

Texas City Narrowly Escapes Another Disaster

Dog and His Master Find Shelter, Together

They were just a boy and a dog, both made homeless by a merciless tornado that swept through Glazier and Higgins respecting no homes or persons.

Sometime after the storm subsided and the First National Bank at Higgins was being used by the Salvation Army, the two wandered in in search of food and shelter. The name of the boy and of his dog are unknown, as well as the names of family or relatives.

With the Salvation Army they found a temporary haven of rest with a cot and blankets for the boy, and the dog privileged to remain by his side. Since they first meandered into the SA headquarters until now, they have been fed, housed and clothed by the Army. The dog keeps a close watch over his master as the hustle and bustle of humanity in a daze and in distress passed by them going their numerous ways.

Just another little tale of a dog's devotion to its master, and of hardships softened by volunteer workers during the grueling hours of reconstruction at Higgins.

Everything Ready For Relief Show

A full evening's entertainment is promised for those who attend the Command Performance and Moving Picture to be held at the LaNora Theatre tomorrow night at 7:45. The benefit is being given to aid the disaster-ridden people of Higgins and Glazier, and all the proceeds are to be added to the "Good Neighbor Fund."

George Newberry, manager of the local office of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., stated this morning that all calls made to the theater by those wishing to make donations will be handled as emergency calls, so that they may be broadcast from the stage during the command performance.

Terrorists in Jerusalem Blow Up Train

JERUSALEM—(AP)—Terrorists blew up a British troop train southeast of Tel Aviv today, killing at least eight persons, and then machine-gunned the wreckage. The attack was made two hours after two condemned Jews committed suicide with explosives just before they were to be committed to the gallows.

Army sources said they believed the "Egypt Express" bringing soldiers from that country, had been attacked by members of the Jewish underground group, Irgun Zvai Leumi. Four coaches were demolished, apparently by electrically detonated mines under the rails.

Troops and guards were reported to have exchanged fire with the attackers, but no one was captured. One of the dead was a child, two were civilians and five were soldiers. Those at the scene reported seeing arms, legs and other parts of mutilated bodies in the wreckage.

Probably two dozen other persons were trapped in the debris. First accounts said two soldiers and seven civilians were injured seriously and 21 others less seriously.

The doomed Jews, Meyer Feinstein and Moshe Barzani clasped explosives around their waists and pressed their breasts and died in mangled contortion in Jerusalem prison just before they were to have mounted the 13 steps leading to the gallows.

City Commission Studies Program For City Paving

The City Commission this morning prepared to get into the final preliminary phases of the pending street paving program, scheduled to get under way this spring.

Of the 16 blocks up for paving, only three remain for plans and specifications completion before the entire project can be open for bids. In his first report to the Commission on the paving, City Manager Steve Mathews indicated several contractors will be bidding for the job. Specifications for the streets to be paved run on the same basis as specifications for highways as used by the State Department of Highways for asphalt roads.

Tomorrow the test drilling for the water well to be dug on the park grounds at the Hobart and Buckler Sts. intersection will be started. The test hole is expected to be completed in one day.

Representatives of the Top of Texas Rodeo Association, Lions Club and the Pampa Oilers appeared before the Commission for various requests.

R. M. Samples, speaking for the Rodeo Association, requested the city to add both the Association and the Hereford Breeders' Association in enlarging the facilities of Recreation Park by securing new buildings, samples, sacked by other members of the Rodeo Association, declared the show has outgrown the present facilities there as it is becoming larger every year. Some legal technicalities will enter into the move and the group is also discussing the matter with the County Commissioner's Court this afternoon.

Attorney Arthur Teed told the Commission the Lions Club was all but ready to turn its park over to the city for the benefit of the community and improvements on some parts of the park are now under way. The Commission approved, as an emergency measure, Ordinance No. 286, closing Gordon St. between Finley and Reed Sts. This, however, cannot become final until the mayor gives his approval although the full Commission voted for the ordinance. It will be signed into law at the next meeting Mayor C. A. Huff attends. In his absence today, Acting Mayor Crawford Atkinson presided over the Commission.

R. L. Edmondson, president of the Pampa Oilers, requested the Commission for police protection at all some games for parking, and policing the grounds during the game. The request will be studied by the Commission to find ways of alleviating the situation since the Police Department is too small to handle the situation. The police are needed for assistance in parking cars, directing traffic, policing the parking area against auto ransackers, as well as policing the grandstands and grounds, Edmondson claimed.

Because of these discussions a report on the audit was postponed until 2 p. m. this afternoon.

Pampa Work Days Slated at Higgins

Saturday and Sunday April 26-27 have been set aside as Pampa "Work Days" in Higgins, it was announced this morning by members of the committee of Pampa business men who journeyed to Higgins yesterday to meet with the Higgins Building Advisory Committee. The Higgins committee stated that over the coming weekend they could use between 100 and 150 laborers with some heavy equipment to help clear the town of debris, so as the rebuilding of the town may start as soon as the insurance adjusters have completed their work.

Steve Mathews, Pampa city manager, announced that the city and the county would work together in sending equipment to the area. J. D. Wright and Son, contractors of Pampa, have donated the use of their winch truck.

A group of Amarillo laborers were in the area Saturday and Sunday, April 19-20; they worked, helping to make the houses of Higgins, that were not completely destroyed in the tornado, livable again.

Pampa business men who met with the Higgins committee are C. E. Williams, chairman, Marshall Hubbard, J. C. McWilliams, L. P. Fort, and Ray Evans.

Pampa Roping Club to Attend Celebration

Pampa Roping Club will go to the Spearman Birthday Celebration of April 25 and 26 to participate in the parade to be held Saturday morning at 10, and to lead the grand entry into the rodeo. It was announced today by Chamber of Commerce officials.

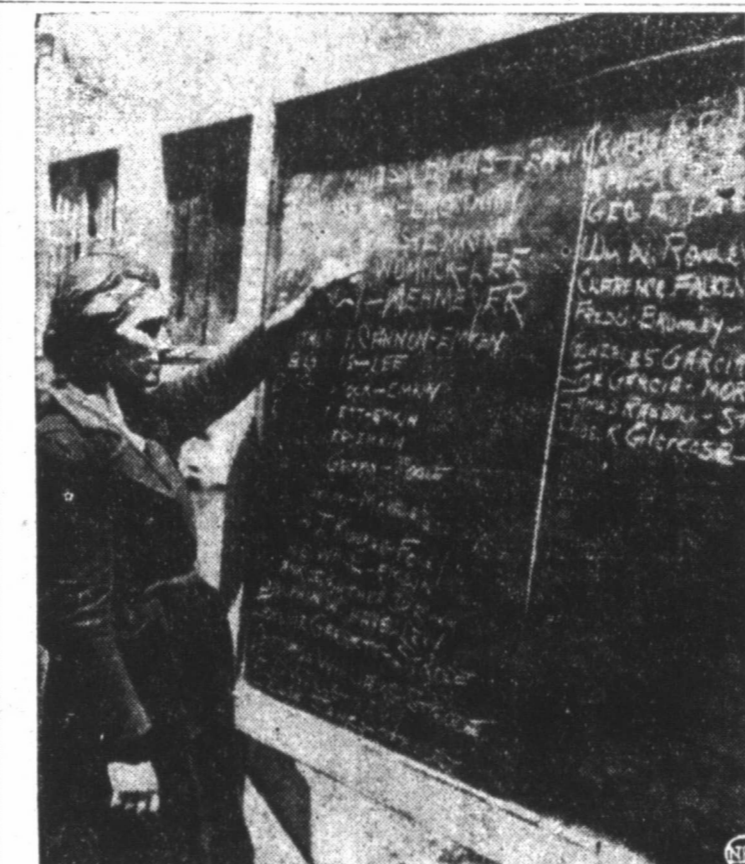

It is understood that many Pampans intend to go to Spearman and the Chamber of Commerce officials requested that they secure hat bands from the Chamber office sometime Saturday morning. It was also requested that those who intend to take cars to the celebration help organize parties in order to get as many people from Pampa to participate in the celebration as possible.

