FASTER THAN SOUND—Artist's sketch, above, is the first published representation of the Convair F-102, which, upon completion, is expected to be the Air Force's first truly supersonic interceptor. According to Air Force Magazine, in which the drawing first appeared, the delta-wing, single-seat, all-weather interceptor will be under almost entirely automatic control. The pilot's chief duty will be to act as a monitor for the electronic flight and fire-control equipment.

Mr. And Mrs. Santa Preparing For Visit

NORTH POLE (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus were making last minute plans today for their pre-Christmas visit to Pampa, Texas, U.S.A.

Weather is predicted to be continued fair over the Panhandle and especially Perry LeFors Field today and tomorrow.

The twin-engined plane is scheduled to land on the field at 6:30 p.m., and Santa will be driven to town by car.

But local helpers of old St. Nick said Santa may not have his hoped for reception at the field by the youngsters who wish to follow him to town. Water still remains on the unpaved road leading to the field, and may not be safe enough for local cars to travel.

Santa's party, however, will be held at 7 p.m. on the north steps of City Hall where a platform will be built for him.

To greet the saint of childhood will be the Amarillo Air Force band, grownups, a corps of local helpers recruited from the civic clubs, and an army of kiddies.

Roy and Sue Johnson will handle the community carol singing. Mr. Johnson directing the voices and Mrs. Johnson accompanying them on the electric organ.

Then the band will give a special program of Christmas music.

Hijacking Attempt Ends In Death For Youthful Bandit

AMARILLO (AP)—Potter County officers told today of an attempted hold-up by two youthful hitchhikers that ended in death for one and armed robbery charges against the survivor.

The attempted robbery backfired last night when the intended victim, Daniel Franco, 39, decided to fight rather than be robbed by the two young men he said he picked up at Edgewood, N. M.

The dead man was identified as Roland Marion, 23, Laramie, Wyo. The other would-be robber told officers he is Robert Samuel Franks, 22, Dove, N. J., AWOL from Chantle Field, Ill. Dist. Atty. Hermon Pipkin said armed robbery charges would be filed against Franks today.

Hit In Chest
Franco is a U.S. Corps of Engineers employe, en route from his former home in San Francisco to Richmond, Va.

Potter County sheriff's officers said Marion was killed when hit in the chest by a bullet fired when a pistol in the hand of Franks discharged in the scuffle.

Franco told officers that the two men forced him to drive on to a country lane last night and then searched him at gunpoint. When he produced only traveler's checks, he said, one of the men suggested they drive to another spot where a more thorough search could be made.

About a mile east of Bushland, Tex., on U.S. Highway 66, Franco grabbed at Franks' gun while the latter attempted to drive and hold the weapon at the same time. The gun discharged, striking Marion.

Franco told officers he then disarmed Franks by jerking the pistol against the hitchhiker's head.

Two farmers—James and Fred LeGrand—had followed Franco's car after noticing it parked on the country lane and witnessed the fight. They went to their home for weapons but by the time they returned Franco was holding the gun on Franks.

Potter County officers said both Franks and Marion were wanted in Denver, Colo., on a warrant issued Thursday in the robbery of a taxicab driver.

Panhandle Clear As East Texas Covered By Fog

As showers rattled over East Texas today, the Top of Texas boasted clear, blue skies and moderate temperatures.

The mercury in Pampa had risen to 42 degrees by 11 a.m. from an early morning low of 39. A high of 51 was recorded on the Pampa thermometer Wednesday afternoon—the highest in these parts since Nov. 21.

Of course, the seven-inch blanket of snow and its accompanying winds last week had had something to do with it, too.

Fog still lay heavy from the Louisiana border to Tyler and Longview, The Associated Press reported, as "a wet front slid into" the Pelican State.

The front had shrouded the eastern half of the state. The AP continued, with mist and drizzle for three days.

Meanwhile, Pampans were using the good weather with which they had been blessed to hop over the muddy puddles on downtown streets which persisted in lingering from the recent snow storm.

All transportation and communication lines, however, were in working order and it seemed that the Top of Texas had some of the state's best weather today.

Technicians Meet To Form Society

Pampa's chapter of a Texas Medical Technicians Society will be organized at 7:30 p.m. today in the Pine Room of the Hotel Schneider.

Main purpose of the meeting will be the election of officers and the discussion of future plans, according to Emmett H. Mays, X-ray technician in Highland General Hospital.

The society will be composed of both laboratory and X-ray technicians.

Stevedoring Firms Admit Paying Unions

NEW YORK (AP)—Stevedoring firms have acknowledged making big "good will" payments to union leaders, dock bosses and steamship company officials to keep labor peace and to obtain business on New York's waterfront.

Opening of public hearings yesterday by the New York State Crime Commission lifted the lid in the city's seven billion dollar a year shipping industry.

It has been estimated the industry's annual losses run to 350 millions because of such things as pilfering, smuggling, and pay kickbacks by longshoremen to their union bosses.

An opening day's witness was white-haired Ruth M. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the stevedoring firm of Daniels and Kennedy, Inc. Miss Kennedy testified that gratuities are "an established practice in the business."

The witness said her firm, in five years, paid $7,500 to Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association.

In 1948 Miss Kennedy testified, checks were drawn to fictitious persons and the money was turned over to dock union officials.

Protests Increase Granted By Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman's wage board chairman quit his job today in protest over the President's approval of an extra wage boost for coal miners above the recommendations of all top defense agency officials.

Archibald Cox, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board, waited only overnight to resign. He made no formal statement, but told a reporter the White House might have something to say this afternoon. The Truman action, while counter to recommendations of his stabilization lieutenants, did assure a year of peace in the coal mines.

The President yesterday approved the full $1.90 daily wage increase for John L. Lewis' 375,000 soft coal miners because, he said, he does not want President-elect Eisenhower to have a coal strike crisis on his hands when he takes office.

The move averted an almost certain strike, but it opened the door to a boost in coal prices to consumers and touched off unrest among public members of the Wage Stabilization Board.

One WSB member said Truman's decision would have a "terrific and disappointing effect" on unions which in the past have accepted WSB reductions and now have wage cases pending before the board.

Coal miners themselves—whose basic minimum daily wage is boosted to $18.25—were reportedly jubilant. One top United Mine Workers official at Pittsburgh said the move "undoubtedly averted a strike."

John Busarello, president of UMW District 5, said his men had been getting "itchy" over delays.

Lewis had negotiated the $1.90 increase with industry, but the WSB had cut this to $1.50 on the grounds that any more would "irreparably damage" the stabilization program.

Lewis and Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, appealed the WSB decision to Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam.

But Putnam refused to overrule his board, and Defense Mobilization Henry H. Fowler also refused to change the WSB decision.

Truman's decision to grant the full $1.90 increase in the rate of a letter to Putnam, said the "probable consequences" of a failure to do so would be a disastrous coal strike which would create a "crisis" for Eisenhower.

Putnam, announcing the President's decision to newsmen, said: "This is not the decision I would have made. It is not the decision I would have recommended."

It means higher price ceilings for many varieties of soft coal, but probably not for all.

Moisture Needed . . . County Wheat Prospects Dim

Through the U.S. Department of Agriculture has predicted a good wheat year in 1953, the outlook for the Gray County area is considered "pretty dim" by County Agent Foster Whaley.

Recent rains and snows have been of "very, very little help," Whaley said, to area wheat, more than 90 per cent of which was dry-sown.

With a perceptible glance toward the City Hall lawn—where Santa Claus is scheduled to make an appearance Friday night—Whaley maintained that "what we really need is eight to 10 inches of rain over a four to five week period."

And to make matters more complicated, The Associated Press reports, the Production and Marketing Association in Texas has stopped taking orders for hay in the government's disaster relief program for drought-stricken areas.

Twenty-five tons of it however, are scheduled to arrive in McLean any day now, according to the local PMA office.

Pampa Youngsters Have Not Returned

Two local youngsters have set their sights on the West and have left town.

Both of them—one 13, the other 15—bought round-trip tickets for Amarillo Tuesday morning and were seen climbing aboard the morning bus, according to H. A. Doggett, county juvenile officer.

Their disappearance was reported to Doggett when they did not appear at school.

It is the first time that either of them has run away from home, Doggett thinks, and he has found no particular reason why they did it.

Firemen Get But Few Toys

Santa Claus may not visit a number of underprivileged children in Pampa this Christmas, according to Fire Department representatives, and the cause of his delinquency has nothing to do with whether they have been good little boys and girls.

Pampa firemen offered to do minor repair and paint jobs on damaged toys and act as a receiving station for new ones to be given to the children this year.

However, only a few toys, "hardly enough to start working on," have been turned in at the station by today, said Capt. Buster Claunch.

Chief Ernest Winborne has requested that toys be brought in as quickly as possible as there is little time left to make necessary repairs.

Arrangements have been made with Capt. William Hough, head of the Pampa Salvation Army Corps, to distribute the toys—if there are any to distribute.

Nephew Of Dead Desperado Charged In Big Jewel Theft

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas police were hunting today for a nephew of Raymond Hamilton, pistol-brandishing braggart killer of the turbulent '30s.

The kinsman of the old desperado who finally died in the state's electric chair was charged last night with the $14,468 robbery of a Houston jewelry store.

Homicide Lt. Frank Murray of Houston cautioned police here that the fugitive—Ramond Fairris, 20—He was at one time a lieutenant of equally notorious Clyde Barrow and his moll, Bonnie Parker.

Hamilton was awaiting execution at the time Barrow and girl friend were ambushed and killed by officers. Conjecture at the time was that Hamilton tipped police of Barrow's whereabouts in an effort to win a reprieve, but this was never confirmed.

A statewide broadcast was made for Fairris' arrest with the warning that he is armed with a .32 caliber revolver and "is dangerous."

Fairris is the son of Hamilton's sister, 31-year-old Mrs. Margie Zeglen, who herself is free on appeal bond from a five-year prison sentence for killing her husband, Michael Zeglen. Previously she was no-billed in Fort Worth for the slaying of a president's husband. She told the court both men were killed with the same gun.

Officers here held Mrs. Zeglen briefly last night for questioning but later released her.

Fairris was charged after Ralph A. Perry, 46, identified him as the man who robbed him Tuesday night. A rogue's gallery picture of Fairris was picked out by Perry unhesitatingly.

Pampa Wins TMA Award

Special recognition was given Pampa last night by the Panhandle Chapter, Texas Manufacturers' Association, for winning its first place award for industrial promotion for the third straight year.

The recognition was made during the chapter's monthly meeting in the Herring Hotel, Amarillo.

Pampa, in cities of its class, won first prize for promoting Texas Industrial Week in 1950, 1951, and 1952. The recognition was accepted for the Pampa Chamber of Commerce by Reno Stinson, representing the local chamber.

Amarillo also came in for special recognition for winning first place in cities of its class for two straight years, and for winning the over-all promotion for the state.

During the meeting Bill Smith, of the American Zinc Co., Dumas, was named chairman for the ensuing year. Byron Dees, Amarillo, Continental Carbon Co., vice chairman; and Al Hahn, Borger, of the Huber Co., secretary.

A humorous talk by Dr. I. Q. of national radio fame, was the principal portion of the program, besides Stinson, Mrs. Stinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McCune attended from Pampa.

