GEN. MARSHALL SAYS

McCarthy-Attlee Rift 'Appalling'

LONDON, May 30 — UP — Gen. George C. Marshall said Saturday he was "appalled" at the recent exchange between Sen. Joseph McCarthy and British laborite leader Clement Attlee.

Marshall flew here Saturday from Paris aboard a U.S. Air Force plane to head the official American delegation to the coronation. He and Mrs. Marshall had gone to Le Havre aboard the liner America.

"I'm appalled at getting people so disturbed, so confused and so irritated," he said. "It's easy to do with people 2,000 miles apart even if they do speak the same language."

"I will say this," he added, "it is so essential that we are as near united in procedure in international affairs as possible. Anything of this nature disturbs the international setting."

Marshall declined comment on Korea, saying he was no longer "behind the scenes." He added he had no written message from President Eisenhower for Queen Elizabeth, "but I know how he feels. He is very warmly disposed towards the Queen."

Marshall said as a State Department representative he would not wear his uniform, adding ruefully that he had not had it on for so long "it doesn't fit."

The other members of the American coronation delegation are Mrs. Fleur Cowles, Governor Earl Warren of California and Gen. Omar Bradley, representing the armed forces.

U.S. Adm. Lynde McCormick, NATO commander in the Atlantic, arrived in London shortly after Marshall.

Holiday Marred By Violent Deaths

Violent deaths during the Memorial Day weekend in Texas claimed at least 10 by early Saturday night, with drownings — the result of a warm, sunny holiday — taking the most victims.

Traffic accidents accounted for three deaths, and two others were killed with knives.

Three members of a family drowned at Ward Prairie Lake in Liberty county, W. H. Hedricks, 43, a Baytown refinery worker, his daughter, Sue Ellen, 13, and nephew Jackie Hooper, 9, drowned after a boat sank.

Four Families Fishing

Mary Ann Hedricks, 18, said that four families were fishing and wading in the lake. One boat load went to shore, and the boat containing the three victims suddenly sank.

Robert Kinsey of Durant, Okla., was drowned in Lake Texoma near Denison when he tried to swim 200 yards across an arm of the lake Saturday. Friends said he and several others were swimming at 3 a.m. when he apparently suffered from cramps.

It was the second drowning within 12 hours on the Texas side of the lake that borders Texas and Oklahoma. Earlier, James H. Wilson, 41, of near-by Denison, Negro, drowned when he swam too far from the beach and could not get back to safety.

Two Die by the Knife

Two Houston Negroes were killed by knives in separate incidents Friday night. Sampson M. Rameyap had his throat slashed and Willie

Mercury Climbing After Moisture

More hot weather today.

That's the prediction for Pampa, the Panhandle and the entire state.

Nevertheless, it was those same weather prognosticators who failed to forecast that little rain-hail-windstorm that bombarded the Pampa area Friday afternoon.

High mercury reading Saturday on the local thermometer was 94 degrees, three degrees less than that of Friday. Low Saturday was a welcome 57.

The storm came in two parts near the close of business Friday. Each lasted about five minutes and came so fast and hard that hallooses the size of revolver shells bounced across sidewalks and car-hoods.

More important, though, the "quickie" storm brought 14 of an inch of rain to the Panhandle's water-starved soil. Coupled with .07 of an inch more early in the day, it was the first rain in two weeks.

A corral and building, owned by David H. Shoup, was also partially destroyed on the British-American lease, just west of the Pampa city limits. Damage was undetermined.

Oil Major Farm Product In Area

ARLENE, Tex., May 30 — UP — Oil accounts for 54 per cent of the total value from production on farms, ranches and oil wells in West Texas, President R. F. Windfohr of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association reported in a trade magazine.

Windfohr's article in the current issue of West Texas Today, magazine of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, said oil in the area amounts to about $1,300,000 a year. Production of oil, livestock and farming total about $2,600,000 a year, he said.

Restless Ants Disrupt Meet

CLACTON-ON-SEA, England, May 30 — UP — Ants in the pants broke up a meeting of the trade council Saturday.

During the session, delegate Robert Rutter was fidgety. When the time for "any other business" came, Rutter jumped to his feet and suggested the town hall do something about his chair.

It was full of ants.

DREAMS OF CORONATION CEREMONIES—Mrs. Wayne Chambers, an English World War II bride and newcomer to Pampa, above, is experiencing one of her few home-sick pangs since she came to America in 1946. She would like "so much" to be in England this week to enjoy festivities of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II. (News Photo)

English-Born Pampan Would Like To Witness Queen's Coronation

BY RO ELLISON
Pampa News Staff Writer

One of Pampa's newcomers, Mrs. Wayne Chambers, 1410 Alcock, wishes it were possible to trade her trip of 1950 to her native England for one now, just to be in "all the excitement" of Queen Elizabeth's coronation ceremonies Tuesday.

As it is, she is enjoying the affair by proxy via radio, newspaper and magazine accounts and letters from "home."

Everybody in her hometown of Cardiff, population 335,000, he family tells her, is making big plans for this event, just as in every city and village throughout Great Britain.

MRS. CHAMBERS longs for a first-hand view of the gaiety and ceremony planned for the occasion and wishes she could participate in the street parties, parades, feasts and everything that will make the town a veritable "fairland."

This coronation, she explains, carries a special significance to the British people. It isn't just a big party. But Queen Elizabeth with it represents "new blood" and a "fresh start for the country."

Exactly one year younger than the Queen herself, Mrs. Chambers has "grown up" with Elizabeth and like most all Britishers, she says, feels a kinship to her unknown to royalty in many lands.

Elizabeth is "queerly, yet a human being," Mrs. Chambers points out, and many incidents during the Queen's lifetime have endeared her to her people.

An incident that stands out in the mind of Mrs. Chambers occurred during World War II when Elizabeth, then heir-apparent to the throne, completed a drivers' training course while serving in the British Women's Army.

FOR SAFETY reasons the princess was not allowed to take the standard driving test. But not wanting to be different from the other women, Elizabeth obtained a truck from an unknown source and drove, unaccompanied, through the streets of London, back through the gates of Buckingham Palace.

Asked if any faction in the Great Britain she knows resents the extravagance of coronation ceremonies and maintenance of the royal family, Mrs. Chambers answered an emphatic "no."

"Because," she said, "the king and queen unify the people they are the people — and the best representatives of the country (see PAMPAN, Page 2)

The pool is to be open from 1 until 6 p.m. daily during this season. (News Photo)

Defense Heads Claim Greater Plane Output

Despite Proposed Slash In Budgets

WASHINGTON, May 30 — UP — The Defense Department, striking out at critics of proposed air power budget cuts, announced Saturday that 3,100 more Air Force and Navy planes will be delivered in fiscal 1954 than in fiscal 1953.

Of the planes — to be paid for with appropriations made under the Truman administration — 2,300 will go to the Air Force and 800 to the Navy, officials said.

Department spokesmen made the disclosure in an official explanation of how Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson plans to strengthen Air Force combat units while cutting the air arm's overall spending by $2.4 billion in the 1954 fiscal year beginning July 1.

Red Assaults Hurlled Back By UN Forces

TOKYO, Sunday, May 31 — UP — United Nations forces hurled back assaults by 1,000 Communists on Korea's east central front Sunday while B-29 Superfortresses bombed a key Red storage area north of three western front outposts lost by American and Turkish troops above Seoul.

An Army communique said "a heavy attack" was launched against South Korean troops on Capitol Hill and another 200 Communist hit a nearby ROK main line position.

The two attacks were beaten back in two and a half hours of savage fighting. These actions highlighted ground fighting across the front where heavy rain fell Sunday.

On the western front above Seoul, Fifth Air Force planes Saturday poured more than 600,000 pounds of high explosives on Red-captured Carson, Vegas and Elko outposts while Allied artillery zeroed in shells, filling the air with a blue haze of dust and smoke.

They also outlined planned economies underlying Wilson's proposal that Congress slash $5.09 billion from former President Truman's request for "new money" for the Air Force in fiscal 1954. This new money is largely for spending in future years but enables contracts to be placed during the year it is appropriated.

Wilson's spokesmen disclosed that he plans to reduce by 1,150 the number of so-called "non-combat" aircraft previously scheduled for Air Force operation. Reductions will be made in a 30-month period starting July 1 and will cover trainer planes, transports, helicopters and liaison craft.

No VIP Planes

Purchase of transports for VIPs (very important persons) is to be eliminated.

Another major economy planned by Wilson and deputy Defense Secretary Roger M. Kyes calls for placing heavier reliance on Air National Guard and Air Reserve wings. Spokesmen said 23 such wings would be equipped with modified aircraft by June, 1955.

By coincidence or not, 23 is the figure by which Wilson has cut the Air Force's previously planned expansion goal of 143 wings.

Despite economies, defense officials said that at least 75 more combat airplanes are scheduled for delivery between July 1953, and December 1955, than had been planned for the Air Force by the Truman administration. They called that the equivalent of a modern fighter wing.

AEC To Detonate New Atomic Device

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 30 — UP — The atomic energy commission announced Saturday it will detonate a previously unscheduled atomic device here Monday morning to confirm at once certain research and development results.

No details were released on the "surprise" test, but there were indications the blast might be the most powerful of the 31 nuclear explosions set off within the U.S.

The blast, which will be detonated before dawn, will conclude the spring series of tests carried out on the southern Nevada desert. Original plans called for 10 "shots" in the series, climaxed by the firing of the world's first atomic artillery shell last Monday.

Informed sources indicated next Monday's explosion would be equal in violence to at least two of the A-bombs dropped on Japan during World War II. Each was equal to approximately 20,000 tons of TNT.

The AEC said no further tests were planned for the proving grounds here after Monday. The new test was decided upon, a spokesman said, "to confirm at once certain research and development results just obtained at the Los Alamos, N.J., scientific laboratory."

County To Open Paving Work Bids

Bids on topping three areas at Perry LeFors field — a ramp and two parking areas, and seal coating the Celanese Road will be opened tomorrow by the County Commissioners Court.

At the same time the commissioners will open bids on a tarp to be used in road maintenance over the county.

Seal coating the 11.5 miles of roadway running by the Celanese Plant may be accepted only on a partial basis since the entire project could run into more money than is now available, Judge J. B. Maguire said.

Marshall Resident Killed In Collision

MARSHALL, Tex., May 30 — UP — Oswald Clarence Nowell, 52, a Hugo, Okla., saw mill operator, was killed instantly here Saturday in a two-car head-on collision.

Other persons involved in the collision, which occurred on U.S. 80 within the Marshall city limits, were not seriously injured.

CAUGHT — Mrs. Betty Weisinger of Grapeland, Texas, who took up residence in Brooklyn a week ago with her sailor husband, Roy, gets tangled up with a subway turnstile as she hurried to her new job in New York Friday. After getting the job Thursday, Betty spent two hours getting home on the subways. Her husband made a "dry run" with her Thursday night, all to no avail. Betty got stuck in a turnstile and was trapped for 15 minutes before the emergency squad rescued her. Arriving late, she told her new boss she "had a little trouble with the subways." Talks Facing ROK Boycott

TOKYO, Sunday, May 31 — UP — South Korea served notice Saturday it would fight any foreign troops entering South Korea to take charge of war prisoners that refuse to return to communism.

The bitter statement by Pym Yung Tae, South Korean foreign minister and acting premier, indicated the United States had failed in efforts to placate the ROK leaders.

There was every indication South Korea would boycott the Panmunjom talks which resume tomorrow at 11 a.m. (8 p.m. est Sunday).

Pym said if an armistice was made on the basis of the new United Nations proposal the ROK army "would resist by force if necessary bringing alien troops into this sovereign country."

"We would be compelled to mobilize the national army to halt the foreign troops if they came with the purpose of supervising prisoners of war," he said.

The United Nations plan is reported to call for the admission of Indian, Swiss, Norwegian, Polish and Czech troops to take custody of Communist troops refusing to go home.

An attack would be a "tragic outcome," Pym said, but he added that his country would not hesitate if such action becomes necessary.

U.S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs arrived in Seoul from Pusan Saturday — one day after Korean President Syngman Rhee left Seoul for his summer home in Chinhae.

Briggs declined to comment on Washington reports he was bringing a note to Rhee from President Eisenhower asking him to abandon plans for boycotting the truce sessions.

Workmen Dress Up Perry LeFors Field

Dressing up of Perry LeFors Field started early Saturday afternoon as workmen began sowing grass seed along the runways of the county-owned airport.

The county commissioners several weeks ago authorized planting the grass as recommended by the Civil Aeronautics Administration as a safety measure. However, a windless day had to come along before the seed could be planted, Judge J. B. Maguire Jr. said.

The grass planted is a mixture of Buffalo and Blue Grama. Horace Tarver, airport manager, said it is being planted for a width of 75 feet on each side of the three runways.

A sprayer for weed killing was also pressed into use to destroy useless plant life.

PAYS VISIT TO TEXAS

These New Mexicans really do things in a big way.

Charles O. Neely, 19, of Clovis, was picked up about 10:15 p. m. Friday by the highway patrol, some six miles west of Pampa on the Amarillo highway.

Charged Saturday morning with driving without a muffler and with only one headlight, Neely was fined $10 and costs on each count in justice of the peace court.

But there were several items that did not become part of the public record, patrolmen reported. The vehicle had only one license plate, no registration papers and no rear reflectors. And Neely had no driver's license — indeed, he had no identification of any kind on him or the vehicle.

In addition, a check with his family revealed that, while Neely had permission to use the vehicle, no one in Clovis had any idea where he was.

Memorial Tribute Shadowed By Present Korean Conflict

WASHINGTON, May 30 — UP — Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) asserted sternly that America of this decade can no more "go it alone" than could America of the decade just past, when the President, as supreme Allied commander, led into European combat an army-assembled from many nations — that was the greatest in history under a single command.

Wiley's speech had more timeliness than is usual in such a ceremonial. Only this week, Senate Republican Leader Robert A. Taft had suggested that America be prepared to "go it alone" in the Korean war if current truce talks fail.

Mr. Eisenhower already had flatly said "no" to the idea.

As Wiley spoke Saturday, the President listened intently.

