Pressure May Be on Rayburn In January Democratic Caucus

The more names that come up for candidacy for the office, the greater are the chances that Rayburn will be drafted...

58,000 MINERS QUIT WORK

54 Countries Now Make Up United Nations

NEW YORK—(AP)—Afghanistan, Iceland and Sweden signed articles of adherence to the United Nations charter today to increase the membership in the world's peace agency to 54 countries.

The simple ceremony admitting the three newcomers was held in a small, ornate conference room off the massive assembly chamber where the three delegates took seats for the first time.

Abdul Hosayn Aziz, Afghan minister to the United States, Thor Thors, Iceland's minister to Washington, and Oesien Uden, Swedish foreign minister, signed the pact in alphabetical order.

All three used personal pens and pocketed them for presentation to home governments.

The three were the first countries taken into the world circle of nations since the signing of the charter by 51 nations.

For the formal signing the representatives stepped up singly to a circular table where Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium, president of the assembly, presided.

Each one then shook hands with Spaak, Lie and Ivan Kerno, assistant secretary-general in charge of legal affairs.

Outside the assembly building, three special flagpoles were erected in the center of the circle where the flags of the original 51 members fly.

A special detachment of the United States marines was assigned the task of hoisting the three new banners.

Jimmy Walker, 65 Colorful Former NYC Mayor, Dies

NEW YORK—(AP)—James J. (Jimmy) Walker, mayor of New York City during the glittering days of the prohibition era, the Wall Street boom and night club palor, is dead at 65.

Death came painlessly last night to the debonair, slender, little man with the raper wit, who had come to epitomize New York sophistication of the get-rich-quick years before the depression.

He never awakened from the coma into which he lapsed shortly after being taken to the Doctors Hospital early Sunday suffering from a brain clot.

Walker, mayor from 1926 to 1932 and last link between the plush and gilt New York of Tammany turkey baskets and torchlight parades, and the modern metropolis, had been in ill health for the last two weeks, complaining of severe headaches.

On Saturday, his physician ordered him to bed and the following day he was removed to the hospital where he remained under an oxygen mask much of the time.

Livestock Prices Continue High Under Decontrol

CHICAGO—(AP)—Prices which farmers received for livestock today, at the start of the sixth week of decontrolled markets, were only slightly under peaks established immediately after ceilings were removed.

Other results of free trading include more meat, a corn-hog price relationship favorable for expanding the hog population, record numbers of cattle moving into mid-western feed lots and increased cold storage meat holdings.

Five weeks ago today maximums went off livestock and meat, and excluding Sundays, the nation has had 30 days of free trading with these results:

1. A high of $37.00 paid for live cattle yesterday at Chicago equaled the best price on record for steers, and $13.25 on hogs. In addition there was a subsidy of 50 cents to $2.40 on cattle and $1.75 on hogs.

2. Livestock receipts and meat supplies are much larger than in the period before decontrol. Cattle slaughter under federal inspection in October was up 207 percent over September and hog slaughter 611 percent. November receipts also are up 207 percent over the period before decontrol.

3. Record numbers of stocker and feeder cattle have moved into mid-western feed lots, where they are being fed for later marketing as choice beef. The agriculture department said shipments of such cattle into the corn belt in October exceeded any month on record.

4. Meat prices are lower than immediately after decontrol, but far above former ceilings. Choice dressed beef carcass weighing 500 to 600 pounds at New York yesterday brought $45.00 to $46.00. Immediate after-nooning price was $67.87. Ceilings were $26.12.

Choice pork loins weighing 8 to 10 pounds yesterday sold for $52.00 to $55.00 compared with $36.58 after See LIVESTOCK PRICES, Page 8

