Last-Ditch Try To Avert Coal Strike Collapses

By The Associated Press
A last-ditch government effort to avert a nationwide soft coal stoppage Sunday (Saturday) and Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach named a special mediator to try to make the work stoppage as brief as possible.
Meanwhile, a strike in the Virginia Electric and Power company for April 1 was called off when the union and management reached an agreement. The strike threat prompted Gov. William M. Tuck to draft the utility workers into the state's "unorganized militia" making them subject to court martial if they disobeyed orders to stay on the job.
The labor secretary, after conferences with John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators, said there was no possibility of preventing the shutdown and no advantage in requesting either side to extend the present coal contract beyond its Sunday midnight deadline.
Schwellenbach appointed Paul Fuller of Akron, O., as his special mediator. Fuller, the conciliator who guided the CIO rubber workers union and the rubber companies through months of negotiations to a national agreement, will meet with the soft coal disputants at a resumption of negotiations at 2:30 p.m. (EST) Monday.
The scheduled work stoppage by 400,000 United Mine workers will more than double the nation's ranks of strike idle and raise a question mark over reconversion production schedules. The sold fuels administration estimated industrial users of coal, steel mills and public utilities.

Iranian Premier Said 'Satisfied'

TEHRAN, March 29.—(Delayed)—Prince Mozaffar Firouz declared tonight that Premier Ahmed Qavam "is satisfied with Russian evacuation progress but is anxious for Iran to be free of foreign troops as soon as possible," and said some of the Iranian ambassador's statements to the security council were "exaggerated."
Firouz, telling foreign newsmen that he was speaking "in my official capacity as representative of the prime minister," said Ambassador Hussein Ala had "acted according to his duty" in again filing the Iranian case with the security council.
But Ala "allowed his patriotism and sentiment to control him," and some of Ala's statements were "exaggerated," he said.
Firouz, propaganda director and political undersecretary of state, said "the Persian case never has been withdrawn from the security council." Firouz spoke slowly and deliberately from notes.
Meanwhile, soviet troops by the thousands, afoot, in trucks, and in horse-drawn vehicles, moved from Kazvin today through tortuous mountain passes leading to the port of Pahlevi on the Caspian sea.

Hospital Bond Election Carries

1218 Voters Favor Issue, 428 Against

Gray county is to have a general hospital.
Incomplete returns last night indicated a landslide of votes, 1218 against 428, voicing approval of the $550,000 hospital bond issue election held yesterday.
Less than half of the 4,000 eligible voters went to the polls.
Three of the 18 precincts had not yet called in returns last night. Number of votes cast in the missing boxes could not sway the election. Precincts were those at Webb Farrington and Laketon.
Greatest opposition to the hospital was at McLean. Of 243 votes cast in the two McLean precincts 238 were against the issue. All-

Dewey and Taft Forces Battling Over GOP Chief

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Republicans reported today that the race to succeed Herbert Brownell as national chairman was narrowing down to another probable contest between the Dewey and Taft forces.
They advanced their claims today as national committeemen assembled for a meeting Monday at which someone would be named to take the retiring Brownell's place.
Brownell and others said the race would still be wide open. But some asserted that it looked like a two-man competition between John A. Danaher, former Connecticut senator, and Rep. Carroll Reece of Tennessee. Both lawyers and veterans of his union administration would be organization of the 300,000 to 400,000 white collar workers of the auto industry, and "master agreement" setting up wage floors for auto workers.

C of C To Launch Membership Drive

The annual membership drive of the Pampa chamber of commerce will be launched this week. Officials hope that the number of members will reach the 400 mark.
Business men not already members will be first contacted by letters, asking for their cooperation in making Pampa a better place to live. Later, if necessary, potential members will be contacted by a chamber of commerce committee.
Frank Smith, vice-president and chairman of membership committee, pointed out yesterday that the many business firms in town who are doing business in Pampa who are not active members, are welcome to join.
At this time there are approximately 300 members in the Pampa C of C.

Plans for Business College Progressing

Seventy-one per cent of the $304,450 worth of building permits this year have been for business purposes.
Major projects are the $22,000 auto sales room and shop being constructed by Frank Culbertson at 833 W. Foster, and the $20,000 new location for the Motor Inn Auto Supply by Crawford Atkinson and Luke McClelland at 317 N. Ballard.

No 'Outside' Group Dictates CIO--Reuther

ATLANTIC CITY, March 30.—(AP)—President Walter P. Reuther says no "outside" group "whether communist, Trotskyite or socialist," is going to dictate to his CIO United Auto Workers union.
The newly elected UAW-CIO head in press conference assertions made public tonight as the union closed its tenth convention, said he was going to keep the union free from any "interference," political or non-political.
He made his avowal at a press conference held Friday night for his convenience on the understanding it would be released for publication tonight.
Reuther, 38, president of one of America's largest and most influential labor unions, discussed UAW-CIO independence of "outside" influences in promising to work "very hard and sincerely" to unify the organization.
Asked the extent of any communist influence in the auto union, he made no direct reply but said about 10 per cent of the membership had "outside loyalties." He asserted he was a member of no political party himself although he said he belonged to the socialists for about a year, around 1932.
"People in the union whom he will fight are primarily those with 'political affiliations' which they place above their union" or persons who "base trade union policies on outside interests."
When pressed to be more specific about the groups, he said they included the communists.
Reuther said major projects of his union administration would be organization of the 300,000 to 400,000 white collar workers of the auto industry, and "master agreement" setting up wage floors for auto workers.

New Farm Parity Formula Opposed

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Formidable opposition developed in the house today, among democrats and republicans, to the senate-approved revision of the farm parity formula.
Meanwhile, Agriculture Secretary Clinton P. Anderson gave congress his idea of how prices would increase if the senate revision prevails.
He said the senate revision would boost parity prices by 33 per cent and this "certainly would lead to inflation."
Chairman Flannagan (D-Va.) of the house agriculture committee and Rep. Hope of Kansas, senior committee republican, both told newsmen they did not believe such a horizontal upping of parity would solve the farmer's price problems.
"I believe it would do more harm than good," Flannagan said.
However, he and Hope said there should be a revision of the formula, and Flannagan announced he will call the agriculture committee together to consider a full overhaul of the parity system.
Hope said the large increase in cotton and wheat prices, if the senate bill became law, might do serious injury to farmers producing

Station Attendant Should Charge Extra!

Homer Doggett, local service station manager, wondered yesterday whether he shouldn't start charging the customers for wear on shoe leather.
A customer brought his car to the station where Doggett is employed to have it serviced and, as Doggett delivered the customer to his home before starting the job.
It seems the customer reminded Doggett to put 10 gallons of gasoline in the car before he brought it back to the station.
The customer's car was out of gas and the exasperated Doggett was forced to walk to the station and trudge back carrying a can of gasoline.

FOR ART'S SAKE

CHICAGO, March 30.—(AP)—An octogenarian who entered the Chicago art institute through a window and stayed 54 years said today Chicago culture had changed somewhat since 1892.
"People don't spit on the floor like they used to," said Martin Thon, 82.
He arrived at the institute with a wagon load of statutory too big for the door. He stayed and became assistant superintendent of the building. Asked about his interest in art, he replied:

Leftists Tangle With Police On Eve of Elections in Greece

ATHENS, March 30.—(AP)—Leftists opposed to tomorrow's parliamentary elections clashed a few hours after 2,000 leftists at a mass meeting had demanded the ouster of British troops from Greece.
The Athens police chief said four policemen were hurt and one demonstrator wounded. Police fired into the air to disperse EAM (leftist bloc) and KKE (communist) demonstrators who brandished iron bars, sticks and stones.
Left wing groups held a mass meeting this evening in the climax to an intensive campaign to keep voters from going to the polls tomorrow, the first elections in more than 10 years.
Armoured cars mounting machine-guns and trucks loaded with state police patrolled Athens streets. Some disorders were reported throughout Greece, but details were lacking. See LEFTISTS, Page 5

U. S. Is Dominant Power Within UNO

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
NEW YORK, March 30.—(AP)—The United States emerged from the week-long security council struggle today as probably the dominant power in the United Nations, but an empty chair symbolized Russia's present role and a question mark overshadowed the whole peace organization.
American officials expressed belief that Secretary of State Byrnes had made long strides in development of a forceful American foreign policy and establishment of a vigorous American leadership among a majority of the security council.
Byrnes, authorities said, is arguing the Iranian case personally because he considers the issues involved are vital to his conduct of foreign affairs. He is keeping in constant touch with President Truman.
The big fight, they said, would be to write legislation.
Others took issue with the stabilization chief, contending that restrictions of the agency's power in many cases would boost production and thus help stabilize the nation's economy.
Nearly all agreed that OPA would be continued beyond June 30, probably for a full year, although there will be some effort to shorten the time.
MOVE UP TO RUSSIA
American officials agree that the next move is up to Russia and that it could be a move which would seriously impair the basic structure of the United Nations. The Soviet government has little more than three days to decide whether to accept the council meeting on Iran should extend also to written reports on the case.
Yesterday, acting on a proposal by Byrnes, the council dispatched to both Russia and Iran requests for information on the status of negotiations between them. It asked whether Russia's fulfillment of her announced intention to remove her troops from Iran was dependent upon those negotiations. In other words, is Russia using the threat of her troops to obtain oil and other concessions from Iran?
The question for which no one here had a reply today was whether Russia would answer this inquiry. Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko has refused to answer Moscow's instructions to attend the last three council meetings. Russia, he said, would not discuss the Iranian case until April 10.
Moscow dispatches today said that the council's request for statements may be somewhat easier matters but it had not been viewed in comments there was a positive solution. American officials agreed that it is not

City and School Elections Slated

At least one qualified voter must vote here Tuesday, April 2, if City Commissioner Harold Wright is to be elected.
Wright, who was elected last September to fill the unexpired term of Tom Cox, is the only person to file for the office and if no votes are cast, Wright will continue in office only until a successor can be duly elected.
The election is to be held between the hours of 8 a. m. and 7 p. m. in the city commission rooms.
Three men have filed for election as trustees of the Pampa independent school district. An election to name two trustees is to be held next Saturday.
Those who have filed are R. C. Wilson, incumbent, Harvey Waters and George Scott.
V. L. Voyles, whose term expires this year, will not ask reelection.
The school election is to be held at the new high school building Saturday, April 6. Qualified voters, those who have paid their poll tax or possess an exemption certificate, must be residents of the school district.

OPA Expected To Lose Some Of Its Powers

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—The house banking committee today said it will recommend that the price agency would be "made it impossible" to curb inflation.
They expressed this opinion in the face of assertions from Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles and other administration officials that such action might "make it impossible" to curb inflation.
Bowles told the house banking committee today that if price controls were not continued beyond June 30, its scheduled expiration date, it might become impossible to prevent inflation.
If uncertainty develops about the passage of the act or if it is generally anticipated that our legislative powers will be broadly weakened, then production will be sharply slowed down and this present optimistic outlook will be reversed," he declared.
Some of the legislators said that they agreed with Bowles. They promised a last-ditch fight against cuts in OPA authority when the committee begins closed sessions next week to write legislation.
Others took issue with the stabilization chief, contending that restrictions of the agency's power in many cases would boost production and thus help stabilize the nation's economy.
Nearly all agreed that OPA would be continued beyond June 30, probably for a full year, although there will be some effort to shorten the time.

3,500 Pounds Butter—Just Melted Away

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—(AP)—It seems that this butter—3,500 pounds of it—just melted away.
The war shipping administration reported it was loaded on a truck at Los Angeles harbor, bound for a warehouse 15 minutes away. But at the unloading dock, the truck was empty. The WSA asked police to investigate.
About 35 business men and 125 mothers were present to witness the event. In many cases mother or father gave a bit of advice to the

1,000 Persons Are Seized by British Troops

FRANKFURT, Sunday, March 31.—(AP)—American and British troops in swift midnight raids early today broke the back of a powerful underground movement aimed at re-establishing nazism in Germany.
Troops and counter-espionage agents seized 1,000 persons suspected of being ring-leaders of the plot, including 200 elite nazis of the inner circle. Counter-espionage officers said not one of the inner circle mostly former Hitler jugent (youth) leaders, escaped the vast dragnet.
A combined British-American statement unfolded the dramatic story of "operation nursery," a 10-month intensive manhunt in the two zones, climaxed by the army-supported raids in western Germany and Austria. There was evidence the plot also spread into the Russian zone.
The well-financed attempt to revive nazism began even as the thunder of the guns died away on Germany's battlefields. But wrangling between two factions of the movement tipped counter-espionage agents to its existence, after its

Thompson Pleads For Increase in Crude Production

AUSTIN, March 30.—(AP)—Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson renewed his plea that the commission issue an emergency order granting the navy's request for 200,000 barrels more of Texas crude daily.
He said he felt that if the request is granted until April 15, date of the next legislative session, "by then the OPA will have seen fit to release oil and its products from price controls and the navy can then get its oil requirements met on bids at free competitive prices that will compensate the manufacturers."
Thompson said he was more than ever convinced of the real emergency facing the navy in its need for fuel oil. His statement continued:
"We never failed them during the war and we must not let them down now—in fact, the war is not entirely over and won't be until peace is restored and every veteran is brought home as promptly as possible."
"Of course the oil producers need an increase in the price of oil. It has been too long delayed. I have appeared before every committee and every price control and stabilization committee in Washington urging immediate increase in oil price for the past three years X X X."
"But what we are here concerned with is an immediate increase in the navy fuel oil supply."
"If we make the crude available, the navy will see to it that that much crude or an amount equal thereto will be made largely into the product they desire."
"War controls and war powers are still in effect."
"The federal government can direct more oil be made available. They prefer cooperation."
"The navy could refuse this oil."

Kathryn Cravens, War Correspondent, Plans To Visit Brother in Pampa

Kathryn Cravens, war correspondent and news commentator, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Maury Hill of St. Louis, Mo., will arrive in Pampa, Texas April 4 to visit relatives, and will visit their brother, Fred Cochran, president of the Cochran Construction Co. of Pampa.

and interviewed world-famous personalities. She will be in Texas several weeks before returning to New York to do a series of television programs for National Broadcasting system.