"On this Memorial Day I do not believe that we could pay more fitting tribute to the honored dead than to reaffirm our faith in the UN as an instrument for working out the ills of a sick world," Wiley said.

Again, he said, "we did not 'go it alone' in the 1940s. We are not going to go it alone in the 1950s. The danger to us is far greater now than it was then."

ELIZABETH the Queen

XXII

I AM reminded of what someone near to the King told me about his feelings at the time of the Abdication.

King Edward VIII had forfeited his crown and thrown the country into a turmoil. Such a thing had not happened to Great Britain for hundreds of years, and it is true to say that there was no precedent to guide the Government's actions.

It was assumed that the next eldest son would automatically inherit the Throne. But some in high places questioned this. It was thought that Abdication was such a serious step it changed the course of normal things.

"Why thrust this Crown and its great responsibilities on a man whose every action through life has shown his dislike of publicity and love of the quiet life?" they said. "The Duke of York has no sons; he suffers a speech defect which makes every public appearance an agony to him. Let us take the chance this whirlpool in our midst has given us to appoint the Duke of Kent King. He already has a son; he is a man whose temperament equips him more easily to take the center place in life. Spare the Duke of York a task which he must consider a burden."

But the King had too strong a sense of the duty he owed the country to take this easy way out. I remember the pain in his eyes, the pallor this new responsibility cast over his features, which seemed suddenly to age.

His main concern, my friend told me, was not for the weight the Crown would place upon his shoulders, but the thought of the weight one day to be transferred to his elder daughter.

He was loath to condemn her to a lifetime of public servitude, where she would have no quiet and never be allowed the peace and domestic enjoyment which is every woman's birthright. Few people comprehend the rigorous routine thrust upon Royalty. Every moment of activity is planned far ahead.

In spite of the many restrictions put on the personal liberty of Royalty, such as their being unable to choose flat-heeled shoes for public appearances, or hats that would hide their faces, the last century has brought to them small freedoms denied to their grandfathers.

One of these is the carrying about of handbags and money. The days when a lady-in-waiting used to pay for any small thing that took the Royal fancy is over. Both Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret carried bags and two or three pounds in ready cash like any ordinary girl or woman. They cashed their own checks through their Comptroller, put the noted into neat notepaper made to match their handbags and loose silver into little purses.

From this money they paid direct in the shops for things they wished to buy. Most of their shopping excursions took place in Balmoral when they were staying at Balmoral.

It is not generally known, I think, that Royalty pays for everything they have. The King was insistent that all goods supplied to the Palace be paid for, and although tradespeople would be pleased to supply the Royal Household free in order to have the honor of serving them, this was something the King would not accept, although he was, in fact, the poorest monarch since William IV.

The Royal Family also pay railway fares. The only time they do not pay to travel is when they are on a battleship or using a Viking of the King's Flight.

The matter of so little personal liberty—taken for granted by all of us—is something that I have thought must be hard to bear if you are a woman.

NEVER for Princess Elizabeth the happy prowling round the stores comparing the prices, colors, and textures of the materials for a new coat or dress; not for her the quest to get calf or suede shoes to match exactly the color of her handbag, and the excitement that lasts through several days when the tricky piece of shopping is satisfactorily accomplished.

All that personal, exciting, challenging side of choosing a wardrobe was taken out of her hands by her dressmaker, shoemaker, and milliner.

I do not say that Queen Elizabeth does not choose her own clothes. Of course she does, but within circumscribed limits. She has to remember, for instance, that however much she might long to wear a certain color, she cannot do so if it is a shade that will get lost among a large crowd and so make it difficult for her to be easily and immediately seen by the loyal crowds who congregate wherever she is to make a public appearance, in the hope of catching a glimpse of her.

Memorial Day Rites Held For Famed Confederate Spy

WISCONSIN DELLS, Wis., May 30—UP—Sail from her native Virginia was spread over the coffin of Belle Boyd, famed Confederate spy of the Civil War, at graveside ceremonies Saturday.

It was the second annual Memorial Day tribute to the "Flower of the Confederacy" who died at Wisconsin Delles in 1860 while on a speaking tour to promote unity between the North and the South.

At one time there was a movement under way to return her body to Virginia, but instead the United Daughters of the Confederacy decided to ship enough soil to Wisconsin to surround the Southern woman's casket. The soil was obtained from the banks of the historic James River at Richmond, Va.

Wisconsin Delles Mayor Grover E. Belton was in charge of the ceremonies. He said Belle Boyd fought for "what she considered to be right" and pledged that her burial place would always be an honored spot.

Belton led the gathering of townspeople and tourists in the pledge of allegiance as the American flag was raised over the spy's grave. Then the flags of Virginia and the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy were unfurled.

Escaped Polish Pilot Granted Political Asylum

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, May 30—UP—A young Polish air force pilot who flew to freedom was granted asylum in the west Saturday.

L. Zdzislaw Jazwinsky, 22, told a press conference he was surprised when he could not find the huge American airbase which he had been told was constructed on Bornholm, Danish Island at the entrance to the Baltic Sea.

Jazwinsky was released from custody by Danish authorities Saturday. The plane will be returned to Poland.

The Polish flier crash-landed his Soviet-built MIG on a cramped boulder-strewn airstrip on the island last May '50.

He was the second Polish air force officer in 11 weeks to escape to freedom in the West in one of the speedy jets.

Jazwinsky said he made up his mind to flee from Poland in 1950 because of the distress, misery and arrests which Communism had brought to his homeland.

Jazwinsky had been held incommunicado by Danish authorities until police investigations had been concluded.

She is an alert, civic-minded housewife who had rather discuss current events and political aspects than next week's menu of Kansas, Oklahoma, Wyoming and, now, Texas, she feels that English women are more conscious of world events than American women she has met.

"However," she explains, "perhaps this is because Great Britain is going through a crisis and women have been awakened to the effects of a particular government in power." The recent presidential election in the United States gave American women more civic spirit than she had evidenced before, she said.

Mrs. Chambers brought a firm conservatist conviction with her to America and believes strongly that a system of free enterprise is the only way any nation can stand. Why anyone in America — with all its opportunities — can turn to communism is a mystery to her.

LAWTON, Okla., May 30—UP—Police held two Negro men Saturday for questioning in the rape of a Port Sill soldier's wife at her home here Friday.

She was being treated at the Port Sill hospital for shock and lacerations. Authorities there confirmed she had been assaulted.

British Captain Hauled Commies Under Threat

HONG KONG, May 30—UP—A British steamship transported Chinese Communist troops, as the U.S. State Department reported, but only after its master had been warned "somebody would get shot" if he refused, the owners said here.

Wallem and Co. issued a formal statement Saturday in reply to the Washington charges that the S.S. Perico carried Red troops from a South China port to Canton in 1951.

The 2,221-ton Perico discharged a cargo of rice at Kwanchowwan where Chinese Communist authorities "ordered the ship to carry 462 soldiers for repatriation to Canton," the company said.

The Red troops were unarmed, were no insignia and were under an armed guard of 12 soldiers, it said. The troops were disembarked at Canton on June 22, 1951 and when the Perico returned to Hong Kong a report of the incident was made to police by the master.

The company said it understood that copies also were sent to the local naval authorities and to the colonial secretariat.

The couple were in England for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II Tuesday.

DERBY, Conn., (AP)—Three juveniles were arrested after they set up a road blockade and halted a police cruiser. As two officers climbed from the car, the youths fired three shots. They missed. They told police they did it just as a "lark."

Love And Kisses For King, Samia

CAIRO, Egypt, May 30—UP—It was love and kisses again as Sheppard W. (Abdullah) King II left Saturday for New York by plane after an affectionate farewell with his wife, exotic dancer Samia Gamal.

"Darling, God bless you," Samia said between hugs and long, lingering kisses. "Go and sin no more. I'll miss you very much."

The reunited couple did not say how they had patched up their marriage or what had brought it close to the rocks but it was apparent the Texas playboy's eight day visit had worked wonders.

"I'll also miss you, dear," he told his red-haired wife at Cairo airport.

"The coming four months without you are going to be the longest waiting I've done in my life," she said.

Samia, who has promised to join Abdullah in the United States at the end of that period, explained to reporters why she didn't meet him at the airport when he arrived from Houston last week.

Canadian Slates Amateur Rodeo

CANADIAN — Canadian's annual amateur rodeo will be held this year on July 4-5, each afternoon at 2, according to announcement by Carl Studer.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are: Carl Studer, president; R. T. "Cap" Kelly, vice-president; and John Wilkinson, secretary-treasurer.

There has been speculation that the official bridge opening over Canadian River and rodeo could be held simultaneously this year, however, the bridge opening will be delayed about 20 days.

Purses in each event this year will be $75, $60 and $40 with a $7.50 entry fee each day. Events consist of Saddle Bronc Riding, Bareback Bronc Riding, Bull Riding, Calf Roping, Bulldogging, Ribbon Roping, and Girls Barrel Race.

Earl Blackmore, past president, and Roy Sheets have been selected as a committee to secure livestock.

The Canadian Rodeo is put on under the auspices of the Canadian Roping Club and the Chamber of Commerce, each furnishing an equal amount of directors.

ON 4,000-ACRE RANCH 'Retired' Pampan, RRC Keep Close Tab On 16 Gas Wells

BY ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer

A PAMPAN who has tangled with the Ku Klux Klan, had a hand in half a dozen different occupations and talks of worldly things with a native vehemence today is "retired" to a 4,000-acre ranch where he and the Texas Railroad Commission watch over 16 gas wells.

What C. F. (Doc) Pursley, 62, of 1701 Mary Ellen, first talks about, though, as he slouches behind the desk in his cubby-hole office, are his six grandchildren ("Just like owning six young mules, they handle about as easy") and his one great grandchild born two weeks ago ("anybody can be just a grandfather").

Asked what he has been doing with himself the past six decades or so, Pursley will lean back in his chair, behind a desk piled high with papers ("tax stuff," he snorts), look you square in the eye and exclaim:

"One thing I've never worked for anybody else in my life and I don't even know what a boss is."

HIS OCCUPATIONS haven't been in any one field, either. Automobiles, grocery, bakery, music, cafeteria, mercantiles, gas wells—he's been mixed up in all of them.

What's the railroad commission doing, though, keeping such a sharp check on Pursley's gas wells? The heavyset man, with a hat pushed back on his head and a grin across his face, just chuckled: "Seems I was off fishing last month and forgot to send some reports to them."

How Doc ever gets hold of the information to send the TRRC or anyone else would seem somewhat a mystery, considering the disheveled appearance of his office, upstairs over the showroom of Pursley Motor Co., 105 N. Ballard, now turned over to his son, Ervin, 40.

"Usual batch of pictures on the walls," he says, ignoring the rest of the room. His daughter, Dona, is married to Jim Cornutt, who now runs Plains Motor Co., 113 N. Frost.

BUT BACK to the family, he insisted, proud as punch of his great-grandson, Thomas Ervin. Five generations of the Pursleys are in the vicinity. Doc's mother, then there's Doc; Ervin, his son; Adney, Ervin's daughter; and the baby, Count 'em, he says. "That makes five."

For many a year now, Doc Pursley has been in business, either in Miami or in Pampa. "Though now he's retired—in theory," that Pursley had his run-in with the Ku Klux Klan, 500 of them. He was running a cafeteria at the time and remembers well the night he fed those 500 before they went out to march.

WELLS AND WAILING—For 62 years C. F. (Doc) Pursley, 1701 Mary Ellen, has had his finger in many an occupational pie. Now he is most concerned with the 16 gas wells on his 4,000-acre ranch and the wallings of his two-week-old great granddaughter. There's the matter, too, of his six grandchildren. Here Doc looks over a copy of The Pampa Daily News in which he's re-reading an article about one of his wells. (News Photo)

THEY tried to force me to join the KKK and I wouldn't, so they said they'd put me out of business," he recalled. "It scared me up so that I sold the fixtures to a Pampa man and moved out the next day."

THEN IT was a bakery. "I done wonderful for several years before the grocery stores started shipping out town bread in on me, so I sold the bakery fixtures to a Pampa man (Fred Burows) the next day on credit and took it all in bread." That was the last Miami bakery.

Next was a combination grocery-meat market which, in time, turned into the mercantile business for which Doc is probably best remembered in Miami. "Oh, yes," he added, "the KKK blowed up about six months after I left the cafeteria business, though it was pretty strong in Pampa with families split up and fathers and sons fighting."

Once a top-notch clarinet-player ("I used to make one of 'em sing"), Pursley used to play with a "tent show, called 'Texas Molly Baker's Show.' He's written popular music, too, though he isn't sure whether "I could play a clarinet now without making it squeak."

Till four years ago, Doc was selling automobiles. Then he turned over the car-selling to his offspring. How come he turned to stretch out further?

NOW SPENDING a good part of his time on his ranch, located 26 miles south of Pampa on McClellan Creek, Doc Pursley has an opportunity to oversee 16 wells ("I dig 'em myself") and convey a salty opinion or two on world affairs:

SENATOR JOE MCCARTHY (R., Wis.) — "He's doing the right thing, getting that bunch of crooks out of there." A Democrat all his life, Pursley is 100 per cent for Ike now.

KOREA — "I think it's a waste of time, our sticking our nose in there; either we should whip the Reds and come back home or just come back home."

F.D.R. — "I'm not so important that somebody can't replace me in 20 minutes," he said, pointing to

Youth Gives Bride Wedding 'Present'

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 30—UP —A 17-year-old youth killed his bride, Rose, were enroute to Lawton, Okla., for a "sort of honeymoon trip."

Louis Perkins Bearden, 17, owner of the car, was with the Baker at the time of the shooting. He said he did not see Baker fire the gun but "I heard him talking to Rose and he said he was going to show her how to play Russian roulette—then I heard the shot."

In the "game," the player spins the chamber of a revolver loaded with only one bullet, points the gun at his head and pulls the trigger.

Police identified the victim, as John Mel Baker, of Oklahoma City.

Louisianan Cries 'Outrage' To Underwater Oil Policy

WASHINGTON, May 30—UP—Sen. Russell B. Long Saturday attacked as "outrageous" the administration's opposition to extension of state law over submerged oil lands of the continental shelf.

