Blast Victims Improve After Plant Mishap

Three Cabot Men Seriously Burned In Oil Explosion

Two of three men who suffered severe burns in a fire Thursday night were taken to an Amarillo hospital today, but reports received here late this morning revealed that their condition was good.

The three men were burned when a heat exchanger exploded at the General Atlas Carbon plant of Pampa about 9:45 p.m. Thursday.

Kit Autry, 55, 428 N. Zimmers, a shift foreman, and Dale Followell, 42, 516 N. Carr, assistant plant superintendent, were taken to Amarillo where they were examined this morning by physicians, according to William S. Dixon, general superintendent.

Dixon said that it was feared that both of these men might have suffered severe eye injuries when the explosion occurred, since solid matter was found in their eyes. However, the examinations showed that they probably will suffer no ill effects from the injuries, Dixon said.

The third man burned was Harold Hink, 32, 308 N. Warren, a shift packer. His condition also was reported as good today.

All three of the men who were taken to Worley Hospital here in a Duenk-Carmichael ambulance, suffered burns about the face.

It was reported that a heat exchanger, used to pre-heat oil before it goes to a furnace, apparently caught fire when the synthetic salt used in the heating process boiled over.

Dixon said it is not definitely known yet just what caused the fire, but it is believed that impaired circulation of the oil caused the salt to boil over.

When the fire started, workmen began pouring water over the burning pipes, which resulted in the explosion.

The Pampa fire department answered the alarm and it was about 20 minutes after the fire started before it was extinguished, Dixon stated.

The heat exchanger was completely demolished by the explosion, he said and the main damage to some electric wiring. However, there was no damage to the building, he added.

There will be considerable delay in renewing operations in that part of the plant, pending the installation of a new heat exchanger, Dixon pointed out.

Crop Unhurt By Freeze

By UNITED PRESS
The weather threw a heavy frost and sub-freezing temperatures over broad expanses of West Texas Friday.

But the frost came too late to endanger field crops and experts said the freeze, even Marfa's 20 degrees, wouldn't cause any damage. Temperatures ranged up to a 55 at Brownsville on the coast.

No snow or rain was reported.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture said that if anything the frost came at the right time to help cotton farmers. It administered the final push necessary to remove the leaves from the stalk and make the boll easy to get at.

Feed Not Hurt
Grain crops have reached a head, and sorghums will be killed but their usefulness as a feed will not be hampered, a USDA spokesman said.

Other lows from over the state: Dalhart, 23; Presidio and Lubbock 25; Salt Flat and Junction 27; Wink 30; Midland and El Paso 31; Childress, San Angelo, and Abilene 33.

Forecasters predicted a heavy frost for north Central Texas and the northern portion of East Texas Friday night with temperatures deepening to a below-freezing level. No rain was forecast.

Clear Skies Forecast
Clear skies were forecast, however, for the weekend with mild temperatures during the day Saturday and Sunday.

Mercury Drops To 21 Degrees Today

The Pampa area had its first hard freeze of the season early this morning, according to reports from the weather station of Radio Station KPDN.

The mercury dropped to the season's lowest reading—21 degrees—during the early morning hours, but at 11 a.m. today it had risen to 30 degrees, still two below freezing. Thursday's high reading was 41 degrees.

A fine mist Thursday turned to snow and snow-flurries were prevalent throughout the afternoon and early evening, but no appreciable amount of moisture was reported.

What little snow was on the ground this morning had melted by 11 a.m., except in a few shaded spots.

It comes from a hardware store we have at Lewis Hardware, Adv.

Government Vetoes Kidnapers' Wedding

DEATH VERDICT — A Federal Jury of 12 middle-aged men decided in one hour and seven minutes in Kansas City Thursday that Carl Austin Hall, left, and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady ought to be executed for kidnaping and murdering six-year-old Bobby Greenlease, Jr. (NEA Telephoto)

Lodge Life Threatened

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 —UP—Fanatical Puerto Rican nationalists have threatened to kill Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and a 24-hour police guard has been assigned to protect him, it was learned Friday.

The threats were said to have come from the same element that rushed on Blair House in 1950 in an attempt to kill then President Truman.

The threats on the life of Lodge were revealed along with information that persons higher in the United States government also had been threatened. They were not identified.