Born in Burkett, Texas, the daughter of the late Dr. John Calvin Cochran, and Mrs. Rose Ann Cochran Perry, now of San Angelo, Miss Cravens has made frequent visits to her home state since she went to New York in 1936 to begin her career in radio, which was climaxed by her appointment as an accredited war correspondent in the war theater. She covered the Petal trial, the Quisling trial, the trial of Lord Haw Haw; attended the Potsdam conference, went into Bulgaria during the elections, flew to the Palestine riots, and flew with President Harry S. Truman and Secretary Byrnes from Berlin to Frankfurt to inspect 30,000 troops.

Among the personalities Miss Cravens interviewed were George Bernard Shaw, Jean Sibelius, Pope Pius XII, King Farouk of Cairo, Lady Louis Mountbatten, Crown Princess Martha of Norway, the Sultan of Morocco Sir Bernard Montgomery, Frau Emmy Goering, Frau Fritz Kuhn, Maria Quisling, Marshal Zhukov, the Russian general and many of our own generals, including General Eisenhower and Gen. Jacob L. Devers.

Among the relatives of Americans she found in Europe was the sister of ex-Mayor LaGuardia of New York who has been missing for five years, and the mother of Marlene Dietrich.

Miss Cravens, another Texan who has made "good" and of whom Texas can be justly proud, won her way to fame through a succession of "firsts." She was the first woman to do a feminine chatter program on the air, the first woman to track down news for a syndicated column by flying after it in a plane, the first woman news commentator on a coast-to-coast hookup, the first accredited woman radio commentator in the war theater, the first woman to receive credentials covering the war criminal trials, and the first woman to broadcast from Berlin after its fall.

After visiting their brother in Pampa, Miss Cravens and Mrs. Hill will go to San Angelo to visit their mother. Miss Cravens will also attend the San Antonio festival.

Hospital Election

reed, precinct 4, voted 47 against, three for, the hospital.

Construction of the hospital is believed to get underway next fall, according to a tentative announcement made at recent county commissioner's meeting.

The hospital will give ample room for 100 beds, will be air conditioned, fire and sound proof, will have modern equipment in operating and laboratory rooms. All Gray county residents and doctors will have access to the use of the hospital.

A nurses training school will be established at the hospital which will be managed by a board selected by the commissioners court.

Location of the building will be in Pampa, specific location to be decided upon by the county commissioners court.

The hospital will be paid through property taxes not to exceed 18 cents on a $100 valuation. Bonds are to be sold at the best of market values by the county commissioners. Bonds covering the cost are not to exceed 20 years at not over 2 1/2 percent.

Of the total amount of property taxes paid in Gray county, it is estimated that 83 percent is paid by independent and major oil companies.

Approval of the hospital issue by voters in the first hospital election is the climax of years of discussion by county residents.

Foundation of the election was initiated by the Pampa chamber of commerce which formulated a special hospital committee headed by Reno Stinson.

The committee worked on plans for the estimation of total cost and weight of opinion appeared to be that once again the peace-enforcement agency would have to proceed without Russia.

With the security council in recess from Friday until 11 a. m., P. S. T. next Wednesday, there is nonetheless a feeling of tension apparent among officials here.

New Airport Is Established Here

Pampa has its third airport. Jake Osborne has transformed part of his farm one-half mile south of Pampa on the Clarendon highway into an airport which will be known as the Osborne airport.

A large galvanized quonset-hut looking building serves as a hangar in which repair and maintenance work will be done. A diagonal dirt runway crosses the wheat field; another runs straight east and west.

The Pampa Flying service located at the field is offering instruction for solo, private and commercial licenses. Instructors are "Buck" Sims, "Cap" Jolly and George Lilly. The former two are well-known civilian instructors. Lilly is a former army pilot who flew the Black Widow.

Osborne has one plan a BT-13. The Pampa Flying service has six, ranging in types from cub to biplane trainers. The service also has the Piper Cub agency.

view of Adolf Hitler "only a formality."

The haggard former Nazi foreign minister told the international tribunal that the Fuehrer held the opinion that "the United States already had fired upon our ships and thereby a state of war already existed."

Von Ribbentrop asserted he always considered the three-power axis pact binding Germany with Japan and Italy a purely "defensive" measure, and that he had told Hitler the pact provided that Germany need assist Japan "only in the event of an attack upon Japan."

Above all, Von Ribbentrop declared, the pact was intended "to keep the United States out of war." He said that in the months preceding Pearl Harbor he exerted every effort to induce Japan to attack Russia and also hit at Singapore or Hongkong because "the Fuehrer instructed me to do everything to bring about the weakening of England."

but they called it a positive step toward finding a solution.

The council had decided to go ahead with the Iranian case despite Gromyko's attitude. United Nations members concede, however, that Russia's absence raises a grave question quite apart from Iranian problems. If Russia ignores the request or rejects it, the next move will be up to the security council and none could say today what action the council might take. Among American officials, however, the

INTERNATIONAL MORALITY INVOLVED

Some persons will exult in the fact that the Russian delegates at the security council in New York, on the basis of present indications, had lost heavily in her arguments over the Iranian situation. But we get more than satisfaction out of the results of this past week's arguments.

We get the unusual satisfaction of viewing a case in which a small nation—dwarfed in deed in comparison with her adversary—has been given the right to be heard.

Russia used the limit of persuasive and argumentative power to have the Iran-Russia dispute excluded from the margin, sought to have the hearing delayed until April 10, margin, sought to have the hearing delayed until April 10. When she failed utterly in that, the delegate, Andrei Gromyko, said his country could not attend sessions at which the subject of Russian failure to withdraw her troops from Iran was discussed.

Subsequently, Gromyko walked out, and he has not been back. The council has now gone over his head to Stalin, and over the Iranian delegate's head to Tehran to get more information on the situation.

If there has been no other good out of the sessions this past week, there is the salient development that international dealings, which in cases we would call "shoddy," are brought out into the open. Moreover, a small country, without backing of great wealth and manpower, has been heard at a conference involving the world's great powers.

It is significant that the vote in favor of hearing the Iran case—and now, not next week—was overwhelming. This is something, despite the fact that Russia is on the outside—and probably is the greatest single power in the world today from the standpoint of armies and weapons of war.

World opinion is going to have an inveterate effect on Stalin's answer to the council, which is to come by the middle of this week. There is an international morality concerned, which not even un-Christian Russia can ignore.

A Good Editorial Page

If I were to attempt to explain what I think is a good editorial page, I would have to do what Voltaire said, "define your terms." "Terms" would have to be put in so they could be measured. They would have to harmonize with some accepted axiom or principle.

So let's define "good" before trying to define a good editorial page. Anything is good that causes men better to understand nature's laws; that teaches men that all men are endowed with certain inalienable rights; that teaches men how to live in peace and harmony and to use all the talents nature gave them.

And when men know that all men are endowed with equal inalienable rights, they will more nearly live in peace and harmony. Then they will have more time to enjoy the blessings of the gratitudes of God.

Now, what kind of an editorial page will better bring about this condition? Will an editorial page do this that holds the publisher to all men; that will not ever express an opinion on controversial questions for fear some of its subscribers might not like it and stop the paper?

Will peace and harmony and spiritual and intellectual development be brought about by the kind of an editorial page that carries columnists who will not answer questions, who propose acts that they cannot publicly defend; that set class against class and cause people to covet the fruits of other people's labor?

Certainly an editorial page that tries to be all things to all men and carries columnists who reproduce articles and editorials from the nation's press that express an entirely different view from that held by the publisher is not the kind of editorial page that will bring about the condition desired.

So a good editorial page is one that will not run a columnist or a nation's press article that is contrary to the principles of the publisher in its editorial column. Of course, if the editor or publisher has no principles as a guide for its own conduct, it cannot be a good editorial page.

A good editorial page is backed by a new presentation that carries statements made by important personages before important assemblies that are entirely out of harmony with the editorial page. That a good editorial page will point out to the readers how these proposals made by prominent leaders, political, religious or educational, will work in the long run to the harm of the people as a whole. It will do this in spite of the fact that it may offend large groups of readers.

An insipid, milk-and-water editorial page is not a good editorial page. It is not in the long run of use to its readers. These insipid editorial pages on which the newspaper runs editorial opinions from columnists of entirely conflicting ideas are published with the sole purpose of enriching the publisher. His only god is the golden calf. He is interested only in money and power. Little does he care if his policy impoverishes the people and eventually destroys the American system if for the time being he can get more subscribers and make more money and have more power.

A good editorial page recognizes the fact that there is no compromise with principle; that a thing is either right or it is wrong; that a little robbery, a little coercion, to make people do good leads to more robbery and more coercion and to less of freedom.

To sum up, a good editorial page is one that is essentially fighting for the equal rights of every individual and will not compromise with opportunists who are only interested in gaining power, whether it be financial power or a position that causes the unscrupulous people to regard them as great leaders and great humanitarians.

A good editorial page is not particularly interested in what people think of the men responsible for the paper. These men are trying constantly to present the doings of the day and the doings of the ages in a manner that will enable people to live in peace, prosperity and happiness together.

Nation's Press

GUARDIAN NEEDED?

(The Wall Street Journal)
If this nation fails to reverse its wobbling course toward a centralized managed economy, it will not be primarily the fault of our lawmakers in Congress. The principal responsibility will rest on those business men, who proclaim their love for "private enterprise" but whose actions show that they are unable to resist the blandishments of clever bureaucrats.

There have been several actions and other cases of refusal to act which show very clearly that a majority of our lawmakers resist their common sense and if given encouragement, they would very likely recreate a condition where the conduct of the business enterprise remains in the hands of its owners and managers. They do not always get that encouragement.

Last week there took place in Chicago a convention of the National Association of Home Builders. At the start they criticized severely the program of Wilson Wyatt, head of the National Housing Authority. In the House of Representatives meanwhile the Patman Bill, embodying the Wyatt program, was under stiff attack because it would extend Government control of housing even beyond that exercised in wartime. Then quite suddenly the Chicago convention reversed its stand and endorsed Mr. Wyatt's ideas. It made several reservations, but the net effect was endorsement.

With a very few exceptions when politicians make commitments, they stay hitched and so it is easy to understand why the Congressional opponents of the Patman bill, who thought they were protecting private business and the United States Treasury should be amazed and disgruntled.

However, it would be unfortunate if the fight on this particular score were to be dropped. Congress ought to determine what arguments caused this association to suddenly switch its position. If there are business men who cannot resist the temptation to have the Government hold an umbrella over them, let's find out who they are.

What percentage of builders are members of this association we do not know. Certainly not all the members attended the convention. So, we suggest, it be determined whether the endorsement is not really that of a small minority.

And of course, far beyond the immediate interest of the builders, is that of those who want homes and that of those who pay taxes. There is no doubt that this program will not halt more building than it encourages. There is a chance that the subsidy now estimated at $600 million will be several times that amount.

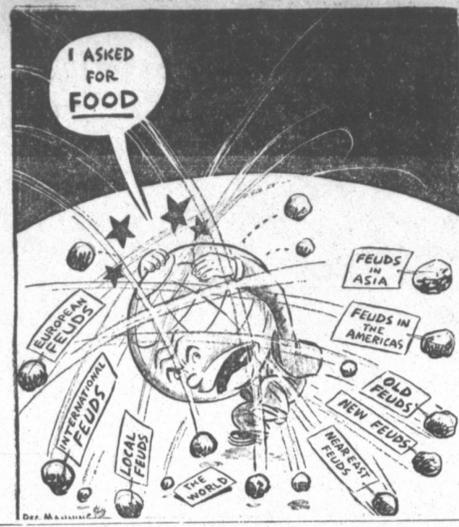

In a civilized community even those who want to destroy themselves are prevented. It is embarrassing for this newspaper to suggest that some of our business men need such guardianship, but the facts seem to prove the case.

Far be it from us to be sure that the man who says no baseball game this season will lose the first inning is wrong. First time the umpire bawls "Strike!", the man says, everyone will walk off the field. Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Cochroaches lay their eggs in a small rectangular pouch, which they carry around until a suitable hiding place is found.

Some persons are particularly interested in what people think of the men responsible for the paper. These men are trying constantly to present the doings of the day and the doings of the ages in a manner that will enable people to live in peace, prosperity and happiness together.

UNEMPLOYMENT.

ALTHOUGH the worst fears of postwar unemployment have not been borne out, the number of jobless is increasing at a rate which worries the political economists at Washington. With the proposed step-up in discharges from the armed forces, there is a distinct possibility that those seeking gainful occupation and not finding it may amount to more than 5,000,000 by early autumn.

It is estimated that the total is about 3,000,000 at the moment, which represents an increase of almost 1,000,000 since the first of the year. Nor does this figure include unnumbered thousands of recently discharged servicemen who are enjoying a few months' vacation before applying for places on pay rolls. When they start making the rounds, it is believed that the question of finding positions for them will become a serious problem.

ANGER.

The more optimistic economists, however, maintain that unemployment will drop as soon as major industries like the automobile, steel, building and allied enterprises swing into large-scale operations.

Due to strikes and a backlog of wage-price disputes still to be settled in necessary enterprises—small suppliers, fabricators and middlemen of various kinds—many plants have been shut down or are operating with only skeleton forces.

President Truman's political aides have suddenly awakened to the danger of a rising tide of jobless. They are concerned lest popular reaction to that situation jeopardize their chances of retaining control of congress, especially the house, next November.

The labor department's periodical reports on unemployment trends is one of the most eagerly awaited documents around the White House.

FEUD.

President Truman's war-prize policies have generated a struggle between urban and rural factions on Capitol Hill that threatens even more difficulties for Robert E. Hannegan, the harassed democratic national chairman. The boys from the wide open spaces, both farmers and ranchers, are bawling that they have been "city-slicked" by the administration's grant of a general increase to the workmen.

The feud has already forced White House fixers to set aside the proposed measure raising the minimum wage to a level ranging from sixty-five to seventy-five cents an hour. The congressional farmers had planned to counter with amendments which would have meant a sizable increase in the cost of agricultural products. They insist that the producer must get a larger return to meet the higher cost of living that will come from the series of pay envelope boosts.

MUST.

