Pampa remembers fallen heroes

"Freedom, though a great privilege, is an awesome responsibility," said Rev. Paul Nachtigall, addressing the crowd gathered in Freedom Park for a Memorial Day Service yesterday evening.

Rev. Nachtigall, pastor of the Highland Baptist Church in Pampa, was the main speaker for the service, which culminated with a candlelight memorial service, a largely silent, somber time punctuated by the sound of names called out softly by people in attendance. Those names were of friends and family — soldiers and sailors, now gone, but not forgotten.

Nachtigall evoked the words of founding father John Adams, who said, "I am well aware of the toil, and blood, and treasure, that it will cost to maintain this declaration, and support and defend these states; yet, through all the gloom I can see the rays of light and glory. I can see that the end is worth more than all the means."

The speaker recalled the Christian principles of the founders and came back to the reason for Memorial Day.

Friends, family and faculty gathered at Harvester Field on a sunny Saturday morning to usher Pampa's class of 2010 out of their high school years and into their futures.

It's a future, salutatorian Myles Foreman said, that will be shaped in large part through the experiences that he and his classmates shared over the last four years at good old Pampa High.

"Together, we've shared the highs and lows of high school," Foreman said. "We've worked through hardships. We have seen changes in people, friends and the school."

"During our time at Pampa High School, we have learned many life lessons we will take with us," he continued.

Life, Lefors High School valedictorian Seth Fry said, is like a kung fu movie.

During the commencement Lefors High School graduation ceremonies Friday night, Fry said there are fights in kung fu movies.

"We have fights in life," he told a standing-room-only crowd in the auditorium of Lefors High School. He said there would be bad times.

"But we will overcome them," Fry said. "They will pass."

He advised the 13 members of his graduating class to live in the moment in LEFORS cont. on page 3

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is upset with my wife and me for sneaking out of a wedding reception early (before the dinner was served). There was a long delay between the reception and the dinner, and a DJ was playing loud, deafening rock 'n' roll music.

We were seated near a speaker and it was virtually impossible to carry on a conversation. My wife claimed a major headache to the guests seated at our table, and we discreetly left the reception.

My mother-in-law says if you accept the dinner invitation it is bad manners not to eat the dinner because it cost the hosts money. I say, if the reception has intolerable environmental factors inflicted on the guests, leaving early is acceptable. Were we rude to leave as we did? — LOST MY APPETITE IN SOUTH CAROLINA

DEAR LOST MY APPETITE: Let me put it this way -- your mother-in-law has a point. Because the music was so loud that you were uncomfortable, you should have asked your hosts to instruct the DJ to lower the volume somewhat. It would have been preferable to walking out.

DEAR ABBY: I'm the supervisor of a small office. One of my biggest challenges is scheduling time off for the female employees. In my day, you didn't take a day off unless you were very sick or your child was sick. Now they seem to want time off for everything from school events, sporting events, getting their nails done, their faces waxed or tanning appointments. I am amazed at the decline in work ethic.

As I read about the unemployment in our country, I would think people would be grateful to have a well-paying job with benefits — but the recession hasn't slowed any of our female employees down one bit. What has happened to the old-fashioned work ethic that founded this country? (Maybe it went south along with the jobs?) And by the way, Abby, I am a female. — TAKES MY JOB SERIOUSLY

DEAR TAKES: Most companies give employees time off for personal business and vacations, as well as time off for their own illnesses or the illness of family members. If they choose to use the time the way you have described, it is their right to do so. However, if they are taking more than the company offers, that could be a problem. While I understand your point, please try to be less judgmental.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I work and lead busy lives. The dinner table is the only place we can sit together with our son and have a relaxing conversation. My wife, however, goes off and eats by herself saying she can't wait — even though dinner is almost ready. I have tried telling her I prefer family time, but she brushes me off or becomes angry. Any suggestions? — HUNGRY FOR CONVERSATION

DEAR HUNGRY: Yes. If you want family dinners with your wife, you will have to find out — and resolve — what is eating her. Clear the air and you may find her less hungry for solitude.

In a final act as a class, Pampa's graduating seniors celebrate commencement by letting the mortarboards fly.

After receiving their diplomas, the class of 2010 sang the school song for the first time not as students, but as alumni.

"As we leave here — hopefully by lunchtime — we should be thankful to all those who were involved in our growth and education."

While Foreman helped his fellow graduates reminisce about their high school years, valedictorian Alex Clendening pointed his peers towards the future.

"It is essential for us to build bonds with new people and expand our horizons in the coming years," Clendening told his classmates. "I have found in my own experience that the more friends you have, the happier you are and the more doors that are open to you."