New York police took over the job of guarding Lodge a week ago. A uniformed patrolman is stationed near the Lodge suite in the Waldorf Astoria hotel. Others are stationed at other points. Two detectives were said to have accompanied Lodge and his wife to the opening of the Metropolitan Opera earlier this week.

One source said the element responsible for telephone and mailed threats to Lodge is not bitter toward the ambassador but is incensed because of the United States position in a recent debate in the UN General Assembly concerning self-government for Puerto Rico.

The United States took the position that Puerto Rico has been given commonwealth status and will be a state in the future.

Vote Count Told On Canadian Dam

Twenty-five absentee ballots had been cast in the confirmation election of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority — with scant hours to go.

Deadline for voting absent was 5 p.m. today, according to City Secretary Ed Vicars.

No further voting will be permitted till Election Day. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday in the city commission room.

Wreck Death Results In Charge Of Murder

GRAHAM, Tex. Nov. 20 —UP—A charge of murder without malice was filed Friday against Gus Sarsfield, 52, in the death of E. B. McCrum, 74.

McCrum was killed Thursday when the car in which he was riding with Sarsfield, overturned on SH 254, south of Graham.

County Attorney Ed Stewart said he filed the charge after talking with Highway Patrolman Norman Storm, who investigated the accident.

Sarsfield was held in lieu of $1,500 bond.

TRRC Delays Gas Hearing

Pampans today were beginning to wonder if that gas appeal hearing in Austin ever would be held.

For the hearing before the Texas Railroad Commission of the City of Pampa versus Empire Southern Gas Company has been postponed for the second time.

Latest information this morning was that it was slated for 9:30 a.m. Nov. 30 before S. C. McIntosh, head of the commission's gas division, according to City Manager B. H. Cruce.

City officials in Tuesday's city commission meeting had made plans to head for Austin Sunday morning. Now it'll be just a week later. But whether all of them would be able to attend was undetermined this morning.

Issue at stake is a proposed gas rate increase. Empire had asked for a flat $2 a month minimum. The minimum rate has been $1.50 plus 15 cents if not paid within 10 days. Commissioners agreed to an increase amounting to an estimated 12-14 cents a month, making it $1.62-$1.64.

And that decision had come after hours and hours of tape-recorded, sworn testimony by Empire officials and men in the gas-gathering business. James A. Davis, Fort Worth, Empire president, had been on hand, too.

Original appeal hearing date was Nov. 9. Then it was Monday. And now Nov. 30.

POLIO HITS PAMPA GIRL

The condition of Jenny Ledrick, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ledrick, who was stricken with polio, was reported as good this morning.

The little girl, whose father is a prominent rancher here, was stricken Thursday and was taken to Highland General Hospital after spinal tests revealed that she had been stricken with spinal polio.

Her physician said today that she was doing fine and that no paralysis had been noted as yet.

Twining Hints U. S. Planes Ready To Deliver H-Bombs

DALLAS, Nov. 20 —UP—Gen. Nathan F. Twining hinted strongly Friday that long-range bombers of the U.S. Air Force now are ready to deliver hydrogen bombs.

The Air Force chief of staff said the "big bombs" can carry all types of bombs, including the very newest types. In a speech at an air power symposium sponsored by the Dallas Council on World Affairs he added:

"Because of fewer limitations on size and shape, the bombs they carry are far more efficient than smaller bombs."

Speculation on Bombs
Although the United States set off a hydrogen explosion a year ago, there has been much speculation about whether weapons have been cast in deliverable form and whether they can be delivered by manned airplanes. New thermonuclear tests are expected to be staged at Bikini in the Pacific next spring.

Nowhere in his speech did Twining mention atomic or hydrogen bombs. But he made frequent references to "unconventional" weapons.

The speech was chiefly a plea for continued build-up of the Air Force and reliance on the Strategic Air Command, the big bombing outfit, as a deterrent to Russian aggression.

"Superior air power and air weapons give us an advantage over massive Red armies that we must not and will not lose," he said.

Hall 'Expressed' Desire To Marry

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 20 —UP—The federal government moved fast Friday to put a stop to what ever nebulous plans condemned kidnap-killers Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Heady had to marry.

The Justice Department in Washington announced within hours after the marriage reports were circulated here that the disolute pair who had lived in illicit cohabitation since last May would not be permitted to wed before their executions Dec. 18.

Austin-Heady Fate May Seal Lost $303,000

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20 —UP—The fate of Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Heady is sealed and the secret of the missing half of a $303,000 ransom, for which they kidnaped and murdered Bobby Greenlease, may die with them.

