ST. PETER BEWARE!

High-Pressuring Irishman Is Dead

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 —UP— St. Peter may catch a crafty, one-eyed Irishman walking backward through the Pearly Gates Monday.
But the good saint will have to keep awake because the way this man does it he looks just like someone walking out.
The Irishman would be James Leo (One-Eyed) Connelly, the world's greatest gate crasher. He died Sunday at a Zion, Ill., rest home at the mellow age of 85.
His friends and admirers think he may have a ticket to heaven, but they wonder if he'll violate a principle and use it. A native of Lowell, Mass., the jovial Connelly spent his life traveling from coast to coast, sneaking into the great sports events, political conventions and other spectacles of past decades.

Most of the time the ushers knew he was coming and exactly what he looked like. And most of the time, he made suckers of them anyway.
Connelly could sneak in, climb in, bull his way in and, if necessary, talk his way in. Although his energy was boundless, he boasted he never did a day's work in his life until World War II broke out. Then he took a Detroit defense job as a patriotic gesture.

Four-Bit Thief Returns Money

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21 —UP—The operator of a paper store said he received the following letter from a conscience-stricken thief:
"Enclosed is the amount of 50 cents for money taken from the top of Sunday papers lying outside the store in 1948 or thereabouts."

Chief Believes POWs Had Plenty Of Time

Arrives In Seoul On Anti-Red Deal

TOKYO, Dec. 21 —UP— Gen. John E. Hull, Allied supreme commander in the Far East, said Monday he did not believe the 22 unrepatriated American war prisoners wanted to return to democracy.

Hull said on his arrival in Seoul that the Americans had "plenty of time," at least 87 days in neutral custody, "to think it over."
"If they had wanted to return there would have been no difficulties," Hull said.

Hull went to Seoul to "make up a plan" for the care of 22,000 anti-Communist North Koreans and Chinese who will become civilians on Jan. 22, 1954, under Korean armistice agreements.

"The anti-Communist Korean POWs will be sent to their homes after explanation time has ended and anti-Communist Chinese prisoners will be sent to Formosa," Hull said.

Confers With Rhee
He said he discussed the release of the prisoners with South Korean President Syngman Rhee and would confer Tuesday with Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian custodian of all unrepatriated war prisoners.
There were two schools of thought in variance with Hull's opinion on the attitude of American prisoners.
1. Thimayya said he would give the Americans one British and some 350 South Koreans their "last chance" Tuesday to accept repatriation. Although he said he did not believe the men would leave the compound, he thought the Americans would read a written appeal from the United Nations to them to think it over.
2. Defense officials in Washington said evidence indicated the four of the Americans really want to go home but fear assault by their GI buddies behind the barbed wire stockade. They hinted the Pfc. Richard Tenneson of Alder, Minn., was the most likely prospect.

Spending Cut Up To People Of U.S., USSR
FORT WORTH, Dec. 21 —UP—Deputy Secretary of the Treasury W. Randolph Burgess says that cuts in government spending depend on "the tremendous problem of Soviet Russia and the people of the United States."
"We are going to cut (expenditures) just as fast as we can. But, of course, the people of the country have a lot to say about that," Burgess said Sunday.
"The farmers, for instance, as to whether we should keep on spending as much money as we do now for price support—money for housing, and all of those things."
"But the big thing is our national defense," he said. "Until we get further along with these things the President is working on—the control of atomic energy and other ways of dealing with Russia—we just can't let down on our defense expenditures too much."
Burgess spoke on the Republican state executive committee's transcribed "Report to Texas" program over the Texas State Network.

Dean Gives Report On Peace Talks
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 —UP—Special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean gives President Eisenhower a report Monday on his futile eight-week effort to get Communist agreement on a Korean political conference.
Dean, who returned from Korea Thursday, also planned to tell the nation in a network television appearance Monday night of his successful negotiations and what the chances are for a lasting peace in Korea.
He will appear on the Dumont Television Network at 8 p. m. His speech will be carried later on CBS radio (10:30 p. m. est).
Dean, accompanied by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, planned to give President Eisenhower a first-hand report on the Korean situation at a White House conference.
Dean is confident the Communists want to resume the peace talks and that they will work out a plan for restarting the talks that is acceptable to the United States.
"I am quite sure that hostilities will not be resumed in Korea," he told reports on his arrival here.

Texas Death Toll Climbs

By UNITED PRESS
Texas had a preview of holiday tragedy Monday as a United Press survey showed at least 36 persons died violently, 19 of them in traffic accidents, on the last weekend before the usually bloody Christmas and New Year's weekends.

holiday period. Many more will be injured, some to be maimed for life.
The past weekend's death came in a variety of traffic mishaps, shootings, farm accidents and fires.
Two - Car Crash
The heaviest life-taker of the accidents was a two-car crash near Richmond Saturday in which three persons died. The victims were Jim Ed Jones of Rosenberg, Richard H. Forrest of Mobile, Ala., and Samuel Hawkins, Dallas Negro.
But the toll was built up primarily by many single-death accidents, many of them occurring on roads made slippery by rain. The heaviest toll was taken Friday night and Saturday.
Among the Sunday deaths was that of Airman First Class Donald Garcia, 23, who was killed when struck by a car in the Lackland-Kelly Field area of San Antonio. Garcia was stationed at Kelly, A. Houston youth, 19-year-old William A. Wegwert, was killed Sunday when his car went out of control near Fort Worth. Ralph A. Laakoski, 19, of Houston, received critical injuries.

Unions Are Said Assets

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 —UP—A special labor-management committee Monday urged companies to treat "strong" unions as "assets."
It said unions in turn should recognize that the welfare of their members hinges on their employer's prosperity.
The committee, created by the National Planning Association, made the recommendations in offering a nine-point formula for industrial peace.
The 28-man committee, headed by Prof. Clinton S. Golden of Howard University, was drawn from industry, labor, universities, law and economics. It made its recommendations after a seven-year study of "the causes of industrial peace."

"I. There is full acceptance by management of the collective bargaining process and of unionism as an institution. The company considers a strong union an asset to management."
The committee said at a news conference that the Taft-Hartley law appears to have had "no profound effect for good or bad" in labor-management relations.
The committee said good labor-management relations usually result when:

banquet tickets still available
Tickets to the football banquet tonight are still available, Ralph McKinney, chairman of the ticket sales committee, revealed this morning.
The tickets will remain on sale at Malone Pharmacy, Richard Drug and B&B Pharmacy until 5 p. m. today. After that, fans may purchase tickets at the door tonight.

Blind Sheriff Killed By Jeep
DENTON, Tex., Dec. 21 —UP—Ones Hodges, Denton's famed blind sheriff who got a seeing eye dog only 10 days ago, was killed Monday when he was struck by a jeep as he walked down a street with no sidewalk.
The dog also was killed.
Hodges was blinded by a shotgun blast in January, 1949, when he was shot by a Crum, Tex., farmer.
Hodges returned Dec. 10 from New York, where he had been training for a month at a school for seeing eye dogs and their masters.

Double Cold Fronts Seen

By UNITED PRESS
Winter launched two blows at Texas Monday — the first day of winter — and forecasters said the twin cold fronts will drop temperatures as low as 20 degrees in the Panhandle and South Plains Monday night.
The first cold front, moving in from the Pacific, stood at mid-morning on a line from Poncha City, Okla., across western Oklahoma, and across the South Plains to Carlsbad, N. M. Forecasters said it will reach the Dallas - Fort Worth area by early afternoon and continue across the state.
The second cold front, bringing colder air from Canada, was poised along the southern edge of Nebraska at daybreak, but forecasters said it was moving so fast it will reach into the Texas Panhandle by shortly after noon.
Snow flurries in Dalhart
A few snow flurries fell in Dalhart as the first front came through early Monday, and more were predicted for Monday night in the Panhandle.

Rescue Crew Seeks Flyers
REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Dec. 21 —UP—Three lonely bands of searchers drove forward against a blizzard Monday in a desperate effort to find nine American fliers missing on an isolated glacier peak.
Their goal was the wreckage of a Navy P-2V plane which crashed atop a 6,400-foot Myrdalsjokull Glacier Thursday—a snowdrifted tangle of metal sheltering chilled survivors, frozen bodies, or both.
There was no way to tell if there were survivors, for snow and fog shrouded the summit from aerial observation and there was no communication here with the searching parties.
Hope faltered Sunday when a plane sighted the wreckage and laconically reported: "No sign of life."
Survivors were reported sighted the day after the crash. But the fierce weather and the "no life" report caused rescue leaders to fear the worst.
Helicopters and parachutes were useless in the fog and wind Sunday, although forecasts called for less wind and better weather Monday.

UN To Request Final Appeal To Yank PWs

PANMUNJOM, Dec. 21 —UP—The United Nations will ask permission Tuesday to make a last-minute broadcast appeal to the 22 American war prisoners who have refused to return home, it was learned Monday.
Any hope of delivering a 22,000-word "come home" letter to the balky GIs apparently has been killed, qualified sources said.
As a last resort, American officers will ask the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission to authorize an emotional tape recorded message to the GIs Wednesday, final day for explanations to unrepatriated POWs.
American officers have kept a strict secrecy on the contents of the taped messages, but it was believed they contained heartbroken messages from families, appeals from civic leaders and popular American songs of 1950, the year most GIs left for Korea.
If the five-nation commission approves, U.S. officers will roll a high-powered mobile sound system to within a few feet of the barbed-wire "Communist" camp.

"Thank You, Santa"

Trotsky's Slayer Refuses Freedom
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 21 —UP—Jacques Monard, the mystery assassin who killed Bolshevik leader Leon Trotsky 13 years ago, spurned parole Monday and stayed in prison for fear he will be killed himself.
Monard, serving a 15-year term for carving in Trotsky's skull with an Alpine axe, became eligible for parole Sunday, having served two-thirds of his sentence.
Application for parole could have been made any time within the past six months, though none was filed.
If Monard continues to take no steps, apparently he will serve out his entire sentence.
Good Cause for Caution
The steely-eyed killer, who claimed he murdered Trotsky for "purely moral reasons," has good cause for caution.
He has never disclosed who ordered him to kill Trotsky. And Mexican authorities have never found out, despite the use of rigorous police methods.
They are convinced, however, that Soviet agents would like to insure that he never will—that is, if the Trotskyists don't get him first.
Thus, Monard's apparent decision to remain in comparative luxury as a prisoner in a private apartment in Mexico's "Black Castle Lecumberri" penitentiary,

Soldier Sentenced In Desertion Case
BERLIN, Dec. 21 —UP—An American soldier was sentenced to 13 years imprisonment Monday for deserting into the Soviet zone and trying with the help of a German girl friend to lure other GIs into following him.
Pvt. Robert D. Eivens of Omaha, Neb., admitted in his final plea to an Army court-martial that ordered him dishonorably discharged that the girl might have been a Soviet spy.
"The only advice I can give a soldier is to stay away from German girls," Eivens said.
Eivens was found guilty on two counts of desertion for a total of 21 weeks, escape from the Army guardhouse, conspiracy to induce soldiers to desert and violation of the U.S. Smith act by affiliating himself with the East German secret police.

