who then was the higher authority? Roosevelt, Hopkins and George Marshall shared that authority and McCarthy is absolutely right in berating Marshall, whether Ike likes it or not. McCarthy is absolutely right in berating Marshall, whether Ike likes it or not.

A great handicap of our people is that we simple do not learn to remember more than a few weeks the details of such historic developments as the Marshall Plan. Not one in a thousand today would be able to describe it beyond saying it was a system of American gifts to favored countries to help them help themselves. That isn't even a kernel of the plan which was unbelievably corrupt, wasteful and vindictive, as in the treatment of Spain in reward for her rescue of a mass of helpless Jews from certain death.

McCarthy went all the way in his conclusions on Marshall. After reviewing Marshall's grievous guilt, all proven and none of it disputed by Ike, Nixon or Stevenson, Joe said in the Senate speech which has aroused the men to such fury: "The objective of this conspiracy . . . is to diminish the United States in world affairs, weaken us militarily, confuse our spirit with talk of surrender in the Far East and impair our will to resist. To what end? To the end that we shall be contained and frustrated and finally fall victim to Soviet intrigue from within and Russian military might from without."

I have known Marshall since he was a captain, adjutant to General. Seibert in command of the First Division at Gondrecourt in 1917. Until the bad, pro-Russian decision began to develop to our disadvantage in the Balkans in 1934, I always thought of him, carefully and without examination, as a great man. His personal bearing was winsome and I had no reason to suspect him. Except that I cannot bring myself to believe that he was disloyal to the United States I now agree with Joe McCarthy and the record in all particulars.

A bit player, Ed Windham by name, was walking down the street one day with another actor when he fell into an open manhole.

"The other actor shouted down anxiously: 'Are you all right, Windham?' 'Windham—Yes, I think I'm all right. But I sure got the wind knocked out of me.'

Actor—That isn't too bad. It still leaves you an actor.

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

A time-worn sign, a patched old stool, and a $1,000,000 jewelry store . . . those were the "treasured items moved under careful guard to the new home of Everts Jewelry Store in Dallas recently.

The President of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce cut the solid gold ribbon which officially opened the new store. Open house included an exhibit of rare art objects. In show cases invaluable gems sparkled brilliantly.

Ask Arthur A. Everts, president of the firm, what his success secret is, and he'll probably tell you sound business principles and practices . . . no more, no less.

Everts built the business from meager beginnings in 1897. His first $20 profit paid for a sign to advertise his business. Today that 55 year old sign . . . repaired and highly polished . . . hangs in a prominent place in the new store.

When he could afford to do so, Everts hired his first employee, A. W. Witroek. These many years Witroek has sat atop the same stool turning out perfectly set gems for pleased customers. He doesn't like to change now. Last moving day Mr. Witroek walked into the new store, clutching his ancient stool to his chest.

Success has come to Everts, but some things will remain the same. The time-worn sign . . . the patched old stool, and the sound business principles and practices responsible for the success.

If you have found the key to your success, stick with it!

National Whirligig. Ike And Adlai Will Woo Voters At Minnesota Plowing Contest

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — General Eisenhower's chances of November victory may fall Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, or rise sharply in Minnesota, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota.

Even if Ike carries these 140 electoral ballots, he will still be far from the White House. He would have to carry such doubtful commonwealths as New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and California. With Republican, Maine and Vermont, this would give him 273, or seven more than he needs for election.

D DAY — Ike's theoreticians at Washington are penciling prospects that he may pick up the 66 electoral votes of discontented Democrats in states of Texas, Louisiana, Florida and Virginia. He can use them, but they can hardly be counted as solid, political.

Eisenhower's political future clearly lies in the normally Republican Middle West. Besides winning the farm vote, he must also combat the supposed apathy of Taft sympathizers and the Chicago Tribune's demand for formation of a new American Party. So, for him, next Saturday is D-Day.

IMPORTANCE — An incident in the 1948 campaign emphasizes the importance of the farm vote. Dr. B. J. Palmer of Des Moines conducts an annual plowing match similar to the Minnesota affair. Approximately 100,000 farmers, their wives and children show up, and it is one of the big events of the year.

Doctor Palmer invited Truman and Dewey to be present. The President took the trouble to get there, made a short, "homey" talk and slid himself to the crowd. Dewey was too busy to acknowledge the invitation.

Subsequently, when Doctor Palmer, an anti-Truman Republican, visited the White House, the President attributed his winning Iowa, Illinois and Ohio to his presence at the Palmer plowing match.

