ARMY OFFERS REVISED PLAN FOR MILITARY TRAINING

American Legion's Support Is Sought

WASHINGTON—AP—The army took the wraps off its revised plan for universal military training today as Secretary of War Patterson asked the American Legion at San Francisco for active backing.

The proposal bore only the war department's official approval but about three of every ten men trained would be for the navy. Hence officials of the sea arm forecast navy support for the measure before congress. The legion earlier this year sponsored a plan similar in outline.

Too Many Showers Trip Fire Alarm

WASHINGTON—AP—Six companies of firemen came running when several government girls at West Potomac park dormitories decided to take a shower at the same time. There wasn't any fire. The sh of water from the main tripped the alarm—just as if the automatic sprinkler system had been touched off.

Law Governing Passing School Buses Is Cited

Douglas Mills, 17, Pampa, entered a plea of guilty to charges of passing a school bus while it was discharging passengers, before County Judge Sherman White this morning. County Attorney Bruce Parker announced.

Mills stated that he was not familiar with the rule governing passing school buses. The court ruled that Mills should have been familiar with the law since he had passed state tests to obtain his drivers license. Before assessing a fine of $10 plus costs, Judge White read the law to Mills.

The law is, "When any school bus stops, every operator of a motor vehicle or motorcycle, approaching from any direction, shall come to a complete stop before proceeding in any direction, and in the event that the school bus is receiving or discharging passengers, the operator of the vehicle or motorcycle shall not start up or attempt to pass in any direction, until the school bus has finished receiving or discharging its passengers."

Judge White cautioned Mills that the thing to remember was, "to bring his car to a full stop whenever he approached a parked school bus, and to be on the safe side, to remain stationary until the school bus was in motion, before proceeding down the highway."

Support of Recent Veterans Needed

SAN FRANCISCO—AP—World War I veterans, although reluctant to see the decline of their regime, frankly admitted in off-the-record discussions today they will have to have solid support from World War II servicemen if they are to carry out objectives calling for adequate national defense, veterans aid and Americanization.

World War II veterans, while they have increased Legion membership to approximately 3,000,000, still are not pulling their weight in the organization's activities.

The reasons are three-fold, old timers said. First, World War II has been over little more than a year and the veterans of that conflict have been concerned with matrimony and establishing homes. Secondly, they have been a tried about jobs. And, third, many of them are more interested in completing their education than anything else.

Veterans of the first World War encountered the same situation in the early 20s. It was several years after World War I before the Legion really got going.

On the convention agenda today were reports on foreign relations and other matters interspersed with speeches by Admiral William F. Halsey, Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, Undersecretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hensley, director of selective service, and National Legion Commander John Stelle.

Results of Trials Praised by Press

By The Associated Press
The nation's press today almost unanimously hailed the results of the Nuerberg trials as the prime example of the "kind of justice we had hoped would prevail in a world in which free men had triumphed" and as confirming "a verdict long since returned by the judgment of outraged humanity."

Many editors viewed the death penalties meted out to 12 of the Nazi leaders and the long jail sentences given seven others as establishing a possible deterrent to future aggressors but others expressed misgivings regarding the acquittal of the three of the defendants.

The four-nation tribunal, according to the New York Times "meted out what it was supposed to mete out—stern and exact justice, but justice, not vengeance. It has punished crime, it has refused to engage in an extermination campaign."

Those who plan aggression now know the world holds them guilty from the beginning of their conspiracy and the possibility of reckoning must always color their act. The Cincinnati Enquirer said "In the long run the Nuerberg findings will provide a stronger and more enlightened precedent for world law because an honest attempt was made to fit the punishment to the crime."

The Philadelphia Record said that "future aggressors will remember not the glory but the hangmen's axe."

Following is a list of the larger contributions as reported by Chairman Garman:
Thompson Hardware $500
Coca-Cola Bottling Co. $500
George Walters $500
Service Liquor Store $500
Motor Inn Auto Supply $1000
Pampa Daily News $1000
Radio Station KPDM $500
Texas Furniture Co. $500

The drive has just begun, but stated that the "committee can't do all the work." Elaborating on that he stated: "Everybody in town knows what this campaign is all about, and that they're going to have to give in some cases until it hurts—if we're going to have this road to Perryton."

He said that, although the committee is planning to contact all merchants for a proportionate apportionment of the drive.

Settlement Near In Nationwide Shipping Strike

(By The Associated Press)
Early settlement of the nationwide shipping strike, which for a second time within a month has halted operations of the maritime fleet, was indicated today as leaders of two striking unions expressed hope that a formula had been proposed for ending the walkout.

AFL and CIO union leaders, as well as government officials, who asked anonymity, said the maritime commission had made it known it would enforce on all government-owned vessels any changes in working conditions agreed upon by East Coast shipowners and the two unions which represent captains, mates and engine-room officers. Refusal of Pacific coast shipowners to follow the Eastern companies in meeting contract demands remained the principal stumbling block in the dispute.

Although the maritime commission had not yet made a public announcement of its attitude, Edgar L. Warren, labor department conciliation director presiding at negotiations in Washington, said he was "very hopeful" of an early agreement on all points.

Further negotiations were planned today between the shipowners and the two seafaring unions involved in the walkout which started Monday—the CIO marine engineers and the AFL masters, mates and pilots.

The major issue under discussion in Washington has been "union security"—as other issues, including wages, were gradually being cleared away. CIO Longshoremen striking on the West Coast were reported to be near agreement with their employers at San Francisco. The masters, mates and pilots has demanded a 30 percent pay boost; the maritime engineers union demanded a wage hike of 35 percent and the Longshoremen 33 cents more an hour to boost their hourly pay to $17.00.

The strike affected ports on all coasts. The sequece about John New York when six non-striking unions voted both to honor and join picket lines. Activity in the port of Philadelphia came to a complete standstill and 132 ships lay idle in the Delaware river.

Meanwhile, other major labor disputes continued, including the crippling power strike in Pittsburgh where the number of jobless mounted because of work stoppages.

Mutual Confidence Termed Necessity

WASHINGTON—AP—Gravely ill Cordell Hull counseled the big five powers on his 75th birthday today that they must replace "dangerous" differences with mutual confidence or face "incalculable disaster."

The frail former secretary of state offered his advice even as he carried on a personal struggle for time and health to make a final contribution to world peace.

Hull suffered a stroke Monday at the U. S. naval hospital where he has been resting from the task of compiling his experiences in public life—a work he hopes will not only shed light on the past but furnish lessons for the future.

"Only if each nation is united within itself behind common interests, and only as the nations continuously cooperate with each other in support of those interests, selves and for those who can we assure — for our come after us — enduring peace and free institutions," Hull declared.

As he looked ahead, it is perfectly clear to me that all nations must, with whole-hearted devotion, continue to base their relations upon the paramount fact that the primary interests of each of them alike lie in the assuring of its security in a world at peace, and the fostering in such a world of the economic and social well-being of its people.

