Council Agrees To Government Troops in Area

TEHRAN—(AP)—The Tabriz radio announced today that Dr. Sillamoh-Javid, the Communist Government-General of Azerbaijan, province had wired Premier Ahmed Qavam that the Provincial Council agreed to the assignment of government security forces in Azerbaijan.

Four columns of government troops were dispatched only yesterday across the frontier of the semi-autonomous state which had rejected Qavam's orders for government supervision of coming elections throughout the nation.

The Supreme War Council of Iran met here for three hours this morning.

Gen. Razmara, chief of the general staff, was in attendance, as the troops struck northward against the Azerbaijan fedai (militia) of Dr. Sillamoh-Javid, the Communist government-general in a movement which may challenge Soviet Russia's interest in the northwestern border province.

Reports yesterday that the troops had captured Mianeh, a highway and railway town five miles beyond the Ghilankoh Mountain pass, remained unconfirmed.

Premier Ahmed Qavam ordered the military action after the Azerbaijan regime rejected his plan for any army supervision of coming elections.

Iranian Army headquarters announced this afternoon that a Zenzan-based column had driven past Azerbaijanian fortifications in the north.

Shryock Assumes Office as Kiwanis Club President

Fred E. Shryock became president of the Pampa Kiwanis Club at an installation banquet attended at the Senior High Cafeteria by 212 persons.

Other officers installed by Kiwanian Fred Thompson were A. C. Troop, first vice president; L. G. Langston, second vice president; Helys Laycock, secretary-treasurer, and Clyde Carruth, immediate past president.

Directors are Herman Whitley, Roy Kay, Jim Naiton, Co. Myatt, Jim Neely, Harry Casper and Bill Kelley.

There were a number of local guests and some from Borger, Plainville, San Jacinto, Amarillo, North Amarillo and Stinnett.

Frank Sleetman, of Oklahoma City, who had been listed on the program to treat the serious subject, "The Present Trends of Public Affairs," entertained the group highly for about 45 minutes with the most amusing comedy. Instead of discussing the listed subject, he talked about why he became a politician, how and so forth. (He is a public official.)

The general theme of the program was that the "okies" were taking over the Kiwanis Club. Some of the officers and directors are former Oklahoma residents.

Two members of the West Texas Theater troupe appeared as sheriff and deputy of Seminole county, Okla., and Stinnett had been introduced as mayor of Sasakwa, Okla. (Seminole Co.) and the peace officers said they had come along to protect him.

Rockefeller Offers U.N. $8,500,000 Site

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr. today offered the United Nations a gift of $8,500,000 with which to purchase a large tract of land in mid-town Manhattan for a permanent site.

In a letter and memorandum read to the U. N. Permanent Headquarters Committee by Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate, Rockefeller stated he had obtained a "firm offer" for property located between First Avenue and Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive and between Forty-second and Forty-seventh Streets. He said the cost of the property would be $8,500,000.

Rockefeller said he had already received assurances the City of New York was prepared to give to the U. N. the balance of a city block on which his gift purchase included two small plots.

He added that he predicted his gift for the land purchase on assurances New York City would permit the U. N. to use the entire area without restriction and would also turn over to U. N. use all bulkheads and piers on the East River frontage between 42nd and 48th streets.

The gift, he added, must be declared to be free of all federal and state taxes.

Action must be taken within 20 days from Dec. 10, riotous on the East River in the midtown area," both because he believed site committee, Rockefeller stated that he had "ventured to locate territory on the East River in the midtown area," both because he believed the people of New York City wanted the U. N. among them and because New York City afforded the best spot for the U. N. to locate permanently.

The United Nations should know by tonight whether its permanent headquarters will be selected this year or next and may know where its future home will be.

Under constant prodding by the United States to delay the selection another year, the 54-nation headquarters committee was called into session again this morning to take a definite vote.

The American proposal would send more experts to San Francisco, Philadelphia, New York and Boston seeking the best site in each locality and then have them report these top four spots to the assembly next September.

The proposal has been under fire within the committee and the outcome of the postponement vote was still in doubt.

Should the American proposal be turned down, the issue goes to a vote today, it was generally conceded that the final choice would lie between San Francisco and Philadelphia.

Dow Elected To Head Interstate Oil Commission

DALLAS—(AP)—Hiram M. Dow, Roswell, New Mexico, today was elected chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission to succeed Governor Robert Kerr of Oklahoma.

Dow, Oil Company lawyer, oil man, rancher and public utility official, was born at Cotulla, Texas, in 1885 but has lived in New Mexico since he travelled there with his mother by stagecoach at the age of six weeks.

He is a former lieutenant governor of New Mexico, and was wartime chairman of The National Conference of Petroleum Regulatory Authorities.

Dow was first vice chairman of the commission when it was organized in 1935 in Dallas, and has been in New Mexico representative ever since.

First vice chairman named today was Clarence P. Smith, of Florida. He is a present member of the commission's executive committee.

Judge Warwick M. Downing of Denver, Colo., was re-elected second vice chairman. He has represented Colorado since the commission was first organized.

Earl Foster, of Oklahoma City, was reappointed executive secretary.

The executive committee next year will be composed of representative from the states of Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Illinois and Arkansas.