Truman carried these three states by only 68,000 votes. Had Dewey won them, the election would have been thrown into the House of Representatives.

Included in this area for the purpose of this computation are Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota.

Curvy Marilyn Monroe Didn't Give Sex A Second Thought

By HAL FOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP) — Girls, our success formula for today is simple: "Stay in the curve and keep pitching those curves."
 The symbol of this vibrant maxim is Marilyn Monroe, who has proved an ambitious girl doesn't have to come to the big city to get ahead. She can do it in her own home town.
 At nine Marilyn earned five cents a month spending money setting tables in a Los Angeles orphan's home. At 24, in the nearby film studio where she now has to wait on nobody, she draws down $750 a week. In Hollywood this naturally is considered peonage.
 She arrived for our luncheon appointment in good time — well before dusk.
 "They keep me so busy," she complained, "sorry I'm late." She turned her wide blue eyes on me, and I had an uneasy feeling they would melt and drip on the table. Then she sat down beside me, real close — and I had an uneasy feeling they maybe I'd melt.
 "I was having my hair fixed in my hotel room, and all I had on was a towel," she said, and added carefully — "a small towel. Some reporters were on the other side of the door asking me questions. And such questions! They wanted to know if I knew how many stomachs a cow had, and they seemed real surprised when I gave them the right answer—four."
 Marilyn, who recently was in a film called "Monkey Business," rather enjoys people who take her for a real life dumb blonde. She is dumb the same way Mae West is.
 She is rather amazed by the public interest in her disclosure that she never wears brassieres, girdles or any other form of underclothing, and sleeps raw except for a nightly dab of perfume.

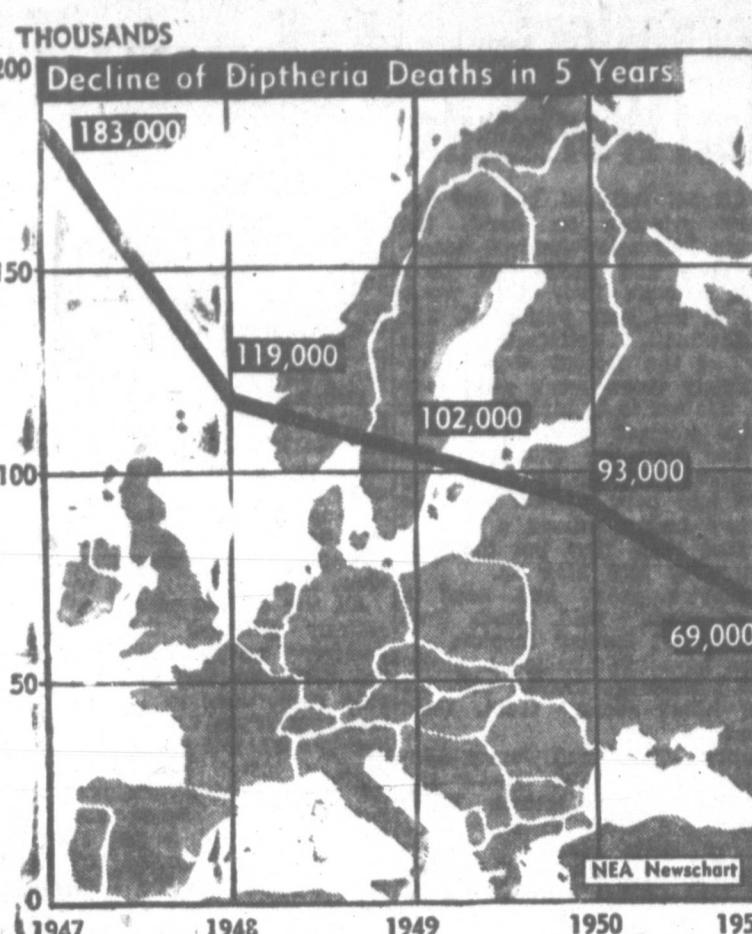

"It's more comfortable not to wear underclothing, and I don't like to feel wrinkles," she said. "What's so unusual about that? You must know a lot of girls who do the same thing — and who put on perfume before going to sleep."
 Editor's note: If Foyle does, he never mentioned it before. Miss Monroe feels most American women should follow her example and emancipate themselves from bras, corsets, and girdles.
 "But, first, some of them ought to exercise," she said, "in order to be... you know... firm. I exercise with light weights myself."
 "I lie on my back with my arms overhead and lift the weights 15 times. It is a kind of pull against gravity, I guess. I used to walk a lot, too. Walking up a steep hill is the best thing for a woman's legs."
 But what about the subject on the minds of 10,000,000,000 girls this leap year — how to catch a husband? Marilyn, whose own marriage at 18 didn't last, gave two simple rules:
 "1. A girl should follow her instincts."
 "2. That will about take care of things, as instincts are important."
 As for sex (a current events topic most movie stars and baseball players usually have opinions on), Miss Monroe said: "Truthfully, I've never given it a second thought."
 And she was gone before I thought of asking her what her first thought was.
 BUTTER FROSTING
 To make a butter frosting you'll need about a quarter cup of butter to two cups of confectioners' sugar; moisten with a little cream and flavor with vanilla and a pinch of salt. This should be enough frosting for an eight-inch square cake.

