Texas selling off part of Palo Duro Canyon ranch

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas will sell but still require conservation of part of a ranch acquired for Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Canyon.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department on Tuesday announced the plan that will keep the for-sale property protected by a conservation easement.

The agency in September 2008, joined by the Trust For Public Land, announced the addition of the 2,912-acre Fortress Cliffs Ranch.

The original plan included selling upland portions of the ranch, which features about seven miles of cliffs, and use the proceeds to buy other state park land.

Public comment is sought for the planned sale of about 1,900 acres, located 15 miles southeast of Amarillo. The area shares seven miles of boundary with the more than 29,000-acre state park.

County

provide caller ID numbers for all phones and other services.

"We do have this proposal, but we'd like to at least give the current provider an opportunity to give us some ideas," Peet said.

The commission gave John Mark Baggerman, Precinct 3 commissioner, permission to purchase a mowing tractor through the Buy Board.

"It's what was budgeted for that purpose," the judge said.

The Buy Board was created by the State of Texas that lists various vendors that have been approved by the state.

Companies approved by the Buy Board alleviate the need for counties and other governmental entities to go out for bids.

"It eliminates a steps that the state says we can do," Peet says.

The commission set early voting hours in McLean for 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., on Feb. 24 and 25.

"Those are the two early voting days in McLean," Peet said. Early voting starts on Feb. 16.

Peet said that the county commission's action doesn't mean that the voters in McLean can't come up to Pampa and vote early.

"We've just trying to provide two days for that community, which is over 30 miles away, an opportunity for people to vote early there," Peet said.

One of the major factors, he explained is that County Commissioner James Hefley, who represents McLean, is retiring and there are four people running to take his place on the county commission.

"It would be of genuine interest," Peet said, "so we're trying to assist the people of that area."

The commission also reviewed the state-required racial profile reports filed by the Gray County Sheriff's Office and Gray County Constables of Precincts 1 and 3.

The state requires that county law enforcement agencies provide the reports annually to the county commission.

"It's a breakdown of the people they have arrested and/or stopped," Judge Peet said.

The county commission also passed a resolution regarding Dig Tess.

"This is the organization that one calls before you start doing any digging," Peet said. "We're having kind of a problem because sometimes they're looking at an incorrect map."

The maps they have sometimes show highways or roads that Gray County doesn't have.

"They have them," Peet said, "but they don't have the current labeling of them on their maps."

When they come out, the judge said they couldn't find the right place.

"We're going to try to deal with that," he said. "I'm sure that's a problem that's common throughout the state."

In other business, the commission rescinded their choice of bidders on two vehicles for the sheriff's office.

While originally granted to a local dealership, the county auditor feared that the state wouldn't accept the county's reasoning.

The local bid was $8,700 more than a bid from a downstate dealership.

The commission awarded the bid Monday to Holiday Chevrolet in Whitesboro, Tex.

The vehicles are being bought with federal grant money.

Buying local could bring down the wrath of the federal government, according to the auditor.

Pulling sleds against the law

Pampa— This time of year is a very fun time, playing in the snow, going down hills on snow sleds and spending well deserved time with family. I want to encourage this activity all throughout the year. I also want to encourage safe ways for families to be together without having a fun time turn into a parent's worst nightmare. During the past few days there have been reports of children's sleds being pulled by vehicles. I want to discourage anyone from doing this. Not only is it very DANGEROUS it is against the LAW. TC 551.102 (d) states "A person operating a bicycle, coaster, sled, or toy vehicle or using roller skates may not attach either the person or the bicycle, coaster, sled, toy vehicle, or Roller skates to a streetcar or vehicle on a roadway" The last thing an Officer wants do is to see a child injured due to this type of accident. I ask the community to have fun with their families but please be safe in doing so. If you have any questions please feel free to contact me.

Thank you,

HENDERSON, Texas (AP) — Two men have been charged with capital murder over a double slaying in Rusk County in which the victims were shot and dumped along a road.

The decision to run for Gray County Judge weighed heavily on my mind because I knew I would become a target for gossip and personal attacks. I respectfully request that the citizens of Gray County focus on the issues as I make this effort to create a change in Pampa. I was raised in this town, and have roots in our community. I graduated from Pampa High School in 1970. The city of Pampa has changed, and the decision making process needs a common sense approach. My greatest fear is for those around me, and I do not want my mother and family to be hurt by any personal attacks. I hope all will listen and help work for the greater good of our community.