Legion Suggests Congress Session

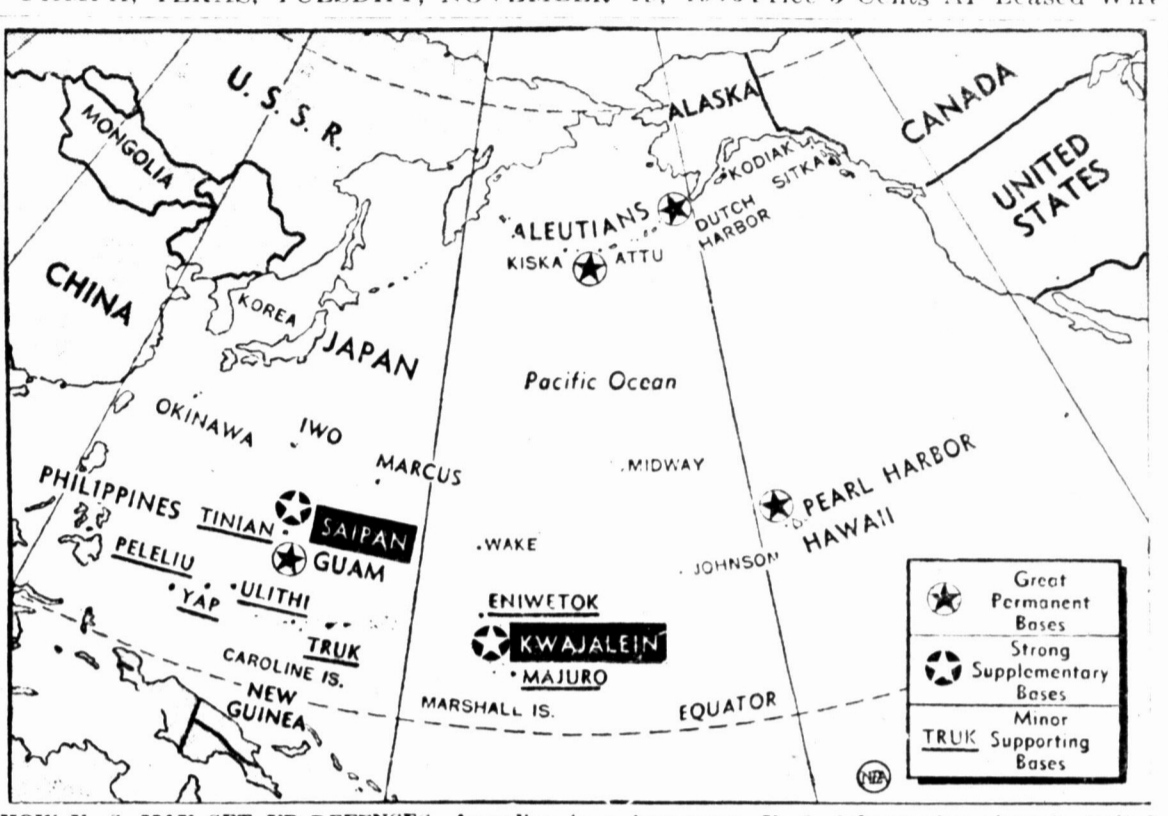

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas American Legion leaders have joined in a telegram to President Truman asking him to call congress into session if the coal strike is not abandoned.

Bertram E. Gieske, state department commander, sent the message after taking a telegraphic poll of the Legion's 21 districts and five division commanders.

The telegram said: "The American Legion in Texas and with approval of members of the executive committee, I urgently suggest that the congress be immediately called into session unless proposed coal strike is immediately ended regardless of issue involved."

"We do not believe that a work stoppage can be justified in view of suffering, which would be caused in small homes where fuel for heating is generally bought in small quantities. If strike should be for extended period entire economy of nation could be disrupted with resulting unemployment in which young veterans who have not yet accumulated savings, would be hardest hit."

"Session of congress also needed to restore recently enacted on-the-job training limitations and present veteran housing muddle."

Deadlock on Trieste Clears; Veto Remains

NEW YORK—(AP)—Spurred by Russian concessions, the great power foreign ministers today in breaking their long peace-treaty deadlock on control of Trieste.

But they evidently were headed for trouble over proposals to restrict the use of the veto in the United Nations security council.

A series of swift moving developments yesterday and last night brought the brightest prospects yet for early and final agreement on Trieste.

The main developments were these: 1. In a Big Four meeting last night (America, Britain, Russia and France) Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov yielded to American-British insistence that the proposed free territory of Trieste should be under a United Nations governor armed with strong powers to protect its independence.

2. In an earlier Big Five meeting (the Big Four, plus China) Molotov, after some objection, agreed to consider proposals for voluntarily restricting use of the veto and to discuss them in future Big-Five meetings.

3. At Lake Success, L. I., a committee of the U. N. assembly indirectly approved this assembly by voting 33 to 6 to sidetrack its own veto debate until the foreign ministers had time to act. However, a Soviet spokesman told the committee his government was flatly opposed to any changes in the veto system and objected to all assembly proposals aimed at modifying it.

4. A diplomatic authority interpreted this as meaning that Molotov probably would reject all Big Five suggestions for voluntarily restricting use of the veto, although he might go along with some British-American and Chinese recommendations aimed not so much at the veto as at speeding up the work of the security council.

The next meeting of the Big Four on the Italian peace treaty and Trieste was scheduled for 4 p. m. (EST) tomorrow. At that time they may also take up, at least briefly, the question of Germany, since they have an agreement to begin talks on Germany about Nov. 20.

Tough and Smelly Mule-Eating Goat Shipped to Navy

AUSTIN—(AP)—A tough and smelly Texas hill country goat, described as a murderer, whose favorite diet is army-type mule hides, will be shipped by air to the United States naval academy Friday.

Gov. Coke Stevenson to whom the navy appealed for a new red-blooded mascot after losing seven straight football games, obtained the goat through the Kerrville chamber of commerce. He then telegraphed Capt. E. B. Taylor, director of athletics at the naval academy.

The toughest, strongest, smelliest, meanest goat in the hill country will leave San Antonio via Slick airways Friday. This animal will require no feed for a day of two as mule hides are his favorite food and he will be fed several in route (army type).

Walter Stenger, manager of the Kerrville chamber of commerce, has assured me this goat will fulfill all requirements and that the citizens of that community are grateful that the murderer has been shipped out and will serve a useful purpose instead of tearing down fences and killing mules in that area."

Stevenson sent the navy a thoroughbred Angora goat as a mascot last year. The navy said it was grateful but that the blue-blooded beast apparently just wouldn't do. They wanted a red-blooded, mean, tough and smelly goat to help beat Army No. 30.

No New Leads on Church Break-In

City police had found no new leads today on the ransacking and attempted burglary of the First Baptist church, Chief Louis Allen replied.

According to Allen's first report yesterday afternoon thieves had broken into the church through the south basement door with bars and then forced the inner doors of the Douglas Carter's office and Church Secretary Mrs. Marie Edgerly's office. Contents of the pastor's desk were ripped from the drawers and strewn over the floor.

The secretary's office the filing cabinet contents were likewise dumped over the floor, but nothing was found to be missing. The church sanctuary itself was unlooted, according to the chief.

Housing Probe Tops Business Of New Congress

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A congressional investigation of the veterans' housing program, to determine whether government controls impede rather than spur new building, today was made the first business of the house banking committee in January.

Rep. Wolcott, Michigan Republican who succeeds Rep. Spence (D-Ky.) as committee chairman, told newsmen the quick inquiry will be aimed at uncovering the "back fault" of the program with the view to speedy passage of remedial legislation.