The Louisiana Democrat said a letter apparently spelling out administration views on the continental shelf oil leasing bill "put the most federal-minded bureaucrats of the Truman administration in a light that makes them appear to be arch-conservatives."

"It is an outrageous proposal," he told a reporter.

Long was irked by a letter to the Senate Interior committee from Assistant Attorney General J. Lee Rankin analyzing a continental shelf bill passed by the House and a different version pending before the committee.

Rankin strongly objected to a provision in the House bill to permit adjoining coastal states to extend all their taxing laws to the submerged lands of the continental shelf which are under federal control. These lands extend as much as 150 miles seaward of the "tidelands" given to the coastal states by an earlier measure.

"This is objectionable on several grounds," Rankin declared. "It raises a serious constitutional question of delegation of legislative power. This is a federal area, outside state boundaries, and to give the states a sort of extraterritorial jurisdiction over it is unnecessary and undesirable."

Rankin's letter goes to the heart of the controversy over the continental shelf. Texas and Louisiana argue that state police, conservation and taxing laws should apply to the federal zone beyond their historical seaward boundaries.

"I thought the Eisenhower administration had campaigned on a platform that it proposes to respect the functions of state and local governments," Long said. "I am dismayed to see this exhibition of federal bureaucracy at its worst."

State Lawmakers Deal With 1,342 Pieces Of Legislation

AUSTIN, May 28 (UP)—The combined enrollment of the 53rd Texas Legislature, 190 representatives and 31 senators, considered 71-2 bills and constitutional amendments per head before the regular session ended Wednesday.

The regular session tucked a total of 1,342 pieces of legislation and four and one-half months of activity into its record books.

A hasty count of noses and bills Thursday showed that in the more numerical House of Representatives, the hopper was loaded down with 927 bills and 46 proposed amendments to the state constitution.

354 Bills in Senate
Across the Capitol rotunda, senators introduced 354 bills and 15 constitutional amendments.

From the standpoint of numbers, Rep. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford and Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr., of Paris shared the crown for introducing the most bills—27 each. Aikin pulled ahead in another department, however.

His veteran Paris senator succeeded in passing 15 of his 27 bills. Bradshaw gained House approval of only 11 of his.

Mrs. Martha Turner, another Senate veteran as calendar clerk in charge of recording the number of measures introduced and their status, pointed out this fact, though:

Many of the oldest and influential legislators were way at the bottom of her list. "The best policeman isn't always the one who makes the most arrests," Mrs. Turner said. "The best legislator isn't always the one who introduces the most bills."

Have Secondary Plan
Falling this overwhelming victory, Negroes would welcome a decision confined to secondary education alone and following the reasoning of two 1950 opinions dealing with segregation in graduate schools of state universities. At that time two Negro graduate students won admission to schools in Texas and Oklahoma. The court found they couldn't obtain, on a segregated basis, an education "equal" to that of white students.

State education authorities on the other hand, insist that they have the right to classify children by race just as they do by age, sex, mental capacity and so on. These groupings, they say, are matters for legislatures to determine for the good of the public in general.

Some state authorities have predicted a tremendous social upheaval if segregation is outlawed in the South. Governors of Georgia and South Carolina have warned that the public school systems there would be abolished before mixed attendance would be permitted.

Supreme Court To Give Rule On Legality Of Segregation

WASHINGTON, May 29 (UP)—The Supreme Court will rule soon on one of the most burning social issues of modern America—racial segregation in the public schools.

The ruling will come Monday or Tuesday, one of the two succeeding Mondays—barring an unforeseen development to hold the case until the fall term.

The high bench has had under advisement since December five cases which present legal variants of this basic question: Is segregation unconstitutional in itself, even though schools for Negroes may be just as good as those for white children? Seventeen states and the District of Columbia require segregated schools and four other states permit them.

The court fight against dual school systems by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People climaxes a long series of civil rights battles during the past 18 years which have already gained Negroes important educational benefits. In addition, Negroes have won the right to vote in primary elections, to travel unsegregated on interstate trains and buses, and to be tried by juries from which Negroes have not been excluded.

Based on Constitution
Arguing for integrated schools, Negro lawyers rely on the 14th Amendment to the Constitution passed in 1868, which says "no state shall deprive any person within its jurisdiction of the equal protection of the laws."

Thirty years later, however, the Supreme Court in the Plessy vs. Ferguson case of 1896 laid down the "separate but equal" racial doctrine, which became firmly established in the South as a basis for separating the races in schools, transportation and elsewhere. The separation is contingent on Negroes being afforded facilities equal to those for white persons.

Negroes maintain this ruling is erroneous and should be overturned because under the 14th Amendment a state cannot constitutionally use race alone as a basis for legislation on any subject whatever.

MUFFLER FOR NATURE'S STEAM—Wairakei, in northern New Zealand, has long been a resort and is also rich in underground steam pockets which scientists are now exploring in an attempt to harness the steam for electric power. But the roar of the escaping steam is so great that it would keep hotel guests awake, so a giant muffler has been placed on each test bore to lessen the noise. The volume of sound is reduced by allowing the steam to expand before escaping.

Alanreed Highway Now 4-Lane Road

The south lane of newly constructed U.S. Highway 66 is now open to traffic, making the 12-mile stretch from Alanreed to the Wheeler County line a full-fledged four-lane roadway.

Senior Resident Engineer G. K. Reading ordered the barricades at the ends of the south lane removed Friday afternoon after directional signs warning traffic which way to go were erected.

Concrete work completed all that remains to be done on the percent of the road's base in less than three weeks. A monthly estimate for Bell, Braden, Barker, and Giffen for $50,638 worth of work on the project was approved Saturday morning by the State Highway Department engineering office here. The total contract cost is $138,521.

The new stretch—also a four-lane separated road—is all that remains on Highway 66 in Gray County except the strips running in and out of Donley county. Before work can begin on it rights-of-way will have to be secured by the county commissioner from landowners along the proposed route.

The five-mile stretch leading west from Alanreed to the Donley County line have completed 20

Grand Jury Bills 14 Defendants

It took less than three hours for the Gray County Grand Jury to return 14 indictments on cases ranging from second offense drunken driving to assault with intent to murder.

The jury reconvened at 10 a. m. Friday and had completed its work by 1:20 p. m., according to District Atty. Tom Braly.

Topping the list was the indictment of assault with intent to murder brought against Marvin E. Blocker in the March 20 killing of Audrey Murphy.

The two Oklahoma and Borger men who broke into the Pampa Moose Lodge and wrecked the organization's safe to steal $378 were indicted for burglary and theft. Both men, Kenneth Whitstine and S. E. Nicholson, have been in Gray County and Hutchinson County jail since they were captured and held for the Feb. 27 break-in at the Moose.

Other burglary indictments were also returned against Gordon Jack Addington in the May 2 break-in of the D. V. Burton Service Station; Darwin C. Malone and David S. Sutton in the May 5 burglary of Cornelia Motor Parts; Robert H. McCormick, the April 27 burglary of the Belvedere; and Joe Ed Mackie in the burglary of the Tom Rose Ford Co. on March 11.

Claims Ike Needs Demo Congress

JACKSON, Miss., May 30—UP—Senate Minority Leader Lyndon Johnson said here that President Eisenhower will need a Democratic Congress next year to enact his legislative program.

"The American people elected President Eisenhower to preserve the strength, the prosperity, the freedom of America," he said. "That platform will be realized only if they give him a Democratic Congress in 1954."

The Texas Democrat was guest speaker Friday night at a $15-a-plate Democratic dinner.

Another guest was Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, who charged in a press conference that the leading Republicans "want to abandon the anti-Communist coalition against Red aggression."

Mitchell scored at the claim of Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall that the Democratic "high command" has been under "undeniable left-wing infiltration."

While the dinner apparently failed to bring in any of the Democrats who booted to the Eisenhower camp last fall it raised enough money to pay off a party $3,000 deficit.

as if it was written by Mrs. Joyce Hayden.

Lamb said LaForce also plotted to show he was the father of Mrs. Hayden's expected child, although LaForce told him he never "had had any sexual relations with Joyce Hayden."

Carr introduced a letter which he charged LaForce prepared in his cell in his own handwriting.

Poisoner Charged With Letter-Forging

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 29—UP—Richard LaForce, convicted of mixing poison in his best friend's food, was accused Saturday of concocting a forged letter plot implicating his intended victim's 19-year-old wife.

Deputy District Attorney Joseph L. Carr said LaForce composed the letter in an attempt to win a new trial. The 19-year-old engineering student is in jail awaiting sentencing June 10.

Vincent Lamb, who said he was LaForce's cell-mate for two months, testified Friday that LaForce tried to persuade him to plant the letter to make it look

Legislators Gave Thought To Water

AUSTIN, May 30—UP—Water came in for increased attention from members of the 53rd Legislature.

The lawmakers, who ended their four and one-half month session Wednesday, established several water districts and enacted an act...

The measure, sponsored by Sen. John J. Bell of Cuero, met stiff opposition in the Senate, mainly from Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, who filibustered for more than 13 hours against the proposal April 2.

Bills were enacted creating the Canadian River Municipal Water Supply District, Upper Neches River Municipal Water District, Northeast Texas Water District, the High Plains Underground Conservation District, Waco Conservation District, Medina County Water Control and Improvement District and the Wilbarger County Water Conservation District.

Powers Limited

In virtually all cases, provisions were inserted limiting the eminent domain powers of the districts to the county in which the district is located or to the boundaries of the district if it embraced more than one county.

The lawmakers also approved a measure changing the name of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District to the Brazos River Authority.

The authority was empowered to contract for sale of power-generated at three proposed dams — at Turkey Creek and Inspiration Point, both in Palo Pinto county near Mineral Wells, and at De Cordova Bend, in Hood and Johnson counties.

Water legislation in the 53rd session was marked by a series of "single shot" bills, in contrast to the bulky water code which failed of adoption two years ago.

Receives Great Attention

Water, which some say may someday be of more value than oil in Texas, received greater attention from the 53rd Legislature as parched Texas sought relief from an extended drought.

The lawmakers in late-session action approved eight measures recommended by the governor's state-wide water committee. They included:

Strengthening powers of the Texas Board of Water Engineers.

Providing for granting of seasonal and temporary permits to appropriate water.

Creating a nine-member water resources committee to make a study of long-range policy and water conservation.

Cancelling all permits and certified filings for appropriation of water which have not been used for 10 years or more.

Providing for filing written applications for water appropriations.

Creating a water pollution advisory board.

Clarifying certain statutes pertaining to appropriation of state waters.

Allowing the board of water engineers to enforce its orders by injunction "or other appropriate remedy."

Other measures relating to water included appropriation of $30,000 to continue a court battle between Texas and New Mexico over waters of the Rio Grande and providing for the Sabine River Compact between Texas and Louisiana.

S. A. Political Row Costs Chief His Position

SAN ANTONIO, May 30—UP—This Alamo city has a new police chief Saturday, after the local political "underbox" exploded and Police Chief Robert Allen was dismissed while a tax department head resigned.

At the same time, the district attorney's office pledged a full-scale grand jury probe into newspaper claims that vice runs rampant here.

Acting City Manager Reynolds Andricks, who said he was being directed by anyone named Stover, pointed in his place E. B. (Buck) Haddock, 51, captain of the shift.

Back-tax Chief Charles Grace resigned with charges of "tax deals" and "false economy." Grace walked out, declaring, "I've never seen so much confusion anywhere—and I was in Washington."

Hearing For Vet Who Kidnapped Girl Due June 8

MIAMI, Okla., May 30—UP—U. S. Commissioner Charles F. Burns has tentatively set a June 8 arraignment date for Dwight Robert Boney, 22-year-old Korean war veteran charged with kidnapping the girl he wanted to marry.

Boney was arrested near Vinita after the girl slipped a note to a Miami service station attendant asking for help. He said he forced her at gunpoint to accompany him from her hometown, South Bend, Ind.

man told officers he forced Miss Beverly Jean Morey to accompany him to Oklahoma because he was in love with her.

He told Vinita, Okla., Police Chief Vernon Glenn: "I was in love with her and I made her ride with me so I could take her to California and marry her."

Boney was arrested near Vinita after the girl slipped a note to a Miami service station attendant asking for help. He said he forced her at gunpoint to accompany him from her hometown, South Bend, Ind.

The Way To Resume

It comes as quite a shock when the Secretary of the Treasury and other administration officials say there is no chance of balancing the national budget for the next fiscal year and moreover that there is a good possibility it will be necessary to raise the present statutory debt limit of $275 billion.

There were other factors that entered into the result of the national election last fall, but one of the main reasons the Republicans were elected to office was their promise that the budget would be balanced, that economies would be made in operating the federal government, and that taxes would be cut.

If none of these things is to be done, then the people no longer have a choice between an economical government and a spendthrift government; it will simply be a choice between two spendthrift governments.

When people face a situation like that, they are likely to favor that government which offers to "give" them the most.

What has happened since the present administration came into office to cause it to discard all its fine economy promises made during the campaign?

There seems to be only one answer — this administration has fallen into the same fallacy in its attitude toward spending that its predecessors had had; namely, that the safety of the nation depends entirely upon the total amount of money we spend for defense.

It can be understood why previous administrations fell into this fallacy; they started out with the philosophy that we could buy our way out of the depression, that we could spend ourselves into prosperity by priming the pump, by give-away programs of various sorts, by "made work," and in many other similar ways.

But it is difficult to understand why the present administration should fall into any such fallacy. It took the opposite view during the political campaign. It had no built-up bureaucracy to which it was obligated. It had no spending philosophy to which it was bound. It was elected on an economy, tax-cut program.

The Republicans came in with a clean slate and a clear mandate. Now the slate is becoming cluttered with figures and the mandate is ignored. We are hearing again the old familiar chant that there is no chance to balance the budget next year, but maybe we can the year after that; we have been spending a certain amount of money for defense, therefore, any reduction in that amount would endanger the national safety.