The mystery of what happened to about $303,000 of the ransom was subordinate only to the appalling crime itself.

Ironically, it cost the police officer who broke the case his career.

It touched off a wave of investigations with a parade of witnesses that included every person connected with the case, however remotely.

The combined forces of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the St. Louis police department were applied to do the search locally, with an assist from law enforcement agencies across the country. But the money remains missing.

Three of the ransom bills have turned up, two in Michigan and one in Indiana, but they could have been some of those spent by Hall before his capture here Oct. 5.

Police officials said they still do not know whether Hall cached the money, buried it, lost it, or was "rolled" for it by hoodlums at a drunken spree in a motel the night before his arrest.

The guard opened the box and found three chickens, dressed and ready for the frying pan.

"Rocks?" the guard asked.

"Yes sir, Plymouth Rocks," the convict replied.

Benson Proposes Flexible Support

BOSTON, Nov. 20 —UP—Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson indicated a strong preference for flexible rather than high rigid support Friday, providing a possible clue to the farm program he will recommend to Congress next year.

In a major prepared address, he made it plain he feels the long-term interest of agriculture and the nation will be served better by supports guarding farmers against loss rather than insuring them a high income. "Stop-loss" supports plus a drive to stimulate farm sales at home and abroad, he indicated, are the best answer to the present problem of "ever-growing surpluses and ever-increasing drain on the national treasury."

Engineer Killed In Train Wreck

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Nov. 20 —UP—The Denver & Rio Grand Western railroad's passenger train "the Mountaineer" collided head-on with a freight train near Grand Valley, Colo., 47 miles northeast of here early Friday.

First reports said the Mountaineer's engineer was killed and the freight's engineer was missing. The railroad would not disclose their names.

Railroad officials here said none of the Mountaineer's passengers was injured and apparently there were no other casualties.

Despite Russia's growing air power and "new air weapons," Twining said, "we still have the undeniable capability of maintaining superior air power, including superior qualities and quantities of decisive air weapons."

And "our most outstanding and yet unchallenged superiority in air weapons," he said, "is the ability to deliver them at long range, from bases out of reach of the bulk of Soviet air power."

ARRIVES — Cpl. Edward Dickenson, Stony Gap, W. Va., waves from ramp of plane as he arrives at Travis Air Force Base, Calif. The 23-year-old ex-POW who refused repatriation then changed his mind, said he "was very happy to be back." Dickenson told newsman reason he stayed with Reds was fear that articles he had written in forced study groups might be used against him. After few days rest, he plans to re-enlist in Army. ## Solons Ask Clark To Bare Spy Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 —UP—Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson (R-N.J.) said Friday Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark should come forward "as a public service" and tell all he knows about the Truman administration's handling of the Harry Dexter White case.

He noted that Clark, who was attorney general at the time, has been named by former President Truman and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover as a key participant in the 1948 conferences which led to Mr. Truman's decision to keep White in the government despite FBI reports linking him to a Red spy network.

Melvin L. Harrington Dies This Morning

Melvin Lee Harrington, 36, of 414 N. West, died suddenly at 9:30 a.m. today. The cause of his death was not yet determined late this morning. He was rushed to the Highland General Hospital by the Duenk-Carmichael ambulance, but was reported dead on arrival.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Augusta Harrington; four daughters, Wanda, Ellen, Glenda and Mirissa Harrington; one brother, R. E. Harrington of Shreveport, La.; two sisters, Mrs. Leona Laster of Gladewater, and Mrs. Lula Green of Farmington, N. M.; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harrington of Shreveport, La.

Funeral arrangements are pending with the Duenk-Carmichael Funeral Home.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY — It was a happy occasion when William (Bill) Flaherty, 321 E. Francis, celebrated his 76th birthday. He was given a party in the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mullin, 646 N. Davis, Wednesday. He is pictured above with the youngest of his 22 grandchildren, Judy Ruth Mullin, who was 74 days old Wednesday. Also shown is the beautiful birthday cake with its 76 candles. Born Nov. 18, 1877, Flaherty came to Pampa in 1921. Among those attending the party were three of his 10 children, Mrs. Mullin, Don C. and Vincent Flaherty. Seven of the 22 grandchildren also were present. (News Photo)

Crawford Feud Fizzles Out

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 20—UP—All the feuding and fussing in one Western movie won't be on film. Joan Crawford confessed today she and Mercedes McCambridge had a few words behind the camera.