Local Ex-Aggies Conduct Muster

Ex-students of the Texas A. and M. College from Pampa and the surrounding territory met last night at Wilma's Cafe for their traditional Aggie Muster, Ralph Thomas, local Muster chairman, announced today.

The April 21st Muster is a tradition of the Aggie men which started in 1903 when a few ex-students got together on the college campus on that date to honor the early Texans who won independence at the Battle of San Jacinto. For 44 years that day has been observed as the dry each year when A. and M. men muster. The military background of the muster provided them with the name Muster.

Some unique and heroic chapters have been written into the tradition's history, especially during the war years. The Muster included Corregidor, Guadalcanal, Anzio, and many points in Germany and the Philippines. Thomas stated that he once attended a Muster near DoCo, India, in 1945.

Pampa-Perryton Highway Delayed By Help Shortage

Shortage of state engineers may impair preparation of plans and specifications for the Pampa-Perryton Highway for two or three months, Guy Lott, district State Highway engineer, told members attending the joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Highway Committee, the Gray County Commissioners Court, the Roberts County Commissioners' Court and State Highway engineers from Amarillo at the Schneider Hotel yesterday.

Lott stated that the district State Highway engineers had received an official order from the Highway Commission to prepare plans and specifications on 20 miles of the Pampa-Perryton road and that as soon as the preparations were made contracts would be let.

Frank Culberson, chairman of a special committee in charge of the right-of-way reported that his committee was also having difficulty in securing materials, particularly barbed wire, for the building of the fence, but added that he was hopeful of staying ahead of the construction of the road with his fencing program.

Lott assured the group that in case of a walkout yesterday he began the fencing of the highway within the next few weeks his department would make the fence location on short notice.

The committee recommended that the first construction be made on the south end of the proposed project extending from the Gray County line north through the farming area approximately six or seven miles, and that the remainder of the 20 miles would be put on the north end of the project extending south of Perryton.

Warehouse Full Of Nitrate Burns

TEXAS CITY—(AP)—Trigger-tense Texas City was thrown into frightened excitement today when a warehouse containing 1,000 tons of ammonium nitrate caught fire and burned for two hours. It was extinguished at 11:35 a. m. (CST).

The fire broke out in the already damaged warehouse of the Texas City Terminal Railway Company, packed with tons of the same chemical that one week ago, almost to the minute, exploded aboard the Grandcamp and killed an estimated 575 persons, and doing untold damage.

Billowing orange smoke, the type Texas City residents have learned to fear, swept over the city.

Fire trucks and a fire boat stood by, but Mayor J. C. Trahan refused to send them into the area, saying he did not want "a single other life lost."

A reporter for the Houston Chronicle, shortly before noon, said the fire had been put out and that Mayor Trahan and other officials went into the area to check on the possibility of any further danger.

Earlier Deputy Mayor John Hill said he could not say definitely what would happen, but that "an explosion could occur at any time."

The cause of the fire was not determined, but a Houston Chronicle staffer at the scene said it broke out shortly after 9:10 a. m. almost the same minute the Wednesday first blast occurred aboard the French ship Grandcamp.

Huge clouds of smoke again obscured tragedy-torn Texas City.

The Galveston Tribune said radio men had been called to Texas City suddenly, but knew no details of the new fire except that it had broken out.

The city was returning to normal today when the new danger occurred. The streets were jammed with traffic stores, were open, and the threat of life was gradually being restored.

Many citizens, understandably nervous after the series of ammonium nitrate explosions and fires last week, were reported packing up, ready to evacuate the city again.

Mayor J. C. Trahan and his disaster deputy, Hill, said that downtown Texas City was in no apparent immediate danger of another explosion.

They promised to notify citizens immediately by radio, if and when danger appears imminent.

The newest fire was in the remains of a warehouse belonging to the Texas City Terminal Railway Company, near the Seatrail dock where the Grandcamp blew up, according to J. C. Trahan, vice president of the company.

It is located more than a mile from downtown Texas City.

"I don't think it is more than 1,000 tons of ammonium nitrate in there," Sanberg told reporters. (The Grandcamp was reported to have 2,800 tons aboard.)

Bill Lott, Trahan immediately ordered the new fire, no salvage workers were on the job in the vicinity of the burning warehouse, but Latin American residents nearby were "asked" to come to the downtown area.

The hearing is expected to conclude this week, Admiral Finlay said. The board has heard testimony that the Grandcamp was being loaded with 234 tons of ammonium nitrate fertilizer compound at the time it exploded.

Nitrate fertilizer was also part of the cargo of the SS High Flyer, docked in a slip adjoining the Grandcamp's berth, according to testimony, and the High Flyer's cargo also included 1000 tons of sulphur.

Texas Production Of Oil Unchanged

TULSA—(AP)—Crude oil production in the United States averaged 4,900,235 barrels daily during the week ended April 19, an increase of 4,570 barrels over the previous week and the seventh consecutive weekly gain. The Oil & Gas Journal reported today.

Kansas recorded the most noteworthy gain, 8,650 barrels high at 274,450 barrels.

Other important increases were: The Eastern Area, up 2,000 barrels to 65,000; Colorado, up 1,380 to 110,110; and Wyoming, up 1,150 to 112,630.

California was down 2,250 barrels to 907,500. Mississippi declined 2,650 to 85,540. Oklahoma was down 2,000 to 376,900 and Michigan was off 1,735 to 43,140.

Texas' output was unchanged at 2,150,545 barrels.

 moose. Both were underground members and had been condemned for anti-British violence. Four other members of Irgun were hanged last week, and Irgun had issued threats of vengeance.
 While rescue squads hastened toward the scene from all parts of the coastal plain, military and police authorities cordoned off the entire Rehovot area—where the attack occurred. Several hundred Jews were hastily screened in a search for extremists believed responsible.
 News of the wrecking of the train quickly spread through the Holy Land, adding to the nervous tension created a short time earlier by the disclosure that two condemned Jewish extremists had committed suicide in Jerusalem prison just before they were to go to the gallows.

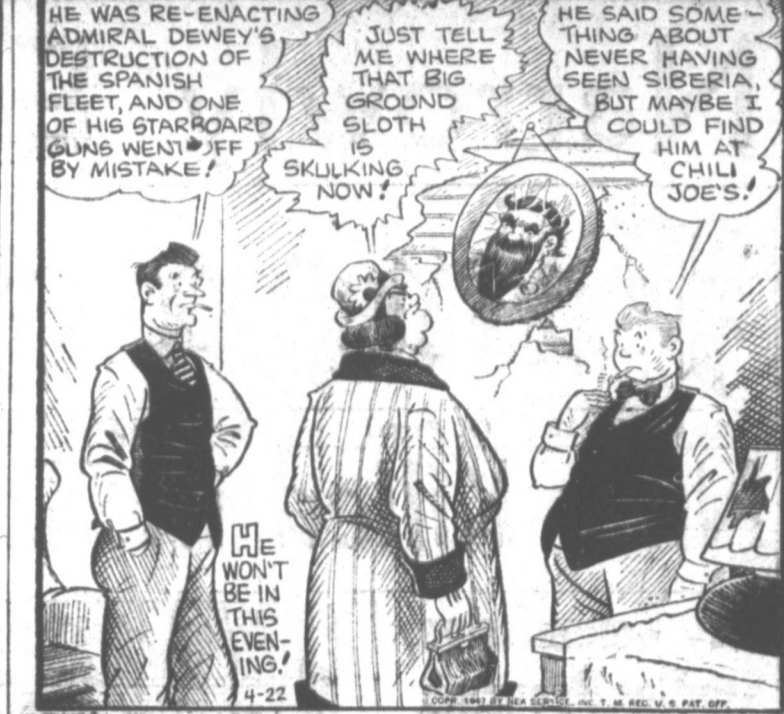

Eight New Starts, One Test Completed Reported by Cities

Eight new starts and the completion of one new oil well were reported by Cities Service Oil Company recently. Kansas led the states with four new starts and the completion of the Dressing No. 1 for a daily potential of 178 barrels of oil. This well, located in Ellis County, was drilled to a depth of 3367 feet. Production is from the Arbuckle horizon.
 New starts in Kansas were Chesney No. 125 in Butler County, Wallgren B No. 3 in Phillips County, Willard A No. 1 in Rice County and Hoffman E No. 1 in Seward town area "until we find out what goes on," Trahan said.