"We must remember to make the right decisions and be responsible for our actions," Clendening continued. "There are two paths in life: Trying to better yourself, or simply being complacent in who you are today. I encourage you to take the first path: Try to challenge yourself, and do not be afraid to fail. Only failure will allow you to learn from your mistakes and be a better, more successful person."

Clendening acknowledged that, in looking to the future, it is important to always acknowledge the role that Pampa High School played in making the graduates who they are.

"After all," Clendening said, "not everyone we encounter in the future will have been lucky enough to have been a Harvester."

order to achieve happiness. "We will win," Fry said.

He said it was an honor to represent the Class of 2010.

Salutatorian Trever Czubinski reflected on growing up in Lefors and how he and friends gathered at the Taylor Mart, how they played six-man football and how they learned important life skills.

Being part of a small school in a small town teaches responsibility, he said.

"A small school gave us a chance to shine," Czubinski said.

Today is Tuesday, June 1, the 152nd day of 2010. There are 213 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On June 1, 1813, the mortally wounded commander of the U.S. frigate Chesapeake, Capt. James Lawrence, said, "Don't give up the ship" during a losing battle with a British frigate, the HMS Shannon, during the War of 1812.

On this date:

In 1533, Anne Boleyn, the second wife of King Henry VIII, was crowned as Queen Consort of England.

In 1792, Kentucky became the 15th state of the union.

In 1796, Tennessee became the 16th state.

In 1909, the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition opened in Seattle.

In 1958, Charles de Gaulle became premier of France, marking the beginning of the end of the Fourth Republic.

In 1967, the Beatles released their album, "Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band."

In 1980, Cable News Network made its debut.

Ten years ago: With about half an hour to spare, Texas Governor George W. Bush blocked the scheduled execution of convicted killer Ricky McGinn so that possibly exculpatory DNA evidence could be reviewed. (The DNA tests failed to establish McGinn's innocence, and he was put to death by injection in Sept. 2000.)

Five years ago: Paul Wolfowitz began a five-year term as head of the 184-nation World Bank. (Wolfowitz resigned the post in 2007 amid controversy over the generous compensation he'd arranged for his girlfriend, bank employee Shaha Riza.)

One year ago: Air France Flight 447, an Airbus A330 carrying 228 people from Rio de Janeiro to Paris, crashed into the Atlantic Ocean with the loss of everyone on board. General Motors filed for Chapter 11, becoming the largest U.S. industrial company to enter bankruptcy protection. A gunman shot and killed Pvt. William Andrew Long outside of an Army recruiting center in Little Rock, Ark.; another soldier, Pvt. Quinton I. Ezeagwala, was wounded. Nachtigall honors America's veterans

Editor's note: The following is the prepared text for Rev. Paul Nachtigall's Memorial Day address. We asked him to share it with our readers. The following text contains some addition material not delivered during the speech and it has been edited for space limitations.

This evening we honor those who have given their lives in defense of the freedoms that we all enjoy. When we look upon their sacrifice so that our nation, and the world, could experience the ability to be free, we are so very thankful for each one who served in any of our armed forces. We owe such a great debt to those who died so that you and I can be here right now. The sacrifices of these soldiers, and of those who are still fighting today, should never be forgotten.

From the battlefields that began the American Revolution, to the Civil War, to the Spanish American War, to WWI and II, to Korea, to Vietnam, to Desert Storm, to Iraq and Afghanistan, American soldiers have paid, and will continue to pay, the price for our freedom and safety.

Men and women have given of themselves to protect the freedoms we enjoy in our nation today. We have been able to experience it because all that has taken place before and those who have given of themselves to protect the freedoms set forth by our forefathers. When you look at our nation, we have been blessed, truly blessed. From the beginning our nation has struggled because of the direction our founding fathers chose to go. They chose to walk the path of obedience to God.

I can say with almost absolute certainty that not every soldier who fought for our country in any war was a Christian. Yet I am confident that each one was fighting for the principles and beliefs on which this country was founded. While I do want to remember the men from my own family who fought and the ones from my church family, I certainly want to remember that young man who gave his life during the Revolutionary War because he wanted freedom for his family.

One man said, "To be born free is a privilege. To die free is an awesome responsibility."

John Adams told his wife, "I am well aware of the toil, and blood, and treasure, that it will cost to maintain this declaration, and support and defend these states; yet, through all the gloom I can see the rays of light and glory. I can see that the end is worth more than all the means."

Freedom, though a great privilege, is an awesome responsibility. Our nation was founded on principles that were based not up on legalities, but upon Christian principles designed to perpetuate a Christian order. The freedom of the first amendment from federal interference is not from religion but for religion in the constituent states. The American system is the political expression of Christian ideas, a nation founded upon the rock of religion and rooted in the love of man.