Antigravity Machine Helps Polio Victims Use Muscles

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE DENVER (AP) — An antigravity machine to help polio victims strengthen badly weakened muscles was shown today to the American Medical Association. It lets them move arms or legs almost effortlessly without having to fight gravity or friction. Resistance Created

If they can do this, the machine is tightened, creating resistance to give tougher exercise for the muscles. It is like training for weight-lifting by starting with light weights.

The device was shown in an exhibit at the opening of the AMA's clinical session by Dr. A. W. Schenker of New York City. The machines have been used on several hundred persons paralyzed by polio and other diseases or accidents, he said, and may have soon become able to abandon canes, crutches or braces.

It cannot help muscles whose nerves have been killed or severed.

McLean Choirs Plan Program

McLEAN (Special) — The combined choirs of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches in McLean are working on a Christmas cantata to be given on December 21st. There will be two renditions of this cantata, once in the afternoon and again at 7 p.m. In which church each performance will be given has not yet been decided but ample publicity will be given this event in order that all will have an opportunity to hear it.

Former Pampan To Set Up New Home In Frigid Alaska

With Geological Survey . . .

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Bowsher, west of Pampa, and his family are on the first lap of a 3,500-mile journey to Fairbanks, Alaska.

Employed in the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C., for the past four years, Arthur L. Bowsher has accepted a position with the United States Geological Survey in Alaska.

In addition to his wife, Lanorah, his family includes three children — Sallie Jane, 6; Arthur L. Jr., 3; and Anne Loraine, almost one year old.

The Bowshers left Pampa Wednesday for Tulsa, Okla., the home of Mrs. Bowsher's parents. They expect to fly from Tulsa Tuesday morning.

Monday, arriving in Fairbanks and Mrs. Karl Ernst is the director.

Bowsher's new position will be head of the eight-man U.S. Navy Oil Unit Laboratory in Fairbanks. Job of the laboratory is encompassed in Navy Oil Reserve to study the geological material No. 4, which includes all of Northern Alaska.

It is in that stretch of Alaska that the plane carrying Will Rogers and Wiley Post crashed in 1935.

A paleontologist in the Smithsonian Institute, Bowsher's duties since 1948 have been to participate in scientific research, prepare the national collection and identify fossils. He has specialized in those fossils without backbone.

After his graduation from Pampa High School in 1936, Bowsher attended the University of Tulsa for five years, graduating with a Bachelor of Science de-

Income Tax Cut Is Seen By Rep. Reed

WASHINGTON (AP) — An 11 per cent cut in individual income taxes and elimination of the excess profits tax on corporations will be proposed as soon as the new Congress convenes next month, Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) forecasts.

Reed is in line to become chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which originates all revenue measures.

His proposal calls for a reduction of slightly more than 5 per cent in individual income taxes next year and a similar reduction in 1954, for a total cut of about 11 per cent.

The 1952 tax bill raised individual rates by 10 to 11 per cent. The increase will expire automatically Dec. 31, 1953, unless Congress orders otherwise.

The excess profits tax is due to go off the books next June 30.

Reed says he anticipates bipartisan support for his bill, which he called "the first step in the Republican tax and spending reduction program."

He said the incoming Republican administration is aiming for "drastic curtailment of unnecessary government waste, a balancing of the budget and a cut back in the burdensome taxes which are seriously jeopardizing our nation's economy." He said tax relief "must start where it will be most beneficial — with the people."

Los Angeles and San Francisco are served by dairying areas in the irrigated valleys of the Pacific Coast.

"A very primitive tribe! They haven't even seen a white man—except on television!"

Happy Birthday To Hank! A Man 46 Years Old Ought To Act Like A Man 46 Years Old

By HENRY McEMORE
CUERNAVACA, MEXICO — Today, by the Gregorian or hard-ware store calendar, I am 46 years of age.
I have read that you only feel as old as you look. Some men of 46 are actually younger than boys flying kites in fields, or college sophomores dreaming of getting new crew haircuts and of holding hands with a brunette junior and raising Cain over a double malted at the drugstore just off the campus.
I would like to say that at 46 I feel exactly 46. I wouldn't dare walk out of my house without my glasses, lest I couldn't see very well. Most of the time, I wear double-breasted suits to hide the lard that 46 years of living have put upon me.
My feet hurt when I play 18 holes of golf. I have to be very careful with my food, because I have read so many articles by medical authorities about what is likely to happen to me if I don't take care.
I know men of my age who are taken for men of 40. They are very proud. I have an idea of how they achieve it. When morning comes, they take a cold shower, shave themselves down to the bone, put on their very best suits, and go out into the world determined to look younger than they are.

Not so with me. I am firmly convinced that every living human being should be his age and act it. I sort of like being 46. I got to be 46 because I lived 46 years. If I weren't 46 I'd be dead.
What are the great differences between 46 and being, say, 26? Many.

Twenty years work untold wonders on the human frame. When I was 26 nothing in the world bothered me. I could stay up all night and only needed to shave to get "cooking" all over again in the morning. At 26 I didn't have a worry in the world. At 26, people of 46 wore me out. I wondered why they even wanted to live. At that age I called people of 46 "Mister" and looked upon them as old, old men.

At 46 I can tell you how it feels to be 46. You need a little more sleep than you used to need. You need a little more kindness than you used to get, and when I say kindness I mean the sort of kindness that only a wife can give. You need a little more expensive shoes because your feet hurt, and you are a little bit more particular about where you live.

When I first went to New York an apartment in Greenwich Village seemed like heaven. Today I wouldn't live in the Village on a bet. The rooms are too cold and clammy for a fellow of 46. As you grow older your taste in cars changes, too. I was once known as Hot Rod Henry, drove a car with signs written all over it, and I thought it was cute as all get out. No more. Like a car with an arm rest in the back seat, and if I could afford a chauffeur, he would drive Hot Rod Henry wherever he wanted to go.

The age of 46 has its drawbacks and its compensations. A man of 46 doesn't look the way he looked when he was a youngster. At the same time he doesn't think as a youngster. Twenty years of reading and twenty years of living have given him an outlook on life that, while it may not be like the bright outlook of a child, is something a child will never achieve until he becomes grown up and reaches the dear old age that I reached today.

Carson 4-H Youths Win Farm Awards

WHITE DEER (Special) — E. C. Shuman, manager of the Farmers Elevator in White Deer, assisted Fred Dines, specialist in grains for the Texas Extension Service, at a recent discussion meeting at White Deer. Dines exhibited colored slides to illustrate his grain marketing discussion.
The 4-H Grain Marketing Awards program was explained to 4-H boys interested in the new program. Present at the meeting were boys who had visited the Farmers Elevator in White Deer and attended the grain marketing tour in Amarillo.
To conclude the meeting, awards were presented to several 4-H boys of the White Deer-Skellytown area. Present to present the awards was County Agent H. M. Nichols.

George Collis, White Deer, received the medal for outstanding work in poultry raising. This medal is known as The Dearborn Motors Corporation Award. Collis also received the International Harvester award in field crops.
Jerry Kotara received the Firestone Tire and Rubber award for his accomplishments in soil and water conservation.
Jimmy and Richard Haiduk each received a medal from the A. J. Chalmers Company for outstanding gardening efforts.
The Hercules Powder Company award for activities in entomology went to Wayne Howard.
In his field crops work, George Collis did an outstanding work the Pan Tech Farms Entomology section.

John Parsons received the General Motors Company award for farm and home safety. Other awards will be presented in Panhandle at a later date.

British Girls Slash Airman

LONDON (AP) — Two British girls who slashed a young U.S. airman with brooch pins were found guilty here of "wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm." They were sent to a reform school.

The victim was Thomas E. Johnson, Waxahatchie, Tex. Johnson had objected to remarks made by Dorothy O'Brien, 25, and Marilyn Golder, 19, about his girl friend and a girl escorted by a fellow airman.
Witnesses said Miss O'Brien and Miss Golder followed Johnson into a taxi and cut him across the face 25 times with their pins.

The New Cabinet . . .

New Treasury Secretary Is A Tycoon Without Limelight

By NEA Service
CLEVELAND (NEA) — When President-elect Eisenhower named Cleveland's George Magoffin Humphrey to be Secretary of the Treasury, Cleveland reporters found out something very interesting about the man. As they scoured the files for stories about him, they learned there wasn't one personal interview to be found.

This despite the fact that Humphrey had been an industrial, political and civic leader of the community for 35 years. Over that time, he had achieved prominence in many fields, yet he had remained in the public background. It is Humphrey's way.

"I am not strong on personal publicity," he says. "I believe in the old adage that actions speak louder than words."

His actions have fairly shouted his ability in the industrial field. A young lawyer from Michigan, he joined the respected firm of M. A. Hanna Co. in 1917. By 1920, at the age of 30, he was a partner. He became president in 1922, at 32.

GEORGE M. HUMPHREY: Reporters failed to recognize him.

throughout the depression and ever since—M. A. Hanna Co. branched out. Now, they deal in things as varied as banks and rayon, plastics and coal mines.

Over the years, Humphrey has kept up a keen interest in Republican politics. It has been his job to raise funds for the local organization, and he's also been a strong influence in behind-the-scenes policy making.

But he's never held public office, although he's served on many committees and advisory boards. On these, he's met and worked with such men as Paul Hoffman, Gen. Lucius Clay and Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia. All these men have praised his appointment, and the probability is that at least one mentioned him to Eisenhower in the first place.

Throughout his political career, Humphrey has been an ardent supporter of Sen. Robert Taft, but he was an active campaigner for Eisenhower since the Chicago convention. Yet he never met the President-elect until he walked fields. Under Humphrey—who into his New York headquarters a few days before the appointment. He was unnoticed, a tribute to his lack of publicity.

Humphrey is now 62, a trim figure of medium height and with keen eyes and a quick smile. He keeps in shape by fox hunting. Horses are his main extra-curricular activity. He has an extensive stable at his home, Holiday Hill, and a racing stable at Charlottesville, Va., and a stable of brood mares at Lexington, Ky.

Humphrey has had to travel widely, because of the Hanna Company's diversified interests. He estimates he covers about 100,000 miles a year in that cause.

He is credited, in the past, for exerting much influence on negotiations between the United Mine workers and mine operators. Two years ago, he worked out a formula that kept the mines running despite a strike threat.

Another step credited to him is the success of the German industrial plants and mines to get back into production so quickly. Under Paul Hoffman, he surveyed German industry just after the war, and made recommendations that led to the rapid rebirth.

BROUGHT MUSIC TO MIAMI — It has been said of Jeanie Dowling Rees, pianist who today celebrates her 93rd birthday, that she brought music to Miami. Mrs. Rees, who at one time studied under the famed composer Gounod, taught music to Miami students until she was 75. (News Photo)

'December Child' Has 93rd Birthday Today

By LORENE O. LOCKE
Miami's favorite "December child" is 93 years old today. Jeanie Dowling Rees was born in Birmingham, Warwickshire, England, and is proud of her Irish ancestry. Her birthday will be spent quietly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. T. Locke, with whom she has lived since the death of her preacher husband, Dan Rees, five years ago.

