The Pampa First Assembly of God, 500 S. Cuyler St., is hosting their second annual "Jolly Christmas Kidz Night," from 6 to 9 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 12.

Lead Pastor of the church, Ed Sattesahn, said the church is very excited.

"Because of the great response last year we are moving from the Fellowship Hall to the Family Life Center. It is located on the rear of the church property," Sattesahn said.

He also said there are several new features this

Volunteers needed for Children's Shopping Tour

Volunteers are needed for the annual 52nd Children's Shopping Tour which will take place Saturday beginning at 8 a.m. at the Pampa Optimist Youth Club, according to Jil Arias, the General Chair.

The tour is for children between the ages of five and 10.

"They do not buy presents for themselves, but for members of their household," Arias explained. "For most of them it will be the first time they have ever experienced giving at Christmas."

Last year the project benefited 248 family members including 69 children who went on the tour. This year the Tour is expecting to serve 350 family members.

In 2008, Optimist International declared the project the Outstanding Community Service Project in the nation. A month later Altrusa International recognized the project as the Outstanding Community Service Project in the World.

"Volunteers who are going to take children shopping need to be at the Optimist Club by 8 a.m.," Arias said. "At that time Sandra McKinney, with the Texas Health and Human Service Commission, and her committee will register volunteers. The volunteers will be given the names and addresses of the children they will chaperone along with the ages and sizes of all members of the children's households. Volunteers who are driving need to have their drivers license and proof of liability insurance with them."

Ellen Tyre of The Salvation Army and McKinney have been in charge of taking applications and screening them to make sure the children meet certain qualifications. Shonda Rucker is in charge of recruiting some 150 to 200 volunteers needed to take the children shopping and wrap their packages.

"After volunteers register in the gym, they will come in the meeting room for further instructions," Arias said. "At that time DeeDee Laramore of Tralee Crisis Center will furnish orange juice, milk and donuts for volunteers. The Salvation Army will furnish coffee."

Shortly before 9 a.m. the volunteers will begin picking up their children. The children may shop anywhere they please.

Members of the Kiwanis Club of Pampa led by Bill Kindle, Bob Benyshek, Robert Jacobs and Doug Cates go over each group checking out to make sure the volunteers do not exceed their allotment for each family and to mark out the bar codes so that the gifts cannot be exchanged for cash.

After completing their shopping, the volunteers and children will head back to the Optimist Gym where the Optimist Club, headed by Whitney Davis, will sponsor a wrapping party. The children will wrap their gifts and then go into the Optimist meeting room where Kevin Davis and his Optimist crew will have prepared a hamburger luncheon with all the trimmings for the children and the volunteers.

The children who finish early will participate in a coloring contest sponsored by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, according to Vivian McIntire, who is representing the Chamber on the Steering Committee, and Jana Gregory, who represents the Pampa United Way. There will be prizes for the winners in each age group. The children will sing Christmas carols and hear Christmas stories including a talk about "The Reason for the Season."

Rumors have it that a visitor from the North Pole will appear with a gift for each child. The Pampa High School cheerleaders will take pictures of the children with Santa so they will have a souvenir of their tour.

Dr. Mark Ford and Harley Knutson from the Gideon Society will offer the children New Testament Bibles in either English or Spanish for children who would like to take one.

"The Shopping Tour should be completed about noon," Arias said. "The chaperones will then return the children to their homes with their presents. The last thing the chaperones will do is give a gift to each child as they go into their homes explaining, 'This is for you from us. Merry Christmas.'"

Other organizations participating include the Pampa Noon Lions Club. Brad Pingel will lead Lions members to the houses of children who do not have telephones to remind them of the tour a day or two ahead of time.

"This is very important," Arias said. "In the past we have found the Lions' efforts have reduced the number of no-shows to practically zero."

The Altrusa Club led by Melodie Dosch, Twilla Thomas and Rene Johnson are preparing a brochure in English and Spanish which explains the project.

"This brochure will be given to the chaperones and to all contributors to the project," Arias further informed.

John Warner of the Optimist Club is the treasurer.