Mossadegh Backed By Demonstrators
TEHRAN, Iran, Dec. 21 —UP—Demonstrations in favor of ousted Premier Mohammed Mossadegh broke out in Tehran Monday as a military court considered its verdict in his trial for treason.
The court had declared a recess after receiving a letter from young Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, announcing that he forgave any offense committed against him in view of Mossadegh's previous good service to the country.
During the recess, a group of about 60 students surged through the streets shouting "death to the British" and "Mossadegh is victorious."
People in the streets joined in sporadic demonstrations, fleeing as troops moved in to disperse them.
Six persons were reported arrested.
The Shah commented that Mossadegh's action in nationalizing the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., which threw the country into crisis, was in compliance with the nation's wish.

Police Search Detroit Area For Fugitives
DETROIT, Dec. 21 —UP—Heavily-armed police patrols checked hotels and rooming houses Monday in search of five dangerous southern Michigan prison escapees who fled to Detroit.
Police said there was a possibility the fugitives, two of them murderers and one a kidnaper, had invaded private homes and threatened residents with their lives unless they provided concealment during the intensive manhunt.
The five were the last of 13 convicts who broke out of the huge prison at Jackson, 60 miles west of here, Saturday night. The fugitives started their flight by using a blowtorch to cut through a steel grating covering the entrance to a sewer tunnel.
Then they crawled under the walls through the tunnel, into which scalding steam is pumped at certain intervals to flush out sewage.
All 13 convicts were occupants of notorious Cellblock 15, a disciplinary barracks housing the prison's toughest criminals. It was there where inmates started a bloody four-day riot in April, 1952. One convict was killed by state police bullets and a dozen others were wounded or injured before the uprising was quelled.
Six of the fugitives were captured shortly after the break when their stolen car overturned during a police chase. One of the two who fled on foot was picked up a short time later. His companion, Harold Rosa, 25, surrendered Sunday night after hiding nearly 24 hours in a coal bin at a Jackson hotel not far from the prison.

French Prepare For Tenth Ballot
VERSAILLES, Dec. 21 —UP—Parliament failed on its ninth ballot Monday, in the bitterest fight in its history, to elect a president of France to succeed Vincent Auriol.
Premier Joseph Laniel remained in the lead. But because of a determined "stop Laniel" movement, he lost votes on the ninth ballot.
The biggest presidential election deadlock remained unbroken and the national assembly and senate, sitting in joint session in historic Versailles palace, prepared to take a 10th ballot.
Never before had more than two ballots been necessary to elect a president of France.
The unofficial result of 9th ballot was: Laniel (independent) 413 votes, Marcel-Edmond Naegelen (Socialist) 365, Pierre Monteil (independent) 103.

Police Solve Burglary, Theft
Another Pampa burglary and an automobile theft have been solved. Chief of Police Jim Conner said this morning that David Hooker, 17, was arrested in Artesia, N. M., and is being held for Pampa authorities in connection with the burglary of the Snack Rak on W. Foster Friday night.
At the time of his arrest he was driving an automobile that was reported stolen from the garage at the home of J. H. Frick, 1201 N. Charles the same night. Conner said that Hooker had admitted the burglary and auto theft. Gray county sheriff's officers will go to Artesia to bring the prisoner and automobile back to Pampa.

Wheeler Kiwanis Installs Officers

WHEELER — (Special) — The sixth annual Wheeler Kiwanis Club Installation Banquet and Ladies Night program was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Wheeler Methodist Church last week with approximately 80 members and guests in attendance.
K. D. Speck, retiring president, presided over the meeting which was one of the most enjoyable and successful affairs of its sort held here since the Wheeler Kiwanis Club was organized some five years ago.
The meeting was opened with group singing led by Rev. O. A. McBryer. This was followed by the Pledge of Allegiance led by Supt. E. A. Brown and this was followed by the invocation which was led by C. J. Meek.

Russia Building Strong Air Arm

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 —UP— Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, Monday warned that Soviet Russia is making a "tremendous effort" to overcome this country's superiority in attack planes.
However, he said the United States now has a "pretty good margin" of air "offensive" supremacy over Russia.
In a copyrighted interview in U. S. News and World Report, Twining said Russia has "top-notch scientists" and "we know they are working very hard on both their air defense and offense."
small tokens of appreciation. President Speck presented his secretary, Thurman Rives, with a token of appreciation.

ELMER'S "The Friendly Store" SUPER MARKET

later with the War Production Board.
The purpose of the "Ware group" and its "elite corps" was not espionage. But its roster proved invaluable to Jay Whitaker Chambers when he was ordered to Washington in the mid 1930s to organize an ultra-secret apparatus.
Chambers Moves In
Chambers, a native of Philadelphia, already was a veteran Communist of some 10 years' standing when he set up shop in Washington. He had been assigned in 1932 to work in the party underground.
Into his secret apparatus, he received Alger Hiss. Chambers has said that the espionage activities of his ring extended from the fall of 1936 until the spring of 1938.
He has testified that he received hundreds of secret government documents during that time from Hiss, Julian Wadleigh of the Agriculture Department and through Abraham George Silverman—from Harry Dexter White of the Treasury Department.
Secret documents were micro-filmed and passed along by Chambers, the official courier of the ring, to Col. Boris Bykov, a Russian intelligence agent, for transmission to Moscow.
No Indication of Value
There is no clear indication just how valuable this information was to the Russians. But State Department officials testified about 10 years later that some of the Chambers' microfilms, not passed along to Bykov, could not be safely made public.
The Chambers-Bykov apparatus disintegrated, at least temporarily, when Chambers broke with communism in 1938.
But this apparatus was not the only Communist spy cell operating in this country at the time. Bykov alone was said to have headed at least one other apparatus, with headquarters in New York. Industrial espionage was its object. And there were still other cells within the government.
Tuesday—World War II alliance is due for Communists to intensify spying on the United States.

Government Pays Costly Figuring

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—UP—It cost the Defense Department about $30 million just to figure out how many billions the military should spend next year.
A Defense Department survey showed that some 12 million man-hours went into drawing up the fiscal 1955 military budget which will go to Congress next month.

Artist To Perform At White Deer

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Bob Wood, ex-marine and veteran of World War II, will present a Southern assembly program, "Dramatic Adventures with Chalk," Monday, Jan. 11, at 9:30 a.m. in the White Deer High School Auditorium.
Wood is a brilliant artist and cartoonist extraordinaire. He uses an immense easel, the largest of its kind, and more than a score of colors to produce his pictures. As he sketches, he reads of humor, paths and romance.
An interesting feature of his program his exhibition of double-mindedness—visualization and concentration—writing backwards and upside, and reading quotations on different subjects.

Open House Held At City Hall

Open house for employes of City Hall offices was held this morning in the Girl Scout office.
Boy and Girl Scout officials, headed by Paul Reisenherz and Mrs. Dorothy Statton, served coffee and cake in celebration of the Christmas season.

White Deer Paper Wins First Place

WHITE DEER — (Special) — For the second consecutive year, the White Deer High School publication, "The Buck's Tail," came out on top when they won first place for mimeographed papers in the recent Texas High School Press Association meeting in Denton. The award is a plaque which will be engraved and placed in the school trophy case.
Lovelle Vaughn, a student of White Deer High school, also received honorable mention for her editorial, "Well Did You Ever?" Miss Vaughn was in competition with more than one hundred other students from both large and small schools.
The meeting was attended by six members of the White Deer publications staff and their sponsor, Claudia Evely.

Student Seeking Missing Clarinet

A clarinet and case, belonging to the Canadian High School band, is still missing, according to a letter received from Othello Miller, Hemphill County News, by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce today.
The clarinet, according to the letter, was left in Pampa on the night of the Santa Day parade, Dec. 4.
If anyone has any information about the lost instrument they should contact Miller or the director of the band, W. E. Hendricks.

Stork Working Overtime Here

Mr. Stork was kept pretty busy again this weekend at Highland General Hospital, but not as busy as last week when he delivered four babies in less than 90 minutes. However, Saturday he delivered five babies in less than eight hours and was back again to deliver three more Sunday.
Saturday, boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Greenhouse of Miami, and to Mr. and Mrs. Jasper S. McBride, 925 Barnard. Sunday, boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. Eldon R. Lee of Mobeetie and to Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Shelton, 305 Roberta.
Girls were born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Davis, 2112 Alcock, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Nichols, Pampa, and to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hill of Lefors. Sunday, a girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Morrel, 2116 Coffee.

Search Fails To Yield 19 Airmen

GUAM, Dec. 21 —UP— Twelve rescue planes returned to Guam Monday after a fruitless day-long search for 19 men missing aboard two Navy planes.
The missing planes were a P-4Y weather plane, which disappeared with nine men aboard Wednesday while tracking Typhoon Doris, and a C-47 with 10 men, feared down in the sea north of Guam Sunday while searching for the P-4Y.
The search for the two planes will continue Tuesday.

THAT CHRISTMAS FEELING — "Duchess," the dog shown here looking at one of the Nativity scenes in City Park, lives a few steps away from the park and had been making a lot of noise, as if she wanted to go and visit the Christmas scenes. The neighbors had been complaining. So pretty Johnny Howard, 11-year-old granddaughter of Mrs. Roy Hallman, 507 N. Cuyler, who owns the dog, she stood in front of this scene, she quieted down. Back home again, "Duchess" heard no more complaints from the neighbors. (News Photo)

Kremlin Provided Year's Top Story

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 —UP—The death of Josef Stalin and the realignment of power in the Kremlin was the biggest news story of 1953, editors of the United Press said Monday.

The announcement of the Russian dictator's death on the cold gray morning of March 5, set off events that threatened world news all year. They included the fall from power of Lavrenti Beria, one of the three men who inherited Stalin's mantle.

Second in the U.P. list of the 10 biggest news stories was the signing of the truce in Korea on July 27.

Russia also figured in the third biggest news story of 1953. U.P. editors selected for that spot the Russian development of the H-bomb and the subsequent reevaluation of Western defense plans.

Top 10 Listed

1. Death of Stalin brings new alignment of Kremlin power.
2. Korean truce ends fighting and releases war prisoner of each side.
3. Russian H-bomb causes reevaluation of Western defenses; President Eisenhower proposes peaceful use of atomic energy.
4. Republicans return to power after 20 years.
5. U. S. government executes atomic spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.
6. Kidnapers of Bobby Greenlease executed less than three months after crime; $600,000 ransom paid for boy already dead.
7. Coronation of Queen launches Britain into another Elizabethan era.
8. Republicans charge former President Truman promoted Harry Dexter White, knowing he was an accused spy.
9. East Germany rebels and U.S. capitalizes on revolt with food packages.
10. Western drought and farm-price crisis.

Other big news stories considered by U. P. editors but which missed measuring up to the big ten were:

The death of Senator Taft; the scaling of Mt. Everest; the European floods; the comeback of Ben Hogan; history's worst air crash kills 129 in Tokyo; the McCarthy investigations; Yankees win fifth consecutive pennant; the Greek earthquakes; Governor Warren named chief justice of the U.S.; spring tornadoes in the United States; and the firing of an atomic cannon in Nevada tests.

Rats Got Away

TURIN, Italy, Dec. 19—UP—Ettore Rebellino was using a figure of speech when he asked police to "find the rat who stole 45,000 lire ($72) from my bar during the night."

Police discovered he was right. Gnawed remains of the banknotes were found in a nest of rats in the bar's cellar.

News Goat

TULSA, Okla., —UP—As a newsboy, Dick Greenwood, delivered copies of a morning paper here, a goat followed behind, chewing up the papers as fast as they were delivered. A neighbor corralled the critter after it followed Dick home and it took it to a farm near Tulsa to face a news-less diet.