 The new fire sent clouds of orange colored smoke billowing over the town.
 No flames were visible, but the warehouse was smoking heavily—the characteristic deep orange color which residents of Texas City have learned to fear.
 In downtown Texas City, excited residents milled about the large mobile radio transmitter of the state public safety department, across the street from the city hall.
 One man, breathless, rushed up to Mayor Trahan and begged: "God God's sake, let us know what's going on. There's a rumor that there is going to be another explosion. People are packing up to leave again."
 "Go back and tell them I do not now see any danger in downtown Texas City," the mayor told him. "We are investigating the situation and the minute we find out something we will let the people know by way of their radios."

He also stated that those wishing to donate their time to work in Glazier should report to either H. A. Hazlett, Santa Fe Station Agent, or Raymond Williams, county commissioner, in Canadian.

By RUTH MILLETT

Comes moving day and Mr. and Mrs. look gloomily at each other over the piles of possessions hauled out of hiding from closets, attic, basement and garage. "How in the world did we ever accumulate all this junk?" And junk it seems at the moment — when it must be sorted, packed and made ready for moving, then somehow placed in the new house.

So comes the common decision: "Let's get rid of at least half of it." A fine decision, too. But WHOSE half?

ONLY THE Doctor's HAND

SHOULD Prescribe!

"ONE MAN'S POISON IS ANOTHER'S MEAT"

So-called "MIRACLE DRUGS" do wonders in healing and restoring health, but they are not drugs with which to tamper. Outward symptoms are often very deceiving, and taking the same drug as your neighbor is unsafe, and often dangerous.

Those who advise the use of this, that or the other drug — without full and complete medical knowledge of your condition — are doing you no kindness.

When there is anything the matter with your health, do not "self-prescribe" or ask anyone but your Doctor what to do. Experimenting with "heavenly" remedies for yourself and family may be very expensive in the long run.

Seek medical advice only from a Physician. Don't experiment with drugs — or health. The Doctor spent years learning how to diagnose — and prescribe.

'Mohammendanism and Mormonism' Topic of Venando Blanco Club

WHITE DEER.—(Special)—Mohammendanism and Mormonism were the subjects discussed at the meeting of the Venando Blanco Club Thursday evening in the homemaking department of the high school with Mrs. W. C. Whiteside as hostess.

Mrs. E. W. Minter, speaking on Mohammendanism, pointed out that since Jesus lived from 570 to 632 A. D., he had heard of Christ and when at the age of 40 he had a vision in which the angel Gabriel told him to proclaim the truth, he embraced many Christian principles in his own teachings.

The idolatrous Arabians, among whom he lived, persecuted Mohammed so that he had to flee to Medina. This flight was so important that it marks the beginning of the Moslem calendar.

Mohammed's philosophy acknowledged Christ and God was based on the laws of the Old Testament. The Moslems believe in only one God, Allah, and consider Mohammed a prophet.

Miss Emma Cearley, in discussing Mormonism, stated that at the age of 14, Joseph Smith, the founder of Mormonism, read in the Book of James the statement that if anyone lacked wisdom, let him ask of God. While he was pondering this through, a vision appeared and revealed to him where he could find some buried plates. The translation of the inscriptions on these plates formed the basis of the Mormon religion.

The Whites and throughout his life Smith continued to be led by visions or revelations. He was recognized as a prophet by his own group, but at the age of 39, he was killed by one of his opponents, Brigham Young then took up the work.

The Mormon Church is noted for its solidarity and its respect for its leaders.

In the business meeting, the club voted to change the date of the last meeting of the current year from May 15 to May 22, with time a breakfast will be served in the high school homemaking department.

Members present were Mesdames Minter, Whiteside, Eklie, Allison, Olye Jordan, Fred Mullings, Jo Skaggs, B. R. Weaks, and Emmitt Smith; and Misses Cearley, Marguerite Clayton, Claudia Everly, and Louise Williams.

THE STORY: After a lifetime of dussling the world, the great actress Sophie van Eyck comes home to the little Maine coast town where she was born. Widow of an international banker, she is somewhat easily won to the Riviera until the war. In her party are Victoria Jenkins, her grand-daughter, Marcel Perrault, an elderly Frenchman who is her portrait painter, and Sir Charles Madge, her father. Sophie has bought the old Peabody house on exclusive Goose Neck point.

OUT on the sea cliffs Sophie van Eyck's granddaughter was sitting in the sun.

A clerk in the village had told her the summer people—those of them who planned to come up this year—were beginning to open their houses. Victoria wondered if there were anyone yet in the big house next door which the village clerk had told her belonged to a Boston family named Bagot. She decided to see if there were any signs of life on the place.

Victoria at her full height was not much over five feet tall. Against the illimitable stretches of the ocean she looked very small indeed. The wind pressed her butterfly-colored dress against her legs and her pale blond hair into her mouth as she followed the rough path that lay along the shore.

She came to a cove whose beach was formed of enormous cobblestones worn smooth by the tide. A small sloop was anchored in the bay and someone was tying a dinghy up to a little wharf. This person, she saw at a glance, was young and male and as such a predestined victim of her especial charm. She walked steadily forward.

When she came to where the pier joined the shore she stopped, expectant. The young man looked up long enough for her to see that he was singularly handsome, then returned without a word or greeting to his occupation of removing oars and equipment from the dinghy. Vicky decided to speak herself.

"Hello," she said in her charming, breathless, child's voice. "Does this path take me to the lighthouse?"

"If you want to go there," said the young man without turning. "Oh, I don't," Vicky said cheerfully. "But it's about the only place there is to go."

"You could go home, I suppose," said the young man. He turned, straightened, and really looked at her. Then a slow blush began at the base of his throat and flamed up to his blond hair while Vicky watched, fascinated, her mouth very slightly and attractively open.

"I beg your pardon," he said. "I hadn't noticed you. I thought you were a little girl. I'm so sorry. Yes, of course, just follow along the shore path."

"I LIVE at Gray Shingles," said Vicky. "Right around that point."

The young man was now beside her. She met his intent gaze with calm, because one point on which she possessed perfect self-confidence was her appearance; she was as unself-conscious about it as a kitten. The expression on the face of the young man as he got a good look at her skin and eyes was not at all unexpected.

"I'm Salter Bagot," the young man said. "Everyone calls me Salty, though," said Vicky.

"Madame van Eyck's house?" he asked.

"Yes; she's my grandmother."

"I'm Salter Bagot. Everyone calls me Salty, though."

"Hello, Salty."

"Say—I forgot to ask your name."

"Victoria."

"Your last name, too. You're legitimate, aren't you?"

"I think so," said Vicky. "That is, I hope so."

Salty laughed heartily. It was obvious he was already her victim, and she thought it had been almost too easy.

"Anyway," she said, "I'm known as Jenkins, which was my father's name. That's the name I go by—Vicky Jenkins. My mother was Sophie van Eyck's only child."

"Sophie van Eyck?" he exclaimed in reverence. "I can't believe she's right here, like an ordinary next-door neighbor. She's a legend in our house. It's almost like meeting someone out of the Bible."

"Well," Vicky said, "I'll be going on home now. Maybe I'll see you again."

"I thought you were on your way to the lighthouse," he said.

VICKY remembered she had asked the way there. "Oh, not today," she said without changing expression. "I simply asked if this is the path. I thought I'd walk over there when I have more time. Well, goodbye."

He obviously wanted to detain her but did not quite know how. "Goodby," he said, a little wistfully. She was nearly out of sight when he was inspired. "Vicky! Would you—what about going to the movies with me tonight?"

She turned on the path. "All right," she said eagerly, like a little girl.

"What would be a convenient time today for me to call on your grandmother?"

"Oh, Salty, do you have to come today? I know she'd love to see you."

"But you promised to go to the movies with me tonight!"

"I know I did, only you don't want to take Grandmother too, do you?"

"No, but I'd like to ask her permission to take you."

Vicky looked at him, tall and blond and outrageously beautiful and wondered if he were quite right mentally. "Well, I hardly think it necessary. She'd probably be surprised if you did."

