Harvesters Battle the Eagles in rain delayed Game

A "BLUE ZONE"

 sponsored by: PAMPA REGIONAL MEDICAL CENTER

Friday night, the Pampa Harvesters traveled to Canyon and Kimbrough Stadium — home of the West Texas A & M Buffs — to play the 4A Canyon Eagles in a non-district match-up. The game was a story with two parts. It started with the Canyon Eagles seemingly having the upper hand. Part Two consisted of the always fighting Harvesters showing a "never-die" attitude and moving the ball at will, while its defense shut down the powerful Eagles offense. Dividing the two chapters was a storm front that closed in from the north. With it came rain and lightning that struck less than five miles from Buff Stadium. This resulted was an extra 45 minute delay at halftime. Out of the delay, the Harvesters regrouped and Ryan Smith, Sammy Smith, Taylor Woods and the rest of the Harvesters bounced back from a seemingly impossible situation.

The statistics bear this out. In the first half, Canyon Gained 330 yard and scored 37 points, while Pampa recorded 60 total yards and didn't score. The second half was all Pampa as they recorded 219 yards and 20 points while holding the larger school Eagles to 63 yards and 7 points. The final score for the game was 44-20, but the main difference was not in the statistics but the turnovers. The Harvesters turned the ball over four times and the Eagles capitalized scoring 28 points. Canyon gave up the ball twice and Pampa didn't capitalize either time.

PAMPA — It started with a fantastic brunch and concluded with a whirlwind love story and a parade of fantastic fashions. The Top O' Texas CattleWomen Style Show held Saturday at the Pampa Country Club, attracted well over 60 people who came to see the Panhandle-area merchants and their models demonstrate several varieties of fall and winter clothes for roughly an hour-and-a-half. The area stores displaying fashions at the show included

Cavenders, 3 Strand Threads, Gebo's, Kessy's Nook, Uniquely Yours, Carousel Expressions, Bealls, and Lilly Finch. But first, with the help of an interpretive actress, Betty Tiemann Lutz, relayed the dramatic story of her courtship with her late husband Edmund

H. Lutz. Their romance began when they met on August 28, 1943, at the Army Air Corps Advanced Flying School in Pampa, Texas. Mrs. Lutz's family was the second to live at the railroad station that eventually became Pampa.

The impact of Sept. 11 on America

FROM STAFF REPORTS

Today marks the 11th anniversary of the September 11, 2001 terror attacks that claimed the lives of 3,000 people. Although the event rocked the world in 2001, enough time has passed since 9-11 that many young adults who were children at the time — many of them from Pampa — have only vague memories of the event. It consisted of four attacks were launched against the United States, designed to strike in New York City and Washington D.C. Nineteen terrorists from the Islamist militant group al-Qaeda, using weapons as remedial as box cutters, took over four passenger jets. The terrorists deliberately piloted two of those planes, American Airlines Flight 11 and United Airlines Flight 175, into the North and South towers of the World Trade Center complex in NYC. A couple of hours later, both tower had collapsed.

Chamber plans a new initiative

BEN TINSLEY
 btinsley@thepampanews.com

PAMPA — The city's Chamber of Commerce has announced a new initiative that will allow for the matching of funds up to $2,500 for any advertising program promoting shopping, eating and staying overnight in Pampa. The "Co-Op Marketing Campaign for 2012" start with area businesses receiving a mailing with guidelines on how to take advantage of this opportunity, said John Curry, a chamber board member and chairman of its tourism committee and chamber Executive Director Jane Steele. Curry said $20,000 of the city's motel-hotel tax monies has been earmarked by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce's tourism committee to support this program.

Gayden Hays: Always remember September 11, 2001

GAYDEN HAYS
 Columnist

Remember, 9/11 is a time to remember the fallen and the direction our country chooses.

September 11, 2001 at 8:46 a.m. the first of four high jacket planes hit the South tower of the world trade center. Within two hours 2,996 people would be dead, and every U.S. citizen was in a state of shock.

Our country has been lucky, and when I say "lucky" I use that term very loosely.

First — and the human part of the equation — is that the United States has always carried a big stick. Terrorists or enemy countries didn't mess with the United States, or its citizens. They knew that the consequences far outweighed any value that might be gained.

Me personally, I think one citizen being held hostage, or killed by a terrorist is an act of war, and what ever country that harbored the terrorists should and WILL be held responsible.

Now, while that is all Human viewpoint, it ignores the most important factor that not only allowed this country to become the greatest ever seen on earth, but also protected our citizens and homeland.