Each representative will be appointed by the governor of his respective state.

A paper prepared by Attorney General Tom Clark was scheduled to be read at the final sessions today.

Oil men and four governors attending the convention were told yesterday that with a shift in sea level demand for petroleum products from summer to winter now apparent, oil requirements in 1947 will be three percent higher than in the year now ending.

Richard J. Conales of Houston, Humble Oil and Refining Company economist and chairman of the compact's economic advisory committee, estimated that overall demand for oil in 1947 will be about 5,425,000 barrels daily, an increase of 140,000 barrels daily over that assured for 1946.

The economist estimated that domestic production of 4,655,000 barrels of crude oil daily would be inadequate to meet this demand. This output, plus a slight increase in coupled with continuation of imports of 400,000 barrels daily would provide a net withdrawal of stocks during the year of 30,000 barrels daily, he said.

Guineas stated that the domestic production rate for 1947 would be about 90,000 barrels daily less than the daily average for 1946. He said the reduction would be necessary to reduce stocks which during this year, he said, would climb approximately 54,000,000 barrels.

Group Plans for Elks Lodge Here

V. A. Powell, Amarillo, district deputy grand exalted ruler of the B.P.O. Elks, last night explained the procedure to follow in securing the local lodge charter to 24 former Elks and one prospective Elk in the basement banquet room of the Hotel Schneider.

Powell emphasized that should a charter be granted locally for a lodge the group would have to be an entirely new body and would in no way be connected with any previous Elks lodge ever organized or located in the city of Pampa.

A petition to the Grand Lodge was circulated among the former members and signed by a number of them.

A committee of seven men then was appointed from the floor to effect the organization of the new body. They are: Dr. Roy A. Webb, Sr., J. P. West, B. M. "Bunny" Behrman, Kenneth Boehm, Jesse Mayes, M. P. Downes and Ralph M. Juillard.

At a meeting of the committee later Juillard was named chairman and Behrman, secretary of the committee.

Another meeting of the committee of seven will be held as soon as organization forms are received from the Grand Lodge.

Those present at the meeting besides the above mentioned were: D. C. Rickard, Alex Schneider, J. T. Webster, Joe N. Key, C. W. Holman, Denton Swindall, R. J. Kiser, W. B. Caldwell, H. C. Mason, R. V. West, E. Terrell, H. W. Morrow, F. A. Howard, Frank Roach, W. L. Rowntree and L. K. Tomlin.

Powell was introduced by L. K. Tomlin.

"How many killings did you actually witness?" Associate Prosecutor Pedro Lopez of the Philippines asked one witness, Donald F. Ingie, 27, Laura, Ill.

"I don't know," replied Ingie. "It became so commonplace after the first few hundred I did not try to keep track. The dead were rolled to the side of the road or left lying where they were killed."

The prosecution charged 1,200 American soldiers and 16,000 Filipino troops were brutally killed or died of the tortures of the nine-day, 120 kilometer march.

Initial Test by Tiny XS-1, Speedy Rocket-Propelled Plane, Successful

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A tiny plane with which the Army Air Forces and Bell Aircraft Corp. its maker expect to delve into the uncharted realm of supersonic speed, has successfully completed its first tests.

The XS-1, with 23-year-old Pilot Chalmers (Slick) Goodlin, New Alexandria, Pa., at the controls, was cut loose from the belly of a B-29 bomber over Muroc Army Air Base Monday. Seconds after America's first rocket-propelled plane dropped away from the big bomber, Goodlin turned on the power, and the craft started away with a momentum which the former Navy pilot compared to the thrust from a catapult aboard a carrier.

The plane is designed to fly 1,700 miles an hour, but Goodlin made no attempt to step it up that high. He hoisted along at a mere 550, using first one cylinder, then two, and finally—for only a few seconds—all four.

The plane was cut loose at 25,000 feet. Goodlin climbed under his own power to 35,000, meantime diving, banking and climbing. He flew for 19 minutes, not quite seven under power, and made a perfect landing with his fuelless engine idle.

The plane's power is measured in terms of thrust, rather than horsepower. But R. M. Stanley, Eric, Okla. Bell's chief engineer and designer on the plane, said by the only available means of comparison, the engine could be said to develop 30,000 horsepower.

ROCKETEER—Chalmers H. (Slick) Goodlin, of Pennsylvania, 23-year-old Bell Aircraft test pilot, took up the Army's new rocket-propelled XS-1 on its first flight under power at Muroc Field, Calif., yesterday.

State Alerted In Search of Missing Plane

SEATTLE—(AP)—The Navy alerted forest rangers, State Patrol and all of Western Washington today in search of a Marine Corps transport plane missing with 22 men since 2:15 p. m. (CST) yesterday.

The search was handicapped by thick weather and the dark color of the plane which made visibility from the air doubly difficult.

The twin-engine R5C (Curtis Commando) was one of six which left San Diego, Calif., at 10:36 a. m. yesterday on a nonstop flight to transfer a Marine Corps contingent to Seattle. They encountered bad weather in Oregon and Southwest Washington. Four landed at Portland. One made it safely to Sand Point.

