High-Buttoned Look Is Said On The Way For Nation's Men

By DOROTHY ROE
The men, bless 'em, are taking a timid step toward a "new look."
It is called the Edwardian look and it consists of a fitted, high-buttoned coat with cuffs on the sleeves and no cuffs on the trousers. More daring businessmen do it up down with a brocaded waistcoat.
This thing, of course, was bound to come, after the so-called casual look reached such proportions right after World War II that you couldn't tell whether a man was wearing a business suit or his pajamas.
Men have been edging cautiously toward slightly less rumpled mode of dress for the last two years, since tailors started taking some of the padding out of shoulders and modifying lapels so that they didn't look like a flying jib.

habits of dressing is in, for rough. But any move to change men's going before the boys can be persuaded to try something different. Witness a survey just completed by the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers. A poll of the association's more than 2,000 store members revealed that 70 per cent felt that American men would have no truck with the Edwardian look. Others thought the trend would not develop until "sometime in the distant future."
Be that as it may, the Daily News Record reports that Edwardian-style men's suits "with narrow lapels, cuffs on the sleeves, collared vest and narrow trousers" are being made in Belfast, Ireland, for export to the United States, and F. Eugene Ackerman, director of the wool union, says:
"The high buttoned look seems to be edging toward a national fashion."
Ackerman, a genial gent whose business is to keep two jumps ahead of clothing trends, says you can see Edwardian suits on college campuses from Princeton to Wisconsin this year, and by next year you'll be seeing it generally over the country.
So it looks as if Pop is going to have to spruce up soon, and stop looking like head-man at a hole-in-the-wall. It may be a wrench to part with those low-necked shirts with collars reaching to the solar plexus and those ties wired for sound. The drooping slacks and baggy sports coat will have to go back to their rightful place in the country.
"The far the experts on how far the trend will go. Some call it "frankish, foolish and fantastic," and others maintain it has to come, unless American men want to continue looking like unmade beds.

Deplores Emphasis On Funds

By EDWIN B. HAACKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright says both Republicans and Democrats are devoting too much attention to probing each other's political and expense funds.
"I don't think that any of these people on either side are dishonest or corrupt politicians," the Arkansas Democrat told reporters. He added:
"All of this obscures the real, fundamental issues of the presidential campaign and leaves the impression with the public that everybody is corrupt."
Fulbright was commenting on the special expense fund for Sen. Richard M. Nixon, the Republican vice-presidential nominee, and the Illinois campaign fund of Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, used to augment salaries of key state officials.
Fulbright said the charges and counter-charges "develop a name calling and low-level campaign." "That's had enough in a campaign for a county constable," he said. "It certainly has no place in a national presidential campaign."
Fulbright said he agrees with Nixon that senators from larger states, such as California, do not have large enough salaries and expense funds from regular sources.
He added that members of Congress "are too sensitive" in voting on their own pay and allowances and this should be done

Tardy Celebrant

BALTIMORE (AP) — It was nearly three months late for fireworks, and besides, motorists don't usually go around shooting Roman candle balls of fire into the night air.
So police arrested Peter Mwor... by an outside commission of non-governmental leaders.
At the same time, Fulbright says Nixon's nation-wide explanation of his special fund from California, via television, radio and the press, "left a false impression."
He said most people now believe that Nixon used this fund to avoid extra expenses to the taxpayers.
"One of the biggest items was for thousands of Christmas cards," Fulbright said. "That money could or should be paid for by the taxpayers."

The Old And The New ... Fad Of Being Old-Fashioned Has Reached Annoying Stage

By HENRY McLEMORE
SAN ANTONIO, Texas — To my way of thinking there is nothing plainer than a Santa Claus with hollow cheeks unless it be the man and woman who sigh for the good old days.

It's fashionable now to be old-fashioned, and the fashion is being carried so far as to become downright annoying.

I was reading the September issue of the Atlantic today and a sentence in an essay by Wyman Richardson, M.D., seemed to me to aim up the ridiculousness with which so many view the advantage furnished by the 20th century.

"Breakfast is prepared in a leisurely fashion, starting with a large glass of freshly prepared orange juice—squeezed in the old-fashioned blue china contraption with a hump in the middle; not in the modern metal gadget."

I know that old blue china contraption. Only once was green china and has a ribbed pyramid in the middle. I have squeezed a grove of oranges on one. But it didn't break my heart when we saved up enough to get an electric mixer that has a juice attachment.

I didn't miss having to strain the juice from the needs, as I always had to do with Dr. Richardson's beloved device. Nor did I notice any change in flavor. The only difference was that the late model extractor made things easier and quicker.

Later in his essay (and his Cape Cod observations are delightful, by the way) Dr. Richardson mentions the use of an automobile as a possible means of conveyance to "Round Pond to see if it holds any teal." Doctor, I'm ashamed of you! Why an automobile? A man who would scorn such an insignificant 20th century improvement as a wouldn't be caught dead in what is almost the symbol of the 20th century.

Why didn't you walk through the brush and marshes to Round Pond? Or throw your leg across a horse and take two hours to get there? Answer me something, Doctor, I'm mighty curious. When you treat your patients do you use any "modern metal gadgets"? Or do you practice with the old English inn working a power lawnmower around his place. Why doesn't he cut his grass with a scythe? Or with a lawnmower he has to push, at the very least?

Kitchens are an obsession with the "I want the good old days" men and women. They want a hooked rug on the floor, two or three rocking chairs, a couple of fat cats curled up in the corner and, of course, an electric dishwasher, an electric washing machine, and a suction fan to yank out the cooking odors.

They want to be Martha Washington with time off for bridge and a round of golf, Daniel Boone with a coonskin cap by Mr. John.

They want chairs with a name, not legs that will offer support to a guest who dares sit in them. They want hot and cold running lav tubs in the bathroom, but they wear their feet out looking for an old pitcher and basin to put in the bedroom for show.