Psalms 33:12 BLESSED IS THE NATION WHOSE GOD IS THE LORD.

Our country was built upon a belief and principles that The Lord set out. All of our founding documents mention the fact of the citizens (as humans) having inalienable rights.

Who gave these "rights?" Man? No: The Lord Jesus Christ.

In the Pledge of allegiance, "to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God" recognizes the principles and mentality which allowed our country to prosper.

The people worshiped and recognized the fact of what they had, was provided by the Lord. They lived by the divine institutions the lord set up.

In return a "Wall of Fire" was set up around this country, and our country thrived economically, and socially.

This Wall of fire or protection was provided for us as God's Client Nation to the world. The United States was a representative for the Lord for all the world to see.

Isaiah 32:17 - And the work of the righteousness will be Peace, and the service of righteousness, quietness and confidence forever.

Last week in the Democratic National Convention they refused to use the word God in any capacity. Why?

A spokeswoman for the Obama campaign said "America is now multi-cultural, multi-religious" when asked about the Democratic omission.

Our country has always been multicultural, but these people who migrated kept their heritage, but above all wanted to be an Americans first.

We guarantee as a country that religion is protected, and as a citizen can worship as you wish, but our country was based on "In God we Trust". This trust had kept us as God's client nation, and as such he provided his protection. We were a Christian based society, not Religion based society. Obviously the Democrats want to change that.

This "Progressive" trend that is so popular now days, has all eyes on what man can do. It hasn't worked and can't work. It misses the mark. It puts our eyes in the wrong place.

When I have questioned people about the decisions the Democrats are making, they refer to Republicans as "Nazi-like."

WOW, nice defense!

We'll to them I would like to point out that Hitler nationalized everything and they had socialized medicine and government programs. Now it put a lot of people to work, but at what cost? The citizens freedom. Count me out. ... I like to think for myself.

A traditional viewpoint is one that puts The Lord first and rewards hard work, and creates a pivot of Believers in this country that in return will ensure prosperity and the Lords protection.

On this day that we remember a horrible tragedy we as individuals, one-by-one we should ask ourselves, 'Am I part of the problem, or part of the solution that will once again return this country to one of prosperity?'

On this day please take a moment in remembrance and while doing so also say to yourself, "One nation, Under God."

And if enough people do so, maybe the direction we are traveling as a country will right itself.

Pleroma is a column by Gayden Hays. ghays@thepampanews.com.

Remember 9-11

Today marks the 11th anniversary of Sept. 11, 2001 — a day that transformed America forever.

It's a day to honor our heroes — our Pampa firefighters and police officers — who risk their lives every day. Their counterparts in New York City gave their all to save the victims of this terrible day. Many of them lost their lives that day.

Of the 3,000 people who died in the attacks, 246 were civilians and 19 hijackers were aboard the four planes.

You'll read about 9-11 online, you'll see it on television and probably hear about it on the radio. The importance of the day will be repeated many times.

We at the Pampa News simply ask that you remember one of the most important lessons of 9-11: Be kind to yourself and to your neighbors. We're all Americans and we're all in this together.

Letter to the Editor

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER, 2012

Romper room? Or jail?
 As if I'm not stressed out enough, to add to it all, these clowns have lost my wallet, every stitch of I.D. I had was in my wallet, my Medicare cards, two debit cards, several phone numbers, and $120. These items are extremely hard to get.

You must have a picture I.D. to get a picture ID in Texas.

Here's a curveball: Who is responsible for replacing it?

Half the staff up here appears to have just graduated from high school.

Late 20s to early 30s.

What is so hard with keeping up with an individual person's property?

Apparently there's more to it than you'd think. I had $120 in a zipper compartment in my wallet, as well as Texas ID, bank cards, and Medicare cards.

They wouldn't even let me use a phone to cancel my debt cards and order new ones. No shift up here wants to take responsibility. Each shift puts all they can off on a different shift. That way they don't have to be responsible.

This place is more like Romper Room than it is county jail.

But I bet Romper Room could keep up with personal property better.

Signed,

— "Still confined in Romper Room? Or Gray County Jail?"

— Jerry Lee Hicks (although I have no way to prove I am who I say I am.)

P.S. who will be responsible for replacing this? Or rather, who should be responsible?

Pat Buchanan:

A Godless party expels The Creator

PATRICK BUCHANAN
 Columnist

The authors of the Democratic platform have inadvertently revealed to the world the sea change that has taken place in that party we once knew.