Their set-to is the latest spark in a new trend toward actors' un-sheating their claws just like some novels about Hollywood say they do.

Glenn Ford and Ann Sheridan recently battled on their movie set over who was upstaging whom. Co-stars Jose Ferrer and Rita Hayworth aren't speaking since he overheard Dick Haymes wooing her on a Honolulu, movie location. Rosemary Clooney and Gene Barry were another battling twosome on a Paramount set.

Now the durable Miss Crawford, who's every inch a movie star, had a to-do with Oscar-winner Mercedes.

In the film, "Johnny Guitar," Joan plays the owner of a gambling hall and Miss McCambridge plays her bitter enemy. They wind up in a gun fight but Miss C. beats her to the draw.

Offstage the battle was less lethal.

"It was just a misunderstanding—I can't say what about," Miss Crawford explained as she busily autographed photographs for fans in her dressing room between scenes. "But it's all cleared up now."

On another recent Crawford set.

Telephone Mixup

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—UP—Mrs. Max Abel, a housewife, had reason to hope Friday her telephone would not ring so often with calls seeking information on General Electric vacuum tubes.

The General Electric Co. explained to its New York customers that due to a mix-up in listing telephone numbers on the letterheads for one of its warehouses, Mrs. Abel was getting most of its calls.

The letterheads listed the warehouse number as Gregory 3-6387, but failed to make clear this was a Clifton, N.J., number. As a result, customers in New York dialed GR3-6387 and got Mrs. Abel, whose number is the same on the Gramercy exchange.

"Sudden Fear," she tangled with actress Gloria Grahame. Miss Grahame apparently went down for the count in the tiff, but she won an Oscar for her camera efforts, anyway.

"That was an entirely different situation," said Joan. "Gloria always was late to work. Sometimes we didn't even know where she was. How can you expect the company to be on time if the stars aren't? I try to get to work early."

"I'm always afraid they'll go ahead without me," she added with a laugh.

"But Miss McCambridge is not like Miss Grahame. Miss McCambridge is a thoroughly professional woman and gives a wonderful performance."

The local gossip columns reported Crawford ordered McCambridge off the set five times.

But all appeared sweetness and light the other night when Mercedes went to a supper party at Romanoff's as Joan's guest. Miss McCambridge admitted the feud was "on some days and off other days," but said she hoped "it stays off at least until the end of our picture."

This high-class outburner is the first starring Western for the actress who usually plays long-suffering glamour girls. Now Joan draws fast from the hip, gallops that-a-way and wears skin-tight, sexy Western pants.

"It's not my first Western, though," she said. "When I started at MGM I was in a Tim McCoy Western. I can't remember what I did. Only Tim and the horse know."

Nixon Visits Philippines

By WARREN DUFFEE
MANILA, Nov. 20—UP—U. S. Vice President Richard Nixon arrived here Friday from Japan for a politically significant three-day stay in the Philippines, including talks with President-elect Ramon Magsaysay and President Elpidio Quirino.

In a brief airport speech the world-girding American vice president pledged to know the unshakable ties of friendship between the Philippines and the United States.

He said he brought with him the official greetings of President Eisenhower and the people of America, but in addition he brought very special greetings from Mr. Eisenhower who in his younger days spent a part of his military career here.

Bucking headwinds, Nixon's Constellation flew over expiring Typhoon Cora after it left Okinawa but the plane experienced little turbulence at 16,000 feet. Gusty and drizzling weather from the typhoon greeted Nixon on a three-hour stop at Okinawa.

Nixon was expected to confer at length with Magsaysay at a private dinner to be given by U. S. Ambassador Raymond A. Spruance a few hours after his arrival.

He will call on Quirino and Acting Foreign Secretary Kellno Neri Saturday after laying wreaths at two Philippine memorials.

The tour was scheduled deliberately to avoid the Philippines until after the elections. He was prepared to deliver Mr. Eisenhower's

Sul Ross Gains New President

ALPINE, Tex., Nov. 20—UP—Dr. Bryan Widenthal, former head of San Angelo Junior College, will be inaugurated Saturday as fifth president of Sul Ross State College.

Fifteen college presidents, 60 school superintendents and principals and former Sul Ross students were expected for the 10:30 a.m. inauguration program.

