Plane

after the crash, bogging rescue vehicles in wet ground and delaying recovery of bodies, but the weather cleared shortly after noon. All that remained at the scene was the wreckage strewn over the open, flat country where the plane hit. It was hours before Maj. P. N. Wassum, wing adjutant at this Central Washington Air base, finally fixed the death toll at 83 in a report to the Pentagon. Earlier, official figures had varied from 83 to 101.

The giant four-engine plane, big as a five-room house and able to carry 200 combat troops, roared off a Larson Air Force Base runway at 12:30 p.m., Pacific Standard Time (8:20 a.m. CST). It was snowing lightly, with visibility two miles.

"The plane shook a bit, righted itself, then went in to a glide," said Airman 3c Raymond K. Ferguson of Batesville, Ark., a survivor.

"I knew we were going to crash, so I huddled, my head down and prayed."
Gasoline from broken wing tanks flared instantly, searing those trapped in wreckage. An hour after the plane smashed into a flat field east of the runway, there was left only a steaming, smoldering wreckage and the broken belongings of the passengers.

The tragedy not only exceeded the Wales toll but capped a disastrous six weeks for military aviation in which 10 planes crashed or disappeared along the North Pacific rim from Korea to Montana. Of the crew of 10, only one survived. He was M. Sgt. Wendell L. Burton of the 7th Troop Carrier Squadron. Officials said he would be questioned later. The Air Force said five of the survivors suffered only minor injuries—but they were not specified by name immediately.

Capt. Richard Rager of Larson said most of the men were from the South and East. He said the Globemaster was flying first to Kelly Air Force Base at San Antonio, then to Stewart Airbase, Tennessee, and to make at least one other stop, at Greenville, S. C. Most of the men, the Air Force said, were from the Larson base.

At the wreck scene there was confusion, terror—and heroism. S. Sgt. Charles E. Welker of Clarksville, Tenn., a survivor, said "We all tried to help the fellows inside."

Welker, seated near the tail of the $1,800,000 transport, said: "The first I knew anything was wrong, the plane started waving up and then back down. Then it passed out for a minute. Then ing fatal swelling is an ever-present threat.

2. Cerebral Anoxemia. This could result from a lack of oxygen in the brain and cause destruction of brain tissue.
3. Spinal meningitis resulting from infection of spinal fluids seeping from their brains.

The University of Illinois Medical Center said the condition of the twins has not changed in the last 24 hours with Rodney "critical" and Roger "very precarious."

Rodney is the stronger and better faring twin because he has a normal sagittal sinus vein in his head. In the final stages of the separation operation, surgeons discovered there was a single such blood vessel serving both twins. They gave the vein to Rodney because he showed the best indications of survival during the surgery.

The sagittal sinus returns to the heart blood pumped to the brain through the arteries. Small collateral veins in Roger's head have taken over part of this function. The twins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brodie—parents of four other children—maintained their exhausting vigil at the medical center. They are staying in the Pediatrics ward of the Illinois Neuropsychiatric Institute with the twins.

Only Army Quads Arrive Tuesday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The only quadruplets ever drafted to the Army—the Perricone boys of Beaumont, Tex.—are among 2,856 GI combat veterans from Korea expected here Tuesday aboard the USNS transport General W. F. Hase, the Army announced.

Known as the A-B-C-D quads, Anthony, Bernard, Carl and Paul Perricone went to Korea last May. They served with the 3rd Tank Battalion, 7th Infantry Division.

Sgt. Carl was the first of the Perricones to be assigned to the tank outfit. The others, all corporals now, volunteered to join him.

The Army said it hoped to speed the return processing of the newly arriving veterans at Camp Stoneman so they all may be on their way to inland centers by Christmas Eve. Most of them will move by air.

Shamrock Couple Provide Own Part Of Panhandle Cit'y's Yule Spirit

By FLOY HARLAN HUGG

About the middle of December the lights go on in the home of Bill and Maggie Porter which stands just north of the business center of Shamrock. Not only does the house wake up for the yuletide season but overnight a pine forest springs up covering the wide expanse of the front lawn of the Porters home which faces Main Street.

The people at Shamrock look forward to the Porters' arrival from the New Mexico mountains with hundreds of Christmas trees which they set out on the lawn so that the trees may spread their limbs as they did on the mountain side. This Christmas tree display has been an annual event for many years.

Now Porter isn't the only Christmas tree dealer in town. But he is the only one who goes to the mountains himself and selects them. The trees are not just in bundles and shipped but placed on his big trucks, carefully as if each tree had grown in God's forest destined for some particular locale.

These particular trees are cut at an altitude of some 9,000 feet in the New Mexico mountains near the remote little town of Chisno. For many years Porter has returned to this mountain valley for his Christmas trees with the exception of two or three years when there had been little rain and the trees would not be up to the standard he desired. At these times he would go farther from his home to the NM home of the famous "Big Bend" area.

The colder the weather the better, Porter says. "I have mine cut Nov. 30 and the temperature then ranges," he says, "from ten degrees above zero to ten below."

His first trip up in the Chisno county brought him into contact with an elderly, well-to-do Spanish-American who with his wife lived on land secured by his father from an old Spanish grant. The big estate home with walls 24 inches thick, in which they live was built by generations some four generations back.

Their place is "Christmas Tree Land" for Bill Porter, who says, "The people of this old Spanish community, apparently so seduced in this high mountain valley, are very proud. They are all well educated," he adds, "have fine cattle and horses and drive the best make of cars."

"Driving a truck up in these mountains, selecting trees and securing cutters and men with teams to carry the trees to the truck, in below zero weather isn't all a story book tale," Porter says.

"Two years ago I arrived at Chisno about six o'clock in the evening, tired and hungry enough to eat a stewed coyote, only to find everything closed. This was Friday," he said, "and I went to bed without supper."

"Saturday, taking the truck as far up the mountain as I could go with it, I walked on with the men to pick out trees which were then cut and hauled with teams down to the truck. I planned to have them loaded next morning."

Porter explained trees were being thinned out fast and the men have to go farther and farther up the mountains. "As a result," he says, "they are beginning to take many trees that are onesided."

The next morning was Sunday but he had planned to have his trees loaded so he could get the truck out on the road, but the residents had all gone to Mass and breakfast was out of the question.

In the afternoon the truck was loaded and he started down the sloping, icy, mountain road when, without warning, his truck turned over on its side, spilling hundreds of Christmas trees. Four horses and a group of tree-cutters were required to get the truck back on its wheels, reload and get onto level ground; but Bill had missed his luncheon as well as his breakfast and he drove 10 miles to Santa Rosa before eating.

Some way the Porters don't count these things hardships. The work, naturally done for a profit, still has the spirit of adventure for them.

Probably at this season Bill and Maggie get their greatest pleasure in watching the sparkling eyes of children as they help their parents select their particular tree in the little, fragrant pine forest planted and watered in the Porter front yard.

Often a child with wistful eyes and empty hands will wander, half hidden, among the Christmas trees but he isn't likely to escape the kindly eyes of the Porters who know what a Christmas tree means to a child.

Four Loads Of Emergency Hay Are Unloaded In Pampa

Four more carloads of government emergency hay have been unloaded in Pampa during the week going to 10 drought-area farmers. The cars included one mixed and three grass loads.

Due to a lack of funds the number of hay loads scheduled to be sent to this area have been curtailed. And the State Production and Marketing Association, College Station, has announced the 27 orders turned in after Nov. 7 probably will not be filled. But approximately 137 applications filed prior to that date will, according to releases from the state office, receive some of the hay.

Evelyn Mason, PMA executive secretary in Pampa said today that no further orders are being taken.

ON BRIDGE • JACOBY Let An Expert End A Defense Query

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Please settle a defensive problem for us" requests a Tulsa correspondent. "I played the West hand in the accompanying diagram, and found myself neatly hornswoggled."

"I opened the jack of hearts and South won the trick with the king of hearts. He led a low trump to dummy's ace and returned a trump to the king. Then he led the jack of spades from his hand. I thought that South intended to let the jack of spades ride der to discard queen of spades. This put my ace of spades to sleep and declarer was able to concede a trick to the ace of clubs and make his slam contract.

"Was there any way for me to know what was being done to me? Isn't it the duty to take a finesse if that finesse is going to lose? How could I tell that the lead of the jack of spades was not a true attempt at a finesse?"

It is usually wise to let declarer take a finesse that you know will fail. If declarer is tricky, however, you must guard against a "phony" finesse.

In this case, West should uncover the deception without any difficulty. This is done by the simple method of counting declarer's tricks.

As soon as the first trick has been played, West can see that declarer has three tricks whenever he wants to take them. South should also have at least six jump tricks since he has made a jump rebid in his suit. If South has the ace of clubs, he will have three club tricks and will therefore have a total of at least twelve tricks.

In other words, West can see that the contract cannot be defeated if South has the ace of spades. It is unlikely that the opponents have defeated this slam, however, you must guard against a bid a slam when they are missing two aces.

The point is, however, that there is no other chance to defeat the contract and that West must accept the only chance that is offered.

Hence when South leads the jack of spades West must put up the ace of spades at once and lead a club. This defense defeats the slam contract.

As a finesse, I therefore played a low spade without the slightest hesitation.

"Actually there was no finesse in spades. South won the trick with the jack of spades and then cashed dummy's top hearts in or-

Health Commission Offers Compromise Medical Plan

By FRANK E. CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman's Commission on the Health Needs of the Nation has come up with a middle-ground proposal for solving one of the country's hottest issues—how to pay the doctor's bill.

The commission has proposed 1½ billion dollar annual outlay of federal and state funds to bolster voluntary insurance plans covering the costs of hospital and medical care for all the nation's people lacking full ability to pay. The program would be administered chiefly by the states, which would match federal money dollar-for-dollar.

Compulsory Insurance
It differs both from a plan unsuccessfully espoused by President Truman and a rival proposal of the American Medical Association.

In Chicago, the president of the AMA termed one aspect of the report "compulsory health insurance."

Dr. Louis H. Bauer of Hempstead, N.Y., said a major recommendation in the report provides that "the federal government through payroll deductions, would pay directly for the medical care of a large segment of the population. This is compulsory health insurance."

The AMA said it would withhold comment on the full report pending "careful study" by a four-man committee.

resident Truman, since 1945, has vainly pluggd for a federal system of prepaid sickness insurance for wage-earning Americans and their families — to be financed by a compulsory tax on employees and employers along the lines of the social security system.

Seeks Voluntary Plan
The AMA has termed Truman's proposal "socialized medicine" and has campaigned for the extension of "voluntary" insurance plans—that is, plans which a person can purchase if he wishes. The AMA, however, has never taken a stand as to whether it favored federal subsidy of such plans.

The commission appointed in November of 1951 to assess the nation's health needs, and to make recommendations as it saw fit, collected some two million words of testimony from experts in various fields during hearings held in Washington—and close to another million words in hearings throughout the country.

One of its main findings was that "despite superior medical service and low death rates, Americans are not enjoying as good health as might be expected in this country."

One prime reason, the commission said, was that people in low-income groups can't afford adequate medical care—even on present prepayment plans.

The commission, whose formation was termed by the AMA a "political expediency"—and was more vehemently criticized by individual leaders of the AMA—also called for:

1. The training of more doctors, nurses and other health personnel.
2. Construction of more hospitals.
3. Increased medical research.
4. Support of industrial health and of migratory workers.

The commission estimated there may be a shortage of anywhere from 22,000 to 45,000 doctors by 1960, depending upon the success of proposed methods of organization on a "group" basis in the meantime unless more doctors are trained.

A spokesman for the commission told a reporter that with the exception of 100 million dollars for medical research and still another 20 million dollars for federal aid in organizing medical services on a regional basis all other funds would be on a matching basis with the states.

That is, the separate states would be expected to ante up a sum equalizing the amount placed in the kitty by the federal government—but with federal states paying more than poorer ones.

On the prepayment of medical care, the commission proposed that direct handling of the plan would be on a local basis, with federal aid money being filtered down through the states, but with the federal government checking up on the qualifications of proposed plans through a new governmental department of health and security.

This department would carry Cabinet status.

The commission also proposed that a federal health commission be set up permanently to study national health problems on a continuing basis.

A three-member minority of the 15-member commission entered a dissenting opinion with respect to the majority's recommendations for financing health services on a prepaid basis.