For the first time -- and in the longest Democratic platform in history, 26,000 words -- there was not a single mention of God, the Creator, whom Thomas Jefferson himself, father of the party, proclaimed to be the author of our right to life and liberty.

The convention had approved the new platform, but when a firestorm erupted, a panicked Barack Obama hastily ordered "God" reinstated.

But when the amendment was offered to the convention by its chairman, Antonio Villaraigosa, the idea of restoring the name of God to the platform was hooted, jeered and booted by half the delegates on the floor, who three times howled, "No!"

The omission of God is being called an oversight. But the viral reaction to returning God, even when Obama asked that it be done, testifies that this was no accident. God was deleted deliberately.

This process has been under way for a decade. In the 2004 platform, there were seven references to God. In 2008, one.

Like the European Union, whose Christian heritage is being excised from official documents by its secularist elite, the country led by the Democratic Party of Obama is being de-Christianized.

Still, why would Democrats do something so seemingly stupid, something that will inevitably cause a backlash among believers?

Answer: Millions of Democrats are themselves offended when God is included, because for them, the God of the Old and New testaments is an impediment to the progressive march of mankind.

A year ago, in writing "Suicide of a Superpower," I discovered that the number of self-identified Christians had fallen from 85 percent of the U.S. population in 1990 to 75 percent last year and that 1 in 6 Americans now disbelieve in God.

Of Americans younger than 30, 1 in 4 profess no faith. Among Democrats, the figures are surely higher.

Which brings us to the quandary faced by the platform writers.

Why include in a statement of party beliefs a reference to God when a huge slice of that party would be deeply offended because such a reference would be the party's formal declaration that their atheist or agnostic beliefs are wrong.

Some atheists place a belief in God or Christ as the Son of God on a par with believing in Santa Claus. Others regard religion and especially fundamentalist faith as an often-destructive force because of what they believe it has produced over the centuries -- intolerance, inquisitions, massacres, martyrdoms, religious wars.

Among the evils a deep belief in the God of the Torah and New Testament has produced, they argue, is the systematic persecution of homosexuals. Thus, the Democratic platform declares:

"We support marriage equality and support the movement to secure equal treatment under law for same-sex couples," while the Republican platform calls for a "Constitutional amendment defining marriage as the union of one man and one woman."

The Republican platform is clearly rooted in traditional Christian beliefs that marriage is strictly between a man and a woman and that homosexual acts are unnatural and immoral and ruinous to body and soul.

Yet, as the man from Chick-fil-A discovered when he asserted those biblically based beliefs about homosexual marriage, that opinion comes close to being a hate crime in the new dispensation.

To the God-fearing and God-loving, this campaign to redefine marriage to include homosexual unions is out of a George Orwell novel. But to gay rights champions, opposition to homosexuals' right to marry and adopt is the mark of the homophobe, the hater, the bigot.

There is no common ground.

But if the party platforms are irreconcilable on homosexual marriage, that is equally true of their positions on life.

Here is the Democratic platform:

"The Democratic Party strongly and unequivocally supports Roe v. Wade and a woman's right to make decisions regarding her pregnancy, including a safe and legal abortion, regardless of ability to pay. We oppose any and all efforts to weaken that right. ...

"There is no place for ... government to get in the way."

Under this plank, the father has no rights whatsoever and no role in deciding whether his unborn child lives or dies. There are no parental rights. Society cannot interfere in any way with a woman's decision to terminate her unborn child's life at any point in her pregnancy.

This is a Democratic declaration of support for partial-birth abortion in the eighth and ninth month of pregnancy should a woman so decide, with the rest of us forced to pay for that abortion.

This is a form of feminist fanaticism heretofore unseen in this republic.

No platform celebrating homosexual marriage and backing a woman's right to abort her child at any time in her pregnancy can be credibly adopted by a party that also purports to revere the God of our Founding Fathers.

In truth, this Democratic Party was a godless institution long before its platform writers declared it to be so.

The howlers had it right. God doesn't belong in that platform.

