PANHANDLE? — Could this be a scene in the Panhandle? It is. The picture was taken at the intersection of Hobart and Ripley streets just south of the Santa Fe railroad tracks about 12:30 p.m. Thursday. The car in the picture was successful in getting through the deep water, but some others were not so lucky. Some of them drowned out, while others turned around rather than go through it. The water was running from the west to the east side of the street into Hobart Street Park. (News Photo)

Thirsty Panhandle Expects More Rain

By UNITED PRESS
Weather forecasters predicted more rain for all sections of Texas Friday. Widespread, drenching rains already had dropped up to eight inches of life-saving water on millions of thirsty acres from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande.

sometimes and this looks like it." V. C. Childs, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, said. From the northernmost tip of West Texas to the Rio Grande, the rains came, piling up at least an inch of water at almost all record stations.

Lubbock got 3.01 inches, and low black clouds sent a continuous drizzle on that region Friday. Water ran curb-deep in Lubbock all day Thursday and Thursday night and early Friday.

Pampa Gets 1.5 Inches

More than one and one-half inches of rain fell in Pampa Thursday bringing with it lower temperatures. The official rainfall figure, as reported by Radio Station KFDN, showed that 1.52 inches of moisture fell here. Thursday's high temperature reading was 61 degrees and the 11 a.m. reading today showed a low of 47 degrees.

Heavy overnight rains in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and in Mexico caused a flash rise in the Rio Grande. The release of water from behind the new $47 million Falcon Dam was stopped Friday. But the International Boundary and Water Commission said the river was "nowhere near flood stage."

second at Rio Grande City at 3:30 a. m. Friday. By 6 a. m., the flow was down to 24,000. Experts hailed the heavy rains as a probable life-saver for the farmer. A Texas Department of Agriculture spokesman at Austin, which itself received an unofficial six inches, quoted a report from Potter county (Amarillo) saying that for the first time in several years, that area had opportunity to build up sub-soil moisture.

Pampans To Attend League Convention

Three Pampans and possibly a fourth will be on hand in Beaumont Sunday through Tuesday for the 41st annual convention of the League of Texas Municipalities. Leaving at 8 a.m. Saturday will be City Manager B. H. Cruce, City Attorney Bob Gordon, and City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones. City Commissioner W. B. (A) Neel may make the trip, Cruce said this morning.

City To Consider Ban On Ice Boxes

City Manager B. H. Cruce thinks the Pampa City Commission in the near future will take up the matter of unfettered ice-boxes and refrigerators lying out in the open. Cognizant of the fact that too many American youngsters this summer have suffocated in such boxes, Cruce feels that it might be a good idea to have a city ordinance on the matter.

Swedish Charge Plane Shot Down

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Oct. 23 —UP—The Swedish consul charged Friday Israeli air force planes shot down a Swedish aircraft near the Lebanon-Israel border.

Gas Chamber Has Room For Couple

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 23 —UP—Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Heady could die together in Missouri's gas chamber. There is room for two. The confessed kidnap-slayers of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease, who demanded and got a record $600,000 ransom, are in custody here, awaiting formal grand jury indictment for violation of the Lindbergh kidnap law. After the indictment is returned they will go on trial.

NUCLEAR PLANT SCHEDULED

Domestic Atom Power May Be 'Competitive' In Cost

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 —UP—If you were to light your home with current from the first atomic power plant, your electric bill probably would be about four times as big as it is now. Ten years from now it will be a different story. Many experts believe atomic power by then will be "competitive" in cost, and some think it will be even cheaper than power from conventional steam or hydroelectric plants.

plutonium. The tremendous heat which splitting atoms creates inside the reactor will be drawn off, probably in liquid metals, and applied to a boiler to produce steam. The steam will then be used, exactly as it is used in hundreds of existing coal-fired power stations, to drive electric-generating turbines. What makes atomic power so expensive? It is not, as many assume, the cost of the uranium fuel. On the contrary, AEC scientists have calculated that the quantity of heat which would be produced by burning $4 million worth of coal could be obtained from a uranium reactor for a fuel cost of only $100,000. Therein lies the possibility that atomic power may some day be the cheapest kind man has ever produced.

Cost of Plant is Factor
But the cost of the power plant must be taken into account as well as the fuel. A uranium reactor costs a great deal more to build than a coal furnace. Engineers estimated that a conventional power plant can be built, with good design, for a cost of about $133 per kilowatt-hour of installed capacity. The comparable figure for the first atomic power plant is expected to be somewhere between $700 and $1,400.

Good Ideas Are Put Away For Rainy Days

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK, Oct. 23—UP—One day it seems like a good idea, and the next week it's been tucked away in a drawer and forgotten.

The desk is full of them, and so is the attic. Maybe it's last year's diet or the crocheted lace tablecloth that never got any bigger than an antimacassar.

