High Winds Accompany Rains In Region, Damage Reported To Buildings in Skellytown

Winds, with a steady force of 35 miles per hour and gusts of 70, swept Pampa from early last night into the morning hours, bringing more rain which is not needed to produce a prospective bumper wheat crop. Other parts of the Panhandle had similar reports.

Mrs. J. R. Wrenkle, a resident of Skellytown, said that the first winds about 7 last night tore down a garage at the Baptist parsonage there, and that about 1 this morning another gust did considerable damage to the roof of the gymnasium, which is a part of the high school building there.

At least three houses were reported to have been damaged. Agriculturists here and at Amarillo said the heavy rain was not sufficient to damage the wheat yet, inasmuch as it was not near enough to maturity.

Mrs. J. M. McKenzie, News correspondent at Miami, said it had been raining all morning there. Some hail fell at Miami last night, but no damage reported, she said.

An electrical storm accompanied high winds almost over the Panhandle. The lightning and thunder were violent here at Pampa. Some hail fell, but there were no reports of damage. No damage was reported from the high winds. It was foggy today.

Heavy rain fell at White Deer but there was no damage reported from the electrical storm and high winds there. Hail fell there, too.

Two inches of rain fell in less than two hours at Amarillo yesterday, the Associated Press said. Estimates from Hereford set precipitation at between five and six inches.

Hail and high winds accompanied the Amarillo fall and there were reports of damage to property, glass windows, trees and power lines. Suburban business districts were flooded.

High winds destroyed outbuildings on a farm near Vega, in the Panhandle.

Weather over Texas today was cloudy to partly cloudy with rains forecast for both the eastern portions of the state.

Lewis Reverses Notion, Strike May Be Averted

WASHINGTON—(AP)—John L. Lewis agreed today to try to negotiate a wage contract with operators representing about 75 percent of the nation's soft coal production.

The Southern Coal Producers Association, which refused to go along on industry-wide bargaining with Lewis' United Mine Workers, asked for separate negotiations.

Lewis replied that he wanted a chance to discuss the Southern's request with his policy committee before giving an answer.

Those major developments in the long-troubled coal industry were announced by Navy Capt. N. H. Collihan, Federal Coal Mines Administrator.

Lewis' agreement to negotiate with a part of the industry represented an about-face on his previous insistence on industry-wide bargaining, in line with a policy adopted at the UMW conference in Pittsburgh.

Most of the nation's soft coal mines are under government operation, but must be restored to private ownership by July 1. Collihan called the UMW chief and the operators together several weeks ago in the hope that would produce a contract that would avert a major strike when the private owners resume control.

The owners who will start work talks immediately with Lewis include operators of Western, Western pits and "captive" mines in the South—that is mines controlled by such companies as U. S. Steel.

Charles O'Neil, representing those operators, agreed with Lewis to set up a joint conference at once.

The jury reached its verdict in one hour and 50 minutes but announcement of the decision was delayed for more than an hour by a court recess for lunch.

New Arbitration Snags Are Hit in Telephone Strike

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Negotiations to end the strike of telephone workers in the five-state area of the Southwest, Bell Company are stymied today by a new deadlock over arbitration of wages and other issues.

The latest impasse continued through intensified joint and separate negotiations sessions which last week well into the early morning hours today before being adjourned without any indication of progress.

All parties agreed to resume the discussions this afternoon. A proposal by the union to end the strike by arbitrating wage differences and eight other disputed issues was rejected by the company, whose spokesman declared the union consistently had refused arbitration before the strike and now "was attempting to pyramid arbitration on the company's final offer."

The union, in a surprise move yesterday, proposed to accept the company's offer, previously rejected, of a $4.27 weekly basic pay and fringe increase provided it was agreed arbitrators would determine if the workers were entitled to an additional amount as a "cost of living" increase. The strikers have sought a raise totaling $6.

D. L. McCowan, president of the Southwestern Telephone Workers Union in a statement following the company's rejection of arbitration, said:

"It's the usual fiddle-faddle we get from the company. Before the strike, we asked the company if it was willing to arbitrate on a limited basis.

"The union plans to stick by arbitration and has no other proposals to make."

3 Hurt in Wreck Near Borger

BORGER—Two men and a woman taken to North Plains Hospital last night after their pickup truck and another truck crashed on the Borger-Sinnett Highway. State Highway Patrolmen reported this morning.

Sheriff Hugh Anderson helped investigate the wreck. The crash occurred about one mile from Borger on Route 152 at 9:05 p. m. during a rain, the patrolmen said.

Involved in the wreck were a 1944 International truck driven by Jessie Edward Tyson, 42, of Sanford, and a 1939 Chevrolet pickup truck, driven by Thomas J. Mitchell, 21, of the Massey Hotel, Mitchell, his wife, Oleta, and another man with them. Nevel Landey, 24, of Borger, was taken to the hospital where they were treated for severe lacerations. They were detained in the hospital for the night.

Importance of Amity Among Nations Cited

LONDON—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today that if relations between the East and West are not improved at the November conference of foreign ministers, "No one can prophesy what course the world will take."

"I regard the London conference in November, with the issues now pretty clear before us, as probably the most vital in the world's history," Bevin told the House of Commons.

"On behalf of this nation, I will certainly work hard to try to reach conclusions, but this settlement doesn't lie in the hands of the British government alone."

OFFER REJECTED

DALLAS—(AP)—Striking mechanics of the Southwestern Greyhound Bus Lines have unanimously rejected the company's latest offer of a wage increase. L. G. Feun, grand lodge representative of the International Association of Machinists (I.A.M.), said last night.

Palestine Commission Set Up, Assembly Adjourns

NEW YORK—(AP)—The United Nations Assembly formally created a "neutral" 11-nation Palestine inquiry commission today and then finally adjourned its 18-day extraordinary session at 12:57 p. m. (CST).

The deliberations wound up in a series of rapid developments. These included last-minute Arab protests against the Assembly's action and refusal of the five Arab states to agree to an interim truce in the Holy Land while the inquiry commission studies the problems on the spot this summer.

A last Soviet-Slav effort to include the Big Five powers in the commission's membership failed to get the decision of the Assembly's 55-nation Political Committee to bar the major powers.

In its final form, the Assembly's resolution gave the commission a free hand to consider independence of Palestine and all other possible solutions. It left the way open, however, for recommendations on independence if the commission decided this was best.

The vote on the Palestine resolution was 67 to 7, with one abstention and one absent. Voting against the measure were the Arab countries—Syria, Egypt, Lebanon, Iraq, and Saudi Arabia—and Turkey. Absent were the Philippines and the U. S. The commission will be free to make an on-the-spot investigation in Palestine and go anywhere else it deems necessary. It will report back to the regular September meeting of the Assembly with its recommendations.

The delegates had been in session since April 28.

Senior activities for the week will be started with the baccalaureate service held at 8:15 p. m. in the High School Auditorium. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. John Walsh, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

PLENTY OF WATER

RIO GRANDE CITY—(AP)—Upstream rains over the weekend have relieved the shortage of irrigation water in the Rio Grande Valley, the International Boundary and Water Commission said today.

As a result the Valley's second request for release of relief water from the Marie R. Gomez reservoir on the San Juan River in Mexico has been cancelled.

Business of the State Gives Way to Good Game of Dominoes

AUSTIN—(AP)—The House of Representatives last night set a session record for brevity, by-passing a choked calendar of local and uncontested measures to meet for just thirty seconds.