A message from the Pampa Chamber of Commerce

We welcome you to stop by the Chamber offices and see our new look. We have done major updating with paint and furnishings provided by generous donors and local merchants. Even though we aren't finished yet, we expect everything to be completed within the next couple of weeks with the installation of the awnings over both entrances and the re-framing of the past presidents to name a few remaining tasks. The lights on the front of the building are working and we have installed an additional light that will shine on the flags at night. Please offer a "Thank You" to the following donors of our project:

- Lilith Brainard
- Dona Cornutt
- Curtis Well Service
- Reed Echols
- Wesley Green
- Heard-Jones HealthMart
- Jane & Robert Jacobs
- JoAnn Jones
- M&H Leasing
- National Bank of Commerce
- Kim and Harold Price
- Pampa Regional Medical Center
- David Smith, CPA
- Top 'O Texas Oilfield Services

As well as to the following merchants and craftsmen:

- Brandon's Flowers
- Debbie Davis
- Frank's Hardware
- Johnson Home Furnishings
- Della Moyer
- Open Range Engineering
- Pampa Custom Framing
- Grady Rose
- Tom Short
- Sparrow's Nest
- Joe Stephens
- Texas Furniture
- The Victorian Rose
- WalMart
- Betty Wilson

And, thank you to Dr. Joe Donaldson, whose donation of three "Gold Medal Portfolios" from the Franklin Mint, featuring signed western and American art, has highlighted the beautiful furnishings and enriched the atmosphere of the Chamber. The Chamber offices represent Pampa and its citizens. If first appearance count, and I believe they do, our Chamber reflects the prosperity, energy and community spirit that exists in Pampa. We offer many thanks to Kim Price who worked to make this project a success. We couldn't have done it without her leadership. Our Pampa community is full of generous, giving people. Thank you to each and every one.

Before the event, Mrs. Lutz displayed her collection of World War II memorabilia and media accounts of her epic marriage.

As the event went on, special door price, a travel tick- et redeemable at Complete Travel in Pampa, went to resident Carrie Johnson. Organization President Lilith Brainard said the event went a long way toward continuing her organization's drive to raise money for student scholarships as well as promote industry goals. "Our main reason at the core of this is we want to promote the beef industry," she said.

The terrorists also crashed American Airlines Flight 77 into the Pentagon in Arlington, Virginia. However, the fourth hijacked jet, United Airlines Flight 93, never made it to the planned destination, the United States Capitol Building in Washington. It crashed into a Pennsylvania field after its passengers tried to regain control of the jet.

None survived. Authorities believed al-Qaeda was the culprit and by 2004, leader, Osama bin Laden claimed responsibility. The attacks led to the United States launching its War on Terror and invading Afghanistan to get rid of the Taliban, which had harbored al-Qaeda. Many countries strengthened their anti-terrorism legislation and expanded law enforcement powers. In May 2011, after years at large, bin Laden was located and killed. Cleanup of the World Trade Center site was completed in May 2002, and the Pentagon was repaired within a year. Numerous memorials were constructed, including the National September 11 Memorial & Museum in New York, the Pentagon Memorial, and the Flight 93 National Memorial in Pennsylvania. The 1,776-foot-tall One World Trade Center is expected to be completed at ground zero in New York by 2013.

Attack the day

CANYON cont. from Pg. A1

The result? The final score of the game would have been very different if the Harvesters hadn't turned over the ball.

The Harvester Defense, despite giving up big plays, played tough and held their own the whole game.

Taylor Woods, Kyler Allen, Cager Osborne, Blake Caldwell, and Chris Rivera lead a defense that was at times against their own end zone.

Rivera even added to the scoring when he returned a fumble 30 yards for a touchdown, adding to the Harvesters scoring on the night.

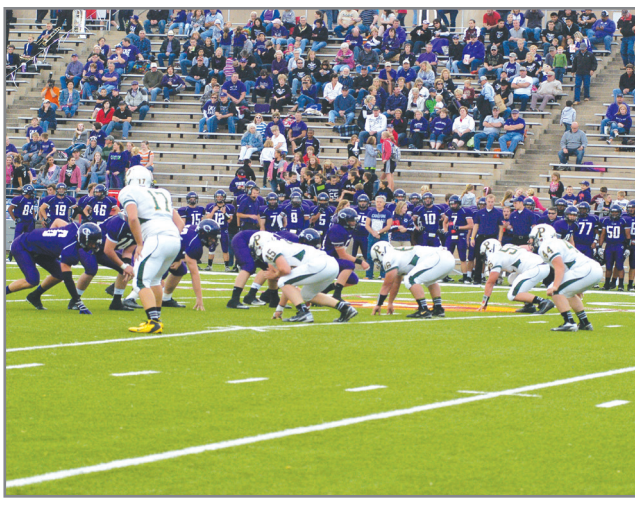

Ryan Smith added the rest of the scoring for Pampa with two runs of four yards scoring two touchdowns, and extra points by Alan Stovall rounded out the Harvesters 20 points.

