Gray County Has Paid Share Of Cost In Korean Fighting

By HENRY S. GORDON Pampa News Staff Writer Now three days into its fourth year, the Korean War has been the direct and indirect cause of sudden death to nine Gray County men, five dying on the battlefield and four others in highway accidents.

One other died of polio in San Antonio. In manpower, that has been the highest cost to Pampa, and Gray County. Industrially and commercially, the Korean conflict hasn't been noticed too much, especially from the hiring side, outside of key personnel in industry.

But, since June 25, 1950, the local draft board has sent close to 1,000 men into the armed services. Many of these have already returned under the rotation plan. This figure, draft board officials state, is "approximate" and actually covers the four counties local Board 52 U.S. Selective Service controls. However, no county-by-county breakdown of the men is made by the board.

Republican Administration Having Dollar Difficulties

By LYLE C. WILSON WASHINGTON, June 27—UP—The Eisenhower administration is having a tough time trying to staunch the U. S. dollar, or buck, which has come more and more to resemble wilted lettuce, with purchasing power to match.

Everybody likes money # but mightily few understand it. And those who do usually are unable to explain money in terms which mean anything to the man in the street or to a newspaper reporter. But the street man knows his pork chops cost a lot more now than they did some years ago and a nickel won't buy him a pay station telephone call any more—at least not in this town.

What happened to the dollar beginning in the mid-thirties? It left him $94.45. But since 1943 gold standard. Big government the dollar, itself, had slumped in value by 53.6 per cent. That "inflation tax" reduced the real value of the bonds proceeds by another $32.96.

Automobile wrecks claimed the lives of almost as many Gray County servicemen as did the Communists. It was on Dec. 1, 1951, that Capt. Clyde A. Bray, U.S. Air Force, enroute home to see his family, died in a car-truck crash near Dumas, Sidney C. Hunt, of McLean, died in a wreck in Japan on Aug. 23, 1951. A little more than a year later—Nov. 1, 1952—another McLean youth Kenneth L. Yearwood, U.S. Air Force, died in a wreck near his home town Jimmy A. Vert, whose mother, Mrs. Margaret Rickley lives at 847 E. Kingsmill, died in a wreck near Del Rio. Vert, however, was sent into service through the Houston draft office.

LOOK WHO'S TALKING—Banners like this have been left by Chinese Reds on barbed wire defenses in Korea's "no-man's land" imploring American troops to "Demand Peace." Lt. Col. K. M. Voight of Jackson, Wis., inspect one of the banners brought back by two soldiers who ventured 1200 yards into the danger area to retrieve it.

Century-Old News Reflected In Letters Of Pampan's Kin

BY BO ELLISON
Pampa News Staff Writer

Headlines in the news in 1851-55 could have read much the same as those of today.

"Sustained drought reduces crop production. . . livestock prices slump. . . cost of living soars. . . adult education classes scheduled."

All these could have applied to conditions in the area almost 100 years ago as well as now, according to an album of letters written by relatives and friends of S. S. Runyon, grandfather of W. S. Runyon, 333 N. Zimmerman, from Kentucky, Indiana, Kansas and California and reflect political views, economic conditions and social aspects of the times then.

WHILE DAMON, a funster in Pampa High School, and Charlotte, junior high student, children of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Runyon, receive "spot" family and world news via telephone, T-V, radio, movies and daily newspapers, they are amazed that news is so similar to that received by their great-grandfather by slow mail train.

Link was scarce then: envelopes were improvised and those who could write were largely self-trained or went to special penmanship classes. But letters were a chief source of enjoyment and were filled with long-practiced flourishes in penmanship.

While the Runyon youngsters practice typing "Now is the time for every good man to come to the aid of his party," their great-grandfather and uncle put in hours agonizing "many, many men, many days, many minds, many lives" with prize gold penstiffs.

IN ONE LETTER written by the elderly Texan's brother, A. Runyon, from the commonwealth of Kentucky in June, 1856, the presidential election of that year was discussed in typical political furor of the time.

The Kentuckian was rejoicing over the landslide victory of the Democratic party in its election. Buchanan and pointed out to his brother, who lived "in the land of Democrats," that all the "old-line Whigs" and the "Know-Nothings" he had referred to in a previous correspondence had also voted the Democrat ticket.

In fact, he stated, "the renowned son of the great Kentucky orator, Henry Clay, took the stump in Buchanan's behalf" throughout several states. The Whig party, he stated, was a "has-been."

A letter from Butte County, Calif., in 1856 pointed out drought conditions throughout the Southwest created harder times since the discovery of (gold) mines in California.