The dispute explains the surprisingly easy passage of the measure consolidating all farm lending agencies into a single, separate unit. Although opposed by administration spokesmen on the ground that President Truman is now engaged in reorganizing federal agencies under authority recently given him, opponents of the merger were bowled over. The farm bloc figures its "constituents" can get easier terms from a new credit bureau than from a secretary of agriculture beholden to the President.

The scuttling of the minimum wage proposal may have more harmful political effects. It was designed to improve the earning capacity of millions of white collar and unorganized workers who have not derived any benefit from the boosts given to C. I. O.'s members by the new Big Steel formula. Enactment of this plan was the principal "must" on the Truman-Hannegan program.

Anglo-Persian Oil company. Today, this company is known as the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, owned 55.9 percent by the British government and 26.3 percent by the Burma Oil company, a subsidiary of Royal Dutch Shell. Individuals own the remaining 17.8 percent.

SOVIET TREATY INVOLVES OIL RIGHTS.

Persia and Soviet Russia made a new treaty in 1921 and in that treaty the Soviet renounced all rights which Khostaria had obtained for the Soviet government in 1916. A string was attached, however, in the form of a provision that Persia could not grant these rights to any other foreign interest without the consent of the Soviet.

The Persians didn't read it that way, though, and they later offered a 55-year concession covering oil developments in the five northern provinces to Standard Oil of New Jersey. After looking over the field and seeing how impossible it was to get the oil down to the Persian Gulf, Standard let the option drop.

In 1932, the Persian government tried to force Anglo-Iranian to give up its concession, but this was largely a threat designed to get a better deal from the British.

In 1916, a Russian named A. M. Khostaria obtained a concession to drill for oil in Persia's northern provinces. But when the Bolshevik revolution broke out the following year, Khostaria turned his concession into cash by selling it to the

UPTON CLOSE:

British Making Such Concession That We Wonder

By Prime Minister Attlee and special emissary to India Sir Stafford Cripps mean what they are reported to say, India is now being offered exactly what the Indian congress party has been demanding for years and exactly what Mahatma Gandhi, the Nehru and tens of thousands of lesser Indian nationalists have been jailed again and again for asking. It is what Winston Churchill and Sir Stafford Cripps himself, on occasion of the false of his last trip out to India, said that the British government would never, never grant. What India is now being offered, if we are to believe the press stories, and take the statements of English cabinet members at face value, is a pledge, with two diamonds: (1) India can be completely independent, she prefers that to dominion status; (2) The British will cease to back any minority in India that blocks organization of an over all government.

These are such revolutionary and astounding concessions—or recognition of new ground on long and vexatious and sympathetic—that the world at large, as well as Indians, must forgive for asking: "What's the catch?"

Heretofore, when London has granted anything approximating the desires of the folk of the politically awakened people of India, there has always been a "catch." The "catch" has either been British backing some minority element of India that chose to keep the majority from functioning, or it has been some scheme to keep India paying tribute to Britain and Britishers in large and pay-off that the price for political liberty would be economic slavery.

Right now, the pay-off would logically involve London's enormous debt to Indian government treasuries and private persons for supplies and services during the recent war, which were given on enforced credit by them, under the fancy name of "block sterling." The British can't pay in money, of course, because there isn't that much money. They say they can't pay in goods unless they get the American loan. No one can quite explain how an American credit would help London pay India, or why it should. But that's one of London's pressures to get our credit, just as the offer to free India is one of London's ways to put us in a sentimental mood to advance more credit by them, under the fancy name of "block sterling."

Indian leaders of somewhat cynical turn of mind, such as Jawaharlal Nehru, adopt a "show me" attitude. Mahatma Gandhi has such a saintly willingness to believe the best about human beings that it rises above the higher tide of the cynicism of disappointment. He accepts the invitation of Lord Wavell who last jailed him, to talk things over, just as he accepted the invitation years ago, of the then Lord Irwin, later the Lord Halifax of the Washington Embassy.

Sometimes British must give up the overlordship of four hundred million Asians in India. That is evident to everyone except Winston Churchill. One of the campaign pledges of Attlee's socialist party, when it defeated Churchill, was that it would settle the Indian question. The withdrawal of American forces from the India-Burma theater (only about 3,000 remain at this writing) and the ungrateful attitude of the organized Moslems of India are propelling factors. The chief excuse given by the British for having to meet the wishes of India has for years been that they must protect the Moslem minority from the Hindu majority. But the Moslem minority has been biting the hand that "protected" them. All that the so-called Hindu majority and many Moslems, too, ask is to have government of their own.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Back from adventures in foreign fields just in time for the encouraging declaration by UNRRA's new chief, Fiorella LaGuardia, that he is going all-out in providing food to hungry countries.

There's no doubt in my mind that the global food shortage is the number one crisis of the moment. The political and economic problems on hand, while pressing, are long term affairs as compared with the plague of hunger which is sweeping many parts of the world.

Let's state this thing in terms of the crude truth. Millions of people are going to die from lack of food during the next six months—and even the best of us can't do anything to prevent that.

There are half a billion hungry folk in the world. There is food enough for only three-quarters of them. In other words some 125,000,000 unfortunates are condemned.

Of course these figures cover the whole globe. The hand of hunger lies heavy on many parts of the Orient—notably India, China and Japan.

The question of food relief isn't one for tomorrow. It's today's big issue. The situation in the undernourished countries is deteriorating rapidly. Harvest is months away.

In any event, my observation is that this crisis won't by any means be confined within the period between now and harvest time.

The bulk of the relief naturally must come from the Western Hemisphere, and Uncle Sam has the greatest resources to meet the need. However, Canada and the Argentine will be looked to for heavy contributions.

Still, even if every nation contributes its surplus food to relief, there won't be enough to go around. And what's the answer to that? Well, one answer is the one I've given already—that millions must die. But that's not the complete picture. We can increase the available relief stocks if we peoples of the western hemisphere will tighten our belts a bit in the way of voluntary food rationing.

The babies of every land employ the same language in crying for food.

I ask my fellow trade unionists to look carefully to see whether there are not customs and rules established for the protection of the worker before the days of full employment which are today unnecessary and hampering to full production. I ask employers to throw aside any restrictions of output calculated to create artificial shortages.

—Arthur Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

been unpolite. If one can believe recent polls buttressed by princely statements, they are tired of being bossed around by British younger sons, and are giving British rule the jewel-studded boot.

Big things are about to happen in Asia. There is going to be more civil war over the hump from India, in China. This column said that General Marshall's mission would be a gigantic failure—which is not his fault. (At least, it got him away from the Pearl Harbor investigation quiz!)

The real real story in Asia is going to be how the dictator of Russia relates himself to the people of the Moslem belt. We'll peep into that in another article.

In Hollywood

By ESKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—Of all of the audacious held DeMille, Lillian and Dorothy Gish probably had the strangest when D. W. Griffith hired them for "Birth of a Nation."

D. W. asked them if they could act. Both haughtily told him that they were of the legitimate theater. "I didn't ask you if you could read lines," stormed Griffith. "I asked if you could act."

"Then," says Lillian, "he started chasing us with a gun. We didn't think it was an audition any longer. We ran as fast as we could. We thought he had gone crazy. Then he called us back—he had decided we could act."

CEREMONIAL CHART

George Antheil, the bad boy of music, confessed to us the other day that he is probably the only Hollywoodite who ever fooled the old master, D. W. Griffith.

When Antheil was hired to write the musical score for "The Plainsman," DeMille was so anxious to have the music authentic that he hired a real Indian to advise Antheil on one of the ceremonial chants.

"We worked and worked on it until C. B. said it was authentic," Antheil recalls. "But is a matter of fact, what the Indians were chanting in the dance was, 'Chicago, Tuscaloosa, Chicago, Tuscaloosa!'"

Jean Dalrymple, who produced last season's Broadway play, "Hope for the Best," tells of an amusing incident which happened during her press agent days, when she took Grace Moore to Mexico City for a concert engagement. Grace, exhausted by the horde of autograph hounds engulfing her whenever she appeared in public, refused to leave her hotel room for anything except to go to the concert hall at night.

Jean stuck it out with the singer as long as she could, then decided one afternoon, to take a walk. Just as she reached the lobby, the hotel started to swing and sway like a jitterbug. Mexico City was in the grip of one of its worst earthquakes.

As Jean groped her way through the lobby, a streak of lightning passed her. It was Grace.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

Well, I see that a Japanese doctor testified at a war crimes trial that Japanese husbands often slap their wives—not in anger, but in sympathy and love—in order to correct their faults. The doctor thought it was all right—and why shouldn't he? He probably makes a lot of money treating wives for sympathetic bruises and loving confusion.

Over here if a man slugged his wife to express sympathy he'd wind up needing quite a bit of it himself. And if he turned cave man and demonstrated his love with a right to the jaw, he'd soon wish he had a cave to hide in.

Goodness, if our occupation forces want to make Japan democratic they should go further than taking away Hirohito's white horse. They should issue rolling pins to all the wives with a booklet showing the proper grip, swing, and follow through.

The Heart To Find

By Hazel Heidergott

ANN was in the kitchen, making a chocolate Bavarian cream, when Susie came in from school. "Did you see the doctor?" she burst out, without preamble.

Ann opened the refrigerator door, and shoved the mold inside. "Yes, my Susie, and it's all very true. Picture me as a fond mother if you can."

"Why not?" Susie demanded indignantly. "You'll make a beautiful mother, Mrs. Drake. What the world needs is more mothers like you."

"So nice to be answering a crying need of the world," Ann murmured.

"Are you going to tell Mr. Drake now?"

"Ann looked a little impatient. "I thought we had settled that. Of course I'm not going to tell him—until he gets back. It would be silly."

"I think you ought to tell him," Susie said stubbornly.

"Well, I won't—and, Susie!" Ann said sharply, surprising a purposeful look on the girl's face, "remember that it isn't any of your business! I can't think of work for you all the time!" Susie's big brown eyes shone with adoration.

"But, honey—I'm not sure, of course, but I've discussed it a little with Colin, a long time ago—how about college? Wouldn't you like to go on to school?"

"Of course! But how can I? I'm almost eighteen, you know, and there's no reason for the Home to support me any longer."

Ann's side and hugged her. "I always did say you were the sweetest person in the world!" she exclaimed extravagantly.

"Ann wasn't altogether pleased. She didn't like thinking of herself as sweet. It seemed a bit insipid. "I'll be Colin's money—not mine—that does it," she said.

"It's your idea, though," Susie insisted.

"Um huh. Ann admitted. "Better run along, darling, or you'll be late." She kissed Susie's cheek, then spanked her to propel her on her way. She felt very good.

AS she lit a cigaret, Helga Carpello came in. "Good morning, Helga," Ann said pleasantly. "You can clear the things away and do the dishes before you start on the washing. I'm going to walk into town."

"Good mornin', Miss Drake," Helga answered. "You don't need to go for the mail if you don't wanta—my Pete'll bring it out if you want. He can't have nothin' else to do."

"Oh dear, Helga. Has Pete lost his job again?" She was getting a little tired of finding jobs for Pete Carpello. He was such a good carpenter, too. "I'll speak to Mr. Hansen and see if he can use him here. But he'll have to stop drinking, Helga."

"Yes ma'am. That's what I'm always telling him. But it don't seem to do no good. And he's got such an awful temper, he will get into fights. And he's awful jealous of me, ma'am," she added, not without pride.

"But, Helga, you don't give him any occasion to be jealous, do you?"

"Well, ma'am, I can't help it when people like me, Helga murmured.

Ann looked at Helga, who was rather good-looking in a big, bovine sort of way. "I suppose not," Ann said helplessly, thinking with dismay that Colin was right—she couldn't keep out of personal discussions with the people who worked for her. It was awfully undignified, and certainly not suitable for her position in Pete Drake. "I'll speak to Mr. Hansen," she said firmly, and left the room. (To Be Continued)

Local Red Cross Chapter Makes Production Report

The imperative clothing needs of 20 million Europeans were helped today when two more cartons of children's clothing sewed by volunteers in the Pampa Red Cross chapter were shipped to the National export depot of the American National Red Cross, according to Mrs. R. J. Epps, production chairman. Since Jan. 1, 182 boys' overalls and 96 boys' shirts, sizes four and eight years old, have been made and shipped by the volunteers of the Pampa chapter.

There are 139 girls' capes, size ten years and 23 snowsuits size six years, cut and waiting for some volunteer to check out and sew.

Huey Laycock, chapter chairman, joined Mrs. Epps in an appeal today for more volunteers to assist in the making of these garments for liberated children.

"The volunteers of Pampa can help avert the threat of world-wide epidemics which could easily find a breeding ground in these destitute 20 million," said Laycock. "An hour or two of work a week is a small enough contribution toward health and human decency.

"Reports from Red Cross civilian war relief workers in Europe show that millions are living in caves or unheated shacks. The reports also show that the clothing shortages have been aggravated by the destruction of factories, utilities and transportation."

All Red Cross articles produced in chapters are distributed through Red Cross representatives or through other responsible agencies familiar with local conditions and needs, Laycock explained. More than 100 American Red Cross civilian relief workers will take part in planning the distribution and will supervise the actual distribution of garments.

The production room in the basement of the post office is open from 1:30 to 4:30 each Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. Workers to help complete this quota of children's clothing will be welcomed.

The following volunteers assisted with this program during the month of March: Mrs. Tom Ecker, Mrs. Henry English, Mrs. R. J. Epps, Mrs. Ida Dennis, Mrs. T. W. Dunaway, Mrs. L. L. Davis, Mrs. H. E. Carlson, Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mrs. J. G. Cargill, Mrs. S. W. Brandt, Mrs. Olive Alston, Mrs. O. A. Wagner, Mrs. J. S. Wynne, Mrs. DeLea Vicars, Mrs. John Sweet, Mrs. J. M. Nichols, Mrs. R. D. ## Petroleum Ceiling Removal Is Urged

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Immediate lifting of price controls over petroleum products was urged today by Chairman Patman (D-Texas) of the house small business committee in a letter to Price Administrator Paul Porter.