We spent $41 billion in lend-lease during the second World War, which was part of a program to win the war. But what about our foreign aid program since then? In the seven years since the end of the war, we have spent $39 billion in foreign aid and the administration is recommending another $6 billion in the year ahead. This would bring the total in foreign aid since the war to a greater amount than the aid during the war.

It is anyone so naive as to think there will be any end to the "need" for foreign aid — next year or any year — so long as we are willing to furnish it? If so, he should take a course in human nature.

During the fight to restore a sound currency under a gold standard in this country following the War Between the States, there was born the famous statement, "The way to resume is to resume." We need that attitude now. The way to return to a balanced budget and a sound economy is to return — not some day but NOW!

Eleanor Pipes Up

Senator Bricker of Ohio, author of the proposed Bricker constitutional amendment to insure that treaties cannot supersede domestic law, described his proposal last week as follows:

"The amendment intends to say to the rest of the world that the inalienable, God-given rights of the American people are not for barter, anywhere, anytime."

Why is the Bricker amendment necessary? Are there any Americans who believe that the rights of the American people can or should be "bartered away" or changed by treaty?

In a recent newspaper column, Eleanor Roosevelt, former U. S. representative on the United Nations Human Rights Commission, commented on the Bricker amendment as follows:

"To say that it is improper to have a treaty that is going to change the social customs of a country and its legal practices as regards the protection of its individual citizens and their civil liberties seems to me an utterly strange position to take."

Collectivists doubtless will agree with Mrs. Roosevelt's position. But because millions of Americans do not, the Bricker amendment is gaining widespread support.

BETTER JOBS

Experience With State Educator

Here is another installment of the correspondence between Dr. Wallace H. Moore, head of the Education Department of Long Beach State College and myself attempting to arrange a discussion and/or debate to determine whether tax supported schools are in agreement with the Golden Rule. Here is Dr. Moore's letter of April 18:

"Dear Mr. Hoiles: Your letter of March 27 was received while I was in the East, thus, the delay in answering.

"A debate, Mr. Hoiles, is a debate, and I accepted your challenge to debate the question of public education for the remuneration of $500. In your last letter you used the term 'cross examination.' I have never before used that expression used in connection with a debate; it is a term used in connection with court procedures. 'Rebuttal' is the term used in debate and any fair, mutually-agreed-upon moderator would certainly rule out any new material which either one of us would try to introduce in the rebuttal.

"Naturally, the material presented in the main speeches would afford adequate opportunity for investigation. I agree with you that any debate that did not suggest such opportunities would not be worthwhile.

"If each of us has twenty minutes for the main speech, the remaining eighty minutes can be used for rebuttal time, if you wish, or used in answering questions which we have put to each other. I agree heartily that we do not want to spend rebuttal time quoting extraneous materials or in efforts to mislead in any way whatsoever. Let us stay on the specific topic at all times.

"Here is my suggestion: A. Debate topic: Resolved: That public education (tax supported schools) in the United States should be abandoned in favor of strong, effective private education."

B. Time, place and moderator to be mutually agreed upon.

C. Length of time—two hours to be divided as follows: Main speech for each debater 20 minutes

Rebuttal for each debater 40 minutes

D. Remuneration — $500 (If it is understood that this remuneration will be added to an amount provided by Wallace H. Moore for the student aid fund for students from Orange County.)

"I hope, Mr. Hoiles, that this answers any questions you have. Let us get together as soon as possible to decide on time, place and moderator.

Most sincerely, WALLACE H. MOORE"

On April 23 I sent Dr. Moore the following answer:

"Dear Dr. Moore: I have never challenged anyone to debate the question of public schools for remuneration of $500 without specifying that each party must agree to answer to the best of his ability each question of his opponent in one minute's time or permit the questioner to interrupt and ask another question when the questioner believed that the man answering was evading.

"I care not whether you call the question and answer period a cross examination or a rebuttal so long as it complies with the above rules.

"I am perfectly willing to debate you that this subject on your terms, excepting I will not pay you $500 for it, if you will debate the question your agent, Everett E. Alton, suggested: Public Education (Tax Supported Schools) is in essence a violation of the Golden Rule. I set down my terms in my letter to you of March 23. I said in that letter that it would be worth $500 to me to find out whether tax supported schools are in agreement of a violation of the Golden Rule. That is what I want to ascertain. I want to ascertain this because I am convinced that if tax supported schools are a violation of the Golden Rule that they should be discontinued because I cannot believe that the net results of any act violates the Golden-Rule can produce results that will promote understanding, good will, prosperity or peace.

"The two debates would not take more than two hours each, or four hours total, and $500 for the four hours is at the rate of $300,000 a year. It seems to me that that remuneration, even if you want to use it for charity, should be enough to devote an extra two hours to throw light on the subject that I am interested in, and for which I am offering $500. I care not whether you keep the $500 or give it to any charity you want to.

"Let's debate the question that I accepted on the terms I accepted and also debate the question you proposed on your terms, excepting asking $500 for remuneration of the debate you propose. It seems to me that if we are both sincere in trying to better understand the usefulness and value of compulsory tax supported schools, we should both be willing to debate the two questions submitted—one writing the terms for one debate and the other writing the terms for the other debate, other than the fact that I am not asking you to give me $500 for the debate that you propose while I am willing to give you $500 for the debate that your representative submitted.

"Awaiting your pleasure in the matter, I am Yours very truly, R. C. HOILES

National Whirligig... Commies Isolate Themselves Behind Couple Iron Curtains

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — As Western statesmen prepare agendas for their Bermuda conference on prospective discussion of basic differences with Russia, they re-epitaphize belatedly that Communists have isolated themselves and their satellite behind two iron curtains. The first barrier is political and diplomatic, while the second and the more impervious to Western assault is economic.

In view of the still remote likelihood of permanent peace with Russia, high officials at Washington, London and Paris had given no thought to this novel problem. Recently, however, it was brought to their attention during the visits here of Konrad Adenauer, German Chancellor, and Ernst Reuter, Mayor of Western Berlin. They pointed out that, in less than eight years, West and East Germany have become almost as alien to each other as Patagonia and the United States.

To reunite and reintegrate them into a viable nation will require a Siamese twin operation in reverse. Nor is Germany the only area which has undergone this transformation during Soviet occupation and rule. The same consideration applies to Poland, the Balkans and China. It has been the Kremlin's deliberate, far-sighted scheme to make it impossible for them ever to reestablish normal relations with the Western economy.

Much Accomplished In West The Allied section of Germany, for instance, operates along capitalist lines, and its resurgence here is a postwar miracle. The land marked for Morgenthau pasteurization is breathing its historic energy and ambition. They are rebuilding homes, highways, railroads, factories, ships, etc. Consumer goods are more plentiful and cheaper than in France or England. Industrial production is 90 per cent above 1936, only three years before Hitler dared to challenge almost all Europe — and Uncle Sam.

Savings and investments are rippling up. Without tax and permit restrictions from the Russian zone, unemployment would not be burdensome. The people have pride and hope. It is this spiritual and material recovery which inspires their desire for full independence, including reunion with East Germany.

But East Germany still languishes in a state of shabbiness and direpair, with rubble still blocking many main streets. There is hardly any traffic save military vehicles. The shops are empty or half-filled with high-priced stuff of poor quality. There has been no residential or industrial rehabilitation. The people are sullen, dispirited, drably dressed, as in Moscow itself.

These superficial differences between East and West are symptomatic. Every country behind this barrier, generally unknown as "Iron curtain," has become a totalitarian state in all respects. The only model is Russian. About 90 per cent of all production is owned by and controlled by the Gov-

The American Way

By George Peck

This year marks the 177th Anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. During those 177 years, America grew from a few sparsely-peopled colonies along the middle-Atlantic Coast into the greatest nation in the world, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border.

What accounted for this extraordinary growth and development, such as the world had never before witnessed? How did such a great nation evolve from such a humble beginning in the short space of 177 years?

The answer is by DESIRE, COURAGE, and WORK.

The original colonists desired to get away from the tyranny and oppression which ground them down in Europe.

They had the courage to tear up stakes and risk a voyage over a vast uncharted sea to a strange land.

They had the will to work, to hew a new civilization out of the American wilderness — and they built, slowly but surely, an America that is now recognized by people everywhere as the world's greatest nation.

Our Founding Fathers had to fight a bloody war to throw off the yoke of an oppressive government which they had left behind them in Europe, but which insisted on following them here to America.

But, now, history is repeating itself. In recent years, many of the things because of which the early colonists fled from Europe and which the Founding Fathers drove out of the country, have reared their ugly heads again in this beloved America of ours. Bigotry, oppressive taxation and too much government, among other things, threaten to carry us back to a condition of servitude

Fair Enough... Ten-Year-Old Letter Dispels Hope For A World Of Trust

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

In all my service as a comic columnist I have never before repeated an essay out of the file but I believe you will agree that the remarks set forth below justify a four freedoms in the combination because Soviet Russia has been a dictatorship from the beginning, piece was written in January, 1943. More than ten years later, I would "not change a single word of it," as follows: "Realist I may be but, nevertheless, I insist that there is nothing in the past, or current record of human nature to justify a belief or even a hope that mankind will step out of this war into a beautiful world of mutual love, trust and universal justice or that such a state can ever be achieved. That doesn't mean that I would deplore such a condition for, on the contrary, I think that would be very nice, nor that I resent the efforts of Henry Wallace, our vice president, to dream it. But I still contend that it can't be done and that, if this is so, as a man of my belief must assume, then the United States will be the patay of the party if our government tries to make the dream come true.

"It is very nice to say that you believe in equality. It sounds pretty, but equality just doesn't exist and can't because some people have more ability than others, some have finer character, some have superior intelligence. Some are more energetic. Not even in a family do you find equality and, in a parliament of the world, the big nations would be looking out for No. 1, in various combinations, just as political machines do in city councils, state legislatures and the Congress of the U. S. A.

"The story has been repeated so often that some vast number of Americans, perhaps all but a few, believe that the League of Nations was wrecked by a few willful men who were unnecessarily and stupidly suspicious of the politicians and people of Europe. But there was more to it than that. The truth is also that the victors tried to create a lot of nations by taking back yard from one and a south forty from another and patching them together with a few scraps of treaty. I feel that she had been gypped and Germany gave herself over to self-sympathy, brooding and vengefulness, Czechoslovakia and Poland acquired areas of Germans who hated their new condition. They were frightened to conspire with Adolf Hitler.

"How else could we do it this time? Nobody tells us except that this time we must all love and trust one another and share what we have; that if we aren't prepared to love one another, then by God, we are dirty you know there any way to make people love one another?

"Why, even in a union, you find ambitious men, connivers and oppressors and bitterness, persecution and fighting, although the members are supposed to be bound together in a great brotherhood of labor against the common enemy, the boss. You will find jealousy on a college football team or in a church.

"The fact is that, though some of our great minds, though hearts regret as much, this is one of the big, powerful nations of the world and not equal but superior to most in most respects. We got that way by our own efforts on our merits, not because of a wonder luck in tumbling into a wonderful new land. Also, incidentally, we played some pretty mean tricks on those who owned the place when our people came, and those tricks, too, are part of the secret of our success.

"Those who are being the beautiful post-war brotherhood of all mankind don't you into details and you get some cranky answers and specifications. They say you are asking for perfection, for a dream world, delivered in a day. But they won't even deny that the question whether Russia will dominate the continent of Europe, and get sore at you for asking. Stalin isn't indulging in any such talk. He is making no commitments.

THE CURIOUS AMERICAN

By WILLIS E. STONE

President Eisenhower's recent report to the nation on the budget and taxation questions contained some important ideas which should be explored in greater detail.

Primarily, the President was defending "defense spending." He did so with the logic and skill of a career soldier who knows his business.

To give essential purpose to his arguments, he stated the primary function of government to which all Americans subscribe. He said: "WE MUST THINK AND PLAN AND PROVIDE SO AS TO LIVE THROUGH THIS AGE IN FREEDOM — IN THATS THAT DO NOT UNDERMINE OUR FREEDOM EVEN AS WE STRIVE TO DEFEND IT."

Webster defines the word "freedom" as "a state of exemption from the power or control of another; liberty; exemption from slavery, servitude, confinement, or constraint."

"This is, I think, a clear definition of the freedom we have come to regard as our traditional right and heritage. I believe it also coincides with the President's viewpoint because, in his speech he said:

"We believe—finally—that our truly urgent needs—to make our nation secure, our economy strong and our dollar sound.

"The American people agree with these concepts. There is a difference of opinion, however, on how to attain these objectives.

NON TAX REDUCTION President Eisenhower approached the problem from the standpoint that every possible reduction in the defense program he had inherited only reduced the anticipated deficit and left no room for any measurable tax reduction.

Valid as his viewpoint may be, it certainly does not end our obligation to extend our exploration for ways and means to cut the cost of government. While the bureaucratic propaganda tends to conceal all areas of probable economy in government, a few fundamental truths keep cropping out and demanding attention—truths destined to open the way for tremendous tax reductions—and a return of economic freedom.

THE MOST EXTRAORDINARY OPPORTUNITY FOR CUTTING THE COST OF GOVERNMENT—AND TAXES—APPEARS TO WAIT UPON PUBLICATION OF THE SALE OF THE PROPERTIES AND FACILITIES OF THE FEDERAL CORPORATIONS BACK TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE FROM WHOM THEY WERE TAKEN.

Harry Truman Pays Tribute To Heroes

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., May 30—UP—Former President Harry S. Truman marched Saturday in the front line of the annual Memorial Day parade from downtown Independence to Woodlawn Cemetery, a burial ground of pioneers.

At the cemetery, he was introduced to the crowd by Walter Angel, president of the Independence Patriotic Council.

Mr. Truman said he had told Angel he desired no speaking part in the program, but went on to say:

"I am merely here to pay tribute to those men who through the history of the Republic have given their lives to make it possible for the Republic to exist."

Milk Production Big Factor In Freeing Love Making Bull

MADISON, Wis., May 30—UP—The owners of Lowcowis Pearl Supreme, a bull of amorous pursuits, will not have to pay for his romantic wanderings.

Judge Douglas Nelson Friday turned down farmer Raymond Uphoff's demand that the owners pay for damages allegedly done to two of his young heifers when Lowcowis Pearl Supreme came into their lives.