Some day I'm going to compile a list of big projects that disappear into somebody's file cabinet, just to make us feel better about things like unfinished needlepoint and recipes that never got filed in the card box.

DRESS SIZES?
I wonder what ever happened to the government's project to change dress sizes, for instance? Remember how the Commerce Department went to all that trouble to work out tables so we'd buy dresses by the size of our hips, bust and height? That was early last spring. It must be buried among the antimacassars.

The French were going to start shipping all kinds of inexpensive clothes over here too, so every closet could have a Paris label. But the garment district of Paris never quite managed to compete with our own Seventh Avenue. At least, I could mention one familiar closet that has NO Paris-labelled gowns.

I wonder if teenagers are any better fed than they were a year ago? Remember that nationwide survey conducted by a big company on our eating habits? It caused quite a fuss at the time, since teenagers were reported generally underfed.

HOMBURG HATS?
Then there is the Homburg hat that looked for a while as if it was going to be as universally worn by men as garters. Haven't seen any Homburgs except at church recently.

I wonder how many pounds the president of Fat Girls Anonymous has lost since last year and whether the Army ever got that new official marching song?

Did the sugar people give up on that campaign to get us to eat more of their product? They were mighty enthused about it last spring.

RAIN CHAPS?
So many books on self-improvement have crossed the office desk the past year that it seems we all should know how to save our money, curl our hair, make clothes for our children and be the life of the party. There was one, I recall, on "How To Carry on a Conversation." I wonder if the author has noticed any improvement in the general level of small talk?

Some rainy day I'll really compile that list—if I don't forget about it.

PEO CHAPTER ENTERTAINS — Misses Judy Nance, Adalaide Skelly, June Montgomery, Ramona Meadows, Barbara Edwards and Evelyn Milam, left to right, were among the guests entertained with a party given Thursday afternoon by members of the CH Chapter of PEO. Manners Make Friends

Whenever you greet an acquaintance, call the person by name—if possible. It is much more flattering to have the person you meet at a party last week say in the next time you meet: "Hello, Jim" than just "Hello, how are you?" And there's another factor involved. It's easier to remember a name if you use it when you have a chance.

Baylor, Aggies Feature SWC Football Slate This Weekend

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer
Baylor's explosive offense will be favored to sound the chimes that will end the Cinderella-like Southwest Conference story of Coach Ray George's Texas Aggies.

The bruising Bruins from Waco, unbeaten and untied and rated sixth in the nation, were established a six-point favorite over the 17th-rated Aggies in the standard attraction of a two-game conference schedule. The game is at College Station.

In the other loop game, Rice and Texas were rated even for their collision at Austin.

Arkansas Only Underdog
In intercollegiate play, Southern Methodist was a seven-point choice over Kansas at Lawrence, Kan., and Texas Christian was given an even chance against Penn State at State College, Pa., but Arkansas was a seven-point underdog against Mississippi at Memphis.

The Aggies, like Baylor, are unbeaten but were tied by Houston in a surprising early-season campaign that defied the odds-makers at nearly every turn.

Baylor was supposed to have been as good as its record, but the low-rated Aggies were virtually a unanimous choice to battle Arkansas for the cellar position.

Lead at Stake
Now, the league lead will be at stake since each club has grabbed its opener — Baylor over Arkansas and the Aggies over TCU — to hold 1.0 records alongside Texas and SMU.

The Bears boast experience, vicious running and credible passing in contrast to the Aggies' starting eleven that includes only seniors. But spirit and an aptitude for the fundamentals of blocking and tackling have kept the Aggies unbeaten.

Rice, the pre-season title favorite, comes up to the Texas games with its back to the wall following last week's upset tie hands of SMU. Another loss would be fatal to the Owls' championship hopes.

The Owls have a terrific running attack and stout defense, but their quarterbacking and passing have proved downright embarrassing at times.

Kansas May Surprise SMU
Texas has had the same signaling and passing problems and has shown an ability to muster an offense only in short spurts.

SMU, almost as big a surprise as the Aggies, may be in for a letdown against a Kansas team that was walloped by eight touchdowns only a week ago by Oklahoma — especially since the Mustangs may be looking ahead to next week's crucial game against Texas.

TCU, which has shown signs of coming to life in its last two games despite losses, will be facing a Penn State team that is bounding back to expected performance after an early season setback.

Arkansas has the toughest assignment of the three teams facing outside foes. In Ole Miss, the Razorbacks face a club that seems to be gaining momentum and one which crushed Tulane 45 to 14 only last Saturday.

Pairings Set For Texas Cup Play Sunday

DALLAS, Oct. 23 —UP—Joe Conrad, Don Cherry and Billy Maxwell drew the 1-2-3 assignments Friday in the pairings for Sunday's singles portion of the 20th annual Texas Cup matches at Dallas Country Club.

