COULDN'T REACH HIS GUN

Condemned Kidnaper Says Drunkenness Was Cause

By WARD COLWELL
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 17.—UP—Carl Austin Hall, awaiting execution in the state gas chamber at midnight, said in a final statement that police "never would have caught me alive if whiskey hadn't fouled me up."

DEATH HOUSE — This is where condemned kidnap-killers Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Heady will die tonight about one minute past midnight, Pampa time. It is the death house at State Penitentiary, Jefferson City, Mo. At top, Warden Ralph Eldson, who will pull the death switch, looks through window into gas chamber. Bottom are chairs fitted over iron grill work through which lethal gas escapes.

Hall, scheduled to die at 12:01 a.m. est. Friday, was quoted as showing remorse. It was not because he kidnaped and killed six-year-old Bobby Greenlease, but because "I got so damn drunk I got caught."

A reliable source who declined to permit use of his name said Hall was described as "completely unconcerned" with the family of his victim.

"Life and Death Matter"
Hall was quoted as saying that he knew it would be a "life and death" matter if he was arrested with the $600,000 ransom money. "They never would have caught me alive, he said, "but whiskey fouled me up and my gun was too far away."

Hall said, it was learned, he normally kept his gun at arm's reach but when police officers entered his room of a swank apartment in St. Louis, the gun was in a table drawer.

"I couldn't get to that gun, I was too damn drunk. I knew I wouldn't live if I was caught with the money and I was ready to shoot it out," Hall was quoted as saying.

No Interest in Heady
It was also learned that Hall was showing a "complete lack of interest" in the welfare of Mrs. Heady, although his partner has asked about his health during their confinement in death row here.

Hall indicated that Mrs. Heady, with whom he lived and plotted the crime in St. Joseph, was "in the way" after the kidnap - murder. "I shouldn't have had her (Mrs. Heady) along at all," Hall said.

It had been reported earlier Hall planned to do away with Mrs. Heady the day after he was arrested, Oct. 7.

Prison officials said the kidnapers, who had not seen each other since they entered "death row" at the prison Nov. 20, acted calm and resigned as they began their last full day of life.

Hall and Mrs. Heady were to be allowed to talk to each other Friday in the presence of guards and ministers. Then they will eat a last meal of fried chicken in their widely-separated cells and will see each other again until they meet late Friday night in a small cell adjoining the gas chamber.

At one minute after midnight, hating delays, deadly fumes of cyanide gas will painlessly and swiftly end the lives of the disolute pair who plotted and carried out one of the most heinous crimes in memory.

Negro Scouts Hurt In Highway Crash

DAYTON, Tex., Dec. 17.—UP—A pickup truck loaded with Negro Boy Scouts and their scoutmaster collided with an automobile on State Highway 146 south of here Wednesday night injuring 16 persons, one of them critically.

Highway Patrolman Dan Duggan said the youths were "scattered all over the road" when he and ambulances arrived at the scene, many of them trying to help injured comrades.

D. E. Futrell, owner of the Futrell Co. in Lufkin and driver of the automobile, was listed as very critical in the Dayton memorial hospital Thursday.

Willis Lee McCann of Dayton, scoutmaster and driver of the pickup, was in serious condition from head injuries.

Four of the Scouts were taken to Mercy hospital in Liberty and all were reported to have suffered brain concussions. At Dayton Memorial hospital, there were seven Scouts admitted for broken bones and minor cuts and bruises while three Scouts were treated and released Wednesday night.

Rescue Crews Comb Debris In Hotel Fire

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—UP—Firemen swarmed over the ruins of a skid row hotel destroyed by fire early Thursday to dig out fellow firemen trapped under tons of brick and timber.

One fireman was removed from the ruins dead, and one resident of the three-story building was killed in the fire.

Rescue crews, working in the shadow of a weakened wall that threatened their own lives, pulled six other firemen from the rubble alive, and dug for more.

It was feared that from two to five firemen were still buried in the ruins of the Reliance hotel.

The resident killed was identified as John Tybor, recently released from Manteno state hospital for mental cases, and police said he was confused and wandering note found on his body said he had set other fires.

Pending investigation by the arson squad on the cause of the fire, the note was turned over to police. It said "I'm really crazy. I killed 15 people only. I also set fire to 12 apartment buildings, not to mention all the girls I raped."

The rescuing firemen worked with their hands in the bitter cold of dawn, throwing bricks and lumber into Madison street.

They could hear the voices of some of the trapped men.

About 40 persons fled from the hotel when the fire broke out early Thursday morning.

Firemen had extinguished the blaze and were pulling out their hoarses when the roof and three walls collapsed.

will be made—if interviews are not conducted before then—with the hope that Indian guards will patrol the compound and protect any man who wants repatriation.

A South Korean who escaped from the pro-Communist compound Tuesday night identified three Americans as unwilling stay-backs and named two more who were doubtful.

Armed With Daggers
The Korean, Kim Mun Zo, revealed in an interview at Seoul that most of the Americans are armed with daggers and the wavering prisoners feel a "constant threat" of death hanging over their heads.

The Army refused to release the names of the men identified by Kim but through a coincidental Indian announcement one was identified as Cpl. William A. Cowart of Monticello, Ark.

Kim had told Allied authorities following his escape that one of the Americans desiring repatriation was in the prison camp hospital. The Indians' announcement said Cowart had gone to the hospital for treatment.

The South Korean said one of the Americans, whom he did not identify, refused last week to sign a prisoner's petition and later showed a willingness to face interviews.

Russia Sets Beria Trial

MOSCOW, Dec. 17.—UP—The Soviet government said Wednesday ousted Secret Police Chief Lavrenti P. Beria had been ordered to stand trial before Russia's highest court on treason charges which could result in his death.

A state prosecutor's office announcement disclosed also that six high officials of the secret police would share the prisoners' dock with Beria, No. 2 man in Russia until his downfall.

Beria was accused of "the gravest crimes against the state," of plotting to undermine the government in the interest of foreign capital, and of conspiring to wreck the Soviet defense structure and its economy.

Crimes Are Listed
"Beria has been committed for trial on the charge of high treason, of having organized an anti-Soviet plot, committing acts of terrorism, of an active struggle against the working class and the revolutionary workers' movement," the announcement said.

The announcement said Beria had confessed to his crimes which began as far back as 1919, but did not disclose his whereabouts—presumably a well-guarded jail—or the trial date.

Conducted Pre-War Purges
It was the secret police which filled Siberia's slave labor camps, conducted pre-war purges and enforced party decisions on day-to-day life in all of Russia.

The decision to try Beria and six of his associates in the secret police was understood to be a move enforced on Premier Georgi Malenkov by the same group which toppled Beria from power—the Red Army.

Beria's trial, expected to begin early next year, will shatter the prestige and power of the secret police and intensify Moscow's attack against "bourgeois nationalists."

Only Part Arrested
An analysis of the official communique issued by the supreme court of the Soviet Union showed that only part of the high Soviet dignitaries were arrested as a result of Beria's fall from power.

Housing Area Hit By Crippled B-29

AGANA, Guam, Dec. 17.—UP—A crippled B-29 bomber crashed into a U. S. Air Force officers' housing project Thursday, killing 17 men, women and children as it ploughed a half-mile swath of destruction before breaking into pieces.

An Air Force colonel, his wife and their three children were among those killed in a shower of flaming gasoline and debris hurled by the plane. Their home was reduced to ashes.

Eleven others were injured in the accident and three firemen were hurt fighting a series of blazes in the project.

All of the casualties were Americans — six children, two women and one officer who perished in their homes, and eight of the 16 airmen aboard the plane.

Eight other persons aboard the plane were saved. Two were in critical condition. Two officers and one child who lived in the project were also hurt.

Minutes after the big bomber carrying six military passengers and a crew of 10 to the United States on a rotation flight, had left Andersen Field here, the pilot reported trouble in one of the four engines and headed back for an emergency landing.

The plane made one apparently successful approach to the field but did not land. On the second attempt the pilot lost control, perhaps because of a fire in the cockpit. The plane veered a quarter mile and crashed into a housing project. (See CRASH KILLS, Page 7.)

Gas Fumes Overcome Children

BAYTOWN, Tex., Dec. 17.—UP—Three small children were in critical condition at San Jacinto Memorial hospital here Thursday after they were overcome and spent all day Wednesday in their gas-filled home at nearby Sheldon.

Attendants at the hospital said Thelma Sue, 12, Robert Thomas, 8, and James Franklin, 7, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Surrey, were improved but still critical.

The two older children were reported "awake" but James Franklin was still unconscious.

The parents said they left their home to go to work at 6 a.m. in Houston. The children were left asleep in the home heated by hot water stove. Thelma Sue normally awakes the other children in time to go to school, the father said.

About 8:30 a.m., Mrs. Surrey said, Thelma Sue called and said she didn't feel well. Mrs. Surrey, a nurse at St. Joseph's hospital in Houston, told the young girl to stay home from school but to send the boys as usual.

"My wife called the house about 10:45 to see how Thelma Sue was," Surrey said Wednesday. "no one answered so she assumed all the kids had gone to school after all."

The parents returned home from work about 9 p.m. "When I opened the door the heat was so terrific it almost knocked me over," Surrey said Thursday. The children were all unconscious in their beds, all frothing at the mouth.

Beria's Trial May Mean More Purges

(EDITOR'S NOTE: W. A. Ryser, United Press expert on Soviet affairs, views the forthcoming trial of Lavrenti P. Beria as the forerunner of more purges in Russia's secret police system. In the following dispatch, Ryser sets forth his reasons for feeling more show trials are to come.)