Three Persons Die In Highway Crash

MINCO, Okla., Dec. 19—UP—Three members of a Blessing, Tex., family were killed three miles south of here on U. S. 81 Saturday when their car struck a stalled truck.

The dead were identified as Woodrow W. Atha, his wife, and their five-year-old daughter, Jane. Their 11-year-old son, Michael, was in critical condition at Chickasha, Okla., hospital and Stephen, 9, was reported in serious condition there.

Oklahoma highway trooper Aiton Bogle said the Atha car plowed into the wreckage of a transport truck which had rolled backwards and jackknifed on the highway when its brakes failed on a hill. The trooper said Atha and his wife were nearly cut in half by the impact. He said another Texas car, driven by Mrs. Audrey Stafford Fisk, 32, Waco, Tex., struck the wreckage moments later. The Blessing family was going to Wichita, Kan., to visit Atha's family. Mrs. Atha's mother, Sally Foar, is a Tulsa resident, according to Wendell Brown, operator of the Chickasha Funeral Home to which the bodies were taken. Mrs. Fisk suffered minor injuries in the crash, the trooper said, but her four-year-old son who was asleep, was unhurt.

FORT WORTH, Tex.—UP—Mrs. Wallace B. Smith awoke to find a burglar going through her husband's wallet. When she screamed, she told police, the man ran out the house and drove off in a late model Cadillac.

FAO CHIEF — Philip Cardon, 54, of Logan, Utah, is the new director general of the UN Food and Agricultural Organization because Norris E. Dodd, the former director, withdrew as a candidate. Cardon has previous experience in the Department of Agriculture and was a former U. S. Treasury Department official.

Seek Financing On Oil Pipeline

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 —UP—A Dallas pipe line executive has asked the government to guarantee parts of a private loan as a step toward financing construction of a 1,000 mile crude oil pipe line from West Texas to the Los Angeles area.

Lowell Glasco, president of the West Coast Pipe Line Co., said in an application filed last week that the ultimate cost of the 24 and 28 inch line will be about $106 million with $21.5 million coming from equity capital.

The application, which was filed for the attention of the Treasury Department, the Office of Defense Mobilization and the Petroleum Administration for Defense, said $55 million is to come from sale of bonds to insurance companies and other institutions by White Weld & Co., New York.

Glasco said the line probably would move 175,000 barrels of crude oil daily from the start of its operation and added that is the number of barrels which will be needed to break even on operation and debt service on the line.

Both East and West Court Favor Of Yugoslavia's Tito

By PHIL NEWBOM
United Press Foreign Analyst
No man's favor is being sought with more determination by both sides in the hot and cold wars than that of Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito. And with good reason: For Yugoslavia is a key to Mediterranean defenses, realized no less by Russia than by the Western Allies.

On her southeastern flank, so long as she adheres to the West, she forms with Greece and Turkey a mighty link in the defense of southern Europe and the entire eastern Mediterranean.

Equally, she weakens the chain of defense so long as she quarrels with Italy over the future of Trieste.

So, the painful efforts of the United States and Britain to settle the dispute to the satisfaction of both. With her tough army of 600,000 men, Yugoslavia is perhaps even more important to Russia.

Unbroken Land Route
With both Yugoslavia and Russian-dominated Albania on her side, Russia would have an unbroken land route to the Mediterranean, by passing the Dardanelles, and isolating Greece.

Further, if Yugoslavia were to restore her ties with the Kremlin, she automatically would restore the 1,700-mile Danube as a Communist artery extending from the Black Sea to Germany.

Now, with Western eyes focused primarily on Korea and on hopes for some kind of accord with Russia on Germany and Austria, perhaps not enough attention is being paid to Russia's own efforts to bring Yugoslavia and Tito back into the fold.

Here are some recent developments:

Recent Developments
For years Yugoslavia has been a minority of one on the Danubian commission, with her every proposal being voted down by Russia and her satellites. Suddenly the situation changed. At the session which ended last week, practically every Yugoslav suggestion for controlling traffic on the great waterway was accepted. To cap the climax, a Yugoslav was elected commission secretary.

Border incidents have dropped sharply, and agreements have been reached between Yugoslavia and

New Cloth May Save Pedestrians' Lives

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 21—UP—A 10-inch strip of cloth that glows in the dark may help put an end to the alarming number of pedestrians killed by autos in this nation each year.

Safety officials in this area have watched with keen interest a huge campaign to put the life-saving ribbons on everyone who ventures onto streets and sidewalks after dark.

The strips are called nit-rays. They are ribbons of cloth impregnated with light-reflecting particles. Sewn to the outer clothing of a pedestrian, they will pick up and reflect back the headlights of approaching automobiles and warn drivers. The reflected beam is invisible to the wearer but visible to motorists as much as two city blocks away.

Want Ad Predicts Traffic Accidents
AUSTIN, Dec. 21—UP—Workers in the Texas Department of Public Safety dug down in their pockets to ask that one of their predictions be proven wrong.

They paid for a classified advertisement in the Austin American-Statesman asking Texas drivers to make their forecast of 100 state traffic deaths during the 10-day Christmas and New Year period too high.

GORHAM, Me., Dec. 21—UP—Charles Scholl's definition of fashion: "It's what a her does to a hem to get a him."

all her Balkan neighbors except Bulgaria that future incidents will be settled on the basis of findings by a joint commission.

There are no train rontentions between Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, but the Bulgarians made a special point recently of arranging for a two-car train to cross the frontier to pick up the new Yugoslav ambassador to Sofia so there could be a proper reception at the Sofia station.

Mother's Appeal Recorded For Son

DALLAS, Dec. 21—UP—A saddened Texas mother Monday had made a last-minute appeal which she hoped would get her son, one of 22 non-repatriated Korean war prisoners, into the free world by Christmas.

Mrs. J. H. Adams of Corsicana, Tex., arrived in Dallas on a bus Sunday and walked quietly into a radio station.

"Can you help me?" she asked.

She explained she didn't believe her son, Cpl. Howard Gayle Adams, would stay under Communist control of his own free will, and she wanted to make a last appeal to him to return to his native land.

The 22 Americans have refused efforts to repatriate them after being indoctrinated with Communist propaganda.

"I have to get one last message to him before they quit the interviews, in Korea," she said.

Newsmen recorded her plea to her 28-year-old son, a graduate of Navarro Junior College. She spoke in a strained voice without aid of a script, and asked that the tape recording be sent to the Far East for her son to hear.

The despairing woman also had a written message, which she requested be sent to her son. She had written, simply:

"Dearest Gayle: I want to send this Christmas message to you. I had hoped and prayed that you would be on your way home by now.

"It is going to be a very sad Christmas for us unless you decide to come home. You have always had courage to do the right thing, so please have that courage now.

"We all love you very much and are praying every day that you have thought things over and will come back to your country, and to your God.

"I love you.

"Mother."

Clouds Hover As Winter Shows Up

By UNITED PRESS
A giant umbrella of clouds covered almost the entire country Monday as the sun's annual journey southward drew to an end.

The sun will reach its southernmost position the winter solstice—at 9:32 p.m. est Monday and start north again, signaling the official debut of winter.

As the new season approached, three distinct storm centers and numerous other weather disturbances began to dispel the mild, sunny weather many Americans enjoyed over the weekend.

The weather bureau reported that several fast-moving low pressure systems had united early Monday to produce a "continuous cloud cover which covers all of the country except the Southwest."

The forecast was for falling temperatures in the Midwest as the three cold fronts swept eastward. Temperatures on the Atlantic Seaboard were expected to then drop Tuesday as the cold air advanced into that area.

Light rain and drizzle fell from Dixie westward to Texas and northward through the Mississippi Valley into the southern Great Lakes early Monday.

Snow flurries were reported over northern New England and light snow fell over most of the Northern Plains, with some scattered snow showers in the Rocky Mountains as far south as Utah. Showers were also common along the Northern Pacific Coast.

As the sun reaches its southernmost position over the tropic of capricorn, 23-12 degrees south of the Equator, the Northern Hemisphere will have its shortest day of the year.

Another storm pushed cold air out of the Manitoba, Alberta, area into Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Another storm center blew out of Montana into the prairie states.

Heavy Burglary
NEW YORK, Dec. 21—UP—It took five experts using cranes and hoists to install a 2,000-pound "burglar-proof" safe in the Warsaw Bakery.

But when manager William Kurenski visited the plant he discovered the safe, containing $10,000 in cash and checks, was missing.

Tire tracks indicated the thieves, using a dolly, took the safe down a freight elevator, rolled it into a truck and drove off.

Musical Exchange
NEW YORK, Dec. 21—UP—While Erica Morini was playing the first movement of Brahms' violin concerto at Carnegie Hall the "A" string of her violin snapped.

While Bruno Walter continued conducting the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra, Miss Morini swapped instruments with the first violinist and continued as if nothing had happened.

Critics said she missed one or two notes during the swap.

Girl (above) is putting her facon of French perfume into a broadened evening bag designed especially to accompany it for Christmas giving.

Saturday's Child
EFFINGHAM, Ill.—UP—Petty's department store employees are trying to figure out the significance of a theft from a Christmas display of lingerie. The missing item is a pair of black, lace-trimmed step-ins embroidered with the word "Saturday." They were taken from a box containing six other pairs, each a different color and each labeled for a different day of the week.

PLAINS Angel Pie

- 2 1/4 Cups water
- 1 cup pineapple juice
- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 3 Tbsp cornstarch
- 2 Tsp almond or vanilla flavoring
- Pinch of Salt
- 3 Beaten egg whites
- 1 Tsp powdered sugar
- Shredded coconut
- 1 PINT PLAINS WHIPPING CREAM

Put 1 cup boiling water and 1 cup pineapple juice in saucepan. Add 1 1/4 cups sugar and 3 tsp cornstarch dissolved in 1 1/4 cups cold water and pinch of salt. Cook mixture until clear and thick. Add tsp almond or vanilla flavoring. When mixture is cool, fold in beaten whites of 3 eggs to which has been added 1 tsp powdered sugar. Pour combined mixture into baked pie shell. Cover with shredded coconut. Top with PLAINS WHIPPED CREAM and decorate with coconut. Store in refrigerator 3 hours before serving. This is sufficient for 2 pies.

Holiday Traffic Deaths Estimated

CHICAGO, Dec. 21—UP—An estimated 510 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the three-day Christmas holiday, the National Safety Council said Monday.

On that basis statistics indicate that about 8,600 persons will be injured. The council's estimate on traffic deaths covers the period from 6 p.m. Thursday to midnight Sunday.

The council suggested these driving rules:

1. Don't drive if the weather is bad.
2. Start early. Take it easy and allow extra time.
3. Always give the other fellow a break.
4. Don't drink if you drive, and watch out for others who may not be as wise.

Einstein's New Cap
NEW YORK, Dec. 21—UP—Professor Albert Einstein, the noted physicist, showed up at the swank Hotel Plaza to attend a society wedding wearing a saazny blue knit sailor's cap.

"You'll stop grinning when you get most of this back after the holidays!"

Airmen Play Santa Claus

ASHEVILLE, N.C., Dec. 21—UP—Santa Claus in the person of a footsore Air Force sergeant and his four helpers hiked to remote Lost Cove, N.C., Sunday to deliver gifts to 22 children and adults in the windup of "Operation Christmas."