Declaring that continuance of controls "only serves to encourage the trend toward monopoly," the Texan said:

"Because of the domination of a few major concerns which largely control the refining and marketing of petroleum products, I feel that sight is often lost of the fact that 40 per cent of our crude oil is produced by approximately 19,000 small operators who have never had the benefits of profitable sideline operations in the refining and marketing field."

OPA recently announced it contemplated lifting petroleum price ceiling on or before June 30, subject to reinstatement if prices should soar.

Bevin Calls for Proper Machinery To Settle Dispute

BRISTOL, England, March 30.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin called on the world's big powers tonight "to leave behind the method of negotiating under duress" and proposed that the United Nations organization establish proper machinery "to settle economic rivalry."

Without mentioning directly the Russian-Iranian dispute, Bevin told a meeting of transport union members that "it is improper to negotiate or attempt to negotiate or obtain concessions by a great power or a little power by means of occupying the country with forces."

Describing the use of force as "16th century imperialism," Bevin proposed an agreement among the UNO powers "that whatever happens we will not use armies to settle our disputes."

"Imperialism," he said, must be left behind and I believe that a solution will be found and the principle will be accepted that those of us who represent the great powers will not do that.

"I think we shall have to leave behind the method of negotiating under duress, but that carries with it a further step," he continued.

"Where vital raw materials are concerned that may be a cause of great powers getting into conflict. Then, we must establish proper machinery to deal with that vital economic problem and not by the old methods."

Referring to oil concessions, which Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ali told the security council were sought by Russia in Northern Iran, Bevin declared that Britain desired to "promote an agreement on oil" and that an agreement had been proposed to the United States "to call all powers to consider both its exploitation and use."

Leftists

Leftist groups are boycotting the elections, in which the conservative populist party appears likely to win a majority of the 384 seats in parliament. The leftists charge the populist party, dominated by royalists, are planning a coup to return King George II to Greece.

At a mass meeting near constitution square the huge crowd of leftist sympathizers shouted "they should go!" when former Foreign Minister John Spharopoulos denounced the presence of British troops and charged that the elections were forced on Greece by the British.

Armed soldiers and sailors appeared throughout the Attica district, which includes Athens.

British troops, whose presence in Greece also has drawn bitter protests from the Russian, stood by to guard against violence which has plagued this poverty-ridden country since the end of the war.

United States, British and French representatives are here as election observers. Russia declined an invitation to send observers, and has charged that conditions for free elections do not exist in Greece.

Plan for Building Subsidies Bucked

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—The administration's plan for building material subsidies was denounced before a senate committee today as a scheme to support pre-fabricated housing to the disadvantage of conventional builders.

The accusation came from Joseph T. King, counsel for the National Retail Lumber Dealers association, who said the plan had originated with Stabilization Director Chester Bowles rather than Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt, its present chief advocate.

Urging the senate banking committee to reject Wyatt's request for $600,000,000 for subsidies, King contended price adjustments would produce all the building materials needed and would result in lower-cost housing.

"If Mr. Bowles had adjusted the price of lumber shortly after V-J Day instead of dodging with a government housing program," King declared, "we would be well on the way to the solution of the housing problem instead of having an emergency of Mr. Bowles' own creation."

King said that Bowles had written Wyatt on Jan. 11 saying the government should place "large orders" with pre-fabricators at prices which would "assure the producers in this field a generous profit." He quoted Bowles as saying, "We have x x x men of vision and boldness and drive, such as Henry Kaiser and many others, who have demonstrated that they can develop the methods which required for speedy production."

"I charge," King said, "that for eight months Mr. Bowles refused reasonable price adjustments to get construction items with a government building while he diddled with a plan which would put Mr. Kaiser in business at the government's expense, with an absolute assurance that Mr. Kaiser without any risks, would receive, and I quote Mr. Bowles, 'a generous profit.'"

Wyatt has testified that he proposes to guarantee a market for prefabricated houses under certain conditions. This would mean the government would buy them if the manufacturer could not sell them in the market.

"We've become animals with over-specialized brains. That would be all right if we'd only specialize in developing enough brain power to realize the folly of our ways."

Greeks Call U.S. Land of Plenty

By HAL BOYLE

ATHENS, March 30—(AP)—There is a great yearning toward America in Greece.

This Balkan outpost and first home of democracy is peculiarly sympathetic to American ideals because so many of its people have emigrated to the United States and generally found there security and peace beyond what they knew before.

Greece has been one of the chief beneficiaries of UNRRA and contrary to some other countries her people feel a deep sense of gratitude. The Greeks are largely simple peasant people with greathearted virtues and very human weaknesses.

They live close to the soil—rocky, grudging soil—and they remember favors. They lead rugged lives and are independent and spiritually self-reliant people. As you learn to know them better you feel that they are still truer toocrates and the aeropols than perhaps Italians are to Julius Caesar and the coliseum's broken grandeur.

Many Greeks still look hopefully forward to America as the land of opportunity, and hundreds who returned from the United States to fight for Greece during the war want to go back across the Atlantic again.

I know of nothing better that will teach belief in the American message, whatever may be its ultimate fate in the modern world, than to move among plain people overseas to whom America is still a shining story, the Cinderella land of world politics. Their faith makes one who was born in the United States considerably ashamed of taking for granted advantages that less fortunate lands dream of.

Greece is the true home of Kibitzers. If you bend over to the your shoes a crowd will gather. There is a saying in Athens that if a stranger asks the time four people will be killed in the ensuing debate. Another saying is that every time two Greeks meet two new political parties are born.

Employees Picket Radio Station

AUSTIN, March 30—(AP)—Radio station KTBC, owned by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of Cong. Johnson, was being picketed today by striking members of local 1257 of the international brotherhood of electrical workers.

D. W. Morris of Washington, D. C. international representative of the union, said IBEW members were pulled out of the station and off the construction job of two new transmission towers early today because of the asserted firing. March 18 of J. L. Seay, former chief engineer for KTBC, and the station's failure to enter into a union contract.

Seay said he was demoted to assistant chief engineer and then was fired because of his activities in attempting to organize the station for IBEW.

Truman May Veto New Wage Bill

WASHINGTON, March 30—(AP)—The administration dispatched urgent requests to absent democratic senators today to return to the capital for decisive votes expected early next week on the 65-cent minimum wage bill.

Apparently President Truman's associates held to a thin hope that he senate might be persuaded to reverse a decision which broadened the measure by writing in a revised arm price parity formula.

The President was unable to block adoption of the farm provision yesterday by a 43 to 31 vote, even though he sent his former colleagues word by Majority Leader Barkley that he will be "soppled" to veto the wage measure if it reaches the White House carrying the farm rider. Stabilization officials have condemned the provision as inflationary.

It will take more than eight years to restore European cattle herds.

Monky Stratton Starts Comeback

SHERMAN, Tex., March 30.—(AP)—Gangling Monky Stratton, making his comeback in professional baseball after being out for seven years because of the loss of a leg, goes to the mound tomorrow against Paris to see what he can do in the East Texas league.

Playing with Sherman, the former White Sox pitching ace, will be making his first appearance in organized ball since he lost the leg above the knee as the result of a hunting accident in the winter of 1938. He will play on an artificial limb.

Manager Guy Sturdy of the Sherman club is confident Stratton will be successful in his comeback. "His arm is as good as ever," said Sturdy. "After seeing him work in club try-outs this week, I figure he will win 25 games for us this year."

An East Texas league rule will permit Stratton a runner if he gets out of base.

Rebs Win Opener of 3-Game Series

DALLAS, March 30.—(AP)—The three rebels of the Texas league won the opener of a three-game baseball series with the Milwaukee Brewers 7-4 here today.

Trailing 4-2 going into the last of the eighth, Manager Al Vincent of the Rebels sent in replacements who quickly made five tallies. Pitcher Walter Lanfrance, who had relieved the Milwaukee starter Frank Marino in the sixth, was the victim of the uprising.

Athletics Win Over Toronto Ball Team

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics shined Toronto of the International league, 7 to 6, today in an exhibition baseball game. Sam Chapman, Jack Wallace and George McQuinn each hit inside park homers for the A's.

The days are longer in Oklahoma than they are in Nebraska in the winter months.

Randal Clay Sets Unofficial Discus Mark

State Record Passed as Local Thinclads Beat Wichita Falls

Randal Clay, defending state championship discus thrower, set a new, unofficial mark in that event here yesterday as the Pampa Harvesters defeated the Wichita Falls Coyotes in a dual track and field meet.

Clay heaved the platter 159 feet, 1 1/2 inches to break the state mark of 155 feet 7 inches. His throw yesterday will not go on the books as only marks in the state meet are official.

Pampa, although winning only five out of 14 firsts, rolled up 66 points to the Coyotes' 53, largely on a raft of second and third places.

Coaches and players were gratified by the attendance of probably the largest crowd of people ever to witness a track meet here. Cars were lined up on three sides of the track area and many walked from nearby houses.

Wichita Falls won every track event except the 220-yard dash, which was won by Mayes of Pampa. Mayes was nosed out in the 100-yard dash, his specialty, by Pyle of Wichita Falls.

Mayes also created a surprise among the fans by winning the broad jump, beating Clay by two inches.

Carl Mayes was high point man, garnering 13 3/4 points for his Pampa teammates. Clay and Lawrence of Wichita Falls had 13 each for a second-place tie.

Pampa won all three places in the discus, Soper and Williams finishing behind Clay's record-breaking throw.

Browns Request McQuinn's Return

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 30.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns have asked the Philadelphia Athletics for the return of first baseman George McQuinn, of a cash settlement, and the Athletics are unhappy about it.

Last October the Browns traded McQuinn to the A's for Siebert, and both sides seemed pleased with the deal. But Siebert and the Browns have been unable to come to terms, and the Athletics recently told teammates and others he was taking the radio job.

DeWitt said he informed Mack of the Browns' demand in a telephone conversation yesterday, and that the Athletics' resident and manager expressed indignation.

Armed Captures Tropical Park

TROPICAL PARK, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—The sensational Armed stretched his neck and won the second half of the $20,000 added double event by a head here today, despite a great stretch battle by Historian.

Occupying second to Armed in the first half of the event last weekend, finished third, five lengths behind Woolford Farm's Historian.

Armed equalled the track record of 1:48 3-5 for the mile and one-eighth and paid $260 to win and $230 to place. Historian paid $330 to place. There was no show money.

A mighty roar went up from the crowd of 11,967 as Armed and Historian entered the home stretch and began the battle to the wire. It was a photo finish, so close did the mighty Calumet Farm five-year-old come to being beaten.

NUEVO LAREDO, Mex., March 30.—The ambitious Mexican league, riding with the fortunes of the Pasquel brothers, apparently had made the prize catch of its raid on United States professional baseball today when Vernon Stephens, star shortstop of the St. Louis Browns, reached an agreement for a five-year contract.

Stephens, a hold-out who had been seeking $4,500 more than the $13,000 he said was offered him by the American league team, will discuss terms with Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican league, at Mexico City.

Stephens and Alfonso Pasquel, one of the five brothers, left today by plane for Mexico City for the conference with Jorge Pasquel.

Before departing Stephens declared nothing yet had been signed but that he was prepared to enter a five-year contract. He added that "I won't have anything to do with the Browns unless they call me." Alfonso Pasquel chimed in: "We'll give him anything he asks."

No one would say whether terms reached thus far meant more than the $17,500 which Stephens, last year's American league home run leader, asked of the Browns.

The 26-year-old Stephens who was with San Antonio of the Texas league in 1940 said here he would play with the Vera Cruz blues, one of the clubs owned by the Pasquels.

A. J. Phoenix, Ariz., where the St. Louis Browns are playing an exhibition game, Manager Luke Sewell said "If the Mexican league thinks it has a prize, that's their thought."

He said he had not been counting on Stephens as an infielder this season, but "we plan to use Mark Christian." He said Christian "is a better defensive man" than Stephens.

He also said he thought "the boy made a mistake" if he had signed with the Mexican league.

CHICAGO, March 30.—(AP)—The American league will wait until short stop Vernon Stephens' reported bid from the St. Louis Browns to the Mexican league is "official" before contemplating a buy-out.

President Will Harridge said today.

Graziano Whips Triangular Meet

AUSTIN, Tex., March 30.—(AP)—Placing in every event which they entered, the University of Texas tracksters won a triangular field meet over Rice and Baylor here today by totaling 94 1/2 points. Rice was runner-up with 40-1-2 points, followed by Baylor with 24.

Clyde Littlefield's Longhorns took eleven first places and tied for another on the 16-event program, clinching the day with a triumphs in the one mile relay.

The Steers started the meet by taking the first three places in the 440-yard dash which was won by Desmond Kidd in 49.7 seconds. Texas also grabbed the first three places in the shot put and discus throw and placed first, second and fourth in the 100-yard dash and half mile.

The Longhorns avenged an earlier loss to Baylor in the 440-yard relay, but the Bears made it a close race as Bill Martinson closed in fast on the anchor leg. Held out of the sprint because of a weakened condition, Martinson competed only in the one event.

Augie Erfurth, Rice freshman, was high point man of the meet with 10 points, scored by taking first places in both hurdle events.

Removal of Price Ceilings on Crude Oil Again Urged

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Removal of price ceilings on crude oil, as a means of meeting the navy's oil demands, was urged by Chairman Olin Cuberson of the Texas railroad commission today.

Faced with a growing shortage of stocks of certain grades of fuel oils needed for naval and merchant vessels, the navy recently requested the Texas commission to boost the daily output of crude in the state by 2,000,000 barrels. The present production allowed by the commission is 1,941,000 barrels.

Declaring he and Beauford Jester, another member of the three-man commission, would vote against increasing the production allowable as requested by the navy, Cuberson in a statement to the press said:

"Refiners can make more profit by producing gasoline and other products from crude than can be made from residual fuel oils sold at a flat price per barrel, regardless of the gravity of such fuel oil."

"It is quite obvious that if refiners refused to contract with the navy for its contemplated requirements because of price, then withdrawals from reserve stocks of fuel oil by the navy necessarily follows."

Cuberson declared the shortage could be solved by assurance of an OPA order increasing the ceilings on the particular grades of oil sought by the navy or by the immediate removal of price restrictions on crude oil and its products.