By W. A. RYSER
MUNICH, Germany, Dec. 17.—UP—Russia's announcement that ousted Police Chief Lavrenti P. Beria will be tried for treason revealed Thursday that more big show trials can be expected.

Western observers considered the Moscow statement as a clear indication of the Red Army's victory over the secret police in a struggle for power following the death of Premier Joseph Stalin.

More purges in the secret police system would result in destruction of the once-feared organization's life and death hold on the Soviet Union.

It was the secret police which filled Siberia's slave labor camps, conducted pre-war purges and enforced party decisions on day-to-day life in all of Russia.

The decision to try Beria and six of his associates in the secret police was understood to be a move enforced on Premier Georgi Malenkov by the same group which toppled Beria from power—the Red Army.

Widow Shares Fortune After 'Cheese-And-Crackers' Years

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17.—UP—An attractive widow, who left her dead-broke oilman husband after years of "cheese-and-crackers" living, was calm Thursday over the news that she will share in the $50 million he earned after finally striking it rich.

Mrs. Lois McCaskill, 39, said it was "only money" when she learned she will get a one-third share of wildcat oilman Malcolm McCaskill's estate.

She said she married McCaskill in 1935 after her former husband had deserted her, leaving her with their young son to rear.

Recalling several years of unsuccessful wildcatting, she said: "We shoestringed drillings all over Mississippi, and believe me, it was a cheese-and-crackers existence."

She said she finally left McCaskill because "Mac drank too much."

"I filed a petition for divorce in an effort to wake him up," she said, "but never followed through on the divorce."

After leaving McCaskill, she came here to earn a living for herself and her son and her mother. She has been hostess-manager of a restaurant since 1940 and has managed to buy a home and put her son, Henry M. Anthony, through college.

McCaskill brought in his first successful oil and gas wells in northeastern Mississippi near Aberdeen, and tied up thousands of surrounding acres on a lease basis before he died last March.

Pampa's fire-zoning may be in for some changes.

City Manager B. H. Cruce, City Attorney Bob Gordon and City Commissioner W. D. Varnon contacted George C. Halley, state fire insurance 60 m m i s s i o n engineer, while they were in Austin at the gas appeal hearing.

Halley recommended, Cruce said today, that Pampa officials study the uses being made of land now outside the fire zone and extend the zones to cover all land presently being used for commercial purposes "and then go a little beyond that."

Such action would not necessarily take in industrial zones, but would include all zones where there are congested commercial operations in progress, Cruce explained.

Halley stressed the point, the city manager continued, that no metal-clad buildings should be permitted in the fire zone. "He thinks they're more dangerous than frame buildings."

U.S. Policy 'Tough'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—UP—President Eisenhower is directing a new tough foreign policy which consists mostly of blunt and public reminders to friends and foe alike that the patience of the United States can be exhausted.

The patience of the Congress is just about exhausted already in some areas of foreign policy. That is why Secretary of State John Foster Dulles joined the people of France this week with a warning that ratification of the European defense community plan is long overdue.

American diplomats have been saying that to French diplomats for weeks — but privately, Congress last session tagged half the foreign military aid funds for distribution to the European defense community. No community, no distribution of half of the funds. It is as simple as that, and the

Low Bidder Named On Bridge Project

Dell Braden, Barker and Gill, Inc., Amarillo, is the low bidder on the contract for the approaches to the proposed Canadian River bridge.

G. K. Reading, senior resident highway engineer, late this morning made the announcement, adding that he did not know how much the low bid was.

Bids on the project were opened at 9 a. m. Tuesday in the Austin office of the Texas Highway Department. Reading phoned Austin officials to find out the low bidder.

The job includes the grading on both sides of the bridge, the rip-rap protection on both sides and a small bridge over West Dugout Creek. The grading will be for about one mile of grading, one side of the bridge getting more of it than the other. The small bridge will be located several hundred feet north of the north end of the proposed Canadian River bridge.

This was the second Amarillo firm bidding low on a contract associated with the proposed bridge. Three weeks ago Cooper and Woodruff, Amarillo, won the contract for the construction of an 8.76-mile section of roadway leading up to the Canadian River. A month or two before that Kellner Jetties Company, Topeka, Kan., was awarded the contract on the jetties.

Only other bid on the project, the fourth will be that for the bridge proper. Highway engineers are hoping that will come in January.

Wildcat Blows In Near Texas Life

A wildcat well just over the Texas line in Texas County, Okla., late this morning was flowing 40-50 barrels of oil an hour.

It was the Texas Company No. 1 Flowers in Section 23, Township 1-North, Range 19 ECM.

Oilmen regard it as a "big" thing. Texas already has two gas wells in that area.

By late morning drillers had perforated between 6225 feet and 6555 feet in Morrow and had given it 500 gallons of mud acid, after which the well had kicked off.

Guard Unit Given Christmas Leaves

Pampa's National Guard unit announced the dates of Christmas vacations during the regular drill meeting Wednesday evening. The men were given from Dec. 23 to Dec. 30 to enjoy the Christmas holidays and Christmas leave was announced for the six full-time staff members from Dec. 24 to Jan. 4.

Four new recruits were introduced and one promotion was announced. The new men include Grover N. Black, Buddy Epperson, and Wesley Reeves of Pampa; and James E. Weldon of Lufkin, PFC Edward E. Prince of Pampa was promoted to corporal. This gives the unit a total of 90 men, 40 short of its goal of 130.

Crash Kills

(Continued from page one) The skidding wreckage knifed through officers' homes, throwing flaming gasoline and chunks of burning debris in all directions. Eight houses and all of the plane except its tail section were destroyed, two houses were partially demolished and three were damaged by fire.

Two survivors were thrown clear of the wreckage and six were snatched from the burning debris by rescue workers.

The names of the casualties were withheld by Air Force authorities until their families had been notified.

Pampa Youngster Injured In Fall

Little Bruce Francis, 23-month-old son of Buck Francis, Pampa News sports editor, suffered a broken collar bone this morning when he fell out of his crib.

However, his parents state that the fracture is not a serious one, and he will not have to be hospitalized.

THE LITTLE TREE THAT TALKED

A Christmas Story

By WALT SCOTT

The Prime Of Life... Best Years Of Man's Life Are Between 28 And 32 - Henry

By HENRY McLEMORE Several nights ago, just after my 47th birthday, I was watching a movie on television as penance for not helping an old boy when I was awakened from my sleep by this line: "But in England, ol' fellas, a chap is considered to be in his prime at 47."

ALMOST HUMAN—Pretty Valerie Argente is in for a great disappointment if she expects her new boy friend, "Gustave," to have a heart.

