STEEL SPRINGS IN YOUR EASY CHAIR or bed determine their comfort, but the "temper" in that steel spring determines the QUALITY of buoyancy—or comfort. Wartime springless furniture taught us the importance of these "invisible ingredients" to comfort.

To make those springs resilient and buoyant, it required plenty of "know how." From the mining of ore, through all the processes of steel making, one AMATEUR touch can spoil the quality of the product.

So it is with the quality of medical care. Your Doctor is highly interested in constant vigilance and improvement in the "know how" in Medical Schools, Hospitals, Clinics and private practice. Keep amateur, political hands off the "tempering processes"—or quality, of health education and care.

Infiltration by Communists of Agencies Blasted

Lashing out in a fifteen minute verbal blast against "communist infiltration" of the federal government agencies, Frank T. O'Brien, GOP candidate for the house of representatives, yesterday afternoon over radio station KPDM, charged "The democratic party in Washington no longer belongs to the people."

O'Brien added that the democratic party in Washington "owned lock, stock and barrel by the radicals and communists who have seized the high positions in the confusing honeycomb of bureaus, commissions, and committees which run this nation today as they see fit" and declared the party as a "monstrosity" because of its autocratic organization and dictatorial policies.

The GOP candidate further denounced the democrats in Washington, stating that there can be no comparison between them and the democrats of Texas except that they share the same name.

He urged the election of a republican congress this year in order to prevent the government from going completely socialist and again quoted the Russian broadcast that a republican victory this year would spell a death blow to the communist party in America, and that only one week before the broadcast the Russian government had urged voters in this country to support Political Action Committee candidates of the GIC or democratic candidates supported by them.

Throughout O'Brien's oral shelling of the federal setup yesterday he referred many times to the dictatorial policies of the GOP and warned that if the democrats would again control the senate and the house OPA would retain its present control and probably be brought back into force for keeps. He also reminded his listeners that during the 1944 election meet had been taken off the ration list and almost immediately after the election had been slapped right back on the ration again.

Winding up his radio address he named the men who have publicly stated they want to see the new deal remain in power. Some of them according to O'Brien are: Earl Browder, Dave Dubinsky, Walter Reuther, Cesar Petrillo, and Harry Bridges.

O'Brien also was a guest of the Pampa Rotary club during its noon meeting in the Palm Room, city hall yesterday. However he made no political remarks there.

Missouri's Man-Made Limestone Cave May Some Day Be Part of Nation's Defenses

By FLORA G. ORR
NEA Special Correspondent
INDEPENDENCE, Mo.—(NEA)—Deep in a limestone and shale hillside, only two miles from President Truman's home here is a gigantic man-made cave 90 acres in area. Today it is just a limestone mine. Someday it might well be part of an underground defense system against all out aerial warfare.

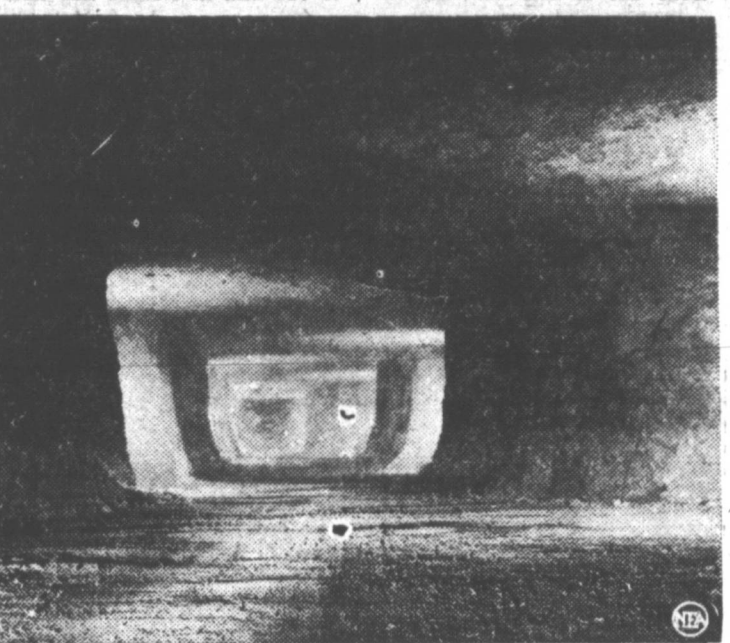

Both the army and the navy are aware of the military defense possibilities of such caves nearby owned in Kansas. During the war they made frequent surveys of the area but nothing was done. They will check them periodically.

The only war-time use made of the caves was by the War Food Administration which leased one at Atchison, Mo., from the Kerford Brothers whose father had carved out a hillside for its limestone before the turn of the century. The WFA used the caves' naturally cool interior for storing foodstuffs.

Both the cave here, which is operated by the Stewart Sand and Material Co., and another nearby owned by the Missouri Portland Cement Co. are turning out tons of limestone daily for the nation's home building program. But it would take only a few alterations to turn either into giant underground factories or air raid shelters.

