Agreement with Tech brings residency program to PRMC

Local group gives $60,000 to fund program's 1st year.

STAFF REPORT

Many medical students dream of doing their residencies at big, urban hospitals. However, there are those starting out in the medical profession who seek opportunities to focus their training on family medicine in smaller communities like Pampa.

To provide those residencies, Pampa Regional Medical Center recently agreed to serve as a clinical site for Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center's Family Medicine Residency Program in Amarillo.

Brad Morse, CEO of PRMC, said he was excited about the agreement and how it will benefit the community and the hospital.

"I believe the family practice residency will give our community access to young physicians who might want to permanently locate in Pampa, provide a base for new medical services and help our current medical staff with ongoing medical education," he said.

A local business group, the Pampa Industrial Foundation, has donated $60,000 to help fund the first year of the program.

A challenge that rural hospitals like PRMC face is after doctors complete their residencies, many want to move on to work in bigger communities, said Dick Stowers, PRMC cont. on page 2

Winds Wednesday were sustained between 30 and 40 mph with gusts reaching as high as 60 mph in some places. The peak wind gust recorded at Perry-Lefors Field was 59 mph. Mixed drink petition deadline is Dec. 26

BY TIMOTHY P. HOWSARE
 thowsare@thepampanews.com

Next Wednesday is the last day to sign a petition for a special election to allow Pampa voters to decide whether restaurants that hold licenses to sell beer and wine can also sell mixed drinks. If enough signatures are acquired, the special election will be held May 13.

For the local option to be placed on the ballot, a minimum of 1,300 valid signatures must be obtained and turned in to City Hall by 5 p.m. that day.

Only registered voters in Gray County who live within city limits can sign the petition. The special election would be similar to the one held in May to use bond money to build a new animal shelter.

Gift-wrapping event tomorrow at hospital for pre-AP students

BY SASHA HELLER
 sheller@thepampanews.com

Do you have some Christmas gifts that need wrapping? Feel like contributing to a worthy cause and helping Pampa High School's pre-AP English students raise funds for a planned trip to Europe?

Then make your way to the Pampa Regional Medical Center between 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow to have your gifts wrapped by the students.

All donations will go toward the trip to London, England.

The 11-day trip will include tours of historic and cultural sites in England, Scotland and France.

"It's really going to broaden their horizons," parent-chaperon Samantha Aiken said. "There's a lot of education on this trip."

Aiken added that the participating students will receive college credit.

Residents who wish to have their presents wrapped in a specific type of wrapping paper are asked to bring that kind of paper.

More than 7 million Texans will travel for the holidays

SUBMITTED BY TEXAS AAA

It is the time of year when people gather with family to reflect on the end of the year and to prepare for the new year ahead.

AAA Texas forecasts nearly 7.7 million Texans will leave home to celebrate the year-end holidays, an increase of 2.4 percent over last year.

The year-end holiday travel period is an 11-day travel period, the longest of the year. AAA defines travel during this period as round trips of 50 miles or more beginning Saturday, Dec. 22, through Tuesday, Jan. 1.

The year-end holidays are different from holidays earlier in the year in that it is a much longer travel period. With a wider window for travel, individuals are willing to journey longer distances and spend a little more to share the last days of the year with family.

Overall travel during this holiday season will be up slightly across the state and nation despite the long and slow economic recovery.

Market analysts say the improving economic conditions across the country are fueling the travel growth.

AAA Texas forecasts travel volume by automobile will be up and continue to be the primary mode of transportation during the year-end holiday period.

■ Automobile — 7.1 million, which is up two percent.

■ Air travel — 346,585, which is up 6.4 percent.

■ Other travel (Trains, buses, cruise ships) — 246,954, which is up 9.8 percent.

"As much as AAA Texas wishes everyone a happy holiday season we also wish them safe journeys," said Rhonda Williams, AAA Texas vice president of branch operations. "Since most people will drive to their destinations, we remind them to map out their trips ahead of time, obey the speed limits, wear their

Lois Cone

Lois Jean (Jeannie) Miller Cone was freed from the tyranny of Parkinson's disease, which she battled for nearly 27 years, on Dec. 19, 2012.