Sammy Smith lead the Harvester running attack with 15 carried for 90 yards, followed closely by Ryan Smith with 17 carries for 73 yards.

Leading the Harvester receiving core was a tie between Osborne, and Chris Howard with three catches apiece for 18 yards.

Next week the Harvesters once again will matchup against a 4A school in the Dumas Deamons in Dumas. Game time will be at 7 p.m..

Harvester Cross Country prevails in Perryton

BARB AMRHEIN
Contributing Columnist

After struggling for many years to win cross country titles in large meets, the Pampa Lady Harvesters made it two in a row Saturday at the Perryton Wolf Creek Classic.

Terra Truitt finished second in the 137 runner field and fellow senior J'Cee Holmes finished fifth to lead Pampa to a 77 point total ahead of district rival Dalhart in second with 100 points.

Yesenia Soria finished 12th and Claire Hopkins 20th with Vanessa Ontiveras 38th to round out the Pampa scoring.

Sara Smith of Dalhart won the race in 12 minutes and two seconds.

Truitt, a state qualifier as a junior, covered the 2-mile course in 12 minutes and 29 seconds with Holmes finishing in 12:36.

After missing out on a trip to the state cross meet by finishing just three points behind Dalhart at the Region I meet last year, the Lady Harvesters are working hard to build a strong group of five runners to reach the goal of a state meet appearance this season.

"The good thing about this meet was J'Cee didn't run real well, but Terra did, and you know you have a good team when someone else steps up and takes their place," coach Mark Elms said. "We're improving our time from first to fifth."

Reata Collins and Samantha Woodruff ran their first races of the season and Elms is pleased with the depth the two add to the team.

"I'm expecting them to get better with each race and help us," he said.

In the boys division Alex Marrufo finished 13th and Jose Hernandez finished 28th.

"They both ran better this week and had their fastest times ever," Elms said of the only two varsity boy runners.

The cross country teams have an open date Saturday and will continue the season at the Rebel Run on Sept. 22 at John Stiff Park in Amarillo.

Jake Tinsley and Night Owl

The shaman superhero "Night Owl" is the creation of Pampa High School senior Jake Tinsley, 17, who has been penning comic books since he was 12 years old. Teaming with Sacramento, California veteran manga artist Jason Dube, Jake continues to put out full comic books in addition to these strips. With Jake on script and Jason Dube on art, the dynamic duo recently rendered their newest collaboration — the challenging Night Owl comic book adventure "Night Owl: Bullies Deserve Justice." Jake, a Pampa News high school intern, can be reached at btinsley@thepampanews.com.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Tuesday, Sept. 11, 2012:

This year you open doors and allow greater give-and-take. Your ability to move forward is extraordinary, though you might need to bypass a resistance that really stems from you. You can be your own worst enemy at times. Give that up, and you might be surprised by what could occur. If you are single, be careful and check out the people you are drawn to. You easily could attract an emotionally unavailable person. If you are attached, the two of you gain by spending more private time together. Rely on each other. LEO makes a great healer for you.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

★★★ Tension builds around a domestic or personal issue. You are bright-eyed and ready to live life, but this particular situation keeps tripping you up. Take a walk or focus on an engaging project. You know what works, so do it. Tonight: A little laughter and teasing go a long way.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

★★★★ Breeze your way through the day. Some communication might be heavy or nonexistent if the other party is depressed. For the most part, others are highly responsive. In fact, you hear some interesting news that you might choose not to share. Tonight: Nap, then decide.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

★★★ Be sensible about what is happening around you. You might want to rethink an issue, but the only way you're going to come up with an idea today is by brainstorming with others. Tonight: Return calls and, if need be, place a call to a special person in your life.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

★★★★ You are full of fun and ingenuity. What you are able to do could surprise many people. A family member could drag you down. Let go of your insecurities, and simply go for what you want. Others seem to be passive when your name becomes the topic of conversation. Tonight: Treat time.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

★★★ You open up to other people and their needs, but only after you do some solid thinking on your own. Some of the information and judgments you have made clearly are off. You might want to rethink a situation. Tonight: A force to be dealt with.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

★★★★ Zero in on your priorities. An important meeting with someone is at the top of your list of things to do. Be aware that this encounter could be significant. Listen to a friend. This person might be opinionated, but his or her opinions are worth hearing. Tonight: Only what you want.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

★★★★ You could feel as though your decisions make a big difference. How you handle a personal matter could change radically. Think before you move forward on a project. If you feel negatively about it, honor that negativity. Tonight: Join a friend.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