"They must never fail to act on the principal that these great common interests cannot be attained except by the practice of justice and fair-dealing toward each other, and through mutual confidence and respect. So long as the governments and the peoples keep their eyes fixed on their common interests and are resolved to act in accordance with this manifest principle, they will find ways to adjust their differences."

Hull held that a "special responsibility" rested upon Britain, China, France, Soviet Russia and the United States to exercise jointly, "both inside and outside the United Nations," the practice of justice and fair-dealing toward each other, and through mutual confidence and respect.

Army Planning Something New in Airborne Troops

WASHINGTON—AP—American airborne divisions 17,000 men strong and with fire and striking power equal to ground troops are being blueprinted by the army.

Officials familiar with the tentative planning said today that in addition to doubling the 8500-man wartime strength of the divisions they are to include a battalion of tanks as well as artillery.

The artillery equipment will be similar to that used by infantry divisions but modified to meet the requirements of air transport.

The proposal is in line with other recent adopted studies aimed at reducing the size and giving more punch to infantry and armored units. Along these lines the army is said to be planning to up infantry divisions from 14,000 to 17,000 men and armored divisions from their World War II size of 11,000 men and 260 tanks to 15,000 men and 40 tanks.

The division would not however, attempt to maintain its own service of supply.

In this connection, Maj. Gen. Anthony J. McAuliffe, chief of the Bastogne force and one of the pioneers in airborne operations, hopes that the air forces will place increasing emphasis on the problems of troop carrying and supply.

In addition to improvements in present methods of landing men at conventional airfields behind the lines, McAuliffe sees the need for better methods of putting airborne troops into quick action on the battlefields themselves.

Chamber to Honor Baseball Clubs

The Pampa chamber of commerce, in reciprocity, will give its official salute to the Henderson Oilers baseball club following the game tonight between that team and the Pampa aggregation.

A private luncheon will be held at the Palm Room for the two teams, following the game. It will be given under the auspices of the chamber's sports committee, headed by Morris Enloe. Special recognition will be given Maurice Henson, secretary of the guest club, and Ray Hunicutt, manager and player.

The Pampa chamber received a telegram yesterday from N. McCarty, president of the Rusk (Henderson) county chamber of commerce, congratulating the Pampa club on its sportsmanship. A good word was also included for the West Texas Oilers, a Mexico umpires who participated in the playoff at Henderson.

The telegram read: "Henderson citizens salute Pampa for a fine ball club. President Edmondson, Manager Seitz and your players exemplify the finest in sportsmanship. Your umpires were superb in this series. We were indeed happy to have had you as our opponents and guests."

Hereford Cattle Of Southwest Are Discussed

Tracing the influx of Hereford cattle into the Southwest, Ray C. Mowrey, head of the department of animal husbandry at Texas Tech, spoke to members and guests at the fall banquet of the Top of Texas Hereford Breeder's association, held last night in the Palm room.

Mowrey said the strain of cattle known as Herefords came into popularity in this country shortly after the Civil War, with the importation of such famous bulls as Anixety, Domino and others.

The firm of Gudge and Simpson of Independence, Kans., was cited by Mowrey as being the greatest Hereford breeding outfit in history.

At the time of the dispersal of the firm's herd, many of the purebred cattle sold there were brought to Texas, making Texas Herefords the finest in the world.

Mowrey jokingly admitted, however, that "some other states" do have Hereford cattle.

He said Herefords were more popular for several reasons. These included: Herefords will live and fatten on shorter grass and will survive worse weather than any other breed; they are uniform in build and color; and they have a thick hide, with See HEREFORD CATTLE, Page 2

Four Drown as Boat Capsizes

PORT ISABEL—AP—A mother, her 8-year-old daughter, and two other members of a fishing party were drowned in a ship turning basin channel near here late yesterday when their small boat capsized.

The victims, all residents of McAllen, were identified as Mrs. Jennie Mallau 38, her daughter, Darline, A. E. Anderson, 42, and his wife, Mrs. Mable Anderson, 54.

Henry F. Mallau, whose wife and daughter were drowned, was rescued by the surfmen after a pleasure launch in the vicinity. He was a former member of the McAllen police department.

Chief of Police William Gatliff said the channel became rough when heavy north winds blew in after the small craft ventured outside the turning basin.

Mallau said that when he came by the surface, his daughter was near him. He caught her and swam to the boat. While he hung to it she held her arms about his neck for 30 minutes. Twice she was washed away and he caught her. A third wave washed her away and she failed to resurface.

Mallau said the water was so rough that none of them were able to swim to shore.

There is more than meets the eye in the making up of the daily edition which comes to your door. Most of those not familiar with the working of a newspaper plant take the paper for granted. That is logical.

For instance, the business office and the people who take the telephone calls—there are many in a day's time—have a very important job to do. And then, there's the classified advertisement department.

The business office—known to a newspaperman as the "payoff"—handles accounts on all the paper's patrons. And

GRAVE ERROR
DECATUR, Ill.—AP—The dog-gone story wasn't true, and "Inky" proved it was a grave mistake by missing his own funeral.

A friend telephoned Miss Maxine Goveia that her black Scottie dog, "Inky," had been killed by a car, and the friend had taken care of burial and paid the funeral bill at a dog cemetery.

That night, as the two women sat in Miss Goveia's home, "Inky" bounded in and assured them it was an expensive case of mistaken identity.

Sanitation Is Discussed by County Inspector

Saying that every citizen of the community should pay more attention to general sanitation in public places, E. J. Howard, gray county inspector, spoke briefly to members of the Junior chamber of commerce at the regular weekly luncheon in the Palm Room yesterday.

Howard said the general public can help in the city-county sanitation program by either refusing to patronize unsanitary cafes and other establishments or by demanding that food served in these places be clean and fully protected from flies at the time that it is eaten.

He added that, generally, the manager of any cafe will cooperate with a patron who registers a complaint about some unsanitary condition.

Howard said the city-county sanitation unit had received nearly 150 complaints in the county. He said the purpose of the program was not only to investigate these complaints but to correct these conditions at their source.

Joe Fischer, Jaycee president, told members that the local American Legion post had offered to allow some of the pictures used in the Pampa army air field "Hall of Fame" to be hung in the Palm Room.

The Legion recently acquired the entire Hall of Fame exhibit and plans to permanently display the pictures in Pampa. A Jaycee committee was appointed to look into the matter.

Also discussed was the possibility of obtaining the use of the gymnasium at Pampa field for a dance to raise funds for the Jaycee-sponsored civic center, proposed several weeks ago. The organization is also inquiring into the operation of civic centers in other cities, including Plainview, Big Spring and Gendale, Calif.

A meeting of officers, directors and committee chairmen will be held next Monday night at 7:30 in the chamber of commerce offices.

The Portland, Me., Evening Express editorialized that "justice can hang Goering, Von Ribbentrop and the others; it cannot, however, remove from this earth all those Germans who admired and fawned upon these arch criminals x x x."