The missing plane last was contacted when the pilot wirelessly the Toledo range station a few miles south of Chehalis, Wash., and was cleared to next communicate with the powerful Civil Aeronautics Administration station at Everett, Wash., said Condr. P. D. Duke, Sand Point operations officer.

The Toledo range station reported it cleared the plane to fly higher, due to icing conditions it was encountered at 9,000 feet.

Thereafter it was silent despite frantic efforts of Navy, Army and CAA radio stations, Commander Duke added.

The plane was expected here at 5:06 p. m. When it finally became apparent the ship could be listed as "missing" rather than merely "overdue," the Navy appealed to news services and radio stations to ask clues from the public.

Duke said the plane had fuel sufficient to keep her in the air some 4 1/2 hours beyond her scheduled arrival time.

The Navy Public Relations office at San Diego said the missing transport carried a crew of three and 28 privates and a sergeant military policeman as passengers. The men had seabags and first aid kits. Their names were not divulged.

Farmers Organize System of Patrol Against Hunters

Rate farmers in this county were setting up a system of organized patrolling yesterday evening following a two-week series of careless hunters on farm buildings and livestock by night hunters. County Attorney Bruce Parker announced this morning.

Farmers, who were already indignant due to the repeated stampeding of their livestock, became thoroughly angered yesterday, when news of the shooting by careless hunters at the Smith home, three miles south of Kingsmill, Monday night, circulated the community.

Carl O. Smith handed Parker a slug fired into his house Monday night, which narrowly missed injuring his wife. The same volley, which probably consisted of 25 or thirty shots, stampeded Smith's cattle causing them to run through his fence and scatter over the area.

Smith got in his car and gave chase after the hunters ceased fire, but lost them after four or five miles. They were headed toward Groom, when last seen.

Parker said, "Farmers have been asked to notify the sheriff's office at the first outbreak of any firing near their land. Farmers will also phone owners of the adjoining farms and warn them to be on the lookout. In this manner it is hoped that the offenders can be apprehended."

"No one has been arrested for the shooting at the Smith home. Part of the numerals of the license tag were seen and an attempt to trace the car is being made. If the rifle that fired the bullet is recovered it will be possible to prove the owners' guilt."

Post Office Parking Limits Explained

Chief of Police Louis Allen this morning stated that the fifteen minute parking limit at the post office is being enforced rigidly and that the affected area for the parking limit is on all sides of the post office and not just in front as previously announced.

Several tickets have been given to violators so far.

Other police business was limited to the arrest of three men on charges of intoxication.

Cold Air Hits Texas Through 'Open Door'

Somebody left the door open in Canada and let a batch of cold air come scudding into Texas and the Southwest in general last night and this morning, and according to AP reports the temperature will soon be normal and warm again.

Rain started to fall here shortly after midnight, although it amounted to only a drizzle and speeded up a bit near the middle of the morning. The local weatherman reported 20 inch rainfall from midnight to 11:45 a. m. today.

Signs were over cast all morning and afternoon and Christmas shoppers apparently thought "the rain drops, lets go." The post office continued to do its rushing Christmas business with a good line of senders in front of the parcel window this morning.

A chill and damp air sent many citizens into light top coats with a few wearing heavy overcoats as the day wore on.

Tests Tried on Captives Related

NUERNBERG, Germany—(AP)—Prosecutor James McHaney introduced today records showing Nazi doctors singled out certain concentration camp victims to undergo experiment until they died.

Letters from Dr. Sigmund Rascher, who committed suicide, implicated at least three of the physicians among the 23 now standing trial before a United States war crimes court for the inhuman experiments.

Each document referred to "control groups." McHaney told the court. He described these as those units assigned for co-terminal experiments. That meant the victims would be under constant testing and if they were strong enough to survive one test, they would be subjected to another.

The victims were put under high altitude conditions in pressure tanks at Dachau. The aim was to see how much a German airforce pilot could stand in the lead to bail out.

One record stated that the heart of a 37-year-old Jew continued beating for some time after the brain was removed. This led Heinrich Himmler to suggest in a letter that those who could be revived should be "pardoned" to life imprisonment provided they were not Poles or Russians.

One subject named Wagner lived through tests simulating a height of more than 10 miles without oxygen. Rascher wrote that Wagner was put through some more tests, however, and eventually died.

Three Cage Games Scheduled Tonight

Three independent basketball games are scheduled tonight at the Junior High gym instead of the one originally set (see sports page).

The Pampa Boosters play White Deer at 7:15. Lane Sales Co. meets the Modern five at eight o'clock and Heiskel meets a Berger team at nine o'clock.

The games are free to the public.

Reserve Officers Group Meets Tonight

Members of the Pampa Chapter of the U. S. Reserve Officers Association will hold their regular meeting tonight at eight o'clock in the American Legion. The meeting, according to Tom Braly, president, here to advise the group on special matters will be Col. Blatcher Sharp and Cmdr. John VanDale, both of Amarillo.

Reserve officers of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard are eligible for membership in the organization, Braly said.

Arms Slashing

to the United Nations said the United States could forestall immediate disclosure by using the veto in the U. N. Security Council. But American representatives did not share this view.