DIETING DADDY—No food with his meals for 59 days may win this husband and father $22,400. Sealed inside an 11-by-7-foot room in Brighton, England, Irish-American hypnotist, Jack Wafer is cheered on by his wife Audrey and baby daughter Michelle as he begins his 20th day on a diet of soda water and cigars. He expects to drink 120 bottles of soda and smoke 3500 cigarettes during his stay in the room which is furnished with a bed, two chairs, a radio and telephone. Wafer hopes to beat the previous fast-record of 58 days set by Germany's Willie Schmidt.

SOMETHING OLD, SOMETHING NEW—Bridal customs of the East and West meet during the London wedding of Mary Martha San Yan Lo and Kai Yin Chau. Dressed in conventional white, the bride tosses her bouquet to her bridesmaids, top, to follow a Western custom. Below, she is seen in Chinese bridal gown heavily embroidered with gold and silver as she follows the ancient Chinese rite by offering tea to her father-in-law, Dr. S. N. Chau of Hong-kong, China. The bride, an American citizen, met her husband at Denison University in Granville, Ohio.

Europe's amazing drop in deaths from diphtheria since 1947 is shown in the above Newschart. Standing then at a high of 183,000 fatalities per year, deadly results of the disease have been cut more than 50 per cent in a five-year period, according to United Nations World Health Headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. The organization hopes for the eventual disappearance of diphtheria, mainly a killer of children.

Simpson Injured As Dukes Win, 6-4

The Albuquerque Dukes picked up an expensive 6-4 victory over the Pampa Oilers in the first game of a two game series here last night. The Dukes lost the services of their brilliant Negro first baseman, Herb Simpson, for the remainder of the season.

Simpson was hit in the right side of the head by an inside fastball thrown by out-pitcher Connie Swenson in the first inning. He was taken to Highland General Hospital here where x-rays revealed there he had suffered a skull fracture. He was the second Duke so injured in the past ten days. Hal Abbott having suffered a head injury a few days ago.

Ed Flanagan was the winning pitcher for the Dukes. Tonight the clubs conclude the series with a single game, Henry Oern expected to hit for the Oilers against Ted Gardner for Pampa.

The game started with Boro Santiago blooming a double down the leftfield line and then Simpson was hit in the head, the Negro first sacker dropping to the ground at the plate. It took nearly ten minutes to get an ambulance and to get play resumed. During this time Swenson didn't throw a ball and

Harvesters Start Workouts

With 1-3 full-clad but not too husky gridders on hand, the Pampa Harvester football coaching staff ran their 1952 prospects through their first workouts of the year yesterday. The weatherman, anticipating the start of the football season, immediately threw some good football weather in to make the day's double workout a good one.

Filled with fire and spirit, the gridders worked hard moving right into hard contact work as if they hadn't missed a day of workout since they put the grid tappers away to May 10.

"They're green and need a lot of work," said Coach Tom Tipps, head football mentor.

The boys ran through a pretty good scrimmage session with the first "first string" team. Used were:

Bobby Holder and James Pippens, ends Richard Qualls and Buddy Cockrell, tackles Bill Pippet and Alton Flynn, guards Tommy Sells, center Reggie Mayo quarterback Ed Dudley and John Darby, halfbacks; Jimmie Keel, fullback. That was just the first various combinations used by the coaches as they stated their series of experiments and tests to find replacements for a host of gridders missing from the great team of 1951.

This morning the Guerrillas, the "B" squad, started their workout under the guidance of coaches The Guerrillas have an eight-game schedule ahead of them, Weldon Trice and Orville Lewis, with the possibility of some more games being added.

Johnny Thornton Captures Top O' Texas Crown

The old jinx of a medalist never being a champion held true again yesterday afternoon at the Pampa Country Club when Malcolm Douglass, smooth stroking Pampa golfer and medalist of the seventeenth annual Top O' Texas Golf Tournament, lost a 2-1 match to Johnny Thornton of San Antonio in the finals.