Some 30 to 40 organizations are involved each year which have included First United Methodist Church Aldersgate Sunday School Class, Pampa Police Department, First Presbyterian Church, Students Against Drunk Driving, Astra Club, Roberts County Sher-

The Pampa City Commission met Tuesday afternoon in its final 4 p.m. meeting to discuss a full agenda.

To start things off, a public hearing was held to discuss the possibility of enabling the city to tax tangible personal property classified as being in transit, which would otherwise be exempt. This refers to goods that may be produced in one place but then transported and stored somewhere not owned by the person or company that produced them. Previously, these goods were not able to be taxed if the owner of the stored property had filed for the exemption.

It was clarified that no one is currently using the exemption, so enabling the city to tax this property now would solely protect the future tax base.

There were no comments from the public during the hearing, and when the mayor and commissioners arrived to this agenda item, it was approved on its first reading unanimously.

Another agenda item that was approved on first reading was for a resolution approving a grant from the Pampa Economic Development Corporation to Hidden Hills Golf Course in the amount of $50,000 for golf course improvements.

Manager and golf pro David Teichmann said that this money will be used to re-sod and irrigate several areas of the course in need of improvement as well as a new senior tee for one of the holes. It was decided where to apply the newly acquired funds based on a rating system Teichmann used to determine the areas that need the most improvements.

Teichmann also elaborated on additional improvements that he intends to see are made at the course. He would like to see tee boxes expanded, lady's tees moved up to a more appropriate distance to the holes. Assistant city manager Shane Stokes then spoke before the commissioners voted to approve this agenda item unanimously on first reading.

"David and his staff do a wonderful job with what they have to work with," Stokes said. "We appreciate you, David, and we appreciate the EDC for this grant."

A special meeting was held at noon Wednesday to approve these agenda items on second and final reading.

During Tuesday's meeting, the mayor and commissioners also heard the end of year report from Pampa Economic Development Corporation. Board president Gary Sutherland was present to summarize the report. He spoke briefly about the Pampa Energy Center and Las Pampas Square.

Sutherland said that the new sign for Las Pampas Square should be up within the next 60 days. He added that Steele's will be closing, which was a corporate decision, and they have been searching for a replacement tenant for the newly renovated space. Executive director Clay Rice recently attended an ICFC trade show in Dallas and made contacts for potential new tenants.

Sutherland also said that sales tax revenue for 2014 was just more than one and a half million dollars.

As for future plans, he said that a new roof for Cinema 4 is to come.

The mayor and commissioners accepted the report and mayor Brad Pingel thanked Pampa EDC for its services and support.

Another agenda item the mayor and commissioners spent some time discussing came when it was time to decide on adopting a resolution authorizing the negotiation, execution and delivery of a lease-purchase agreement between the City and TCF Equipment Finance for leasing of mowers.

Director of public works Donny Hooper said that this is the lease-purchase of three mowers, a 16-foot, 11-foot and a 6-foot, that will be used in addition with the city's most-used mowers, three 10-foot and one 16-foot.

He added that the 16-footer that the city currently uses is four years old, and the 10-foot mowers are older than that. The leasing of the new mowers will cut back on maintenance time for mowers because the 10-footers currently require about the same amount of time for maintenance as time in use.

Hooper added that this lease agreement is the same one David Teichmann uses at the golf course, and Teichmann also said that this is the way to go.

As far as second and final readings during Tuesday afternoon's meeting went, the mayor and commissioners voted unanimously to approve an ordinance rezoning from Agriculture (A) to Commercial (C), Tract Z-C of Block 3, Section 116 of the International and Great Northern Railroad Company Survey, commonly known as 2013 W. 23rd Avenue.

The following agenda items were also approved unanimously at the meeting:

- Approving the minutes of the Nov. 25, 2014 Public Hearing/Regular Commission Meeting as presented.

- Reappointing Glennette Goode, Ken May and Bob Williams to the Pampa Economic Development Corporations Board of Directors for two year terms beginning Jan. 1, 2015 and ending Dec. 31, 2016.