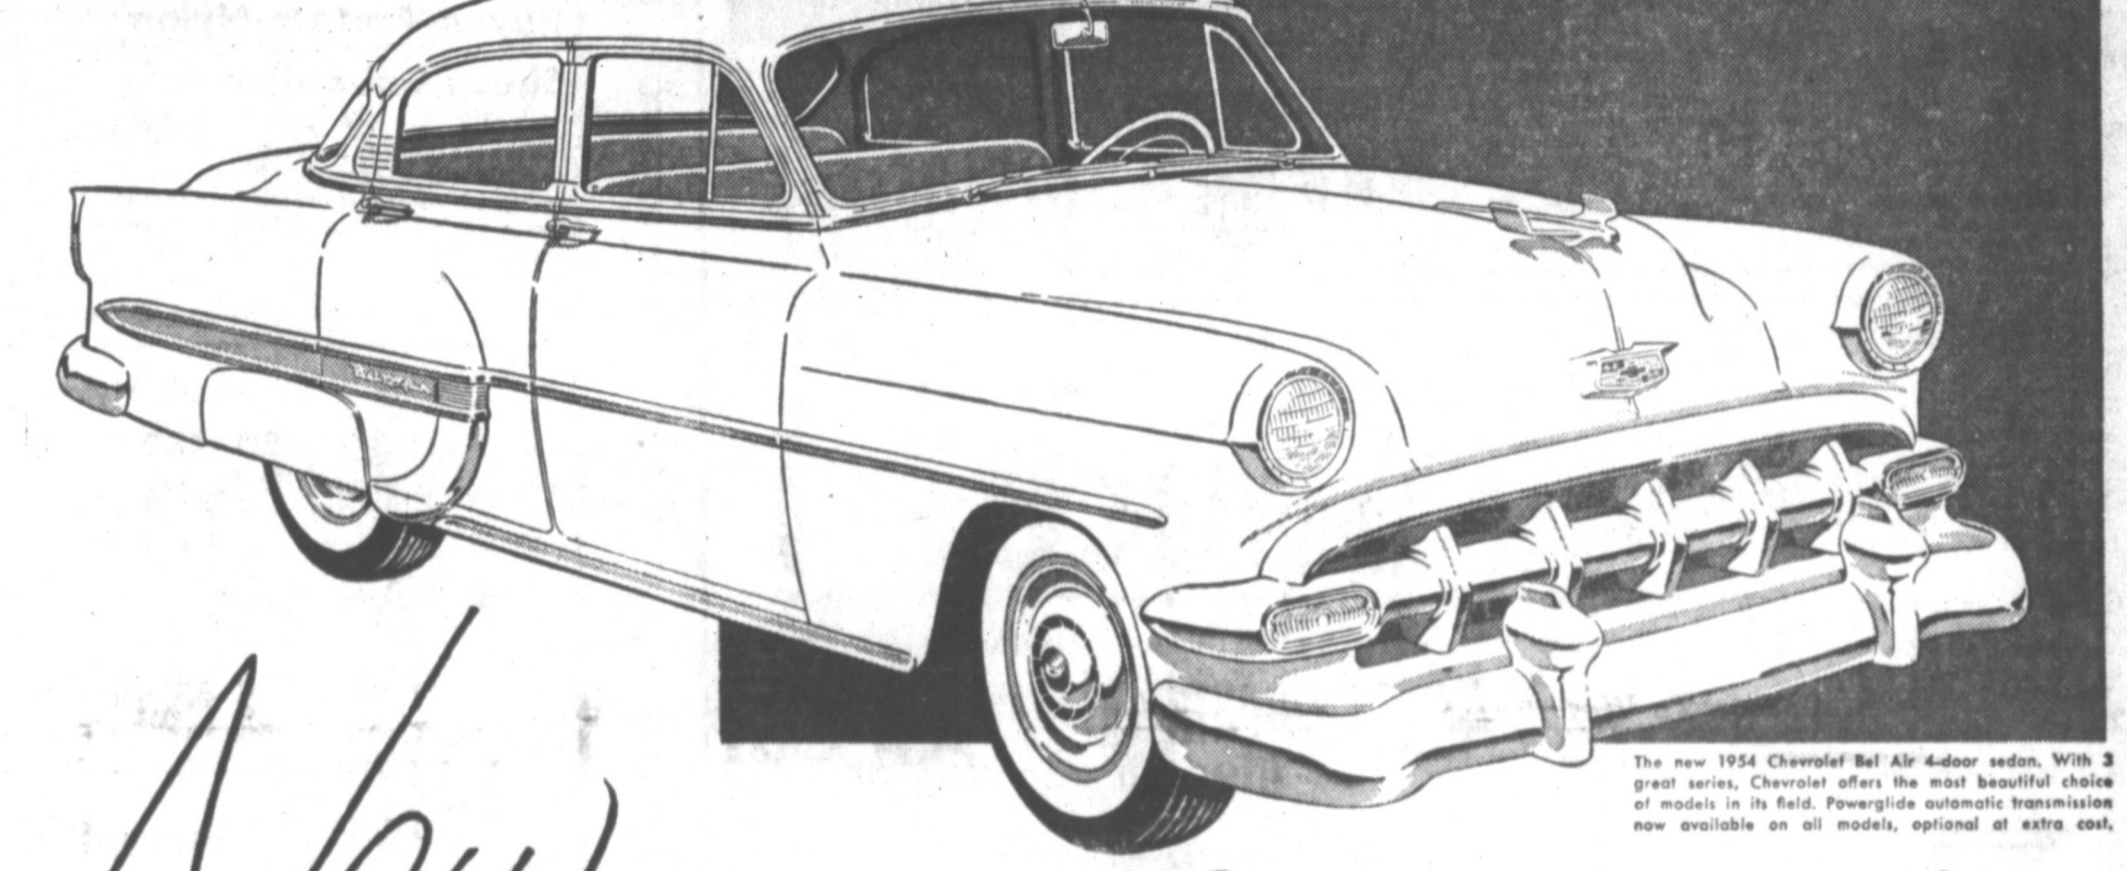

Stanolind Studies Brownsville Plant

TULSA, Dec. 16—UP—The Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. has employed a New York firm to help investigate a Brownsville, Tex., plant which it is considering buying.

John P. Holland built several submarines before the Holland which became the first undersea craft accepted by the U. S. Navy.

Moose Lodge Dance Tonight

Pampa's Moose Hall is now arrayed with streamers and Christmas decoration in preparation for the Lodge's annual Christmas dance at 9 p.m. today. Approximately 150 Moose Lodge members and guests are expected to attend the affair. Music will be provided by the Mello-Aires, with Beverly Fancher as vocalist.

Those in charge of the decorations include Miss Helen Jones, chairman; Mrs. Bertie Brown, Mrs. Marie Boehm, Mrs. Ila Arthur, Mrs. Della McGonigal, and Mrs. Elsie Hall.

In clear water, a submerged submarine can be spotted from the air at depths up to 100 feet.

Leiterman Will Not See Kidnapers Die

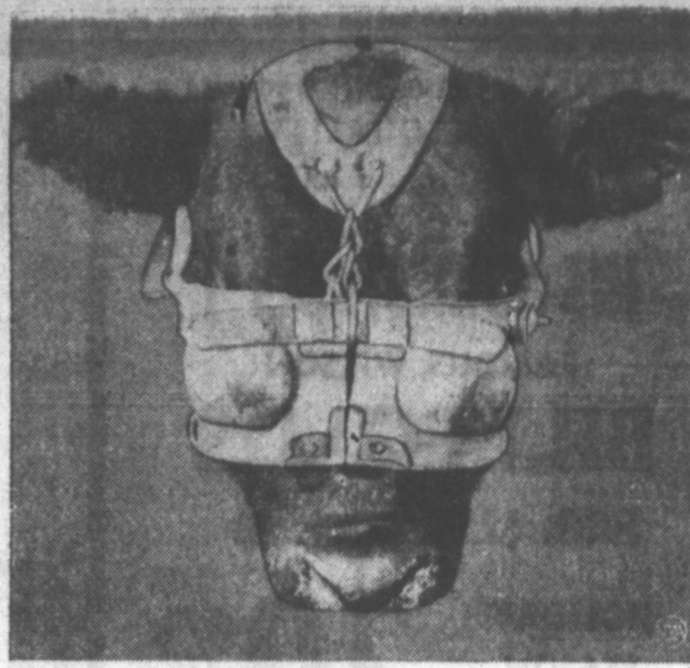

TULSA, Dec. 16 —UP—Robert K. Leiterman, chief negotiator with the kidnapers of Bobby Greenlease, said Wednesday he would not watch them die unless "I could be the executioner."

Leiterman, a business associate of Robert Greenlease, father of the murdered boy, declined an invitation from Missouri U. S. Marshal William B. Tatman to attend the execution of Bonnie Brown Heady and Carl Austin Hal.

"I would be very glad to have the opportunity to officiate," he said, "providing I could be the executioner and prescribe the technique contributing to their demise. I am willing to accept the decisions of the doctors witnessing and the officials conducting the execution that the chapter can be closed captioned 'final'."

Leiterman did not elaborate on the "technique" he would choose. He said he will fly to Kansas City, Mo., Thursday to visit the parents of the dead boy.

One of the most important discoveries of cobalt in recent years was made recently at Moa Bay on Cuba's northeast coast.

INTERPLANETARY BULL?—Motorists passing his pasture do a double-take when they spot this Aberdeen Angus bull apparently wearing a spaceman's helmet. Actually, he's wearing blinders that force him to keep his eyes on the ground, thus deterring him from leaping fences. "Sammy," the bull, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred ...

NO TIME TO SLIP—Marge Rowell, of Walton, N. Y., the only woman student ever to attend the Royal Academy Barbers School in Schenectady, N. Y., practices on Mike Bellow, a fellow student from Grandville, N. Y. Instructor Guy Shafer supervises as Mike keeps his fingers crossed. After graduation Marge is expected to be the only working lady barber around Schenectady.

Talkative Woman Outwits Husband And Traffic Cop

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—UP—It's not too difficult to outsmart a lawyer, particularly if you happen to be the wife of a lawyer. That's what Dotty Berger is. Her husband Milton is a barrister around these acres and lives over in Arlington county.

Well, the other day Dotty was cruising in the family hack along about 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. She came to an abrupt halt when across the way she spied somebody she knew, fellow named Alexander Goldberg, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y.—her brother.

She got out of the car and started to cross the street when the officer on detail blew his whistle on her. My, oh me, thought Dotty, I'm going to catch it for jay-walking.

His Favorite Fad
Instead the officer pulled out his ticket pad and started scratching out a summons into court for parking where it said, plain as day, not to.

The officer did what all those fellows do. He asked to see Dotty's driver's permit. He frowned and did some more scratching.

The lady finally paid her respects to Al, and then drove on home. That night she told hubby Milton about her bout with the law.

"Let me give you a little legal advice, dear," Milton said. "You just run down and pay the fine. You haven't a chance."

Right then and there, Dotty started acting like a woman.

"I will Not," she said with a capital "N." "There is something wrong here, and I am going to challenge this. And thank you, Milton, I don't need a lawyer."

So at the appointed hour on the appointed day, Dotty hid her self to the courthouse and searched herself somebody in authority.

Before the judge had time to bang his gavel she had a little chat with him. She said that there were a few errors on the writing on the ticket.

First off, she pointed out that the arresting officer had listed 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., which incidentally is where President Eisenhower and family live, in northwest Washington and not southeast, as listed on the ticket.

"And," she asked his honor, "Don't I look like a female?"

The judge could give only the obvious answer, since Dotty is very lady-like.

"Well," she continued, "He has me put down as a male. And third, he says that I am guilty of disobeying an officer of the law. I did nothing of the kind, your honor. All I did was say, sir, is that disobeying an officer, your honor?"

His honor scratched his head.

"All right, you win," he said. "As soon as you lawyers get around here and pay the fine. You're just as stupid as I am."

"It isn't Mom who's sick, Doctor—Jimmy cut himself pretending to shave with Dad's straight razor!"

Binion Faces State Trial

DALLAS, Dec. 16.—UP—Gambler Benny Binion, serving a five-year prison sentence for income tax evasion, is scheduled to plead guilty Thursday to state gambling charges.

District Attorney Henry Wade said he would recommend a four-year sentence on the gambling charge, with the provision that the time Binion spends in the federal prison will count on the state sentence.

Wade said if Binion is paroled by federal authorities before he completes four years in prison, he would be transferred to the Texas prison at Huntsville.

Both income tax and gambling charges stemmed from an alleged policy racket which Binion operated in Dallas in 1948, Wade said. His gross income that year was more than $1 million, the prosecutor said.