"One characteristic of our family," said Mrs. Rees, "is that we were never married at all. Both my mother and grandmother were widowed for many years. Two of my sisters were old maids, and my brother, Neabitt lived a widower for 40 years." Mrs. Rees has outlived all her family.

Came 56 Years Ago
Mrs. Rees came to America to marry Dan, more than 56 years ago. They were married in Belle, Kans., June 29, 1896. After their plans to give their lives to a missionary career were upset by Jeanie's ill health, Dan heard, from a mutual friend, of the opportunity for missions in the midwestern states, and had made the trip to Kansas two years before her arrival.

"Dan had mission work for a time after coming here, but my mother would not hear of my joining him until he had a pastorate, so he had accepted a church in Beloit. Everyone was quite interested in me, but thought me very brave to be going out to wild and woolly Kansas to become a preacher's wife. When we got to New York, I remember that I was scared to death of going through the customs. I had a trunk full of things for keeping house. There was a china tea set, some goosefeather pillows and a hand-knit counterpane. 'I wish I knew where it is now,' said her daughter, Lettie. 'She sold it for $3 when they went back to England, when I was 2 years old.'"

Had To Sell Everything
"Well, we had to sell everything to make the trip. 'Dan's brother had been killed in a bridge accident, and his mother wrote him that she must have him come back. I was not happy in England, then, I thought my children would have a much better chance in America, so we only stayed a few months. My second daughter, Rhoda was born in England, and had her first birthday on the Atlantic Ocean on our return trip. Dan had taken out his first papers for American citizenship, so Rhoda was never an American citizen until she married. But, to get back to the customs—"

"The man simply opened my trunks and didn't disturb a thing, when I told him I was going out to Kansas to be married. The first officer said 'You passed the customs the easiest of anyone I have ever seen.' The customs officer said, 'She has an eighteen-carat contenance.'"

Took Train West
"I stayed in New York from Saturday until Monday, then I took a train west. I remember I tipped the porter two dollars, and was he surprised! I did not know much about American money, but I soon learned as an early day preacher's wife."

"Wasn't everything very strange to you?" she was prompted. "Of course," she replied. "But I had always wanted to travel. I remember I took my first trip out to see the world when I was three. We lived on a big square. I slipped away clear to the other side of the square, and sat down on some steps in front of a large house. A man came along and said, 'Aren't you lost, little girl? What is your name?' 'My name is Jane,' I said. 'Jane who, and where do you live?' 'Just plain Jane,' I told him, 'and I live in the parlor.'"

She laughed her little, infectious laugh. "When I met Dan in his docket. Discussions of attorney relations, where I was playing news in the case gave rise to the 'the organ for services, and we misunderstood action."

Civil Suit Is Postponed

A mixup in the district clerk's office Tuesday resulted in a report to the press that the civil suit of James R. Cook vs American General Insurance Co. in 31st District Court was settled out of court when it was actually postponed until Feb. 9, 1953.

The motion for postponement was made by attorney for Cook after a witness, a medical doctor, was unable to come to court.

Because the new trial date fell during another term of court, the jury had to be dismissed and a new one will have to be drawn from the January term panel.

Cook is suing for workman's compensation for injuries he alleged to have suffered on the job while working for Brown and Root. The plaintiff is asking recovery of $25 a week for 401 weeks, according to his petition.

Judge Lewis M. Goodrich, during the postponement activities neglected to note the new trial date on the docket. Discussions of attorney relations, where I was playing news in the case gave rise to the 'the organ for services, and we misunderstood action."

Boyle's Column ... As World Gets Smaller, The Folks Get Bigger—If Not Better

By H. L. BOYLE
NEW YORK (P) — People are getting bigger. — If not better. As the world gets smaller and smaller, the folk who live in it are growing taller and taller. I don't envy them. Height is losing its glamor. Every growing boy yearns to be a big, strapping six-footer-plus, who goes through life howling bullies out of his way right and left.

But when he does reach maturity he finds things aren't that simple. If he is over six feet and shoves somebody, right or wrong, the cry goes up, "Look at the big bum throwing his weight around." The crowd is against him.

Every inch a man grows over six feet today is a handicap instead of a help, unless he is a basketball player or a cop directing traffic.

The tall man finds he is something of a misfit in a civilization tailored to people of smaller size. He bangs his head getting in and out of motor cars, he can't sleep in a regulation size 74-inch bed and he finds it hard to buy a suit off the rack.

Inferiority Complex
No ordinary man or woman will set behind him in a movie or at a prize fight without grumbling loud enough for the complaint to reach his ears, and if he lives in a boarding house his fellow roomers resent his roar at the table.

As a result, many a tall man gets an inferiority complex. Far from taking advantage of his size, he is more likely to submit to public insults and ridicule than a sub-five-footer.

The Compensation
His attitude troubles of peacetime are doubled in wartime. David long ago disproved with his slingshot the saying that "A good big man is always better than a good little man." The invention of the rifle made extra size not only something of a nuisance but also a positive danger to a warrior, because he has more body to expose. I was pointing out these height hazards to a walking human Alp I knew. He grinned and said tolerantly: "Everything you say is certainly true. But you left out one thing. There are still an awful lot of girls who like to lean on a tall man's shoulder, and there always will be."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Optimist Helped Win Bridge Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
The recent Metropolitan Bridge Championships, held in New York, turned out to be a family romp for Eddie and Rose Loewenthal. Eddie won the Men's Pair and the Open Pair events with two different partners, while his wife, Rose, landed fourth in the Women's Pair event and fourth also with Eddie in the Mixed Pair event.

Part of the reason for this magnificent showing may be seen from the way they bid and played today's hand.

There was nothing firm about the bidding, to be sure. Eddie had to use his best rose-colored glasses to find his bid of three spades, but Rose didn't need any special glasses to accept this invitation to game.

West opened the eight of clubs and Eddie took the trick immediately with dummy's ace for fear that West had a singleton. After drawing trumps with the ace and king, declarer led a club towards his queen. East hopped up with the king and got out safely with another club to declarer's queen.

The contract obviously depended on winning a trick with dummy's queen of hearts, but Loewenthal was in no hurry to try for this trick. Instead he led a diamond.

allowing East to win with the nine. This defenders were likewise in no hurry to tackle the hearts. Both sides were right, of course, since it would have cost a trick to begin the suit. East continued the diamonds, and South ruffed. Declarer next entered dummy with the eight of spades in order to ruff out dummy's last diamond, thus setting the stage for the throw in.

Loewenthal led a low heart from his hand and finessed the eight from dummy. East was able to win with the jack of hearts, but was then on the spot. If he returned a heart, declarer would let it ride to the queen. If East returned a diamond or a club, declarer would get a ruff and a discard. Either way, nothing could stop Loewenthal from making his ambitious game contract.

A serious problem for the world. He said, the younger generation must be taught how to use the time it gains through achievements in the fields of transportation and communication. He added however, these same advances could show the way to peace for the world. "When people get together they fall in love," he pointed out. And added that as nations draw closer together through transportation and communication, they will be drawn closer in understanding and appreciation for each other. He said today's generation must teach its successor to believe in its country, its self and in God. Downing was introduced by outgoing chairman Husted. Nominating committee was headed by Fred Neslage and included J. N. Perkins, Amarillo, Fletcher Kennedy, Pampa; D. J. Gribbon, Pampa; Dallas Bowsher, Pampa; and Ralph O'Neill, Borger. All are past chairmen of the API.

Two Auto Accidents Are Reported Here

Two automobiles have collided with the tail-ends of two others in separate accidents, upping Pampa's 1952 accident toll to 341 — two more than an average of one-a-day. And total damages to those two vehicles have been estimated at $260. Caroline G. Billingsley, 30, of 1925 Huff, was following closely behind a vehicle operated by John J. Kramer, 57, of Skellytown, on Hobart at 3 p.m. Wednesday, police reported, when her car collided with his. Kramer had slowed down to permit a truck in front of him to turn left into a driveway when the accident occurred, police said. There were no citations.

Butford H. McGee, 40, of Skellytown, skidded on the muddy pavement of Alcock at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday, according to police, and collided with a vehicle driven by Abner C. Hartzog, of 703 N. Frost. Hartzog had stopped in a traffic lane and was waiting for cars to move at the time of the collision, police reported. Again, no citations were handed out.

COUNTY

wheat — the grain sorghum stalk type — were benefitted by recent moisture. Whaley figured, but moisture did the remainder of the acreage very little good. About 130,000 acres in Gray County were seeded to wheat this fall.

Admitting that it is "a little too early to tell," Whaley insisted that if there had been enough moisture to sprout any of the planted wheat, the county would really be in trouble unless "the rains came" — a quick Texas PMA office, The AP said, has stopped taking further orders for emergency hay because of a large backlog already on file. Whether PMA would begin accepting orders again was a moot question.

Airing the fact that it is getting more and more difficult to procure hay from the Midwest, Whaley thought that it might have to be acquired from the Far West — and that, he said, "might make the price higher."

Very little of the hay that has arrived in Gray County has been had, he continued. One load — selling at $38 per ton — was turned down in Wellington recently, he related. So it was put up for sale to all comers — and sold for $37.50 per ton.

Woman Fined $25 On Charge Of Theft

Johanne Louise Duncan, 25, of Amarillo, was fined $25 and costs today in county court on a charge of theft. An entertainer in Amarillo, Miss Duncan was charged with stealing two dresses in The Flats and was picked up by the sheriff's office Wednesday afternoon.

Double-Deck Buses 300 Participate In Scout Clinic

Pampa got a peek at its bus transportation future when John Gilliam, manager of the local bus terminal told Rotarians yesterday that double-deck coaches will some day be traveling through here between the West Coast, Memphis and St. Louis. He gave no specific date, but said, in a classification talk, to the club, that back orders for large buses — on order since 1950 and before — have been cancelled in favor of orders for the new rolling two-story buses, equipped with rest rooms and snack bar. In his talk, Gilliam said some of the Continental Trailways buses now have over five million miles on them. In other information on bus transportation, Gilliam predicted Continental Trailways will be largest bus company in the world, within the next two years — larger than Greyhound, its biggest competitor. Continental, the manager added, has the best safety record of any bus company — one accident per 2,000,000 miles. They company chalks up an accident if nothing is hurt more than some paint scraped off the bus's side.

A short question and answer period was allowed following Gilliam's talk. Buddy Cockrell, retiring Junior Rotarian, introduced his successor for December, Richard Qualls.

Some Loot Recovered

Police said they didn't believe the robber was struck by any of the bullets from Perry's luger pistol. Perry and police later searched the lot and found $9,488 in watches and rings which had fallen out of the envelope as the man fled. The remainder of the jewelry still is missing.

Contractors Tour Highway Projects

Contractors expecting to bid Dec. 17 in Austin on grade raising for State Highway 70, south of Pampa, were being shown projects this morning by state highway engineers. Five separate projects, totaling about three and one half miles, will be raised about two feet above the 1950 high water mark when those sections were inundated by flooding lakes. All of the sections to be raised are located between Pampa and U. S. Highway 66, engineers said. Bids on the project will be opened by the State Highway Commission in Austin on Dec. 17.

ROKs Smash Three Chinese Assaults

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean troops smashed three Chinese assaults on Sniper Ridge in pre-dawn darkness today — the bitterness of the hand-to-hand combat matching that of the sub-zero cold.