- Entering into a two-year Lease Agreement with Clarendon College for property located at 820 E. Foster.

This property has been used for welding and HVAC classes in the past, and City Manager Richard Morris said that the college has been responsible for utilities while they vacated the space and will continue to do so.

- Canceling the Dec. 23, 2014 Regular Commission Meeting.

The next City Commission meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 13, 2015 at the new time of 5:30 p.m.

Tales from the Final Frontier

■ The ultimate nerd Christmas wish list.

JOHN LEE

It's that time of year again. When people across the world start looking for that special something that personally the best gift George R.R. Martin could give us is a finished "Winds of Winter." But until someone traps him in a dungeon and bans him from doing public appearances promoting HBO's "Game of Thrones,"

Red to choose from, the sweater looks very similar to the uniforms seen in the pioneering series of the Star Trek franchise. Among other Star Trek original series products they have Star Trek: The Original Series slippers ($14.99) and Star Trek bathrobes ($34.99-$41.99).

Exclusive Periodic Table of Elements blanket ($29.99) — Sheldon and Leonard may have periodic table shower curtain in CBS' "Big Bang Theory," but now you can study for that chemistry exam as you sleep. The blanket is 100 percent cotton and is approximately four feet by five feet. The website even says you will become a new element: comfortablum.

Das Horn drinking vessel ($17.49) — After you're done consuming the ham and/or turkey legs on Christmas day, have your lady bring you some ale to consume out of this drinking vessel. This horn is propped onto a stand to keep from tipping. Summon your inner barbarian and drink from this horn before braving the post-Christmas crowds.

For the ladies:

Hobbit The One Ring earrings ($49.99) — Thought the bling that Frodo and his friends had was pretty nice? Now, ladies, you can wear it on your ears and you don't have to take it to Mordor to get destroyed. It features the inscription seen in the feature films and is made with 14-carat gold plating.

Self-rescuing princess mug ($9.99) — Unlike Princess Peach and Princess Zelda, you don't need a man to come rescue you! Let your co-workers and everyone you might drink coffee with know with this mug. It's a 16-ounce ceramic mug and is dishwasher and microwave safe.

Dragon Ear Wrap ($34.99) — Poor Daenerys from "A Song of Ice and Fire." She can't control her dragons now that they have gotten so big. Well you can wear an ear wrap on your ear which only requires standard ear piercing. The dragon, made from English Pewter, is a little more than three inches tall and an inch and a half wide. Plus you can order for either ear. There are also elven ear wraps, constellation ear wraps and even Schrödinger's Cat earrings.

There is so much more on this website including earrings, necklaces, robes and bags. To check it out, go to www.thinkgeek.com and go under interests.

11 law enforcement officers killed

While many in the nation, from Oakland to New York, rally in protest over the deaths of Michael Brown and Eric Garner, I keep wondering: What about the good cops? As with our military personnel, we are often quick to hang the allegedly corrupt but slow to honor those who serve honestly to protect.

According to the nonprofit National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund, there are more than 900,000 of them who are serving in the United States; about 12 percent are women.

The FBI reported that there were 404 incidents of "justifiable homicide" by American police in 2011. That is a high number, especially when compared with other countries. As Business Insider reported, "by comparison, just six people were killed by police in Australia over the same period. Police in England and Wales killed only two people, and German police killed six."

What BI doesn't explain, however, is that 150 U.S. law enforcement officers are killed in the line of duty every year. Did you know that one cop is killed in the line of duty roughly every two days?

First, it's important to note what our uniformed guardians of good are really up against. According to the NLEOMF, in the U.S.:

"According to the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports, an estimated 1.2 million violent crimes occurred nationwide in 2011."

"On average, over the last decade, there have been 58,261 assaults against law enforcement each year, resulting in 15,658 injuries."

"Since the first recorded police death in 1791, there have been over 20,000 law enforcement officers killed in the line of duty."

"A total of 1,501 law enforcement officers died in the line of duty during the past 10 years, an average of one death every 58 hours or 150 per year."

"There were 100 law enforcement officers killed in 2013."