Nelson ruled that the bull was responsible for two calves born to Uphoff's heifers. But the said Uphoff hadn't proved the incident hurt the heifer's milk production.

In making his ruling, Nelson cited a 1911 Wisconsin Supreme Court decision in which a heifer's owner was awarded $95. One judge said in his review:

"This plebeian bull, lowly born and nameless, having aspirations beyond his humble station in life, wandered beyond confines of his own pasture and sought the society of adolescent, unsophisticated Marthas—contrary to provisions of section 1482, statute of 1906."

The resulting calf's "sister Marth," the judge said, disqualified it "from becoming a candidate for pink ribbons at county fairs."

Living Conditions in Pampa Improved, Survey Discloses

(Special to The News) NEW YORK — Noteworthy advances have been made in Pampa in the last decade in the mode of living of the average local resident. Comforts of home that were either non-existent then, or possibly only to the wealthy, are now commonplace.

These changes are brought to attention by the recent Census of Housing conducted throughout the country by the U.S. Department of Commerce. The results are now being released.

Mechanical refrigeration, a modern-day comfort, is now to be found in 83 percent of the homes in Pampa. It is more common locally than in most parts of the United States, where only 80 percent of the homes are so equipped. In Texas the percentage is 74.

Central heating, another boon to a comfortable existence, is in 28 percent of Pampa's dwellings, as compared with only 11 percent throughout the state of Texas generally.

A slight indication of the progress toward better living, achieved in the decade, is to be seen in the fact that in 1940, in taking the Census of Housing, it was considered not worth while to count the number of homes with running hot water.

Today the story is quite different. In Pampa approximately 75 percent of the dwellings have hot and cold running water as well as private toilets and bath. This is a better showing than is made by the rest of the country, where only 64 percent were found with such conveniences. The Texas figure is 53 percent.

Another sign of the times is the fulfillment by more and more people of the urge to own their own homes. This goal has been reached by many in Pampa. The census shows that some 57 percent of the local dwellings are owner-occupied.

This is a greater proportion than was reported generally among the urban areas of the United States, 51 percent. It is also slightly more than the average for Texas, 56 percent.

Former White Deer Woman Devoting Life To Service

By MRS. JO HY-SMITH Pampa News Correspondent

WHITE DEER — (Special) — A versatile young lady, 24 years of age, who spent most of her adolescent years in and around the town of White Deer is giving people her life.

Miss Phyllis Shuman has been on the job since her sophomore year in White-Deer High School. An active church worker in the Methodist Church, Phyllis worked summers at Vacation Bible School, was organist for the church, helped with the organizing of the White Deer Brownie Troop, and devoted time to the Den in Cub Scout Pack.

Miss Shuman graduated from high school in 1945; and attended Colorado Women's College in Denver. In 1950, she received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Texas where she majored in sociology. While at Denver, she began working in the Mexican Missions — as did a number of students. At the close of the school year, Phyllis received the award for Christian Leadership. She was active in Schol-ship Societies and a member of Magna Cum Laude.

Following her graduation from Texas University, she accepted a teaching position in the Ozona Public Schools. At the end of the term, she decided this was not what she wanted to do. She entered McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, Illinois, where she received her Masters Degree in Sociology in 1952.

Some people look on graduation day as the end of education — book learning, that is. To this young lady, it meant the beginning of a program for the Seminary. Phyllis lived in a settlement house where she became engrossed in working with children. Entering a recreational program, two girls, at times accompanied by a ministerial student, provided a program for the underprivileged children from homes of mothers who worked.

In the summer of 1948, Phyllis, who is an accomplished musician of the piano and organ, was a leader at a camp for boys and girls in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. In the summer of 1949, her ability led her to West Virginia as a director of Girl Scouts — in a state wide camp.

Miss Shuman later was sent as a social worker among the migrant laborers in Arizona, at Casa Grande. The supervisor of the social work, Miss Shuman shared a fully equipped station wagon which carried them from camp to camp to administer the needs of that particular camp. The station wagon was equipped with a portable organ, a recording machine, a film projector, and record player, and book supplies which enabled the duo to carry on any kind of program suitable. A number of supplies have been added to the list by volunteer groups around White Deer who have in this way given the young lady a little bit of encouragement in her work.

The summer assignment was to Fort Lupton, Colorado, to do work among produce vegetable workers. As before, she and her supervisor go to various camps — sometimes together — sometimes separately. They are not required to attend camps in which only men are present. This summer's work is sponsored by the Migrant Ministry, which is a part of division of the Council. The inhabitants of these various camps are Mexican Nationals who are brought to the reception center at Fort Lupton from Old Mexico. Traveling by trucks at night, the workers are sent to the camps after being received. Fort Lupton is the main center, however, and it is here the girls are working.

Beginning in September, Miss Shuman will be back in Casa Grande, where she will work with the beet gatherers in that area. With her previous experience, she will be supervisor over another girl. Says Miss Shuman, "The work is here, and we who are in this kind of work take pride in doing our part."

It's Out Today... Hank Appraises His Book And Finds It High-Class Reading

By HENRY McLEMORE

"One of the great books of the 20th century. Will live in the hearts and minds of men forever."
— Henry McLemore.

"A rare achievement. Breathtaking, soul-stirring prose."
— McLemore, Henry.

"Its lyric beauty held me spellbound."
— H. M. Wright in gold. Beg, borrow, or steal the price of a copy."
— Mrs. J. S. McLemore's son, Henry.

"It marches with the grandeur of a thunderstorm over the Rockies and, besides, it fits neatly into a sack suit pocket."
— Mrs. Henry McLemore.

These are sample comments picked at random, praising a book published today by Henry Holt and Co. Its arresting title is "One Of Us Is Wrong," and it is selling for the ridiculously low sum of three dollars.

The author is Henry McLemore and I must admit that after reading a copy of "One Of Us Is Wrong," I agree in full with all the comments quoted above, although I do feel that they were too conservative. To me the book is—much, much—more than they are. While I am no authority on the publishing business, I would not be at all surprised to see it take its place alongside Coker's monumental work, "The Home Life of the Bald Eagle," as an international best-seller.

I picked up the book the other night and could not put it down except to watch "I Love Lucey," some wrestling matches, and to eat a slice of watermelon.

Now that you are going to buy the book I know that you would like to know something about the author. It so happens that I know him intimately. He is a wonderful man. Children adore him, as do wild animals. Many is the time

I have seen him stretched, beneath an oak tree chatting with nature's little ones.

In appearance he is very striking. Although short and squat, he gives the appearance of being tall and distinguished, and while he leans toward baldness many have been known to believe that he has a full head of hair.

McLemore's hobbies are varied—he loves to retreat old tires, up the face, it makes a perfect shield against the sun for sunbathers.

Thank you for reading my endorsement of my friend's book. I wild animals. Many is the time

McLemore is gifted musically, too. When he was no more than six years of age he was first soloist with the Rochelle (Ga.) Paper and Comb Philharmonic. And before he was ten he had mastered the player piano.

"One Of Us Is Wrong" is not just a book to read and put aside. It was designed for many purposes. Pages 103-106 inclusive are ideal for pot holders. The entire book is perfect for throwing at the kitchen or birds when they invade your flower garden. Seven or eight of the books, piled on the other, will lift even the smallest child to the proper height in a barber's chair. And when opened in the middle, and spread over the face, it makes a perfect shield against the sun for sunbathers.

Thank you for reading my endorsement of my friend's book. I wild animals. Many is the time

Seaman, Missionary Team To Wipe Out Nation's Slums

WASHINGTON, May 30 — UP — A one-time merchant seaman and a former Mormon missionary have teamed up in a dynamic attempt to wipe out the nation's slums and give America's cities a "new face."

Yates Cook gave up the sea 13 years ago to become a Baltimore building inspector. Horrified by the living conditions he found in the slums, he developed a program—now nationally known as the "Baltimore plan"—to clean up his city.

Alan E. Brockbank, Salt Lake City, Utah, builder and past president of the National Association of Home Builders, has thrown the influence and prestige of the Association's 26,000 members behind Cook's plan and hopes to spread it across the nation.

They propose a three-point program for every city in the land: 1. Conservation of existing good housing, through remodeling and repair, so that they do not become slums.

2. Rehabilitation of existing slums.

3. Urban redevelopment on a neighborhood basis.

"In our code of ethics," Brockbank said, "Every American is entitled to a clean, safe and sanitary home."

Temes' Run Double in 10th Beats Clovis For Oilers

Sad Sam Chokes Off Pioneers in 10th

CLOVIS, May 30 — A two-run double by Manny Temes in the top of the 10th inning gave the Pampa Oilers an uphill 13-11 decision over the Clovis Pioneers in the opening game of a two-game series here tonight.

The Oilers who were behind 6-0 at one time during the game, fought off a last desperate bid by the Pioneers in the bottom of the 10th with Sad Sam Williams coming on to put out the fire.

Eddie Hughes, the third of four Oiler pitchers in the game, got credit for the win. The crafty left-hander made his third appearance in as many nights. He relieved Ben Quintana, the second Oiler pitcher, in the sixth and hurled effective ball until walking leadoff man Charlie Watts in the tenth.

Williams was then called to the rescue and got Paul Flores to bounce into a double play, Temes to Ben Felder to Doug Lewis. Williams then struck out Roy Parker to end the game.

In the 10th, John Sanderson started the rally with a long double to right-center after one away. Lewis moved him to third on a deep fly to right for the second out.

Buddy Yount, the third Pioneer pitcher to see action in the game, was ordered to intentionally pass manager Porky Pawelek and set the stage for Temes' two-ply poke.

Temes' drive rolled to the right centerfield fence and scored both Sanderson and Pawelek.

For Hughes, it was his third win of the season against five losses. He allowed only two hits during his four-inning tenure on the mound. However, the one hit was a double by Virgil Richardson and scored Parker, who had walked with the tying run in the eighth, 11-1. That sent the game to overtime.

Roger Aldridge started on the mound for the Oilers but the rookie right-hander grew wild after getting off to a good start. In the third with the Pioneers leading 1-0, Aldridge walked four in a row, forcing one run across and then Don Moore unloaded the bases with a tremendous grand slam, sending the Pioneers out in front, 6-0.

The Oilers battled back in the middle innings to get back in the ball game and go ahead after five innings, 11-10. Hughes relieved Quintana in the sixth.

The two teams will wind up their two-game series here Sunday afternoon. Roy Machado is due to get the mound call for the Oilers; Machado's record to date is 2-1.

After Sunday's game, the Oilers will return to Pampa for a brief two-game home stand, Monday and Tuesday, meeting the league-leading Lubbock Hubbers in the two games.

Bums Win A Pair Dodger HRs Too Much For Pirates

PITTSBURGH, May 30 — UP—double by Danny O'Connell with Six Brooklyn home runs defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-4 and 4-1 in a doubleheader Saturday as the Dodgers stretched their winning streak to eight consecutive games.

The Dodgers won the opener by scoring all their runs on four homers off losing Pitcher Murrey Dickson. Two were by Gil Hodges, and Roy Campanella and Pitcher Ben Wade socked one each.

Rightfielder Carl Furillo put the Dodgers ahead to stay in the second inning of the second game with a two-run homer off starting pitcher Bob Friend. Then third baseman Billy Cox touched Roger Bowman's curve for his second round-tripper of the year in the eighth inning.

A single by Junior Gilliam, Pee-wee Reese's single, and Duke Snider's fly to center set up the Dodgers' fourth run in the eighth with Gilliam scoring on Jackie Robinson's force-out of Reese at second.

The Pirates opened the second game, scoring on a walk and a

.200 Hitter Leads Texas L. In RBIs

By UNITED PRESS

Big Russ Burns isn't hitting his weight for the Oklahoma City Indians, but the veteran Texas League outfielder isn't wasting many of his blows.

The 210-pound long ball hitter has hit safely only 31 times in 41 games for a dismal .205 batting average—down among the pitchers.

But, he's driven in 34 runs to top the league in that respect. That's nearly a fifth of the Indians' total output of 194 runs.

Burns usually ranks well up among the home run smashers, but he's collected only four to date this season; and he's rapped out only seven doubles along with 20 singles—nearly every blow coming with men on ahead of him.

Earl Brucker of Beaumont is leading the circuit in hitting with a classy .367 average, followed by Eddie Phillips of Houston at .358, but neither of these players have been at bat half as many times as Fort Worth's Forrest Jacobs, who is hitting .354, leading the loop in hits (62); an sharing the stolen base lead with teammate Gale Wade (7).

Rounding out the top five hitters are Joe Frazier of Oklahoma City at .351 and George Lerchen of Tulsa at .349.

DiMaggios' Brother Dies Of Drowning

BODEGA BAY, Calif., May 30 — UP—The body of Mike DiMaggio, brother of baseball players Joe, Dom and Vince DiMaggio, was found floating in Bodega Bay early Saturday by fishing companions.

Sheriff Harry Pattison said DiMaggio apparently fell off his fishing boat while preparing for a fishing trip and drowned.

DiMaggio, 48, and John Bertoli, with whom DiMaggio shared a boat, were scheduled to join a fleet of salmon fishing boats early Saturday. When their boat failed to appear, Pete Bellamo and Alvin Jacobbi went to their dock and found the DiMaggio boat's motors running but still tied up at the dock. Bertoli was below deck asleep.

DiMaggio's body was found floating some 200 yards off the dock. Sheriff Pattison said the body had a slight swelling around the right eye and a small abrasion and gash on his head which probably were incurred when he fell overboard.

Heart Attack Claims 'Man Mountain Dean'

NORCROSS, Ga., May 30 — UP—Fabulous "Man Mountain Dean," the colorful bearded giant who put the "act" into wrestling, will be given a full military burial Monday.

The 200-pound "Man Mountain," whose real name was Frank S. Leavitt, died at his Georgia home Friday of a heart attack. He was 63.

Dean wrestled 6,783 matches — 18 in one day — during a long and varied career that included football, acting, politics and the Army.

Because of his love for the military, Dean will be buried in the memorial cemetery in Marietta, according to tentative plans. Mrs. Leavitt said she had requested such a burial and that she was awaiting word from relatives to complete arrangements.