This issue was raised as Russia and Great Britain agreed "in principle" last night in U. N. assembly plenary session at Flushing Meadow Park on a vast program enveloping arms reduction and a world-wide troop census with on-the-spot verification checks of all forces and armaments.

In a resolution calling for all members of the United Nations to report on their armed forces at home and abroad by Jan. 1, Britain submitted an amendment to establish an inspection commission to verify these reports.

Russia insisted that this include armaments also, to which Britain agreed.

This is the text of the new British proposal.

The general assembly recommends immediate establishment of an international supervisory commission, operating within the framework of the Security Council but in operation not subject to the veto of any power on the Security Council, which shall be entitled by the agents of any nations acting in its behalf to verify and confirm on the spot any all information submitted in accordance with any requirements of the general assembly or the Security Council as to troops and armaments.

"When this supervisory commission is established the member states shall be required to submit full particulars on armaments of different categories as well as armed forces," Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov argued that this would in effect "revise the charter" by abolishing use of the veto.

British Delegate Sir Hartley Shawcross explained that this meant the veto could not be used after the commission had been established and said Russia previously had agreed in the armaments reduction proposal that the veto and inspection would be free of the veto.

Molotov then declared that the British proposal was "acceptable to the Soviet Union in principle" but said the wording was not clear and suggested that it be sent to a committee for clarification.

Chairman of India's Assembly Is Named

NEW DELHI—(AP)—Amid delegates' shouts of "Inquilab Zindabad" (long live revolution) and "Jai Hind" (Victory to India), Dr. B. Jendra Prasad, food minister in the interim Indian government, became permanent chairman today of India's constituent assembly.

The 62-year-old member of the Hindu-led all-India congress party was unopposed for formal election on the third day of the assembly's session, which thus far have been boycotted by the Muslim league on orders of its president, Mahomed Ali Jinnah.

The engine is unbelievably small to generate such a tremendous thrust. Without fuel it weighs only 210 pounds and its overall length is 36 inches. The plane is smaller than the average fighter, measuring 31 feet from tail to tip, with a wing span of only 28 feet.

Army authorities emphasized at a press conference that the plane, of almost conventional design, was not designed as a fighter, a bomber or any other special type of craft. Its mission is purely and specifically to permit investigation of the supersonic speed ranges.

med that labor and management had agreed at a government-sponsored meeting several years ago to some changes in the Wagner National Labor Relations Act.

At that time, the New England Senator said, Frances Perkins, then Secretary of Labor, called a closed conference of industrial and union leaders who "shook hands and agreed upon a series of amendments to the Wagner Act."

But Miss Perkins apparently abandoned the idea, Flanders said, because the proposed revisions never were sent to Congress.

With coal output rapidly swelling to pre-strike volume, the labor spotlight swung from Lewis' AFL miners to the CIO.

That organization planned to make public later today a study by Robert R. Nathan, former Deputy War Mobilizer and now a private economic consultant, designed to bolster the CIO's current drive for a second round of postwar pay boosts.

Attorneys for Lewis and the government, meanwhile, agreed to a truce on any further legal battles in lower courts until the Supreme Court has heard arguments on the United Mine Workers' appeal from contempt fines growing out of the strike.

A stipulation signed by Attorney General Tom Clark and Welly K. Hopkins, UMW attorney, calls for no action in district court until 10 days after the hearing before the high tribunal, set for Jan. 14.

Bangle Sale Now Being Held in Gray County

A county-wide bangle sale is being conducted this week. The proceeds of which go to the Gray County Tuberculosis Association, Huelyn Laycock, association president, has stated.

The bangle sale, which is being held in all the schools in the county this week, will be held in downtown Pampa and McLean, next Saturday. Sales in Pampa are being sponsored by the City Council of the Parent-Teacher Association.

McLean sales are being sponsored by Mrs. Clifford Allison.

The schools at Lefors are sponsoring sales there.

Laycock urged all persons who received Christmas seals, to reply as soon as possible.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when more than one part gets blocked food may fail to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is something to "unblock" your lower intestinal tract. Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits all of Nature's own digestive juices to mix with your food.

You get genuine relief from indigestion so you can feel really good again.

Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore—5¢. "Unblock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion.

Gather Ye Rosebuds

By JEANNETTE COVERT-NOLAN

THE STORY: Major Cameron, veteran of the Lost Cause, is a man who believes the spirit of the South can never die. He scorns the Yankee towns he lives in, dreams idly of being able to take his family to more elegant surroundings, hater drumming Spunky Mule tobacco, Miss Amy, kindly wife and mother, never questions anything he does. Their children include: beautiful, trusting Rose who has had an "adventure" involving a strange young man, which she is keeping secret; Sidney, 19, a derivative realist; Beau, 10; Hannah, 12; and Jeff, 22. The year is 1910.

AFTER supper, with the dishes washed and kitchen straightened, Miss Amy sat in the parlor. This was the best hour of the day, all the children in the house and accounted for, the Major dozing over his evening newspaper. It was one of those minor miracles so lavishly enriching her life—a train of miracles which had begun the night she had first been introduced to William Cameron (years ago, simply years, at a church social in Bowling Green; and who would have supposed a man, so superior in every way, would glance twice in her direction!) and encompassing her marriage, the births of her children, indeed almost every incident of the years ensuing. Given the power, Miss Amy wouldn't have changed any circumstance of her life, except perhaps to wish for just a little more cash in her housekeeping purse.