Two helicopter teams distributed gifts to some 5,000 children in North Carolina orphanages during the first part of the Pope Air Force Base's annual "Operation Christmas" but it took infantry tactics to get to secluded Lost Cove.

The tiny community nestles on a plateau on flat top mountain in the regged Unaka Mountains. Trick winds over Lost Cove made it impossible to get there by air.

Airman I-C Bob Johnson of Indianapolis, whose 250 pounds fitted neatly into a white bear's red Santa Claus suit, and his air-minded companions had to trudge four hours up the mountain, packing 80 pounds of presents.

When they arrived at Lost Cove, some 30 miles north of here, the 11 children and 11 adults "all rushed over and greeted Santa Claus."

They accepted the gifts with "quiet reserve," he said, but ten-year-old Billy Bailey showed his mountain background when he received a BB gun.

He picked off flash bulbs dropped by an Air Force photographer "one after another with one shot apiece," Dacre added.

False Alarm
NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y.—UP—Police investigated a complaint that two youths were "shooting up" a street with rifles pointed out the window of their moving air car. They discovered the "guns" were broomsticks and the "shots" were the backfiring of the car caused by turning the ignition off and on.

Teacher Pay Raise Compromise Looms

By O. B. LLOYD JR.
AUSTIN, Dec. 21—UP—A special subcommittee studying the teacher's pay problem will propose a compromise plan on Jan. 13 which would give teachers a raise of $402 a year.

The group agreed on the plan Sunday in broad legislative proposals sharply revamping the state's present educational program.

The recommendation will be made to a 25-member committee named by Gov. Allan Shivers and the Texas State Teachers Association to study the teacher pay issue. If the committee accepts, the plan then will be taken to the governor and to the TSTA.

Acceptance by the governor and the TSTA would presumably open a way for Shivers to call a special session of the legislature to enact the program.

Favored by Most
Before they recommended the plan, subcommittee members polled administrators of more than 2,000 local school districts. Favorable reaction ran almost 9 to 1.

Under the compromise plan, local school districts will pay 30 per cent of the cost of the minimum foundation fund, which is the fund from which teachers are paid under the Gilmer-Aikin program.

At present local districts contribute a flat $46 million to the fund. The governor has criticized the flat rate, and districts have opposed plans which might increase their contribution.

While local districts will pay more than the $45 million under the 20 per cent plan, much of this would be made up to them under another provision of the compromise.

Allow Credits
The committee suggests that the state allow local school districts $100 credit against the percentage cost for each teacher. If the district had five teachers, the state would give that district $500 credit against the amount the school would pay as its contribution to the minimum foundation fund.

In a few instances, the credit will exceed the local assessment, now levied by the state. In that case, the local district would pay nothing.

H. W. Stilwell, superintendent of Texas state schools and TSTA legislative committee chairman, joined with Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris in opposing a proposal urged by Sen. Otis Lock of Lufkin to limit credits to 20 per cent of the local district contributions.

If approved by the legislature, the 1952 annual wage increase for teachers would cost the state an estimated $23,536,000 a year. However, the state would receive $10 million from the federal government.

"Oh, Ethel! Didn't there used to be a bathtub around here?"

Diamond Trick
MILWAUKEE, Wis. UP—James Federman of Milwaukee proved that a little inspiration can save a lot of perspiration. Mrs. Federman described how she and neighbors had searched fruitlessly in the grass and leaves on the Federman lawn for a diamond lost out of her engagement ring. After dark, Federman went out and swept a flashlight beam back and forth across the lawn and quickly found the stone as it sparkled in the light.

Ike's Televised News Meet Raises Varied Possibilities

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—UP—Backstairs at the White House: The White House plan to tape-record President Eisenhower's news conferences for later radio and television broadcast raises a number of intriguing possibilities.

Until the microphone moved in with the pencil and pad, a reporter would content himself, when questioning the President, with merely rising and saying for the stenographic record, "Zlich, Metro Gazette." Then he would put his question to Mr. Eisenhower.

With coast-to-coast network time, however, the same reporter may do it this way:

"This is T. Tallafarro Zlich, chief Washington correspondent for the Metro Gazette, evening and Sunday with a combined circulation of one million and serving the Potomac Valley from the mountains to the seashore bright with foam. And now, Mr. President, I'd like to ask..."

If the White House finally lives up to its promise to televise a news conference, will the reporters have to wear make-up? Will network chimes replace "thank you, Mr. President?"

One noted Washington reporter, according to quite unverified rumor, started taking diction lessons the minute he heard the press conferences were on the air.

It was the last night of the Big Three meeting at Bermuda. Mr. Eisenhower, instead of entertaining the big international dignitaries on hand, had as his dinner guest U. E. Baughman, chief of the United States Secret Service.

The occasion marked Baughman's 38th anniversary as a member of the Secret Service.

Reporters asked the President last week if he objected to newspaper headline writers using his nickname "Ike." He said he had no objection whatever.

This pointed up the interesting fact that the President is rarely identified in print or on the air as "D.D.E."

The late President Roosevelt was known internationally as "F.D.R." Mr. Truman was identified frequently in the headlines as "H.S.T." But you never see "D.D.E." even though Mr. Eisenhower frequently uses his initials in correspondence, and always, when signing his oil paintings.

It was during last week's legislative conferences at the White House, a workman crossed the lobby carrying three pieces of timber on his shoulder.

"I want to hide it some place where I'm sure Herkimer won't find it—it's his Christmas present to me!"

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Bids High But Makes Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
There's no doubt that North bid his head off in today's hand. To begin with, his takeout double was slightly weak, considering his poor distribution. A 14-point hand is fine when you have only a singleton in the opponent's suit, but it's on the weak side when you have three cards.

North had a chance to indicate his weakness when West bid two diamonds, since North could then pass. But North light-heartedly raised to two spades and then compounded the mischief by going on to four spades at his next turn.

turn. All of this overbidding gave South difficulty. West opened the king of diamonds and then shifted to the eight of hearts. South went up at once with dummy's ace of hearts and looked for a way to make his optimistic contract. It looked as though he would have to lose two hearts, a diamond, and at least one club, but there was a ray of hope.

It was clear that West had only a singleton heart, since East needed five of the missing six hearts for his two bids in that suit. There was a chance if West had the doubleton K-4 or K-10 of clubs. Acting on this hope, South immediately cashed dummy's ace of clubs. West dropped the jack, and South felt that business was definitely picking up.

Declarer next drew three rounds of trumps and led a low club. West had to win with the king of clubs and had to lead diamonds since he had nothing else left in his hand. When West led the ace of diamonds, South resisted the temptation to ruff. Instead he discarded one of his losing hearts. West had to continue with another diamond, and dummy won with the queen, thus giving South a chance to discard his other losing heart. With the lead in dummy, declarer could lead a club through East in order to finesse the queen-9. South therefore lost only one club and two diamonds, making his contract.

TROUBLE—Indo-China faces another crisis with the threatened resignation of Premier Nguyen Van Tam, of Viet Nam. The crisis arises from Nguyen's demands for an inquiry into recent Communist Viet Minh peace feelers, even though they are thought to be a trap.

Binion Enroute To Leavenworth

DALLAS Dec. 19—UP—Benny Binion was enroute to the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., Saturday, Sheriff Bill Decker's office reported.

Binion will serve three five-year sentences for cheating on his income taxes and one of four years for operating a $1 million a year policy racket in Dallas in 1948. All will run concurrently but if he should be paroled before four years he will finish the shorter sentence in the Texas state prison at Huntsville.

The gambler operated in Dallas until late in 1949 when he went to Las Vegas, Nev., and owned the Golden Horseshoe casino.

Binion's attorneys paid a $20,000 fine Friday in Austin, Tex. to remove the threat of an additional prison sentence. Federal Judge Ben H. Rice Jr. sentenced Binion last Monday on the tax evasion charges and levied the fine with the stipulation that Binion would get another five years in jail if it wasn't paid within 90 days.

Federal authorities earlier refused to say where Binion would be confined.

Bridge Dedicated
PROGRESO, Tex., Dec. 19—UP—A new toll bridge over the Rio Grande was dedicated Saturday. The $250,000 structure is 25 miles downstream from Reynosa, Mexico, and 80 miles upstream from Brownsville, Tex. It replaced a wooden span that was destroyed by flood in 1941.

First Baptist Church Women Meet For Study

Circles of the First Baptist Church W.M.S. met this week combining mission study with programs in keeping with the Christmas season. The groups met as follows:

The Mary Alexander circle met with Mrs. T. O. Trout, 1004 Huff Road. Mrs. W. R. Bell, chairman, opened the meeting with prayer and then conducted the business session. Plans were made for the meeting January 6th at the church when each circle is to decorate its table in keeping with the country in which their missionary is stationed.

Mrs. Shirley Nichols taught the mission study from the book entitled "So This is Africa." Mrs. Henry Gruben led the closing prayer. Those attending were Mmes. T. O. Trout, Shirley Nichols, Walter Roush, Henry Gruben and W. R. Bell. Members of the Letha Saunders circle met in the home of Mmes. D. A. Caldwell, Humble Camp. Mrs. Harvey Downs led the opening at which time the group voted on presided at the business meeting at which time the group voted to change its regular meeting time to 10:00 a.m., rather than to continue meeting in the afternoon. Mrs. Downs read the Christmas story from Luke 2:1-20. Mrs. Geo. Vineyard then accompanied the group at the piano as they sang "Silent Night."

Mrs. W. S. Marsh closed the meeting with prayer. Attending were Mmes. W. S. Marsh, Ernest Arey and Linda Sue, George S. Vineyard, W. J. Drace, S. E. Waters and Sammie, Harvey Downs, R. L. Edmondson, D. A. Caldwell. The Darline Elliott circle met with Mrs. R. J. Hilton, 717 N. West. The opening prayer was led by Mrs. C. L. Elliott. Mrs. M. E. Ellis taught the mission study on China and Japan.

Mrs. L. H. Greene closed the meeting with prayer. Attending were Mmes. E. L. Glenn, H. Brandon, R. J. Hilton, J. G. Ramsey, C. L. McKinney, L. H. Greene and James Hopkins. Members of the Edith Dyal circle met at the church, December 16th, for mission study.

Mrs. Robert Hogan presided at the business meeting after which Mrs. Louis Holler brought the mission study. Before the conclusion of the meeting, the members packed two Christmas boxes. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. C. E. Powell. Attending were Mmes. Robert Hogan, Louis Holler, A. C. Howard, Rupert Orr, C. E. Powell, Herman Whately, Hershah Sanders and J. O. Pierce, a visitor.

Mrs. J. W. Graham, Jr., was hostess to the Ethel Hardy circle when it met in the home of Mrs. C. L. McKinney, 616 N. Frost, this week. Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer led the opening prayer. Mrs. Tom Duvall was in charge of the program. Mrs. Tom Rose told the story of the birth of Christmas. Mrs. Ivan Noblett told the story entitled "Wherever Is Your Faith" and Mrs. Duvall gave a reading entitled, "When Christmas Comes."

Attending were Mmes. J. W. Bizantz, Tom Rose, Ralph McKinney, C. E. Grady, W. Graham, Jr., Lloyd Hays, John J. Jones, E. E. Shelhamer, Jeff Bearden, Tom Duvall and Bob Spert. The Ruby Wheat circle met with Mrs. T. V. Lane, 222 E. Brown. Mrs. J. H. Tucker led the opening prayer.