Describing the present program as "outrageously bad," Wolcott said "this little line to law. The investigation must be the first order of business for the committee."

The veterans' housing program passed by congress last spring under urging of President Truman was designed to provide almost 3,000,000 houses for veterans in two years. It includes priorities of materials for veterans and $300,000,000 in subsidies to suppress the production of scarce building materials.

There have been so many rumors. See HOUSE PROBE, Page 8

Canal Group Is Against System

CORPUS CHRISTI—(AP)—The intracoastal Canal Association, in a one-day session here yesterday, adopted a resolution opposing a system of valley authorities "patterned after the controversial Tennessee Valley Authority."

The resolution favored such systems contrary to democratic government. Earlier in the day the group had approved a resolution criticizing President Truman's order of making drastic reductions in expenditures available for rivers, harbors and flood control projects, including the intracoastal canal.

The President's order, the resolution declared, is an act of congress. John W. Fulbright of Beaumont was elected president of the association.

Other officers include Dale Miller of Corpus Christi, executive vice president and Washington representative; Craig F. Cullinan of Houston, chairman of the advisory committee; and Rene E. Clevy of New Orleans, D. L. McPherson of Axtellville, La., and Munger T. Ball of Port Arthur, vice presidents.

Recalled were Kyle S. Hamblen of Houston, treasurer and Frances Mitchell of Houston, secretary.

Lewis Silent On What Holds For Wednesday

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—More thousands of miners left the pits today in scattered work stoppages which began yesterday in the soft coal fields.

Approximately 58,000 men were reported out today in contrast with 38,000 yesterday.

The stoppages spread despite a federal court order issued in Washington against a strike.

The score of idle miners in the large producing states stood: Alabama 16,000; Illinois 17,000; Pennsylvania 10,000; West Virginia 10,200; Virginia 1,600; Kentucky 2,000, and Indiana 650.

Most of those who left their jobs this morning were in Alabama, where 16,000 of the state's 20,000 miners were idle, suspending 60 out of 84 Alabama mines. Yesterday only 3,000 stopped work in the state.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With less than 48 hours to go John L. Lewis paid a silent hand today on the question of obeying a federal court order against another strike heralded to begin at midnight Wednesday.

Disobedience could land the United Mine Workers' chief in jail indefinitely for contempt of court.

Already more than 58,000 soft-coal diggers have laid down their tools in seven states, and the effects of widespread industrial paralysis were heard on all sides.

Vacationing in Key West, Fla., President Truman kept in touch with the crisis and emphasized that he is determined to "fight this one to a finish," as an aide expressed it.

Government Has New Hero—He's Poison Taster

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government came up today with a hero—a fellow who has learned what the potent poison 1080 tastes like.

Start of salty, our hero says. Now a fellow who will taste 1080 will skip rope with a live electric wire plus pat-a-cake with a manure-dripping stick and use a strychnine solution as a mouthwash.

Why 1080 is so deadly your fraid-cast government won't tell it over any old counter. No, it slips it from underneath, and only to cities and state planning rodent control districts, and use a strychnine solution as a mouthwash.

Once discovered this white poison was considered tasteless for a long time. Probably this was because nobody except some assorted rats, cats, squirrels, rabbits and prairie dogs—yes, tasted any.

They were all too dead to be interviewed. But today a fish and wildlife leader flooded in that says flatly that 1080 tastes salty.

How do the F and W people know? "That's easy," Dr. Arnold L. Nelson, assistant chief of the wildlife research division, told a reporter. "Somebody tasted it."

And who is this taste bud hero? "Oh, I don't know," replied the researcher. "But somebody did. Probably it was somebody in our Denver laboratory."

Nelson said poison-tasting is simple. A scientist knows the poison's strength. So he doesn't take enough to kill. Then he tastes, but doesn't swallow.

"Not much to it, really." Would Dr. Nelson duplicate the experiment performed by our unidentified hero? "Who, me?" asked Dr. Nelson. "Great heavens, no!"

And he hurried as pale as 1080.

Pampa Bowler Is Winner in Class C Singles Group

Beryl Haynes, a member of the First National bank bowling team here, captured first place in Class C singles at the Texas Women's Bowling association tournament, which concluded Sunday in Waco.

Miss Haynes, with a three-game series of 543, finished ahead of Nell Blaise, El Paso, who rolled 534. Third place went to E. Farmer, Amarillo, and L. Rouse, Corpus Christi, who marked up a 519 score.

At the business session Saturday, Mrs. Petrie, Pampa, was named vice-president of the association for the coming year and Fort Worth was selected as the site of the 1947 tournament.

Gerry Henderson of Dallas was re-elected president of the association.

In Class C doubles, Oak Allee Whittle and Miss Haynes rolled 972, enough to finish in fifth place, only one pin behind the fourth place duo.

Two teams of Pampa bowlers attended the tournament. They left here by chartered bus November 8, accompanied by the trip from Borger.

Those making the trip from here were Betty Moonie, Beth Heiskell, De Ann Heiskell, Mrs. Petrie and Mrs. Whittle of the Standish Courts team in the local league, and Alice Gorman, Betty Akers, Joyce Oswald and Miss Haynes of the O-K Tire Shop team.

The Strauss-Frank team of San Antonio won the Class A team trophy. High game score of the tournament was followed by Grace Halvorson of Dallas, a 235.

Business Manager of Athletics Appointed At Texas A. and M.

COLLEGE STATION—P. C. D. Ownby, assistant business manager of Texas A. and M. college, has been appointed business manager of athletics.

The appointment was made by the college athletic council which also announced that P. L. Downs, Jr., whom Ownby succeeds, had been named secretary of the athletic council.