Douglass had moved into the finals with a 4-3 victory over Bill Barton, hustling Philippi's left-hander while Thornton, a cool, calm and poker-faced youngster, methodically went about eliminating the tournament's defending champion Jack Williams of Plainview, 1 up.

All the golfers played over an entirely different 18-hole course yesterday as the wind shifted to the northeast and blew at near-gale proportions at times. This fact kept scores from zooming below par on the sun-baked and wind-blown layout, none of the championship matches hurling par. Thornton's closest was Williams, who fired a par-38 on the front nine, started out by a trio of threes on the first three holes.

Thornton, an unemotional 19-year-old youngster who will attend Baylor University next fall after transferring from Vanderbilt, played beautiful, consistent golf into the wind and cautious steady golf with it, putting almost flawlessly. It was his third tournament crown of the summer, having already annexed the Corpus Christi and Brownsville invitational.

Douglass, usually one of the most reliable putters, found his stroke on the green ice cold, and also was in frequent trouble as he flirted with the roughs. Several brilliant pitch shots kept him from earlier disaster.

Thornton, who was a house guest of Douglass during the tournament, dropped the first hole when he slapped his tee shot out of bounds. But Douglass evened it by hitting his drive on the second hole across the fence. Douglass won the third hole with a par when Thornton e with a par when Thornton caught rough and had trouble recouping. But then Douglass missed a second wood and caught rough on the 555-yard fourth hole to even the match.

The next two holes were halved with a bogey and a par but then Thornton captured the next two with a pair of treys. He tossed in a beautiful chip shot from the rough on No. 7 for a "gimme" while Douglass missed a two foot down hill putt that would have halved. On the eighth Thornton threw up another eagle. Douglass came back to tie the ninth hole, his approach hitting the pin and stopping 18 inches away to put him one down at the turn.

Douglass caught rough on the tenth hole to lose it to a par five, and the rest of the way out the boys halved the holes, through seventeen. It took beautiful pitch shots on No. 12 and No. 15 by Douglass to maintain to prolong the match on the seventeenth but he pulled another two foot putt for a birdie that would have given him the hole and still left him, dormie.

The tremendous gallery which fought the chilly wind and the fast play of the two youngsters (less than three hours for the match) appreciated the fine pressure playing of the two finalists with rounds of applause. In the gallery was last year's runner-up, Tommy Hale of Shamrock, who was unable to participate this year because of work in preparation of his return to Hardin-Simmons University.

SWC Coaches Are Pleased With Work

By the Associated Press
Coach L. R. "Dutch" Meyer's Texas Christian Horned Frogs, defending champions, led seven Southwest Conference grid squads onto the practice fields today to open the second day of the 1952 football season.

Meyer's champs, favored to repeat in the hurly-burly football league, went through two drills Monday that were marked by rough contact blocking and tackling. Meyer reported his star-studded 70-man aggregation in top-top shape.

In Austin, Coach Ed Price of the Texas University Longhorns workouts opened fall practice. A 75-man squad at Texas gave the appearance of being in fine shape.

The Longhorns whipped through a morning session without tiring, but found the going rougher in the broiling mid-afternoon sun as the temperature passed 100 degrees.

Baylor Team "Open"
Coach George Sater at Waco worked four Baylor Bear football units and declared "every position on our entire team wide open."

Juniors Jimmy Davenport and Francis Davidson Sophomores Billy Hooper and Frank Peschal quarterbacked the Golden Bear units in the first Baylor workouts.

One casualty was reported in Dallas as Southern Methodist's Mustangs were up with the sun. The call for orange juice for SMU's 73-man squad came at 9 a.m., followed by field work at Ownby Stadium. Coach Rusty Russell was cheered as the Ponies went through some scrimmage plays with the defense trying to stop plays which Duke and Georgia Tech are expected to use in the first two games of the season.

Hogs Scrimmage
After the light morning workout, Coach Otis Douglas chased Arkansas reserves through a full-scale scrimmage in 90-degree heat in the afternoon workout. Linebackers on the first two Razorback teams went through a rough blocking drill.

All of the 66 Hog candidates, including 22 lettermen, reported in "excellent" physical condition. At Houston, the Rice Owls' 68-

Rain Helps Yankees Move To 2 1/2 Game Lead Over Indians

By JOE REICHLER
Jupiter Pluvius may have a hand in deciding the American League pennant this year.

No, Jupiter Pluvius is not another castoff plucked by the New York Yankees for their stretch run. The rain proved to be as helpful to the world champions as Ray Scarborough, the refugee from the Boston Red Sox.