Two of the attacks were described as suicidal. The Reds, thickly bundled in their quilted uniforms, charged up the icy slopes behind an artillery and mortar barrage of more than 5,000 shells.

An Eighth Army officer said the South Koreans stood firm. By midday, the Chinese had withdrawn. Although their assaults were made in groups of 40 and 50 men, the bodies of 92 Reds were counted on the icy, forbidding slopes of Pinpoint Hill.

ty last week by the weather, will march through City Hall where Santa's helpers will pass out thousands of bags of brightly colored Christmas candy. Santa hasn't forgotten Mama and Daddy either. He directed local merchants sometime ago to provide some Christmas presents too. They agreed, and had coupons printed in the newspaper to be filled out and dropped in boxes provided for them in their respective stores. These coupons must be deposited in the boxes by 5-p. m. Friday.

Then, after the 60-odd drawings are made a grand prize, or jackpot, drawing for a 21-inch television set will be held. To win all prizes, the persons whose names are drawn must be present. The set is a combined gift of participating merchants.

Coy Palmer, co-owner of Station KPDM, one of Santa's chief Pampa helpers, will serve as master of ceremonies for the program.

You Know Something About This Man!

You've never seen him before. And yet, as you watch him approach his motor car—you feel instinctively that you know something about this man. You feel you know something of his background and his standing among his fellow men. You sense his consideration for the safety of his family and his friends. And you have a clear indication of the mark he has made in his chosen field of endeavor. For that's one of the extraordinary things about the Cadillac car: It speaks so eloquently of the man who owns and drives it.

It does so from its long association with the world's distinguished motorists... and out of its constant participation in the lives of the nation's leading people. In every community across the land, Cadillac is the predictable choice of those who choose without restriction. And how well they choose—and how wisely! For the Cadillac car—as any owner can tell you—is surpassingly satisfying from every standpoint. Smooth, powerful and responsive—it makes each and every journey a pleasure to anticipate and a joy to experience. Beautiful, luxurious and inspiring—it adds to the pleasure and satisfaction of the whole day's activities. And dependable, long-lived and economical in operation—it complements its owner's practical wisdom through every marvelous mile he drives. Wouldn't it be wonderful to enjoy all these things in your motor car? Well then... come in and see us. We'd be delighted to see you at any time.

Bethlehem Rites Feature March To Nativity Cave

By HOWARD DE'WALD
NEA Special Correspondent
PHOENIX, Ariz. (NEA) — Peter James paints pictures with postage stamps.

And if that seems like sacrilege to stamp collectors chances are they'll change their minds after glimpsing one of James' colorful works.

James uses variously colored canceled stamps to depict subjects like Ukrainian girls in native costume, U.S. and Ukrainian emblems, rose bushes, and parrots.

A Ukrainian native, James used 855 stamps for a picture of two parrots, 3005 for two native Ukrainian dancers, 4000 for a Ukrainian girl, and 735 for a U.S. emblem.

He uses canceled stamps that are almost worthless. Stamp collectors turn their backs on them, but James picks them for their color and size.

The stamps that go into his pictures come from all over the world. He buys them by the pound. James' unusual art work has been exhibited at the Chicago Century of Progress and the Great Lakes Exposition at Cleveland.

Many noted persons are owners of his works. Franklin D. Roosevelt was the recipient of one of James' stamp pictures.

James also makes distinctive frames for his pictures. He inlays mother-of-pearl and tiny, colored beads in polished wood.

Bathing reportedly was stylish among the Arabs at a time when perfume was still a substitute for soap and water in the courts of Europe.

Gold was discovered in Tasmania in 1851 and 20 years later a valuable tin strike was made.

Rev. J. Edwin Kerr New Pastor For McLean

McLean (Special) — Rev. and Mrs. J. Edwin Kerr have arrived to assume the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of McLean, Rev. Kerr has been the pastor of the Meeker, Oklahoma, Presbyterian Church for the past seven years.

Rev. Kerr is a graduate of Trinity University of San Antonio, graduating from this school when it was located at Waxahatchie, Tex. He has done graduate work at Vanderbilt and McCormick Seminars and is also a graduate of Lane Theological Seminary of Chicago and has been active in the ministry for about 20 years, both in Oklahoma and Texas.

He is a native Texan, having been born in Collin County. The Kerrs are the parents of two children who are both married. Formal installation of Mr. Kerr has not yet been arranged by the Amarillo Presbytery.

Europe-Bound Band Slates 3 Concerts

ABILENE — The Europe-bound Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy band, which will give concerts during the holidays to overseas troops, will present its program to West Texas audiences December 11-13.

On Dec. 11 and 12, the program will be given on its own campus. The Cowboy musicians Dec. 3 will play at Anson High School.

Under the direction of Marion E. McClure, the band will give the same numbers which will be given overseas. The program has been described by Bert Wisnew, program director of the USO camp shows as "outstanding."

Thirty persons will comprise the band and the staff members which will go to Europe via air.

The tour will cover United States Military installations in Italy, Austria, Germany, France and England.

The unit will travel through-out the tour in the Special Mission Aircraft and will be one of five Christmas shows, the other four of which will take off from Burbank, Calif., at the same time with Hollywood celebrities whose tours will cover the Far East Command, Alaska, Northeast

It's Easy To Play Cut-Throat

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

More readers keep asking about the rules of Cut-Throat Canasta, so I'll repeat the important points.

The game is for three people. Each player is dealt thirteen cards. When you draw from the stock pile you take two cards at a time, but you discard only one card. Hence your hand tends to grow bigger all the time. Game is 7000 points, and the rules for the initial meld are the same as in regular Canasta.

You can meld from your hand to begin with, but it's foolish unless you can meld out your entire hand (concealed). The player who first picks up the discard pile scores all by himself, and the other two automatically become partners against him for that hand.

When two players become partners, they keep their melds together, and they score together in exactly the same way that two partners meld and score in regular four-handed Canasta.

If one of them melds out, they both get full credit for all melds—less the amount left in the hand of the partner who did not meld out. If the lone player melds out, both partners score for his melds.

The most important pointer to remember when you try the game is that two partners playing together can almost always pile up a score of more than a thousand points. Hence you don't become the lone player (thus taking on two opponents at once) unless you can get enough from the discard pile to give you a meld of about a thousand points likewise. It's fun to be the lone player, but there's no use in butting your head against a stone wall.

Try this game. You'll like it immensely.

Oil Official Assails Imports

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — Oil imports should come into the United States "only in a manner and in such quantities that will not destroy the domestic oil industry," Russell E. Brown, Washington, D. C., general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said here today.

Speaking at the annual meeting of New Mexico Oil & Gas Association, Brown said increasing imports "present problems for solution in the near future that may prove far more serious than those which have confronted the industry for many years."

He recalled government efforts in 1929 to "close down the search for and development of oil in the United States" and to supply markets then supporting the domestic industry from foreign production.

He said at that time imports had reached 10 per cent of total U.S. requirements, and exports amounted to about 15 per cent of requirements.

"That import position was improved through efforts of domestic producers until, in 1933, we were importing only 3.2 per cent of our total demand," he said, adding:

Brown declared rising imports "constitute a great threat to the domestic industry's ability to reach the proportions necessary to the nation's welfare."

GREAT NEWS! NEW SYRUP BIG HIT!

New BRER RABBIT reminds "Old-Timers" of Real Ribbon Cane Flavor!

FORT WORTH... Is there an "old-timer" in your family who is always harking back to the wonderful syrup folks enjoyed in the "good old days"? The kind made from Ribbon Cane—with a flavor that was simply glorious? Today that marvelous "old-time" flavor is here again!

It's the new Brer Rabbit Syrup—a new flavor your family will simply dote on! Here's lightness and sweetness in a delicious combination that modern Southerners vote "tops." Mild and light, it tastes just right—makes everything taste finer than ever!

IN STORE TESTS... folks who tasted, praised its flavor

DALLAS: "Taste this new syrup, ma'am—and say how you like it!"

In stores through the Delta and East Texas region, people tasted the new Brer Rabbit Syrup... smacked their lips... and gave their delighted answers:

Ten to one—the chorus was "YES!"

Did they like the new Brer Rabbit "better than the syrup they were now using?"

Again the chorus was a resounding "Yes!" Almost 7 times as many said "Yes" as said "No!"

Even people who have used Brer Rabbit Syrup for years liked this new Brer Rabbit even better!

People said things like this:

In Houston: "Sweet enough but not too sweet—has a new taste."
"Would be fine on waffles."

Local stores now stocking new flavor

Your grocer now has the new improved, lighter Brer Rabbit Syrup under the old familiar Brer Rabbit label.

MAKES CORN BREAD a New Treat!

Your fine corn bread will win new praise, one folks taste it with new Brer Rabbit Syrup. It's sweet, but not too sweet. A light, mild syrup that makes hot breads, pancakes and waffles taste just perfect!

In syrup it's the Flavor that counts

"Everybody in this sugar cane country knows it takes the right sugar cane to get that old-time ribbon cane flavor," says Mr. S. K. Hays of Edom, Texas. "The new Brer Rabbit Syrup reminds me of the sugar mill days when I was a boy. And in syrup, it's the flavor that counts!"

There are many syrups on the market but there's only one way to judge them—and that's on flavor. You'll find some have a strong taste, others an over-sweet taste. But Brer Rabbit—well, there's a syrup that tastes just right. And Brer Rabbit makes pancakes, waffles, hot biscuits and corn bread better than ever before.

TRY BRER RABBIT AND SEE FOR YOURSELF

For light, mild syrup, try BROWN LABEL Brer Rabbit

For richer, fuller sugar cane flavor, try BLUE LABEL Brer Rabbit

Jukes And Jocks Are Dinning Our Ears And It's Just Dec. 3

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Here it is only the beginning of December and already the jukes and jocks are dinning our ears with Christmas songs.
 The juke boxes and the disc jockeys have a full quota of Yuletide carols, some centuries old and some brand new. The new ones will be as abundant as ever this year, because members of the music industry are always hopeful that they will find another "White Christmas."
 I can remember when the only Christmas songs we sang were the ones we learned in Sunday school.
 I seem also to remember when Christmas was celebrated on or about Dec. 25.
 Of course, there had been some modern Christmas songs, but practically all you heard were oldies like "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells." All that changed in 1942. That was the year Bing Crosby crooned Irving Berlin's with men going off to war. The "That was a sentimental year, called "Holiday Inn."
 "White Christmas" in a film Bing's "White Christmas" platter orders are heavy in the music business seemed to hit everybody's maten range as high as eight mil- is the top seller of all time. Esti- nesses, but most experts agree that heart and stay there. Sales rec- lion.
 2,000,000 Copies
 Two million copies of the sheet music were sold in the first year of "White Christmas," and 300,000 are reportedly sold each year.
 That is the reason that each year song writers rack their brains for new Christmas songs. And music publishers and record companies plug the daylight out of them, hoping for another "White Christmas."
 I found some research on this subject at Capitol Records, which this year is going all out for a tune called "Hang Your Wishes on a Tree." It's a new song written by Marian Boyle and Eddie Gale and recorded by Les Baxter.
 Too Good, May Be
 "It's a good song," observed Capitol executive Dave Dexter. "That's the only thing that worries me—it might be too good."
 He told me that the song was selected from an estimated 500 to 600 Christmas ditties sub- mitted to the record company this year. That gives you an idea of the chances of getting a song recorded, much less have it become a hit.
 "The song-writing business is the toughest in the world to crack," Dexter explained. "I think it was Irving Berlin who said that three out of every five American adults write songs at some time during their lives."
 Another viewpoint on the Christmas song industry is offered by Herb Montel, whose firm published "Hang Your Wishes on a Tree."
 "Every publisher would like a big Christmas song," he com- mented. "It's just like having an annuity policy. Yet every pub- lisher tries to discourage writers from writing them because the competition is so great."