Limestone pillars, 25 feet in diameter, support cave's roof. Overhead farms peacefully plow their fields, providing natural camouflage in time of war. Trucks can rumble in and out of these entrances to 90-acre limestone cave carved into a hillside near President Truman's home at Independence, Mo. Man standing in entrance, center, gives some idea of the vast size of the cave.

Limestone caves could accommodate thousands of people if converted to war-time air raid shelters, but because they are located so far from large population centers, it is probably that they would be converted into underground factories if the need ever arises.

By leveling the floors and covering them with concrete or other such material machine tools could be installed. Improvement of both lighting and ventilating would be no serious problem, and the huge drive-in entrances would make delivery of material and equipment easy. The peaceful farms overhead would provide natural camouflage.

Health Officers Warn Pampa Food Dealers

City and county health inspectors today warned local business establishment managers against the practice of submerging bottled food and drinks in water for more than short periods.

Ray Salmon, city health inspector, and E. J. Howard, county inspector, said they had found instances in which bottles had been submerged in water that was not only sometimes stagnated but was contaminated by "hands of customers and employees."

It was also found, the inspectors reported, that in some cases, the contents of the bottles had come in contact with water in the containers, creating a "dangerous condition."

New Jury Selection To Be Made Monday

A new county court jury will be selected next Monday, County Judge Sherman White announced this morning.

The first case to be called at that time is the case of Jasper Larkin Jones who was arrested by Liquor Control board agents last Feb. 4. Jones, who is a local taxicab driver, is charged with selling and delivering alcoholic beverages to John Q. Holt on Foster street Feb. 4 without a permit.

County Attorney Bruce Parker said the state will attempt to prove that the defendant is guilty as charged.

Cotton Situation

textiles may be abolished. But he added:

"I don't consider decontrol as important as removal of the 120-day limitation."

Sparkman said Steelman plans to confer with President Truman tonight on the cotton situation.

"I feel certain there will be quick action," the Alabamian asserted. "It's likely to come today."

Cotton exchanges in New York, New Orleans and Chicago announced last night that they would reopen for business today. They halted trading suddenly and unexpectedly yesterday—for the third time in two weeks—in an effort to check the price spike that has sent the staple down as much as $50 a bale.

Sparkman quickly arranged a conference with Mr. Truman and later quoted the Chief Executive as saying it is "the purpose of the government to do everything possible to stabilize the cotton market."

He added that the President was mapping "plans for action."

In the wake of these developments, Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) of the senate agriculture committee announced in Oklahoma City that he had asked Mr. Truman to eliminate immediately all OPA controls over cotton mills and the textile trade "in order to restore confidence in the cotton industry and to stabilize cotton prices."

Man Found Not Guilty Of Assault Charge

Harvey Henry Lamb, McLean was found not guilty by a jury composed of six local men in a case tried in court yesterday evening.

Lamb had been charged with "aggravated assault with a motor vehicle" resulting from an automobile accident that occurred on Highway 66 near McLean last May.

Price Ceilings on Shoes Discarded, Truman's Order

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Decontrol of the nation's $2,000,000,000-a-year shoe industry became effective today before the White House publicly directed OPA Chief Paul Porter to throw shoe price ceilings into the discard.

Friends of Porter said he had refused to take any action until ordered to do so. Also in compliance with White House wishes, they said, he removed ceilings on all leather and hides.

These sources told a reporter the price administrator resisted the White House request because he was opposed to piecemeal removal of controls before OPA is ready to publish its major decontrol list.

Steelman issued the order late yesterday and OPA followed through within a few minutes with its brief decontrol announcement.

OPA officials said retail shoe prices might soar 20 to 30 percent above present levels before they begin to turn downward.

Porter demanded the White House directive, it was learned, because he publicly had taken an opposite stand in a statement on Oct. 18, shortly after President Truman had released all meat and livestock.

"Products made from leather—particularly shoes—are too important to the family budget to be released from price control at this time in view of the scarcity of supplies," Porter said at that time.

This statement was issued, it was learned, after some representatives of the shoe and leather industries had informed OPA they feared that decontrol would cause prices to skyrocket.

Later when the leather shortage became more acute these same industry leaders appealed to Steelman at the White House to remove controls.

Also involved in the White House discussion, it became known, were pressis from Argentina that sharp bidding for hide and leather supplies there had more than doubled Argentine leather prices.

Molotov Speech

Russians realize there may be stormy periods ahead in the United Nations but the general impression is that the United States and the Soviet Union may be moving into a new phase of understanding which will be of benefit to all.

Russians have failed to understand many reports from abroad concerning American unrest and fear of war but they do understand now that things sound much better than they did. For this, of course, they give full credit to Stalin and Molotov and to the readiness of the United States to try and understand the Soviet point of view.

The Soviet press and radio joined today in asserting that certain delegates to the United Nations assembly—particularly those from Britain and Holland—had tried to discredit proposals advanced by Soviet representatives.

relation to him but who, by coincidence, was born in Caraburus county, N. C., and moved to Texas with her family four years before Mr. Furr's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Furr moved from McKinney to Kirkland in 1907, and there fulfilled his life-long ambition to go into business for himself. He established the Kirkland Mercantile company in a 20 by 30-foot frame building, the rear of which was used as his home for almost a year.