Four Places in Brooklyn Lineup Are Still Vacant

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—Lippy Durocher thinks the St. Louis Cardinals can be beaten but he isn't prepared to go all the way and pick his Brooklyn Dodgers to do the job.

"We have too many ifs," Leo warned in a cautious mood. "Third base, first base, right field and catching are not set. I'm still trying out this fellow and that one."

"But once I make up my mind, we'll have lots of fire. I'll call the gang together and tell them 'this is it, boys, this is how we go from here.' Then you'll see plenty of spark and drive—or else."

Spark and drive are two of the most important assets of the Durocher system. Leo vacillates from a slave driver to a good humor man at the drop of a hat.

Trying to peg an opening lineup on this club is dangerous but most observers in the Dodger camp think his infield will be Ed Stevens at first, Billy Herman at second, Pee Wee Reese at short and Cookie Lavagetto at third with Dixie Walker in left. Pete Reiser in center and "Rockie" Gene Hermanski in right.

Catching is one of the big "ifs" Durocher mentioned. Mickey Owen is expected back from the navy before the season opens. Herman Franks looks the best of the rest followed by Dixie Howell and Don Padgett. Mike Sandlock has been out with injuries.

Pitching, the Dodgers' early problem child, seems to have straightened out with Kirby Higbee, Hal Gregg, Ed Head and rookie Joe Hatten as certain starters. Hatten, a 28-year-old ex-GI left-hander, is hailed as the real "find" of the spring.

CHICAGO, March 30.—(AP)—The American league will wait until short stop Vernon Stephens' reported bid from the St. Louis Browns to the Mexican league is "official" before contemplating a buy-out.

President Will Harridge said today.

Newhouser Pitches Tigers to Victory

LAKELAND, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—Hal Newhouser, going the full nine innings, was tagged for a dozen hits but kept them well scattered today as the Detroit Tigers hammered out a 8 to 4 exhibition victory over the Boston Braves.

MacArthur Wins Over Opposition

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur won out today in the far eastern commission over the opposition of New Zealand and Russia, in his insistence on holding Japanese national elections April 10.

A state department communique reporting on the secret meetings said only that the commission decided that any action on its part in connection with the elections was unnecessary.

Diplomatic officials who asked anonymity gave this account of the proceedings:

Delegates Carl Berendsen of New Zealand and Nikolai V. Novikov still objected to holding early elections because they were not satisfied by assurances of MacArthur, supreme commander of Japan, that any undesirable government resulted he would dismiss it and hold a new election later.

MacArthur, who had been asked by the commission why it was necessary to hold the elections at this time, expressed the view that elections now would "produce as good a government" as any held later.

MacArthur emphasized that his staff had inspected all candidates and ruled out any who were suspected of ties with the Japanese military or warplane.

Berendsen and Novikov did not insist on a formal vote.

these commodities. In the case of cotton, he argued, it would open the field for competitive fibers and paper substitutes, and he said the long range export markets for both cotton and wheat might be endangered.

With President Truman already having given notice of a veto of the senate's proposition, there appeared strong prospect that the Flannagan-Hope proposal for a different approach to the problem, through a thorough study, might prevail.

The senate parity revision, tacked to the minimum wage bill, would require the computation of farm labor costs, including labor of the farmer and his family, into the parity formula.

unning leaders had completely taken in even some American military government officials.

LONG-RANGE PLAN

Arrests of the inner circle began as long as three months ago. In the Saturday night-Sunday morning raids 600 were jailed.

"The movement's long-range plan, designed to revive the Nazi ideology in Germany, was the most dangerous threat to our security encountered since the war," Brig. Gen. Edwin L. Elbert, U. S. intelligence chief asserted.

"The back of the movement is broken."

One-armed, 32-year-old Arthur Ashmann, former Nazi "fuhrer" of German youth, was seized three months ago, along with a number of his closest henchmen. He was identified as the leader of the entire conspiracy.

Elbert said U. S. intelligence agents discovered the plot just after V-E day.

"Its recruits were all high-type, intelligent, white-collar leader material," Elbert said, and any one of the inner circle could have been a new German fuhrer.

The group had two principal aims—the formation of an economic structure that would give cover and backing to the second phase a "long range subtle influencing of German politics along the lines of the fisher principle."

The organization first was formed in Western Germany by high officers of the radical Jugendbewegung (Hitler youth headquarters) who moved about the country with messages for former Hitler youth members and members of the "bund deutscher maedchen" (German girls movement). Their assignment was to find out which of these would be suitable for the reconstruction of Germany along Nazi lines.

When the organization began to expand, American and British agents decided it was time to bring the crackdown, which started in mid-December with the leaders of the movement. Last week American agents found the Nazi activities spreading to the Soviet zone, and turned their information over to Russian authorities.

Heideman was able to win the confidence of American military government authorities, and the counter-intelligence corps purposely let his masquerade go on.

Early last fall, another undercover group began to organize in northern Germany under Willi Lohel, former Nazi youth directorate official. He proposed a merger with Heideman's financially powerful group. Heideman, Elbert said, believed a merger was not timely. The subsequent wrangling tipped the watching counter-intelligence men to the existence of the northern group.

signed a contract with the owners. It was to run from April 1, 1945 to April 1, 1946.

He continued to talk about the foremen with the owners. When the talks got nowhere, his miners struck for three weeks last October.

Since the one-year contract expires at midnight tomorrow, Lewis started March 12 to tell the owners what demands he wanted met before signing another contract.

Of his nine demands, three stand out but his technique is different now.

1. He wants higher pay. He has never said how much higher. He wants shorter working hours. He has never said how much shorter.

2. He wants the owners to set up a health and welfare fund for the miners. But he has never said how big the fund must be or how it is to be set up.

3. And he wants the owners to agree to let their firemen join Lewis' union.

He has made it clear that of his nine demands now he considers the health and welfare fund the No. 1 problem.

If the walkout is brief, it may have little or no effect on reconversion. If it lasts any length of time, it will surely hurt reconversion because manufacturers will start conserving coal, slowing production.

purposes. Thirty houses constructed by the Hughes-Fitts, Inc., and Cabot Co. three home construction far in the lead with $70,000 worth of first-quarter 1945 permits.

Texas is building homes, hotels, factories, churches, hospitals and stores at the fastest pace in its history, reports the Associated Press.

Thirty Texas cities checked by an Associated Press survey reported almost without exception, that the first quarter of 1946 had set an all-time high in building permits issued.

Houston was leading at the quarter-mark with total permits of 288-771,837.

Dallas was second, with $15,560,383. San Antonio was third with $8,808,352, closely followed by Fort Worth with $8,509,812.

Largest individual permits were in Houston. They were the Shamrock hotel of the Glenn H. McCarthy interests, $5,000,000, and the Foley Bros. department store, $3,300,000.

There is still a housing shortage in Texas, but the number of homes built during the first three months of 1946 form an amazing total. New government restrictions will spark a new boom here, it is predicted.

The increase over 1945 is staggering in Dallas, for example, the increase is over ten-fold. In almost all areas it is four and five times as much as last year.

The 1946 totals also are setting all-time highs, exceeding even the boom twenties. Pampa may exceed her 1939 million and a half dollar growth if restrictions are released.

Corpus Christi continues its steady growth as Texas' fill-in city but Austin jumped ahead during the past quarter in building permits. Tyler, Denton, Marshall, Lubbock, Abilene, San Angelo are well up in the front ranks.

The number of strikers idle in the nation has dwindled to the lowest figure in more than four months — 372,000. The principal reason for the sharp drop was the return of 88,000 of General Motors 175,000 striking production workers.

In the Virginia power settlement, both sides were expected to notify the governor immediately of the development. The governor said earlier that he would not relax his decision to keep the workers in the militia until "all danger of disaster disappears."

Involved in the settlement were approximately 1,780 workers.

Both parties agreed to submit to arbitration all unsettled issues, including how retroactive to make a 17 1/2 cents hourly pay boost. The company and union will meet again April 9 to work out an agreement on all matters not covered in the stipulation.

Other developments along the labor front:

The government will resume efforts at the labor department in Washington today to settle a two months old strike of 30,000 CIO International Harvester company employees. Earlier federal conciliation services ended Wednesday without agreement.

In announcing the recall of 88,000 CIO United Auto workers, General Motors said 60 of its 75 plants have resumed operations. Twelve plants remain idle over local issues while three have not yet voted on the national agreement.

The banquet hall was decorated with sweet peas and the senior colors of blue and white. The banquet menu consisted of chicken salad, snacks, olives, angel food cake, and fruit punch.

The invocation was given by Rev. Dan Beltz.

Miss Merlene McGraw, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Airhart, sang, "Some Sunday Morning." Harold Hester gave a reading, followed by a talk by Mel Farren. The evening's entertainment was concluded with a talk by Dr. John W. Cobb, and group singing led by Miss McGraw.

Women in charge of the party were: Mrs. Charles Earhart, Mrs. W. E. James, Mrs. Jerry Lockard, Mrs. Guthrie, and Miss Vest James. Seniors and visitors attending were: Lena Pearl Dick, Myrtle Rhayre Procter, Mary Joyce McDaniell, Lovel Hughes, Joe Johnson, Noel Ciemmons, Jackie Patterson, Bob Turner, Marie Chambliss, Alma Corbett, Nina Pearl Maple, Dan Johnson, Ernestine Black, Doyle Guthrie, Bob Arlington, Zona May (sponsor), Mr. and Mrs. E. ### Kellerville School Board Honors Employees

KELLERVILLE, March 30 (Special)—The Kellerville school board, consisting of Custer Lowary, W. W. Hughes and Carl D. Wall entertained the teachers and all school employees with a banquet held at the school cafeteria Tuesday evening.

Joe Harris gave the invocation and Lowary gave the opening remarks and address of welcome. Wallace Riffle, the principal gave the response. Hughes presented a list of all school employees and especially to the teachers. In his closing remarks he said, "We hold the teachers in high esteem and they, in most cases are in closer contact with the children than the parents, because they are with the child six hours each day, which in many cases is more time than the parents are with them, and therefore know them better."

He continued by saying, "Teaching is the most honorable occupation in which any one can engage. It is the most self-respecting business on earth. No profession offers such constant inducements to be honest, truthful, humane and intelligent. The teacher has the most admirable of all opportunities for development of high character. There are fewer immoral, shady, hypocritical persons in the teaching profession than in any other, not excepting the clergy and reformers. The school teachers rank higher and work for less than in any profession, and yet they enjoy it, rather than to take many positions for which they are qualified or could hold with more compensation. We take our hats off to you, our teachers, you are of distinction."

The eight grade pupils assisted in serving the banquet. There were 35 present.

"Our Pampa Community Concert association during its two-year existence," remarked F. Winston Savage, president of the concert group, "has built an enviable reputation for presenting some of the world's finest concert and opera artists, musical and dance ensembles, for the pleasure and inspiration of our members."

"During this period the association has brought to this section of the state such noted artists as Walter Hautzig and Bartlett and Robertson, pianists; Alexander Kipnis, baritone; Jean Watson, contralto; Mia Slavenski and company, dance ensemble; Patricia Travers, young violinist; Rosario and Antonio, Spanish dancers, and the Don Platoff Russian Cossacks.

"We are holding our membership campaign for next season's series of concerts from Tuesday, April 9, through noon of Saturday, April 13, and we feel it is not unreasonable to expect that our membership will be materially increased over last year, judging from the interest and enthusiasm already engendered for the week's campaign activities."

"It is also reasonable to anticipate," he continued, "that our association will have a wider selection of artists and attractions to choose from than ever before. Practically every major musical artist in the world comes to America, if not already here, and many have returned from service in the military forces and are available to the concert world."

"Although we can look back on our association's past achievements with justifiable pride, the outlook for the coming years appears to be even more brilliant. I believe that every member of our association, be he an officer or a lay member, will be eager to be a part as we progress through the years ahead, and we trust many will desire to join the present workers to promote our membership campaign, and help win for Pampa, a prominent role in our country's musical field."

Mr. Savage said today that Mrs. Harold C. Wedler, dinner chairman, and her co-workers, Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., and Mrs. A. A. Schuneman, will be busy this coming week contacting the workers and making plans for the dinner-meeting on Monday evening, April 8, at the Pampa room in City hall, which will officially launch the week's campaign for new members.

SPRING STYLE PICTURE

Parasol-Sized Hats Claim Attention

Provocative hats as big as parasols rival the burgeoning trees in the Bois de Boulogne for first spring attention of fashionable Parisiennes. Trimmed with a swirl of microscopic to the cartwheel. For face these shoulder-wide straws have a picture-book look, which whoops up romantic appeal.

The majority of hats shown in such style-leading collections as Legroux Soeurs, Maud et Nana, Pajoulette, Suzanne Talbot and others stress an "off-the-head" pose. Equally chic, however, is the hat set aside from the "canon" which is worn straight across the brows—not down over the eyes or even slightly tilted.

Veils, from the finest mesh to the wide fishnet and chenille-dotted types give a Second Empire touch to the myriad small hats set aside for cocktail dates or the theater. Veiling often picks up the shade of the trimming or else is the same blonde color as straw. It is used generously, tying in big bows at the back. The "bird-cage" veil covering the face and gathered into a neckband is back again.

YELLOW LEADS WHITE
Yellow, including natural and burnt straw shades as well as barley sugar yellow, is smart and newer than white for the hat Parisiennes will wear with black, navy or gray

Flat Shoes Need Not Make Your Feet Flat

Feet have been "coming down to earth" lately, and foot specialists have warned the ladies that a flat-footed generation may develop as the result of low-heeled styles, flat "leather" models and the like.

Of good health, but women need have no fear of the result of the "on the ground" mode—if they only heed the warnings of science but take its advice as well. Foot health will in no way be injured if flat-heeled styles provide sufficient support, which means they should have either soles for a stable foundation combined with sufficient flexibility to give muscles free play.

"This season's 'flats' offer plenty of choice for women who want to stay healthy though chic. In leather or soled models they range all the way from stylized charmers like ballet slippers and ballet boots to sturdy earth-huggers like ghillies and low-heeled oxfords. With strong soles of flexible leather, these shoes give real comfort and are right in the style swing.