I'd like to see these folks accept a hotel room that was furnished the way they try to furnish their houses. They wouldn't pay $2 a night, even if a mosquito net were thrown in for free.

If these people are on the level, then so is professional wrestling.

Do cramps give you that monthly look?

Why let late late misery, "cramps" show in your eyes? Does your mirror show an older-looking, worn-out nervous face during your "bad days"? Why let men see that you are suffering from monthly cramps? Try a little CARDUI each day as thousands of women do. Let it help build strength and resistance so you have less and less intensity each month. Some go through periods without feeling any discomfort at all. Also helps relax jittery nerves—sleep better, Look, feel, act younger, more normal all month. Ask for CARDUI.

Chinese Seize Another Hill

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Chinese Reds seized another hill on Korea's Central Front today as the Communists maintained heavy pressure on the sector for the third straight day.

The hill, due east of Kumson, was the third captured by the Reds since they launched a series of heavy attacks on the East Central Front Sunday.

Yesterday the Communists powered their assaults with the heaviest Red artillery barrage of the war — 47,312 rounds.

Savage fighting also flared on the Western Front. U. N. infantrymen slugged their way to the top of Big Nori but lost the high ground to counter-attacking Chinese in pre-dawn darkness. Greek troops were driven from the peak Sunday when U. N. planes accidentally bombed them during a Chinese attack.

The assault on Big Nori got under way at 1:30 a.m. today after a short but concentrated Alutia later U. N. Troops were at the crest battling hand-to-hand with the Chinese.

Sir Astor Is Dead

CLIVEDEN, England (AP) — Viscount Astor, prominent British publisher and sportsman and husband of Virginia-born Lady Nancy Astor, died today. He was 72.

Lord Astor, who was born in New York City, long had been a leader in British social and political life, along with his wife.

His death followed a long illness.

Unable, because of his title, to hold a seat in the House of Commons, Lord Astor sponsored his wife's political career and helped her to become the first woman ever elected to the lower parliamentary chamber.

Sewer Is A Haven

VIENNA (AP) — Four Hungarian men, aged 21 to 30, recently escaped to Austria from a Communist prison camp by wading chin-deep through the sewers of Budapest.

The foursome laid plans to escape after they uncovered an opening on the camp grounds that led to the city's sewer system. For four hours, they struggled under the city pavements, menaced by rats and the danger of being swept into the main sewage stream and thence into the Danube River.

They battled always upstream and finally reached the hills of Buda. From there, they made their way by nightfall across where they slipped through a Hungary to the Austrian frontier, barbed wire fence to safety.

When In Doubt . . .

When a thermos bottle turns over, it can be an expensive proposition — especially if you're driving an automobile at the time.

That's what Richard Eugene Anderson, 19, of Pampa, found out at 6:30 a.m. today. He was driving west on Alcock, just west of Banks, when a thermos bottle on the seat of his car fell to the floor. According to police, he stooped over to pick it up — and drove right into a post.

The post was not damaged, but the car was — about $75 worth.

No citation was given.

The Iroquois tribes, estimated to have numbered little more than 6,000 people, are credited by historians with checking French expansion southward from Canada and thus permitting English occupation of what later became the United States.

Money Induces Presidential Candidates To Keep Talking

(Note: This is the third in a series of stories comparing — in their own words — how the presidential candidates stand on major issues.)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The clutch of political dollars has disrupted the presidential campaign — at least, it has disrupted the campaign of Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai B. Stevenson the past week or so.

Eisenhower's Republican running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, defended as ethical an $18,225 expense fund raised in his behalf by fellow Californians. Eisenhower accepted the senator's assertion that he had not profited personally from the money, rejected demands that Nixon be taken off the ticket for vice president, said the Californians had vindicated himself and "stands higher than ever before."

Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, was called on by Republicans to explain his creation of a special fund (size and contributors undisclosed) used to supplement the pay of some Illinois officials during Stevenson's tenure at the statehouse. The governor declared no improper influence was involved "because there was no connection between the contributors and the beneficiaries."

As the candidates criss-crossed the continent by plane, train and automobile, they sounded off on a number of top campaign issues including inflation, taxes and foreign policy.

Here are the contrasting stands they took on some of those subjects, in their own words:

THE NIXON FUND:

Eisenhower — Kansas City, Sept. 19 — "Knowing Dick Nixon as I do, I believe that when the facts are known to all of us they will show that Dick Nixon would not compromise with what is right. Both he and I believe in a single standard of morality in public life."

Cleveland, Sept. 23 — After Nixon's radio — television explanation of the expense fund, "Your presentation was magnificent. . . . Whatever personal affection and admiration I had for you — and they are very great — are undiminished."

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 24 — After personal conference with Nixon — "My colleague in this political campaign has been subject to a very unfair and vicious attack. So far as I am concerned, he has not only vindicated himself, but I feel that he has acted as a man of courage and honor and, so far as I am concerned stands higher than ever before."

Stevenson — New York, Sept. 16 — "The question seems to be: Who gave the money? Was it given to influence the senator's position on public questions, and have any laws been violated?"

"I am sure the great Republican party will ascertain these facts, will make them public, and act in accordance with our best traditions and with due respect for the second most important position in the land."

THE ILLINOIS FUND:

Stevenson — New York, Sept. 22 — After a Chicago manufacturer said Stevenson had promoted a jobholders assistance fund — "There may have been a secret about the fact that I tried to reduce the financial sacrifice of a number of men whom I induced to leave private employment to work for the state of Illinois."

"The funds used for the purpose was left over from the 1948 campaign for governor, together with subsequent general contributions. There is no question of improper influence because there was no connection between the contributors and the beneficiaries."

Baltimore, Sept. 24 — "We studied the possibility of gifts by public spirited citizens directly to the state or to a foundation created for the benefit of the state with a view of raising the income level of key officials positions. This plan was finally abandoned as impracticable."