He looked pleased. "It is quick, isn't it? But that's the way I am, Vicky."

Vicky laughed appreciatively, with just a trace of apprehension. Perhaps she had overplayed. This was going a little faster than she had planned and might even get out of control. Yet, as she said a quick goodbye and escaped back along the path to home territory, she found herself looking forward very much to the movies in Goose Neck.

LONG-LIVED

The life of Thomas Parr, famed Shropshire, England, centurion, spanned the reigns of ten kings and queens: Edward IV, Edward V, Richard III, Henry VII, Henry VIII, Edward VI, Mary I, and Elizabeth I. James I and Charles I. He lived from 1483 to 1635.

Intellectual qualifications for a great public office are no more than those of any wealthy squire's daughter brought up in the most limited Victorian way. . . . Surely the fundamental conclusion of the institution of monarchy is an anachronism in the middle of the 20th century. . . .

Certainly absolute monarchy is an anachronism. It is a totalitarian dictatorship which circumscribes the right of the individual. But the British Monarchy, and the few other remaining monarchies of Europe, are constitutional. The real head of government is the prime minister who is answerable to a parliament elected by the people. They are democracies.

Anyway, England likes her monarchy, as witness her Socialist prime minister's striking tribute to the throne. And there's a great deal more to it than just a fondness of tradition and pageantry, for the greatest of bonds which hold together the globe encircling British Commonwealth of Nations is the throne. You'll find many British people who believe that the commonwealth would dissolve if the Monarchy were abolished.

Loretta Young falls for Joseph Cotten in this scene from "The Farmer's Daughter," co-starring Ethel Barrymore.

What this country needs is more farmer's daughters! "The Farmer's Daughter," the snappiest story about the farmer's daughter since the farmer's daughter went to town, to be shown in conjunction with the Command Performance at the LaNora Theatre tomorrow night for the benefit of the tornado-stricken people of Glazier and Higgins, is a brilliantly interpreted dramatic comedy, with Loretta Young in the title role as co-star with Joseph Cotten and Ethel Barrymore.

Pictured in an intimate and sprightly fashion is the career of an exquisitely candid farm girl, who emerges by her own initiative from domestic service into public life. A Congressional campaign provides the background for a romance that dominates the personal theme with vivid pleasantry and sentiment.

Inspired performance by Miss Young is matched by that of Joseph Cotten as her admirer and sponsor, and by Miss Barrymore's as Cotten's sagacious, aristocratic mother, Charles Bickford, in a revealing humorous role, is justly top featured in support. The show is revealing 100 per cent for audience entertainment.

Heiress to British Throne Celebrates Her 21st Birthday

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Princess Elizabeth, heiress presumptive to the British throne, who is touring South Africa with her members of the royal family, yesterday celebrated her twenty-first birthday and dedicated her life to the vast empire upon which the sun never sets.

There was widespread observance of this memorable event in the life of the comely girl who may one day sit on the world's greatest throne. Socialist Prime Minister Attlee cabled congratulations to her from London, declaring that "the steadfast leadership and selfless devotion of the royal family shine forth as one of the greatest blessings and surest bulwarks of this land," but the Communist Daily Worker's greeting was a bitter editorial which sounded the only discordant note of the day. Said the paper:

"We mean no sort of personal disrespect to a young woman who, within the narrow confines of her caste, is no doubt worthy and amiable. But what a reflection on the institution of hereditary monarchy it is that the titular headship of the British State should descend to a princess whose political and in-

A WAY TO END THE TELEPHONE STRIKE

We did our best to avoid this strike, and we're doing our best to get it settled.

Agreement on our arbitration offer on wages could be the means of ending the telephone strike.

Wages are the big issue.

The Company believes that wages paid its employees are good. The Union says they aren't and wants much more. Their demands total $66,000,000 per year, on an average of $3.00 per month per subscriber.

The Company has said, therefore, "Let's decide by putting it before an impartial board of arbitration and have both sides abide by the decision."

The Union has refused.

Acceptance would hasten the end of the strike.

It would get employees back on the payroll.

The public would get normal telephone service.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Johnson on KPND Monday thru Friday, 3 P. M.)

HOLLYWOOD—Of all the embarrassing moments suffered by Hollywood stars in uniform during the war, Tim Holt's was the funniest and probably the most painful. A big red-headed fellow walked up to Tim one day at the Santa Ana air base and said, "Aren't you a movie cowboy?"

Tim said he was. Then the fellow said, "You know, I've always wondered how you could take those punches in fight scenes when you got hit like this." The guy then swung on Tim's jaw, knocking him down.

Says Tim, "For the rest of the war, whenever a guy said to me, 'Aren't you a movie cowboy?' I covered myself and then ducked."

Tim is still doing those westerns at REC, but he has a big role with Humphrey Bogart and Walter Huston in "Treasure of the Sierra Madre." Papa Jack Holt plays a bit role in a scene with Tim just for luck.

"DILLINGER" RETURNS
Since returning to the screen in "The Big Clock," Maureen O'Sullivan has had offers for term contracts from three majors.

Director Lloyd Bacon will film Buffalo, N. Y., street scenes with a concealed camera for "Off to Buffalo."

"Dillinger," finally okayed by the Chicago censors, will have its premiere there May 25th at the same north side theater where Dillinger was killed 14 years ago.

Director Freddie De Cordova and Marilyn Maxwell have discovered each other. Rudolph Valentino's former wife, Jean Acker, is talking to a Mexican film company about beating Hollywood to the punch with a Valentino movie. She has a bit role in "Wall-

Playwrights Lindsay and Crouse received a telegram from Australia concerning arrangements for "Life With Father" there. A not too accurate clerk made an error in filing the wire, which came to them addressed to "Messrs. Howard Crindsay and Russell Louse."

PSYCHOANALYSIS BY TIE
You can psychoanalyze a man by the tie he is wearing. That's what Hollywood tie designer Beatrice Boyd said.

"Take the Windsor knot, for example. 'There is a tie,' Mrs. Boyd said, 'that's associated with Walter Pidgeon, Clark Gable and Cary Grant. It is worn by conservatively dressed men who want to attract attention to themselves in such a subtle way that no one will realize it.'"

Or the D.L.A. tie. That's Mrs. Boyd's description of it. Translated, it means the Darned Lousy Attitude Tie. The knot is worn somewhere between the neck and the trouser belt. It is associated with Dane Clark and Jimmy Stewart.

Mrs. Boyd's psychoanalysis by her ties of other Hollywood stars: The Frank Sinatra bow tie. Worn by men still in their childhood.

The regular knot (Gregory Peck, Rex Harrison, Jean Pierre Aumont). Worn by men who still feel that the peacock is the one to dress up and not the rooster.

The Loud Print (Jack Carson, Edgar Bergen, Guy Madison). Men revolting against the old idea that men's clothing must be staid.

The tie of the future. Beatrice Boyd predicted, will have a zipper and an inside money and telephone number pocket.

Funeral Today for William C. Patterson
Funeral services are to be held at the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Chapel today at 4 p. m. for William C. Patterson, 62, who died Tuesday afternoon at the home of his brother, H. B. Patterson, 1428 N. Russell.

Patterson worked for the Crown Theater, and had been a resident of Pampa for four years.

Patterson is survived by his mother, Mrs. A. D. Patterson, Mobeetie; daughter, Mrs. Jean Sietz, Mobeetie; sons, Hawey and King, both of California; and brothers, H. B. Patterson, Pampa; A. A. CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, April 21—(AP)—Price changes in the grain market today were minor with no definite trend established. An early attempt to rally prices in sympathy with strength in stocks failed and after that the market was allowed to drift.

Cash grain prices generally weakened, with corn dropping a few cents. Offerings of corn by the country expanded and bookings were placed at more than 20,000 bushels. One of the leading processors withdrew from the cash corn market.

Wheat closed 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May 2.17-2.27, corn was 2 cents lower to 1/2 higher, May 2.12-2.17 1/2, and oats were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher.

NEW ORLEANS FUTURES
NEW ORLEANS, April 21—(AP)—

Cotton futures were active and high-ly irregular here today. The market closed steady $1.15 cents a bale high-er to 80 cents lower.