She sat in her rocker under the lamp, the darning basket in her lap, and listened to Sidney, who was at the piano, playing and singing.

The Rosary was lovely and quite adapted to Miss Amy's mood; but the piano was really terribly old, some of the white keys sticking, the pedals squeaking. The piano should be tuned.

"Now, Sidney," Miss Amy said, "the Holy City."

She sat in her rocker under the lamp, the darning basket in her lap, and listened to Sidney, who was at the piano, playing and singing.

Cunningham and children of Amarillo, visited recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Marcum.

C. A. Myatt, Jr., who is in the army has arrived in Italy, it is reported.

Mmes. Bonnie Reeves and Jack Reeves visited recently with Mrs. Charles Cousins.

E. L. Price has returned from Friona where he visited his wife and son.

Mrs. Mollie Everett and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Baltzell of Amarillo, visited Perry Everett and family here.

Buddy Francis of Pampa was here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Thacker announce the birth of a granddaughter to Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Bodenhamer of Lubbock. The baby is named Rebecca Ruth and weighed 8 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Davidson and children of Wheeler visited with Mrs. F. L. Bones for a few days.

Mrs. J. M. Payne, teacher of journalism in the McLean High School, Marnelle Ledgewood, Charlotte Peden and Betty Wade went to Denton to attend the Texas High School Press Association.

Mrs. J. P. Dickerson and daughter, Betty, attended the funeral of respondent, really a prolific letter-writer. Several days each week Sidney got a letter from Norma; she would take the letters up to her bedroom to read, and then dash off an answer.

"What in the world do you write about?" Miss Amy had asked. "Just nothing," Sidney said. "Just craziness."

The doorbell rang, and Miss Amy knew it must be Ted Lennert and that her lovely hour was over. She got up, beckoning to Hannah and Beau. In the hall she said a welcoming word to Ted, who was a pleasant boy, quite presentable, considering that his father was president of a brewing corporation. Through the open door, she could see Basil Earle getting out of his phaeton. Basil, now, was presentable without qualification; his parents had been born in Virginia and his father was one of Blakesville's prominent lawyers.

MISS AMY went upstairs, to the door of Jeff's room. He was at the mirror, combing his hair.

"Aren't you going to bed, Jeff? You must be worn out."

"Well, Mamma, I said I'd shoot a few games of pool with some of the fellows. I won't be late."

Miss Amy hesitated. "But isn't pool a gambling game, Jeff?"

He smiled and his arms enveloped her in a quick hug. "Not with me. It's a science."

Jeff ran down the stairs, passing the Major, who was on his way up, yawning and grumbling. That Lennert boy had brought a guitar; they were in for a session of caterwauling.

"Damnable!" said the Major. "Umm!"

What yach pacifying the Major and supervising the younger children's Saturday night baths, Miss Amy was very busy; it was all of 10 o'clock before she herself was undressed and ready for bed, climbing into the big four-poster, where the Major snored noisily. She had meant to lie awake until Jeff returned, but she didn't; she dropped right off to sleep, to the strumming of Ted Lennert's guitar below.

Dobbs Stars for Dodger Gridders

NEW YORK—(AP)—Having already clinched the All-America football conference's total offense and punting titles, Glenn Dobbs, the Brooklyn Dodgers' one-man gang, will get a chance to add further laurels in his final game Friday night against the Seahawks at Miami.

Unable to play against Cleveland's Browns at Brooklyn last Sunday, the injured former Tulsa All-American back lost ground to Cleveland's Otto Graham in the passing race.

According to official league statistics released today, Graham leads in yards gained passing with a total of 1884 on 95 completions. Dobbs, who paces the circuit in connections with 126, has piled up 1699 yards via the air lanes.

Dobbs won the total offense crown by a big margin, having added 841 yards, rushing for an overall total of 1919 yards. Graham is second with 1709 and Hunchy Hoernschemeyer of Chicago's Rockets is third on 1518. Dobbs' leading punting average was an extraordinary 47.3 and he can't lose the crown even if he gets off several bad punts against Miami.

A short pass (dotted line) from Fullback Bev Wallace of Compton College to Halfback Don Rogers is good for a touchdown against Kilgore center, makes a vain drive trying to knock down the pass. Compton won, 19-0.

Texas, Louisiana Stars Will Meet In Benefit Game

ORANGE—(AP)—The Texas squad that meets a squad from Louisiana here the night of Dec. 20 in the fifth annual Bi-State all-star high school football game, will practice at Beaumont, head Coach Dan Stallworth of Goose Creek announced today.

Stallworth said the boys would arrive Sunday and open two-a-day drills Monday at the South Park High School gridiron.

Assisting Stallworth in coaching the Texans are Phoebe Pythian of South Park and Barron Gray of Nederland.

Coaches of the Louisiana squad are Payne Mahoux of Opelousas, head mentor; Guy Carroll of La Grange High of Lake Charles, and Curtis Cook of Oakdale.

The Louisiana coaches will meet their squad at Lake Charles Sunday where they will practice until going to Orange for the game.