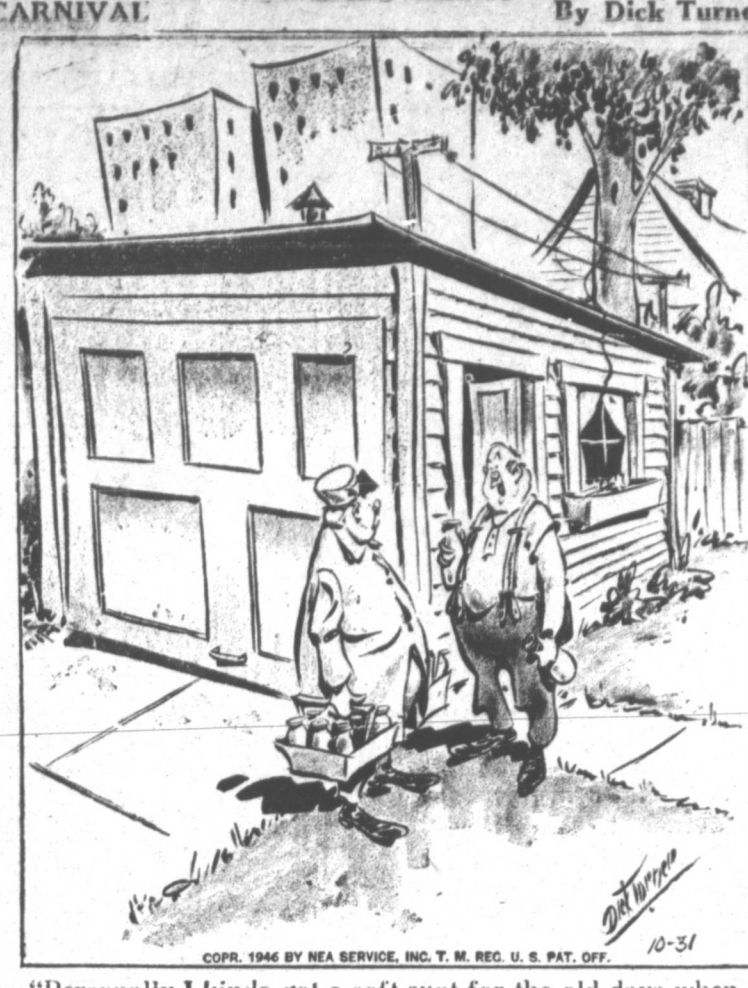

Mr. Furr added to his business as the country around Kirkland was developed, erecting several brick buildings and organizing several business firms, including furniture, dry goods and groceries. He was one of the organizers of the Kirkland State bank and later served as its president.

In 1925, Mr. Furr took the steps which led him into the grocery business in a big way, purchasing the M-System rights in several Northwest Texas counties, and opening his first Amarillo store at 512 Polk street.

4-H Achievement Week Set Nov. 2-10

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—More than 100,000 Texas 4-H club boys and girls will be recognized for the work they have done in the last year during National 4-H Achievement week, Nov. 2-10.

At the beginning of 1946, 4-H club enrollment in Texas included 101,396 members.

As a part of their achievement this year club girls canned over a million and a half quarts of food, served 1,152,000 meals, made more than 150,000 garments and redecorated 740 bedrooms. Club boys raised more than 40,000 acres of field crops, 750,000 chickens, 50,600 head of livestock, sold 5,280,600 pounds of beef and pork, and collected 1,500,000 pounds of scrap metal.

"Fun Night" Planned Friday, Baker School

Boys from the Maverick club and Boys' ranch, Amarillo, will present the entertainment program at the Baker school "Fun Night" tomorrow night school officials announced today.

The boys gave no hint as to what type of entertainment would be presented but simply warned Pampans "to be prepared to laugh."

Supper will be served in the school cafeteria at six.

The complete entertainment program will be presented, the first show due to start at 8 and the second at 9.

Pampans Enlists in Regular U. S. Army

Robert Lee Bowman, 25, Box 1839 Pampa, has enlisted in the regular army in the grade of sergeant, according to J. W. Jewell, local U. S. army recruiting sergeant.

Bowman, who is a son of Mrs. Edith Mae Mills, Pampa, is a World War II veteran. He was formerly assigned to the 263rd service company in the ETO. He previously entered the service July 28, 1942 and was released Feb. 14, 1946. His new enlistment is for three years.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drug everytime you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains speed, and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get bloated with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Athens Girl Chosen As Yearbook Queen

AUSTIN—(AP)—Brownie Marie Royall of Athens has been declared yearbook queen of North Texas State Teachers college at Denton by Governor-nominate Beauford Jester.

Selection was made in ceremonies here yesterday after 20 lovely co-eds flew from the college especially for the occasion. They were entertained at a banquet by the chamber of commerce aviation committee, which acted as official host.

Jester selected the queen following the banquet and presented her with a huge bouquet of chrysanthemums. Miss Royall is a senior and speech major, five feet five and one-half inches tall and weighs 116 pounds. She says she has "no immediate plans" for marriage.

