Gray County Youths Busy With Stock Show Animals

Gray County 4-H club boys and Future Farmers of America, along with those from four other neighboring counties, are busy fattening up their calves and swine for the 16th annual Top o' Texas Junior Livestock Show, which will be held here Jan. 25 through 27.

The show, which will be held simultaneously with the Top o' Texas Hereford Breeders Association from Gray, Roberts, Carson, Hemphill and Wheeler counties.

The number of entries is expected to surpass the large total of last January's show, according to Jerry Mobly, Gray County assistant agricultural agent.

In January there were 60 calves entered in the show, along with 74 head of swine.

ANGUS ENTRY — The only Gray County Aberdeen Angus calf to be entered in the Top o' Texas Junior Livestock Show and Sale Jan. 25-27, will be shown by Tommy Arrington, son of C. D. Arrington. Young Arrington is pictured above with his entry, which he has been grooming for the show, which will feature entries from five Panhandle counties. (News Photo)

Gray County 4-H club boys will enter 16 calves and 22 head of swine, he said, while it is not known just now how many FFA entries there will be. It is his opinion, however, that a large number of FFA hogs will be entered from this county.

The 4-H Club boys in Gray County who are now grooming their calves for the show are Michael Price, Jim Green, Billy Green, Leml Green and Reuben Baggerman, two each, and Tommy Arrington, Jimmy Hudson, Kenton Knor Nace Baggerman, Danny Fitzgerald and Orphis Tate, one each.

Those planning to show hogs are Robert Anderwalt, Dale Veale, James Veale, Reuben, Nace and Franklin Baggerman, Jerry McOrphis Tate, two each, and Billy Green, one each.

Mobly points out that the quality of both calves and swine to be shown next January is very good, particularly in the hog class. He feels that the quality of hogs for the coming show will be much better than that of last January's show.

They will trim the hair around the head.

Just before the show opens they will wash their animals and will comb them.

Also just before the show, boys showing hogs will sandpaper the hair of the swine and will trim their hooves.

In the meantime, those in several Panhandle and South Plains counties who will enter cattle in the Hereford Breeders show, also are preparing their animals for the showing.

Preceding the two shows, the Gray County Junior Livestock show will be held on Saturday, Jan. 23, Mobly said. The 16 calves and 22 hogs will be competing on the county level. This will be the first county show to be held here in several years.

Canadian Due New Feed Mill

CANADIAN — (Special) — A feed-mixing and pellet-making mill for Canadian was assured this week with acquisition of the old freight depot, part of which will be two story to accommodate the mill machinery. Plans for the layout include feed mills, pellet maker, molasses mixer and underground storage for molasses.

Cattle feeds are to be mixed for bulk delivery to buyers at the company dock, as well as sacked for sale and distribution over a larger area. The feeds are to be manufactured and sold under the company's "Triple-C" brand name.

Collins-Maddox Company has had the co-operation of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce Industrial Development Committee in locating the plant here.

The old Santa Fe freight depot was built here in 1893, and also served as Canadian's passenger depot in early days. It has not been in use for several years — since the Santa Fe now delivers local freight anywhere in town, handling it from the express docks at the passenger station.

Magazine Praises Pampa, Panhandle

The November issue of the Texas Industry, the official publication of the Texas Manufacturers Association, contains an article on industry in the Panhandle region and has quite a few paragraphs on Pampa.

In speaking of the Pampa area, the article states: "Standing out in bold relief and giving vivid coloring to the Panhandle mosaic, are communities like Amarillo, Borger, Pampa and Dumas." It tells how the Celanese Corporation chose Pampa after making an "extensive survey throughout east and west Texas." "Pampa had the highest rating" in the four factors necessary for the location of the plant—"gas and liquid petroleum, gas for raw material, adequate water and adequate housing for employees."

It also points out that "bank deposits in Pampa outdistanced them all (Amarillo, Borger and Dumas) by soaring more than 1000 per cent between 1930 and 1953."

It gives the history of the Panhandle and mentions important annual celebrations, including Pampa's "colorful Top o' Texas rodeo." There are several picture pages which show the Cabot plant, the Celanese Corporation and the Pampa Foundry Company. And it deals briefly with the Panhandle's "most limited resource" — water.

The article closes by stating that "one thing is certain, the Texas Panhandle will keep its feet in the stirrups and keep moving."

spend much of their spare time with the animals, particularly with the calves. Each afternoon after school they can be found combing their calves' hair, trimming it in places where it is growing faster than at other places.

About two weeks prior to the show they will trim the hooves of the calves and about a week later

Coal Oufit Set To Renew Oil-Curb Fight

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 —UP— The National Coal Association is getting set to renew its congressional fight to curb foreign oil imports which have cut deeply into the domestic coal market.

On Dec. 11, at Chicago, the NCR-sponsored "Foreign Oil Policy Committee" will hold a strategy huddle. The committee is composed of the NRC, John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, coal-hauling Eastern railroads, rail brotherhoods, and other organizations whose welfare is tied to coal.

They claim cheap foreign oil already has cost them millions of dollars and will displace coal in tirely in industry unless Congress can be persuaded to enact import restrictions.

Issue Split Congress

The issue split Congress last summer when coal-state congressmen and independent oil producers fought hard, but vainly, for curbs. At that time President Eisenhower and other GOP leaders insisted on extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act in its present form, until the whole trade law can be studied.

The NCR is now pointing for the session beginning in January and hopes, through the Chicago meeting, to rally heretofore lukewarm Midwestern support behind its drive.

"It will be a gong-ringing meeting," an NCR spokesman said. "All interested parties are being invited to attend. We especially invite western support of Midwestern interests which have a big stake in the coal industry's future."

Coal, Oil Groups Unite

In a recent speech at Morgantown, W. Va., NCR Executive Vice President Tom Pickett, former Texas Congressman, asserted the industry may become too weak to rise to a national emergency if oil imports are not limited.

In Chicago meantime, President Charlton H. Lyons of the Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA), appealed to the big oil importing companies to voluntarily reduce imports to help maintain western interests which have a big stake in the coal industry's future.

The alternative, Lyons said, is a renewal of the IPAA's fight in Congress and continued cleavage within the petroleum industry—a cleavage which is widening as a solution of the import problem is postponed.

The IPAA wants imports cut to 10 per cent of domestic oil consumption. The NCR would go along with that but prefers even sharper curbs. Last summer it had a phalanx of 22 congressmen and senators pressing its cause. When Congress reconvenes, it hopes for at least twice that strength.

MEMO TO TAXPAYERS:
This Dam Business Is Your Business

What Is the Effect of a "YES" Vote in the Election on Tuesday, Nov. 24th, 1953?

IT IS THIS:

1. A "YES" vote makes the City of Pampa a member of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, commonly known as the Canadian River District.
2. The District will be governed by a Board of Directors consisting of eighteen persons, twelve of whom would be from the towns in the District south of Amarillo, six of the Directors would be from Amarillo, Borger and Pampa.
3. This Board of Directors has broad authority by which it can operate the District. In fact, it can borrow money in the name of the District and bind the District for the debt without a vote of the tax-payers of the District provided no bonds are issued for the debt.
4. This Board of Directors also has the power to create a tax-collecting agency which can assess and collect an ad valorem tax on the property of the tax-payers in each city which is a member of the District.
5. The Board of Directors of the District have the power under Section 6, Subdivisions (a & b), to annex cities, towns or counties on petition of the voters of the area seeking annexation, where two-thirds of the Board of Directors vote in favor of taking such city, town or county into the district.
6. Under Vernon's Texas Laws, 53rd Legislature, Section 13, Subdivision (i), the Board of Directors are vested, among others, with the following powers:

 "SECTION 13, DISTRICT POWERS: (i) To borrow money for its corporate purposes, and without limitation of the generality of the forgoing to borrow money and accept grants, gratuities or other support from the United States of America or the State of Texas, or from any corporation or agency created or designated by the United States of America or the State of Texas, and, in connection with any such loan, grant, or other support, to enter into such arrangement with the United States of America or the State of Texas or such corporation or agency, of either as the District may deem advisable;
7. The above powers granted the Board of Directors may be exercised by the Board without the necessity of calling for another election and prior to the right of any city voting to withdraw from the District.

What Kind or Character of Tax-Collecting Agency Will the Board of Directors Create for the District?

AND WHAT WILL BE THE TAX RATE?

Section 21 of the Law provides: "TAXATION. Prior to the issuance of district bonds, or the execution of a contract payable wholly or partially from ad valorem taxes, the Board of Directors shall appoint a Tax Assessor and Collector and a Board of Equalization, and shall cause taxes to be assessed, valuations to be equalized and tax rolls to be prepared. The Board of Directors may also appoint deputies to assist the Tax Assessor and Collector in such manner and for such period as it may order. Where applicable and not in conflict herewith, the General Laws relating to Water Control and Improvement Districts with reference to Tax Assessors and Collectors, Board of Equalization, tax rolls and the levy and collection of taxes and delinquent taxes shall be applicable to this District, except that the Board of Equalization to be appointed each year by the Board of Directors shall consist of one member residing in each city then contained in the District. All taxes to be levied, assessed and collected by the District shall be on an ad valorem basis and all provisions of the General Laws pertaining to the levy, assessment and collection of ad valorem taxes by Water Control and Improvement District including the enforcement thereof and the processes for the collection of delinquent taxes therein provided shall be applicable to the District herein created."