This minority group, which includes Walter Reuther, president of the CIO, criticized leaving participation in the proposed health insurance program "to the option of each state."

Discrimination
The minority group declared that any such legislation "would discriminate against those persons whose states chose for any reason not to participate."

The group recommended that participation of each state be assured by federal statute rather than on the voluntary basis recommended by the majority of the commission—or that the federal government take full care of the plan in states not participating.

Failing either of these, said the group, the compulsory tax plan espoused by Truman should be adopted.

The commission was headed by Dr. Paul Magnusson of Chicago and included seven doctors from university staffs, representatives of hospitals and nurses, consumers organizations, farmers, labor and the public.

Single Icy Stretch Of Highway Causes Accidents For Two

Two one-car accidents on the same icy stretch of road have been reported 40 yards and 30 minutes apart.

George R. Munoz, 23, of Tulla, was driving west on U. S. 90, 7.5 miles west of Pampa, about 0:30 a.m. Friday, according to highway patrol, when his vehicle hit an icy spot on the culvert, skidded sideways onto the south shoulder and ended up on its top.

Neither Munoz nor his three passengers was injured, patrolmen said, but estimated damages are $500.

HOME FROM GERMANY — Airman 2e Jimmie Martin, United States Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Martin, southeast of Pampa, is home for the holidays on a 30-day furlough. Overseas for the past 17 months, Martin arrived by plane in Amarillo Tuesday from Erding (Germany) Air Base. Martin, 21, has been in the service for two years of a four-year hitch. A 1939 graduate of Pampa High School, he worked for a local surveying concern before entering the service. He is scheduled to return to duty Jan. 15.

Orvil L. Stokes, 33, of Pampa, came along half an hour later, patrolmen continued, towing another car when he, too, hit a slick spot on the road with the towed vehicle whipping from side to side.

Both vehicles ended up off the pavement — the towed overturned and headed north and the lower rightside up and facing east.

Again, there were no injuries. Damages to the towed vehicle were considered "slight."

No citations were issued as a cause of both accidents was attributed to the condition of the road.

The University of Mississippi's 1952 football roster includes 11 freshmen.

American Women May Lose In The New 'Madame Butterfly'

By NANCY LOWE GRAY

ITAMI, Japan (AP) — The tragic story of "Madame Butterfly" is being rewritten all over again. Only this time the story has a new twist and it may leave American women the unhappy losers.

World War II left about 1.2 million more women than men in Japan. Most of them found themselves confronted with the necessity of earning a livelihood. These homeless women, good girls, camp followers and prostitutes, found new economic freedom with the occupation forces. They found, too, that American men offer women equality.

Loneliness Cured

Occupation troops found the diminutive Japanese women novel. Their loneliness and boredom was quickly cured. At first fraternization was forbidden; later it became a tongue-in-the cheek regulation.

The occupation years brought about many changes. Japanese women discarded their kimonos. They cut their hair, learned to smoke and copied the fashions of American women. The only Orientalism they kept was their wisdom about men. They retained that slavish deference that makes a man feel master.

An American could stand up his Japanese date. He could take her for a walk if he was too broke to buy a steak dinner. He found an ever-smiling companion who lived only to please him.

Situation Snowballs

The men with nagging wives or girl friends back home were the first to acclaim "Madame Butterfly." At first these men were a minority. But a lack of American girls plus a big order of loneliness soon changed the picture. A few married Japanese girls; others loved them for awhile and went away like Puccini's hero.

Since the end of occupation the situation has snowballed. Pleasure strips, the landscapes outside the American garrisons remaining here. Tea rooms and beer halls have live girls as outside signs to lure servicemen as they leave a base on pass. Smiling girls in colorful evening gowns call to them as they walk by.

At most bases the strip is jokingly referred to as "the hunkered yard dash." At night the strips look like miniature Coney Islands or booming frontier towns. Laughter and tinkling honky-tonk music backdrop streets teeming with girls and military personnel.

Class B Dependents

American wives living on bases as dependents cannot help seeing the gaudy runways but the girls of the pleasure strips do not pose as great a problem as the newer menace termed "Class B dependents." These girls are supported by one serviceman and usually live adjacent to the man's base. Some live two and three years with one man. All hope that eventually their protector will marry them. For them, the big dream is to go to the United States as a wife.

The girls who lose out when a man goes home grieve for awhile but unlike "Poor Butterfly," they go on. Theirs is an endless search for a protector who perhaps will offer marriage.

Some bases in Japan today extend club courtesies to Japanese girls who are dating the military. However on large bases, where great numbers of American dependents reside, this is ruled out. American wives hold the ruling power and they refuse to share their Saturday night dances and snack bar lunches with the intruders.

Pity Both Sides

One can feel bad for both sides. The American woman cannot be blamed for frowning upon the pleasure strip girl. The Japanese girl feels the fault lies clearly in the pressure of competition.

Recently I spent an evening at a dance hall. I understand that I am the only American woman ever to visit there. The small room was crowded and dimly lighted. Gay lanterns spun on tricky devices. The band was loud and good. The girls were quiet and well dressed. They didn't drink too much or laugh too loud, dance in Boston — but all the girls were prostitutes.

The real threat to American women stems from the basic feminine make-up of all Japanese girls. The women here, whether noble, middle-class or dance hall variety, share a quiet dignity. They don't argue with their men. Their one purpose in life is to please, and from what I've seen they're doing it.

Dream For Pampa-Perryton Link Was Born 20 Years Ago

By HENRY GORDON

Convenience and closer relationships in civic and business circles between Pampa and her neighboring cities to the north and south is considered a sure thing following the eventual opening of the remainder of State Highway 70 between Pampa and Perryton, and Clarendon and Turkey.

The idea for the road first formed in the minds of Pampa residents when Pampa was still an infant community—barely 20 years of age.

For years it was discussed and the road's potentialities dreamed of before anything was actually done about the matter. This appeared before the State Highway Commission. The initial letter of the long haul was made when the commission designated the road and agreed to build it as funds became available.

Nothing concrete at that time, but it raised the hopes.

Many Delegations From that time until 1946 delegation upon delegation, making about three trips a year, appeared before the commission discussing problems of the artery and ways and means of paying for it.

Six years rolled by and in 1952, under the leadership of Jake Garman, a successful fund-raising drive was put on to build right-of-way for the road through Roberts County. Garman and his committee raised $50,000. Additional money was raised from the annual budgets of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development. The rights-of-way were purchased during the next years.

In dribbles, the road was built sprouting first north from Pampa then south from Perryton, each year since then, the State Highway Commission has appropriated funds for excavating, grading, draining, and paving portions of the 60-mile stretch between the two cities.

Near the end of this year three sectors of the road remained to be completed. First was the topping of nine miles of the highway from Chicken Creek Bridge to the south bank of the river. Second—and biggest of the three—was the bridge across the Canadian River. Third was the 10 miles immediately north of the river which needed excavating, grading and paving.

Sufficient funds for those three projects have been appropriated and work will begin as soon as engineers have finished plans and a contract is let. However, due to the treacherous bottom of the river it may be a year or more before the bridge is opened to traffic. It may take that long to build the bridge.

Direct Perryton Link But, what will all this mean to Pampa?

It means that the road will provide a direct link to Perryton cutting off 38 miles of the present route through Canadian and open the door to a direct route to Liberal, Kan., and points north, tying in with U.S. 83 at Liberal.

Of course, it shortens the trip for those coming south from Perryton and others who are bound for Austin, Texas or El Paso on the Mexican border.

The growing activity in the oil fields north and south of the Canadian River will feel the benefits too. The road will be a main artery for Pampans and Perryton people who will be operating or working in those fields, on both sides of the river.

It will bring Amarillo and Perryton closer together by about five miles. The distance is now roughly 120 miles from the Hellum City to the nation's breadbasket. When the new road finally opens, it will cut that distance to about 115 to 116 miles.

The 20-mile sector of the highway from Prairie Dog fork of the Red River, south of Clarendon, to Turkey will close the gap and open direct traffic over the highway, bringing to an end the zigzag pattern of travel needed now to go south to the border.

Originators of the road included a group of seven Gray and Roberts County men. Included in that group were Bill Fraser, Guy Levitt, John Roby, Roberts County Judge J. A. Meade, Guy McTaggart, Bert Racer and Roberts County Commissioner Scales.

Many Contributors The list of names of men who worked on making the dream come true is studded with community leaders, both in business and public service, of Gray, Roberts and Ochiltree Counties.

There was former Gray County Judge Sherman White and most of the county commissioners in office since 1942. Fred Thompson who has served as chairman of the State Highway 70 Committee during the past years; W. B. Weathered who has served as highway coordinator for the Chamber of Commerce for many years; Frank Culbertson, Bill Fraser, Henry Ellis, and DeLea Vicars, all of whom put in countless hours of work on securing the rights-of-way; County Judge Bruce Parker and County Commissioner Bill Graham who have worked in the county's interests on the road during the last four years.

Miami, too, had a score or more taking their crack at getting things done for the road. Chief among them is former Roberts County Judge J. A. Meade.

Woody Pond, also a former county judge; Woods King, Frank Russell, Paul Caylor and Willis Clark.

GAPS WILL CLOSE — Pictured above is a portion of a state map showing State Highway 70 and the two remaining gaps to be closed within the next year when the road is completed. At the top, above Pampa, the road is shown in a broken line up to the south side of the river, and no line at all between the north bank of the Canadian River to a point where it starts again and goes into Perryton. That portion is the $1,000,000 plus contract to be let in the next few months. At the bottom and running through Hall County can be seen the other blank space which will be covered by an all-weather road to finally close that gap.

Family Of 76 Daughters... Nothing Worse Than A Mean Woman, Speaker Tells Kiwanis

"There's nothing worse than a mean woman, for a woman can make a man or destroy him."

Guest speaker at the Friday meeting of the Pampa Kiwanis Club, Amelia Anthony, founder and manager of Girls Town, Whiteface, discussed how her "family of 76 daughters" operates.

Eight of the girls are from the Pampa area. All Girls Town residents—from 5 months to 18 years—are "mentally, physically and spiritually equipped" to face the world when they leave, Miss Anthony emphasized, "and can stand on their own feet."

For, she continued, the two purposes of Girls Town are to teach a girl to "be a good housewife and become a good mother."

Composed of children and youths not eligible for orphanages or adoption agencies, the social welfare executive said, Girls Town has a "depth of gratitude, a peace, unity and love not found in any average family."

"For all the girls have parents who lead undesirable lives."

"Perhaps that is the reason, Miss Anthony went on, that a sense of security is uppermost in their minds."

"They are different," she said, for at the age of 12 they are working, making clothes, caring for cattle, milking cows and raising pigs and flowers — "self-sustaining as far as is humanly possible."

Proudly, Miss Anthony emphasized that Girls Town has no political, religious or governmental control. Only requirement is that a girl "must attend a church of her choice every Sunday."

"Truly a home of democracy," she said, Girls Town is incorporated and gifts to it are tax-deductible. Kiwanians were urged by E. L. (Smiley) Henderson, outgoing president, to contribute to the institution.

Prior to the discussion on Girls Town, Mrs. Ethel Anderson, head of the county welfare board, told Kiwanians how an estimated $225 of their money had been spent during the past year on underprivileged children.

Included in items bought and donated to those in need, Mrs. Anderson said, were 32 pairs of shoes, 31 pairs of socks and 20 pairs of bluejeans.

Gretchen Johansen, speaking for herself and Burkhard Erehm, invited all Kiwanians and their wives to an open house from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday in the Nation and Massa homes.

Gretchen and Burkhard are the two German students sponsored this year in Pampa High School by the local Kiwanis Club.

Home-made German cookies will be featured at the get-together, Gretchen said.

HOME FOR HOLIDAYS — Pfc. Vernon E. Maddox, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Maddox, 501 N. Carr, is home for the Christmas holidays. In the service for the past 20 months, Maddox is connected with the Eastern Anti-Aircraft Command, Ft. Sheridan, Ill. Prior to entering the service, he was graduated from Pampa High School in 1932 and was employed by Central Tire Works.

Porcelain Prized

VIKING, Canada (AP) — Kurt Loeschner estimates the unique coins he smuggled out of East Germany when he came here a year ago are worth perhaps $6,000. They are porcelain coins made in Germany in 1921 but found then to be too fragile for general use.