Commented the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle: "One may wonder, with Von Papen scot-free, with the remnants of the German general staff not officially rounded up or convicted, whether, so long as Von Papen is alive other heads of the Junker serf, may not show themselves in time."

"Russia, Britain, France and the United States, which sat in judgment on Germany, were all guilty of crimes against the peace. Some of them were accomplices in aggression, some were guilty of outright aggression and others—notably the United States under Roosevelt—plotted, planned, prepared and initiated aggressive war, even if the administration conceals the fact from the people."

Hereford Cattle. A great amount of hair and each has a white face and red body. They produce better beef at lower cost than any other breed.

Pointing out that although there were nearly 300,000 head of Herefords registered in Texas in 1944 alone, Mowrey said that several other breeds are being developed and are becoming increasingly popular.

"It will take each one of you Hereford working as individuals under able leadership to continue to develop Herefords and help them retain their standing as America's finest beef cattle," Mowrey said.

He added, however, that "you," as Hereford breeders, must realize that pedigree is of no value on the auction block, which is where the real value of the breed is judged."

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff Ranchers and farmers of Texas are rendered a very valuable service by the Texas agricultural experiment station through its publication of little booklets on various and sundry subjects relating to the area's flora and fauna.

Through necessity many of these booklets (they are called bulletins) are specialized. Like, for example, "the influence of age, type and fertilization in Rambouillet ewes on fineness of fibre, fleece weight, staple length and body weight."

Now, unless you have a Rambouillet or two gamboling around your back yard, such a book is of little value.

But bulletin 679 rings the bell. It is of general interest to everyone. Even to city dwellers.

Te Texas agricultural experiment station has made a serious, detailed and scientific study of the jeep. Bulletin 679 is 36 pages of reading matter, pictures and charts about the Willys-Overland jeep.

We read it through completely. They didn't miss an angle. Except, possibly, how to grow roses in the radiator. Or how to utilize the exhaust to churn butter. Everything else is there in black and white.

For example on page six: "Hypoid differential: universal, 5.38 to 1 ratio; military, 4.88 to 1 ratio." What more would you need to know about a hypoid differential? Nothing.

Again: "The shaft turns at 536 R. P. M. in a clockwise direction when viewed from the rear, and delivers to the implement approximately 25 H. P. at a road speed of approximately 4.2 mph, or 17 H. P. at 2.9 mph."

That covers everything, unless you want to get perverse and ask what happens if you view it from the front.

But army men say you should never view a jeep from the front, anyway.

On page 8 there is a valuable item headed "Suggested uses for the jeep on farms and ranches." It lists 30.

One is inspection and repair of fences. Another is pulling stumps or dead livestock, filling silos, manure spreading, spraying. What we'd like to see: We can visualize a jeep dashing up to something that needs spraying, whipping into position and then letting loose.

Page 10 is a pulse breakdown, giving in intimate detail, in chart form, everything about gears, transmissions, ratios, engine speed. I don't know what it means, but it looks fascinating.

There's a reading "Governor". It has nothing to do with Coke Stevenson. It says the governor has nine positions of control, so that eliminates Stevenson. He even had trouble with the democratic executive committee.

To prove conclusively that Bulletin 679 is no subsidized job, page 35 is a full page picture of a jeep buried up to its midriff in a ditch. In big black type underneath the Texas agricultural experiment station warns: "The jeep cannot go everywhere."

After all, there are a lot of places you don't want to go.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDade, son Leroy, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mohrenweiser and son, James Pat Hammond, have returned to their home at Dumas after attending the funeral of the women's mother, Mrs. J. H. Smith.

Everett Short was in Childress last Thursday to attend the band contest there.

W. W. Shaddid has gone to Boston on a business trip.

The high school home economics department, under direction of Mrs. E. Coleman, has done a good deal of improvement on the class room.

Sunday night marked the close of evangelistic meetings at the Presbyterian church. Dr. Douglas Nelson, pastor at Pampa, conducted the services.

The Young People's class at the Church of Christ held a winter roast last week on the Frank Wilson farm.

Shipping Strike

Streetcar and bus service remained halted as a result of picketing by members of the independent power union, while 2,000 AFL workers were on strike against the city's eight major hotels in a dispute over wages.

"An act of sabotage" was blamed by a spokesman for the Duquesne Light Co., strikebound for nine days, for the 40-minute interruption last night of electric service to 18,000 residents of two communities in the Pittsburgh area. The union, which is demanding 20 percent wage increases, planned further meetings today with company representatives.

There are an "Indiana" in Pennsylvania, an "Arizona" in Louisiana and a "Montana" in Arkansas—towns, not states.

Revised Plan

ing or take advanced technical training, with government aid and in return perform army service as the President may direct.

Status—Trainees would have civilian rather than military status. They would not be subject to combat requirements in peacetime, nor to military law, but would be governed by a specially drawn code of conduct.

The whole training system would be under a civilian organization like the present selective service system.

Compensation—Trainees would not be paid salaries, but would draw an allowances of possibly $30 a month and would receive medical care. They would be entitled to government insurance and allotments to dependents.

Cost of program—Under estimates given congress last year the war department urged one year's universal training, cost would be about $2,500 million per man, or some $2,500,000,000 a year for the entire program.

In general trainees would have the same uniforms and equipment as regular army soldiers, but would be distinguished by insignia or other means. During their initial six months they could get holiday and except in emergency, Negroes would be trained at the same places as whites but in their own units which would be parts of composite organizations.

Airborne Troops

Parachute and glider-borne troops in mass. But casualties were high and the troops did not always hit the ground in the compact force needed for such operations.

"What we really need—and I suppose will get eventually—is some device whereby the pilot can pull a lever and the body of the plane, with troops in it, will drop by chute on the exact spot aimed at," says McAuliffe.

Highway Fund

proportion, these merchants should be thinking about the proposed road, and if they had to write to their headquarters relative to contributions, they could get sufficient data at the chamber of commerce for background material.

Civic clubs, fraternities and lodges are invited to make contributions if it is possible, he said. A check and decision over William Hearold, penter's union. Contributions will be deductible from income tax, he said he had been informed.

A new highway site from Pampa to Perryton in the Carson county, has been designated by the state highway department; but Pampans have assumed the responsibility of buying the right-of-way through Roberts county, since that county would not benefit sufficiently from the road to purchase the right-of-way. The highway department does not purchase rights-of-way.

Hull Counsels

Boys Advance in Scouting Ranks

Roy Frank Sullivan and Frank Stone, both Troop 14, First Presbyterian church Monday night were advanced to Life Scout, the second highest rank in scouting, at the regular court of honor held in district court rooms, Gray county court house.

Other advancements and awards were made to: Billie McClendon and Richard D. Cook, both Troop 16, from First Class to Star; Six other scouts, Joe Watson and Dibel Stowell, both Troop 4, Weymar Osborne, Troop 16, Edward Waskon, Troop 22, Jimmie Ray Hayes and Carroll Bonarth, both Troop 24, from Tenderfoot rank to Second class rank.