Proponents of the Canadian Dam have said that if we vote to stay out of the District at this time, we can never get into it. You can see from the Law which has been given to you from Subdivisions (a & b), Section 6, Vernon's Texas Session Law Service, 53rd Legislature, that this is not true. Now, suppose we vote to enter the district, is it as easy as proponents would have you to think to get out of it?

Section 15, Subdivision (1) of the Act, Page 628-629, Vernon's Texas Law, 53rd Legislature, provides in substance as follows:

After the Board of Director have determined to call an election for the issuance of bonds, it shall notify the governing body of each city in the District the date on which the Board will consider the resolution calling the election. This notice shall go out at least 14 days prior to the date for the consideration of the resolution. If prior to the date designated for calling the bond election, the governing body of any city in the District shall adopt a resolution requesting a withdrawal and certified copy of such resolution is delivered to the District at least 3 days prior to the date assigned for passing the election order, then the District may do one of two things. It may pass a resolution granting the request and immediately eliminate the city from the District, or, secand, it may, on petition of 100 tax-paying voters of the city, call an election in such city at which two issues will be submitted, one of which shall be, "Do you desire to remain in the District?" and the other being, "Are you in favor of the bond issue?" In the event the governing body of the city, (in Pampa's case the Mayor and City Commission), fails, refuses, or neglects for any reason to give notice to the District that Pampa desires to withdraw from the District, then if the bond issue election carries by 51% on a district-wide vote and is defeated in Pampa, Pampa remains in the District and is bound by the bond issue. Once a bond issue of any size is passed which binds Pampa, then Pampa can never get out of the District and is bound by all future bond issues that receive a majority vote on a district-wide count.

Now Is It So Easy to Get Out of the District?

Under the above Law, if the citizens of Pampa approved a small bond issue to defray organizational expenses, then Pampa would forever be a member of the district.

If, under the above Law, the Board of Directors, after an affirmative vote of the District voters, should make a contract with the Federal Government for a small gift or appropriation covering an operational expense, the Federal Government would in all probability never permit Pampa to withdraw from the District.

The sum and substance of a "YES" vote on the Tuesday election simply means that the tax-paying citizens of Pampa are placing their right to stay in or get out of the district in some future City Commission of Pampa, the membership of which is certainly at this time unknown.

Under the existing law the tax-paying citizens of Pampa cannot petition the Water District to get out of the District, but must depend upon the Pampa City Commission to take the required steps provided by Section 15, Subdivision (1) of the Law.

Area Turkey Rancher Keeps Birds On Elevated Porches

By JANE KADINCO
Pampa News Staff Writer

As Thanksgiving Day draws near, most of us see visions of a large, steaming turkey, filled with our favorite dressing. But how many of us have visited a turkey farm to discover the work and the care involved in making it possible for the fowl to be dominating our table? It's not such an impossibility for Pampans for the W. T. Noland turkey battery is located just east of Kingsmill on the Amarillo highway.

Noland has 1100 turkeys on hand for Thanksgiving which are kept on a "sun porch" in front of his processing building — the "toms" at one end and the "hens" at the other. (They don't get along very well together.) These turkeys are what are left from the original 1200 Noland started out with in May. The others had "weak constitutions."

IN GENERAL, however, birds are pretty hardy. "Last year we had a terrible blizzard, but they came through all right," stated Mrs. Noland, who helps out in the battery. "They didn't seem to like it and huddled together, but we got out and chased them around to get their blood circulating. Their wings were coated with ice, but they came through o.k."

Noland has two strains of turkeys — the Beltville Whites and the Baby Beef Bronze. He doesn't breed the birds, but buys them when they are very young from government approved breeders.

"They're shipped to me about two hours after they're hatched, either by airmail or parcel post," he stated. "Sometimes, the breeder delivers them right here to the battery."

The newly-hatched turkeys are then placed in the three sun porches in the rear of the building, on cold weather, they are put in "brooder rooms." Noland has four of these rooms which are kept warm by large gas burners in the center of each.

AT THE END of six weeks, each turkey must be vaccinated for chicken pox and they are then placed on Noland's special "prescription diet."

"I write out the prescription just like a doctor does for a patient," he explained. But he refused to reveal his formula as he maintains it is the secret of the quality of his turkey's meat. He did reveal, however, that it contains beef scraps, soy bean oil and "other ingredients."

At eight weeks, each turkey has his beak cut off by an automatic "debeaker." The machine severs the bill about half way between the bird's eyes and the end of the beak.

"This keeps them from resorting to cannibalism," Noland advised. "Otherwise, they peck at each other's eyes and pull out each other's feathers."

After being "debeaked" and with male and female kept separated, the turkeys are quite docile. In fact, if you're not careful, Noland is liable to lead you into the front sunporch and grab a turkey for you to "see how a live one feels," while you wade inch by inch through a sea of gobbling "gobblers."

NOLAND RAISES all his turkeys "off the ground," on raised porches. "I was the first man west of the Mississippi to raise them in a battery off the ground," he maintained. "The difference is the same as between a man who sits behind his desk all day and a football player." He also compared their meat to that of a good roasting hen (chicken) with that of a rooster.

"They're tenderer and they cook faster," he explained. "An eight to ten pound turkey will cook in 2 1/2 hours (if it's raised "off the ground"). If you cook it any longer, the meat will curl away from the bones, they're so tender."

The battery has a large "killing" room where the birds are slaughtered and bled. Then, the fowl is "near boiled" in a large vat. The "plucking" is done by a machine which begins to operate as soon as you step on a platform attached to it. The bird is held over the "blades" which automatically pluck out the feathers.

The cleaning and dressing room is next. It contains a long table where six people stand on each side. Over the table is a pipe which sprays water on the bird all the time it is being cleaned and dressed.

WHEN this process is completed, the heart and gizzards are placed inside the turkey and it is put in a large tank filled with huge chunks of ice to "chill off" the body heat. Later, the turkey is

Noland has lived in the Pampa area for 20 years. He used to have his battery by the Phillips pipeline pump station, but he was "burned out" in 1948 when lightning struck one of the tanks. 20 NORTH GRAY PAMPA

Think Before You Vote

WHEN? Tuesday, November 14.

WHERE DO WE VOTE? City Commission Room in City Hall.

WHO CAN VOTE? Qualified voters in other City of Pampa

Elections who have rendered property for taxes to the City of Pampa for 1953.

WHAT ARE WE VOTING ON?

Whether Pampa will become a member of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, which will control Texas share of the waters of the Canadian River.

WHAT BENEFITS WOULD PAMPA GET FROM THIS ORGANIZATION? Retain its rights to a pro-rata share of the waters of the Canadian River as provided by the legislature of the State of Texas. Allow representatives from Pampa to work with other member cities toward a plan whereby these flood waters can be economically used.

WHAT WILL IT COST PAMPA TO BECOME A MEMBER OF THIS ORGANIZATION? This election does not authorize the issuance of any bonds. Any financial program for the construction of a dam and using these waters would have to be voted on at a later date by the people.

COULD PAMPA WITHDRAW FROM THIS ORGANIZATION AT A LATER DATE? Yes, by the following procedure, as provided by law:

Before bonds are voted each city may withdraw by request from its governing body — unless the people of that particular city vote to remain in the district.

ARE THESE RIGHTS OF ANY VALUE?

Less than 25 years ago 1c per thousand cu. ft. was a "good price" for natural gas in the Panhandle of Texas. Less than 25 years ago Texas crude oil sold for 10c per barrel.

Would you be one to say the value of water in the Panhandle of Texas would not increase in a like manner within the next 25 years?

Or, that the Canadian River (the only major supply of surface waters in this area) would not be our "best" source of supply within this time?

Water always becomes a problem for growing cities of our area. The progressive cities in Texas are acquiring all the available surface water rights they can obtain.

IS THERE ANY TIME LIMIT ON OUR RIGHTS TO USE THIS WATER? The Law makes no limitations.

HOWEVER, WE MUST ACT NOW OR OUR RIGHTS TO THE CANADIAN RIVER WATERS MAY BE FOREVER LOST.

The above information is provided as a public service by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce to help answer your questions regarding this election. Its Board of Directors, after studying the provisions of the law authorizing this election, feel that Pampa should become a member of this organization and are recommending that you vote "Yes" next Tuesday.

Harvesters Drop 19 To Decision To Lubbok Westerners

1st Shutout For PHS Since 1948

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor
JONES STADIUM, LUBBOCK, Nov. 21 — Lubbok's Westerners bucked the wind for two touchdowns in the first quarter here Saturday afternoon and then went on to a 19-0 victory over the Fighting Harvesters before a shivering crowd of 5,000 fans.

It was the first whitewashing a Harvester team has suffered since Wichita Falls turned the trick in 1948 with a 6-0 win over the Green and Goldens.

To say the Harvesters were flat here today is an understatement. The Pampans apparently hadn't recovered from the shocking defeat at the hands of Odessa last week, Lubbok got fired up early in the game when they scored twice in the first nine minutes of play and the defending state champions protected their goal line the rest of the game.