- Are your property taxes too high?
- Can you sell your house for appraised value?
- Are you worried about having a job next year?
- Will you have enough money to pay the bills?
- The citizens of Pampa elect the Gray County Commissioners!
- Do you know your Gray County Commissioner's name?
- As a Pampa city resident do you know your Gray County precinct number?
- Has your Commissioner ever contacted you about your problems?
- Do you know how much a Gray County Commissioner gets paid?
- Do you know how many hours your Gray County Commissioner works per week?
- Why is this important? The Gray County Judge sets the budget!
- The County Commissioners approve the budget and set the tax rate.
- The 2009 unaudited Gray County budget revenues were approximately $7.5 million dollars!
- What percentage of the budget did the murder trial cost?
- Who was consulted and who made the final decision to proceed with the murder trial?

"Gray County Judge Richard Peet told a Texas television station, ProNews 7, the trial for the McDonald County native has cost more than $340,000, most of that in defense attorney fees." "Peet stressed the cost is not a determining factor in the case, as it is about justice for the families."

The defendant offered to plea to three life sentences without parole and no appeals. However, our District Attorney refused to take the plea offer. One must ask, "Was justice served?" As a Christian nation is the death penalty justice? The last capital murder trial in Pampa was in 1993 and the execution date is set for February 24, 2010. That is 17 years of taxpayer expenses. The murder trial represented a substantial percentage of the total Gray County budget, and the cost of that murder trial has resulted in a loss of services for all.

I still do not know the final cost! Was it worth the cost?

- Why did Gray County not join the Indigent Defense Fund? This is like an insurance policy to help cover the costs of a murder trial in our county.) Were the Gray County Commissioners aware that this fund existed?
- The Commissioner's Court approved more expenditures than Gray County had revenues coming in! (If you doubt my words get a copy of the Gray County budget at the Gray County Courthouse.) We must live within our budgets!
- My property taxes increased 47% in 2008 to cover spending decisions! What next? Where are we going to come up with the money?
- The time is NOW! Hold our elected officials accountable for their actions, and end the wasteful spending that continues to plague the current administration.

Lady Harvesters escape Dumas, playoffs in reach

BY ANDREW GLOVER
aglover@thepampnews.com

The Pampa Lady Harvesters basketball team had a strong second quarter and is closer to clinching the last playoff spot in a 34-26 win over the Dumas Demonettes Monday at the McNeely Field House.

The game was originally supposed to be played Friday but had to be rescheduled due to weather.

Head Coach Gene Valentine said he felt his team played well defensively and limited the Demonettes' top shooters.

"The first time we played them their two shooters, (number) 12 had 16 and (number) 32 had 15 or so," Valentine said. "We knew if we could control the outside, we would be OK."

The first quarter started as a back and forth game. About halfway through the first Pampa started to pull away some, closing the quarter on a 6-2 run to lead 12-7 after one.

In second quarter the Lady Harvesters (9-16, 4-5) continued where they left off in the first quarter. Pampa held Dumas scoreless until 43 seconds left in the quarter.

The Lady Harvesters outscored the Demonettes 9-2 to expand their lead to 21-9 after the first half. Taylor Eubank scored six of Pampa's nine points in the second.

Pampa mostly maintained their lead in the third quarter. The Demonettes (7-15, 0-10) didn't get closer than nine but outscored the Lady Harvesters 5-3 to cut Pampa's lead to 24-14.

In the fourth quarter, the Demonettes started to rally, opening the quarter on a 10-4 run dropping the Lady Harvesters lead to 28-24. Andi Hutto scored four of Pampa's next six points expanding the Lady Harvesters' lead to 34-24.

Eubank led the team in scoring with nine points. Shelbie Watson scored eight points, Hutto scored seven, Emilie Troxell and Kayla Hughes each scored four points and Kirsten Kuhn scored two points. The Lady Harvesters play Caprock (13-14, 3-7) tonight and Valentine said a win today puts them in the playoffs.

"Even if we both end up at 5-7 and we beat them a second time we would have the tiebreaker over them because we beat them twice," Valentine said. "Tonight is a big game, it's not a must win game but it's a big game, it could clinch it for us."