Merit badge awards were given to: Roy Sullivan, athletics, pioneering, art; Bobby Morris, swimming, pioneering; Karl Kennedy, swimming; Robert Stone, pioneering, athletics; John Priat, scholarship, handicraft; all of Troop 14, Richard Adams, first aid; McClendon, athletics; Don R. McMinn, home repairs; Monty Allison, woodwork; Gene Harkreader, reading; Richard D. Cook, safety, reading, woodcraft, swimming; Duane Blanton, canoeing, pioneering, first aid; Billie Carl Anderson, canoeing; all of Troop 16, G. D. Holmes, canoeing, Troop 22, Paul Boswell, cooking and R. D. Talley, public and swimming, both Troop 80.

Presenting the advancements and merit badges for the court were: County Judge Sherman White, second class; Carl Wright, merit badges; Charles N. Gunn, Star; and Aubrey Steele, Life.

At the completion of the court tally figures for the court of honor score in attendance, advancement, uniforms, etc., showed Troop 16, Lions club had displaced Troop 14, First Presbyterian church from first place by a score of 662 to 482. Troop 14 had held the first place for the past three courts of honor.

Scout Executive Hugo Olsen announced that the fall camporee for the Gray county district will be held this coming weekend at Camp McClendon. Over 150 boys are expected to compete. Olsen told the boys that they might have better weather than the group last week. Atty. J. W. Gordon, chairman of the district advancement committee, presided over the court.

Columbus' entire expedition probably cost about $7,000.

Woman Takes Over As Deputy Sheriff

Mrs. Bobby Horn, Pampa, yesterday started her new duties as deputy sheriff following a resignation of Deputy Sheriff John Branham. Mrs. Horn came to the sheriff's office to handle the books and perform other clerical duties. Prior to her appointment by Sheriff G. H. "Skinner" Kyle, Mrs. Horn had been employed as a general clerk, stenographer at the Danziger Refining Co. since the first of the year. Before that she worked for several months in the freight office of the Santa Fe Railroad Co.

Her only son, Pfc. James H. Day, USMC, was killed May 6, 1942, on Corregidor. Mrs. Horn's two daughters are now married to exservicemen, one a naval officer and the other an army officer. Mrs. Artan M. (Donna) Suss and her husband are now attending the University of Colorado while Mrs. Dorothy June Tout's husband is preparing to enter the West Texas State college.

Branham had served in the sheriff's department since February of this year shortly after he returned from the army. He resigned, according to Sheriff Kyle, to accept a job with the Skelly Oil company. Branham is also scoutmaster of Troop 22, Boy Scouts of America.

ANNOUNCING The Removal of the Offices of Stallings & Green Public Accountants To 303 Rose Building Pampa, Texas

"Don't brag to your father that I made this dress for you, Dorothy—he might get the idea I'll never want to buy any more things ready-made!"

"The only thing the mailman brought was the paper, Mom—it says here the atom will open up a new world of modern comfort and convenience!"

CARNIVAL By Dick Turner

"Personally I'd be just as happy if the boss's wife didn't have any more babies!"

"Hoskins, you hook up the hose, Rafferty, take the ladder, and Tompkins, take a batch of tickets to our ball and see how many you can sell among the crowd!"

Q's AND A's

Q—Is there proportionately less oxygen in the air at high altitudes?
A—No. The ratio of oxygen to other gases in the composition of air remains the same as at sea level.

Q—Where was the Tower of Babel?
A—At the Chaldean city of Ur in lower Mesopotamia. It has completely disappeared.

Q—How was camouflage used on naval aircraft during the war?
A—The underside of a plane was painted a light color so as to blend into the sky when seen from below and the topside was painted a bright blue to match the sea when from above.

Q—What are some of the tricks that will enable you to see in the dark?
A—Look slightly away from an object, instead of directly at it. Do not keep your eyes fixed but move them continuously back and forth across an object. Keep blinking.

Q—How long has the British royal family been known as the House of Windsor?
A—Since July 17, 1917, when their name was changed by proclamation.

$500 Damages Done To Auto in Wreck

Damages estimated at $500 were incurred on a 1946 Plymouth sedan in an automobile accident in Moore county 14 miles northwest of Stinetz Saturday night.

The wreck, which occurred on Texas Highway 152, involved the Plymouth sedan driven by Don E. Morwis, 19, Berger, and the 1939 Ford coach driven by Garvin Tidrick, 22, Dalhart, highway patrolmen stated.

No personal injuries were incurred by either party.
Highway patrolmen estimated total damages to both vehicles to exceed $700.
At this time no charges have been filed.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
I see that the British delegates at the Paris peace conference carry on their telephone conversations in Gaelic to keep possible eavesdroppers from understanding what they are saying. Well, I'm sure that lots of Americans who have tried to follow the dialogue in British movies will wonder why they don't use their every-day speech.

George says that our delegates won't have to switch from their own language to foil listeners because the greatest of foreign linguists wouldn't know what was meant by "Truman says tell Byrnes to plch low inside curve to Molotov."

Actually, I don't suppose the delegates worry much about their inability to understand each other. From the way the conference has been going they don't need words to make their thoughts perfectly clear. All they have to do is apply their thumbs to their nose.

AFTER THE BALL WAS OVER

Happy Cardinals Aroused To World Series Pitch After Win

College Official Says Football Is Real Slave Mart

By HAL COOPER
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two officials of American university enrollment 3,850 blew a loud whistle on college football today. They said it is a 20th century slave mart.

Nobody on the ball club is making predictions about what will happen at Ebbets field when baseball's first three-game playoff series resumes tomorrow, but the Red Birds are a loose, confident ball club after their 4-2 opening win at St. Louis yesterday.

Enos Slaughter's great peg from right field that ripped Bruce Edwards trying to go from first to third on Howie Schultz's seventh inning single probably saved the ball game. At least Manager Eddie Dyer of the Red Birds thinks it did.

Three hits by rookie catcher Joe Garagiola who drove in half the winners' runs was another highly important factor in the all-important first win.

Not since the Cards left Boston Sept. 19 had they cut loose with a hitting attack like they showed the Brooks' five pitchers. Only Stan Musial's seventh-inning triple was the only extra base hit, but there were hits at timely points.

Pollet's perfect performance provided the big lift in the Cards' success and must have been discouraging to the Brooks who had taken heat from the press that the Cubs had knocked out the ace southpaw in his last two previous starts.

Manager Durocher's selection of Ralph Branca to hurl the vital opener backfield when the birds combined for six hits and three runs before he gave up Kirby Higley in the third, Branca had shut out St. Louis last time he faced them and had pitched another fine game against them earlier in the season.

The Dyer manager paraded most of his starting staff from the bullpen to the hill before it was over. Following Higbe with Hal Gregg, Vic Lombardi and finally Rube Melton. The notable exception was Joe Hatt, likely nominee for tomorrow's second game.