Cone was born on April 5, 1937, in Cleveland, Okla., to A.L. and Endinola Miller.

Burial Services will take place at the City of Lubbock Cemetery, Lubbock, Texas at 2 p.m. on Dec. 26, 2012. A memorial service will be held at Eastern Hills Baptist Church, 3100 Morris NE in Albuquerque, N.M. at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Dec. 29, 2012.

Rejoicing with Jeannie in her freedom is: her husband of 56 years, Claude W. Cone of Albuquerque, N.M.; her daughter, Catherine Cone of Marshall; her two grandchildren, Lauren and Chase Cone of Albuquerque; her brothers and their families, Larry and Camille Miller of Albuquerque, N.M. and Bob and Joyce Miller of Alpine; Claude's brothers and sister and their families, Larry and Jeri Cone of Lakeland, Fla., Terry and Joyce Cone of Portales, N.M., Jim and Carolyn Powell of Granbury, and Ray and Alice Cone of Odessa.

Jeannie loved children and was an elementary school teacher in Texas and New Mexico. She especially enjoyed teaching fourth grade. She also taught in Sunday school and Vacation Bible School, directed children's choirs and was active in the Woman's Missionary Union in churches where she and her husband served for a total of 28 years as pastor and wife in Texas — Slide Baptist Church, south of Lubbock; Central Baptist, Crandall; First Baptist, Howe; Parkside Baptist, Denison; Calvary Baptist, Lubbock; and First Baptist, Pampa. She loved music, especially hymns, sang in the choir and played the organ and piano.

From 1985 to 2005 she was New Mexico Baptists' first lady, while her husband served as executive director of the Baptist Convention of New Mexico. She resumed her role of loving and supportive pastor's wife when Claude was called to be pastor of Monterey Baptist Church in Albuquerque, N.M. in 2005. Jeannie's greatest love was the Lord Jesus Christ, whose love she shared everywhere she went. Her favorite hymn was "Great Is Thy Faithfulness" and her favorite Scripture was Psalm 139.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests memorial contributions be made to the Building Fund of Monterey Baptist Church, 12501 Lomas Blvd. NE, Albuquerque, NM 87112. Friends may visit at Calvary Baptist Church, 5301 82nd Street, Lubbock, Texas from noon to 1 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 26, 2012.

Post-Katrina hospital in sight for New Orleans

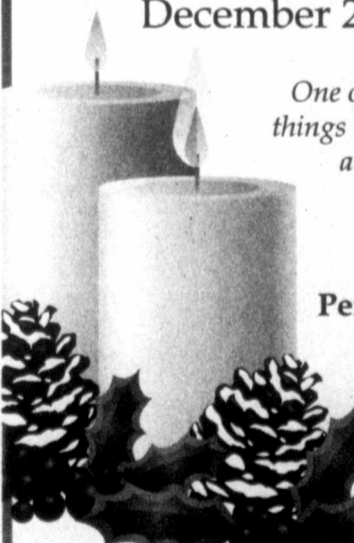

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — New Orleans Mayor Mitch Landrieu says construction is about to start on a $130 million hospital in eastern New Orleans.

The area has been without a hospital since Hurricane Katrina flooded 80 percent of the city in August 2005. Landrieu said in October that the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development had paved the way for construction by agreeing to insure a $97.6 million loan for the hospital. His office says the project will revitalize that area's economy while restoring full-service health care to residents in eastern New Orleans.

Texans join in silence for school victims

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Rick Perry has asked Texans to join him in a moment of silence today in memory of the 26 victims of the Connecticut school shootings. Perry on Thursday issued a proclamation declaring a moment of silence at 9:30 a.m. Friday to coincide with a day of mourning called for by Connecticut Gov. Dannel Malloy a week after the massacre.