Our early Presidents knew without reservation that the only way our nation could stand is by standing on God's Word. The statement/question of Thomas Jefferson needs to be heard across our land today. "God who gave us life gave us liberty. Can the liberties of a nation be secure when we have removed a conviction that these liberties are the gift of God? Indeed I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just, that his justice cannot sleep forever."

The direction our nation is moving at the present time is frightening.

Our nation today has moved in a direction that has seen special interest groups move into power, usurping the authority given to us by our founding fathers. The separation of church and state was intended to keep the state out of the church not the church out of the state. Our Congress was elected by us to represent us, not pass legislation that tells us how we are to live. As citizens of the United States of America we have some 'inalienable rights' (not to be transferred to another) that ensure that we will have a voice in what takes place in our nation.

It is imperative that we determine the steps we will take for the reclaiming of America. Psalms 133:1 says, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord." We cannot stand for Biblical principles to be maligned or we will find ourselves ruled by every twisted doctrine dreamed up in the hearts of man.

For several years I have shared this quote at various times, including at this place. Yet never before have I felt it to be as prophetic as it is at this time. On April 30, 1863, Abraham Lincoln said, "We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of heaven. We have been preserved, these many years, in peace and prosperity. We have grown in numbers, wealth and power, as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace, and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us; and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom and virtue of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us! It behooves us, then to humble ourselves before the offended Power, to confess our national sins, and to pray for clemency and forgiveness."

This year's National Day of Prayer was threatened by the ruling of a judge in Wisconsin. How appropriate it was that the theme this year was "FOR SUCH A TIME AS THIS". Our theme verse was from Nahum 1:7 which says, "The Lord is good, a refuge in times of trouble. He cares for those who trust in Him." Now, as much as ever, it is important for us to be in urgent prayer for our nation. We must be willing to humble ourselves before Almighty God, confess our sin which we have so blatantly revealed in, and seek forgiveness for our wanton unfaithfulness.

This evening we are gathered at this place to remember. We look at our veterans and give thanks for those who served in a branch of our Armed Forces and who have now returned to take up the banner of freedom through the VFW and other community groups. We want to honor you for giving of yourselves. May God richly bless you.

We also seek to honor those who gave their lives protecting the freedoms we have in this great land. Those who have died in service for our nation did so with the full knowledge that even in the midst of the wars that tore at the very fiber of our nation, freedom is not just a way of life, it is life. They died so that we might live free.

While we honor those who gave their lives for this great nation, we must be diligent in honoring our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ. We cannot turn a deaf ear to the cries of all those who have given their lives to preserve our freedom to stand strong upon the foundation laid by Christ Himself. Those that come after us cry out as well. Our children are the living messages we send to a time we will not see.

I feel that Robert E. Lee had something very appropriate for us to hear at this time. "Knowing that intercessory prayer is our mightiest weapon and the supreme call for all Christians today, I pleadingly urge our people everywhere to pray. Believing that prayer is the greatest contribution that our people can make in this critical hour, I humbly urge that we take time to pray — to really pray. — Let there be prayer at sunup, at noonday, at sundown, at midnight — all through the day. Let us all pray for our children, our youth, our aged, our pastors, our homes. Let us pray for our churches. — Let us pray for ourselves, that we may not lose the word 'concern' out of our Christian vocabulary. Let us pray for our nation. Let us pray for those who have never known Jesus Christ and redeeming love, for moral forces everywhere, for our national leaders. — Let prayer be our passion. Let prayer be our practice."

For each of us here we chose to be at this place, to honor those who gave their lives in defense of our nation and the principles on which it was founded. We chose to stand and pledge our allegiance to the flag of the United States. I believe it is now time we choose to stand in allegiance first and foremost to our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ. I believe that prayer for all and at all times must be the call of this time. Then will we truly be the people we should be — "FOR SUCH A TIME AS THIS".

Because of this, I believe it is important that we hear the words of Peter Marshall, "The choice before us is plain, Christ or Chaos, Conviction or Compromise, Discipline or Disintegration. I am rather tired of hearing about our rights and privileges as American citizens. The time is come, it now is, when we ought to hear about the duties and responsibilities of our citizenship. American's future depends upon her accepting and demonstrating God's government. (Page 205, Rebirth of America, © Arthur S. DeMoss Foundation)

Let me just say - may we not just be a nation blessed by God, but a nation who blesses God. May God bless America.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Wednesday, June 2, 2010:

This year, stay focused on the bottom line. Don't get caught up in frivolous thinking. Do break past previously established mental barriers. The more you open up, the greater the possibilities that could enter your life. Curb a tendency to worry or push too hard. Lead a more balanced, even life. Going back to school or taking a seminar or two to increase your expertise in your field would be smart. If you are single, someone quite exotic and different could enter your life. This person has a lot of different ways you can learn from. If you are attached, the two of you might want to plan a second honeymoon or another special trip. AQUARIUS helps you bottom-out situations. Encourage discussions more often.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
★★★★★ What occurs allows many different possibilities. You could absorb a lot of tension from other people. Make sure you are on the same page as someone else financially before making any decisions. Tonight: Meet up with friends.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
★★★★ You could feel extremely pushed by a boss or parent. You feel a bit out of kilter with someone's display of affection. You could be overly tired and pushed. Choose the right situation to express your views. Tonight: A must appearance.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

DAILY HOROSCOPE

★★★★★ Keep reaching out for more information. Feel free to dig up an expert or two. You want and need different perspectives. You might feel that someone is trying to hassle you. Let it go. Tonight: New insights.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
★★★★ One key person sees your logic and will defer to you. Though you could be confused about everything that is going on, stay centered. A friend might not understand the implications of what he or she is saying. Gently ask questions. Tonight: Chat over dinner.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
★★★★ Others seek you out. You might not feel comfortable. You see a situation differently from a boss. You might hear what someone says, but not as this person meant it to be taken. You could be a little touchy. Confirm what you are hearing. You might get a pleasant surprise. Tonight: Say "yes."

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
★★★★ Emphasize your skills, though someone might prove to be quite challenging. Stay level as someone plays devil's advocate. Though you could be frustrated, this process will only strengthen your plans. Tonight: Squeeze in some exercise. Summer is nearly here.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
★★★★★ Allow greater give-and-take between you and a child. You see a situation far differently. There might not be a meeting of the minds right now. Allow both of you to digest a conversation. Tonight: Where the fun is.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

★★★★ Stay level and clear as you process new ideas and approach your life differently. You easily could be overwhelmed by another person. A roommate or family member knows how to challenge you. Tonight: Order in.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
★★★★★ Your communication skills come forward. Is someone choosing not to understand, or is he or she simply not getting it? Try to express yourself in another way, and see if your message gets through. Tonight: Hang out.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
★★★★ Be aware of expenditures. You might want to splurge on a child or loved one. Try to curb this tendency to be extravagant. The receiver also might get used to being treated like this all the time. Tonight: Be aware of a risk.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
★★★★★ The Moon flatters you, allowing for greater give-and-take. You might wonder exactly what is needed to handle a domestic situation. Someone has pushed you way beyond your level of comfort. Tonight: Whatever makes you happy.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
★★★ Take off early if you can. You need some time to reflect and perhaps work through a problem. You could feel overwhelmed by a child or a new friend. Establish appropriate limits. Tonight: Vanish early.

Glo-Valve loses last two

SPECIAL TO THE PAMPA NEWS

Nate Furgason outduled three Glo-Valve Service pitchers as Cabot Corporation pushed across the winning run with two outs in the top of the sixth inning winning 2-1 in Pampa Optimist 11-12 Cal Ripken league play last week. Rotary also defeated Glo-Valve.

Furgason allowed one hit and one unearned run while striking out eight and walking two. He hit a batter.

Zach Hill, Brendon Woelfle and Colton Thompson pitched for Glo-Valve.

Cabot took a one-run lead in the top of the first, when Brett West walked and scored on a wild pitch.

Glo-Valve evened the score in the second. Garrett Ely drove in Ryan Lee with a sacrifice bunt.

In the top of the sixth after two were out, Furgason walked on a full count and scored on a double to right center field by Bryson Burrell.

The outstanding defensive play of the game for Cabot was when right fielder, Anthony Nguyen, threw to Burrell at shortstop, who tagged out the runner who had overrun second base.

Rotary Club handed Glo-Valve a 9-4 loss Friday at Optimist Park.

Brandon Sieck, who relieved starter Julian Silva in the second inning, was the winning pitcher.

He gave up two runs on four hits in three innings. He struck out three and walked one.

In the top of the first inning, Engle singled and stole second. An error would score Engle and Carson Eubanks, who walked to give Rotary a 2-0 lead.

Joseph Radke singled for Glo-Valve to lead off the bottom of the first. He scored on a sacrifice bunt by Woelfle. Lee drove in Woelfle to tie the game.

In Rotary's half of the second, Kade Woods singled and scored on a bases loaded passed ball. Aaron Holliman scored when Sieck was caught in a rundown, giving Rotary a 4-2 lead.

Lee drove in Kade Winkler and Radke tie the game at four in the bottom of the third.

Rotary scored three runs in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Engle, with a hit, a walk, a stolen base and two runs scored was the leading offensive player for Rotary. Justin Beck paced Glo-Valve with a single and double in two trips to the plate. Regular season play is expected to end this week. A double elimination City Tournament is scheduled to begin June 7.