In addition to the federal prison term, Binion was fined $20,000 last Monday at San Antonio and will be on probation for three years after the sentence is completed. He is serving five years probation on another income tax charge, following a plea of no contest (nolo contendere) in Caron City, Nev. in September, 1952.

A plea of guilty and sentencing on the state charge will wind up Texas' long effort to punish Binion for his alleged gambling activities. He moved to Las Vegas where he owned the Golden Horse shoe casino, after a December 1948 raid, which led to a four-year sentence for his Dallas partner, Harry Urban.

Twice extradition warrants were approved by Nevada governors, but each time Binion was able to get the state courts to reverse the decision and permit him to remain in Nevada.

Fix long line in above last line 5th pgh and 1st line 6th pgh pleator said.

U. S. Promise On A-Secrets Offsets Pressure In Europe

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst
The United States met with its North Atlantic partners in Paris this week and with one hand delivered an upercut to the chin and with the other administered the smelting salts.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told France and its neighbors in the European defense community to get going on the European Army plan—or else.

Says Democrats Due To Control 84th Congress

WACO, Dec. 16.—UP—The Democrats don't want control of Congress during the session which will start next month.

That was the view expressed Tuesday night by Rep. Sam Rayburn, (D-Tex.), senior member of Congress and the minority leader in the House.

"I hope no more Republican members die or resign," Rayburn told a Central Texas Democratic fund-raising banquet. "We don't want control of the second session of the 83rd Congress. We will have control of the 84th Congress."

Rayburn said Mr. Eisenhower "won the presidency, but the Republicans lost the election" last year.

He hit President Eisenhower's leadership again, as he said the chief executive, "my longtime friend," has failed to display the leadership needed in "this time of world crisis."

"I applaud his United Nations speech on pooling of atomic power, but the question is, will his party follow him in that?"

On state issues, Rayburn told the 300 party workers their "key task" is to regain control of the party machinery in Texas at the precinct, county and state level.

"You won't have any Democratic party in Texas for the next three or four years (if you don't)," Rayburn said.

Rayburn headed Adlai Stevenson's campaign organization in 1952, when the party organization and most state officers went into the Eisenhower camp.

He said he wanted to see a "real Democratic" delegation from Texas at the 1956 national convention.

We Must Love Self To Fight Defiance

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Mr. K. is a worried man. His wife will make no decisions for their 5-year-old son. She says, "You don't understand modern psychology. It says I must give Jimmy love. How can I give him love — and make him resent me by sending him to bed when he doesn't want to go?"
"So, instead of decision, Jim gets 'reasoning' from his mother. Writes his father, 'If the boy doesn't happen to like my wife's reasons, he ignores her unless I interfere. She is rapidly losing any respect he has for her.'"
First, let me say that good psychologists do not tell us to "love" children. They tell us to love ourselves. For the good ones have discovered that if we love ourselves, love for Jim will follow as naturally as water from a full spring.

Dad, Let's Try To Make Christmas Joyous For Mother

By RUTH MILLETT
Memo to husbands:
In most families it is Mama who makes Christmas the wonderful family day it is.
For weeks before Christmas she is busy writing gift ideas after names and then trying frantically to find just the right present for each person on the list.
In between the shopping expeditions she is busy wrapping packages, decorating the house, planning the Christmas table, writing notes on Christmas cards, mailing boxes to faraway places, checking the tree ornaments to see what must be added, planning for some kind of open house for friends.
It is Mama who takes care of the thousand-and-one little details that on Dec. 25 will add up to a wonderful Christmas for a whole family.
This year, how about you husbands doing just a few things to make Christmas as happy a day for Mama as she has tried to make it for the rest of the family?
Here are a few pointers:
Don't wait until Christmas Eve to rush out and buy what should be the most important gift on your list — her gift. Give some real thought to what you buy for her this year.
Make it something you know she wants, but wouldn't buy for herself — a gift that will make her feel loved and cherished. Only you will know what that gift should be.
No tired salesgirl will be able to suggest it on Christmas Eve.
Then let yourself catch the spirit of Christmas before Christmas morning. It's a wonderful thing when the man of the house isn't too busy or too tired or too old in heart to pitch in and help with the Christmas preparations.
And don't forget this year to let the woman who has worked and planned to make Christmas a happy family day know that she has succeeded in giving the gift that only a wife and mother seems to be able to give — a warm and happy Christmas for a whole family.

Shamrock Observes Christmas Season

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Christmas observances in Shamrock during the next week include a Christmas Operetta, a Cantata, a Community Christmas Tree ceremony, and decorating of the streets.
The Christmas Operetta will be held Dec. 18, in Clark Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Arrangements were made by the South Ward Parent-Teachers' Association and every student in the South Ward School kindergarten, first and second grades will participate.
"The Light Of The World," by Ellen Lorenz, a candlelight Christmas Cantata was presented on Sunday afternoon, in the First Methodist Church.
In conjunction with the cantata, a Christmas pageant will be given by the young people of the church.
The program has been planned at this hour, so that members of all churches in the city will have the opportunity to attend.
Lighting of the first Christmas Tree in Elmore Park was held Friday evening. The park trees' sponsors, The Shamrock Garden Club, hope to make this event an annual part of Shamrock's Christmas festivities. This year's big tree was donated by Bill Porter. The Club has set out an evergreen tree in the park which it hopes will become a living Christmas tree for future Christmas seasons.
The Garden Club is also sponsoring a contest for the most beautifully decorated homes and grounds in the city. Competent judges will inspect the Shamrock homes and make awards. The Club promises the winners the "longest and biggest" rosettes and ribbons ever presented in Shamrock to the top three. Honorable mention will be made of other homes in close competition.

Your Girdle Needs Frequent Sudsing

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
Proper care of foundation garments is just as important as proper fit. So, now while you teenagers are acquainting yourselves with the wearing of girdles and brassieres, consider how to get the most satisfactory wear from them.
Any garment will wear better if it is allowed to rest between wearings. Therefore, it is more economical to buy two girdles and two brassieres rather than just one set. In fact, it would be wise to invest in a third set. That way you will have one to wear, one to wash and one to rest.
Having a few sets, you will be able to wash the garments frequently; this is important. Perspiration, when allowed to stay in the garments, weakens the fibers. Consequently, to get maximum wear you should wash your bras and girdles after every other wearing.
To wash, soak up to 10 minutes in warm soapsuds; then use a soft brush to remove soiled spots. Rinse several times in warm water. Roll the garment in a towel to remove excess moisture and ease it into shape gently with your finger tips. Lay it on another towel to dry.

Manners Make Friends

If you really want your friends to stop by for a holiday cup of cheer don't hand out vague invitations like "We'd like for you to come by sometime during the day." Say instead, "We're having some friends in between two and five on such-and-such a day and we hope you can come by — even if it is just for a few minutes." Vague invitations are easily overlooked or forgotten.

do this crazy dreaming? Capitalism, utilizing atomic energy, could make all this possible, not only possible, but within the reach of the average income customer.

Atomic power plants now exist on drawing boards, but nuclear atomic energy lies in the future. One of the reasons for this is cost.

In our opinion, one of the biggest reasons why cost is so high is because atomic energy is run by government. Private competition has been outlawed. There must be many areas in the field of atomic energy, particularly those areas in which the Russians already fully informed, that could be turned over to the individual.

Until this happens, revolutionary inventions which will benefit the average-income consumer will never be put on the market. We admire American progress, the kind which has lured all the wonders we can buy, let us campaign for private enterprise in every field, atomic energy, and aviation, so that the discovery and application of new ideas can take place NOW, for us, the living. Compare the advances that have been made in the fifty years to the advances that were made in the previous fifty. You will come to the conclusion that this is possible.

Miracles in the field of invention are possible now, as they were in the last half of the 19th Century. We must fight to get back the same condition of freedom now that we had then, if we wish to see great inventions put on the market at a price all of us can afford.

It's Knock It Off

Harry Dexter White died in August, 1948. Worried financiers are just beginning to realize that his pro-leanings still influence American foreign policy. While an outraged Congress condemns those who propped White to important Treasury posts, the United States government nevertheless continues to follow a policy laid down in 1945 by White and his group — such as V. Frank Coe and Harold Glasser, who have been named as Soviet agents by Elizabeth Bentley.

In the light of what we now know about Harry White, seems criminal folly not to re-examine this policy very fully indeed. Here are the facts: In 1945, under the urgings of White, Coe, Glasser and Co., the United States made a remarkable decision. Enemy-owned property which had been seized was not to be returned to its former owners at the war's end. This decision directly reversed the U. S. policy following World War I, and ran contrary to every principle of international law and tradition.

In 1947, Italian national's property was returned, but this very day we have not returned the property of our man national — nor, it appears, do we intend to do

This behavior seems inexplicable when we consider that the West German nation has become one of our most valuable allies in Continental Europe. Yet, while we give billions of dollars into the German economy, we are treating their nationals more shabbily than we have treated any former enemy.

The reason for this seeming paradox may be clarified if we think back to the so-called Morgenthau Plan, which revealed to have been the brain-child of White and his friends. The purpose of this plan, fortunately never put into whole, was to reduce Germany to the weakest country in Europe, a course which would have played directly into Soviet hands. One provision, however, which was adopted, called for confiscating all German assets abroad, and that is the essence of our Alien Property Act today.

It appears that the ghost of Harry Dexter White still lingers over West German recovery. The administration has a clear-cut duty to re-draft this inequitable law, in accordance to a country struggling to rebuild itself as our ally.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

"Quackery in Public Schools" I just read a new book, "Quackery in Public Schools" by Albert Lynd. Would that every protestant church member read this book on what is taking place in progressive education in the public schools.