Delaney Clendening, Lindsey Brown, Caitlin Sieck and Kailyn Troxell played with the varsity for the first time this season.

Dumas hands Harvesters a heartbreaking defeat

BY ANDREW GLOVER
aglover@thepampnews.com

The Pampa Harvesters led early and late leads slip away in a 75-70 overtime loss to the Dumas Demons Monday at the McNeely Field House.

Head Coach Dustin Miller said any game you lose is going to be a heart-breaker no matter what the situation is.

"We started off well," Miller said. "We got a 10-point lead. We let them hit a couple good wide open threes right before halftime, gave them some confidence. We built it (lead) back up and even late in the fourth quarter we had a six point lead."

In the first quarter, Pampa took an early 5-0 lead with Latigo Collins hitting a three and Alex Clendening made a two. The Demons scored the next six points to take a 6-5 lead. Pampa closed the quarter on an 11-5 run to lead 16-11 after the first.

In the second quarter, the Harvesters started strong and expanded their lead to nine, opening with a 6-2 run. Pampa led by as much as 11 but the Demons would finish the quarter strong. Dumas (3-18, 2-6) hit two three pointers in a 10-0 run cutting Pampa's lead to 28-27. Both teams played even in the third quarter. The largest lead for the Harvesters was three points as they led 31-28 and 34-31 at the beginning of the quarter. The Demons got a couple one point leads towards the end of the quarter. Dumas outscored Pampa 17-16 in third to tie at 44.

In the fourth quarter, Pampa opened with a 10-4 run to take a 54-48 lead. Clendening and Travis Hagerman combined to score those 10 points. The Demons made a three and a two pointer to cut Pampa's lead to one. Clendening and Collins would bring Pampa's lead back to five. The Demons would go on a 6-1 run and score a two pointer with less than five seconds left to force overtime.

Hagerman started the overtime period with a two, to put Pampa ahead 61-59. Dumas would take the lead for good scoring the next four points to take a 63-61 lead. Garrett Ericson cut the lead to one but the Demons would go on a 8-0 run to expand their lead to 71-62. Clendening and Collins would make three pointers but it wouldn't be enough.

Clendening was the leading scorer with 25 points and led the team in rebounds with nine.

Collins scored 18 points and had two rebounds. Ericson scored eight points with six rebounds. Hagerman scored eight points and had two rebounds. Reid Miller scored seven points and had two rebounds.

With the loss, the Harvesters (9-14, 1-6) fall three games behind fourth place Hereford. Dustin Miller said his team will play with pride the rest of season and represent Pampa well.

"We talked about tonight that you represent your family and the name on your shirt," Miller said. "No matter what happens on the scoreboard we are going to go out and play as hard as we can play."

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: Shortly before my wedding, I decided to have my teeth fixed. The dentist quoted me a price of $4,000, which my husband and I could not afford since we were paying for our entire wedding.

My parents agreed to pay the dental bill as soon as it arrived. However, there is now a "stipulation." They are demanding the full list - including exact dollar amounts - of what EACH of our guests gave us for wedding gifts. If I refuse, my parents now say our previous verbal agreement is worthless, and my husband can cover my dental bill.

Am I wrong for not wanting to give them the dollar amount or tell them what each guest gave at our wedding? They call me at work and insist I tell them because they "must" know if their family and friends "disrespected" them. I feel that whatever people gave us is whatever they could afford, and my husband and I are very happy with the gifts we received.

NEWLYWED IN DARIEN, CONN.

D E A R NEWLYWED: Your parents are wrong to attempt to blackmail you into sharing the list with them. That information is none of their business. I hope you stand firm, call your dentist and work out a payment plan.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 73-year-old man in reasonably good health who would like to own a dog. However, I have two concerns: A dog might outlive me, or I might outlive the dog - which would be traumatic for me. I'd appreciate your opinion.

THINKING OF ADOPTING IN LAS VEGAS

DEAR THINKING: It is well known that pets lower levels of stress and depression. Adopting a dog could give you a new "leash" on life because responsible pet owners must establish a regular routine and exercise their animals.

However, before you take the plunge, consult your doctor about whether you're healthy enough to have one, and ask a veterinarian about the care it will require and whether you should adopt an adult dog rather than a puppy. Then talk to your lawyer about ensuring that, in the event of your death, your faithful companion will be cared for until it joins you in the Great Puppy Park in the sky.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this as a mother of four and an operating room nurse for 30 years. Once again, I had to pull a crying mother from her child so I could take the child into the operating room.