Village Still Remembers Americans

MATCHING GREEN, Eng. (AP)—STILL
 Matching Green was one of those big bases carved out of the countryside in World War II. A thousand GIs built it. Many thousands more roamed its miles of winding roads and flew off from runways toward Germany.
 It was a big noisy base. It was the biggest thing that had happened in this area since the Norman invaders swarmed thru back in the 11th Century. This is a hatched - cottage countryside where farmers live their lives without ever seeing London some 30 miles away.
 When the Yanks came in 1942 they bulldozed through the distant fields beyond the hedgerows, kept their giant concrete mixers growling through the night. The vil- lage pubs ran short of beer. The girls began to wear lipstick.
 Three kindly ladies, the eld- erly Misses Green who ran the White Roding Post Office, en- tertained some of the young Amer- icans; the elderly Miss Rowe had her group down the lane at Ab- bess Roding.
 "We still get letters," the Miss- es Green tell you now. And there are snapshots shown—ex- GIs with their wives, ex-GIs with their children, ex-GIs in front of their houses, ex-GIs with their cars. "Our Americans," the ladies say with open pride.
 A lot of the cottages have daughters who went off across the Atlantic as GI-brides. Up at the north end of the main runway the cows are grazing again. The white, naked concrete cuts its same wide swath through the miles of farmland in a vast stretch that is still an awe- some sight. But the fields where the huts stood have been plowed again.

Case Of Dead Lions Puzzle Wildlife Men

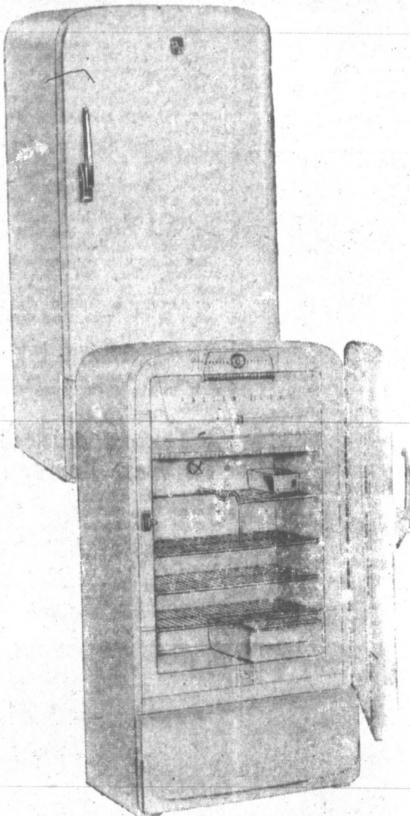

BOMBAY (AP)—Indian Wildlife experts wonder what happened to the 10 dead lions recently found in the nearby Gir Forest sanc- tuary, last haven of the Asiatic lion.
 Villagers discovered the dead beasts scattered through the jungles with no marks of wound.
 Officials plan an investigation to determine whether some disease was responsible.
 As part of an official police aimed at safeguarding the lion numbering about 200, from e- function, the government too, emergency measures to provide water for the lions when the forest area suffered a drought four months ago.

Train Is Stopped For Rabbit Chase

CHURSTON FERRERS, Eng. (AP)
 A passenger train pulled up for an unscheduled stop near here yesterday to let a hare—that oversized European rabbit—cross the tracks.
 Right behind came the hounds, and then 12 riders from this neck of South Devon.

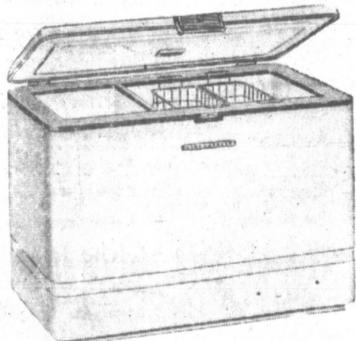

SLIM PICKINGS—"Snowball," the Chicago zoo's enterprising polar bear, whistles away a dull afternoon reaching for stray peanuts outside his cage. The bear facts of the case are that Snowball is bored, now that the tourist season is over with, and there are few of those funny people to watch, anymore.

Tigers, Browns In Another Big Swap

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—In the fourth major Detroit-St. Louis deal in a year, the Tigers today traded pitchers Virgil Trucks and Hal White and center fielder Johnny Groth to the Browns for left fielder Bob Nieman, second baseman Owen Friend and catcher-outfielder J. W. Porter.

The swap, involving some $250,000 in player talent, did not include any cash according to Rudy Schaffer, Browns general manager.

Trucks, a 33-year-old righthander, pitched two no-hitters in 1952, against Washington in May and the New York Yankees in August—but wound up with a 5-19 record.

Groth, 28, a Detroit regular since 1949, hit 284 in 141 games and White, a 33-year-old relief pitcher, had a 1-8 record in 41 games.

The most important St. Louis player involved was Nieman, 25, a rookie sensation with a .289 batting average, 18 homers and 74 runs batted in. The righthanded hitter hit two straight homers against Boston in his major league debut, Sept. 14, 1951.

Porter, used both as a catcher and outfielder, received a $65,000 bonus from the Chicago White

Attendance Down In '52 Football

NEW YORK (AP)—Attendance at major college football games declined nearly 1 1/2 per cent this season although four conferences reported big increases over 1951.

The annual Associated Press survey showed an over-all nationwide drop of 1.49 per cent with the biggest decreases on the Pacific Coast and among the unorganized Eastern independents.

The actual crowd per game was smaller by only 378 customers—a figure subject to revision since some colleges furnished only round number estimates of their turnstile count. Only major conference members outside of the East counted.

The Southern, Southeastern, Big Seven and the Missouri Valley Conferences enjoyed flush seasons. The per game average in the Southeastern and Southern Conferences increased about 10.5 per cent. The 1952 average was 27,222 a game in the Southeastern and 16,092 in the Southern.

Paced by fourth-ranked Oklahoma, the Big Seven drew an average of 25,741 for an increase of 6.88 per cent. The sprawling Missouri Valley Conference, led by the drawing power of Houston and Tulsa, had an average increase of 8.64 per cent.

In contrast the attendance was down 15 per cent in the Pacific Coast Conference, where some of the largest crowds of the season were recorded.

In the East, attendance as a whole declined 9.49 per cent although the Ivy League lost only 5.67 per cent. Pennsylvania topped the list in the East, as usual, with an estimated 372,000 fans for seven games. The Quakers were outdrawn only by Ohio State and Michigan in the Big Ten.

Ohio State was the nation's No. 1 gate attraction with a turn out of 453,911 for six home games. Michigan attracted 396,538 for the same number of contests at Ann Arbor.

But Big Ten attendance as a whole was down 3.22 per cent.

Schoolboy Gridders Head Into Stretch; Westerners Favored

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Twenty-four games this week end bring the four-pronged Texas schoolboy football championship race into the stretch.

Classes AAAA and AAA will be moving into the semi-finals; Classes AA and A into the quarter-finals.

Mighty Lubbock and Wichita Falls enter the Class AAAA play-off heavily favored to push through to the finals. That means they are nicked to blast Austin of El Paso and Ray of Corpus Christi out of the way in this week's games. In other first-round battles North Dallas is a mild favorite over North Side of Fort Worth, and Baytown is expected to eliminate Reagan of Houston.

Two Teams Stand Out

The situation is similar in Class AAA. Two teams stand out—Breckenridge, the defending champion, and undefeated, untied Temple with its pass-master, Danday Doyle Taylor. Breckenridge warms up for the state race against twice-beaten Lamesa. Temple gets the speed boys of Port Neches, who lost to Lufkin and Port Arthur. Temple beat Lufkin and licked Baytown, which defeated Port Arthur.

Other Class AAA first-round games send Denison against Texarkana and Edison (San Antonio) against McAllen. Edison and Mc

Allen both are undefeated and untied.

The second round in Class A starts tonight when Honey Grove plays Van, one of the favorites for the championship, at Greenville.

Tomorrow night both Class AA and Class A have the biggest part of their card.

Schedules For All

Here is the schedule for all classes: AAAA—Friday: North Side Fort Worth at North Dallas, 8 p.m.; Baytown at Reagan (Houston), 8 p.m.; Saturday: Lubbock at Austin (El Paso), 2 p.m.; Wichita Falls at Ray (Corpus Christi), 2 p.m.

Class AAA—Friday: Texarkana at Deason, 2:30 p.m.; Edison at McAllen, 8 p.m.; Saturday: Lamesa vs Breckenridge at Sweetwater, 8 p.m.; Port Neches at Temple, 2 p.m.

Class AA—Friday: Floydada at Childress, 2 p.m.; Stephenville at Graham, 8 p.m.; Terrell vs Center at Kilgus, 7:30 p.m.; Belton at Killeen, 8 p.m.; Bellville vs LaMarque at Richmond-Rosenberg, 8 p.m.; Saturday: Stamford vs Seminole at Snyder, 2:30 p.m.; Ennis at Huntville, 2 p.m.; Westaco at Yoakum, 8 p.m.

Van Plays Today

Class A—Thursday: Honey Grove vs Van at Greenville, 7:30 p.m.; Friday: Haskell at Wink, 2 p.m.; Crowell vs Clifton at Vernon, 2:30 p.m.; Mart vs Smithville at Cameron, 8:15 p.m.; Deer Park at Vanderbilt, 8 p.m.; Lyford at Hondo, 8 p.m.; Saturday: Olton at Denver City, 2:30 p.m.; Gaston at Cedar Bayou, 7:30 p.m.

Hitting 23 out of 31 selections last week, we posted an average of .742, which is only fair. Here's for a better record this week:

Lubbock Picked

Lubbock-Austin (El Paso)—Lubbock by four touchdowns.

North Side-North Dallas—Could go either way but we'll take North Dallas by a squeak.

Wichita Falls-Ray Corpus Christi—Ray can't stop the Coyote

Owls Award 32 Grid Letters

HOUSTON (AP)—Rice Institute, which last night bestowed football letters on 32 players and a student manager, will have 23 lettermen back for 1953.

The awards were announced last night at the annual dinner given the team by the "R" Association, a group made up of former Rice lettermen.

Of the returning lettermen, 14 will be line men and 9 will be backs.

Cotton Bowl Meet Lists 32 Teams

DALLAS (AP)—A field of 32 teams will compete in the 13th annual Cotton Bowl Invitation High School Basketball Tournament which opens here Dec. 26.