THEN A TERRITORY outside the United States, California was beset with high living costs in food, dry goods and clothing and Runyon's friend couldn't understand why Runyon's family could even think of leaving Texas, also hit by drought, and move West.

From Indiana in 1854 news came to Texas of the uncommonly hot

and dry weather, the abnormally low production of wheat, selling then at $1 per bushel, and market price decline of stock "of every description."

Hogs weighing 150 pounds were selling at $1.25 per hundred and 175-pounders at $1.25 per hundred. The Indian also mentioned the "dreadfully dusty" conditions.

Celanese Plant's Construction Ends

Construction of the Pampa Plant, Celanese Corporation of America, is finished, John Frick, manager of the plant, announced Saturday.

Only four or five auditors are still on the grounds working on construction books and turning plant parts over to Celanese from Brown and Root, contractors on the multi-million dollar project that took close to two years to build.

Lonie Estes, superintendent on the job, Saturday morning said he would leave for Houma, La., sometime today or Monday where Brown and Root will start construction on a paper mill.

Estes and his family have been in Pampa since April 15, 1951. Major work on the plant was completed several days ago, but Estes remained on the grounds until last week, Frick said. Now the auditing crew has taken over and will stay on the job until sometime in July when the last of the plant is officially turned over to the company from the contractors.

WHEN THIS friend of Runyon's moved to Kansas in December, 1855, he wrote of the hardships of settling a new land, obtaining provisions from Missouri and the high cost of living in the territory.

The letters have been kept in the Runyon family in an old ledger used by S. S. Runyon in the general mercantile store he operated in Pleasant Run for many years.

Runyon also farmed and helped direct religious ceremonies in the community.

His grandson, a Pampan since 1889, is associated with Cabot Company and he and Mrs. Runyon are the parents of three children, Bill Jr., now married and living in Amarillo, Damon and Charlotte.

THE FAMILY enjoys reading about their elderly ancestor's "success with the women," all the neighborhood gossip and details of community crimes mentioned in some of the letters.

Mrs. Runyon is convinced people were much the same then as now — except they took more time to enjoy friends through letters, which included much more "meat" than the hurried notes exchanged between friends and relatives now.

Southwest Grain

FORT WORTH, June 27 —UP— Southwest weekly grain:

Wheat lost ground in southwest grain markets again this week. It went down 5/8c to 7/8c per bushel. All other grains strengthened.

These are the high points in the Friday-through-Friday grain review from U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

In the corn and oat markets, limited supplies caused the boost in prices. No. 2 white corn was up 5 to 6c per bushel; No. 2 yellow up 3/4c; and No. 2 oats, 1/4 to 2/4c.

In grain sorghum, increased demand and prospects for the opening up of some export business were the main factor behind the price rise of 3c per hundredweight. No. 2 barley gained 2c.

The price of oats is from the Fort Worth market. Others are based on wholesale carlot quotations, Texas common rate points.

The decline in wheat prices is seasonal. They're usually below the government loan level at this time of the year. This is due to several factors. The wheat support program operates through loans to eligible farmers rather than through open-market purchases.

At harvest time, some farmers are willing to sell below the loan and forego carrying charges. Some are willing to take less rather than process a loan and find storage space. Then, there is always some wheat that's low grade or high in moisture content and won't qualify for the loan.

Recent prices to wheat farmers dropped as much as 54c below the 1953 wheat loan rate. This is the farthest the market price of wheat has ever gone below the loan level.

Sixty-Year-Old Friends Due To Settle Marble Dispute

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 27 —UP— Two longtime friends now in their 60's and tired of arguing about who would have won for 50 years now, said Johnson, "and we both have decided it's time we settled the dispute once and for all Saturday."

George B. Johnson, 63, and Clyde A. Madison, 64, started the game when both were teen-aged students at old Garfield school. Johnson was playing hooky from a ripe cherry tree he was supposed to be picking.

Then "George's mother yelled at him and told him to pick up his marbles and get back in that cherry tree and start pickin'."

Each friend, through the years, has kept a watchful eye on his sack of marbles. Each will have his favorite "law" when the battle is resumed this afternoon in Madison's coal company yard.

"We'll use a ring about three feet in diameter and we'll try to shoot the marbles out of the ring," The setting Saturday was almost the same as 50 years ago, too. The cherries were red and ripe on St. Joseph's trees. Johnson concedes that his opponent's collection of marbles are "very rare" and offered to play Madison "for keeps" on a promise that the prized collection, if Johnson won, would be given to a museum.

Madison declined the offer. Johnson went into training Friday night for the big battle.

"I've got two grandsons—six and nine years old—and that's about as good a pair of teachers a man could have," he said.