"The deadliest day in law enforcement history was September 11, 2001, when 72 officers were killed while responding to the terrorist attacks on America."

"New York City has lost more officers in the line of duty than any other department, with 697 deaths. Texas has lost 1,675 officers, more than any other state."

In fact, while citizens have been rallying in Ferguson, Missouri, and New York, in just the past month, a dozen cops have been killed across our country by murderous thugs or unfortunate accidents in the line of duty.

Let me put some flesh to these statistics. Here are the recently fallen in just the month of November, according to the NLEOMF:

—Officer Ernest Montoya, Navajo Division of Public Safety. Montoya suffered a fatal heart attack while transporting a prisoner, whom he had just arrested. Montoya was the fourth law enforcement fatality in Arizona in 2014. He is survived by his wife and five children.

—Agent Edwin Roman-Acevedo, San Juan (Puerto Rico) Police Department. Roman-Acevedo was shot and killed while attempting to stop an armed robbery while off duty. He is survived by his wife and one child.

—Deputy Sheriff Bart Hart, Elmore County (Alabama) Sheriff's Office. Hart was on duty and had just left the scene of an accident involving a deer, when he was struck by another car and killed. He is survived by his wife and daughter.

—Deputy Sheriff Christopher Smith, Leon County (Florida) Sheriff's Office. Smith was shot and killed in an ambush while responding to a house fire. He leaves behind his wife and two children.

—Sgt. Alex Martinez, Willacy County (Texas) Sheriff's Office. Martinez was killed in a single-vehicle crash. He was the 11th law enforcement fatality in Texas this year.

—Sgt. Jeffrey Greene, Union County (North Carolina) Sheriff's Office. Greene's patrol car was stopped in a turn lane, when a tractor-trailer rolled over onto it. Green is survived by his wife, two daughters and that would take a Christmas miracle. So instead, I went to the Walmart of nerdiness, thinkgeek.com, and will tell you some of the items I found on there.

For the guys:

Star Trek: The Original Series uniform hoodie ($59.99) — If you're going on an away mission where it's going to be a little chilly, don't worry, this hoodie will keep you warm. Ranging from small to 3X, with a choice Command Yellow, Science Blue or Engineering

Bereavement and Healing

I wish I could be more like her

Do you have a friend who is angelic and sometimes wish you could be more like her? I have a friend like that. Her name is Wendy.

Wendy and I have been friends for more than 20 years. Most of those years have been geographically long-distanced, but our friendship remains steadfast. Both of our husbands worked for governmental agencies that do not consider relocation of duty stations as disruptive for families. So, her family has gone one way and mine has gone another.

Wendy is so amazingly unique that once she has touched your life, your heart never forgets nor lets go of the new cheer she has brought. Knowing her changes your outlook on life and permanently lifts your spirits. She is kind, talented, funny, concerned, generous and possess many additional graces, too vast to list.

The past several years have been difficult for Wendy. Her health has suffered tremendously; her children have all gone off to college and careers, and most recently she has nursed two very close relatives, her dad and her aunt, through the end of life. I don't know how she did it. Her father died nearly two months ago. She was there, day in and day out, helping him through his weakest moments until he drew his last breath. She left her home, her family and her employment to bring him the comfort and support he needed to leave his life behind. She gave up so much, and he gave up everything.

As soon as her dad's services were accomplished, Wendy rushed back to her dear aunt's bedside. She had transferred back and forth between multiple states caring for her dad and her aunt as they both suffered end of life ailments for nearly two years. I don't know where her strength came from. Now that her dad was gone, without taking a few days off for herself, this angel of mercy immediately dove back into total care for her aunt, three states away. Her aunt died last week, and now, Wendy is traveling back to her home, another three states away. Her journey has been temporarily disrupted due to heavy snowfall in the northern United States. I emailed her yesterday, asking for help with an issue that requires her particular talent and skill set. I expected her to write back that she would get to it after a month or two of personal recovery.

Not at all. My dear friend Wendy, who has not been home for nearly two years, has nursed two close family members through their deaths, has suffered severe health issues and is returning home to an empty house (if she can get through a snow covered state), wrote back that she is searching for a computer to borrow so that she can accomplish my request. Now that is an amazing woman, an amazing friend, an amazing daughter and an amazing niece.