I understand that a child having surgery is upsetting and stressful. My own children have had to have surgical procedures done, so I know the feeling. But if I can help parents understand one thing, it would be that the child looks to the parent for support. If the mother is crying and clinging at the bedside, the message the child receives is: If Mom is that upset, something bad must be about to happen to me.

No one is implying that you do not love your child or you are not worried about him or her, but it does no one any good if you have to be peed off your child. Please send your little one off with kisses and encouraging words, and the child will be a little less frightened.

WISCONSIN R.N.

DEAR WISCONSIN R.N.: I'm printing your letter verbatim. As traumatic as sending a child into surgery can be for both parent and child, the words a child needs to hear are, "You'll be going to sleep, and when you wake up, Mommy will be right here. I love you. Now give me a kiss." For the child's sake, venting for stress relief should be saved for the waiting room.

Traditionally, Groundhog Day is the day we humans look to a small animal for either a sign of a longer Winter, or a sign of the coming of Spring. Watch a groundhog's burrow today, and if he sees his shadow, spring is on its way. If it does not see its shadow, then we still have a few weeks of winter to endure.

Happy Groundhog Day!

Daily Horoscope

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Wednesday, Feb. 3, 2010:
You could become overwhelmed quickly by everything that is happening. Even if you don't understand what is occurring, you will be able to make progress. Your way or style makes friends and eliminates problems. Confusion or mixed messages can toss projects left and right. If you are single, you meet people with ease. Take your time getting to know a new suitor. You will have a tendency to choose someone who is emotionally unavailable. If you are attached, the two of you benefit from weekends spent together. LIBRA understands more than you realize.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have:
5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
★★★★★ Stay in tune with the positive. Know that you are not the only person who feels a bit awkward at times. How you handle someone could change radically because of a side that he or she manifests. Tonight: Be the audience and the listener.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
★★★ Easy does it. You could be exhausted and dragging after a certain point. You have a lot of charm and a positive attitude, which carry you through a tense moment or two. Know what it is you seek. Tonight: Put your feet up.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
★★★★★ Give a problem a shot of your ingenuity and then see where everything lands. You could be taken back by your alternatives, as strange as that might seem. How you deal with someone you care about could change radically.

Tonight: Take a midweek break.
CANCER (June 21-July 22)
★★★★★ Easy works better than you realize. Sometimes you get uptight imagining what-if scenarios. Toss them to the wayside, as they won't serve you. Realize your limits within your domestic circle. You might not be the only one who is uncomfortable. Tonight: Happy at home.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
★★★★★ The Lion roars and wants no one and nothing to stop him. Listen to what someone shares within your immediate circle before leaping in. Remain optimistic in a conversation. Someone is most certainly getting your point.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
★★★ Your discomfort with one issue easily could be coloring other issues, despite all efforts to stay clear. Listen to a close friend or associate. Not only does this person mean well, he or she has your best interests in mind. Tonight: Treat yourself to a not-too-expensive item you have desired.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
★★★★★ Others might be a lot tougher than you anticipated. Yet there appears to be no problem in you having your way. Dominate and express your preference. Think positively about an offer that could be surprising. Tonight: Only what you want.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
★★★ How you see an evolving situation could change radically. If you understand what is happening, you might opt to do something differently. Give yourself time to sort through recent confusion. More conflicting facts are heading your way. Tonight: Get some extra R and R.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
★★★★ Your ability to zero in on problems comes through in a meeting. You might feel a bit strange about what comes up. Think in terms of growth. You could be worn out by everything that is happening. Certainly you are in a period of transformation. Tonight: Where the action is.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
★★★★★ Others continue to look to you for decisions and insight. You feel pressure from a misunderstanding or a mixed message. You could be a bit uncomfortable until you understand that you need to release some of these issues. Tonight: A must appearance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
★★★★★ Reach out for someone at a distance. Your ability to get past a problem energizes many. If you are confused about info you are hearing, say so and get more confirmation. You cannot have all the answers all the time. Tonight: Be adventuresome when making plans.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
★★★★★ Work with someone directly without having any expectations. Realize what happens when you let go and don't feel the need to do anything a certain way. Investigate options with someone you trust. Tonight: Try dinner for two.