Kiwanis Speaker Encourages Current Regional Literature

"A region lives longest through its literature," Dr. L. H. Sheffy, vice-president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, told the local Kiwanis Club at its regular meeting this past week.

"And literature about this region should be written now while the area pioneers are still living. Historical and scientific data is available at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum on the campus of West Texas State College, Canyon. Dr. Sheffy pointed out in a historical review of the organization for the club.

DR. L. H. SHEFFY reviews historical society

The organization, founded in 1921 and chartered by the state of Texas, Dr. Sheffy said, is open to any person interested. Membership dues range from $3 per year up.

During its history, the society has employed professional museum curators to obtain information and material on the history of the region and has benefited from information gathered by archeologists and paleontologists from universities throughout the United States.

The museum building, built by donations of $25,000 from area residents and a state appropriation of $25,000, was opened to the public in 1933 by the late T. D. Hobart of Pampa and since that time has registered 800,000 visitors.

Dr. Sheffy praised efforts of Pampans to build and maintain this museum. He gave special recognition during his address to M. K. Brown, C. P. Buckler and Fred Hobart, now president of the society, for their contributions of time and influence to the organization, as well as financial assistance.

The society is currently working on building up a library of books on the Southwest. Dr. Sheffy pointed out, and is encouraging

Canadian Offers Reward For Vandals

CANADIAN — A total of $350 is on hand today for information leading to the arrest and conviction of vandals who desecrated the interior of the First Methodist Church.

Hempfling County Sheriff Clyde Risley announced the reward money available, adding that all efforts by local officers to pin down the identity of the vandals have failed.

To remove mustard stain from fabrics, rub in glycerine and follow with a soap-and-water washing.

Local citizens donated all but $25 of the money for the apprehension of the vandals who struck the afternoon of May 11 — overturning pews, hurling a church flag and gold crosses to the floor, breaking altar candles, tearing a large Bible and scrawling obscene signs on a wallboard.

Rev. Arthur Kendall, pastor, discovered the damage. The church was unattended at the time of the vandalism.

Canadian Approves Phone Rate Raise

CANADIAN — Local telephone rates are going up in July. The Canadian City Commission this week approved a modified rate increase for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's Canadian exchange.

In return, George Newberry, Pampa, Southwestern Bell representative, promised that his company would go ahead immediately with a planned $20,000 expansion program which will make any class of telephone service available to any resident within the Canadian city limits.

to $7 per month. Single-party residence phones will go up 75 cents from the present rate of $2.25. And two-party phones will cost $3.50, a boost of 50 cents.

Southeastern Bell had asked for higher increases than those.

On the vote, City Commissioner Furman Williams voted against the other two commissioners, Mayor Malouf Abraham and Commissioner Claude Jones, thereby raising a hassle in which he claimed "the people of Canadian are being sold down the river."

Securing immediate approval from his Dallas headquarters for the modified rate increase, Newberry said that "within 120 days, we will be able to offer every Canadian resident any class of telephone service desired."

Materials for the expansion program, Newberry continued, are being assembled now and should be ready in 30-60 days.

Trieste, because of its strategic location, has been fought over for centuries. Austria dominated the territory for about 500 years, but lost it to Italy after World War I. Hitler grabbed Trieste during World War II only to lose it to Tito, who tried for a period to bring it into the then expanding Soviet Slav empire. After the war, the Western allies wanted to return it to Italy, but in 1946 they compromised on a "Free Territory of Trieste," under UN supervision and occupied jointly by East and West. Since then any attempt to settle the problem has been disputed by both Italy and Yugoslavia.

Pampa Air Cooler Mechanics Busy In Hot, Harried Work

By MARLENE KOLB
Pampa News Staff Writer
One of the hottest, driest summers in several years is here, according to the temperatures, the air conditioner sales, and service men who install the coolers. One sentiment expressed on installing an air cooler on a hot day was an explosive four letter word and "If you don't believe it, get out on the sunny side of a building and start putting one up!"

IT'S WARM WORK, installing an air conditioner. Robert Fewell, a service man at Bert A. Howell Inc., has been installing coolers for several years, but he believes this year the conditioners are giving better service than ever due to the extremely dry atmosphere. (News Photo)

JESS GRAHAM of Ogden and Son says there are a lot of little things that can go wrong. The pump clogging, a wire breaking and people forgetting to turn the water on are just some of them.

"It's not hard to lose your temper, but age and experience teach you not to. You still do when you pinch fingers or hit thumbs like I did the other day," says Leonard Hall of Hall and Pinson Tire Co. His advice is to use good salesmanship to convince people which side of the house is best for the efficiency of the cooler.