Ownby has been assisting Downs during the football season while the latter held both jobs. Since the athletic department has under consideration several improvements of the athletic plant, the job of secretary now requires a full-time man.

Downs, former member of the college of directors, was on that body at the time Kyle field was built. Ownby formerly was business manager at John Tarleton college and was with the soil conservation service from 1935 to 1943 before coming to A. and M. as assistant to the business manager.

HARVESTER QUARTERBACKS

Path Harvester quarterbacks, Charlie Laffoon, left and Lamar Lively, right, missed practice yesterday. Laffoon will be back in practice today but likely will be out longer due to a chipped bone in his left hand, suffered in the Brownfield game. Laffoon will be back in 1947, while Lively has two more years to play.

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK

BY SCOTT RAFFERTY
If we had a hat and they made them that big, our size would probably have to be increased by about 24 inches following the weekend of what some term "football games." We picked 20 winners in 25 games to bring our average up to 76 right and 29 wrong for the season, an increase from a 700 percent to 724.

We missed on Texas over Texas Christian, Wichita over West Texas, Ohio State over Illinois, Boston College over Tennessee and Marquette over Michigan State. That last one was a shot in the dark.

However, this pedestal of glory we are resting on will probably collapse come Saturday, but we're going to go right ahead and pick 25 "trough" games.

District 1: Pampa over Plainview—The Harvesters are much better than their 3-5 week record indicates. Amarillo over Lubbock—But our heart just isn't in it. Pure sentiment takes the Westerners. Borger over Childress—Merely we roll along, roll along.

Southern Methodist over Baylor—The down-trodden Bears to get skinned again. Texas Christian over Rice—Who said that? Texas Tech over Arizona—Please turn to Page Whom. Oklahoma Aggies over Drake—Things just can't go on this way, darling.

Kansas State over New Mexico—"Don't quote me," the expert said. "If New Mexico wins, my face will be red." Maybe we're in the wrong business. Notre Dame over Tulane—The joint is full of poets. The Notre Dame team are the Irish. Tulane is the Green Wave. Begorrah.

UCLA over Southern Cal—Southern Cal jumps right in the middle of poison ivy instead of roses. Alabama over Boston College—Nothing you can say will ever change my mind. Bear-Bang-Bang. Harvard over Yale—This one has all the glory of a mustard plaster. Grandpre would have enjoyed it.

Jumping beans: Rutgers over Bucknell; Columbia over Syracuse; Princeton over Dartmouth; Louisiana State over Fordham; Georgetown over N. Y. U.; Georgia over Chattanooga; Michigan over Ohio State; Oklahoma over Nebraska; Indiana over Purdue; Minnesota over Wisconsin; California over Stanford; Washington U. over Montana; Montana State over Colorado Mines; Iam over Bearing.

Footnotes: We owe Carl Mayes, red-headed Harvester fullback, an apology. Our notes on football games are sometimes hard for us to read after they get cold, so we have a perfectly legitimate excuse. We were scribbling down some notes to use to call the story on the game into the office from Lubbock and we wrote down that Charlie Laffoon passed to Bill Speer for the first touchdown. On our original notes, we had it that Mayes did pass but force of habit in saying that Laffoon passed to so-and-so, made us write his name down.

Bulldog Teams Have Taken 2 Games in 15 Previous Battles

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
Already beaten once by a team that had never previously defeated them, the Pampa Harvesters will be set Saturday to defend a near-perfect, year-by-year record when they meet the Plainview Bulldogs.

Only twice in 15 games have the Bulldogs been able to register a victory over Pampa; 10-0 in 1940 and 14-7 in 1945.

Cadets Still Tops In Poll; Steers Out

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK (AP)—It was still Army in a photo finish over Notre Dame today for the No. 1 spot among the nation's football outfits—and the honeymoon is definitely over for Pennsylvania and Texas.

Balotting in the Associated Press' weekly poll, the sports writers of the country left the careening Cadets from West Point at the head of the parade by the slim margin of 50 points over the Irish, with the unbeaten-united pair of Georgia and University of California at Los Angeles holding third and fourth, respectively.

But the 34-7 pounding Penn absorbed from Army last Saturday and Texas' second upset setback of the season—this one by Texas Christian—dropped the Quakers and the Longhorns completely out of the select top-ten set, with Louisiana State and Southern California moving up to replace them.

Altogether, 110 sports writers from coast to coast and one from Honolulu voted for their leading ten selections after last Saturday's scrambling. Of these, 58 put Army on top all alone, compared to 34 for No. 2, and 16 voted the Irish in front.

Twenty-three others called it a tie, voting for a two-seater throne as a result of the scoreless deadlock the two outfits unfolded the previous week and the result of a 16-7 victory over 27-0 decision the Irish were taking over Northwestern while the Cadets were clouting the Quakers last Saturday.

The other 13 first-place ballots were split between Georgia and UCLA, the Bulldogs collecting eight, compared to their 2 of last week, and the UCLAs getting five—two less than in the previous poll.

On a basis of ten points for a first place vote, nine for a second, eight for a third, and so forth, Army edged up 1,053 points, just 50 more than the No. 2, 1,003 for Notre Dame, with Georgia collecting 835 and UCLA 760.

Longest jump of the week was made by Illinois, which leaped from ninth to fifth place, with 527 points, a result of the 16-7 victory over Ohio State which put the Ills in front in the Big Nine Conference chase.

Once-beaten Georgia Tech, which whipped Tulane 35-7 Saturday, and still has Georgia to tangle with on November 30 stepped up from seventh to sixth, with 425 points, and Tennessee moved up one notch to fifth with 338 as a result of the Vol's victory over the college.