Mr. Lynd has been a teacher of History at Harvard and Stanford Universities and he is now a part-time employee of an advertising agency in Manhattan. He is a member of the Board of Education in Sharon, Massachusetts, a town of about 3,000 in eastern Massachusetts.

Mr. Lynd does a splendid job in showing what they are now teaching in most public schools. He contends that the schools in the town in which he lives are still teaching the importance of History, Math and Literature and Latin, but that in most progressive schools they are not interested in History or Math or Literature or Latin.

The book shows that Mr. Lynd has been quite a reader of History. He would have to be in order to be a teacher of History. I did not realize until I read this book how far we have departed from the ideas of education during the 18th and 19th centuries. Mr. Lynd goes into a very great explanation of the John Dewey philosophy of education. His work goes into the origin of progressive education, back to Rousseau and Johann H. Pestalozzi and of course to Wm. James, Dewey and Kilpatrick. He explains that their philosophy is that whatever works is right and what does not work is not right. This is the way he explains the Dewey philosophy that now governs most of the thinking in our tax supported schools.

Excludes God and Moral Principles

On page 206 he says "Many of Dewey's educational disciples may be coy or confused, but the master himself is clear enough in his writings about the implications of his philosophy. It excludes God, the soul, and all the props of traditional religion. It excludes the possibility of immutable truth, of fixed natural law, of permanent moral principles. It includes an attitude toward social reform which is anti-Communist, but unmistakably socialist."

He contends that five per cent of the parents would not want this kind of philosophy taught to their children if they knew what was being taught. He, being a member of the Board of Education, realizes how little the parents and Board of Education members have in directing the education of the children attending public schools. He realizes that professional educators and he always is a capitalist. Educators, he believes that they have a duty to select the text and teachers that will recreate society and disregard the ideals and moral principles of people who believe in Jewish and Christian ethics.

He has a good bit to say about the colleges that train the teachers. He realizes that they have filled their curriculum with courses that do not develop the thinking of their students. In fact, he observes that the colleges that make the requirement of being a graduate of college in order to get a certificate is one of the primary handicaps of education.

He believes of course that public schools should not teach religion. On the other hand he realizes that if they should not teach religion, they have no moral principles to teach religion. They have no moral right to install atheism or agnosticism in the minds of the youth in public schools. And of course, if they are teaching that there are no principles, no natural law then they are really teaching anti-religion. They therefore have to teach that men get their rights from the state and not from God. The only remedy that he suggests is to reduce the requirements from college attendance in order to get a certificate and that they raise the pay of teachers in order to attract better minds. He thinks that teachers are under paid for the service he thinks they are rendering.

But he being a professor his judgment as to teachers' wages would not be any more impartial than mine would be as to the value of one of my newspapers.

EISENHOWER'S THESIS

The Chicago Daily Tribune Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have obliged the New Dealers who have been trying for a year and a half to get them to take after Sen. McCarthy, but both have done so in their customary wishy-washy way. The customary to employ the senator's description of their diplomatic methods is that of another "perjured note."

This dispute, if such it can be termed, is not warm enough to give the New Dealers any comfort as they hold out their cold hands over the flickering blaze. It is hard to get excited about it, but that does not relieve the detached observer of the responsibility of examining Mr. Eisenhower's extraordinary argument.

He and Dulles both took exception to Mr. McCarthy's statement that the United States ought to stop encouraging faithless allies who trade and are loyally with the Chinese Communists who slaughtered 25,000 Americans. The senator said we should tell them that if they continue this game they will not get one more cent of American money.

Mr. Eisenhower replies in horror that the United States cannot "survive" without these allies, and

National Whirligig... 'Creeping Socialism' Of Today May Shortly Become A Gallop

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Government-owned bread and butter will soon be dumped on foreign and domestic markets at heavy losses under a giveaway, semi-socialist plan that would have horrified such conservatives as Herbert Hoover and Calvin Coolidge and Republican bigwigs of their old-fashioned era.

Neither President Eisenhower nor Secretary Ezra Taft Benson like the idea. This first step of dumping wheat and butter at artificially low prices may inspire demands that other federal holdings of farm products — corn, cotton, tobacco, vegetable oils, etc. — be disposed of in the same way. Today's "creeping socialism" may soon become a gallop under politico-economic pressure.

PLAN UPSETS OTHER COUNTRIES — The plan for getting rid of some of the 775,000,000 bushels of government wheat holdings will have no domestic repercussions. But, it has upset almost every foreign country, including Britain, Canada, Australia and the nation we are now courting diplomatically — Argentina.

Wheat's domestic price at Kansas City ranges from $2.30 to $2.50 a bushel, depending on the kind and quality. It is now proposed, and Benson has agreed, that this product be sold abroad at 50 cents less than the domestic price.

Here again, the taxpayer will make up for whatever losses result. The more we sell, the larger the loss. If the competing countries with wheat surpluses cut their price, so must we. Herbert Hoover vetoed such a two-price measure more than 20 years ago.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Millions of dollars are spent every year for remedies aimed at curing or warding off that miserable affliction known as the common cold. Nose drops, vitamins, and drugs of many varieties and purchased by the thousands, and nearly every one of us has a favorite cure.

The fact that so many remedies are on the market is the best reason to say that nothing is much good in warding off or curing this vicious ailment.

The time may come when something better will be available, but the fact that nearly every year a new wonder cure is announced indicates that we should view new remedies with skepticism.

Does this mean that nothing at all can be done about the common cold? In this matter we are our brother's keeper. Most colds develop after contact with someone who already has one.

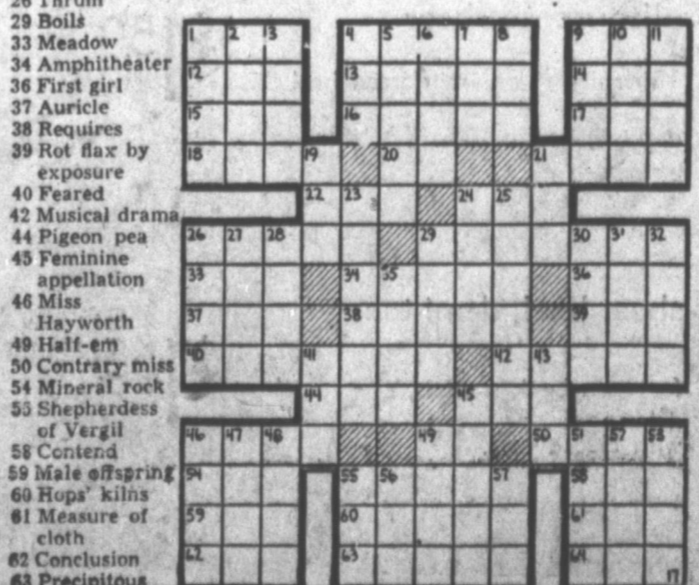

The most important safety measure is to avoid exposure to those who already have colds especially when a cold is just starting.

Public places, streets and moving-picture theaters, a most always have one or two people in them who are coming down with or recovering from a cold. If we kept out of these places when colds were frequent there would almost certainly be fewer attacks. But the person who has a cold could help most by not exposing others needlessly.

Fair Enough... Former Federal Judge's Pink Links And Conduct Recounted

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK — Judge Simon Rifkind, of the U. S. District Court in Manhattan, New York, on March 9, 1949, let a prison walk out absolutely free who had pleaded guilty to a charge of shipping three B-7 bombers from Miami, Fla., to Zatec, Czechoslovakia, behind the Iron Curtain. Rifkind resigned from the bench in 1950 and joined the law firm which at present includes Telford Taylor, the brigadier-general of the Nuremberg trials, who is now in controversy with Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

Rifkind was born in Russia. Several members of this law firm took a diligent but strangely unofficial part in the defense of Alger Hiss and in the hecklement of Whitaker Chambers, whose testimony convicted Hiss. The criminal who had provided sines of war to the Soviet satellite was one Irwin Schindler. He was indicted in Miami but fled to New York where he was arrested. Rifkind could have given him five years in prison and a fine of $10,000. Instead he let Schindler go without as much as a $2 fine. He was merely placed on a year's probation. Subsequently, a spokesman for the FBI complained that attempts had been made to bring pressure to bear on a high political level. As to whether this political pressure actually was exerted information is lacking.

In a similar case, arising from the same general situation, one Herman, otherwise Hank, Greenspun, a member of the Bugsy Siegal gang of underworld racketeers in Las Vegas, Nev., was let off with a $10,000 fine. Greenspun later acquired by some process to the public unknown a newspaper in Las Vegas which has been faithful to the party line of the element who smear all effective opponents of the Communist treason.

Greenspun was active in a criminal conspiracy hatched by a company called Foundry Associates, Inc., to ship 42 American airplane engines to forces fighting in Palestine. The FBI found evidence that he and another defendant also stole 500 machinegun barrels from a Navy dump in Hawaii.

Greenspun sailed from Wilmington, Cal., to a Mexican port where Mexican authorities seized the engines. The machineguns were believed to have been reshipped from Mexico to Israel. Greenspun has been one of the most violent enemies of Sen. Pat McCarran on account of his efforts to restrict the immigration of "unscreened" persons from Europe with a view to excluding Communist spies.

He was press-agent for the Siegal mob in their original de luxe venture in Las Vegas, the Flamingo Hotel and gambling house, his crime for noble motives, but the Department of Justice received reports that he and his associates got ten per cent of the total amount paid for the war materials, which was believed to have been $2 million. On an even split his share would have been $100,000. There was evidence also of payment of $1,000,000 to Greenspun through the Banco del Ahorro Nacional, of Mexico City, by cabled order from Geneva, Switzerland.