Dean had not been ill. His wife said he told her his heart was hurting "and a few minutes later he was dead."

The huge athlete was proud of his wrestling prowess. He beat 18 men in one day to win the king's wrestling tournament in London in 1913.

"Lotsa times," he recalled, "I fought 14 bums in one day."

He pioneered the gaudy wrestling style of today and was a favorite of Hollywood.

Temple's Traylor To Attend Baylor

TEMPLE, Tex., May 30 — UP—Doyle Traylor, one of the most sought-after schoolboy athletes in Texas high school football history, Saturday announced he would attend Baylor University.

Traylor, a 185-pound T-quarterback and passer de luxe for Temple High the past three seasons, has not signed a "letter of intent" with Baylor, but said he would do so after the conclusion of his baseball eligibility. His team now is in the state playoffs.

The two-times all-state Class AAA quarterback, Traylor said his final choice — "a hard job" — lay between Baylor and Rice Institute and that "the Rice offer was a hard one to turn down," but that he believed he would be happier at Baylor.

"I like Baylor, the people, and it will be close to home," Traylor said in casting his lot with the Baptist school only 30 miles away.

The 17-year-old youngster in three years of high school football, one of them played with a sprain on his back because of a spinal operation, threw 76 touchdown passes and led Temple to the state

Dutch Harrison Grabs Lead In Western Open Tournament

ST. LOUIS, May 30 — UP—Dutch Harrison, a veteran Ardmore, Okla., pro, grabbed the third-round lead in the Western Open Golf tournament at Bellville Country Club Saturday with a one-under-par 209.

Harrison, who shared second place with Freddie Haas of New Orleans Friday, shot par golf Saturday to edge his nearest competitor, Skee Riegel of Tulsa, by one stroke.

Ed Furgol, a local pro who led after the second round, went three over par Saturday to slip to third place with 211.

Harrison, who has played steady golf so far, got birdies at the 2nd, 3rd and 15th holes on 30, 35 and 40-footers.

Riegel, who toured the front nine in 36, bore down to finish one under and bring his "brother-in-law" to 210. He also got three birdies, at the 10th, 11th and 14th holes, before bogeying on the 16th.

Furgol lost ground, after shooting a 68 Friday, when he finished the third round in 73.

CHICAGO, May 30 — UP—Ferris Fair's ninth inning single scored Chico Carrasquel with the winning run to give the Chicago White Sox a 6-5 victory in the second game and a split in a Memorial Day doubleheader with Cleveland before 371 sweltering fans.

Cleveland won the first game 7-2.

With the scored tied at 5-5, Carrasquel led off the ninth with his second double of the game. Rivera sacrificed him to third and he scored on Fair's single.

The split pushed the White Sox back into second place, a half game in front of Cleveland, and four games behind the Yankees.

The practice game victories came over Wheeler High School, 15-11; and White Deed twice, 23-3 and 38-8.

The Raiders will play LeFors in a Wheeler League game at Wheeler Tuesday, starting at 7:30 p. m.

DETROIT, May 30 — UP—The St. Louis Browns made it seven in a row over the Detroit Tigers Saturday by sweeping a doubleheader, 5 to 4 and 13 to 1, before 24,007 fans at Briggs Stadium.

Don Lennhardt's pinch single with the bases full in the ninth drove in two runs to settle the opener and the Browns pounded out 15 hits, including home runs by Johnny Groth and Vic Wertz, to capture the nightcap.

Virgil Trucks won the opener, his fifth victory against two losses, and Bob Cain gained credit for the second triumph, his first against two losses.

Eagles Top All 3-AA Selections

ABILENE, May 30—UP—The champion Abilene High School Eagles landed five players on the District 3-AA All-District baseball team to pace the six-member loop in a poll conducted by the Abilene Reporter-News of sports writers throughout the regular season. Only one boy, right-hand pitcher Jim Spradley of Abilene, gained the team with a unanimous vote. He received first team votes from all the sports writers. Odessa and Big Spring failed to place a man on the first team, but Odessa landed three on the second team, while Big Spring placed two. Abilene also had three on the runner-up team, with San Angelo, Lamesa and Midland placing one each.

Cubs, Reds Split Amid Rhubarbs

CINCINNATI, May 30—UP—In a rule that Catcher Hobie Landrith had tagged him in time to retire the side. The Cubs stormed Secory and, after a conference with umpire-in-chief Larry Goetz, he changed his decision to safe, which would have made the score 2-1. That brought Reds' Manager Rogers Hornsby and the 'Cincy' players storming in to home plate. After a second conference with Goetz and Hornsby, Secory returned to his original call. Chicago Manager Phil Cavaretta immediately announced his team was playing under protest, but the protest was nullified when the Cubs managed to get the Reds out without a run being scored in the ninth. Home runs by Hank Sauer and Roy Smalley provided the Cubs with their victory in a bitter battle all the way.

Seixas Upset In French Net Finals

PARIS, May 30—UP—Ken Rosewall, the 18-year-old Australian champion, upset Vic Seixas of Philadelphia Saturday to win the men's singles title in the French International Tennis Championships as Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., won the women's crown. The youngest player ever to win the championship, Rosewall downed the U. S. No. 2 player, 6-4, 6-4, 1-6, 6-2, while Miss Connolly defeated defending champion Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., 6-2, 6-4. It marked only the second time in 20 years that an Australian has won the men's singles title in the tourney. Jack Crawford having taken it last in 1933, while Miss Connolly became the first woman of her age—she, too, is only 18—ever to win all four world major women's singles titles—the U.S., Wimbledon and Australian, in addition to the French. Rosewall's triumph was his third over Seixas in as many matches. The blonde Australian defeated the Philadelphian in the semi-finals of the Australian championships in January and in the fourth round of the U. S. championships at Forest Hills, N. Y., last September. Rosewall left the 10,000 fans crowding the concrete stands of Roland Garros stadium gasping with admiration with his faultless tennis against Seixas. The young Australian's masterful play in the phases of the game disheartened Seixas as Rosewall beat him repeatedly with perfectly placed shots. Rosewall, committing only 26 errors against 39 for Seixas, required only an hour and 35 minutes to defeat his favored opponent.

Southern Amateur Golf Field Loaded With Top Texas Talent

DALLAS, May 30—UP—Defending champion Gay Brewer of Louisville, Ky., heads a fast field of more than 125 of the South's finest links men entered in the 47th annual Southern Amateur Golf Championship opening here Tuesday. Brewer's 1952 finalist opponent, Vernon Swaites of Knoxville, Tenn., will not be in the field, but the bulky entry list contained a score or more top-flight challengers capable of dethroning the Kentucky. Two other former champions—Arnold Blum of Marion, Ga., the 1951 winner, and Tommy Barnes of Atlanta, who cupped the title in 1947 and again in 1949—were due to be seeking places in the 64-player championship flight in the 36 holes of qualifying play Tuesday and Wednesday. In addition, a top-heavy crew of Texas, including Don Cherry, a finalist in the 1952 National Amateur, promised plenty of trouble ahead before Brewer can repeat his victory at Knoxville. Lakewood Country Club, a tricky, 4,486-yard par 36-35-71 layout, will be the scene of the tournament, which will have two rounds of match play Thursday and Friday and 36-hole semi-finals and final Saturday and Sunday. So fast was the field that observers generally predicted it would take a 120-eight over par to qualify for the championship flight. In addition to Brewer, Blum and Barnes, other highly-regarded title possibilities include little Joe Conrad, former Texas amateur champ from North Texas State, and two of his college teammates—Marion Hisey and Stan Mosel. Floyd and Don Addington, the red-hot brother combination from Southern Methodist; Dick Colford Jr., of New Orleans; Eddie Merring of Meridian, Miss.; Beverly Nabers of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Morton Bright and Carling Dinkler Jr. of Atlanta; Draw Liddell of Shreveport; Harold Wesley of Greenville, Ala.; Zeke Carter of Columbia, Ga.; Chuck Shelton of Miami, Fla.; and Charles Dudley of Greenville, S.C.

Sandies Capture All-Sports Award

AMARILLO, May 30—UP—Amarillo High School Saturday was announced as winner of the Amarillo News & Globe—Times District 1-AAAA all-sports trophy. The award based on a point system giving first place five points in various sports eight points, second place seven, etc., went to Amarillo with 41 points, four ahead of Abilene, for finishing first in golf, tennis and baseball, second in basketball and track and sixth in football. Odessa won the trophy last season, the first year it was put up.

Sens Option Campos

WASHINGTON, May 30—UP—The Washington Senators Saturday optioned outfielder Frank Campos to Toronto of the International League, subject to 24-hour recall. Campos saw little action this year, appearing as a pinch-hitter nine times and setting one hit for an .059 average.

To Be Held Friday, Saturday 81 Colleges To Enter NAIA Track-Field Meet At Abilene

ABILENE, Tex., May 30—UP—Entries have been received from 81 colleges throughout the United States for the National Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet which starts Friday. Preliminaries in the track and field division will be held Friday night at the McMurry College field with finals scheduled for Saturday night. Golf and tennis competition will also be held during the two days. Only four meet records appeared to be out of danger—those in the pole vault, javelin, mile run and two-mile run. Defending track champion Abilene Christian College was expected to get strong competition from Coach Choc Sportsman's strong San Diego State entry. Dashes to Highlight Meet The wholesale assault on meet records will be centered around the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Of the 25 entries in the 100-yard dash, 16 sprinters have tied or broken the 9.9 record set last year by Bransford Watson of Texas College. Watson, also the record holder in the 220-yard dash with a time of 21.7, recently transferred to the University of Pittsburgh and will not defend his championships. The runners, James Moore, Florida A&M, Henry Graffied, Grambling College, La., and Ralph Aldredge, Texas Southern, have already bettered Watson's 100-yard dash record in earlier meets this year. All have run the century in 9.6. Abilene Christian's George Adrian looked to be the man to beat in the 220-yard dash with a previous record of 20.8. Aldredge and Moore have both been timed in 21.2's in the event while, of the entry list, a total of 11 have tied or bettered the record. Holding Returning Chuck Holding of East Texas, returns to defend his 220-yard dash title in the high jump. Holding, one of the best high jumpers in collegiate ranks, has already leaped 6-9 3/4 inches this year. Burl McCoy of A&M, who has caught Mike Suggs before the year off, carded an 80 which left her with 15 strokes behind. The final 18 holes will be played Sunday in the $2,000 two-day play sponsored by the Philadelphia Inquirer Charities, Inc., at the 6,670-yard Whitmarsh Valley Country Club.

Baylor Gets 6 More On 'Dotted-Line'

WACO, May 30—UP—Six more "letters of intent" from athletes desiring to attend school next year were received Friday by Baylor University according to Athletic Director George Sauer. Kirk Kuykendall played at Scripps Institute last fall. He is a center from Austin. Hugh Harman, an all-District halfback, and Dugan Pearce, a 190-pound lineman, both of El Paso Austin high school; Porter Smith, an 185-pound end from Seymour; Charles Bradshaw, a track and basketball star from Center; and Bobby Morris, a 185-pound tailback from Seymour who is the son of Baylor's 1928 football captain, are the five high school athletes included.

A&M's Kyle Field Undergoing Face-Lifting; New Seats Added

COLLEGE STATION, May 30—(Special) Kyle Field, home of the Texas Aggie football team, is undergoing an extensive face-lifting. Construction is underway on a new 2,500-seat addition to the west stands of the stadium. This new section will boost the total capacity in the concrete stands to 25,000. Five-thousand bleacher seats will raise the capacity to 40,000 seats for overflow crowds. The addition, which will be between the 30-yard lines, will be ready for use at A&M's opening game next fall against the University of Houston's athletic council, told reporters that a game between Houston and Notre Dame "had been discussed." Hugh Roy Cullen, chairman of the school's board of regents, also said such a game had been discussed and there would be further talks this fall. Houston only recently climbed into "big time" football ranks and last season won its first Missouri Valley Conference crown.

Suggs Extends Lead At Philly

PHILADELPHIA, May 30—UP—Louise Suggs, the systematic soccer from Atlanta, Ga., mowed down the opposition on a rain-soaked course Saturday and shot three under par 72 to increase her lead over Patty Berg to 10 strokes in the women's Weathermans Cross-Country Golf Tournament. The slim, Southern girl, an automaton in face of weather conditions which halted the start of play for more than two hours, near the $5,000 jackpot for the 144-hole transcontinental tour with a 128-hole total of 519. She was just about unbeatable as the tournament neared its end. Miss Berg, who started the day in second place three strokes behind, dragged an ailing putter which upped her to 79 and left her with a $29 card. Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S.C., the only other woman pro who conceivably could catch Miss Suggs before the year off, carded an 80 which left her with 15 strokes behind. The final 18 holes will be played Sunday in the $2,000 two-day play sponsored by the Philadelphia Inquirer Charities, Inc., at the 6,670-yard Whitmarsh Valley Country Club.

The RECORD SHOP

BY RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—You just can't figure this crazy record business. They took a cute gal who used to dance and told her to sing. Then, because she was a gay, happy person, they made her sing slow, sad songs.

Presto, Joni James was a hit. Right now she could record "The Road to Mandalay" in Pig Latin and it would be a smash. She modestly says there are girls with better voices around. But the public thinks otherwise. People just seem to like to hear her tear-jerking MGM platters.

And what does Joni think is the key to Joni's success?

"Joni likes people," said Joni, sipping a lemonade, "and they know that. It comes across. I just sing naturally. Everybody talks about my 'style,' but all I do is sing the way I always did."

Miss James is a tiny, 22-year-old Chicagoan with flashing eyes and supreme confidence in herself. Both are refreshing.

"I always had a feeling in the pit of my insides," she says, "that I'd be a success. Of course, I thought I'd be a success as a dancer. I always sang, but dancing was what I loved most."

So they made her a singer. She is very happy. She likes to sing. She often sings for nothing, to wounded soldiers in veterans' hospitals. And she often sings for money in plush night clubs. It doesn't matter.