Hall's headache is the housewife who is very particular about any little crack where a bug might get in. "Sometimes I'll want to put a cooler in one window and they want it in another; and then sometimes after I get it in, they want me to take it out and put it somewhere else!" This is heard from Jimmy Diggs at White's Auto Store. He's had some trouble convincing people that you just can't put coolers in the top part of the window. There's nothing to hold them up once they're there.

A TYPICAL cooler installation was made by Robert Fewell and Larry Larson of Bert A. Howell Inc. the other morning. They put up an air conditioner at the home of John W. Chisholm, 1200 Christie.

"Sometimes it's not fun!" was heard as Larson toyed with a mysterious piece of copper tubing left in the window and Fewell crawled under the house to check last year's tubing. There MUST be at least one trip back to the shop—Larsen took off in the pickup for other fittings.

When copper tubing gets cold in the winter, it expands enough that it has to be filed for the connections to fit.

The conditioner itself, which Fewell rebuilt was big enough and the window was high enough that it took both men to get it up there.

"MORE ROOM! More at the bottom," Larry said. Robert grabbed a hammer and began to bury nails. "Think that'll hold it!" More copper tubing, two small

Water In Canadian But Low Pressure

CANADIAN, June 27 — (Special) Although some residents are having to put up with very low water pressure, Canadian has had no water shortage as yet. The low pressure in some residence areas is due to a lack of sufficiently large mains. Residence building has gotten ahead of the water mains in some areas. This situation is to be remedied as fast as possible, according to Mayor Abraham, who stated that pipe has been ordered for the work. An example of what is to be done is a group of 17 residences now served by a 2-inch main—simply not enough capacity to give good pressure. This is to be replaced with 4-inch pipe. In other areas 4-inch pipe will be replaced with 6-inch.

wrenches, dozens of different sized connections, and it was all hooked up. All but the water. Larsen dove under the house but didn't stay long. "There's a big leak under there; up by the faucet. It ran down my back!" After a few minutes of muffled talk and clanking metal from under the house, both emerged the trouble remedied. "What a job. Must be an easier way to make money!" Larry smiled.

Everything ready - the switch was turned on. "Clank! Clank!" Motor trouble? No, the fan hitting against the fan guard. Now—"Boy that's nice cool air!" said Fewell. "Feel it!"

ONLY THE SIDE metal strips to attach on the sides of the window to stop bugs and the wrath of a house wife. "That wasn't bad," they say, "We've got a dilly coming up this afternoon. Got to take the panes out of the window before we can install it!"

There is always a band of some sort in his suite during Derby time and he likes to share the music with faraway lovers of music. He considers it perfectly normal to ring up a friend in Honolulu and have a jug band play Hawaiian music for half an hour. I once discovered him at a bedroom phone in my New York apartment, at three in the morning, talking to a man who had been the sheriff in Phoenix, and whom he hadn't since since he had covered the Giants training camp in the John McGraw days. Shakeup Seen In Canadian Schools

CANADIAN — The presiding at the Canadian school board meeting and two new faculty members were hired at this week's meeting.

Jos. Reid, school board member for the past 17 years and its president, said that "business" was the reason for his resignation. He left office at the regular Monday night meeting. Mrs. W. A. Kessie Jr. was named by the board to teach commercial art in the high school, succeeding Mrs. Johnny Sims who resigned at the close of school this year. W. E. Hendricks, Girard, Kan., was elected bandmaster and choral director in the local schools. He succeeds Mrs. Marilyn Paige who resigned recently because of ill health.

Appointed to fill Reid's unexpired term was Dale Nix, who will serve till the regular board election in 1954. A new president will probably be chosen from the board membership at the next meeting, authorities said. Dr. Ruth Snyder is vice-president of the body.

Dodgers Edge Braves To Tie For NL Lead

MILWAUKEE, June 27—UP—The Brooklyn Dodgers swept into a first place tie with the Milwaukee Braves Saturday night as Peevée Reese slammed the 10th inning homer to edge the Braves, 4 to 3.

The defeat was Milwaukee's sixth in a row and was a tough one for right-hander Jim Wilson to lose. He went the full 10 innings for the Braves and gave up only seven hits.

Milwaukee tied the game at 3:1 in the seventh when right fielder Andy Patko hit a homerun into the left field bleachers. It was the first game Patko played since he was injured June 15.

The Braves threatened in the last of the 10th when Johnny Logan got his third single of the game but reliever Billy Loes retired the next three men to chalk up his second win of the season and his second in two nights against the Braves.

