'GLAD TO BE BACK'

Converted US PW Due To Re-enlist

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Nov. 19—UP—Cpl. Edward Dickenson, a Virginia mountain boy who embraced communism while in the Army, returned to his home Thursday with plans to re-enlist in the Army.

Senators Urge Dulles Appeal For Gouzenko

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—UP—Senate investigators urged Secy. of State John Foster Dulles Thursday to make a personal appeal to Canadian authorities to release Igor Gouzenko for questioning about Russian spy rings active in the U.S. government at the time of the Harry Dexter White case.

Gouzenko is the former code clerk of the Soviet embassy at Ottawa, who was the star witness in a Canadian Royal Commission's 1946 investigation of Russian atomic espionage. He is now a ward of the Canadian government.

The subcommittee sought permission to question him earlier this month, but the Canadian government turned down the request on the grounds Gouzenko has already told all he knows.

The Senate subcommittee and the House Un-American Activities committee are investigating charges that White and several other alleged Communist agents were kept in the government and even promoted by the Truman administration despite FBI reports linking them to a Soviet spy network.

Other developments in the politically explosive inquiry: Former Secretary of the Treasury W. Snyder told a reporter he did not wish to comment at this time on the subcommittee's disclosure he both promoted and praised Glasser after the latter had been tabbed by the FBI as a spy suspect.

County To Receive '54 License Tags

County Tax Assessor - Collector F. E. Leach today announced that Gray County's license plates for 1954 — 15,475 of them — were due to arrive in his office sometime this afternoon.

More than two-thirds of them — 10,990 — will be for passenger vehicles, Leach said. The number of blocks on them for 1954 will be AS-10 to AD-6649 and AR-9650 to AR-9999.

The new plates will not be on sale till Feb. 1, however, the county official pointed out. Deadline for purchasing them will be April 1.

Other type plates and the number of them slated to arrive are truck (2,300), farm truck (1,040), truck tractor (78), farm truck tractor (10), trailer (850), house trailer (150), motorcycle (60) and dealer (100).

Also coming from Amarillo by truck are 100 for "factory delivery" — go out of state and bring back a vehicle) and five for city buses. "Only we haven't got any more city buses," Leach commented.

Musing Wednesday afternoon on the fact that the plates are usually delivered through the big windows facing Russell, Leach said it is usually quite a cold day when they arrive.

RULES DEATH JUSTIFIABLE

HOUSTON, Nov. 19—UP—Tavern owner Olen Jones, 58, father of the divorced first wife of playboy Sheppard W. (Abdullah) King, was shot to death justifiably by his own wife, Justice of the Peace Dave Thompson ruled Wednesday.

Mrs. Marie Jones, 27, said her husband frequently had threatened while under influence of liquor to kill her and their two children, and threatened them repeatedly before she shot him at their home Monday.

Sheriff's officers, at Wednesday's inquest hearing, quoted the two small children as telling essentially the same story as their mother.

Jones was the father of Mrs. Gloria King, divorced first wife of Abdullah.

Hunter To Get Clipped, Too

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Nov. 19—UP—An unidentified hunter faces a rough time for shooting four mallard ducks on a private farm.

The four ducks had their wings clipped and, according to the owner, were "so tame they'd swim up to you while you fed them."

The owner is Sheriff Roy Taylor. He said of the 22 American prisoners who have turned down repatriation, "only six or seven actually believe in communism."

"Others are afraid." "The others want to come back, but they're afraid."

Dickenson came down the rear ramp of the C-97 that flew him from Honolulu, waving and smiling. After posing for photographers, he told newsmen the story of his imprisonment by the Reds in Korea and why he temporarily accepted communism.

He said after a 17-day march following his capture in November, 1950, he was placed in a study group at prison camp and forced to attend lectures.

"Easily in 1952," he continued, "and several others tried to escape, but we were caught the next day. We were placed in a camp doing hard labor and were often beaten."

Studied Communist Theory After 27 days of this, he said, his Chinese Communist captors placed him in a "small" group to study Communist theory.

"They made me write articles and papers favorable to communism," he said. "They led me to believe the articles would be printed in Communist newspapers in the United States."

He said the Chinese tried to force him to inform on other "reactionary" prisoners, but he refused.

TOKYO, Nov. 19—UP—The United States made plain Thursday it intended to push its drive to have Japanese troops take over their own defenses in the Far East fight against communism.

In a major policy statement which strongly reiterated the program for which America has been working quietly, Vice President Richard M. Nixon told the Japanese they would have to rear arm whether they like it or not.

The Japanese thus far have shown little enthusiasm for rearmament. Forces led by Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida favor ultimate reconstitution of Japanese armed forces, now outlawed under the American-sponsored constitution.

But opposition forces are largely opposed, and the people in general are apathetic since war have lost its glamor after this country's defeat in World War II.

"The principal responsibility of Japan's defense must rest on Japan and the Japanese people," he said.

"It is because we believe in peace and want peace that we ourselves have rearmed since 1946," he continued, "and we believe that Japan and other free nations must do their shares to insure world peace."

Addressing a packed luncheon meeting jointly sponsored by the American Chamber of Commerce and the America-Japan society, Nixon emphasized:

"The threat (to world peace) has grown so great that we must change our hopes and opinions of 1946."

"Japan occupies a key strategic position in Asia," he said. "If Japan falls, all of Asia falls and if Asia falls, Japan will also fall. They work to maintain adequate defense and strength."

Nixon said the United States wanted only friendship with other powers, but warned that anti-Sovietism is "realistic" and analyzes the "threat presented by the international Communist movement."

BEAUMONT, Nov. 19—UP—Three Iowa youths who admitted robbing three service stations were held in nearby Hardin county Thursday after they were captured during their automobile chase.

The teen-age boys were identified by Jefferson County Deputy Sheriff Tommy Grant as George Louis Peek, 19, of Ida Grove, Ia., and Larry Leland Bishop, 17, of Mt. Pleasant, Ia.

Grant said the trio admitted robbing in Texas the Dixie Service Station at Jacksonville of $290, the Atkinson Service Station at Lufkin of $150 and the Bell Service Station at Kountze of $112.

Greek Royalty To Take Back Texas Memory

HOUSTON, Nov. 19—UP—The king and queen of Greece will have a lasting impression of Texas to take home with them, but her majesty ruefully admitted Thursday night their memories of the trip will include "buckets of rain."

Throughout their visit here, the skies were literally as wide open as they're supposed to be in the great outdoors.

But, unlike the ballads of the West, it wasn't the stars that were coming through — it was rain.

Nevertheless, the royal pair did have a chance to ride, briefly, a couple of Texas palominos, much to the consternation of U.S. State Department officials.

That occurred at the Alief, Tex., ranch of oilman R. E. (Bob) Smith where King Paul and Queen Frederika appeared briefly Wednesday through a rodeo in their honor had to be canceled.

Both mounted horses belonging to one of the rodeo cowhands and a sheriff's posse member.

Even when her horse shied the queen remained calm and later an aide explained that both were excellent riders.

The couple also took back western outfits including 10-gallon hats, high-heeled boots and western-style shirts, trousers and skirt. The boots were very appropriate in the slush and mud.

They'll also probably remember the food — barbecued beef, ranch-style beans and trimmings served at a barbecue, and such a variety of items as Gulf oysters, Gulf shrimp, pheasant, hamburgers and hot dogs served by Mayor Roy Hofheinz at a buffet dinner for them Wednesday night before they left for New Orleans.

Opponents of the authority, however, insist that money may very well be involved in this first vote. Two Pampa lawyers testified to that opinion earlier in the week at a public meeting.

TEHUANTEPEC, Mex., Nov. 19.—UP—The Red Cross said that six persons were killed and an undetermined number injured Thursday when they were struck by a race car driven by Bob Christie of Grant's Pass, Ore., as they clustered around a previous wreck in the Pan-American auto race.

Red Infiltration Seen At GE Plants

BOSTON, Nov. 19—UP—A surprise witness who identified himself as an FBI undercover agent said Thursday a Communist cell with access to all secret military data exists at General Electric Co. plants in Lynn and Fitchburg, Mass.

The witness, William Teto, told Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's Permanent Investigating subcommittee there is "a Communist cell of 30 at the Lynn GE plant and 15 at Fitchburg."

McCarthy's committee is investigating suspected Communist activities in General Electric plants. Teto said he became a Communist in 1942 for the FBI. He said he attended Communist party meetings at Fitchburg and Boston.

He said he was recording secretary of the Communist party while working for GE at Fitchburg. McCarthy said GE was "a natural place for infiltration" and he did not want to consider the testimony Thursday as "an indictment of GE."