Longhorns Lead In Total Yards Rushing, Passing

By ROBERT GRUBBS
 NEW YORK—(AP)—Fussie Bob Thomson of Virginia military institute tops the country's college football leaders in total offense and forward passing, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau disclosed today in reporting statistics for the first two weeks of the 1946 season.

Thomson, with a total of 292 yards in 39 carries and an additional 242 yards on passes, thus takes over temporarily the No. 1 spot formerly occupied by Bob Penimore of Oklahoma A. and M., the nation's total offensive leader two years in a row. Penimore at this stage ranks eighth in total offense and fourth in forward passing.

Texas is first in total team offense for teams having played two games with a total of 947 yards gained by both rushing and passing. Detroit stands second in the team rankings with 937 yards and Tulsa third with 922.

Texas' Bob Layne is among the first ten in the individual total offense department, ranking fifth with 224 yards on 16 plays.

Rudy (Little Doc) Mobley and Virgil (Dude) Turner, both of Hardin-Simmons, are in a virtual tie for second place in rushing, both having an aggregate of 168 yards. However, Turner ranks No. 2 because he did his work in only 27 trips, while Mobley required 23. Mobley set the existing record for college rushing in 1942 with 1,281 yards in nine games.

Neill Armstrong, Oklahoma A. and M., who won the National pass receiving crown in 1943 as a freshman, is back on the job this year, standing No. 1 in that department with 161 yards for eight passes caught. Although his mark is based on only one game, Ev Fauness of Minnesota tops the percentages on pass completions, having rifled 11 out of 12 for a total of 120 yards and a mark of 917.

In the punting department, Bill Long of Oklahoma A. and M. leads with an average of 49 yards on five booms.

Oilers Will Play Henderson Here Tonight at 8:00

With the championship of Texas Class C baseball only one game away, the Pampa Oilers play hosts to the Henderson Oilers of the East Texas league here tonight at eight o'clock at Oiler park.

Pampa, which won the West Texas-New Mexico league championship playoff, has taken three games of the best-four-of-seven series, all of them at Henderson, and the local Oilers are strong favorites to win the series in not more than two additional games.

Manager Grover Seitz said this morning he would probably send righthander Joe Isaacs to the hill tonight instead of Bill Garland, as has previously been announced.

Ready to back Isaacs up will be Foster White or Al Johnston but if the big bats of the Pampanos continue working the same way they have in the past few games, little help will be needed.

Manager Ray Hunicutt of the East Texans said last night he was not sure who he would call on to hurl tonight.

The high Pampa altitude and the cooler weather than the Henderson players have been accustomed to may prove to be the deciding factor in the series here.

Any of the three games won by Pampa at Henderson could have gone either way in the opinion of the two managers.

Pampa won the Saturday night opener, 4-1 took the Sunday game, 5-2, and won Monday's affair, 5-4, in 10 innings.

Hunicutt said last night that Pampa played great ball at Henderson and that "they would be tough for anyone to beat."

Should Henderson win here tonight, a fifth game would be played here tomorrow night and a sixth, if it was necessary, also would be played in Pampa.

Neill Armstrong, Oklahoma A. and M., who won the National pass receiving crown in 1943 as a freshman, is back on the job this year, standing No. 1 in that department with 161 yards for eight passes caught. Although his mark is based on only one game, Ev Fauness of Minnesota tops the percentages on pass completions, having rifled 11 out of 12 for a total of 120 yards and a mark of 917.

In the punting department, Bill Long of Oklahoma A. and M. leads with an average of 49 yards on five booms.

College Official Says Football Is Real Slave Mart

By HAL COOPER
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two officials of American university enrollment 3,850 blew a loud whistle on college football today. They said it is a 20th century slave mart.

Nobody on the ball club is making predictions about what will happen at Ebbets field when baseball's first three-game playoff series resumes tomorrow, but the Red Birds are a loose, confident ball club after their 4-2 opening win at St. Louis yesterday.

Enos Slaughter's great peg from right field that ripped Bruce Edwards trying to go from first to third on Howie Schultz's seventh inning single probably saved the ball game. At least Manager Eddie Dyer of the Red Birds thinks it did.

Three hits by rookie catcher Joe Garagiola who drove in half the winners' runs was another highly important factor in the all-important first win.

Not since the Cards left Boston Sept. 19 had they cut loose with a hitting attack like they showed the Brooks' five pitchers. Only Stan Musial's seventh-inning triple was the only extra base hit, but there were hits at timely points.

Pollet's perfect performance provided the big lift in the Cards' success and must have been discouraging to the Brooks who had taken heat from the press that the Cubs had knocked out the ace southpaw in his last two previous starts.

Manager Durocher's selection of Ralph Branca to hurl the vital opener backfield when the birds combined for six hits and three runs before he gave up Kirby Higley in the third, Branca had shut out St. Louis last time he faced them and had pitched another fine game against them earlier in the season.

The Dyer manager paraded most of his starting staff from the bullpen to the hill before it was over. Following Higbe with Hal Gregg, Vic Lombardi and finally Rube Melton. The notable exception was Joe Hatt, likely nominee for tomorrow's second game.

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
 While the other prognosticators are winning money by entering the Daily News' football guessing contest, your columnist has to be contented with making his guesses and then getting laughed at by the Monday quarterback.

Anyway, we'll take the risk of that and make a few Wednesday wobbles up and down the week's gridiron menu.

PAMPA over VERNON—It won't be easy but the Harvesters should take this one; as I said, it won't be easy. AMARILLO over PARIS—The Sandies shouldn't have too much trouble; the altitude, if nothing else, will defeat the District Five Wildcats. LUBBOCK over LAMESA—Goobar Keyes can quit crying in his "soon" long enough to win a ball game without much trouble. PLAINVIEW over MIDLAND—A battle between undefeated teams, both of them named Bulldogs. The coin says Plainview but there's going to be a heck of a dogfight. BROWNFIELD over LEVELL—Strictly for sentimental reasons and Levelland's a Class A school.

TEXAS over OKLAHOMA A & M—The odds are nearly even on this one. The nation's top game of the week and it could go either way. NEW MEXICO over WEST TEXAS STATE—West Texas has lost twice and this will make a third, even though New Mexico lost to Utah 65-14 last week. SOUTHERN METHODIST over TEXAS TECH—The Red Raiders, keyed up by their win over the Texas Aggies, are in for a letdown. ARKANSAS over TEXAS CHRISTIAN—A good, clean fight but I won. RICE over SOUTHWESTERN—The Owls had better win this one. OKLAHOMA over TEXAS A & M—Both teams lost last week but the Sooners lost to a far better team and get the nod purely out of our admiration.

In today's paper there's an ad appearing which carries a coupon. One of these coupons, which can be clipped from the paper or purchased at the ball park tonight, with one dollar in cash will entitle the bearer to a large photo of the Pampa Oilers, champions of the West Texas-New Mexico league and about everything else. These photos are at Smith's Studio, corner of Foster and Russell.