IT'S YOUR DEAL Shuffle Query Easily Solved

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD
Written for NEA Service

"As a faithful reader of your column," writes a New York games fan, "I am writing to ask you to settle an argument about the right to shuffle."

"Two players, A and B, are playing Gin Rummy. A the winner, is consistently dealing and in the opinion of B the loser is not shuffling sufficiently."

"A maintains that all B can do is to cut the cards. B maintains that anybody has a right to shuffle for any reason at all."

"Who is right? A, who insists that the dealer is the only one to shuffle — or B, who insists that any one can shuffle?"

B is perfectly correct. It is a general rule of all card games that any player has the right to shuffle, and that the dealer has the last right.

It is easy to see how this sort of disagreement might arise between perfectly good friends. One player, who happens to be a careless or unskillful shuffler, lets on a winning streak.

The other player thinks that the streak may be broken by a more careful shuffle and therefore asks for the right to shuffle the cards before the deal. At this, the winner becomes indignant because he is not being given credit for his skill.

All of this may be very human and very understandable, but the rule still stands. The dealer's opponent has the right to shuffle the cards, and this right should be accepted cheerfully.

Incidentally, you might wonder whether the shuffle has anything to do with a winning streak. It could have an important effect.

For example, suppose that you happened to play a wide open style of game against a rather cautious opponent. You would tend to make more discards of "fresh" cards than your opponent.

This would be risky with a careless shuffle, because the cards would tend to stay together and your fresh discard would have a better chance of "hitting" your opponent.

Whatever merit there may be in this argument, the basic fact remains that any player in a card game has the right to shuffle. It doesn't pay to use this right in such a way as to delay the game or make a nuisance of yourself, but where one player shuffles carelessly he should certainly allow the other player to shuffle also.

Irish Conduct Hospital Drive

SHAMROCK (Special) — Because it is lacking many necessities, a drive has been started for the city-owned Shamrock General Hospital. The project is under the chairmanship of Rev. W. B. Gilliam, a retired Methodist minister. Rev. Gilliam seeks to completely refurbish some 20 rooms.

Mrs. Mary Pace is acting as treasurer and Mrs. Hubert Tindall is chairman of the Civic Improvements Committee. Refurbishing of three rooms complete has been promised by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Berton of Berton Drug. The Shamrock Booster Club and the Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist Church. Other organizations such as the Federated Clubs, Lions and Rotary clubs, Oddfellow and Rebekah lodges and the Chamber of Commerce headed by Pat Ryan have all promised help as well as smaller gifts from classes and individuals.

Beef Price Study Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Who is profiting from the prices the housewife pays for meat these days? Rep. Burdick (R-ND) thinks he knows, but he says he will ask the House Agriculture Committee to make a formal investigation of the continued high prices in the face of lower amounts paid to cattle raisers.

"The fellow making the money is not the butcher shop owner," Burdick said. "It is the packer and the slaughterer who is licensed by the OPS." "The slaughterer is selling beef at the ceilings set on by the OPS months ago although the price he pays to the beef producer has gone way down. In addition, the OPS limits the number of licenses it issues to slaughterers."

As a rancher, Burdick said, "I know what I am talking about." He raises beef cattle at Williston, N.D.

Burdick said he has "some of the best beef in the world" in his herd but that he is "lucky" to sell it today at 20 cents a pound live weight.

"That would dress out at about 28 cents a pound," he continued.

"But if I go into the butcher shop in Williston I have to pay 49 cents a pound for the cheapest boiling meat in the shop and up to 95 cents a pound for steak."

White Deer School Paper Honor Winner

WHITE DEER (Special) — The Buck's Tale, White Deer School semi-monthly publication, won first place at the annual Texas High School Press Association Convention held recently at North Texas State College, Denton.

The paper has been a member of the THSPA for three years. During that time, it has received the All-Texas rating.

Auto Race Ban Sought Overseas

BASEL, Switzerland (AP) — Automobile races are directly responsible for the increase in fatal road accidents in Switzerland, according to Dr. Carl Haffter, head of the psychiatric clinic of the University of Basel.

In a full-page article in the newspaper Basler Nachrichten, Dr. Haffter declared that the annual Grand Prix of Switzerland at Bern gave a psychological encouragement to wild driving and should be banned. The races are watched every year by some 60,000 spectators. Since they were resumed in 1947, 30 persons have been killed and more than 30 seriously hurt in track accidents. Dr. Haffter's article suggested that automobile drivers among the spectators developed both an urge for excessive speed and a callous disregard for human life through watching the races.

Pampa Oilers To Remain Here For 1953 Season

Pampa baseball fans were cheered today when it was announced that the Pampa Oiler franchise will remain here for at least one more year.

This fact was revealed yesterday when owner Doug Mills told the Daily News that he has decided to give Pampa fans one more chance of supporting professional baseball.

Mills, after a ticket-selling drive failed here in September to keep the Oilers in Pampa, had been dickered with Plainview for the past two months on moving the franchise to that city.

But the Plainview fans couldn't meet the goal that had been set by Mills after three deadline extensions.

Mills, in his statement to the News yesterday said "I hope I haven't made the fans here mad for attempting to move the club out of Pampa, but I did what I thought best."

"If there are any fans who subscribe for tickets in the September drive here that feels they have been mistreated, I'll gladly refund their money," Mills said.

An estimated 400 season ticket books were sold during the drive. The goal set was 1,000. It wasn't until the ticket drive here failed that Mills began seeking to move the club out of Pampa.

Mills has been operating the Oilers at a loss for the past three years, thus being the reason for seeking a buyer for the club.

Several cities contacted Mills on transferring the franchise to their city with Plainview making the most serious bid.

$20,000 Short
The Plainview fans, headed by insurance man Ernie Brock, raised only an un-official $20,000 toward the goal of $50,000. The original goal was set at $100,000 but was reduced to $80,000 when the bid for the park site came $20,000 cheaper than had been estimated.

These figures were for buying the franchise, stock and barrel from Mills.

The first deadline set at Plainview was for Dec. 1. But when the drive fell far short of the goal, Brock met Mills at the baseball convention at Phoenix the first week in December and begged Mills to extend the deadline.

The Oilers drew less than 40,000 fans last season and it takes 70,000 admissions to break even. The situation had almost been the same the previous two years. After finishing several thousand dollars in the red each year, Mills then sought to dispose of the club.

Stinnett Trips Guerillas, 67-50, In Tourney Finals

McLEAN — Stinnett overpowered the Pampa B team Guerillas in the finals of the annual McLean Invitational basketball tournament here Saturday night, 67-50.

The Guerillas had reached the finals Saturday afternoon with a 66-45 win over Alan Reed in the semi-finals. Stinnett got to the finals by disposing of host McLean, 67-36.

Claude won the girls title with a 41-33 upset win over highly regarded McLean. McLean led 16-11 at halftime but Claude fought back in the second half to catch up and win going away.

Miami won the consolation crown in the boys division while Gruver won the girls consolation. In the boys consolation title tilt, Miami defeated White Deer, 53-45. Gruver defeated Lettors 42-12 in the girls consolation title fracas.

In reaching the girls championship final, Claude won over Panhandle, 46-41 while McLean had defeated Groom, 49-41, in semi-final contests.

Harvesters Sweep Snyder Series 85-59

Bond Leads Scorers With 19 Points

Pampa's Hustling Harvesters made it seven wins in a row last night at Harvesters Fieldhouse when they racked up an easy 85-59 win over the Snyder Tigers thus sweeping the two game series with the Bengals. The Harvesters had won the opener Friday night, 98-67.

Jimmy Bond again was the leading point maker for Coach Chilton McNelly's Harvesters, hitting from the field nine times and adding a gut shot for 19 points. Bond fouled out with seven minutes left in the game.

All Harvesters starters had a good night. Fred Woods was the game's runnup point maker with 17 points on six field goals and five gratis tosses. Buddy Cockrell and Jon Oden each connected for 13 points and the fifth starter, Bill Webb, meshed nine points.

The Harvesters were never behind in last night's contest. Bond opened the scoring in the first five seconds and after the Tigers tied it at 2-2, Bond again connected for a two-pointer only to have Ned Underwood tie the score at 4-4 with a field goal for Snyder.

Bill Webb sank a free toss to send the Pampans ahead and the Harvesters pulled away to lead at the first quarter mark, 24-11. Jon Oden hitting from far beyond the free throw circle with two-hand push shots, and Bond led the first quarter surge with six points apiece.

Bond continued to show the way in the second period when he added 10 points as the Harvesters held a commanding lead at halftime, 48-23.

As was the case in the opener Friday night, reserves took over the game midway in the third quarter and except for a brief return in the early portion of the fourth quarter, the subs played out the game for the Green and Gold. The Harvesters led 64-46 at the three-quarter mark.

Ned Underwood led the visiting Snyder quint with 18 points. He was followed by Dennis Floyd with 11 points.

Snyder slowed down the scoring attack of the Harvesters throughout the fourth period when they turned to the ball-control style of play. Despite this, the Pampans got 21 points in the final eight minutes.

The Harvesters will meet Philadelphia here Tuesday night to wind up their pre-Christmas schedule. After Tuesday's tilt, the Harvesters won't see anymore action until Jan. 2 when they engage the Midland Bulldogs at Midland in their first District AAA tilt.

Assurance Of Professional Baseball In Pampa For '53 Good Christmas Gift

BASEBALL FANS OF PAMPA certainly got a fine Christmas present yesterday when it was announced that the Oilers will be playing ball again here next year.

The announcement ended a long "sweating-it-out" period for a lot of loyal fans here. For awhile they looked like Plainview might succeed in raising enough funds to buy the club.

We sincerely believe that the Oilers will get better backing next year and for the years to come. It takes money to run a professional baseball club as most fans are aware and it's up to them to put a team over.

Owner Doug Mills told us yesterday that he hopes to be one is sore at him for trying to sell the club. Well, personally, we don't see any reason why anyone would be upset over his attempt to sell the franchise.

He's operated at a loss for three years now and I, for one, believe he has overdone his loyalty in keeping the club here. Mills is a Pampa man at heart and he waited as long as he thought he possibly could before attempting to move the club out of Pampa.

Still, however, Mills is offering to refund the money any fan has invested in tickets on the ticket drive here last September if they aren't satisfied with the situation.

We doubt there'll be any who will be asking for their money back. There is one thing for certain, unless the Oilers get far better backing than they received last year, it'll mark the end of professional baseball in Pampa.

We're gonna get another chance to support professional baseball and here's hoping Pampa fans will take advantage of it.

Breck Repeats With 28-20 Win Over Temple

By WILBUR MARTIN
WACO (AP) — Bobby Keith, a high stepping Buckaroo, Saturday spurred Breckenridge from behind to a 28-20 victory over Temple and its second straight Class AAA high school football championship.

The 167-pound halfback scored two touchdowns, kicked four extra points, set up another tally with a surprise pass and broke Temple's back with a pass interception.

It was a heartbreaking defeat for Temple, heavily favored to make amends for a 20-14 loss to the Buckaroo in the title last year. The Wildcats ran up a 13-point lead—seven of them in the first 28 seconds of play—but finally couldn't cope with Keith and company — rangy linemen with sticky fingers that four times thwarted Temple's passing ace.

One of these linemen — guard Wayne Greenlee — gave Breckenridge a new lease on life in the second period when he turned a Taylor toss into a Breckenridge touchdown. From then on, the Buckaroo had a foot back in the saddle and got back on to stay when Keith climbed high to grab a Taylor pass early in the third period.

Break Takes Lead
That gave Breckenridge the ball on Temple's 48 yard line and seven plays and one penalty later the Buckaroos had the lead for keeps. Keith grabbed one of Keith Ford's passes for 29 yards then scored from the one yard line and booted the extra point that put Temple in the hole.

The clinching touchdown came just before the end of the game, Breckenridge driving 70 yards in 15 plays with Billy Dandy scoring from three yards out on fourth down.

Keith's 19 yard pass a change-over from his role as a runner—put Breckenridge on Temple's 18 yard line. The touchdown came five plays later.

The Wildcats raced up another touchdown on the first play of the second period, Taylor passing to Allen Ernst for 11 yards and the tally. Berry missed the point, but it still looked like a breeze for Temple.