Doug Lewis Reaches Half-Way Mark On Goal Of 200 Hit Mark For '53 Season

ONE-HUNDRED DOWN and one-hundred to go. That's the case of Doug Lewis, fancy-fielding first baseman of the Oilers who garnered his 100th hit of the season in the first game of the Albuquerque series Thursday night.

Lewis, when we informed him before the team left for Albuquerque that he lacked one hit of reaching the century mark in base hits, he remarked "well, I'm half-way to my goal of 200 hits."

So if the veteran Lewis isn't sidelined anymore with an injury, he'll likely achieve the goal of 200 because the season isn't half-over yet.

Cards Crush Phils Twice

ST. LOUIS, June 27—UP—Harvey Haddix weathered a ninth inning attack of the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday night to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory and a sweep of the day-night doubleheader after the Cardinals had won the afternoon game 1-4.

The Phils, trailing 4-2 going into the ninth inning, loaded the bases with only one out. Pinchhitter Johnny Wyrostek struck out and Solly Hemus made a great stop of Ted Kazanski's smash toward centerfield. He knocked down the ball and only one run scored. Then Haddix retired Richie Ashburn for the final out, knocking down his line drive and throwing to first base.

Hacker Wins For Chicubs

CHICAGO, June 27—UP—Hard luck Warren Hacker withstood some faulty fielding by his Chicago Cubs teammates and held the New York Giants to six hits as he registered his fourth triumph against 10 losses, a 2 to 1 victory before 13,785 fans.

The Cubs first run was provided in the third inning when Hal Jeffcoat hit his first home run of the season.

After Jeffcoat's circuit blast, Hacker, Warren Hacker singled, singled, moved to second and third on George Metkovich's sacrifice, and Hacker scored the winning run on Bill Serena's long fly.

Hacker, who won 15 games for the Cubs last year, but who has experienced hard luck while losing 10 games, throttled the Giants with five singles and a double.

The Giants threatened in the ninth when Thompson struck out and Irvin flied out. Spencer walked, Bobby Thomson singled and pinch hitter Bob Hofman singled, sending Spencer across the plate to score and Hacker to the show.

Venerable Dutch Leonard came in and forced pinch hitter Davey Williams to pop out and end the game.

Sooner Ag Is NCAA Champ

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 27—UP—Earl Moeller of St. Louis, Mo., 19-year-old junior from Oklahoma A&M, put the pressure on in the afternoon round to down William Williamson of North Carolina 3 and 2, to capture the 56th NCAA Golf Tournament here.

Moeller, who was one up at 18 holes, went five up on the 31st, but lost 32 and 33 to the lanky Charlotte, N.C., golfer. But then he recovered to half the 34th hole and vice Oklahoma A&M's first national intercollegiate golf crown.

Tribe Hands Yanks Sixth Loss In Row

NEW YORK, June 27—UP—Mike Garcia pitched a nine-inning winning streak to four games but left them seven full games behind the faltering Yankees.

The triumph also increased the Indians' winning streak to four games but left them seven full games behind the faltering Yankees.

Garcia, credited with his ninth triumph of the year, received the only run he needed when Easter led off the fifth with his round-trip wallop into the lower right field stands.

Lopat, whose life time record against the Indians was 37-9 prior to Saturday's game, yielded seven hits in the eight innings he worked.

Told Ben He Owed It To Game Credit Demaret For Hogan Entering First British Open

(Not since the days of Bobby Jones, has a golfer going to the British Open stirred up so much interest as Ben Hogan's first appearance in it at Carnoustie, July 4-10, Jimmy Demaret, one of the most contemporary golf big names, is the playing partner and confidant of Hogan, recent winner of his fourth United States Open in six years and now being ranked as the greatest shot-maker of all time. In his penetrating five-part series written exclusively for NEA Service, Demaret gives an insight on Hogan, the golfer and man.)

BY JIMMY DEMARET
Three-Time Masters, Champion CONCORD International, N. Y. (NEA) - I'm about the only guy in golf Ben Hogan will listen to. I'm not saying that to brag. I've known Ben since before 1922, when he was an amateur in Fort Worth. I talked Hogan into going to Scotland for the British Open when he was here for an exhibition at the Concord International Course at Klamath Lake, where I'm the professional. "What would I want to go over there for?" he shrugged. "What would it prove? I don't like boats. They say the food is bad, tell me a hotel room is next to impossible to get, and besides, what have I to gain?" "You owe it to the game," I told him. "You're a legend over there. They want to see you. You're going to get, and besides, what have I to gain?" "I owe it to the game," Hogan countered. "A fella like me still has to make a living," I replied. "The next day he dropped into the Golf House in New York and entered."