Perry spokesman Josh Havens says the observance is meant for 9:30 a.m. local time in the state's two time zones. Perry is also encouraging places of worship and buildings that have the capability to ring bells 26 times to honor each life lost when a gunman opened fire at Sandy Hook Elementary School.

San Antonio policemen indicted
SAN ANTONIO (AP) — One current and one former San Antonio police officer have been indicted after one of them was found wearing a T-shirt and boxer shorts in front of his city-owned pickup after a wreck.

The San Antonio Express-News reports that former police Sgt. Joseph Myers is charged with tampering with evidence and misappropriation of funds. Sgt. Ramiro Garcia is charged with tampering with evidence.

Trooper suspended amid search

DALLAS (AP) — A female Texas trooper has been suspended amid an investigation of her videotaped body cavity search of two women along a busy highway.

Department of Public Safety spokesman Tom Vinger said late Wednesday that Trooper Kelley Halleson has been suspended with pay.

Results of a Texas Rangers inquiry are expected to go to a Dallas County grand jury in January.

who heads the foundation's 15-member board.

"We want doctors to stay here," Stowers said. "We want to find residents who want to work in a rural hospital and have them live in Pampa. That is the purpose."

Stowers said local philanthropist Don Fletcher also has contributed to the program.

The purpose of the Pampa Industrial Foundation is to support growth in Pampa, he said.

Morse said the residency program will begin early next year. There will be eight slots altogether, but residents will come and go based on their rotations.

Some will live in Pampa, with their housing provided, while others will commute from Amarillo.

Most of the residencies will last for one year and all the doctors at PRMC will work with the residents, Morse said.

Morse said he wanted to thank the Pampa community members who helped make the new program become a reality.

"I also want to thank Dr. Kevin Sieck, a graduate of the Texas Tech Medical School, who was extremely helpful in making sure Tech understood what our hospital has to offer and how we can help their program expand," he said.

Sieck practices medicine in Pampa.

Texas Tech offers resources, technologies and research opportunities, as well as training courses with clinical faculty in different subspecialties.

The Amarillo health care community services neighboring parts of four states and the Texas Panhandle through the Texas Tech University Family Residency Program.

"It is the perfect place to learn, grow and serve a great community," said Dr. Jerry Kirkland, program director for Texas Tech's family practice residency program. "We will have access to all aspects of primary care including pediatrics, family medicine, emergency medicine, internal medicine, hospital medicine, geriatrics, psychiatry, OB/GYN, surgery, gastroenterology, cardiology, urology, orthopedics, critical care and this is just to start."

The founder of Prime Healthcare Services, which owns PRMC, praised the agreement.

"This relationship highlights how hospitals and academic institutions can partner in order to support the critical goal of increasing physicians in rural communities," said Prem Reddy, chairman, president and CEO of Prime Healthcare. "Prime Healthcare is honored that Texas Tech has recognized the quality of Pampa Regional Medical Center's medical staff to help train their medical residents."

is divisive in Pampa. Several local pastors have spoken out against changing the city ordinance, citing that there is already enough alcohol in Pampa.

Many members of the business community, however, say updating what they say is an outdated law would bring chain restaurants like Chili's and Bennigan's to town while increasing business at the restaurants already operating in the city.

Mayor Brad Pingel, the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Pampa Economic Development Corp. have all taken a neutral stance on the issue.

Copies of the petition are at Open Range, the Coffee Shop, the Plaza Restaurant, Hot Rods, Waynes Western Wear, One Stop Flooring and The Pampa News.

There was a petition at the Dixie Cafe, but that copy is now filed with signatures, said Stephanie Nelson of Open Range, who is a proponent of changing the law.

City spokesman Donnie Hooper said after the petitions are turned in they will be reviewed by the city secretary and the deputy city secretary to determine that all the signatures are from Gray County registered voters who live within city limits. They also will check for duplicate signatures, he said.