Ford Connects
In just one minute and 46 seconds, Breckenridge blew its own kind of breeze — a touchdown tornado that left it out in front. Ford climaxed an 83 yard drive with a five yard scoring heave to Keith and seconds later, Greenlee grabbed one of Taylor's passes to score from the nine yard line. Keith kicked the two extra points that gave the Buckaroos a tentative lead.

Temple got back in front just before the half with the fourth touchdown of the period. Taylor hitting Ernst in the end zone again—this time from four yards out. And this time Berry added the extra point.

Taylor completed only 9 of 26 attempted passes. Two of them went for touchdowns bringing to 28 the number of failures he's lost for this year. His passes gained 101 yards. Four were intercepted.

15,000 Watch
A crowd of 15,000 sat in perfect football weather to watch a repeat performance of last year's triple A championship chase.

In the first half, it was all Temple, but at the end Breckenridge had the edge — on the scoreboard and in almost every phase of statistics too. The Buckaroos picked up 279 yards rushing. Keith got 121 of them.

Joel Honeycutt was Temple's most effective runner, gaining 60 yards on 13 carries.

Breckenridge scoring: Touchdowns, Keith 2, W. Greenlee, Dandy; Conversions, Keith 4.

Temple scoring: Touchdowns, Ernst 2, Guess.

PHS Sets New Scoring Mark In Series Start

The Harvesters cagers went on their biggest scoring rampage of the season Friday night when they took the opener of a two-game series from the Snyder Tigers at the Harvesters Fieldhouse, 98-67.

It was the second time this season that the Harvesters surpassed the 90-point mark. Their first came at the expense of Stratford in the second game of the season, 91-58.

Friday night's Harvesters output set a new scoring record for their new gymnasium. The Green and Gold got a couple of shots at the basket after reaching 98 points but the potential 100th point failed to drop through the net.

Jimmy Bond, who played only about half of the game, took scoring honors for the night with 23 points. The Harvesters center fouled out of the contest with six minutes left to play in the fourth period.

Snyder Takes Early Lead
Snyder led only once in Friday's tilt, taking a 4-3 lead on Ayer's bucket after one minute of play. Billy Webb and Bond hit successive free tosses to make it 4-4 for the Harvesters and the Pampans were never headed there after. The Harvesters extended their margin to 22-13 at the first quarter mark.

The visiting Tigers narrowed the count to five points early in the second, 22-17, but the Harvesters quickly pulled away again on a field goal and free toss by Bond and another 2-pointer by Jon Oden that boosted the Harvesters lead to 27-17.

The Harvesters went on to a 41-28 halftime lead. Bond got 15 of his points in the first half. Reserves played most of the second half and the Harvesters bench men turned in their best performance of the year. Dale Hensell was high for the Green and Gold reserves with 11 points.

Hensell was the third leading Harvesters scorer. Regular Fred Woods was runnup to Bond in the Harvesters point making with 12 points.

Floyd led the Snyder attack with 13 points.

The game was a "tough and tumble" affair with 70 personal fouls and one technical being called by officials Steve Gergin, Hack Polson, Snyder drawing 32 personals and the Harvesters 32.

PHS Best On Free Throws
The two teams took 114 shots between them from the free throw line. The Harvesters had the best percentage from the griddle line, earning 38 of 63 for a 60.3 percent. Snyder made good on 30 out of 57 for 52.6.

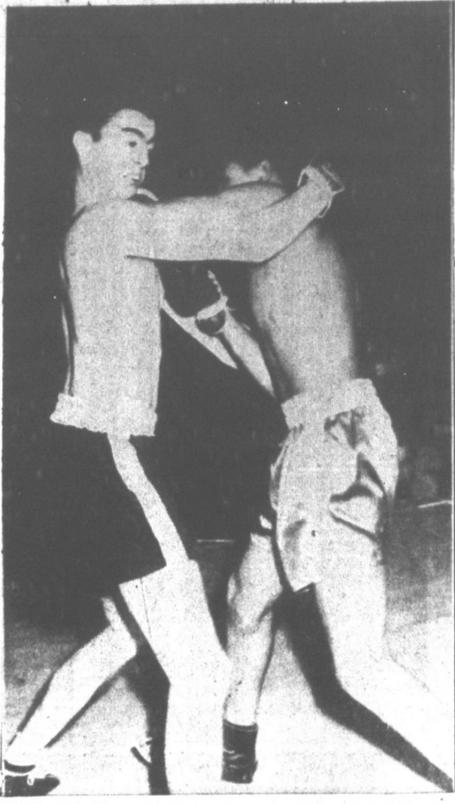

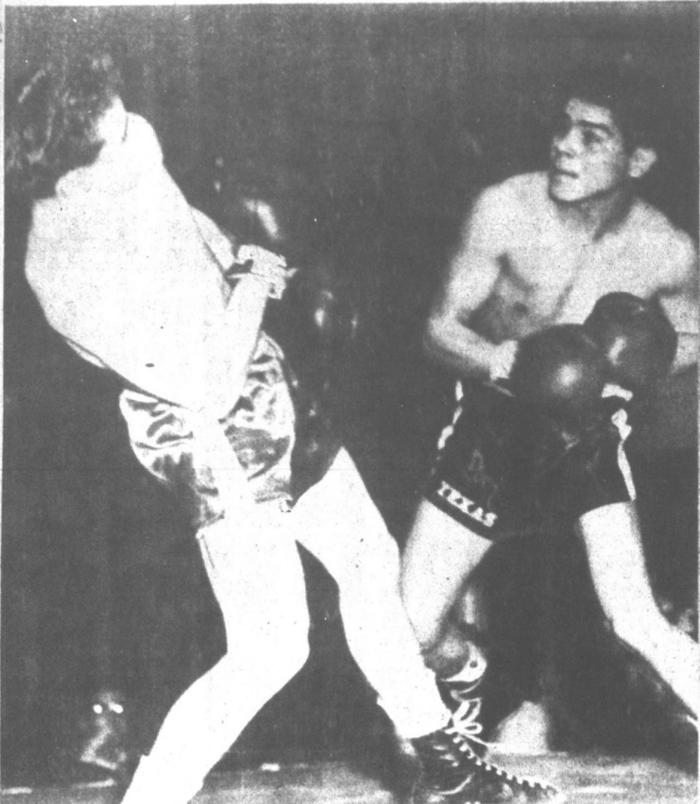

Six Snyder players fouled out of the contest, four of which came in the fourth period when the reserves were in the game for the Pampans. Bond was the lone Harvesters to use up his quota of fouls.

The regulars, after sitting out most of the third quarter, returned at the start of the fourth for the Harvesters and played only two minutes before again turning it over to the subs. The regulars scored 11 points during their brief stay in the fourth and left the floor with a 78-44 lead.

Boys Club Boxers Sweep Amarillo Matches, 6-0

The Pampa Boys Club swept all Amarillo in another close bout, both of Boys Club; and Dick Jameson got a knockdown in the first round that sent Perez down for an eight count but the Amarilloan got up and made a battle of it the rest of the way.

Four of the six Pampa wins were by decision with one knock-out and one TKO.

In the closest match of the night, Kenneth Woods of the Boys Club team defeated Joe Paredes of Borden's Manachus Club of Amarillo in a fast three-rounder. Paredes was the outstanding boxer in the regional Golden Gloves tournament at Amarillo in 1951.

Yoakum Trips Huntsville To Gain Class A Finals, 26-19

BRENNHAM (AP) — The Yoakum Bulldogs rode the trusty passing arm of Bobby Manning to a 26-19 victory over the Huntsville Hornets before 5,000 fans Friday to advance to the finals of the Class AA schoolboy football playoff.

Manning, a 170-pound quarterback, rallied his forces to roar back from a first-quarter 12-0 deficit and pitched the Bulldogs right into the title contest. The lanky sophomore completed 11 of 22 passes for 211 yards and two touchdowns while scoring one himself on a nin-yard burst.

Huntsville opened fast and got off to a quick 12-0 advantage. The Hornets tallied after their first three plays following Robert Warren's 43-yard scamper to the Yoakum four. Warren went over from the two a couple of plays later.

A few minutes after that the Hornets hit pay dirt again with Bob Payne scoring from the one to culminate a drive of 45 yards. Yoakum got its first touchdown with two minutes and 30 seconds remaining in the initial quarter, Manning going over on a sleeper from the nine to close out a 46-yard march.

Ben Warren and John Lucas led a drive that carried for 41 yards and another score.

O'Neal McCafferty kicked the extra point and Huntsville appeared safe with a 19-6 advantage.

Coach Tommie Marshall's charges didn't give up, however, and by half-time the count was knotted at 19-all. A Manning to Glenn Appelt pass covered 28 yards to score before Edwin Garcia, a defensive halfback, plucked a Huntsville pass out of the air on the Yoakum 45 and roared back to the Huntsville 25.

Four plays later, 193-pound Cleo Cooper slammed over from the three Bill Mobley's kick tied it up.

At halftime penetrations were tied at 2-3 and first downs were even at 11-11.

Huntsville dominated play in the third period but couldn't score with the stout Bulldog defense led by Cooper and Thomas Elard stopping drives on the 22 and 27 yard lines. Then, early in the final quarter, Yoakum drove 69 yards to the winning marker to Kenneth Williams for the tally. The pass was for 23 yards.

Mobley again converted.

Featured in the final drive were Cooper's 10-yard run and a 33-yard scamper by John Hamman.

Terrell Surprises Stamford To Reach AA Finals, 20-0

ABILENE (AP) — Terrell's powerful Tigers—bulwarked by an iron-clad defense—smashed into the finals of the state Class AA schoolboy football championship race Saturday by crushing Stamford, 20-0, in a battle of the undefeated.

Terrell will play Yoakum next week for the crown.

Some 7,000 fans at Fair Park Stadium saw Terrell's great defense—rather than its heralded offense—prove the difference.

Stamford was unable to penetrate beyond the Terrell 24-yard line until the last two minutes of the game, when a determined Bulldog passing and running game carried 75 yards to the one-foot line. But time ran out before Stamford could run another play.

Stamford led in statistics, but Terrell scoring: Touchdowns—Henry, Harris, T. Norton, Conversions—Norton 2.

Terrell's defense plagued the Bulldogs all afternoon. A blocked kick set up one of the Tiger touchdowns.

Only once did Terrell get its offense clicking for a sustained drive. But that march paid off with a touchdown just two minutes and 10 seconds before the half ended, with little quarterback Rupert Henry sneaking over from the two to climax the extra point and it was 7-0, Terrell, at halftime.

James Harris returned a Stamford punt 83 yards with the help of beautiful downfield blocking to lengthen Terrell's lead to 13-0 midway in the third quarter. The Tigers added a final tally five seconds before the third period ended, driving 37 yards after blocking a Stamford quick kick. North's extra point made it 20-0.

Wade Driver and Glen Raines were the backbone of Terrell's brilliant line, which held Stamford to a net of only 127 yards on the ground all day. It also kept the Bulldogs scoreless for the first time this year.

Charlie Davis, outstanding Stamford guard, and end Keith Miles barked the Bulldog line. That line held Terrell to only 125 yards rushing and 61 passing—the Tigers' poorest offensive showing this year.

Kenneth Lowe, sparking Stamford tailback, turned his ankle on the opening kickoff and was carried from the field. He returned just before half time and played most of the rest of the game, although obviously hampered by his hurt ankle.

Backfield coach Eck Curtis agrees.

Quinn Claims Cotton Bowl As 'Friendly Territory'

AUSTIN (AP) — A San Antonio high school boy who sat in the stands and saw Tennessee beat Texas, 20-14, in the 1951 Cotton Bowl game is expected to play a prominent role when the two teams clash again on same site Jan. 1.

The game will be a return to "friendly territory" for Billy Quinn, sensational sophomore halfback for the University of Texas. For it was in the Cotton Bowl against Oklahoma this year that Quinn got into the offensive unit.

Quinn got into the game after Oklahoma had built up a stunning 28-0 lead in the first quarter. From then on, Texas and Oklahoma played on even terms, both scoring three touchdowns in the final three periods although the Sooners won, 49-20.

The former Thomas Jefferson High ace picked up 61 yards in 13 carries, scored one touchdown on a plunge and caught a 19-yard pass from T. Jones for two of the Longhorns' three scores.

Quinn matched that impressive performance the remainder of the year as Texas rolled on to an undefeated Southwest Conference championship. He broke the all-time scoring record for sophomore with 13 touchdowns and took the conference scoring crown. His point production is just a shade under two touchdowns a game for the seven contests.