Teams entered are: Adamson, North Dallas, Highland Park, Woodrow Wilson, Hillcrest, Jesuit, South Oak Cliff, Crozier Tech, Forest and Sunset of Dallas; Abilene, Biley, Duncan, Okla. Martins Mills, Whiteface, Forrester Plano, Waxahachie, Slidell, Irving, Canton, Forney, Pleasant Grove, Arlington, Carrollton, Krum, Wolfe City, Waco, Frisco, Garland, Richardson and Scurry.

Arizona State, former Border Conference member, will not be able to bid for the league basketball.

Terrell-Center—This will be quite a ball game but Terrell will come through.

Ennis-Huntsville—Another good game but the vote goes to Huntsville.

Killeen-Belton—Killeen in a narrow one.

Bellville-LaMarque—A mild vote for LaMarque.

Yoakum-Westaco—Yoakum is the selection.

Olton-Denver City—Denver City by three touchdowns.

Wink-Haskell—A rousing battle for Wink.

Crowell-Clifton—We'll take Crowell.

Honey Grove-Van—Van will win it.

Gaston-Cedar Bayou—Cedar Bayou will remain undefeated.

Mart-Smithville—Mart by a nose.

Deer Park-Vanderbilt—Deer is the choice.

Hondo-Lyford—Lyford in our book.

Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Ron Neccial (NETCH-eye) has been with five different teams since he began with Salisbury, N. C., in 1950.

Flagstaff Joins N-Mexico Loop

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Arizona State College of Flagstaff officially became a member of the New Mexico Conference last night.

The conference had included only seven schools since Sul Ross of Alpine, Tex., withdrew in 1950 to join the Lone Star circuit.

Arizona State, former Border Conference member, will not be able to bid for the league basketball.

Woodrow Wilson, Hillcrest, Jesuit, South Oak Cliff, Crozier Tech, Forest and Sunset of Dallas; Abilene, Biley, Duncan, Okla. Martins Mills, Whiteface, Forrester Plano, Waxahachie, Slidell, Irving, Canton, Forney, Pleasant Grove, Arlington, Carrollton, Krum, Wolfe City, Waco, Frisco, Garland, Richardson and Scurry.

New Merten Home Demonstration Club Officers Installed At Christmas Fete

New Merten Home Demonstration Club officers for the next two years were installed at the annual Christmas party held at 1:45 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. T. G. Groves.

The candle light ceremony of officer installation was conducted by Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent, before a table decorated with angels hair and Christmas decorations. The centerpiece was of red carnations sent by Mrs. C. A. Jones, a former member.

New officers are Mrs. Volney Day, president; Mrs. P. T. Boyd, vice president; Mrs. T. G. Groves, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Archie Maness, recreation chairman; Mrs. D. A. Rife, finance; Mrs. J. C. Steward (outgoing president) reporter.

Miss Dunlap stated in the installation that home demonstration work is a means by which women may obtain the latest and best methods of all work pertaining to bettering homes.

It was announced at the meeting that the Home Demonstration Council will entertain the members of the Gray County Court with a dinner at 12 noon Dec. 16.

Plans were made to hold the club's annual family Christmas upper in the home of Mrs. J. C. Steward at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Members were urged to attend the Council Christmas party at 2 p.m. Thursday. Gifts are to be

Book On Home Decorating Is Reviewed At Meeting Of Parent Education Club

Mrs. Tom Braly reviewed "Decorating Is Fun" by Dorothy Draper, at a meeting of the Parent Education Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Cliff Whitney.

Mrs. Jack Foster showed and gave the history of an antique chair made in the 1700's and now owned by Mrs. Whitney.

Mrs. Braly said in the review that Dorothy Draper listed the five most important factors in decoration as color, smart accessories, balance, comfort and courage.

She stressed that the ceiling should not be neglected, suggesting it be covered with color or paper.

A monochromatic scheme is different, she said, but effective if done right and she stressed that it should not be vague but make use of definite colors.

A color suggestion was black and white with dark red. It was pointed out that doors shouldn't be ignored. Contrasting colors go well if the doors are beautiful but, the same shades should be used if they are unattractive.

She said, also, that fireplace accessories should be in scale and warned not to try to be clever with fireplace.

According to the review, slip covers are good even in the most formal rooms.

A word about end table selection suggested careful consideration so as not to get spindly end tables or ones that are too tall. Balance is most important, Mrs. Braly said, including furniture and pictures which should never be scattered.

A Christmas party for children of members was planned for the next meeting. It is to be held in the Country Club with Mrs. Clinton Evans and Mrs. George Small in charge. Members are to bring children's gifts to the Country Club before noon.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Tom Braly, R. W. Clark, Dale Culwell, Robert Curry, Clinton Evans, Gene Fatheree, Jack Foster, Chilton Hill, George Hoffmann, Homer Johnson, Myron Marx Jr., Tom Rose, George Snell, J. B. Veale, C. C. Whitney and Ed Williams.

RUTH MILLETT

What if anything—can parents do if the neighborhood "gangs" leaves their child sitting lonesomely on the sidelines?

A mother writes that after two months of living in a new neighborhood their son is still being ignored by the other children. She wonders if it would be a good idea for her to talk to their parents about the problem in the hope that the parents will encourage their children to be more friendly.

It probably wouldn't do any good and might do harm. If there are things you and your husband can do to help.

Is there any play equipment in your yard to attract the neighborhood children? Anything from a tie swing to a tree-house seems to attract children irresistibly as a safe attraction for women shoppers.

A small boy sitting lonesomely on the front steps is likely to be bypassed by other children. A boy up in a tree-house is almost sure to have company in no time.

Also, if your husband will get out and play baseball with your son—the crowd will probably gather and you will have more fun than er. Small boys find a man's companionship more fun even than television.

Cook's Nook

Just how the name "King" came to be associated with this popular luncheon, dinner or supper dish is a matter that usually brings forth a little discussion. Some claim that Chicken A La King was named for a Philadelphia restaurant owner who dreamed up the dish late one evening, years ago, when his supply of chicken was low and a late-evening crowd ordered chicken. Others believe it was so named because it is fine fit for a king.

Whatever its rightful origin may be, you can't beat Chicken or Turkey A La King for goodness when it is served on toasted corn bread. Corn bread possesses a rich flavor that's naturally so-called with the tasty creamed chicken or turkey. A strong point in favor of this combination is that the toasted corn bread will not go limp when it's covered with the hot mixture.

Toasted corn bread makes the perfect base for the King method of using the strippings taken from the left over carcass of a holiday bird, whether it's turkey or chicken.

CHICKEN A LA KING

- 1-4 cup green pepper, chopped
- 1 tablespoon onion
- 1-4 cup butter or margarine
- 1-4 cup flour
- 1 cup chicken stock
- 1 cup cream
- 1-2 teaspoon salt
- 1-8 teaspoon white pepper
- 2 tablespoons pimiento, cut
- 3 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
- 2 egg yolks, well beaten
- 1-2 cup chicken or turkey stock, cold

Toasted corn bread (recipe below)

Brown green pepper and onion lightly in butter or margarine. Blend in the flour. Add stock and cream and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper, pimiento, and chicken and cook covered, 20 minutes in top of double boiler. Just before serving stir in the well-beaten egg yolks mixed with the 1-2 cup stock. Serve on squares of corn bread which have been split and toasted in toaster or broiler. Yield 4 servings.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. R. L. Price, Ben Mahanay, Paul Edwards, Lee Price, E. M. Rexroat, Roy L. Jones, W.K. Hartley, Leo Davis, Beulah Wells and the hostess, Mrs. Randolph.

Bridge Club Schedules Master Point Session

All bridge players have been invited to a master point session scheduled to be held by the Amarillo Duplicate Bridge Club, Sunday in the Amarillo Hotel.

Registration is to begin at 1:30 p.m. and close at 2 p.m.

Meeting Change Made For Entre Nous Club

A change has been made in the meeting time and place of the semi-monthly gathering of the Entre Nous Club, formerly scheduled to meet with Mrs. H. D. Tarr.

New meeting time is 1 p.m. Friday in the home of Mrs. Guy Farrington, 1230 Christine.

1 1-2 cups corn meal
1-3 cup sifted flour
1 1-2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 eggs, beaten slightly
1 1-4 cups milk
1-4 cup melted butter or margarine
(If self-rising corn meal and flour are used, omit salt and baking powder.)

Mix and sift the dry ingredients together. Combine beaten egg, milk and melted butter margarine which has been cooled. Pour liquids over dry ingredients, mixing only until moistened. Pour into a well-greased 8- or 9-inch square pan and bake in a 400 degree F. oven until it shrinks from the sides of the pan, about 20 to 25 minutes.

BUTTONS AN' BEAUX SHARON SMITH

"Hummm — you're not nearly as homely as I expected"

DAYTIME NIGHTMARE is the visitor's first impression when he takes a first peek at these seventh grade creations for last Halloween. But they will soon be replaced by more cheerful faces and statures of Santa Claus and other Christmas time characters. The faces are part of a craft known as paper sculpture taught in the junior high school by Miss Hatley Eaton. The whole idea is to let growing children learn to work with their fingers and hands and allow their imagination to come out in creative work, Miss Eaton explained. (News Photo)

'Best Informed GIs' In Korea Are Reported On Way Home

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
 gets back to Louisville will try to get into the newspaper call themselves the "best informed GIs in Korea" are on the way home.
 The three have read millions of words of news copy over telephones to news offices in Tokyo since June 15, 1951, when headquarters of the Far East Command Censorship Division took over the transmission of news dispatches from Korea.
 They are Cpl. John J. Kuntz of Chicago, Cpl. Calvin L. Lingler of Hamilton, O., and Pfc. Clifford L. Fallon of Louisville, Ky. All are 23 years old.
 For almost a year and a half the three have had a ringside seat at all the big stories in Korea — from the peace conferences to the war itself.
 News stories about Korea are funneled through GIs' censorship then by telephone or teletype to various news agencies and special news representatives in Tokyo for relay to the U.S. and the rest of the world.
Soldiers Are Trained
 Important news is handled by telephone. The Eighth Army has trained a crew of soldiers to handle and read news copy over the radio telephone.
 "One thing about this job," said Fallon, "I've certainly learned to read aloud. I think it has helped my vocabulary."
 "I guess we guys are about the best informed GIs in Korea," he said. "We get the news even before the newspaper editors."
 When a hot story is breaking the three soldiers are swept into the frantic tempo of the newspaper business.
 Fallon has been on the job 16 straight hours at a time. During the White Horse Mountain battle this fall he talked on the phone seven consecutive hours.
 Once he spent 30 days at the press train in Munsan, relaying news stories of the peace talks hot off the typewriters of Allied reporters. He considers it one of his best experiences. When he

South Korean Is The Wizard Of Japanese Stock Market

TOKYO (AP) — The Wizard of South Korea is the wizard of the booming Japanese stock market. He is a 37-year-old South Korean who started without a penny of his own in 1945 and now speculates with some 10 million dollars entrusted to him by millions of clients.
 His personal fortune is a secret but Matsutani Ito's lavish way of life is in marked contrast to more than 600,000 other Koreans in Japan. Most of them are poverty-stricken day laborers looked upon as second-class citizens.
 Ito now heads a private stock investment fund with 180 branches throughout the country. The powerful Hongwanji Buddhist sect with some 10 million followers is one of his best customers. Japanese brokers look with awe at Ito's profits in the chaotic days when many faced starvation." Ito told an interviewer.