Michigan advanced two places to eighth after whipping Wisconsin 28-6 Saturday.

Louisiana State, beaten only once this season, and 20 conqueror of Miami in its latest trip to the post, climbed from 11th to ninth, with 139 points. Southern California's Trojans, who downed California's Golden Bears 14-0 Saturday, slipped back 23 for the Rose Bowl spot, round out the top ten with 107 points.

Amarillo Coach Defies Gamblers
AMARILLO—(AP)—Howard Lynch, Amarillo high school football coach, served flat warning to Panhandle gamblers that they were not going to dictate the policies of the team as long as he was coach.

Lynch said football gamblers criticized him for free use of substitutes in last Saturday's 27-13 victory over Plainview, in which the Bulldogs scored two late touchdowns against Amarillo reserves.

Speaking before the Monday Quarterback club yesterday, Lynch said when the gamblers start running my team I'll get out. "They won't have to fire me."

"I believe my policy of allowing the reserves an opportunity to play is much more important than the score and as long as I stay here I shall continue that policy," he added.

Despite Bad Day, Layne Continues First in Offense

By The Associated Press
When you've been as busy as Bobby Layne you usually have rolled up enough yardage that a bad day or two won't dislodge you from the top.

Layne, the Texas fullback, continues as the Southwest Conference's total offense leader although he was able to do little passing or running against hard-charging Texas Christian last week.

Bobby has gained 1,378 yards on 196 plays and probably still leads the nation in total offense.

Layne also has sewed up leadership in passing for the year barring a sensational spurt by Virgil Elkenberg of Rice, who is 382 yards behind with two games to Layne's one remaining.

Statistics released today by James H. Stewart, conference executive secretary, show Carl Russ to have practically clinched ball-carrying honors with 454 yards on 90 runs compared to 404 on 108 tries by Ken Holland of Arkansas. Russ has two games to play. Holland one.

Layne has pitched 132 passes and completed 72 for 1,007 yards. Elkenberg has connected on 35 out of 99 for 625.

Bill Richards of Southern Methodist tops the punters with an average of 41.1 on 48 kicks. Jim Canady of Texas leads the pass-receivers with 17 catches for 420 yards and Frank Guess of Texas is the pace-setter in punt returns with 216 yards on 12.

Texas leads team offense with 3,012 yards and Rice leads in defense, allowing 1,243 yards in eight games—an average of 155.7 per game.

Mrs. Lafferty Is Elected To State Nominating Committee

Mrs. Mildred Lafferty, president of the Pampa B&PW was elected to the state nominating committee of the Texas Federation, Saturday in Plainview, at the district nine conference, which was in session there. Miss Margaret Anderson, Abilene, president of West Texas Federation spoke on "Jobs, Justice and Peace," at a banquet Saturday night, at the Hilton hotel.

Woodrow Wilson P-TA Features High School Chorus On Program

The boys chorus of Pampa high school, the first one the school has had in several years, presented special music at Woodrow Wilson P-TA program, in honor of the fathers of the school pupils, Thursday evening.

Dr. R. L. Sutherland and Dr. Bernice Moore spoke on problems of the high school, reported that hotel accommodations will be available in Houston.

Dr. R. L. Sutherland and Dr. Bernice Moore declared that the most important problem in American life is to realize that home living is a job for both man and woman, and that family relationships, not houses, make the home.

Dr. Moore pointed out to the great number of young women, who living in apartments or temporary housing, put off using their "good" linen, silver and other possessions until they have a "real home" as evidence that lack of understanding of the true meaning of home is widespread. She declared that couples are building their homes for better or worse whether they are living in apartments or in a mansion.

Cooperation is the keynote of a successful home, the speaker declared, and extends to children whatever their age. "The child that breaks dishes washing them is better off than the child who is excluded from family activities," she remarked.

Homemaking means more than the mechanical side of cooking, washing and cleaning, she said. It is creation of family relationships. Importance of mechanical side is that it must run smoothly if it is not to cloud the more important functions of homemaking, Dr. Moore said.

Joy of homemaking is in creating a happy home; drudgery in homemaking is, no greater than in any other job, Dr. Moore said. Working parents, although they may not handle any of the mechanical side of homemaking and spend less time with their children than the 24-hour-a-day parent, are sometimes better parents than the non-working. "Quality of parenthood, not quantity, is criterion of successful homemaking," she declared.

Dr. Sutherland pointed out that women's clubs can do much to improve American home life by promoting interest, understanding and solutions of family problems.

He listed as activities now being conducted by TWFC clubs to better family life, establishment of youth outdoor recreation center; providing funds for music for a Negro choir, which subsequently became outstanding in its community; purchase of a hospital bed which is loaned to homes where there are ill, and of other sickroom facilities which circulate throughout the community; sponsoring Future Homemaking groups, Campfire Girl groups and Girl Scout troops, establishing discussion groups on essentials of family living; establishing a day nursery for working mothers; sponsoring discussions on family life at club meetings; church services and other public meetings.

Taking part in the panel discussion were the eight district presidents comprising the Texas Federation.

There were also representatives from Paraguay, Peru or Rio, Mexico, Egypt, and Arabia, who assisted in the discussion.

Those attending from seventh district were Mmes. Herring, L. A. Well, Amelio, C. E. Jay, Plainview; Lewis Gaddell, Plainview; U. L. Willie, Matador, and Miss Mae Murfee, Lubbock.

Dates for the seventh district convention are March 19-20, to be held at Childress.

Fred Sweazy was the program leader. A fund of fifty dollars was designated by the group, to be used by the teachers for student aid.

Attendance prizes were awarded the rooms of Miss Richey, Mrs. Humphreys and Miss Willis for first, second and third prize respectively.