Woman, Youth Face Charge Of Murder

EDINBURG, Tex., May 30—UP—Natalia de la Rosa and 18-year-old Adair Barajas Estrada have been charged with murdering the 41-year-old woman's common law husband nearly two years ago.

Royce Ovalle was killed in June, 1951, by a blow on the back of the head with an axe handle. His body, dumped into a canal north of McAllen, was found several days later but the crime remained unsolved.

Tom Wingert, Hidalgo county chief deputy sheriff, said Miss de la Rosa walked into McAllen police headquarters several days ago and told officers that Estrada might know something about Ovalle's death.

Authorities picked up Estrada for questioning and said he made a full statement. Both he and the woman were charged Wednesday with murder.

Officers accused Mrs. de la Rosa and Estrada of plotting to kill Ovalle because they fell in love.

Capitol: "Punch, Brother, Punch" (Sandy Stewart, Okeh); "We're a-Growin' Up" (Tennessee Ernie and Molly Bee, Capitol); POP ALBUM: Columbia has done a fine re-creation of Rodgers' and Hart's "On Your Toes." A good cast does right by such tunes as "There's a Small Hotel."

CLASSICAL: A real treat is Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra playing Sibelius' Lemminkainen Suite (Columbia); Franck's beautiful Sonata in A Major, usually scored for violin and piano, is given an interesting reading by cellist Leonard Rose and pianist Leonid Hambro (Columbia).

1953 Revue

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT, but from start to performance there are many steps before the dance is considered "polished." Students at the Beaux Arts Dance Studio have been working for the past nine months on their production, "1953 Revue." These students have worked long hours to perfect each step and turn for the production Monday evening at 7:30 in the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium. This is sponsored by the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority.

CARMELITA HOGAN, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hogan, 2007 Williston, puts the finishing polish on her solo, "Avalon."

JEANNE-WILLINGHAM gives CYNTHIA PLASTER instructions at the bar. Although it is a lot of work it's "a lot of fun" says this 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Plaster, 1336 Coffee.

MRS. V. L. WATKINS, 1520 Hamilton, adds the glitter to her daughter's costume. LESLIE, 5, will be presented in the "Sing a Song of Sunbeams" and "Animal Crackers in My Soup" dances.

"SIDE BY SIDE" these two girls, Karolyn Kay, 8, and Kenye Sue McGuire, 5, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McGuire, 105 N. Faulkner, practice for their sister song and dance act by the same name.

SUSIE FILLMAN, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Fillman, 233 N. Nelson, will be featured in "The Stair Dance." She will also solo in "The Silver Fairy" from "Sleeping Beauty."

JUANNA JO AND LINDA MOORE, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Moore of White Deer, are scheduled to appear in a sister act, "Linda and the Jack-in-the-Box." PAMELA JEANNE PARKER, a member of the "Little Harvester Pep Squad," wonders why that act can't go on without her. This 2½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce L. Parker, 1202 E. Browning, tells her mother that the stage is just too-o-oo big.

Page 14 PAMPA NEWS, SUNDAY, MAY 31, 1953

WITH SCHOOL OUT and this being a long week end, ever so many Pampans have taken advantage and have taken off for a short vacation. Peg bets that fishing is the predominant pastime and, according to the latest fishing calendar, this week end is supposed to be good for that favorite sport. Never have been able to figure how they work that out and unbeknown to me if it actually works. . . must, in some part of the United States, but where you go may not be that part, and again it may?

THERE HAVE BEEN a number of piano recitals recently and now comes the time for the dancing ones. Students of Jeanne Willingham will appear in a dance recital tomorrow night in the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium. Have seen some of the costumes and they are adorable. Just love to see stage productions when they feature "colorful and cute costumes." JAN DYER and RHONA FINKELSTEIN are among JEANNE'S advanced students and always enjoy them when they dance. Peg believes that both studied dancing in California last summer. Of course the little ones always make a hit, and an anxious to see them all tomorrow night.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS: Baking powder will remove tea or coffee stains from china pots or cups. . . To prevent rice, dried beans, potatoes, etc. from boiling over on your cooking, put a little lightly covered pan, add just a tiny bit of butter or other shortening. It works — and since most of these dishes require butter for seasoning, it in no way spoils the flavor of the food. . . Put a handful of sugar in water in which you boil ham. . . Use lemon to bring out flavor. Rub chicken with cut lemon before cooking. . . Mince meat white, juicy and tender. Squeeze juice of lemon over steak before serving; improves flavor and adds vitamins — helps to make an old fowl tender.

Simple Tricks Lend Bedroom Spacious Look

A small bedroom can achieve a spacious air with a few simple decorating tricks. Use a light color on 3 walls, a dark shade — gray, blue, green — on the fourth. Keep furniture simple, sparse and small in scale. Patterns of fabric and wallpaper should be in a small scale. Repeat the wall color in the bedspread; for example, against a white wall, use a white cotton bedspread with tiny all-over pattern of moss roses. With a floral paper with yellow background, use an all-yellow bedspread which repeats the yellow of the paper. Matching draperies will give the small room an uncluttered look that helps to create a feeling of space. Desley fabric designers suggest that the ensemble look be carried still further by using a matching vanity skirt in the dressing-room, a matching shower curtain in the bath (line it with tulle for practical purposes), and match curtain closest walls to bed-room walls. This unified treatment will "stretch" space.

Twins Have Double Trouble In Movies

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY NEW YORK, May 30-UP—It's twice as hard to become a famous actress when there are two of you with the same idea—and the same face. This double trouble was related last Thursday by a couple of ladies who are identical, even to their ambitions. They're twins, Dran and Tani Seitz. They are 24, pretty, congenial and not satisfied with the usual run of twin acts in show business. "I want to do Camille," sighed Tani. "I want to do Juliet," sighed Dran. Why don't they go job hunting separately? Tani claims she would be quite content to step aside if Dran got a big dramatic role offered her, and vice versa. But they've done so much work together that producing feelings, said Dran, or Tani. "It's not think of them as a pair. . . Sometimes they say they don't want to offer one of us a part because of hurting the other one's 'wouldn't you,' said Tani, or maybe Dran. . . They have a confusing habit of finishing each other's sentences, until it's almost impossible to know who said what. They like each other, which is the main reason they've stayed together. Besides they just get mildly discouraged by getting parts as twin sisters in the 3-D movie, a combination that seems rare enough to encourage anybody. A WHO-DUN-IT MOVIE. They won't look exactly alike in the movie, which is based on Mickey Spillane's who-dunit "The Jury." "We never really wanted to make a movie too much," said Dran. "We thought the stage was the real theater." "In Hollywood you're accepted as a beauty or a cutie," Tani said solemnly. "We want to be actresses."

Coronation Fever Breaks Out In New York City

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY NEW YORK, May 30-UP—Coronation gowns and miniature royal coaches are on sale along Fifth Avenue. The coronation fever broke out all over this week in displays that rival the real thing. There's even a Piccadilly Street now. The British Trafal Center got permission to change the Madison Avenue sign at the corner of 43d Street to read Piccadilly and hung a garland of roses on the corner lamp post besides. Original models of coronation gowns designed for princesses went on display in the Fifth Avenue windows of Bergdorf Goodman's. A lady can order a copy of one of the glittering dresses if she likes, though the store doesn't expect many customers. Read The News Classified Ads.

Today's Bride Has Fewer Possessions But More Knowledge Than Mother Did

The luckiest girls in the world are America's young brides, according to McCall's Magazine. Most of them start life on a shoestring with fewer possessions than did their parents, but they are better trained to add to the family income, have many more household aids to start with, are better informed about sex and enjoy a freer and more companionable relationship with their husbands. To find out these and many other facts about how the modern American bride lives, McCall's conducted two intensive nationwide surveys and reports its findings on the June issue. "Last year some 1,600,000 couples in the United States just embarked on that fateful first year of marriage. Most of the brides and their bridegrooms are young — the youngest in our national records — first-time brides. She does when McCall's interviewed them? "Most of them were working. The modern bride, we found, has worked since she left school, and expects to go on working after marriage, until the first baby appears on the scene when — she tells us so unanimously that we cannot doubt her — she will be perfectly happy to stop work and raise her brood. Together she and her husband make about $5,000 a year. The modern bride at home is a young woman in a sport skirt and sweater or blouse. Average weight about 115 pounds, face plain or pretty, complexion unblemished, hair cut fairly short, waved, often permantented. She wears fine nylon stockings and neat pumps or sandals. Very few wear bobby socks. None wear the ill-fitting house dresses we used to call 'binglow aprons.' Though they do their heavy cleaning in blue jeans or pedal-pushers, they do not wear pants all day because of their jobs. In fact, they look exceedingly feminine. "The wedding trousseau — once the big expense — is quite a modest affair, not assembled long in advance, bought in local stores and usually paid for by the girl herself out of her earnings. Today's bride usually relies on showers and wedding presents to bring in table and kitchen linens, blankets, sheets, pillow cases and practical bath towels. "The total wedding expenses, we found, cost the average American father about one-fifth of his yearly earnings, including the champagne. Occasionally a sensible daughter will prefer to pocket the money as the down payment on a house, but the average bride is willing to let the future take care of itself. She is willing, too, to pay three or four times her weekly salary for her wedding finery. "Many live-in-two-or-three-room flats in made-over houses heated and lighted but quite devoid of charm. For these they pay ridiculously high rents — $60, $75, even $95 and $110 a month. The cheapest we saw — $32 — was in a funeral-home building. No one seems downed by a poor flat. It is simply a makeshift till

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Friend Grace
I read in your daily paper of the idea of doing away or at least slashing the income tax. It is one of the nicest ideas that could happen to us good Americans and it requires careful consideration. I'm 100 percent American but there is such a thing as going too far beyond reason. I myself never thought it quite fair that so very much is taken out of the working man's check. After all it is said and done one has so little. If only the higherups here and elsewhere would or could realize just how difficult it is to look ahead. They themselves wouldn't exist. Housewives should be more considered. Just think, their deduction is only $400 per year. You know that wouldn't provide too much for the housewife who does so much.

I think they have gone overboard. Taxes on ladies' purses, as I feel you'll agree, are unessential. Even though we don't have too much to carry in purses it would be most inconvenient to carry what we have in a hankie. So therefore I do believe luxury tax on them should be discontinued. Also on cosmetics.

And another thing—we are doing far too much for other countries. They should be more self-supporting. They depend on the good old USA too much.

I see no reason why they shouldn't think we are the most wonderful people, always ready to help. It sort of gets under one's skin. Live and let live is my motto. We have much to be thankful for. Do let's appreciate same.

Mrs. R.L.S.
Dear Mrs. S.
Don't forget to write to your congressman also.

Manners Make Friend

It's not just when you say "Thank you" that is important. How you say it makes the big difference. The person who has done something for you, even if it is only holding a door until you pass through, is entitled to more than you." He is entitled to have you a cool or absent-minded "Thank meet his eyes, to be rewarded with a smile that acknowledges a small kindness for what it is. Then your "thank you" means something. Tips For Tasks

There are four tests to make when deciding on the suitability of a soap or detergent: 1. It should dissolve instantly in water of whatever temperature you have selected. 2. It should never form a floating scum or sticky mass in water. 3. It should be strong enough to clean, but not strong enough to injure fabrics or skin. 4. You should not need to use more than 1 1/2 cups per wash load.

Gingham Meets Jersey

In Paris, there's fashion news in the way that Jean Desses combines a black-and-white check gingham (above) with black jersey. Jersey makes the blouse and the lining of the wide-spreading stole.—By Rosette Hargrove, NEA Staff Correspondent.

Yellow and coral are interesting color accents for an early American room. A quaint provincial pattern in a small scale will permit the graceful outlines of this kind of furniture to show to best advantage. Add yellow draping and a matching tasseled trim to emphasize graceful contours.

Desley fabric designers suggest that the amateur home decorator who is undecided about her color choice be guided by the drapery colors. RUTH MILLETT

Mrs. J., age 55, and recently widowed, writes of a problem common to a great many widows. All of her friends were couples and now that she is alone they have gradually stopped including her in their entertaining. She feels it is heartless of them. And, perhaps, it is.

But have you thought of this Mrs. J.—if, during the years when you were married, you had made some friends among lone women you would have them now for friends and would readily be included in their social life?

DON'T LIMIT FRIENDSHIPS

A great many married women do limit their friendships to married women. Then, if they are left alone, they feel out of place in their own social group. It is not only a thoughtful, kindly woman but a wise woman who doesn't limit her friendships to couples.

Her inclusion of lone women in her social life out of her own generosity and understanding gives her friends to fall back on if she should be left alone.

So don't feel too hurt when your married friends gradually forget you.

Apparently, when you were in their situation you did not go out of your way to make friends with women without husbands.

WIVES SHOULD LOOK AHEAD

If you had, you would not be feeling as neglected and out of things as you do.

As for middle-aged women who still have their husbands, give Mrs. J.'s situation a little thought. When you go out of your way now to make friends among lone women you will not only be widening your social circle. You also, some day, will find that the lone women to whom you are offering friendship will be the friends most understanding of your loneliness should you ever be left alone.

Foot Balm Relieves Soreness Of Feet

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Live there the lady who hasn't known the misery of burning, aching feet that can't walk another step?

When you come home from a day of walking on concrete sidewalks, so unyielding to the feet, and standing at store counters waiting your turn, the first thing you want to do is dump your parcels, kick off your shoes, peel off your stockings and drop in the nearest chair. But don't stop there! Do something to bring quick relief to your feet and therefore to your whole body.

Make your barefoot way to the bathroom, turn on both hot and cold water faucets in the tub, and give yourself a contrast foot bath under the running water. If you have just one tap, of the type that mixes the water, you'll have to keep changing from hot to cold to get the contrast.

When the sore feeling is gone, dry your feet well, dust them with talcum powder and lie down with feet above your head for awhile.

Still another system for bringing quick relief is to apply a foot balm which a cosmetics firm makes for untensing foot muscles, relieving burning sensations and softening the skin of the feet.

Dairy Products June Plentiful

Milk and other dairy products join the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list for June. In fact, they are so plentiful they have been designated as the featured food for the entire month. Stores are amply stocked with almost every kind of dairy product. Butter, buttermilk, butter, cottage and cheddar cheese, evaporated milk, condensed milk, non-fat dry milk, and ice cream. All give homemakers an excellent opportunity to get more dairy products into diets.