"Therefore, I adopted the practice of making gifts, usually around Christmas time, to a small number of key employees who were making sacrifices to stay in the state government. These gifts were made out of the balance which remains in my campaign fund when I took office, supplemented by additions to that fund. No official knew the source of the money he received, nor any donor to my campaign fund the identity of the officials to whom gifts were made."

"One of the most pressing needs of good government . . . is adequate compensation to attract able and honest men into the executive departments. I hope this discussion will focus public attention on this problem, at all levels of government."

"I see no purpose to be served by disclosing the names of the officials to whom gifts were made or the amounts. To do so would be to do so to the benefit of the amounts. To do so would do no good, and would, I believe, be a breach of faith on my part to them."

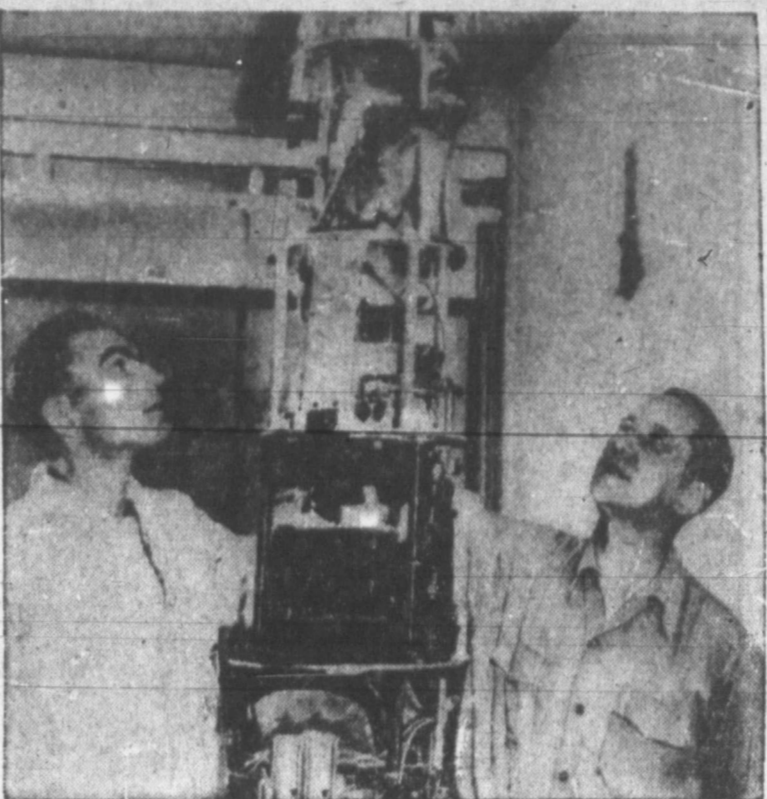

Eisenhower has not commented publicly on the Illinois fund, although it has come in for sharp criticism from some other prominent Republicans. For example, Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, Eisenhower campaign manager, said Stevenson used the funds for gifts to "deserving Democrats."

He challenged Stevenson to make public all the data unless he has "something to hide."

"The most standard device of a regime dedicated to perpetuating itself in power. It is the mark of an administration that cares more for the next election than for the next generation."

Stevenson — Baltimore, Sept. 23 — "Those who let their political impulses govern their honesty tell you that inflation is the product of governmental waste and mismanagement. Whether this is legitimate politics I shall not presume to say. But as an explanation of the cause of inflation, it is poppycock."

"We have inflation today, not disastrous, but serious, because the gods of war, working through their agents in the Kremlin, have dumped a barrel of yeast into the bread of our economy. . . . There are four things the government has to do. It must not spend a single penny for anything that is not needed right now. . . . Keep itself just as close as possible to a pay-as-you-go tax standard. . . . prevent excessive private borrowing. . . . and retain controls on prices, wages, rents until prices stop going up. And if it don't stop before Jan. 1, I think the situation should be rechecked and Congress should take further steps to stop it."

Hobbyist Has Greater Coin Collection Than U. S. Mint

By JOHN LUNDQUIST
BALTIMORE (AP) — The king of U. S. coin collectors is one record holder who doesn't have to worry about anybody stealing his thunder.

Louis Eliasberg has a complete set of government coins minted in this country since 1792. Two of them are believed to be the only ones in existence.

His cup filled to overflowing two years ago when he managed to buy the covered 1873 Carson City "CC" dime without arrows.

The other coin which makes this a unique collection is the 1870 $3 San Francisco gold piece. He also has one of the five known 1913 liberty head nickels. But the one regarded by the 35,000 coin connoisseurs in the country as the most famous is the 1804 silver dollar.

Originally 19,370 of them were minted. What happened to them is still speculation. One story has it that most were destined for the French Treasury to help pay for the Louisiana Territory, but the ship sank. A more generally accepted theory is that they were melted into bullion almost as fast as they were minted. The bullion value then exceeded the face value of the dollars.

Even the U. S. Mint can't match the complete set that Eliasberg boasts.

What's a prize collection of some 10,000 coins worth? Eliasberg hedges on that.

"After all," he says, "it's like your family, your wife and children. They're priceless. You don't put a set value on them."

Collectors put a variety of values on coins, as a set or individually. And of course the coins become more precious with each passing day, and increasingly difficult to buy. Eliasberg was offered $80,000 for the 1870 $3 gold piece.

Hollywood Will Sink Titanic Again

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — They're sinking the Titanic again, this time on a movie lot, and they're having a dickens of a time sifting the fact from fiction.

The Titanic epic will star Clifton Webb and Barbara Stanwyck and is being helmed by Charles Brackett. The stage producer, who has brought forth such films as "The Lost Weekend" and "Sunset Boulevard," said this is the most fascinating subject in his picture-making career.

"The stories we have uncovered about the sinking are fabulous," he remarked. "We have had to discard some of them because they are too fantastic for movie audiences to believe. Some are too fantastic for me to believe. That's only natural, since human testimony is inclined to be faulty in times of great stress."