The good part of it is, however, that about 75 cents of that dollar will go toward the purchase of a gift for Manager Grover Seitz—that gift to be a new car, if possible. Grover has done a great job here, just as he has done ever since he started his managerial career. Anywhere there's an all-star team picked, you can bet that Grover is manager.

We're proud of our association with Grover this past season. As a freshman baseball writer we've made a few mistakes but we've learned a lot, too; enough to know that Grover Seitz is one of the top pilots in minor league baseball today. We think the fans ought to show their appreciation.

Five Texas Teams Still Unbeaten, Untied; Season Enters Third Week

(By The Associated Press)
 Texas college football enters its third week of play with only five undefeated, untied teams remaining in the field of 24. Three others have not been beaten but have been tied.

In the select circle are Texas, Abilene Christian College, Texas Tech, Sam Houston State and Hardin-Simmons. Undefeated but tied are Texas Christian, Southern Methodist and Southwest Texas State.

Owner Taking Firm Stand on Series Schedule

DALLAS—(AP)—The Dixie series will move to Texas after the game in Atlanta tonight but, according to a story in yesterday's Dallas News from its sports editor, who is with the Dallas club en route to Atlanta, will not open in Dallas until Sunday.

George White, in his story to the News, quoted President George Schepps of the Dallas club as saying, "Out of respect to my deceased father and mother, I am not going to play a Dixie series game Friday on Yom Kippur, the Jewish holiday. Furthermore, I am not going to conflict with the opening of the State Fair of Texas and the Southern Methodist University Texas Tech football game in Dallas Saturday night and which has been scheduled for a year.

"Therefore, I am going to lay off Saturday and wait until Sunday afternoon to open the Dallas end of the series. We can't sell out except for standing room. So the fair and the football game would not hurt our gate if we played Saturday, but it might affect theirs, and I do not want to do that. Besides, the Southern Association has stalled so much in time keeping us waiting in the hope of getting a few more people into its parks on Sundays that it won't hurt them to cool their heels a couple of days."

At Memphis, Schepps had accused Southern Association club owners of arranging the play-off schedules with a calculating eye on pocketbooks. "They," he said, "skip Saturday so they can draw the big Sunday crowd."

Rebels Batter Atlanta, 13-3

ATLANTA—(AP)—A hard hitting and fancy fielding Dallas team from the Texas league held a one-game advantage in the Dixie series today, battering the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern association 13-3 last night in the opener of the renewed inter-league competition.

The teams resume play here tonight at 8:15 p. m. with H. K. Perry slated to take the mound for Dallas and Earl McGowan for Atlanta. The third, fourth and if necessary the fifth games will be played in Dallas starting Sunday with the possible sixth and seventh tilts here next Thursday and Friday.

TRIAL OF NUERNBERG WILL HAVE GREAT SOCIAL POLITICAL EFFECT ON THE WORLD

Perhaps a small portion of the world is gloating that the perpetrators and executors of Europe's and the world's worst blood bath have been adjudged and sentenced before a court of fellow men.

But the tremendously big news which all the papers and the radio of the world played yesterday, coming as a sort of anti-climax as it did, left most men thinking. That news left the world thinking of the great crime that had been committed against humanity in the name of a maniacal group of men who conceived they were to be rulers of that world.

This world court—the first one in the history of man—laid down a precedent in jurisprudence and law of civilized society: that it is a high crime to perpetrate and execute aggressive war. This is a moral adjudication, and it represents all the eclectic experiences of man in his quest for happiness and good will among fellow men.

Four courts were returned by the court: 1—Conspiracy to commit acts named in the other three counts; 2—Crimes against the peace namely: planning, preparing, initiating or waging aggressive war; 3—War crimes, namely: violations of the laws or customs of war; 4—Crimes against humanity, namely: murder, exterminations, enslavement, deportation or other inhumane acts against any civilian population, before or during the war; or persecutions, political, racial or religious.

Goering and Ribbentrop, both of whom were convicted to die on the gallows, were charged with and convicted on all counts.

It is interesting to speculate: What will be the results of this mass trial of such mass scale on the course of civilization?

Without, of course, seeking to answer this question, we would speculate for just a moment. Not only will it have a legal effect, but it will also change large segments of society, could possibly even transform this age of thought and theory. It may change forms of government all over the world, as it certainly will change that of large parts of Europe. It has already done that to a great degree.

Out of the ruins of what was a strong and reputable Germany, there could arise another era of great thinkers, men whose minds could affect all civilized men—as such Germans did once. Kants, Hegels, for instance as distinguished from Schopenhauers and Nietzsches.

At any rate, in the field of thought—embracing religion, politics, ethics, art, writing—historians will set the beginning of a new era on the runs of Europe's second world war.

It will be either a renaissance of good will, or the beginning of a new purgatory on earth. By the way of explanation, we mean this trial and mass conviction of culpable leaders are going to have a good effect or a bad one on the world. Those who would domineer—and in domineering, destroy men who stand in their way—those who would perpetrate a new crime will undoubtedly be influenced by what happened at Nuernberg and by what will be written about it.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—There's a famous gag in Hollywood that a film writer once refused to tell his name to a studio executive because he couldn't waste his talents like that because the studios were paying $100,000 for his wares.

Mamma Deanna Durbin looked up from a luncheon of boiled winners, eye bread and dill pickles and admitted she isn't troubled that way.

She sings her seven-month-old daughter, Jessica, to sleep on nights when she gets home from work on time. Her favorite is Brahms' Lullaby, for which she would get a small fortune singing in front of a camera or a microphone.

But like all singers, Deanna insists on proper accompaniment—even when singing to her baby. A table music box cranks out the music as Deanna sings.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The rash of congressional investigation now breaking out is probably a healthful thing. Following the rotten disclosures in the Max-Garrison case, half a dozen other tram acts are getting a smearing. Shipbuilding profits, surplus property disposal, senate and house election campaigns, the "dead horse" Canal, the Pan-American highway and Hawaiian construction scandals all are under investigation.

But some place in the proceedings, somebody ought to get up before one of these committees and tell 'em what Charlie Dawes told similar investigators 25 years ago. "Hell and Maria! He had a war to win."

General Dawes had been called to Washington for testimony because he had been on Pershing's staff, in command of service of supply. He spoke out in words that everyone could understand, to the effect that war in itself is wasteful and that all the penny-pinching accounting of peacetime economy couldn't be practiced when men were being killed and time was more important to save than money.

Industrialist Henry Kaiser had a golden opportunity to "speak a piece of this kind in his appearance before the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, but, unfortunately, he blew his top and his lines. Thereby he failed to straighten out some of the lame-brain thinking these committees indulge in.

THE SHIPBUILDERS EARNED THEIR PROFITS

For instance, The Max merchant

on the make and winds up lavishing money on Deanna's boy friend, played by Tom Drake, so he can take the bows.

Bill Bendix also is around as a sympathetic waiter. Both Bill and Menjou were wearing white tie and tails as Director Bill Seiter directed a scene. "Universal dressed me up," Bill chuckled. "But I got out of this monkey suit every time Seiter says 'cut'."