Quinn was the fifth leading scorer in the nation and the third leading rusher in the conference with a total of 627 yards on 131 carries for an average of 5.3 yards.

Coach Ed Price said Quinn was one of several pleasant surprises which made a successful year possible.

"The fine jobs turned in by Billy, Buck Lansford, Don McGraw and Phil Branch, all were tremendously important to the team."

Wink Surges To 14-7 Win Over Van

BROWNWOOD (AP) — A 45-yard touchdown run by speedy halfback Dan Villarreal in the third quarter Saturday gave the mighty mite of Texas schoolboy football — Wink — a 14-7 victory over Van and a place in the Class A championship playoff.

The Wildcats will square away next week against Deer Park in the finals.

With four minutes and four seconds left in the third period 152-pound Villarreal got loose around right end, and, aided by distinguished blocking, went all the way to break a 7-7 tie and deliver the Wildcats into the championship contest.

Peters Scores

Van scored first. Bobby Peters, 187-pound Vandal fullback, flashed through a big hole at left tackle four minutes and 40 seconds deep in the first quarter and raced 47 yards to paydirt. Jerry Skiles kicked the extra point.

This came after Wink had marched the opening kickoff to the Van 40, only to lose the ball on downs.

Wink drove 79 yards for its first touchdown in the second period after Van had quick-kicked to the Wink 2. It was a ground drive, climaxed by quarterback Kenneth Vinson's four-yard sneak through left guard that just made the goal line. Dale Dodd's extra point kick made it 7-7 at the half.

It was a crucial tie, too, with penetrations to that point even at 1-1.

The Vandals got dangerous in the third, before Villarreal's game-saving scamper. Twice, early in that period, Van drove deep inside Wink's 20-yard line only to bog down on unsuccessful field goal kicks, both booted by Skiles.

The Vandals tried one field goal from the 18 and another on the 14 to no avail.

Then Wink took over on its 20 and started the drive climaxed by Villarreal's 45-yard touchdown run. Dodd's kick was again good. A 33-yard pass, Vinson to Villarreal, sparked the march.

Fumbles Costly

Three fumbles in the last half—two in the third period and another in the fourth—proved costly to Van.

The victory was sweet for Wink which last year lost to Newcastle, 33-26, in the state semifinals.

Between 3,500 and 4,000 spectators watched the game in perfect weather. The field was a little slow from .75 inch of rain Thursday night.

WINK	0	7	7	0-14
VAN	7	0	0	0-7

Wink scoring: Touchdowns, Vinson, Villarreal; Conversions: Dodd 2.

Van scoring: Touchdowns, Peters; Conversions: Skiles.

USC, Texas, Georgia Tech Early Major Bowl Favorites

NEW YORK (AP) — Southern California is a seven-point favorite to break the Big Ten's six-year stranglehold and bring the Trojans their ninth Rose Bowl football victory at Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 1.

Favorite odds on the post-season figure showed today the experts figure Troy's iron-crusted defense, fourth best in the nation, good enough to stop a sharp Badger attack.

Alabama, Georgia Tech, Florida and Texas are other favorites to win their assignments New Year's Day, although Texas' encounter with Tennessee is rated close to a toss-up.

Texas By One Point
Here are the early odds:
Rose Bowl — Southern California 7 over Wisconsin.
Sugar Bowl — Georgia Tech 7 over Mississippi.
Cotton Bowl — Texas 1 over Tennessee.
Orange Bowl — Alabama 15 over Syracuse.
Gator Bowl — Florida 7 over Tulsa.
The Pacific Coast hasn't been able to subdue a representative of the Big Ten since the present inter-conference series was begun in 1947.

The post-season football show this year will have the largest viewing audience in history, with the four major conflicts all on national television networks.

Rose Bowl At 4 p.m.
The Rose Bowl game, at which a crowd of 105,000 is anticipated will be broadcast and televised by NBC starting at 4 p.m. CST. The time differential on the West Coast gives the parlor fans a chance of tuning a choice of the other battles before the Rose Bowl takes the air.

The Sugar Bowl tilt at New Orleans, starting at 1 p.m. CST will be broadcast and telecast by ABC. The Cotton Bowl at Dallas will be presented by NBC and the Orange Bowl at Miami by CBS. Both also start at 1 p.m.

The holiday schedule, beginning with the North-South game at Miami Christmas night, will lure some 500,000 spectators into the stands. The Rose Bowl's 105,000 is tops, followed by New Orleans 82,000, Dallas' 75,000, Miami's 64, 000 and Jacksonville's 37,000.

The North-South game presents all-star teams of seniors from above and below the Mason-Dixon line in an arc battle starting at 7:15 p.m. A crowd of 45,000 is expected with no radio or TV.

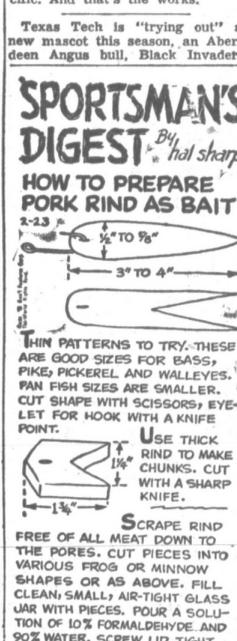

The East-West Shrine game at San Francisco, with a crowd of 62,000 expected, and the Blue-Gray contest at Montgomery, Ala., anticipating 22,000 are Dec. 27 presentations. Also on card that day is the Shrimp Bowl game at Galveston between Sam Houston State and Northeast Oklahoma State.

The program ends with the Senior Bowl game at Mobile, Ala., Jan. 3, involving picked senior squads.

The bowl schedule has been sharply reduced by the collegiate rule requiring sanction, The Salad Bowl at Phoenix pits San Diego Naval Training Center and the 101st Airborne Division, The Tangerine Bowl, Orlando, Fla., sends East Texas State against Tennessee Tech. The Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., matches Mississippi Southern and College of the Pacific. And that's the works.

FULL STEAM AHEAD—College basketball picks up momentum as testing gets into rugged schedules. Among the nation's stick-outs are Tom Ward, left, veteran Wisconsin guard, and Capt. Jim Van Scoyoc, who plays plenty of guard for high-rolling Navy. (NEA)

T. JONES
Texas Quarterback

Jones, After 2 Years At Second String QB, Led UT To Title

AUSTIN (AP) — Praise being heaped on the University of Texas for its climb back among the nation's top 10 football teams might have a different tune if it hadn't been for a quarterback who didn't mind playing second fiddle.

Keynoting the comeback of Texas from defeats by Notre Dame and Oklahoma to the Southwest Conference championship and host spot in the Cotton Bowl against Tennessee was James Carroll (T) Jones, who had to stage a rally of his own.

Three years ago Jones ran second best in his bid for the starting quarterback spot at Texas. Last year it was the same. And on the basis of spring training this year, it looked as if it might be three misses for Jones.

Before T's return to the university this fall, his father, Walter Jones, said: "I don't care if you're first or second team quarterback. All I ask is this—if you are second string, you be the best second string quarterback in the conference."

Named All-SWC
But Jones was named All-Conference quarterback and was the league's total offensive leader and best passer with 63 completions in 132 attempts for 1,108 yards and seven touchdowns.

In the last game of the year Jones and Ray Graves of Texas A&M were in hot contention for passing and total offense honors. However, Jones tried only five passes in the entire game. He later said, "I found out we could run well so why risk throwing the ball away?"

Texas backfield Coach Eck Curtis said, "It's as good as having a coach on the field—and sometimes better."

Jones disregarded Curtis' advice in the Texas Christian game and went on to win.

A TCU scout picked up a tip-off by Jones in previous games. If Jones looked in one direction, the play usually went the other way.

Texas dropped behind TCU, 7-0. At halftime, Jones told Coach Curtis "Somebody—and it may be me—is pointing those plays I'm going to cross them up this time."

Curtis advised against any changes. "We had been moving all right but had been stopped twice by our own fumbles. I was afraid of the reaction we might get by changing. T did it himself," he revealed.

Jones noticed the TCU line-backer would call to one of his ends whenever Jones turned his head. The second half, the Texas quarterback looked straight ahead and had his suspicions confirmed when the line-backer became silent.

So Jones crossed them up—and Texas won, 14-7.

Jones is one of four football playing brothers. One brother, Wallace Jr., died from an infection resulting from a football injury. Max played at Southern Methodist and Charley plays for Baylor.

After Easter, T and Marge Hargrove, university cheer leader, plan to be married.

Weather Halls Soccer Title Tilt Again

The weather man struck another low blow at the P.H.S. intramural soccer program Thursday night by delivering a cold package of freezing rain that prevented the championship game from being played as scheduled. A new date has not been set for the tilt, but it will probably be played at the earliest opportunity following the Christmas holidays.

Intramural basketball, which is in the process of replacing the soccer season after several delays, is set to begin the latter part of February with practice games planned for the three weeks previous to the beginning of official competition.

Two changes have been made to the roster of Teams Six and Three of the seven team league. Rex Fenton replaced Tommy Foley on Team Six and Jimmy Bond (no relation to the high scoring Harvester hoop man) took the position vacated by Donald Fry of Team Three. Several more changes will be necessary at mid-term because of the graduation of some of the boys.

Allen Holtman, 6th period assistant in the P.E. office, has undertaken the tremendous task of tabulating the facts and figures resulting from the Physical Fitness Testing Program conducted at P.H.S. early in the 1st semester. Holtman will compile the average and median scores on the tests so that they may be compared with the score that will be made on the second set of tests planned for late in the spring.

Comparison of the two figures should to some extent, reveal the effectiveness of the P. E. program, at least in so far as physical fitness is concerned. The best Athletic Quotients, or physical fitness testing scores, for the 1st test are held by Jack Gillpatrick and J. T. Lamberson of the 4th period class with 107.10 and 97.26 points respectively. The boys in the P. E. Dept. are anxious to break old records and to establish new ones in the 2nd test.

Rams, Lions Clash In Title Tilt Today

DETROIT (AP) — Deacon Dan Towler, a battering 231-pound back studying for the ministry, hopes to lead the Los Angeles Rams to their fourth straight divisional title in pro football today.

But the Detroit Lions—who haven't touched a title of any kind in 17 years—stand as three-point favorites locally to spoil the Rams' bid.

Television fans will watch the two highest scoring teams in pro football smash at each other. And 50,000 fans will jam into Briggs Stadium, which will be 10 degrees colder than your refrigerator.

Rarely have two teams looked so bad early in the season and gone on to collide in a post-season play-off to determine the National Conference champion.

The Rams lost three of their first four games and the Lions dropped two of the first three. But they each finished with 9-3 marks.

The screaming, partisan fans want the Lions to win, of course, and move on to Cleveland for the National Football League championship game.

The NFL title contest will be played a week from today in Cleveland's Lakeland Stadium. The Cleveland Browns will represent the American Conference—something they've done all of the three years they've been in the NFL.

Houston Gets '53 Coaching School

FORT WORTH (AP) — Houston was selected today as the site for the 1953 Texas Coaching School and Johnny Vaught, coach of the Sugar Bowl Mississippi Rebels, was selected Saturday as the site ball instructor.

The board of directors of the Texas High School Coaches Association picked Houston in winding up their winter meeting. The coaching school going to Houston for the third time, will be Aug. 3-7 with the all-star basketball game on Aug. 6 and the all-star football game Aug. 7. Houston held the coaching school in 1939 and 1940.

Vaught, who uses the split T, will coach the South all-star football squad at the coaching school. The other football instructor, a single wing man, will be selected in January.

Basketball instructors will be picked in March.

Musial Outstanding Hitter For 1952

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Musial in the charmed .300 circle were Alvin Dark, New York, Dee Fondy, Chicago, and Enos Slaughter, St. Louis. They just made it. Pittsburgh's R. P. Kiner, despite a disappointing season, established a new National League record by coming out on top in home runs for the seventh straight year.

He tied Hank Sauer, Chicago, the league's most valuable player, with 37 circuit wallop apiece. Sauer also took runs batted in honors with 121.

Reese Best Thief
Bobby Thomson of the New York Giants was high in three-base hits with 14.

Cincinnati's Bobby Adams went to bat most often, 637 times, and came up with the most singles, 145.