Strength in the near month resulted from trading buying and short covering. The distant positions were under pressure of long liquidation, stimulated by the belief that government price support levels may be lowered.

WALL STREET STOCKS
NEW YORK, April 21—(AP)—Stocks enjoyed a fast early sprint in today's market, as the U. S. Steel wage agreement was confirmed, but extreme advances running to 3 or more points were eventually substantially reduced by profit taking.

Dealings slowed after the speedy get-away and trends soon tapered. There were intermittent active periods as prices failed to hold. While plus marks predominated for leaders at the close, assorted pivots retreated to the losing column. Transfers were in the vicinity of 1,500,000 shares with 430,000 changing hands in the first hour.

Declines were shown for Youngtown Steel, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Washburn, Western Union, "A," Phillips Dodge, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Southern Pacific, Chenley and American Tobacco "B."

U. S. Steel started 10 minutes late on a block of 4.00 shares, up 2 1/2. It subsequently cancelled part of the jump. Ahead were Bethlehem, Crude Steel, Republic Steel, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Chesapeake & Ohio, Great Northern Railway, Chrysler, General Motors, American Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, American Can, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, Eastern Kodak, Johns-Manville, Owens-Illinois, American Woodmen common and preferred (in the wake of a pleasurable earnings statement, Harrison-Walker (on a lifted dividend) and Standard Oil (N.J.).

British contingents added to their commitments on the idea the steel pact would be a pattern for other pay disputes and result in the peaceful adjustment of numerous labor problems now threatening corporate progress.

Bonds were relatively steady.

Oilers Open Season Against Borger Gassers Tomorrow Afternoon

Cats Move to 2nd Place When Sloat Beats Rebs, 3-2

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff
A tight, three-hit pitching performance by slender Dwan Sloat gave the Fort Worth Cats a 3-2 victory over Dallas last night and picked them into second place in the Texas League standings.

While Sloat was adding to his mound record, San Antonio dropped a 14-8 decision to Shreveport, skidding into third place as a result.

In other games, Tulsa defeated the league-leading Oklahoma City Indians, 6-4, and Beaumont downed Houston, 6-3.

Sloat had a no-hit game going into the seventh inning against Dallas, only four men having reached first base. They got on via walks.

But Hal Hirschorn rapped out a double that spoiled the show, drove in one run and paved the way for a Dallas rally that netted another in the ninth inning.

Charlie Samaklis played firemen for Sloat after Dallas had cut a tying run on third base with two out.

Bob Finley's connection with one of his pitches turned into an easy third to first out.

Port Worth had fashioned two runs in the fourth inning and had added another in the top half of the ninth.

A home run with the bases loaded gave Tulsa its victory over the Indians.

Jim Schilling parked one outside in the top half of the ninth to rate as No. 1 individual of the night.

The victory, incidentally, allowed Tulsa to jump from the cellar into sixth place, bypassing Dallas and Houston.

Dallas is back in last place, with Houston a notch above.

Beaumont kept its grip fourth by making its six straight victories. The Exporters built up an early lead with a pair of runs each in the first two innings and single tallies in the third and fourth.

Houston's efforts produced runs in the first, third and ninth.

The licking by Shreveport wasn't quite as humiliating to San Antonio as it could have been.

Only 54 paying guests were in the stands to see it drop its second game of the series with Shreveport.

Tonight, the same schedule faces Texas League fans, Oklahoma City is host to Tulsa, Dallas to Fort Worth, Houston to Beaumont and San Antonio to Shreveport.

Seitz Names Oklahoma Rookie, George Payte, Opening Hurler

Pampa's Oilers, defending champions of the West Texas-New Mexico League, will open their season in Oilers Park, tomorrow afternoon at 4 when they meet a strong Borger Gasser club. Both teams will be pointing for a win to get the season underway in the right fashion.

An attendance of 3,000 people is expected at the opener, since practically all local business houses will close for the game. Starting at 3 p. m. the Harvester Band will parade on North Cuyler, and after parading is over, the whole crowd will go to Oilers Park where a group of local fans will raise the Oilers' 46 pennant, shortly before the game starts.

Manager Grover Seitz, the Oilers' well known skipper, has announced that he is handing the opening pitching assignment to George Payte, a young right-handed hurler who turned in an impressive record last season.

Payte, who pitched for the Oilers during their exhibition games and so far has allowed very few hits.

One stranger and three veterans will remember five of the starting nine. In the outfield will be Joe Fortin, husky slugger whom Seitz managed to purchase from Lamson during the '46 season.

Al Johnston, utility man last year, who saved several games for the Oilers by his speed, and Skipper Seitz, himself.

One stranger and three veterans of this loop will greet the cash customers in the infield. At first base, fans of several years will remember Bob Bailey, a local boy who last year played ball with San Diego.

The keystone will be handled by the energetic R. C. Otey, speedy little second sacker.

Tony Range will be back covering his regular position at third base and the railbirds have been crying "he'll do it" ever since he turned in his top quality work of last year.

Tom O'Connell, a shortstop who is optioned to the Oilers by the Shreveport Sports will be a stranger in the infield.

On the few occasions that we have seen O'Connell work he has looked very good.

Jack Elliott, a catcher from Enid, Okla., will round out the starting lineup. Elliott, who joined the club when they began workouts, needed a lot of experience.

From recent workouts he apparently has been coming along fast.

Borger Gassers Rated Favorites Harvester Spring Grid Training Under Way

By BOB BRAY
After figuring last year's start-in-lineup studying the one who will be out there ready to participate next season and figuring how much most of the kids have grown, and will still grow, before the season starts next September, your reporter feels optimistic about the local '47 pigskin parade.

Nine of the eleven Harvester boys who started and played most of the first half against the touted Amarillo Sandies last season, will greet Sandie returns against this year.

And, tackles aren't the only big boys out there sweating. Guards runs large and the backs should be fast from the first look at things.

One thing is sure—if work is what the Harvester need to round the ball club into shape, they'll be a winning team because they're getting rough and rugged conditioner sessions.

After planning at the workout show we saw what he meant. Seven men who look like very promising tackle, material weigh a total of 1,353 pounds, or average 195 each.

The heaviest of the group weighs 243, two others tip the scales at over 200 pounds, three hit the 190's and the last weighs 175.

Oilers Drop Last Exhibition; Southwestern Teachers, 6-5

Pampa's Oilers dropped their fifth exhibition game in six starts here last night, when a well rounded nine from Southwestern Teachers College, Weatherford, Okla., defeated them 6 to 5 in the final game of the local exhibition schedule.

Murrell Nelson opened the mound work for the Oilers and in three innings struck out three batters, allowed one single and one walk.

However, in the second inning he was forced to grab a hot one with his bare hand and was favoring a pretty bad bruise after the game.

Southwestern drew first blood in the fifth when their catcher, Carr batted a double off the left field fence. The next batter, Wright, centerfield, got on first by virtue of Pitcher Wick Hewitt's wild toss to Johnston. Carr advanced to third.

McClendon, Southwestern pitcher, got on first on a fielder's choice, and then thanks to a pair of errors by Johnston and Seitz, Carr and McClendon came home. The Oilers recovered one of the runs, when McClendon gave up two bases on balls to Johnston and Seitz, and R. C. Otey batted a double into left field bringing Johnston home.

In the sixth Jantzen, Southwestern first sacker, placed a double in right field, Wick Hewitt Oiler pitcher, fumbled an infield grounder and then Carr singled to left field driving in another run.

The Oilers came back in the last of the sixth to bang McClendon for two doubles, a single, and capitalized on an error, for three runs, to get ahead of the game 4 to 3.

George Kinzel, Oiler rookie pitcher, took the mound with a one-run lead at the top of the seventh and the lead diminished rapidly. After walking the first two men he faced, Miles, left fielder, and Coble, pitcher, pushed one out.

Corley, third sacker, walked, and Jantzen hit the rightfield fence with a double that paid for two runs. L. Duval sacrificed to centerfield to bring another run home before the side was retired.

In the eighth, Joe Fortin smashed a double to center field, stole third, and got home on a wild pitch but the final scoring punch fell short.