The trend away from high heels started during the war, and bids fair to grow from an emergency fashion to a permanent favorite. During the war, women developed busy lives filled with countless activities and a great deal of exertion. New activities in community life, more plant and office called for more comfortable, easy - moving shoes. Rationing of precious leather soles and uppers made quality of "sensible" shoes more popular and practical. Thus a series of realistic war situations provided the practical foundation for the new vogue of low-heels which, with leather soles on hand for healthy comfort, promises to be a fashion that's come "for keeps."

Wise Girl Seeks Women Friends

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Size up the most devastating feminine charms you know and see if they don't all have a capacity for genuine affection for women friends. See if they aren't able to return another woman's gaze with friendly, unguarded eyes.

I bring this up because I hear too many girls boast that they don't have women friends, and airily state the reasons why.

Maybe as a sex we do have handicaps. The girl who lists them usually enumerates a few of her own. It remains, however, that women make up at least half of her world, and she is going to be rather limited if she bars the doors to them for any reason.

On the practical side, there is the argument that men are usually superior to women who can't get along with the members of their own sex. I've known men, too, who couldn't see the charm of certain girls until their mothers or sisters pointed them out.

It's a well-known fact, also, that match-making is the province of women, and who do you think are the girls they plump for? Their friends.

Mrs. Berle Wins Honors in Brazil

By HOYT WARE
AP Newswriter

RIO DE JANEIRO.—Some women might consider being an ambassador's wife a full time job, but the wife of the United States Ambassador to Brazil, Mrs. Adolf A. Berle, Jr., finds time to devote half of every day ministering to charity patients in a Rio de Janeiro hospital.

Mrs. Berle, who holds a doctor's degree from New York University Medical school, recently was elected an honorary member of the Society of Medicine and Surgery of Rio de Janeiro in recognition of work which has earned the esteem of her Brazilian colleagues.

This work consists in part of duties as a regular staff physician in a hospital here, giving medical attention to charity patients. Mrs. Berle spends every morning at the hospital, then frequently visits other hospitals, inspecting their facilities and always urging the enrollment of more nurses.

She also lectures on medical subjects and, like her husband, speaks excellent Portuguese. Thus she is able to discuss with her Brazilian colleagues and students hospital and medical practices that are new to some parts of Brazil.

Mrs. Berle is also a frequent speaker on cultural programs sponsored by the Instituto Brasil — Estados Unidos. She also appears on scientific seminars and forums directed

Family Reunion

Four generations were present when a family reunion was held March 17 in the home of Mrs. Della Sullivan, 85, who resides at 425 N. Starkweather. The group (shown above) includes Mrs. Sullivan, her son, Roy Sullivan; her grandson, Freeman (Sully) Sullivan; and her great-granddaughter, Sandra Lynn. Mrs. Sullivan, widow of the late Robert Sullivan, is one of the pioneer residents of Gray county. She and her husband moved here from Indiana in 1910. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Sullivan and their daughter came from Dallas for the reunion. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sullivan and was recently discharged from the navy after serving for 19 months in the Pacific, aboard the Saratoga.

by this agency and other cultural organizations that seek to promote better inter-American understanding.

Besides her professional duties, Mrs. Berle maintains a home for her husband and three children and attends to the numerous social functions of an embassy. She often accompanies the ambassador on his frequent trips over the nation, learning along with him the ways of Brazil and its people.

In a city where there is no great tendency to do things in haste, the activity of the Berles has caused pleasant amazement. They speak the national language fluently, have traveled into almost all accessible parts of Brazil and probably have become acquainted with more Brazilians than is usual in diplomatic circles.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcinate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

SOAP BOX DERBY WHEELS TESTED

Gray county youths soon will be able to purchase their soap box derby wheels for the contest which will be held in this county later this year, preliminary to entering the finals in Akron, O., in August. The rules of the contest have not yet come through to the Pampa Daily News, sponsor, but the announcement will be made when they do.

Shown above are wheels, painted a bright yellow and bearing the familiar All-American label, being tested. The woman is testing them for run-out and concentricity. Accurate gauges guarantee that each approved wheel, manufactured at the Firestone Tire & Rubber company, is letter perfect.

Teen Talk

Dear Judy:
Spring seems to be just around the block—or haven't you noticed? So many things have been going on, that I don't know where to start.

In the first place you can say you know me and save my autograph if you like because I have not only seen and spoken to but I have been photographed with—Van Johnson. Isn't that thrilling?
He's very tall and is built like a Notre Dame backfield. He has reddish blond hair, freckles and a sunburn, is rather bashful and is really a Red Mike, I think. But he is smooth with a capital S. The only thing is, he is extremely nervous and can't stand still for a sec. But how could he with everybody running around in circles after him? There were supposed to be no bobby-sox fans at the party where I met him, but a few (with grownups). And was Van besieged for autographs and pictures! But he is a nice guy and seemed to have lots of fun doing it. Some of the kids think he is way ahead of Sinatra in popularity. What do you think?

arrangement. Her friends call her "the brain." In her 1,000 word essay which clinched the $2,000 scholarship, she discussed the anesthetic, pentothal sodium, which is injected into the blood stream in the arm. She has used anesthetics experimentally on rabbits.
More than a million and a half kids throughout the country celebrated National 4-H Club Week. Are you still tops in 4-H?
Have you heard the Spike Jones version of The Nutcracker Suite? It is really terrific and is one of the top-selling albums.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE
ATHENS, March 30.—(P)—For the first time in a decade in this historic birthplace of democracy Greek voters will go to the polls tomorrow to pick by free balloting a new government for the only country in the key Balkans where Moscow has taken no potentially decisive role.
It is one of the most important elections of postwar Europe because Greece is the last outpost in the Balkans of dominant British Empire influence. This tiny nation is also the only Balkan country which has not been unguled by the leftwing political enthusiasm sweeping west and south from victorious and powerful Russia.
Almost all veteran political observers here believe the elections will return a government predominantly right of center and perhaps pave the way for the return of King George. In the last ten days there has been a great resurgence of popular for his return to Athens but this is in no sense a tribute to his personal popularity which certainly isn't high.

"I would rather vote republican but I am going to vote royalist because I believe that is the best way to end strife in Greece and protect ourselves from communism" said one middle-class citizen.
"I don't like King George, he has been a bad king. He is supercilious and arrogant. But I am willing to have him back if that will bring peace without communism".
Five men talked to alone in different places and at different times expressed the same view. All said they preferred republican democracy but that chiefly they wanted a stable government that would end Greece's internal unrest. They dislike King George (GK) because they feel he lent the weight of his throne to a dictatorial government set up in 1936 by the General Metaxas.
It will be a typical Balkan election.

Twenty-one political parties have put up some thousand candidates for 354 parliamentary seats. The Greeks, who fought the Germans most stubbornly, also suffered the most and had fewer quislings per square mile than any occupied country. Hundreds of American, British and French observers will watch the election but take no part.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, March 30.—(P)—Rubbers, utilities and amusements, continuing to reflect optimistic earnings prospects, led the stock market on another selective advance today although selling opposition was noted in various groups.
Some bullish inspiration was found in further price ceiling boosts by the OPA, actual and hoped-for splits, the urge to get ideal funds working and persistent talk of inflation. The threatened coal strike for the coming week, which could restrain many important industries, still provided a cautionary argument.
A bit lowering marketwide was the Packard motor statement that "present limiting factors beyond our control do not make it feasible to predict satisfactory earnings for 1946." A fly in the ointment also was discerned in the Hudson Motors summary showing 42 cents a share for 1945 versus $1.07 in 1944.
While losers were plentiful near the close, plus marks of fractions to a point or more predominated. Transfers ran to around 600,000 shares.
City investing common, an odd-lot issue, climbed about 7 points following a proposal to split the stock 4-for-1. Ahead most of the proceedings were U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Warner Bros., Republic Pictures, R-K-O, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, International Harvester, International Telephone, Anaconda, Electric Power Light, American Water Works, General Electric, Standard Oil (N.J.), Great Northern and Northern Pacific.
Motors were listless throughout. Bonds were steady and commodities irregular.

At Branson, Missouri, 34 teenagers have decided on a $50,000 "lover of bells" for their war memorial project, and they're giving pie suppers to help raise the money. The details of their tower aren't completed but they have spent more than a year studying various types of bells and have collected lots of donations for their memorial.

WEST PAMPA REPRESSURING PROJECT OPENS

In the upper left picture are shown a group of about 70 men who attended the opening of the repressuring plant at the Skelly Kingsmill plant last week. Turning the valve which released gas from the plant into the lease pipe line are C. P. Conover, left, of the Cities Service Co., and member of the WPRA executive committee, and Fred Neslage, Pampa pool engineer. In the background are the two dehydration units which take water out of the gas just before it is injected into the field pipe lines.

Lower left: One of the six 333 horse power BVP gasoline engines in the generator room which generates electricity used to run the compressors. Right: The tank to the right is the hydrogen sulfide treater, used to reduce sulfur content in the gas before it is compressed, giving sweet gas. Lower center: Gasoline stock tanks which provide gas for the project. In the background to the left may be seen the dehydration units towers.

Young Oilman Is Pool Engineer

Fred Neslage, pool engineer of the WPRA, is a young and energetic man who looks like a college varsity grid fullback.

He has spent the last ten years working with repressuring projects, and has been with the WPRA since last May. Before coming to Pampa, Mr. Neslage was assistant division superintendent with the Phillips Petroleum Co. at Amarillo for five years.

Previous to that time he was with the Carter Oil Co. for about five years, and for a couple years served as pool engineer in the Burbank field in Osage county, Okla. Mr. Neslage has worked with repressuring projects in both the north and south Burbank fields. The north reservoir, similar to the Pampa pool being of a sand formation, is about twice as large as the area of the WPRA project.

Mr. Neslage spends the majority of his time out of the field, checking in once in awhile at the WPRA office which has recently been enlarged.

Results from repressuring the Pampa pool may be determined within the next 12 to 78 months, said Neslage. The status of some of the wells may be known sooner.

10 Cent Rise In Crude Oil Due Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—An OPA official said today an increase of 10 cents a barrel in crude oil price ceilings will become effective Monday, April 1.

John P. Barnes, counsel for the agency's fuel price division, said that as announced earlier the increase will apply to producers' ceilings.

OPA is making a study to decide whether the full increase can be absorbed by refiners to prevent a price boost for petroleum products such as gasoline.

Other day heard some fellows talking about the Gayden and Cree in Hutchinson county hitting it good. One man mentioned how Joe probably jumped up and down the derrick floor when the well came in. He said Joe used to be quite a tall man, but he's jumped up and down so much whenever he's been excited that he's condensed himself considerably.

Behind Russia's Iron Curtain

The Story of Stalin's Viceroy

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the last of several dispatches dealing with the men "Behind Russia's Iron Curtain," written for NEA Service by a veteran foreign correspondent.

By JOACHIM JOESTEN
NEA Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 30—(NEA)—In the southwestern marches of the Soviet Empire, bordering on the Adriatic Sea, the "Two Titos" rule supreme: Josip Broz of Yugoslavia, and Enver Hoxha of Albania. Although the personalities of these two men differ a great deal, their rise to power has followed such similar lines, and they are now so closely allied, that they may well be treated as one.

All the world knows the story of the Yugoslav partisan leader, Marshal Tito. But a few remarks may be of interest, in order to bring his story up to date, and to set him off from his fellow-rulers in the Soviet orbit. Tito is the only manual worker, and the only Moscow-trained communist among Stalin's viceroys. The son of a Croat farmer, he was born near Zagreb in 1892 where he became a metal worker and one of the earliest organizers of the Yugoslav trade union movement. He spent many years in Moscow, imbibing the orthodox Marxist faith, and many more years in jail for trying to apply at home what he had learned. Like most of the leaders portrayed in this series, he is a man of medium height and sturdy build, with a determined, expressive face. Tito today is the most powerful position now closely resembles that of Stalin in Russia. Far less well-known abroad is Tito's "little brother," Col. Gen. Enver Hoxha of Albania. He, too, rode to power as leader of a partisan army, battling its way to national freedom against Germans, Italians, and collaborators, in the final phase of the war. Hoxha is a striking personality. He is the youngest (37), tallest (6 feet), and heaviest (180 pounds) of Stalin's viceroys. He is also, by a long shot, the most handsome of the group—a dark-haired, athletic young man. As self-appointed colonel, general, and commander-in-chief of the Albanian army, he is smartly attired in a Russian-style khaki uniform, with six stars on his high collar, four ribbons on his chest, and a gold-braided cap on his imposing shock of black hair, which is a little silvery at the temples. Like Groza and Tildy, Hoxha hails from a much-disputed borderland, the Epirus, which is now being claimed by Greek nationalists. He was born in 1908 in the most important town in the Albanian portion of Epirus, Gjirokastra (Argyrokastron). His father once had worked as a cotton factory hand in Biddeford, Maine. After graduating from high school at Koritza, South Albania, Hoxha went to study in France on a government fellowship. Before he could complete his university education, however, the funds ran out. He then served for a few years as secretary of the Albanian consulate in Brussels. His fluent command of French stood him in good stead when he returned to Albania in 1937 to take a job as professor of French at the Koritza high school where he had received his first education. In his spare time, he conspired with other Albanians for the downfall of tyrannical King Zog. What Hoxha and his friends were powerless to do, Mussolini accomplished with ease on Easter Sunday, 1939: Zog was overthrown and chased out of the country by the invading fascist legions. For Albanians of Hoxha's revolutionary frame of mind, this was a jump from the frying pan into the fire. The Italians didn't like Hoxha either and he soon lost his job as a teacher. He then became the leader of the Albanian resistance movement.

"Two Titos"—Josip Broz of Yugoslavia and Enver Hoxha of Albania. They rode to power at the head of partisan armies, deposed kings.

As a front for his underground activities he used a shop on one of Tirana's main streets, where he sold tobacco and olive oil. None of his many Italian customers suspected that the courteous young clerk was the secret head of the formidable guerrilla bands entrenched in the wild mountains.