The broiler pan cleans easier if removed from the range as soon as the food is cooked so the grease won't continue cooking.

LIBERTY NEWS

LIBERTY COMMUNITY. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Bentley and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Enlow entertained with a pitch party in the Bentley home Saturday night. The rooms were decorated in keeping with the Halloween season. Mrs. J. E. Enlow, Deirdre Eastus, Mrs. Ralph Metcalf and Lester Lusk made high scores. Others present were J. C. Westcott, Ralph Metcalf, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Hood and daughter, Mrs. Doris Eastus, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Detten, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Pugh, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Metcalf and daughters, Doris and Frances, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Vance, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Robinson, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lusk, Mrs. Maria J. Metcalf, Mrs. W. H. Obrecht, G. E. Shank, Kenneth Williams, and Gene and Benita Bentley.

Kenneth Williams of Lubbock arrived Friday for a visit in the W. H. Lusk home.

Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Bentley and family visited in the C. L. Mann home near Clarendon Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Enlow of Dumas visited with G. E. Shank over the weekend.

Choosing and use of the pressure sauce pan were topics of the Liberty Community club when it met on Tuesday. The discussion was conducted by Home Demonstration Agent Miss Charlotte Tompkins. The program, which was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Lusk, included demonstrations of one-dish meals, and lima beans with celery. At a business meeting Mrs. W. H. Lusk was reelected president for the new year; Mrs. F. A. Metcalf was named vice president; Mrs. George Lusk, secretary; Miss Marjorie Metcalf, treasurer; Mrs. Leo Detten, reporter; Mrs. M. L. Vance, council representative. The next meeting will be held Nov. 12. Mrs. W. H. Obrecht will be hostess.

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST to all who await deliveries of new Chevrolets

We want you to know that everything possible is being done to speed deliveries to you; but production still lags far behind schedule—even though Chevrolet has built more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer from January through September 1946

WE REALIZE how eagerly you are awaiting delivery of the new Chevrolet you have ordered from us, and we want to pass on to you the latest information received from the Chevrolet Motor Division, even though that information isn't too encouraging at this time.

production of new Chevrolets—even longer to fill the unprecedented demand for this product of BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST—and, for the present at least, "there just aren't enough Chevrolets to go around," much as we wish there were.

KEEP YOUR PRESENT CAR RUNNING
Meanwhile, the most important car of all to you is the car you are driving now. May we suggest that you keep it in top running condition until you secure delivery of your new Chevrolet, by bringing it to us for skilled service now and at regular intervals.

AND then, less than two weeks later, came the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. When Gayle heard the news over the radio, the first shock of horror and fear seemed to stop the very beating of her heart. Nate was at Hawaii; Bart was there. Oh, no, nothing could have happened to them. But the barracks... Maybe, thought Gayle, not same barracks. They were officers. Maybe officers—oh, she didn't know; she didn't know anything about the Army.

IN the succeeding months, Gayle's life followed an almost unvarying routine. She got up early, went to work with Barney and his sister, returned home, devoted herself to Kent, ate dinner, read the newspapers, listened to the radio, and then went to bed.

Now anyone coming back is consoled with:
"Poor guy! Isn't there any way you can get off it?"
For thousands of Americans, frightened by tales of housing shortages, food scarcities and high prices, have developed an allergy to the thought of returning to their native land. They are afraid

CHIFLEY, EVATT TYPIFY AUSTRALIA, ARE ITS SPOKESMEN, HOME ABROAD

By MARC J. PARSONS
NEA Staff Correspondent
Two men, typical in many respects of Australia today, have become the spokesmen for its democracy at home and abroad.
One is a quiet, ex-railroad engineer who taught himself to be an expert on government financial matters, Joseph Benedict Chifley, a laboring man who heads Australia's Labor Government as Prime Minister.

The other is Dr. Herbert Vere Evatt, a brilliant student and lawyer who is a laborite by intellectual conviction and who, as Australia's

Prime Minister Chifley: "People with books have all the best of it."