It is an important fact in this case that Greenspun was brought to court on a conspiracy count alone and that the government dropped the more damning charge that the criminal purpose actually was successfully accomplished.

There were seven defendants. Four were permitted to escape trial by dismissal of the indictments on motion in Los Angeles. After Greenspun was fined and let go, the indictments against the other two were dismissed. Greenspun's fine was hardly as much as an agent's commission on the putative proceeds of his crime.

The same principal corporation, Foundry Associates, Inc., was at the base of the Miami deal for the three bombers. A similar washout ensued in the federal courts. There were nine defendants. Schindler's case was transferred to New York, where a strangely enough, he had the good luck to come before Judge Rifkind. Two others were transferred to Los Angeles. They got $10,000 fines on plea of guilty. Two others were nolle prossed by the government, and three others never were arrested. Only one defendant, Charles Winters, went to prison. He was sentenced to 18 months and fined $2,500 in Miami.

A spokesman for the Department of Justice said that, but for the transfer of these many indictments to other jurisdictions, most of the criminals would have gone to prison.

In this connection the spokesman mentioned David Wahl, of New York and Washington, whose activities have been the topic of much testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Wahl is an old associate of resistance. If a cold does start the safest thing to do is to go to bed at once and stay there until the symptoms are gone.

Max Lowenthal, described by Jonathan Daniels, the selfless secretary, as the king-maker who put over Harry Truman as vice president with a president eye to the early demise of Roosevelt. Bartley Crum, one of Drew Pearson's lawyers, who has frankly admitted pro-Communist activities of which he now is ashamed, was associated with Wahl in conferences about the Miami cases. Rifkind, Lowenthal and Wahl were sent by Washington into conquered Germany quickly as "advisers" General Eisenhower.

Rifkind has fared well in the United States. He got his education at the College of the City of New York at a time when it was without cost to the student and he was through school before he became a citizen. The phrase "Iron Curtain" was publicly introduced as a political term of demarcation by Winston Churchill in March, 1946, so the hostile character of Czechoslovakia was well defined and officially recognized when the bombers were secretly exported to Zatec on June 11, 1948.

The American Way

By GEORGE PECK

Those Americans who dare to speak out against America abandoning its national identity to bury itself in a one-world fantasy, are being labeled "Warmongers," "Isolationists" and "America-Firsters."

The charge that these individuals are "Warmongers" is ridiculous. Since when is a man who simply wishes to have his country mind its own business to be characterized as a gungnicious, blood-thirsty individual?

As to the epithet, "Isolationist," there is perhaps some rhyme or reason for hurling this intended insult. But here again, how can any reasonable person quarrel with an individual who simply wishes to avoid controversy and conflict?

Regarding the term, "America-Firster," no greater compliment can be paid to any American than to proclaim that next to his God and his family, he places his country ahead of all else.

Do you recall how the word, "Isolationist," was hurled with reckless abandon prior to our entry into World War II? Anyone who prior to Pearl Harbor, voiced his opinion that this country should strictly mind its own business and keep out of foreign wars, was tagged as an "Isolationist."

The peculiar thing about that venomous name-calling before Japan attacked us, was that just about 90 percent of us were dyed-in-the-wool Isolationists. Even a great many Americans who now sneeringly hurl this epithet, were quite vocal in declaring then that the United States was not going to pull any chestnuts out of the fire for those European nations which habitually were getting themselves embroiled in wars.

Once the chips were down and we were actually at war, this nation as one man immediately forgot all the arguments as to whether we should have stayed aloof or intervened. There were no longer two camps of thought, all were united to put forth every effort to vanquish our enemies, and as speedily as possible.

General (then Colonel) Hanford MacNider of Mason City, Iowa, was one of those who sincerely believed we should stay out of war. He was chairman of the Iowa American-First Committee, a word was called "Iowa's No. 1 Isolationist." He presided at the anti-war meeting in Des Moines when Col. Charles Lindbergh was presented from speaking.

But when the Japs struck their cowardly blow at Pearl Harbor, MacNider immediately asked for active duty and was one of the first American officers to be wounded while fighting the Japs. He was hit by fragments of a mortar shell while the Japs were bombing his leadership and courage he was promoted from Colonel to Brigadier General. In 1945 he received the Bronze Star Medal to put with the Purple Heart awarded him in the early weeks of the war.

Is there anyone who will now dare to venture the opinion that a General MacNider was not a patriot? He hated war, he wanted forthright in saying so, he put forth every effort to prevent our entering it, but once we were in, he was Johnny-on-the-spot.

Doesn't this MacNider experience and similar experiences of thousands of others prove that we should drop this horrid word, "Isolationist," from our vocabulary? MacNider proved that an individual could be sincere in believing that America could keep out of war and at the same time be just as loyal an American as the sabre-rattlers — perhaps more so.

And now there are those of us who believe that the welfare of America should come before that of any other nation or nations. For this we are being called "America-Firsters." Well, if insisting continually above any other flag, including that of the U. S. regarding that of America's needs should take precedence over the needs of any other nation, constitute being an "America-Firster," then I plead guilty — proudly and loudly.

Redlegs Show a Deficit

CINCINNATI, Dec. 15 — UP — The Cincinnati Redlegs showed a deficit of $35,042 for the 1953 season. It was announced Monday at a club meeting during which all officers and directors were re-elected.

Dodgers, Cardinals Put 2 Each On All-NL Defense 9

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 — UP — The Brooklyn Dodgers, finest defensive team in the National League last season, Thursday placed two men — catcher Roy Campanella and outfielder Carl Furillo — on the circuit's all-star fielding team for 1953.

Official averages revealed that the Dodgers made only 118 errors last season, less than any other club in the league, and wound up with a .980 percentage which was tops in the loop.

It was the third time in the last four years that the Dodgers won the fielding crown and the chief reasons they did were Campanella and Furillo.

Campanella, who led all national league catchers defensively in 1949 and 1952, did so again this year with a .989 percentage. Furillo gained a place in the mythical all-star defensive outfield on the basis of his .988 mark.

The individual fielding leaders:

1B — Ted Kluszewski, Redlegs, .995.
 2B — Al (Red) Schoendienst, Cardinals, .983.
 3B — Willie Jones, Phillies, .975.
 SS — Johnny Logan, Braves, .975.

OF — Enos (Country) Slaughter, Cardinals, .967; Richie Ashburn, Phillies, .960; and Furillo, .958.
 C — Campanella, .989.
 P — Omar (Turk) Lown, Cubs 1.000.

Record Crowd Due At Houston S'boy Finalists In Good Condition

By UNITED PRESS

Except for a few minor bruises, the four football finalists in Class AAAA and AAA were in near top condition for Saturday's championship games in the two major classes.

Both titles will be settled in the South this year.

Odessa plays Houston Lamar at Rice Stadium and Big Spring meets Port Neches at Port Neches. Kick-off time for both contests is 2 p.m.

Odessa came out of last week's 16-14 tie and a first down victory over Dallas Wilson with a few minor injuries. But star quarterback Carl Schlemeyer was in good shape and the Broncos base much of their hopes for a second state championship on him.

Coach Cooper Robbins said he was worried about Lamar's ground game with tailback Walter Fenderson, wingback Mickey Smith and fullback Dick Bergstrom doing most of the ball lugging.

All in Top Shape

Lamar Coach Bob Schulze reported every one of his squad in top shape for the game.

If the weather is good, a record crowd may see this Class AAAA showdown. However, advance ticket sales have been light since Rice Stadium seats 70,000 fans and everybody is assured of a seat.

The Big Spring and Port Neches squads were also in near top physical condition for the Class AAA clash that should attract about 8,000 fans.

Big Spring Coach Carl Coleman said he was worried about Port Neches quarterback Jimmy Hathorn. Hathorn has furnished the offensive spark for the light, scrappy Indians, who will be outweighed about 31-pounds-per-man by the West Texans.

"They're big and rough," Port Neches coach Gene McCollum said. "And they've got an awfully good running game that can wear almost anybody down."

While the big boys play the finals, eight Class AA and A teams were building up to next week's finals in those two divisions with two semi-final games in each class Friday and Saturday.

Three Unbeaten, Untied

Three of the four Class AA semi-finalists — Comanche, Huntsville and Refugio — are unbeaten and untied, but the fourth — Ballinger — has probably shown more class in recent games than any of them although it has lost two games.

Ballinger meets Comanche at 2 p.m. Friday at Coleman while Huntsville and Refugio tangle at 2 p.m. Saturday at Huntsville.

SPORTS PARADE Junior Gilliam 'Will Round Out' Big Four

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 — UP — Harvey Kuenn, Al Rosen and Roy Campanella were home Wednesday with off-season baseball awards and all that remained to round out the "big four" was the naming of Jim (Junior) Gilliam as the National League rookie of the year.

Rosen and Campanella were the "most valuable" players in the American and National Leagues respectively. Kuenn won the rookie designation in the American League.

And certainly Gilliam should get the nod in the National League. Such an assertion undoubtedly could get you an argument in the environs of St. Louis. For the Cardinals have a young man named Harvey Haddix who was one of the finest pitchers in baseball during his first full season as he won 20 games and led the loop with six shutouts.

But at the risk of being accused of having a "typical New York outlook," the usual charge made west of Hoboken, this corner doesn't regard Haddix as a rookie. If he was, he would unequivocally be the choice.

Returning from military service in 1951, he spent the last third of the 1952 season with the Cards although he appeared in only seven games. Thus he wasn't even listed among Cardinal rookies in the usual pre-season brochure for 1953.

Raiders Rally To Defeat Aggies 58-55

Two Southwest Conference basketball teams take on major Eastern powers Thursday night as the loop's only play is scheduled at Pittsburgh and New York.