I do not know what this next year holds for my dear friend Wendy. She has suffered extreme loss. She will grieve the compounded losses of her father and aunt. She will grieve the emptiness of her home without her children. She will grieve the loss of her better health, and she will grieve the loss of her employment. One thing she will not grieve is the love and admiration of her appreciative and devoted friend. I hope that I can help her through her grief recovery. I hope she can rely on me in her moments of despair and rock bottom loneliness. I hope I will be able to be a source of recovery for her.

Do you have a friend who is angelic and sometimes wish you could be more like her? I hope my dear friend Wendy has a friend like that. I hope her name is Tracy.

 —Officer Justin Winebrenner, Akron (Ohio) Police Department. Winebrenner was shot and killed while confronting an armed suspect, who was causing a disturbance in a crowded tavern near closing time. He is survived by his 4-year-old daughter.
 —Investigator Holmes Smith, Clarendon County (South Carolina) Sheriff's Office. Smith, a 19-year law enforcement veteran, ran off the road and died after a meeting about a car theft case. He leaves behind a wife and five children.
 —Deputy Sheriff Darrell Perritt, Maury County (Tennessee) Sheriff's Department. Perritt was killed in a single-vehicle crash while responding to help another deputy involved in a pursuit of a DUI suspect. He leaves behind his wife and three kids.
 —Deputy Sheriff Matthew Chism, Cedar County (Missouri) Sheriff's Office. Chism was shot and killed after a vehicle chase and foot pursuit. He leaves behind his wife and small child.
 —Constable Robert White, El Paso County (Texas) Constable's Office, Precinct 1. White was fatally injured while struggling with a suspect during a security detail. He is survived by his wife and four children.
 I'm not telling anyone not to protest. That's your constitutional right and freedom of speech at work. What I am saying is that if you're going to speak up against one cop whom you believe to be corrupt, then at least extend a hand of gratitude to another who's doing his or her job well.
 This hits a little close to home because I am very pro-law enforcement and have many friends who are amazing officers. I am even an honorary Texas Ranger. I also married a cop! My wife, Gena, is a former correctional corporal and reserve deputy sheriff in her hometown in Northern California.
 The truth is that most of the time across the country, injuries occur between cops and civilians not because cops have a power problem but because civilians are breaking the law. If they obeyed the laws of the land or paused to respect the badge a little bit more, the injuries to both civilians and law enforcement would be minuscule.
 Apropos are the words of our savior — whose birth we celebrate this month — reminding us of the sacrifice he and many of our law enforcement officers have made: "Greater love has no one than this: that one lay down his life for another."
 Gena and I wish everyone in law enforcement a very merry and safe Christmas as we salute the red, white and true blue!

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: You sometimes print letters from people who are looking to meet decent, honorable and interesting other people. While you have recommended volunteering, joining health clubs, going to church — and staying out of bars — something I have yet to see mentioned is a community-based arts organization. Someone who is musically inclined might look for a local band, orchestra or community chorus. But I'd like to put in a word for community theater. A person doesn't have to be a performer; these groups need people to build sets, make costumes, locate props, run the backstage operations during a performance, etc. In the front of the house, they need people for promotion, selling tickets, ushering and soliciting donations from sponsors.
 I met my husband of 30-plus years through a community theater group, and know of several other long-term marriages that came about the same way. I'm a seamstress, so I have made my share of costumes. But I have also learned how to frame a wall and build a staircase while working on set construction.
 Even if you don't find that special someone, you will make dozens of new friends and have the satisfaction of accomplishing something at the same time. — ALWAYS BUSY IN DES MOINES

DEAR ALWAYS BUSY: I love your suggestion. Not everyone is meant to be in front of the footlights, but that doesn't mean one can't be an important member of the team. And community theater is definitely a team effort.