The fact as Brackett related them, are these: The Titanic was built at a cost of 7 1/2 million. Its building was accompanied by a big publicity campaign citing it as the most modern, unsinkable ship. Newsreels still exist of the captain's coronation on the maiden voyage. Aboard were nine multimillionaires, several editors, a novelist, countless and President Taft's aide-de-camp.

On the night of April 11, 1912, a lookout sighted an iceberg dead ahead. The alarm was sounded and the ship was steered to one side, missing the iceberg. Unfortunately, the ship struck a spur of underwater ice, which ripped open the bottom of the ship "like a sardine can."

The Titanic went down with 1,517 persons. When the Tiner Carpathia arrived on the scene, only 707 survivors could be found.

Many stories of the disaster came out of Senate hearings and newspaper accounts. Among them: That the first officer on the bridge continued the ship's speed for 10 minutes after the waters were deemed dangerous and that he shot himself after the iceberg was struck.

That one rich couple bribed crewmen to put their luggage in a lifeboat.

That a man donned a dress to gain a place on a lifeboat. That a crewman supposed to take the water temperature was seen putting his thermometer in a water bucket before the crash.

That the captain swam to a lifeboat, deposited a child there and swam back to go down with his ship.

That Mrs. Isadore Straus declined to enter a lifeboat and leave her millionaire husband, saying, "I stay with him a good many years; I'm not going to leave him now."

The acts of heroism outnumbered the selfish ones. Brackett observed that newspapers of the time cited the action of the disaster victims as "some of the high marks of human behavior." As the ship was sinking, the people aboard sang "Nearer My God to Thee," and that is the current title of the picture. The title "Titanic" is owned by another producer.

"One good thing did come out of the sinking," Brackett added. "Investigations brought forth new and safer ship design and a stricter code of ship safety. Things that were carelessness before became crimes."

Texas Congressman Backs Stevenson

WACO (AP) — Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage (D-Tex) said today he would support the Democratic presidential nominee, Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

Poage has been on a visit to the Korean battlefield. He issued a statement from his Waco home saying he had been asked about his position since Stevenson has said he favors federal ownership of submerged lands.

Poage said in his statement he believes that Texas owns her tidelands by virtue of her annexation agreement with the U.S., but she needs friends in Congress. He said he believed he could be most useful to Texas by working with the Democratic Party.

A Tactless Texan Says... Ike Would Carry Texas If He Displays A Hole In His Shoe

By HENRY McEMORE
SAN ANTONIO, Texas — Looks as if General Eisenhower might carry this state in November even if none of the shoes he has worn since getting the Republican nomination has had a hole in them.

"If he would only come up with a hole in his sole," a Texan friend remarked as we drove to his home in a car a block long, and which was said to have an oil well gushing under the back seat, "no poor folks would vote for him next month for sure. And so would all the other poor folks in the country."

My friend was referring, of course, to the now celebrated picture of Governor Stevenson which revealed that the Democratic nominee was practically walling around in his socks insofar as one foot was concerned. The picture may have cost him the vote of the shoe repair shop owners, but as important as this bloc of votes is it was more than offset by the thousands of friends he made with his homely, common touch.

The hole-in-the-shoe picture didn't woo me. Indeed, it made me suspect the governor's ingenuity and led me to believe it was the first time in his life he had ever had a hole in his shoe. Those of us have worn old shoes off and on since we put on our first pair know that a slab of cardboard (that from a shoe box is best) blackened with ink, will not only disguise the hole but help to keep out water, snow, etc.

But the picture got the governor more publicity than any picture taken of him before or since, and rumor has it that it has done him more good in

JACOBY On Bridge

Slam Is Bid Though Partner Lacks Ace

Written for NEA Service

When a horn blows while you're crossing the street, you usually make a wild dash for the nearest sidewalk. This may not be dignified, and you may give the horn a dirty look, but it's a good way to grow old.

The same sort of thing happens in bridge. When a loud danger signal goes off in your ear, that's the time to jump. Today's a sad story about a player who forgot to jump.

West didn't see how he could beat two spades without a certain sort of luck and ingenuity, so he opened the king of hearts. This sort of opening lead shrieked out loud that West had only one more heart and was trying to get a ruff. It also indicated that West was a bit desperate with a bad hand, so that East probably had most of the high cards.

Having seen the danger, South should have gone right after the trumps by laying down the ace and continuing with a low trump. The contract would be safe if East had the ace or jack of diamonds, or if the opponents failed to take two club tricks.

But South didn't want to be rushed, so he didn't jump for safety. He won the first trick with the ace of hearts and tried to get to dummy with the king of clubs in order to try a trump finesse. East took the ace of clubs and returned the three of diamonds.

South won with the king of diamonds and persisted in the attempt to reach dummy by a low heart to dummy's queen. This brilliant maneuver permitted him to take a losing trump finesse to West's king.

West no longer expected to beat the contract, but his partner had led diamonds so he obediently returned the suit. East took the ace of diamonds and carefully cashed the queen of clubs. Then, deliberately omitting to cash the jack of hearts, East led the seven of hearts.

West was obliged to ruff, which gave him the lead. Since there was no other chance, West returned another diamond, and was delighted to find that East could ruff. This was the sixth defensive trick, so South had found a way to go down one trick.

and one of the candidates in making his first major speech. At the mention of his name the place goes wild. Yells, whoops, waves of handclaps.

Then the spotlights picks the candidate up, and everyone in the place starts crying.

There he stands in rags and tatters, with gunny sacks for shoes, and an old piano runner thrown about his shoulders.

He interrupts his speech now and then to him a cigarette off his campaign manager, and have count prearranged ones with him.

At the end of his speech he is whisked away to the Waldorf Towers, slips into white tie and tails, cuts the end off a Corona, and sends his rags and tatters out to be pressed for his next speech.

He goes to sleep that night confident he has given the American voter what he wants.

