Report Contact In Kidnap Case

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 6 —UP—Contact has been made in the Greenleaf kidnap case, reliable sources reported Tuesday. The report came on the heels of a Chicago newspaper report that Bobby Greenleaf's kidnaper had demanded $500,000 ransom from the boy's wealthy parents. Reporters immediately went to the door of Bobby Greenleaf's house and asked Stewart M. Johnson for comment on the whereabouts of Robert Ledlerman, an earlier spokesman for the family. Ledlerman now has not been seen at the house for more than 48 hours, causing speculation to cast the Tulsa man in the role of intermediary. In suburban Mission Hills a tense silence dominated the ivy-trimmed brick mansion. Ledlerman, a business partner of the 71-year-old millionaire father, Robert C. Greenleaf, was last seen at 7:30 a. m. Sunday when he stepped outside in the rain to look for a newspaper on the lawn. Speculation was heightened further by the longer-than-usual visit of a priest and a Chicago newspaper's (American) story that Bobby's abductor had asked payment of $500,000 ransom for his return. The ransom report got only a terse "no comment" from the family and law enforcement agencies.

FBI To Search For Missing 8-Year-Old

MAGEE, Miss., Oct. 6 —UP—Authorities planned to ask the FBI to join a search Tuesday for Gloria Jean Rogers, 8, believed taken from the state after being spirited out of school by a "blonde" woman. Sheriff Garrett Mullins said there was a "good possibility" the woman was Gloria Jean's own mother and that the child's disappearance resulted from a custody wrangle instead of a kidnapping for ransom. Mullins said he planned to ask federal authorities to check certain addresses in Texas where the woman is believed to have lived since her divorce from Gloria Jean's father, J. W. Rogers.

There have been no ransom notes, he said, and the family has only moderate means. Mullins said Rogers, since remarried and now living in Hattiesburg, Miss., knew nothing about her disappearance. For five years Gloria Jean has lived with Rogers' sister, Mrs. Maydon Floyd. E. C. Hankerson, the school principal, told authorities he became suspicious when the woman and a maid companion asked to see Gloria Jean at school Monday morning, and refused until he could telephone the Floys.

While he was telephoning, Hankerson said, the woman called Gloria Jean from her classroom and the couple disappeared with her in an old model blue Plymouth sedan with a Texas license plate. Mrs. Floyd said Gloria Jean had neither seen nor heard from her mother since the preceding 5 1/2 years and that the Floys at the time were having papers drawn up to obtain legal custody.

Mother Discovered Stabbed To Death
FORT WORTH, Oct. 6 —UP—The mother of a six-week-old infant was found stabbed to death with a paring knife in her kitchen early Tuesday. The blood-covered knife, with a five-inch blade, lay on the kitchen floor in front of Mrs. Anita Vivian Smith, 38, wife of a construction foreman, T. J. Smith. Police said family members and Mrs. Smith's doctor, who she visited Sunday, reported she had been despondent and worried over payment of bills. Smith said he had assured his wife Monday night after their return from a movie that there was enough money to pay their bills. Mrs. Smith was found, a stab wound in the lower front part of her neck, by her mother, Mrs. W. M. Burkhalter of Waco, who had been staying with the family. Mrs. Burkhalter was awakened by the crying of the infant, Janet, and found her daughter's body when she went to prepare the baby's formula.

Direct Support On Meat Refused
CHICAGO, Oct. 6 —UP—The "two-price" plan for farm supports, born and then buried in the 1930s, got a new lease on life Tuesday as the Eisenhower administration turned thumbs down on direct supports for sagging meat prices. In a major speech before the American Meat Institute Monday night, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said the federal government would not support beef on the producer level, nor would it buy for storage to "peg" the market. But Benson said at a news conference that his department may try to revive interest in the two-price system of supports and said there had been talk on Capitol Hill of reviving the old proposal. He explained that under the two-price system, a farmer with 1,000 bushels of wheat would sell a portion, say 600 bushels, at government support prices and market the remainder at prevailing world prices. In his speech, Benson blamed dropping cattle and lamb prices that have caught livestock men in critical drought areas, but said "out-price" supports on the "misguided" attempts of the recent Democratic administration to suppress inflation with price controls. Benson acknowledged the gravity of the farmers' plight, particularly in critical drought areas, but said "the situation is already much more stabilized." "The American people literally are eating us out of the beef problem," he said. "Meat is going into stomachs and not into storage."

CHARLES W. WILLIAMS killed in mishap

ONE DRIVER CHARGED

Autos Kill Pedestrian

A 24-year-old Pampa man was released under $3,000 bond early today after charges of negligent homicide had been filed against him in connection with the traffic death Monday night of Charles Vanver Williams, 52, 720 E. Brunow street. Warren Ray Williams, who told District Attorney Tom Braly and sheriff's deputies that "I hit him; I just got scared and ran off," was released after the negligent homicide charge was filed at 2:45 a. m. today. The district attorney set the bond after taking the driver's statement. Charles Williams, employee of the G-K Trucking Co., no relation to the driver, was struck by the young man's car as he walked across W. Brown street about 7 p. m. Monday. He died about an hour later at Worley hospital, despite efforts to save his life. He was first struck by a late-model automobile, a description of which later led to the arrest of the younger Williams, knocking him into the path of another car which ran over him. The description of the car, furnished by two witnesses, was traced by city police and sheriff's deputies, headed by Sheriff Rufe Jordan, was traced through Warren Williams' employer, a local super market operator. The police and deputies were at his home, nine and one-half miles northwest of Pampa when he drove up. Sheriff Jordan was talking to the young man's father at the time.

Boy Slain In Gunfight
CHICAGO, Oct. 6 —UP—A policeman was wounded and an 11-year-old boy was killed in the crossfire of a running gun battle, started when an auto theft suspect ran from a police station. More than 25 squads of police Tuesday searched the tumble-down tenements and cluttered alleys of Chicago's South Side for the fugitive. The boy, Daniel De Cero, was shot in the neck and head as the suspect ran from the East Chicago police station last night firing at pursuing officers. Daniel was walking to a neighborhood ice cream parlor. It was not immediately known whether the fatal bullets were fired by policemen or the fugitive, Corey Robinson, a 19-year-old Negro. Daniel died a short time later at South Chicago hospital. Policeman James Quinlan, 50, was wounded in the left thigh during the gun battle. Robinson, his gun blazing, continued his dash across the street and outdistance police, eluding them in a vacant lot. He drove south in a car he had been driving when arrested for speeding with a 15-year-old companion.