Conrad, the freckled San Antonio who holds the Southern and Trans-Miss championships, was paired against newly-crowned Texas PGA Champion Fred Hawkins of El Paso; Cherry, a balding crooner from Wichita Falls, will face Ray Gafford of Dallas, third place finisher in the PGA, and former National Amateur Champion Maxwell will meet Byron Nelson, the runnerup.

The amateurs will be seeking their seventh victory in the 20-match series against 12 losses and a half in the Saturday doubles and Sunday singles being played for charity.

Other singles pairings (amateurs listed first):
Ernie Vossler, Fort Worth, vs. Harry Todd, Dallas.
Don Janusz, Dallas, vs. Jack Harden, El Paso.
Buster Reed, Fort Hood, vs. Bill Trombley, Dallas.
Don Addington, Dallas, vs. Abe Beckman, Midland.
Billy Erturth, Lubbock, vs. Tommy Holt, Houston.
Wesley Ellis, San Antonio, vs. Levern Martin, Fort Worth.
David (Spec) Goldman, Dallas, vs. Warren Smith, San Antonio.
Floyd Addington, Dallas, vs. Jackson Bradley, Houston.
Stan Mosel, San Antonio, vs. Sam Schneider, Houston.
Dick Jennings, Lubbock, vs. Elroy Marti, Houston.

In Saturday's doubles it will be Maxwell and Janusz vs. Hawkins and Nelson, Conrad and Reed vs. Gafford and Todd, Goldman and Cherry vs. Harden and Beckman, Vossler and Jennings vs. Bolt and Martin, Don and Floyd Addington vs. W. Smith and Bradley, Erturth and Ellis vs. Schneider and Trombley and Connolly and Mosel vs. J. Smith and Bobby Morris, Dallas.

Iowa Gridder Top Scorer In Nation With 91 Tallies

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 —UP—Halfback Kent Finanger of Luther College (Ia.) reigned Friday as the leading scorer and top ball carrier among the nation's small college football teams.

The 21-year-old native of Wauwatosa, Wis., held a three-point lead over Barry Frakes of Monmouth College (Ill.) in the scoring race, according to statistics released by National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Both Finanger and Frakes have tallied 13 touchdowns. However, Finanger has added 13 conversions for a total of 91 points, while Frakes has 10 conversions to his credit for 88 points.

In the rushing department, Finanger has totaled 616 yards in 88 carries. That gave him a 71-yard advantage over Stan Huntsman of Washab and Ad Rutschman of Linfield, each of whom have amassed 545 yards.

You Be The Quarterback

By WARREN GAER
Head Football Coach, Drake University

Stanford leads Washington 7-6 with two minutes of the first quarter remaining.

Washington has the ball midway between the sideline stripes, fourth and three on the Stanford 39-yard line. It has been a ding-dong battle with both lines charging hard and both teams keyed high.

As the Washington quarterback, rate these plays 1, 2, 3 and 4 for this situation:

Long pass
Punt straight downfield
Punt for coffin corner
Drive off tackle
(Answer will be found elsewhere on the Sports Page)

ANSWER

1. Punt straight downfield. If it is caught in the end zone, this is a sure score. It will probably be caught inside the 10-yard line and you would have gained 10 yards.

2. Punt for coffin corner. It will probably be caught inside the 10-yard line and you would have gained 10 yards.

3. Drive off tackle. It will probably be caught inside the 10-yard line and you would have gained 10 yards.

4. Long pass. It will probably be caught inside the 10-yard line and you would have gained 10 yards.

Several Crucial Tilts On Tap In College Ranks Saturday

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 —UP—The meeting between Notre Dame and Georgia Tech rates as the main course on college football's weekend menu, but several other side dishes should prove appetizing to the nation's fans.

For the television audience, at least, a hectic afternoon is anticipated Saturday when a panorama of four games will be offered in place of the NCAA "Game of the Day." In a unique show, the television cameras will pick up highlights of these games:

Cornell at Princeton in an important Ivy League tussle, Indiana at Iowa in a Big Ten meeting, Syracuse at Illinois in a major intercollegiate battle, and Mississippi at Arkansas in another intercollegiate contest.

Only the Beginning
But, as the old showboat captain used to say, that's only the beginning, folks.

Michigan State will place its 28-game victory streak on the line against Purdue, Cornell and the Southern California knock heads on the West Coast, Rice meets Texas in a major Southwest Conference tussle, while Michigan and Minnesota get together in their annual "Little Brown Jug" game at Minneapolis.

In other intercollegiate games, hard-luck Villanova will be at Kentucky, Penn State at Texas Christian.

Deer Collides With Car Near Canadian

CANADIAN, Oct. 23 — (Special) — R. H. Derby, manager of the West Way Grocery, feels that he narrowly missed being bagged by a deer Saturday evening.