Richards Sets Record In Using 5 First Basemen Against Yanks

NEW YORK, June 27—UP—Manager Paul Richards, by using five different first basemen in handling the Yankees their fourth straight loss, said Friday he would even gladly employ "the butcher, the baker or the candlestick maker" if they could help the White Sox win. "Why, I even was ready to use two more—guys—pitcher Gene Bearden and catcher Red Sheely at first base," Richards revealed, "but the sands of time ran out on me." As it was, the strategic-minded Chicago mentor broke an all-time major league record by using five basemen: Ferris Fain, catcher Sherm Lollar, third baseman Freddie Marsh, winning pitcher Billy Pierce and outfielder Sam Mele at first base during Thursday's 4 to 2 triumph over New York. Even plate umpire Charlie Berry registered bafflement when Pierce, who had hurled the first eight innings, took over for Marsh at first base in the top of the ninth and then returned to the mound after reliever pitcher Harry Dorish had faced two men. "Hey, I hope you know where all these guys are gonna' bat if they have to come up in the 10th," Berry said to White Sox Coach Doc Cramer. "Don't worry about a thing." Cramer answered, "We got it all down, Lollar is batting where Fain

Casey Mourns On Every Yank Loss

NEW YORK, June 27—UP—Each time the Yankees drop a ball game Casey Stengel wears the crushed look of a rejected suitor and moans more than a millionaire who has just lost a buck and a cent. Step into the Yankee clubhouse after the world champions lose an occasional ball game and you'd think it was a morgue. Stengel sits dejectedly on a green cot in his private room and sadly forecasts impending doom. "We ain't playing good at all," he mutters, shaking his head ominously. "I don't know what's got into us. The big guy ain't been hitting like he should, the other guy made two bad plays in the field today and the little guy looks like he needs a rest." "But you still have a nine-game lead," someone will remind him quickly. "It don't mean a thing," Stengel snaps back. "We could blow it in less than two weeks. Look at Brooklyn in 1951. They had a bigger lead than we have and they lost, didn't they?" To hear Stengel talk, it's still an eight-team race in the American League. His immediate fears always are subject to change on short notice, depending on which team his Yankees are facing Sunday. Rather than look on the brighter side, the victory-accustomed Yankee manager prefers to dote on the gloomy side. "Look at those Chicago's," he says. "They've won nine out of their last 11 games and who knows when they'll stop winning. Look how they're beating us. And to think every day counting 'em out already. They could beat us, I mean it." Those who listen to Stengel have heard the same sad refrain for the past four years and when Casey suspects he is losing his audience, he'll sigh deeply, close his eyes in weariness and then ask in a low, beaten voice: "Has anyone got a cigarette?" Actually, the Yankee players do not grove alarmed half as quickly as Stengel and that bothers Casey no little. "Sure," he snaps sometimes, waving his hand toward where the players are dressing, "they think they got the pennant locked up already, but they're gonna find out differently in a hurry." Even rival American League managers know of Stengel's tendency to cry wolf but they pay little or no attention to it. Once, when Paul Richards of the White Sox was informed that Casey was worrying about the doubleheaders that were piling up for the Yankees in July and August, Richards observed that the other seven clubs have to play just as many doubleheaders. Another time, Stengel was concerned about the condition of his pitching staff and the information was given to him by manager Marty Marion of the Browns. "Tell Casey," Marion said to a writer, "I'll gladly trade problems with him." "Even up?" Marion was asked. "Heck no," he replied. "I'll even throw in a little cash."

Chisox Win 6th In Row

BOSTON, June 27—UP—A tricky gust of wind blew Minnie Minoso's long foul fly into fair territory for a two-run double Saturday as the Chicago White Sox came from behind in the ninth inning to defeat Boston 6-5 and take their sixth successive win. With two out in the ninth, and runners on first and second, Minoso hit a high fly that passed over the corner of the roof of the left field grandstand and then blew back to fair territory. Bob Wilson, a pinch-runner, scored from second while Nelson Fox came home from first base. Twice during the game the White Sox, who now have won 13 of their last 15 games, came from behind. Ellis Kinder came in to relieve Sid Hudson in the ninth and was charged with his third loss in three days.