The absence of regular halfback Harold Lewis was severely felt by the Harvesters, Lewis, the leading ground gainer for the Pampans, was present at the game but was in civilian clothes. Lewis had suffered a knocked-down shoulder in workout last Monday and his arm was still in a sling today.

With Lewis out of the lineup, the Westerners were able to keep a closer eye on Ed Dudley-Lewis' chief running mate, Dudley, nevertheless, netted 55 yards on 17 carries.

Another regular halfback, John Darby, was also held out most of the action. Darby still hasn't recovered from a kidney injury he received a month ago in the Abilene game. Darby did carry three times in today's tilt and netted seven yards.

Despite the injury status, the Harvesters were still very active in the game until the fading minutes of play when the Westerners pushed over their third tally.

Fumbles hurt Harvesters
The Westerners used breaks to score two of their touchdowns. The second of three Harvester fumbles that gave the ball to Lubbok resulted in an easy TD for the Westerners late in the first quarter. The Harvesters halted a Lubbok drive on their own five but it didn't do 'em much good as Dudley played a handoff on the Westerners' side when the Harvesters took possession and was recovered by the Westerners on the three.

Dukes Bow To Ga. Tech In Thriller 13-10
ATLANTA, Nov. 21 — Billy Toss grabbed a punt with less than four minutes left Saturday and on a "now or never" play streaked 48 yards downfield and Rogers set up a blocker to give Georgia Tech a throbbing 13 to 10 victory over Duke.

His blockers literally bounced the heavier Blue Devils out of his path.

WACO, Tex., Nov. 21 — UP—Cool Cotton Davidson, a 60-minute man of destiny in an action-crammed afternoon of football frenzy, led Baylor to a breath-taking 27 to 21 victory over Southern Methodist Saturday and kept his team in the Southwest Conference title tussle.

The slender, 177-pounder fired the winning 37-yard touchdown pass with 90 seconds to go and capped a dazzling defensive show with an end zone interception that shut the victory door in SMU's face with scant seconds to play.

Davidson was not the only hero in a football thriller that left 30,000 sun-drenched fans limp in their seats at the final gun. But his star shown brightest as Baylor turned three SMU fumbles and a pass interception into as many touchdowns—two in the opening quarter.

Passed For Two Scores
The lanky quarterback passed for two touchdowns, sneaked for one himself and kicked three extra points as he set the stage for a showdown battle with Rice at Houston next week.

He hit 15 out of 29 passes for 198 yards in the whipsaw battle that saw fullback Allen Jones race eight yards for the first Baylor touchdown. Davidson dove one foot for the second, passed eight yards to end Wayne Hopkins for the third as Baylor took a 20-to-14 halftime lead and 37 yards to end Charles Smith for the clincher.

Two touchdowns behind, SMU scored in the second quarter on a two-yard smash by Hal O'Brien and a 36-yard heave from Duane Nutt that O'Brien snagged away.

from a Baylor defender in the end zone.

This time, Nutt hit end Ed Bernet, kicked his third straight conversion to put SMU ahead by a point.

The wild contest saw first one and then the other take command of the game as the ball changed hands 15 times on fumbles and pass interceptions. SMU lost the ball five times on fumbles and four times on interceptions, while Baylor had four aerials backfire and give the ball away twice.

SMU never had to punt as the Mustangs piled up 213 yards on the ground and 129 passing with an amazing running attack featuring O'Brien and Don McIlhenny. Baylor got 139 yards on the ground to go with the 198 passing.

AMARILLO Nov. 21 (Special)—Playing in 26-degree weather before an estimated 800 fans, the Amarillo Sandies scored a 26-14 triumph over the Borger Bulldogs here Saturday afternoon.

The first quarter was scoreless, but on the second play of the second period, Bobby Graham, Amarillo back, went outside right tackle for eight yards to score the first touchdown. The try for points failed.

Odessa Broncs Oklahoma Sooners Defeat Gain 32-0 Win Nebraska Cornhuskers, 30-7 Over Bobcats

By FRANK RALL
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 21 — UP—Oklahoma, champions of the Big Seven Conference title and an Orange Bowl berth assured, methodically overpowered Nebraska 30-7 Saturday in a conference game before 31,000 chilled fans.

Quarterback Gene Calame and fullback Robert Burris running the mighty Oklahoma line, brought the Sooners their seventh victory this season against one tie and one loss.

The mighty Sooners punched out 432 yards to 122 for outrushed Nebraska. Oklahoma rolled up 24 first downs in the first half.

It was the 41st consecutive Big Seven game without defeat for Oklahoma, although two of the string were ties. Oklahoma, apparently savings its fancy plays for the Orange Bowl, used sheer power and little passing to hand Nebraska its sixth loss of the year against three wins and one tie.

The big Sooner line led by J.D. Roberts and Melvin Brown stalled the Huskers repeatedly. Three bad passes from center rolled into the end zone and hurt Nebraska. One resulted in an Oklahoma safety in the first period.

Sandies Rip Borger, 26-14

A few moments later, Wick Alexander, another Sandy back, went off left tackle and scampered 33 yards for the second Amarillo score. Kenny Stephenson kicked the extra point and gave the Sandies a 13-0 lead.

Borger came back to score the first of its two touchdowns. Don Hay returned the ensuing kickoff from his own three-yard line to the game. Borger scored its final point and the half ended with Amarillo leading, 13-7.

In the third quarter when David Kent climaxed a 73 yard drive with a 19-yard touchdown run, Stephenson's kick for the extra point was good and Amarillo led, 20-7.

In the same period the Sandies scored again after Graham set up the touchdown with a 65-yard gallop to the Borger 17. Three plays later, Kent went off tackle for the score. The try for point failed in the Sandies' 26-7 lead.

With five minutes left to play in the game, Borger kicked its final tally with Jerry Elder ending a 63-yard march by going over center for four yards and the touchdown. Mark Clapp kicked the extra point.

Guerrillas, Reapers To Clash Tomorrow

The Pampa Junior High Reapers and Guerrillas will wind up their season's activities when the two teams clash against each other at Harvester Stadium Monday afternoon.

Efforts by the Reapers to get a post season game with an outsider failed as the Junior High laid challenge to the Guerrillas. The Guerrillas accepted.

Kickoff time will be 3 p.m.

Score by periods:
Houston 0 7 7 7-21
Texas Tech 13 14 0 14-41

HOUSTON Nov. 21 — UP—A representative of the Sugar Bowl Saturday described the Texas Tech football team as a "colorful and offense-minded" team and said it was definitely being considered for the Jan. 1 game in New Orleans.

Cal Surprises Stanford 21-21

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 21 — UP—Stung to a fighting fury by a series of bad breaks that put them two touchdowns behind, the California Golden Bears Saturday battled their way to two touchdowns in the last half to give them a 21-21 tie with Stanford and knock the Indians out of the Rose Bowl.

The tie, coupled with UCLA's victory over Southern California, gave the UCLA Bruins the Pacific Coast Conference title and the right to represent the PCC against the Big Ten champion in the Rose Bowl.

The Golden Bears, who haven't lost a game to Stanford since 1946, finally found the way to stop Stanford's great Bobby Garrett. It was simple. They just intercepted five of his passes. That gave them ball control and eventually led to the tie.

Takes National Lead
Garrett previously had had only five passes intercepted all season. A capacity crowd of 92,500 watched as Paul Larson took over the national ground gaining leadership as he completed 13 out of 22 passes for 179 yards. He also had a net gain of 55 yards on the ground for a 214 yard game total and a season aggregate for the year 1,882 yards.

Garrett, who was three yards ahead of Larson at the opening kickoff Saturday, picked up 131 yards in the air with 12 completions out of 27 attempts. He never carried the ball from scrimmage, leaving him with a season aggregate total of 1,502 yards.

Some 20,000 fans and three Sugar Bowl representatives watched as Tech Red Raiders overpowered Houston in virtually every department.

State Schooboy Races Shape Up

By DICK HARDWICK
United Press Sports Writer
District champions or co-champions were named Friday night in 14 of Texas' 79 schoolboy football districts in four classes, leaving only three districts in Class AAAA and two in AAA still undetermined.

Port Arthur and Corpus Christi Ray joined Odessa, El Paso Bowie and Waco in playoff representation in the upper bracket, Fort Arthur beat Baytown on penetrations 5 to 4 in a 13 to 13 tie game for the 8-AAAA title, and Ray defeated Austin 13 to 0 for the 6-AAAA championship.

Brownwood Temple and Port Neches joined Big Spring, San Antonio Edison and Edinburg as playoff representatives in Class AAS. Brownwood trounced Cleburne 35 to 14 in 2-AAA as fullback Ray Masters scored four touchdowns highest and passed for the other three. Temple whipped Corsair 27 to 7 for the 3-AAA crown and Port Neches tripped Texas City 40 to 20 for the championship of 6-AAA.

Terrell, last year's Class AA State champion, beat Mineola 34 to 6 and thus becomes the only one of four defending state titlists to survive this year. Lubbock and Breckinridge, the Class AAAA and AAA champs, respectively, have been beaten out in their district and Wink, the Class A champion, was beaten by McCamey 12 to 6 Friday night in a 3-1 tie.

With McCamey, 12 other Class A teams moved into the playoffs with the 18 which won playoff berths previously. The new additions are Canadian in District 7; Sonora in 8; Albany in 8; Grapevine in 10; Hawkins in 18; Levertts Chapel in 17; Cedar Bayou in 20; Franklin in 21; Dalling in 24; Deer Park in 26; Crystal City in 28; and Karnes City in 30.

Previously earning playoff spots were Spots Lake, Hale Center, Sundown, Ranger, Paducah, Clifton, Richardson, Whitegirt, Canton, Newton, Trinity, Elgin, Burnet, A and M Consolidated, Palacios, Boerne, Hebronville and Lyford. Three deadlocked districts. Talco, Jefferson and New Boston are deadlocked for the 14-A title, and Karnes City tied with George West and Three Rivers in 30-A but was named the playoff team.

Canadian, which finished its schedule last week, backed into the playoff spot as McLean beat Memphis 20 to 13; Sonora trounced Ozona 47 to 6; Albany blanked Haskell 12 to 0; Grapevine edged Levellville 7 to 6; Hawkins nipped White Oak 13 to 7; Levertts Chapel upset Gaston 13 to 7; Franklin beat Groesbeck 27 to 0; Luling outscored Giddings 35 to 21; Deer Park beat Dickinson 38 to 7; Crystal City shut out Carrizo Springs 20 to 0; and Karnes City won over Devine 7 to 0.

The district still undecided will be settled in next week's final games. Class AA and A teams, in final games Friday night, crowned champions or playoff representatives in 58 of the 63 districts. Three-way ties exist in four Class AA and one Class A district and district officials must determine the playoff champion in each. Friday night, 14 Class AA teams joined 11 other winners who clinched playoff spots last week. They are Phillips in District 1; Childers in 3; Spur in 5; Fort Stockton in 7; Ballinger in 8; Jackboro in 11; Dallas Hillcrest in 12; Henderson in 16; Jasper in 27; LaVega in 21; Lampassas in 22; Rosebud in 23; LaMarque in 27; Del Rio in 29; Refugio in 30; and Falfurrias in 31.

Question: Safety man signals for a fair catch. He makes the catch, then suddenly tries to run. He is tackled and he takes only a couple of steps. Shouldn't the safety man be penalized for faking a fair catch?
Answer: The catcher should be charged with a five-yard penalty from the succeeding spot.

Q. What is the difference between the straight T formation and the split T? What is a winged T?
A. In the T formation, the linemen are closely bunched. The quarterback, planted behind the center, pivots and executes his hand-off from that point. In the split T, the linemen are spaced a yard or more apart. The center angles blocks, and the quarterback, after taking the snap from center, moves laterally in either direction behind the line, handing off to a dive man, tucking back to a swing man or keeping and running off tackle.

The winged T is distinguished by one of the halfbacks moving out on a flank to a position usually behind one of the ends.

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 21—UP—Navy Page, who has won stake races both in the U. S. and Canada this year, was a heavy favorite to win the first section of the $15,000 added Fort McHenry Handicap Saturday at Bowie.

Southern Methodist Halfback Jerry Norton, center, will be going against Texas Christian on the same afternoon and Alabama's hopes against Auburn are pinned on Bobby Luna, standout halfback. (NEA)

Lefors Wins Over Clarendon in Homecoming Tilt, 26-18

By WALT SWITER
Pampa News Staff Writer
LEFORS—A strong wind and a snow storm hampered homecoming activities at the Lefors-Clarendon football game here Saturday afternoon, but the Lefors Pirates made up for it by defeating the Bronchos from Clarendon, 26-18.

It was an evenly fought contest throughout most of the game, except early in the first quarter when Lefors scored their first two touchdowns. In impressive ceremonies just before the game got underway, Miss Pat Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carpenter, a member of the Lefors High School Senior class, was crowned Homecoming Queen before a very small crowd of football fans who were huddled together in the stands.

As the band formed a heart on the 50-yard line, which was pierced by an arrow, formed by members of the pep squad and the "B" squad of the football team. Miss Carpenter was driven to the center of the field in a convertible, furnished by Tex Evans Buick company of Pampa. Getting out of the car, she was escorted to the center of the heart, where she was crowned queen by Dickey Redus, Pirate captain. The Pirates scored their first touchdown on the seventh play after the opening kickoff, after recovering a Clarendon fumble on the first play. Recovering the fumble on the Clarendon 34-yard line, the Pirates marched to the score with Joe David Martin skirting right end for Tom O'Neill into the end zone. Woolton's placekick for the extra point was good to give the Pirates a 7-0 lead.

After Clarendon returned the ensuing kickoff to their own 39-yard stripe, Billy Hill, Clarendon back, picked up four yards at left tackle. Bob Philley gained four at center and then hit the same spot for four more and a first down on the Lefors 49. But on the next play, a Broncho fumble was recovered by Lefors on the Clarendon 48-yard marker.

On the next play, Phil Earhart snagged a pass on the Clarendon 28 and ran the rest of the way for the second Pirate touchdown, the pass being good for 82 yards. Midway in the second quarter, Clarendon fought back to score their first touchdown, with Bobby Johnson crushing the center for 31 yards and the score, climaxing a 7-0 drive.

Detroit Overpowers Tulsa Eleven, 33-0

TULSA, Nov. 21—UP—The University of Detroit clung to its championship tie with Oklahoma A&M Saturday by drubbing fumbling Tulsa 33 to 0 before a sparse, cold-weather crowd of less than 7,000. Detroit can tie the Oklahoma Aggies for the Missouri Valley Conference championship in their game in Kansas next week.

The Titans, using a ground game which rolled up 231 yards, punched across scores in every period with two coming in the second. Halfback Lee Riley scored twice on short bursts, with Bob Burgeimer, Tom O'Neill and Dick Abel adding one each.

Tulsa Held Back
The Tulsans, closing a less than successful season with a 3-6 record, never penetrated beyond the Detroit 12. That was in the third period. A penalty set the ball back out of range, and a Tulsa pass try from the 29 backfired when Burgeimer appeared it and turned in a 37-yard puntback to start the fourth Detroit scoring march.

Final Detroit Score
The final Detroit score came on a 35-yard pass from Tom Tramski to end Dick Abel.

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 21—UP—A brief, but exciting game for all among players and spectators brought a rousing finished to a 10-to-6 Missouri victory over Kansas in the 62nd renewal of their football rivalry Saturday. Missouri led 10-0 when Kansas completed a long desperation pass in the closing seconds. The pass brought a touchdown and also set off the fisticuffs.

There was such confusion for a few moments, it was difficult to tell what actually started the fighting, but when the field was cleared of spectators, officials charged Missouri with unsportsmanlike conduct. Kansas naturally declined the penalty and took the touchdown. The fight delayed the game about 10 minutes with 21 seconds remaining.

That was by far the most exciting episode of the game. But there was another development, a short time later when Kansas Coach Jules V. Sikes announced from the dressing room that he had tendered his resignation and that it had been accepted. The action was not altogether surprising since rumors had been circulating for weeks that his contract would not be renewed.

Missouri used a pass as a principal weapon to win the game and clinch a tie with Kansas State for second place in the final Big Seven Conference standings. The triumph gave Missouri a 6-4-0 record for the season and the loss was the eighth in 10 starts for Kansas. Score by periods: Kansas 0 0 0 0-0 Missouri led 10-0 when Kansas converted a 10-0 yard pass into a 10-0 touchdown. Missouri scored: Touchdown, Petterson.

Missouri scoring: Touchdown, Petterson. Conversion, Merrifield. Field goal, Merrifield. Kansas scoring: Touchdown, Merrifield. Field goal, Merrifield.

LSU Ekes Out 9-8 Win Over Porkers

By JOHN HASLAM
LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 21—UP—Louisiana State University made a first quarter touchdown, kicked a field goal and then protected its lead to nudge the University of Arkansas, 9 to 8, Saturday.

Arkansas made two desperate goal-line assaults in the rain-soaked fourth quarter before an estimated 22,000 spectators, but the Louisiana team held fast and settled for an Arkansas safety.

LSU ended the scoring. LSU showed superiority in ever department of the game. Th Tigers made 17 first downs to Arkansas, 163 yards rushing to 102 for Arkansas, and complete 11 out of 19 passes for 121 yard while the Razorbacks completed out of 14 for 8 yards.

Score by periods: LSU 6 3 0 0-9 Arkansas 0 0 0 2-2 LSU scoring: Touchdowns, Brucanto, Field goal, Davis. Arkansas scoring: Touchdown, Roth. Safety, Warren tackled Dotsett in end zone.

Little Passing
Passing took a backseat to ground power on the part of two teams coached by pass-happy Bowden Wyatt of Arkansas and Gwynell Tinsley of LSU. It was the first meeting of Arkansas and Louisiana since 1947 when they battled through a 6-0 tie in the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas.

George Brucanto scored first for Louisiana, plunging over for the touchdown five minutes and 20 seconds after play started. Arkansas tied it up a few minutes later when Jim Roth, a junior from Stuttgart, blocked a punt and fell on the ball behind the LSU goal line.

Field Goal
A spectacular 32-yard field goal by Shreveport freshman Tommy Davis, kicked from a dangerous angle early in the second period, proved the difference between defeat and victory for Louisiana State, giving the Tigers a 9-6 advantage.

Late in the fourth quarter Bob Warren tackled Al Doggett in the end zone for a two-point safety that ended the scoring. LSU showed superiority in ever department of the game. Th Tigers made 17 first downs to Arkansas, 163 yards rushing to 102 for Arkansas, and complete 11 out of 19 passes for 121 yard while the Razorbacks completed out of 14 for 8 yards.

Score by periods: LSU 6 3 0 0-9 Arkansas 0 0 0 2-2 LSU scoring: Touchdowns, Brucanto, Field goal, Davis. Arkansas scoring: Touchdown, Roth. Safety, Warren tackled Dotsett in end zone.

AS SCIENCE PROJECT

Junior High School Youth Builds Model Solar System

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer
Put 351 teen-aged boys and girls together and you have just about as many different interests and inclinations as you have people. And when you split 'em up into 10 separate groups, the differences seem even more pronounced. No exception is the eighth grade of the Pampa Junior High School, especially in the general science class.

WALK INTO Room 219 on the second floor at the head of the stairs and you see all manner of things on the walls and bulletin boards, atop shelves, even in the corners.

Mrs. J. B. Austin instructs eight of the 10 eighth-grade groups — four one day, four the next — and she even is a bit amazed at the variety of interests she comes across in her classes.

On one bulletin board are pictures of autumn scenes. On the wall in another corner is a diagram of the solar system. In still a third corner are shelves piled with books of interest to the class.

That fourth corner, though, holds probably the biggest surprise of all. On top of the locker there is a circular object with a light bulb and cork balls supported by thread-like legs.

"It's the solar system," Neil Cockrell, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ensel Cockrell, 311 S. Ballard, pipes up. And he ought to know—he made it.

THE YELLOW bulb, which is connected to a wall socket so that it can light up, represents the sun, says Neil who, then points to nine round pieces of cork, arranged pretty much in two concentric circles around the "sun."

"That's Mercury, Venus, the earth and its moon and Mars," the well-scrubbed lad says, pointing out each one with a pencil-point. In the outer circle are Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. "We don't know its actual size," Neil says of Pluto. "So I made it small. It's so far away." All the "planets" are different sizes and colors. And they're supported by small stands with bases of balloons.

The whole thing sits on two round pieces of wood, flush with each other, with a strip of thin balsa around the circumference. Painted blue, it has white stars.

"I just looked in a science book while back," Neil explains, "and I decided to make it." And it's pretty complete, too, right down to two of the actual three rings around Saturn. He figures it only took him two weeks.

"NEIL REALLY jumped the gun on the class," Mrs. Austin said as she explained how she usually assigns such projects in the second half of the year, right after mid-year exams.

Another of her students, Tommy Covatt, is planning quite an extensive project, too. A miniature observatory, the kind they poke a telescope through into the sky. Everything but the "scope itself is his plan, she said.

As is the case in most of the schools of the land, there is at least one youngster who "lives and breathes" science. Leading candidate in this class, Mrs. Austin figures, might well be John Nead, who goes by the nick-name of "professor."

IT'S THE SOLAR SYSTEM — Neil Cockrell, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ensel Cockrell, 311 S. Ballard, looks over his project in his eighth-grade science class. The whole thing, light bulb and all, portrays the solar system. The 350 other Junior High school students in his grade will also have to complete projects before the end of the school year. (News Photo)

The model, like the solar system and the observatory, is only one way in which students can fulfill their project requirements in the course.

OTHER WAYS include the amassing of a scrapbook on a specific subject; the drawing of a diagram on a certain item or idea; the collecting of different insects, leaves and seeds.

Much preferring that her students pick their own project, Mrs. Austin indicates, however, that she'll assign one if the time is wanting.

Working with Mrs. Austin is Miss Chloe Darden who instructs the other two of the 10 groups, one each day. Between them they handle a variety of different material in the course, including weather and climate, health, magnetism and electrical energy, the skeleton and the circulatory system, and animals and rocks and shells. And on the list goes.

Perhaps the comment of Neil on his astronomy project is indicative of the purpose and working of the entire course:

"I'm interested a little and I intend to keep on being interested."

Goldberg Is Still On Air

By JACK GAVER
NEW YORK, Nov. 20—UP—Molly Goldberg isn't working these days but Sophie Milner is, and since they are both Mrs. Gertrude Berg, the radio-television world hasn't yet gone completely to pot.

Fans of the wonderful Molly, numbering in the millions after "The Goldbergs" program had been on radio and TV for almost a quarter of a century, were only temporarily bereft this fall when the tight TV air-time situation made it impossible, for the time being, for NBC to find a spot for it that would be appealing to sponsors.

NBC quickly had Mrs. Berg, creator, writer and chief actor of "The Goldbergs," whip up a new idea for its expanded radio programming and put her back on the air in "The House of Glass" at 9:35 p.m. each Friday. Although the background is different, it has the same warm charm that made "The Goldbergs" so popular.

Childhood Background
Mrs. Berg spent much of her time as a child in an upstate New York inn run by her parents and she has drawn on this background for the air serial about a resort hotel operated by Mr. Glass. Her Sophie Milner is the cook at the hotel and the object of Mr. Glass' affections.

"I used to watch everything that went on in my father's inn," Mrs. Berg said, "and often I made notes on things that people said and did. I guess that even then I wanted to write."

"I remember I used to play a sort of game with my grandmother. I'd study a guest and then mimic the person for my grandmother and she had to guess who it was supposed to be."

Guests Came Back
"She felt at first that it probably wasn't a nice thing for me to do, but gradually she came to feel that this might be entertainment for the social hall on Saturday nights. The 'act' became a regular part of the program, and since the same guests came back year after year, I guess I offended no one."

"So I've gone back to those days for some of the material for the new show. It brings back a lot of wonderful memories. Each script I prepare reminds me of all the fun we had in those days."

"Sing Praises To His Name, He Forgets Not His Own"

Thanksgiving . . .

And what are we thankful for? The list is too great. Maybe small, usually simple, one thing always stands out — one thing for which we are joyfully, unashamedly thankful. Pamphans here have varied reasons for Thanksgiving.

STEVIE AND DINKY — Obviously grateful for each other are Stevie Grady, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Grady Jr., 1221 Charles, and Dinky, 2, pride and joy of Stevie.

JAN AND SALLY — They're thankful for happy hours together. A lovable doll is plenty of reason for a little girl like Jan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Cook, 1326 E. Kingsmill, to be happy.

ONE SMALL BLESSING . . . but tremendous cause for joy this year in the Wayne Chambers home is tiny Sandra, shown with her new parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Chambers. Sandra has a big brother, Steven Wayne, 15 months. Mrs. Chambers is a war bride from South Wales.

RE-UNITED . . . are Dr. and Mrs. John W. Jermyn. For them, as for many others in our times, the answer is simply home — home together after long months of separation during Dr. Jermyn's service in Korea. With them in their home at 1153 Starkweather are their children, Bill, 2, and Deborah, 5 months.

Soda Chums

SODA CHUMS — Judging from their expressions, who could ask for more? Basil Deroy Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Myers, 916 Llano St., and Jo Ann Keese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Keese, 1180 Prairie Drive, have a soda together.

FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS . . . make holiday seasons and all seasons more warmhearted and wonderful. Enjoying a visit together are Mrs. Joe Denton, left, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pollard, center, and Joe Denton, right. The Pollards reside at 932 S. Sumner and the Dentons at 1126 Oklahoma.

"THERE IS ONE DAY THAT IS OURS. There is one day when all we Americans who are not self-made go back to the old home to eat Saleratus biscuits and marvel how much nearer to the porch the old pump looks than it used to. . . Thanksgiving Day. . . it is the one day that is purely American."

"Oh, Henry!"

THANKS TO THE BARBERSHOPPERS for a wonderful, wonderful evening. Truly, this is one of the most-looked-forward-to events of the winter season. It's one of our finest all-family entertainments, and many rushed back from the Lubbock game to make a part of the show. The friendly Amarillo Hearsemen were on hand as well as our favorite local quartets, and it sure seemed good to have Dr. Cal Jones back again, and good to have a newcomer like Porter Brooks join forces with our local harmony lovers, Bunny Shultz, James Evans, Mac Hiatt (whose wife shares his love for singing) and many more work to perpetuate the SPEBSQSA, Inc. (Did we get all the letters in it?) The chorus is splendid and everyone is saying Bill Haley deserves all the credit because under his leadership the barbershoppers "give out with music they didn't know was in them!" Billies tops with piano, too, or the accordion, if you prefer! The quartets are "just working people" who spend week ends entertaining at far away places. Is there any other entertainment followed by more-of-the-same? From the way folks turn up at the "afterglow" we know they never tire of this four-part singing.

WE'RE ENTHUSIASTIC about the Beta Sigma Phi table setting contest. Goodness! one can get enough ideas to last a year around, and we're anxious to hear more of the details of that exhibit. Especially curious about some of the decorating ideas the clubs are planning, but guess every club will want to keep its plan a deep, dark secret. Who wouldn't. . . with those cash prizes involved! Elsie Plants, who works up in the Hughes Building, is the popular president of that sorority.

SOMETHING NEW in banquets is coming up this week when the district scout leaders get together in the Friendship Hall at the Methodist church. Everybody is bringing his own "pot luck supper." Don Cain, George Newberry, and Phil Pegues, Scout executive, will be featured on the program, and Clinton Evans is to be principal speaker. And say, isn't Clint getting to be one of our most popular speakers. Somehow, he manages the presidency of the Kiwanis club and Board of City Development, and finds time to speak for a variety of men's and women's groups, on a variety of subjects. He's been Knife and Fork club president and was chairman of the March of Dimes drive year before last. His interest and active participation in the many facets of our community life make him an exemplary citizen.

DISAPPOINTMENT OF THE WEEK: The poor response to the United Fund drive, supposedly the answer to the complaint of citizens who were asked to give too much too often. The slogan was "Everyone can give at least one dollar a month." But as it turned out, too many persons could not give even one dollar a year for the seven organizations requesting financial assistance.

PANORAMICALC: Mrs. Art Teed, busy with an afternoon English class for local stenographers. . . Another busy mother who's doing an admirable teaching job is Mrs. Aubrey Steele who takes time one morning a week to read to pre-schoolers. . . Saw Frank and Mildred Smith and the Harvey Nenstels at the movies last week. . . Also spied Paul Carmichael and Crawford Atkinson buying theater tickets. . . but we noticed especially the cute hats their wives were wearing. . . Pat Kersey, one of the best-dressed career girls in town. . . the outfit she wore to the Harvester-Bronco game was stunning. . . Norman Fulps, a handy man with a hammer, has done a bang-up job of the den in their new home. . . hear the western trimmings are clever as can be. . . Mrs. Bill Fannon, attractive mother of Harvester manager "Bunky" Fannon. . . And don't they look a lot alike? . . . Charles and Les Hart planning a trip down state for a Kiwanis conclave before Les gets down to the time-consuming work that goes with being March of Dimes drive chairman. . . Recently back from Dallas are Buff and Mamie Maguire who have been entertaining her sister. . . Two of the cutest little fellows we know are the George Snells' youngsters. . . they're often dressed alike. . . Jay and Betty Meader are getting all settled after their recent remodeling "ordeal". . . Hectic, but wonderful when all's back together again, they say. . . Notice the lovely window in the cute modern home of Jerry and Eddie Griffin. . . Mrs. Tina McCallister, a pleasant personality, and mother of one of our favorite people, Mrs. Fred (Clotilde) Thompson. . . Mrs. Horace McBee, a person with many, many friends who always speak well of her. . . The best part of the picture window at the Foster Elders' home is the wee little face that is peekin' out when we pass by. . . Mrs. Eunice Pierson, enthusiastic football fan, was especially interested in making the Lubbock game 'cause that meant seeing her daughter, son-in-law and that young grandson, who live in Lubbock. . .

Oh, cakes and friends we should choose with care, Not always the fanciest cake that's there Is the best to eat! And the plainest friend Is sometimes the finest one in the end!

DO YOU KNOW, one of the most gracious gestures of friendship existing here is the Guest Day Tea, a custom practiced by most of our women's clubs. And the fall and winter guest days are an interesting change of pace, since they have been held in the spring in previous years. At the Parent Ed guest tea last week Emilio Caballero, West Texas State College professor, reflected opinions shared by many of our artist friends, namely the inadvisability of giving a child a color book. Mr. Caballero explained that in a color book a child imitates, and instead of expressing his own thoughts and emotions, he conforms to someone else's impressions. That's the reason Mrs. George Norris, former Pampian, gave her son a blank sheet of paper for his art work, and though a splendid artist herself, she never tired to show her son how to draw. Interesting thing, art, but what can you say when Junior comes home from Sunday School waving a sheet of paper he has colored so carefully. "Lookeee," he shouts, "didn't I do good, Mom, I didn't color out of the lines one time!"

SURE SIGN OF WINTER: The M. K. Browns are heading south . . . down San Antonio way. . .

FROM SOMEWHERE we read, "On a Thanksgiving Day, if you want a good time, then give something away." And alas, 'tis true, and anything we would give away except, of course, the identity of PEG O' PAMPA

Miss Patsy Cargile, Jimmy Ray Hayes Married With Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Patsy Ann Cargile and Jimmy Ray Hayes, were united in marriage, recently in an informal double-ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Douglas Carver officiating. Miss Cargile is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cargile, 1037 S. Christy. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. G. W. James of Villa Platte, La. and Boyd Hayes, Comanche, Okla.

The bride wore a white moire bengaline suit-dress. The yoke of the high-necked bodice was encrusted with pearls. Her white satin hat was trimmed with pearls and lace, with a shoulder length double veil and gray accessories. Her corsage was of pink talisman roses.

Miss Sue Stewart, maid of honor, wore a black faille suit with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. Bobby Hayes, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

The mother of the bride wore a beige and brown suit, beige hat, brown accessories and carried tall-man roses.

The bride graduated from Pampa High school, where she was cheer leader, Demolay queen and senior favorite of the 1953 class. The bridegroom graduated from Pampa High school and is in his third year at New Mexico A&M College.

A reception was held in the bride home following the ceremony, with 50 guests attending. Mrs. M. D. Dwight served punch and Mrs. Earl Maddox, cake. The table was laid with an ecru lace cloth, centered with a three tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was surrounded by pink and deep red chrysanthemums and white tapers.

Following a wedding trip to El Paso and Albuquerque, the couple will be at home in Pampa.

MRS. JIMMY RAY HAYES — Patsy Ann Cargile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cargile, 1037 S. Christy, and Jimmy Ray Hayes, son of Mrs. G. W. James and Boyd Hayes, Comanche, Okla., were married recently and will reside in Pampa following their honeymoon.

20th Century Allegro Club Has Kitchen-Magic Demonstration

"Magic In The Kitchen" was the program given at the Twentieth Century Allegro Club meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Charles Hickman, Jr., 1236 Williston.

Mrs. H. C. Grady, Jr., was co-hostess.

After the business meeting, the members moved into the den and kitchen for a lecture and demonstration program. Mrs. Hickman discussed "What A Freezer Can Do For You." She began with two basic rules to follow (1) freeze quality foods as soon as possible; (2) use moisture-proof materials as containers. Some of the uses of the freezer which she mentioned were keeping a ready supply of ice cubes in plastic bags or boxes; keeping leftovers (at which time she warned against over-cooking the food to be frozen); allowing the housewife to buy fruits and vegetables in season. Mrs. Hickman further stated that lunch boxes may be filled directly from the freezer, and that holiday baking may be begun now, and placed in the freezer. She illustrated her talk with charts and pictures on what to freeze, and how. She concluded with a demonstration making canapes of vienna sausage dipped in a batter and fried.

Mrs. John Adams continued the program with "A Flavor Guide from Appetizer to Dessert." She discussed seasoning with various spices and herbs. She said that seasoning should always be cooked with the food and never added later. The flavor of new potatoes is improved by cooking mint leaves with the potatoes. Mrs. Adams stated that, "while crepes, sushis, goulash and scallopine may sound strange to you, it should be remembered that they are as common to France, Hungary and Italy as fried chicken is to the American southerner." Mrs. Adams demonstrated the

He will show pictures taken in the Hawaiian Islands and tell of his work in that field. The choir has planned several special numbers including "That Will Be Glory For Me," a duet, "Only Glory By and By," a solo, "No Disappointment In Heaven" and "When They Ring The Golden Bells."

For the morning service, Dr. E. Douglas Carver will use as his subject, "The Grace of Gratitude." The choir, under the direction of Mr. Paul Biggs, will sing, "Rejoice and Sing" by Richard Wagner.

Cranberry Chiffon Pie Makes Colorful Thanksgiving Dessert

WELL, here it is again—the sizzle of roasting turkey, the spicy stuffing, the rosy-red cranberries and the all-pervading scent of coffee. (Coffee-pots come in for some heavy work on Thanksgiving Day!) There'll be a great bowl of shaggy mums on the table and a fire in the hearth. Isn't it a wonderful thing to have so much to be thankful for?

Speaking of cranberries, there are few berries that can equal them for sharply delicious, distinctive flavor. This being so, it's a shame to limit them to cranberry sauce, however important and honored an accessory that may be. With cranberries so plentiful just now, so fully and beautifully ripe, they deserve a course of their own at least on this one day. Give your family a special treat with Cranberry Chiffon Pie, an airy-light pie that still retains the full, delectable cranberry flavor. Here's one dessert that's incredibly quick and easy to make—a great asset on such a busy day. Only the pie-shell needs to be baked. The filling can be whipped up in a jiffy. After being subjected to thorough chilling, it emerges from the ice-box with a lower layer of glowing berries and an upper layer of frothy, bright pink gelatin. Snowy whipped cream tops it off. Your family will vow it never tasted anything so good, nor more suited to the occasion.

When you bring on the pie, bring on also your prettiest serving tin of freshly made coffee, to put a fragrant finish to the feast. And don't forget that, on occasions such as this, there'll be many a clarion call for seconds so—make plenty!

Cranberry Chiffon Pie

1 package lemon- 1 8-inch baked pie shell
1 cup hot water 1 cup whipping cream
1 cup 10-minute cranberry sauce*

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Drain cranberry sauce thoroughly and add syrup, reserving berries. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat until light and fluffy. Fold in cranberries and turn into pie shell. Chill until firm. Top with whipped cream.

*Ten-Minute Cranberry Sauce
Combine 1 cup sugar and 1 cup water in saucepan. Bring to boil, stirring until sugar dissolves. Add 2 cups cranberries and simmer until berries burst open, about 10 minutes.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

For Joe's third birthday, his grandmother gave him a toy rabbit named Peter.

The name was inevitable, since the rabbit bore a close likeness to the storybook Peter who offended Mr. McGregor. He wore a duplicate of the famous blue coat with brass buttons. His color was pale tan.

So Joe transferred the affectionate sympathy that had been aroused in him by the fictional Peter's troubles to his tangible one. Because of this emotional appeal, Joe's rabbit became his favorite bed companion. And as his seams were well stitched, he stayed in that role after Joe had entered kindergarten.

One day Joe was entertaining Douglas Carver, to the guest's astonishment, he discovered that the saw which had come in Joe's new junior-size tool chest really worked. He became very jealous of the tool chest. So he sought a way to destroy its importance to him by destroying the importance of its owner.

The sight of Peter Rabbit propped against Joe's pillow in his worn blue jacket was just what he needed. "Do you still sleep with that thing?" he demanded. Then he sneered: "Gee, what I know on you, you mommy's baby sis-

That night Joe shoved Peter from his bed so roughly that his father asked him why.

After he was told, he picked up Peter. "O.K.," he said. "But it doesn't make you a baby to love something you know. Am I a sissy to let you get into bed with me on Sunday mornings? Am I a sissy to take sister on my lap and kiss mother? I am not. But I sure would be one if I let anyone scare me into pretending I didn't love people I love. Think it over, son. You've loved Peter a long-time."

So Joe restored Peter to his place in his affection. As he gradually found other objects for it, he outgrew his need for Peter's companionship.

Today he's a father himself — a loved one. When he told me I could tell this story about Peter, he said, "What dad did was to protect his kid's idea of manliness. If he hadn't done it, I suppose I'd have gone on thinking I had to be ashamed of wanting or showing affection. That would have been hard on Ethel and the youngsters. As it is, we're a pretty happy bunch."

I hope we'll be as alert as Joe's father to put straight these misleading ideas of manliness that boys. It's pretty important that they know that the real sissies are men who are afraid of love.

Self-Service System Invades The Department Stores Even Furs Are Wheeled In Grocery-Type Carts

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK, Nov. 16 —UP—Now there is a self-service department store where everything except diamond rings can be fingered, lifted from the shelves and paid for at a cashier's counter.

This is the latest development in a trend toward help-yourself shopping. Grocery stores introduced women to the rubber-wheeled cart and self selection. Department stores began experimenting cautiously.

A linen department here and a toy department there were converted to self service. Shoppers have been able to wheel grocery type carts around Macy's toy department for the past year.

NOTHING UNDER COUNTER
Now a big department store has plunged in up to its fur department. Beginning Monday, nothing is under the counter except, as we said, the diamond rings and a few expensive wrist watches.

"It is a national trend," said Clement V. Conole, president of the Hearn Department stores, who is launching the brave new plan.

RUTH MILLETT

A national magazine had an article, "I Had My Wife Made Over," written by a husband whose overweight wife enrolled in a charm school and was graduated a glamorous girl. Unfortunately there aren't any charm schools for men whose wives would like to have them made over.

Here a few ways in which a charm school would improve the average middle-aged husband:

In looks: He could probably stand to lose a few pounds and trim down that waistline.

In manners: He could probably learn a lot about the duties of a good host, taking some responsibility for the family's social life, and being as willing to make himself charming as his wife's friends as she is to his.

In conversation: He probably needs to be reminded that it is as important for him to help carry the dinner conversation at home as when having dinner with friends. And he might also learn with profit that if he is bound and determined to hide behind a newspaper at breakfast every morning he might at least offer his wife half of the paper in lieu of conversation.

In personal habits: He might be surprised to learn that no woman alive considers it a privilege to pick up after a man once the honeymoon is over.

Judging from the letters I receive, a lot of wives would like to see their husbands made over. And if anybody ever starts a charm school for men, the list above should be included in the curriculum.

But since there aren't as yet any charm schools for men, women will just have to go on as they have, trying to make over their husbands without any outside help. Trouble with this old-fashioned method is that husbands have a bad name for it. They call it nagging. It doesn't occur to them that they are getting a charm-school education free of charge.

Ginger Rogers And Young Husband Agree Theirs Is A Happy Marriage

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK, Nov. 20 —UP—She may be the star of the family, Ginger Rogers admits, but her young and handsome French husband, Jacques Bergerac, is the boss.

Their 10-month marriage is an extremely happy one, they both agree. Ginger, a durable beauty from the Charleston days, is 42. Her bridegroom is 26.

"I don't think age has anything to do with it," the blonde movie star said. She and Bergerac spent two days here before leaving Friday on a flight to Paris. They will make a movie together while they are abroad, a melodrama called "Twist of Fate," and then go to Biarritz where Ginger will meet her in-laws for the first time.

"Must Be a Will!"

"Marriage means two people," Bergerac said. "There must be a will on both sides to make it work." He speaks English quite well now, though when they met and fell in love in France little more than a year ago he knew only a few words.

"We spoke the language of love," he said and smiled adoringly at his bride. This is his first marriage. Ginger had three previous husbands.

They were seated in the paneled living room of their hotel suite overlooking Central Park. Ginger, slim, sun-kissed and radiant, had her blonde hair pulled back in a pony tail. A ruffled, red petticoat peeked from beneath the full skirt of her black taffeta dress.

Work At It

"I don't believe in talking about marriage too much," she said slowly. "The best thing to do is to go out and work at it and not talk about it."

"But in our family," she added, "he is the boss." They exchanged loving smiles. "I'm a fairly strong-minded woman, so it takes someone pretty positive to take over. Jacques is a serious-minded person, and that doesn't have anything to do with age. You can be 70 and act like a child."

"I think I was first attracted to Ginger by her niceness," Bergerac said. "She seemed so genuine. Age is not the most important thing. Of course, the way a woman looks makes a difference. She is very pretty."

Lois Alley, G. Bedenbender Exchange San Antonio Vows

Miss Lois Alley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Alley, Uvalde, and A.C. Gerald Eugene Bedenbender, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bedenbender, 1115 Mary Ellen, were married recently in the Methodist Church in San Antonio.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a two-piece dress in a light shade of beige, for the informal ceremony. The jacket of the dress had three-quarter-length sleeves and was trimmed with pearls, sequins and silk braid. Her accessories were brown. She wore a pearl necklace and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations set in pleated yellow moline and tied with yellow ribbon.

Miss Fayrene Balzen, Uvalde, serving as bridesmaid, wore a grey suit, black accessories and carried deep pink carnations. Rowland Causey of San Antonio, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man.

The ceremony took place before baskets of yellow mums and lighted tapers in candelabra. Mrs. Medina Fields, organist, played traditional nuptial selections.

The reception following the service took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Causey, 170 W. Ware Blvd., San Antonio. Miss Emma Jo Taylor registered guests and the two-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. T. J. Gary, sister of the bride. Punch and coffee were served by Mrs. Mabry Taylor, also of San Antonio.

Mrs. J. B. Alley, mother of the bride wore a black outfit with red carnations. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Henry Bedenbender of Pampa, wore a gray suit with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

The bride is a graduate of Uvalde High School. The bridegroom graduated from Pampa High School, attended Texas Technological College in Lubbock and graduated in Animal Husbandry from Colorado A.M. He has served as a food technician for the past three years.

After a wedding trip to South Texas and New Mexico, Mrs. Bedenbender will make her home with her parents until her husband returns from Korea.

Bedecked with Silver

Holiday entertainment can be made dramatic as you please, and without fuss. A few flourishes of the many Christmas decorations available now, and you have a table setting as gala as a Christmas tree. As simple a thing as a garland of silver tinsel entwined down the center and touched with ornamentation will work wonders when combined with the gleaming beauty of sterling silver. Heirloom's newly introduced Reigning Beauty patterns is particularly adaptable to the season with its magnificent blending of clean-swept modern lines, and rich traditional details. It can take its place, too, among the gifts at Christmas as a staunch tribute to one much loved.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK YOUR THANKSGIVING TURKEY

Roast Whole Turkey
Start with a ready-to-cook turkey. Salt inside of turkey. Fill body and neck cavities loosely with stuffing. Stuffing swells as it cooks, thus needs room to expand. Fold neck skin toward back and fasten with skewer or a few stitches. For stitching use clean white wrapping cord and large needle. Tuck legs under band of skin at tail or tie down. To do this wrap cord around legs and under tail. This will hold legs close to the body.

Fold the wing tips back on the wings. This will help to hold the neck skin in place. Grease skin of turkey with melted or softened fat. Place breast down on rack in shallow pan. Do not add water, and do not cover. Put in preheated oven set at proper temperature indicated on time table. Baste with fat from bottom of pan during baking, and turn from one side of the breast to the other, then breast up. Or cover the top and side of the bird with a loosely woven cloth which has been moistened in fat. Moistened cloth with fat from bottom of pan if cloth dries during cooking. Cook 325 degrees for small birds and 250 degrees for larger approximately 25 minutes per pound.