Firm Collecting Old Ice Boxes
JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 6 —UP—A trucking firm collecting old ice boxes Tuesday in an attempt to prevent tragedies such as that in Grand Haven, Mich., Monday when four-year-old Pamela Pfahner suffocated. The youngster crawled into an old refrigerator and became trapped. Some 14 children have met similar deaths across the nation within the past four months. The General Truck and Terminal Corp. Monday collected 69 of the ice boxes and one-half million of the firm, said nearly 100 had been received since the drive began. The company is offering $5 for each box or $50 in trade. The pardon would block tentative plans by the federal government to deport Lindquist to his native land less than a year after he left prison and married the former Mrs. Addie Jackson of Indianola, Ia. Mrs. Lindquist said at the rooming house here where she and the convicted slayer have begun married life "I was so happy I cried." "We had both been promised help, but we didn't expect anything like this," she said. Gov. William S. Beardsley Monday said he had asked the Iowa Parole Board to recommend pardon for Lindquist, and the board complied. Lindquist was sentenced to life in 1909 for the slaying of a Carol, Ia., policeman only four years after he came to this country. He served 42 years and became known as the "forgotten" man of the Iowa penitentiary. He went 30 years without a letter, visit or present. Then Mrs. Lindquist took an interest in his case and romance bloomed. They were wed after the convict won parole last year. A full pardon was expected to clear the way for Lindquist to become a citizen and wipe out the deportation proceedings against him.

School Nurses — Two school nurses for Pampa and Gray county got together Monday afternoon in the office of County School Superintendent R. E. Nuckols to discuss nursing problems in the various schools. In the picture are Mrs. W. F. Walsh, left, who for the past two years has been serving as nurse in the four county public schools, and now is nurse in the Pampa city schools, and Mrs. Lucille Kohls, who now is the county school nurse for MeLean, Allanreed, Hopkins and Grandview schools. 'Forgotten Convict' Happy As Government Plans Pardon
OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 6 —UP—Ernest "Ole" Lindquist, onetime "forgotten convict," and the widow who befriended him said Tuesday they were "too happy for words to tell" after Iowa moved to grant the Swedish immigrant a full pardon. The pardon would block tentative plans by the federal government to deport Lindquist to his native land less than a year after he left prison and married the former Mrs. Addie Jackson of Indianola, Ia. Mrs. Lindquist said at the rooming house here where she and the convicted slayer have begun married life "I was so happy I cried." States Opposing Tideland Attack
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6 —UP—California, Texas, Louisiana and Florida will join forces to oppose Alabama in its attack on the constitutionality of the submerged lands act which restores the oil-rich tidelands to the states, the California attorney general's office said Tuesday. State chief deputy attorney general William V. O'Connor said he and Attorney General Edmund Brown will fly to Washington for a conference Monday with Attorney Generals John Ben Shepperd of Texas, Fred LeBlanc of Louisiana and Richard W. Ervin of Florida to map plans for the battle. The Alabama suit in the U. S. Supreme Court contends that the impounded oil royalties should be distributed for the benefit of the people in all the states. The suit also opposes recognition of a nine-mile coastal boundary for Texas, Louisiana and Florida as compared with a three-mile limit for other states, contending such recognition upsets the equal-footing clause of the constitution.

Soviets Won't Lift Censorship
MOSCOW, Oct. 6 —UP—Soviet Press Chief Fedor Ilychev informed American correspondents Tuesday that the government does not intend to lift its censorship in the near future. He told them at the same time they must hereafter pay Soviet income taxes. If it comes from a hardware store, we have it, Lewis Hardware. Adv.

With the weather forecaster predicting nippy fall weather for the state for the next few days, Pampa residents shivered Monday night when a low reading of 39 degrees was recorded at the KPND weather station. The high temperature Monday was 73 degrees. The reading at 11 a. m. today was 60 degrees. A cold front, which pushed its way into the state over the weekend, had moved out of the state Tuesday, but the cool air lingered on and was expected to remain at least for the next few days.

Quadruplets To Grandmother
SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 6 —UP—A grandmother gave birth to quadruplets Tuesday in a farming town 326 miles northwest of Sydney and the father started hugging an extra tent to solve his housing problem. Mrs. Ethel Hudson, 35, was almost sure she was going to bear twins when her husband, Ellis, 40, a contractor, took her to the maternity ward in the Gligandra District Hospital. The trip to the maternity ward was not a new journey for Mrs. Hudson. She had had five children by her first husband, who was killed in World War II, and four by Hudson. Like the old lady in the shoe, the Hudsons had so many children they did not know what to do—

Ike Says U.S. Must Stockpile A-Weapons

War, Peace Cited As Alternatives

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 6 —UP—President Eisenhower, solemnly facing a religious group, said Tuesday the United States has no choice but to build a huge atomic and hydrogen weapons stockpile to discourage any Russian idea of starting World War III. In a speech prepared for delivery to the United Church Women of the National Council of Churches of Christ, Mr. Eisenhower said application of atomic and hydrogen power to armament is "the most extraordinary physical development of all time." "But with Russia 'compelled by its purpose of world domination,' he declared, the epochal new power sources "cannot yet be made exclusively to serve the advancement of man's welfare and happiness."

Build Armaments
"Instead, we are forced to concentrate on building such stores of armaments as can deter any attack against those who want to be free," he said. He said the United States "must certainly make sure that all the world comprehends, in simplest terms the paramount alternatives of our day"—an atomic war or a "world ever advancing in peace and prosperity through the cooperative efforts of its people."

Must Know Alternatives
The President said this nation must make sure that all the world understands clearly the alternatives of military and peaceful uses of atomic energy. "The first of these alternatives is a wasteful and devastating contest in the production of weapons of inconceivable power," Mr. Eisenhower declared. "The other alternative is a world ever advancing in peace and prosperity through the cooperative efforts of its nations and peoples."

That makes it a boost from 5.9 per cent to 5.9 per cent "fair return," based on the company's net revenue after deductions. The commission based its action on an appraisal value of Empire's Pampa properties of $833,230.88; whereas Empire based its request on $1,396,640.06, as determined by its appraisal firm of Fresse and Nicholson.