This came a few hours after the Senate had tried and failed to hold an afternoon session due to lack of quorum.

Speaker W. O. Reed of the House called the body to order to consider a calendar of 32 bills promptly at 8 p. m. It had been scheduled as the final meeting of the session to dispose of a clutter of pet bills before final adjournment.

U. S., Britain Will Study Reich Crisis

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—German officials proposed today a temporary slash in the official rations in the British and American zones as food experts of both zones met an emergency session on Western Germany's grave food crisis.

Government sources in London said British troops would seek to crush a large-scale black market which is held largely responsible for the critical situation. British troops will search farmlands for hidden stocks which, the informants said, are hoarded for diversion into black market channels.

Reports reaching Berlin from the Soviet zone indicated that the Russians, too, were experiencing difficulty meeting ration scales in Eastern Germany, although the situation was believed to be less acute.

In Washington, Secretary of War Patterson said more than 400,000 tons of food would be sent to Germany this month, a similar amount would be sent next month, and "even more" in July.

German officials in Stuttgart announced that the official ration in the British and American zones be cut from 1,550 to 1,139 calories daily per person, and Paul S. Taggart, U. S. food director for Wuertemberg-Baden said that if the proposal was approved by both military governments, it would take effect May 25 for a four-week period. States in both zones are failing to meet the official per capita ration, with deficiencies ranging up to nearly 50 percent, reports to the Bi-Zonal Food Agency in Stuttgart show.

The possibility of a mass protest strike in Stuttgart next week appeared to have faded. Factory workers, reflecting the "ugly mood" evoked by American officials yesterday, had threatened a general strike May 22, but Marcus Schleicher, president of the city's trade unions, declared that the workers would allow more time for the situation to be improved.

Both United States and British authorities recognized the existence of the food crisis and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, said he expected it to continue "for the next three or four weeks, but that relief is in sight."

In Washington, Secretary of War Patterson said more than 400,000 tons of food would be sent to Germany this month, a similar amount would be sent next month and "even more" in July.

General Lucius Clay, commander in the American zone, said he had heard reports that the Communist Party was attempting to develop strikes in the U. S. zone. He declared that agitators would be jailed if they tried to capitalize politically on the food emergency.

"I hope it won't be necessary to use troops," he said. "The danger of potential upheaval. The combination of hunger and political agitation is an explosive one. A Communist bulletin in Hesse yesterday declared:

"The ghost of hunger is here. The time for action has come."

At the same time union leaders of the zone factories agreed to call a general strike May 22 if the food crisis isn't solved.

American authorities in Germany hold that the basic solution of the crisis is an increase in production, and most economic and limited efforts in the U. S. zone agree. However, as this column pointed out yesterday, while the primary need is greater productivity, the Reich and numerous other war-torn countries lack the wherewithal to restore normal production.

Foreign Aid Bill Sent to Truman

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress sent to the White House today legislation authorizing a $400,000,000 program of financial and limited military aid to bulwark Greece and Turkey against Communism.

The House, and then the Senate, quickly approved the bill compromising minor differences between the House and Senate measures. On another bill to provide funds for relief of six countries in Europe and Asia, President Truman urged Congress again to vote the full $500,000,000 asked, saying "the peace of the world can be realized only when people are free from the fear of hunger."

Mr. Truman's appeal was contained in a letter transmitting the tenth quarterly report of UNRRA. It reached the Capitol as Senate and House conferences sought to resolve differences in their respective bills. The biggest point at issue is the amount to be provided.

The joint committee failed to reach a compromise at initial talks, then scheduled an afternoon session. The House voted to cut the fund to $200,000,000 but the Senate favors providing the full amount.

Young was one of three men involved in roadside attacks near Lancaster last May in which four girls and two boys were held at the point of a gun while three of the girls were assaulted.

House Adds 3 More Labor Restrictions

AUSTIN—(AP)—The House approved three more restrictive labor measures today, one prohibiting secondary strikes boycotts and picketing, the other two designed to bring labor more strictly under the state's civil and penal anti-trust statutes.

Sen. Ben Ramsey's measure pertaining to secondary strikes returns to the Senate for concurrence in rejection of a House amendment which would exempt railroad brotherhoods from the effect of the bill.

The other two bills, also by Ramsey, now go to the governor.

ULTIMATUM This notice appeared in a Western Kentucky newspaper: "Positive by no more baptizing in my pasture. Twice here in the last two months my gate has been left open by Christian people and before I chase my heifers all-over the country again, all the sinners can go to Hades—Link."

NEW OFFICE WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman signed today a bill authorizing creation of the post of commissioner of the Big Bend National Park in Texas.

Once She Had an Impediment, Now She Will Be an Asset

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Johnson on KPBN Monday thru Friday, 2 P. M.)

HOLLYWOOD—A young lady who studied dramatics for a year with a toothpick stuck behind her eye-teeth to curb a speech impediment is about to be introduced on the screen by Howard Hughes as Hollywood's newest star.

Her name is Faith Domergue (pronounced "Fouch domer"), and she is waiting in Hollywood wings for six years.

Faith is 22, raven haired, and big-eyed. It's an unusual beauty of Creole heritage. Her father is a Frenchman, her mother, French-Spanish. She was born in the New Orleans French quarter but has lived most of her life in California.

Millionaire Hughes signed her to a contract in 1941 when she was only 16. Like her father, she was under wraps for six years. Now he will introduce her with typical Hughes ball-bust in "Vendetta," a movie of vengeance and reprisal in post-Napoleonic Car-sea. But maybe we better explain that toothpick stuck behind Faith's eye-teeth for a year.

"I had a lisp," she confided. "It was awful. I couldn't say a thing without it hanging."

NO LOVE SCENES

Her dramatic coach suggested the toothpick behind the eye-teeth. For a year Faith and lines with the toothpick in her mouth. It worked.

There is no trace of a lisp today. "Vendetta" is based on the former Prosper Mérimée classic, "Carmen." Faith plays Carmen, a girl who demands that her brother revenge the murder of her father. Together they track down the killers.

"I'll never forget a Howard Hughes film. There are no love scenes. Faith plays the entire role in a black high-necked mourning dress and is killed herself in the final act.

Except for Joseph Calleia there are no big names in the cast. The leading man is George Doherty, one-time 1934 manager of a Hollywood night club who has played supporting roles in several B pictures.

Hughes' press agent was beginning this lack of names one day, observing that it would be a difficult picture to publicize. "I don't see why," he said. "I don't see why."

The agent finally had to agree that Hughes was right. All of Hughes' pictures have successfully brought new faces to the screen. Paul Mann, Ann Dvorak, Pat O'Brien, Jean Harlow, Jack Beutel, Jean Russell.

PREPPING FOR STARDOM

The story behind the new face Faith Domergue will bring to the screen is the story of a girl who started acting in high school. A Warner Studio talent scout saw her, gave her a contract, changed her name to Faith Dawn. She was 16 and still going to school.

She was under contract to Warner for only six weeks when Hughes met her and bought her contract. "Romance?"

"No," Faith says, "just a nice friendship."

For six years Howard Hughes paid her a salary, sent her to dramatic school. When Jane Russell appeared in "Young Widow" Faith was supposed to have played the second leading role. The script was rewritten so many times that she wound up playing a two-minute bit.