 DEAR ABBY: I find my wife's daughter and son-in-law, who live nearby, to be very unlikable. Her daughter is gossipy, arrogant, smug and superficial. The husband is ill-mannered, devoid of social skills, lazy, impossible to carry on a normal conversation with and, worst of all, a liar.
 Naturally, I am expected to see them often, and the more I am around them, the less I like them. This has become apparent to my wife. We have had more than a few "spirited discussions" about it, which I view as a real threat to the long-term well-being of our marriage.
 I have tried mightily for her sake to overlook their major personality and character flaws, with no success. I don't want another divorce.

Please help. — DESPERATE IN THE MID-ATLANTIC
 DEAR DESPERATE: If you love your wife and don't want this marriage ruined, accept that you are going to have to accommodate to some degree her insufferable daughter and son-in-law. This does not mean you must love them or even enjoy their company. It does mean working out a compromise that includes spending some time with them.
 You and your wife are not joined at the hip. Every visit doesn't have to include you. Take up some hobbies you can enjoy on your own. Develop a sense of humor where they are concerned. If you do, you won't force your wife to choose between you and her child, because the chances are you would lose.

daily horoscope

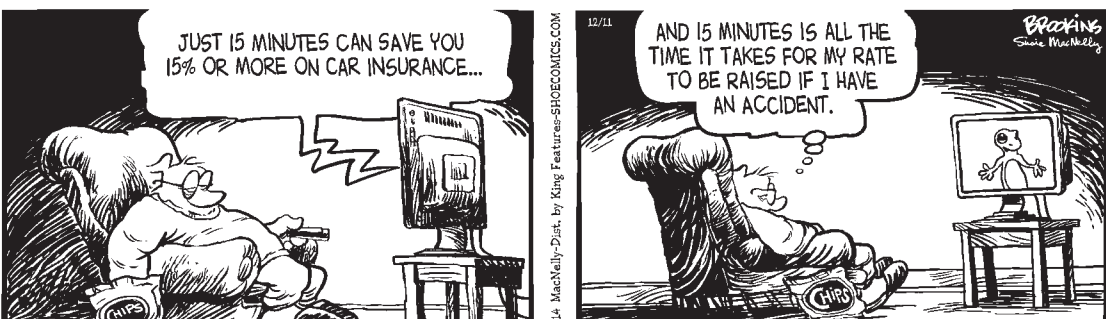

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Friday, Dec. 12, 2014:
 This year you flip back and forth between stealing the show and fading into the background. You like being visible, but it is also important to demonstrate that you are versatile and have a quiet side. You take your work, your relationships and your image very seriously. If you are single, you might find it difficult to find a match who can integrate with the many facets of your personality. Do not lose hope. If you are attached, your multifaceted personality adds to the moment and to your sweetie's undying interest. Make plenty of time for you to spend together as a couple. VIRGO knows how to push you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
 ★★★★★ Someone might disappoint you in the morning, but refrain from saying anything negative. You'll decide to make the impossible possible. You have an incredible imagination, and when it's combined with your practical side, you become a sure-bet winner. Tonight: Live it up.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
 ★★★★★ Hold a meeting or join a friend in the morning. By the afternoon, you might decide to turn your focus to a personal matter. You could have a lot to think about regarding how you should handle this issue. Reach out to a loved one for some feedback. Tonight: Invite a friend over.
CANCER (June 21-July 22)
 ★★★★★ Check your finances before formalizing plans. You won't be comfortable if you don't have enough funds to enjoy yourself. Return calls in the afternoon, when the pace is a lot slower and more easygoing. News from a distance will encourage different options. Tonight: At a local spot.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
 ★★★★★ You'll see a situation differently from how a loved one sees it. Understand that you are heading in a new direction. Perhaps others don't "get" your choices, as they might be out of their comfort zone. Few greet change with ease. Tonight: Pick up the tab.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 ★★★★★ You might be slow to get going in the morning, but as the day goes on, others will find you to be confident and inspirational. Make sure that you have taken off your rose-colored glasses and that your plans are realistic. Tonight: Are you ready for anything?
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
 ★★★★★ Others might be envious of the attention you receive. You seem to be on a winning streak, which becomes even clearer as the day comes to an end. A discussion reflects someone's need to control. Refuse to get involved. Tonight: Surrounded by your favorite friends.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
 ★★★★★ Reach out to someone who supports you. You could be energized by what is happening around you in the afternoon. Recognize that, by tossing yourself into what is happening, you could be laden with more work or responsibilities. Tonight: Could go till the wee hours.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
 ★★★★★ If you feel as if someone is closing down, you will need to let go and allow this person to have the space he or she needs. Practice detachment, especially if you feel triggered. You could gain some surprising insights as a result. Tonight: Opt for a new experience or place.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
 ★★★★★ Juggling your popularity with your daily objectives could be difficult, if not impossible. Step back and take a hard look at your priorities, and revitalization will be more rewarding in the afternoon. Tonight: Be a duo.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
 ★★★★★ Get an early start, and cross off as much as you can on your to-do list. Spend time with others in the afternoon, when you feel more relaxed. Use your networking skills. Someone might set your imagination on fire. Tonight: Let someone draw you into his or her world.