Menjou, Hollywood's dressed best man, is right at home in white tie and tails. Adolphe still wears plus-fours when he goes golfing—says it's the only thing to wear on the course.

Other day he was having breakfast with Randolph Scott at the Lakeland Country club before playing a round. Scott was digging into a huge plate of pancakes, swimming in butter and syrup and topped with an egg, when Bing Crosby stroled in.

Bing took one look at Scott's plate and said:

"Put a feather on that and Menjou will wear it."

HENRY WANTS A PLAY

Henry Fonda plans a return to the stage after he completes "A Time to Kill." He's looking for a play.

Bob Hope's brother, George, just finished a humorous novel, "Two Bows—Fast." It's the story of a feud between an eccentric comedian who wants to play Shakespeare and a crooner who yearns to sing opera. Now we wonder who those characters are based on? ... Frances Rafferty, who once understudied Zorina, plays a gal who can't dance and has to take dancing lessons in "Adventures of Don Coyote." Now ain't that just like Hollywood?

Just for a laugh, Al Jolson did a quick blackface scene in "The Jolson Story," in which Larry Parks plays Jolson. It's a new high in celluloid complications—Al Jolson impersonating Larry Parks impersonating Al. We thought we might resent Jolson. We thought we might resent Al's dubbed-in voice for Larry in the picture, but after the first song we were sold.

marine committee jumped on the shipbuilders for their co-called "excessive" profits. What could have been brought out at the hearings, but what were simple truths like these:

At Kaiser's Oregon shipyard, Liberty ships were built at an average profit of $22,000 and an average total cost to the government of $1,621,000. That's a little over 5 percent, not an unreasonable commission.

At the St. Johns, Fla., yard, Liberty ships were built at profit of only $23,000, but at a total cost of $2,100,000 each. That's only a 1 percent profit.

But from the taxpayers' standpoint, which deal is the better for the government? Obviously, it's the first. The saving of half a million dollars on each ship is far better, even though it gives the less expensive builder over three times as much profit.

The idea behind this whole investigation seems to be that it's wicked for the government to allow good profits, even though it saves money by so doing. That's utter and arrogant nonsense, particularly when the higher profits were paid as an incentive for building the ships at lower costs to the government, and in far less time—45 days per ship for the first yard as against 88 for the second.

Another fuzzy philosophy presented by this investigation has been the idea that it was wrong for shipbuilders to make much money because they didn't have a high capital investment risk of their own money tied up in the shipyards.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By GLENN BARR
AP Foreign News Analyst
(Subbing for Mackenzie)

The Soviet Union keeps the pressure on Turkey over the Dardanelles and if the purpose is to find out whether American interest in the issue is genuine and lasting Moscow must have had its answer in the last two days. Statements by two of the highest ranking spokesmen in Washington should convince anyone that American diplomacy is following every turn with the liveliest interest and that the armed forces of this nation are cooperating closely in the support of foreign policy.

The Wallace incident is evident in the close coordination of pronouncements of Navy Secretary Forrestal and acting Secretary of State Acheson on our policies and the disposition of our forces in the Mediterranean and the middle east.

They also make plain the policy of the United States, in keeping with its support of the United Nations, to take an active interest in any situation which might be a threat to peace anywhere in the world. Acheson emphasized this in his news conference yesterday. Forrestal on Monday he pointed out that American naval forces have been operating in the Mediterranean since the beginning of the republic. He said no reason why that should be changed now. This seems to imply that American interest in the Dardanelles and the Mediterranean is no new thing.

Acheson disclosed that discussions are proceeding in the state department concerning Moscow's latest demand on Turkey. While he did not indicate what action might be taken, other authorities said there was little doubt that if circumstances required the United States would repeat as strongly as necessary the stand taken in its note of August 9 to Moscow. That note emphatically opposed the Soviet proposals for joint Russian-Turkish defense of the strategic straits and elimination of non-Black Sea powers from the agreements governing control of the straits. Indications from London are that Britain takes the same stand.

It appears to be necessary still to convince the Kremlin that American foreign policy is unified, supported by the majority of the nation and likely to proceed along fixed lines in spite of domestic political changes. Moscow either is skeptical of these things or is trying to undermine Washington's position by appealing to prejudice against American intervention in far corners of the world. She continually raises questions as to why American troops are in China, American ships in the Mediterranean, why American ministrations continue to govern Japan and southern Korea. Washington's answer is that in helping destroy the axis of evil, the United States incurred obligations to help bring peace so dearly won against any threat from any quarter of the globe.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOLES

Christian Leadership!

I was recently talking to a preacher who was very critical of the competitive system. He was very critical of the National Association of Manufacturers. He implied that the NAM followed the same practices as the labor union groups.

I asked this man what the National Association of Manufacturers did that was unethical, un-Christian, or harmful to society. His answer was that they tried to protect their interests and save their capital. As if there were anything wrong in trying to protect one's interests or save one's capital so long as he is practicing the universal rule and does not injure anybody else.

But this preacher kept repeating that the National Association of Manufacturers was just as guilty as the labor unions. Then I told him I thought Christianity meant that one had no right to accuse another of a wickedness unless he had some specific evidence of his guilt; that one had no right to accuse a whole group of un-Christian acts without a bit of evidence that they were un-Christian.

I even told him that I would give him $1000 if he would stand up on a platform and try to tell some representative of the NAM in what way it was un-Christian. This he would not do.

And yet this preacher evidently thinks he is preaching Christianity. What a strange conception of Christianity—bearing false witness against a group of people without a scrap of evidence, talking behind their backs and not giving them a chance to defend their position.

In the middle of our conversation, the preacher's face turned white and he was sweating profusely. He was so far from preaching Christianity, he was so far from being a Christian, he was so far from being a man of God, he was so far from being a man of honor, he was so far from being a man of PAMPA Business News...

Station Is Featuring High Quality Service

Quick, efficient service and high quality products are two factors which account for a large part of the success of any type of business — plus honesty, courtesy and a sincere desire to please.

All of these factors combined are incorporated into the Jack Vaughn Service Station, located at the corner of South Cuyler and Brown streets in Pampa.

Owned and operated by Jack Vaughn, the firm features high quality Phillips Petroleum company products, including gasoline and motor oils that are good for your car and are economical to use, too.

Besides Phillips products of all types, Jack Vaughn's station offers a complete car washing and lubrication service using only the most modern equipment and the best products. The work is done by men who know how to treat your car, too.

Also distributed by the station is a large stock of home and auto supplies including a splendid line of washing machines, ironers, radiators and frozen food lockers. Mr. Vaughn will gladly explain this new merchandising plan to anyone who wishes to take advantage of the many values.

Including among the auto supplies and accessories distributed at the station are Rust Master radiator fluid, Fram oil filters, sealed beam headlights for all makes of cars, fog lights, radiator hose, windshield wiper blades, flashlight batteries, auto light fuses, headlamp bulbs and many other items.