The city has 10 days to check the signatures, he

The U.N. wants to tax us, too

While President Obama and Speaker John Boehner are wrestling with whether or not they will agree to raise taxes, United Nations delegates partying in Doha, Qatar are planning to impose a new kind of tax on Americans. U.N. conferees have been discussing how they can start a global tax that would hit Americans hard. The U.N. bureaucrats are not deterred by the fact that Americans should be protected by our U.S. Constitution, Article 1, Section 7, which specifies that "all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives." The greedy globalist U.N. bureaucrats have been conniving for about 20 years to bypass Congress and tax individual Americans, and now they think they have devised a formula to do this.

Their vehicle for this travesty is the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC). The U.N. convention delegates dream they can transform the economic structure of the world by a new global treaty using global warming fears (even though the globe has not warmed for the past 16 years).

UNFCCC's executive secretary Christiana Figueres will call a "significant number of meetings and workshops" next year to prepare the new document. The plan is for U.N. Secretary General Ban Ki-moon in 2014 to "convene leaders to mobilize the political will to ensure that the 2015 deadline is met" to start this global tax.

This new U.N. document will cap greenhouse gases, primarily carbon dioxide, and replace our use of fossil fuels with renewable energy sources such as solar and wind. Government will be expected to subsidize green energy because plenty of evidence proves that alternate energy sources are far more expensive and cannot compete in the marketplace.

Obama gave a half-billion U.S. tax dollars to the solar-panel company Solyndra, which promptly went bankrupt and now is arguing about who will pay the $600-per-hour lawyers who worked on the deal. After Obama gave $133 million of a $249 million grant to a firm named A123 to make batteries for electric cars, that company went bankrupt, too, and now is auctioned to a Chinese company, Wanxiang Group.

The Doha delegates are salivating at the thought of creating a new $100-billion-a-year fund by imposing a first-ever global tax on the right to cause carbon dioxide emissions. This fund is to be headquartered in South Korea and sweetened by a gigantic flow of taxes on international monetary transactions, international shipping and airline travel.

Agenda 21 is a document called the Declaration on Environment and Development and the Statement of Principles for the Sustainable Management of Forests, which was signed by 178 governments including President George H.W. Bush in Rio de Janeiro in June 1992. In 1995, President Bill Clinton followed up by an executive order that established a Presidential Council on Sustainable Development, giving globalist busybodies the excuse to work on it ever since. Agenda 21's goal is to "save the planet" and "sustain" life on earth regardless of its adverse effect on human life and our standard of living. It is based on the very un-American notion that private property is "a social injustice since not everyone can build wealth from it."

City can enact law to ban plastic bags

Wednesday's front page article in The Pampa News (Ranchers say plastic bags killing cattle) got my attention. Actually, plastic shopping bags a flapping from Pampa's trees and fence posts has had my attention ever since moving back to our little burg in 2003. In fact, in my written protestations regarding Pampa's litter crisis I have fondly looked at the white plastic shopping bag as "Pampa's city flag." May as well be.

Of particular note in Wednesday's article was the caption under the picture showing the remains of one of Billy Scribner's calves, killed from ingesting a plastic bag. Part of the caption stated, and I quote, "City officials are aware of the issue, but are unsure how to prevent it."

Is that so? All our city officials need to do is let their fingers do the walking through some Internet pages and note how many cities across America have legislated ordinances banning plastic shopping bags. There are two in Texas that are on record — Brownsville and Austin.

Trouble is, our city leaders do not want to stir the dust, so to speak (votes?), with the likes of Walmart or United Supermarkets plus the many local businesses dispensing plastic shopping bags with consumers purchases. Enacted legislation made into law has a funny thing about it — it becomes law.

If Pampa's city leaders enacted such an ordinance banning plastic shopping bags, you think all these businesses will shutter their doors and close up shop? Hardly. They'll make the necessary adjustments and do right by the law.

I believe the time has come and blown away many times. Pampa needs to enact an ordinance, post haste, banning plastic shopping bags.