Texas Tech roared from behind Wednesday night at College Station to hand Texas A&M its fifth loss in six tries by a 58 to 55 score.

Thursday night, Texas meets Duquesne in the Steel City and Rice invades Gotham for a Madison Square Garden game with St. John's. Both Duquesne and St. John's are rated among the best hardwood teams in the East.

Tech dominated the first half of the Aggie-Raider game at College Station, but A&M pushed back in the third quarter for a 48 to 38 lead with the final 10 minutes to go.

The Raiders pulled ahead again 52 to 51 in a little more than five minutes, thanks to shotmaking of Roy Mardis and Carl Ince. Roy Mardis, A&M's leading scorer with 15 points, dunked one to push

UT Quint Takes On Top Dog Duquesne

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 — UP — LaBalle bounced back from its first defeat to rejoin streaking Fordham and Holy Cross Thursday in a three-way battle to replace Duquesne as the No. 1 college basketball power in the East.

Rebounding from Saturday's 74 to 6 loss to Niagara, the Explorers shattered Lafayette's tight zone defense and went on to crush the Leopards, 88 to 70, Wednesday night for their fourth victory in five games. Charley Singley scored 29 points and All-American Tom Gola tallied 32 for the winners.

Fordham, meanwhile, scored its fifth straight victory and high-scoring Holy Cross rolled to its fourth in a row. Duquesne, rated as the nation's third strongest team and considered the East's finest, seeks its fifth straight triumph against Texas Thursday night.

Fordham, ranked 10th in the country, squeaked out a 53 to 51 win over City College of New York. Leading by 13 points at one time, the Rams went into a second-half coma, enabling City College to gain a 51-51 tie. Then Fordham co-captain Buzz Larkin let loose with a game-winning jump shot only six seconds from the final buzzer.

Co-Captain Togo Palasi scored 29 points as Holy Cross annihilated Colgate, 101 to 64, at Worcester, Mass.

Both of the other 20 top-ranked teams which saw action last night came through with decisive victories. Seventh-ranked Oklahoma A&M hammered out a 85-46 triumph over traditional rival Oklahoma and 13th-ranked Kansas, finally scoring its first win of the year, defeated Tulsa, 72 to 61.

Cornell hustled to its fourth straight triumph and its first of the Ivy League campaign with a 64 to 53 verdict over Harvard and George Washington overwhelmed VPI, 93 to 45, in a Southern Conference contest.

Texas A&M downed Texas Tech 58 to 55, Xavier defeated Villanova, 51 to 37, Temple defeated Albright, 54 to 46, Dartmouth routed Vermont, 80 to 49, Georgetown downed Loyola (Balt.) 92 to 79, Pennsylvania outscored Swarthmore, 84 to 54 and Navy licked Columbia, 78 to 52, in other games.

Madison Square Twinbill

Duquesne, victor in the Steel Bowl tournament and sporting an average of 76.3 points a game, shares the top billing Thursday night with Notre Dame's meeting with Loyola and an attractive Madison Square Garden doubleheader. Notre Dame, which suffered its first loss to Indiana, will attempt to rebound and maintain its position among the national powers.

Faloney's Injury May Hinder Terps Against Strong Sooners

EDITORS NOTE: This is another of a series on the teams in the New Year's Day football bowl games.

By BOB SERLING

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Dec. 17 —UP—Maryland fears it may have lost the Orange Bowl game against Oklahoma last Nov. 21—at approximately 2:45 p.m.

That was about the moment a big Alabama tackle hit star Terrapin quarterback Bernie Faloney as he was getting away a pass, put him out of the game for the rest of the day and endangered his chances for a bowl appearance.

Every person in the state of Maryland, from Coach Jim Tatum and the squad down to the students and fans, knows Faloney is the steel axle around which the Maryland football wheel revolves. With the black-haired Faloney running the club, Maryland won the rating as the nation's best football team. Without him, the Terrapins may be just a pretty good outfit — and one that doesn't belong on the same field with Oklahoma.

Key To Success
"He's been the key to our success all year," Tatum says frankly. "He's not only a smart quarterback but one of the best defensive backs I've ever seen. Even if we could pull through without his running and passing, I don't think we could do without his defensive ability."

It was Faloney's right knee that was injured against Alabama. For four weeks, it has been undergoing every treatment possible. Three days ago, Faloney worked out for the first time in a month. Tatum assigned four members of the freshman team to practice with his quarterback, as Bernie tried a few simple handoffs and passes.

It was almost a grim sight — Maryland's No. 1 quarterback next season. But he may have to step into that role prematurely if Faloney is unable to play or is re-injured.

Saddler To Meet Bossio
NEW YORK, Dec. 16 —UP—Pfc. Sandy Saddler, world featherweight champion whose title has been frozen while he has been in military service, signed Tuesday to meet Bill Bossio of Pittsburgh in an over the weight, 10-round, non-title bout on Jan. 15 at St. Nicholas Arena. Saddler, who is home on furlough, knocked out Tommy Collins in Boston, on March 17, 1952, in his last appearance.

A Fair Substitute
Tatum, realizing that even an improved Faloney may still be somewhat brittle come New Year Day, has been patiently grooming Charlie Boxold as the ace's replacement. Boxold threw one touchdown pass against Alabama after Faloney was hurt, but his unfamiliar handoffs also led to three fumbles.

"The first team backfield just wasn't used to Charlie's different timing," Tatum explained. "Boxold spent all year working with the second team backfield but he'll have had plenty of workouts with the first team before we hit Miami."

Boxold, a junior, is expected to be Maryland's No. 1 quarterback next season. But he may have to step into that role prematurely if Faloney is unable to play or is re-injured.

Braves' Switch To Milwaukee Biggest News In '53 Baseball

By CARL LUNDQUIST
NEW YORK, Dec. 17 —UP—About the only thing that didn't change in baseball in 1953 was the Yankees.

They kept right on winning for an unprecedented fifth straight American League pennant and world championship under double-talking but straight-thinking Casey Stengel.

But everywhere else on the diamond and in the smoke-filled rooms, in the majors and in the minors, there was upheaval. Even the Supreme Court of the United States got into the act. The high tribunal ruled in an historic decision on Monday, Nov. 9 that baseball was a sport—and not big business—and as such was in many ways exempt from the restrictions imposed elsewhere upon industry.

That was an upheaval which touched off other exciting changes in the game. But before that decision there were many other startling developments.

Major League Map Changed
Even the first time in more than half a century, the major league map was changed with the Boston Braves going to Milwaukee last March 18 and the St. Louis Browns going to Baltimore as the Orioles on Sept. 28. Milwaukee's was a fantastic success story as the Braves in a new home and new park set in all-time National League attendance record and the team, buoyed by the unprecedented interest, jumped from seventh to second place.

The Baltimore interests, who failed to put over switch of the Browns franchise in the spring, finally acquired it at the end of the season and hope for a similar "rags to riches triumph" next season with the eighth place St. Louis franchise.

There was upheaval, too, in the player ranks. Angry because of a series of rebuffs to their demands from owners, the players hired a lawyer, J. Norman Lewis, and took more formal action to get the things they wanted, as more pay, liberalization of their pension plan and elimination of schedule irregularities.

Finally, in Atlanta, during the minor league meetings where Commissioner Ford Frick had invited the 16 player representatives, they brought counselor Lewis along.

Frick said Lewis could not attend the meeting and in turn, the player representatives boycotted it.

A Boost In Pay
The club owners did boost the salary minimums from $5,000 to $6,000 and granted other minor concessions while denying others that the players, led by their league representative Ralph Kiner of the Cubs and Allie Reynolds of the Yankees, still are in an adamant mood.

After clinching the National League pennant on the earliest date in history and winning his second straight pennant, Charlie Dressen was let out as Dodger manager because he demanded more than a one year contract. He settled for his old job as manager at Oakland and Walter Alton, a career manager in the Brooklyn farm system took over.

Other managers to get the gate were Rogers Hornsby at Cincinnati where he was replaced by Birdie Tebbets, Jimmy Dykes with the Athletics and Marty Marion at Baltimore. For Dykes, it meant only a shift in scenery since he replaced Marion with the Orioles under his old boss, Arthur Ehlers. Shortstop Eddie Joost took over as the Athletics pilot.

Most Valuable Players
Waddy Roy Campanella, who above all others, paced the Dodgers to their flag triumph, was named the National League's most valuable player.

Al Rosen, Cleveland's hard-hitting third baseman, was such a standout in the American League that he was a unanimous choice, for the American League's most valuable award. Rosen was edged for the batting championship by one point as Mickey Vernon of Washington batted .337 to his .336 but Al led in runs batted in with 14 in homers with 48, and in total bases with 387. Campy led the NL in runs batted in with 142, the first time in league history that a catcher had that honor. Moreover, he hit 41 homers, more than any other catcher in history.

However, sophomore Ed Mathews of Milwaukee gained the honoree of the major league championship of the season, wrestling the laurel from Kiner with a total of 47.

Yankees Win Again
The World Series was notable because the Yankees won again—six games. Carl Erskine, Brooklyn's little right hander, put up most notable individual record in the books when he fanned 14 Yankees in a 3 to 2 third game triumph. That erased the famed mark of 19 set by Howard Ehmke with the 1952 Athletics.

The rules committee restored the sacrifice fly which will give a batsman credit for advancing runners with outfield flies, by charging them with a time bat.

As in other recent years, the minor leagues suffered considerable attendance losses and blamed the roads of major league radio and TV. There were various committees and much talk about how to solve the problem but little action.

Spahn Records Best ERA in National

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 —UP—Southpaw Warren Spahn of Milwaukee received official winter recognition as the National League's top pitcher Tuesday, which is exactly what enemy pitchers suspected all summer.