Then too the station has a complete tire repair department offering fast, economical service on all truck and passenger tires. Only

Store Has New Stock of Marine Enamel Paints

Harry Johnson down at the Square Deal Paint company, 512 South Cuyler, is really enthusiastic over the complete supply of the new Anthony pure synthetic resin marine enamels which he has just received.

These enamels, which can be purchased in nearly any size container you wish, are some of the most durable to be developed during the past few years.

The best part about them is, however, the wide range of colors, including black and white, clear and undercoat. Altogether, 21 different colors are available.

Marine enamels can be tinted and used anywhere outside or inside. They are ideal for boats, cabinets, metal or wood furniture and many other uses. A most durable finish, they will last for years.

Also featured at the Square Deal Paint company is a complete stock of painter's supplies, for home or commercial usage. They are low priced and made of only the finest materials.

Included among these supplies are bristle brushes in sizes ranging from one and one-half inches to four inches, nylon brushes made with pure nylon bristles, roof brushes, just the thing for all outside and roof work and horse hair and bristle brushes, the finest on the market.

Of course, the firm still has a complete stock of Kem-Tone products, just the thing for those painting jobs around the house. Kem-Tone is one of the most popular household paints on the market today and is very economical to use.

Other products distributed by the firm include a complete stock of tire wallpaper and a large selection of paints and varnishes, floor waxes and some home appliances.

Harry Johnson, owner and manager of the firm, invites Pampans to call by and inspect his stock of tire wallpaper and painters' supplies.

He will gladly furnish estimates on the type and amount of paint or wallpaper needed for redecorating your home.

The name of the firm again—the Square Deal Paint company. The owner and manager—Harry Johnson, the address—512 South Cuyler street. The telephone number—1850.

Son or Daughter Would Like Picture Of Parents; Qualls Does Fine Work

Now that son or daughter is away in school, they would like nothing better than a picture of mom and dad to show their friends and the place to have that picture made in Qualls Pampa Studio, located at 110 West Foster.

Specializing in practically every type of photographic work, the studio is proud of the type family or group pictures that it has made—pictures that bring out all the warmth and personality so important in a fine picture.

A portrait that only makes an ideal gift, but serves as a lasting remembrance of loved ones, both young and old.

Portraits made at Qualls Studio are inexpensive, but high in quality and durability. They do not fade easily and will stay looking like new for many years. Pampans are invited to examine some of the fine examples on display at the studio.

Another phase of work done by the staff at the studio is pictures of weddings and family groups. Mr. L. C. Qualls, owner and manager of the studio, will gladly make a picture of your wedding or gathering at any time of day and at any place. He is always ready to serve, even during non-business hours.

Mr. Qualls also assures Pampans that he has a large stock of materials for developing films, so that you need not hold those films too long without developing.

The many satisfied customers who have done business with Qualls Pampa Studio will readily attest to the fact that the studio ranks with the best in this area.

Remember, for all types of photography, including portraits, commercial, enlarging and kodak work, call or stop by the Qualls Pampa Studio, 110 West Foster. The telephone number is 307.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By ROBERT EUNSON

PARIS—(AP)—European monuments to American soldier dead of World War II will include a memorial highway 600 miles long from Metz, tracing the victorious path of the U. S. Third Army led by the late Gen. George S. Patton Jr.

Mrs. Patton, whose husband is buried in one of the 36 American cemeteries in Europe, is honorary chairman of the "Liberty Highway" commission. President Georges Bidault of France and U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery are patrons. Vice chairman, residing from Normandy east, are the mayors of St. Mere Eglise, St. Lo, Avranches, St. Malo, Rennes, Angers, Le Mans, Chartres, Fontainebleau, Reims, Verdun and Metz.

Major G. de la Vasselais, former Third Army liaison officer and mayor of St. Symphorian, the guiding hand behind the project, was present in August when the first of 600 torches to mark the miles along the way was ignited to dedicate officially the "Liberty Highway" to the memory of the Third Army.

There has been some misunderstanding and not a little feeling between the french city of Metz and the grand duchy of Luxembourg regarding the final official resting place of General Patton's body.

Since his death last winter, following an auto accident in Germany, the mayor of Metz has requested removal of Patton's body from the cemetery in Luxembourg to Metz, where it would rest at the foot of a memorial at the end of "Liberty Highway."

Since Luxembourg was once General Patton's headquarters and units of the Third Army liberated the grand duchy, the people of Luxembourg are not a little jealous of their trust and refused to listen to the demands from Metz.

Grand Duchess Charlotte and members of the royal family have taken personal charge of the general's grave. Each of the more than 10,000 other soldiers' graves in Luxembourg has been adopted by a family charged with seeing that the grave is properly cared for and decorated on holidays.

Minister Believes Remaking of Social Order Up to Youth

LEFORS—(Special)—"Remaking Our Social Order" was the subject discussed by the Rev. Dan Beltz on the regular weekly assembly program of the Lefors high school last week. The Rev. Beltz pointed out that the ultimate solution faces the youth of today.

In setting forth the principle of communism, he gave three indictments against communism: 1. Initiative is destroyed; 2. Genius is penalized; and 3. Religion is oppressed.

On the other hand, capitalism, which advocates free enterprise, has been fostered by Christianity. He reminded the students that since Christianity has the answer for the individual, why not for the nation? From J. Edgar Hoover, the Rev. Beltz quoted: "We must teach the youth respect for God, for their home and family, and for the maintenance of law and order in their community."

Special musical numbers were presented by the music department under the direction of Miss Loyce Elliott. Marguerite Crawford and Clell Breining gave "If You Were the Only Girl in the World." The boys chorus, with Berryman Brein, soloist, sang two numbers: "Five Minutes More" and "Doing What Comes Naturally."

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Oats rallied from the day's low toward the close today, but corn, which led all grains in a downward swing at the start of trading, encountered profit-taking on the rallies.

During the early trading, oats acted in sympathy with corn but the November contract developed a firmness under buying attributed to short covering.

At the close wheat was 1/4 to 3/4 lower than yesterday's finish, January $2.00 1/2. Corn was 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, January $1.32 1/2. Oats were unchanged to 1 cent higher, November 79 1/2-80.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Bert Childers and the Melon Patch

Bert Childers put an ad in the Clarion the other day. Here's what it said:

"Planted more melons than I can eat this year. Stop by and pick as many as you want. All free."

As you can guess, plenty of folks sent their kids over and plenty of the parents came too. Stripped Bert's melon patch in no time. And as they went away, Bert treated the kids to lemonade, and offered the grownups a glass of ice-cold sparkling beer.

Naturally it puzzled some folks... but Bert explains: "It gives me a kick to share things when I can afford to—whether it's the melons, or the lemonade, or beer, I guess I just like to indulge my whims."

From where I sit, if we had more "self-indulgent" people like Bert—who believe in share and share alike, live and let live, this tired world would be a whole lot better off!