Guns aren't the problem

Well, I said that I was going to keep my mouth shut on all of this guns talk, but the stupidity being thrown around on the Internet and via television and radio has caused my bite to slip on my tongue and so here is what has popped out.

1. In 2011 there were 11,078 homicides due to gunfire (plus 19,392 suicides). During that same time, there were 37,402 killed by vehicles. So has anyone suggested that we get rid of vehicles? How about just the high-powered vehicles that obviously weren't made to obey the laws, but to go way faster than the law allows? We would save more lives if we got rid of vehicles than if we got rid of all the guns. But is that the national discussion we are hearing?

2. The best estimates I can find online are that there are somewhere around 350 million guns owned in the United States. That compares with about 300 million personal vehicles. So that means that there are about the same number of each. Out of 350 million guns, no more than 11,078 them behaved fatally. At least 37,402 vehicles caused fatalities.

So again why not get rid of vehicles? Wouldn't that save more lives? Why don't we have that discussion? Because we realize that the vehicles didn't cause the deaths? The idiot behind the wheel did. Same is true with guns.

3. On all of this guns discussion, a friend reminded me of something significant. The vehicle deaths are mostly accidental; the gun deaths are on purpose. That means that vehicles kill more people each year accidentally than guns do on purpose. How in the world can we keep something so dangerous around? Because we understand that it isn't the vehicle that is the problem, but the idiot behind the wheel.

4. Each year more than 75,000 Americans die or are killed in alcohol-related incidents. But do we talk about outlawing alcohol? No! Why? Because we understand that the problem is the idiot who buys the alcohol.

5. Tobacco is credited with 443,000 deaths each year. But is tobacco outlawed? Is the growth of tobacco outlawed? Why? Because we realize that the tobacco really isn't the problem. It is the idiot who buys the tobacco.

6. Another thing: a friend just pointed out that most of the same people who are so strongly against guns are also pro-abortion. They are totally against guns because guns kill people.

They go on and on about this recent shooting incident in Connecticut saying how atrocious it is (which it is), but then blow off 1.5 million murdered babies each year as some political difference.

So are we going to have this huge national discussion and overreaction about guns, and then without a word let 443,000 die from tobacco and 75,000 die because of alcohol and 37,402 die from vehicles? Now are the 11,078 gun related homicides horrible? Of course. But it can't hold a candle to the death toll from tobacco, alcohol and vehicles. And our nation isn't the least bit interested in having those conversations.

The Second Amendment wasn't enacted to protect our hunting rights. That amendment has nothing to do with hunting.

The Second Amendment was given its treasured place in our Constitution to ensure and protect the ability of the people to violently react to and overthrow, if necessary, our government if and when it becomes too dictatorial and intrusive.

Don't forget that our country was formed in a violent revolution. In fact, that revolution began at Lexington and Concord when normal citizens fired on and killed government soldiers sent by the central government to confiscate their weapons and arms.

God bless.

The year of 'Our Savior' Barack Obama

The year 2012 was defined by the calculated re-emergence of Obama worship, no matter how obvious his failures in office. After his re-election, the actor Jamie Foxx let it all hang out in a tribute at the BET Awards on November 25: "First of all, give an honor to God and our lord and savior, Barack Obama!"

For that President Jesus gasbaggery, Foxx was selected as one of the winners of the Media Research Center's Best Notable Quotables of 2012, a collection of liberal foolishness selected by 46 judges of distinction in the conservative media. Foxx won the "Barbra Streisand Political IQ Award for Celebrity Vapidity." But Foxx wasn't alone in the idolatry category. Naturally, MSNBC's Chris Matthews won the "Obamagasm Award," failing to find a single flaw in his idol in a "Hardball" tribute on July 17: "This guy's done everything right. He's raised his family right. He's fought his way all the way to the top of the Harvard Law Review, in a blind test becomes head of the Review, the top editor there. Everything he's done is clean as a whistle. He's never, not only broken any law, he's never done anything wrong. He's the perfect father, the perfect husband, the perfect American. And all they do is trash the guy." Especially when he's our lord and savior. CNN's Piers Morgan won in the "Media Hero Award" category for his fawning over Bill Clinton at the annual Clinton Global Initiative meeting on Sept. 25: "People see you putting on this event, they heard you at the convention make a barnstorming speech, an incredible speech ... I was there. You electrified the place. And they all say, 'Why do we have this goddamned 22nd Amendment? Why couldn't Bill Clinton just run again and be President for the next 30 years?'" A prime time CNN personality announces Clinton should be President for Life, even as CNN and its media fans keep declaring the nonsense that this network abhors and rejects political partisanship.