In the late summer of 1942, Hoxha himself took to the hills. On Sept. 16, a conference of guerrilla leaders at Peza set up the National Liberation movement with Hoxha as its head. For the next two years, his partisans fought relentlessly, side by side and in close liaison with Tito's armed bands. On Nov. 17, 1944, Tirana fell to Hoxha's mountaineers in a hand-to-hand struggle which cost the Germans and Italians more than 1000 dead. Within a few days, all of Albania had been cleared of the enemy, practically without assistance from the Allies.

On Dec. 2, Hoxha triumphantly rode into the capital, and took up residence in the bullet-riddled palace of ex-King Zog. The new regime wasn't democratic by western standards, and the United States waited a considerable time before according it recognition.

Hoxha, while not himself a communist, surrounded himself with a cabinet at least half of whose members are communists. As a prerequisite to recognition, the Western Powers demanded an untrammelled general election. It was held on Dec. 2, 1945—in the style of the Bulgarian and Yugoslav polls which were taken about the same time.

With the opposition abstaining because that was the safest thing to do, Hoxha's democratic front captured all 82 seats in the constituent assembly. On Jan. 11, 1946, the assembly deposed King Zog and set up a "People's Republic" on the Yugoslav pattern. Hoxha, who had resigned as head of the provisional regime, was immediately elected premier.

Though it has now been recognized by the United States and Great Britain, the "People's Republic of Albania" has still a long way to go to get anywhere near our concept of democracy. But so, of course, has Russia. The satellites must keep in step. Manufacture of floor and wall tile has been greatly speeded up since 1920 through the widespread use of kilns which operate continuously.

WHERE IS LUMBER? PRINCIPALLY IN THE HEADLINES!

GOD MAKES TREES---NOT THE OPA IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

A tree will produce some housing lumber, some railroad material, some industrial material for furniture, farm implements, automobile manufacturing, etc., and some timbers for industry—all of which are necessary in the operation of a free country, which we do not have.

A saw mill operator produces all of these items and has a perfect right to make a profit. He also has the right to use his best judgment in sawing these logs into items they are best suited for. Every mill does not cut the same class of timber. Therefore, no overall regulation will suffice. The saw mill operator is certainly better qualified to decide which of these items his logs are best suited for, than any member of the OPA in Washington, D. C. During the war years it was necessary to regulate prices, production schedules, etc., for one purpose only, winning the war. Before the war a shortage of building materials was unheard of. Now that the war is over we have more controls and regulations, also confusion, than at any time in the history of our country. Many of the small saw mills have gone into what we choose to call the "Black Market" and from the best figures obtainable, these so-called small mills produce 75 to 80 per cent of all the Southern pine lumber manufactured. Almost without exception, the big mill operators are observing the rules and regulations set by the OPA regardless of the fact that many are realizing no return on their investments and are continuously kept in a daze trying to find out exactly what they are supposed to do. We believe that a great many of the mills, small and otherwise, that are in the Black Market, have been forced there through the will to survive rather than the desire to violate regulations.

RETAIL YARD . . . LOGICAL DISTRIBUTOR

The retail lumber yard is the logical distributor of housing lumber. Our industry is well financed, well manned and equipped to do this distribution job, and the only thing holding us back is the lack of production. The only thing holding back production is the OPA, Washington, D. C., and its many outmoded rules and regulations. A saw mill is not equipped to furnish complete house bills. This can best be done by a distributor who buys and assembles hundreds of the items needed by the builder and delivers them to the job site as required.

Any government program that does not FIRST remove the obstacles blocking production of materials will simply add additional difficulties to these problems facing the building industry today!

Contractors know how and are ready to build homes and the only thing blocking them is the lack of building materials. The reason, OPA—Washington, D. C.

The returning veterans need homes and we want to help them get these homes; but the same thing occurs all along the line. There is no production of the items needed and we run into the same answer every time, the OPA—Washington, D. C.

THE REMEDY: REMOVE ALL RESTRICTIONS AND PRICE CEILINGS ON LUMBER AND BUILDING MATERIALS . . .

Let the saw mills handle production, the lumber yards the distribution, the contractors the construction, and before you know it, there will be more houses than even Washington can visualize. Prices will no doubt soar for a short time, but the basic laws of supply and demand will in a short time control and regulate every step of the operation from the tree to the finished home, and it is our opinion that the price of materials when released will never reach the heights which the Black Market prices of lumber and building materials have already attained.

In our present campaign to acquaint the public with the inequalities confronting the lumber and building material business we have no doubt trod on the toes of some of our friends. This was necessary in order to give the true picture. We have no quarrel with the local OPA office. They have worked with us and for us at all times, and we all know where the regulations come from.

The American people want to be free again and will not be happy or at their best until they are. We have no quarrel with the G. I. In fact, it is our earnest desire to aid him in every way. However, all types of lumber must be produced freely to the best advantage, so that our entire economy can function. A G. I. with a home and no job because the industry he worked for cannot get the necessary material for plant expansion or operation is certainly the victim of a short-sighted policy. Let's unshackle the Nation and let it go back to free enterprise all along the line, so we can go forward in the manner that has made us the greatest Nation on earth. We will lose our place in the sun if we keep fooling around!

If the material shortage is preventing you from building your home, please write or wire Congressman Eugene Worley, Senator Tom Connally and W. Lee O'Daniel.

United States, Great Britain State Lend-Lease Payments

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—The United States and Britain last week announced nine agreements for settling lend-lease and other wartime obligations, under which this country will be paid about $650,000,000 plus interest by New Year's Day 2002.

A memorandum covering the agreements was signed in Washington by Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson and the British ambassador, the Earl of Halifax.

The broad agreement on the obligations, including the fixing of the balance due the U. S. at about $650,000,000, was reached last December 6 and announced along with details of the projected $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain.

At that time, however, it was stated that "specific agreements necessary to implement these understandings, setting forth the terms in detail, were being prepared. These are covered in the 18,000-word document issued today.

The $650,000,000—like the $3,750,000,000 loan if approved by congress—is to be repaid in 50 annual installments beginning December 31, 1951. It will draw two per cent interest.

The senate war investigating committee expressed concern last week that military and naval equipment which it said was worth $4,700,000,000 was being turned over to Britain.

Here is a brief summary of the nine agreements:

1. Makes provision for delivery of lend-lease and reciprocal aid (reverse lend-lease) after V-J Day, consisting generally of goods "in process of procurement or delivery" on that date, which are to be paid for "on the basis of actual costs."
2. Lists previously unsettled war claims of each government accepted by the other, and provides for waiver of claims on which agreement was not reached.
3. Transfers ownership of lend-lease stocks held by British civilian authorities and reciprocal aid stocks held by U. S. civilian authorities on V-J Day.
4. Does virtually the same thing as No. 3 for lend-lease and reciprocal and military supplies held by the armed forces of both countries.
5. Give Britain title to a number of lend-lease transport planes and permits leading of others.
6. Defines the share of each country in oil stocks sent to the other lend-lease or reciprocal aid.
7. Provides for the transfer generally of U. S. installations on British territory to Britain and of British installations on American territory to this country.
8. Transfers to Britain, with some exceptions, U. S. surplus property now in that country.
9. Provides that each country will sit claims of its citizens resulting from the presence of troops of the other on its soil.

Armored Division To Be Deactivated Soon

TEMPLE, March 30.—(AP)—The 20th armored division, one of the two remaining armored divisions in the United States, is to be deactivated during the first week in April and merged with the personnel of the Second armored division, the Camp Hood public relations office announced.

The 20th was the last of the armored divisions to be formed during the war. It was activated at Camp Campbell, Ky., March, 1943, trained there and sent overseas in February, 1945. It was in combat in the Munich-Salzburg area during the closing campaigns of the war with Germany.

DALLAS, Texas, March 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Coe Scruggs, in search of a sirloin steak, found her butcher standing idle behind an empty meat counter.

"Since you don't have any meat and can't do any work, why don't you sell me your knife?" she asked. "It was a deal."

Now Mrs Scruggs has the knife—and no meat.

Texas Commission Makes Change

Faced with a backlog of 140,000 unpaid servicemen's readjustment allowance claims, the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission since Monday, March 25, has begun taking veterans claims once every two weeks instead of once a week.

Reason: the Texas Commission cannot obtain additional machines and equipment to handle the increased number of claims filed weekly. Payments to the unemployed recently discharged veterans will be speeded by the change-over. Also, the commission is seeking to reduce administrative expenses of this rapidly growing program, which now has more than 110,000 veterans actively claiming allowances.

Overall amount of the entitlements under Title V of the GI Bill of Rights—a maximum of 52 weekly payments of $20 each—will not be affected. However, under the new procedure, unemployed veterans will report every 14 days instead of seven days and they will claim two weekly payments instead of one. Self-employed claim-taking procedures will remain unchanged.

As agent for the Veterans Administration, the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission administers the servicemen's readjustment allowances phase of the GI Bill of Rights in Texas. Administrative expenses, as well as allowance funds, are supplied by the Veterans Administration out of monies voted by congress for that purpose.

Eisenhower Will Visit Birthplace

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower who hasn't seen in 54 years the house at Denison, Texas, in which he was born, is looking forward to visiting his birthplace on April 20.

Yesterday at a luncheon of the Texas congressional delegation, the chief-of-staff said, "a man always has a bond of affection with the state of his birth. I haven't seen the house in which I was born for 54 years, so I really am anticipating my visit there with much pleasure."

It's the idea of people looking at you that gets you at first. But you get used to that. They think you're different, although in your mind you know you are the same.—Lawrence Mahoney of New York, veteran who lost both arms and one eye in combat.

LITTLE HARVESTER

Anna Reports

By ANNA MERLE COX
The Brainstorm, Amarillo High school publication, stated that Lynch's Little Lilies, formerly known as the Golden Sandstorm, have scheduled a game of jacks with the Pampa Junction Petunias to be held next September at Butler field.

There has been quite some argument on whether to let the ball bounce twice or just once. The Lilies want to have as many bounces as necessary and the Petunias want to go by the regular state rule of just one bounce.

The winner of this game will go to the state tournament in Dumas.

The Brainstorm states: Because the students of AHS and PHS are so fond of each other and get along so well together, it was decided in a joint meeting of the school boards to combine the two schools.

Although Amarillo students are very eager to get the schools together to improve scholastic and athletic enterprises—Pampa students haven't as yet decided.

Don't get excited, I haven't turned sports-writer or anything like that—just thought you might like to know.

Beverly Candler, treasurer of the senior class, has requested that all seniors pay their dues as soon as possible. The dues have to be paid in order for the seniors to graduate.

Allison Gives Up; All Excuses Are Good One Week

From the attendance office comes this report: "No unexcused absences were recorded last week."

On Tuesday, Mr. Allison just heaved a sigh and remarked, "I am gaining too much faith in human nature." With Wednesday it went something like this: "It must be a mistake; it just has to be a mistake."

Thursday a lie detector was seen on his desk; but even this remarkable contraption couldn't produce the desired results. Being unable to put his finger on the cause of this peculiar and bewildering situation, and half despairingly with the last rays of hope, he murmured, "Tomorrow's another day; surely someone will skip."

But Friday brought forth only less excused absences and the authenticity of all could not be questioned.

At noon Friday, PHS' assistant principal hurriedly dashed off a note to Mr. Kinard. The informal resignation read, "No unexcused absences were recorded in my office during this past week. I can see that my services are no longer required at PHS—so I will sever all relations with the Pampa school system and try my luck at something else."

(Ed. Note: Don't any of you truants attempt skipping tomorrow, because even editorials can be misleading in an April Fool edition.)

Wedding Bells To Ring For Two PHS Lovers

Wedding bells will ring in the halls of PHS next Wednesday when, instead of the regular assembly, the Rev. R. G. West will "tie the knot" between two prominent seniors.

The "Little Harvester" is combining with other students in keeping secret the names of these two well known lovers.

Music will be furnished by a visiting trio which will sing the new wedding march, "The Flight Is On," and "Chickery Chick."

In order to make a more illustrious wedding the students of PHS will remember in years to come, there is an urgent need for bridesmaids. All PHS girls who wish to help and have their names printed in next week's edition of the school paper, please leave your name with Miss. Claris Glick not later than the second period Tuesday.

—APRIL FOOL!—
E-c-e-c-e-c-k!!! —Ed.

Orchids To All Students

The students of PHS are to be complimented on their excellent behavior between classes and in the halls. They are quiet, very courteous, polite and always greet one another very formally.

Now in some schools, the students are noisy and very rude to one another, but not so in PHS. Really, the students would do better if they were a little more informal—such as; instead of saying "Good Morning, Miss Brown," they would say, "Hiya, Dot!" They are always very nice to the teachers and try to help them in any way possible.

Students of PHS always stay at home at night and study.

Sagebrush-- by the Sage

Sunday again! Another miserable day with nothing to do but wish you were back in class taking a good ole test! There's simply nothing like it.

Yesterday evening Mildred Groves and Charlie Riggins, Jere Hancock and Bill Mitchell had a double wedding ceremony. Congratulations!

Everyone just can't help complaining about the awful spring weather. It makes us so ill at ease when the dust isn't blinding us and blowing us off across a wheat field in one of our off moments.

Lonnie Williams hangs out the door of every class whistling at the girls until he is tardy every time. When will you learn, Lonnie?

The one thing the seniors hate about kid day is that they are obligated to miss a whole day of school and go on a picnic where there is plenty of food.

It is the personal wish of every individual in PHS that Randall Clay would start wearing a mask. Enough is enough, and we can't take much more. Anything would be an improvement.

Flash! Ginger Bassett has become PHS' most ardent man-hater. She stated that she would never date again.

Ida Ruth Taylor has decided to bleach her hair and start over as another person. Better luck as someone else, Ida Ruth.

It seems that Bob Troop has ceased to be funny. He hasn't caused a big laugh for a whole week.

Gwen Weston will not even speak to a girl who wears a sweater. Gwen, why do you dislike them so?

Joann Coonrod and Jimmy Terrell have been fussing constantly. It seems that Jim doesn't like the color of Joann's eyes and Joann does not like the size of Jim's shoes. This is drastic.

Betty Schulkey and Carg Claudia have decided to be just good friends. Don't faint, but Betty hasn't said a dozen words for the past few weeks.