HIGH SCHOOL GOLF DALLAS—(P)—The Texas High School Invitation Golf Tournament will get underway here today.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK—(AP)—Pete Reiser (discussing Dodger Manager Burt Shotton)—"He never raises his voice no matter what happens. I think we'll be all right when we get used to it." ... The NBA is querying Willie Pep as to when he'll be able to defend his featherweight title. But Willie's left leg, fractured in a plane crash, won't tell him. He still limps and the leg hurts when he tries to run. The Dodgers are thinking of rescinding Leo Duracher's no-card-playing rule. Maybe some of them could give Branch Rickey competition at bridge.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Melo Bettina, a southpaw boxer, is right-handed when it comes to performing ordinary chores. Seems he was converted. If he fights Joe Louis he'll likely be "converted" in another way. Fancy stuff: Indiana University lettermen have formed the "Crimson Klan of Fighting Hoosiers." ... And Duke publicator reports the lacrosse team is going into "high cotton" to play Yale, Princeton and Army. Does he mean they're ready to be picked?

SPORTS

After figuring last year's start-in-lineup studying the one who will be out there ready to participate next season and figuring how much most of the kids have grown, and will still grow, before the season starts next September, your reporter feels optimistic about the local '47 pigskin parade.

Nine of the eleven Harvester boys who started and played most of the first half against the touted Amarillo Sandies last season, will greet Sandie returns against this year.

And, tackles aren't the only big boys out there sweating. Guards runs large and the backs should be fast from the first look at things.

One thing is sure—if work is what the Harvester need to round the ball club into shape, they'll be a winning team because they're getting rough and rugged conditioner sessions.

After planning at the workout show we saw what he meant. Seven men who look like very promising tackle, material weigh a total of 1,353 pounds, or average 195 each.

The heaviest of the group weighs 243, two others tip the scales at over 200 pounds, three hit the 190's and the last weighs 175.

ONE PHASE OF THE RED PUZZLE

One phase of the Russian problem is a puzzle to a great many people. Ex-soldiers and others who had a chance to mingle with the typical Russian "common man" during the war almost invariably report that he was friendly, curious about the United States and other nations he had not seen, sick to death of war and talk of more war, and eager to live at peace in a friendly world. On the other hand, the ruling class in Russia exhibits none of these characteristics. The average high Soviet official is openly contemptuous of all countries save his own, is about as non-cooperative as they come, and certainly is not averse to considering the possibility of World War III.

This difference in attitudes between the Russian masses and the Russian leaders is not so curious as it may seem at first glance. First of all, ninety-odd percent of the Russian people have nothing whatsoever to say about their government and its foreign policy, and their desires are never considered in the formulation of Soviet plans. Secondly, it is a great mistake to think of the Soviet Union as a land populated by some 160,000,000 Communists. The truth is that only a very small proportion of the Russian people belong to the Communist Party—or would be permitted to join the party if they wished to. The Communist Party rules Russia—but it enrolls in its ranks only those citizens who have abilities and energies which it can use to its advantage. It is an elite class, and as such has no resemblance to a political party as we know it in the United States. Its members receive many personal privileges and prerogatives which the ordinary Russian can never hope to attain. Thus, it is possible to draw an organizational parallel between the Communist Party and Hitler's old Nazi group. There is one great difference, however. Hitler's backers consisted largely of fanatics who had great passion but little practical ability. The Communists are interested only in obtaining able men and women, and potential members are rigorously examined and investigated.

At the top of the Communist party is a series of bureaus which do the actual work of governing. At the very top is the Politburo, where the real seat of power lies. No one, outside of a few men high in Soviet councils, even knows the exact membership of this remarkable organization. It is self-perpetuating, and its powers are literally unlimited. The names of some of its most important members are virtually unknown in this country. They are rarely mentioned in the Soviet press, except in connection with the discharge of official duties.

These are the men—and they probably number only about fifteen—who decide Russian policy in all its phases. Stalin, of course, is the head of the group, with Molotov second. Many Russian authorities feel that Molotov will be Stalin's successor. But, whether he is or not, the Politburo will remain in control.

It can be stated categorically that the Russian people know almost nothing about what is going on in the rest of the world. The Soviet press is, and is meant to be, a governmental instrument. It consists of a few papers of enormous circulation. All articles of any importance are "inspired"—that is, the party leadership tells the writers just what attitudes they will take. A great deal of space is given to alleged news from the United States, and practically all of it is directly or indirectly unfavorable. Special emphasis is placed on U. S. murders, riots, strikes, and internal disorders. Photos of such happenings are featured. The whole idea is to give the Russian people the idea that the United States is an embattled country, with a low standard of living, and with a weak and vacillating government which may collapse at any time and be replaced by a system akin to Communism. Editorial comment to this effect often buttresses the "news" stories.

Signs of the times:
Remember the cigarette shortage? Well, recently a cigarette salesman walked into the Dallas Courthouse Pressroom and handed out free packages of popular brand. "Competition," he admitted, "is returning. We're out for your business. Try this pack and we believe you'll buy another."

Maybe it's still chilly when you read this, but the War Assets Administration is delivering electric fans to the Veterans Administration Hospital in Waco.

A Waco grocery store, the Reed Superette, admitted it was out of bubble gum so it advertised it would try to satisfy young customers by giving them free pictures of themselves taken on "Old Bugger," a large bull.

Although the Waco store might have been out of gum, the man who has the corner on bubble gum market, Andrew J. Paris of McAllen, staged a state bubble gum contest down in the Lower Valley. He said he hoped to make it a statewide contest, with prizes for those who blew the biggest bubbles.

Blacksmiths haven't disappeared from the Texas scene, but they've changed. Bob Gerkin, Houston blacksmith, flies to his appointments. Gerkin specializes in shoeing thoroughbreds, recently flew to Louisville, Ky. to make a special type for a mare owned by Dr. H. Alvis Greer.

NATIONAL THIRLIGIC

By Ray Tucker
EFFICIENCY—Secretary George W. Marshall has reorganized the personnel of the U. S. State Department and Foreign Service with the same old ruthless demand for efficiency and durability that he showed when he was picking the Eisenhower, Pattons and Bradley as leaders of our World War II

A SOUND THINKER
As I sat a few days ago in the spacious office of Mr. John Snyder, secretary of the Treasury, and listened to that keen thinking gentleman outline his views on certain monetary policies, I found myself wishing that all public thinking were as clear, and as cognizant of good economic horse-sense.

In the first place the Secretary believes that a thorough study of the necessary costs of government should be made. He believes that this cost should be reduced to the very minimum consistent with good government. In the second place he believes that a high national income is possible only if a sound economy is maintained. This sound economy must be based upon maximum production at high efficiency, which he feels would make possible a large foreign trade.

ON YOUR FEET, SAM!
In the third place he believes we should seriously undertake liberal payments on the national debt. This should be done at once. To me that is just plain, common horse-sense. It is just the way a wage earner, farmer, merchant, or manufacturer, heavily in debt, with a large family, but still in good health, would have to plan if he expected ever to get on his feet and leave any heritage to his children.

Uncle Sam is heavily in debt, his children have adopted spend-thrift habits, have lost the art of hard work, and are growing more and more inclined to leave the worrying to the old man. The need of the hour is sound counsel from Washington for the entire nation to realize its critical condition, and to act accordingly.

A SOUND PROGRAM
Secretary Snyder's program needs to be understood, for it is one in which the whole nation can participate. His three point program (in my own words) would be about as follows:

1. Stop the fantastic waste in almost every department of government. Pare costs rigorously, forgetting political expediency.
2. Let industry reduce prices until the profits stand at a very low level. Let labor aim for maximum production, in order to get a real raise through lower prices. Such production will permit active foreign markets, a thing not only necessary for us but for other nations as well.
3. Let taxes remain on a broad base, with only those cuts being made which are necessary to induce investment in the tools of production, while we all do our part to reduce the very heavy national debt.

STEADY EMPLOYMENT
Personally, I would modify item three. It is my opinion that if reductions in the budget were seriously and studiously undertaken, all three points Secretary Snyder features could be achieved, and we could still obtain at the same time a real reduction in income taxes.