But journalists proclaiming their objectivity, no matter how ridiculous, is a daily event. The Denying the Obvious Award for Refusing to Acknowledge Liberal Bias went to New York Times editorial page editor Andrew Rossenthal, who grew angry on Feb. 16 when his newspaper was compared to Fox News in its partisan take on the news: "The word I want to use here ... begins with 'bull' and ends in 'it,' and you can figure out what comes in between. I think it's absolute pernicious nonsense ... Fox News presents the news in a way that is deliberately skewed to promote political causes, and The New York Times simply does not."

Texas gas prices among lowest in nation

SUBMITTED BY TEXAS AAA

Drivers are feeling more relief at the pumps this week as we approach the busy year-end holiday travel period. The statewide average for a gallon of regular unleaded in Texas has fallen to $3.03, according to the AAA Texas Weekend Gas Watch.

Motorists in Amarillo are paying the most on average at $3.10, and drivers in Ft. Worth are paying the least at $2.98.

The average price for fuel in the Lone Star State is now 20 cents less than the national average of $3.23. Motorists in Hawaii continue to pay the most expensive prices in the nation while drivers in Missouri are paying the least.

Texas ranks number five for the states with the lowest gas prices.

The prices have been driven lower by a number of factors, including the switch to less expensive winter-blend fuel, an increase in gasoline inventories, cheaper crude oil prices, lower demand and economic concerns. Prices in every state are less than they were one week ago.

Drivers are urged to map out their trips before they travel, wear their seatbelts, obey the speed limits and avoid distractions behind the wheel. Motorists can use AAA's Fuel Cost Calculator at <http://fuelcostcalculator.aaa.com/> to get an estimate of the fuel cost of their holiday trips based on real time gas prices.

To help consumers identify quality auto repair shops that can assist in the maintenance and repair of their vehicles, AAA offers the Approved Auto Repair program as a free public service. AAA-approved repair facilities meet and maintain high professional standards for training, equipment, cleanliness and customer service. Motorists can look for the Approved Auto Repair sign at local auto repair facilities, or search for a nearby AAA-approved shop online at AAA.com/Repair.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Saturday, Dec. 22, 2012:

This year you often will go to extremes. In the process of doing so, you couldn't care less. It is how you feel after the fact that will cause you to employ some self-discipline. You have a vision for what your life could be and what you want out of it. You ambitiously will start to create just that. If you are single, your desirability speaks for itself. Commit only when you are good and ready. If you are attached, the two of you blend together well. You can count on your sweetie. TAURUS can be seductive yet difficult. The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
 ★★ Your wildest dreams could not predict the importance of being money savvy today. As you weigh the pros and cons of an indulgence, an unexpected expense heads in. Hopefully, the path not involving an either/or choice appears. Tonight: Getting into the spirit of the holiday.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
 ★★ Others associate you with stability, so they would be surprised to see you today! After basking in dreams of mistletoe and gratefulness, you suddenly could turn volatile. You might not even know why; just roll with the punches. Tonight: Are we overindulging again?