The stolen base title went to Brooklyn's Pee Wee Reese. The veteran shortstop pilfered 20 sacks. Philadelphia's Granny Hamner, with 17 sacrifices, was the pacesetter in that department.

The Cardinals batted highest as a team, .267 but Brooklyn hit the most homers, 153.

Baumholtz Second
Runner-up to Musial in batting was Frankie Baumholtz, Chicago, with .325. Next came Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati, .320; Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, .308; and Red Schoendienst, St. Louis, and Duke Snider, Brooklyn, each with .303. The only other players to finish

Indians' Doby, Rosen Top American League Sluggers

NEW YORK (AP) — How come the Cleveland Indians failed to win the 1952 American League pennant?

That question becomes even more difficult to answer today with release of the official American League slugging and runs batted in statistics which show that Larry Doby, the Indian's outfielder, took slugging laurels and Al Rosen, the Tribe's third baseman, the runs batted in title.

Doby, who also won the home run down with 32, topped the sluggers with a .341 mark while Rosen drove in 105 runs.

In addition, Rosen, at .524, was third in the slugging derby behind runner-up Mickey Mantle of New York, who finished with .530. First baseman Luke Easter, also Cleveland, was fourth with a .513 slugging mark.

Rosen just managed to edge out Doby and Chicago's Eddie Robinson in the runs batted in race. Both Doby and Robinson knocked in 104 tallies. Gus Zernial of Philadelphia had an even 100 RBI's, the only other American League runner to reach that figure.

Too, the Indians as a team batted in the most runs, 749. Doby and Mantle, the league's top sluggers, each struck out 111 times to lead in that department.

Washington's Eddie Yost received the most bases on balls, 129. Minnie Minocho, Chicago outfielder, was hit by a pitched ball the most times, 14, while Dave Philley of Philadelphia led in grounding into double plays with 29.

Among the five major league records broken were two by the New York Yankees. The world champs hit 100 or more homers for the 29th year and won the pennant for the 19th season.

The records tied included Walt D'Poppo's 12 consecutive hits and the two no-hit games pitched by Virgil Trucks.

Waco Wins State Negro Grid Title

WACO (AP) — Moore High, Waco, defeated Solomon Coles of Corpus Christi here last night, 14-0 to win the state Class AAA Negro high school football championship.

Moore's ironclad defense was a feature of the game in which both touchdowns came on 42-yard drives. Ray Jackson crashed over from the 10 for the first TD and R. C. Walker plowed through from the 2-yard stripe for the second.

Thirty-eight thoroughbreds carrying a total value of $144,500 changed hands via the claiming route during Delaware Park's 1952 meeting.

A BIG HELLO

Home For Christmas

HOME FROM KEMPER Military school is Ernest Wilkinson to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilkinson, southeast of city. The first thing he did was "come out of the uniform" then for a session with his mother to bring them both up to date . . . with sleeves rolled up, a dog rollicking on the floor, and Christmas decorations lending a Yuletide spirit.

A BIG HELLO from his daughter, Mrs. Kay (Beverly) Fancher, brings a devilish gleam of delight to the eyes of Harold Henderson as he and Mrs. Henderson arrive to spend the holidays with their daughter and son-in-law. Beverly says "They haven't missed a year yet." Mr. and Mrs. Henderson are from Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Henderson isn't "quite used to Texas weather."

MOTHER'S COOKIES find eager appetites ready to devour them when Jim Bob and Mona Cox, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cox, 903 E. Francis, arrive home from Abilene Christian College.

MUSIC FOR GRANDMA — Grandchildren Joe, 4, Lou Ellen (playing piano), 10, and Marcella, 7, play for their grandmother, Mrs. Ellen Eastham, while she is here for the holidays. Mrs. Eastham is from San Fernando, Calif. Joe told grandmother he wants "a tent with a television set in it" next year . . . this year he's settling for guns and cowboy trappings.

KOREA WAS NEVER LIKE THIS for Jimmy Cline, Hm3, serving with the Navy attached to the Marines. The 14½ month Korean veteran is shown here with his sister, Mrs. Robert L. Edmondson, and nephew, Ronnie, 5. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Cline, 1125 Terrace.

KOREA WASN'T LIKE THIS

MUSIC FOR GRANDMA

Peg O' Pampa

DR. WALTER PURVIANCE certainly believes in that old adage "killing two birds with one stone." The story goes that sometime before Thanksgiving, the doctor went hunting with Fred Hobart down by Fred's ranch near Canadian. They were riding along when they spotted a big turkey nearby. They stopped the car and Dr. Purviance got out, raised his gun to take aim and let go with a shot that "felled the owl." As they walked closer to where the turkey had fallen, the doctor kept thinking how huge the fellow was. Well, when he got over to it he discovered that instead of shooting one turkey, he had shot two — and with one bullet! It seems the turkeys were standing side by side and the bullet passed through the neck of one into the back of the other... killing both of them! Shades of Wild Bill Hickock!

HAVE HEARD SO MUCH about the recent dessert bridge given by Kitty Veal, Mamie Maguire, and Rae Elder that Peg is going to pass on to you what she heard about the wonderful artistry of those girls. They made all their decorations... even the candles! Pink and green angels made out of pipe cleaners, crepe paper, foil, net, Christmas tree balls, and sequins were the table centerpieces. The angels even had halos... and of course who ever heard of an angel without one. The pipe cleaners formed the frame for the angels. Silver Christmas tree balls were used for the heads with sequins for the nose, eyes, and mouth. Crepe paper was used for the skirt with net over that. Aluminum foil was cut into the shape of wings and glued on the back of the heavenly figures. Glittering pink and green bells and boots were made for tallies with larger boots for the score pads. For the centerpiece at the serving table, Peg understands that Kitty made the candles using ice cream cartons dipped in paraffin melted from candles. Pine branches painted and then sprayed with pink plastic foam were placed around the candles to form a most attractive table decoration. A dark green tablecloth covered the serving table from which Christmas tree, candle, and bell cakes were served along with coffee. Well, Peg will know now what girls to ask whenever she needs decorating ideas.

AND SPEAKING OF IDEAS, here's one if you are thinking of having a snack buffet for Christmas drop-in guests. You'll want to use your own originality in preparing it, but the arrangement talked about here will give you a base from which to start. A fat, glowing candle on the traditional fruit cake lends a holiday air; decorate the cake plate with Christmas cookies and tiny peppermint sticks. Fry sandwiches made with white and brown bread (then shaped with cookie cutters) and dates stuffed with nutmeats. Mulled cider with cinnamon sticks and piping hot coffee... both will be welcomed by guests coming in from a nippy Christmas afternoon walk.

PAMPA PANORAMA: Marge Reynolds buying favors for her son's classroom Christmas party... Marilyn (Hobart) Campbell in town for her sister's (Tiny) wedding... Mrs. M. E. Cooper busy with meetings where she has been asked to tell Christmas stories and review books... Ben Gault back in town after flying in the past week from Kansas City... Major Ralph Thomas due to return to his old job as Gray County agent January 1 after being released from the Air Force this past week... Mrs. Tom (Jean) Braly buying Christmas paper and ribbon... Grace Malone looking very chic in a brown suit and brown fur stole... The Finis Lafoons in Bryan to spend holidays Ditto Mable Davis and Betty Garmen... Mrs. Tom Perkins helping out at the store... The Finis Lafoons in Bryan to spend the holidays with their son and daughter-in-law, the Charles Lafoons... Frances and Ann Hoffman on their way to the Parent Education Christmas party where Santa presented all the children of the members of the club with presents... The adorable little Christmas tree pins Polly Hepner made out of felt and brightly colored sequins... Mrs. Ralph Sidwell and Mrs. H. R. Thompson on their way to Twentieth Century Club meeting... Curtis Douglass and J. B. Conner enjoying the barbecue at the law enforcement officers' dinner.

The Sound Of carols In the air: The smell of pine Trees; sprigs of green Holly and red berries; the Brightness of the glittering Lights through the windows; the Softness of angels hair hanging from The tree; the whiteness of the fallen Snow; the bright stars shining undaunted Through the night; It's Christmas. And May each and everyone of you enjoy the blessedness in giving and the joy in receiving this day

A Very Merry, Merry Christmas To You From Peg O' Pampa

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Sillyman and Rose

MRS. JACK ROSE

Miss Donna Sillyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sillyman, 6001 N. Duncan, and Jack Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Rose, 847 S. Banks, were united in marriage in a ceremony at 6 p.m. Nov. 29 in the Presbyterian Church, Dr. Douglas Nelson, Presbyterian Church pastor, officiated.

Music for the double ring ceremony was played by Mrs. H. A. Youer. She rendered Cadman's "Loye Song" and traditional wedding marches. Miss Helen Payne sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Decorating the church were baskets of gladioli and carnations with candelabra on either side of the altar.

Maid of honor was Mrs. Walter Rupleston, Buckeye, N. M., sister of the bride. She wore a pink net dress with low bodice and pink net mitts and split carnations in her hair. Bridesmaids, Misses Donna Conley and Sue Lynn McFall, wore identical dresses of aqua net with aqua mitts and carnations in their hair.

Candlelighter was Meredith Lee Trask, Denver City. She wore pink net over taffeta with a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Leading Christmas Card Artist Says Trend Has Turned Old-Fashioned

By DOROTHY ROE Associated Press Women's Editor

Dorothy Simmons remembers Christmas at grandmother's house, the single of sleighbells in the snow, the garlands of pine and holly in the great Victorian hall, the spicy odors of mince pies and fruit cake from the old-fashioned ovens, flames leaping in the old fireplace and, best of all, the wonderland of Christmas morning, with toys and packages piled high around the glittering Christmas tree.

All of these happy memories of the childhood wonder of Christmas she puts into her Christmas cards, which sell by the millions throughout the nation.

And that may be the reason that Dorothy Simmons is considered one of the foremost greeting card artists in the world today.

The dainty sophisticated-looking little woman, with prematurely white hair and exquisite clothes, lives in an apartment in the heart of Manhattan, over looking the East River and the glittering shops of 57th Street. She was born and raised in New York City, but the Christmas holidays of her childhood were spent at her grandmother's old fashioned home in a tiny village in the Pocono Mountains. She says:

"I can close my eyes and see the sleight of horses waiting at the little station, feel again the excitement of the jingling ride through the snow, see the lights in the old house as we draw near and hear the laughter in my grandmother's voice as she welcomed her family home."

Dorothy Simmons' most popular Christmas cards are her madonnas, which seem to have a special radiance. She says:

"I always read the Bible story of the birth of Christ before I start to paint a madonna card. I remember that the madonna was very young, and that she loved her baby."

The trend in Christmas cards today is toward the old-fashioned many was in the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Rose wore a pink fallie dress with brown accessories when the couple left on a short wedding trip to New Mexico. They will make their home at 1828 Coffee.

card with real Christmas sentiment, says Dorothy. She adds: "The era of the flippant angel is out. Nowadays people seem to want cards that express the traditional feeling of Christmas. At first my cards used to be purely decorative and sophisticated. Now I try to combine old-fashioned sentiment with a modern treatment. And my cards always say 'Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.' The best-sellers, year after year, are the madonna cards, says the artist. She started painting them years ago for her personal use then did a few for friends, and found herself in business.

MRS. ROBERT EDWARD LEE BATTS, JR.

Hobart-Batts Jr. Nuptial Solemnized

In a double ring ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church at 4 p.m. Saturday Miss Minerva Hobart, 215 N. Hobart, became the bride of Lt. Robert Edward Lee Batts, Jr., Quantico, Virginia.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hobart, 215 N. Hobart and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. L. Batts, Fort Worth. Dr. Douglas Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the ceremony which was performed before an altar banked with white mums. On either side of the altar were cathedral candles and soft arrangements of green wood-wardia fern.

Mrs. H. A. Toder, organist, played "O Promise Me," "At Dawning," and the traditional wedding marches.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. R. F. Campbell Jr. Bridesmaids were Miss Onah Barwise, Fort Worth; Miss Betty Barrett, Dallas; Miss Pamela Hutchinson, Arkansas City, Kan.; and Miss Ann Sidwell, Pampa.

They were attired in dresses with emerald green net skirts and velveteen bodices with portrait necklines. They carried red carnations and holly bouquets and wore circlets of red carnations and holly in their hair.