Absentee Vote On River Dam Closes Friday

An even 20 Pampans had cast absentee ballots by late morning in the confirmation election on the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, slated for Tuesday.

Deadline for casting absentee ballots is 5 p.m. Friday. City Secretary Ed Vicars emphasized again today.

No one will be permitted to vote Saturday, Sunday or Monday because of the law which states there must be a three-day period between absentee voting and Election Day.

Advocates of the authority maintain that an affirmative vote by a majority of Pampa residents will mean that Pampa keeps its rights in the authority without becoming liable for the spending of any money. The money end of it will come in a second election, they say.

Opponents of the authority, however, insist that money may very well be involved in this first vote. Two Pampa lawyers testified to that opinion earlier in the week at a public meeting.

Iowa Youths Caught After Theft Spree

BEAUMONT, Nov. 19—UP—Three Iowa youths who admitted robbing three service stations were held in nearby Hardin county Thursday after they were captured during their automobile chase.

The teen-age boys were identified by Jefferson County Deputy Sheriff Tommy Grant as George Louis Peek, 19, of Ida Grove, Ia., and Larry Leland Bishop, 17, of Mt. Pleasant, Ia.

Grant said the trio admitted robbing in Texas the Dixie Service Station at Jacksonville of $290, the Atkinson Service Station at Lufkin of $150 and the Bell Service Station at Kountze of $112.

The robberies were staged between midnight and 3 a.m. Wednesday, and officers recovered $556.90 when the youths were captured 25 minutes after the last holdup.

Deputy Sheriff Asa Hickman heard a pickup order on his radio and sped to U.S. 60, leading into Beaumont.

He gave chase to the boys' 1950 Mercury and 10 minutes after the pickup order was broadcast, he arrested them when their car failed to turn a curve. The youths, who crawled from the wreckage unhurt, confirmed they were traveling 100 miles an hour.

The trio, who said they left Ida Grove, Ia., Nov. 12, were charged in Kountze with armed robbery. Officers alleged the boys subdued two attendants at the Kountze service station with two large hunting knives and left them tied up.

Commiss Claim To Have Broken Band Of Agents BERLIN, Nov. 19—UP—The Communists said Thursday they have "smashed a band of American agents" in Soviet Germany.

The Red agency ADN said an undisclosed number of anti-Communists were arrested in a coal mine near the industrial city of Leipzig, where they were "plotting to blow up a conveyor belt."

COLD SPELL HITS PAMPA

It seems that "Old Man Winter" is about to pay a visit to the Pampa area.

Low temperatures of from 22 to 32 degrees are forecast for the Panhandle tonight and there is a possibility that the season's first snow might fall. Snow flurries are forecast.

The mercury was falling this morning, according to a report from the weather station at Radio Station KPDM. At 11 a.m. the temperature was 39 degrees and the high earlier this morning was 41. The low reading Wednesday night was 39 degrees. Wednesday's high temperature was 66.

Jury Deliberates Only 67 Minutes

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 19—UP—A federal jury decided in an hour and seven minutes Thursday that kidnap - murderers Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady should be executed and they were sentenced to die in the poison gas chamber on Dec. 18.

Hall and Mrs. Heady, who confessed to kidnaping and murdering six-year-old Bobby Greenlease for a $600,000 ransom Sept. 28, took the verdict with the same stoical calm they had displayed through the trial.

Mrs. Heady looked up and smiled in Hall's direction but he did not see her. He was resting his chin on his palm with his elbow on a table and looking at the floor.

Robert C. Greenlease, Bobby's wealthy, 71-year-old father, stared intently at Hall, but his face remained impassive, except for a brief cording of muscles in his jaw.

The prisoners were called before the bar, Hall standing on the right of U. S. District Judge Albert L. Reeves and Mrs. Heady standing on his left. Their sleeves almost touched, but they looked up and straight at the judge, never at each other.

Judge Reeves, a somber, 70-year-old man in black robes, asked Hall whether he had anything to say.

Hall said, "no, sir," the first audible words he has uttered since his trial started.

He asked Mrs. Heady the same thing and she formed the words, "no, sir," with her lips, but the words themselves could not be heard, except possibly by Hall.

"You, Carl Austin Hall," the judge said, "shall be transported by the U. S. marshal to Jefferson City (Mo.), the state capital, where the sentence of death shall be imposed upon you in the lethal gas chamber, during the day of Dec. 18, 1953."

Part of the hour and seven minutes the jury was out was consumed in selecting a jury foreman. A deathly hush fell over the courtroom as the clerk read the verdict.

Boston Prof Suspended As Red Suspect

BOSTON, Nov. 19—UP—Prof. Maurice Halperin was under suspension from the Boston University faculty Thursday because of his suspected affiliation with a wartime Communist spy ring in Washington.

President Harold C. Case announced Wednesday night that University officials would "re-study" Halperin's record in the light of an FBI report made public in Washington Tuesday by Attorney General Herbert Brownell while testifying in the Harry Dexter White case.

Halperin's name was among several others listed as being suspected of feeding government secrets to Russia. This list was contained in a 1945 letter from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to Brig. Gen. Harry H. Vaughn, military aide to former President Truman.

At the time, Halperin was a member of the Office of Strategic Services.

Halperin was separated from his official duties at Boston University as of noon Wednesday, pending the result of his case by university committees and a final decision by the board of trustees.

Earlier this year, Halperin invoked the Fifth Amendment when questioned about his past activities by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Halperin is a former faculty member of the University of Oklahoma, and came under fire from the Oklahoma's "Little Dies committee" in 1941. The committee of legislators recommended that he be dismissed from OU because of suspected leftist leanings, but the regents refused to fire him. However, he resigned from the faculty to take a government job.

Thursday Sheppard was here to investigate the matter personally and indicated he would seek to have Bush's and John Burkenburger's organizers cards withdrawn by the secretary of state's office.

He also has asked the National Labor Relations Board to disenfranchise the union and said he had asked the Oil Workers International (CIO) a strong group to stop refinery town, to withhold its support of the union.

The union has called strikes in some 20 business establishments, most of them cafes and drive-ins but including two large department stores and two leading hotels in efforts to get recognized as bargaining agent for hundreds of clerical workers, waitresses and retail clerks.

T-H Law Slated For Fight From CIO Officials CLEVELAND, Nov. 19—UP—Top CIO officials Thursday rejected a plea by Secretary of Labor James H. Douglas to stop arguing repeal of the Taft-Hartley act and promised to use all "energies and resources" to wipe out the controversial law.

President Walter P. Reuther and other officials called on the national CIO convention to approve a resolution pledging continued efforts "for repeal of the unfair and unjust Taft-Hartley act." Delegates were prepared to give overwhelming support to the proposal.

Action on the resolution was due less than 24 hours after Mitchell had appeared at the convention to urge the CIO to "preclude further talk of repeal of the act." He said it would be the "point of realism" to accept the principle that "many of its features are sound, fair and just" and promised to try and eliminate the "really unfair" sections.

Three Fined On Assault Charge

"When people go to an elderly woman's house and start shoving her around, we just don't tolerate it in this county," Sheriff Rufe Jordan said today.

That is what three persons — a man and two women — did in Alameda, he said.

After pleading guilty to charges of aggravated assault in county court Wednesday afternoon, Leo Girardi was fined $50 and costs and his wife was fined $25 and costs. Mrs. Delores Howard was fined $25 and costs on charges of disturbing the peace.

The charges grew out of an assault Tuesday night upon Mrs. Fiedelle Stubbs, 65 Alameda. Sheriff Jordan said that Mrs. Howard's two children were staying with Mrs. Stubbs and the three defendants went to her home to get them. He said they "took over the house and started shoving Mrs. Stubbs around."

Mr. and Mrs. Girardi and Mrs. Howard were arrested by Potter County officers, who turned them over to the Gray County sheriff's department.

Wheeler County 4-H Club Formed

WHEELER — (Special) — Wheeler 4-H delegates, officers and adult leaders met recently to organize a joint boys and girls 4-H council for Wheeler County. The main portion of the program dealt with the explanation of the purpose and function of such a 4-H council.

An election of officers was also held. Those chosen include Evelyn Fillingim of Briscoe, chairman; Jackie Helton of Briscoe, co-chairman; Wanda Topper of Wheeler, vice-chairman; Carrel Pitcock of Kelton, secretary; Phyllis Richardson of Wheeler, assistants secretary; Jim Porter of Wheeler, reporter; and Ronald D. Pitcock of Kelton, treasurer.

It was decided to set up finance, year book, recreation and exhibit committees within the council. A standing rules committee was selected with Mrs. Earnest Zych of Briscoe, Patay Ramsey of Briscoe and Jimmy Levitt of Allison as members.

Meetings of the Wheeler 4-H council will be held the first Saturday of each month in the district courtroom, Wheeler.