The Rev. Jesus Oviedo Villegas of Ojinaga, Mex., will represent the world's oldest university, the University of Paris, founded in 1160, and Rafael Linares, Mexican consul in Alpine, will represent University of Mexico, oldest in the Western Hemisphere.

Widenthal's inauguration will launch homecoming at Sul Ross. There will be a barbecue dinner at noon, an afternoon homecoming parade, a rodeo performance featuring the champion Sul Ross team of cowboys and a homecoming dance Saturday night.

The big event of the afternoon will be the Lobos Texas State football game at 2:30 p.m. The invading Lions are undefeated.

greetings to both Quirino and Magsaysay.

In his airport speech, Nixon also said that in addition to discussing mutual problems with Filipino officials, he and Mrs. Nixon planned to go out and meet the man in the street.

"The United States and the Philippines will always stand together as good friends fighting for the common cause of peace," Nixon said.

WE ARE FOR MORE WATER BUT

WHAT ARE WE VOTING FOR?

(Q) Has anyone told you how much the Canadian Dam Project will cost?

(A) In a review of the Canadian River Project by Jack R. Barnes, prominent water engineer of Austin, Texas, Mr. Barnes estimated the cost of said project. The engineer's report was introduced in evidence at a hearing before the Texas Board of Water Engineers on Jan. 12th, 1953, and is a matter of public record in such office. Here is Mr. Barnes' estimates as to the construction, operation and maintenance costs as shown on Pages 7 and 8 of said report: → → → → →

You now pay approximately 8c per thousand gallons for water from your City of Pampa mains . . . Proponents of the Canadian Water Project claim your water will be available for approximately 14c per thousand gallons. Mr. Barnes states in his report, on page 8, a cost of 0.14 per thousand gallons. Estimated cost of treatment of 0.05 per thousand gallons, or an estimated total cost of 0.19 per thousand gallons, delivered to the city gates. Mr. Barnes' report further states: → → → → →

Proponents of the measure would have you believe the project would cost only $84,656,000. The Bureau of Reclamation report states this would be ONLY the initial request for appropriations to START the project. The interest for repayment of the loan at 3% IS NOT included, nor is maintenance cost included! → → → → →

The United States Department of Interior, through its Bureau of Reclamation, prepared a plan for the development of The Canadian River Project in Texas in June, 1949. Pages 20 through 25 of this report estimate the total cost of the project as being $229,885,000.00.

None of these reports include the COST of the lands to be submerged by the reservoir of water, nor the costs of rights-of-way for aqueducts from the dam to Lubbock and Lamesa, each approximately 200 miles from the dam.

Costs of Supplemental Water Supplies—

According to Bureau of Reclamation estimates, if the surface-water demand of the project cities and industries averages 101,200 acre-feet over the 50-year period following construction the raw water can be delivered to the city gates at an estimated cost of 14c per 1,000 gallons. The cost of treating the water was not included in the estimates, though such treatment will be an absolute necessity for a portable water supply. It is estimated that cost of treatment would be about 5c per 1,000 gallons, raising the total costs to the consumers to 19c per 1,000 gallons. All of these cost estimates are based on the hypothesis that the industries near Borger will contract for 30,000 acre-feet per year and that the eight project cities will develop an annual demand for 98,600 acre-feet of surface water by the year 2000.

For purposes of comparison, suppose we substitute for the above optimistic assumptions of project demands other assumptions, which perhaps are equally pessimistic, that the industries persistently fail to contract for project water and that the average annual demand of the cities for project water over the next 50 years remains near the 1950 potential demand (15,000 acre-feet). Reducing the operation and maintenance costs in proportion to the assumedly reduced demand, the production costs of the water would be 78c per 1,000 gallons raw and about 83c per 1,000 gallons treated. In the event that the industries did see fit to contract for 30,000 acre-feet per year for 50 years, then the cost of treated water to all users would be reduced to about 33c per 1,000 gallons. Thus the cost of potable Canadian River water delivered to the city gates would range from about 20c to 80c per 1,000 gallons, depending upon future demand.

Estimated costs of the project based on April, 1949, prices follow:

Irrigation facilities	61,000

Construction Costs to be Repaid with interest by Project Cities

Aqueduct system	$54,340,000
Relocation Amarillo sewage-disposal plant	1,000,000
Allocation of joint costs (83.3 per cent of cost of dam minus joint recreation facilities)	22,552,000
Total	$77,892,000

Assuming the interest rate to be 3 per cent the interest charges during the 50-year construction period were estimated to be $9,347,000. Provided that the total unit cost of water throughout the 50-year repayment period remains uniform, the interest on the sum of the allocated construction cost and the interest during construction would total $87,046,000. Public Law 898 also provides that the United States shall be reimbursed for the costs of recreational facilities. Construction costs for these facilities were estimated at $1,454,000 and 50-year operation and maintenance costs at $1,600,000.

The total reimbursable costs of the untreated water delivered to the city gates over the 50-year period on a flat-rate basis are estimated as follows:

Allocated construction costs	$77,892,000
Interest during construction	9,347,000
Interest during repayment	97,046,000
50-year operation and maintenance costs, water supply	45,600,000
Construction costs, recreational facilities	1,454,000
50-year operation and maintenance costs recreation	1,600,000
Total costs to project cities (excluding treatment)	$232,939,000

WT Band Accepts Parade Invitation

The 100-piece West Texas State College band is the first band to accept an invitation to participate in the Santa Day parade here Dec. 4, according to W. J. McNeill, chairman of the Merchants Activities committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the band will be seen in their colorful gray and maroon uniforms as they march along the parade route and several other out-of-town bands are expected to participate in the parade.

O. L. Blinn, manager of the Woolworth store here, has ordered 1,000 pounds of candy, which will be packed in cellophane bags and will be distributed to all children of the city in the corridor of the City Hall immediately following the parade, McNeill said.

Women's Club will again sponsor the Home Decoration contest, with appropriate prizes being awarded for the four districts of the city. Mrs. Lorene Locks is contest chairman. She will announce details of the contest later.

Pampa Lions Hear Quartet

Barbershop and fire-preventing filled the program at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Lions Club.

Members of the Squeaky Door Four—Bunny Shultz, Red Wedgeworth, Mack Hatt and Dude Balthrop—entertained Lions Thursday noon during lunch with a couple of old-fashioned numbers. They'll appear in Saturday night's parade of quartets and "after-glow."

Announcing that there would be no meeting next week—it's Thanksgiving—Boss Lion Ralph Thomas said the next meeting would be the joint affair at noon Dec. 2 in the basement of first Methodist Church with U.S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson as featured speaker.

The annual Lions Club Ladies Night has been scheduled for Dec. 10, Thomas added.

Acting Lion-tamer Rufe Jordan introduced eight guests, including Joe Shelton, Pampa public schools bus driver; Rev. Granville Tyler, Birmingham, Ala., new pastor of the Church of Christ, Harvester and Mary Ellen; and William G. Bohannon, who today finishes conducting the chamber of commerce's show-card lettering and display school.

Wedgeworth introduced—and inducted—a new Pampa Lion. He is Nicholas G. Kadingo, Pampa's new and only chiropractor. His wife, Jane, is a reporter for the Pampa Daily News.

Joe Phillips, Amarillo, Lions governor of District 27-1, was, on hand for an "official" visit and made a few remarks on the make-up of the district. It stretches from Texoline to O'Donnell and from Childress to Bovine. There are 80 Lions clubs and 3,700 Lions in the district.

Clifford Whitney, Pampa's Celanese personnel superintendent, introduced Henry Johnson, Charlotte, N. C., the Celanese safety engineer, who demonstrated to Lions means of making and preventing fire. It was the same program he has presented several times already this week.

Dallas Woman P-TA President

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 20 —UP—Mrs. Leon Price of Dallas was the new president Friday of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

She was the overwhelming choice of a strife-torn convention that looked more like a political convention during its three-day quarrel between "liberal" and "conservative" elements of the organization.

San Antonio Police Chief George Bichsel and three top officers, dressed in plain clothes, were stationed at strategic spots in the convention crowd Thursday as worried PTA officials anticipated "some difficulty" during the balloting.

Bitterness Melts

But the bitterness melted Thursday night after Mrs. Price was chosen. Mrs. C. R. Larimer, nominated by the Houston delegation from the floor, pulled Mrs. Price to the microphones and said, "Pearl, I congratulate you." She received the convention's loudest ovation when she kissed the new president on the cheek.

Mrs. Price received 3,213 votes to 608 for Mrs. Larimer, the "conservative" presidential candidate.

The riled delegates, many of whom had said earlier they would not listen to a representative of President Eisenhower extol the United Nations, subsided into a good-natured gathering that listened to the speaker defend the UN and UNESCO.

Position Stronger

Robert D. Murphy, assistant secretary of state for United Nations affairs, told the teachers convention:

"Hysterics and detractors to the

"I use it to lecture my husband when he comes home late at night and starts up the stairway!"

Beautiful trophies will be presented in each of two divisions, as follows: For the best religious or nativity theme entry and for the best Santa Claus theme entry.

Something new has been added this year, he stated. This is a division for children and their pets as a special feature of the parade. Cash prizes will be awarded for the best costume, the smallest pet, the most unusual pet, dog with the longest tail, dog with the shortest tail and the best dressed pet.

It's Your Deal

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Written for NEA Service

One of the important things to think about in making the first play at cribbage is to avoid giving your opponent an immediate 15. There is one sure way to do this—to lead a card lower than a five-spot.

The very low cards are very useful later on, however, in obtaining a go, when the count gets close to 31. If you use one of the low cards for the first play, you won't have it later when you need it.

The conflict between these two points of view gives rise to the old proverb in cribbage—"The best lead is a four." The four will not give your opponent a 15, and it is high enough to be only moderately useful in obtaining a go.

If you don't have a four to lead, your normal play is to lead the card that gives you the best chance of scoring if your opponent turns your lead to his advantage. Thus, if he pairs your card, you are in good position if you can turn the pair into a pair royal (three of a kind). Or, if your opponent makes a 15 of your card, you are in good position if you can score a three-card run.

Thus, for example, if you have a pair of kings you might lead one of them. If your opponent plays a king, you can come right back with the other king. It's risky to lead a 10-point card, of course, because your opponent may play a five to score a 15. But if you have two or three 10-point cards in your hand there isn't much you can do about it. You're better off leading one of your pair than starting with one of your precious small cards.

If two of your cards are a nine and a seven or a nine and an eight, you might play the lower of those two cards. If your opponent makes a 15, you can then play the nine to score for a three-card run.

This puts you into some danger, to be sure, since your opponent may extend the run by playing a six, and you might be unwilling to take this risk in certain scoring positions.

For example, if both players are very close to the game score, the player who counts first (non-dealer) should avoid giving his opponent any pegging opportunities. The dealer, however, should try to peg as much as possible in order to win the game before his opponent can count.

News In Balance

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst
The week's balance sheet between the Good and Bad news in the hot and cold wars:

THE GOOD

1. With important hurdles still to clear, the European army plan made important progress this week. The French Socialist party, largest single party in the French Assembly, adopted a resolution supporting European unity and a European army. The Socialists acted under the goad of Party Secretary General Guy Mollet who had warned in an exclusive United Press interview that French failure to ratify the army plan could very well mean the United States would go ahead and arm West Germany independently.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Bidding Reasonable With Poor Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

You may not like the bidding of today's hand, but it's quite reasonable for South to insist on a game contract when his partner opened the bidding. North didn't like the idea of letting the hand play at no-trump when she had a void suit, but South has bid the dangerous suit. No better game contract was available.

When today's hand was actually played in a recent mixed partnership tournament in Newark, the chief interest was in the play of the cards. Practically all pairs got to three no-trump with the South cards and many of them made it.

The most interesting defense was put up by Ira Rubin and Lucille Welch, both of New York. They managed to make declarer squeeze himself out of his ninth trick. Rubin opened the jack of clubs from the West hand, and South let it ride around to his ace. He promptly returned the eight of clubs, West played the ten, and South played low from dummy, hoping that East would have to play the king.

West's ten held, and Rubin naturally shifted to a low diamond. South won with the jack of diamonds and led another club to drive out East's king. Miss Welch now saw that declarer had five sure diamonds and three club tricks. It seemed probable that either a heart or a spade lead would give declarer his ninth trick. She therefore led her remaining diamond, hoping that declarer would have trouble getting off the dummy safely.

This was a fine idea. Declarer had to take his diamonds and clubs immediately, since he would never get back to dummy if he failed to take them. This gave him eight tricks, but forced him to reduce to three cards.

South actually kept the ace of hearts and two spades. West had kept three spades and the king of hearts up to the end, and his last discard was the king of hearts. When the jack of spades was led from dummy, the defenders had three easy spade tricks, South never made his ace of hearts.

Declarer could not have saved himself by discarding the ace of hearts in order to save three spades. West would have kept the king of hearts and two spades.

1. Despite British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's announced determination to continue working toward a big-power meeting with Russia, it generally was agreed in Western capitals this week the latest unacceptable note from Moscow was proof the Kremlin has no intention of working to ease world tension or even of negotiating seriously. Western diplomats believed Communist insistence on linking European problems with those of the Far East made any agreement out of the question.

2. The United States commander in Berlin, Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Timberman, looked one of the sharpest attacks yet against the Soviet East German regime. He accused the Reds of unleashing a "wave of terror" to break anti-Red resistance. He said the drive against alleged spies, saboteurs and terrorists actually was directed against persons opposed to the government, and constituted "recognition" by the Reds that "passive resistance of the population has not been broken." He said American officials "see no early end to the present wave of terror."

3. Communist stalling tactics finally forced the Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission in Korea to suspend indefinitely the "explanations" designed to persuade non-repatriated war prisoners to go home. The suspension may make impossible talks with 22 Americans who have said they want to remain with the Reds.

4. The coronation of the White Deer High School Annual Queen will be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 24, at 7:30 o'clock, in the high school auditorium.

5. The identity of the Queen has not yet been revealed. However, she will be one of the following candidates: Shirley Smith, Barbara Evans, Patsy Moran, Hazel Baker, and Amy Durning. Escorts for the Queen and her attendants will be Dick Foose, James Huffhines, Donald Denham, Jerry Puckett, and Dwayne Clemens.

6. After the coronation, a variety and fashion show will be presented with Dean Foose as master of ceremonies. Based on the theme, "Fashions Through the Years," the show will feature fashionable models from Colonial period through the present, with music by the high school trio, "The Chord Craftsmen" barber shop quartet from Pampa, Coach Kenneth Livingston, "Humpy" Matheny from Pampa, and others.

7. Phineas Taylor Barnum, "king of the Big Top," was born on July 10, 1810.

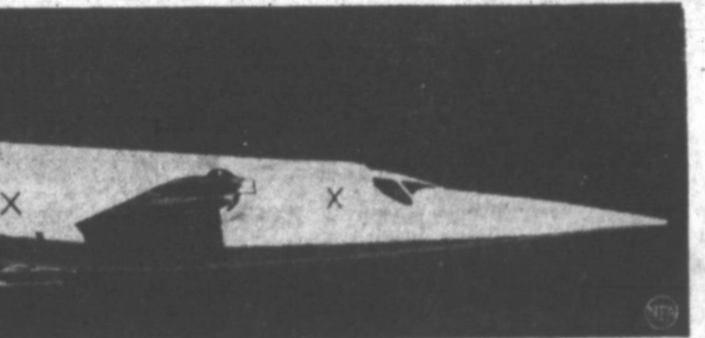

8. The hawthorn grows leaves on its spines.

FOUR-LEGGED THERAPY—Twelve-year-old Laurel Anderson, a patient at the University of Michigan Hospital at Ann Arbor, enjoys a new kind of therapy as Phillip and Willie, two coati mundis make friends with her. Supervising the meeting is their owner, Mary Ann Bancroft, assistant head of the University Hospital school. During the day the nocturnal long-tailed pets live in a cage on the eighth floor of the hospital, but are transferred to Miss Bancroft's apartment at night.

White Deer School To Crown Queen

The identity of the Queen has not yet been revealed. However, she will be one of the following candidates: Shirley Smith, Barbara Evans, Patsy Moran, Hazel Baker, and Amy Durning. Escorts for the Queen and her attendants will be Dick Foose, James Huffhines, Donald Denham, Jerry Puckett, and Dwayne Clemens.

AIRBORNE KNIFE-EDGE—The sheath of secrecy is off the Air Force's X-3 "Flying Stiletto," shown in flight over Washington, D. C. A dagger-shaped research jet, it is designed to fly 2000 miles per hour at high altitudes. Built by Douglas Aircraft, the X-3 is 66 feet, 9 inches long, but its wing span is only 22 feet, 8 inches.

Kiwanis Club Sees Fire Demonstration
A fire demonstration was to be presented at the luncheon meeting of the Pampa Kiwanis club today by Henry Johnson, safety engineer for the Celanese Corporation, Charlotte, N. C., according to President Clinton Evans.

The demonstration of the causes and results of fires was scheduled to be given in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.