The contest is sponsored by the Orange Lions Club for the benefit of their blind conservation work.

Frank Kimbrough Quits As Baylor Grid Mentor

WACO—(AP)—The coaching regime of Frank Kimbrough was at an end at Baylor University today but who was going to succeed him was a much-discussed but little known question—that is, outside the official family.

However, there were reasons to believe the official family hadn't come close to making a decision either.

Yesterday, while Kimbrough, whose past season at Baylor saw the Golden Bears at one of their lowest ebbs in football, was going before the athletic council of the board of trustees—the body that has the power to hire or fire a coach—and turning in his resignation, Harry Stiteler, assistant coach at Rice Institute who is most prominently mentioned for the job, was at a downtown hotel. But Stiteler never was called and returned to Houston without comment.

Following a meeting that consumed most of the day, Chairman Alva Bryan of the council issued a statement that Kimbrough had tendered his resignation after "the committee and Mr. Kimbrough were unable to reach an agreement as to terms and policies" and that the resignation was accepted. Bryan stated further that several names were discussed regarding a successor but no action was taken and that the council will meet again within 30 days. "We hope at that time to be able to announce the name of the new coach," Bryan added.

Kimbrough, whose four years as head coach at Baylor saw the Bears win 15 games, lose 23 and tie three—winning only one game out of nine this season—also issued a statement in which he said he was speaking in behalf of himself and Clark Jamigan, one of his assistants whom he brought here from Hardin-Simmons University. Kimbrough declared: "We wish to take this opportunity to express our thanks and appreciation to the football boys whom we have coached during our stay at Baylor; to the faculty and students; to members of the Downtown Quarterback Club and friends and to those alumni who have been loyal." Kimbrough said he would be paid through June 1, 1947. He added that his plans for the future were indefinite.

Kimbrough came to Baylor in March of 1941 from a successful coaching career at Hardin-Simmons where in six years his teams compiled 47 victories, lost eight games and tied three.

Stiteler, whom Jinx Tucker, Waco sports writer, said had the backing of a majority of the athletic council for the job, was coach at Waco High School before going to Rice Institute this year. His team last fall tied for the state championship. Previously he had coached a state title outfit at Corpus Christi.

Tucker said three members of the six-man council had told him they favored Stiteler and "another brought Stiteler to Waco." The sports writer added that he thought the hitch in naming the Rice Institute assistant to the post came from provisions Stiteler asked in the contract—that of being able to pick his own assistants. Heretofore the athletic director has done this except in the case of Jamigan, whom Kimbrough hired.

No coaching prospects were interviewed by the council and so far as known Stiteler was the only one in town while the meeting was being held. A man from Georgia Tech had been reported as expected to come here. Just who this possible applicant might be was not revealed.

Los Angeles Coach Resigns Position 'Without Reason'

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Adnan Walsh abruptly resigned as head coach of the Los Angeles Rams and disclosed today that he was "open for any suggestions or offers."

But the big question here and around the National Professional Football league was simply: why did he resign? Most observers call a choice assignment?

The man famous as the center of Knute Rockne's great "Four Horsemen" teams at Notre Dame in the early twenties would give no indication of what prompted his decision.

Prepared statements issued by Walsh and president-owner Daniel F. Reeves of the Rams insisted the parting was friendly.

'The Big Train' Dies After Long Illness

By HAL COOPER
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two generations of baseball fans were saddened today by the passing of Walter Johnson, the fireball thrower who virtually rewrote the pitching record book during his 21 years with the Washington Senators.

Known as "The Big Train" and a member of the game's official hall of fame, the kindly onetime manager was 69 years old just before midnight at Georgetown Hospital. He was born in Iowa.

For eight months his life had been dimming from a brain tumor which doctors dared not try to remove by surgery.

In Washington, where he spent his entire big league pitching career, Johnson was almost as celebrated as President, Cabinet Members and Supreme Court Justices.

During the time he lay dying even schoolboys unborn when he was in his prime called the hospital to ask how he was doing.

Clark Griffith, 76 year old president of the Senators, summed it up for the lanky Johnson's admirers today when he said:

"He was the greatest pitcher of all time."

Johnson, whose boyhood was spent on a farm near Humboldt, Kas., came to the Senators in 1907 from an independent team at Weiser, Idaho.

Playing with a team of which the wags said "first in peace, first in war and last in the American league" the six foot one, 200-pounder with the buggy work right arm won 413 games and lost 280.

At one time or another he held the record for 36 scoreless innings and some still stand.

During more than two decades in Senators' pinstripes he struck out 3,497 batters, pitched 803 games, chalked up 113 shutouts, turned in 12 no-hitters, 12 perfect games, fanned six hitters in a row, struck out more than 200 men in seven consecutive seasons.

On July 1, 1920, he pitched a no-hitter against Boston.

"The best season he ever had was 1913 when he won 36 while losing only seven and compiled the amazing earned run average of 1.14 per game."

But his ball club usually was deep in the second division. Not until 1924 did Johnson appear in his first winning season. The Senators won the league title again in 1925.

Johnson's fast ball had lost some of its zip but he won three and lost three in those two series. After losing his first game in 1926, he went back to the mound in a relief role in the seventh and deciding game. He won the game and with it Washington's only championship.