But now, after six years of waiting—part of the time with a toothpick in her mouth—Faith Domergue is ready to be launched as a movie star.

WE, THE WOMEN

Men Still Don't Like Honest Women

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

My mail reveals that I stirred up quite a debate when I recently said men don't want honesty from women, and the quickest way for a woman to lose a man is to be completely honest with him at all times.

I'm sticking to my original stand. Men dislike a straight-forward no-nonsense attitude in women.

A capable strong-minded woman married to a man who isn't capable of furnishing her family as she is, refuses to use feminine guile and trickery to get him to accept her ideas. Instead she makes the family's decisions. Do other men applaud her? No. They say sarcastically, "She wears the pants in that family."

BATTLE AXES, NAGGERS

The woman who forges ahead to get what she wants out of life, without a thought as to whether or not she is behaving in a manner that men would call feminine, is dubbed a "battle axe."

The woman who keeps asking a man to do something, instead of figuring out a way to make him think it was his idea all along, is a nagger in any man's language.

And so it goes. There's always a name for the woman who is perfectly honest in her dealings with him—and it's never a very pretty one.

Action in India

MOSCOW—(AP)—Pravda Correspondent E. Zhukov, reporting on his visit to India with a Soviet delegation, declared Monday that the same forces which instigated pogroms in Czarist Russia are responsible for recent communal disturbances in India.

"They are those who seek to find justification for the stay of British troops on Indian soil," Zhukov wrote. "They are those who fear the masses and try to distract their attention from the struggle for their vital interests—those who are interested in fanaticism and in ignorance and in strengthening their reactionary domination."

The correspondent asserted that after interviewing a "highly informed person from a provincial government" he had left "with the firm conviction that local authorities are not disposed to take steps against the provocateurs of massacres."

XXV

MRS. BAGOT moved right in upon Sophie and Godfrey, forthright and gracious, a hand extended in greeting. "Madame van Eyck! This is delightful—"

"So charming of you to come," murmured Sophie. "You invited the whole clan, Madame," said Mrs. Bagot, "so I have also brought my late husband's uncle, Mr. Adam Bagot. And this is my sister, Miss Codman, and of course you already know my son."

Vicky rushed breathlessly downstairs, coming into the drawing room in time to see Adam Bagot bend stiffly forward from the waist to kiss her grandmother's hand. The old gentleman looked frazier than ever beside Sophie's brilliant health.

Sophie placed her left hand, heavy with emeralds, over the hand of Adam Bagot which she had clasped in her right. Slowly and thoughtfully she said, "Adam Bagot—"

The white head came erect again. "Madame. It is a great honor and privilege."

Sophie relinquished the boy's hand. "Miss Codman," she acknowledged, turning to the eager spinster who was taking in all the details of the room. "How do you do? Welcome, Mrs. Bagot, Miss Codman, this is Mr. Mansbridge, who is visiting us for the summer."

Vicky spoke politely to Salty's family, suppressing a giggle as she shook hands with Miss Codman. Her hat, Vicky thought, looked as if she had got it out of a party cracker.

The guests disposed themselves around the room. Presently Sir Charles shepherded Basil and Marcel into the room and disappeared himself in the direction of the kitchen. It was turning chilly outside in preparation for the cold August night, and Marvyn forgot Godfrey's sacharin.

"Right there, Madame," said Sir Charles, "on the corner of the tea."

Marcel leaned back with a contemplative air. "Often I think how easy it would be, if one were a writer of detective fiction, to murder someone who takes sacharin. It would be simple surely to substitute a few tablets of cyanide of potassium, say—"

Godfrey glared at the little Frenchman. "I'll take my tea unsweetened today, Sophie, if you please."

"YOU know, I've been thinking," Miss Codman said rapidly. "When I tell people I've actually had tea with Sophie van Eyck and Godfrey Mansbridge, I don't think I'll tell them the truth. I mean about your being related. You see, we always thought of you both as such a romantic team."

"But we are not related!" Godfrey exclaimed. "What ever gave you that idea? It has incestuous implications—"

"Mr. Mansbridge is visiting us, Miss Codman," Vicky put in hastily. "He's a very old friend of the family."

Basil dropped his teacup and broke the handle. In the confusion that followed he went over to Godfrey and gave him a long, meaningful glare. Godfrey closed cel was wearing his shabby shawl. Vicky seized him by an arm, thrust her other hand into Basil's and led them to Mrs. Bagot before anyone else could speak.

"MRS. BAGOT, these are my uncles—my Uncle Marcel and my Uncle Basil," Mrs. Bagot said. She turned to Sophie. "You have quite a houseful, haven't you, Madame?"

"Sophie never played to less than a full house," said Basil. Mrs. Bagot laughed politely. "Ah, your brother is very witty, Madame. No wonder he is proud of you, though. Of course, we are all proud of our distinguished neighbor."

"Let us all sit down," called Sophie. "Mrs. Bagot, will you be comfortable there?" She ensconced herself behind the tea table. "We shall have some tea presently."

Salty and Vicky sat together on a little settee at the back of the room. A few small conversations sprouted.

"Sit here, Mr. Mansbridge, do!" begged Mrs. Bagot, indicating a small gilt chair near her. "Many a time as a young girl I stood in line at the box office to sit at your feet."

Godfrey calculated her age at roughly 50, which was the age he had chosen always to think of himself. "I must have been just starting out then."

Sir Charles came in with the fragrant tea and the little hot cheese rolls, papery sandwiches, puff pastries and petit fours.

"How do you take your tea, Mrs. Bagot?" asked Sophie. "Lemon and one lump?"

"Perfect," agreed Mrs. Bagot. "Miss Codman?"

"Just as it comes, thank you." "Mr. Bagot?" asked Sophie.

"How do you take your tea?" "None for me, thank you."

"The rest of you I know, Charles, his eyes indifferently raised his brows and sipped. Sir Charles fetched a tea towel to wipe off the table and brought Basil another cup. Under cover of the general hubbub Salty leaned close to Vicky, whispering in her ear.

"We're going to have to be married right away, Vicky. After all, it's not as if we had all the time in the world. Mother's crazy about your grandmother and so that's all right. What about next Saturday? If I can get off? You can move nearer to the Yard, we'll find somewhere to live—"

Vicky could hardly believe what she heard. To have gone in the space of less than a day from a state of utter uncertainty about one's whole future life to a sudden state of being Salty's chattel, for him to own and dispose of, was upsetting, to say the least.

Minister Would Stall Commies

BUDAPEST—(AP)—A reliable Hungarian informant said here that Prime Minister Ferenc Nagy planned to leave Hungary within a short time, ostensibly for a vacation in France and Switzerland but really to forestall another Communist-inspired "crisis."

The informant said the Communists and Social-Democrats were increasing their criticism of Hungary's foreign policy—which means criticism of moderate, pro-Western Foreign Minister Jaos Gyongyosi, member of the Smallholders Party—and were increasingly insistent on nationalization of Hungary's three main banks.

The informant said these Communist actions would likely result soon in another of Hungary's "crisis" in which the Communists make demands and after much talk of resistance the Smallholders give in. The informant said Nagy hoped to stall for time by leaving the country. The ultimate aim, the source said, was to hold off the Communists until the Hungarian peace treaty is ratified and the Russian army moves out of the country.