Leaps 11-6 1/2 In AAU Meet Ex-Texas Aggie Walt Davis Sets New High Jump Record

DAYTON, Ohio, June 27—UP—Walt Davis leaped six feet, 11 1/2 inches Saturday to smash the 12-year-old world record for the high jump in the National AAU track and field championships. The former Texas A&M star now competing for the Houston-A.C. has been trying to reach that height for two years. He had cleared six feet, 10 inches three times previously and captured the 1952 Olympic title with a jump of six feet, eight 1/2 inches. The 93-degree heat told on Wes Santee of Kansas, who was out to run a four-minute mile. He fell far short of the mark, but still managed to smash the AAU mark with a creditable 4:07.6. Dwyer Sets Pace Santee allowed Fred Dwyer of the New York A.C. to set the pace for the first lap and a half. He swung in front on the second lap and was leading by 40 yards toward the finish. Following Dwyer was Bruce Drummond, former Oklahoma star running unattached, and Joe LaPierre. The New York Athletic Club scored 114 points to remain as team champion. Los Angeles finished second with 87 1/2 points, and the New York Pioneer Club third with 69. Charlie Capozzoli, former Georgetown star who holds the American record for the three-mile run, bettered the meet record in the event with a time of 14:28.2, far short of the standard of 13:51.6 he set last year. Stanfield Wins Dash American record holder and defending champion Andy Stanfield of the Grand Street Boys' Club grabbed off the 220 yard dash in 21.2 seconds. The pole vault ended in a tie at 14 feet, one inch between Don Laz, unattached, and George Mattos of the U. S. Air Force. Davis' jump was the fifth new meet record set in the two-day 66th annual National AAU. Three marks were set in the opening events Friday night. Southern California's Jack Davis, NCAA champion, running for Los Angeles Athletic Club, won the 120 yard high hurdles by four yards over Milton Campbell of Plainfield, N. J. in 13.9 seconds. He also won the 220-yard low hurdles. Another new AAU record was set in the discus by Fortune Gordien of the Los Angeles AC with a throw of 163 feet, 9 1/2 inches.

LOOKING BACK over his 39 years of newspaper experience is William W. Simmons, 70, of 232 N. Nelson, a long-time Mason who is presently engaged in instructing Pampa Masons in their duties. Here Simmons recalls the time he wrote up "in a somewhat jocular way" a fight between two men, one of whom tried to sue him for reflection of character. "I wasn't worried a bit," he maintains. AN ORDAINED MINISTER Local Mason Looks Back On 39 Years Of Newspapering

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer
A Pampa Mason who came with in a stone building of becoming an Oklahoma newspaperman headed down Dallas way instead and want for two years—was editor, presom and mayor in Guntersville. Today, with 39 years of newspaper experience behind him, William W. Simmons, 70, of 232 N. Nelson, an instructor in Masonry for Pampa members, likes to recall his duties on various Texas newspapers, most of them weeklies.

born in Weston, Tex., Simmons attended three colleges and a seminary before he bought his first paper, The Celina Record, with money from a stone building owned by his father, who came to Weston in 1859 from Illinois.

morning, generally in a different church. "It worked out better that way," admitted the cigar-smoking man with one hand resting atop his head in thought. Only daily newspaper experience he's had was on Denton Record and Chronicle, five years of it while his daughters were attending North Texas State Teachers College. He himself attended North Texas and Baylor too, a year each. Working on small town papers "I like small communities much better than larger ones" meant that Simmons always had the problem of getting adequate help. So he taught two of his daughters, Mrs. W. C. Powers, White Deer, and Mrs. W. P. McKee at Borger, how to run a linotype machine.

JUST BEFORE—it was the Pampa Year of 1907—Simmons, then 24, had made a deal to buy a paper left in Wynne Wood, Okla., but the cranks were closed and he couldn't last yet get any money. So he went to at least Celina, some 40 miles north of So La Dallas.

MRS. MCKEE is still in the news- paper business today, working for

IN RECENT YEARS the old-time newspaperman has confined his activities to the Masons with whom he has been associated since 1914. Former White Deer member and past master, he is now secretary and recorder, Royal Arch Chapter, Council and Commander, Pampa-Masonic Lodge.

Wa But COMING to White Deer in 1929, Simmons ran The White Deer Re- viewer several years for Nunn War- den. The ren, finally bought it himself in the early 1930's. Because of poor health, he realized from absorbing building into his system so much lead from water linotype machines, he retired in 1946. Working with him in White Deer was R. G. (Speedy) Foster, Abraham, a linotype operator for The Pampa Daily News.

Only one new residence permit was issued last week by the city engineering department, and that was to its old boss, Ray Evans, whose new home at 2234 Mary Ellen accounted for more than half of the total $28,425 worth of construction work authorized.

It would necessitate, too, additional fire-fighting equipment, probably two new pumps, one for each station. Cruce said he did not know when he would discuss the fire stations with the City Commission, probably not until after budget-making time which will come up in July.