Johnson left the Senators after the 1927 season to pilot Newark in the International league. He returned to the Capital as manager of the Senators in 1928-1932 and then coached the team as manager of the Cleveland Indians in 1933-1935.

He farmed near Germantown, Md., until entering the hospital last April.

Gamblin's Deadly Shots Net Soph Forward 12 Points

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
With Bill Speer and G. W. Gamblin, dumping in 12 points each, the Pampa Harvesters knocked over a good Morse Mustang basketball team, 20-15, here last night in Pampa's first start of the year.

It was the first loss in five games for the strong Mustang five, but the taller and well-manned Harvesters looked ragged in struggling to get ahead of the stubborn Morse team.

Speer, regular center on last season's team, moved to forward last night and played an outstanding game on both offense and defense while Gamblin, un-heralded sophomore forward, displayed a deadly set shot from the sidelines.

"Wheel" type offense twice missed, the little forward usually followed through and ended up by making the basket.

Every one of the 34 boys in uniform saw action during the game and Coach Otis Coffey said he may keep as many as 20 boys on the squad, instead of cutting to 12 or 15.

For the long trip, however, the squad may be cut to 10.

Zeke Griffin, elongated center on last season's "B" team, was still not able to play last night. Griffin injured a foot in Monday's practice session and is hobbling around on crutches.

The Harvesters opened up with a man-to-man defense but couldn't hold the Mustangs down and shifted to zone. Pampa held a 15-13 half-time margin but began pulling away after the intermission, leading 26-18 at the third-quarter mark.

"The Harvesters employed their 'wheel' type offense twice but neither time was particularly effective and the play is due for a working over on the practice court."

No game has been definitely scheduled for Friday but the Pampa mentor said he would "burn up the wires" to try to get one, either at home or out of town.

Non-conference games on the schedule include a game with Stratford, Phillips, Claude, Wichita Falls and entry in the Dallas invitation tournament Dec. 26.

Down on the farm: A family living in Honey Grove said rabbits played in his yard and garden all spring and summer.

But, he says, and he swears it's true on the morning of Nov. 8 when the rabid blazed out that the Beter publicans had won the elections, the rabbits led and they haven't been seen since.

Davis Cup Team Will Be Named

MELBOURNE, Australia—(AP)—Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder made sure of playing in the Davis Cup doubles match against Australia by trouncing Gardner Mulloy and Billy Talbert, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3, in a full-dress cup trial at Kooyung Stadium today.

Although the two captains will not name their four-man squads until Monday, it is possible to say now that the American team will consist of Kramer, Schroeder, Frank Parker and Mulloy.

The Australians also held a "crucial" doubles trial before the American match. For the first time they paired Jack Bromwich with Adrian Quist and they came through with a 4-6, 10-8, 6-3 victory over Collin Long and Lionel Brodie after a furious two-hour tussle.

Australian selectors met immediately after the match and were

Longhorns Hang Up 4th Straight Cage Win, 46-34

By The Associated Press
Texas' Longhorns and Baylor's Bears maintained their winning basketball ways last night while Texas A. & M. continued its comeback after dropping its season opener to North Texas State.

The Longhorns won their fourth straight game by downing the veteran Continental Air Lines five of Denver, 46-34, at Austin, and Baylor, defending Southwest Conference champion, took its second victory from North Texas, 43-41, at Waco.

The Aggies, moving back into the Midwest after a quick trip to New York on Monday, won an overtime contest from Morehead Teachers College, 59-55, at Louisville.

Baylor's one-sided win over the Eagles of Denton made little change in the comparison of the Bears' strength with that of the Longhorns, who whipped the Denton team by 26 points last week.

The Longhorns' 12-point victory over the highly rated Denver team, however, followed a 2-point defeat the Continentals had handed Southern Methodist in Dallas on Monday.

Texas A. & M. travels to Paducah, Ky., tonight to meet Murray Teachers and moves on to Peoria, Ill., tomorrow to clash with Bradley Tech.

Arkansas and Southern Methodist also resume play tomorrow by entering the three-day invitational Big Six tournament at Kansas City, under stood to have agreed on Bromwich, Quist, Long and Dinny Falls as their team.

Rhode Island, the smallest state in the Union, is the most densely populated.

City Shoe Shop Enlarges Its Stock

A complete line of hand-made boots, belts and all types of leather goods is now in stock at the City Shoe Shop, located at 319 West Foster.

G. H. Anderson, owner and manager of the shop, has spent the past several weeks massing a large supply of high quality leather articles to fulfill the demands of the residents of Pampa and this entire trade territory.

Due to numerous requests by his customers, Anderson searched the area for the necessary materials and workers to be able to build high quality, fine fitting cowboy boots not only for men and women, but for the children as well. At this time the City Shoe Shop offers a wide variety of children's boots. Not just the kind that are built for wear too. Built from the same quality materials and with the same painstaking care that goes into the real cowboy's boots that have to take such rugged beating out on the range.