United States Must Be Ready

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The United States must be prepared for attack by long-range bombers or guided missiles coming in over the Great Circle Route, Gen. Ira C. Eaker, commanding officer of the Army Air Forces, declared here.

"The thoughts I advance represent the solemn convictions of a citizen and not a soldier," he told a University of Southern California alumni luncheon. General Eaker himself is a U. S. C. graduate.

Announcing he planned to retire from the service June 15, he criticized what he termed the needless and wasteful spending of billions of dollars "because we are not building the right kind of military establishments."

"While we do not know now when war will come, we can forecast with accuracy from whence it will come," he commented. He did not develop this subject.

The public baths of Rome were first built for poor people who had no baths in their homes, but were later patronized by the rich.

Bill for Abolition Of Death Penalty Dead

AUSTIN, TEXAS—(AP)—The House by an overwhelming vote Monday killed outright a bill to abolish the death penalty in Texas.

The vote was 101 to 18 on the measure by Rep. Lesta Shackelford of Livingston.

Opponents of the measure assailed it as a bill that would lead to mob rule and that would in effect "license murder."

Shackelford said that the death penalty was not a crime deterrent, that under it many innocent men died, that true civilization can not exist where the law provides the death penalty.

We must not compromise on great principles in order to achieve agreement for agreement's sake.—Secretary of State Marshall.

Opening Round of Colonial National Play Is Set Today

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Big guns of golf's summer tour roll out today in the opening round of the Colonial National Invitation Tournament with Ben Hogan considered the man to catch.

Only 27 will tee off in this $15,000 event but they are a select group being picked on both reputation and records of the past eight months. There were supposed to be 46, but because of the Walker Cup matches in Scotland not enough amateurs of the calibre desired were available to fill out a field equal to that of last year when the tournament was inaugurated.

Hogan, the Texan who now plays out of Hershey, Pa. is the general favorite because of his knowledge of the Colonial Country Club course, which he has played many times, and because he is a defending champion. His competitive course record of 65—five under par—in the closing round last year won him the $3,000 first money.

Hogan shot a practice round of 65 Tuesday and a round of 66 yesterday. Fred Haas of New Orleans also has posted a 65 and in his final tune-up round did 69.

The lone regarded as the Major threat to Hogan is the South African star, Bobby Locke, despite the fact that he hasn't been doing so well in "shadow boxing" here. That's what they call the practice rounds.

Locke won first money at Houston last week when most of the men playing here were in the field. Jimmy Demaret, leading money-winner of the year had a 70 yesterday but was dissatisfied with his game. He said he needed practice.

Robert Willets, Kansas City amateur, had a 69. He was the only other player breaking par.

The only entry who hasn't played the course this week is Harry Todd of Dallas, who finished second last year. Todd has been suffering from a bad cold but said he would start today.

Favorable weather and fast fairways have brought predictions that the winner here will have to cut between 275 and 278 in the 6,850-yard course for the 72 holes. Hogan forecast a 276.

Here's how the field will move out today starting at 12:40 p. m. (CST):

George Fazio, Los Angeles; Bobby Morris, Fort Worth and Henry Picard, Cleveland.

Harry Todd, Dallas; Vic Ghezzi, Kansas City, and Lawson Little, Cleveland.

Fred Haas, New Orleans; Chick Harbert, Detroit and Toney Penna, Cincinnati.

Wilford Wehrle (amateur) Louisville, Ky.; Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif.; and Dick Metz, Arkansas City, Kansas.

Royal Hogan (amateur) Fort Worth; Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C.; Elving Murray, Chicago.

Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa; Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, and George Schneider, Ogden, Utah.

Robert Willets (amateur) Kansas City; Herman Barron, White Plains, N. Y.; and Johnny Bulla, Phoenix, Ariz.

Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa.; Ky Lefson, St. Andrews, Ill.; and George Schaub, Marquette, N. Y.

Ellsworth Vines, Chicago; Herman Keiser, Akron, Ohio, and Lew Warsham, Pittsburgh.

Ghezzi, who was disqualified at Houston after playing the first round, on grounds his clubs did not meet specifications of the tournament golfers, has different set of clubs here. They were found to meet all specifications.

It took him a long time—nine years to be exact—but fearless Freddy Hutchinson, the picture pitcher, finally is beginning to look like the great hurler he was supposed to be when the Detroit Tigers handed over $75,000 for his signature in 1938.

Heralded as another Schoolboy Rowe, Hutchinson suddenly lost his stuff and won only three games for the Tigers. He divided that season and the next between Detroit and Buffalo in the International League.

But the war came along. Fred played lots of baseball under Mickey Cochrane and Bobby Feller in the Navy and came back last year to have a fairly good season winning 14 and losing 11.

At the start of this season, Manager Steve O'Neill rated him fourth on the staff to the great Hal Newhouser, Dizzy Trout and Virgil Trucks, but behind the serious-minded son of Seattle rates right on top of his performances.

Hutch won his fifth successive game last night after losing his first start of the season, defeating the Washington Senators at the Capital 3-2. No pitcher in the American League has won as many.

The Tigers broke a 2-2 tie in the ninth by pushing over the deciding run. Eddie Lake walked and raced to third on George Kell's single. He scored as Roy Cullenbine forced Kell.

The triumph enabled the Tigers to retain their one-game margin over the Boston Red Sox who held the Chicago White Sox to eight hits for a 5-1 decision. The loss was the first of the season for Orval Groves of Chicago.

Clarence Beers turned in a three-hit game in shutting out Dallas for the second straight time. It was the Houston hurler's fifth win against no defeats. He allowed only three men to face him and only two Dallas men got into position to score.

San Antonio got its winning run when Fort Worth catcher Ferrell Anderson let a ball get away from him in the eighth inning. Then Rube Naranjo protected the San Antonio lead with two fine plays. He fielded Moe Sannomau's single and threw out Danny Ozark at the plate in the eighth inning. He made a great catch of Walter Plaza's line drive to retire the side.

The victory boosted San Antonio from fourth to second place, while Fort Worth slipped from third to fifth.

Fred Collins, held Oklahoma City to four hits and butted in two runs himself in pitching Beaumont to a 6-1 victory over Oklahoma City. The loss ended Oklahoma City's four-game winning streak and dropped them from second to third place.

Shreveport inched up a notch in the league standings to fourth place in defeating Tulsa. They did it in the seventh with one run and then pushing across another in the eighth.

The game was delayed more than

Houston Buffs Mark Up 8th Straight Win and Third Consecutive Shutout

(By The Associated Press)

The Houston Buffs scored their eighth consecutive victory and third consecutive shutout last night, taking their series opener from Dallas, 5-0. The Buffs now have a lead of 3 1/2 games over the second place San Antonio Missions.

In other Texas League games San Antonio downed Fort Worth, 2-2. Beaumont defeated Oklahoma City, 6-1, and Shreveport outscored Tulsa, 9-5.

The Oilers are now leading the Abileneans by a narrow half-game margin and an Oiler defeat by the Blue Hose would simply mean tradeout in the games behind.

Abilene would move to two and one-half games behind the Hub-las while the Oilers would be tossed back to trail by three whole sessions. By virtue of the difference in the number of games played the Oilers would still hold a slight edge in the percentage column.

With the park reported very wet this morning and cloudy weather forecast for today chances for a game tonight appeared slim.