The two combined to increase the Yankees' first-place margin to 2 1/2 games over Cleveland yesterday when the Red Sox, purchased last week from the Red Sox, hand-cuffed his former mates with three hits last night in pitching the New Yorkers to a 5-1 triumph.

Mr. J. P., otherwise known as Old Man Rain, helped the St. Louis Browns defeat Cleveland, 2-1, in the second game of the double-header after the Indians mad won the opener, 9-3.

Rain halted the nightcap for an hour and 12 minutes in the bottom half of the fifth inning with the home team, Browns ahead, 2-1. After the rain let up, St. Louis failed to score in the fifth and the Indians rallied for three runs in the top half of the sixth to take a 4-2 lead.

As the Browns prepared to bat in their half of the sixth, another day storm broke and this time there was no let-up. The three runs were wiped out and the score reverted back to the fifth inning with man outfit took it easy and spent the day in light exercises in shorts and t-shirts.

"We'll have some contact work by the end of the week," said Coach Jess Neely, "but no scrimmage. I want to give the boys several days to get in shape."

Sixty-eight candidates turned out at Texas A&M. Clad in full uniform, the Aggies went through light calisthenics in the morning drills and ran plays in shorts and t-shirts in the afternoon workouts.

Borger Slugs Out Victory

By the Associated Press
There's a scramble for first division berths as the West Texas-New Mexico League heads into the finish of the 1952 campaign.

With Clovis safely out front by 18 1/2 games and Albuquerque all but sure of second spot, the three-way fight for playoff spots is among Lamesa, Borger and Amarillo — all a couple of dozen games off the pace.

Amarillo's late starting Gold Sox supported their bid by edging the Lubbock Buffers 6-5 last night, while Borger outslugged Lamesa 17-12.

Albuquerque meanwhile bested the Pampa Oilers 6-4 in a game which cost the Dukes the services of Negro first baseman Herb Simpson, who was hit on the head by a wild pitch; and Clovis Pioneers outslugged just enough

Rain Halted Yankees Move To 2 1/2 Game Lead Over Indians

By JOE REICHLER
Jupiter Pluvius may have a hand in deciding the American League pennant this year.

No, Jupiter Pluvius is not another castoff plucked by the New York Yankees for their stretch run. The rain proved to be as helpful to the world champions as Ray Scarborough, the refugee from the Boston Red Sox.

The two combined to increase the Yankees' first-place margin to 2 1/2 games over Cleveland yesterday when the Red Sox, purchased last week from the Red Sox, hand-cuffed his former mates with three hits last night in pitching the New Yorkers to a 5-1 triumph.

Mr. J. P., otherwise known as Old Man Rain, helped the St. Louis Browns defeat Cleveland, 2-1, in the second game of the double-header after the Indians mad won the opener, 9-3.

Rain halted the nightcap for an hour and 12 minutes in the bottom half of the fifth inning with the home team, Browns ahead, 2-1. After the rain let up, St. Louis failed to score in the fifth and the Indians rallied for three runs in the top half of the sixth to take a 4-2 lead.

As the Browns prepared to bat in their half of the sixth, another day storm broke and this time there was no let-up. The three runs were wiped out and the score reverted back to the fifth inning with man outfit took it easy and spent the day in light exercises in shorts and t-shirts.

"We'll have some contact work by the end of the week," said Coach Jess Neely, "but no scrimmage. I want to give the boys several days to get in shape."

Sixty-eight candidates turned out at Texas A&M. Clad in full uniform, the Aggies went through light calisthenics in the morning drills and ran plays in shorts and t-shirts in the afternoon workouts.

OUR TOWN

by Wanda Campbell

Don started to the second grade today. Last year, he didn't like much of anything except recess, so he wasn't too anxious to go back to school. It meant pushing the summer's memories to the back of his mind, and putting arithmetic and spelling first. This summer was a lot of fun for Don. He learned to catch grasshoppers and hold them no matter how wiggled in his hand, and watch them a nose's distance away as their tiny jaws churned. There was time to help his mother with rows and rows of flowers in their back yard. He loves pretty flowers. So much, in fact, that he buried his pet Easter chicken in the flower bed. Sometimes when he's swinging in the yard, he looks over at the spot and wonders what a bright, pretty color the chicken was, and he's a little sad the chicken didn't live long enough to be named. During vacation, Don spent a lot of time with his best friend, "Sir Spiffington, II." He named his terrier after a dog his mother had when she was a little girl. It's a nice name, but when people get better acquainted with Don's dog, they always call him "Spiff" for short. Don had a "Spiff" at home today, but we're sure he whispered a promise about Saturdays and Sundays before he left this morning. Maybe they are already looking past all the week-ends to the end of school. Don may never remember the exhilarating sense of freedom he knew following his first year in school, but he knows there'll be other summers when a boy and a dog can call their time their own.