Mrs. A. French, chairman, conducted a short business session. A special offering was taken for the Little Moon Christmas Offering. Mrs. J. R. Moss read a Christmas story and the meeting closed with the members repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. Present were Mmes. T. V. Lane, A. French, W. H. Lewis, J. H. Tucker, O. A. Davis, J. R. Moss, J. W. Gambill, E. L. Tarrant and S. T. Halpain.

Mrs. A. McClendon was hostess this week to the June Petty circle at her home, 308 N. Banks. Mrs. R. W. Tucker opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. J. B. O'Bannon presided at the business session. Mrs. McClendon taught the mission book "America Must Be Christian" and also read a letter from Nazareth, Israel from missionary June Petty. Sentences prayers closed the meeting.

Those attending were Mmes. Jennie Kenney, R. W. Tucker, E. Stidham, J. B. O'Bannon, O. E. Schifman, Ella Gurley and A. McClendon. The LaNell Bedford circle met in the home of Mrs. G. D. Bayless, Jr., 940 E. Francis. Mrs. Paul Barrett opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Kenneth Cook conducted the business and an offering for Little Moon was taken. Plans were also discussed for the meeting at the church next month. Mrs. C. L. Bixler gave a Christmas story entitled "The Husband of Mary." Mrs. C. E. Scott closed with prayer. Those present were Mmes. Don Egerton, Floyd Crow, Marion Os-

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend
I don't get along very well with my husband's family. That is we are both very polite but we just don't enjoy each other or have much in common. I don't approve of the ways they try to spoil our children and override my discipline all of the time. His mother also is very critical of my cooking and the way I keep house which is unfair because I am pretty good at both and my husband certainly seems satisfied.

Now my problem is about Christmas. We have nearly always gone to their house for Christmas. This means that the children are upset all day long with someone saying no and someone else saying "yes." They are fed things they shouldn't have and always come home in the evening, not only tired but with stomach aches. We would love to have Christmas at our house and not invite my husband's parents. He agrees with me that the long day at their house is unsettling and spoils our holiday but he is the only son and he doesn't want to hurt them by just ignoring them. He knows as well as I do that having them spend the day with us would be just as annoying and would, as usual, leave us all wrecks by night.

If we should ask them just for dinner it wouldn't solve anything because they would expect to come for the day anyhow. I do so want our Christmases to be happy ones for the children to remember but I can't seem to find the right solution. Mrs. P.

Of course you won't enjoy your Christmas if you ignore your parents-in-law and you have to spend the day thinking of them at home alone. So you will have to include them in at least part of your Christmas festivities.

Can't you just be frank about wanting to have your Christmas for your children at home? Can't you just tell them that you have decided to celebrate the day quietly with the children? Tell them that you would like them to join you in the evening for a late dinner or Christmas supper. Thus they will feel included and yet won't be too long with the children.

It seems to me that children usually are overcome with the excitement of Christmas day, company or not. The thrill of opening and trying out their new toys and the eating of Christmas sweets tend to wear them out even at home. If you can arrange it, have your children get through the excitement of the tree in the morning and get them to take rests (naps if possible) during the afternoon so that they will be fresh for the evening hours with their grandparents. Probably a little extra spoiling from the grandparents just for an hour or so won't really affect them much more in any case.

Many parents solve the problem of keeping the children calm and happy on Christmas Day by having relatives in for a Christmas Eve supper or party. This too, might work out for you.

borne, Bill Poley, Paul Barrett, Mike Porter, G. D. Bayless, C. E. Scott, Clifford Bixler and Kenneth Cook.

The Geraldine Lawton Circle met with Mrs. Parker Mangham, west of the city. To open the meeting the group sang "Jesus Saves" followed by prayer led by Mrs. Dewey Johnson.

Mrs. Mangham gave Bible passages and a short devotion on "The Prince of Peace." Mrs. G. L. Wilson taught the mission study from the book "The Silent Billion." The closing prayer was by Mrs. L. H. Norman. Others attending were Mmes. Joe Mullins, J. L. Burba and W. B. Vandover.

The Frances Jean Ray circle met in the home of Mrs. Bill Garrett, 828 N. Nelson. Mrs. Leo Graham opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. James Goodwin presided at the business session.

Mrs. Bill Fritts taught the mission study from the book "Highways in the Desert." Mrs. Rex Jones closed with prayer. Those attending were Mmes. Rex Jones, Leo Graham, Charles Wilkerson, Fernal Scoggins, James Goodwin, O. V. Bailey, Margie Croshaw, Bill Fritts, Carol Grissom, Virginia Moss, a visitor, E. B. Bowman, and the hostess, Mrs. Garrett.

Tolerate Humiliation Girls Should Think Of Color And Line Only When Useful Before Buying That First Formal

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
A year ago, Rod's parents were divorced. His mother had to sell her home and go to work. Then she and Rod went to board with her parents.

They are shocked by Rod's treatment of his mother. By threats to run away to his father, he manipulates his own way constantly. The other night, after Rod blandly ignored her insistence that he stop eating candy until supper was over, Rod's mother burst into tears. She cried, "Oh, what have I done to deserve this?"

Writes Rod's grandmother, "It is terrible to see our daughter so humiliated by this 12-year-old boy. It is indeed, a tragedy. So Rod's mother should become interested in knowing why she accepts his humiliations. Since it isn't pleasant to be humiliated, we do not tolerate it unless it serves some useful purpose to us."

American Legion Women Bring Cheer To Veterans

The highlight of the American Legion Auxiliary Christmas party held Thursday night in the City Club Rooms was a reading, "No Room at the Inn," given by Mrs. Marvin Cooper.

Christmas numbers were sung by Miss Ramona Meadows accompanied by Miss Jacqueline Robinson. An interesting game of "Twenty Questions" was directed by Mrs. Lyle Stout. Gifts were exchanged from the tree and gifts of food etc. were contributed for a veteran and his family. A contribution was sent to the Leprosy Mission. Mrs. Wayne Washbourne reported that she had helped one day in the Gift Shop at the Veterans' Hospital in Amarillo. Items are donated by the various units over the district so that patients can have them free of charge to send to their loved ones. After the patient has selected his gifts the Auxiliary members wrap and mail them. Refreshments of steaming punch, red and green checkered sandwiches and Christmas fruit and cookies were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Vera Lard and Mrs. Estelle Wheeler. Mrs. Ruth Sewell was unable to attend because of illness. Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, president, was in charge of the business session and also presided at the punch bowl.

That wonderful time of gaiety, of good cheer, and partying is here. And for some of you teenagers, this year it means the buying of your first party gown.

Whether its waist length or floor sweeping, you want it to be the most beautiful thing you could possibly wear. You will never forget it, no matter how many wonderful creations take its place through the years. So give your selection serious thought.

Remember, no matter how lovely the gown is itself, it will be a poor investment if it is not becoming to you in either line or color. Before setting out on your shopping expedition, consider your weight, height and complexion. Is your figure just right for your age? Or do you still have a little baby fat? Perhaps you have added inches, but too few pounds.

While you may admire strapless or off-shoulder gowns, they are not for you if you have a weight problem. Soft material framing your shoulders will tone down bony angles and a tiny jacket topping the gown will play down the baby fat. If you haven't grown much yet, don't select a dress you will be lost in. Leave the tremendously bouffant skirts to the girls who can look good in them. After all, you want a gown that will add to your loveliness; you don't want merely to serve as a showcase for the dress.

If you decide on a conservative style, you can be liberal in your color choice. Pink, blue and white are perennial favorites for first formals. Pass them by and look for something in a really special color—one that people might think of as "yours." Violet, emerald and ruby are lovely. A subtle blending of shades also can be quite pretty.

WMU Entertains Elderly Women Of Hobart St. Church

The Hobart Street Baptist W. M. U. Circles held their Christmas party in the home of Mrs. J. B. Barrett. The party was given in honor of the elderly women of the church. The women honored were Mrs. W. O. Coil, Mrs. J. W. Williams, Mrs. Sara Schaub, Mrs. Lela Langford, Mrs. R. E. Griffin, Mrs. Gertrude Monson, Mrs. Lizzie Burns, and Mrs. Cora Stephenson. Each of these women were given a stole by the W. M. U.

Each woman that attended the party brought a gift and a can of food for the family the class has adopted for Christmas. Games were played and Christmas Carols were sung by the group. After the devotion of "Keeping Christmas" was given, punch and home-made candy was served to Mmes. M. L. Newton, L. A. Foster, P. D. Boddy, W. B. Barrett, Paul Tollison, John W. B. Alvie French, J. N. Tackett, Ed Gentry T. L. Oliphant, Gen. Quarles, F. E. Matheny, L. T. Newman, W. W. Smith, Fred Welch, W. G. Smith, M. D. Crowell, N. N. Black, J. H. Woodward, A. R. Dickerson, Lewis Wymons, L. L. Alexander, R. K. Douglas, Preston Wallace, Milburn Bates, L. E. Cobler, C. C. Tackett, Joe Murphree, and Miss Mary Lou Douglass.

Each circle met on Wednesday for study of the mission book, "Back to Side of Nowhere." Also this month each circle packed a box for one of the Baptist's Orphan Homes. The next regular meeting will be a covered dish luncheon at the church on Jan. 6.

Harrah Methodist Class Has Dinner

Thirty-one members of the Willing Workers Class of the Harrah Methodist Church had a dinner and party Friday evening in the Fellowship Hall. Following the dinner there was group singing of Christmas carols. Mr. S. A. Wolfe of Lella, presented the devotion. Raymond Dyess gave a vocal selection and Mrs. D. C. LaPrade, a piano number. Gifts were exchanged and members presented gifts to the teacher, Mrs. Clark.

Attending were Messrs. and Mmes. S. A. Wolfe, Raymond Dyess, D. C. LaPrade, Dick Cook, Vernon Gardner, Raymond Shannon, Henry Pigg, Tom Price, C. W. Conscience Court Pays

LAWRENCE, Mass. — UP — First-time juvenile offenders in this mill city go to what is known as a Conscience Court. Police claim that 98 per cent of the youths appearing before this court are converted into model boys and girls. In the past six months, more than $1,200 has been collected in this court to pay for broken windows and other damage resulting from deviltry.

Doherty Men Entertain Families

Approximately 125 Doherty Men's Fraternity members and their families attended the annual Christmas dinner-party Friday night in the High School cafeteria. Messrs. L. C. Low Calorie Maple Syrup—And Candy

Many people have asked for a recipe for maple syrup with little or no calories. Now, thanks to Sucaryl, the new non-caloric sweetener, that can be cooked without becoming bitter or losing its sweetness. Low Calorie Maple Syrup is here. It has pouring consistency, maple flavor, and real sweetness. Do not store this maple syrup more than a few days in your refrigerator; use it up on desserts or make up Maple Delight. We are giving you a recipe for Maple Delight candy—each piece contains only 7 calories.

Remember that one pancake, 4 inches in diameter has 65 calories; one waffle just 6 inches in diameter can contain 230 calories. Be sure to count those calories in pancakes and waffles and don't eat too many.