Sooner Hurler Realizes 5-Year Dream in Beating Missouri 7-2

NORMAN, Okla.—When Hal Cumberland, Oklahoma's 27-year old right-hander, beat Missouri's Big Six conference baseball leaders Monday on their own field at Columbia he realized an ambition that started five years ago when he wrenched his arm on a mud mound in a cow pasture near Columbia.

Five years ago Cumberland was the finest college pitching prospect in the mid-west, throwing a fast ball with a terrific hop and varying it with a slow curve that spiraled downwards like a school girl's curl.

He fanned 11 Jayhawkers while beating Kansas 2-1. He sent 17 Wildcats down swinging while winning 3-2 at Manhattan. He struck out 14 Oklahoma Aggies while defeating them 5-1, fanning nine of the last 13 Cowboys to face him, five of them in a row through the sixth, seventh and eighth frames.

He retired 20 of the last 21 Iowa State batsmen to face him as he retired from that game with a 12-0 lead. Half a dozen major league scouts tried to pledge him, following him around like he was the banker's son at fraternity rush.

On May 12, 1942 Coach Jack Beer took the all-victorious Sooners into Columbia, Mo., for an important series with the always tough Tigers. Rain washed out both contests on the Mizou diamond and the Sooners began the long 750-mile automobile drive home, apparently having won the championship.

But after driving 30 miles they were overtaken by Missouri baseball authorities and told that a single game would be played on an improvised diamond in a pasture. The Sooners accompanied their captors to the bucolic site, the grazing bovines were chased into a nearby meadow and the game began.

It was a farce. Ground balls that ordinarily would have been handled for put-outs went for hits as the skidding infielders couldn't reach them in the mud. Missouri won, 11-10 in 10 innings, making 19 hits to Oklahoma's 18.

Worst of all Cumberland, the Sooner ace, sprained his arm in the third when he slipped while trying to pitch off the slippery mound, and had to retire. Thereafter he couldn't throw because of the stabbing pain. He hurled no more that season. As Missouri won three games after the Oklahoma contest and took the Big Six flag, it looked like Cumberland's pitching days were over.

Cumberland enlisted in the Army Air Corps and all through the war he thought about baseball. Flying was fun but it didn't compare with rearing back on that mud, coughing your arm and whipping the horsehide through the farm Oklahoma sunshine. Then he'd feel his arm and think of that cloudy day back at Columbia. Some day—if his arm ever came back—he longed to go back there and face that fine Missouri team on a dry mound. If his arm . . .

As a fighter pilot Cumberland struck out the Japanese all over the Pacific. As much as anything else he fought to survive so he could pitch baseball when the war was over, maybe pitch another baseball game against Missouri. When the war ended he had the Air Medal, the Philippine Ribbon with a bronze star, the Pacific Theater Ribbon with four campaign stars and a stronger desire than ever to pitch again. Married, he decided to come back to Norman for his degree.

Meanwhile Dr. Robert Highland, team physician for the St. Louis National League club, treated Cumberland's arm with the X-ray. Soon the soreness began to leave and when Coach Jack Beer's Sooners started practice, Cumberland eagerly joined them.

His progress was discouragingly slow. Appearing as a relief twirler, he was batted freely. Throwing curves made his arm slow for days. In a night game at Waco he held the strong Baylor Bears hitless for eight innings before weakening, but Nebraska batted him out of the box before his home crowd at Norman, and while saving the opener against Oklahoma A&M here last week he had little on the ball, getting by on heart and poise and cunning.

On Monday May 12, 1947, just five years to the day since the disastrous Missouri-Oklahoma game of 1942, Cumberland again faced a strong Tiger team and its ace, Stewart Finlayson. It was the opportunity Cumberland had so long dreamed of and he didn't miff it. Pitching his first full game of the season, he beat Missouri, 7-3.

Oilers Scheduled To Play Tonight

Pampa's second slot Oilers are scheduled to risk their holding tonight if the weather permits them to meet the Abilene Blue Sox in Oil-er Park.

The Oilers are now leading the Abileneans by a narrow half-game margin and an Oiler defeat by the Blue Hose would simply mean tradeout in the games behind.

MEAT THE BOSS

Bill Scheerer, former Oklahoma baseball coach, report he's in the "hamburger circuit" in his new post at Middle Georgia College. "I will buy them steaks if they win and hamburgers if they lose," says Bill. "and by jingo, it is working all right."

stopped them with five hits, turned on the steam to fan Bob Spinks, their leading hitter, for the third out in the ninth.

And that's how Hal Cumberland conquered a badly lamed arm and survived four dangerous years of war to come back and pitch and win the game he's dreamed of.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK—(AP)—Ernie Lanigan's nomination for the freest "iron man" stunt in baseball is one performed by Charles (Hoss) Radbourne on May 30, 1884—Radbourne not only pitched both ends of a doubleheader, but he did it in the morning and afternoon games against different clubs, beating New York 12-9 in one game and Philadelphia 9-2 in the other—Ev. Shelton's Wyoming U. basketball team is heading for Louisiana, and maybe Texas, on its December tour next season.

EXPERT OPINION

When someone asked Al Panzer, Fort Worth Star-Telegram photographer who has been snapping golfers for years, who were the easiest pros to pose, he replied: "Johnny Bulla, Dick Metz and Jimmy Demaret."—The hardest? "Ben Hogan—until after he gets that check in his pocket; then he'll stand on his head for you."

SPORTS MENTION

Gustavus T. Kirby, veteran A. A. U. official, maintains the three most thrilling sports events he ever saw were the 1927 Olympic Marathon, the 1920 Olympic crew race and the Dempsey-Pirpo fight. And he puts the Marathon at the top—Earle Meadows, co-holder of the pole vault record before Dutch Warmerdam began topping 15 feet, is tuning up for a comeback in the Los Angeles Coliseum relays, May 23. Meadows, a school teacher in San Antonio, has been clearing 14-3 in practice—Well, it isn't surprising when a teacher hits the ceiling.

Few More Schoolbooks Available Next Year

NEW YORK—(AP)—There'll be some shortage in schoolbooks next year, but—
Grammar School Johnny and High School Charley ought to be able to make out pretty well just the same.
This is the guess of the American Textbook Institute which tells this story.
During the war, Grammar and High Schools bought as few new textbooks as possible. Now there's a pent-up demand for them.
So far, the makers of textbooks haven't been able to meet the demand and probably won't for another year or so.

Jack Guthrie at Rex in Person

Featured on the Levine's Jamboree Program tonight at the Rex Theatre in Pampa will be Jack Guthrie and his Oklahomaans, outstanding name band of stage, screen and radio fame that are playing nightly at the Belvedere Club in Pampa in addition to the special guest appearance at the Rex Theatre.

Jack Guthrie is known better throughout the country as that man who stormed the juke boxes with the popular recording, "Oklahoma Hills," of which over one million copies have been sold to date. Jack Guthrie wrote and arranged the song. Other songs that Guthrie has written and are currently popular are "I'm Telling You" and "Oklie Boogie."

The band has just finished making a picture in Hollywood with Ernie Tubbs titled "Hollywood Barn Dance," and Mr. Guthrie states that he and the boys are to return in June and make two pictures with Russell Hayden, titles to be announced later.

The entire program of Levine's Jamboree will be broadcast over Station KPND from the Rex Theatre stage tonight, 9 to 9:30 p. m. adv.