Career Girl Specialty

The girl who works for a living and must feed a hungry man a substantial dinner can do it with a minimum of effort. There are a number of casserole dishes which can be whipped up in a jiffy. These include a delicious tuna fish, mushroom, cheese and noodle casserole which is satisfying and appetizing, served with a salad. Another tasty oven treat is left over turkey or chicken mixed with a light cheese sauce and topped with broccoli.

One of the easiest to prepare dinners goes like this — and it's all cooked in the oven:

Baked potatoes, tomato halves topped with cheese sprinkles and bread crumbs, whole onions with a slice cut off the top for easier broiling, and chops or hamburgers. Put the baked potatoes in the oven first, then the meat, then

1952 Pampa High School Graduates Make Plans For College Careers

While Pampa High School students enroll today, the most recent graduates of 1952 — all busy preparing for an entirely new phase of life. The majority of students are planning on college. They have pored over college catalogues all summer, and by now have reserved rooms at their chosen colleges. Dad had to dig down deep to pay for the variety of college essentials such as sheets, towels, study lamps, luggage—and new clothes. Texas Technological College in Lubbock, where many Pampans have studied, will be attended by a number of spring graduates. Among those planning to attend Tech are Vivien Brake, Don Burns, Billy Don Conklin, Charles Ely, G. K. Reading, Joe Snyder, Darrell Wilson, Blaine Johnson, Jerry Walker, Nevada Lynn Cox, Ann Perkins, Lola Roberts, Lee Cockrell, Jimmy Cook, Olin Salsbury, Vernon Denton, G. W. Yeargin, Eugene Finchum, Jimmie Dulaney, Danny Rightassell, Jerry King Clancy Parks, and Iris Stockton. Students who reportedly plan to enroll at West Texas State College in Canyon are Darryl Powell, Janell Ewing, Jill Chapman, John Lee Welton, Margaret Houston, Eard Musgraves, June Smith, Dean Begert, Sue Lynn McFall, and Raymond Williams.

Texas A&M is the college choice of De Way Cudney, LeRoy Kretzmeier, Gilbert Berry, Duane Jeter, and Charles Broyles. Jim Bob Cox and Tollie Hutchins will attend Abilene Christian College. Other students who will study in Abilene are Alice Gower and Carolyn Carver who will attend Hardin Simmons University; Ray Martin and EumMcMurry.

Five graduates, Jackie Watherted, Bill Campbell, James Hinkley, Brent Carruth, and Dean Ward, will enroll at the University of Texas. Bryan Clemens and Ken Coffee will study at Wayland College in Plainview and Sid Mills and Pat Ellis will attend Southern Methodist University. Jimmy Orr and Donna Conley plan to enroll at Rice Institute; Charlotte Allston will study at Texas Christian University, and Dortha Jean Blair will enroll at Texas Wesleyan College, both in Fort Worth. Dorothy Zhanet will attend St. Anthony School of Nursing in Amarillo.

Many students will go out of Texas for their college work. These students, and their schools, include Jane Moyer, Arizona University; Glenda Flusted, Oklahoma University; Jean Hendricks, who now lives in Canada, Lindenwood College in Missouri; Harriet Schwartz, Colorado University; Betty Williams and Linda Fraser, Stephens College.

Some in the class are married; others are engaged and plan early fall weddings. Many will continue working in Pampa, but some of the young men are expecting call to the service, and are making no definite plans.

Tips For Tucks

Suds and polish wood furniture periodically. Light colors of wood benefit especially from an occasional wiping with a soapy cloth. The tomatoes and onions just before the meat is ready to serve.

Did you know that you can make the topping and batter for individual Pineapple Upside-Down Cakes in oven-glass baking dishes, wrap and freeze them, then bake as and when needed? They're every bit as good as newly-made and a real time saver! The bite-size pineapple tidbits from Hawaii insure a bit of tropical-topping in each luscious mouthful. And here's how — use our batter or your own favorite —

First prepare the Upside-Down Topping (this recipe makes eight individual cakes):
In each 3 1/2 inch (diameter) oven-glass baking dish, place two teaspoons melted butter or margarine, sprinkle with two tablespoons crushed pineapple, drained. In the center of each dish place a marachino cherry, pressing down firmly.
Now set aside while you make the batter:
1-3 cup shortening
1-2 cup sugar
1 egg, unbroken
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 teaspoon baking powder
1-2 cup syrup drained from pineapple

Gradually add sugar to shortening, creaming until fluffy. Add egg and vanilla; beat well. Add alternately small amounts of sifted dry ingredients and pineapple syrup, beating smooth after each addition. Spread batter (3-4) tablespoons evenly over pineapple in baking dishes. Wrap with foil, placing a square of foil over top first, and folding edges down under the dish. Freeze immediately (these will freeze for several weeks).

