Yankees Cop Second Game, Four To Two

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—UP—Golden boy Mickey Mantle, the new "glamour slammer" of the Yankees, deposited a two-run homer deep into the left field stands in the eighth inning Thursday for a 4-2 victory over the Dodgers in the second game of the World Series.

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 1.—UP—The play-by-play of the second game of the 1953 World Series between the Yankees and Dodgers.

DODGERS FIRST
Gilliam bounced to Rizzuto on Lopat's second pitch and was an easy out. Reese worked the count to 2 and 1 and then lined a drive into right field. Bauer fell down chasing the hit and Reese raced all the way to third for a triple. It was his first hit of the series. Snider took a ball and then fouled to Berra about 20 feet up the third base line. Mantle made a running catch in right-center field of Robinson's long line drive.

YANKEES FIRST
Woodling walked down Collins' 3-and-2 pitch, was outside. Collins also walked on a 3-and-2 pitch. Bob Milliken started to warm up in the Brooklyn bullpen. Furillo went into deep right-center field to take Bauer's long liner. Woodling raced to third after the catch. Collins holding at first. Berra fied to Furillo on a 1-and-1 pitch. Woodling scoring easily after the catch and Collins taking second. Mantle walked when Roe's 3-and-1 pitch was far outside. McDougald was hit on the left foot by Roe's 3-and-2 pitch, taking first base and loading the bases. Martin filed to Snider in straightaway center field. One run, no hits, no errors, three left.

DODGERS SECOND
Campanella bounced to McDougald on Lopat's second pitch. Hodges worked the count to 3-and-2 and then walked on a high-inside pitch. McDougald made a nice pickup of Furillo's grounder and threw him out at first. Hodges taking second. Hodges stole third as Lopat took a long windup on his first pitch. After the count reached 3-and-1 on Cox, Lopat purposefully threw the fourth ball wide. Roe lined directly to Lopat, the ball bouncing off Lopat's body directly to first base man Collins for the putout.

YANKEES SECOND
Rizzuto sent a long drive to the right field foul line which Furillo could not hold. Rizzuto racing to third. The Yankees protested that the fans had knocked the ball back onto the field but to no avail as it was scored as a double for Rizzuto. Furillo was charged with an error for falling to pick up the ball. Rizzuto was charged with an error for high inside fast swing. Woodling bounced to Gilliam and Rizzuto was out at the plate when Gilliam threw to Campanella. Woodling reaching first on the fielder's choice. Rizzuto racing to third, he was again to no avail. Hodges made a pickup of Mantle's sharp liner and stepped on first for the putout.

DODGERS THIRD
Gilliam popped to Martin on the edge of the right field grass. Reese worked the count to 3-and-2 and then filed to Mantle in shallow center. Mantle raced to the cinder track along the right-center field.

Bus Service Ends In Pampa

Pampa residents who have been accustomed to riding the buses at work each morning found either found other means of transportation today or were forced to walk.

The Pampa City Bus Co., which has operated the buses in the city since 1946, went out of existence Wednesday afternoon when the two buses made their last runs at 6 o'clock.

Jay Nichols, who has operated the line for the past four years, was given permission by the City Commission to discontinue operations here. Lack of business was given as the reason for quitting business.

October Dawns Bright And Clear

October dawned bright and clear this morning, but by noon low-hanging clouds threatened to mar the remainder of the day. It was cool outside, too. Like fall days should be. Gone were the sultry, oppressive heat of the summer. Temperature, for a few hours, anyhow.

High reading on the Pampa mercury for Wednesday was 86 degrees, which dropped into the fifties early this morning. By noon the temperature was climbing up, but slowly. And even the sun was able to peek through the clouds.

Try To Cease Truce Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 1.—UP—Action by the Chinese Communists was considered Thursday almost a necessity to break the East-West deadlock on the Korean peace conference. Deadline for the conference was set at Oct. 28 and far Eastern Communists so far have shunned United States proposals for a face to face meeting to work out details.

Debate on Korean matters Wednesday was relegated to last place on the agenda of the United Nations political committee at the urging of western nations by a vote of 48-8.

There were only two apparent possibilities for a break in the deadlock holding up the conference.

1. Agreement by Red China and North Korea to a pre-conference meeting with the United States to discuss the trial by defense attorneys.

2. A majority vote in the UN General Assembly a political committee to discuss Korean matters immediately.

The UN political committee voted 48-7 Wednesday to permit a majority vote to shift the Korean question to the No. 1 position on the committee's calendar.

The "loophole" amendment was passed over the objection of the United States which took the position that any alteration in the agenda was of sufficient importance to require a two-thirds majority.

Grid Coverage In Pampa News
Here's good news for Pampa football fans.

Buck Francis, sports editor of The Pampa Daily News, will leave this afternoon to cover the Pampa High School Guerrillas game with the Turkey Turks at Turkey tonight. A full account of the game will appear in Friday's issue of The News.

From Turkey, Francis will go to Fort Worth to report the Harvesters non-conference game with Paschal High Panthers Friday night. Francis' coverage of the Green and Golds' game with the Fort Worth eleven will be published in the big Sunday edition of The News.

Francis also will have some interesting observations on both games in his column, Press Box Views. Watch for them in The News.

City Continuing Gas Rate Hearing

A bare quorum of Pampa City Commission members were on hand this morning to reopen the recessed hearings on Empire Southern Gas Company's proposed gas rate hike.

By late morning Ernest Arey, pipe-line contractor, and Roy Brey, pipe-line supplier, had testified to commissioners on technical details concerning Empire's gas-supplying system. Only Aubrey Jones, city tax assessor-collector, was left to testify. No other tax payers were present at 11 a.m. today and will still go strong at 11 a.m. Combined with the 3 1/2 hours used Tuesday for the same purpose, that made a total—of more than five hours consumed in the hearing.

On hand today were Mayor Tom Rose, Commissioners W. B. (A) Vee and Frank Dial, Empire Manager Erwin Thompson, City Man-

Indian Troops Quell North Korean Riot

One Prisoner Killed, Five Are Wounded

PANMUNJOM, Oct. 1.—UP—Indian troops killed one prisoner and wounded five Thursday when 500 North Korean rioters tried to break away from their communist camp to join in an anti-Communist demonstration.

Four or five Indian guards were injured by stones hurled by the anti-Communist rioters who became enraged at the sight of Polish and Czech members of a medical inspection team.

The medical team was touring the adjacent hospital in Indian camp.

Brig. Gen. R. M. Kaul said the Indian troops fired 12 times from single shot rifles at the rioting North Koreans after first warning them by loudspeaker to stop trying to break into the hospital compound.

Kaul said some North Korean prisoners had climbed over a barbed wire fence when the Indian guards opened fire.

Anti-Communist prisoners who have sworn to kill Communist "brain washing" officers demonstrated simultaneously in other compounds.

Last week 500 Chinese prisoners rebelled and seized two Indian soldiers as temporary hostages. They surrendered their captives to British Major Gen. S. P. Thorat, commander of the compounds, after he ended them for their lack of discipline.

Almost 1,500 anti-Communist rioters are housed in the hospital.

The anti-Communist must remain in Indian custody 48 more days unless they choose to remain in the rule. Most of them said, however, they will be before going back to communism and have

Commission Seeks New Health Officer

El Paso County Commissioners were searching for a new county health officer today.

In their meeting this morning at the county court room they were said by County Judge J. R. Maguire, Jr. that as of midnight Wednesday the county is without a health officer.

The terms of Dr. R. M. Hampton, who has been serving in that capacity, ended at that time and he is reported not to be interested in retaining the position.

Several other doctors of the city have been contacted in an effort to seek a new health officer, but all have declined the position, Judge Maguire told the commissioners.

The commissioners authorized the county judge to write to the State Health Department, notifying them of the situation here.

The commissioners were still in session early this afternoon.

Shamrock Men Held In Crash

CHEYENNE, Okla., Oct. 1.—UP—A father and son were held up today on charges of leaving the scene of an accident in which a woman was critically injured in nearby Bevton, Okla.

The two, Edward Levi Mason, 44, and his son William Leneth Mason, 19, of Shamrock, Tex., were arrested in Shamrock Wednesday.

They admitted being in a car which struck down Mrs. Bertha Howard, 82, Bevton. However, officers said each maintained the other was driving.

Shamrock officers arrested the pair after observing the car had a bent front fender and smashed headlights. The men were returned to the Rogers county jail here by Sheriff Bill Batchelor. Deputy O. T. Parks and Oklahoma Highway Patrolman Jerry Abbott.

Scout Personnel Change Revealed

Paul Reisenherz, Adobe Walls Council Scout executive, this morning announced changes in office personnel, effective today.

Mrs. J. Fitzgerald, secretary in the city engineering and health departments for more than two years, is Reisenherz' new secretary in the Boy Scout office.

She replaces Miss Lura Manning and Mrs. D. M. Dickey, both of whom resigned.

Replacing Mrs. Fitzgerald in the city engineering and health offices is Mrs. Doyle Ward.

SON STILL MISSING Contact Awaited With Abductress

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 1.—UP—A business associate of Robert C. Greenlease, father of kidnapped Bobby Greenlease Jr., said Thursday that "there has been no contact, preliminary or otherwise to this hour" with Bobby's red-haired wife, who has been demanding possession of the youth.

The Greenlease mansion in the West Kansas City suburb of Mission Hills, Kan., was closed Wednesday even to close friends. Greenlease, 71, and his 45-year-old wife, Virginia, were near collapse from grief and anxiety and were permitted to see no one.

The Greenlease mansion in suburban Mission Hills, Kan., "stayed closed" until a man hoping he would get some word.

Robert Lederman, Tulsa, Okla., a partner with Greenlease in a Tulsa automobile agency, said he and Greenlease's Kansas City general manager, Stewart Johnson, "stayed up until a man hoping we would get some word."

"Nothing came and there's nothing to tell you," Lederman told newsmen. It has been 72 hours since a woman spirited six-year-old Bobby away from his Catholic day school where he was in the primary grade.

He said several telephone calls were received at the shrouded Greenlease mansion in suburban Mission Hills, Kan., during the night, but they were all from newspapers.

Lederman said he took Mrs. Greenlease to 7:30 a. m. mass Thursday but unfamiliar with the church, he could not identify the name of the Catholic church she attended.

"She appeared to be fresher this morning," Lederman said. The 45-year-old mother has been under a doctor's care since the kidnapping Monday forenoon.

Police, working quietly and "extremely as the family wishes," repeated throughout the night there was "nothing to report."

Their first concern, they said, was to prevent danger to the boy's life.

Robert C. Greenlease, a millionaire Cadillac dealer, insisted money was no object in getting Bobby back. His son was spirited away from the fashionable French Institute of Notre Dame de Sion Monday by a red-haired woman posing as his aunt.

Speculation about reasons for the abduction would be a benefit if we do not know what we will be permitted to continue the process which the district attorney's office has made in the last several weeks," they said in a joint statement.

Watson and Howard were both appointed by Herman Dipkin, who resigned as district attorney last month to enter private practice.

The two murderers, Earl George Robertson of Floydada, Tex., and Joseph Paul Lucas of Tamaqua, Pa., were given life sentences in Canyon, Tex., Monday for murdering Amarillo cab driver Harry Gibbs Robertson was already under a life sentence and Lucas under a 99-year sentence for murdering Victor G. Smith, an Amarillo service station attendant.

The life sentence was agreed upon before the trial by defense attorneys and Robinson.

Watson and Howard said they were discharged because they opposed the "deal" between the state and the killers.

"We have attempted to continue to serve the district, because we felt that our familiarity with pending matters would be a benefit if we do not know what we will be permitted to continue the process which the district attorney's office has made in the last several weeks," they said in a joint statement.

The indictment against Hadji Haddi sided the "cause of imperialism" by sending untrained Egyptian forces into battle during the war with Palestine in 1948.

The trials followed announcement by President Mohammed Naguib's government that it had uncovered a "foreign-inspired" plot to overthrow his regime.

General Warns Of Red Atomic Capabilities

Editors Note — Lt. Gen. William M. Hoge, whose capture of the Wehrmacht bridge intact in 1945 gave the Allies their first bridgehead across the Rhine, has just taken command of the U. S. Army's Iron Curtain defense front in Europe.

In the following exclusive interview with United Press manager for Germany, Joseph W. Grigg, Hoge warns of the Russians' atomic capabilities.

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 1.—UP—Soviet Russia probably could launch an atomic attack against Europe tomorrow. But the 300,000-man U. S. Army here is being trained to beat the Soviets in atomic warfare, its new commander-in-chief said Thursday.

Lt. Gen. William M. Hoge, newly appointed commander of U. S. forces in Europe, said offensive and defensive atomic tactics will play an increasing part in training the crack troops under his command.

"We know that we have the capabilities for tactical atomic war and we are sure they have too," Hoge said in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

"Exploit Our Weapons" — "It is only natural that we should train our people to exploit their own atomic weapons and protect themselves against those of the other side probably has. We hope and believe our tactical atomic weapons and training are better

Bus Crash Kills Three

EHRENBERG, Ariz., Oct. 1.—UP—Eight of the 18 passengers injured, including three children were listed in serious condition at the Los Angeles hospital in the fatal crash Wednesday.

The bus, a 1951 International, was driven by a Los Angeles school bus driver A. H. Collins of Los Angeles was killed in the accident.

Highway patrolmen said the bus apparently lost control when it struck a low wall on the highway. The bus hit the wall and plunged over the embankment but did not overturn.

Those listed as seriously injured were: Juan Salazar, 3-year-old, Los Angeles; 20-year-old, Los Angeles; and Mrs. Sylvia Butler, 20, Los Angeles, and her three children, all under four years of age.

The other injured included: Robert P. Matthews, 26, Palo Alto; Juan Munoz, 20, San Jose; and Ramon Valdez, 26, New Braunfels, Tex.

A witness said the bodies of two of the dead were hanging from the back of the bus. The third death occurred enroute to the hospital.

The most seriously hurt passengers were seated in the front portion of the bus.

Drug Assn. Bans Nickel Coffee

The nickel cop of coffee at Pampa drug stores is on the way out.

It's getting up to a dime! Members of the Top of Texas Drugists Association voted unanimously to up the price of the beverage "on or before Oct. 15."

Several members indicated the price hike would be put into effect immediately. Others hinted they might wait till the deadline. The action was taken at a regular meeting of the drugists yesterday in the Schneider Hotel.

Former Egyptian Premier Sentenced To Die For Plot

CAIRO, Oct. 1.—UP—Egypt's military tribunal Thursday sentenced one of ousted King Farouk's former premiers and another accused plottor to death by hanging for treason.

The court ordered Saadist party leader Ibrahim Abdel Hadi to be stripped of all his belongings, including about $80,000 in cash, which will be given to the people.

Shortly after the tribunal president, Wing Commander, Abdel Latif Boghdadi, passed sentence on Abdel Hadi, another defendant Ahmed Mohammed-Awad, was brought before the court and ordered hanged for supplying "foreign quarters" with information which helped undermine the supreme interests of the country.

The trials followed announcement by President Mohammed Naguib's government that it had uncovered a "foreign-inspired" plot to overthrow his regime.

Polio Chapter Meeting Today

All persons interested in the fight against polio were invited by the Gray County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to attend a general meeting, scheduled to be held today at 5 p. m., at the Chamber of Commerce office in the City Hall.

To be elected at the meeting were a fund drive chairman and six directors.

Dr. Douglas E. Nelson, chapter chairman, urged everyone interested to attend the meeting, so that the community would be well represented. The use of funds collected in last January's drive also was on the agenda.

Railroad Union Seeks Pay Hike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—UP—The nation's railroad unions Thursday launched a new drive to win substantial pay boosts for 1.3 million rail workers.

Four unions representing 300,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and switchmen served notice on more than 200 major railroads that they want to begin negotiating immediately for wage increases up to 40 cents-an-hour. Contracts throughout the industry ran out at midnight.

Sixteen other unions were due to follow shortly in a move that will bring virtually all rail management and labor to the bargaining table.

W. P. Kennedy, chief of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen said the unions should have "more than normal difficulty" in winning pay increases. But the last contract battle raged three years until May, 1952 and resulted in strikes, seizure of the roads and extended White House conferences before it was settled.

While moving at the same time the four brotherhoods broke precedent by seeking different demands.

The engineers, considered the top skilled workers in the industry, asked a flat 30 per cent hike to raise the spread between their paychecks and those of other union members.

Enterprising Army Privates 'Strike It Rich' In Arizona

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (UP)—Discovering gold isn't what it used to be, but finding some provided a thrill for three Army privates from Fort Huachuca, Ariz.

They were the soldiers never had discovered any before. The soldiers were Sam Bryant of El Paso, Leonard Schalkoffsky of Alameda, Mich., and Kenneth Yank of Kansas City.

The three were sent to the Arizona desert to the Army Transportation Test Station at Yuma.

Built Dry Washer

It was Sam Bryant's idea to try to find gold. He mentioned the idea to his pals, Leonard and Kenneth.

The three put three heads and thirty fingers to work in their spare time and built themselves a crude dry washer.

It was quite a chore, Sam said. "We had to look up and find out what a dry washer looked like. We didn't have the materials. But we begged, borrowed, and well, otherwise got enough screen and other stuff together to make our version of the washer used in the California gold rush. Oldtime sourdoughs poked a lot of fun at us, but we went ahead."

Why Couldn't We?

The soldiers borrowed some picks and shovels and set out for a likely looking spot. Right on the military reservation.

We saw a lot of holes in the desert, Sam said. That seemed to indicate that other prospectors had struck, and so why couldn't we?

They found that wielding picks and shovels is not an easy task, but they stuck to it. They picked and they shoveled until they were hand-blistered and back-wocky. Finally, it was Leonard, the boy from Alameda, an old logger himself who called "Tinny."

That meant only one thing to Sam and his companions: "Strike Not Worth Much."

We carefully sifted sand through the house screen of our hand-made washer, Sam said. "We were rewarded with a few nuggets."

The strike wasn't worth much. The boys didn't even bother to have their finds assayed.

We realized the nuggets, while real, were worth only a few dollars, Sam said. "So we kept them as souvenirs. And our grandchildren will hear later, with considerable elaboration, about our big strike in the year 1953."

Amoslow, it was a thrill!

More Missing Prisoners Named

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (UP)—The Defense Department Wednesday identified nine more Americans which the Communists have ever accounted for although they are believed to have been captured in Korea.

It also identified six Army men reported by the Reds to have died in prison, leaving only 143 of the 152 originally named by the Communists still to be identified officially.

The United States so far has named 943 Americans as probable Communist captives whose fate has been unaccounted for under the truce agreement.

Wednesday's list included Airman Second Class William H. Vanvey, son of George M. Vanvey, 112 South Elm St., Ponca City, Okla.

Religious Group Takes Over Building

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 1 (UP)—Stately Glen Eyrie, a castle-like stone building on a spacious estate northwest of the Garden of the Gods, soon will be transformed from a summer home into the international headquarters of a non-profit religious organization.

The Los Angeles religious group known as the Navigators, which bought the estate originally owned by Gen. William J. Palmer, founder of Colorado Springs, from Texas oilman George W. Strake, Navigators President Dawson Trotman announced the purchase was made for $300,000 and was completed recently in Houston. He said his organization would use the site for its international headquarters and as a training center for college and seminary students planning missionary work in the United States and overseas.

Strake has used Glen Eyrie for a summer home for the past 12 years.

The estate was in the news earlier this year when evangelist Billy Graham tried to organize a group to buy it. His plans failed to go through after making a down payment with option to purchase.

Writer Says West Australia Is Similar To West Texas

Editor's Note: George McCadden, United Press manager for Australia, was stationed at Marfa, Tex., Air Force Base during World War II. He has just returned from Western Australia, a state in the land "down under" which he says resembles West Texas in many respects.

By GEORGE MCCADDEN
PERTH, Western Australia, Oct. 1 (UP)—Civic leaders here have begun a campaign to attract people and investment to Northwest Australia, one of the largest and least-known underdeveloped frontiers in the English-speaking world.

The region is Australia's left shoulder, an area of 530,000 square miles, and is roughly half of the huge state of Western Australia.

The problem country, about twice the size of Texas and comparable to either Quebec or Alaska, has a static population of only 14,000 humans. Half are Europeans and half are aboriginals or mixed-bloods. It is, however, capable of significant if limited development for the world's good.

One-seventh size of Europe, called the "Northwest" or the "Nor-west," it is approximately one-seventh the size of Europe.

After more than 80 years of discussion, Western Australians believe the "Nor-west" is too big a development problem for the 602,000 total population of their state, almost as big as Argentina. They also think it's too vast for the Commonwealth of Australia, with its 8,500,000 people. They hope now for overseas help, and they look mostly to the U. S. A. and Britain for capital, and to Britain and the European continent mainly for new population.

Australian immigration policies prevent settlement by colored people such as the Asians, who are the nearest neighbors to the north-west of Australia.

Various proposals are under discussion in the campaign, which is sparked by the Daily West Australian of Perth. Some suggestions would embrace development of other empty areas elsewhere in the north of Australia. For example, the adjoining Federal Northern Territory has a total white population of 16,000. The capital is Darwin and the territory's area is 523,000 square miles. The far north of the state of Queensland similarly is sparsely populated, except on its coast.

One proposal would create one or more new states throughout Northern Australia above the 26th parallel, which is about 150 miles south of the Tropic of Capricorn. Some think the "Nor-west" should be joined to the northern territory, and the national government should do far more to spur development. The most active agitators believe, however, the answer for all land north of the 26th parallel is to create massive new incentive by sweeping tax concessions. They want a 20-year term free of 60 percent of income tax on all enterprise. The other 40 percent would be exempted if re-invested in the area. Canada's recent incentive tax-cutting is frequently cited as an inspiration by this group which operates independently of the West Australian newspaper.

The newspaper recently conducted a group of Australian newsmen and foreign correspondents on a 5,500-mile 19-day air tour of the "Nor-west" to give them a sampling of the region's potentials and the imminency of its settlement problem.

One of Last Frontiers
I concluded it must be one of the last great frontiers capable of development in the English-speaking world outside the Arctic or Antarctic zones. But I also concluded immense help must be given to pioneers willing to endure its tough summers and extraordinary isolation. I got the impressions of a land which abounds with wild life and is a treasure trove of base and rare metals, may become a proving ground for application of atomic energy from Australia's rich uranium fields.

Mining, we believe, holds the greatest hope for immediate investment and increased population. But mining men said without tax concessions and other inducements that overseas capital won't invest because there are too many problems of climate, distance, and labor. But a few hardy pioneers are succeeding on a small-scale nevertheless, even if they curse the government for taking as much as 75 percent of their winnings in taxes.

We found everywhere an enthusiastic hospitality and an outlook on life like you'd find in West Texas or other wide-open spaces of America. The state of Western Australia after all is a kind of "Lone Star" state that tried in the 1830's to secede from the Commonwealth.

It is a colorful, challenging frontier. What keeps it alive and sparks the hope for its future is the deep faith of its pioneering settlers.

Ferry Operator Meets With C-C

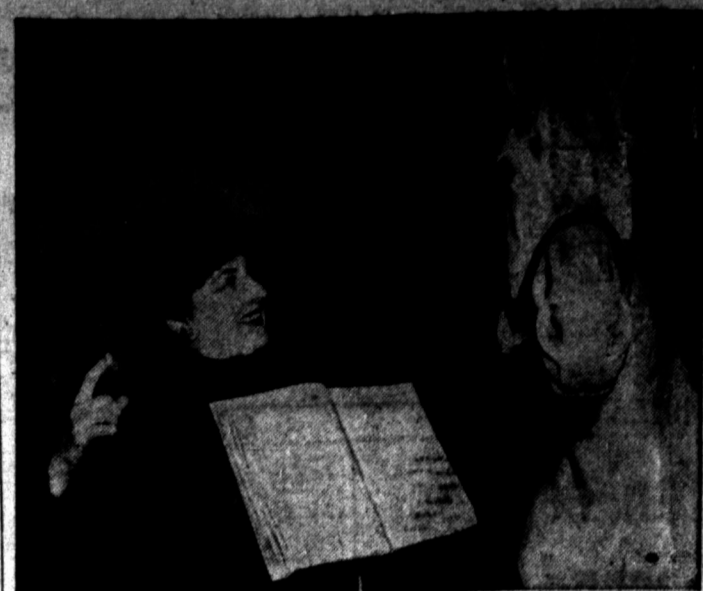

DENISON, Tex., Oct. 1 (UP)—W. H. (Bill) Moser of Paris, Tex., met with Denison Chamber of Commerce officials Wednesday to work out opening day details for the new Lake Texoma ferry which he will operate.

The ferry service over the big mineral arm of Lake Texoma is scheduled to start Saturday morning. Chamber officials hope to arrange for free service to the public on the first day.

Moser plans to operate the ferry during daylight hours and has set a $1 per car fee. The boat will tentatively depart from the Texas side on the half-hour but will be available for flagging.

The Coast Guard at New Orleans gave final approval to the boat Wednesday, after ruling that because the ferry weighs less than 15,000 tons, a previous check would be sufficient.

However, the Coast Guard said all other regulations on operating a ferry must be complied with—including proper marine lighting, fire extinguishers and life jackets.

HORSING AROUND just for kicks with "White Ghost" book in 1948. So soprano Traubel lost no time in teaching "White Ghost" the fundamentals of opera singing.

Cuba-Bound Rifles Found

MIAMI, Oct. 1 (UP)—A spokesman for Carlos Prío Socarras maintained Wednesday the deposed president of Cuba knew nothing about rifles which customs agents believed were hidden here for use by Cuban revolutionists.

Charles E. Wyatt, supervising customs agent for the southeast, said "supporters" of Prío were responsible for the cache of 90 American-made rifles worth $13,500 found in a vacant store Tuesday.

Prío could not be reached at his Miami home where he has been living in exile but a friend and minister in his last cabinet said, "we know nothing about it. Everything that happens is blamed on Dr. Prío."

Wyatt said the guns which agents seized were "just a small part of a large conspiracy" to overthrow the present Cuban government. Authorities said agents had been watching the store 24 hours a day for five days.

"We had evidence that rifles were going to be exported illegally to Cuba, so we seized them before they got away," Wyatt said.

Houston Men Dies
HOUSTON, Oct. 1 (UP)—John T. Rynd, 64, vice president and general manager of the Texas Pipeline Co., was found dead at his home early Wednesday. He had suffered a heart attack.

His son, John G. Rynd, said Rynd returned Tuesday from Tulsa, Okla., feeling fit and planning to return to his desk Wednesday.

At 4:40 a.m. Mrs. Rynd noted a light in the bathroom and found her husband's body slumped over the bathtub.

Truck Crashes On River Bridge

DALLAS, Oct. 1 (UP)—A truck-trailer loaded with 25,000 pounds of potatoes and onions smashed up on a Trinity River bridge Wednesday. Some of the produce burned, and deputy sheriffs had to sweep the rest off the road before traffic could be resumed.

The sheriff's department said the driver, D. B. Jones, 45, apparently dozed off and the truck hit the side of the bridge, on SH 114 between Dallas and Irving.

The road was blocked with potatoes and onions for more than an hour-and-a-half before deputies loaded part of the refuse in trucks and swept the rest off into the dry river bed.

Warren Receives Round Of Applause

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 — Gov. Earl Warren's appointment as chief justice received a warm round of applause from every quarter Thursday — Democrat as well as Republican.
Approving nods came from such public figures as former President Herbert Hoover and CIO President Walter P. Reuther who have rarely, if ever, agreed on anything else.

Enthusiasm for the President's choice to succeed the late Fred M. Vinson was so widespread Warren was expected to win Senate confirmation easily, soon after Congress reconvenes in January.
Chairman William Lauger (R-N.D.) of the Senate Judiciary committee already has named a subcommittee to prepare a report on the nomination for presentation to the full committee. Pending Senate action, Warren will serve under a recess appointment.
The 62-year-old California governor will fly here to take his oath of office Monday in time to preside at the opening of the court's fall term that afternoon.
Warren has said his basic idea is that people want "social progress but are dead set against socialism." In California, he once said his aim was to "fashion forward-looking and progressive law."

Longshoremen Stage Strike

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 — An estimated $5,000 cargo handlers quit work Thursday in a strike threatening to choke off all ocean commerce at Atlantic coast ports from Maine to Virginia.
The walkout called by the disgruntled International Longshoremen's Association posed an emergency that may prompt President Eisenhower to exercise for the first time his strike-stopping powers under the Taft-Hartley law.
Longshoremen began their strike at 12:01 a.m. in a double-barreled dispute involving an unsatisfied wage demand and a membership war between the crime-infested ILA and a new union chartered by the AFL to rid the New York waterfront of racketeering and corruption.
In Washington, informed government sources said President Eisenhower might act Thursday to end the walkout by invoking Taft-Hartley powers he has never been called on to use. He may ask for an 80-day injunction against the strike to allow disputing sides to "cool off."

Panhandle Rites For Mrs. Gores

Funeral services for Mrs. Mildred Lee Gores, 35, of Panhandle, have been scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Friday in the Assembly of God Church, Panhandle.
Mrs. Gores died at 3:55 a.m. Wednesday in Pampa's Highland General Hospital, following a brief illness.
Officiating at the last rites will be Rev. L. R. Green, pastor. Burial will be in Panhandle Cemetery. Arrangements are under the direction of the Poston Funeral Home, Panhandle.
Mrs. Gores was a member of the Assembly of God Church.
Surviving are her husband, Charles Gores, Panhandle; her father, R. L. Boles, Pampa; two sisters, Mrs. Paul Tollison, Pampa, and Mrs. R. W. McQuarry, Alton, Ill.; three brothers, George Boles and Randall Boles, both of Pampa, and Alfred Boles, Fairbanks, Alaska.
Burial services will be held at 11:30 a.m. Friday at the Highland General Hospital, Pampa, by Rev. R. L. Boles.

National Newspaper Week, October 1-8

Many of your newspaper reporters are as well known to you as members of your own family. In reality they are your extra set of eyes and ears, as they look and listen for the news that you would not have time to seek out for yourself. Because they live in a democracy they are free to write fearlessly, dispassionately, and without prejudice. They sift the important from the unimportant in the hope that they can impart to you, the reader, a true picture of what goes on in this complex world. They are hard-working individuals like yourself—their job is to make you the best-informed reader on earth.

Miss Oil Progress Candidates Named

Twelve candidates for "Miss Oil Progress," reigning queen of Oil Progress Week, Oct. 11 through 17, were selected by the three classes of Pampa high school Wednesday afternoon.
Wearing evening dresses, the girls will ride in convertibles in the Oil Progress parade in downtown Pampa Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 14, at 3:45 o'clock. Judges stationed along the parade route will announce their decision of the winner at a speakers' stand to be set up on the south lawn of the county court house.
Miss Oil Progress will receive an all-expense paid trip for herself and her chaperone to the State Fair of Texas at Dallas.
Those nominated from each class are: seniors, Beverly Rogers, Gay Nell Carter, Leta Innon and Sue Stone; juniors, Peggy Cotton, Margie Kuntree, Nancy Harrison and Carol Foster; and sophomores, Joan Robertson, Carol Henry, Phyllis...

Smith 4-H Club Wins State Award

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 1 — The Prairie Lea 4-H club in Smith county is the winner of the 1953 Texas 4-H club forestry program and will receive a $250 award and a scroll.
Winning clubs were announced Wednesday night by the state 4-H club office here. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Sears-Roebuck Foundation sponsored the program.
Other winners and the amount of their awards include Daingerfield, Morris county, $200 and a plaque; Eylan, Bowie county, $150 and a certificate; Slocum, Anderson county, $100 and a certificate; and Chireno, Nacogdoches county, $50 and a certificate.
The program is designed to give the individual 4-H member participant an understanding and working knowledge of basic forestry practices.

Woman Injured In Home Blast

DALLAS, Oct. 1 — UP — A residential area was shaken Wednesday in a home blast that injured Mrs. William W. Brown, 56.
Battalion Fire Chief Jack Johnson believed the blast was caused by gas leaking from under the house. He said it apparently ignited when Mrs. Brown threw a kitchen light switch.

Hot Grain Probe Expected To Open

HOUSTON, Oct. 1 — UP — A grand jury was to open Thursday its long-awaited "hot grain" investigation, involving an alleged $340,000 profit by one man in a mixed grain deal.
The grand jury called 22 witnesses. No charges were filed, but the scandal was aired before a congressional committee and both U.S. Department of Agriculture and Commodities Credit Corporation investigators checked it.
But William L. Fellrath, who admitted he made $140,000 in one deal, was not called. Nor were his assistant, Dan E. Young, and Jack Cherry, former chief clerk for the Houston Port elevator. All three were fired in May when the "hot grain" case became public.
Canadian wheat labeled "unfit for human consumption" was mixed with amounts of good domestic wheat and exported as top grade grain, principally to India.
Fellrath said he received $100,000 from a mixed grain company because of the deal.

Jury No-Bills Client's Lawyer

HOUSTON, Oct. 1 — UP — Attorney Marshall T. McCullough was no billed Wednesday on a complaint from a client that the attorney took $74.
Robert L. Studer, convicted of molesting a small girl, retained McCullough had taken the money from a shaving kit in Studer's room.
The grand jury no billed McCullough after he produced a note signed by Studer authorizing the attorney to take the property from the room.

Former Pampan Dies In Houston

Graveside services for Edward M. Cambie, 64, former Pampan resident, who died Tuesday in Houston, will be held Friday at 2 p.m., at Fairview cemetery here, with the Rev. Bob Stroble, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.
Funeral services were conducted in Houston this morning, after which the body was to be brought to Pampa for the graveside rites.
He was employed by Western Carbon Co. here for a number of years before 1931.
Survivors are a son, Vernon, stationed with the Army at Fort Bliss, El Paso; his mother, Mrs. Mary Chamblee, Winona; a brother, W. M. Chamblee, Sunray; seven sisters, Mrs. Essie Hocutt, Houston, Mrs. Opal Edwards, Mount Pleasant, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Tyler, Mrs. Wilson Kirby, Winona, Mrs. Dan Johnson, Houston, and Mrs. D. O. Commons, Turlock, Okla., and one grandson.

Vishinsky Stays Clear Of Series

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 1 — UP — Soviet United Nations delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky has adopted a "hands off" policy in regard to the World Series between the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers.
"It is a very great event," he told a reporter who asked him which team he favored, "but I cannot interfere in the internal affairs of the United States."
Stocks moved downward fractions to around a point Wednesday in slow dealings.
All sections of the list took part in the sell-off. A few individual issues, however, managed to counter the trend with good gains. They met demand on favorable corporate developments.
Market news worked both ways Wednesday.
Corporate news was generally unfavorable.
Oil shares as a group showed the widest decline. Steel shares fared better than other sections. They slipped fractionally. Most tire issues moved lower. Utilities dipped only a few cents as measures by the averages. Railroad lost major fractions.
Mrs. Ruff, president, had charge of the session.

Mexican Admits Killing Stranger

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 1 — UP — Peter Garcia, a 43-year-old Mexican, has admitted killing a man known to him only as "Vicente" early Sunday at Adrian, Mich., Police Chief D. O. Gallagher said Wednesday.
Laredo police arrested Garcia Tuesday night on a request from Michigan authorities, who said Garcia was wanted for murder.
Gallagher said Garcia told him he shot Vicente four times with a .22 rifle after a pool room argument. After that, he said, he took the rifle home and without telling his family, he hid it in his car.
Garcia told Gallagher he planned to return to his old home at La Barca, Jalisco, Mexico. He waived extradition.

Car-Truck Crash Fatal To Woman

GAINESVILLE, Tex., Oct. 1 — UP — Mrs. Fred Pulte, 45, wife of a Gainesville grocer, died Thursday of head injuries received in a head-on car-truck crash.
The accident occurred Wednesday night about 200 yards north of the Red River bridge on Highway 77.
Two other persons, including Jess Willard, driver of the pickup truck, were injured. Cornelius Gallagher, 52, brother of Mrs. Pulte and driver of the car in which she was riding, was the other person injured.

Home Fashion Centers Say Design, Versatility Needed

Home fashion time is the period to expose yourself to the new styles and trends in furniture and home furnishings.
From every fashion center in the country, Grand Rapids, Mich., the Paris of the furniture industry, Chicago, the furniture buying center of the world, High Point, North Carolina where over forty per cent of all furniture is manufactured, the West Coast with its trend-setting influences, a number of other style centers — the local stores have gathered together the greatest array of new merchandise to be seen in a long time.
What are the new styles and trends in furniture and home furnishings? They are those items you want for your home. You may select the style or period of your choice. Whatever that period of style may be, there is one thing that you can count on. The new furniture is contemporary in function.
There is a strong trend in the newest offerings toward a compromise between pure modern and authentic traditional styling on pieces that are of modern design.
The newer finishes are neither light nor dark. They will blend with either your modern or traditional pieces.
The dual purpose and versatile features that you marveled at a few years ago in modern furniture are very much in evidence in all styles.
The new furniture and home furnishings featured during Home Fashion Time have one purpose — to make your job as a homemaker easier. Established styles have been redesigned to keep pace with the unusual way of living and the new styles were designed to fill a need in your home.
Daily you realize the inadequacies of many of the items of furniture in your home. Home Fashion Time gives you the opportunity to investigate the new offerings especially designed with you, the American homemaker, in mind.

BPOD Is Formed; Mrs. Dorothy McConnell Is Elected To Head New Organization

Women of the Elks organized the Benevolent and Protective Order of the Degrees recently. Mrs. Dorothy McConnell was elected president of the group.

Other officers include Mrs. Frankie Denmore, first counselor; Josephine Williams, senior counselor; Maxine Mauldin, inner guard; Ester Jorgenson, outer guard; Marie Herring, secretary; Mimi Stone treasurer; and Gertrude Barber, Mayssa Howell and Evora Crawford, trustees. Mrs. Norma Suttle is chaplain; Ida Keller, assistant conductor; Helen Webb, musician; Josephine Blinn, Bobby Woodard, Freda Edwards and Glenn Owens color bearers.

Other charter members are Mrs. Mmes. Norma Suttle, Gladys Forsha, Bernice Ladd, Lola Connelley, Anna Latman, Pearl Schneider, Josephine Williams, Jeanne Bell, Dorothy Tooley, Claudia Nees, Gladys Williams, Alice Gray, Doris Rinehart, Alice Roloff, Vern Chenoweth, Bessie Foster, Pebble Carter. Meetings will be held the first and third Tuesdays of each month. Wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of Elks in good standing are eligible to become members. Membership will not be closed until Oct. 24, Mrs. McConnell stated.

WSCS Will Have Meet News In Daytime Style

A meeting of Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Churches in the Pampa district will be held in Perryton Tuesday starting at 10 a.m.

Mrs. W. D. Fisher, president, of Canadian urged all WSCS members to attend the all-day conference.

This box jacket suit is pure luxury. Pale netris jacket. Secced-lined for reversibility, is worn with brown cashmere sweater and pale cashmere skirt. The three pieces were meant for each other in this Seymour Fox design but each can serve with other clothes.—By Gaile Dugas, NEA Woman's Editor.

mixed. All you do for a delicious cup of cocoa is put 3 heaping teaspoons of the powder in a cup, add hot water and stir. There's your cocoa, all ready for the party. No blending, boiling, or guessing. If there are youngsters at your party, you may want to add hot milk instead of hot water to the cup for the sake of extra nutrition.

Do you like cocoa topped off, hot chocolate style, with a cap of whipped cream? Some like a marshmallow melted on top which is delicious and not as costly as whipped cream. And some like just plain cocoa, finding it rich and satisfying just as it is.

What will you serve with this delicious drink at your Cocoa Cozy? Our vote is for cookies. Chocolate Crunch Cookies make a delicious complement with cocoa. But it would be difficult to make a choice that wasn't right because cocoa and cookies just naturally seem to go together. If your vote is for cake, the plainer kinds are good such as angel cake, sponge cake or pound cake. You won't need to frost them if you serve them with cocoa. A happy Cocoa Cozy to you. You'll enjoy it as much as your friends because a cocoa party is no work, using every-ready cocoa.

Corduroy Prints Resemble Wool Weaves For Fall, Winter

By GAILE DUGAS
 NEA Woman's Editor
 NEW YORK —(NEA)— Corduroy is no longer a classic. It's come out of the woods to enter a new fashion world, both on the campus and away from it. This fall, it's used for young fashions and for sophisticated clothes as well.

The news in corduroy lies in patterns, color and finish. Calico prints for instance are authentic copies of the calico dresses of the 1850's. Roses are strewn over a black surface for truly sophisticated "fancy pants." In one group of prints, there's a black-and-white chevron design that has the look of tweed. And there's a almond green combined with black for the appearance of woven boucle. This is cut into a suit and piped in leather.

In some of the fine-ribbed patterns, Astec weaves are copied in colors both subtle and odd. These patterns appear in slacks and in dance dresses. Black cor-ber of the family takes some responsibility around the house.

Teaching children to do a job well takes time and patience, and holding them responsible for it isn't always pleasant.

But in the end the whole family benefits by a share-the-work plan. The mother feels and acts not like a drudge, but a home-maker. The children learn skills, and also learn how to assume responsibility. A home runs more smoothly which adds to everyone's comfort.

If you've never demanded any cooperation from your own family, you may find if you do that it can work a "miracle" in your home.

RUTH MILLETT

A wife and mother writes: "Your article on streamlining housework by getting the cooperation of the whole family in putting things away, cleaning up their own clutter, etc., has been tacked up on the wall of our bathroom and it has worked a miracle in our home."

"Expecting nothing in the way of help from our children had made them pretty spoiled and irresponsible. It had gotten to the point where our 12-year-old daughter seemed to think she was my aid sister. At least she acted that way. And sometimes she acted as though I were the kid sister."

"Your article made me realize how spoiled she really was becoming. My husband and I decided to go by your article. Now the 12-year-old and her younger sister have learned something about cooperation, and I've learned about it, too. My husband tried to tell me before, but I couldn't believe it could be done. I mean getting cooperation from every member of the family. It can make such a difference in my job."

It seems easier sometimes for a woman to go ahead and do everything herself than to work out a system where every mem-

Women Would Rather Look Young Than Glamorous According To Clothes

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
 NEW YORK, Sept. 30—UP—The mid-century American female would rather look young than look glamorous, according to the clothes she buys.

A full skirt made wider with a ruffled petticoat, a demure round collar, a chemise cut to an evening neckline, and princess dresses—these are young girls' fashions.

They're also best sellers in all departments right now.

This preference for youthful clothes has given young American designers a big boost. They didn't need to go to Paris to copy high fashion techniques. They developed instead their own young fashion tricks.

Wears Own Designs

One of these designers is a five-foot stunted blonde named Jeanne Campbell. She's never had a fashion show of her own designs, but in seven years she's become one of the top designers of what she calls sportswear, "but what really includes everything from shorts to satin evening coats."

"I think it's easier for us to know what women want," she said, referring to the fact that she was

Mrs. Maude Hinkley from Wichita, Kan., a charter member of the Skellytown Rebekahs, gave a talk.

Members present were Mrs. Al Shubring, Everett Crawford, J. R. McKernon, Eula Wilkerson, J. W. Weaver, Fred Anderson, Wayne Davidson, R. C. Henton, C. M. Estes, Delmar Sims, Clara Vandergriff, Les Kreis, Maude Hinkley, Chester Yell, Miss Addie Fern Lick and team captain, Mr. Les Kreis.

4-H Group Plans Magician Show

Members of the 4-H county council met recently in the home demonstration office to make final plans for the magician show which will be held Oct. 16 in the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium.

Ruben Baggerman, chairman of the show, charged of the business meeting.

Posters were printed during the evening session.

Attending were chairmen of show committees, included were: Ruben Baggerman, Johnny Daver, Lynda Stevens, Dany Fitzgerald, Alven Dauer, Miss Faye Burns, Jerry Mobly and Miss Helen Dunlap.

News Picture Seminar Set

AUSTIN, Oct. 1—UP—A three-day University of Texas seminar on news pictures will have nine Texas newspapermen serving as moderators or discussion leaders. It was announced Wednesday.

The clinic, a joint project of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association and the University of Texas school of journalism, will be conducted Oct. 5-7. Sessions will be attended by 22 picture editors and news executives.

Local arrangements for the seminar were made by Louis N. Goldberg, associate publisher of the Austin American-Statesman, and Paul J. Thompson, director of the school of journalism. Walter E. Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press, is seminar chairman.

Bert Brandt of Houston, well known former news cameraman, will be moderator for the opening session, and will speak at a banquet Monday night.

Other moderators and discussion leaders include George Bartholomew, San Antonio Light picture editor; William A. Payne, Dallas Morning News assistant city editor; Dick Tarpley, Abilene Reporter-News news editor; Al Parker, Wichita (Falls) Daily Times managing editor; Bill Dozier, Tyler Courier-Times-Telegraph managing editor; Delbert Willis, Fort Worth city editor; Press city editor; E. P. Mills, Houston Chronicle assistant managing editor; Herb Klinkhead, Borger News-Herald city editor, and Claud Easterly, Deason Herald editor.

Labor Unions Hit On Armour Deal

CHICAGO, Oct. 1—UP—Two big labor unions reached an agreement Wednesday with Armour & Company, setting a pattern for wage dispute settlements with other "big four" companies of the packinghouse industry.

The agreement was reached in nightlong discussions between Armour officials and representatives of the AFL-Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's Union and the CIO United Packinghouse Workers of America.

The discussions primarily were with negotiators for the AFL union but officers of the CIO group sat in on the meetings.

The two unions had previous union but officers of the CIO group sat in on the meetings.

The two unions had a previous agreement—hailed as a step toward CIO-AFL unity—to hold off an agreement with the company unless both groups' demands were satisfied.

Details of the agreement were not disclosed but an announcement of the terms was scheduled to be issued later.

Spokesmen for both sides said some points of the settlement still had to be worked out before an agreement could be signed.

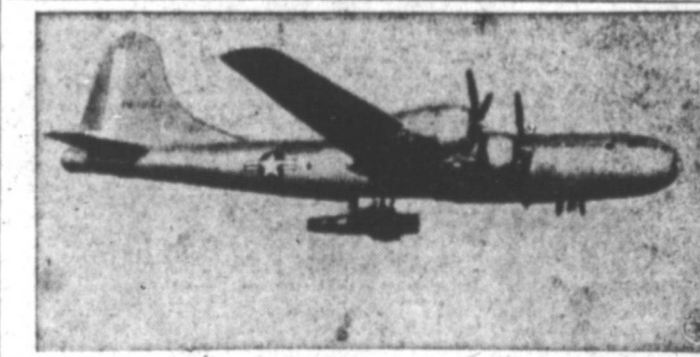

The agreement affects 35,000 employees of Armour in plants throughout the nation.

It is expected to set the pattern for new contract arrangements with the nation's other three leading meat packing firms—Swift, Cudahy and Wilson.

The agreement was reached after several hit-and-run strikes closed down plants of Armour and other firms in various cities.

Long Distance Telephone Rate Increase Seen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—UP—A high source said Wednesday the Federal Communications Commission has approved a $66 million-a-year increase in long distance telephone rates.

The Bell System Telephone Co. proposed the increase in August to take effect Oct. 1 unless the commission blocked it.

The source said the commission has agreed to permit the increase, with Commissioner Frieda B. Henock dissenting.

The source said the increase amounts to about 8 per cent and applies to interstate long distance calls. Daytime rates for the first three minutes are not changed, but overtime, Sunday and night time rates are increased.

The company said the increases would produce about $3 million annually for the Bell system after taxes and payments to independent telephone companies.

Infested Zone Gets Option

AUSTIN, Oct. 1—UP—South Texas cotton farmers in pink bollworm control Zone 3 who are unable to destroy their cotton stalks before the midnight, Oct. 10 deadline were offered an option Wednesday by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

White said farmers whose harvest was delayed by rain may spray their fields with the growth-arresting herbicide, pentachlorophenol, before Oct. 6 and continue picking.

As soon as the cotton is gathered, the stalks must be plowed under, White added.

The ruling applies only for cotton farmers of the 24-county Zone 3. The area embraces Val Verde, Kinney, Maverick, Uvalde, Zavala, Dimmit, Medina, LaSalle, Atascosa, Bexar, McMullen, Live Oak, Wilson, Karnes, Bee, Goliad, Gonzales, DeWitt, Lavaca, Jackson, Refugio, Calhoun and Victoria counties.

White said Texas and U.S. Department of Agriculture agents will keep a close check on spraying and harvesting activities. Any cotton found unsprayed or fruiting after Oct. 10 will be in violation of the Texas pink bollworm law, he said.

The commissioner said the order was an "emergency measure to aid the farmers. If the recommended measures are followed, the few extra days of harvesting will not seriously endanger the insect control program."

Fugitive Claims Reds Holding PWs

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 1—UP—Jan Hajdukiewicz, one of Poland's latest fugitives from communism, said Wednesday the Reds are still holding Americans and other allied prisoners of the Korean war.

Hajdukiewicz, formerly an interpreter for the neutral nations inspection team in Korea, said the United Nations should not believe Communist claims all prisoners were returned in "Operation Big Switch."

The 28-year-old Pole blasted the Communists shortly after he arrived in the Philippines from Okinawa on his flight to the United States, which has granted him asylum.

Hajdukiewicz did not give details on the Communists' holding back of prisoners, but it was recalled he traveled through Manchuria and North Korea to Panmunjom.

The Communists have insisted they returned all prisoners who wanted to go home in the exchange at Panmunjom which ended Sept. 7.

Wilfrid Burchett, Australian-born correspondent for the Paris Communist newspaper "L'Humanite," told Allied newsmen in Panmunjom recently the Reds were holding American airmen as political prisoners after they allegedly had been shot down in "neutral" Manchuria.

Wholesale Food Prices Decline

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—UP—Wholesale food prices declined for the second consecutive week, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported Wednesday.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index on Sept. 29 dropped five cents to $5.66 from $5.71 in the previous week.

It was 3.6 per cent over the $5.45 recorded a year ago and 11.7 per cent over the pre-Korea mark of $5.05.

Drilling Rigs Show Increase

DALLAS, Oct. 1—UP—A total of 2,817 drilling rigs were active in the oilfields of the United States and Canada for the week ending Monday, compared with 2,799 the previous week, the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors said Wednesday.

The figure for the corresponding figure a month ago was 2,783; and a year ago was 2,614.

The Oklahoma area was unchanged from last week at 358; Kansas showed an increase of 10 to 161; Ark-La-Tex area decreased from 183 to 158; West Texas and New Mexico decreased from 486 to 72; Gulf Coast up 7 to 540, and North Texas up 6 to 31.

Oil Convention Blasts The GOP

DENVER, Oct. 1—UP—The 23rd annual convention of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) drew near an end Thursday as delegates continued to blast the Republican administration and planned an all-out campaign for a Democratic victory in the 1954 congressional elections.

Thursday's session, which was delayed until 3 p.m. by a lack of a meeting hall, was devoted to further consideration of resolutions for adoption before the convention ends Friday.

So far most of the resolutions passed by the 500 delegates have been devoted to vigorous criticism of the Republican administration. The frequent blasts at the Eisenhower program have set the tone of the 1953 meeting.

Wednesday Jack Kroll, director of the CIO's Political Action Committee, told the delegates President Eisenhower and his lieutenants are leading the United States into a new economic depression, and added, "I don't think those guys in Washington know how to stop it."

They (the Republicans) have it in their minds to take care of the rich and let the little fellows get along on what dribbles off the rich men's tables," Kroll said. "This dribble-down policy... inevitably will lead to a depression."

Kroll accused the President of "running out" on an agreement with former Secretary of Labor Martin Durkin to change the Taft-Hartley law.

After Kroll's speech the delegates adopted a resolution urging the OIW's 125,000 members to begin immediately to work for a 1954 Democratic victory in congressional races to insure a change in control of both houses of Congress.

Cotton Regains Equilibrium

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—UP—Cotton prices Wednesday regained their equilibrium after an opening setback pushed the December-March deliveries to new seasonal lows.

Month-end mill and export buying joined with a technical replacement demand in turning the tide after an opening rush of hedge selling subsided.

Closing on a rally the list finished unchanged to 3 points higher and as much as 8 points over the lows. New Orleans closed off 1 to up 4 points.

Medical Leaders Say Heart Disease Battle Can Be Won

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—UP—The National Heart Institute said Thursday many medical authorities are now confident the battle against most heart diseases can be won in the next 25 years.

Institute officials gave this encouraging report to the House Commerce committee as it opened hearings on major diseases and what's being done about them.

The old idea the nation's No. 1 killer must be considered "incurable and unquarrelable" has been replaced by a "new philosophy," they said. This holds that the disease can be beaten.

"On the part of many medical authorities and scientists," the institute said, "there is today confidence that within the next quarter of a century the nation can master much, if not all, of the untimely death and disability caused by the major types of heart disease."

Current investigations of arteriosclerosis — hardening of the arteries — are uncovering new facts of the problem that cause medical authorities no longer to shrug this disease off as "one of the indispensable penalties of living," the institute's report stated.

More than half of heart fatalities are due to arteriosclerosis, but its cause still is unknown.

"It has been proved that, either without therapy or by medical and surgical treatment, every kind of

Suspect Shot Trying To Flee

McKINNEY, Tex., Oct. 1—UP—Leslie Franklin Jones, alias Homer P. Hill, of Galveston was in the Veterans Administration hospital Thursday with a bullet wound in his left side, shot while attempting to flee the custody of Bonham Police Chief O. R. McKissack.

Jones and a woman companion identified as Betty Jones were charged in justice court at Bonham with making and passing a forged $30 check drawn on a Paris bank.

Fannin County Attorney A. L. Bartley Jr., said the man and woman had records at Houston and Galveston.

Laredo Business Signs In Spanish

NUEVO LAREDO, Mex., Oct. 1—UP—The Nuevo Laredo Chamber of Commerce said Wednesday it has been warned by the Interior Ministry that all business signs must be in Spanish.

Chamber Manager Enrique R. Elizondo said the law provides that signs must be first in Spanish, although they may be repeated in other languages.

"The law also provides that all prices be set in Mexican currency," he said. "This does not prevent the Mexican business man from accepting foreign money at the regular legal rate of exchange."

Political Switch Seen In California

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1—UP—Operation Big Switch is on Thursday in California politics.

Gov. Earl Warren was busy packing his bags and cleaning out a 10-year accumulation of fear from his office suite while Lt. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight waited expectantly in the wings to take over as the state's head man.

The official transfer of Warren's powers, privileges and duties won't be made until midnight Sunday, the same day the 62-year-old Warren leaves by plane for Washington to become Chief Justice of the United States.

But already with the first change in administration in state government looming in nearly 11 years, members of Warren's cabinet began to submit their resignations to the soon-to-be governor.

Tradition has it an incoming governor has the right to select his own cabinet although Knight said he has no intentions of making a wholesale housecleaning of the Warren administration.

"I will proceed slowly and cautiously," Knight promised. "People would be uneasy if there were a drastic housecleaning."

But Knight, who already has promised he intends to run a more economical government than Warren did, is expected to replace many, if not all, of the key administrators once he gets firmly established in the governor's suite.

While Warren spent the day cleaning out his office and Knight interrupted a statewide campaign tour to fly back to Sacramento and confer with Warren on his new duties, Mrs. Warren was packing up and preparing to leave the rambling, ancient 28-room executive mansion which the couple and their six children occupied since January, 1943.

Mrs. Warren intends to join her husband in Washington as soon as she completes the task of moving. All except one of the Warren children were expected to stay in California—Dorothy, Nina and Robert at UCLA; James in his advertising agency job in San Francisco and Virginia in the Bay Area. Earl Jr. is about to go to a National Guard training school for 15 weeks.

Warren will receive a salary of $25,500 as chief justice. Plus that, he will be eligible next March 19 on his 63rd birthday for a maximum state pension of $10,000.

Russians Attempt To Drop Chinese Influence In Korea

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

The Russians have never intended to get out of North Korea.

Now, behind the false front of North Korean independence, there is evidence they not only intend to continue their sway, but also to eliminate even Red Chinese influence there.

All of which is in a pattern with their actions toward their European satellites and East Germany, and makes just so much Red propaganda their maneuverings in the United Nations and in their so-called diplomatic notes to Washington, London and Paris.

Russian Influence Evident in 1950

When American soldiers drove into Wonsan on North Korea's east coast in late 1950, they found railroad stations, streets and public buildings all were identified in Russian as well as Korean.

North Korea is the industrial half of the Korean peninsula, rich in water power and minerals, and the Russians had not been idle in their years of occupation after World War II.

North Korea already had been built into the Communist Far Eastern industrial complex.

Now, as the United Nations strive for a free and united Korea over the remaining obstructions, come two other developments.

One is the return to Pyongyang of North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung from Moscow.

Koreans To Get $250 Million

He said the Moscow conferences had "an important political significance," and of more importance — he announced Communist determination to take over Korea "without the interference of U. S. imperialism."

The second development also had to do with Kim's visit to Moscow. The Russians announced they were making immediately available to North Korea approximately $250 million for reconstruction.

Russia's economic hold on North Korea effectively eliminates Red China, which can offer no such assistance and can only place her soldiers there to die for the benefit of the Russians. The Chinese must also wonder why the North Koreans get $250 million immediately while they, with problems just as pressing, get only a promise of credits worth $300 million over a period of several years.

What ABC Means

This symbol is often called "the hallmark of circulation value." It is the insignia of the Audit Bureau of Circulations. And, since October is being observed as A.B.C. Month by Bureau members, we should like to pause from our news gathering duties to explain the significance of our A.B.C. membership to our advertisers and our readers.

Just as manufacturers and merchants buy and sell merchandise on the basis of known standards of grade, weight and measure, so are we prepared to tell advertisers all about our circulation.

That's why we belong to the Bureau — to give our advertisers a verified count and description of the circulation audience that they get when they buy advertising in The Pampa Daily News.

There are definite standards for advertising values as well as for merchandise. We believe that newspaper advertising should be bought and sold on the basis of these standards.

The Bureau is an association of 3,450 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers of newspapers, business publications, magazines and farm publications in the United States and Canada. It has a staff of experienced circulation auditors. At regular intervals these men visit all publisher members and make a thorough audit of their circulation records. The information from these audits is then issued in reports which are available to advertisers.

Prior to the creation of the Audit Bureau in 1914, the advertiser had only the Publisher's Sworn Post Office Statement he was required to submit annually to comply with his second class mailing permit. So many of these "sworn statements" were found to be false that the need of an impartial verification agency was largely responsible for the birth of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

The use of the "sworn statement" is today given a questionable eye by the top advertising men of the nation as is attested by the fact that 95.72% of the daily newspaper circulation of the United States and Canada is audited.

While the major objective of the Bureau's work is to furnish advertisers with verified information about the circulation of publisher members, it also has a very real importance in our relations with our readers.

Our A.B.C. reports serve us as editorial guides. For example, by knowing exactly where our circulation audience is located, as shown in the A.B.C. report, we can arrange our editorial coverage so that we might best serve the interests of our readers. There is a host of other factual information contained in the A.B.C. reports which guides us in our planning, helping us to give our readers the type of newspaper they want.

Our membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations is a protection to our advertisers and our readers.

For our advertisers, it means verified circulation information, based on universally accepted standards and practices. Since A.B.C. audits only publications with paid circulation, our membership assures advertisers that The News stays in business by the voluntary support of its readers.

To maintain that voluntary reader support we must demonstrate our responsiveness and responsibility to our readers. The A.B.C. audit of circulation tells both the advertiser and the editor whether our newspaper is performing a service to our readers — if the readers don't want it, neither do the advertisers.

The News joins with almost 1,900 other newspapers and some 1,600 advertiser, advertising agency and periodical members in paying tribute to the Audit Bureau of Circulations this month. We are proud to be a member of the Bureau and to display its insignia, which has become synonymous with the words "factual" and "integrity" in the interests of both the advertiser and the reader.

Reason For Profits

You've undoubtedly heard people say that it would be a fine thing if it did away with profits, and used the money to reduce the prices of goods or to pay higher wages.

A leading oil company recently did a good job of pointing out just what would happen if that were done. First of all, it observed, we Americans can't produce any more with our bare hands than can other people. Yet we enjoy the highest living standards on earth. The reason is that we have more and better tools to work with.

In its own case, the oil company said, each man who works for it has $70,691 worth of "tools" at his disposal. Because of these costly "tools" his productivity of goods has increased 2 1/2 times in the past 25 years. His wage and related benefits have risen from an average of $1.68 a month to $484. And he works far shorter hours than he did a quarter century ago.

The "tools" which are responsible for all this were bought by the company's shareholders. And the one and only reason they put their savings into the company was in the hope of making some profit. If that hope is ever blasted, there will be no more investment in "tools" and our productivity and our living standards will go down-hill fast.

Profit creates progress, and a fuller life for all.

"Our Founding Fathers And The Natural Law"

III

I want to continue to quote from Clarence Manion's booklet "The Founding Fathers and the Natural Law."

The author quotes Alexander Hamilton's answer to "Westchester Farmers' criticism of the legality of the Continental Congress:

"Granting your supposition were true, it would be a matter of no real importance. When the first principles of civil society are violated, and the rights of a whole people are invaded, the common forms of municipal law are not to be regarded. Men may then be taken themselves to the law of nature; and if they but conform their actions to that standard, all cavils against them betray either ignorance or dishonesty. There are some events in society to which human laws cannot extend, but when applied to them lose all their force and efficacy."

Then the author goes on to remark:

"Hamilton's refutation incidentally reflects the religious and philosophical nature of American college education in those days. The currency of deeply religious and philosophical approaches to political and legal questions by the college trained leaders of the Revolution, is explained by the fact that from their very beginning all American colleges in existence at the time of the Revolution were closely related to the churches, and every one of them featured courses in theology and moral philosophy."

First Virginia Constitution Based On Natural Law

"At the time the Declaration was adopted, two distinguished Americans were at work in Virginia drafting the first constitution of that state. This constitution began with its famous declaration of rights — from that day to this a model for all similar sections in the constitutions of every state of the Union. The author of this document was George Mason, but James Madison, later to become known as the 'Father of the Constitution of the United States,' was responsible for the phraseology of that provision which declared freedom of conscience to be a natural right and not merely an object of tolerance. The Virginia declaration states that 'all men are by nature equally free and independent, and have certain inherent rights of which when they enter into a state of society, they cannot by any compact deprive or divest their posterity, namely, the enjoyment of life and liberty, with the means of acquiring and possessing property, and pursuing and obtaining happiness and safety.'"

While arguing a legal case in 1772 Mason declared:

"Now all acts of legislation apparently contrary to natural rights and justice are in our laws and must be in the nature of things, considered as void. The laws of nature are the laws of God, whose authority can be superseded by no power on earth. A legislature must not obstruct our obedience to Him from whose punishments they cannot protect us. All human constitutions which contradict His Laws we are in conscience bound to disobey. Such have been the adjudications of our courts."

James Wilson of Pennsylvania, one of only six men who signed both the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, in one of his lectures on the law of nature said:

"... that our Creator has a supreme right to prescribe a law for our conduct, and that we are under the most perfect obligation to obey that law, are truths established on the clearest and most solid principles. ... (God) being infinitely and eternally happy in Himself, His goodness alone could move Him to create us, and give us the means of happiness. The same principle that moved His creating moves His governing power. The rule of His government we shall find to be reduced to this one paternal command: let man in pursuit of his own perfection and happiness. ... What is the efficient cause of moral obligation—the eminent distinction between right and wrong? ... I give it (the question) this answer, the will of God. This is the Supreme Law."

"... The law of nature is universal. For it is true, not only that men are equally subject to the command of their Maker, but it is true also that the law of Nature having its foundation in the constitution and state of man, has an essential fitness for all mankind and binds them without distinction."

"SHAMELESS BETRAYAL" — With a choked voice that brought tears to listeners' eyes, the popular Kentuckian defended his record and rebuked the "bosses," not their millions of inarticulate members, in one of the convention's most dramatic scenes. Such contrasting figures as John L. Lewis and Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia denounced what they called a "shameless betrayal."

National Whirligig.. Labor Leaders Challenge Ike At Most Unpropitious Moment

WASHINGTON — The well-paid and professional leaders of organized labor have hurled a challenge at the Eisenhower administration at the most unpropitious moment in political history for them.

The presidents of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations—George L. Meany and Walter P. Reuther, respectively—were in the morning after they had been dethroned by the 1789 Revolution.

The ballot-box influence of the unions' hierarchy, in the opinion of both major parties' observances and candidates for high office, was never lower than now.

It has become obvious to experienced politicians that, save for a few scattered cities and congressional districts that reflect broad, nationwide patterns, men like Meany, Reuther and even John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, own no votes except their own and those of a few close relatives.

In view of the criticism and defiance of the White House over the Martin F. Durkin resignation, which has the advantage of placing Republican politicians on guard well in advance of the congressional elections next year and the 1960 presidential contest, a review of labor's role in American politics becomes pertinent—a pertinent one that there are several recapitulations at Washington.

AN UNGRATEFUL LOT — The principal conclusion from this summary is that labor's professional bosses are an extremely ungrateful lot. And in American politics, from the lowliest and dingiest clubhouse to the gilded dome of Capitol Hill, ingratitude and disloyalty to a friend is a cardinal crime.

The Meany-Reuther faction may forget, but the politicians do not, their shabby and unforgivable treatment of Alben W. Barkley at the Democratic convention in Chicago last year. Although the "veep" had fought and suffered on behalf of the workingmen in House and Senate for 30 years, the AFL and CIO issued a formal statement in opposition to him on the ground that he was "too old." He was junked like a worn-out car or workman.

"SHAMELESS BETRAYAL" — With a choked voice that brought tears to listeners' eyes, the popular Kentuckian defended his record and rebuked the "bosses," not their millions of inarticulate members, in one of the convention's most dramatic scenes. Such contrasting figures as John L. Lewis and Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia denounced what they called a "shameless betrayal."

The Eisenhower-Stevenson clash

ACT NOT OF MAJOR CONCERN — There are seven more compelling facts to support the belief that the Taft-Hartley Law is not a matter of major concern to the average man in the nation's factories. In view of peak wages, hours, working conditions and good relations with the front office, the bosses of that hierarchy do not have cause for controversy with "the enemy." They have to "point with alarm" to earn their $25,000 and $35,000 salaries. After all, they must eat, too—and how!

It is now seven years that the labor politicians have been struggling for repeal or a favorable modification of the T-H measure. They have inveighed against it and its legislative friends in three congressional and two presidential elections. They have spent many millions of dollars in the effort.

And yet they have not been able to elect a House or Senate or a majority in either branch, that will weaken it in accord with their desire and demand. In view of this demonstration of their political futility, as well as the Barkley incident, it is not other than to be trusted, Eisenhower will lose no sleep over their anticipated defection.

Nixon Trip Discussed

Hank's Mother Had Her Eyes Fixed On Presidency For Him

By HENRY McLEMORE
Like all mothers, my mother had her sights set on nothing less than the presidency for me, so naturally I know next to nothing about what the Vice President is supposed to do, or not supposed to do.

Had I ever been willing to hurt Mama's feelings and take the No. 2 job, the chances are I wouldn't be as well remembered as Hannibal Hamlin who, if that quiz program didn't give the washing machine to the wrong fellow, was Abraham Lincoln's second in command.

If the Washington correspondents are correct—and what common ground varies columnist would question the man who owns a pair of spurs and a White House press card?—if they are right, then we have a dilettante, a scholar, a ten o'clock scholar as Vice President these days.

The morning coat and walking stick formalists have been lavish in their praise of Richard Nixon. They say he is a real do-nothing, go-getter. A political Whiz Kid, no less.

I agree with this, but at the same time I am not going to endorse V. P. Nixon wholeheartedly until he returns from his forthcoming trip. He is about to tee off, you know, on a journey to every place that can be reached by plane, train, bus, boat, and swinging by branches.

Mr. Nixon is going with the blessing of the President, and it is safe to assume that he will talk with the man in the street as well as the man on the roof, poet and peasant, millionaire and pauper, king and dustman, and anyone else he happens to bump into.

Mr. Nixon will have an unparalleled opportunity to observe and hear, but if Senator Kefauver would allow me to make book I'd lay 5 to 1 that when the V. P. gets back he won't have Marco Polo new information that has come down since he returned to Venice.

If he is at all like the politicians who have gone on similar junkets meeting at which several I. W. W. members were present. The facts are that during those days he was closely aligned with this radical movement, in that he used every opportunity to register himself as sympathetic and cooperative.

This whole maritime strike was an I. W. W. affair. The police were called into action to prevent bloodshed and possibly killings. Oxniam did more than merely attend this meeting. He permitted his name to be used as friendly to these subversive agitators. I was so outraged at his actions that I declared that I had had enough and could no longer support him for the School Board.

He was defeated because of his radical associations. It is certainly strange that Bishop Oxniam was so intelligent and judicious in his judgment that he got trapped not only into this I. W. W. mess, according to his testimony, but into all kinds of associations even with outright Communists.

He conceded that he was Vice President of The Methodist Federation for Social Action when McMichael and Harry Ward were prominent in its leadership and that the evidence of their Communist connections was overwhelming. McMichael and Harry Ward are Methodist ministers, still in good standing in their churches. However, he would have us believe that he did not at the time suspect that they were Communists or that the Methodist Federation, now known to be subversive, was even leaning in that direction.

He declared that the Methodist Church had cleaned this mess up. But has it? If so, why are McMichael and Ward still Methodist ministers in good standing. Such were his lame and sometimes almost ludicrous explanations, making up in volume what they lacked in genuineness. As one Congressman put it, he cleared himself of being a Communist but convicted himself of being a fool.

That my readers may surely know my attitude, which I have given in these pages over and over again, I again affirm that I am convinced that Bromley Oxniam is not a Communist. He is a Socialist, a most radical Socialist. He may not now be voting the Socialist ticket, but he is a Socialist just the same. As a Socialist, he is and has been very critical of the economic set-up within our country. He has boasted that Methodism got Socialism to England. It is my contention that Socialism means totalitarianism and that Communism is but one form or variety of Socialism. In fact, Russia and Germany and Italy, under the triumvirate of totalitarian bosses that has almost engulfed the world in ruin, differ only in name.

So that as a Socialist, Oxniam, since I came to know him in the early twenties, has been cooperating with every movement that was hostile to our government as it is set up. He was undoubtedly friendly to the I. W. W. movement. He has belonged, according to his own acknowledgement, to nine various Communist fronts. He has appeared with the liberal movements from the beginning of his ministry. He is excellent on explanations but that fact that he has for his public lifetime stood out as the friend of anti-American movements will not down. Compounding words has fooled him.

It is a story hopefully written to demonstrate to you, as it already has to me, that children often are more intelligent and understanding than adults. If you cannot believe that, the story will not interest you. If you accept that it is possible, it may interest you. In my case, it has touched a nerve and fascinated me.

A man was killed in an airplane crash near Albany, N. Y., the other morning, one of 28 victims of a totally fatal accident. He lived near me. The next block up, and across the street. Like me, he had twin daughters nine years old. Sometimes they played together, sometimes they didn't. Children are strangely selective at times. Groups will ignore each other for months and suddenly begin playing together every available minute. Then they will just as abruptly stop and months will go by with pleasant nods, but no contact. These two pairs of twins were like that. They were friends, but they could play together or not, and it seemed to make no discernible difference in their feelings toward each other, either way.

The accident occurred Wednesday morning. It was Thursday afternoon when one of my twins came home from school. The other had the gripe and had been in bed several days. The homecoming child came skipping into the house and looked for her mother. When she found her, she was smiling but with no meritment.

"The O'Connell twins were in school today," she said. "I think it was a good thing. There isn't much they could have done at home."

"I know," said her mother. "I think it was a good thing, too. I suppose you know that Mr. O'Connell was in an airplane that fell and that he died," the child said.

"Does my sister know?"
"I haven't told her yet."
"I'll do that for you. I think I know how to do it so that she will not be upset. I'll take my time."

"All right. That might be best." The child hung around the library. Plainly, there was something else she wanted to say, and, possibly, did not know quite how to say it.

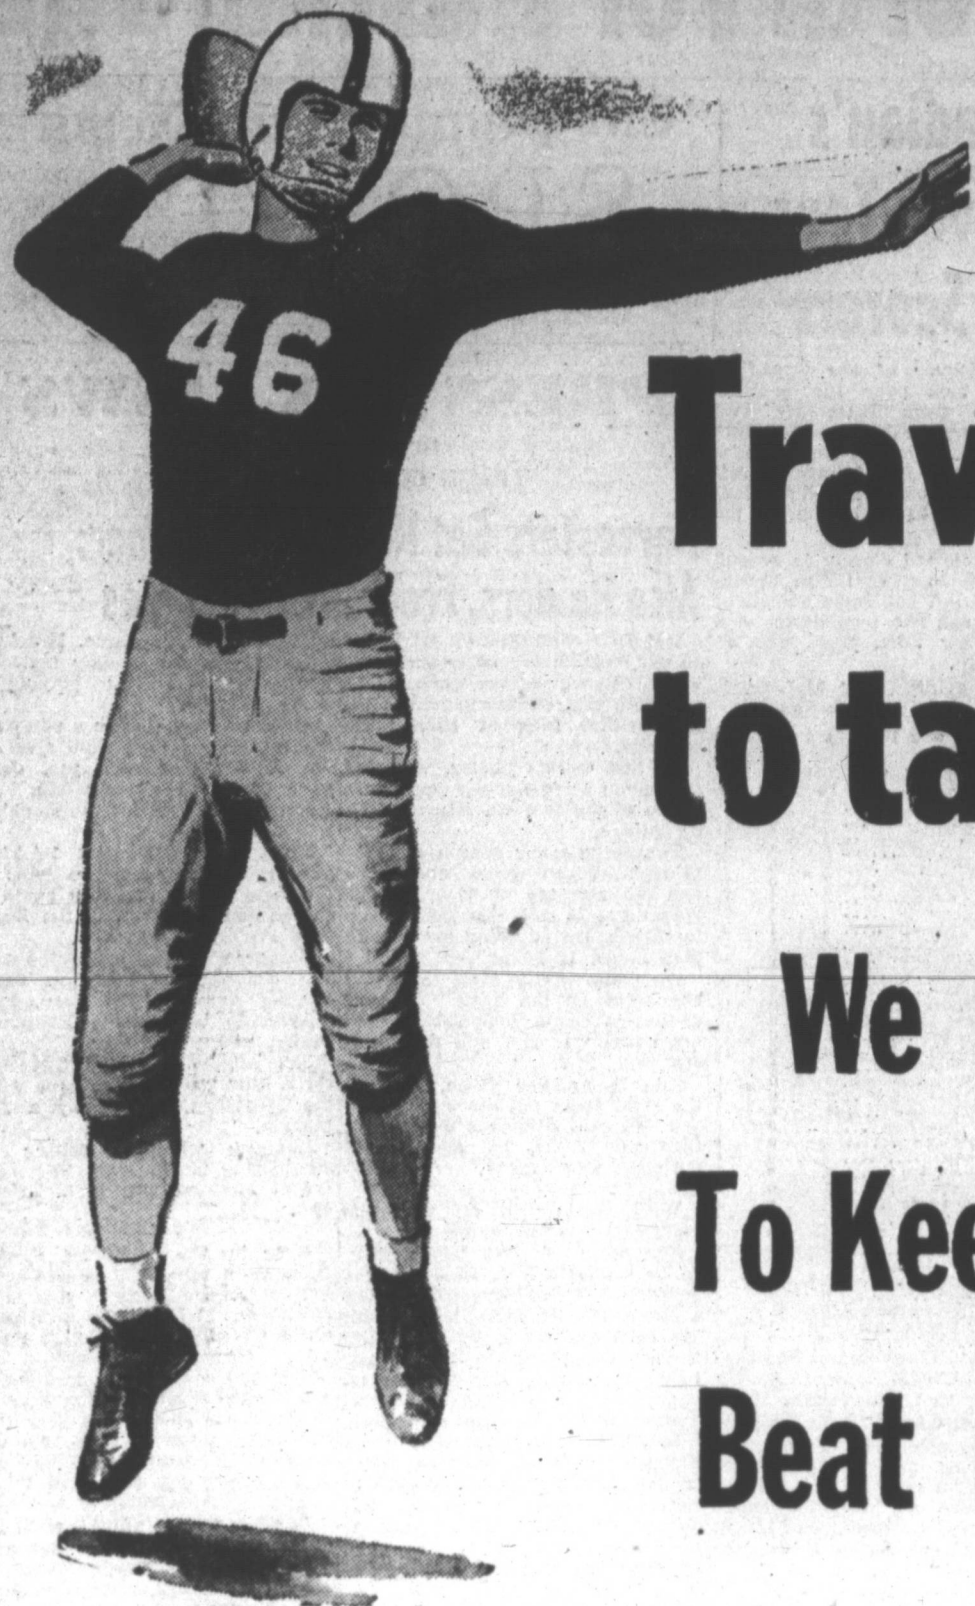

"Is there something else, dear?" her mother asked.
"Yes. Yes, there is," she said. "I want to say it, Jessie and I want to give a party and we need 25 cents each, maybe 40 cents each. Jessie is speaking with her mother about it now. Each of our girls is going to be a hostess at this party. We decided at school."

"Whom is the party for?" her mother asked.
"The O'Connell twins, of course," the child said as though that had been perfectly clear. "We think they would enjoy a party right now."

"What are you going to do at the party?"
"We are going to pick them up at home and walk up into the village. We thought first we'd take them to the Cozy Corner for ice-cream and some fun, you know, music and laughing. Then, after the ice-cream, we decided to take them to the store and buy them something pleasant to read. A comic book, or something. Then we were all going to walk down to the beach and help them gather shells. They like shells. We think they would like to do all of this just now. We have already asked them. They are home changing into their party dresses and waiting for us."

"I think it is a lovely idea, dear. But do you think their mothers will?"
"I don't see how she could possibly think it anything but the best thing to do. They would like a party just now."

Baylor En-Planes For Miami Fracas

By UNITED PRESS
The Baylor Bears left for Miami Wednesday as all seven conference teams prepared to see action this weekend for the first time of the season.

Forty-one players on the Bear squad left by chartered plane for Miami. Left tackle Jim Smith will do the placements, as well as kicking off, against Miami, Coach George Sauer said.

Robert Knowles, co-captain and starting right tackle who usually kicks conversions and field goal attempts, will be out because of a knee injury. Sophomore Clyde Lett-better of Conroe will start at right tackle.

Meets Georgia Tech
The Southern Methodist Mustangs open their season Saturday at Georgia Tech. Coach Woody Woodard put the squad through work on the punt formation Wednesday to their penultimate practice session before Woodard's first game.

Fullback Don Kilgore stood out as the Mustangs shifted from the T into punt formation and practiced getting off kicks with the defense-rushing in. He booted several for 50 yards.

The Mustangs leave for Atlanta by plane Wednesday morning.

The Rice Owls planned light workouts Tuesday before leaving by plane Friday to meet Cornell at Ithaca, N.Y. They devoted most of their time to pass offense Wednesday in their last long practice session. Quarterback Leroy Fenestemaker was at his sharpest with aerials.

Neely Pleased With Squad
Coach Jess Neely said he believes the squad is in much better physical condition than when they defeated Florida 29 to 16 two weeks ago.

The Arkansas Razorbacks worked Wednesday against the Texas Christian University offense. Blocking back Preston Carpenter was running at half speed because of a bruised leg, but no major injuries were reported.

Coach Abe Martin juggled his backfield Wednesday to keep the Frog players from "getting stagnant." But he indicated he will probably start the same lineup against Arkansas Saturday as he did in the opening game against Kansas two weeks ago. However, Mal Fowler may start at quarterback.

Mizzou Tests Colorado In Big 7 Feature

By BILL ROSENTRER
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 1—UP—Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas State boarded the major individual leaders in the "warm-up" activity, but Oklahoma and Missouri still figured to play for the Big Seven football championship when they collide in Columbia, Nov. 7.

It's still six weeks away—that Oklahoma-Missouri clash—and the way football has opened with a wealth of surprises this season, considerable could develop to change the entire picture. But that's the consensus of the conference experts on the eve of the opening of the 1953 championship race.

Missouri invades Colorado Saturday, and Oklahoma won't open defense of its crown until Oct. 17, against Kansas. Other opponents this week pair Nebraska and Kansas State at Manhattan and Iowa State and Kansas at Lawrence.

Oklahoma, of course, still ranked as the choice to make it six titles in a row. However, the manner in which Missouri improved over its Maryland showing to plaster Purdue with a 14 to 7 loss last week sent Tiger stock soaring.

Missouri's major problem is at quarterback—the vital spot in the split-T attack. If Don Faurot, the United Press Coach of the Week, is successful in bolstering that department, it could be Missouri's destined to end the long Oklahoma reign in the Midlands.

Nebraska had its followers, too, as a result of its strong showing in the 21 to 21 tie with Illinois.

One-platoon football, in the Big Seven at least, has had little effect so far in reducing scoring or yardage gained.

Conference teams piled up 220 points in 13 non-league games while allowing the opposition 211 points—opposition that included such stalwarts as Notre Dame, Maryland, Illinois, Purdue and Northwestern.

Individually Colorado's Emerson Wilson, 183-pound sophomore fullback from Kansas City, Kan., headed the list of ground gainers. He has netted 199 yards in 33 carries. John Borgogna, veteran halfback who was Nebraska's best passer and ground gainer last season, topped the passers with 12 completions in 17 flips for a net gain of 149 yards.

Colorado also had the No. 1 pass receiver in Gary Knafelc, senior end from Pueblo. He has caught three for 99 yards.

Kansas State, long the doormat of the conference, claimed some early distinction with the top scorer. He is Corky Taylor, a junior who was the 80-yard indoor dash champion at Kansas City's Southeast high school before he enrolled at Manhattan. Taylor has scored 18 points on three touchdowns in Kansas State's first two starts.

13 Games On S'boy Slate

By UNITED PRESS
Two games matching unbeaten teams headline a 13-game schoolboy football schedule Thursday night.

In Class AAAA, Dallas Sunset plays host to Fort Worth Arlington Heights in one of the perfect-record matches, while Deer Park goes to Crosby in the Class A sector for the other one.

There will be 17 other games involving unbeaten teams played before the weak end card is completed Saturday night.

These include the state's top attraction between Port Arthur and Corpus Christi Ray at Port Arthur, Abilene vs. Class AAA Champion San Jacinto College at Corpus Christi, Miller vs. Houston S. F. Austin, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo vs. McAllen, Stamford vs. Ballinger, Jacksboro vs. Electra, Mount Vernon vs. Atlanta, Cameron vs. LaVega, Del Rio vs. Floresville, Arkansas Pass vs. Refugio, Glen Rose vs. Granbury, Whitesboro vs. Cooper, Woodville vs. Groveton and Lovelady vs. Trinity.

Other games Thursday night involving AAAA and AAA teams send Grand Prairie to Fort Worth Poly, Houston San Jacinto against Houston St. Thomas and Harlandale to San Antonio Burbank.

In Class AA-A ranks it will be Roby at Hamlin, Bogata at Bonham B, Mexia B at Fairfield, Waco B at Groesbeck, San Antonio East Central at Jourdanton, Yorktown at Karnes City, LaFeria at Brownsville St. Joseph and Harlingen B at Lyford.

SPORTS AGS' Whitworth May Retire As Most Successful Losing Coach

By PHIL DESSAUER
STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 1—UP—This is the year J. B. (Earl) Whitworth hopes to end his career as one of college football's most successful losing coaches.

His Oklahoma Aggies have already won two games—half as many as they won last year—and they're tabbed as one of the top contenders in the Missouri Valley Conference. For the first time in four years, the 230-pound head coach has something to grin at besides the jokes he's so fond of.

In three years as boss of the Cowpokes, "Whit" won exactly 10 games and lost twice that many—a record calculated to send a coach to an early grave or the use-car business. But did the Aggie wolves howl for his scalp? Did the alumni try to buy off his contract? Did the students hang him in effigy?

They did not. In Aggie-land they love the big guy. The state regents for A&M Colleges handed him a new three year contract, The Oklahoma City Quarterback Club voted him the "sportsman of the Year" last November and his football team showed the kind of spirit you'd expect in an outfit looking for a bowl invitation.

All this was fine, but it didn't help that won-loss record much. Whitworth is a man who got used to winning when he was line coach at Georgia and hates to be "cured" of the habit.

His team beat a tough Arkansas team 7 to 6 last Saturday, but the victory left him as unimpressed as a man who has just won a 30-cent pot in a poker game.

"One side of our line was just piddling," he drawled afterwards. "We may have some sophomores in there next Saturday."

Whitworth likes to talk of opposing teams in terms of their coaches. Discussing the Arkansas game, he said, "when Otis Douglas was over there, he used to treat me pretty well most of the time. But this Bowden Wyatt—he wanted to run me off the field. We had a real rock and sock ball game. I don't mean dirty, but tough."

On the practice field, Whitworth lets his assistants run the drill while he plays a kind of scouting game. He's a great one for assistants, and most of his helpers have been with him since he came here.

"He's more open to suggestion from his assistants than any coach I ever saw," says one of his assistants. "And he always gives them credit for the team's successes."

Last year when the Aggie defense looked good he called it the Baker-Greene defense, in tribute to assistant coaches Jack Baker and Toby Greene. This year he has made his part-Indian running star, Jack Bredde, a special ward of Baker, who is part Cherokee himself.

"Better give blood-brother a little help," he'll tell Baker when he wants to prod Bredde a bit. So far the system has worked fine; Baker's "boy" whipped off a 77-yard Indian dance for a touchdown at Little Rock Saturday.

When Whitworth came to Stillwater in 1949, the Aggies were everybody's doormat and the rival University of Oklahoma Sooners were attracting the cream of the prep-school talent. His first seasons brought A&M's famous "thin thirty"—the phrase coined to describe his manpower problem.

"It wasn't any joke," Whit recalled. "Once we scraped up exactly 28 men to take to a Kansas game."

The Cowboys have improved a little every year, hitting a "high" of four victories in 1952. This year the thin thirty has grown in size and number and the Aggies should climb over the 500 mark, but Whitworth isn't predicting miracles.

Blues, Royals Vie In Little World Series

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 1—UP—The Yankees and the Dodgers will meet all over again in the Little World Series beginning Friday night at Montreal.

The Kansas City Blues, a New York Yankee farm club, defeated Toledo, 4 to 1, Wednesday night to win a berth against Montreal, a Brooklyn Dodger farm club which Monday night won the International League playoff with a 3 to 2 victory over Rochester.

Winner of the playoffs in the two triple-A leagues meet annually in the Little World Series, which this year pits farm clubs of the 1953 World Series contenders.

It was the sixth time in the past 10 years that Montreal has moved into the Series. The Royals took a straight four-game sweep from the Rochester Red Wings to enter the best-four-of-seven triple-A playoffs.

The Blues last year won the final American Association playoff under Manager George Selkirk, Wednesday night they won for Harry Craft, with Selkirk piloting the Toledo Sox.

Left-hander Bob Wiesler was the winner, although he faced bases-loaded trouble in the ninth until he grounded out Billy Reed.

The Blues won three games at Toledo, lost three at home and then grabbed the finale. In regular season play, the Blues finished second to the Sox in the American Association race.

The series will open with three games at Montreal, then move to Kansas City for as many games as necessary to determine the championship.

"Campaigns" Month
AUSTIN, Sept. 30—UP—October was designated as "United Community Campaigns Month" in Texas by Gov. Allan Shivers, who urged "all of the people of our state to participate generously in the campaigns which are carried on in their local communities."

SPORTS PARADE Gil Happy Over Series Slump Break

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK, Oct. 1—UP—It was a long time between home runs but ratty Gil Hodges carried a menacing bat into the second game of the World Series Thursday "certain that the famine is over."

The big first baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers smashed a round tripper into the stands in the seventh inning of the last game of the 1949 World Series.

Then, through 24 official times at bat in baseball's blue ribbon classic, Big Gil swung with abject futility—until the sixth inning of Wednesday's opening game of the 1953 show.

At that point, with a full count on him, Big Gil lashed a drive into the seats to break the drought.

"Nobody will ever know how I felt when I saw that one was going in," he grinned afterwards. "I know I don't have the words to explain it."

For, until that moment, the doubts were crowding in again on the blond better from Indiana.

In the second inning, with the fears riding hard on his burly shoulders, Gil walked up there before more than 70,000 fans, took two balls, had a strike called on him and then arched an easy out to left field. That made him nothing for 23, counting one last futile swing in 1949, those horrible 21 unfruitful efforts in 1952 and his first time up Wednesday.

And it was to get worse before it got better.

Marched in the fourth inning, Gil bunched grimly up there again—and once more was shut out.

Allie Reynolds was wild and Gil got ahead of the Super Chief on a count of three balls and one strike. Gil fouled off one then—but stood there looking with bitter anguish as Allie blasted one by him for a called third strike.

"I was hurting then," Hodges recalled. "I was starting to wonder whether I was ever going to get a hit any more in the Series."

He still was wondering when he went up there in the sixth. The count went to two balls and one strike, and then Hodges "got a piece of it" as he fouled off two pitches. Reynolds pouted over another ball and then came Gil's big moment even in a losing day.

"I felt it all the way up into my shoulders," he laughed like a kid who got a new bicycle for Christmas. "I could hardly run for watching the ball sail out there—and thinking it was one of the prettiest sights I've ever seen."

That, Gil is certain, put him back in the Series as a threat to any and all Yankee pitchers. He proved it, too, the next two times up, by rapping out a pair of singles for a fast first game batting average of .600.

"The drought is over," he beamed. "From here on in, Gil Hodges is going to have himself a good time."

From the way he said it, he just might, too. For you've never seen a guy so relieved in all your life.

Colts Off To Fast Start In Pro Race

BY EARL WRIGHT
NEW YORK, Oct. 1—UP—The Baltimore Colts, out to set a good example for Baltimore's new major league baseball team, have played only one game but they already have matched the 1952 record of the team they replaced in the National Football League—the Dallas Texans.

Dallas won only one of its 12 games last season and did not hold a single rival to less than 23 points.

The Colts, brought back into the NFL by rabid fans who raised some $300,000 in season tickets, made sure of at least matching that record last Sunday by defeating the Chicago Bears, 13 to 9, in their 1953 opener at Baltimore.

The Colts, formerly in the now-defunct All-America Conference, played in the National League in 1950.

The 1952 Dallas team, under Coach Jimmy Phelan, had the offense but a poor defense. The Colts, under Keith Molesworth, haven't shown much of an offense but their defense has been tops. In six exhibitions and one league game, the Colts have allowed their opponents an average of just over 10 points per contest—paratus in the high-scoring pro circuit.

The Colts' best weapons so far have been their defensive play and the field goal kicking of rookie Buck McPhail of Oklahoma.

Two of Baltimore's best offensive players—Halfback Buddy Young and fullback Zolie Toth—did not play against the Bears because of injuries. Defensive halfback Bert Rechichar, who scored on a pass interception and added a record 56-yard field goal, and McPhail, who also booted a field goal, provided the points in Baltimore's first victory.

Rechichar never before had tried for a field goal in the pro game. He spent his rookie pro campaign last year with the Cleveland Browns, who have one of the game's top place kickers in Lou (The Toe) Groza.

Durable Don Ellis Filling In Nobly As Ag Quarterback

BY ED FITE
DALLAS, Sept. 30—UP—A rock-ribbed 170-pound senior from DeQuincy, La., via West Point and Louisiana State, will be the man Texas A&M hopes will counterbalance Georgia's Zeke Bratkowski in the first intersectional clash here Saturday night.

The lithe, six-foot hope of the Texas Aggies is durable Don Ellis, who blossomed from a halfback into a quarterback and so far has made the so-called experts look slightly silly with their low-rating of the Aggie.

So far he has engineered Texas A&M to a 14 to 14 tie with favored University of Houston to earn praise as perhaps the best T-formation quarterback in the Southwest since the war season.

He played all but 21 minutes against Kentucky and all but 60 seconds against Houston in a brilliant example of the ability of specialists to fit into the new one-pace pattern.

But keeping busy was nothing new to the fleet Ellis, who played every second of the 96 minutes Texas A&M spent on offense last year.

Then, he was a halfback and a good one as well as his selection on Michigan State's all-opponent team despite the 48 to 6 shellacking the Aggies absorbed from the Spartans.

Hasn't Let Coach Down
When Quarterback Ray Graves graduated, Coach Ray George had to find a battle-tested replacement from his high school. He turned to Ellis, who had played that position in high school and who filled in for Graves on a few plays last fall.

Ellis hasn't let his coach down. Against Kentucky, he called a superb game, picked up 72 yards by rushing, completed seven of 13 passes for 78 yards and scored the Aggies' only touchdown.

Completes 15 Passes
Last week against Houston he turned to running chores over to teammates Elwood Kettler, Connie Magouirk and Joe Boring, but threw 26 passes. He hit 15 of them for 170 yards and two touchdowns and leads the conference in both passing and total offense.

If his receivers had held on to his accurate tosses, his record would be even better and the Aggies might have won the Houston game.

Ellis hit one receiver from 50 yards with an apparent touchdown pass only to see the marb boogie the

TC Teams Face Another Tough Slate This Week

By UNITED PRESS
Texas Conference grid team, with only two ties to show out of five games last week with non-conference opponents, tackle another set of tough foes this week.

Abilene Christian meets Midwestern University at Wichita Falls. ACC has given Midwestern only one tie in the last six years.

McMurray is host to Eastern New Mexico at Abilene. Howard Payne makes its home debut against East Central State of Ada, Okla., at Brownwood and Austin College entertains College of Ozark at Sherman. Texas A&I has an open date.

McMurray almost had a victory last weekend, but West Texas State fought from behind in the final 20 minutes to gain a 20 to 20 tie. Bill Atkins, Elroy Payne and Bill Cantwell scored for McMurray. Payne's score came on a 66-yard run.

The other tie was Austin and Mississippi College of Clinton, Miss. Austin's fumbles were costly in the 19 to 19 tie, which ended with Austin on the MC one-yard line. Austin touchdowns were made by quarterbacks Warren Harper and Don Watson and by fullback Billy Book-out.

Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy" was not entirely fictional, being based on records of a real case.

Ex-Army Chaplain Declares Germany One Of Best Allies

Germany is now one of our best allies, the Rev. Porter Brooks, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, asserted Wednesday in an address at the luncheon meeting of the Pampa Rotary club in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

The young minister, who recently returned to the United States after spending 14 months as an Army chaplain in Germany, declared that the German people like the American soldiers and are very strong for America and its democratic ideals.

Speaking on four of the things he learned as a chaplain in Europe, he said that "our Army in Germany is the most popular occupation force in history."

He added that through this Army of occupation "the German people have become interested in democracy. They respect us and our democratic procedures."

The speaker said the second thing he learned was that the average American boy in Germany is tough. "He is not just sitting there," he said. "They work very hard, seven days a week. They undergo a rigid training program, much more rigid than the boys in our camps in the United States."

However, these boys are not resourceful, he added. "They are letting others do their thinking for them. They make too many trips to the chaplain's office for advice. The American people should make an effort to train the youth of today to think for themselves."

The third thing the speaker learned was that the only way to make an individual strong is to "help him develop a good faith. A man must live close to God in times like these," he said.

"If we have to walk on one leg of religion, the other must be a leg of a sense of humor," was the fourth thing the former chaplain learned. He stated that he believed strongly that a person could have fun and still be a Christian.

The speaker was introduced by Otis Nace, program chairman.

Two new members were inducted at the meeting. They were R. E. Williams, Pampa real estate man, and James Cowan, city director of public works.

Alton Flynn, co-captain of the Pampa High School football team this year, was introduced as Junior Rotarian for the month of October. He was introduced by James Phippen, Junior Rotarian for September.

Clinton Evans, president of the Kiwanis club, spoke briefly and asked the cooperation of the Rotary club in the Kiwanians "Back to Church Month" campaign during October.

Guests at the luncheon were Bill Griffin, Amprillo; W. T. Cloud, Chickasha, Okla.; R. E. Whitten, Borger, and Bob Gordon, F. B. Bowman and Evans, all of Pampa.

Dr. Ed S. Williams, president of the club, presided.

Negro Attacker Cuts Throat Of Woman; Dallas Aroused

By L. DENNIS BELZUNG
DALLAS, Oct. 1—Aroused citizens kept their guns handy Thursday after a Negro attacked a married woman, ripped off most of her undergarments and "cut her to pieces."

Police believed the slayer might have been a nude Negro who has terrorized Dallas recently, according to at least 20 women and entering homes. The brazen prowler, who raped a white woman a month ago, always carried a knife and makes his raids while naked.

The latest victim, Mrs. Harry C. Parker, 29, was found Wednesday night on a street near the municipal airport, her throat cut and all her clothing but her dress and bra torn away.

A motorist rushed her to the Love Field terminal, where she died in a policeman's arms after whispering "A Negro took me under the bridge and cut my throat."

Enraged fathers and husbands of Dallas police they would "shoot to kill" any prowlers found in residential districts, and extra squads of off-duty police worked throughout the night in a search of north-west Dallas.

It was believed Mrs. Parker had been raped by an attacker at Parkland hospital said they would not know until tests had been performed.

Police Inspector D. A. Loe said she was "cut to pieces."

Police found her white purse and undergarments on the blood-soaked ground that showed evidence of a violent struggle.

Policeman J. W. Gallahan, who heard Mrs. Parker's last words, said her throat was cut so badly she was choking in her own blood. He had to put his ear to her mouth to hear her last sentence.

Southwest Enjoys Clear Weather

By UNITED PRESS
It was "clear as a bell" over virtually the entire Southwest Thursday, and the weatherman said temperatures probably would return soon to the hot levels reached a few days ago.

Forecasters called for warmer temperatures Thursday and Friday, and only Louisiana showed a prediction of widely scattered showers—a condition that was occurring Thursday in some of the eastern, Atlantic states.

High temperatures for states in the Southwest Wednesday included 100 degrees at Lufkin, Tex., 99 at Ardmore, Okla., 1 at Sheridan, Wyo.; 90 at Roswell, Columbus, Rodeo, N.M., and 88 at Lamar, Colo.

The weatherman said the Southwest was covered by an extremely dry, stable air mass. He said the only factor showing on weather maps that could alter conditions in the next few days is a low pressure area around Alberta, Canada—but he added it's a long way off and it may not come this far south.

Officials Cleared In Gambling Payoff

EL PASO, Oct. 1—UP—Three El Paso officials were "completely exonerated" of gambling payoff accusations there, after a special legislative committee's investigation collapsed when a former call girl recanted her charges.

Mrs. Pearl Johnson, serving a 15-year sentence on conviction of murdering her newborn child, first charged earlier that she was "railroaded" to prison because she knew too much about gambling payoffs.

But she sent a new affidavit to the investigating committee Tuesday saying her first allegation was in error. It brought a sudden end to the secret hearings that opened Monday.

A statement released by the committee late Wednesday night said the legislators had been "unable to determine the existence of any organized gambling or any organized predation or payoffs in El Paso county at this time."

"Certain testimony has indicated to this committee," the statement said, "that prior to 1950 there did possibly exist certain gambling and prostitution."

But it said "the evidence presented completely exonerated" the officials named in the affidavit by Mrs. Johnson.

Ranch Owner Sues For Cattle Losses

FORT WORTH, Oct. 1—UP—A damage suit for $79,338 against Traders Oil Mill Co. was on file Thursday by an attorney and ranch owner who said part of the sum was for dead cattle and the rest was sought because the company's president allegedly called him a swindler.

Ross Hardin, who owns a small ranch near town, contended he bought some cotton seed cakes made by Traders Oil Mill for his registered Hereford cattle.

He claimed the firm used crude oil grade petroleum instead of cotton seed oil, and it failed to specify this in selling him the feed.

He said 37 head died and 32 became so ill he had to sell them for salvage—and for this he sought $29,338.

Hardin claimed he complained to the company and its president, T. J. Harrell, reported to the district attorney's office he was "a swindler" and had made a "phony" claim.

Hardin said the district attorney's office checked and found his claim was not "a phoney" and he asked an added $50,000 in damages because of the accusation.

Union Rules Out Maritime Strike

GALVESTON, Oct. 1—UP—Members of the International Longshoremen's Association and the Houston and Galveston Maritime Association ruled out the possibility of a strike when they chose to negotiate on a meeting-to-meeting basis.

A strike was authorized by 9,000 or more dockworkers between Lake Charles, La., and Brownsville, Tex., but spokesmen for the organizations said they would continue to work under the old contract while negotiations continued.

Meanwhile, the union modified its demands and now seeks 25 cents an hour pay raises, welfare, vacation and pension benefits. It previously asked pay hikes of 80 cents an hour.

The union and maritime associations scheduled another meeting for this afternoon, the fourth straight day they have sought to reach agreement.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 1—UP—John O. Lankston was given a six-month suspended sentence and fined $1,000 for failure to file his federal income tax returns from 1949 and 1950. Lankston is a professional tax consultant.

Shutdown Due On Kansas Oil

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 1—UP—A 10-day shutdown of Kansas oil wells during October probably will be ordered by the State Corporation Commission.

It was reported that Kansas' first major oil field in the production of oil since the Mid-Continent petroleum area shutdown of 1939 was necessary to reduce storage supplies by some 2 million barrels.

The tentative plan awaiting commission approval was for the 10-day shutdown to begin Oct. 16.

Kansas' expected action would be in line with oil producing states, notably Oklahoma and Louisiana—in reducing October allowances to counter-act heavy foreign imports and lagging summer sales.

Jeff Robertson, chairman of the Kansas regulatory commission, said storage has been piling up in this state to a danger point.

He said 1,228,000 more barrels went into storage in Kansas during the first 19 days of September than in the same period of August. Kansas storage supplies totaled 10,370,000 barrels on Sept. 19.

Tuesday in Wichita, independent oil operators appealed to the commission for a sharp cut in production during October.

August allowable was 320,000 barrels a day. It has been 310,000 during September.

Skelton Makes Comeback, But Yields To 'Double Stomach'

BY ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1—UP—Red Skelton, who staged a successful comeback on television this week, vowed today he's taking his work easier this season because his "double stomach" is back where it started.

Last season the red-haired comic landed in the hospital for a serious operation to make his two stomachs into one.

But when he returned to work last spring, "I started getting sick again and now my stomach is back to where it was."

"Nothing to do about it," said Red mockingly as a makeup man daubed greasepaint on his face for a rehearsal of his new show at CBS.

"I'm giving up radio and movies for the time being, at least six months, and I'll take things easier—I'll still do pratfalls, but not so many or so hard."

After his second illness last spring, he quit TV and his filmed shows were re-released. But his ratings took a nose-dive, the critics said, because his antics were on film. So this year he's switched to CBS with a live show, only as wearing on him as before.

So far the critics have applauded his different format of more heart and less slapstick.

"Here at CBS they give me more time," Skelton explained. "Before I was on the show all the time. But now between sketches there are bits of business worked in that give me time to change my costumes and not hurry so much."

"We couldn't put the show on film because people want live shows. This is what they want so we're giving it to them."

Red amuses his audiences, on and off the TV screen, with gag routines poking fun at the movies. But he insists he's not anti-film since he's quit MGM and temporarily shelved his screen career.

"Movies are here to stay," he said as he shifted his cigar into his second. "But I doubt if I'll go back to MGM. What should I do when Warners and other studios offer $100,000?"

Selecting Jury In Murder Case

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Oct. 1—UP—Attorneys expected to complete selection of a jury Thursday to try Mrs. Rita Claire Myers, 34, charged with murder in the gun slaying of New York racing car driver John W. (Cowboy) Ransstead.

Ten jurors were selected when court recessed late Wednesday, and attorneys hoped to agree on two more tomorrow Thursday.

Assistant District Attorney Sam L. Jones was qualifying jurors for the death penalty.

Lawrence Berger, counsel for Mrs. Myers, indicated in his questioning of prospective jurors that he intended to show the mother of three children shot 41-year-old Ransstead to protect her home.

Ransstead was shot to death with a .32 caliber rifle and police found Mrs. Myers, who said she shot the racing driver because she was afraid of him, sitting near the body.

Money-Laden Purse Is Lost

DALLAS, Oct. 1—UP—Mrs. F. A. Bailey said Wednesday she left a purse containing $5,000 in a Little Rock, Ark., service station Monday night.

She said she would give a $1,500 reward for return of the purse and the money. Even if she doesn't get the money back, she said, she would like to have the address book and courtesy cards that were in the purse.

Mrs. Bailey said she put the money—nine $500 bills and five $100 bills—in a cologne stick on Sept. 17 when she and her husband were getting ready to leave on a trip to Mississippi and Tennessee. She said she wrapped the cologne stick in tissue paper and planned to deposit the money.

However, by the time preparations for the trip were complete the banks were closed, she said she forgot about the money.

She said she thought she left the purse, a large, black one, on a soft drink box at the filling station.

Store Sales, Crop Outlook Improve, FRB Report Says

DALLAS, Oct. 1 —UP—Department store sales were up and prospects for crops improved during August, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas reported Wednesday.

But the bank's report, which covers the 11th Federal Reserve District, said the better crops prospects brought a decrease in farm prices in some cases, and that cash farm income in the district in 1953 will be "somewhere around 10 per cent below 1952."

The bank also said non-agricultural employment was down and that the value of construction contracts dropped 24 per cent this August, compared with the same month in 1952.

Warren 'Accepts' New Appointment
SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 1 —UP—Gov. Earl Warren said Wednesday he had wired Mr. Eisenhower his "humble acceptance" of appointment to be chief justice of the United States.

In a formal statement, the Republican governor said: "The honor of this office is great but its responsibility to the people is greater. To be a member of this high court, and as such an interpreter and defender of the Constitution for all the people of the United States is the greatest obligation that could be assumed by any lawyer."

"I will apply myself to the task with the very best that is in me and will compensate for any limitations with industry and faithfulness to the cause of constitutional government in America."

Department Store Sales Up
But department store sales were up 11 per cent over those in July and January to August sales exceeded those of a year ago by 4 per cent.

The bank said favorable cotton growing conditions existed over most of Texas during August and September and that in some sections the crop was expected to be the best in years.

But in South Texas, rains came too late, and no improvement in the cotton situation was noted.

Considerable grain sorghum was planted in northwest section and the bank said conditions were favorable for development of crop. But in some areas, planted sorghum will have to be used for roughage, as it will not mature to grain, the report said.

Rice Harvest Near Completion
The rice harvest was near completion, the report indicated, with a record crop in prospect.

Prospects for much higher acreages of oats and barley in Central and East Texas compared with the past few years were indicated, the report said. Some of the oats and barley will be planted on ground where wheat did not come up to a stand or was not planted because of lack of moisture for germination.

Commercial production of fall and winter vegetables was expected to be somewhat smaller than a year ago, due to insufficient moisture at planting time in July and August. Acreage of late-fall tomatoes in Texas was reported down 44 per cent compared with a year ago.

Hay production in the state was estimated at a record 1,798,000 tons.

The condition of ranges and pastures was also generally improved, with the recent rains giving new life to some grass. But the drought continued in southern and southwestern New Mexico and south-westward from San Angelo and Lamesa. And in some cases, even soil moisture was so low that even recent rains did little to improve range conditions.

Judge Vs. Daughter

LINCOLN, Calif., Sept. 30 —UP—Judge Edward Grey got tough with a traffic violator in his court Tuesday.

"Sixty day suspension of drivers license or $25 fine," the judge ordered.

"I'll pay the fine," the young woman motorist said.

"No, you won't. That'll come out of my pocket," Grey said. He then ordered his daughter's license suspended for 60 days.

There are 18 separate muscles, grouped in four muscle layers, in the sole of each human foot.

McDaniel aired new charges in an amended petition filed with the court Tuesday.

The order transferring the case will be held in abeyance pending appeal of the case by the state.

Orville Cox, McAllen attorney representing the inspection association, argued the court here had no jurisdiction to grant the temporary injunction sought by the state because none of the defendants reside in Travis county.

Jurisdiction Argued
However, McDaniel contended Judge Roberts had jurisdiction in the case because it was a suit brought to restrain a corporation from exercising powers not conferred in their corporate charter.

Cox attacked the state's case on grounds the attorney general should be representing the state, rather than McDaniel.

"The fundamental question," Cox said, was whether the state could bring the suit in Travis county without joining the attorney general in the case.

Valley Hearing Given Transfer

AUSTIN, Oct. 1 —UP—Hearing of a state suit challenging the right of a Rio Grande Valley co-operative to issue fruit and vegetable inspection certificates was transferred Wednesday to Brownsville.

Vernon McDaniel, deputy state commissioner of agriculture, said he would appeal the action by 126th District Judge Jack Roberts.

Roberts ordered transfer of the case to the 107th District Court in Cameron county by granting a plea of privilege offered by the defendants, the Inspection Association, Inc., Harlingen.

The hearing before Roberts was on a state request for a temporary injunction against the Lower Valley co-operative.

Temporary Order
The court had previously issued a temporary restraining order against the organization, but rescinded the action at a Sept. 18 hearing.

McDaniel aired new charges in an amended petition filed with the court Tuesday.

Seek Counterfeiter

MONTREAL, Sept. 30 —UP—Police searched Wednesday for a counterfeiter who apparently doesn't read the papers.

They said he was turning out crisp, new $10 bills bearing the signature "D. Gordon, Deputy Governor."

Gordon went into private business three years ago.

Ex-Movie Star Leaves Convent School Because Of Ill Health

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 30 —UP—Ex-movie star June Haver began an indefinite leave of absence from her convent Wednesday, but she hoped to return "as soon as my health permits."

Miss Haver, her blonde curls now a natural brown, arrived Tuesday night by plane to announce she had quit the Sisters of Charity Convent at Xavier, Kansas, after six months, "because of ill health."

"I lack the physical strength to go on. I am tired," she explained as she unpacked her bags at the home of her mother, Mrs. Marie Ottens.

"I'll rest at home and then see how I feel. With God's will, I hope to go back to the convent and fulfill my wish to become a nun."

The one-time dancing queen entered the school last February, insisting an unhappy marriage and the death of her fiance, Dr. John Dusik, had nothing to do with her decision.

One Catholic church official said "I doubt" if she will return to the school.

But Miss Haver repeated, "I love the school and it was everything I hoped it would be."

"I am very happy," she said with the wide smile that made her a favorite in movie musicals. "They were very sweet at the convent about giving me a temporary leave of absence."

Her return, temporary or not, was little surprise to her mother or Catholic officials here who had guided her selection of a convent.

June had told her mother to sell her belongings. But a month ago Mrs. Ottens revealed she had kept June's clothes and a few personal possessions because "I still cling to the hope she will come back, and if she does, she will need them."

One Catholic source said, "I am not surprised she returned. She's a convert and it's difficult to adjust in any way to the Catholic life, especially if the person is not accustomed to it in early life."

"I don't think she should feel embarrassed if she does not return," the church official said. "When she left she wisely said she was going to the school to try to find happiness, and if she did not have the aptitude for a nun's work she would find out about it. It looks as if she discovered she hasn't."