Maple Syrup
2 cups water	2 teaspoons Sucaryl Solution or 16 tablets crushed
2 teaspoons corn starch	1 teaspoon maple flavoring

Mix corn starch with 1/4 cup of the water, mix well. Combine remaining water, Sucaryl and flavoring in saucepan and bring to boiling point over low to medium heat; now add corn starch mixture and stir well. Remove from heat and cool. Before serving stir rapidly with fork or beat with rotary egg beater. Store in refrigerator; do not keep more than a few days.

Less than one calorie per tablespoon. Regular maple syrup, 50 calories.

"Maple" Candy Delights
Soften two envelopes unflavored gelatine in 1/2 cup maple flavored syrup (above recipe). Heat 1/2 cup syrup and add to gelatine mixture. Stir until dissolved. Pour into small square pan that will give one-inch depth to candies. Chill until firm. Wet a sharp knife; loosen candy around edges of pan; turn onto board lightly dusted with powdered sugar. Cut into one-inch cubes. (Sugar may be eliminated if desired.) Eat at once, or keep refrigerated. Makes about 16 one-inch cubes. Each contains 7 calories, protein 1 gram; fat, 0; carbohydrate 0.75 gram. If made with regular maple syrup each piece would contain 50 calories.

Four distinguished members of the Gator Bowl bound Texas Tech Red Raiders were in Pampa over the weekend.

They were Pampanas Elmer Wilson and Jerry Walker, and Bobby Cavazos of Kingsville and Barton Massey of Bowie. The latter two were guests of Wilson.

The boys were given a couple of days off from the practice grind in prepping for the Gator Bowl New Year's Day in Jacksonville, Fla., and came to Pampa.

They left late yesterday to return to the campus and resume drills for the New Year's tilt. Two more practice sessions are on tap for the Raiders before Christmas.

After spending Christmas at home, the Raiders will reassemble Saturday at Lubbock when they'll leave for Jacksonville. The Raiders, 44 strong, will fly to the scene of the Gator Bowl tilt Saturday.

When the four were asked what was the strongest team they met during their 11-game season of which they won 10, they quickly agreed that Mississippi State was their toughest foe. The Raiders downed the Mississippians, 27-20.

For Cavazos, the leading ground gainer for the Raiders the past season, New Year's game won't wind up his grid activities for this season. Cavazos will play in the Senior Bowl in Mobile, Ala., Jan. 7. He will go directly to Mobile from the Gator Bowl game.

The other three who were Pampa visitors over the weekend will return next season. Walker, who made the All-Border Conference team this fall, is only a sophomore. Wilson and Massey are juniors. Wilson is a halfback and Massey a tackle.

Wilson, at only 155-pounds and standing 5-4, tallied two touch-

Red Raiders Don't Wait For Breaks

Editor's: This is another in a series on the teams in the New Year's Day football bowl games.

By ED FITE

LUBBOCK, Tex., Dec. 21 — UP — There'll be a touch of Tennessee football in the Gator Bowl when Texas Tech tangles with Auburn, but the Tech version of "defending the opposition" won't have the true "Neyland ring."

Tech's coach, DeWitt Weaver, is one of the many pupils Tennessee's Gen. Bob Neyland has cast into the coaching ranks. But the handsome Tech coach hasn't followed to the letter the Neyland plan of sitting back and waiting for the breaks to cash in for victory.

Weaver's current edition that won the National Conference title and 10 out of 11 games to earn the Gator Bowl bid would have brought a grudging smile of approval, however, even from the old defensive master.

No Neyland team ever equalled Tech's feat of pilfering 32 opposition fumbles this past season—a new NCAA record.

Heavy Ground Stress

But, that's about as close to the "Neyland pattern" as Weaver's Tech Red Raiders ever came—except for a heavy stress on the ground game.

The Raiders refused to play a waiting game and exploded their offensive powers early while leading the nation in total output with a 38.9-point average per game while holding the enemy to a 14 point average.

During the season Tech piled up 1.1 points in the first period of downs for the Raiders the past season and passed for another.

Cavazos was the leading Tech scorer with 80 points. Cavazos was second in the nation in scoring, losing this title by a mere single point.

games while limiting 11 foes to only 14 points.

Those 14 points, seven apiece, were made by Texas A&M and West Texas State—the only clubs ever to get ahead of Tech. The Texas Aggies went on to hand Tech its only loss 27 to 14, but West Texas was caught 40 to 14.

Star of the Tech backfield is Bobby Cavazos, 190-pound son of a foreman on the famed King Ranch, but Auburn's defense had best not try to gang up on him because of his 7.8 yards average on 97 running plays. Six other Tech backs gained 260 yards or more during the season on the ground, four of them — fullbacks Jim Sides and Rick Spinks and halfbacks Norman Lewis and Don Lewis—averaging better than six yards per carry.

The sparkplug of this bevy of fine backs is Jack Kirkpatrick, a sophomore who's had two 101-yard kickoff runbacks, gained 333 yards rushing and 343 strides passing and who is an exceptionally dangerous man to try and trap while he's attempting to get away a pass.

Tackles Jimmy Williams and Jerry Walker and guard Don Gray proved solid anchors for a Tech line that held for 145.6 yards per game.

Class AA, A Title Tilts On Tap This Week

By UNITED PRESS

The state championships of Class AA and A were all that remained to be settled Monday after the crowning of Houston Lamar and Port Neches as the champions of Class AAAA and AAA.

The Ballinger Bearcats will meet Huntsville's Hornets at Temple in Class AA, and Ranger's Bulldogs will play the Luling Eagles at San Marcos for the Class A crown. Both games are scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday.

Lamar gave Texas' largest city its first state championship in the 34-year history of the present schoolboy setup Saturday by beating Odessa's Bronchos 33 to 7 and Port Neches, the underdog in all three of its playoff games, added the last chapter to an amazing success story by defeating a heavier Big Spring team 24 to 13.

Best Game of Career

Walt Fondren, Lamar's 160-pound fullback, played one of his best games of a brilliant schoolboy career as the Redskins romped over Odessa before 17,000 fans sitting in dreary 46-degree weather in the vast reaches of Rice Stadium.

Fondren was the game's top ground gainer, Lamar's leading passer and was only three yards shy of being his team's top pass receiver. His catch of a 28-yard pass for a touchdown as time ran out in the first half gave the Redskins a 13 to 7 lead which seemed to take the heart out of the Bronchos.

Port Neches a light scrappy bunch of Cinderella kids, completely outplayed Big Spring's Steers before 6,000 rain-soaked fans at Port Neches.

The Indians, who were picked to finish no better than third in their own district, raced to an 18 to 0 halftime lead and kept the Steers off balance the rest of the day.

Sensational Playoffs

Ballinger, considered a so-so team during the regular season, continued its sensational play in the playoffs by coming from behind to beat Comanche 29 to 13 Friday at Coleman. Saturday, Huntsville moved into the finals with a 13 to 6 victory over Refugio on a rain-soaked field at Huntsville.

Huntsville is unbeaten and untied in 13 games while Ballinger has a 12-2 won-loss record.

Ranger moved into the Class A finals by whipping previously unbeaten and untied Clifton 21 to 6 at Ranger, and perfect-record Luling swamped Deer Park 33 to 7 at Wharton, both Friday night games.

Harvester Five To Plainview Tuesday

The Hustlin' Harvesters will close out their pre-Christmas schedule tomorrow night when they journey to Plainview to meet the Plainview Bulldogs in a return engagement.

The Harvesters downed the Bulldogs when the two teams met here last week, 55-42.

Coach Clifton McNeely's crew remained unbeaten for the season with two victories last week. After beating Plainview Tuesday night, the Green and Golders measured the Portales Rams of New Mexico Saturday, 65-34.

The Harvesters will carry a 34-game winning streak into the Plainview game tomorrow. Six of the wins have come this season.

After tomorrow's game, the Harvesters will rest until Dec. 28th when they will host Altus, Okla., at Harvester Fieldhouse. Then will come the First Annual Top O' Texas cage tournament at Harvester Fieldhouse Jan. 3 and 2. Teams entered in this tournament are Ada and Chickasha, Okla., Birdville of Fort Worth and the Harvesters.

The Harvesters will meet Ada in the tourney opener with Chickasha going against Birdville in the other first rounder. The two winners will meet the following night for the title while the two losers will vie for third place honors.

Jimmy Bond continued to lead the Harvester point-makers with 112 points. Gary Griffin is close behind with 99.

The Pampa B Guerillas will also make the journey with the variety cagers to Plainview tomorrow. The Guerillas downed the Bullpups here last week, 58-51.

The Guerillas advanced to the consolation finals in the Shamrock tournament last week, losing to Wheeler in the finals, 49-45.

Buddy Sharp led the Guerilla scoring in the Shamrock tourney with 49 points in the three games. Gene Doggett was second with 31 points. Others scoring in the tourney were Gary Green with 16, Melvin Romin, 14, Gene Brown 11, Jimmy Enloe 10, Buster Carter 8, Ray T. Clark 7, and Ronnie James 2.

Following are the Harvester scorers for the season:

Player	Pt	Reb	Ass	Stk
Bond	42	28	15	112
Griffin	35	13	8	92
Melvin	27	14	9	68
Hinkle	13	5	12	21

AND IN CAME THE TOWEL — Bob Frigmore, 200-pound tackle for the Pampa Harvesters last fall, has turned to boxing since the completion of the grid season. Here Frigmore was just floored Colman Ward of Dumas in Saturday night's matches at the new Boys Club home. Ward got up after this knockdown but his manager threw in the towel to stop the fight. Frigmore will be featured in tomorrow night's matches at the Boys Club arena when the Pampanas will host the Berger Golden Glovers. Frigmore will box Ronnie Arendall, big 6-4 Berger griddier. Referee in the above match is Homer Anderson. (News Photo)

Stage Set For Grid Banquet Here Tonight

The banquet, for the third straight year, is sponsored by the Pampa Quarterback Club. Festivities tonight will get underway at 7:30.

Samuel Adrian Baugh, better known as "Slinging Sam" will give the main address. Baugh, a former All-American at TCU and an all-Pro griddier for the Washington Redskins for several years, is currently on the coaching staff at Hardin-Simmons University.

The presentation of the Fighting Heart award will highlight tonight's program. Also high on the banquet agenda is the crowning of the Harvester football queen.

Forty-one members of the Harvesters and the entire coaching staff of the Pampa school system will be the honored guests.

Dr. Ed Williams will serve as MC; Rev. Lyle Albright will give the invocation; Ham Luna will introduce the speaker; Harold Miller will introduce the speaker; and the Chord Craftsmen will furnish music.

Following are the members of the Harvesters who will be honored at the banquet:

Jerry Neef, J. N. Wright, Dean Frankan, Buddy Sharp, Bill Fulenwider, Ed Dudley, Bobby Marlar, Carl Blonkivist, Robert Fleming, Gene Emerson, Bill Edwards, Harold Lewis, John Derby, James Holmes, John Wilson, James Haskins, Bill Culpepper, John Schoolfield, John Langford, J. Mat To Be Rolled Out To Harvester Grid Squad And Coaches Here Tonight

TONIGHT'S FOOTBALL BANQUET will be honoring the 1953 Fighting Harvesters, of course, but another group of fellows will also be recognized and given a pat on the back for a job well done. This would be the coaches of the Pampa school system.

Pampa has gained a wide reputation over the state for its top flight coaching. Year after year the Harvesters more than hold their own with the "big boys," and this — despite the fact they are outnumbered in material by nearly every team they play.