When ready to use — remove from freezer, unwrap, and allow to stand at room temperature for 45 minutes. Then, bake at 350 degrees, without pre-heating oven, for about 40 minutes, or until done. Let stand 5 minutes, then loosen sides and turn out on individual dessert plates. Serve warm, with unsweetened whipped cream — the cakes are rich and sweet enough! When your freezer is stocked with ready-made upside-down cakes, one member of the whole family may have a warm dessert with no fuss or bother. Offer them with cups of fragrant hot coffee for evening "dessert party" and hear your praise!

Unusual Sandwich

Here's an unusual and delicious sandwich to serve luncheon guests. It's called Apricot - Fig Sandwich. To make six, use 3-4 cup dried apricots, 1-2 cup dried figs and 2 tablespoons chopped nuts. Wash the fruit, cover with warm water and let soak about an hour. Drain and put through the food chopper. Add the nuts and mix well. Spread on melba (toast or thinly sliced white bread). There's much good food value in this filling, too, so keep it in mind for lunch boxes in the fall.

MISS JUANITA HAYNES of Miami, a member of the Pampa Piano Symphony, will be one of the soloists when the symphony presents a concert Friday at 8 p.m. in the Panhandle High School Auditorium. Mrs. A. E. Cowan is the other soloist, and Stan Douglas of Canadian is guest artist. Mrs. May Foreman Carr, founder of the symphony, will direct. The program includes "The Donkey Serenade," "Malagena," "Tea for Two," and "Espang Rhapsody." The Friday concert concludes a summer of practice for the local symphony.

RUTH MILLETT

"College girls make good mothers," the dean of St. Louis University recently told a group of college students. And he added: "The statement one sometimes hears that a college girl does not make a good mother is a stupid one and pure myth." The real truth, it seems to me, is that to say that college girls make good mothers is as big a generalization as to say they don't make good mothers. Actually, some college girls make splendid mothers, and some make poor ones. Just as some girls who have never been to college make excellent mothers, and some fall down on the job. Take a girl who has the qualities that will some day help her become a good mother, then give her the advantage of a fine education and she should make a superior mother. But take a girl without those qualities that enable a woman to guide children wisely and well, send her to college, and she'll still lack what it takes for happy and successful motherhood. Patience, kindness, firmness and a respect for children as people are all needed to make a woman a good mother. And those qualities don't necessarily come with higher education. Nor are they necessarily

What's RIGHT?

Your family is invited to a friend's home for a holiday meal and your offer to bring the dessert or a casserole dish is vetoed by the hostess. WRONG: Feel there is no other way you can show your appreciation for the invitation. RIGHT: Send your hostess a centerpiece of flowers, or take along a bottle of wine or a box of candy. Fashion focuses on gloves this season, particularly when they are in gay patterns to spark dark Autumn colors.

Grace Friend:

Readers of The News are invited to send their problems to Grace Friend. Letters not published will be answered personally if stamped although they will not be printed without the writer's permission.

Dear Grace Friend: I get pretty tired of all these politicians talking about inflation and the poor state we are in when anybody can look at his pay check and see how much better off he is. Believe me I know because I lived through the depression when my husband's wages were $30 a week. Today he is making more than twice that. How can these braying politicians possibly hope to convince me that times are bad when I have the evidence of my own eyes each week?

Wrathy

Dear Wrathy The size of the pay check isn't what counts but what you can buy with it. The $30 your husband earned during the depression would buy you more than the twice that amount he is earning now. In addition, taxes are making a big hole in today's check while you go to keep it all 20 years ago.

Here is an example: Almost a third of today's wages go for taxes and inflation has cut the purchasing power of each dollar to one third of what it was in the 1930's. So you can buy less with a weekly check of $75 today than you could with a check for $25 then.

TELEVISION HELP

Dear Grace Friend: A few days ago a letter appeared in your column written by a young woman who asked you for the name of some older woman to whom she could tell her troubles. She mentioned financial difficulties. I wonder if she ever watched the television show, "Strike It Rich"? The last time I watched the show they announced that the contestants were being chosen from this area. I believe it is a New York broadcast.