Pampa Vote Slated On Canadian Dam
Pampans will go to the polls next month to confirm their participation in the newly-created Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. Former Pampa Mayor C. A. Huff Monday afternoon was elected the first president of the organization at a meeting in Plainview. It was the new authority's organizational meeting and Huff was named to the high post by acclamation just before the group's board of directors set Nov. 24 as confirmation election day. Other officers in the new organization are Robert A. Maxey, Lubbock, vice-president; and A. A. Meredith, Borger, secretary and acting treasurer, according to City Manager B. H. Cruce, one of the four who attended the get-together. The other 11 project cities will hold city-wide elections of confirmation the same day as Pampa, Cruce said. They are Amarillo, Borger, Lubbock, O'Donnell, Stanton, Plainview, Lamesa, Lovelland, Brownfield, Tahoka and Littlefield. To pay for the election, each city participating in the district created by the 53rd state legislature, will be asked to tax itself 10 cents per voter meter, the city manager continued. What's left over will be used to pay other incidentals in addition to the election. With the coming of this new authority, an old one passed on: The Canadian River Water Users Association—an unofficial group composed of Huff, Meredith, Merl Tripp, Lubbock; and Gene Klein, Amarillo, as executive committee—voted to dissolve itself. The new group is a legal entity empowered to deal with the Federal Government or any private financing agency—be accepting proposals and presenting them to the people, Cruce went on. Shooting Victim Condition 'Poor'
The condition of Roy Whitlock, 75-year-old carpenter, who was found on a bed in his home here with a bullet wound over his heart Monday, was reported to have changed from critical to poor at Highland General hospital today. A long-time resident of Pampa, Whitlock was found lying near a .38 calibre revolver, from which one shot had been fired, according to sheriff's deputies who investigated. The wound apparently was self-inflicted. He was reported to have been in ill health. He was found at his home, 902 S. Banks, shortly before noon and removed to the hospital.

Top Officials Disagree On Red H-Bombs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 —UP—Contradictory statements from three high officials Monday produced a new peak of public confusion about the size of Russia's H-bomb arsenal. In direct conflict were Chairman W. Sterling Cole of the Congressional Atomic Energy committee, who said Russia has "H-bombs—plural," and Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson, who said he is "assuming" that neither Russia nor the United States "has the hydrogen bomb yet."

Third contributor to the prevailing confusion was Defense Mobilization Administrator Arthur S. Flemming, who said in a weekend report that Russia is now "capable of delivering suddenly and without warning the most destructive weapon ever devised by man on chosen targets in the United States."

He first told reporters he meant H-bombs, but later said he had not intended to credit Russia with a stockpile of completed hydrogen weapons. The Atomic Energy Commission, whose secret intelligence reports presumably are equally available to Cole, Peterson and Flemming, declined to comment on the various declarations. The only official AEC statement on the matter was issued Aug. 20, and merely confirmed that Russia had set off a hydrogen explosion.

The AEC's not say then, and has refused to say since, whether the Soviet explosion involved a cumbersome test "device" or a finished weapon that could be delivered on a target.

Woman Describes Rapist At Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 6—UP—Police revealed Tuesday they had a description of the Negro murder-rapist who turned Dallas into an armed camp, and said the man who "confessed" to Shreveport officers "looks like a screwball."

Meanwhile, tension among residents had eased and authorities said they were receiving much fewer prowler calls, which last week numbered about 900 on the heaviest night.

The murder of Mrs. H. C. Parker, 29, dime store clerk, last Wednesday night climaxed a series of attempted attacks by a nude Negro on at least 20 women.

Woman Saw Man

It was learned Tuesday police had obtained from a woman parked in a service station near the murder scene the description of a man believed to be the slayer.

The woman, who refused to be identified because her husband frequently is out of town, said she knew Mrs. Parker. She said she saw a tall, skinny Negro wearing a mechanic's type cap walk ahead of Mrs. Parker almost to the bridge then stop and let Mrs. Parker go ahead.

The woman did not see what happened next.

It was not long afterward that a motorist found Mrs. Parker near the bridge with her throat cut. She identified her attacker as a Negro before she died.

Capt. Will Fritz of the police homicide department said an officer from Dallas will talk at length with a Negro prowler who told Shreveport, La., police Monday that he attacked Mrs. Parker.

Police Chief E. G. Huckaby of Shreveport said the Negro he is holding is Waver Clifton, 32, who served a federal prison term at Seagoville, Tex., a year ago for making false statements to an FBI agent.

Story 'Full of Holes'

Fritz said in Dallas the man's story was "full of holes."

"He looks like a screwball, but we will check further into his story," Fritz said.

Huckaby said "he may be missing some of his marbles, but he is not an idiot."

Clifton "confessed" having on two pairs of trousers, and burning one pair at the murder scene when they got bloody. But Fritz said police arrived at the scene 10 minutes after the murder and saw no signs of a fire.

Clifton said he murdered Mrs. Parker about midnight, but she was slain about 9 p.m. He said he walked three blocks to a Negro restaurant, but there is no Negro restaurant closer than three miles. He said Mrs. Parker's purse was black. It was white.

Continue Vigilance

Police said all officers were continuing their 12-hour shifts on 7-day weeks, although prowler calls greatly diminished. They said the city had returned nearer normal and the mass hysteria had subsided.

Police have questioned more than 200 suspects and released all but 31. Rewards totaling more than $8,000 were posted for the killer.

A Negro fitting the description of that given by the Dallas woman was seen by a patrol car about the time of the slaying.

However, the officers were on a routine call at the time, had not been notified of the slaying, and had no reason to suspect the man they saw.

"Actually she's scared to death of me! If the water's too hot or anything like that, I raise Old Ned!"

UP Staffs Nixon Trip

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—UP—Warren Duffee, United Press staff correspondent who will accompany Vice President Richard M. Nixon on his good will tour of the Far East, has been covering Nixon since the California Republican was elected to the Senate in 1950.

He covered Nixon's nomination to the vice presidency last year in Chicago at the Republican National Convention.

Later Duffee accompanied Nixon on a major part of his campaign for the vice presidency.

Duffee is the only Washington wire service representative who is a member of Nixon's exclusive organization, "The Order of the Hound's Tooth." The group is limited to newsmen who traveled with Nixon during the 1952 campaign.

After Nixon was sworn into office, Duffee obtained two exclusive interviews with the vice president. He also has interviewed Mrs. Nixon.

Duffee joined the United Press staff in 1940 after working for several Georgia and Mississippi newspapers.

Born in Mobile, Ala., 36 years ago, Duffee served on the U. P. staffs at Atlanta, Raleigh, N.C., and Richmond, Va., before joining the U. P. Washington staff in 1947. Since then he has covered the Senate and national politics.

FBI Files Show Increasing Bank Defalcations Recently

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—UP—Most people are honest, but the few who are not hit the boss' register for a pretty penny each year.

The FBI, for instance, reports that from 1946 to 1951, bank defalcations increased 188 per cent.

Vance L. Saylor, chief of the division of examination for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, has some interesting case histories in his weekly files.

Not long back there was a case in a bank in the Midwest hills where a $100,000 shortage was noted. The examiners and the FBI came in but it was some time before the culprit, a lady cashier, was caught.

It was learned that the woman was holding out ledger sheets. Finally, they searched her home in the mountains.

Found in Well

There at the bottom of a well, the agents spotted a package which looked interesting.

Officials hired a small boy, handed him a flashlight, and lowered him into the well via rope. The kid was to be paid one dollar for his work.

It was a little rougher than the lad figured. The well was abandoned and populated with bats. There was slack in the rope and he was bumped fore and aft as he swung from wall to wall.

He rose, however in triumph with the package in hand containing nearly $100,000 in cash. The youngster had two requests:

First he wanted to know if he could keep the flashlight. Second, he reckoned that the chore might be worth two dollars instead of one.

He went away happy, with a second-hand flashlight and two dollar bills. The officials considered it money well-spent.

In another case, the thief turned out to be a cripple, who was shy something like $200,000.

Beat to Punch

The examiners and other officials, including FBI, looked into the man's background. He was a bank cashier by day and a trustee for the local school in his spare time. For some time, he got away with his pilfering by taking funds from one pocket and putting them in the other, always prepared to face the right examiner at the right time.

One unhappy morning, the bank examiners showed up at opening time, before he had had a chance to transfer the figures on paper. He was apprehended. He also was silent when questioned.

Then the FBI discovered that the poor fellow was a narcotics addict. They sweated him out until he could stand it no longer. The government made a deal and the fellow confessed.

There are standards for advertising, too!

for advertising, too!

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. Make your advertising investments on the basis of this audited information. Ask for a copy of our A.B.C. report.

Employment Drop Reported Here

Pampa's employment picture at this time — the normal peak for the year — is down somewhat from what it was last year during the same period.

Main job activity is the need for several hundred cotton-pickers in the Wheeler County and southern Gray County areas, according to Bill Ragdale, local manager of the Texas Employment Commission.

A decline in both construction and agricultural jobs is the main explanation for this year's fall drop in employment opportunities, Ragdale said today.

Last week activity in the TEC office was "up somewhat" from the week before, the manager continued, explaining that the reason was an upswing in the temporary job field, mostly Wednesday and Thursday.

Some dozen jobs were on hand in the office at the beginning of this week.

Pampa Entries Win In Amarillo

Two entries from Pampa in the Sears district gilt and hoar show at Amarillo over the weekend won $45 in prize money.

Paul Eakins' gilt, which had taken first prize in the Gray county show, placed eighth at Amarillo and won for its owner $20 in cash. A $25 award went to Ruben Baggerman for his hoar, which won sixth place. The hoar also was a first place winner at the county show.

Advisory Board Election Opens

Ballots in the election of a five-man advisory board to the Pampa Board of City Development were mailed Monday by personnel of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce to all members of the chamber.

The ballots, which must be returned to the office by Saturday, must be signed by the voter to make the ballot valid. The top ten named on this first ballot will be placed on another ballot from which the five-member board will be named.

The advisory board meets with the Board of City Development and chamber directors, and a joint committee directs activities of both groups. The Board of City Development is appointed by the City Commission.

The election committee is composed of Leslie Hart, Ed Myatt, Joe Donaldson and R. H. Nestel. Members of the Board of City Development are Aubrey Steele, Clinton Evans, Jack Vaughan, Jim Nation and H. O. Darby.

and meetings and votes is to build to the proposed $85,000,000 dam north and west of Berger, near Sanford.

Cities voting affirmative on the confirmation will remain in the district. Those voting against it will be out. When any business proposal for the dam is brought to an election in the 12 cities—if it is voted down, the city will be out, too.

Making the trip from Pampa also were Fred Thompson, Pampa's other member of the board, and Mayor Tom Rose.

'Ham' Radio Drill Termed A Success

Pampa's second assimilated disaster drill, in which local ham radio operators and American Red Cross officials participated, has been declared a success.

According to Mrs. F. W. Shottwell, Red Cross executive, the drill was held from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Sunday—when Pampa's Celanese plant "was bombed and destroyed."

Only other "bombing" ever to hit Pampa came Oct. 13, 1952, Mrs. Shottwell recalled.

First word of the assimilated drill came from the Red Cross headquarters in Washington, D.C. to Mrs. Shottwell who, in turn, notified Rev. Dick Crews, local disaster chairman, to report to city hall.

In addition to notifying local hams, Mrs. Shottwell also called Highland General Hospital, officials of which cooperated by sending two physicians and four nurses to participate in the drill.

Ham radio personnel who participated were Jim Bailey, in city hall; Benny Cobb, Berger, who "sent" fire equipment to the scene; Herman Whatley, located halfway between Pampa and Celanese; Harold Beckham and Laird Campbell, both stationed at Celanese; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eller; Charlie Meech; H. E. Jordan; Red Payne; Bill Faulkner; Bill Hawkins; and Albert Gunn.

Explaining that the Federal Government has set up $30 million in 1953 for the use of civilian emergency communication in preparation for a disaster that might come to American communities, Mrs. Shottwell said that Sheriff Rufe Jordan has the material for setting up this program in Pampa through city and county officials and civic organizations—if they wish to avail themselves of the opportunity.

Rites Slated In White Deer For Leukemia Victim

PANHANDLE — Funeral services for Robert W. Guyer, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Guyer, Panhandle, will be held Wednesday at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in White Deer, with the Rev. Young Guyer died about 12:30 p.m. Sunday in Baylor Hospital, Dallas, following a 10-month-long battle with leukemia, a blood disease.

The youth had attended the Panhandle schools for two years before he was stricken nearly a year ago. He was born and reared near White Deer and attended White Deer schools before moving to Panhandle.

Prior to his illness, Robert had been active in farm youth activities.

In addition to his parents, survivors include a brother, Gene, Austin; a sister, Kay, Panhandle, and his grandmother, Mrs. Etna Outlaw, White Deer.

that he struck the elder Williams. A young woman with Warren Williams at the time of the accident told officers that "we drove out the Berger highway and he talked it over with me. He talked about going back to town and calling the hospital. Then he took me home."

The arrest was made shortly before midnight, deputies said.

T. J. Davis, 630 1/2 N. Starkweather, a witness to the mishap, said when he was riding down Brown street he saw a man in the middle of the street. One car, Davis said, going in a westerly direction, first struck the man "a glancing blow," and he fell into the path of another vehicle.

Officers were told that the driver of the first car remained at the scene until an ambulance was called, then drove away.

A Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance rushed the victim to Worley hospital. Attendants there administered plasma and oxygen, but despite their efforts, Williams died about an hour after being admitted.

B. M. Underwood, a Cabot shops truck driver, who was driving his truck east, said he saw something lying in the street as he approached the intersection and saw a car going in the opposite direction pull toward the curb. Underwood said "it couldn't have been but a second" before a second car going in the same direction as Underwood was trying to stop. He said he saw something rolling under this car and realized that it was a body. The driver of the car slammed on the brakes and tried to stop, but he "couldn't have missed him," Underwood stated.

The truck driver stated that he noticed the other car had been traveling in the other direction had stopped at the curb about a third of a block west of the intersection. He added that just as the police came over to where his truck was parked, he saw the car pull away and leave.

The body was taken to McLean by the Claborn Funeral Home where funeral arrangements will be announced later.