★★★★ You might seem far too happy for your own good. You feel much better than you have in a long time. Your mind drifts to certain people and times. Sometimes, breaking your pattern can be healthy and revitalizing. Honor that. Tonight: Be noticed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

★★★★ You are adventuresome, but today you might decide to focus on practical details. Working through an issue could be more important than you realize. If you are eyeing a potential trip or an unusual venture, plan it later. Tonight: Return calls and emails, then decide on your plans.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

★★★★ You are in a deferential mood, and let others have their way. You might not like how a certain person is handling a situation, but nevertheless, you will hold back. It might be difficult to say nothing, but you must follow that course. Tonight: With a favorite person.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

★★★★ Plunge into your work, knowing full well what you must do. You easily could be distracted by a situation later today. What appears to be negative might not actually be. Open up to new possibilities and remain optimistic. Tonight: Talk with a special person over dinner.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

★★★★ Romance could infiltrate your day. Try to stay level-minded. You might want to share more and get feedback. You could be surprised by what you hear or by a suggestion that is made. You seem to find the answer when you need it. Tonight: Play it easy and relaxed.

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: I am a 62-year-old lady who has been a dedicated mother, helpful grandma and a good wife. I don't mean to imply that I'm perfect, but my heart has always been in the right place.

I'm writing now because I have a problem. I have been so used to being a mother that now I don't know how to break the habit. My children think I do too much for them, and it hurts me when they call me "annoying" and "impossible to deal with."

I wish I could act differently, but I don't know how. I've been told I need to do something with my life other than help my kids when they don't seem to need it — and even when they do. I know I deserve to be happy, but I don't know how to start. Can you tell me what to do, Abby?

— MELANCHOLY MAMA

WENATCHEE, WASH.

DEAR MELANCHOLY: You are a successful wife and mother, having raised independent children. Now it's YOUR turn.

Think back to before you were married and had children — what were your interests? Was there a class or subject you wanted to take at a community college? Did you want to act in a play, paint a picture, photograph a landscape, read Shakespeare, join a hiking club, travel the U.S., learn to dance? Learn to speak French, plant a garden, raise rabbits, write a novel or the story of your life, study architecture, learn more about the stock market, raise funds for your favorite charity, or (you fill in the blank)?

If you still can't get the urge to "mother" out of your system, consider becoming a foster parent — or volunteer at a school, children's hospital or as a literacy tutor at your local library. The possibilities are endless and the need is great.

Please let me know what you decide to do from the hundreds of options available. You have a lot to offer.

DEAR ABBY: "Jamie" and I have been close friends for almost 50 years. She has always been there for me when I needed her and vice versa. However, I can't get past her continual bragging about herself every time we meet for lunch or talk on the phone.

Jamie always manages to bring up how some person told her how young she looks, or another told her she's a wonderful manager at work, etc. Yesterday at lunch I mentioned how much I love doing crossword puzzles. I said I love learning new words and if I don't know the meaning, I look it up in my dictionary. Jamie replied she doesn't need a dictionary because she knows the meaning of ALL words!

Jamie is a good friend, but lately I've been wondering why she feels the need to spin tales. She is always out to impress everyone with how smart, young, savvy and sophisticated she is. She even told me some of her co-workers compare her to Jackie Kennedy, which is nowhere near the truth. Why do you think she has to act like this? — PERPLEXED IN PHILLY

DEAR PERPLEXED: Jamie's behavior is a sign of extreme insecurity. People who are comfortable with themselves do not feel the need to constantly self-promote as she does. When your friend announced that she doesn't need a dictionary because she knows the meaning of all words, you were kind not to contradict her, because it's obvious she doesn't appear to be familiar with the definition of "humility."

PUBLIC NOTICE

Request for information about the former Pampa Army Airfield

Recently, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers completed a Site Inspection at the former Pampa Army Airfield. This site was used as a twin-engine flying school between 1942 and 1945.

The former Pampa Army Airfield is one of many former military installations throughout the United States that will be reviewed under the Department of Defense's Munitions Response Site Prioritization Protocol. This protocol is used to assess sites that may have unexploded ordnance, discarded military munitions or munitions constituents, and to assign priorities for any additional investigation or munitions removal that may be required.

The evaluation criteria, including types of munitions that may be present, ease of access to the site and number of people living near the site, are available for public review in the Site Inspection Report located at:

Amarillo Public Library
413 Southeast 4th Avenue
Amarillo, TX 79101

For more information or if you have additional information about past activities related to the former Pampa Army Airfield, please contact:
