LETTERS TERMED BRIBERY . . .

Neutrals Repudiate Claim By POWs On Mail Coercion

PANMUNJOM, Nov. 30—UP—The Neutral Repatriation Commission told 22 unpatriated Americans Monday they repudiate the United States' claim that the mails to coerce them into going home were untrue.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the commission, sent the Americans, one Briton and 22 South Koreans a rejection of their charges and enclosed a copy of Geneva Convention provisions on war prisoners.

The prisoners, who refused to go home in "Operation Big Switch" last summer, submitted a petition Nov. 6 charging the United States tried to bribe them with letters into leaving the Reds.

Letters From School Girls

One of the prisoners' claims was that Washington had "innocent school girls" write come-home letters to them. Allied officers said the letters were of a patriotic instead of propagandist nature.

The commission sided with the prisoners on their complaint that some of the newspapers and magazines mailed to them were "undesirable in nature."

Henceforth, the commission said, all mail sent to the prisoners will be censored and all objectionable matter deleted.

The complaint, signed by Sgt. Richard G. Corden, identified in his service record as the brother of Miss Uraula J. Corden of East Providence, R. I.; the lone Briton and one South Korean accused the United States of "maliciously and fraudulently" using the mails in an attempt to lure them home. It was not released until Sunday.

One of the rejected letters was written to Pfc. Samuel Hawkins by Kay Masina of Chicago's Calumet high school. It said: "You don't know who I am and you probably don't care, but you might as well know right now that I am going to try and change your mind about turning Communist. I am just an ordinary schoolgirl who will try to make a great appeal to you to change your mind."

"Maybe you had better think just why you want to be a Communist and stay in a Communist country. What possible advantage could they offer you? In the good old U.S.A. you have freedom of speech, press, religion and freedom to vote as you please, but in a Communist country you have one dictator to vote for at the polls and they say freedom to vote as you please! But do they give you (political) parties? No."

Probe Launched On Red Unions

AUSTIN, Nov. 30—UP—Gov. Allan Shivers served blunt notice Monday "there is no room in Texas for Communists" — either in or out of organized labor.

The governor at the same time triggered a sweeping investigation of charges by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd that Communists, acting under orders from Moscow, are plotting to gain a stranglehold on vital Texas industries through infiltration into certain labor unions.

As the governor looked on, four of the five members of the Texas Industrial Commission, charged with making the inquiry, were sworn into office by J. E. Hickman, chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

DPWA Singled Out

The governor singled out for special attention the Distributive, Processing and Office Workers of America, a union now conducting a strike at Fort Arthur.

Shepperd has alleged that the union is Communist-dominated.

Shivers suggested that the commission call on the attorney general for legal assistance but cautioned that the investigation should block "even an attempted blow...at organized labor."

The governor commended the "thousands" of loyal Texans who are members of organized labor, and then suggested the commission members be about their business.

"I bid you Godspeed," he said. The industrial commission, created by the Legislature in 1920 but long dormant, was re-activated last week.

Issues Proclamation

In a proclamation, Shivers directed that the agency "make such investigation as they deem necessary and report their findings and recommendations to the governor so that appropriate action may be taken."

The governor said if the commission found present laws were inadequate, members should make recommendations for further legislation.

In a statement, the governor singled out three unions apparently having Communist connections.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 30—UP—American delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., told the United Nations General Assembly Monday Russian civil and military officials headed the command structure in North Korea where nearly 38,000 soldiers and civilians, including more than 6,000 GIs, were murdered or tortured.

Lodge co-sponsored a resolution which would exclude Russia from Britain, France, Australia and Turkey calling on the UN to voice "grave concern" over evidence of the atrocities in Korea.

Peace Meeting Offer By Reds Called 'Joke'

PANMUNJOM, Nov. 30—UP—The United Nations rejected a Communist plan on convening the Korean peace conference Monday because the Communists refused to be bound by agreements.

UN Envoy Arthur H. Dean called the Red proposal on Russia a "joke" and told the Communists the Allies would never agree on seating the Soviet Union as a "neutral" in the Korean war.

Dean called a one-day recess to give the 17 Allied nations an opportunity to study the Communist proposal though he indicated in advance he would report "a complete lack of progress."

Following his Monday meeting with the Communists, Dean hinted the United Nations might make a final concession and agree to let Russia participate with full voting rights and responsibilities and sit on neither side. Russia then would be bound by all agreements.

The Communist conference plan, an answer to Dean's 12-point proposal, made two major concessions to the United Nations.

1. The Reds suggested holding the meeting at New Delhi, India, on Dec. 28, thus dropping their insistence on Panmunjom as the conference site.

2. The Communists agreed to inviting neutral nations to participate as non-voting "observers."

Gator Chooses Auburn, Tech

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 30—UP—Auburn and Texas Tech will play in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day.

Benson Opposes Cut in Acreage

FORT WORTH, Nov. 30—UP—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson reassured cotton growers Monday he would "recommend strongly" that Congress modify a law requiring him to order a 1954 acreage cut admittedly "too severe."

"Under present legislation," Benson said in a statewide radio broadcast in Texas Sunday, "the secretary of agriculture is pretty much bound by law as to what he should do in declaring acreage allotments on cotton."

ON TEACHER PAY RAISE DEAL

AUSTIN, Nov. 30—UP—Grass roots opinion will decide the fate of a proposed compromise in the Texas teacher pay raise stalemate.

A six-member subcommittee seeking a solution to the controversy voted Sunday to circulate the compromise plan throughout the state's 2,000 school districts, to find out what educators think about it.

Lodge Requests Protest By UN

He implicated the Soviet Union in the war crimes by charging that North Korean leaders were mostly Soviet citizens and that Soviet officers headed the command structure of North Korean prison camps.

"Dedication to Brutality"

"These facts," Lodge said, "indicate a sort of common dedication to wholesale brutality which it is utterly repulsive to contemplate."

"These terrible acts were taken by an authority having an unhappily close connection with the Soviet Union, and were and are in conformity with actions tragically typical of so many absolutist systems throughout history."

Charging that the atrocities "inspire horror and revulsion in any civilized mind," Lodge told the assembly it must "speak clearly in defense of the civilized standards of conduct," by voicing its "grave concern."

Blames Red Chinese

The American diplomat charged that some 27 per cent of "cattle atrocities" committed against 11,600 victims were chargeable to Red Chinese military units.

In some of these cases, Lodge said, witnesses charged that it was the politically-appointed "cultural officer" of the unit "who ordered the killing of prisoners which the regular military men could not stomach."

"Wheat a travesty on such a noble word culture," Lodge said. Because the U. S. feels its evidence, which Lodge contends would make a pile 20 feet high, put across "a devastating and irrefutable case," the U. S. also knows from past experience no inquiry group would be allowed behind the "Bamboo Curtain."

Fog Covers State, Lifts With Heat

By UNITED PRESS

Fog blanketed most of Texas Monday, as far west as the South Plains and the Pecos Valley, but it cleared out as the state began to warm up during the day.

The low clouds and fog were caused by cool moist air driven by light winds sweeping over the state from off the Gulf Coast.

Skies were cloudy to partly cloudy over the entire state after the fog cleared out and temperatures were a little warmer in the north central and eastern portions of the state.

Low temperatures early Monday ranged from 28 degrees at Dalt to 68 degrees at Corpus Christi.

Other low temperatures included Salt Flat 27, El Paso 32, Lubbock 34, Amarillo 36, Presidio 38, Midland 40, Wichita Falls 44, Presidio 45, Lufkin and Texarkana 47, San Angelo and Abilene 48, Mineral Wells and Dallas 51, Waco, Fort Worth and Junction 52, Houston 53, Austin and College Station 54, San Antonio and Galveston 59 and Brownsville 60.

Rainfall included .89 inch at Beaumont and Port Arthur, .27 inch at Waco, .01 at Austin and Junction, and traces at Mineral Wells, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Lufkin, College Station, Corpus Christi and Abilene.

Russian Oil Being Sold

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—UP—Oil industry sources disclosed Monday that Russia is selling oil actively on the world market for the first time in 20 years, but said Soviet attempts to disturb the price structure are failing.

The Russians are putting an estimated 50,000 barrels of crude oil and products on the block every day at cut-rate prices, a spokesman for one major American company stated.

"But they've got to unload a lot more oil than this to cause trouble," he said.

One economist said Russia is "trying to use international trade as a weapon" through her oil transactions.

Meanwhile, petroleum companies are waiting to see if the Iron Curtain area will step up oil exports in an attempt to unsettle the world market and thereby cause economic and political trouble among free nations.

Russia, once a major exporter of oil, went out of the world market in 1932 for all practical purposes.

"This latest move also means that the Soviets need food and other commodities more than they need oil," one source said. "The Russians still operate on a coal economy, rather than an oil economy as we do."

Senate Panel Maps Strategy On Red Probe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—UP—Senate investigators mapped new strategy for unearthing Red spies in past Democratic administrations Monday as Republicans and Democrats traded blows on the espionage-government issue.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee will meet Wednesday to decide whether to accept the Canadian government's terms for interviewing Igor Gouzenko, former Russian code clerk who exposed a wartime Communist spy ring in Canada.

The Canadian government has said that it must have the final decision on what the subcommittee could make public after questioning Gouzenko. Subcommittee Chairman William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) has objected to the stipulation.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Saturday refused Jenner's request to ask Canada to back down on its latest stand.

Chief counsel Robert Morris said the inquiry will proceed regardless of the subcommittee's decision and the group will question a number of witnesses in secret hearings. He gave no indication of what the group is seeking from the witnesses.

The political battle continued meanwhile over the Harry Dexter White case and the subcommittee's investigations of other alleged spies.

Gas Rate Hearing Reset December 14

AUSTIN, Nov. 30—UP—Hearing on an application for a boost in natural gas rates in Pampa has been postponed until 9:30 a.m., Dec. 14, the Texas Railroad Commission announced Monday.

Most recently slated for this morning in Austin before S. C. McIntosh, head of the Texas Railroad Commission's gas division, the hearing was postponed Saturday afternoon when one of the Austin attorneys for the City of Pampa called and said he'd be unable to be on hand.

"Therefore, there will be a city commission meeting Tuesday morning, according to City Manager B. H. Cruce. Only item for sure on the agenda is the third — and final — reading of the ordinance prohibiting the use of abandoned iceboxes and like items in the open.

City Atty., Bob Gordon said he would bring to commissioners some data on a proposed ordinance keeping explosives outside the city limits. So the first reading of that proposed ordinance may be on tap, too.

Lindbergh Silent On Mountain Fall

MOUNT SHASTA, Calif., Nov. 30—UP—Adventurous Jon Lindbergh, saddened by the death of a fellow mountaineer, Monday refused to discuss his part in a dramatic 16-hour fight to save the climber's life on an Alpine snowfield.

The victim, 30-year-old Werner Hopf of Berns, Switzerland died Sunday in a hastily-built igloo on the 16,500-foot level of Mount Shasta after he tumbled 800 feet down an ice chute.

Lindbergh, son of the famous New York-to-Paris flier, and others in the party brought down the body Sunday afternoon. They declined to discuss the tragedy with anyone except Siskiyou County Coroner Lloyd Noble.

Noble said Hopf, Lindbergh and seven other men and eight women, all members of the Stanford University Alpine Club, arrived here Thursday to go mountain climbing over the Thanksgiving week end. They pitched their tents in three

Ike Favors Increase In Conservation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—UP—President Eisenhower's agricultural advisory commission has tentatively agreed on proposals under which farmers would get lower prices—wheat, corn, peanuts and cotton from the modernized parity formula applied in 1950 to other crops.

Both steps would mean lower average government price guarantees for the nation's farmers and a corresponding cut in federal support outlays provided other factors remained equal.

Benson to Study Proposals

The recommendations of the advisory commission will be sent to Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson after the commission meets here next month. Benson will study the proposals in sending his new farm program to the White House.

The commission's proposals are aimed at reducing the government's role in the direct marketing and storing of farm products. The government now has a near-record $4 billion invested in farm surplus programs.

While the commission's proposals represent the views of outside advisers consulting with Agriculture Department officials, it is known that Benson and his top aides generally hold the same opinions.

No Guarantee of Plan

But that is no guarantee that the plan will be adopted. Even if it were embraced by the Eisenhower administration, it would be likely to run into strong opposition for some Republican farm legislators.

Slot Installed For City Bills

That slot in the wall across from the city manager's office in City Hall is not for mail — it's for water, sewer and trash bills.

Purpose of the slot is an after-hours and before-hours depository whereby Pampans can pay their bills without the water office being open, according to Miss Ellen Keough, chief water office book-keeper.

The office is open 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8:30 a.m. to noon Saturday, Miss Keough said, pointing out that oftentimes residents will want to pay their bills before the office opens and sometimes after it closes.

Installed a few days ago with the approval of City Manager B. H. Cruce, the slot leads to a locked box inside the door of the water office. Directly under the slot in the hallway is a small ledge where Pampans can put their checks or cash into envelopes provided by the office in a rack against the wall. Local blank checks are also on hand.

Miss Keough mentioned another purpose for the slot: "It helps us get the money counted in the morning."

GIVEN ENOUGH ROPE

Administration Seems Sure McCarthy Will Hang Himself

By LYLE C. WILSON WASHINGTON, Nov. 30-UP—There is ample evidence here that some distinguished administration insiders believe Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy is grabbing for the 1956 Republican presidential nomination.

2. He did not challenge the right of Congress to investigate but, very obviously, felt that clean-up of the executive department was a job for the executive department.

It appears, also, that the administration is not ready for an open break with the junior senator from Wisconsin.

Most Controversial Administration strategy seems to be based on the idea that if McCarthy is given enough rope, he will hang himself.

Whatever the senator's political objectives may be, these facts emerge clearly: He is the most controversial figure in the United States today. He has a very large following.

McCarthy may obtain his own downfall, as some administration advisers are believed to hope and expect. But the senator's friends do not think so.

Republican National Committee Chairman Leonard W. Hall had said just about the same thing earlier this month when the White case was blazing.

Wynn Takes Salary Cut

By ALINE MOSSBY HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30-UP—MGM has sliced its star list, but Keenan Wynn admitted Monday he happily signed a new contract at a salary cut because he doesn't think he's "ready" to be a free-lancer.

Other players have left the studio rather than have their paychecks slashed. Wynn honestly announced he preferred to stay at lesser pay.

"One person I know who quit didn't do himself any good free-lancing," he said. "I've been in pictures 12 years, and it's taken me this long to convince them at the studio I'm an actor, not just a comic. But they don't know that at other studios."

Wynn even has given up his agent because he feels as a contract player he doesn't need one. Recently he toured New York and knocked on TV producer doors himself.

"I walked right in and said I wanted an appointment and I thought the doors would fall off! They're so used to seeing agents, not actors, come around."

"I decided not to make the jump into television. Not 39 weeks of that suicide of a live show. So I came back to MGM."

Rogers Says 2 Amendments To Come Up For Discussion

The coming session of Congress will produce many heated discussions and arguments about the fifth and sixth amendments to the Constitution of the United States, Rep. Walter Rogers states in his weekly news letter to the 11th Congressional District.

He points out that these amendments are integrated parts of the Bill of Rights and that it would be well for all Americans to acquaint themselves fully with these two amendments and their history.

The fifth amendment, he explains, contains the provisions before which many witnesses before congressional investigating committees have hidden for a number of years.

The whole controversy will center around the Communist menace, the letter states. "Their tactics have been to employ our Constitution and our laws to protect themselves while they work diligently at the task of trying to overthrow that Constitution and those laws," the Congressman says.

He points out that these amendments are integrated parts of the Bill of Rights and that it would be well for all Americans to acquaint themselves fully with these two amendments and their history.

Renowned Professor To Sue Spiritualist For Bum Tips

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 30-UP—A world-renowned professor, knighted for his contribution to learning but who relied on a crystal ball for financial advice, said Saturday he would sue his ex-spiritualist "immediately" for bum tips that cost him $16,400.

His faith in the powers of the occult "materially shaken," Dr. Albert Hyma of the University of Michigan Supreme Court to seek damages from Mrs. Lillian Lee, a Detroit spiritualist.

The professor said on three occasions he had sought advice through seance and every "crystal ball" answer put him further behind the financial "eight ball."

Another Trance Popped Out Ten years later a trance revealed oil under his 160-acre farm. Hyma said the medium promised the help of a spirit in locating it. Forty-two hundred dollars went down a dry hole because of the spirit. Oil was discovered last year about two miles south of his property.

Still Hyma's faith was not shaken until two years ago. "Of course, I was never a believer in the accepted sense. But my wife and I did endeavor to preserve the spirit of scientific inquiry," he said.

The banker asked Hyma for $2,500 to free him. In return, Hyma was to receive a $25,000 bank draft as soon as he was free and the key to a treasure worth $350,000.

He Suspected, But... The professor said he suspected trickery but nevertheless took the matter up with Miss Lee. He said she held a seance during which she discussed the investment with the spirit of Hyma's "spiritual Godfather," Thomas Carlyle (the noted English author).

The deal was okayed, he said, after Miss Lee reported the spirit had made a personal visit to Mexico and found the banker "an honorable man." So Hyma mortgaged his home for the $2,500 and sent the money to an intermediary in Texas. That was the last he heard of the banker.

Hyma filed suit two years ago to recover damages, but circuit Judge Adolph F. Marschner dismissed the case on grounds the professor was an "intelligent man" who went into deals "with his eyes open."

Hyma is a fellow of the Royal Historical Society of London and the Guggenheim Memorial Foundation. His Dutch knighthood is the order of Orange-Nassau.

Wetback Problems Swamp California

(Editors: Following is the first of a three part series on the critical illegal Mexican labor problem as told by federal government experts, state officials and farm spokesmen.)

By SCOTT BAILLIE SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30-UP—The stampede of illegal Mexican labor into California, by foot, plane and even basket, has doubled last year's total, U. S. immigration officials report.

A total of 406,507 wetbacks were returned to Mexico from the Los Angeles district for the fiscal year of 1953, according to assistant director Albert del Guercio. This is more than twice the number, or 200,649, sent home in 1952.

The wetback roundup has jumped in proportion in the San Francisco district, too. Bruce Barber, immigration director here, says that 26,808 wetbacks were located and returned to Mexico during the first six months of 1953. If the ratio keeps up, and it has for August, September and October, it will double last year's.

Problem Developed The problem developed in 1945 with the first influx of "stoop laborers" who legally contracted to come into the United States to fill a vital need for farm work.

Since then, getting in the country has become a racket for many Mexicans who are interested in other work than agriculture.

What's the status along the California - Mexican border? "The barricades down there are about as effective as the maginot line," Barber says.

"We have no comment," del Guercio says, "the problem of tightening up boundary defenses has been under consideration for years. And it is getting the most serious thought at the moment from Attorney General Brownell."

Few wetbacks actually are deported. Such action only follows a court order for removal of an undesirable alien.

Few Are Deported Of the 406,507 rounded up in the Los Angeles district, less than 10,000 were deported. The remainder signed a "voluntary departure card." And many "voluntarily" returned to the states in less than three weeks.

Del Guercio says that nine immigration service officers have been killed in the past decade and numerous others injured. He recalls that one illegal alien was killed in the Los Angeles district while fighting arrest.

Barber cites the transporter, or "smuggler," as the toughest factor in the wetback headache. Under federal law, it is a felony to transport aliens illegally in the United States. The sentence is 15 years and the fine $2,000 per alien transported.

West Wary Of Russia's Invitation

By PHIL NEWSOM United Press Foreign Analyst Russian has invited the West to cocktails at 8, and now the West is trying to decide what clothes it should wear.

It may decide it's going to be busy that night and can't accept the invitation.

The trouble with Russia is, she's like a jealous Washington hostess. She's trying to spoil someone else's party.

Certainly, Russia's record is such that it must be doubted she had anything really constructive in mind when she suddenly agreed last week to a four-power foreign ministers' meeting in Germany.

Location Suspicious Even her suggestion of Berlin as the meeting place is suspicious since Berlin, while partially in Allied hands, nonetheless is only an oasis deep in the Soviet territory and scarcely could be called neutral ground.

Therefore, to meet in Berlin might at the outset be considered a Russian victory.

Last week's Russian note ignored the question of a peace treaty for Austria, and was an obvious change of tactics rather than any real change of heart.

She dropped her insistence that any international meeting must be five-power and include Red China, but she served notice that such a meeting would be among her initial demands if and when a four-power conference is held.

But if Russia's intent was further to muddy up the international waters, to that extent she has succeeded.

Churchill Willing British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill observed his 79th birthday Monday, still convinced the road to peace lies through a top-level meeting with the Russians and so determined to hold it that he apparently is willing to let the party be held wherever it may be held, if necessary.

He will bring all his eloquence to bear on President Eisenhower when the Big Three conference starts in Bermuda this weekend.

Also attending the conference will be France's Premier Joseph Laniel who barely survived a vote of confidence test in the French Chamber of Deputies last week and who now must act almost in a "lame duck" capacity — able only to give a weak "maybe" to the question of French participation in the European army plan.

The Russian note, adding to the vague possibility of action on Germany is certain to delay the French still further.

State To Open Bids On Highway

Bids will be opened at 9 a.m. Dec. 15 in the Austin office of the Texas Highway Department for the contract on the approaches to the proposed Canadian River bridge. A letter to that effect was received this morning in the Pampa office of the highway department, according to resident engineers. It was signed by J. C. Dingwall, road design engineer, and D. C. Greer, state highway engineer. Earlier in the month, G. K. Reading, senior resident engineer in Pampa, announced that the job would include the grading on both sides of the bridge, the rip-rap protection on both sides and a small bridge over West Dugout Creek. The grading will be for about one mile of grading, one side of the bridge getting more of it than the other. The small bridge will be located several hundred feet north of the north end of the Canadian River bridge. Cooper and Woodruff, Amarillo, just week was awarded the contract for construction of a 2.76-mile section of roadway leading up to the Canadian River. A month or so ago, Kellner Jetties Company, Tepeka, Kan., was awarded the contract for the jetties. Only other bid yet to come will be that for the bridge proper, engineers said today.

Five Blocks Due To Be Stabilized

James Cowan, city director of public works, late this morning reported that stabilization of five Pampa street blocks should be completed by the end of the week. The blocks are the 500-, 600-, 700-blocks of Magnolia, 600-block of Broadway, Dugout and the 300-block of Warren, Cowan said. Oiling of streets has slowed down for the present, the director continued, "because the oil is available in as thick as axle-grease — and our equipment can't handle it." If "live" oil, however, can be used by city equipment, there will be no delay.

County To Open Automotive Bids

Bids on two two-ton trucks and a motor grader are scheduled to be opened in the first December session of the county commissioners' court. Session is slated to get underway at 10 a.m. Tuesday, according to County Judge J. E. Maguire Jr. The trucks will be for Commissioner W. E. Jarvis' Precinct Two and the motor grader for Commissioner O. L. Tibbitts' Precinct Four, Maguire said. Only other item on the agenda this morning was the payment of bills.

Automotive Hint

By "setting" the brakes when the car is being washed, there is less chance of the brake linings becoming water soaked and causing temporary loss of braking efficiency.

Russia Ships Gold To Bank Of England

LONDON, Nov. 30—Russia mysteriously shipped 17 tons of gold worth more than $15 million by plane to London Monday amid reports the Soviet Union is short of foreign exchange. A group of three planes that brought the gold to London airport from Moscow by way of Prague. The London bullion market believed the shipments, which were kept secret until the last week, went directly from the airport to the Bank of England under direction of customs. Only the bank would have facilities to measure such a large amount of gold. Each airplane flew the heavily-leased assignments from Moscow to Prague where they were picked up by Dutch KLM airliners and flown into London. KLM refused to reveal to whom the gold was being shipped. Officials and bullion traders in London believe Russia is short on sterling. Russian silver and some platinum began appearing in European markets last month and there were reports of increased gold sales.

Pampan In Hospital After Auto Wreck

A 60-year-old Pampa man was in Highland General Hospital today suffering from several broken ribs sustained in an automobile accident Sunday at 8:18 p.m. on U. S. Highway 60, 2.3 miles west of Pampa. Joe William Clemmons, 409 N. Zimmer, was taken to the hospital after the car which he was driving was in collision with another vehicle driven by Melvin Eugene Lyler, 32, Lubbock. Lyler's car was traveling west on the highway when it struck the left side of Clemmons' automobile as it pulled onto the highway from the north off a side road, according to Highway Patrolman E. J. Robertson. Mrs. Gloria Lyler, 24, also was taken to the hospital here, but was released after treatment for scalp lacerations. No one was injured and only minor damage resulted from another accident at 9:10 p.m. Sunday two miles south of Pampa on the Bowers City road, which involved cars driven by Cecil B. Chisum, 47, and Ginger Ray Fitch, 18, both of south of Pampa.

The advisory commission has tentatively agreed on a system of different price support systems for different crops. They include: 1. The two-price plan for wheat, cotton, and possibly rice to encourage big, unacidized exports. Other big producing nations presently are able in most instances to undersell the United States on the world market. 2. Continuation of present high price supports on tobacco with perhaps some minor changes in this part of the farm law. The commission has just about decided that lower parity prices should be put into effect gradually starting in 1955, on wheat, corn, peanuts and cotton.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE Dallas Players Have Special Way

One of the nice things about the national championships in Dallas is that they will give the rest of the country a good chance to become acquainted with the fine binding and play of some of the Dallas experts who don't travel widely to national tournaments. I could give many examples, because Texas is as fruitful in producing bridge stars as it is in everything else, but perhaps you can make my point by showing a hand that George Heath, of Dallas, defended in a recent Texas tournament. George opened his singleton club from the West hand. Dummy won with the ace of diamonds and returned the king of diamonds. East took the ace of diamonds and cashed the queen of clubs. What should

West discard, and how should West plan the rest of the defense? Heath discarded a low spade from the West hand. East continued with another high club, and South ruffed with king of hearts. West discarded a second low spade, refusing to over-ruff. South cashed the queen of diamonds, ruffed a diamond in the dummy, and led the nine of hearts. Once more Heath came up with a key play by refusing to take the trump. Hoping for the best, declarer led dummy's remaining trump, playing the ten from his own hand. This time West took the trick. And now he could lead his carefully-preserved last diamond to make South ruff for the second time. This second ruff brought South down to one trump left, and West, and West was therefore sure to take the setting trick with his long trump. It was a spectacular hand, but it was very praiseworthy nevertheless. Heath had to discard spades rather than diamonds, had to refuse to take his ace of trumps until dummy's last trump was led. This is the bridge style for which Texas is famous all over the country.

Mrs. Warren Comes To Washington; She Has A Mamie - Like Personality

By PATTI SIMMONS
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON - (NEA) - Personality-wise, Mrs. Earl Warren is another Mamie Eisenhower. She is a son good-looking grandmother. She's feminine, frank, completely down-to-earth and happiest with the spotlight on her husband. Like Mamie, Mrs. Warren can't miss becoming a Washington favorite.

MRS. EARL WARREN: "A large family is best."

There are anecdotes aplenty about the wife of the new Chief Justice, and they all go with her motherly smile and Swedish blue eyes.
Just ask those gardeners in Sacramento, Calif., about Mrs. Warren's prize devil's food cake. The workmen who used to supply her with fresh flowers for her table could hardly believe it - a governor's wife taking time out to bake them a cake.
In 1946, Governor Warren's traveling secretary, "Pop" Small, had a son graduating from Annapolis. It was the day after election day, but in the midst of campaign confusion the governor insisted that Small make plans to get from California to Annapolis in time for the event.
Even Mrs. Warren didn't seem too busy to slip out and tackle a piece of special shopping. When Pop was ready to take off there was a package waiting for him. "I just thought you should have a new tie for the graduation," the thoughtful boss' wife explained.
Twenty-eight years ago the Chief Justice married a pretty young widow named Nina Palmquist Meyers. But only a couple of years ago, when Mr. and Mrs. Warren were returning from a trip in the state limousine Secretary Small couldn't help but notice that the governor and his bride of more than a few anniversaries were quietly holding hands in the back seat.

Mrs. Warren is that special kind of a spouse who not only knows how to pick her husband's neckties but how to iron his shirts. Many times, when the head of the house was taking off on a hunting trip, he was up at the crack of dawn. So was Mrs. Warren to get the breakfast and make sure he had a healthy pile of sandwiches.
When it comes to official entertaining, Mrs. Warren is as chatty and friendly as if she were standing over her kitchen stove turning out a batch of homemade fudge for the family.
If their Washington abode functions anything like the governor's mansion did back in California, things will be mighty informal, indeed. Although this last residence

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend
I wish to thank you for publishing our appeal for help for our friend with cancer. She found a very good nurse until she finally became so bad that we couldn't lift her anymore.
I realize I am late in writing to thank you but I was called away suddenly and have just returned home.
Would you please answer a question for me? Is there any place I could get nurses aide training here and is there an age limit set? My 18 year old daughter and I would both like to get it if we can.
We read and really appreciate your column.
Mrs. V. R.

Dear Mrs. V. R.
The Red Cross sponsors nurses aide classes. The training takes 80 hours and half of it is given in hospitals. Unless the hospitals in the vicinity are in need of nurses' aides there is no way that they can be trained. The training has not been offered in your area since the war.
Many Gray Ladies perform the duties of nurses aides at the Bloodmobile and in similar projects where that kind of service is needed.

Derelet Ships

Derelet ships, abandoned at sea, from a constant hazard to water travel. Every year, dozens of these wanderers are destroyed, but their numbers do not seem to decrease. Unlike icebergs, which follow a more or less charted course, abandoned ships are likely to appear anywhere at sea.

Whopping Increase In Toy Population Predicted For Christmas This Year

By CLAIRE COX
NEW YORK, Nov. 30 - UP - The nation's fickle feminine small fry are going to receive a record total of 20 million dolls for Christmas this year, the Toy Guidance Council promised Saturday.
This whopping increase in the toy population is going to cost nearly $100 million the council said.
Toy manufacturers have turned out dolls costing 25 cents to $25 - and some of them do just about everything but turn up their noses at spinach. There are dolls that walk, talk, cry, scream, sing and wet. One even smells something like a real, well-powdered baby.
Dolls make up about 15 per cent of the total toy sales volume - which is expected to reach $900 million this year, the Toy Council said. Toys are big business, and manufacturers are competing hotly for the favor of a discriminating young public.
Doll designers are contantly racing to be the first with the biggest and best replica of the newest television star or most popular comic strip characters. Some are using "education" as a gimmick to interest parents in buying dolls. Many dolls, as well as other toys, are promoted as "tie-ins" with commercial products.
One of the most popular dolls manufactured in recent years has hair that can be given a home permanent. The equipment that comes with it is made by a well-known cosmetics firm.
Nurse Doll HasZ Pull It
There is a nurse doll equipped with a first aid kit, including a thermometer, a rubber hypodermic needle and delicious candy pills. Another doll comes with a sewing kit and patterns, with which domestically inclined little girls can learn the fundamentals of sewing.
One of the latest models is a "Make-up" doll. It has a plastic skin on which young ladies can ply the fine art of smearing rouge, lipstick, mascara and other elements of the make-up they will hide behind some day.
The make-up, manufactured by a famous cosmetics concern, was concocted from a highly digestible vegetable substance, in case young customers should get hungry while playing.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
When Mary was four, her mother died. She went to live with her grandmother who had been left anxious and depressed by her daughter's death. She needed the money Mary's father gave her for looking after the child. To prove to him that she was earning it, she was both over-protective and over-strict with Mary.
Then Mary's father remarried. His wife was an anxious person, too. In her late thirties, she'd given up hope of attracting a husband and when she got one, wanted to keep him. To stimulate his appreciation of her, she developed the habit of exaggerating Mary's deficiencies to contrast them with her own neatness, thrift and competence.
As Mary grew into a pretty, belligerent teen-ager, her stepmother expressed her insecurity in direct attack. "That's right, show yourself off to the boys," she'd say bitterly. "Your father should whip you for wearing that blouse to school."
At 15, Mary was arrested as a sexually delinquent girl.
It is my hope that any reader of her story will see how little Mary's sex impulse had to do with her sex activity. What motivated her activity was not her sex impulses, but her desperate need to be known as a valuable person.
So starved for contact with human tenderness was Mary that she confused an older man's flattery with it, and gave a juvenile court a typical case record of precocious sex activity.
Her life was seriously hurt because she could not distinguish between sex needs and emotional needs.
The sex education of adolescent children should always stress the importance of this distinction.
It is very easy for Jane and Bert to confuse their sex needs with emotional ones.
For example, Bert finds it easier to believe he feels mad devotion to the girl who sympathizes with his anger at his father than to swallow his pride and discuss the anger with his father.
It is easier for Jane to believe herself uncontrollably enamored than to realize she needs the prestige of her popular boy friend.
It is easier for Alice to indulge in too ardent petting than to know she's jealous of her older sister's appeal for men.
In all these cases, what looks like sex impulses are really needs for reassurance and self-justification.
It's grand when parents can openly discuss this difference with their teen-age children. It's been my experience that they're unbelievably grateful for guidance and information on this important subject, for then they can see the danger of exploiting sex for reassurance and self-justification.

Harvester Cagers Set For Opener Tomorrow

Tuesday Tilt 1st Of 26 Games For Defending Champ

Cosen Clifton McKeely's Hustler Harvester cagers will enter in a brand new season tomorrow night when they host the Tulsa Hornets in a non-district game at Harvester Fieldhouse.

It will be the first of a 26-game slate for the defending District 1-AAAA and state champion Harvester. Twelve games will be played in December — all non-district affairs. The Green and Golders will open the defense of their District 1-AAAA title Jan. 8 against Lubbock here.

Tomorrow night's game will be the first of three for the Green and Golders this week. The Harvesters will journey to Snyder Friday and Saturday for a 2-game series with the Snyder Tigers.

The 1953-54 edition of the Harvesters will face the task of keeping the winning streak that has reached 28 in a row. McKeely's charges swept through a 29-game schedule undefeated last season, the first unbeaten cage season in Pampa's history.

Tomorrow's Harvester foe, Tulsa, has already got one game under its belt this season. The Hornets downed the White Deer Bucks last week, 49-48.

Two returning lettermen, headed by all-state Jimmy Bond, will lead the Harvesters against the Hornets in tomorrow's opening clash. The other letterman is guard Don Fagan.

Returning squadmen will likely find out the remaining starting berths. Gary Griffin and E. J. McElvan are virtually assured of a starting berth while Ken Hinkle, Gayle Trullinger or George Depee will fill in the other spot.

Footballers Harold Lewis, Bill Clapper and Buddy Sharp, and Buster Carter and Benny Cartwright round out the Harvester squad.

The Guerrillas will meet the Tulsa reserves in the opener of Harvester Fieldhouse. The game will start at 8:45 with the varsity tilt to follow immediately.

Two games have already been played by 1-AAAA teams. Borger downed Ferrington, 88-28, and Lubbock won over Soudown, 41-23, Saturday night in the initial action of the 1-A4A quint.

Jerry Walker On All BC 11

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 30—UP—Three-fourths of Texas Tech's high geared backfield and a trio of its linemen gave the school a dominating six places on the coaches' all-Border Conference team.

Tech's Jack Kirkpatrick, Bobby Cavazos and James Sides won the quarterback, halfback and fullback spots on the team, while tackles Jimmy Williams and Jerry Walker and guard Don Gray earned first-team berths.

Cavazos, drawing the most votes was named honorary captain.

The 12-man team—a tie resulted at center—also included end D. C. Andrews and center Sam Walker of Hardin-Simmons; halfback Ken Cardella; and center Glenn Bowers of Arizona; end John Allen of Temple State and guard Harris Cantrell of Texas Western.

The second team: Ends—Vic Spooner, Texas Tech; and Fene Odell, Texas Western; tackles—John Jankans, Temple, and Ernest Lewis, Arizona; guards—Ed Crow, HBU, and Lyle Pierson, Temple; center—Tommy Powell, West Texas; quarterback—Dick Shinnatt, Texas Western; halfbacks—Clavin Riley, Texas Western, and Riley Cross, HBU; fullback—Robert Weichel, West Texas.

Polk Robison's Red Raiders opened their 1953-54 schedule at home Tuesday (Dec. 1) night against Murray College. Then, on a quick swing through Tennessee, they'll meet University of Tennessee at Knoxville Thursday night, University of the South at Seawater Friday night, and Vanderbilt University at Nashville Saturday night.

Only one of the Raiders—Jimmie Sexton of Lubbock—has lettered two seasons at Tech. Among the four one-year lettermen is Durward Bolding of Mansfield, who lettered in his first year at Cameron Junior College before entering Tech last year.

Two of the returning lettermen are sophomores who lettered as freshmen last season—Jim Reed of Pine Bluff, Ark., and DuWayne Blackshear of Mountainair, N. M.

The fifth letterman, Carl Ince of Lubbock, played only the last half of the '52-'53 season. He had to stay out the first semester, establishing eligibility following his transfer from Rice, where he did not play two years ago.

Robison, in his 11th year at Tech, is rebuilding following the loss of five lettermen from last year, including his top two scorers and All-Border Conference performers, 4-foot 10 Paul Nolan of Alvarado and 6-foot 5 Virgil Johnson of Lubbock.

Starting forwards will probably be chosen from Reed, Bolding, Jim Whaley, Eastern New Mexico transfer Piner Clavin, N. M., squadman Decker McKim of Lubbock, and Esten Blackmon, Southern Methodist transfer from Abernathy; centers, from Bolding and squadman Eugene Carpenter of Big Spring; guards, from Sexton, Blackshear, and Ince.

Reed, all-Arkansas two years ago and Tech's leading rebounder last season, averaged 12.3 points per game to top returning cagers in scoring.

Following the McMurry game, the Raiders do not play at home again until Dec. 21, when they meet the College of the Pacific.

Mize Gets Release; Seeks Manager Job

By UNITED PRESS

Johnny Mize acquired his unconditional release from the New York Yankees Saturday and prepared to "shop around" for a job during next week's minor league meetings at Atlanta.

The best-faced slugger, one of the game's greatest home run hitters and a pinch-hitter de luxe for the Yankees the last five years, indicated he would like a job as a minor league manager or club league coach.

Asked if he would accept a play-er-contract from a club other than the Yankees, he replied: "It will have to be a mighty good offer."

Mize announced during the World Series he had decided to call it a career but didn't get around to asking the Yankees for his release until Friday. It was granted immediately.

In Baltimore, meanwhile, General Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox predicted the Yankees' reign may be ending and in Cincinnati, Manager Birdie Tebbets said the Cincinnati Reds "were capable of being a better team than their 1953 record indicates."

Detroit posted a 34-15 victory over the Green Bay Packers Thursday and boosted its Western Conference lead to a full game Sunday without moving a muscle. The Los Angeles Rams had a chance to cut idle Detroit's lead to a half-game but were upset by the Chicago Bears, 24-21. The Rams won trail by 1 1/2 games.

The San Francisco Forty-Niners moved into second place by defeating the Baltimore Colts, 24-21, but the Bear triumph allowed Detroit to increase its lead. Detroit is the only club with a perfect record against Cleveland, beating the Browns during the regular 1952 season and in the championship game.

Elsewhere, Ronald Clinkscales led Texas Christian to a 13-0 victory over SMU; Mississippi State tied Mississippi, 7-7; Jerry Marohand's three touchdowns led LSU to a 32-13 victory over Tulane, Tennessee flattened Vanderbilt, 33-6, and Lamar McHan threw three touchdown passes as Arkansas downed Tulsa, 27-7.

Tech averaged 38.9 points per game in piling up 428 points over the 11-game schedule, but against its loop rivals the powerful Tech offensive averaged 47.2 points per contest.

Texas Western boasted the next best full-season mark, winning seven of nine games and losing only to Tech and Hardin-Simmons.

Arkansas' Lamar McHan and Kesse Johnson of the Cotton Bowl-bound Rice Owls have carried away Southwest Conference individual offensive honors, statistics released Monday showed.

McHan, one of the most talented backs in conference history, finished first in three departments—total offense, passing and punting and second to Dicky Moegle of Rice in punt returns.

In Arkansas' closing 27 to 7 victory over Tulsa Saturday, the tall Lake Village, Ark., senior passed for 218 yards and ran for 31 more to give him a total offense figure of 1,812 yards in 10 games, 588 yards more than Don Ellis of Texas A&M who also finished his season.

McHan passed Davidson

It took the last games of the season for McHan to pass Baylor's Francis (Cotton) Davidson in passing. The Bear quarterback led with 993 passing yards after the SMU game 10 days ago, but threw for only 89 yards in Baylor's 41 to 19 loss to Rice Saturday. It dropped Davidson to second place with 1,093 yard passes.

Ellis finished second in total offense with 1,128 yards and Davidson was in third with 1,068 yards. In conference games he finished his schedules except SMU, which means Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., Saturday. But none of the Mustang players figure to finish high in individual statistics.

McHan Leads Punters

In punting, McHan booted 46 times for 1,851 yards and a 40.6 average. Texas' Douglas Cameron, on 28 kicks, finished in second place with a 36.3-yard average.

Johnson, the Owls' booming fullback, was the leading ball carrier, packing the ball 188 times for 944 yards, an average 5.0-yards-per-carry. His running mate, Moegle, carried 114 times for 433 yards and a 3.7-yard average. This pair stood head and shoulders above the field.

Baylor's L. O. Dupre, in third place, gained 893 yards on 134 carries, 240 yards behind Moegle and 351 yards back of Johnson.

Johnson and Moegle were also "touchdown twins," the former scoring 62 points and Moegle 61 to rank one-two in scoring. Johnson is the state with an average of more than 29 points-per-game.

Final SWC Action SMU, Notre Dame Clash Saturday

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

The main course of the Southwest Conference grid menu was history Monday with Rice and Texas as co-champions and Rice in the Cotton Bowl against Alabama, but there's a bit of dessert coming up this week in the form of a renewal of the Southern Methodist-Notre Dame rivalry.

And, despite SMU's mediocre 8-4 season record history indicates next Saturday's clash at South Bend, Ind., will be a slam-bang affair in which the touted fighting Irish may have a rough time maintaining a fine record blemished only by a tie with identical 5-1 SMU and Notre Dame have met twice in the past five years and each time the score was 27 to 20 with the Irish winning the 1949 encounter in Dallas and SMU taking the 1951 contest at South Bend.

Gave Notre Dame Scars

The Methodists had won only five games, lost three and tied one before giving Notre Dame the scare of its life in the first meeting, and had dropped two of its first three games in 1951—indicating that season records mean little to SMU in its try for the "big one."

SMU and Notre Dame also met twice back in the 1930s with the Irish winning 20 to 14 in 1930 and 20 to 19 in 1939.

This week's renewal of this high-scoring rivalry will mark the end of a very form-satisfying conference season except for Rice's well-earned New Year's Day date with the Southeastern Conference champions from Alabama.

The 1953 flag chase ended almost exactly as the "experts" predicted with only slight variations.

Rice Got Edge

Rice and Texas, picked to finish one-two or vice-versa as co-favorites, wound up with identical 5-1 records with Rice getting the bowl bid on Texas' deference to the Owls' last-minute 18-to-13 midweek victory over the Longhorns.

Texas closed on a 21-to-12 victory note over Texas A&M on Thanksgiving Day, while Rice exhibited its strongest kick of the season in thrashing Baylor's late bid 4

Pearl Beer Company Opens For Business In Amarillo

Pearl Beer Distributing Company opened for business in Amarillo, recently at 701 East Third, under the management of Gordon L. Taylor.

The new distributor will service Pampa, Borger, Dalhart, Dumas and other nearby cities.

Pearl Brewery, one of the largest breweries in the Southwest, has just completed a 50 per cent expansion program. When in the Panhandle, Datus E. Proper, vice-president and general manager for Pearl, said the plant expansion permitted the company to add the Panhandle market to its sales area.

"The addition of the Panhandle market completes the State of Texas for Pearl, as we now have distributors in all areas of the State."

"We had wanted to have our product in this market before, but unfortunately, due to limited plant capacity, our beer had to be rationed," the brewery executive said.

Gives School $1 Million

HOUSTON, Nov. 30—UP—Hugh Roy Cullen, who eight days ago gave $2,350,000 to the University of Houston, turned in another check Saturday and gave $1 million to the Baylor College of Medicine, located in Houston.

The gift brought Cullen's contribution to the medical school to $2,810,000.

Even that sum, though, is little more than a pittance when compared with the estimated $30 million or more he has donated to Houston.

The contribution Saturday was in answer to a drive by the college to raise $4 million to cover operating expenses for the next 10 years.

Baylor's medical school moved here in 1943 from Dallas under an agreement with the Houston Chamber of Commerce and the M. D. Anderson foundation combined to provide $1.5 million for operating expenses over a 10-year period. Those agreements end this year and the school is seeking other revenue.

Dr. Stanley W. Olson, dean of the medical school, said he was "tremendously pleased" by what he termed "this most substantial contribution for the support of the Baylor College of Medicine."

Toy Trains' Cost Make Him Happy His Child Is A Girl

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—UP— "I'm glad my child is a girl. She doesn't like trains."

I just had a look into the toy train deal and the gamut, if you can run it — runs from very little to pretty high, price-wise.

You can get a wind-up job for as little as 98 cents. This deal, though, is not guaranteed to make the far turn and come up to a stop without grunting for replacements of parts.

But if you want the works, you can spend up into the hundreds of dollars for toy stations, engines which shoot out real smoke, bridges, and other extras.

Deals in Trains

There is a place in Washington, called Superior Lock and Electrical Co. which deals in toy trains. Also everything that goes with 'em from a 59 cent engineer's cap to diesel engines which run way up there in the big dollar department.

Manager of the second story little place is George Parezo.

George, who admits to being older than most trains still operating, never uncoupled a freight car or sat in the engineer's cabin. He's been busy handling nothing but play trains for many years.

"I've always been a toy train man," he told me. "My father, Charles, was an engineer. He told me to sell 'em — don't drive 'em."

George has been selling them almost half a century.

Prices Come High

At this Christmas tide, our man says the average person has to spend around $20 for a track, and the far things a freight car or total — overall — of at least $50 for the works. He can go way under that if he doesn't care for the "works."

"If he wants to, though," the man who sells trains hastened to add, "he can go up to $350 or above for the best there is."

"Most extras are extra in cost. Sure, you can buy a cheap train, which would keep young junior happy. Also you can buy transformers, small station houses, gas stations, and other paraphernalia that will go to the sky, price-wise. You also can have a lot of fun for very little money."

Extras High, Too

"You can pay as much as $25.50 for a switch," George said. "Or you can get one as cheap as $1.35, if you want a diesel engine you can go as high as $65.50."

Trains, I always thought were for kids. No matter what they cost, George and I were having a little talk about trains and tracks in general when a little boy came up and said:

"Look mister, my Daddy has a nice train up in the attic. Would it be all right if I give you and my Daddy and Santa my address? I would like to have a train—all to myself."

George, being a business man, made a note — of Daddy's address.

Couple Arrested With Marijuana

Both were charged with smuggling marijuana from Mexico. At a preliminary hearing after their arrest, U.S. Commissioner Frank Y. Hill set bond at $500 for the man. The woman was released on her own recognizance.