GOOD NEWS — "I always was thrilled when the Yankees won a pennant and I guess I always will be," said Joe DiMaggio as he read the UP news ticker in New York telling how the Yankees nosed-out the Cleveland Indians for the 1952 American League championship. (NEA Telephoto)

Boyle's Column . . .
Singer Sounds Off On Song
Writing And TV Commercials

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — You don't have to be unknown to be an unsuccessful song writer — although of course it is a great big help.

But the 1,000,000 or more obscure yearning Americans to whose ditties Tin Pan Alley has turned a deaf ear can take some consolation: their plight is shared by one of the most glamorous stars of the entertainment industry.

She is Irene Manning, Ohio's blonde warbler. After singing thousands of other people's songs, some of which she made famous, Irene decided to scribe a few herself.

"I have written the music and lyrics for a dozen songs, and have a lot more I'm working on, she said.

No Hits Yet
The songs she has published add up to a fat round zero. But like any other amateur she eats the bread of hope.

"The song publishing is quite different today," she remarked. "The disk jockeys are the kings now. You have to get a record made and played before a publisher will even say hello to you."

But she is determined to popularize her songs even if she has to become a lady disk jockey herself. Her output ranges from children's chants to love ballads like "I Want to Break Even With You," and a spiritual called "The Long Road Home."

"Some of them are corny," frankly admitted Irene, but pointed out that corn is a valuable product in any form.

Song composing is just another string in the bow of this talented gal who is at home in dramatic or comedy roles as well as in radio, stage or screen musicals. She returned recently from four years in London, where she had her own television show, and one of her goals now is a network show here.

British Amused
Irene feels that America has overcome the early British lead in video technique, but a year here is still one advantage in performing on TV over there.

"Since they don't have commercials, they aren't so tense about making a program end exactly on time. If it runs over a bit, nobody minds — and that gives everyone a more relaxed feeling."

The thing that fascinates her British friends most about American television, she said, is the commercials.

"They think they are wonderfully strange and amusing," Irene recently made a series of commercials for a U.S. soap company here, and is leading a one-woman crusade to lift the level of this newest American art. She dislikes the "scare technique" which tries to frighten the viewer into buying.

Wonderful Crusade
"A product should be sold with the same warmth you sell a song," she said. "High pressure salesmanship is getting to be thing of the past."

I don't know what TV screen she watches, but it certainly isn't mine. I keep four brands of cigarettes in my home, for fear of what the neighbors might think if I had the wrong kind. And I brush my teeth with three different kinds of toothpaste — two white and one green — because who wants his molars to feel insecure?

Victim Of Machine
BELLEVILLE, N.J. (AP) — A 50-year-old worker, his hand caught in the viselike grip of a roller, was drawn into a huge machine press and crushed to death Tuesday night.

Gerhard Korteling of Clifton died before horrified co-workers at the Federal Leather Company could turn off the leather-coating machine.

One worker, Raul Hernandez, 26, of New York, grabbed Korteling around the waist but had to release his hold as the gears carried the screaming Korteling into the press.

Pampans To Attend Planning Conference
Dr. J. Edmund Kirby, superintendent of the Pampa Methodist Church, and Rev. Tom Johnston, pastor, First Methodist Church, plan to leave this afternoon for Waco to attend a Texas Planning Commission of the Methodist Church.

IKE ESCAPES INJURY — Republican presidential candidate Dwight Eisenhower escaped possible serious injury when part of the speaker's platform at Richmond, Va., collapsed just as he walked off it. He was thrown to his knees but quickly arose and declared himself unharmed. Ike is shown (arrow) leaving the scene as reporters and officials on the stand try to quiet the panicky crowd.

Reds Making Mockery Of Jap Courts

By WILLIAM JORDEN

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese Communists are giving this nation's courts and judges their biggest, most painful headache in riotous trial scenes. Like Communists the world over, Japanese Reds have developed special techniques when one of their number is arrested and accused of a crime. Red defendants refuse to stand trial peacefully. Their lawyers insist on repeated delays. Once in court they use every weapon of psychological warfare to harass the judges — from technical appeals to direct personal attacks on court personnel. Japanese judges, still remembering the days when they conducted hearings in the name of the demi-god Emperor, are at a loss in dealing with this brand of trouble-making. Under legal reforms imposed in postwar Japan, the courts have been stripped of their power to cite defendants or spectators for contempt of court. However, this will be remedied in part by a newly enacted law which provides for minor fines and imprisonment up to 20 days for persons who disturb the order of the courts. On Sept. 19 the courts began hearings of 248 Reds and sympathizers suspected of planning and executing the bloody May Day riots in Tokyo. One rioter was killed and about 200 injured in the melee, including rioters, police and some American spectators, in front of Emperor Hirohito's palace. About a dozen American-owned automobiles were overturned and burned. The court decided to try the defendants eight at a time in separate chambers. That gave the Reds a welcome opening. They insisted that all 248 be put on trial in the same courtroom. They ignored the court's argument there wasn't a chamber in Japan that could handle that large a trial. When the first eight hearings opened, the Reds were well prepared. Their lawyers carried briefs attacking everything from the jurisdiction of the courts to the number of police on hand. The spectator sections were filled with friends and relatives of the defendants. The hearings quickly developed into disorderly mob scenes. The accused and their friends in the galleries heckled the court and screamed epithets at the unweary justices. One organized group unbound

"RED" WHITE AND BLUE—Arkadiy Rudovsky, former Russian Air Force sergeant, escaped to the Western sector of Germany and enlisted in the U. S. Army. Above, in Southport, he collects his first issue of G.I. clothes.

Japanese reporters sent to cover the trials and beat them unmercifully. One after another the magistrates adjourned the hearings for a week and retired to their chambers in confusion. When eight more hearings were attempted the following day, the Reds repeated their performance with the same results — the trials were postponed.

Pvt. Jimmy D. Rutledge, whose wife is in White Deer, was recently assigned to the Army general depot at Ft. Richardson, Alaska.