TFWC Hears Discussions of Program Theme for Year, American Home and Family

Problems of the American home and family living will be emphasized in the program for this year of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, it was decided at a board of directors and executive committee of the TFWC held in Austin Nov. 14.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah, president of seventh district brings back an interesting report on the activities of the state meeting there.

Clubs of the federation will be urged to cooperate with the Woman's foundation, recently established research group, which plans a study of problems of home and family living in Texas through the Hogg foundation at the University of Texas.

The group Thursday afternoon voted to hold the state convention the week of May 12 in Houston. Austin and other Texas cities were unable to extend invitations because of lack of hotel accommodations.

Mrs. John O. Douglas of Houston, TFWC treasurer, reported that hotel accommodations will be available in Houston.

LET'S HAVE A Heart-to-Heart TALK ABOUT THIS

You believe in life insurance. That's why you are a policyowner. And you believe in your family, too. You want that little girl to grow up in the neighborhood where you've built your home. You want your wife to have that home as long as she wishes to keep it. And if anything should happen to you, you want her to be able to bring your little girl up under the teaching and guidance that only a mother could give her. You don't want your wife to have to leave your child in some day nursery all day long while she works—or looks for work.

That's why you bought your life insurance, isn't it—to take care of them.

Well, let's look at your life insurance. Will it do the things you want it to do? If you have $2,500 of life insurance, it will provide your beneficiary with $50 a month for about four and a half years. Is that enough? Will that assure them of that home—give them food and clothing, and the necessities of life you'd want them to have if you were not here to provide them? Is that enough to give that little girl the start in life you want your daughter to have?

Let's have a heart-to-heart talk about your life insurance today. Helping you to outline a plan of protection to do the real job you want life insurance to do for you is a part of our service, and a request for detailed information will not obligate you.

It was only at the end of that time when he went to take the samples out that he remembered Elise saying something about 40 minutes—instead of the usual 45.

HE sat on long after they left him. Once he touched the place on his big hand where Elise had laid her cool slim one. It was the first time she had shown any ordinary human kindness to him, and for a moment he was moved.

THE RECORD IS AGAINST RUSSIA
There is no way of knowing what Mr. Molotov means with his statement that Russian and American views on disarmament can be harmonized.

If Russia is coming around to the view that arms reduction means more than ideological expansion that atomic control is a far greater safety factor than strategic position outside her borders, that peace through submitting to inspection is worth more to her people than the concealment of any Communist shortcomings or depletion by war, then the statement means a great deal.

American delegates to the United Nations have been hoping all along, of course, that a day would come when Russia and the western world would agree on some point wholeheartedly, and thereby break the log jam. And everybody feels, of course, that if disarmament could be effected it would sweep away all the fears which hold the nations apart. That's why all the enthusiasm over the Russian proposals.

Molotov's latest statement was on a different plane from the one at the opening of the United Nations assembly. It was more in the line with Stalin's statement that there can be international control of atomic power.

Russia's final stand on such guarantees as inspection will really tell the story.

The record, however, is against the Russians who have violated 27 different agreements and who have stated in all of their preambles on how to spread Communism throughout the world that such violations are perfectly all right so long as they advance the Russians toward their goal of domination of the world.

If the United States and the rest of the world take with a grain of salt Molotov's statement the Russians have little reason to object to the skepticism. The record is against them.

In Hollywood
By ESKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD, (NEA) — Orchestra leader Charley Barnett started even Artie Shaw, the other day, when he married for the fifth time—and took his bride to Honolulu for a three-day honeymoon, with 22 other guys.

The 22 chaperones were members of Charley's band, and the honeymoon was conducted with the aid of a big-name band to Hawaii for a three-night stand in the Honolulu Civic Auditorium.

Charley, the bride—former RKO starlet Rita Merritt—played three nights and flew home again.

THE PERFECT TRIBUTE
Charley's fourth wife was a singer named Harriett Clark. She sang with his band.

When they separated, she continued to sing with the band for six weeks. But Charley never spoke to her. Then, at Christmas, he gave her a mink coat.

Shaw later told a friend: "I want to thank him for the coat, but he won't talk to me."

"Artie Shaw," Barnett remembered fondly, "was the best man at my second wedding in Bermuda, to escape—temporarily—process-servers hired by his third wife, who wanted more alimony. The process-servers arrived just as his ship sailed. Charley was standing at the rail."

He looked down at them, shook his fist and yelled: "Millions for defense, but not one more dime for alimony!"

SOMETHING NEW IN PLOTS
There's a new movie plot coming up in a flicker titled "Carnegie Hall." It goes like this: Girl meets building, girl almost loses building, girl gets building.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The battle in the British house of commons between left-wing socialists and the labor (socialist) government over foreign policy developed highly interesting though, in some respects, dangerous conclusions.

The debate resolved about the rebel motion that the government's foreign policy steer a middle course between the United States and Russia. This was based on the premise that the Soviet Union and the United States were headed for war, and the British were bound to become involved in it by heaving to the American line.

R. H. S. Crossman, leader of the revolt, charged that the formation of the complete and exclusive Anglo-American tie-up—as urged by Winston Churchill in his Fulton, Missouri, speech early this year—had been followed by a steady split of the world into American and Russian blocs.

Prime Minister Attlee in replying to the left-wingers said: "This government does not believe in the formation of groups or opposing groups of the east, west or center. We stand for the United Nations."

Answering the "rebel" demand that Churchill's Fulton speech, Attlee gave this middle-of-the-road reply: "We are not seeking an exclusive Anglo-American alliance."

Whether the left-wingers were satisfied, the fact remains that the government's foreign policy received a unanimous vote of confidence.