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
 ★★ You wake up and think it is a perfect day, but by noon, that thought will be moot. Many of you might sense a disappointment heading your way. Be careful with this thought, as you could end up manifesting it. Distract yourself. Tonight: No overthinking things, please.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
 ★★ Only when you can distance yourself from a demanding friend will the good times begin. Whether it is baking cookies or out finishing last-minute details, you beam. You love any excuse to bring others together. Tonight: Let someone's hostility be his or her problem — not yours.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
 ★★ You flourish in your private dream world, where you play out what could happen this Christmas. Necessity jolts you out of this reverie. Be grateful for these flights of fancy, as you once more return to reality. Tonight: Music, Christmas gifts and sweet-smelling candles.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 ★★ You seem practical and together. You know exactly what to do, and when you should do it. The one exception might be a child's tantrum or a loved one's Scrooge-like attitude. Don't allow this person's negativity to get to you. Keep smiling. Tonight: A must appearance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
 ★★ Your sensitivity emerges when dealing with a partner. While you might've thought you had everything handled, you'll discover otherwise. If a fight erupts, step back. You do not want this scenario to mark your holiday. Just be your charming self. Tonight: Finally, all is well.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
 ★★ You could get into being the one who is centered, as everyone around you is stressed. You Scorpios can be tough, but you also can be very caring. Maintain a positive attitude as you return calls, and maybe toss in an errand or two. Tonight: The only answer is "yes."

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
 ★★ You seem determined to handle everything perfectly in the next few days. On another level, you feel inspired by a family member. Together, you'll create a dreamy holiday for you and your immediate circle. Tonight: Play it low-key, if possible.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
 ★★ The kid in you emerges, which delights many people. Think positively about all the potential proposals you could make. Your mind could still be on work. Let go, and reorient yourself. You know what someone needs. Tonight: Don't forget to pull the shades down.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
 ★★ You could be overwhelmed by others' requests, as they feel more like demands. Just when things get mellow, another task heads your way. Tap into your innate creativity, and you will lighten up the situation for you and for others. Tonight: Meet friends at a favorite spot.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
 ★★ Know the impact of your words. Someone's reaction to a comment, which wasn't meant as a criticism, could light up the sky. This person is volatile and looking for someone to take his or her mood out on. How fortunate for you! Maintain a sense of humor. Tonight: Invite friends over.

Reliant Stadium getting new high-tech scoreboards

ASSOCIATED PRESS

HOUSTON (AP) — The home of the Houston Texans will have two new high-definition LED scoreboards for the 2013 season.

The board of the Harris County Sports and Convention Corporation on Wednesday approved the $15.5 million purchase for Reliant Stadium.

Backers say the upgraded digital scoreboards from Mitsubishi Electric will help bolster efforts for Reliant Stadium to host the Super Bowl in 2017.

The new scoreboards will be 52 feet tall and 277 feet wide.

Mitsubishi officials say the scoreboards, with 14,549 feet of display surface, will be the widest display in professional sports.

Hotel and motel taxes plus auto rental fees will help pay for the scoreboards.

Reliant Stadium is also home to the annual Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: My divorce from "Vince" will be final in a few weeks. We have two sons together and we communicate well. Since our breakup, my parents have continued their relationship with him. They say, "You divorced him, we didn't."

They have confirmed that he will be invited to all holiday events. I am so upset about it that I now want nothing to do with them. Vince has his own family who have unani-mously removed me from their lives.

I'm hurt by my parents' actions. Am I wrong? And are my feelings normal? — LOST MY PARENTS IN THE DIVORCE IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR LOST: As the father of your children, Vince will always be a part of your life, so my advice is to accept it graciously. Because Vince had a good relationship with your parents, I can understand why they would extend an invitation to the father of their grandchildren. Whether he will choose to accept is the question. His family may have declared you persona non grata because in their eyes you divorced HIM.

That said, your feelings are your feelings. Rather than say they are "wrong," I would point out that they are unproductive at this point. As you move forward with your emotional life, I predict this will become less of an issue.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 50-year-old divorced man. I use an online dating service to meet women my age, but I'm extremely frustrated by the lack of courtesy.