Proposed Army Still Under Study

Pampa National Guard officials late this morning were still awaiting final word on the construction of the proposed Texas National Guard army in Recreation Park.

Capt. Charles L. Robison, commanding officer of the Pampa unit, talked on the phone earlier in the week with Austin Guard officials who told him the plans were still bottled up in the National Guard Bureau in Washington D. C.

But the eventual construction of it is a sure thing. Guard officials in Pampa reiterated this morning.

Once the Washington outfit okays it, the plans then go to the Texas National Guard Army Board in Austin. Then Pampa gets the green light.

White Carried High Position In Government

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (UP) — The man now officially tagged as the top Communist in the Treasury Department during the Roosevelt-Truman administrations was given large authority in vast and sensitive government areas.

Harry Dexter White rose in 11 years to be assistant secretary of treasury in charge of international finance and, finally, U.S. executive director of the International Monetary Fund. From that job he resigned and, 16 months later, died.

Secretary Henry W. Morgenthau Jr. repeatedly chose White for additional sensitive Treasury duties as, for example:

Dec. 15, 1941 — Given full responsibility for all Treasury matters bearing on foreign relations.

Feb. 25, 1943 — Made responsible for all Treasury economic and financial matters related to Army, Navy and civilian affairs operations anywhere overseas.

Served on 18 important bodies. White was official Treasury representative on 18 interdepartmental or international bodies. Here's a sample of them:

Interdepartmental Lend-Lease Committee.
Interdepartmental Committee on Post-War Economic Problems.
National Munitions Control Board.
Board of Economic Warfare.
OSS Advisory Commission.
OSS was the famous Office of Strategic Services, the counter-espionage and counter-propaganda agency of the government. In the Board of Economic Warfare and the National Munitions Control Board lay most of the vital information related to the materials available to this country and its allies to wage war.

All of the bodies on which White served were important. Some were vital to the war effort, their secret files significant to the security of the United States. White made many journeys as United States representative to meetings in foreign countries or on other missions abroad.

White was shifted in 1946 to the newly created International Monetary Fund, taking office May 1 as its first U.S. executive director — one of 14 directors from various countries. He had been slated for managing director of the whole fund but was diverted from that job when three of President Truman's cabinet members saw FBI reports of White's Communist connections and advised against so fine a post for White.

Area Entries Due In Livestock Show

Many entries from the Panhandle and South Plains are expected to be entered in the Top o' Texas Hereford Breeders Association Livestock Show and Sale, which will be held in conjunction with the five-county Junior Livestock Show and Sale Jan. 25-27, according to Clyde Carruth, general superintendent of the unit.

Carruth was named to head the show at a meeting of the Agriculture committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

In charge of the Future Farmers judging contest will be Quentin Williams, Pampa real estate man. Ralph Thomas, county agricultural agent will be Carruth's assistant and assisting Williams will be J. P. Smith of Pan Tech farm.

Serving with these men on an executive committee will be Clinton Evans, Chamber president; Paul Crouch, chairman of chamber agriculture committee, and Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr.

While entries are expected from all parts of the Panhandle and South Plains areas in the Hereford Breeders show, only five counties will be represented in the Junior Livestock show. They will come from Gray, Roberts, Wheeler, Hemphill and Carson counties.

Death Penalty

An exit broke through an FBI agent and U. S. marshal and the doors of the courtroom were promptly locked.

The jury filed back in and Judge Reeves asked the foreman whether they had reached a verdict. Actually, the only decision the jury had to make was between death and life imprisonment for the defendants, since they had already pleaded guilty.

"Yes, your honor, we have," the foreman said.

The foreman handed the verdicts to the bailiff, who took them immediately to Judge Reeves.

After the judge read the verdicts silently, he turned them over to the clerk of the court.

The clerk read them aloud.

Defense Explains Point

As the jury went out, Hall's attorney, Roy K. Dietrich, disclosed that Hall had become remorseful and sought religious comfort.

"I did not want to reveal this before, because I did not want his remorse brought into this trial as a mitigating circumstance," Dietrich said.

"But now that the case has gone to the jury I can disclose that in recent weeks two ministers have visited Hall in his jail cell."

Tax Collections Reported Today

Junior Group Of Red Cross Readies Gifts

Enrollment for Junior Red Cross membership began in Pampa this week under the direction of Homer Craig, JRC chairman. The organization was created during World War I when President Woodrow Wilson declared there should be such a group.

"It was created in a time of crisis so children would share in the nation's efforts to preserve democracy," states Mrs. F. W. Shobwell, secretary of Pampa's Red Cross chapter. "It offers the children the opportunity to serve others."

During December, the Junior Red Cross group in Pampa will pack gift boxes for children overseas. Senior High school students are now building a chest in their manual training classes which will be placed in the hallway to be filled for the relief of children in Korea. 175,000 such chests and boxes were sent from the Midwest last year, 140 of which came from Pampa.

Pampa teachers directing the membership campaigns in the schools include Miss Frances Huff, Sam Houston School; Otto Mangold, Baker; Miss Pearl Spang, Woodrow Wilson; Miss Roy Riley, Junior High School; Miss Madge Rusk, Senior High School; Miss Bernice Lash, Lamar; Mrs. Faydell Adams, Horace Mann; Mrs. Richard D. Faulkenstein, the Parochial School; J. C. Randall, Carver; and Bob Peterson, Lefors.

Lynn Crider, representing Mud Control Labs, Inc., will be the featured speaker at an upcoming meeting of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute.

Get-together is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Palm Room of the City Hall, according to J. W. Graham, acting chapter chairman.

Crider will discuss "New Developments in Drilling Muds" and will demonstrate the latest methods of mixing and controlling viscosities and weights of drilling fluids. Graham said today.

Following his talk, a color film of a recent conference football game will be shown.

Next meeting of the Panhandle's API is slated for 7 p.m. Dec. 2 in the Bunavista Cafeteria, Borger. It'll be the annual election of officers banquet.

Cockrell Wins Prize In Rodeo

Pampa's Lee Cockrell recently won first prize in calf roping and second prize in ribbon roping at the Sam Houston State Teacher's College Rodeo at Huntsville.

At present, he is also in first place in the Inter-Collegiate Rodeo calf-roping championship. The contest lasts throughout the school year and in order to become final champion, Cockrell will have to maintain his position until June.

Cockrell also won two jackpots at a recent rodeo in Abilene, one for roping a calf in 9.77 seconds. In this contest, he won the Average and Championship Bell buckles and was competing against some of the top RCA boys, including Doyle Riley who recently won the calf roping contest in Madison Square Gardens.

Cage Tourney Slated Here

The sports committee of the Chamber of Commerce will furnish the trophies for the First Annual "Top o' Texas" Invitational basketball tournament, it was declared at a meeting of the committee this morning.

The tourney, to be held at Harvester Field House, Jan. 1-2, will attract four teams: Birdville of Fort Worth, AHSU Chickasha, Okla., and the Harvesters.

It was agreed upon by the committee to give trophies to all four teams with the first and second place teams in receiving extra large trophies; give a miniature trophy to each of the five players chosen on the all-tournament team.

Ham Luna was named chairman of the trophy committee. Others on the committee are D. M. Dickey, Clifton McNeely and Buck Francis.

The sports committee also made a move to seek to bring a bi-district football game to Pampa. There are several teams in the area who will be playing in the state playoffs starting next week and the committee will be keeping a close eye on the best possibilities to bring a game to Harvester Stadium.

The best possibility at present appears to be the winner of the Phillips-Dumas game against Otton in a Class AA bi-district game, Phillips and Dumas are playing Friday night at Phillips.

Ralph McKinney, president of the sports committee, presided at the meeting this morning.

County Residents Pay Poll Taxes

Hundreds of Gray County residents — 439 of them — have already made sure that they'll be able to vote in 1954 elections.

Late this morning that number had paid their $1.75 poll taxes in the county tax office, according to Jack Back, chief deputy tax assessor-collector.

An even 100 exemptions had also been issued, Back said.

Key Figures In The Spy Controversy

THE SENSATIONAL STATEMENT—by Attorney General Brownell that Harry Dexter White was a Soviet spy and that the Truman administration supported and promoted him when they knew this fact, has sparked one of the year's hottest controversies. It may be a burning political issue in the 1954 elections. President Truman scuffed at the charge. Some personalities involved support him, others support Brownell. In the meantime, the House un-American Activities Committee subpoenaed Truman, Gov. Byrnes and Justice Tom Clark about the promotion. All of them refused to honor the summons. Below are the key figures in the controversy.

HARRY DEXTER WHITE: One-time assistant secretary of the treasury, who was named a Soviet spy by Attorney General Herbert Brownell. White died in 1948 after denying Communist affiliation.