Neal-Landers, Eubank's fourth quarters help Pampa knock off Randall Lady Raiders

■ The pair combined to score 13 of the Lady Harvesters' 17 fourth quarter points.

By ZACHARY GREEN
zgreen@thepampanews.com

The Pampa Lady Harvesters (5-9) hosted the Randall Lady Raiders (3-8) on Tuesday night.

Both teams struggled to find the bottom of the net early on. Pampa did a really great job on the boards to limit the Randall second chance shots. Senior Ty'Randa Johnson started the scoring with 3:30 left in the first quarter when she drained a three from the corner. Seniors Madison Brown and Taylor Eubank each had baskets in the quarter.

Brown had an early bucket in the second quarter to give Pampa a 9-2 lead. Randall then went on a 9-2 run to tie the game 11-11. Pampa called a timeout with 3:29 to go in the half.

Following the timeout, Eubank had a layup to give Pampa the lead back at 13-11, a lead that they would hold the rest of the game. Pampa led at the half, 14-13. Senior Rayna Wall had a basket in the quarter. Brown and Eubank each added buckets in the quarter. Senior Keshia Daniels went one for two from the charity stripe during the quarter.

Much like the first quarter both teams struggled to make shots early on. Senior Raven Neal-Landers scored the first points for either team with 6:05 to go in the quarter. A bucket from Brown and a couple of Randall turnovers helped Pampa increase their lead to 18-13. Randall made their first second half shot with 3:15 to go in the third quarter. The shot fueled their 6-2 run to cut the Pampa lead to 20-19. Brown had a putback layup after a miss to made the score 22-19 in favor of the Lady Harvesters.

With the game hanging in the balance sophomore Montaisha Brown drained a three to give Pampa a 25-21 lead. Randall made a bucket and was fouled with 0.06 seconds left. The Lady Raider missed the free throw shot that would have given Randall the traditional three point play. Pampa led 27-25 heading into the final quarter of action.

Pampa started the fourth on a 5-0 run thanks to three free throws by Eubank and a Neal-Landers layup. This forced Randall to call a timeout with 5:03 to go in the game and Pampa leading 32-25. The Lady Raiders put their first points of the quarter on the board with 4:35 to go in the game. Pampa called a timeout with 2:51 to go after Randall went on a 7-1 run and the score rested at 33-32 in favor of Pampa. Eubank added two more free throws to help Pampa go ahead 35-32. Randall turned it over twice and Neal-Landers had a layup each time to help Pampa go ahead 39-32 with 1:10 left in the game. Eubank and Wall added two more free throws each. Sophomore Elise Kennedy also made one of two from the line. Pampa finished the game on a 11-5 run to win the game 44-37.

Head coach Kim Chaffin was pleased with Eubank's efforts in the fourth quarter. "We kinda changed our gameplan around a little bit. I didn't want her (Taylor) to have to bring the ball up so much. Because shes such a good jumpshooter and people are prone to foul jumpshooters," Chaffin said. "So I thought let someone else bring the ball up and let's get it to Taylor and let her go to the basket and see if she can knock down some free throws. She executed very well for what we were trying to do."