Comparatively high taxes we must have. The costs of national living, in times of peace and amidst quarrelsome and aggressive neighbors, may continue to run high. But there are certain reductions that by all means should be made in order to encourage more venture capital. We shall continue to need investment of private capital in tools. That will mean more jobs and more steady employment.

D. A. Honeycutt of Fort Worth, a barber for 57 of his 80 years, says a barber shop is losing its social prestige in the community. In the past, a trip to the tonsorial emporium used to be quite a social event. The time spent in getting the mustache or goatee trimmed was profitably used in swapping choice bits of the latest news or gossip.

But today, people just come in to get a haircut or a shave. He blames it on fast distribution of newspapers, and the radio.

BOOMERANG? By Upton Close

In this time of apparent prosperity we are approaching an economic depression, according to numerous warnings from experts. Already we see signs of it: men and women going in increasing numbers to employment offices and from shop to shop hunting jobs; inventories of goods piling up in the stores and warehouses.

The American household needs billions of dollars worth of the very items which, seemingly are being over-produced, but prices are so high many are not willing or able to buy. It all could buy all they need, the unemployment situation would clear up; workers would all find jobs producing and delivering the goods.

What is to be done? The logical answer is to cut prices. But prices consist largely in labor costs—labor of digging the ore, shipping it, reducing it, fabricating it, shipping it again, selling it and delivering it. And when you try today to cut wages in American industry you run up against a brick wall.

Wages in the big industries cannot be reduced on a sane, competitive basis such as would spread out the cost and the jobs in the manner by which our economy got its original growth. Before he can reduce wages, and thus, prices, to stimulate buying, to employ more people, the manufacturer has to admit that he has made himself a sort of political commissar over the firm, perhaps over a whole industry, and whose own power and property may actually benefit by hard times, if he plays his cards right.

Where those ringleader seals you got with a News Want Ad for the fight, close enough, dear?

your books? ... or whose?

The books of Pampa High are lent to us to make our education cheaper and better. These, however, are not our own personal property but are still the property of the school. Why should we take it upon ourselves to write, mark or doodle in them so the next person who gets one will never be able to tell the difference in H2S04 and D. L. x B. S.

Last year a new set of Physics books were issued to the students. This year those same books resemble something the baby has played with in his spare time. Pencil sketches, pen and ink drawings and hen scratches are all a part of the spectrum or the laws of vibrating strings.

What was done last year cannot be undone, but the marks of this 2nd next year can be prevented. You know how you feel when you get a book that has been marked up to such an extent you don't even like to use it (when you have to). Well, that is the same feeling the fellow will get next year after he gets a book with your artistic urges on every page.

This does not mean you shouldn't try your hand at art, but why not try it on something that is your own so you can keep it. If we expect to have our books given to us, we should learn to take care of them.

Editor's Note: This anonymous editorial was mailed to the principal. Although it is not our practice to print anonymous letters, we hope this anonymous story will help other delectable locker holders. Gripe! Gripe! Gripe! Grumble!
Here I have a cow to milk, have to get up early, and then rush right off to school. Then when I get there I have to wait until nearly the last bell before I can get into my locker because the girls are priming up and taking their good old time about it. No wonder I'm getting old before my time, worrying about getting to class before the last bell and wondering if the beautiful, delicate little thing in front of me will ever get through priming. Maybe they should bring a bathtub with them.

Horace Mann Wins First At Gray-Roberts Banquet

Each school presented a skit for the program. Lefors High School's "All-Girl Orchestra," a rhythm band squawked to a second place finish. Sam Houston danced away with third with an English folk dance. The Pampa High School Cafeteria presented a program and last in the voting. Giving a rendition of "The Old Maid Song," several gay couples croaked for last place. Miss LaNelle Scheelagen and E. C. Buel, Sam Beggar, and Mrs. Lula B. Owen, Mrs. Mabel Torvie and Frank Wilson, and Miss Virginia Vaughan and Kenneth Walters, Judge was W. B. Weathered.

New officers for the coming year are as follows: president, Logan Cummings; McLean; first vice-president, Mrs. Sam Irving; Pampa; second vice-president, H. G. Conroy; Miami; third vice-president, Miss Clara Anderson; Lefors; secretary, Mr. Larry Sanders; McLean; and treasurer, Mr. Lee McClellan, Hopkins.

Pampans Hosts To Band Contest

The Region I Interscholastic League Instrumental Music contest will be held in the modernistic Pampa High School building Friday, April 25, from 8:30 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

This is the first time in the history of the University of Texas Interscholastic League that such a contest has been held. Mr. F. W. Savage, former principal of Pampa High School, is the director of this League division.

Ray Robbins, local band director, is the contest chairman. Robert Carter, math teacher, arranged the contest schedule.

Several novel band figures will be present to judge the solos, ensembles, bands, orchestras, student directors, twirling and sight reading. Solos with number close to 300 with 25 bands and orchestras expected to take part. Approximately two thousand students from the various regional schools are expected in Pampa Friday.

Regular class schedule for Pampa High will be suspended that day, according to Mr. Frank Wilson, principal.

Judges for the contest are: Dr. Forest Cline, Greeley, Colo.; Roger Fern, Tulsa University; Winston Lynes, Springfield, Mo.; Jerry Newman, Canyon; Marion McClure, Abilene; Gerald Hemphill, Elida, Okla.; and Frank Whittles, Artes, New Mex. One other judge is yet to be named.

The smell of football is in the air again, and I mean that not only in the gymnasium, but in the hearts of those who pass the gymnasium door.

Spring training, "Mr. Pain in the neck" of the grid world, has slipped his ugly mug around the corner to force local aspirants to master the fundamentals of this great American game.

Prospects for next year look fairly good as we see it, but Coach Tipps doesn't seem to be relying on past records or press clippings to develop a winning ball club. From the first day he had the boys butting heads in hard contact work, he has said the boys will be eating nails before this year's session is a week old.

Not only is Coach Tipps an advocate of hard football, but he is one of those rare oddities that believe that football can be hard AND clean. In this new era of the game when colleges and high schools have tried everything up to paying their charges, clean football stands out like a "good deed in a naughty world." Football will develop physical fitness and mental alertness, but we feel that the time has come when the nation's mentors should stress the character building side of the block and tackle sport.

Another very admirable characteristic of Coach Tipps, as we see it sliding down the hard seats of the press box, is that he hasn't taken the trouble to look back at the careers of the local paper to see who composed the starting lineup last season. In other words he is playing no favorites—starting with a clean slate. The coach has made plain that nobody has cinched a starting position.

From all indications, he can field an acceptable eleven next fall. So, Coach, I think I can assure you that you have a student body behind you.

The team, mostly veterans of the Harvesters or recruits from the Gorillas or Reapers, gives evidence of variety in the human race. The hopefuls range from "Tjay" Russell, who multiplies the scales with his 240 pounds plus, to veterans like Vernon Holler and others who weigh in nearly ninety pounds lighter, even after a rainy scrimmage.

There is further evidence that some of the boys are built closer to "ole terra firma" than others. Proof of this contrast in weight is exemplified by A. Z. Griffin and Jimmy Wilson. "Little Zeke" can see a hole in the country side standing in a hole, by virtue of his paunchy six-four and can be contrasted with Jimmy Wilson, who stands exactly eleven inches nearer the ground at five foot five.

Annual Proof Arrives C. of C. Presents Friday Assembly

The students were entertained the second time this week as local businessmen presented a program in observance of "Chamber of Commerce Week."

Mr. Frank Smith newly elected president of the local Chamber of Commerce, explained that Governor Jester's proclamation named this week for the clubs to acquaint the citizens with the operation and usefulness of Chambers of Commerce. He introduced Mr. J. L. Swindle of the Pampa News who further explained the works of the organization in view of the fact that the students are prospective members for the future.

A Cappella Choir To Attend Festival

"Music Toward a Harmonious World" is the appropriate theme for the second annual Highlander Musical Festival to be held in Dallas April 25-26 and to be attended by the A Cappella Choir of Pampa High School.

The Highlander Park music staff with Superintendent W. B. Irvin and Dr. Fletcher as leaders has been spurred on by the success of last year's festival to add new features to the program this year. The elementary workshop, use of trained student announcers for group activities, scholarship auditions by representatives of the newest materials for teaching music are all among the additions.