Eighteen Americans In British Tourney

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland—(AP)—Eighteen Americans, including the entire Walker Cup team, and six former champions will compete among the 216 entries announced today for the British amateur golf championship to be played the last week in May at Carnoustie, Scotland.
Ted Bishop, U. S. amateur champion, will be first off the tee, against A. C. Gibson of Britain, at 1 p. m. (CST) Monday, May 26.
Francis Ouimet, non-playing captain of the U. S. Walker Cuppers and winner of the U. S. amateur title in 1931, will be another of the Americans firing for the crown vacated by Jimmy "The Bear" Druen, par-shooting Irishman whose infected hand barred him from defending the title he won last year.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Industry Looks at Our Town
Maybe you read how a group of industrial experts have decided that the small town is the place for industry—not big cities. Reasons they give are better housing, pleasanter living, and more opportunity for wholesome recreation.
Well, looking around our town I'd say that was about right. Most of us own our homes, and keep them looking nice; we enjoy each other's company; and our recreations are mostly simple outdoor sports, and in the evening a mellow glass of beer with pleasant company.
As Doc Walters says, that sort of life just naturally sets you up for work the next day... whether it's in office, mill, or field. And Doc should know. He works fourteen hours, but never misses his morning "constitutional" or his evening glass of beer with friends.
From where I sit, any industry could profit from being in a town where wholesome living, temperance, and friendship are the rule.

EVERY EMPLOYEE REPRESENTED BY THE UNION OFFERED $4.00 WEEKLY INCREASE

Hoping to hasten termination of the strike, the Company made its maximum and final wage offer to the union negotiating committee last Monday, May 12.

There is some confusion reported as to the terms of this offer. Omitting discussion of all but the main wage item, the company's offer is to give every one of its 42,000 employees represented by the union an increase in wages of $4.00 per week.

COMPULSORY HEALTH INSURANCE COMES HIGH

It seems certain that some estimates of the cost of national compulsory sickness insurance are far too low. It has been said by proponents of the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill, for instance, that it could be financed for $4,000,000,000 a year. This is a substantial sum—yet very careful analysis indicates that it is too conservative. It is highly probable that the cost would be in excess of $5,000,000,000, and might run as high as $7,000,000,000.

The experience with socialized medicine in other countries indicates that the actual cost is invariably much greater than the anticipated cost. There are sound reasons for this. First people go to the doctor whether they are really ill or not, on the theory that they are being taxed for medical service and might as well get something for their money. Secondly, the extent of the service rendered funds to grow, and to embrace certain kinds of care not contemplated at the beginning, such as dental work. Lastly, the cost of anything done by a government bureaucracy is usually ever-increasing. In Germany, in 1935, for example, there were 36,000 political employees overseeing the work of 30,000 doctors. It is certainly reasonable to assume that we would have a comparable experience here.

Private, voluntary systems of prepaid medical care, such as now exist in all sections of the country, have proven that they can render a highly beneficial service at a very reasonable cost. More important still, they don't subject the practice of medicine to the whims of bureaucrats. They are solving most of our medical care problems.

RED ACTION

Is it true that a few Communists can often do more to capture a big group, such as a labor union? If so, how do they manage it?

Much depends on the answer. It is especially true at this time in view of President Truman's bland statement the other day that he didn't think communism constituted any serious danger here at home.

Here's a current and choice example how a score of Reds infiltrated one of America's well-known factories, captured its union and closed it down—and without—so much as giving the 2,000 rank and file members a strike vote.

The scene is a big rubber plant which never in its history had experienced serious labor difficulties before the advent of the Reds.

An exceptionally shrewd leader was sent to manage the job—the job of capturing the union, that is. He was a good speaker and a top-flight strategist. By seizing likely issues he gathered a following among the employees. He harangued fellow workers on the inequities of their bosses. His aides, who were not then recognized as his aides, yelled amen from the audience. The plant showed only normal interest in union activities. The gate was wide open. Into the presidency of the local rolled the new fireball, on nomination by one of his cohorts.

Later, when a Negro was fired for repeated absences and worse delinquencies, the workers were bombarded with inflammatory propaganda against the management and an indignation meeting was called. The Negro was put over on these workers less than half the membership in attendance. Later, the labor board was forced to rule against the union, but the strike

They described the failures and the sparks of hope in the Moscow deadlock and now are outlining American policy in relation to political systems and to the economies of food, coal and steel.

The new directive by the U. S. Military Government in Berlin shows that General Lucius D. Clay is keeping his eyes on other perils. It warns that militarism and totalitarianism will be uprooted only if the Germans "learn to think, believe and act in terms of democracy."

Statesmen at last are becoming aware that they must pay more attention to educating not only German but all European youth in the ABC's of democracy.

After the shooting war ended, the initial objective was to denazify Germans and Austrians and defascize Italians. But we soon discovered that the seeds sown by Hitler and Mussolini had grown into something more than Axis weeds.

Educational Atrocity During War
Members of Education Missions, who have surveyed the Continent, point out that the destruction of democratic school systems produced a lost generation in France, Poland and other occupied countries.

Youngsters were inoculated with a suspicion of Anglo-American motives. They matured under totalitarian systems with a dearth of mental and moral training. This experience and their present unprosperous fate make many of them easy prey for communism.

The loudest years under Hitler, Petain and the quislings were marked by the burning of liberal books, pillaging of art, rifling of archives, robbery of scientific equipment and the killing of teachers and pupils. Isolation from free foreign culture and the poisoning of minds produced an intellectual ruin certain more impervious than military barriers.

Laval in March, 1944, deported pro-Ally teachers to German concentration camps, where many left their bones. After 1948 no French boy in a slave labor gang was allowed time for study. Later he came home ignorant and bewildered. All school children under Vichy were taught to hate American ideas.

Germany thus implanted have influenced these youngsters—now known as "babes in the wood"—and American trades of Thorez and his Red hatchmen.

Nazis Corrupted Dutch Youth
The curse of Nazi occupation lingers in the Netherlands. Physical property was less wrecked than, say, in the London blitzed area. But spiritual damage among the young is shocking. Dutch educators condemn the beastly sexual morals of German soldiers who not only seduced teen-age girls but also corrupted adolescent boys.

Often the father of a large family was in prison and the mother was obliged to go to work. The children, left alone, took to robbing food stores. A sense of discipline has not yet been fully restored.

The Nazis gave Poles large quantities of hard liquor to keep them drunk and thereby hasten the breakdown of morale—vodka even to little children. Candy was distributed among those who latched on patriotically to the invaders. Taken together, the young were demoralized by terror, including frequent mass executions.

Frequently youngsters who refused to conform were arrested. Attempts at degradation are beyond words. But from the depths of misery also have come stories of sublime courage as will inspire Polish youth for ages.

One hundred Boy Scouts were massacred in Bydgoszcz. As they lined up before their murders, the brave little lads defiantly sang the Polish National Anthem.

The Brave Died—Cowards Lived
But they are gone. With them perished some of the best stock in Europe, whose intelligence, valor and superior morality are sorely missed today. The weak, the ignorant, the cowed and the embittered lingers in the wake of Nazi hardships or the siren songs of Red intriguers.