There are several reasons why dairy products are so plentiful. The winter was mild and as a result the usual slump in milk production did not develop. Too, dairymen have been feeding their herds liberal amounts of supplemental rations. And, in many areas, there are more dairy cows than a year ago. Cold storage holdings are large, too. For example, at the end of April supplies of evaporated and condensed milk in cooler space totaled 26.5 million cases, or about six times more than a year ago. Cheese stocks at 283.5 million pounds are about 104 million pounds more than last year. Current butter holdings total 152.9 million pounds, compared with 10.5 million pounds last year. All of this adds up to good news to homemakers. For dairy products are a prize package, money wise and nutrition wise. Nutrition wise, dairy products are rich in calcium needed for good bones and teeth. The same holds true for the B vitamin called riboflavin. They contain the mineral phosphorus, vitamin A and some D, also fat, sugar and first-rate protein for body tissue building and repair.

Lawyer Says She Would Not Be Happy In States

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK, May 30 — Mrs. Mildred Hermann thought it would be nice to spend a year in Alaska when she went there to teach in 1919. Then she married a drug store owner in Valdez, Alaska. They had two children. She got her law degree by correspondence. Now, 34 years after that first trip, Mrs. Hermann frankly admits she could not be happy living in the United States again. "Things are too poky here," said the 62-year-old woman lawyer. She stopped here briefly on her way back to Juneau after appearing before a House Subcommittee in Washington to give her views on statehood for Alaska.

Impressive Reputation
Mrs. Hermann is a woman of considerable physical size and impressive reputation. As the only woman with a general law practice in Alaska, the former school teacher travels constantly to reach her clients, who include Eskimos, Indians and transplanted Americans. "I've flown more than 200,000 miles now," she said. "Some of it with bush pilots in real orange crates." Now she's added another reason for traveling. She became active in the Alaska division of the American Cancer Society after her husband died of cancer in 1944. At the time she also was the OPA director in Alaska.

Functional and decorative addition to modern interiors is the room divider which separates living and dining areas and has storage space on both sides of the base. This two-piece divider of birch, finished in a wheat shade, has a shelf that slides out on either side. Open shelf section on top is not joined to base.

Two-Faced Divider Of Cabinets, Shelves Serves Two Rooms, Gives Modern Touch

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
Latest addition to the growing list of double-purpose furniture is unit and as screen between guests the two-faced divider of cabinets in the living area and a dish-laden and shelves which can serve two rooms at a time. They're wonderful for the new fully into older homes. For example, in the 25-year-old home which can be pushed against a wall to hide a roughly finished back. On the other hand, some come in two sections — a cabinet base with an open shelf top so one can split the purchase to fit a budget. To give you an idea, one new modern divider in solid birch has a five-foot-long base with book shelves flanked by two closed compartments on each side which sell for about $160. The separate open shelf top costs about $70. One thing I liked particularly about this unit is a sliding shelf that gives extra serving space in the dining area or desk space in the living area. Another modern silvery elm divider wraps all its advantages up in one piece for about $200.

Miss Jan Doggett, Tech Student, Is Presented Two Scholarship Awards

Miss Jan Doggett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Doggett of 322 N. Wynne in Pampa has been awarded two scholarships this spring at Texas Tech where she has just completed her junior year as student in the Physical Education Department.

Miss Doggett is planning to be a teacher of physical education at the secondary level after she receives her Bachelor of Science Degree in the spring of 1954. She will also have a teaching minor in English when she completes her work at Tech.

Early in May she was awarded the Mary W. Doak Scholarship given annually by the Alpha Sigma Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, professional sorority for women teachers. The scholarship is a grant of $40 per semester to a sophomore or junior girl who seems destined to bring honor to the teaching profession and to the memory of the late D. A. Doak.

MISS JAN DOGGETT

The Delta Delta Delta Scholarship was awarded her only a week later at the annual banquet of the Association of Women Students at Texas Tech. This scholarship is a $200 award for a woman student outstanding in citizenship, scholarship and service. A new scholarship at Tech this year, the award was divided between two students. Presentation of the awards was made by Dean of Women Marjorie M. Neesley.

At this same banquet she was also installed as vice president of AWS for 1953-54. Duties of this office include directing the Big-Little Sister program on the campus and the chairmanship of the Women's Inter-Dorm Council.

Other honors which have come to her include the vice presidency of Texas Tech Town Girls' Organization for the past semester and the presidency of the Major-Minor Club, a professional organization for physical education majors and minors.

She was a member of the Pampa High School Band, a participant in the Junior and senior plays, president of the Thespian Society and president of the Spanish Club.

She will leave Thursday for a two month stay at Camp Davis near Las Vegas, N. M. where she will serve as Co-Head Counselor for the girls' camp. During the month of June, she will be director in the dining hall and recreation hall for the 'y' division of the camp. She will return to Pampa the first week in August. Mr. and Mrs. Doggett will drive her to Las Vegas and will spend a few days fishing there before they return to Pampa.

Model Train Building Takes Patience, Precision Work

BY HENRY S. GORDON
Pampa News Staff Writer

If you like to play with electric trains, you like to play with electric trains. Well, any old sport — ourselves included — can amble merrily up to a dealer of electric trains and pick one out, take it home, follow a few simple directions and get the thing working on the living room floor.

But, on the other hand, there are some genies like Earl McConnell, 1231 Mary Ellen.

McConnell likes trains, too. More than that, he likes to make them. McConnell has built a truly miniature train layout — scaled 1/4th of an inch to one foot of the real thing — from the floor up. And, like all model railroad layouts, it is still unfinished.

SOMEWHERE BETWEEN 150 and 200 feet of track has been built, without crowding, on a platform eight feet long and six feet wide. Around the circuit can be handled four separate trains at one time, while others are held in position on sections of "dead" track until the "engineer" wants them to move.

The models are not confined to the ultra-modern speedy streamliners that roar across the rolling prairies of the west. There is one W B A high wheeler with a tunnel-like stack and sporting one of those long, pointed cowcatchers that were considered so efficient before the turn of the century. A study little dock engine sits idly by to be put in use.

Parts of the "HO" Gauge electric locomotives and cars are so tiny one should almost be a watchmaker before attempting to tinker with them. But, with the aid of a minute screwdriver, a magnifying glass, and patience plus the love of making something, a man or woman can work out his own model railroad on the same scale as McConnell has.

IT TAKES a bit of ingenuity, too, to set up the system. For instance, McConnell wanted something shabby. What did he do? He went to a furniture store and obtained some scrap ends of dark green carpet — the thick variety. This can be trimmed to the desired length, or even height by pasting two pieces on top of each other.

For trees he created from aircraft instrument packing — wadding which can also be cut and shaped to size.

But, it's actually the trains themselves and the wiring which take the time. McConnell estimates it takes as much as 15 hours working time to complete a steam locomotive from the kits now available on the market. He has six or eight different types of steam engines, including the large "Mountain Type" with two six-wheel axles of driver wheels.

Model diesels, McConnell says, are about the easiest to put together, the hardest job is painting them.

AS THE TINY trains move around the layout, cross over switches, climb hills, travel under the mountains and come roaring out over one of three different type bridges, the spectator can see every known type of freight car along with its own railroad insignia.

In the switching yards can be seen realistically-built buildings, signal towers, stations, cattle pens, and in one corner a huge grain elevator, all built to scale.

McConnell made the grain elevator from his own plan, rather than relying on kits as he did on the other model buildings.

Only a few passenger cars are on the road, all of them drawn by a Santa Fe diesel. Two of them, on the siding are models looking very much like the 1920s and 1930s replicas of the Reading Co. and Central Railroad of New Jersey. Two other old-type passenger cars are replicas of the type used over the Santa Fe before the turn of the century.

No trackage is complete without ballast. A gravel for this is available from any model making company and is applied to the system with a certain amount of patience. First you get some water glass, and with an eyedropper, apply this to the track bed between the ties and on the sides. Then, lightly sprinkle your prepared gravel over the track, wiping off the excess after the water glass dries, holding the ballast in place.

ONE BIG problem in getting together a car, freight or passenger, is to keep from dropping one of the little springs on the floor. You'll never find it.

McConnell first started playing with electric trains in the early part of the 1940s when he bought the regular "O" Gauge manufacturing two pieces on top of each other.

Phillips To Honor Railsback In June

Ed Railsback of Pampa will be honored by Phillips Petroleum Company for 25 years of service this June, according to the public relations office of the company in Bartlesville, Okla.

Railsback joined the company in 1923 as a member of a construction gang in the Panhandle area. Later that year he transferred to the gasoline department and worked at several Texas plants, serving in the varied capacities of oiler, engine operator, and meter repairman. In 1931, he transferred to the natural gas department; his present position is class "A" meterman.

Railsback is an active member of the Masonic Lodge. His address is Route 2, Box 173, Pampa. His mother, Mrs. S. O. Railsback, is a resident of Hico, Tex.

Area Students Earn Top Honors At ACC

Gordon A. Fraasier of Pampa and Mary Beth D'Spain of McLean graduated summa cum laude at Abilene Christian College this week.

Fraasier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Fraasier, Star Route Two, who attended the exercises. Both Miss D'Spain and Fraasier received bachelor of science degrees.

MUFFER FOR NATURE'S STEAM—Wairakei, in northern New Zealand, has long been a resort and is also rich in underground steam pockets which scientists are now exploring in an attempt to harness the steam for electric power. But the roar of the escaping steam is so great that it would keep hotel guests awake, so a giant muffer has been placed on each test bore to lessen the noise. The volume of sound is reduced by allowing the steam to expand before escaping.

WHO'D BELIEVE IT? Cows Like To Hear Musical Program

MADISON, Ind., May 30 —UP— Two inquisitive cows set off a successful radio program of "Milk-time Music" which dairymen say has doubled milk production.

Months ago, Frances Knight's W-O-R-X program people were beaming recorded music to listeners in an Ohio River area embracing parts of Indiana and Kentucky. The FM broadcasting station stands in the middle of a big farm.

A couple of cows ambled up to a window and peeped in. A Holstein named Bessie began to look attentive — as attentive as a cow can look while chewing a cud — as an orchestra played Smoke Gets in Your Eyes.

The station personnel was impressed. They changed records, played "Fool, Fool, Fool." The Holstein turned away. But two Jersey browsed up and showed some interest.

"We decided we'd try a small experiment on soothing the savage beast with music," Miss Knight said.

Fruitful (Or Milkful) Music

The experiment was fruitful, she claimed. At milking time, the station now has a regular program called "Moo Music." Dairymen is the compatibility of the electric milker and the radio.

"That's that static-free FM reception we're so proud of," she said.

Miss Knight said the program has been so successful the station wouldn't think of discontinuing it. "Besides," she said, "milk production probably would drop so sharply it might affect the whole agricultural economic picture in our area."

Ike's Policy On Gas, Oil Due In Month

WASHINGTON, May 30—UP—Big business, including the oil and gas industries, can look for a settlement on the Eisenhower administration's new anti-monopoly policy in three or four weeks.

A Justice Department spokesman said Saturday it will be unveiled about mid-June, after a "re-examination" of the whole anti-trust docket bequeathed to the Republicans by the Truman regime. This includes more than 135 cases.

In addition to the anti-monopoly policy, already reflected in the substitution of civil for criminal antitrust charges against five big oil companies, Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. may define the administration's position on illegal interlocking directorates.

May Stifle Competition

Interlocks, which sometimes are used to stifle competition, are of more than academic interest to the oil world. Two years ago most of the nation's big petroleum companies, along with other industrial giants, were put on the grid by the government's business-policing agency, the Federal Trade Commission. It accused them of evading the Clayton Anti-Trust Act through "indirect" interlocks or jointly-owned affiliates.

The Democratic-controlled commission appealed to Congress for corrective legislation. It said the Clayton Act needed more "teeth" and harsher penalties "to cover certain interlocking relationships not now prohibited."

The plea got no where until this year when three Democratic senators, Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.), James E. Murray (Mont.) and Herbert H. Lehman (N.Y.), introduced a bill to strengthen all the monopoly laws and step up penalties from a $5000 fine to $50,000.

But the Republican-controlled Senate Judiciary committee has made no move to hold hearings on the measure, apparently pending exposure of Brownell's policy. Brownell has not disclosed whether his statement will cover interlocks but a spokesman emphasized that the entire anti-trust situation is being surveyed.

Politics Changes

Meantime, the political complexion of the FTC is changing and some observers believe this will lead to policy revisions in relation to competitive business. Republican Edward P. Hawley has succeeded John Carson as chairman, and with Commissioner Lowell B. Mason, forms a formidable GOP minority. The Republicans will take majority control in September when Democratic Commissioner Stephen J. Spingarn's term expires. This will leave former Sen. James M. Mead and Albert A. Carretta as the Democratic members.

Oil industry and other big business lawyers were lined up in this week on another Supreme Court ruling on interlocks. Because of points previously raised by the FTC, the decision was of more than passing interest.

Substance of it was that a director of three sets of competing companies can not be penalized after he already had resigned from the boards of companies in direct competition with each other. Government attorneys argued in vain that the accused should be enjoined from possibly repeating the violation.

Farm Income Up After Skidding Benny's Taxes

WASHINGTON, May 30—UP—Agriculture Department officials and farm state congressmen got a slight respite from the pressure of skidding farm prices Saturday when for the second time in nine months farmers returns inched upward.

A monthly department report Friday showed a rise of about three-fourths of one per cent in prices farmers received for the crop as of mid-May.

It's not a big gain, but at least it's not another decline, was the way one official put it.

Ironically, food prices showed one of the biggest hikes in living expenses for the man who produces it.

It is living and production costs which are putting the squeeze on farm income this year, expected to hit its lowest level in 10 years. Prices of things farmers sell move down fast while their costs stay up.

Shamrock Oil and Gas Company located the other two, both six miles southwest of Miami with proposed depths of 4,300 feet.

Five regular wells were also reported by the area office of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Four gasers and four oilers were completed during the past week and there was one amended location.