And speaking of those rugged boots that Dad wears on the ranch, now is the time to get in your request for a pair of made-to-measure, and designed-to-order, boots for Dad. They'll make the finest Christmas present that money can buy — something he's wanted for a long time, but somehow never got around to buying. Some of the other items that are sure to head your Christmas shopping list are the fine hand-tooled leather belts, billfolds, women's purses, all built from the finest quality leather on the market today. Any of these items or any other leather goods item that you wish to have engraved can be engraved quickly and expertly at the City Shoe Shop.

The shop also offers a complete line of high quality leather materials necessary to the repair and maintenance of all types of shoes. Twenty years' experience in the shoe repairing and boot building business has qualified Anderson to excel in his work. His many satisfied customers stand as testimony of the friendly, reliable, courteous service rendered at his shop.

At the present time, when shoes of pleasing quality and style are almost impossible to find, it is just good sense to keep your shoes as smart as you can, as long as you can. The easiest and most economical way to keep your shoes fit, is to stop by the City Shoe Shop. Remember—a man's appearance is only as neat as his shoes.

Altman's Station Offers Courteous, Reliable Service

Mr. Motorist—Have you ever stopped to consider the attention you expect for your car from a reliable and dependable service station attendant? Did you ever consider the mileage you expect or the protection you demand from high quality motor fuels and lubricants.

In case you haven't it might be well to remember that E. B. "Dink" Altman, owner and operator, of your good Gulf station located at 422 West Foster has, and is ready to fulfill your every motoring desire and requirement, at the earliest possible date.

"Dink" realizes that when you, Mr. Motorist, drive into his station and ask for gas, you don't merely want a few gallons of gas. You want to leave that station assured in your own mind, that the little pull to the left you had noticed earlier is not a dangerously low tire. You want to know that the oil and water or anti-freeze has been checked, and are up to par for the best motoring requirements. These and a hundred-and-one other things, you Mr. Motorist, expect and receive from station attendants at the Altman Service Station.

It is "Dink's" belief that it is much easier to better understand a customer's individual wants, if he and his staff know that customer personally. For that reason he attempts to know his customers by their first name, to always greet them cordially and cheerfully, and to try in every manner to please them with thorough, reliable, courteous service.

The Altman Service Station offers a wide variety of high quality, economically priced automobile accessories and equipment such as seat covers, sealed beam headlights, tire chains, tires, tubes, batteries and many other items.

The station specializes in washing and lubricating. They offer you the best available work at the most economical prices in town.

For courteous, dependable, economical service stop by the Altman Service Station located at 422 West Foster.

THE SERVICE PACKAGE STORE has the most complete stock of whiskeys, liquors and wines in the entire Panhandle. If it's a beverage you want go to their new modern store, located at 523 West Foster.

Citrus Shipments Fall This Season

MALLEN, Texas—(P)—Shipments of produce and citrus fruit from the Rio Grande Valley this season are lagging approximately 3,000 carloads behind the comparable time last season. Department of Agriculture figures show.

Loadings for the current season by rail and truck reached 8,017 carloads this weekend, compared to 10,766 a year ago at this time.

THE McWILLIAMS MOTOR COMPANY has a staff of skilled mechanics ready to repair your car on short notice. The company is equipped to handle all types of tire repair. For quick service call 1562 or drive by their garage located at 411 South Cuyler.

For a complete line of plumbing fixtures and supplies, wallpaper, glass or paint drop by the PAMPA SUPPLY COMPANY located at 216 North Cuyler.

Price's Greenhouse Has Wide Variety of Christmas Flowers

A wide variety of carefully selected, fresh cut flowers, pot plants, floral designs, corsages, and party decorations are now available at Price's Greenhouse, 220 North Ward, Traylor Price, owner and operator, announced yesterday.

Price has also located a fair sized stock of small, two to four feet in height, Christmas trees, which are just the right size for placing on a table. These trees have been potted and the base packed with moist earth, so as to keep the tree fresh and attractive as long as possible.

At the present time Price's offers a complete selection of Christmas flowers, some of which are poinsettias, begonias, cyclamen, and kalanchoes. These flowers are priced economically and they are gifts that anyone would be thrilled to receive. If you aren't familiar with the correct kind of flowers to send for Christmas, or at any other occasion for that matter, contact Price. He will be glad to assist you.

Price's have a choice supply of beautiful gifts for the home such as hand painted vases, ivy containers, and flower and rose bowls. The stock of these items have been greatly increased for the Christmas season. Price invites you to come in and look over his store.

Is today the birth date of one of your friends or loved ones? If so, go to the phone and call 1881. Price's will be glad to help you select flowers or some other lovely gift for the occasion. They prepare all kinds of bouquets for anniversaries, and weddings. They also attend to all types of party, funeral and church decorations.

For a wide variety of carefully selected flowers or a lovely gift that is out of the ordinary, go to Price's Greenhouse, or phone 1881. Price's wire flowers anywhere in the United States. Your complete satisfaction is their guarantee.

Association Elects Its First Female Proxy

ST. LOUIS—(P)—Miss Florence Falgatter of Ames, Iowa, was elected president of the American Vocational Association at the closing session of the national convention of the association Saturday. She is head of the economics department of Iowa State College and the first woman to be elected president of the association.

Other officers: E. L. Williams of College Station, Texas, vice president for industrial education, and J. J. Brown, of Austin, Texas, vice president of vocational rehabilitation.