Minister of External Affairs, has become the strident voice of democracy's conscience in world councils.
"Ben" Chifley's rise has been slow, methodical and steady, from railroad s'poo boy, to cleaner, fireman, engineer, deputy foreman at his home station of Bathurst, a seat in the federal parliament, and finally the Prime Minister. A strike once set him back to railroad cleaner again. Defeat at the polls interrupted his parliamentary career for nearly 10 years. But he never stopped working.
Dr. Evatt turned from a university to a law career and at 36 became the youngest man ever appointed as judge of the Australian High Court. Then he became the first man ever to resign from the High Court to reenter politics. He represented Australia at the United Nations organizational meetings in San Francisco, at U.N. sessions in New York City, and then at the Paris Peace Conferences. Everywhere he has been recognized as spokesman for the "little" powers. Today Evatt is back in Australia for the elections.
At home, Chifley had to lead Australia along the middle road of liberalism. His work day begins at breakfast. He is at his desk by nine each morning and works steadily until 10:30 at night except Saturdays when he likes to go to bed as early as seven o'clock in the evening.
He reads constantly, everything from official reports and financial treaties to novels and detective stories. He once told a librarian friend shortly after he became Prime Minister that "you people with books have all the best of it." Working is about his only exercise, something unusual among athletic Australians. He is an inveterate pipe-smoker, but in all other ways his habits are temperate.
When he is at home in Bathurst, Chifley still lives in the modest home he bought for less than $1,000 when he was married in 1914. His wife stays all the time of his absence at the Prime Minister's quarters in the capital city, Canberra.
One Australian newspaper, looking around for ways to explain the Prime Minister, said of him that "in a parliament full of mediocre speakers, he is slightly below average," but added that he was "much above average in what he has to say."
Dr. Evatt has become the stormy petrel of post-war international politics. He fought the dominance by the big powers at San Francisco and succeeded in broadening the powers of the General Assembly to give the smaller nations a bigger voice in world affairs.
So far at the Paris Peace Conference, his delegation has proposed 73 changes to the five treaties under consideration and prompted a Russian representative to declare that Australia has "drowned us with amendments." Most of the suggested changes have been designed to democratize the treaties. Despite Russian charges that Australia is acting as a "front man" for the so-called Western bloc, Australia has at times found itself voting against both Great Britain and the United States.
"Until the nations are prepared to practice international democracy they cannot hope to escape the evils of international tyrannies," he believes.
A Realist, Too
"The future of mankind may well be determined as much by the courage, initiative, determination and democratic idealism of the lesser powers as by the power, leadership and responsibility of the major powers.
Recognizing that the "big" power may interfere with "many decisions relating to the peaceful settlement of disputes," Evatt nevertheless has pledged his country to steady and unwavering support for the United Nations and for the principles declared in the Charter.

Being a realist, however, he advised Australia to re-examine "regional defense arrangements in the light of the degree of success of the United Nations in carrying out its objectives of giving adequate security against aggressive action."

Hollywood Marriages Amaze Some Actors

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—You're not the only one who's amazed by Hollywood marriages. So is a guy named Robert Taylor. Here's his comment:
"Things were never like this back in Nebraska."
Hollywood, which sometimes plays at marriage in the manner of a game of musical chairs, is undergoing another of its periodic marital upheavals. Not the least confounded by it all is the married (to Barbara Stanwyck) Filey, Neb., boy who made good at MGM.
"The other night Barbara and I were having dinner," he related. "The wife of a star was having dinner with another actor. The husband appeared on the scene, exchanged a few laughs with his wife and then he just deserted with them and departed. The next day I read in the papers they were getting a divorce."
As to his own marriage, Bob said: "Every six months since the wedding there's been a rumor around town that we're breaking up. I don't pay any attention to them any more."

Dept. of statistics, MGM, to disprove the common impression that most ballet dancers are Russian, took a poll of the 200-odd tip-toers on "the unfinished dance." Results show that the largest percentage of them come from Texas—Actor Jim Lavis, anticipating the return to the screen of Gov. Jim Davis of Louisiana, says he's changing his name to Badge Dessart. Is he kidding?

Future Status of McCloskey Pends

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Veteran Administration officials have promised a decision within two weeks on the future status of the McCloskey hospital at Temple, Texas, a delegation from Texas reported here last night.

The time was set at a conference between General Omar Bradley, veterans administrator, other VA officials and a Texas delegation that included Rep. Poage (D-Tex.), Mayor Guy Draper of Temple, Temple City Attorney Byron Skelton, Publisher Frank Maybourn of the Temple Telegram and Myron Blalock of Marshall, Texas, national democratic committeeman.
Also attending was T. G. Lanphier of Dallas, deputy VA administrator for the southwest.
The McCloskey installations, formerly an army general hospital, at present is being used in part by the VA on a temporary basis.
The 230-acre development has been mentioned for possible utilization as a focal point for all federal farm agencies in Texas. By using its buildings for state headquarters for such agencies as the farm security administration and soil conservation service, the government could save thousands of dollars annually in rents on offices scattered throughout the state.

Opinion Holds Illegal Long-Time Practice

AUSTIN—(AP)—An attorney general's opinion has held illegal a long-time state prison practice of assessing a $25 fee against prison guards considered "most responsible" for a prisoner's escape.

The attorney general declined to rule on whether employees who have paid such assessments must be reimbursed. The opinion said each individual situation would depend on its own peculiar facts.
State Auditor C. H. Cavness, who requested the opinion, said he was informed the practice had been handed down through the years and that all employees of the prison were informed of it at the time they were hired.
Assessments went into prison farm funds, he said.
The opinion noted that the legislature had specifically dealt with the precise matter of escapes through willfulness or negligence on the parts of guards, thus excluding any other method of assessment of penalties or fines in such matters. State statute fixes punishment in willful cases at two to five years in the penitentiary and in negligent cases at fines not exceeding $1,000.

Ingrid Bergman To Be Scarce on Movie Screen Next Year

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Ingrid Bergman fans (and who isn't?) won't be getting their usual ample supply of their heroine on the screen next year, if her play, "Joan of Lorraine," is a success. It opened in Washington, D. C. last night—she is contracted to be in it for eight months. Then she'll probably return to toil for Alfred Hitchcock in "Under Capricorn," from the novel of 1930 Australia. Enterprise will have a virtual Bergman monopoly in 1947; "Arch of Triumph" is her only picture.