Serving as best man was Donald Cameron, Duncan. Groomsmen were Bob Thomas, Warrar; Ware Shipman III, Terry Whitman and Chesley Rountree.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Fred Hobart, wore a gown of ivory pure silk peau de soie with a chapel train and a tiny collar and yoke of Flemish antique rose point lace. The sleeves were long and tapered at the wrists and the bodice was fastened with self-covered buttons. A veil of tiers of imported French bridal illusion fell from a cap covered with applique lace. Her bouquet was of white shattered chrysanthemums and a white orchid.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hobart chose a gray taffeta dress with dubonnet accessories and hat. Her corsage was of red roses.

A reception in the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated with her chosen colors, green and white, and set in the library. Other decorations included a profusion of candles throughout the house combined with holly and greenery.

Assisting with the reception were Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mrs. Guy Hutchinson, Mrs. John M. Gaddis, Mrs. Ben Guill, Mrs. Louis Jones, Mrs. W. D. Kelly, Mrs. Vera Davis, Mrs. E. L. Green and Mrs. Clinton Henry. Mrs. Clyde Fatheree met guests at the door and Mrs. Ruth Barrett presided at the bride's book.

For a wedding trip the couple left to visit New Orleans, and Fort Worth. They plan to be in Fort Worth for Christmas. From there they will go to Quantico where Batts is stationed.

Production Of Civilian Goods Set For An Increase In 1953

WASHINGTON (AP) — Makers of automobiles and other civilian goods have raised production goals for the second quarter of 1953, on the basis of government assurance they will have more steel than at any time since the Korean War began.

The Defense Production Administration (DPA) has authorized them to use steel up to 70 per cent of their pre-Korean rate. This is about 16 per cent more than for the third quarter of 1952, the previous high since the government began rationing scarce materials to assure adequate supplies for defense.

Aluminum producers weighed a conditional government order for a ceiling price increase of one-half cent a pound on primary aluminum pig and ingot and 4 per cent on fabricated aluminum products.

Defense Mobilizer Henry Fowler tied the proposed increase to a provision that the Big Three producers agree to certain changes in their contracts with the government of the right of the government or the companies to cancel contracts for aluminum before they run their full five years. Fowler's proposal was made in identical letters to the Aluminum Company of America, the Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. and the Reynolds Metals Company. He asked immediate replies.

The companies got a bigger increase last August, but they said it wasn't enough to meet their expansion programs and a sked Fowler for another hike.

The DPA allotments of controlled materials for the April-May-June quarter of 1953 made no change in the rate of use of copper and aluminum. The agency said these metals still are scarce. Copper use will continue at 50 per cent of pre-Korean levels and aluminum at 55 per cent.

Acting DPA Chief Ralph Trigg said the steel supply now is looking up, after being hampered by the long steel strike in the summer. Trigg said the new allotments will meet in full the demands of the Atomic Energy Construction program and defense production. Defense Department requirements will be about 10 per cent less in the second quarter than in the first quarter, because of cutbacks in output of tanks and other military vehicles.

Step Up Building
Trigg said the bigger allotments in the second quarter should permit:

Increased construction of small schools, hospitals, power and transportation facilities and public works; the highest rate of highway construction ever; an output of 9,000 freight cars a month, the highest since materials were rationed; and new housing construction at the rate of one million units a year.

Letters Swamp GOP Senators Seeking Victors' Spoils

WASHINGTON (AP) — Offices of Republican senators are being swamped with letters from job seekers eager to get on the federal payroll after 20 GOP years in the political wilderness.

The senators say they are amazed. They had not looked for such a rush in a time of generally booming business.

Many of the senators say privately they are sure most of the would-be federal employees are going to be disillusioned — not only with the limited number of job openings but also with the pay and qualifications. Mist of the letters asked about the approximately 40,000 postmasters scattered throughout the country.

One senator said his correspondents were surprised to learn these posts now are under civil service and that there is no limitation on the terms of the incumbents.

Postmasters now are named "without term." An aide to one GOP senator said he had been advised that this could be construed that the officials serve at pleasure of the President and are removable without cause if he wishes.

However, the Civil Service Commission disputes this. It contends reasons why they think many job

PAMPA NEWS, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1952 Page 21
the postmasters have full tenure until death or resignation and are removable only for cause.

Letters Filed
At the moment, job seekers' letters are going into files pending a decision as to how Republican patronage is to be handled.

One senator said no word had been received on this as yet from Eisenhower headquarters. Herbert Brownell, attorney general-designate, has been handling top-level appointments but has not asked to receive applications for routine jobs, this senator said.

Another GOP source said he understood Thomas E. Stephens of New York, chosen by Eisenhower to be his special counsel at the White House, would be in charge of patronage.

GOP senators who have been honing up on patronage give these reasons why they think many job

Federal clerical and stenographic workers in general do not make any more than do comparable employees in private business. Federal jobs at these levels are available now, as there is as much as a 35 per cent annual turnover. Living costs in Washington are so high that many persons actually would lose money in coming to the capital.

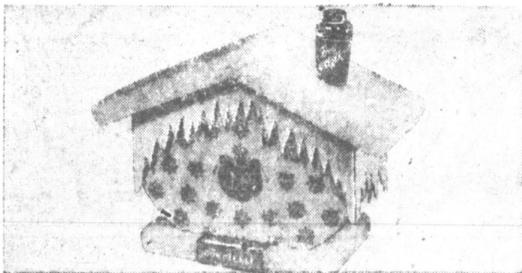

A very high percentage of the 2 1/2 million federal civilian jobs are protected by civil service or some form of merit system. . . about 95 per cent, the Civil Service Commission estimates.

The approximately 170,000 government jobs which are not under civil service are mostly small ones, and many also are technical positions for which the average job applicant cannot qualify.

Two Sides To Christmas . . . Germans Singing Different Yuletide Songs This Season

By TOM REEDY
BERLIN (AP)— In the West, the Germans are singing: "Oh little star of Bethlehem..." In the East, they are chanting: "Oh great red star over Moscow..."

It's Christmas time in Germany and like everything else in this topsy-turvy land, there are two sides to even this. There are even two "Princes of Peace."

Homage To Nazarene
 The West German, following long tradition, pays his yuletide homage to the Nazarene. The East German, dominated completely by Communist rulers, is forced to turn to a disciple of peace who wears the uniform of a marshal of the Soviet Union, Josef Stalin.

Pre-holiday preparations in two-headed Berlin illustrate the wide gulf of the two worlds. The free broke out early with the usual Christmas markets, giant posters of Santa Claus, a splurge of gifts, Christmas trees and ornaments, stepped-up church services, nightly caroling and a gay spirit of good will.

Vast Difference
 Stepping from this atmosphere into the Soviet sector of Berlin is like falling into the ice-clogged Rhine River.

In the Communist East the accent is on Stalin, "peace," "building socialism," eradicating "enemy spies and saboteurs" and resisting "the Western warmongers."

In East Berlin and throughout the East zone, city streets are full of posters and signs shrilling these messages. Communist state store windows are full of them, too. There isn't a poster of Santa Claus anywhere.

In the Western stores and factories, collections are being taken up for Christmas parties for the underprivileged. In the Soviet factories, mills and mines, workers are being urged to "exceed production" as a "gift" for Stalin's birthday Dec. 21.

Soviet zone efforts to kill the Christmas spirit by ignoring it appear to be working among the young, rabid Reds. But the older generation still hangs onto the habits and customs of the past.

Shockingly short on consumer goods, the Red regime crowns or "wasting" fir trees by adorning them with ornaments and candles. Prices in the state stores are so high the average worker is lucky if he can buy a toy for his child. For most the holiday meal will consist of sausage, potatoes, bread and beer.

In West Berlin, bent by blockade and isolation the poorest of families will have a goose, or a roast chicken, wine, fruit, nuts and liqueurs for the traditional holiday neighbor who "drops in."

The West Berlin Christmas market is loaded with luxury gifts. A pale dingy reflection is the East Berlin market which presents household furnishings, books, clothing (mostly cotton), imitation leather goods, ersatz furs and wood carvings.

The Western Allies are collecting many thousands of dollars to provide Christmas parties and gifts for the needy. The Russians take up "collections" for the Korean War.

Skellytown Pupils Give Yule Program
SKELLYTOWN (Special)— A Christmas story, "The First Noel," was presented by Skellytown grade school Thursday for the weekly PTA program.

Characters in the play were: Mary, Judy Rhodes; Joseph, Don Jones; shepherds, Orville Phillips, Frank King and A.J. Alford; Wise Men, Lloyd Marlar, John Parsons, Mickey Huffines; Angel, Claudine McCoy.

Reader was Bobby Johnson while music was by a chorus and lower grade classes.

Scenes for the program were made by Lloyd Marlar, Carrol Noble, James Kalka and Bobby Joe Willis.

Approximately 600 parents and children attended.

Frozen Gas Valve Causes Fire In McLean Buildings

McLEAN (Special)— A frozen gas pressure valve has been blamed in a fire in a McLean home and First Methodist Church Friday. Damage was limited to smoked walls and loss of a water heater.

Pressure built up from the frozen valve was released into the gas line. When the full pressure went into the church, it burst a thermostat and allowed gas to escape. Gas was ignited by a water heater pilot light.

The church has been in use only since Oct. 12.

The same condition damaged a house across the alley from the church and led to the discovery of the fire in the church. The house is owned by S. A. Cousins, a McLean fireman.

Community Singers Planning New Year Program Dec. 31

Pampa Community Singers have postponed their regular Sunday afternoon meeting until New Year's Eve.

Instead, singers are invited to attend the annual singing convention of Wheeler County singers today at Mobeetie.

Pampa singers will present a New Year's program Wednesday, Dec. 31 to which the public is invited.

Emphasis On The Practical . . . City Yule Sales Up Slightly Over 1951

The Christmas business for Pampa looks like it is rushing, but conservative Pampa merchants gave low estimates for increases over last year's sales.

And it isn't toys for the kiddies to top the list either.

At Montgomery Wards, Pampa's most complete department store, practical clothing headed the list in popularity with inanimate kitchen items running a about second. Toys were high but not in the lead.

W. J. McNeill, manager, attributed the clothing lead to people wanting to buy more practical things this year. He estimated his store was running about five or 10 percent ahead of last year's volume.

The traditional gifts of ties and socks were reported lower this year than last by Al Hirsch, manager of Levine's. Hirsch said men's sports shirts and western shirts—the latter slow sellers last year—were among the items highest in demand; even surpassing dress shirts.

Bryant Caraway, manager of Surfee's estimated business as being about tied with last year's volume. But men's dress shirts and nylon underwear for both men and women, seemed to be among leaders in popularity. Blankets and electric blankets, Caraway said, also seemed high on the "wanted"

RR Commission Okay Said Needed In Santa Fe Move

CANADIAN— Texas Railroad Commission stands between Canadian citizens and Santa Fe Railway in the company's proposed move of the freight terminal from Canadian.

The Railroad Commission, in a letter last week to a Chamber of Commerce committee working against the proposed move by Santa Fe, said the company cannot move the terminal without commission approval.

The commission, represented in the letter by C. F. Boulton, said a public hearing on the case would be held in Canadian pending an application for transfer by Santa Fe. To date, no such application has been filed.

Santa Fe seeks to eliminate the Canadian terminal and let its freight trains travel straight through from Amarillo to Waynoka, Okla.

Canadian citizens and two railroad union locals there have protested the move.

Santa Visits Canadian

CANADIAN— Santa Claus will make his annual pre-Christmas visit to this northern Panhandle city Tuesday and plans for his arrival are in final stages of completion according to Canadian sponsors.

Canadian Chamber of Commerce officials are expecting between 1,000 and 1,200 children to be on hand when Santa arrives at 2 p.m. Candy, fruit and toys are to be distributed to the children.

Also, a free movie starring Gene Autry is to be shown at a local theater. Santa will be escorted down Main St. in the fire department's pumper truck and will distribute gifts and candy to the children from the big Christmas tree set up across the street from Canadian Postoffice.

Shamrock C Of C Names Secretary

SHAMROCK (Special)— Mrs. Irwin Kilpatrick has been appointed by the board of the chamber of commerce as secretary to succeed Mary Charles Nunn who resigned recently to take a position in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Kilpatrick has served as secretary for the National Farm Loan Association when it was in Shamrock and has worked in the City Hall here, with Mr. Ode Cain.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick live at South Missouri. They have two children ages 6 and 3.