Mr. Attlee will find plenty of people in America who agree with his dislike of blocs. Still as world affairs now stand, blocs are necessarily evils.

It's natural for the Slavic states to cling together, and the same is true of much of the western group, especially the English speaking peoples. And, of course, totalitarian communism and western democracy are as oil and water to each other.

The trick therefore is to solve the differences between the two blocs. And, as the stage magician says, it's a good trick if we do it, and it's still a good trick if we don't.

Gracie Reports
By GRACIE ALLEN
Well, I guess they take Mark Twain's joke, "Everyone talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it."

It seems that the electrical engineers actually created a snowfall by bombarding a cloud with dry ice pellets from a Gracie airplane, and also made rain clouds in their laboratories.

All I hope is that this new magic weather doesn't get commercialized like everything else. I've enjoyed weather just as it is for years without suddenly hearing things like "This breeze is coming your way through the United States No-Drip Raincoat Co."

But just think some day every housewife in America could have a shelf full of "genuine canned California sunshine." She'd have to be careful, though, not to spill any of it on the carpet.

Germans Found New Production Methods
CLEVELAND—(AP)—Discovery of new methods for producing synthetic fibers from the waste products of the synthetic rubber industry probably was the greatest achievement of German scientists during the Hitler regime, a western reserve university scientist reported today.

It takes willingness of many nations to provide assurance of peace, but it takes the decision of only one nation to bring about war—Navy Secretary Forrestal.

out disclosing it is, of course, a violation of the Corrupt Practices Act.

Dr. Shanley has taken the position that he will, of course, report on his group's financial activities in the last campaign, but only to the congressional campaign expenditure committees. The un-American activities committee has no jurisdiction, he says.

HER FRIENDS
CHARGE PERSECUTION
From supporters of Martha Sharp, the story of this contest is that she is just a poor social worker and minister's wife. To defeat her in the election, it is claimed by Joe Martin called in the blood hounds of the un-American activities committee and proceeded to smear Mrs. Sharp as a communist. It is further claimed that Ernie Adamson, chief counsel for the un-American activities committee, went into Martin's district and distributed committee documents to help defeat Mrs. Sharp.

ness men and their middle class customers. Although it will continue to show its historic sympathy for upper crust conversations, it sees no conflict between these two goals.

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER
POWER—Historically happy republican strategists have devoted most of their post-election talk and thought at Washington to framing a program for the coming year to hold power over a long period. They envisage a tenure as long as their rule from 1921 to 1933, which was interrupted only by Grover Cleveland's two terms.

The more practical and cynical scold at such bright ideas, but they cannot keep the overenthusiastic from dreaming. It is not their grandiose plans, however, so much as the methods by which they aim to win a long-time mortgage on the White House and congress, that concern the millions of Americans who vote for or against the G. O. P. November 5.

Caddy enough, although they frequently assailed what they characterized as P. D. R.'s attempt to be "organized to attack them," thereby fashioning an almost unbeatable machine, they mean to adopt similar tactics.

In less obvious and aggressive ways, but by the same means, they mean to direct their appeal to certain groups who, for the present at least, appear to enjoy the balance of political power in the United States.

THINKERS—The G. O. P. will seek to obtain and retain the votes of millions of (1) small taxpayers, (2) laboring men and women, (3) workmen and their families, (4) the veterans and (5) the small business.

Common Ground
By R. C. HOLES
Answering An Old Question
One often hears various explanations as to why the standard of living in this country is so much higher than the standard of living of the people of any other country.

I have seldom seen a clearer presentation than was made by Robert T. Hastam, vice-president of Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. His explanation was given in an address before the Advertiser Club of Washington, D. C., and published in "The Commercial and Financial Chronicle."

Since the close of the war and after the government permitted the return of the economy to go abroad, Mr. Hastam began to travel. In the past ten months he has visited fifteen countries, both in Europe and South America. He was not only a traveler, but he went to find out the condition of his company's plants and methods to increase business.

He has traveled extensively before and after the war. He says: "On these recent trips I was struck more forcibly than ever before by the great difference between our own country and other nations in the standard of living for the great mass of the people."

He goes on to show that this difference in standard of living is not due to the area of land in this country, the size of the population, the total potential water power for generation of electricity, or the amount of discovered oil and petroleum.

He admits we have about 35 per cent of the world's proved oil reserves and 50 per cent of the known coal deposits. But he contends that it is not these resources, but the way they are used, that accounts for the difference in the standard of living of the American people; that the rest of the world has not discovered its natural resources.

"Now it is my contention," he says, "that the reason for this commonly given cause he makes this statement: 'What then is the unique element of the American economy?'"

FRANKLIN'S have just received a large shipment of new color and material, stunningly styled. Be ready for holiday gaily.

There were questions that kept arising in my mind as I traveled and talked with people abroad. It seems to me that the answer lies in something less obvious than size of population, area of land, or the amount of natural resources.

"In considering in detail how business is conducted in the United States, and comparing our business methods with our own, a characteristic of the American system, of vital significance, becomes evident. This characteristic is competition—and competition of a very special kind."

That is, in that in most other countries there is competition, of a sort, in business. But it is most certainly not the American brand. What makes American competition different is that it is a competition of the most complete kind, and what is most important, it has been developed in conjunction with a code of fair play.

"Here in American competition is complete and far-reaching and all directions at all levels and in all industries, corporations, new inventions and people, all compete one with another."

That is, in the past they have competed more completely than in any other country in the world, and it is only because we are departing from this fair code of competition that we have had so long and so serious periods of unemployment.

decontrol and a ceiling of $31.88. With both beef and pork, the meat industry contended substantial quantities formerly sold above ceiling prices in the black market.