Salvaging young Europe is one of the most important steps in checking the spread of communism. The revival of free education is necessary in founding successful,

Well, I see that the meat packers have released figures showing that we Americans consumed 20,000,000,000 hot dogs last year, which is the most encouraging news I have heard in a long time. It indicates that despite the atom bomb, differences with Russia, strikes and all political squabbles we are still healthy, optimistic people with splendid dispositions. The hot dog is a symbol of a sane, self-assured, democratic way of life. It flourishes best in gay surroundings such as baseball and football games, beach parties and American Legion conventions. George says it is next to impossible to be depressed while eating a hot dog, except at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, when the Dodgers are trailing 15 to 2.

My figures may be a little off but I calculate that every person living in the United States ate something like 143 hot dogs last year. This must have been quite a strain for the children under six.

We are now living in an age of friendship and unity in the Western Hemisphere. If we could just get friendship and unity in the United States we would have no more trouble.—President Truman.

Evils of the Closed Shop
By R. C. HOILES

For the last several days I have been quoting from an article written by Harold Brandt, a union man for twenty years and former Vice President and Business Representative of McCormick Local 108, C.I.O., International Harvester Company, Chicago, entitled "Evils of the Closed Shop."

Mr. Brandt, at the conclusion of yesterday's article, was just commenting that very few of our rank-and-file union members are aware of their inalienable rights under the constitution, and the violation of them by union actions, and if they are brought to the attention of the average union member he answers "Well, What can I do about it?"

I continue:

"Notwithstanding this attitude, it is nevertheless this writer's opinion that something can and must be done about it. I would seem clear that should the Congress of the United States investigate the conditions outlined in this article and find these to be in all ways true as stated, prompt corrective action might be taken in line with its right as the national legislative body and also in line with its simple public duty.

"Such action should provide Federal legislation to impose the following restrictions:

(1) In the case of all collective bargaining agreements presently in full force and effect, any provision to support union security by such devices as dues check-off, maintenance of membership, union shop, etc., shall not be made a part of any collective bargaining agreement unless or before the union party to such a proposed provision shall have enacted into its Constitution and By-Laws a preamble stated in unequivocal language that: "The supreme law of this Union shall be the Constitution and Bill of Rights of the United States of America and any provisions hereinafter included which are found to be in violation of the Constitution of the United States shall automatically be considered null and void. The membership, including all officials, are therefore prohibited from writing into the Constitution and By-Laws of this Union any and all provisions which violate the Constitutional rights of every American Citizen."

(2) Hereafter, any proposal which seeks to provide for union security by means of dues check-off, maintenance of membership, union shop, closed shop, etc. shall not be made a part of any collective bargaining agreement unless or before the union party to such a proposed provision shall have enacted into its Constitution and By-Laws a preamble stated in unequivocal language that: "The supreme law of this Union shall be the Constitution and Bill of Rights of the United States of America and any provisions hereinafter included which are found to be in violation of the Constitution of the United States shall automatically be considered null and void. The membership, including all officials, are therefore prohibited from writing into the Constitution and By-Laws of this Union any and all provisions which violate the Constitutional rights of every American Citizen."

(3) The officials of any labor union, or the officers of any employer corporation who heretofore may be found to have violated either of the two above provisions shall be subject to such penalties as my report be determined.

"The Bill of Rights, set forth in our American Constitution at the cost of severe sacrifice by our forefathers, represents a bulwark of our liberty as Americans. During its existence it has been a source of tremendous inspiration to other peoples abroad. Its spirit must not be permitted to languish at this critical period of our industrial history. For the good of all, it must expand rather than contract with the evolution of the nation which gave it birth.

"Because we have heretofore been created by law the autocratic labor leader and left the individual union member in a desperately weak legal position, we have invited and invited chaos in the field of labor relations. In order to correct the situation, let us fix in the Constitutions and By-Laws of our labor unions the fundamental concept embodied in our American Bill of Rights. Through the human strength therein expressed, America stands forth as a leader among the nations of the world. This safeguarded, American labor can and must lead the labor unions of the world to constructive industrial stability.

"Let no man assume that even our labor unions are altogether bad. Within each of these there lies dormant the spirit of sound Americanism which, once it is armed with the guaranteed freedoms of our Constitution, Bill of Rights, will lead the membership to a better America.

"Let us declare a birth of freedom for American industrial labor. Let us have industry and commerce—what honest individual with true American blood in his veins will cry out in protest to this or object to such a program?"

Lister performed the first anti-septic operation in the Royal Infirmary at Glasgow in 1865.

This thing has happened a thousand times in America. It parallels is going on every day inside government bureau where a handful of friends of Moscow, each assigned to a particular job, all working quietly together, are able to turn much of our governmental activity to their own ends.

If there are 2,500 Communists, there are a few thousand fellow travelers in federal bureaus, as reported, that is an enormous number. They constitute a danger a hundred times as great as a like number of enemy soldiers wearing uniforms. Insurance Would Be on Test Basis
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Agriculture Committee decided Wednesday that federal crop insurance should be put down to an experimental basis in 1948 in an effort to devise a program both financially sound and attractive to farmers.
 Legislation which it approved and sent to the House would not affect insurance the government already has written on 1947 crops. Rep. Hill (R-Colo.) is author of the bill.

 A spokesman said the State Department has now instructed the embassy to ask "appropriate disciplinary action" against the local officials responsible for the incident.

Wheat Picture Bright

Danger From Green Bugs May Be Past

By BILL ODEN
 News Farm Reporter
 Hopes for a bumper wheat crop this summer are still mounting and surveys reveal that the Panhandle is expected to have one of the greatest harvests it has had in several years.

Damage from the green bug was slight, Gray County Agent Ralph Thomas reported, and further damage appears to be doubtful. The hot days in the Panhandle which followed early May rains caused the death of most of the insects, it was said.

The green bug thrives in damp, warm weather. Although the rains were good for the young wheat, it was just as good for the green bug, Thomas said.

The last "million dollar" rain saved the top soil from cracking and drying out and restored moisture to the earth throughout the Panhandle area.

Rust has been noticed in some areas, Thomas reported, but damage is slight so far. It is difficult to determine the extent of damage caused by rust, but the wheat now seems to have sufficient moisture and with "alternate sunshine and rain, the wheat should be able to come through without much rust damage," Thomas stated a few days ago.

Workers and combine crews are expected to be plentiful and Thomas said that men would be stationed at key intersections on the highway to direct transient crews to needed areas.

Plans are being made by the Santa Fe lines to store up many box cars in anticipation of the bumper crop of wheat from elevators to mills.

Fred Gurley, president of the Santa Fe, a week ago wrote, in a letter to Rep. Gene Worley of this district: "We are taking care of all current orders, and in anticipation of the grain movement, have stored between 500 and 1000 cars. . . . We think that we will be able to load grain immediately following the harvest period at approximately the same rate of a year ago. I think one might be a bit optimistic and figure we might do a little better than a year ago. I say this because a year ago the over-all circumstances were such that we were not able to have any cars stored at all."

Rep. Worley explained that "hogging" of other company's cars by Eastern roads caused shortages of Western roads' cars.

However, Thomas urged farmers to construct as much storage facilities as possible and thus protect themselves against overloading the transportation facilities.

As I See It--

By SAM LEWIS VEITCH
 Washington, D. C.

The American Farm Bureau may have a new President by the end of the year if rumors around Washington this week come true. Edward A. O'Neill has headed this powerful farm organization for 17 years. He is reported to be planning to retire and return to his native Alabama. Mr. O'Neill will not confirm, and on the other hand, he will not deny the report, but the very fact that he has had his home in Alabama reworked, and moved his furniture down there from Washington, makes his retirement seem logical. If he steps down, O'Neill will probably be succeeded by Allen Kuhn, President of the Iowa State Bureau and Vice-President of the National Organization.