Under the Coach Tom Tipps regime the past seven years, the Harvesters have won 54 games, lost 17 and tied one for a .760 percentage. Few coaches can claim such a mark.

Tipps' assistants during his stay also have been tops. Backfield coach Aubra Nooncaster came to Pampa High School with Tipps. Line coach Dwaine Lyon joined Tipps and Nooncaster three years ago. Lyon, however, has been in the Pampa school system five years, having coached the Reapers and Guerillas before joining the varsity staff.

These three fellows have done a yeoman job with the Green and Golders and Pampa should be justly proud of the fine leadership they have exhibited.

The fine coaching here doesn't stop with the varsity staff. Weldon Trice and Orville Lewis of the Guerillas and Marvin Bowman and Deck Woldt of the Reapers have certainly upheld the tradition of Pampa's fine coaching.

Although winning games are fine and dandy, it isn't the main job of the coaching staff of the Harvesters and Guerillas. Their main job is get the boys ready for

LOVE OF FOOTBALL

— Maybe one of the main reasons for our sentiments on the coaching system here and we're sure that all Harvester backers will be along with us.

Four members of the current edition of the Raiders were in Pampa yesterday. When the News photographer, Tommie Ellis, and I went out to take a picture of the four some of them were taking a football around. In fact, the four had chosen up sides — two on each team — and they were in "heat of battle" when we drove up.

You'd think that after working out every day the past week, they would be taking a holiday from the game while away from the campus. But not these guys.

The group included the ace Raider scorer and all-American Bobby Cavazos. The others were little Elmer Wilson and Big Jerry Walker of Pampa and Barton Massey of Bowie.

Their main thought at the present, of course, is to bring home a victory from the Gator Bowl. The Raiders will play Auburn in the Gator New Year's Day.

East Texas Nabs NAIA Cage Title

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 21 — UP — A fighting team from East Texas State Monday held the "tip-off" title of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The Texans downed the highly touted defending champion out-west Missouri State Bears, 59-43, in the finals of the NAIA tournament here Saturday night.

Third place went to Illinois Wesleyan of Bloomington, Ill., with a 70-65 win over Hamline College of St. Paul, Minn.

Appendix May Sideline Bevo

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 21 — UP — An aching appendix is threatening to do what no rival basketball team has been able to do this season — halt the high-scoring antics of fabulous Clarence (Bevo) Francis of Rio Grande College.

The nation's leading small-college scorer, who has averaged a fantastic 48 points per game for his first six games, said Monday his appendix pained him severely during his team's 98-88 victory over the University of Miami on Saturday night.

"I just had to sit down for a while," said the six-foot, nine-inch Francis. The attack occurred during the first quarter but when the pain disappeared, Francis went back into the game and scored 45 points, 22 of them in the second half.

Francis said he would continue playing unless he suffered another attack. In that case, he may have to quit playing for an operation that would sideline him for at least a month and put a severe crimp in his plans of smashing all college scoring records this season.

Powerful Oregon State Opens Series With Potent Indiana

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 — UP — Basketball's "a" was a sky-crasher star, seven-foot, three-inch Wade (Swede) Halbrook, leads powerful Oregon State against national champion Indiana Monday night and again Tuesday night as the court sport heads into an important week climaxed by holiday season tournaments.

Also Monday night, high-scoring Illinois collides with the nation's best defensive team, Oklahoma A&M, and the first-round of the University of Kentucky tournament features two sparkling matches—Kentucky against Duke and UCLA against LaSalle.

Oregon State and Indiana clash Monday night on State's court at Corvallis, Ore. Tuesday night they meet again, this time at Eugene, Ore.

The meeting of the gigantic Halbrook and six-foot, 10-inch Don Schumdt, Indiana pivot man who munched all Big Ten scoring mark last year, should prove to be one of the year's top personal duels.

Tuned Up For Game

The Oregon State sophomore, who is chiefly responsible for his team's current ranking as the No. 15 team nationally, tuned up for Monday night's game by clicking off 29 points Saturday night to lead an 83-65 victory over Nebraska. Both teams come up to the big game unbeaten, Oregon State in four games and Indiana in five. Illinois, ranked fifth nationally, also is unbeaten in five games but the Oklahoma Aggies have lost once in seven games—by 57-56 to Illinois' Big Ten rival Minnesota. This game also matches two star centers ambitious for all-American honors — six-10 Bobby Matlock of the Aggies and six-nine Johnny Kerr of the Illini.

Saturday night will see the beginning of two other major tournaments—the holiday festival at New York's Madison Square Garden, in which Duquesne, the nation's third-ranked team, will be the title choice in a field of five, and the Big Seven Conference pre-season tourney at Kansas City. The same night the smaller-college Hofstra tourney opens at Hempstead, N.Y.

The holiday festival opens with a day doubleheader, Brigham Young-Manhattan and St. John's-Niagara, and a night twin bill, Duquesne-NYU and LaSalle-St. Louis. The Big Seven opens with a doubleheader, Kansas-Colorado and Iowa State-Missouri, that comprises half of the first round. The other half will be played next Monday night.

Two Tourneys Over

Two tourneys wound up Saturday with Alabama winning the inaugural Birmingham classic tournament at Birmingham, Ala., by beating Auburn, 70-62, in the final round, and East Texas State upsetting defending champion Southwest Missouri, 59-43, in the final round of the NAIA tournament at Kansas City.

After three nights of busy activity, the sport halts almost completely on Christmas Eve and Christmas Night before Saturday's important action.

Nine of the nation's 10 top-ranked teams scored victories during the weekend, but Louisiana State, ranked No. 5, was handed its first home court loss in three years, 86, by Wisconsin. The Badgers engineered the upset by sinking 54 per cent of their field goal tries although they were unable to halt six-foot, 10-inch Bobby Pettit, State's All-American candidate who led all scorers with 23 points. LSU had won 33 straight games at home and all of its first four games this season.

Indiana, Kentucky, the Oklahoma Aggies and ninth-ranked UCLA all won games on Friday night early and UCLA beat the same foe, Denver, again on Saturday, 65-65. Also on Saturday, fourth-ranked Illinois handed DePaul its first loss in seven games, 79-65; sixth-ranked Minnesota beat Colorado, 74-69; eighth-ranked North Carolina State downed Penn State, 88-74; and 10th-ranked Fordham overcame Columbia's stalling tactics to win, 61-24.

INCLUDING 2 SWC CHUNKERS Plenty Of Ace Passers To See Action In Blue-Gray Contest

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 21 —UP—Opposing coaches in the Dec. 26 Blue-Gray game will spend Christmas being alternately thrilled and chilled over prospects of their aggregations for the inter-sectional football classic.

This is the game that brings the stars to Alabama. Coach Rip Engle of Penn State, mentor for the North, had assembled three great passers for his squad and figured this was one year when the Yankees would narrow the margin that now stands 10 victories to four favoring the South.

Then he took a look at the lineup of Coach Clyde Lee at Rebel, only to discover a disarming situation: Three great passers against him.

Here's the passing array that's going to mean a wide open game—if the weather's good—and plenty of excitement for the spectators:

For the North's 'Engle has at quarterback Tony Rados, his own field general at Penn State and the nation's fifth-ranked passer; Lou Sorrentino, of little Lebanon Valley College in Pennsylvania, who completed more than 50 per cent of his pass attempts in 1953; and Don Rydahl, Utah, sixth best passer in the country with a completion average bettering 60 per cent.

SMU MEETS OCU TUESDAY Unbeaten Rice, Vanderbilt Meet Tonight In Nashville

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

This week's holiday-pared Southwest Conference basketball schedule takes on added importance Monday night as it offers a chance to see if Coach Don Suman's Rice Owls are as far ahead of the field as their unblemished record to date would indicate.

The Owls, who knocked off two of the nation's unbeaten teams—Tulane and St. John's—last week, invade Nashville, Tenn., Monday night against a third perfect record outfit—Vanderbilt's Commodores.

The Commodores already have defeated two Southwest teams—Southern Methodist by seven points and Baylor by five—as well as a strong Texas Tech five by four points.

This game should be a real test for Suman's experienced Owls, who have averaged 74.5 points in winning six in a row this season.

Share Importance

The Rice-Vanderbilt contest will have to share importance for the week, however, with a meeting Tuesday night between SMU and Oklahoma City University on the latter's court.

The Chiefs, who have disposed of defending champion TCU, Baylor and the hapless Texas Aggies so far, should provide a stern trial for Coach Doc Hayes' young Mustangs, who have averaged 82.5 points while winning five out of six games.

Rounding out the week's five-game card will be a Baylor vs. Memphis State game at Memphis Monday night, an Arkansas vs. Washington of St. Louis at Little Rock Tuesday night and TCU vs. Howard Payne at Fort Worth Wednesday night.

The teams will rest over the Christmas week end, then resume activity next week at Houston in the pre-season tournament.

Rice's three-game sweep over Tulane, St. John's and Tennessee high-lighted last week's play as Tulane fell 56 to 49, St. John's 85 to 81 and Tennessee 78 to 66.

SMU won both its starts, 66 to 63 against Memphis State, and over Abilene Christian 97 to 72, and Arkansas beat Missouri 64 to 63 in its lone star, but none of the other loop teams fared that well.

Texas, Baylor and TCU broke even in two games while the Aggies lost two—77 to 66 to LSU and 58 to 55 to Texas Tech. Texas dropped a 71 to 55 tilt to the nation's No. 3 team, Duquesne, then beat Manhattan 62 to 56; Baylor beat Texas Tech 58 to 49, but lost to Vanderbilt 65 to 60, and TCU lost to Utah 72 to 55 and then whipped A&M 79 to 47.

TCU's Hank Olien continued to lead the sharpshooters with a 23.4-point average for 164 points, while Gene Schwingler of Rice kept close behind at 22.5 pace and 136 points. Their closest rivals were SMU's Derrell Murphy with a 17.7 average and 104 points and Rice's Don Lance with a 16-point pace and 96 points.

Mangrum Wins Montebello Open

MONTEBELLO, Calif., Dec. 21 —UP—Links veteran Lloyd Mangrum added his fourth 2500 Montebello open golf tournament to his string of 47 championships Monday after adding out Texas PGA titlist Fred Hawkins with a 90-foot putt on the 18th green for a six-under-par 66.

Mangrum finished the three-day journey with a 54-hole total of 202, while Hawkins carded a 68 at the end of Sunday's play for a total of 205 and second place.

Montebello professional Zell Eaton and Charles Sifford, Philadelphia pro, made 71 and 68 respectively to tie for third place with a 206 total each.

Mangrum's big putt for an eagle three on the par five 476-yard 18th shut out the Texas player, who had come onto the 18th one stroke behind him after a 46-foot putt off the green for an eagle three on the par five 470-yard 17th. Hawkins stubbed a short pitch on the last hole and finished at par.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17 —UP—Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians and John Galbreath of the Pittsburgh Pirates have scheduled representatives Alie Reynolds and Ralph Kiner and attorney J. Norman Lewis "in the latter part of January."

Greenberg and Galbreath described their first meeting as "entirely satisfactory."

BC Fives In Intersectional Tilts

By UNITED PRESS

Inter-sectional play highlights an abbreviated seven-game Christmas week schedule for Border Conference basketball teams.

Utah, San Diego State, College of Pacific, Regis, Southern California and Dayton will furnish the opposition as the Border teams seek to improve on a record that has seen them win only 20 of 46 games in the first three weeks of play.