5. A record-breaking corn crop, forcing prices lower, has produced a corn-hog ratio at Chicago of 15.8 to 1, meaning that the price of 100 pounds of live hog is equal to the price of 15.8 bushels of corn. Last year at this time the hog price equaled only 12.9 bushels of corn.

6. Holding of meat in cold storage have increased. Though normal movement for meat (in October) is out-of-storage, the agriculture department said, "stocks of stored meat increased during October by 24,000,000 pounds." This still left stocks around half of normal for Nov. 1.

of watching the atom bomb tests at Bikini. He said the American people have not grasped the true power of the bomb, mainly because it has been in use many thousands of miles from this country.

"It would be desirable if we could keep the secret of atomic power," he said, "but scientists say that within five years practically all progressive nations will have discovered the secret."

Worley jokingly referred to the recent elections several times during his address, but at the same time, said the change to republican dominance was perhaps for the best if for no other reason than it was "the American way of doing things."

The speaker was introduced by Mayor Farris C. Oden. Dick Hughes of Pampa served as master of ceremonies.

Virginia Vaughn, Pampa Senior high language instructor, conducted a brief business meeting at which the members voted to approve a committee's nomination of H. A. Yoder, principal of Woodrow Wilson school, as first vice president of the Gray-Roberts unit of the Texas State Teachers' association.

Musical entertainment was provided by Ken Bennett and Danny Steuber of Radio Station KPDM.

The banquet was sponsored by the good-will committee of the Pampa chamber of commerce.

Coal Strike

the mines, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross replied: "I don't know."

Ross said, however, that "the President is aware of everything that is being done, and everything that is being done is in accordance with his instructions."

Ross disclosed that Mr. Truman specifically instructed Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug to obtain yesterday's federal court order restraining Lewis until Nov. 27 from "coercing, instigating, inducing or encouraging" the miners to strike either directly or indirectly—or otherwise to breach his contract with the government.

The court order, signed by Judge Alan Goldsborough, in effect calls upon Lewis and his 400,000 miners to keep the pits operating for at least eight more days. Then, a week from tomorrow, a hearing will be held to determine whether an injunction shall be issued outlawing any strike as long as the government operates the mines.

Attorney General Clark signalled his strategy when applying for the order for Krug. He cited the famous case of Eugene V. Debs, who led the Chicago Pullman strike in 1894 and was sent to jail for six months for contempt of court in violating an anti-strike injunction.

It is a question, however, whether Lewis could be held in contempt if the miners just quit without any word or counsel from him.

Keyed with the swift-moving controversy were these developments: 1. George T. Christopher, president of Packard Motor Co., said in Atlanta that a coal strike would force almost immediate shutdown of the automobile industry—inevitably affecting tens of thousands of workers.

"The industry will start shutting down just as soon as they start striking," he said.

2. The government, to conserve dwindling coal supplies, ordered a 25 percent cut in passenger service provided by coal-burning locomotives, effective Sunday night. Freight restrictions are also under consideration.

3. The office of defense transportation disclosed that the nation's railroads now have only a 30-day supply of coal on hand. Some have as little as a 10-day supply.

4. In Richmond, Gov. William M. Tuck of Virginia pledged full police protection to any coal miners wishing to continue work under the U. S. government.

Labor attorneys not connected with the case said in Washington they expected Lewis to go into court today or tomorrow at the latest.

signers included the following: Sweden—Axel Gjoerens, minister of supply, and Herman Eriksson, minister to Washington.

Iceland—Finnur Jonsson, minister of justice and social affairs; Bjarni Benediktsson, mayor of the capital city of Reykjavik; and Olafur Johannesson, an attorney.

Afghanistan—said Tadjeddin, a secretary in the Washington legation.

Election of three new members of the security council and six of the economic and social council is the first principal business before the assembly. Colombia appeared almost certain to win one of the security council seats, while main contenders for the remaining two were Belgium, India and Syria. The seats will go to the three nations who receive the greatest number of votes in secret ballot.

Economic and social council members may succeed themselves and the present members are expected to be re-elected in most cases. The only possibilities for changes were in reported moves of Latin Americans to push Venezuela for the seat now held by Colombia and of another group to support replacement of Yugoslavia by New Zealand.

The report of the political committee recommending that the assembly request reconsideration in the security council of five rejected applications for U. N. membership may produce debate in today's session since the move has been consistently opposed by Russia and several other eastern European states.

The nations rejected when Iceland, Sweden and Afghanistan were accepted were Ireland, Portugal, Trans-Jordan, Outer Mongolia and Albania.

were widely repeated throughout the city.

On one occasion he laughed a book censorship bill out of the state assembly with a quip: "No girl was ever ruined by a book."

Arriving one morning at city hall with an aide, Walker saw a long line of persons waiting to see him. Turning to his aide, he asked: "What did they do—close up the aquarium?"

A trait long associated with Walker was his habit of arriving late for appointments.

He was reported to have kept President Coolidge waiting 40 minutes on a visit to Washington in 1923.

Channel Cleared By Minesweepers

ROME—(AP)—More than 20 mines, "laid within the last six months" were swept from the Greek-Albanian Corfu channel when British minesweepers cleared the channel Nov. 12, a spokesman for the Mediterranean zone mine clearance board said today.

The spokesman said the channel had been swept twice before since 1944.

The decision to sweep the channel anew came from the Inter-Allied central mine clearance board in London on a recommendation by the Mediterranean board after the damaging of two British destroyers in the channel Oct. 22, the spokesman said. He added that both the recommendation and the London decision to sweep the Corfu narrows were unanimous and that Russian members on both boards participated.