City Officials Return From Study Of Fire Protection

City Manager B. H. Cruce and Fire Chief Ernest Winborne returned to Pampa from Plainview deeply impressed with efficiency in fire protection through establishment of sub-stations in that sprawling little city.

houses and easy street accessibility will have a lot to do in finally deciding a location for it or them, Cruce and Winborne say.

That city, Cruce added, moved a central station from city hall to a point three blocks east and an built-in sub-station 19 blocks east of city hall.

In The Good Old Summertime!

"IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME" means a lot of fun for the younger set in Pampa. Sometimes mother and dad have to supply the "push" for the activity but occasionally the "push" is money in a powered kiddy car because this generation is a little young to look for worms or tie cans to a dog's tail. And it takes about all the energy young parents have to keep the kids entertained. Frequently Junior is quite happy with a five-cent ice cream cone as is—

STEVEN SANGER, 4-year-old son of MR. AND MRS. RAY SANGER, 718 N. Banks, who plays outside of the house lots of times by himself. He has a little sister, Stephenie, 7 months old.

It takes both MR. AND MRS. MARTIN STUBBE, 1718 Hamilton, to entertain their daughter, BETHA LEE, 3, in her sand box and like most parents they end up being shown how.

MARDEEN DEER, daughter of MR. AND MRS. Z. B. DEER JR., 1300 Hamilton, has the company of her mother when she goes for a ride on her rocking horse. Mardeen's pony's tail, which is her favorite hair style, is the envy of all the little girls in her neighborhood.

GLENN DAY, 605 Lowry, gets to ride with his son, CARROL, on the Merry-Go-Round. Like many proud fathers he has to be "forced" to show off his brown-eyed son.

CELESTE DUNCAN, 3-year-old daughter of MR. AND MRS. KIRK DUNCAN, 1300 Williston, has a sister for her playmate, BRENDA JEAN, who is 19 months old. It is easy enough for their mother to entertain them because the yard of the Duncan home is fully equipped to bring joy to little girls just like Celeste and Brenda Jean.

Two years old is never too young for a ride in this rocket plane and is a favorite pastime for little CYNTHIA SUE MYERS who is not awed by this jet age. Two-year-old "Cindy" tells her father, FRED MYERS, to put another dime in this flying machine. Mr. and Mrs. Myers and "Cindy" live at 1017 Duncan.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue Irish linen dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue sheer dress with white accessories. She also wore a white carnation corsage.

A reception followed the wedding in the home of Mrs. V. Colburn, 303 Williston, Pampa. Mrs. Colburn is the bride's aunt.

Mrs. Laura Hill presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Colburn served the two tiered cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride is a graduate of Lefors High School and attended Midwestern University at Wichita Falls. The bridegroom was graduated from Lefors High School and attended Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

After July 7 the couple will be at home at New London, Conn., where the bridegroom is stationed with the United States Navy.

MITE MEETS MEAT — Sutherland Montgomery, eight-month-old son of J. M. Montgomery, 218 N. West, Magnolia Petroleum Company employe, can hardly believe his eyes at the sight of such a big chunk of barbecue. The younger and elder Montgomerys were among the 250-300 Magnolia employes on hand Friday evening for their third annual barbecue. Some of those 250-300 can be seen waiting for their servings. (News Photo)

Magnolia Employes Stage Third Annual Barbecue

An estimated 250-300 Magnolia Petroleum Company employes were still talking late Saturday about the 440 pounds of meat that they put away at their third annual barbecue. Get-together was held both inside and outside the company barn just east of Foster. Eatin' part of the ceremony got underway at 7:30 p. m. Friday. That was just 24 hours after Barbecueur John Andrews went to work preparing the meat. Special planes brought in company officials from Dallas. Magnolia headquarters, and Midland, one of Magnolia's divisional offices. Among the many officials introduced to those present over a microphone in back of the barn (in which the barbecue was prepared) were G. L. Nelson, superintendent of production; H. L. Baker, gas superintendent; and C. A. Scott, materials foreman. Those three are Pampans. Following many a speech and a contest of two, Master of Ceremonies Scott passed the word that it was time to eat. Less than an hour later, only scraps of barbecue were left.

PAD Observes Stockpile Of Executives

WASHINGTON, June 27—UP—Officials of the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) weren't a bit surprised when they learned of defense mobilizers' plans to "stockpile" executives from industry. PAD's been doing just that for almost three years. The agency was set up in October, 1950, with the blessings of the oil industry. Oilmen have cooperated ever since with the federal agency which is staffed by oil experts. About 95 per cent of PAD's executives come from the oil industry. Intimately familiar with