 Ito turned away from his fellow Koreans and set about making money.
Has No Friends
 "I have no friends in the Korean community and don't seek them," he said.
 With funds gained from his food dealings, Ito started a stock brokerage business in Tokyo's East End slum district in 1948.
 He proved a genius at figuring the twists and turns of Japan's bouncing market. He borrowed money from investors and speculated on his own, dividing the profits later.
 The Japanese stock market rivals the wildest ever seen in the United States.
 The average of 225 issues on the market recently advanced from 167 yen, early in January, to 329 yen on Nov. 10. One Japanese camera firm's stock shot up from 165 yen to 415 yen in two weeks.
 Ito learned to call the turn and ride the market to a fortune. He's still at it with no sign of weakening in his speculations.

Ike Played It Safe When He Named Martin Durkin

WASHINGTON (AP) — By appointing a labor leader, Martin P. Durkin, as secretary of labor, Gen. Eisenhower put himself in a nice position if Durkin's handling of the job goes sour.
 He can say then: "I promised to be fair to labor. I did what neither Roosevelt nor Truman did in 20 years: I put a labor leader in the top labor job."
 "I leaned over backwards to be fair. Durkin was not only a labor leader. He was a Democrat who voted against me. If it didn't turn out right, at least I tried."
 But the selection of a union leader for the job—Durkin is president of the AFL's plumbers and steamfitters—is far from a guarantee of sunny days ahead in the troubled field of labor.
Important Of Course
 The secretary of labor has importance, of course. He heads the Department of Labor and is a member of the Cabinet. But his is a job with tremendous limitations.
 Congress gave the Labor Department, and there for his secretary, the task of administering the Wage-Floor Act, the public employment offices, the whole operation of the labor standards and statistics, and some other chores. But the secretary has no control over the government's mediation service, which was created to try to settle labor-management disputes peacefully. The service used to be part of the Labor Department but Congress took that away.
No Say Over Taft-Hartley
 And the secretary has no say at all over the most vital government problem and responsibility in the whole field of labor-management relations: how the two sides get along, or fall to under the basic labor law, the Taft-Hartley Act. Congress gave that job to the National Labor Relations Board.
 In fact, the Democratic Congress which created the first basic labor law—the Wagner Act, predecessor of Taft-Hartley—set up the NLRB to administer the act. And when the Republican Congress in 1947 substituted T.H. for the Wagner Act, it retained the NLRB, keeping the secretary of labor's length.
 Those who knew Durkin during those hectic 1935 days, when Congress was putting the Wagner Act together, say he opposed handing the job to the NLRB. If he still thinks the idea is wrong, and tries to get Congress to change its mind, he'll probably wind up nowhere fast.

Outlook Brighter For Wheat Crop

AUSTIN (AP) — Optimism has replaced gloom in the U.S. Agriculture Department's outlook for the 1953 wheat crop and for winter range and pasture feed.
 Its survey of Texas farm and ranch conditions for the week ended Tuesday had this to say: "Precipitation in the form of slow rain, sleet and snow has effectively broken the extended drought over the eastern half of the state."
 "In the northwest it has provided enough surface moisture for germination and early growth of dust-in wheat and will revive acreage that was up and still holding on."
 Wheat and oats in North Texas were in satisfactory shape. In East Texas and along the Upper Coast, winter cover and small grain for pasture were making progress.

Canadian Mayor Foresees Day When Woman U. S. President

OTTAWA (AP) — The mayor of Canada's capital city foresees the day—maybe in the next 10 years—when a woman will be president of the United States.

This unusual prediction comes from a somewhat unusual mayor—Miss Charlotte Whitton—Who at the moment is the only woman mayor of a capital in the British Commonwealth.

Short, stocky and 56, a fourth-generation Canadian of Yorkshire-English ancestry and a woman of boundless energy, she entered politics after a career which has included social service, journalism, lecturing, historical research and getting into hot water.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see a woman in the White House within the next decade," Miss Whitton said in an interview.

"The Americans may have to do it purely for publicity's sake, in competition with the gracious Queen on Britain's throne."

The remark points up two main traits in the mayor's personality—her love of British tradition and her willingness to start an argument.

It is the latter characteristic which has made her the most talked-about mayor in Ottawa's history. Standing for re-election Monday, she is her own best press agent.

During her career, Miss Whitton was a secretary to a federal cabinet minister for three years in the 1920s. She served for 15 years as head of the Canadian Welfare Council, a non-government agency co-ordinating all phases of Canadian welfare work.

From 1928 until the World War II she represented Canada on child welfare and social questions at the League of Nations. In 1951 she was voted "Canadian Woman of the Year"

Carson County USO Heads Named

WHITE DEER (Special) — An announcement was made last week by Cecil Culver, USO campaign chairman for Carson County, that community appointments had been made and the campaign is now underway.

Clarence C. Williams, chairman at Panhandle, reported a total of $372.50 raised in his community.

Never out of Canada's national news for long, she aroused a controversy in 1947 when she directed a welfare survey for the province of Alberta. A subsequent magazine article based on her report, entitled "Babies for Export," dealt with adoption of Canadian babies by U. S. parents and brought the writer of the article, the publisher of the magazine and Miss Whitton to court charged with conspiracy to publish a defamatory libel.

Charges Dropped — The charges brought by the Alberta government were later dropped, but the dominion-wide comment resulted in appointment of a royal commission to investigate child welfare practices in the province.

She deplores the lack of Canadian women in politics. She says that one of every four wage-earners in Canada is a woman.

Yet Canada has only one woman in the House of Commons, two in the Senate, seven in provincial legislatures and less than three score in municipal office throughout the country.

The distribution of milk in the United States involves about 100,000 motor trucks alone, not including the extensive use of railroad transportation.

The density of Jupiter is only 1.3 times that of water.

Really Alert Maiden Can Nab Hubby Before Year's End

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "Dear Mr. Poor Man's philosopher: 'Leap Year is almost over and I haven't been able to land my man. It looks like just another long, cold, lonely winter for me. 'What can I do? Help! Help! Help! Signed: Desperate Maiden' Don't worry, desperate lady. Many a fish is netted just at dusk, many a ball game won by the last one up to bat.

This is the time in Leap Year that separates the real women from the weaklings. Any girl stray to lead to the altar in June. But that is like going out to catch a whale and coming back with a sardine.

Morse Opposition Is Good Sign For McKay

Sometimes a man is best known for the opposition he arouses and this may well be the case in the appointment of Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon to the post of Secretary of the Interior.

As natural in such a selection, Gov. McKay has long been an ardent supporter of President-Elect Dwight Eisenhower. But to those who believe in a limited government his best recommendation for the job is that Sen Wayne Morse of Oregon doesn't like him. Just off-hand we would say that anybody who is in opposition to Sen. Morse is a friend of America.

Morse tipped his hand when he said of McKay that the Oregon governor is "a well-recognized stooge of the tidelands oil thieves, the private utilities gang and the selfish interests of the country that place materialistic values ahead of human values."

Of the remark on "tidelands oil thieves," it is hardly worth while commenting. Sen. Morse has shown that he is an out and out collectivist who is determined to do anything he can to undermine the American system and supplant it with some form of collectivism. Nor does he have the excuse that might be granted to some — that of ignorance. He is fully informed on the question of tidelands oil interests, knows he is a liar when he says that those favoring state control are "thieves" and that any form of theft involved is on the part of those who would take the tidelands away from state control.

Nor can he plead ignorance when it comes to the right and wrong of private vs. public ownership of utilities. To attach the opprobrium of "gang" to those who believe in private ownership and free enterprise is, in a sense, to call them gangsters which they are not. And Sen. Morse knows he is a liar if he attempts to attach such a stigma to the private utilities interests and those who believe in private ownership of property.

On the question of placing materialistic values ahead of human values Sen. Morse must plead guilty either to gross ignorance or deliberate falsification if he would have us believe that there can be any separation of the two. To say that "human values" should come first and then take from humans the right and ability to live as human beings is flatly contradictory — as Sen. Morse well knows. He hopes that there will be some who are captured by the catch phrase. But he knows full well that it is impossible to evaluate human values without material values since man cannot live in a state of vacuum.

All of which is a round-about way of saying that with this type of opposition from Sen. Morse, who has been a political enemy of Gov. McKay and should know something of this thinking, Gov. McKay ought to be of real service to the republic in his position as Secretary of the Interior. Certainly there is no one post in the cabinet that can accomplish more good, largely by doing nothing, on the domestic front than that of the heading of the Interior Department. A truly American and realistic approach to the job could mean much toward turning our nation back toward a republic and away from the creeping Socialism that threatens to engulf us.

The UNESCO Mess

Any doubts about UNESCO now? The news reports of the battle over how much money is to be voted by the UNESCO delegates meeting in Paris ought to make it clear to all that there is no pretense of anything connected with UNESCO other than to attack American institutions and traditions and provide jobs for people alien to the United States.

As the Associated Press reports it, the U. N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization "was split wide open" by quarrels over its budget and the admission of Spain to membership.

Jaime Torres Bodet, resigned as director general in protest to UNESCO's failure to vote all the money he asked for spending in the next two years. Two leading members of the executive board also quit.

Speaking with great emotion, Torres Bodet said UNESCO had made a material retreat from its principles. The resignations followed a series of walkouts prompted by the vote to admit Spain, whose government is termed a Fascist dictatorship by some member nations. Spain is barred from membership in the United Nations itself.

Torres Bodet, former Minister of Education in Mexico, had asked UNESCO's seventh annual conference to approve expenditures of $20,400,000 for 1953 and 1954. The delegates balked, however, and set a ceiling of $18,000,000. The vote was 29-21, with four abstentions.

Britain, Sweden and Australia led the fight against the higher budget. Their delegates contended that UNESCO's Paris headquarters, which employs a staff of 800 and absorbs about 14 percent of the budget, is top heavy and could be pruned. The United States, which pays a third of UNESCO's costs, voted with the majority.

Now a 68-nation agency UNESCO proclaims that its primary job is to teach illiterates of the world to read and write and then evaluate what they learn. Much of its emphasis has been on Southeast Asia.

It must strike many as a curious fact that, aside from the United States, there probably isn't one nation in the world that is so openly and bitterly opposed to Communism as Spain of today. While we are supposed to be fighting Communism here at home and are having our youth "die in the fight against Communism" in Korea, we are perfectly happy to sit in conference with Russia in United Nations meetings but won't let Spain — an enemy of Russia — into the organization.

One thing that ought to be kept in mind is that when all the smoke and fire has been cleared away in the present UNESCO battle is that we shall be in the organization and still spending most of the money required to keep it going and it will still be a lot of money, even though a million or two is cut from the budget and a few Frenchmen are kicked out of their jobs. The real question ought not to be whether we contribute 10, 15, or 20 millions to the UNESCO mess. The real question ought to be whether or not as Americans we have any right to a cent for UNESCO or permit it to function within our borders.

The American Way

CANADIAN EXAMPLE
By George Peck

The banking system of the Dominion of Canada differs greatly from that of the United States in one respect. Canadian laws permit, in fact, encourage branch banking. The result is that most of the banking business in Canada is handled by ten large chartered banks, each with several hundred branches located across the Dominion.

But though the banking systems of the two countries may differ, they have one thing very much in common. Both are under fire by ten large chartered banks, each with several hundred branches located across the Dominion.

National Whirligig... Clark, Van Fleet Will Submit Korean Offensive Plan To Ike

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — When President-elect Eisenhower reverts to his earlier role as military commander on his visit to Korea, he will get an earful from old and trusted comrades in arms on the Truman-Acheson failure to strike for an all-out blow against the Communist empire. He will be listening to fighting men instead of politicians and diplomats.

Gens. Mark Clark and James A. Van Fleet will submit a program for a winter buildup and spring offensive that has been opposed by their superiors at Washington, including the White House, the State Department and the Joint Chiefs of Staff. They will support their arguments for more aggressive action with facts and figures not generally known here.

ENEMY'S POSITION — In their opinion, the conflict will drag along for several stalemated years, unless the United Nations forces are permitted to press for destruction of the enemy.

The situation at the front has reached a point where it resembles the 1914-1918 trench deadlock of World War I. They will insist on a war of movement, such as Eisenhower waged in North Africa and Western Europe.

The Communists, Gens. Clark and Van Fleet will inform Ike, have used the peace negotiations lull to build a line of fortresses impregnable to frontal assault.

The enemy has massed a million men, dug caves and fortresses in depth, and obtained the latest in anti-aircraft batteries and planes from Russia. Our casualties are mounting under barrages and a ground fire as heavy as we encountered in many World War II battles.

The plain purpose of these preparations, in the military view, is to continue to tie down and to waste away the 500,000 troops which we and our U.N. allies have mobilized in this remote bit of real estate.

Perhaps even more important in Moscow's long-range strategy, it is designed to create disillusionment with the costly cold war in this country and among our overseas allies. Indeed, it has already had that effect in certain respects.

CLARK-VAN FLEET FORMULA — The two Far Eastern commanders are ready with a program that may change radically the basic scheme of our strategy in the cold war, if Eisenhower decides that it is feasible. It would enable the United States to play the same role as Russia, which husbands her manpower and other resources while forcing Western nations to fight on the perimeter of the Soviet empire.

Specifically, the Clark-Van Fleet formula will call for the training and equipment of at least five more South Korean divisions, making 16 in all. It is believed that they could be serviceable for the front line by spring, provided a small part of the arms and supplies allocated to Europe were transferred to Korea.

In addition, they will propose at least two divisions of Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa forces be shipped to peninsula. According to the reports of the U. S. military mission on Formosa, they could give a good account of themselves especially in ground fighting.

EFFECT OF EXPANSION — The plan to be presented to Eisenhower

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JOHNSON, M.D.

Every year a number of people write asking for information concerning one of mankind's most miserable afflictions — inflammation of the sinuses.

Mrs. B. says, for example, that her 12-year-old daughter is troubled with sinusitis and asks whether her daughter's skin pimples have anything to do with the sinus trouble, and whether the sinusitis is inherited. "She is a young Eves," Mrs. B. says, "who should be enjoying life more than she does."

The sinus trouble does not have anything to do with this girl's pimples. The latter is most likely acne and is probably unrelated to the sinusitis. As for the second question, it can be stated that sinus trouble is not directly inherited. Swelling of the mucous membrane which lines the sinuses leads to pus and mucus secretion gathering inside the sinuses and this produces pressure sensations. If the accumulated pus and mucus can be made to flow out by enlarging the opening, or can be washed out, at least temporary relief is often obtained.

The injection of drugs which shrink the mucous membrane is often helpful. This shrinking may open the passageways temporarily and thus enlarge the air space.

When the sinuses are chronically inflamed such simple measures are less likely to help. Sometimes surgery is used to make a permanent passageway for drainage. Even this, however, does not always bring relief and many people continue to complain even when a wide opening is present.

The sulfa drugs and other preparations are sometimes injected or sprayed directly into the sinuses with the purpose of killing the germs there.

In spite of everything which can be done, many people continue to suffer seriously from sinusitis and become so miserable and run-down that they consider change of climate.

Theoretically, the best climate for a person with sinusitis is one in which there is not much change in temperature between night and day. A temperature of 68 to 78 degrees with the air neither too dry nor too moist, but with a little breeze from time to time, would be ideal.

FOUR STATES BEST — Parts of Florida and southern California come close, Arizona and New Mexico, although quite different, appear to be good for some sinus sufferers. In most parts of these states, however, there is a great deal of fluctuation between day and night temperature and the air is too dry to be good for some people.

When a sufferer from sinusitis wishes to consider a change of residence it is best to try the new climate for several weeks or months before making a final decision. Otherwise many disappointments will occur.

does not contemplate an advance to the Yalu or the bombing of hostile bases in Manchuria, for this expansion of the battleground might provoke Russia to take a more active part in the conflict.

It is not believed, however, that Stalin is prepared for such a step now. He has his own troubles at home and among his satellites.

Complete accomplishments of the Clark-Van Fleet mission would require a landing in force behind the enemy's line, something like MacArthur's surprise descent on Inchon. With a frontal and rear attack simultaneously, the objective would be to rout the foe, cut up his lines of supply, destroy his forces or force a panicky retreat.

Such a disaster, it is argued, would drive China out of the war, especially as Mao Tse-tung is now reported to be none too happy over his bloody bargain with Uncle Joe.

STRATEGY FAVORED — Eisenhower will find considerable sympathy for this military viewpoint in official and political circles of Washington. It has been advocated by John Foster Dulles, the

Single Break Does Not Mean South Is A Two-Party Region

By THURMAN SENSING
Southern States Industrial Council
Nashville, Tennessee

There is an old saying that "one swallow does not make a spring." It is no doubt just true that one break in the "Solid South" does not mean that we now have a "Two-party South."

Of course, we have historical evidence to show us that because the South can get "out of the bag" does not mean that it will stay "out of the bag." The South gave the Republican candidate 82 electoral votes in 1928 and then got back "in the bag" for 24 years!

The South, as a region, would do well to think seriously on these things. It might be well to reverse our usual procedure of thinking and look at it this way — that we certainly do not want a "one-party" nation. Our whole system of government is based on the two-party system, wherein two strong political parties are constantly vying for support and wherein each is constantly striving to outdo the other in upholding and advancing those things which the people might decide are best for themselves.

This means, of course, that at one time the people will give their support to one party and at another time to another party — because the very law of averages itself tells us that neither of the parties is going to consistently offer the best program for the country. It simply would not be true to human nature that this should happen. If it were true, then there would be every argument in the world for a "one-party" nation, which we all know means autocracy and dictatorship, eventually resulting in corruption and ruin.

These things being true, we cannot but help reach the conclusion that the South, as a vital part of the nation, should be a "two-party" region. In other words, there is just as much reason for a "two-party" South as there is for a "two-party" nation.

Is this what we now have — in the light of the recent election? No, when shall we have it?

Undoubtedly, the "Solid South" was broken wide open on last Nov. 4th. The Republican candidate got, in the 11 states of the old Confederacy, only 200,000 fewer votes than the Democratic candidate received. This was a margin of only 2.6 per cent of the total vote in those states. This was a real "horse race" — and four of the states went over into the Republican column with 87 electoral votes!

But does that mean we now have a "two-party" South? What will be the vote four years or eight years or 12 years from now? What these questions mean in other words, is this: Will the Republican Party so conduct itself and so recognize the present "two-party" South that the people of the South will continue to find justification as they did this year, for voting almost half and half between the two parties, giving electoral votes to each?

The future of the South as a "two-party" region actually depends largely upon the leadership of the Republican Party. We may confidently believe that the thinking people of the South will continue to vote each year for the best program for the nation. However, if the Republican Party fails to offer that program, it would be only natural that the South should lapse into its historical role.

For the strengthening of the two-party system, therefore, and for the general welfare of the South and the nation, it is to be hoped that the Republican leadership will now have the vision and the courage to outspokenly proclaim allegiance to those fundamentals of democracy which have always been so dear to the South — freedom of the individual and local self-government; to practice honesty and economy in government; to restore to the people that incentive to achieve which has been the basis of our strength throughout our history.

While taking this stand, the Republican Party can in the meantime give evidence of its good faith by recognizing Southern leadership and the contribution of the South to its success in the recent election with appointments to positions of influence in the new administration.

Unless the Republican administration does take these stands and does award this recognition, it will mean we still do not have a two-party South and it will mean the South will return to its traditional role — voting Democratic at election time while its Congressmen vote the convictions of their constituency on individual measures.

Minister—You know, Larson, flatly falls off me like wash off a duck's back.

Deacon—That's okay, but the ducks like it and always come back for more.

"A little nonsense now and then is worth a ton of medicine."

Listen, Lady: Cracked ice about the throat most always stops hiccoughs.

German Finds Nazi Party Gaining Foothold in Country

HANNOVER, Germany (AP) — About 800 former Nazis have got back the old political jobs in the West German state of Lower Saxony.

They include the last chief of staff of Hitler's bulging storm troopers, Wilhelm Schepmann; the former lord mayor of Göttingen, Albert Götting, who is back on the City Council; and several town council members of the outlawed Socialist Reich party.

They were swept into office as mayors and councilors by a tide of eightist votes in the recent municipal elections. (Nazism is officially dead, but the West German Constitutional Court's ban on the Socialist Reich party (SRP), but it is an extremely lively corpse. Nazis are hydra-headed, as state police here have found. Just before the elections they raised 67 new political groups which had sprung as self-appointed heirs to the SRP. As fast as they chopped off one growth another took its place.

The Interior Ministries of both Lower Saxony and the neighboring industrial state of North-Rhine Westphalia are investigating a number of groups whose candidates were successful. Some of them are being declared invalid. It is in the lonely rural areas of Lower Saxony — the forests of the Harz Mountains, the storm-wracked Lüneburg Heath — where nazism still flourishes.

Some people there still believe in witches, farmhouses, even with built, heavy pagan symbols to ward off evil spirits. Many people there still believe Hitler was right. Isolated inns echo nightly with the notes of old Nazi anti-Semitic and street fighting songs. Hitler's favorite march is played by village bands.

Welcomed SS Corps The market town of Verden gave an enthusiastic welcome to a rally of 5,000 veterans of the SS Elite Corps, branded as a criminal organization by the Nuremberg tribunal. The mayor said the town was "honored" by their presence.

It is here that the Hitler generals, Bernhard Ramke and Otto Ernst Remer, find the audiences that wildly cheer their anti-allied rable-rousing speeches. The ban on the SRP made some 307,000 voters, or 11 percent of the state electorate, homeless. Political observers watched the municipal elections carefully to see what they found in the trend was obscured by the complexity of the voting system and the multiplicity of "voting blocs," but it was evident that many of the Nazis, like Schepmann, owed their success to the support of the radically inclined refugees party (BRP) — a power in an area where disposed refugees.

Wants Reich Reborn There was also a trend for established right-wing parties to take a couple of paces further right to appeal to the old Nazis and disgruntled refugees. This was particularly noticeable in the Deutsche Partei (German party), which elected a notable anti-refugee list, Dr. Hans Seeborn, as its chairman. He declared at the party convention that the German Reich must be reborn and parts of Czechoslovakia "reborn."