After all these years of announcements and postponements, it looks though Mary Pickford is finally getting close to beginning production of a picture. Hollywood skeptics will believe it when it happens. Ray Milland may be tired of costume pictures, but apparently he'll do "Ivanhoe"—California theaters are using new reels aimed to defeat the night dog racing proposition on the November ballot. The Sinatras are completely domesticated again and Nancy will accompany Frank Costello for his singing engagement at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Charles Boyer jovially claims a record of having worked every day in 18 weeks of shooting on "Arch of Triumph." He says no other star can make that statement. Anybody care to argue?

Friends hear that Bea Lillies is heading here for the holidays and may talk a picture deal—Norman Rockwell is doing portraits of the "Razor's Edge" cast—Ray Evans and Jay Livingston, who clicked with the song "To Each His Own," have the chore of writing "Dear Ruth" and "My Favorite Brunette," from the pictures of the same names.

When asked if President Truman would attend, Sparkman stated, "he hasn't missed one yet."

The Easy Money Makers

Prospector: $1 a minute—if he's very lucky.

By JACK GAMBLE

CLEVELAND (NEA)—If you ever wanted to get rich quick, this is the year for it. Apace with the speed of atomic propulsion, supersonic planes and rocket bombs, a number of the citizens are making money at the rapid rate of dollars per minute instead of the prosaic cents per hour.

A Texas boy, Alvin M. Johnston, proved himself a fast guy at making a buck by putting his P-39 around the Cleveland air races at 373.9 per hour, to win $18,200 in just 48 minutes. That is something like $400 per minute and he didn't have to picket for it either.

Assault: At $45,900 per minute—you'd laugh too.

Out in Hollywood, a shipshape naval officer broke that record for quick coinage by just standing still and making his mouth go. Lieut. Comdr. Jack Weiss of Chicago answered eight geography questions in eight minutes to "Break the Bank" on the radio show of the same name, and collected $525. This figures out at $653 per minute.

Of course, it isn't as easy as it sounds. The flyer had to risk his neck and a heavy investment in the airplane. The radio contestant had to survive the odds to even get on the program, then had to get the answers right, including the one to the payoff question: "Where are the oil fields of Lake Maracaibo?" (Answer: Venezuela).

considerably faster than the mint prints it.

Currently a horse has it all over the competition for 1946 quick cash honors. In the Kentucky Derby this year, Assault raced to win $96,400 in 2:06 3/5. That's $45,900 per minute, which ain't lay, brother, but it sure means oats in the feed bag.

The sad angle about all this is that industrialists like Mellon and the other higher income bracket folk make that kind of dough every working minute of the year. The flyer, the radio contestant, the mystery writer, the prize fighter and the horse had it coming in fast for only a few lucrative moments—and in most cases after many weeks of preparation.

Andrew Mellon: Financier at $48.59 per minute.

Lt. Comdr. Weiss: $653 per minute for the answer.

Office over 1st National Bank
Phone 1482 for appointments.

At that, it beats gold digging. Back in '49, all the boys thought the quick way to easy dough was a trip to California. The average miner was lucky if he made $2 an hour during the short, happy life of the gold rush, although a few of the more fortunate panned out upward of $60 an hour on peak days.

But prospecting was a tough life. More relaxing was the money making idea of the fellow who performed the seemingly impossible feat of coating a piece of ice cream with hot chocolate back in 1922. These ice cream bars netted the inventor a cool $30,000 a week, or $625 an hour (on a 48-hour week).

Tex Johnston: $400 a minute—out of the air.

Edgar Wallace, the mystery specialist, once earned $20,000 in 45 hours by writing his novel "The Devil Man" between Friday night and Monday morning. This is $444 an hour, which isn't quite ice cream, but it's getting warm.

Getting back to the dollars-per-minute men, there was Andrew Mellon, the financier and one-time secretary of the treasury, who raked up $7,000,000 in one year—the highest income figure ever reported. Figured on the average 2400-hour work year, he was taking in $2916 every hour. But at $48.59 per minute, Mellon was still way behind Commander Weiss' $653.

The all-time fast money artist appears to be Joe Louis. In 1938 he knocked Max Schmeling flat in 2:04 for a purse of $349,288. This divides out at $169,020 per minute.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

The younger generation takes over Texas tonight. It's operation Halloween. It'll be noisy—but nice.

Some sour souls smear glass windows with grease so soap won't write, or remove gates and lock them up, or take other heartless precautions. But most Texans just grin and bear it.

Police often increase their force just in case. Vandals sometimes shoot out street lights, or like in the Valley, raid citrus orchards for grapefruit, which are used as bombs tossed at windshield of passing cars. The "spooks" can get too rough.

Generally, it's just good, clean fun. In the old days Halloween was a real night. The democratic age has changed things—the technique, that is.