A native of Oklahoma, the victim is survived by his wife, Mrs. Iva Williams, Pampa; two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Flaherty, Pampa and Mrs. Lucille Roach, El Cajon, Calif.; four sons, Billy James Rainwater, Ft. Ord, Calif.; Tommy Wayne, Jimmy Charles and Ronald Gene Williams, all of Pampa; a sister, Mrs. Virgie Kuykendall of Cactus, Tex.; a stepmother, Mrs. Clyde Williams, Oklahoma City; five brothers, Warren Williams, Pampa; the Rev. Howard Williams, Pomona, Calif.; Bert and Alvin Williams, whose addresses are unknown.

County's Tax Roll Due For Completion

Gray County's tax roll is still expected to be completed by Saturday but the getting of necessary signatures may hold things up.

According to County Tax Assessor-Collector F. E. Leech, the roll, when finished, needs the signatures of County Judge J. B. Maguire Jr. and the comptroller in Austin.

And Maguire is expected to be out of town till Oct. 19. Once his signature is procured and a copy of the roll sent to Austin, it's a matter of hours before Pampans can begin paying their taxes. For the comptroller generally sends back an okaying telegram, Leech said.

McLean Funeral For Gun Victim

McLEAN — (Special) — Funeral services for Andrew Taylor Williams, 48, who was found dead Monday in a restroom, will be conducted Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the McLean Methodist church, with the Rev. C. W. Parmenter, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Hillcrest cemetery under direction of the Claborn Funeral Home.

Justice of the Peace J. C. Claborn, acting as coroner, ruled that Wilson "died by gunshot wound, self inflicted." A shotgun and a stick, apparently used to pull the trigger, were found nearby.

Wilson was born April 22, 1885, in Midlothian, Ellis county. His father, the late George P. Wilson, a pioneer both in Ellis county and in the Panhandle, moved his family to the Panhandle about the turn of the century. Andrew Wilson settled in McLean in 1910.

In addition to those already listed, other survivors are two brothers, Homer and Frank Wilson, McLean; and five sisters, Miss Mannie Wilson, Del Rio; Mrs. Valla Bush, Weslaco; Mrs. E. H. Quattlebaum, Miss Kate and Mrs. Georgia Wolf, all of Amarillo. Mrs. Wolf formerly was postmistress at McLean.

GAS RATES

Following the final action, Davis said it would take him a couple of hours to figure out how much that would hike the present minimum rate of $1.50. Empire had requested a raise of the minimum rate to $2.

In other action, the commission considered:

(1) A request by Clyde Neal and Jimmy Olson to have more time to get their chickens out of the Pampa city limits. An ordinance was passed a month ago, prohibiting them being in the city.

(2) A request by County Commissioner W. E. (Bill) Jarvis to have the proposed county barn in Recreation Park face north and south, instead of east and west. City commissioners agreed to meet sometime before the next county commissioners' meeting—Monday—and make a decision.

(3) A request by Brunley's Grocery and Quality Studio, in the 300-block of West Foster, to change the parking meters from two-to-one-hour ones.

(4) A request by Jay Nichols, owner of the now-dead Pampa City Bus Company, to be closed out as of Oct. 1.

(5) Three estimates to be paid: L. L. Stokes, $180.70, water and sewer work; W. R. Colville Construction, $2,053.75, for Duncan St. curb and gutter work.

Near noon today L. P. Fort and other Pampa citizens were asking Davis and Erwin Thompson, local Empire manager, about the new figures.

If Empire appeals the commission's action, it would have to be taken to the Texas Railroad Commission, then to district court and on up through the Texas court system.

Only fire over the weekend came in a chicken house owned by V. D. Malone, 623 N. Zimmers. Though it was "burned pretty bad inside," the damage was considered "not too much" in the blaze it took some 20 minutes to put out, firemen reported today. Fire occurred at 3:55 p.m. Sunday.

National Whirligig... Eisenhower Administration Is Determined To Prevent Slump

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower administration is determined to prevent or defer another disastrous depression, even if it finds it necessary to adopt and improve upon the Roosevelt remedies of 1933-1939.

The administration has numerous cushions against a bad landing. Depressions have their basic origin in lack of demand for industrial and agricultural goods.

When demand disappears, they result in factory layoffs, nationwide unemployment, lack of purchasing power, bank demand for payment on borrowings, bank crashes, a general curtailment of business activity, and a nationwide bust-up like that which occurred in 1931-1933.

Increased outlays for national defense, regardless of budgetary pump money and credit into the economic blood stream. Fair Enough... Dave Beck Got Away With A Brazen 'Stickup' Under Ruse

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Last spring, Dave Beck, the president of the Teamsters' Union, got away with a brazen stickup all over the United States in which practically all the freight trucks in the country were canvassed by his agents for the purpose of determining whether the drivers had joined his union...

The falsity of this propaganda was established last July 3 in Kansas City by testimony elicited from O. L. Ring, secretary of a council of teamsters' locals covering 12 states, president also of local 841 in Kansas City. Ring was responsible for a great tie-up of armament projects in that area which greatly delayed completion and retarded production of explosives for Korea and wings for planes.

Congressman Clare Hoffman, of Michigan, was examining Ring who, by the way, has since been indicted on charges of robbery, felonious assault and embezzlement. He was a high official of the union under Beck's command and the condition which he created by abuse of the power thus conferred on him was notorious. He terrorized officials and members of other unions as well as employers progressively until the whole area shut down.

Ring maintained that the purpose of the stoppage of the trucks was to determine whether the equipment was safe. However, he could not produce a single scrap of paper to prove this whereas Hoffman put into the record documentary evidence from the union's own correspondence showing that its interest stopped when the drivers had shown their union credentials and proof that they were paid up.

Hoffman showed Ring an official "check-card" which had blanks for a number of purposes including a space for the number of the driver's dues book, the number of his local and this item "dues" okay?

Ring was requested to read this card aloud and he did so. "Obviously," Mr. Hoffman said, "there is not a single word which would give the onlooker any idea of the card any information about brakes, tires, anything that would have to do with safe operation, is there?"

Ring stalled and, when Hoffman insisted on a direct answer, said: "There was more to be made out of which doesn't show there."

"Have you got one of those? Can you get one?" "I don't know whether I could or not."

This was followed by an incoherent statement which revealed no information. Hoffman then called Ring's attention to the issue of the teamsters' monthly magazine, published mostly to glorify Beck and other paid officials. He said it was strange that an official card bearing the blanks for the data to be taken from the drivers and inserted in the magazine did not carry any mention of safety.

Congressman Wint Smith, of Kansas, the chairman of the subcommittee, showed Ring a letter from Austin O. Morrison, secretary of local 696, which went to a truck owner. It said: "You are doubtless aware that under instructions from our national trade division we will check for the contract now in force. If your equipment is subject to delay because of any infraction of this good - standing clause, yours is the sole responsibility for any inconvenience caused."

LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

The probabilities are that every father of a girl child must inevitably come to that day when it is clear and apparent to him that he no longer is the most important man in her life. She still has affection for him, but plainly she has given her whole heart to another man and there is no going back to the dear and lovely days when her father was the only man in the world. To him she had confided, to him she had told her childhood hurts and triumphs. For him she had worn gay little dresses on gala days and for him often had abandoned playmates, just to walk to the store holding his hand.

It is a difficult time for a father. He still feels all that he ever felt for this beautiful child. But he knows, as an adult, that she is moving into a new part of her life and that he must accept as graciously as possible the role of relegation. It is a wrench, but it is usual. The only thing that a father can hope is that the new man be one of character and integrity, mingling humor and kindness with these in a perfect demonstration of his nature.

Her new fellow is all that I could have asked for or hoped she would find. He is sound in character. He has a warm sense of humor. The humblest person or most insignificant man I have known has kindness. If I had looked the world over I could not have done better for her than she has done for herself. Most of the time, girls have an amazing sagacity about this quest. We worry about them and dread the day, but when it happens they come up to law with a maturity and wisdom usually beyond the kind of man against whom a father couldn't justly utter a critical word.

This man enjoys the respect of the community. There is no debate about that. They like him. The chances are he is going to be of consequence to more than our community. He has the stuff for men. The man who stands with it a humility that is promising. Much as I might like, in secret, to find a flaw in this fellow who has jostled me aside in this girl's heart, I can't justly do so. He's all there.

It began, as these things must so often, with her seeing a picture of him. It wasn't much of a picture, and that's a fact. It was torn and had been walked on several times. But it seemed to fascinate her. She picked it up, although I felt squeamish about her handling a picture that had been lying on a sidewalk. She studied it for awhile, and then asked me if I knew who it was. I studied it and told her I did. I told her who it was. That ended that for, maybe six months. Then she found another picture of him. At the time, I was a little nettled. Fellow must have spent most of his time getting his picture taken. But I knew that wasn't fair. It just happened she saw two of them. This time she wanted to know if I knew anything about him. She was direct about it. No evasive phrases or cover-up. Did I know anything about him? It happened that I did and I told her what I knew. It seemed to please her. Her eyes lit up and I knew what was happening. It gave me concern. I went back over all I knew, to myself, to try to find a flaw lest she be disillusioned. I couldn't find any.

From then on I began hearing a good deal about him. She would come home from school with a new fact about him. The truth is that I knew most of them. It's a father's business to know. But I let her think she was giving me astonishingly new truths. It doesn't hurt to encourage a child when it's right. She responded to this sympathetic listening and let go all that was in her heart. We knew that was in her love with this man and that's all there was to it. I had to face it. I hope I faced it properly and intelligently.

He's some fellow and I couldn't think of a better fellow for a girl nine years old. She's in love with Abraham Lincoln.

Sandies Hold Overall Edge Over Harvesters

PHSians Have Won Last Four Played

Pampa's Fighting Harvesters and the Golden Sandies of Amarillo will be clashing for the 23rd time Friday night when they get together at Harvester Stadium in the opening 1-AAAA game for both teams.

The Sandies, who dominated the series through the '30s, own a distinct edge in the series, winning 15 while the Harvesters have won seven. Oddly enough, there have been no ties during the 22-game series thus far.

While the Sandies hold the overall edge in the series, they haven't beaten the Harvesters since their 32-4 victory in 1948. The Green and Golders have taken the last four games played between the two clubs.

Despite the Sandie edge in the series, most of the games played between the two clubs have been close affairs. Three of the Sandie wins have been by less than a one-touchdown margin, two more have been by one touchdown and six have been by two touchdowns.

The highest margin of victory compiled by the Sandies was their 39-7 win in 1942.

On the other hand, the biggest margin of victory by the Harvesters was their 28-0 victory in 1930.

The Harvesters hold the edge over the Sandies in games played in Pampa, winning six of the 10 games played here.

The Sandies built up their edge in the series during the first 10 games that started in 1930, winning nine out of 10 through the '30s.

Following is the complete history of the Harvester-Sandie series:

Darby Held Out Of Harvester Workout

The Harvesters went through a snappy 2-hour drill yesterday as they began preparations for the Amarillo Sandie invasion Friday night at Harvester Stadium.

All hands took part in the workout with exception of John Darby who was injured in the Paschal game Friday night. Darby suffered a bruised knee in the Paschal tilt. The fleet-footed halfback will likely be held out of the contact work the remainder of this week.

Unless something unforeseen comes up, Darby is expected to be ready to go on Friday night's tilt. Darby did a lot of running at yesterday's workout in an attempt to iron the kinks out of his injured knee.

Following the workout yesterday, Coach Tom Tipps took guard Ronnie Elliott to the doctor's office for a checkup and it was not known this morning how seriously ill he was.

Otherwise the Harvesters are in pretty good physical shape at the moment.

Friday's game will be played before a full house. Business manager Roy McMillen said this morning that both the east and west stands tickets have been sold. However, 1,500 general admission tickets remain. These tickets are for the bleachers at the northwest corner of the stadium. Price for these ducaets is $1.25. They were being picked up at a pretty rapid pace this morning.

McMillen says there is no use of Pampa fans going to Amarillo to get tickets as they are sold out over there, too. Amarillo received 1,500 adults, 1,000 students and 450 general admission tickets for Friday's game.

Injuries Riddle Arkansas, Texas Aggie Grid Squads

By UNITED PRESS

Arkansas and Texas A&M Southwest Conference football squads were hard-hit Tuesday by injuries received last Saturday, but other teams in the loop fared well and expected to be at full force in next week's play.

Coach Ray George said the Aggie victory over Georgia proved expensive, with halfback Joe Boring and fullback Don Kaschik hurt so badly they may miss the Texas Tech game. Joe Schero, substitute halfback, also was injured.

Arkansas' Coach Bowden Wyatt said four Razorback players will be out of this week's game. Injured are tailback Billy Pickens, fullback Johnson Gunn and ends Red Warren and Jerry Bogard.

Wyatt was pleased with his team's 13 to 6 victory Saturday against Texas Christian, and planned Tuesday to start work on simulated Friday for Harvester offense plays.

Arkansas' "Tough" Baylor was warned Monday by scout Jim Crow that Club's and leagues' share, $904,037.41; Players' pool, $691,341.61. (Players shared only in proceeds of first four games; Total pool included $83,000 from pre-game television show.)

Well Qualified

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—UP—When shortstop Phil Rizzuto hangs up his spurs, he should be able to get a job as a soothsayer.