The A Cappella Choir of Pampa High School, directed by Miss Virginia Vaughan will leave Thursday morning in order to arrive in time for the entire festival.

The choir will be accompanied by Miss Virginia Vaughan and Miss Sue Johnson acting as sponsors.

Feature Is Subject Of Many Thoughts

Features aren't so easy to write as many people seem to think. It is a subject for which a story can be written on almost any subject, but it is sometimes very hard to find a subject that hasn't been written about. Sometimes you can write a subject that is almost new, but it is not so easy to write as many people seem to think.

Every day last week the short hand students would rush into the room, eagerly open their books and look for the "Nine Needles." The man who lost the two needles in the bath tub and two in the wash bowl—this wasn't taken from a grade school book (or maybe it was) but it is from the short hand books.

Band, Choir Presents Concert Monday Eve

The A Cappella Choir and band joined in presenting a concert last Monday night to get money for their respective trips to Dallas and to Elida.

Included in the Choir's part of the program were "Madame Jeantette," "Lo, Voice to Heaven," "Lost Chord," "Oh Susanna," "Begin the Beguine," "Holiday for Strings," "Deep River," "O! Ark!," "Chillin' Come on Home," and "I've Been Working in the Evening." The sextet, consisting of Barbara Carlson, Margaret Price, Ruth Perkins, and Barbara Walters, sang "I'll Close My Eyes," and "Rickyety Rickshaw." Miss LaNelle Scheelagen is director and Mickey Casada is accompanist.

The group will also journey to Lefors next Thursday evening at seven o'clock to be the guests of the Lefors chapter. The McLean chapter will also be present.

To a Foster Mother

Sad was my soul; Like a frozen waterfall That yearns for the warmth of Spring To free it from its bondage.

Chilled was my heart; Like a new born puppy That cries for the nearness of a mother to protect it from reality.

Empty was my life; Like a moonless night That searches for one wee light To give it being meaning.

And like a dreamer: Who wanders through endless days So filled with fear that I feared to hope That there would be a you.

But, now, spring has come! The waterfall of my soul rejoices in its freedom. No longer do I fear, for in the warmth of your love My life begins anew.

Expressing Ambition Hard for Seniors

Did you want to be a doctor lawyer or an Indian chief as your vocation in future life in the theme which was due Friday for English?

Was the theme as many as five pages in length?

Well, if it was, you don't have anything to worry about. You will be able to go to a Sunday school with a clear conscience, but if you failed to hand it in, you will probably be sitting at home Sunday evening to make it up so that you can slip it among the other themes without the teacher noticing you.

I suppose the English teacher, as well as the students, is glad the theme writing is over, because it proved to be a headache for everyone connected with it.

Lazy Students Dream Before Taking Test

Dreams drift through the air; a sound of sweetly sleeping students emerge from room 204.

Whaaa—Bang—A—hem. Someone was addicted to snoring. Was that it, but no more.

The girls are dreaming of beautiful cars filled with the most gorgeous hunks of man. Muscles and medals side by side (football medals of course!) Chromium gliders and Truman is making a speech on loaning 250 million smackers to Greece—say, how did that get in here anyway?

F. H. A. Elects Officers Confers Jr. Degrees

The election of officers and conferring of degrees consisted of the Future Homemakers of America met Thursday in the home Ec. living room.

Ruthie Lee, Naneen, and Mrs. Leslie Hart, club sponsor, gave a final report of the Chillicothe meeting.

The club will have as their annual "Spring Out" honoring graduating seniors a Cowboy Jamboree at the Saunders ranch. The members are to meet Monday, April 21, in the Home Ec. Department at four o'clock.

Placing second to Amarillo's first, the Harvester thin-clads very ably represented Pampa High in the district meet held in Canyon last Tuesday. Pampa gathered most of their counters in the field department, while the track events proved to be the Harvesters' downfall.

D. Livingston Resigns Pampa Coaching Post

Coach Dick Livingston resigned his coaching position Thursday. April 17, announced the principal's office.

Coach Livingston is physical education director and coached the Pampa football team to a successful season of four wins, one loss and a tie. His basketball team won seven and lost eight.

He became a member of the Pampa School System in 1939. He coached in the war school in Junior high and his present position.

Coach Livingston entered the Navy in March, 1942, as a Chief Petty Officer of physical instruction, and served until January, 1944. He attended Princeton University where he received his commission. He was assigned as commander of the armed guard aboard the ship "Frank P. Walker," "Pan American" and "Harvey G. Wiley." This took him to all the theaters of operation. He was relieved of duty in Manila in the Philippines and returned to San Francisco for his discharge.

He was elected to the Little All-American football team in 1938 at a stard position from among candidates from 375 colleges. He was a unanimous choice for the All-Texas Conference team in 1938 and was captain of that all-star team.

During his coaching career his teams have won 18, lost five and tied one. He has no immediate plans for the future.

Students Examined For Tuberculosis

Unbution your shirt! Don't be scared. No, the students of PHS weren't getting ready for market Monday, only taking the helpful tuberculosis test. These T. B. tests are given yearly by the Gray County T. B. Association through Evelyn Laycock, Gray County School Superintendent, in order to help find the children afflicted with this disease.

The T. B. test was only a small patch test given either on the arm or chest. The only requirement for taking the test was not to get the tape wet. The patch was to be taken off Wednesday and Mrs. Stevens was back Friday to examine the people who had taken the test. Those having a positive reaction were asked to see their doctors.

Feature on Feature

You don't know why, but you took journalism just the same and here you are fresh from history, seated in a seat in Room 106. It's not despite the weather's mists appearance over such subjects as here. The teacher, who always insists on teaching, is babbling like one of Emerson's brooks, and every time you take in a word you write a feature—right away—gounds!

Fifteen minutes pass and you find yourself exactly where you were fifteen minutes before—still searching for an appropriate theme. You remember—starting with a search for Remedy Pool Shooting and How to Remedy It," "The Art of Getting Even," and "Jane's Other Steady." It then dawns on you that you've written almost over such subjects as Truman is making a speech on loaning 250 million smackers to Greece—say, how did that get in here anyway?

And then it comes—the idea of the year! You've got it—a feature on writing a feature—no strings attached. It's perfect—you need no statistics but can just go about it in your own speedy way.

You're writing now, fast and furious—the flying—sentence are going—you're through! The bell rings and you've got a Bill Stern finish.

There you have it—the only feature ever written featuring the feature. The teacher takes it, blows another bubble (it's quite the sad nowadays) and you rush to your assembly period class. (You're a wee bit confused.)

Any similarity between this and one of Naneen Campbell's prize winning stories is purely coincidental and all teachers and assignments are wholly fictional (I wish).

Principal Saves Hungry Students Blows Whistle for Broken Bell

The clock stopped but school progressed. Faces, baggard from work and hunger, eagerly watched the clock. Teachers, unaware (possibly knowing) kept the students at work through cries of hunger came from parched lips. Finally, unable to restrain the starving youth, the teachers let the food-mad crowd storm to the cafeteria.

"For whom the bell tolls" was no more. Happy, carefree students planned for an hour or longer gab session after lunch.

Girls Tennis Second

The girls entering the regional tennis meet came home with the red ribbons. Pat Peterson and Rebecca placed second in the tennis doubles, defeated by Amarillo. This was a reversal of their positions from last year. Pampa and Amarillo have entered the team girls for the two consecutive years.

Allie Jean Robinson placed second in the singles, beaten also by Amarillo.

The girls team had no competition and therefore is eligible to compete at Lubbock.

The list of events and their winners are as follows:

Only Six Weeks Left Until Students Work

Just six more weeks of school! Isn't that wonderful! Only six more for the lucky seniors! Almost every one has plans to spend their summer vacation with their families. They are going to do during the summer vacation.

Most of the students are going to work while others plan to spend the summer at home. Some of them have marriage plans for when school is out.

Some of those who are going to work are: Irene Lee Perkins, Pampa; Ann White, Reba Kilian, Jeanne Smith, Neil Stallard, Ray Wells and Richard Hughes.

Raymond Tubbs is going to spend the summer at home. Almost all of the students are going to spend their summer vacation with their families. They are going to do during the summer vacation.