Arizona, picked to finish on top until Texas Tech surprised with its tremendous showing today, hosts Utah Monday night at Tucson and USC there Saturday night.

Tempe State entertains San Diego Tuesday night at Tempe, then travels over Christmas Day to open a Midwestern visit against Dayton at Dayton, O. Saturday night.

Hardin-Simmons plays Regis at Denver Monday night and Tech plays College of Pacific at Lubbock at the same time. COP invades El Paso Tuesday night against Texas Western.

Tech, which has provided the loop with six of its 20 triumphs, beat Texas A&M 55 to 53, but lost its second game of the season to Baylor 58 to 49.

Arizona won both starts last week, 78 to 64 over Centenary and 81 to 77 over San Jose State; New Mexico A&M bowed to New Mexico 58 to 38 but beat McMurry 99 to 94; Texas Western lost to Centenary 68 to 58 then bounced McMurry 62 to 53; Tempe beat Los Angeles 78 to 61 and California Poly 94 to 69 but lost to Centenary 76 to 61 and San Jose 61 to 50; Hardin-Simmons lost to Midwestern 76 to 57 then walloped David Lipscomb 80 to 35, and West Texas beat Eastern New Mexico 69 to 50.

SENDAI, Japan, Dec. 21 —UP—World flyweight champion Yoshio Shirai scored a fifth round knockout over Takashi Matsuo, fourth-ranking bantamweight, in a scheduled six-round exhibition bout Sunday night.

Jackey Recovers

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 2 —UP—Apprentice John L. Rota, the leading rider of the tropical park meeting, was ready to resume action Monday after being sidelined with bruises suffered in a spill last Thursday. Rota had 11 winners to his credit at the time of his accident.

OLD-FASHIONED TRADITIONAL CHRISTMAS

- ### PUNCHES
- Old Fashioned
1-fifth Blended Whisky
3-jiggers fresh lemon juice
2-jiggers Curacao
1-pint Seltzer water
Stir well and add a few drops of Angostura Bitters. About 20 minutes before serving, put a large piece of ice in a punch bowl and pour the mixture over it. Serve in small punch cups. (Serves 12 to 20).
 - Wassail Bowl
Make spice bag and include 1-teaspoon nutmeg; 1-teaspoon cinnamon; 1-teaspoon allspice. Boil 10 cups of water and add 10-teaspoons tea and spice bag. Let steep for 10 minutes. Add sugar to taste.
Bliss with 10 — Jiggers Bourbon. Serve in cups with slice of lemon, speared with a clove.
 - Tom & Jerry
Beat separately the whites and yolks of 2 eggs, then combine. Add 1/2-teaspoon cinnamon; 1 pinch ground cloves; 1 pinch allspice, and 1-jigger Rum. Add slowly 1-jigger Bourbon and thicken gradually with sugar until a smooth batter. Into each Tom & Jerry Mug put 1 heaping tablespoon of batter. Add 1-jigger of Bourbon, fill the mug with hot water, and stir. Sprinkle with dash of Nutmeg. (Batter serves 20).
 - Planters Punch
Juice of 1/2 Lemon
1-teaspoon Grenadine
2-jiggers Puerto Rican Rum
Pour in Colting glass filled with crushed ice and stir. Fill glass with Seltzer water and decorate with fruit and a cherry. Use straws. Sometimes a tablespoon of claret is floated on top of the finished drink.
 - Artillery Punch
1-fifth Claret
1-fifth Sherry
1-fifth Puerto Rican Rum
1-fifth Bourbon
Add 2 tablespoons Angostura Bitters. Dissolve 1 cup of sugar in the juice of 8 lemons and mix well with the above. Pour over large block of ice in a punch bowl and stir until cold. Add 1-quart of Seltzer water and serve in cups. (Serves 20).
 - Hot Buttered Rum
1 1/2 oz Jamaica Rum
1 lump of sugar
Small slice of Butter
4 cloves
Fill with boiling water and stir.
The ideal favorite in cold weather.

- ### COCKTAILS
- Old Fashioned
1 lump of sugar
2 dashes Angostura Bitters
Dissolve in an Old Fashioned Glass with a little water. Add one cube of ice and 1-jigger of Bourbon. Decorate with twist of lemon peel. The addition of 1/2 slice of orange; 1 sinappie stick, a cherry and a little club soda is optional.
 - Manhattan
1-jigger Bourbon
1/2-jigger Italian Vermouth
1-dash Angostura Bitters
Stir in mixing glass filled 1/2 with cracked ice. Strain into cocktail glass and serve with a cherry.
 - Dry Martini
1/2-jigger French Vermouth
1-jigger dry gin
1-dash orange bitters
Stir in mixing glass 1/2 full of cracked ice. Strain in cocktail glass which contains a green olive. For a sweet Martini, substitute Italian Vermouth for the French Vermouth.
 - Whisky Sour
1-jigger Bourbon
Dissolve 1-teaspoon powdered sugar in the juice of 1/2 lemon. Pour into mixing glass with cracked ice and shake thoroughly. Strain into whisky sour glass and garnish with slice of orange and a cherry. Many find delicious the unusual flavor that is bestowed by the addition of 2-dashes of Creme de Menthe.
 - King Stinger
1-jigger Blended Whisky
1-jigger Creme de Menthe (white)
Shake well with cracked ice and strain into cocktail glass. For additional help on your party planning drop into our store, we have everything you need to make your holiday party a success.
 - El Presidente
1-baraspoon Grenadine

Hank's Fighting Mad! Adlai Dared To Name Russian Tactic Used To Fight U.S. Reds

By HENRY McLEMORE
I am tired of the word fear in connection with Americans, no matter who uses it.
This country wasn't founded on fear, and it hasn't become the greatest nation in the world because of fear.
I don't know any fearful Americans, not one. And it's 50 to 1 that you don't either. History books name a few, but for every American who sold his country short there are a hundred thousand crosses marking the resting places of Americans who didn't.
Don't try to tell me this is a country bounded on north, south, east, and west by fear. If you do, I'll ask you to read the record of the men and women from the Jamestown settlement to the far-fetched truce in Korea.
Americans have staked out this country in spite of weapons ranging from the bow and arrow and the tomahawk to the buzz-bomb and the A-bomb, and I don't think they're fearful of losing it.
I was born into a family that has been voting the Democratic ticket since it was adopted as the symbol of the party, but I honestly believe that the Democratic party is responsible for making fear the popular four-letter word it is today.
Franklin D. Roosevelt, with his "All we have to fear is fear," started it.
Harry S. Truman held the word aloft, even though just the tip of it showed because of the much too big shoes he was trying to fill.
Now Adlai Stevenson, the current Democratic standard bearer, is waving the word fear as if it spelled exorcism. He says we Americans have four fears — Communism, ourselves, depression, and freedom. I think Mr. Stevenson is dead wrong. I don't think this country fears Russia, which is what he means by Communism. This country, if it didn't care about the rest of the world, could handle Russia. If it were possible to throw these countries into a stand-up fight between just the two of them, with no one to suffer but the battlers, name the American who would doubt the outcome.
But this country — the country Mr. Stevenson pictures as shivering with four-play fear — is thinking about the other fellow.
I don't quite get that "fear of ourselves." Is he speaking of the plain, ordinary American citizen? The one who drinks his coffee too fast to get to work on time, the one who bows because it can be done by the family and doesn't cost as much as a lot of other sports, who spends a little more than he should to see his kids get what they want for Christmas, who gives his sons to battle and who has gone to battle himself?
Where does Mr. Stevenson meet these Americans who are afraid of themselves? At church on Sunday morning? In the supermarket while he shops with a police escort? On his trip around the world? I wish he would name the American he knows who are afraid of themselves, and not just lump us all together.
Here is a sentence in his $100-a-plate speech that boils my blood: "I would recommend a crusade to combat the Communist conspiracy without resorting to Communist methods to do it."
I dare him to name a Communist method we have used. I dare him to prove we Americans have sunk to the Kremlin level. I think he owes every judge who has heard the cases, every jury that has sought the truth, every newspaperman who has covered the trials, an apology.
And let him make it a genuine one, not a bright quip of a one.

"Bill will be home for the holidays, don't forget! How are the brakes?"

Washington Sees 'New Eisenhower'

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—UP—Along with the so-called new look in national defense planning and the new firmness of recent administration foreign policy declarations, there is beginning to be talk here of the new Eisenhower.
The phrase has been coined or accepted by friendly critics of the President. It is intended to convey the idea of a president who finally has fused his administration's policies and principles into major objectives — and has undertaken the bare-knuckled job of leadership to reach them.
Mr. Eisenhower's series of day-long conferences with legislative leaders last week roughly outlined the shape of things to come.
The White House Conferences already are being counted a preliminary success. There were no bolts nor blasts of controversy after the series of meetings. There was every indication that the visitors left the White House with new regard for the head man of their party. Undeniably, there are troubles and party disputes ahead, but it is believed Mr. Eisenhower is getting off to a good if somewhat late start.
One of the first hazards of politics discovered by the general-be-come-president upon reaching the White House was that political parties frequently do not underwrite their leaders with discipline such as an army accord a general.
Party responsibility is the political substitute for discipline. Last week's White House conferences were designed to lay a foundation for party responsibility in the second session of the 83rd Congress which meets here Jan. 6. Party responsibility is constructed in considerable part on compromise and the President indicated he would give a little on that.
What he said was that the principles and policies of his legislative program had been fixed but that he would be willing to accept modifications. On that basis he asked congressional leaders to accept the administration's general objectives and to work toward them with such modification as practical politics may demand.

Siamese Twin Visits Home At Christmas

FERRIS, Ill., Dec. 21—UP—Rodney Dee Brodie, who was separated from his Siamese twin more than a year ago, was home for Christmas Monday and well on the way to a useful, normal life.
The fact that he was even alive was a source of pride to the staff of the Illinois Research and Educational Hospital, which performed one of the most difficult operations of all time to separate Rodney Dee from his unfortunate brother.
The brother, Roger Lee, died in a coma 34 days after surgeons separated the twins, who were joined at the top of their heads.
"We have looked forward to this for a long time," said the 27-month-old boy's father, Royt Brodie.
The cheerful child was a stranger to his family's farm home near here, however. The Chicago hospital has been his "home" since he was six weeks old.
After the holidays he will be returned to the children's ward there. He is not yet ready to assume a normal home life because he does not have a complete skull to protect his brain.
Mr. and Mrs. Brodie drove to Chicago Sunday and bundled the boy into their automobile for the trip to Ferris. It was his first real outing.
"We are thrilled to have this opportunity to take Rodney home for Christmas," his father said.
Mrs. Brodie said she had laid "no special" Christmas plans.
"We hope to spend a nice, quiet holiday with the entire family present for the first time," she said.
The parents have visited Rodney Dee in Chicago at least every other weekend but Mrs. Brodie said she was happy that the holiday would give his two brothers and two sisters a chance to get "better acquainted" with Rodney.

Empty 'Gas' Tank
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21—UP—A gang of safe crackers probably will be more cautious about having a full "gas" tank in the future.
Reno Pettigrill, poultry market owner, found a torch and an empty acetylene tank near his safe. The thieves had come within a fraction of an inch of cutting through to the $2,000 inside when they ran out of fuel.

Glamour gift that's practical, too!