Before Billy Martin hit his game-winning single in Tuesday's climactic World Series game, Rizzuto turned to Manager Casey Stengel and said:

"You worries are over until next year, Case. Martin is gonna end it right here with a base hit."

Team Getting Most Breaks Will Win Game Here Friday, Tipps Tells Quarterbackers

"THE TEAM GETTING the most breaks will win Friday night's game," Harvester coach Tom Tipps told the Pampa Quarterback Club members last night in regards to the Harvester-Amarillo game coming up this weekend.

Speaking to the largest turnout of the season at the QB meeting, Tipps said "it's going to be that kind of a ball game." "Amarillo has a good ball club and they will have the edge on us on overall speed, especially on offense," Tipps added.

"There will be a lot of tension on Friday's game, and temperaments will be high," Tipps continued. "I'd like to issue a warning to all Pampa fans against causing any disturbance on the field following the game," Tipps said.

"If you want to whip anybody, do it down town," Tipps said jokingly. "To the extent, one of the Quarterbackers (a good doctor here in town) spoke up and said 'is there anybody over there that I can whip?'"

Tipps praised the good following of fans and students at the Fort Worth game last week. "I want all you to know that I appreciate the support by the fans at Fort Worth and I can assure you that the players also were appreciative," the Harvester mentor quipped. "At least we knew we had some friends down there."

Tipps is trying to dodge the favorites role in Friday's game. "If we are favored to win Friday, it's only because of our comparative records last year," he said.

In conclusion, Tipps said "the team getting the most breaks will win."

Irish Retain 1st Baylor Ranked 8th In UP Grid Poll

By NORMAN MILLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—UP—Powerful Notre Dame, which in its first two victories has far exceeded the pre-season forebodings of Coach Frank Leahy, topped the United Press college football ratings Monday for the second week in a row.

Naturally, few took much stock in Leahy's customary pessimistic prediction that "we'll be lucky to make a first down this season." And after impressive victories over Oklahoma and Purdue, the Irish this week were the first place choice of 27 of the 35 leading coaches who comprise the United Press rating board.

Michigan State, last season's mythical national champion, gained some ground on the Irish, while UCLA and Ohio State retained last week's third and fourth ratings. This week's rankings showed few changes after weekend games that generally wound up according to form.

Duke Replaces Oklahoma

There was only one change among the top 10 teams, Duke replacing Oklahoma.

Notre Dame had 232 out of a possible 350 points and Michigan State, now working on a 26-game winning streak, had 291. Although the Irish attracted two more first place votes and seven more points than last week, Michigan State narrowed the margin between them from 61 to 41 points. The Spartans were the first place choice of four coaches. No coach voted Notre Dame lower than fifth place.

UCLA had two first place votes and 200 points, and Ohio State had 194 points. Maryland, Southern California and Michigan were bunched closely for the next three places, with 147, 144 and 142 points, respectively.

Baylor, with 85 points; Georgia Tech, with 69, and Duke, with 68, rounded out the top 10 teams in that order.

Maryland, Southern California and Rice (which ranked 11th) each received one first place vote.

This week's top 10 thus was

Pitching Is Yank Worry Of Making It 6 Straight In '54

By LEO H. PETERSEN
NEW YORK, Oct. 6—UP—The fabulous New York Yankees, their reign extended to an unprecedented five straight years, planned Tuesday to strengthen an aging pitching staff which seemed to offer their frustrated opponents their only hope of ending the greatest success story in baseball history.

General Manager George Weiss hinted that the Yankees already were negotiating to acquire a star pitcher when he singled out the pitching corps as "our No. 1 problem for 1954."

"We have a good young team that could go on to win a sixth straight pennant next season," Weiss said. "Throughout the winter, our basic aim must be, however, to solidify our pitching."

Weiss gave no indication of the pitcher the Yankees might be seeking but it was believed their first choice would be Mike Garcia, powerful right-hander of the Cleveland Indians. Others the Yankees might be dicker for included 22-game winner Bob Porterfield of the Washington Senators, rookie Bob Wiley from the St. Louis Browns and either Bobby Shantz or Harry Byrd of the Philadelphia Athletics.

For the present, however, Manager Casey Stengel and his players exulted in their astounding string of successes—a record which not even the fabulous Yankees of the Babe Ruth era, John McGraw's greatest New York Giant teams or Connie Mack's finest Athletic teams could match.

New Baseball History

For with Monday's dramatic 4 to 3 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers the Yankees wrote a new page in baseball history—five consecutive American League pennants crowned with five consecutive World Series triumphs.

There were heroes galore in the Yankee camp—beginning, of course, with Stengel, who will be back next season in an attempt to write still another record into the books.

Second was stringy, combative Billy Martin, who capped one of the great individual performances in Yankee history with a ninth-inning single that drove in the winning run Monday.

The Yankee "brat," as Stengel refers to him, not only ended the series with his ground single into center field that scored Hank Ryer from second base with the winning run, but equaled the record of 12 hits by a player in a series.

Then Allie Reynolds

Next in line, of course, came Allie Reynolds, whose victory over the Yankees in series competition, ended Ruffing's record of seven victories in series competition. Reynolds and Ruffing now share the mark with identical 7-2 marks.

Reynolds' victory was tainted by the fact he served up the game-tying, two-run homer to Carl Furillo in the ninth inning, but it was embellished by the fact that his three strikeouts enabled him to set a new series standard of 62 strikeouts in series competition.

The Yankees' future, aside from the pitching, seemed assured. In Mickey Mantle, the Yankees have a 21-year old star who figures to go on to lead them to pennants and world championships into the foreseeable future. Yogi Berra, the Yankees' No. 2 man, is only 27 and the remainder of the team is as youthful.

Moreover, Stengel seemed to have found a great new star in Martin—by all odds one of the most dramatic heroes of series history.

Mantle Did Well

The series turned, of course, on one play—Russ Meyer's pitch to Mantle with the bases filled and two out in the third inning of the fifth game. That majestic, grand slam homer put the Yankees ahead 6 to 1 in the key game, moved Stengel into the driver's seat from a strategical standpoint and really ended the Dodgers' hopes.

Mantle, a fitful star despite his amazing abilities, hit a mere .208 in the series—collecting just five hits in 24 tries and striking out eight times—but he actually proved decisive. His two-run homer off game 4 to 2 and the blast off Meyer was the blow from which the Dodgers could not recover. Freacher Roe won the second

After Game-Winning Blow 'I Rode To First Base On A Cloud,' Billy Martin Says

(Editors' Note: Billy Martin's first inning—the one on which they charged Junior Gilliam with an error—was the hardest ball I hit all day. I kind of felt cheated when they ruled it an error but after that ninth inning hit, I don't feel short-changed in the least.

I realized I needed one more hit to tie Pepper Martin's record of 12 hits in a World Series, but that wasn't important, I didn't care how I got on just so long as I could get Hank in from second base.