For example, down in Waco J. K. Ray, now a federal revenue enforcement officer, recalls one Halloween back in Lamesa. Fifty or 60 kids on horseback roved almost any movable object, pulled it to town. Prize was a huge road grader, which was left on the main street for officials to move away. Another happy remembrance was the night they took a wagon apart, hoisted it on a church roof a piece at a time, then reassembled it up there.

John Sourlin said one night down in Hamilton the boys carried a mule up the winding, narrow from spiral staircase of the county courthouse, left it in the home. He doesn't remember how the county officials got the animal down again. "It was just a little mule," Sourlin says deprecatingly.

Jim Spider of Waco says they used to put the back wheels of buggies on the front, the front on the back, making the vehicle tilt so badly owners had to change the wheels before they could move.

The best one, though, that Spider recalls was reversing reins on bridles so that when a driver pulled to the left, the horse would head to right. It must have been confusing. He said it also caused a few runaways. "That was the fun of it," he says.

J. C. Patterson put buggies on school roofs at Clarendon. Johnny Fort and his pals greased street car tracks so the cars would stall.

Anything can happen tonight. Inspector D. N. Lowe of Dallas, for example, refuses to comment on what might take place. "I'm not going to give them any ideas," he said.

Charles E. Wilson, president of the vast General Motors corporation, in an interview which will be released tomorrow in Collier's, does considerable good for the cause of competitive-free enterprise in America. In defending the profit motive, as he surely does, we of this land must beg pause to reconsider the road over which we are perilously traveling.

The free enterprise system, he says, is under attack from a variety of sources: "from organized political groups with foreign alliances or special axes to grind; from some people in government who would like to take over for themselves, from certain sections of organized labor."

Declaring the "let's see the books" propaganda put out by labor leaders during the long and costly strike in his plants last spring was just that—propaganda—he says: "how much General Motors takes in each year—how much it pays employees—how much it pays stockholders—how much it pays in taxes—how much net profit it makes—how much cash it has in banks—these and all other important facts, all attested to by independent outside auditors, are plainly stated in annual and quarterly reports. . . . They are sent to newspapers and libraries. . . . Additional copies may be obtained free for the asking."

Yes, the people should be well informed about the facts involved in the working of free enterprise. They should know that the bogey man of greedy capitalists is wigged before their faces just like one who would wiggle a rag doll before a puppy. They should know that the Moscow radio for the past two weeks has broadcast in English to American voters, urging them to back the candidates of the CIO-PAC; and they should realize that Moscow is not interested in American patriotism, exemplified in their going to the polls.

Our people, if they are to remain free to do as they choose, must realize and act upon the fact that greedy opportunity lies, not in the division of wealth—as Moscow would have it—but in the support of capitalism, that theory which has been so badly misrepresented.

What is happening in this country is pretty easily summed up in the words which were written about and ascribed to Pres. Wilson:

"In exchange for the real advantages of capitalism we are being offered a show window filled with tempting possibilities. But the price tags are carefully hidden."

In Hollywood

By ERKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA) If you have seen the film "Three Little Girls in Blue," you know that one little girl in red steals the show. She's a gal by the name of Celeste Horn, who never could say "No" as Ade Annie in the Broadway hit "Oklahoma."

But off stage, Celeste said "No" to movie offers for five years while playing in "The Women," in "The Time of Your Life" for the Theater Guild, and in "Oklahoma."

Celeste could say "No" to Hollywood gold because she was already in the blue chips and because: "I don't like to act just for the sake of acting. I want to make people happy."

IT'S HANDY LITTLE GUIDE TO POLITICS

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The CIO Political Action Committee has published a book. It isn't a book exactly. It's a loose-leaf binder that looks like a machinery salesman's catalogue, and is called "Manual of Practice Political Action." It measures nine inches by 12, and it weighs one pound and eleven ounces.

The book is index-tabbed on the far side, and you can run your thumb down the chapter tabs till you come to something that looks like Jack Horner's plum, then dig in while yelling, "What a good boy am I!"

No foolin', this is the works. It reduces political pressure to the exact science of supersalesmanship. No more reliance on Old Glory, the Declaration of Independence, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson, Bunker Hill, San Juan Hill, hill of beans. They aren't mentioned once.

In their places are graphs, charts, forms, cartoons, picture stories, dramatic presentations, eye appeal, ear appeal, sex appeal. The whole thing is modern, streamlined, handier than a woman's purse and just as full of strange tissues, keys, deodorants, small change, mirrors of public opinion, and assorted red meats, smells and whetnins'.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

MACKENZIE'S Column

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER
DEFENSIVE—President Truman's last-minute moves to eliminate several embarrassing issues from the current congressional campaign, especially federal control of oil and appointment of Fessia, have pulled the political rug from under almost every democratic candidate for congress or state office.

White House strategy has thrown them on the defensive in the middle of the battle, according to a flood of complaints that has reached National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan at party headquarters in Washington.

Many had escaped the Wallace program toward the Soviet in their early speeches and in literature distributed before the White House retaliated. It is almost impossible for them to reverse their political field at this late date.

EMBARRASSMENT—The removal of meat and other foods from federal controls after months of presidential resistance has caused even greater embarrassment than the right-about-face on foreign affairs. Despite an avowal by the cabinet member's philosophy, but because he looked upon the radical Iowan as a symbol who would hold fast elements in line on November 5.