SUGAR PLENTIFUL

The supply of sugar seems to be backing up in this country. If you find it pretty hard to get along on the amount of sugar you are allowed under the current rationing, think this one over for a minute. There is so much sugar in the United States that it is virtually a glut on the market, and what's more there isn't a whole lot that can be done about it. Here is the reason. The Cuban sugar crop is going "great guns" this year. The stuff is pouring into the refineries so rapidly, they can't move out the refined sugar fast enough to take in shipments of the new raw product. They have found it necessary to store it, and now they are about out of storage space. In the meantime, the low sugar we cannot raise the amount of 35 pounds per person to 50 pounds under the over-all allotment to the United States from the International Emergency Food Control Act is raised to that isn't done before the present sugar rationing ends, then we will have to wait, even though there is so much around we can and room to put it. Now observers think that by the time July rolls around, we should have a fairly good estimate of how much beet sugar we will be able to raise ourselves. If that's true, controls may be dropped entirely.

MAN BITES STEER

Here is a bit of news on the lighter side of things. It's about food—good food by a man who should know what he is talking about. He tells us what the perfect steak should be like. He says he hasn't found a good steak in any of the restaurants around the country, and he has spent about eight thousand dollars looking. Now this man is Morris Dreicer, and he is a New York authority on good food. In New York he is considered an expert on the subject. His latest search took him into New Orleans. No luck there either, but he came away with a good meal of oysters. But let us get back to what makes a good steak. Mr. Dreicer says that it should be at least 3 inches thick—weigh 2 pounds—be cut of fat 4 year old steer and be aged 45 days before it is cooked. It should be seared for a half-a-minute. Now listen to this—mind you—a half-a-minute on each side, that is—and served on an oak plate to retain its heat. So, since he goes in for rare steaks—if you find a man running after one of your 4 year old steers, with a hungry look in his eye, it may be Mr. Dreicer still in the prowl for that perfect steak. But frankly, if that's a perfect steak, Mr. Dreicer is welcome to it. We'll take ours cooked a little longer.

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Jester has signed a House concurrent resolution authorizing an 18-member committee to study the state's public education needs.
 The study relating to improvement of the public school system is to be made during the next two years and findings reported to the 51st Legislature.
 House Speaker W. O. Reed is to appoint three representatives and three other members. Jester, Gov. Allan Shivers is to appoint three Senators and three other members, and the Governor is to appoint six members to the committee.

County Launches Clean-up Drive On Prairie Dogs

The Gray County Agricultural Agent and The U. S. Wildlife Service put out 1550 pounds of 1080 Poison Oats last week as the first step in a prairie dog eradication campaign. County Agent Ralph Thomas announced yesterday.
 The bait was put out on nearly 5000 acres of land, according to Thomas. The baiting was done under the supervision of Carl Jacobs of the Wildlife Service.

The results were not too favorable on pups born this year, but Thomas estimated that 85 percent of the old prairie dogs in the county were killed. It was pointed out that the killing of the dogs at this time would largely prevent the spreading to new areas as the pups mature. Another clean-up campaign has been planned for the latter part of July, when Jacobs will return to the county with 1080 Poison Oats as well as cyanide flakes. It is hoped they said, that most of the prairie dogs in the county will be eradicated this year.

Formula for 1080 poison was developed during the war by the Army for the eradication of rodents. As no antidote has been found, it has not been released to the general public. All baiting must be done under the supervision of a representative of the Wildlife Service. The fact that it is tasteless gives 1080 a distinct advantage over strychnine which has been used as a poison bait for rodents for many years.

The grain is dyed a bright yellow and does not attract birds, according to authorities. Thomas stated that he had not received any reports of any birds being killed during the recent campaign.

Before leaving the county Jacobs said, "In all my work I have never had better co-operation than I have here in Gray County, and I am looking to coming back for another clean-up campaign."

Foot-Mouth Disease Program Is Lauded

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Just back from an inspection trip, W. P. McDonald, chief of the Mexican border foot and mouth disease quarantining project said here the program is meeting the approval of ranchers and business men from the Gulf to the Pacific ocean.

He said there has been no reports of cattle infected with the disease in the U. S. A number of stray cattle, he said, had been herded across the border into Mexico by the 200 range riders patrolling the area.

Formula for 1080 poison was developed during the war by the Army for the eradication of rodents. As no antidote has been found, it has not been released to the general public. All baiting must be done under the supervision of a representative of the Wildlife Service. The fact that it is tasteless gives 1080 a distinct advantage over strychnine which has been used as a poison bait for rodents for many years.

The grain is dyed a bright yellow and does not attract birds, according to authorities. Thomas stated that he had not received any reports of any birds being killed during the recent campaign.

Before leaving the county Jacobs said, "In all my work I have never had better co-operation than I have here in Gray County, and I am looking to coming back for another clean-up campaign."

Marshall Still Urges Merger of War Departments

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall, while asking to be relieved of further testimony because of his diplomatic status, nevertheless holds to his belief as a soldier that Army-Navy unification is "essential."

Chairman Gurney (R-S.D.) has released a letter containing Marshall's views as the Senate Armed Services Committee headed for a showdown on the hotly disputed merger issue.

Shying from any public forecast of committee sentiment, Gurney said only that he expects the pending bill to be cleared to the Senate floor by the end of the week.

One committee member, however, who asked not to be named, predicted that "not more than three" of the 13 Senators who have been listening to conflicting testimony for eight weeks would oppose the unification plan.

But even if that happens the prospect for final Congressional action this year is remote. The House Expenditures Committee still is in the midst of its own hearings, and the two year old issue was omitted from the list of legislative matters marked down as "must" at the last meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Marshall, while serving as Army Chief of Staff, gave enthusiastic support to the original merger plan which was bitterly opposed by Navy leaders last session. Gurney asked him to testify again this session on the compromise version supported by both Army and Navy leaders.

A fortune was spent educating American housewives to never, never, never put bananas in the refrigerator.

And you know what? Down in the valley where they handle bananas by the ton, they ship the things in refrigerated cars!

It isn't that they haven't heard the singing commercials down there. They have. Everybody has. They ship the bananas in refrigerated cars to keep them at an even temperature. In summer, they're cooled. In winter, they are shipped in refrigerated cars to keep them warm as they roll through sub-zero zones.

Brownville is muscling in on New Orleans and New York as a new tropical fruit center.

Most of Mexico's bananas, pineapples and coconuts are shipping through that port now.

It started during the last war when bananas from the West Indies and South American just didn't exist because of the shipping shortage. For a long time the United States had no bananas.

Yes, we have no bananas was a national theme song until somebody found that the Mexican banana was pretty good, and could be shipped by rail and by barge easily.

In the last year of the war, bananas rolled through Brownville by the million, and provided the country with all the bananas it had. Today, the industry is still growing.

Last season, 216,098,553 pounds of bananas, pineapples and coconuts were handled at Brownville. Of this, 80,000 tons were bananas. Most of them today come by barge from Vera Cruz, Tampico and Port of Mexico areas. Then they are shipped by rail in refrigerated cars and by truck all over the nation.

In fact, the industry is expanding so fast that a special tropical fruit dock is being built at the Port of Brownville.

Complete with refrigerators.