Rise Of Black Is Phenomenal

BROOKLYN (AP) — Two years ago today Joe Black was traveling by bus and pitching for the Baltimore Elite Giants in the Negro National League. A year ago today he was getting ready to pitch the Oct. 4 opening game for Manager Billy Herman's Cienfuegos team in the Havana Winter League.

Today Black stands on the threshold of World Series greatness. The 28-year-old rookie, who won 15 games and saved 14 others with his relief pitching for the Brooklyn Dodgers, beat the Yankees' ace, Allie Reynolds, 4-2, yesterday.

"He'll see a lot of this series," Manager Charley Dressen said. Black, when asked why he had shaken off several of catcher Roy Campanella's signs, replied: "We both shake our heads once in a while but I never shake him off. He knows the hitters better than I do. I just throw to him."

The Dodgers got Black on a "hook basis" from the Baltimore Elite in December, 1950. They paid $11,000 for him and two other players.

Dressen lashed back at critics who said he was gambling by starting his brilliant fireman against Reynolds, who has won a World Series game for the Yankees in each of their last four classics.

BLACK'S IN THE MIDDLE — Rookie Pitcher Joe Black (center, 49) of the Brooklyn Dodgers is escorted off the field by happy teammates after he beat the Yankees, 4-2, setting them down with six hits in the opening game of the World Series in Brooklyn. In front are Billy Cox (3) and Gil Hodges (14); behind is Duke Snider. Andy Pafko is just behind Black's left shoulder and top right is Jackie Robinson. Others unidentified. (AP Wirephoto)

Relaxed Dodgers Could Upset Yanks, And Dopesters, Too

By GAYLE TALBOT
BROOKLYN (AP) — Know what? The Dodgers could win this World Series and make a lot of experts look very bad.

It was a smart, loose team which outslugged the Yankees, 4-2, in yesterday's opener, extremely skilled on defense and a picture of confidence in its every move.

Joe Black, the big Negro rookie, proved himself a very fine pitcher as he throttled the American Leaguers in the tight spots, and he is due to be back for several more helpings before it is over.

This was the first opener the Dodgers ever have won in six World Series.

Dressen's all-or-nothing gamble of starting his freshman reliever didn't really look like a gamble at all as Black mowed the Yankees down in the opening game.

The big fellow appeared to get faster as he went along. No harder ball was thrown all day than the strike which Irv Noren looked at to end the ball game.

Pafko shines

As they went into the second game today behind Carl Erskine, the National Leaguers had every reason to feel their oats. Having disposed of Allie Reynolds with three well-hit home runs, they had no particular reason for fearing Vic Raschi, the Yankees' second best.

Black probably will be given a day's rest, but he will be back ready for relief duty in tomorrow's third game at Yankee Stadium.

Black's pitching was, of course, the standout performance of the opener, but not by too much.

Andy Pafko, the Dodger left fielder, turned in two tremendous plays to choke off a Yankee threat in the fifth inning. First, he made a remarkable pig to third to cut down Gil McDougald after Billy Martin had singled. Then, Pafko came in a mile to make a somersaulting catch of a drooper by Hank Bauer.

Billy Cox, widely acknowledged to be the finest fielding third baseman in the game today, made a brilliant stop and throw in the seventh on McDougald's slashing grounder to start a double play which stopped the Stengeleers in their tracks. To complete the inning, he backhanded Martin's hopper over third and threw him out.

Batting Stars

In other words, the Dodgers did everything they were supposed to do. They hit the long ball, they fielded spectacularly, and they had a man named Black.

The day's hardest hit ball probably was the homer slugged by Reggie Reese in the eighth, which only ensured the victory after Duke Snider's towering two-run smash over the clock in rightfield had sent the Dodgers into the lead at 3-1.

Yogi Berra did not acquit himself with any honors to speak of. The Yankee catcher got the ball out of the infield only once in four tries, and twice he forced teammates at second when a hit

Harvesters Ease Off For Duncan

Pampa's Harvesters spent a short afternoon yesterday in what is usually the final big day of work before a game as they prepared for the Friday night encounter with the Duncan, Okla., Demons.

Brightest spot of the workout was the presence of the three ailing Harvesters, James Phippen, Ed Dudley and David Enloe. Only Enloe saw any hard action yesterday. Phippen and Dudley both watching from the sidelines. How hard they will be able to go against the Sooners remains to be seen. Phippen is suffering from a pulled side muscle and Dudley has a swollen foot, injured when he was tackled from behind in the final scrimmage play during Monday's workout.

Most of yesterday's workout was devoted to line play and methods of halting a split-T operation, such as Duncan is expected to employ. The Demons have a winning streak of 14 straight games behind them that will be placed on the line tomorrow night. They have no intentions of permitting a Texas team to break that string.

Supporting them will be a train of Duncan Touchdown Club members who will come to Pampa about 500 strong.

Coach Earl Prealey of the Demons has lauded his athletes as the best conditioned group he has tutored since he started coaching more than 13 years ago. He has 16 lettermen back from last year's squad which won 11 straight and was chosen the No. 1 team in the state by the Daily Oklahoman in its annual poll. Prealey, starting his fourth year at Duncan, coached the Oklahoma stars in the Oiler Bowl Game.

Port Arthur - Ray Clash Tops Schoolboy Card This Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
Port Arthur and Ray of Corpus Christi clash Friday night in the feature game of the week in Texas schoolboy football, but there will be important battles from the Panhandle to Gulf running throughout the four top divisions.

A are Clifton vs Mansfield in a conference game of District 11 and Northwest vs Pilot Point in a district 10 conference struggle. All four teams are undefeated and untied.

Hull-Daisetta, undefeated and untied, plays Dayton undefeated once, tied in a conference game of District 20.

The Port Arthur - Ray contest matches undefeated, untied teams, but of more note than that it sends two of the acknowledged powers of the state into combat. And it will test the heralded Ray team—show whether it is a state championship favorite in Class AAAA.

Ray has been ranked with Baytown as the strongest teams in the south half of the state.

Midland Gets Test

Another outstanding game in Class AAAA matches Midland with Ysleta. Midland is unbeaten and untied. Ysleta is undefeated but has been tied.

Class AAA has a bona fide scrap of undefeated, untied teams as Victoria and Shiloh meet in a game of District 7. The tilt might well energize from this battle.

Paris of AAA also runs into a rugged test. The undefeated, untied and unscored on Wildcats take on Ennis, which has almost a similar status in Class AA.

Class A has two games sending undefeated, untied teams against each other—Ballinger at Stamford and Silsbee to Huntsville. Silsbee is unscored on. Center won't permit a squeak up and of Class A — Shellyville; Terrell clashes with Wills Point, which is undefeated, untied and unscored on in Class A. Brady plays unbeaten, untied. District of Class A; Alvin tackles unbeaten Spring Branch of Class A, and Uvalde plays Hondo, undefeated but tied in Class A.

Clifton vs Mansfield

The headline games in class

might have broken the game wide open.

His opposite number, Roy Campanella, didn't do too well, either.

Although Mickey Mantle struck out in his final time at bat when the Yanks were desperate for a hit, the "phenom" from Oklahoma gave warning that he must be dealt with by collecting two of his team's six hits, one of them on a bunt. The fleet kid also raced to make a catch on Reese in the fourth inning which would have done full credit to Joe DiMaggio.

Grudge Match Steals Show

A grudge battle between Jack O'Reilly of Sidney, Australia, and George Overhul of Amarillo stole the thunder from the main event last night at the Southern Club sports arena.

Overhul requested the return match, but was unable to be around at the finish after the rugged Aussie had won the second fall with a series of knee drops on Overhul's left knee followed by a cradle. The win evened the match at a fall apiece.

Overhul was aided back to the dressing room by the referee and the ring physician, who advised Overhul to call it a night after his left knee started swelling.

Overhul had gained the first fall with a spectacular flying full Nelson followed by a body press in 18 minutes.

In the anti-climatic main event, Ivan "The Terrible" Kalmikoff of Russia took the best two out of three falls from Kinju Shibuya of Tokyo, Japan. Kalmikoff won the last two falls, both in six minutes. He won the second with a step over toe hold, using the ropes to apply the pressure, and the last fall, a really rough one, was won with a side cradle.

Shibuya put Kalmikoff to sleep in 21 minutes of the first fall and appeared to have the match won during the third fall with another sleeper hold. But the Russian wouldn't stand still for the sleep potion, and went on to win.

In a fine opening match, Billy Weider of Amarillo took a 17-minute decision from Chico Bonales of Old Mexico. Bonales had hit Weider with a pair of flying knees when Weider ducked underneath the third one. Bonales crashed into the corner of the ring, injuring his left shoulder. Weider immediately seized the opportunity to apply his left arm hammer lock, forcing Bonales to concede.

Memphis Chicks Square Little Dixie Series Play

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Shreveport and Memphis wind up their Louisiana stand tonight with the Chicks' Tommy Hurd trying to pitch the Southern Association nine into a Dixie Series lead over the Texas League Sports last night to even the series at 2-2. The win came about when the Sports shortstop, Joe Koppe, erred in two runs for the Chicks.

Shreveport's Righthander, Bud Lively was the victim of Koppe's ninth inning collapse even though he pitched brilliant three-hit ball through eight innings.

Koppe overthrew first base to let in the tying run and then Ed McGhee score all the way from first on an easy pop to short. Koppe overran Al Kosar's weak pop - up and finally let it drop for a fluke double.

Millard Howell, who relieved Starter Tommy Fine in the seventh, protected the Chick lead by striking out three Shreveport batters in the ninth. It was Howell's second win of the series.

Memphis had taken a 1-0 lead in the fourth only to see the Sports tie it up in the same inning and go ahead in the seventh when Grant Dunlap parked one out of the lot.

Horned Frogs Work Overtime For Opener With Arkansas

PAMPA NEWS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1952

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff

The conference opener — Texas Christian against Arkansas — and a heavy schedule in inter-sectional games featured by the Texas-Notre Dame tilt, occupies Southwest Conference elevens Thursday.

The week-end promised more football for the circuit than any similar period in the season. All teams expected to be in top shape by Saturday.

At Austin, the Texas Longhorns went through their last hard practice scrimmage Wednesday without the services of T. Jones, stellar Split T quarterback. But Frank Edina, Longhorn trainer, said the sparkplug of the Steer offense, nursing a charley horse this week, would be ready for the Notre Dame game Saturday.

The defending champion TCU Horned Frogs, scoreless in their first two games of the season, had another overtime drill as they tapered off for the conference opener against Arkansas at Razorback. The defensive platoon drilled against Razorback offense spent its time on play execution and blocking assignments.

Meanwhile, Coach Otis Douglas watched his Razorbacks roll through scrimmage TCU formations. Douglas, who has threatened to resign unless his charges start "playing football," would predict the outcome of Saturday's game. "I just don't know," he said. The Frogs have won one and lost one.

Southern Methodist went through its scoring plays in search of a more deadly scoring punch for their game in Dallas Saturday night against Georgia Tech. The Mustangs racked up 23 first downs against Duke but couldn't reach pay dirt but once.

Baylor's Bears polished running and aerial plays at Waco as they prepared for Washington State. They want to keep their rating as the nation's fourth best passing team in the Saturday tilt. Coach George Baver indicated starting assignments were still in doubt at some backfield posts.

Owls take it easy. Signal drills were down for the Rice Institute's Owls Thursday and Friday. They conclude the heavy work for their Louisiana State game Thursday with 30 minutes to scrimmage. Coach Jess Neely hasn't worked his team hard for the Tigers, observers has noted. LSU was to arrive in Baton Rouge.