Mr. Hannegan has a private worry. Not anticipating such a sharp change in basic policy, all the costly campaign literature—pamphlets, speeches, etc.—which he had prepared, now favor the Wallace ideas. Now it is useless, and his candidates are re-

A HERITAGE

Phrase-makers who refer to Dixie as the Bible Belt have missed an important point. Without ignoring anything, I should like to appraise the whole of America as a Bible Land. This is done humbly, for Americans have sometimes failed to follow the light of truth when that light burned brightly before them.

So They Say

It is according to plan that Hollywood puts out stupid films in order to bludgeon the people into a state of insensibility.—Ilya Ehrenburg, Soviet writer.

The mere notion that a major depression is inevitable has to be attacked. It is no more inevitable than the idea that we had to have mass unemployment in 1932.—Paul G. Hoffman, chairman Committee for Economic Development.

There is no doubt that it (an ailment) costs money, but so does the upkeep of a fire department.—Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, Marine Corps commandant.

High blood pressure is the No. 1 killer of the average business executive. Death notices may list heart failure, coronary disease, broken cerebral vessels, strokes, or kidney failure. Most of these are due to high blood pressure.—Dr. Irvine H. Page, Cleveland Clinic.

duced to delivering impromptu talks on local topics.

PROGRAM—Strategists at democratic national headquarters have improvised a program which will be uncovered in these last few days of the present battle. They will revive the same issues which enabled Franklin D. Roosevelt to drive Herbert Hoover from the White House in 1932.

The word now is for democratic office-seekers to "forget Truman" and "play up Roosevelt." A random reading of candidates' speeches and deliberations at democratic conventions reveals that the majority party's nominees acted on this advice even before it was offered.

F. D. R. is mentioned twenty times to every single reference to the man in the White House. When democratic orators proclaim their policies, they announce that they are running on a "Roosevelt-Truman platform," never on "Truman-Roosevelt" or a simple "Truman platform."

APPLE-SELLING—In 1932, 1936, 1940, and 1944, the democrats' crushing cry was always: "Do you want to go back to the apple-selling days of the Hoover administration?" It was always good for a laugh—or a vote.

Now, Mr. Hannegan has instructed his publicists and political preach-

You can look for Basil Rathbone to make a beeline for London any minute. If they ever needed Sherlock Holmes they have had their do now, with titled ladies having their jewelry stolen in the very shadow of Scotland Yard.

First it was the Duchess of Windsor, then Lady Legh, and now Marchioness of Gracie.

Marchioness who have had their "ice" stolen by what appears to be the same clever thief, Truly, in London, "the iceman cometh."

It appears to me that if ever England needed our lend-lease help it's right now to solve these baffling crimes. And I suggest that we send them, post-haste, forty or fifty of those radio detectives who get our children into such a state of nervous collapse every afternoon and evening. Scotland Yard could use their uncanny abilities, and the American radio listeners could use the rest.

(These states are Arizona, Delaware, Idaho, Maine, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North and South Dakota and Rhode Island.)

Between 100,000 and 400,000 persons are expected to cast a ballot Tuesday on the two questions outlined above.

But even though a majority say "yes" to both questions, nothing will happen—and they won't get the right to vote—unless congress is willing to let them have the rights the people in states have.

There was a similar turnout here in 1938 when a majority of the voters said "yes" to the same two questions, but congress did nothing.

Congress alone doesn't have the power to let the people of Washington elect their own congressmen. To do that, the U. S. constitution would have to be amended. Which means:

Two-thirds of both houses of congress would have to approve such an amendment. Then three-fourths of the legislatures of all the states would have to approve.

often been charged that the Veterans Administration is slow in answering questions regarding GI insurance. Veterans themselves are partly to blame for this.

One of the biggest problems is the failure of veterans to identify themselves in their letters. VA receives approximately 10,000 letters a day on insurance matters alone. This requires the drafting of thousands of replies and the crediting of many accounts. It also involves a search through vast index files to establish the identity of the veteran who does not fully identify himself.

To get the fastest service possible from VA, every veteran asking a question or sending a payment should include his full name, his insurance certificate or policy number, his military service serial number, and his complete permanent address.

VA goes to great lengths to identify the veteran even when the information he furnishes is scanty but the laborious searches that are sometimes necessary cause delays. One reason for this is the fact that there are 150,000 Johnsons, and 120,000 Browns, in the files. There are 13,000 John Smiths, 800 of them without middle initials.

REINSTATEMENT IS EASY
Too many veterans are letting their GI insurance lapse, VA reports.

Veterans who have failed to pay their premiums since being discharged may reinstate their term insurance, irrespective of the date of lapse, without a medical examination, at any time before Feb. 1, 1947, simply by the payment of two monthly premiums and the submission to VA of a signed statement that they are in as good health now as they were on the date the insurance lapsed.

After Feb. 1, 1947, term insurance may be reinstated, within six months from the date of lapse, on the same comparative health basis. Oklahoma produces almost as much oil as all prewar Europe did.