JUSTICE TOM CLARK: At the time of the White report Attorney General—"no comment."

MAJ. GEN. HARRY VAUGHAN: "I never heard of Harry Dexter White and I never received any such report from the FBI."

EX-PRES. HARRY S. TRUMAN: "I know nothing of any such FBI report. As soon as we found White disloyal we fired him. The Republicans need some headlines to offset their election defeat."

GOV. JAMES BYRNES: "I told the President in view of the charges in the Hoover report, we should ask the Senate to withhold action and withdraw White's nomination"

SPRUILLE BRADEN: "The report must have been in two sections with State Department coming to us and the Treasury Department getting the other. I wouldn't have seen the part about White in that case."

ATTY. GEN. HERBERT BROWNELL: "The records in my department show that White's spying activities for the Soviet government were reported in detail by the FBI to the White House by means of a report delivered to President Truman through his military aide, Brig.-Gen. Harry Vaughan."

ADM. WILLIAM D. LEAHY: "The report may have been sent to me, but I have no recollection of it, and I don't think I ever saw the damn thing."

Floridans Help Quads' Parents

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Nov. 19—UP—The scholarly father of one-day-old quadruplets resumed regular class routine Thursday despite his worries over an added burden to his $900 fellowship income.

But a warm-hearted University of Florida student body and townspeople showered gifts of food and money on Wafsi A. Hijab, 34, and his wife Abia, 33, foreign students who became parents of three girls and a boy Wednesday.

Hijab, a native of Nebulus, Jordan, and his wife, Tuikarm in Palestine, are studying here before returning to the Near East as teachers. Hijab said they had already begun to spend savings from previous teaching jobs during their travels.

The foreign students, whose only means of support apparently is the fellowship and dwindling savings, had expected only twins but "the babies just kept coming." They also have a three-year-old daughter, Nadia.

The slender, bespectacled father said he did not think the event would "interrupt my studies any" and he would "go to school as usual" Thursday but he admitted that "it may make a difference to my wife."

He missed his classes Wednesday. The pretty, dark-haired and dark-eyed woman and the four babies, now in incubators, were in "good" condition Wednesday night, according to Dr. Raymond S. Camp.

Blizzards Forecast In Western States

By UNITED PRESS
The first blizzards of the season were forecast Thursday for the western prairie states, but heavy Indian summer weather made a last stand east of the Mississippi.

A heavy storm Wednesday night and early Thursday had already blanketed the Rocky Mountain States with up to 11 inches of snow, almost paralyzing traffic and posing a threat to big game hunters camped in wilderness areas.

The mountain storm, however, was not intense enough to be officially classified as a blizzard.

The weather bureau forecast true blizzard conditions Thursday for west and central Nebraska and western Kansas. The mercury was not expected to climb above 20 degrees in the storm centers and up to six inches of snow was forecast.

The front of cold Canadian and Pacific air which precipitated the snow storms was marching southward at a fair clip, but it moved eastward at a snail's pace of only about five miles per hour.

Early Thursday the cooler air had reached a line extending from western Lake Superior through Iowa to western Texas. Scattered light rain was falling along the leading edge of the cool front, and considerable cloudiness extended as far as 400 miles ahead of the front.

Meanwhile, new forest and brush fires blackened thousands of acres of land in Indiana and Wisconsin, and worried conservation officials waited hopefully for the rain the cold front was expected to bring.

Have you ever seen the sort of player who will play the first card from the dummy before the entire dummy has been put down? This speedy play sometimes saves him as much as two or three seconds, but he gives it back immediately by going into a huddle over the second trick.

Before I go into the bloodcurdling player in today's hand, let me give you a bit of advice on handling partners of this kind. When you're putting down the dummy notice the opening lead, and put that suit down last. This compels the speed demon to see the whole hand before he makes his first play.

In today's hand, North bid beautifully to reach a laydown grand slam, but he neglected the precaution just described. When West opened the three of clubs, North carelessly put his clubs down first.

Before the rest of the dummy could be put on the table, declarer had already played the low club from the dummy. He wanted that first trick to ride around to his king-jack for a free finesse.

South got his free finesse in clubs, but it cost him his grand slam. He couldn't get back to his hand to draw trumps. At the second and third tricks he drew trumps with dummy's ace and king, but then he had to try cashing two diamonds in the hope of getting to his hand by ruffing a third diamond. He never made it because West ruffed the second diamond.

If South had waited to see the whole dummy before making his first play, he would have counted 13 easy tricks—six trumps, a heart, four diamonds and two clubs. The correct play, obviously, is to win with dummy's ace of clubs, take two top trumps, and enter the South hand with the king of clubs to draw the rest of the trumps.

South certainly picked the hard way to learn his lesson.

McKay Wants Risk Capital For Projects

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19—UP—Interior Secretary Douglas McKay said Thursday he hopes to encourage private capital investment in large, multi-purpose reclamation projects.

"It will be the purpose of the department to create an atmosphere which will encourage the investment of risk capital" in this work, he told the National Industrial Conference Board here.

Unless this is done, he said, "the construction of large installations must be financed almost exclusively through national and local tax programs."

It is administration policy, he said, for the federal government to work "in partnership" with local interests and private industry in reclamation work.

"The most important part of the partnership is the participation of free enterprise in it," he said.

The partnership policy, McKay said, "ends the old theory of federalistic monopoly that has in many cases strangled local initiative."

"This 'old theory,' he said, has 'not only been costly, but as in many cases has delayed construction of necessary projects.'"

McKay said he thinks the new "partnership" program "can be conducted without the rancor and blind controversy that has marked the public-private power feud."

The new administration policy on disposal of electric power, he said, "stressed" the "partnership" idea.

"The administration's policy is to actively encourage the development of natural resources," he said, adding that this development "cannot be done by one segment of our economy. It will require the combined efforts of the entire population to do it."

'Evil Angel' Held On Murder Charge

PARIS, Nov. 19—UP—The State charged Thursday that "the evil angel," a sultry redhead who has admitted slaying her lover, was guilty of coldblooded murder and not a crime of passion.

The girl, Pauline Dubuisson, 26, has admitted shooting Felix Bailey, 27-year-old Lille medical school student, on MAY 17, 1951, after he spurned her to keep a date with another.

Pauline insists she intended to commit suicide when she lost Bailey's affections. But the prosecution charged she committed a coldly premeditated murder.

Wednesday curfewed Pauline told the court she had regained Bailey's "physical" affections before she pumped three bullets into him and then put a gag pipe in her mouth in an unsuccessful suicide attempt.

Kirby failed to answer the bell for the sixth round after he took a terrific lacing from the Colorado Mexican throughout the fight.

Indian Shooting Brings Uneasiness

TOWAOC, Colo., Nov. 19—An uneasy truce existed Thursday between police officers and 1,000 Ute Indians following the fatal shooting of a young member of the tribe by a policeman.

Wendell Speer, Ute tribal manager on this southwestern Colorado Indian reservation, said the Indians "deeply resented" the shooting of 23-year-old Clarence Hight, a member of the tribe, by Towasoe Indian Policeman Jack Hammond, 53, Wednesday.

Sheriff A. W. Anderson of nearby Cortez, Colo., who sent three Montezuma county deputies to protect the policeman, said Hammond shot Hight in self defense while questioning the Indian concerning an earlier shooting of his father, Julian Hight, 49.

Anderson said he feared the Indians might "take revenge" against Hammond for the shooting.

Speerman said he had talked with the tribal members, "who deeply resent the shooting of a fellow Indian," and believed there was no danger of an uprising or an attempt on the policeman's life. "I think we have it completely under control," Speerman said.

Hammond said he killed Hight when the young Indian attacked him with a knife while he was questioning him about wounding his father. He said he "kept backing away" from the onrushing Hight but finally was forced to shoot. He said he fired three shots, two of which hit the charging Indian in the chest.

Nation Must Remain Alert, Rotary Club Speaker States

"If we stay alert our enemies will continue to strike against us in vain."

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state director of Selective Service, Austin, made this statement at the luncheon meeting of the Pampa Rotary club Wednesday in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

Speaking on the subject, "Selective Service and Your Defense Dollar," Col. Schwartz voiced the opinion that it is absolutely necessary for the government to continue spending for defense.

"Our enemies want to see us become a Godless and powerless nation," he said, but added "we must be on guard and must continue to hold the upper hand."

Staying prepared is not easy, he stated, adding that to do this it will continue to cost money.

"This nation can't be on guard if we stay asleep and won't support the Selective Service system," he said.

He pointed out that this country was not ready for World Wars I and II and neither was it ready for the Korean conflict. In making this statement, he asked the question, "are we going to trust to luck forever?"

Col. Schwartz said that Defense Secretary Wilson has said that this nation must have three and one-fourth million men in the armed forces. He said that this country must continue to have Selective Service, or something like it, if this quota is to be maintained.

The speaker was introduced by DeLea Vicars, chairman of the Pampa Selective Service board. Guests included C. C. Dean.

Nation 'Infinitely Stronger' WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—UP—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said Wednesday night President Eisenhower has made the nation "infinitely stronger" in his 10 months in office. NOT "EMBARRASSING" ENOUGH—Although Andre Fougeron's painting entitled "U. S. Go Home," is definitely anti-American, it was ruled "unembarrassing" by the French government, which permitted the painting to remain on exhibition at the Salon d'Automne in Paris.

TV Performer Not 'Casual'

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK, Nov. 12—P—Dave Garroway figures he gets credit for being more things than he isn't and doing more things than he doesn't than anyone in television.

"I am given credit for being so casual, and I'm not casual at all," NBC's morning and evening star said. "To me, I'm working my head off all the time, and it's very hard work as far as I'm concerned. But people think I show up just at air time and ad lib my way through a show off the cuff.

"Ad-libbing requires intense preparation. The words may be ad-libbed, but not the ideas and situations into which they are fitted.

"Part of this credit for casualness is pinned to the fact that people think I just don't care about clothes and buy mine in a bargain basement when the lights are out. I probably pay as much as anyone for tailor-made suits. I can't help it that I emerge from the best tailors looking like a large-sized Wally Cox.

"Then I get credit for being a sort of martyr—getting up at 4 o'clock each morning for the 'today' show. Now, there are 65 people on that show who get up as early or earlier than I do. And think of the many thousands in this city who get up before dawn to do all the essential services we need. They get nothing like the financial reward I do either.

"I get credit for being domestic and a good cook. People seem to think that all bachelors are good at least, that they are experts in preparing an exotic dish. I don't know one bachelor who can cook worth a darn. I don't cook. Cheese, baloney and milk out of the ice box are my speed when I eat at home. On the rare occasions when I'm brave enough to open a can of chili to heat it up, I get trapped on the telephone and the chili burns.

"One more credit I'd like to disown. I'm not a big wheel in the town's mad social whirl. After 31 half-hours of tv weekly, the only thing I could do at a cocktail party would be to go to sleep standing in a corner."

An all but forgotten rule, Queen Margaret of Scotland is credited with introducing special privileges for unmarried girls during leap years, says the National Geographic Society. In the leap year 1288 she ordained that any single young man who rejected an offer of marriage from a maiden would be fined one pound or less, according to his means.

There was only one known survivor when an eruption of Mt. Pelle destroyed the city of St. Pierre on Martinique Island on May 8, 1902. More than 30,000 other inhabitants were killed.

Estimated cost of the Savannah River Hydrogen-bomb project in South Carolina is a billion and a quarter dollars, more than double the cost of the Panama Canal.

Coming Year To Offer Good Chances For Celebrations

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—UP—The year ahead offers some wonderful diversions for celebrating a day or a week—like say, "Odorous Decoration Week."
That is the opening week, starting Jan. 3rd.
The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which puts out the list, says this week is sponsored by some varnish people who will do over the inside of your house without smelling up the place.
That's the last plug. The rest are obvious.
"Large Size Week" comes along about that time, and you'll have to look it up to see whether it's large paper, bag or a large sized shirt for men.
And right after that comes "National Crochet Week," which I have been observing for years, and one of these days I will come up with the quilt I have been working on since I flunked out in Crochet I in Farmer City Grammar School.
Ignores Sew Week
That comes pretty close to "National Sew and Save Week," which I generally ignore, account of my crocheting. But along comes March and who in his right head would overlook "National Pancake Day?"

THE RECORD SHOP

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA) — What this country needs is more fairy tales. At least that's what Steve Allen says.

Steve had been making records of his fairy tales for a while now, the latest is "Bebop's Fables" on the Brunswick label, and he's run plumb out of fairy tales. And he doesn't even have a genie to help him out.

"I have to start with stories everyone knows," he says. "And when you study the situation, there are only about six fairy tales everyone knows."

But Allen fans, of which there are many, need not be disappointed. There will still be new Allen records forthcoming. He's making a couple of novelties — including a Christmas song called "Cool Yule" — and he thinks there's a wide-open field for his kind of material.

"I could tell her history stories," says Steve. "Or Shakespeare or many others. There are plenty of subjects even without fairy tales."

The whole thing began in the column Steve writes for Downbeat, a magazine for musicians. He wrote a couple of his tales and found that disc jockeys were reading them over the air. They favored these like grandmother's reply to Little Red Riding Hood's query about her big ears: "Yeah, aren't they the most! Let's say somebody goofed!" Then people wrote in for copies, "they probably needed a routine for a speech to the Boy Scouts," Steve says.

So one thing led to another, and once upon a crazy time Steve began to make records of his creations. The rest you know.

There remains only the one big problem. After Snow White, what?

The Popular Side: The limited edition Glenn Miller album, which RCA is bringing out, contains 70 songs played between 1939 and 1942. Among the now famous stars who appear on some of the numbers are vocalist Kay Starr, the Modernaires, and present bandleaders Billy May, Anthony and Bill Finegan, of Sauter-Finegan. . . . Along the same line, Mercury's new Ralph Marterie record, "Lazy River," which was actually recorded some time ago, has a vocal by a then-unknown singer. His name is Rusty Draper. Savannah Churchill, Fran Warren, and Bernice Parks have all done good jobs with the catchy novelty, "Shake a Hand." Take your pick.

New Market Opening Here

A grand opening celebration will be held at the new B and L Market No. 2, at 1312 N. Hobart Friday and Saturday. The new store is located just north of the Highland General Hospital in the building formerly occupied by the Highland Food Market.

The celebration will begin at 8 a.m. Friday and during both days there will be drawings for baskets of food. Saturday evening at 7:30 there will be a drawing for a turkey. Balloons will be given to the "kiddies" attending the event and cokes, coffee and doughnuts will be served to the adults.

The new store is associated with the B and L Market at 518 S. Cuyler, which will now be store No. 1. Both are under the ownership of Bishop Ricketts and Blake Larrimore, who have recently entered into a partnership. Ricketts will manage store No. 2 and Larrimore will be in charge of store No. 1.

Ricketts has been in the grocery business for 15 years and recently owned his own market. Larrimore, a World War II veteran, has been in the grocery field for 15 years, three of which he has owned his own market.

'Another Day's Work,' Says Pilot Of Supersonic Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Nov. 19 —UP—Test pilot Scott Crossfield said Thursday flying a rocket plane 1,272 miles per hour, faster than any man had ever flown before, "was just another day's work."

The 32-year-old pilot had this comment following "Wednesday's" disclosure by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics in Washington that he flew the Douglas Skyrocket at nearly twice the speed of sound at this test center last Oct. 14. He broke the previous record held by Douglas Aircraft test pilot Bill Bridgeman who piloted the same plane at 1,238 miles per hour.

"We've been flying in this region (supersonic) for a considerable length of time," Crossfield said. "There is no special feeling while flying rockets at supersonic speeds. The only indication you're flying so fast is on the meters."

He said the purpose of the tests was not only to achieve high speed but to study maneuverability of the rocket craft.

"The ship handles very 'nicely,'" he said.

The plane is dropped from the belly of an Air Force bomber over Muroc Dry Lake. Crossfield said he nosed the swept-wing craft up to 62,000 feet before leveling off for the speed run.

The NACA said his speed was 1.96 times the speed of sound. Observers said he might have doubled the speed of sound but for low temperatures the day of the test. Higher temperatures enable the plane to cross the sonic barrier quicker.

The Skyrocket's latest speed record was set on the sixth anniversary of Maj. Charles Yeager's first penetration of the sonic barrier.

New Gadget Aids Bad Weather Pilots

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19 —UP—Pan-American World Airways disclosed Thursday it has developed a new electronic gadget to help pilots land their planes more safely in bad weather.

The gadget is called the "zero reader." It is tied to the instrument landing system through which blind flying pilots are led down a radio beam to the airport runway.

Previously, the pilot had to watch three separate instruments to make sure he was on the path, on the proper angle of descent and not flying crosswise with the horizon.

The "zero reader" now "digests" the information from these three instruments and passes the information to the pilot on a simple dial. All the pilot has to do is to fly the airplane to that two-bar—one vertical and the other horizontal, are centered.

A Pan-American official estimated the reader can let a plane safely come in under a 200-foot ceiling. This will cut the time a plane must stay over an airport waiting for the ceiling to rise by 80 per cent.

Powerful Red Chinese Leader Observing His 60th Birthday

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

A man who rules one-fifth of the world's population observes his 60th birthday Thursday amid conflicting reports about both his physical and political "health."

He is Mao Tse-tung, head of the Chinese Communist government, statesman, guerrilla leader, strategist, politician, philosopher and poet.

Also fugitive from justice and professional hater of the West, particularly the United States.

Lonely Splendor

Mao will no doubt spend at least part of this day as he does others, in lonely splendor in his new house in the Western Hills section of Peking, in the center of a half-mile circle of protective blockhouses and with an air raid shelter in the backyard.

If he goes out, it will be in his big black Zis, an automobile with lines much the same as an old-fashioned Packard which was a present from the late Russian Premier Josef Stalin.

Flanking him will be guards in jeeps.

In recent years there have been many reports Mao is in poor health. Blood Pressure Too High

He is known to suffer from high blood pressure and is said never to have recovered fully from ailments acquired during a 6,000-mile retreat from Kiangsi province into northern Shensi before the forces of his old enemy, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Less is known about his political health.

There have been reports—perhaps only wishful thinking—that since Stalin's death the ties between Russia and Red China have weakened. There also have been reports Mao is worried about the presence of more than 80,000 Russian "advisers" in China.

But for the record, Mao has referred to Russia as "our only true friend."

Troubles at Home

At home, Mao has troubles. Officials' Communist reports of "successful" suppression of counter-revolution" illustrated continuing unrest under Red rule. There have been assassination attempts against him.

Mao is a stocky man with a broad flat face but with long sleek hair, large eyes and mannerisms which give him a slightly effeminate appearance.

"When I defended my rights by open rebellion my father rebelled, but when I remained weak and submissive he only cursed and beat me the more."

But whatever else life has given this Chinese country boy, there is one birthday present he wants most and seems farthest from getting. That is membership in the United Nations—the thing that would give him international recognition and respectability.

TRY AND GET OUT—This isn't a prison which has adopted something new in corrective methods. It's a Hamburg, Germany, bar and grille where a young couple is being entertained by a band dressed in prison garb. Business was so bad, the owner decided to remedy the situation in this manner and it has decreased the turnover.

CAROLING FOR HELP TO BEAT T.B.—This youngster will carol from the backs of tens of thousands of Christmas greetings, in the annual campaign of the National Tuberculosis Association for funds to fight the wasting disease. Designed by Elmer Jacobs and E. Willis Jones, of Chicago, the stamp's background is white; barred cross, symbol of the fight against tuberculosis, is red, and the child is clad in green.

Stanolind May Buy Brownsville Plant

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 —UP—Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. has signed an agreement with the Reconstruction Finance Corp. which "may possibly" lead to purchase of the Carthage Hydrocol, Inc., plant at Brownsville, Tex., it was disclosed here.

Announcement of the agreement was made by Guy G. Gabrielson, former Republican committee chairman and president of Carthage Hydrocol.

Sale of the Brownsville gas synthesis plant has been rumored for months. If Stanolind purchases it, an undisclosed price, the oil and gas firm will assume the obligations of Carthage Hydrocol.

Conditioned on Examinations

Gabrielson said, however, that sale was conditioned on "whatever examinations and investigations (Stanolind) deemed necessary."

This is provided for in the agreement Stanolind signed with RFC. The Brownsville plant, which has a capacity of 7,000 barrels of petroleum products a day, never was able to reach full production after beginning operations in August, 1950. Mechanical difficulties were blamed.

Eight firms opened the ill-fated synthetic gasoline project, investing a total of $49,316,000. One of them, United Gas Corp., on Oct. 23 announced that it had written off its $3,775,808 in complete loss. Ready to Write Off Investment

Other sponsoring companies reportedly are ready to write off their investment in a like manner, to avoid RFC foreclosure proceedings.

The Texas Company is the largest single stockholder, with 48.82 per cent of the common stock. Other sponsoring companies were Forrester Oil Corp., Niagara Share Corp., LaGloria Corp., Gulf States Oil Co., Stone and Webster Engineering, Inc., and the Chicago Corp.

Gabrielson said Stanolind would begin its investigations of the physical properties and processes of the Brownsville plant at once.

It also will begin negotiations aimed at extending Carthage's gas plant on other aspects of the situation he said.

Texas State President Of AAUW Tells Of Achievements Of Organization At Meeting

Mrs. Irvin C. Ochsner, Texas state president of the American Association of University Women, and charter member of the Amarillo branch, was guest speaker at the annual AAUW dinner Tuesday evening in the Pine Room of the Schneider Hotel. Mrs. Ochsner, who was introduced by Mrs. Kenneth Walters, chairman of the International Relations Committee, spoke on "Mileposts of A.A.U.W." with emphasis on international relations from the state angle. As an example of an application for a practical program, she told of a Midland group of A.A.U.W. members who meet with strangers among their own neighbors, 15 foreign born women. Some of these are well educated, others have been denied this privilege. Those participating feel this is a valuable experience for all of them in international understanding.

Mrs. Ochsner has visited in several University association clubhouses in Mexico, where language seemed to be no barrier and she felt most welcome. She said that tentative plans are being made for exchange visits from these clubs with some of the Texas branches. This will be another practical program of international relations, encouraging friendship and understanding with women across the border.

One of the mileposts of the national association was the signing of a deed of trust for the million dollar fellowship fund at the national convention this summer. This makes an irrevocable income for future fellowships. In 1931, on the 50th anniversary, with a national membership of only 27,000 members, the organization decided to raise the million dollar fund. In five years, even during the depression, the membership doubled, and the fund has now surpassed its goal.

From 1895 until now A.A.U.W. has had one big program, interest in higher education for women; but above all, interest in furthering the education for the exceptionally brilliant. Four factors for national consideration have been: to seek women of outstanding scholastic ability; to furnish adequate funds; to have every national member participate by contributing to the fund and to further interest in foreign study and foreign students. The first fellow A.A.U.W. to go to Germany was also the first woman to receive a Ph.D. from the University of Heidelberg as a bona fide student; she held the A.A.U.W. European Fellowship in 1893-94.

In addition to national membership contributions the trust fund and other gifts. Part of each member's dues contributed toward the International Fellowship Fund is called "Lights Across the Harbor."

International grant plan came into being in 1945 as the plan to bring more women from war torn countries to a freedom loving country to continue their studies. The International Federation of University Women also began to sponsor fellowships. In the Philippines, 1,000 women competed for one study grant; in other countries it has been as highly competitive. Many of those granted fellowships have made outstanding records. One woman is now Minister of Justice in Denmark, Dr. Helga Pedersen. Another was the first woman to receive a law degree from Yale University. The president of the Dutch Federation of University Women, Dr. Tellegen, is right hand adviser to Queen Juliana of Holland. Dr. Tellegen came to the U.S. when the Queen visited here.

Over 425 Achievement Awards have been granted, at least one each year since the organization was formed. One A.A.U.W. Fellow was recognized for outstanding progress in the treatment of tuberculosis; another achievement award was given to a grantee who is leading scientist.

This year there are 125,000 A.A.U.W. members who have given $161,000 for endowment funds, averaging over $1 per member. Mrs. Ochsner admitted that Texas is a little below the national level as there are 6550 members in the

RUTH MILLETT

How to live happily with a wife—Think of her always as a woman, not just as your wife. If you'll do that you'll not only show her the small courtesies women set such store by, but you'll keep her feeling that she is an attractive woman. That will certainly make her easier to live with than if she felt neglected and taken for granted.

Talk to her: You would never have married her if you hadn't felt she understood you and had your best interests at heart. Why, just because she is your wife, should you decide she isn't interested or wouldn't understand?

Take pride in her accomplishments and don't be ashamed to let the world know you think she is pretty special. It doesn't make sense for a man to start low-rating a woman when she becomes his wife.

Try to help her get the things she wants from life just as you expect her to help you get ahead. Above all, don't ridicule the things she thinks are important, simply because they are things that are more important to a woman than a man.

Tell her now and then that she is doing a good job. You'd do that for any person capable to be kept on your office payroll. Then do it for your wife who works hard and often needs a boost.

Don't get mad at the boss and come home and take it out on your wife. If you're upset about something, be frank about it. Then you'll both be on the same side.

Treat her ideas with respect. An intelligent woman gets awfully tired being treated like a nitwit, just because she is a woman.

Never lie to her. The woman who trusts her husband never becomes a nagging, suspicious wife.

Expert Says Turkey Preparation A Cinch — Secret Is In Selection

By JACK HAGERTY
WORTHINGTON, Minn., (UP)—The secret of success of the Thanksgiving meal is choosing the right turkey, says a leading grower in this "turkey capital of the world."

Once the bird is selected, the preparation is a cinch, says G. H. (Doc) Reed, grower of 16,000 birds a year, and operator of a poultry clinic. It's the clinic which gives Reed the nick-name Doc, in the town which bills itself as the turkey capital.

When turkey is on the menu at the Reed home—and it is the main course for every holiday including Easter—Doc selects the bird and prepares it for the oven. But for the non-expert, he recommends purchase of a government-inspected turkey, dressed by a reliable butcher.

GOOD BIRD WHITE
He says, look for a turkey with a good fatty tissue under the skin. The skin will look whitish. A poorer bird probably will have a pink or reddish tinge, as if it were preservative-treated.

Choose a bird free of pin-feathers. Reed says presence of the pinfeathers may indicate there have been other shortcuts in processing.

Reed allows one pound of dressing meat per person in estimating the size to buy. The National Poultry and Egg Board, New York, recommends 1 1/2 pounds per serving. For a family of two or three, it may be more practical to buy a half turkey. Many butchers will cut it in half lengths, so there will be both white and dark meat.

Turkey usually is sold as ready-to-cook or dressed, formerly known as New York dressed.

The ready-to-cook is drawn and eviscerated, and can be frozen or fresh. It usually is government-inspected and individually packed, with giblets and neck placed in the cavity. If the turkey is purchased frozen, it should be partially or completely defrosted before cooking.

START AT HIGH HEAT
A dressed turkey has head and feet on, the feathers are removed, but the bird is not drawn.

Henry Drops In On Artist Pal Who Has Just Written A Song

By HENRY McLEMORE

Here is one column I never expected to write, but I am happy to be writing it.

Last night when driving through Stuart, Fla., I dropped by the home of Zack Mosley, the man who does the "Smilin' Jack" comic strip.

When I was still one-half block away from his house, which is built on the bank of the St. Lucie River, I heard a piano thumping, voices singing, and other indications that a party was in progress. I said to myself that I had arrived at the right time, but when I knocked on the door and asked for Zack the maid said he was busy and wasn't receiving any callers.

This I didn't understand at all. The house was jumping, and besides we had been friends for a long time. The last time I had seen him he had flown me around and about the Atlantic Ocean in his Civil Air Patrol plane, and afterwards he had put on a little dinner party for me. So I told the maid that I believed Mr. Mosley would see me, but she was firm, and so the only thing left for me to do was to walk on by her and go upstairs.

When I reached Zack's studio, where he draws his strip, I was greeted by an amazing sight. His pretty wife, Betty, was playing the piano and Zack, of all people, was standing in the middle of the room singing as loud as he could. "What in the world is this all about?" I said.

"Glad to see you, Henry, and listen to this song I am singing. It is one I just wrote with Barnee Breakin, and we think it's going to be a hit."

So he sang the song for me. A song called "Rockin' in the Rocket Room." A swing and away song. A stomp and bounce number. A song I believe will hit the Hit Parade.

"Sit down, Zack," I said, "and tell me when you started this racket."

If I hadn't stopped him, he would have talked all night. But I stopped him after he had told me how he became a song writer in ten minutes. It seems he was sitting with Barnee Breakin, an orchestra leader in Washington's Shoreham Hotel and he mentioned the new guided missile sequence in his comic strip. Barnee said let's do a song about it. Zack said he had never written a song. Barnee said there's got to be a first time, and if Zack would write the words he'd do the music.

A week later the song was done, and so help me it's a good one. It is probably better than I think it is because I've only heard Zack singing it, and his voice combines all the appealing qualities of a buzz saw and a hungry cat.

I'm happy to write about Zack's song not only because he's a pal of mine, but because it gave encouragement to me.

If he can just sit down and write a real good tune in ten to fifteen minutes, then why shouldn't I have a go at building the best mouse trap in the world, or building a television set that as soon as a cowboy picture comes on runs and hides behind the sofa, or something else completely new and strange to me.

Listen for "Rockin' in the Rocket Room." You'll like it.

But you won't like it any more than Zack does. He's crazy about it.

Call this a plug if you want to, but what's wrong with giving a friend a boost? Particularly one who doesn't need it at all.

Champ Memphis Invades McLean

McLEAN, Nov. 19 — Memphis Cyclones will invade Tiger Stadium here Friday night to test the McLean Tigers in the season windup in District 1-A play.

Friday's game will start at 7:30. It will be the final game of the year for McLean. Memphis, however, will be engaged in the state playoffs that commences next week.

The Cyclones have only a tie to mar an otherwise perfect record in conference play. But, by virtue of a district ruling, the Cyclones were given the victory in their tie game by the 20-yard penetration method. Memphis was held to a 6-6 deadlock by Lefors but had the 20-yard penetration.

This ruling truly gave the day for Memphis. Should she lose here Friday, Canadian would have taken the title except for the ruling on the Memphis-Lefors tie game. Canadian has won five and lost one in conference play.

McLean, one of the pre-season favorites, dropped out of the running for the title by losing to Lefors last week. Before the Lefors game, McLean still had a chance to send the 1-A final standings into a 3-way tie for first place. But the Tigers were upset at Lefors and Memphis was handed the title.

Memphis still may end up in a 2-way tie with Canadian for the top rung in the standings by losing to McLean here Friday. But the Cyclones would still get the playoff berth because they defeated Canadian during the regular season. The district ruling states that in event of a 2-way tie for the champion, the winner of the game between the two tied teams would represent the district in the state playoffs.

Quarterback Duke Frisbie will lead the Cyclones into town here tomorrow night. Frisbie, who handles the passing chores for the Cyclones, is expected to be the clones in addition to his running duties, has put 56 points on the scoreboard for the Cyclones this season in addition to passing for several other scores.

McLean will pin its victory hopes on a stout forward wall and trio of running backs, Rickey Mantooth, Don Crockett and James Smith. Mantooth leads the McLean scorers with 66 points. He also handles the passing chores. Smith and Crockett each have 55 points to their credit this season.

McLean and Memphis battled to a 6-6 tie last year, but the '52 game was a non-conference tilt. Memphis is playing her first year in District 1-A.

From the ashes of a camp fire of long ago I uncovered this "Thanksgiving Prayer" truly a classic of the Negro tradition of "Pommum and latters" on Thanksgiving. The author is unknown. The prayer was given to me by an old hunter years ago. He since has grounds, perhaps this prayer will make us all truly thankful this Thanksgiving season.

Mobeetie To Levelland For Bi-District

MOBEETIE, Nov. 19 (Special) — Coach Byron Smith's Mobeetie Hornets will journey to Levelland Friday night to meet Bula in a bi-district grid tilt.

The Hornets earned the right to advance into the bi-district round by winning District 1-B (Six Man) title.

Mobeetie fans honored the team with a banquet Monday night at the Methodist Church here. About 150 attended the affair. Proceeds of the banquet, held in the basement of the church, will go to defray the expenses of the team's trip to Levelland this week.

Herbert Atkins served as toastmaster for the banquet. The invocation was given by Rev. L. E. Wyatt, Methodist pastor. Welcome address was given by A. G. Caldwell and response by Jerry Simpson.

Coach Smith introduced members of the team to the banquet. Smith praised every member of the team as playing a big part in giving the Hornets the title. He said center J. W. Turner made the best offensive play; and Jerry Taylor, captain of the team, was predicted today as final plans were completed.

P. C. Cobb, athletic director for Dallas schools, said this year's event was expected to surpass all previous meets from an attendance standpoint.

Officials said the 32 participating teams will be announced by next Monday. They will include 10 Dallas high schools, 10 from outside the city who asked to participate, and 12 others still not determined.

Ahlens defeated Bailey high school 76 to 60 for the championship last year, and Dallas Jesuit beat Irving 54 to 48 for the consolation title.

Besides Dallas schools, teams that have asked to be entered include Bailey, Golden, Garland, Fort Worth North Side, Frisco, Carrollton, Irving, Slidell, Arlington and Krum.

Training Record Set
SAN MATEO, Calif., Nov. 19 — UP—Trainer R. H. McDaniel set a new all-time record for a single season Wednesday when he saddled his 18th winner of the 1953 campaign. He got his record-breaking winner in the ninth race at Bay Meadows with a horse named Mithras, whom he had claimed recently from trainer Willie Molter, holder of the old record.

White Deer 11 Closes Friday At Panhandle

PANHANDLE, Nov. 19 — White Deer and Panhandle will clash in a traditional game here Friday night which will ring down the curtain on the 1953 football schedules for both teams.

The District 1-A contest won't have much bearing on the final standings. The best White Deer can do by winning is to tie Panhandle for fifth place. A Panhandle victory could lift the Panthers into a tie for third place.

But regardless of the situation, these two neighboring schools point for each other year after year and a tremendous battle always results.

White Deer has been strengthened the past few games with the return of fullback Ronald Mills. Mills fractured a leg in a pre-season workout this fall and only recently returned to action. Mills sparked the Bucks to a 20-6 win over an improving Pampa B team last week.

With Mills back in the fold and the Eller twins, Ray and Roy, are going strong, the Bucks can be dangerous.

Panhandle will pin its victory high scorer in District 1-A with 73 points. Bentley, however, turned the scoring honors over to Dale Roselius last week against Memphis. Roselius scored all 12 Panhandle points in its 31-13 loss to the Memphis team.

For the season, Panhandle has won three, lost five and tied one while White Deer has a 3-6 record. White Deer won last year's game between the two clubs, 25-12.

Table with 2 columns: Team, Points. Lists White Deer (13-1-1) and Panhandle (11-2-0) scores.

Most Leading Drivers Entered
The race, for the first time a four-in-one affair with four separate categories of cars and four separate prize lists, featured a field including most of the leading figures from the "who's who" of international auto racing.

Indianapolis champion Bill Vucovich; German kingpin Hans Herrmann and his teammate, Karl Kling, winner of the 1952 Pan American race; French stars Jean Behra, Jean Lucas and Louis Rosier; Italians Piero Taruffi, Giovanni Bracco, Felice Bonetto and Luigi Chinetti; Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina; and John Fitch, Tony Bettenhausen, Chuck Stevenson, Johnny Mant, Walter Faulkner and AAA titlist Frank Mundy of the United States were among the contenders.

One woman, British-born Jacqueline Evans of Mexico City, was competing.

Five Have Died
A total of 199 cars—in international sport, stock car, "small" sports cars and "small" stock car classes—was entered. But not all showed up at the starting line.

Mechanical trouble and perhaps accidents or death were expected to eliminate many other competitors in what Mexicans claim to be the world's fastest and toughest long distance speed contest.

Five drivers have been killed in the three previous Pan American races.

Shamrock Irish Eye First Division

PERRYTON, Nov. 19 — The Shamrock Irish will be battling for a first division berth in the District 1-AA grid race here Friday night when they meet the Perryton Rangers in the final game of the season for both teams.

The Irish, by winning tomorrow's tilt, could tie Perryton and Dalhart for third place in the final 1-AA standings. An Irish loss, however, would drop the Shamrock team down to fifth place in the 7-team loop.

Perryton, which has won three and lost two to date, has clinched at least a tie for third place. Should the Rangers down the Irish here tomorrow, they would be the sole holder of third place. A Ranger loss though would enable Shamrock and Dalhart for the No. 3 spot. Dalhart has already finished her season with a 3-3 District 1-AA record.

Jack York will guide the destinies of Coach Scott McCall's Irish in tomorrow's tilt against the Rangers. The Irish will be the underdogs but should York and his mates enjoy a good night then there's a good possibility the Irish may surprise the Rangers.

In last year's game between the two clubs, the Irish and Rangers battled to a 13-13 draw but Perryton was awarded the decision on having the most first downs. Penetrations were even which necessitated the first down ruling.

Bucceroni Stops Beshore In 8th

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19 — UP—Philadelphia puncher Don Bucceroni Thursday was a step closer toward a fight with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano after his easy eight-round TKO of Freddie Beshore in a nationally televised fight.

Bucceroni, 188 one half, battered Beshore, 194, of Los Angeles, all over the ring Wednesday night before Referee Joe Stone stopped the fight at 2:41 of the eighth round. Bucceroni won every round.

Bucceroni, a seven to one favorite, was in charge throughout the fight, pounding the roly-poly Beshore almost at will.

The Philadelphia battler, looking hard and trim in contrast to his heavier opponent, calmly moved away from Beshore's charges and scored easily with lefts and rights to the body and head.

Beshore, who has fought Joe Louis, Charles without being counted out, looked as though he might go down in the fifth round as Bucceroni slashed him with hard lefts and rights. But he withstood the attack until the bell halted the round.

Cantu was followed by Elbert Spence, Tom Rogers, Don Neighbors, Hulon Hale and Dick Forster, all of Texas; Bob Buchanan and Melvin Light, both Texas freshmen; and Allen Sturmy and Robert Neves of Howard Payne University of Texas Freshmen.

The Texas varsity, led by Innocenzo Cantu and his 11:54 minutes over a 2.6-mile course, scored 15 points, compared with 99 for the Texas freshmen. 70 for Howard Payne and 8 for Abilene Christian.

DRYING OUT—Wringing out their wet clothes is one of the first getting-back-to-normal chores for the women of Oliveto, Italy. Violent flash flood water in the Calabria region killed more than 100, made 3000 homeless and did uncounted damage to many homes.

FOR THE BOYS—The new Army uniform substitutes blue for the traditional olive drab of military attire. The all-wool uniform has a dark royal blue jacket and sky blue trousers, and is trimmed with gold braid. It made its first appearance at New York's welcome to King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece.

SAME JOB—NEW SETTING—The Reverend John J. Toomey, who was recently expelled from China by the Communists after 30 years there, has taken on a new assignment at the Chinese Mission of St. Therese in Chicago. He had charge of a Boys' Town in Toishan when the Reds captured South China and placed him under "protective custody." He's shown here with some of his new friends.

ON THEIR WAY—Three Japanese frigates follow the flagship Ume in Mutsu Bay in northern Japan during the first maneuvers of the First and Second Fleets of Japan's Coastal Safety Force. The force is considered the nucleus of Japan's new navy.

PEACH ON THE BEACH—Lovely Esther Clair just wants to let the warm sun dry her off after a pleasant dip in the surf at Miami Beach, Fla. A delightful sight in any climate, Esther makes that sand look especially attractive now that cold weather is invading the north.

BABIES BY THE PECK—Film star Gregory Peck appears to have switched to politics and a baby-kissing vote-getting campaign in London. The actor was visiting an orphanage in the British capital for scenes for a new film he's making over there.

AERIAL PROGRESS—In New York, a Navy-built replica of the Kitty Hawk, the Wright Brothers' plane, was on display with a Republic F-34 Thunderjet fighter-bomber. The exhibit honored Manhattan's week-long celebration of the 50th anniversary of powered flight which ended with a huge air show.

HOW TO GET AROUND—A horse in Ilford, England, must have felt proud when he was called upon to haul an out-of-gas car, top photo. From Copenhagen, Denmark, 65-year-old Rudolf Emsellson wanders about the country with all his worldly possessions tied to his bike, below.

Anti-Ike Writers May Request Aid For Trip To Washington

CADDO, Okla., Nov. 19—UP—A Caddo rancher, who said he raised cattle as a hobby because it doesn't pay enough now to be called a business, warned Thursday he may have to pass the hat if he must appear in Washington for an inquiry into the 300,000 anti-Eisenhower postcards he mailed.

Pink Williams, who operates a 1,100-acre ranch in southeastern Oklahoma, said he mailed more than 300,000 of the cards before the Post Office Department restricted his mailing privileges.

Postal officials ordered a hearing Dec. 3 in Washington to determine if he is conducting an unlawful business under a fictional name.

By "business," they mean Williams' gag-cards that invited cattlemen who voted for President Eisenhower to attend a picnic "the day after you are foreclosed."

Extra copies of the cards could be ordered by sending $1 for each 20 cards to "Cowboy" at a Caddo post office box.

The cards, described by a Post Office spokesman in Washington as "a combination of scurrility and vulgarity," said "all the cattlemen who voted for Ike will have their... kicked free and all the crow they can eat."

Williams, a Democrat, said he raised cattle as a hobby now. "I used to do it as a business, but it's a hobby now because there's no money in it."

He said money received from sale of cards was spent on mailing more cards.

"I'm just holding my own," he said. "If I have to go to Washington for a hearing, I may have to pass the hat to raise the money."

Williams said he started mailing the cards about four months ago "as a kind of joke," and until postal authorities restricted his mailing privileges, he received quite a few letters.

The cards went to sheriffs, banks and county officials all over the country, to Democratic congressmen and senators, and to Democratic county committeemen in about 24 states.

"I've sent out 300,000 cards myself, besides what I sold," he said. "I also mailed them to 750 Republican county committeemen in California by mistake."

The Post Office action was described as "civil" to determine if the mails were used unlawfully. If a hearing examiner decides against Williams, all mail addressed to "Cowboy" will be stamped "unlawful" and returned to the sender.

Marriages Patched Up
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19—UP—The Gary Coopers and the Ray Millands had their long-time marriages patched up again Thursday. Mrs. Gary Cooper, wed in 1934, confirmed he had moved back into the family home after a two-year separation. Ray Milland announced he has reconciled with his wife of 22 years, Mal, "and we are very happy."