City Yule Sales Up Slightly Over 1951

Hardware stores, Thompson's and Pampa Hardware, reported staple hardware items led the rest of items and that a slight percentage increase, of about 10 per cent at the most, was noted.

It was about the same for other stores, specialties and semi-department stores.

None of the merchants contacted reported any trouble in obtaining extra Christmas help. Some take on only one or two whom they have employed in past years; others have extra help that is employed earlier in the year and given sporadic work in training them so they are experienced by the time the Christmas rush rolls around.

DOG-GONE DISGUSTED—This Pekingese obviously doesn't approve of the blanket and boots, and no wonder. He was forced to wear them in, of all places, Florida. However, the sweltering canine will be doggone glad to have the doggy toggery when his master takes him back to his ice-encrusted Michigan home.

TITLED QUEEN—Marlies Gessler, Polish-born Florida State University student, is fast forgetting her memories of a Nazi children's camp, as she makes a new life in America. Marlies was recently chosen the university's Homecoming Queen for 1952, and also won the title of "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," of the local chapter of the fraternity, for which she received the trophy she is holding.

VISITING FIREMEN—Their "uniforms" are different, but their occupations are the same. IT'S NOT SO "WURST"—In fact, it's a lot of fun. Rudi Sachs, 20, at left, won this white sausage-eating contest in Munich, Germany, by practically inhaling a chain of fifteen sausages in one minute, 45 seconds. White sausages are a delicacy made daily, and are supposed to be eaten by high noon, so that they may be enjoyed at their peak of perfection.

Dr. Peterson, who recently won $3250 on a national radio show, has offered to perform needed extractions for Fremont children at no charge, as a token of gratitude for his windfall.

SUPERSONIC AWARD—John Stack, above, becomes a two-time Collier Trophy winner, with announcement by the National Aeronautical Association that he and his associates have been given the coveted award for developing a transonic wind tunnel. The NAA states that the development may have given America a two-year lead over Russia in perfecting supersonic planes. The 44-year-old government scientist shared in the award in 1948, for helping to develop the Bell X-1, first piloted craft to pierce the sonic barrier.

PERILOUS JOB MADE SAFER—The job of laying barbed wire under combat conditions in Korea is just as dangerous and necessary as it was in World War I. To meet the problem the 120th Engineer Combat Battalion has improvised an M-4 tank with a triple belt concertina of barbed wire for rapid and protected laying. This technique gives our Korean G.I.'s the advantage of greater speed and safety while doing this hazardous job.

IKE'S HEART-WARMING—Huddled in the doorway of a bombed-out building, the Korean child, above, finds that a "Welcome Ike" poster helps to ward off bitter winter winds. Plodding along in a pair of discarded G.I. combat boots, the youngster salvaged the poster as Seoul began removing the decorations which blazoned welcome to President-elect Dwight Eisenhower when he visited Korea's capital city.

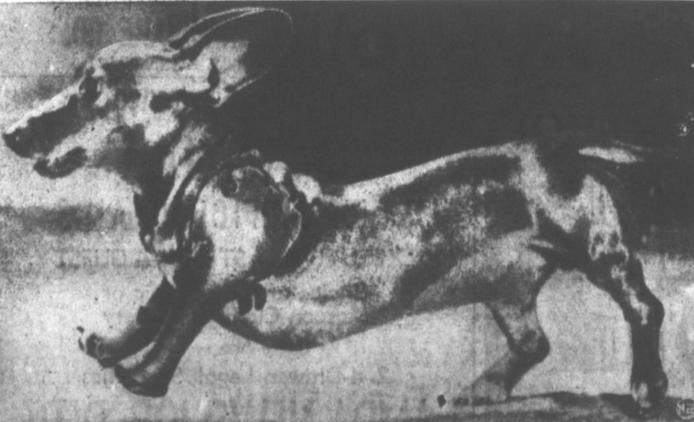

"FLIER" SAVED AT SEA—Hospital corpsmen Leland B. Whitney, left, of Radisson, Wis., and Robert P. West, of Charlotte, N. C., give first aid to a sparrow which made a forced landing aboard the U.S.S. Toledo, while the ship was shelling the coast of North Korea. Ford, warmth, and kindness restored the feathered visitor to flight condition.

MORE HONORS FOR FERMI—Dr. Enrico Fermi, above, former Nobel prize winner, will be awarded the Rumford Medal by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, early in 1953. The University of Chicago physicist, who pioneered in nuclear research and development of atomic power, will receive the Rumford award for his studies and research concerning radiation theory and nuclear energy.

GOOD HEADS FOR MUSIC—For over 500 years, these representations of angels and demons, saints and sinners, have played their part in producing music from the great Arp Schnitger organ, in the medieval St. Jacobi Church in Hamburg, Germany. The heads form pulps for the organ stops of the historic musical instrument, and help to make it one of the most precious examples of the ancient organmaker's art still in existence.

STUMPER GOES LICKETY-CLUMP—Most puppies tear through the house lickety-split when romping and playing, but "Stumper" goes lickety-clump. The young Dachshund, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lewandowski, of Milwaukee, lost his left front paw shortly after birth, and was fitted with a wooden leg. The one he wears now is a de luxe production, with a sponge-rubber tip, to keep Stumper from skidding on those fast turns.

California Will Keep Warm, Thanks To Foresight, Texas

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Thanks to foresight and the state of Texas, Californians should have warm feet on cold nights this winter and for many a winter to come. The Golden State now imports about half its heat in the form of natural gas from the Lone Star State. It's coming on Texas for much more in the future. California gas men foresee more than a decade ago that the state was changing from an area with plenty of gas to one of scarcity. And they foresaw increased demand for gas from a rapidly expanding population and industry. Gas, of course, is virtually the only heat source in this coldest region. The only potential new sources—manufactured gas being too expensive—were the vast fields of West Texas and Southeast Texas. Pipe Lines Built To tap these fields, California firms and the El Paso Natural Gas Co. built the nation's first transcontinental pipe line, the "biggest inch." When completed in 1947, the 30-inch line was merely a supplemental source, providing 23 million cubic feet a day. Today, after several expansions, it delivers 80 million. By the end of next year the figure will be more than a billion. By the end of 1954, if the government approves a further increase, it will be 1.2 billion. California expects to make additional demands periodically. The contract with Texas suppliers runs through 1977. Cost of the pipe line facilities to dates nearly half a billion dollars. Rich In Gas, Too California is one of the half dozen richest states in gas. Its proven reserves are estimated at 80 trillion cubic feet—enough to last 18 years at the present rate of consumption. New reserves are discovered yearly, extending the time until the supply is exhausted. But in recent years the state has been using gas faster than it is being discovered. Even with help from Texas, there is still unsatisfied industrial demand. One reason the California supply is down: Oil companies are pumping gas back underground to increase oil well pressure. Gas men say no one could have foreseen the tremendous California expansions of the last decade. The 30 per cent population gain and billions of dollars' worth of new industry. Estimates Too Low In 1946 the Southern California Gas Co., now serving 1.4 million customers, took a crack at predicting market expansion. It consulted banks, the Census Bureau and contractors' associations in an effort to estimate how many new meters it might have to install in the next year. A glance at their figures indicates how growth out- ran their expectations: In 1948, 58,000 new meters estimated, 75,000 installed; 1949, 65,000 estimated, 70,000 installed; 1950, 66,000 estimated, 73,000 installed; 1951, 55,000 estimated, 67,000 installed. One of the company's biggest headaches is the use factor. In the hot summer months, gas consumption drops sharply. In the nippy When California began import-

Method Developed To Measure Flow

AUSTIN — A University of Texas engineer has developed a simplified theoretical method for measuring the relative ease of flow by oil, gas or water through a sample of oil-bearing strata. The test, evolved by W. H. Hartwig, should allow petroleum scientists to run the test in an hour or so. Previously, the test took two days or more.

Rig Activity In Nation Boosted

DALLAS — A total of 2,962 rigs were active in oilfields of the United States and Canada for the week of December 15, 1952, according to a report to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractor by Hughes Tool Company. This compares with 2,885 reported a week ago, 2,863 a month ago, and with 3,165 in the comparable week of 1951. A comparison by principal areas for the past two weeks shows:

Completions Take The Lead As Area Operators Final 16

Completions led the way in the Panhandle field last week as area operators completed 16 wells — eight of which were new oilers. Among these completions two were wildcats. One was an oil completion and the other a dry hole. Oilmen staked nine new locations throughout the field. Total increased oil potential was 373 barrels while two gassers produced 5,500 MCF on Railroad Commission test.

 ing gas in 1947 it was one of the few areas tapping the Texas fields. The supply was abundant and cheap. In the years since, the big Eastern population centers — New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington — began bidding on a large scale. Today there is still plenty of gas but the price is up. The two big Southern California firms recently went after, and got a $7,200,000 annual rate increase. They're still getting a bargain. The 1.2 billion cubic feet of capacity is 30 billion cubic feet at the nearby Playa del Rey Oil Field, holds 4 billion — still 100 times more than the last manmade container. During peak use hours, gas from these sources supplements the normal supply. Another trick is building up pressure on the Texas line. Valves are closed at the Los Angeles end for several hours. When they're opened, built up pressure sends it gushing forth at 38 million cubic feet an hour, although flow past a valve on the California-Arizona border may be only 17 million.

Plenty For Homes
 So far, there's been plenty of gas for home use. The unsatisfied demand is from industry. Gas firms have made agreements with industrial users under which plants switch to some other fuel source when gas begins to run short. When California began import-

There's No Place Like Home—Trailercoach Home, That Is

By NEN SMITH
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — There's no place like home. Of course, but in this year's luxurious trailer styles you get almost every home advantage, plus easy traveling.

To prove it, the Trailercoach Dealers National Association brought 227 trailers of all sizes and styles to its annual exposition here.

In every way the manufacturers and dealers point up the feeling that you are not just getting a trailer but a real, fully equipped home—a home to live in while traveling or after settling down a home to entertain in, a home you can be proud of.

Credit To Any Home
Most of the large 40-45 foot jobs are compact four-room and bath apartments with all modern facilities, sleeping accommodations for six people and furnishings that would be a credit to any home anywhere.

This type generally includes a bedroom, a living room with sofa-bed, kitchen and dinette or breakfast nook. The bathroom has a tub with shower, flush toilet and wash basin.

The kitchen has electric or gas stove and refrigerator. There is electric lighting, a fuel oil or kerosene heating system and power ventilators to carry off odors from kitchen and bathroom.

Some models have television sets built in and there is provision for them in others. Air conditioning is optional.

The trailercoaches (note it's all one word now) come fully furnished except for linens, table-ers say the furniture, drapes, and aluminum, painted eye-catching colors.

While the four-room and bath style seem most popular, some trailer homes offer six rooms with two bedrooms on a second story. One model has a collapsible second story which folds down into the top.

Increasing in favor is the collapsible cabana, which folds into an eight-foot box, and can be attached to the side of the main unit to make an extra room.

At the other end of the range are little 15-16 foot trailers primarily for hunting and camping, but which can sleep four people.

Two points impress most newcomers to trailer shows: One is the amount of room available. The other is how every inch of the wall space is used for little closets, cupboards, handy shelves and fittings.

Inside, the walls are plywood paneling and everything combines to give a light spacious effect. The exterior is generally steel

The price range in standard models is from $2,000 to $8,800.

With the home aspects of these trailercoaches featured, they must have electricity, water and sewage wherever they park. That makes improvement of trailers park facilities the number one problem of the industry.

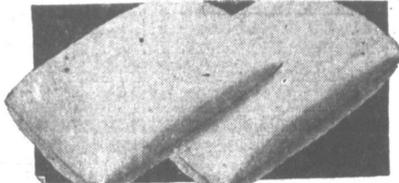

Another problem is to get a uniform law in all states on maximum size of trailers. Too often now a man drives happily through one state, only to find trailer car-trailer combination is too long for the highways in the next state.

The ever-present problem is to attain the perfect balance between the living and traveling features of the mobile home.

"How honey can we make it and still keep it mobile?" is the big question for manufacturers and dealers.

They must be succeeding pretty well. They are building 250 million dollars worth this year. And business is growing every year.

Detroit Lion quarterback Bobby Layne completed 52 forward passes during each of the 1950 and '51 seasons in the National Football League.