Why is it so hard for a woman to simply write, "Thanks, but I'm not interested" after getting a note of inquiry? My photos are recent, I'm polite and I send thoughtful notes that show I have read their profiles carefully and think there's a chance we have something in common. I admit, I'm not the handsomest man, but I hold a master's degree and I am financially stable.

I have sent a dozen notes over the last few months, and not one woman has been polite enough to respond. Any thoughts? — DATELESS IN DAYTON
DEAR DATELESS: Please don't let the lack of response make you quit putting yourself out there, because eventually you're going to find someone if you keep trying. You are an intelligent man, and I am sure you have much to offer some lucky woman.

However, I would delicately point out to you that by not responding to your notes these women ARE sending you a message. It is possible that because the "chemistry" is wrong, they do not wish to get into a dialogue.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 17-year-old girl and every time I meet people, they think I am 12. How do I look more my age? Please help me. — HONEY IN GEORGIA

DEAR HONEY: A way to accomplish it would be to go to a department store and ask at the cosmetics counter about a demonstration makeover to achieve a more sophisticated look. While you're there, I'm sure a clothing salesperson would also be happy to accommodate you in finding items that girls your age are buying. A different hairstyle could also "update" your image if you are wearing it the way you did a few years ago.

P.S. While you may not think it now, later on you will regard your youthful appearance as an asset. Trust me on that!

New York Stock Exchange sold

■ IntercontinentalExchange Inc. buys NYSE for $8 billion.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange is being sold to a rival exchange for about $8 billion, ending more than two centuries of independence for the iconic Big Board. The buyer, IntercontinentalExchange Inc., an upstart exchange based in Atlanta, made clear Thursday that little would change for the trading floor in Manhattan's financial district if regulators approve the deal.

There will be dual headquarters in New York and Atlanta and ICE will open an office in Manhattan.

NYSE CEO Duncan Niederauer will become president of the combined company and CEO of NYSE Group. ICE said that the tie-up will create a top exchange operator covering a diverse lineup of markets and boosting efficiency.

"We believe the combined company will be better positioned to compete and serve customers across a broad range of asset classes by uniting our global brands, expertise and infrastructure," said IntercontinentalExchange Chairman and CEO Jeffrey Sprecher.

Sprecher will keep his positions. Four members of the NYSE board will be added to IntercontinentalEx-change's board, expanding it to 15 members.

NYSE Euronext Inc. shareholders can choose to receive either $33.12 in cash, .2581 IntercontinentalExchange Inc. shares, or a combination of $11.27 in cash plus .1703 shares of stock.

NYSE's stock jumped $7.46, or 31 percent, to $31.51 in heavy trading shortly after the market opened. ICE's stock fell $1.14 to $127.17.

IntercontinentalExchange plans to fund the cash portion of the acquisition with a combination of cash and existing debt.

It added that the addition of NYSE will help it cut costs and should increase its earnings more than 15 percent in the first year after the deal closes.

The deal has been approved by the boards of both companies, but still needs the approvals by regulators and shareholders of both companies. It's expected to close in the second half of next year.

Exchanges have repeatedly attempted to merge recently as competition intensifies and commissions decline.

Last year, IntercontinentalExchange and Nasdaq OMX Group Inc. made a failed $11 billion bid to buy NYSE Euronext.

Earlier this year, European regulators blocked Deutsche Boerse AG from buying NYSE Euronext.

would disagree, perhaps recalling items like the 2,300-word Times front-pager by Trip Gabriel scolding Mrs. Romney's enthusiasm for dressage, where "horses costing up to seven figures execute pirouettes and other dancelike moves for riders wearing tails and top hats. Or take Times columnist Charles Blow, who won "The Politics of Personal Destruction Award" for denying Romney's humanity on MSNBC: "This is the kind of man that Mitt Romney is. This man does not have a soul. If you opened up, you know, his chest, there's probably a gold ticking watch in there and not even a heart. ... This is just a robot who will do whatever it takes, whatever he's told to do, to make it to the White House."