Japanese Never Smiled Before World War II

ST. LOUIS, Mo., —UP— Dolores Boeckmann, field director for the Far East Staff Service Club, says the Japanese never smiles until after World War II when the Americans taught them how.

Miss Boeckmann worked with the Supreme Command Allied Powers in Tokyo, coaching Japanese women's teams entered in the Asian Olympic games in 1951.

"For days I worked with the girls from 7 in the morning until 9 or 10 at night," she said. "I tried to teach them table manners, how to meet people, how to walk, how to dress. I always told them to 'smile, smile, smile.'"

Training Olympic teams is old stuff for the tall, vivacious St. Louis girl. She is a former member and coach of the United States Women's Olympic team.

She went to work for the armed services in 1948. Starting as a staff director of service clubs, she became field director when the armed services were consolidated. She spent much of her spare time in Japan lecturing on health, sports and recreation to students.

The Farm Problem

The so-called "farm problem" will be aired in a loud and noisy chorus in the next 12 months as politicians pick out their woodwinds for the next battle to contest the Congress of the United States.

Right now government holdings of farm products are enormous. A recent article by Milo Perkins, a former assistant to the secretary of agriculture, in Reader's Digest pointed out that the value of government farm holdings amounted to $3 billion and included such items as 470,000,000 bushels of wheat, 540,000,000 bushels of corn and 160,000,000 pounds of butter.

The elaborate system of farm supports that we suffer with today was born in the early thirties as a "cure" for depression ills. The New Deal's solution of the over-production then was to plow under crops and stock, and pay the farmer for such programs.

When World War II came along, domestic and foreign demand for farm products soared and there was no difficulty with the surplus problem, but the political farmers' worsted safeguards, nevertheless, against shifts in demand and an artificial program was created which did not need to day-by-day conditions.

Added to this has been a series of amazingly good years. But the farmer was under no pressure to cut production. Not with the government standing by to take surpluses off the farmer's hands and pay prices above the natural market level.

What these politicians — Republican and Democrat — are responsible for is the extent to which they allow expensive and destructive farm subsidy programs to go on. And the farmer who demands subsidies and engages in political pressure to obtain them is equally to blame.

Polio Unmasked

After 37 frustrating years since America's first big polio epidemic, in 1916, Dr. Wendell M. Stanley, director of the Virus Laboratory at the University of California, has reported that two of his colleagues, Drs. Howard L. Bachrach and Carleton E. Schwerdt, have worked out a purifying process that has made it possible to photograph the human polio virus in pure form for the first time.

Bargaining

By Paul Polrot

INSTALLMENT II

The Reason For Trade

Individuals try to look after themselves and their families and their friends. They seek food, shelter, companionship, and all sorts of things. That is why a person works — to satisfy those wants.

Individuals have differing aptitudes and skills. Some of these differences seem to be inherited. And we know that individuals develop their aptitudes at differing rates through training and practice.

The bargaining capacity of individuals or of an organized group of workmen — a distinguished feature from the anti-social power of seizure — thus grows out of their production of goods or services which are valuable to others.

Bargaining means trying to negotiate a contract or to arrange a trade on terms satisfactory to both the buyer and the seller. That's why it takes two to make a bargain, and only two — a buyer and a seller, higgling over terms.

President Eisenhower observed strict protocol on his recent visit to our Northern neighbor. He paid homage to historic and sentimental ties between Crown and Dominion. But there was a definite significance in his warning that the two Western countries must, in final analysis, depend on their joint strength for defense of this hemisphere.

As usual, the schemers in the Kremlin must bear partial blame for this continental and world realignment. In view of the Red menace, we need Canada's petroleum, plutonium, uranium and titanium — all essential for making A-H bombs and the jet planes to carry them.

When a person voluntarily offers his goods or services for exchange, and when another person voluntarily agrees to the terms of the offer, exchange will take place. Both parties find satisfaction. It's not a question of one's gaining at the other's expense.

Trade occurs when both parties agree as to the price — when both see an advantage in trading. The terms of such trade are not anyone else's business — at least, not within the framework of truly competitive bargaining.

Down South... States' Rights Fundamental To Republican Type Government

By THURMAN SENSING

Anyone familiar with our constitutional republican form of government knows that the principle of states' rights is fundamental to that form of government.

While the preservation of states' rights is actually no more important to one part of our country than to another, the Southern States have become known as its chief champion. That is because these states have seemed to resent control by a centralized government more than other states, and because the people of the South have seemed to set more store by individual freedom and local self-government than the people of other regions.

In fact, it was in the South that the States Rights Party was organized during the 1948 presidential campaign. The people of the South generally believe in a two-party system (regardless of what the term "Solid South" may have indicated to some people in days gone by), but in that particular year many of them could see no hope for the preservation of states' rights in the platform of either major party.

In the presidential campaign of 1952, it seemed to the people of the South that the Republican platform had to a large extent adopted the principle of states' rights. For that reason we had a two-party South that year, with the total Democratic vote in eleven states to only six per cent more than the total Republican vote in those same eleven states and with four of them going Republican.

So far, the new administration has given us no particular reason to believe that it will not stand by its states' rights attitude as outlined in the Republican platform. It is becoming more and more clear, however, that the preservation of states' rights depends on the people and not on the politicians.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

An easier way to relieve distress and cure illness is desired by all of us, but sometimes the answer to questions of this kind must be "not yet."

Q — Has any way been found to dissolve gallstones? My wife does not want to have an operation to remove the gall bladder if there is any other way of dissolving the stones.

Q — I am a lone woman of 72 and a sufferer from the douloureux. I have had this about 15 years and although alcohol injections give me relief, it does not last long. What would you suggest?

Q — I have a friend who boils tea, saying that this way she gets all the goodness out of it. I tell her it is harmful to drink this black concoction.

Q — What is a Hunner's ulcer? Mrs. A.

A — This is an inflammation of the inside lining of the urinary bladder, accompanied by ulcer formation. It is a disease of unknown cause and one often difficult to treat successfully.

Dr. Jordan is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, once a week in this "Q & A" column he will answer the most interesting and the most frequently asked questions received during the week.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

Scarcely anyone, except possibly the boys who work in that service, will regret that Washington has called in the regional directors of the United States Weather Bureau offices along the entire East Coast to explain why, if possible, they failed utterly to pin a snow, sleet and rain storm that ravaged the Coast and, on top of that, had nothing to say about the storm's hurricane-force winds that followed the first manifestations.

When the drought hit last summer, the political leaders of several of our Southern States were in the forefront of those running to Washington for federal aid. States' rights was all right during the election but not during the drought.

When President Eisenhower characterized the TVA as "creeping socialism" the Governor of the state mainly affected called on the President not to reduce TVA appropriations in any respect. Again, states' rights was all right during the election (when this state went Republican) but not if it meant the halting of this federally subsidized industry.

Just the other day the secretary of agriculture put into effect his reorganization plan, which gave the states much more authority in connection with Soil Conservation Service and gave the farmers in the states more to say about the operation of the service. States' rights!

The attorney general of the United States has charged that the former President of the United States, knowingly and also forewarned, promoted a communist spy from a highly responsible position in an even more responsible position in an international agency.

The charge has brought accusations of "politics" from Harry Truman: the former President, and documentary proof from the Republican administration that the facts are as stated.

The former New Deal official is the late Harry Dexter White. He was an assistant secretary of the treasury and private brain trust to Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau for many years. He was promoted after the end of World War II to the directorship of the international monetary fund. He stayed there until his resignation in 1947. He was denounced in 1948 by Elizabeth Bentley, a confessed former courier for the Soviet espionage system, as an informant who turned over secret information from the American government to the Russian spies.

White entered a denial before the house committee on un-American activities, but, at the later trial of Alger Hiss, copies of documents in his handwriting established the truth of the charge. White had copied or digested information which would be serviceable to the Kremlin and had turned it over to Whitaker Chambers, another Russian courier, who subsequently got out of the Communist party and frankly told the whole story about communist infiltration of the New Deal. A few days after his denial White died suddenly under circumstances suggesting that he had taken his own life.

It seems impossible that a scientific weather group, armed with every known device for forecasting, could miss such an oncoming storm. Unless the playing of gin rummy and an eagerness to get away for the week-end is the explanation, there seems to be no logical excuse for such a lamentable error.

A Day of Thanksgiving

TIME FOR GIVING THANKS TO THE LORD FOR RAISING US FROM THE MEAGERNESS OF OUR BEGGININGS TO THE BOUNTIFUL PLENTY WE ENJOY NOW . . .

The Thanksgiving table our forefathers set up those many years ago was an oasis in a desert of near-starvation days. 9n immigrant people, newly arrived and untrained for the needs of this wild continent, needed help to even exist. This they received from their friendly Indian neighbors. The meaning of those early times is sometimes lost in the dazzling brilliance of our present wealth. We forget that all this is not merely the product of our labors, but also the result of the kindly benevolence of our Lord. Let us then celebrate our good fortune with humility, vowing to use His Light as our beacon.