NEW YORK (AP) — Picking football winners while ducking World Series bunts and bats' week's average — 37 correct, 11 incorrect for 771 season's average: 63 correct, 18 incorrect for .778.

Michigan State over Oregon State; this was the Spartans hardest hassle last year and they squeaked through with a 6 to 0 verdict. It should be considerably easier this time.

Wisconsin over Illinois: it is as simple as this—Wisconsin wants to go to the Rose bowl and Illinois knows it can't. The Illinois won last year and since 1942 neither has been able to win twice in a row in this bitter struggle.

Maryland over Clemson: neither club is in the good graces of the suddenly prim Southern Conference so this game has been dubbed the "Suspension Bowl."

Georgia Tech over Southern Methodist: these wild Mustangs from Texas aren't so wild this year.

Southern California over Army: the Trojans scored 31 points and displaced Coach Jess Hill.

Who will win the Southwest Conference football championship? The coaches, who don't know either, won't guess at it, leaving it to the sports writers whose reputations can't be damaged no matter how they pick it.

Last year we took Texas A&M which proceeded to finish in a tie for next to last. There have been other years when our choice did better—wound up in a tie or maybe. Getting that close is considered a moral victory in this screwy conference.

Most everybody has picked Texas as Christian. A few took Texas; there was a scattering for both Arkansas and Rice. We'll at least be different. Here's how we pick them to finish:

1. Southern Methodist.
2. Texas.
3. Texas Christian.
4. Rice.
5. Arkansas.
6. Baylor.
7. Texas A&M.

Southern Methodist has the material — the men — to take the championship. The Methodists should be almost as good as last season with their passing and the per cent better in running.

SMU also has a greatly improved line. The Methodists weren't anywhere nearly as bad as their 1951 record indicated — one victory, four losses and one tie. Most of the games the SMUs could have won. With a much better team it is reasonable to think they will win the games they lost last season.

Texas has a solid team that could take it all and cause no surprise. The Longhorns are playing one of the toughest schedules in the country, although not much tougher than Southern Methodist, but it never has been the inter-sectional schedule that gave either of these schools the trouble. They each have a great inter-sectional record over the years.

Top Golfers
Texas golf writers have been asked to pick the top linksters for the amateur team that will meet the professionals in October in the Texas Cup matches. The writers are selecting 25 but truth of the matter is that 25 won't cover the field of great golfers in Texas.

Billy Maxwell, Joe Conrad, Bill Erfurth, Wesley Ellis, Bob Moncrief, Marion Hiskey, Don Cherry, Don Addington, Joe Jimenez, Buddy Weaver, Buster Reed, Everett Vinzant, Raleigh Selby, Fred Moseley, L. M. Cramell Jr., Lee Pinkston, Stan Moser, Ed Hopkins, Dick Martin, Don January, Marge Sanders, Jack Covie, Walter Benson, Bob Cuptil, Ernie Vossler.

Those cup matches should be something to see. The pros already have Byron Nelson ready to play, and hope to get Jack Burke, Jimmy Demaret, Hageny Fansom and maybe the great one himself — Ben Hogan. But the amateurs will do all right no matter who plays for the Texas PGA.

Don Cherry is named on our squad because he's a Texan although spending most of his time in New York singing with orchestras. Cherry is a native and a citizen of Wichita Falls and comes back to Texas to play golf every chance he gets. He would not only add strength to the Texas team but would add color to the matches. Cherry was a semi-finalist in the national amateur this year.

but he's mighty wise as football players go. He's been a regular at Temple High for three seasons. In 1950 Dandy Doyle passed for 21 touchdowns. Last year he threw 34 touchdowns. In three games this season he has flipped six for scores. His passing in 1951 gained 2,188 yards.

Last week against Waco, Traylor completed six passes for 97 yards but didn't score a touchdown in that way — he just ran for a couple.

How far can Traylor throw a pass? "I don't know," he says. "I think about 60 or 70 yards."

VOTING

"This is not a fight between the north and south side of the city; it is a fight between rank and file of citizens and a handful of few. I am not for Ward 3 or 4. I am for the good of Pampa as a whole, and hat is the way I feel about it."

Pampa as a whole, and that is the way I feel about it.

In the "who can vote" controversy and confusion that has come up City Atty. Bob Gordon this morning, checked into the Texas Election Code to learn just who may and may not vote in the city charter election Saturday.

In order to vote in this election a voter must, of course, meet the general qualifications laid down by the state—hold a poll tax receipt or current exemption; be over 21 years of age; reside in Texas one year and Gray County six months etc.

Texas one year and Gray County six months etc.

Chapter 5, Article 29 clearly states that a voter who meets the general qualifications must live within the city limits for period of six months prior to the election.

Article 40 defines "residence" as follows:

"The residence of a single man is where he usually sleeps at night; that of a married man is where his wife resides, or if he be permanently separated from his wife, his residence is where he sleeps at night."

Nowhere in the election code is the term "homestead" mentioned or used.

This, Gordon said, means that a man cannot designate an area inside city limits as his homestead, then reside outside the city limits and be considered a qualified voter in a city election. He must vote where he resides.

The code further provides that if a voter moves from one ward or precinct to another, he must have his poll tax receipt changed not less than four days prior to an election.

Frank Culbertson, chairman of the group supporting the charter change, this morning flung a challenge against Carter of the opposition camp who spoke on the radio last night in support of retaining the ward system.

"Mr. Carter claims that the ballot box was stuffed in a certain election and we can prove it, yet he failed to extend his charge and name any specific election, or time. I would like him to tell us which election, who stuffed the ballot box and to offer his proof."

The charter change election, Oct. 4, if passed, would abolish the ward system of electing city commissioners, stagger commissioners' terms, and provide for filling of commission vacancies by the commission instead of calling of a special election.

It is a special election. Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. The four polls are located at City Hall, Ward 1; Woodrow Wilson School, Ward 2; Baker School, Ward 3; I.O.O.F. Hall, 210 W. Brown, Ward 4.