The Derby had started to Anthony, Kan., about 6:30 p.m. — the twilight time "when you don't know whether to run with lights on or off." They were only about two miles northeast of Canadian when a big doe suddenly appeared on the pavement. Derby applied his brakes and attempted to miss the deer but it struck the left front of the car with such force that it crumpled the headlight and fender "about eighty dollars worth." The doe was killed instantly.

Derby returned to Canadian for an emergency repair and to report the mishap to the game wardens before continuing on his trip.

Captain P. D. Moseley of the Game Department investigated and found the deer too badly mangled to be dressed for meat. He stated that the Game Department gives the meat of accidentally killed game animals to charitable institutions if they can be processed promptly and properly. Moseley estimated weight of the deer at 120 pounds.

A Lesson In

70 X 7

Equals

HIS PLAN

How often shall I forgive? Peter thought he was generous when he forgave three times, since that is what the Jewish clergy required. But when Jesus said "seventy times seven," it exploded like a bombshell. Peter thought God should be proud of him. Seven is 233% of three. But Peter didn't know God; nor do we. Most men cannot believe how far the love of God will go. Seventy times seven means there is no end to God's forgiveness. As often as we sincerely confess, God will fully forgive. Little narrow souls can't realize how generously God forgives. "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors," is a dangerous prayer unless we forgive as Jesus did. He who forgives is victor. Seventy Times Seven, means the best way to "get even" is to forget.

French Statesman Observes Only Rich Can Fight Wars

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst
A French statesman visiting in the United States remarked the other day that "only a country with a stable government and national prosperity" could afford to fight a war.

What he said was, and probably was intended to be, an oversimplification.

Army Wives Aid Children

By JOHN J. MEEHAN
MONTIGNY, France. —UP
—Tucked away behind the stone walls of Maison Ste. Marie on the outskirts of this small French village are 69 abandoned French children, 2 to 12 years old.

Two years ago some of them did not have even a toothbrush. Today, they are better-fed, better-clothed and feel they have a better chance in life because of the wives of U. S. Air Force officers serving at Fontainebleau headquarters of NATO's Allied Air Forces Central Europe.

White House Gossip Texas Gave Ike Lavish Welcome

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 —UP—
Backstairs at the White House: Not in many years have a president and members of the White House staff been received so hospitably and lavishly as last weekend in Texas.

Hotel rooms of members of the President's party were jammed with gifts, ranging from large sacks of oranges to new hats. Before the heat of the party wore party, but not the President, went across the Mexican border to Reynosa Sunday to watch the American bullfighter, Patricia McCormick, kill two bulls.

News In Balance

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst
The week's balance sheet between the good and bad news in the hot and cold wars:

THE GOOD

1. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer completed organization of the "most stable" government in Western Europe, and in an interview with United Press Correspondent Joseph W. Grigg made clear his intention of closest cooperation with the United States. Adenauer is strongly in favor of the United States-sponsored European Army but he does not believe Russia will start a shooting war because "the risk would be far too great."

THE BAD

1. The Arab Israeli war threatened to break out anew as a result of an Israeli raid on a Jordan village in retaliation for an earlier attack on an Israeli village in which a woman and two children were killed. Reports on the number killed in the raid on Jordan varied all the way from 40 to 66.
2. France faced a political crisis as well as a war crisis in Indochina. Last July 3 the French had offered the Indochina Associated States of Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam independence within the French union. Laos agreed and negotiations with Cambodia are scheduled.
3. New irritations in Korean truce negotiations arose faster than old ones could be eliminated. Prisoner "explanations" were at a standstill. The UN Command announced it would protest a Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission's

New Problem Facing Wives

WASHINGTON —UP—Calorie-conscious housewives, who help make nutrition the expanding science of the home economics field, have a new kitchen worry. By the thousands they want to know if they are serving up the same vitamins and nutrients in the newly prepared and processed foods as they did before industry moved into the kitchen.

Their inquiries come to the Agriculture Department's Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, which describes as "spectacular" the steady rise in the home-maker's use of ready-mixes, powdered, pre-cooked and frozen foods.

The public still buys about eight pounds of frozen vegetables to each pound of frozen variety. But per capita consumption of frozen vegetables is expected to hit a record 5 1-4 pounds per person this year—a whopping 900,000,000 pound total.

Frozen Juice Skyrockets
Most of the housewives queries have been concerning frozen concentrated orange juice which each year has sky-rocketed in sales to new highs. The department's answer is that the amount of vitamins is the same for fresh or frozen juice.

Meat Consumption Up
The federal experts are happy about the home-maker's concern with calories, vitamins and nutrients. The more interest there is, they figure, the easier it will be to keep improving the nation's diet.