Spahn, the Braves' sharp-featured fastball ace, turned in an earned run average of 2.10, topping all pitchers in that department for the second time in his 11-year major league career. He led the first time in 1947 with an era of 2.23.

The 31-year-old left-hander, Buffalo, N.Y., native turned in the lowest earned run percentage since the league since 1946 when Howie Pollet, then with St. Louis, compiled an identical 2.10 figure.

Spahn, whose overall record of 173 victories and seven losses gave him a won-lost percentage of .707—only two points less than the percentage setting .709 registered by Brooklyn's Carl Erskine—also tied durable Robin Roberts of the Phillies for the most victories.

Rice Starting 2-A-Day Drills

HOUSTON, Dec. 16 —UP—The Rice Owls begin two-a-day practice Wednesday in preparation for the 1st Cotton Bowl meeting with Alabama at Dallas.

Coach Jess Neely scrimmaged the Owls again Tuesday, in their second workout since resuming practice. The first team worked on its offense, and the second unit defended Alabama plays run by reserve 11.

Neely said the procedure would be reversed Wednesday, with the simulated Alabama attack being run against the varsity, while the second team tries out its offense.

Clark Quits As Nebraska Coach

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 17 —UP—George (Potsy) Clark said Thursday he had no immediate plans to announce following his resignation as athletic director at the University of Nebraska.

"But that doesn't mean I will get out of athletics," the 59-year-old Clark said.

He resigned his $8,500-a-year job Wednesday because he said "there has been a feeling that we are not doing enough for athletes at Nebraska, and I don't want to stand in the way of progress of the university if that's the sentiment."

Clark, who came to Nebraska in 1948 as football coach and moved up to athletic director in 1948, said "nobody pressured me to resign" and "I have no antagonism against anybody."

He said he submitted his resignation to the College Athletic Board "about a month ago" — right after the Oklahoma game.

Clark and Coach Bill Glassford have been criticized for not fielding barn-burning football teams after the drouth of World War I years.

The Huskers finished the 1952 season with three wins, six losses and a tie against Big Ten champion Illinois. They defeated Miami, Kansas and Iowa State, and lost to Colorado, Pittsburgh, Oregon, Kansas State, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Clark said "things might have been different" if the Huskers would have scored against Colorado on the several occasions they were inside the 10-yard line. "The Colorado game changed a lot of people's ideas," he said.

Clark coached professional football at Portsmouth, Brooklyn, and Detroit for a total of 10 years. His Detroit Lions won the National pro title in 1935.

He started coaching as an assistant under his old Coach Bo Zuppke at Illinois, moving from there to Michigan State, Kansas, Minnesota and Butler.

Other Clubs Disappointed Yankees, A's In 11-Player Swap

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 — The World champion Yankees, virtually assured of a sixth straight pennant by the addition of Harry Byrd and Eddie Robinson, Thursday warned other American League clubs to "get busy and do something" although it was generally conceded that nothing would help.

Baseball Mourns Barrow's Death

FORTCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 16 — All baseball was in mourning Wednesday for Edward Grant Barrow, the man who discovered Tom Seaver, converted Babe Ruth into an outfielder and built the New York Yankees into the game's greatest dynasty.

Cleveland's Otto Graham Best Pro Passer For 1953 Season

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16 — UP — Otto Graham, the "over the hill" guy of the Cleveland Browns, was the best passer in professional football this past season with a record tagged behind his name in the National Football League statistics.

Automatic Otto, once listed as slipping but who led the Browns to their fourth straight NFL division championship this season and their eighth straight title dating back to the All American Conference, won the passing honors with a flaming 10.55 yard average gain every time he threw the ball.

The pace was two yards better than the average struck by Norm Van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams when the big Dutchman won the title last year, and well ahead of the 8.90 yard average set by Bob Waterfield in 1951.

Passing: Graham, 167 completions in 258 passes with a 64.7 percentage of completions and 2,772 yards gained. Otto threw 11 touchdowns.

Rushing: Joe (the Jet) Perry of the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 1,018 yards gained in 192 rushes, an average of 5.3 yards per carry.

Pass Receptions: Pete Pihos, Philadelphia Eagles, 83 completions for 1,049 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Scoring: Gordon Soltau of the Forty-Niners, 114 points, repeating his title won last year.

Punter: Pat Brady, Pittsburgh Steelers, a 46.9 yard average for 80 punts.

Punt Returns: Charley Trippi, Chicago Cardinals, an 11.4 yard average for 21 returns.

Kickoff Returns: Joe Arenas, Forty-Niners, 16 for 551 yards, an average of 34.4 yards.

Pass Interceptions: Jack Christensen, Detroit, 12.

Race Control Refused
NEW YORK, Dec. 16 — UP — The New York City Council, by a vote of 7 to 6, with eight abstentions, Tuesday turned down a resolution that the state enact legislation to take over and conduct horse racing.

The resolution's backer, Councilman Edward Cunningham, said that the tracks should be operated in the "form of a public utility" in which the people could invest and from which the state still would derive money in revenue.

Girls Town Founder Teaches Americanism, Faith In God

"Mama, what is Communism?" That is the question that girls at Girls Town repeatedly ask Miss Amelia Anthony, founder and director of Girls Town near Whiteface. She was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Pampa Rotary Club Wednesday in the Palm Room of City Hall.

MISS AMELIA ANTHONY
Girls Town founder

She told the Rotarians that she could not give them the answer as to what Communism really is, but said she could tell them what Americanism is, for that is what she is teaching the 76 girls there now.

She said that a good example of the results of this teaching was last Sunday night when the girls decorated their four Christmas trees.

"I wish that each of you could have been there and heard these little girls singing their religious Christmas carols and then giving thanks to God Almighty for the privilege of living in America," she said.

She said that she is a firm believer in the proverb, "bring up a child in the way he should go and he will not depart therefrom," as she told of numerous cases of juvenile delinquency with which she has come in contact.

Girls Town was established March 13, 1949, and is built on the foundation of faith in God, she stated. She told of an incident to illustrate this fact. She said that two men came to Girls Town, after inspecting the establishment, presented her with a check for $100,000. Instinctively she asked what strings were attached. They told her that she must appear on a national radio broadcast, time for which already had been purchased, and that she must tell the radio audience that she was a member of a certain church. Handing the check back to the men she told them that Girls Town needed the money, but that it needed God more, as He is the real director of Girls Town, USA.

Two little girls from Girls Town accompanied her here for the program. She referred to one, whose first name is Sandra, as the Cowpoke of Girls Town, and the other, Mary, as her Fullback. Also accompanying her was Mrs. Maud Herman, head nurse at Girls Town.

Miss Anthony was introduced by Don Cain, program chairman. Jack Vaughan was inducted as a new member of the club by Charles Burton.

Guests included R. H. Loader, Albuquerque, N. M., Sgt. Davis A. Brown, Orleans, France; Mrs. Fern Dawson, Mrs. Dorothy Statton, Mrs.

There were 3,079 rigs active last week, a net gain of 25 over the previous week, and more than 100 more than the figures last month and a year ago. In the same week of 1952, there were 2,962 active rigs and 2,958 a month ago.

The number of rigs on the Pacific Coast dropped 12 to 175; those in Ark-La-Tex four to 210, and 25 in West Texas and New Mexico to 490.

All other major drilling areas showed increases, with the largest a gain of 24 in Oklahoma to 409 and 23 in North Texas to 388. Other increases were in Kansas, eight to 173; Rocky Mountains, eight to 298; Canada, one to 159; Gulf Coast, seven to 607; and Illinois, five to 170.

Gov. Johnston Murray Wednesday proclaimed Dec. 26 as a legal holiday, and called on all public and private enterprises to grant "free time to all employees who can possibly be spared."

He said the additional legal holiday was sandwiched between Christmas and Sunday "in the interest of greater safety" on highways.

Bing Won't Bore Public

By ALINE MOSSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17—UP—Bing Crosby wound up the filming of his first television program with the promise Thursday he won't be back for a while because he thinks the public might "get bored" with him.

The world's most popular and richest crooner, one of the few big name stars who's skirted television, finally got around to singing for TV cameras on a program to be released Jan. 3.

But he added it's his only video effort until somebody gets an idea for a script for his promised guest appearance on Jack Benny's TV show.

"I don't believe in going on TV all the time," said Crosby to a small army of assistants and reporters.

"It would be boring to the audience. After all, television still is a movie, seen on a screen. You wouldn't want to see a movie starring the same person every week. It's just too much, and that goes for those family serials, too. I think they may wear out their welcome."

"If people see me too often they'll catch on to every trick I have."

Bingle's TV debut (not counting a benefit telethon on which he sang) also features Benny as a guest star, plus dancer Sherree North. She was a show-stopper in the Broadway hit, "Hazel Flagg," and signed by Paramount to dance silently in movies. Crosby's program marks the first time the shapely hoofer has had anything to say.

Crosby explained he finally gave in to TV, after a long courtship, because "it's the proper time now."

"I never had any fear of doing TV—just didn't have the time to do it," he added. "I'll be happy to do another show this season for Benny as soon as we get a script for it."

His producer, Bill Morrow, said Bing probably will do four TV shows next season.

For his CBS radio program Crosby usually shows up in attire that could be described kindly as casual. It consists of old slacks, shirt, socks that don't match and no toupee.

But for his video job the singer arrived in a neatly combed hair-piece, a new blue sport jacket, gray trousers, white shirt, tie and even a white handkerchief tucked into a pocket.

"Well, this show goes into people's living rooms," said Crosby. "I can't go on looking like a bum."