They do wonderful things for deserving people. It is a quiz program, but if a person does not wish to appear personally he may send a representative. Sometimes if the contestant fails entirely the "hears line" enters the picture and offers help. This is just a suggestion for her. Mrs. A.

NEW "WATCHDOG" BASES FOR WEST — The Western powers are setting up two important new bases in Turkey and Greece. As shown on Newsmap, they will anchor defenses of the northeastern Mediterranean region fronting on Russia. Izmir, Turkey, better known as Smyrna, will be the headquarters for the new Southeastern Europe Command. Salonika, main city of northern Greece, will become interim air headquarters for the eastern Mediterranean approaches. The new bases bracket the Dardanelles.

New Spraying Machine Boosts Budget For City Health Dept.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of articles discussing the tentative city budget for the fiscal year, 1952-53, presented to the city commission this week by the city manager.

By HENRY S. GORDON

A new spraying machine to replace the old one, borrowed from the county, and reimbursing Highland General Hospital for running milk tests, account the Health Department budget from $11,985 last year to $14,260 this year.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE Hurrying To Draw May Cause Trouble

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When you're playing a difficult trump contract, don't be in a hurry to draw all of the trumps. Drawing trumps is the best plan on most easy hands, but is seldom the right way to begin difficult hands.

In today's hand, for example, South had to leave one trump out to make his contract. The reason is easier to show than to explain.

West opened the king of spades and continued the suit. South ruffed. Declarer could now afford to draw two rounds of trumps with the ace and the king, but then he had to stop. Declarer next switched to diamonds, and East shrewdly allowed dummy's king of diamonds to win the first trick in that suit. Declarer continued diamonds, and East won with the jack.

Now East led a third round of spades, and South was glad that he had left two trumps in the dummy. He could ruff the spade with dummy's low trump, and return to dummy by leading a trump to the queen in order to take the rest of the tricks with the established diamonds. South made the mistake of drawing three rounds of trumps at the very beginning. East would refuse the first diamond trick, but would win with the jack. He would then return a spade.

If South ruffed in dummy, he would thereby use up the last entry to dummy's diamonds. If he ruffed in his own hand, it would be even worse since that would use up his own last trump, after which it would be quite impossible to bring in dummy's diamonds.

Rare Blood Disease May Aid Radiation Sickness Fight

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An extremely rare blood disease which may point the way toward more effective treatment of atomic radiation effects has been found by a research team at the University of California Medical School. The newly discovered ailment is characterized by intermittent severe internal bleeding. It was first found in a boy, now 16 who has been under treatment and study at the medical school since 1936. He is Kent Kincaid, Walnut Creek, Calif.

stream of a hitherto unrecognized factor now presumed to be present in the blood of all normal humans.

Isolation of this mysterious factor from human blood now is the goal of the research team, headed by Dr. Paul Aggeler. Partial purification of the substance already has been obtained. The researchers reported their progress in the proceedings of their Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine and will make another report soon in the medical journal Blood.

Specialists elsewhere in the country also are on the trial of the substance.

Although the disease ordinarily may affect only a comparatively few individuals, it is of prime importance because it concerns the mechanism of bleeding. Bleeding from overexposure to radiation is one of the main causes of death in atomic explosions. Once the bleeding process is better understood, doctors may be in better position to combat this lethal threat.

Young Kincaid is a medical phenomenon. Because of internal bleeding almost from birth he was given a blood transfusion the first week of his life. For years his parents were burdened with the job of obtaining four pints of blood a month to keep him alive. At first doctors thought young Kincaid's trouble was hemophilia but they abandoned that theory four years ago when they found that his bleeding occurred with great regularity as distinguished from the occasional hemorrhages of hemophiliacs. Also they found out that the globulin from donated blood, which usually is effective in hemophilia, was useless in the boy's case.

Tests in normal blood resulted tentatively called the plasma thromboplastin component, (PTC) for short. This factor was found to be absent from young Kincaid's blood. So his trouble has been tentatively named PTC deficiency disease.

RAPID REVOLVER
Mercury is the fastest of all the planets in the solar system and revolves about the sun at approximately 30 miles a second. The earth travels 18 miles a second in its journey around the sun, fighting one of the deadly elements of radiation.

TOUGH SKIN
The skin of a full-grown gorilla is extraordinarily tough and solid, attaining, in the case of old males, as much as an inch of thickness. From these animals, most of the sjamboks, or colonial whips in use all over South Africa, are made.