Now, I'm just going some place quiet and relax for a long time. Any minute, I expect someone to jab me in the ribs and say:

By BILLY MARTIN
As Told To The United Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 6—UP—The ball I hit in the ninth inning went out to center field, they tell me, but I'll always believe it rolled into the promised land.

When I crossed first base and realized that we had won, a thousand sensations seemed to pass through my body all at once. It was just like stepping under a needle shower on a hot day. "You did it, kid!" That's what I kept telling myself over and over again. But I just couldn't believe it.

It seemed to me like it was happening to somebody else, not me. Now I know how Bobby Thomson of the Giants felt when he hit that pennant-winning homer against Brooklyn in 1951. He said he didn't run around in the dugout, but that he rode around them on a cloud. Believe me, the cloud I was on after that hit was higher than Thomson's.

When I came up to face Clem Labine in the ninth I thought to myself how nice it would be if I could come through with a hit. I saw Hank Bauer dancing off second base and I figured how great it would be if I could wind up the year with just one more RBI.

Labine came in with a fast ball and I followed it from the moment it left his hand. When I hit the ball, I wasn't sure it would go through the box but I got a glimpse of it as I started down the baseline and I think I said, "Hot dog!"

Actually, the ball I hit in the

Palmer of Huro Speaks
OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 3—UP—Eugene R. Guild, president of "the fighting homefronts of fighting men," offered the suggestion to the Congress of Freedom meeting here, and urged support of it by the Congress.

MFA to Buy Hay
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 3—UP—The Missouri Farmers Association Saturday announced plans to buy 100,000 tons of northern hay in an effort to speed relief to Missouri drought farmers. The MFA program, however, hinged on cooperation between railroads and the federal government in absorbing freight charges on the hay which average about $15 a ton.

U. S. Allies Pressing For USSR Non-Aggression Pact

By PHIL NEWSOM
 United Press Foreign Analyst
 The United States is being pressured by Britain and France to offer a non-aggression pact to Russia. If this seems like a ninth-round handshake between two prize fighters who then will attempt to batter each other's brains out, attached to it are a peculiar set of circumstances in which the United States joins reluctantly.

One is the increasing pressure from Britain and the European Allies for one more all-out attempt to reach a settlement with Russia which would ease world tensions. Prime Minister Winston Churchill applied it last spring when he proposed a high-level four-power conference.

Churchill has not abandoned the idea.

Another circumstance is a growing belief among the United States

Allies that Russia must be offered some kind of a price.
 Churchill set the pattern on May 11 when he said Russia has the right to feel assured that "the terrible events of the Hitler invasion will never be repeated."

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has suggested a possible treaty between the European defense community countries and those of the Eastern Bloc.

On Sept. 17, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles joined with a statement in the United Nations that the "United States does not want to see Russia encircled by hostile peoples."

On Sept. 25, French Deputy For-

NEW GOVERNOR—Lt. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight will be the governor of California, replacing Earl Warren, who has been named Chief Justice of the U. S. Knight, a resident of Los Angeles, will take over when Governor Warren resigns.

Bolger Makes Debut On TV

By ALINE MOSBY
 HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 6—UP—Ray Bolger happily announced Tuesday he, at least, is not going to do a panel show on television. Instead, the musical comedy star is presenting TV's first movie musical.

The famed comic-hooper makes his TV debut on ABC's Where's Raymond, it's not a quiz show, he grinned, but each half hour program is a complete musical on film.

"The only concession he makes to the usual format, he added, is those dubbed-in laughs."

"Nobody wants them on TV but the sponsors, so we have to have them," the rubbery-faced dancer said sadly.

"Otherwise, our show is a new approach. People are tired of the same old formats. I decided I wouldn't go on television without a new idea. Television now falls into categories. There's only one Mr. Peppers, but 500 impersonators."

"Then there's panel shows, variety shows, husband-and-wife serials and detective yarns."

But Where's Raymond pleases the Hollywoodites who insist TV is like the movies and should use a film instead of radio format. Bolger plays a Broadway entertainer who gets into complications with his family, a coffee shop waitress played by Betty Lynn and the backstage characters at the theater.

The stage scenes give him a logical chance to introduce guest

"Can you signal Dad to stop raving about politicians? That's what Wilbur is going to be when he finishes law school!"

stars, such as Jan Clayton, and go into his dance routines.

"But Warner Studio owns the rights to it now—my song!" he chuckled. "I'll have to get permission from them every time we film it on TV."

UPS AND DOWNS OF FARM COMMODITY PRICES—Above Newschart shows average commodity prices farmers received for their crops and livestock during mid-September, compared with August prices. Department of Agriculture officials predict prices will remain "fairly stable" the rest of the year. They concede, however, that if there is any change it will be in the direction of lower prices. The current parity is 92 per cent, lowest since June 1941. When prices are at 100 per cent of parity, the farmer is said to be receiving prices which when balanced against his costs, give him the same purchasing power he had in the normal period of 1910-14.

Moslem Group Touring U. S.

RAWLINS, Wyo., Oct. 6—UP—Twelve government officials from five Moslem nations were scheduled to survey the Muddy Creek area Monday as part of their tour of government soil and moisture projects.

The group that arrived Monday night to begin the tour of the Wyoming projects included: Esmail Moini Zandi, Iranian minister of agriculture; Omar Draz, Omar Sabry and Haada Rachid, all of the Egyptian land development program; Hazza Pasha Majli, Shiek Akaf Ben Fayah, Shiek Mohammed Ben Hadid, Shiek Hamad Ben Jazi and Shiek Mohammed Ali Aloui, of the Jordan parliament; Jacob Ben Sallit, Jordan chief forester; Joseph Cherab, Lebanon minister of agriculture; and Sadek Hussein, liaison officer for Saudi Arabia.

The Moslem representatives also will tour projects in Montana, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Texas.

They will go to Craig, Colo., after inspecting the Muddy Creek area in Wyoming.

Japanese Prince Ends Rest
 CARMEL, Calif., Oct. 6—UP—Crown Prince Akihito of Japan prepared to return to San Francisco Tuesday where he will attend the opera Turandot, following a two-day rest here.

Nixon's Only Hat

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—UP—Aides scurried around town looking for Vice President Richard M. Nixon's hat Monday night before he took off on his Far East tour.

Finally it was found in the Supreme Court where Nixon had witnessed the swearing-in of Chief Justice Earl Warren.

There was good reason for all the anxiety—it's Nixon's only hat.

Charges Cruelty

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 6—UP—Fred de Vorse charged cruelty in a divorce suit Monday against his wife, Phyllis.

De Vorse said his wife kicked him, threw an iron at him, hit him with a bucket, and called him "vile names" when he locked himself inside his truck to get away from her.