Jack Hazelwood, freshman, does not seem to have a thing over other boys in looks or actions. As a matter of fact he is really repulsive.

Bobby Boyles has acquired a new nick name. From now on just call him Tiny.

Betty Joyce Scott has decided to die her hair red. She doesn't like the dull color it is now.

Richard Scheig can't find any person who will go with him. If someone could torture yourself till Sage comes out, she will break the news gently.

Charles Lockhart has definitely changed. There is nothing that interests him in the least about any girl.

Warren Jones deserves a prize for being the most polite boy in high school.

It is unbelievable how true the boys are to their girls. Even when they are out of town they never look at another girl, do you boys?

Mardell Hawkins and Jack Rose go together only on a friendly basis. This is a good example for us to follow.

After a very brief romance Jimmy Cox and Virginia McNaughton have decided to call it quits.

Arvilla Patterson is always complaining about her fat legs. I could

Harvesters Wark Off With 1946 London Olympic Games

Pepettes Win 10, Lose 10 During One Week Period

The PHS Pepettes won ten and lost ten volleyball games played against White Deer, Groom, Panhandle and Amarillo. All of these games were played away from home.

The PHS team won four and lost two games to White Deer. Scores were 15-13, 15-12, 15-12, 7-15, 9-15 and 15-5.

Steadily showing improvement for Pampa are Avis Kelley and Alice Robinson. Dorothy Marie Poe and Wanda Lou Brown did very good serving for their teams. Lorraine Bickel showed all-round playing for White Deer.

White Deer players were Bedniz, Watkins, Gores, Colson, Bickel, Poe, Hester, Brown, Thornburg, L. Bedniz, Studebaker, Johnson, Baten, Taylor, G. Hester, Moot and manager Hawkins. Acting as coach was Miss Mary Bledsoe.

Scores for the Groom game were 15-13, 15-15, 15-18 and 15-2 in favor of Groom. Previous games played by Groom have been against White Deer, Claude and Panhandle. The Groom team has always emerged with the highest percentage of wins. Rosie Weller, captain, made several outstanding set-ups for her team, showing up especially well in spikes for the Groom team were Fae Whately and Evelyn Quirk. The fourth game with a score of 16-18 kept the audience in still suspense as the game swayed back and forth after each team reached 13. The Groom team is coached by Miss Louise Weller. Black, Whately, Quirk, McLaughlin, Blackwell, Bural and Spangler.

The Pepettes were victorious over Panhandle in two out of three games played. Scores for the games were 15-7, 3-15 and 15-11. On the return trip it was difficult to tell whether the local girls were volleyball players or wrestlers.

Panhandle players were Christmas, Broadwater, Dowlen, Williams, Robinson, Armstrong, Tate, Glaston, Toten and Lyles. These girls are coached by Miss Elsie Porter.

The Pepettes A team won two games and lost one to Amarillo with the scores being 15-13, 15-5, and 8-15. The local B team lost two and won one having scores of 15-9, 11-15, and 3-15. Headed up ball was played by both teams with Norma Russell being outstanding in her spiking and Peggy Kelly with hard overhead serves. It seems as though Frances Tubbs is trying to specialize in a left hand spike. Myra Waggoner, captain of the AHS team, showed plenty of fight in the entire game. The Amarillo team has played Dumas, Canyon and White Deer thus far this year.

The 16 girls on the AHS team were picked from 26 intramural teams who played games between the classes. The A team was composed of Margaret Allison, Yvonne Webb, Reese and Hall. The B team players were Brown, Tucker, Hayhurst, Tremble, Parker, Fondy, Rigdon and Rapp. AHS coaches are Miss Jane Williams and Mrs. Doris Forman. Officials for the game were Mr. Jess Cearly and Pat Jackson. Excellent sportsmanship was shown by both teams and a return game will be played Monday night.

Pepettes playing in the games were Peggy Kelly, Fagan, Bain, Avis Kelley, Russell, Davis, Maguire, Pierson, Jones, White, Robinson, Parker, Nelson, Snider, Myatt, and Tubbs.

—APRIL FOOL!—
Interscholastic Meet To Be Held Saturday

The Harvester track team will enter the Interscholastic League track meet Saturday in hopes of winning as many or more of the contests than the successful 1945 team. Randall Clay was high point man for the day with 15 1/2 points. He tossed the discus to a record 152 feet and two inches and also made a record for himself. He also won the first in high jump and broad jump.

Lonnie Williams broke another record when he put the shot 42 feet 7 inches. He also won second in high hurdles and third in the low hurdles.

Carl Mayes won the 100-yard dash and led the record in 10.5 seconds. He won second in the 220-yard dash. Leon Cooch won second in the 440 yard run and third in 100-yard dash; A. Z. Griffin was second in the shot put; and Bill Spear won second in discus throw.

Hobbyist Shows Many Collections Stranger Than Fiction in PHS

Learning, doing, collecting and making are the sections under which all hobbies can be classified. Mr. Karl S. Bolander pointed out in an assembly program Tuesday afternoon.

He said that each of us is trying to succeed, but that we are not trained for leisure, but for a vocation. He urged the students to pick hobbies and enjoy them.

Under the learning hobby, Mr. Bolander said to travel and see the world. Persons interested in trees should learn the names and varieties of trees, and study the oddities of nature, he added.

Some of the doing hobbies are going to the movies—which is bad, he said, if the movies are bad—and reading books, which follows the same rule.

Hobbies shown by Mr. Bolander included a collection of sea shells, stamps, matchbooks, money, postcards, perfume bottles, bells, keys and dolls. Mr. Bolander also showed art work done by students who had won prizes from five to fifty dollars. Sewing, done by school girls, was also shown.

For everyone's information, Miss Anne Louise Jones was a toe dancer before she entered the teaching profession.

Patsy Pierson has given up men—she's now after a man.

Don White, one of the tallest seniors, has shrunk two inches. He got hit on top of the head.

Bob Parkinson has a new candy striped shirt with ecru lace on the cuffs and collar.

Miss Violet Durrett has given up cokes. She is now drinking milk.

Miss Dorothy Hoyle states, "I've given up hockey for tating because I needed more strenuous sport!"

Atarada Discovered By Scientist Jones

While experimenting in chemistry Thursday, Warren Jones discovered atarada, which is more powerful than radar, can contact things as radar does and is deadlier than the atomic bomb.

While taking his afternoon joy ride in his new helicopter, Warren dropped 1/100 of an ounce of atarada from his pocket, still in the small tube. The result is no Amarillo, Borger, Lubbock, Plainview or Kingsmill. It even reached Austin, but set only a few of the tallest buildings on fire.

The reason Pampa was unharmed is that the tube hit the ground facing away from Pampa.

Warren is now wracking his brilliant brain to rediscover the valuable atarada (spelled backwards is adarata) which could have protected the United States from any danger that might ever arise.

Since atarada is no more, we will have to go back to the uncivilized atomic age.

Bill, who has been chosen councillor-at-large for next year, will attend a meeting of the Southern Association of Student Governments in Little Rock, Ark. the week of the play.

Bill Nellis Finds Savage Brutally Stabbed in the Back; Three Accused

By Ami W. Sbbut and Neenan Liebpmac
Mr. Francis Winston Savage, 20, principal of Pampa high school, was found stabbed in the back Friday in one of the most brutal murders in the history of PHS. Bill Nellis well known Metropolitan Opera singer, found the body upon entering Mr. Savage's private office at approximately 12:05 p.m. Northwestern Mountain time.

Mr. Glenn L. Allison, assistant principal of Pampa High, was arrested Saturday after admitting that the murder weapon was his.

"But," he denied stoutly, "I did not kill Windy. He was my friend, and what possible motive could I have?"

"Mr. Allison is being held as a suspect," Chief of Police Louie Allen said today, "for it is obvious that Mr. Allison profit by his superior's death since he would fill Mr. Savage's position."

The police believe that Mr. Savage was looking at the clock at the time he was attacked, probably waiting for the lunch bell to ring so he could be first in line at the cafeteria. The coroner reports that Mr. Savage died at approximately 11:45 a.m., twenty minutes before Bill found his body.

"I went into the office," said Bill Nellis, "to phone home to inform mother that Mr. Allison was going to call her to verify one of my excuses. The phone was off the hook, so I went into Mr. Savage's office to use his. There he was—two feet, 13 inches from the clock. At first I couldn't think, but remembering a similar situation in my latest hit "Oklahoma," I burst into "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning." This brought Mr. Reed Robbins, who phoned the police."

After the police arrived, Bill related what had happened up until the time Mr. Robbins had entered the office. Questioning began—Mr. Robbins being the first man greeted, due to Mrs. N. L. Norman's accusing remark, "Mr. Robbins seemed offended when Mr. Savage scolded him on that story on the band going to Fort Worth next year."

Mrs. Lou Roberts, registrar, who entered the office as the body was being carried away, said, "Dear me, I guess the office finally got him down!" When told of the catastrophe, she fainted. In the confusion that followed, she suffered three broken ribs, two cracked knuckles, and an elbow out of joint by some of the excited bystanders. In a later questioning, she created suspicion by refusing to account for her actions at the time of the murder.

Mr. Allison related that Mrs. Roberts had been greatly irritated at Mr. Savage when he installed the automatic bell, which Mrs. Roberts enjoyed ringing, as she liked watching the anticipation on the students' faces as she would ring it late.

The knife, which before the murder was to be found in Mr. Allison's desk, was five feet in length and four inches in diameter. When asked why it was in his possession, Mr. Allison stated meekly, "I use it to clean my toenails in my spare time."

When he was unable to show any evidence of the action, he was placed in the county jail (the city jail being full of house-seekers) on bond of $100,000,000,000. He raised the money by selling many practically new, unused rubber stamps marked "excused" to some of the PHS students.

At the present all of the PHS students are restricted to the campus for further questioning. In the meantime, coffee and doughnuts are being sold in the cafeteria by the Hi-Y.

The funeral of the deceased, Mr. Winston Savage, will be held Monday, April 1, at 2:30 p.m. at the Fairview Cemetery. Seniors will be excused to attend.

(Ed. Note: If there is any similarity to people, living or dead, in the above story, it is definitely intended.)

—APRIL FOOL!—
A sharp decline in the morale of the school was felt Friday as the students heard of the tragic death of Mr. F. W. Savage, principal.

Students were seen moaning in agony as they trudged down the halls. Classes were unusually quiet. Not a student was called down for misbehavior in class.

'Her Highness and the Bellboy', New Comedy Hit, Opens at LaNora Theater

Actor Attacks Truman's Tie

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

Allah be praised! June Allyson is in a picture that's not a musical. We've been wondering when Metro was going to find out that Miss Allyson is an actress—not a gal that can just sing and dance.

Anyway, "Her Highness and the Bellboy" is a rollicking comedy for young and old and has a cast that can't be beat—Robert Walker, Hedy Lamarr, Miss Allyson, "Rags" Ragland and Carl Esmond.

Hedy Lamarr is cast as the royal princess, who encounters a handsome bellboy in a New York hotel—Mr. Walker.

The real reason Hedy Lamarr, as the princess, wanted to come to America was that she wanted to meet Warner Anderson, with whom she has fallen in love in a previous visit to this country.

June Allyson is cast as an invalid who can only be cured by an intense desire to be cured.

Warner Anderson, by the way, is the end of course, everything comes out all right and it's pure fun all the way through.

This latest M-G-M comedy is showing at the LaNora, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

For the kids who like glorified Westerns, especially in color, "Northwest Trail" showing at the Rex Sunday through Tuesday is just the thing.

The story, naturally, concerns the Royal Canadian mounted police and their fight against the lawless.

The cast, unfortunately, is made up of a bunch of has-beens such as Bob Steele, Joan Woodbury, Ian Keith, John Lel and others. Oh well, the kiddies will never know the difference.

"Incendiary Blonde," showing at the Crown Sunday and Monday, failed to be the smash hit it was intended to be, nevertheless, it's not bad entertainment. Betty Hutton isn't sincere as Texas Guinan but Arturo de Cordova is rugged as her playboy friend, and Barry Fitzgerald is at his usual best as her father.

The story has a weak ending but there's a lot of lavish songs and dances interspersed to make it better-than-average entertainment.

Charles Fagles, Albert Dekker and Bill Goodwin are good in the supporting cast.

Carpet Executive To Speak in Texas

DALLAS, March 30.—An outstanding member of the carpet industry will visit Texas on April 1 when Clifford R. Wright, chairman of the project committee, Institute of Carpet Manufacturers of America, Inc., will speak to the Retail Furniture Association of Texas at the Hotel Buccaneer in Galveston, it was announced today by H. E. Dill, executive vice-president of the association. The subject of Mr. Wright's speech, addressed to retailers, will be "How to Make the Most of the Coming Opportunity."

"Today more than ever before, the entire home furnishings industry, and this includes the retailer, is striving to serve the American homemaker," Mr. Dill declared. "Here in Texas, just as in every part of the United States, home has never meant so much to so many. We representatives of the home furnishings business feel a great responsibility to serve that home."

A 1941 graduate of Pampa high school, Miss Keane was a dancing pupil of Kathryn Vincent Steele for several years and later taught her own classes.

Pictures in which she has appeared in dancing roles are "Eadie Was a Lady" and "Minstrel Men."

Seven Huts Given As Gift to NTSC

DENTON, March 30.—North Texas State college received a gift of seven prefabricated hutments for single men students today, according to President W. J. McConnell, who announced that the building had been donated by Clint Muchison of the Reserve Loan Life Insurance company of Dallas.

The hutments, originally donated to Dallas for USO and Red Cross activities at Love Field, were obtained through the activities of Felix McKnight, associate managing editor of the Dallas Morning News, and chairman of Dallas USO activities, and Gerald Mann, attorney for Muchison. Dr. McConnell, in communications with McKnight and Mann for the past few months, received notification of the gift Tuesday and the units were brought to the campus today to be erected on Avenue C, across the street from the athletic field and Chilton hall. The units, set up in arrangements for USO and Red Cross conveniences; must be equipped with a number of inner partition walls before they can be converted into living units for North Texas State men students, Dr. McConnell pointed out. Donated contents include mattresses and spring, double-deck beds, some fixtures and plumbing facilities.