Chaffin wouldn't go as far as to say it was the best they have played all season but she did say they absolutely didn't give up.

"We came to play for two halves. We kept a lead in the first half and we kept building on that lead in the second half," Chaffin said. "That's the first time that we've really done that against a quality team and that's absolutely a plus."

Chaffin said the team takes things from each game to work on.

"Right now we were 12-25 (48 percent) from the free throw line. I harped on them on getting to the gym and knocking down shots," Chaffin said. "We've also gotta make sure anytime we are moving the ball around if people are going to be double teaming Madison, we've gotta be ready to shoot the basketball from outside. Anybody at anytime."

She said they didn't steal the ball as much as they would have liked to but the team tried to play more of a solid defensive game.

"Our gameplan was to play good half-court defense instead of trying to steal the ball so much," Chaffin said. "We executed fairly well for what we were trying to do."

Taylor Eubank finished with 13 points and she went 7-11 from the charity stripe. Madison Brown went 1-4 from the line and finished with nine points. Raven Neal-Landers finished with eight points. Rayna Wall was a perfect 2-2 from the line and had four points. Ty'Randa Johnson and Montaisha Brown each had three points on a lone three-pointer each. Both threes were critical to the Lady Harvesters' success. Keshia Daniels went one for two from the line and finished with three points. Elise Kennedy finished with one point after going 1-4 from the charity stripe.

Pampa moved to 5-9 on the season. They will play White Deer, Fritch, Sunray, West Texas High and Randall's JV team starting today and running through Saturday at the White Deer Tournament. They will host Follett next Tuesday.

Third quarter dooms Harvesters against Randall

■ Pampa almost came back to win from 17 points down in the third quarter.

By ZACHARY GREEN
zgreen@thepampnews.com

The Pampa Harvesters (6-1) hosted the Randall Raiders (3-3) on Tuesday night. Pampa fell short of their quest to stay unbeaten, 56-48.

Pampa started off on fire with a steal and bucket by junior Cade Engle. That was followed by another steal and a bucket from sophomore Brandon Sieck to give Pampa a 4-0 lead early on.

Randall then went on an 8-0 run to go ahead 8-4. Pampa went on a 6-0 run to take the lead back at 10-4 before Randall went on another 5-0 run to take a 12-10 lead.

The run continued for Randall and the Raiders built a 15-12 lead after the first quarter.

There were seven lead changes and four ties between the teams in the first half of action. Senior Johnathan Stevens had a bucket in the quarter. Junior Bryson Burrell also had a basket in the quarter. Senior Jett Gibson had four points in the quarter.

The second quarter began much like the first with Pampa regaining the lead at 17-15 after a Gibson bucket and a traditional three point play from senior Dante Jordan.

Randall went on a 5-2 run to take the lead back quickly at 20-19.

Engle drained two free throws to put Pampa back ahead 21-20. Randall then went on a 5-0 run to take the lead 25-21. Pampa made yet another 7-2 run to regain the lead at 28-27.

The Raiders went down though and scored right before the half to take a 29-28 lead. The Raiders would hold on to that lead the rest of the way.

In the second quarter, Engle had four free throws as he was perfect from the line. Junior Shanoaha Bridges had one free throw. Jordan had three points, Burrell had four points, Gibson had two points and junior Adam Zuniga added two points.

Randall started off hot in the second half as they drained two threes early to go up 35-28 with 6:40 to go in the quarter. Pampa called a timeout with 4:59 to go in the quarter and down 37-28. Pampa couldn't find the bottom of the net until two minutes were left in the quarter.

That was quickly followed by a Zuniga traditional three point play to cut the lead to 46-35. Randall started the second half with a 17-2 run.

Bridges, Burrell and Zuniga each had buckets in the quarter. Zuniga added his lone free throw shot. Randall led 46-35 at the end of three quarters.

Randall took a 51-36 lead before Pampa went on an 6-0 run to cut the lead to 51-42.

Pampa pulled with to within eight at 54-46 with 3:19 to go.

That was the closest the score had been since the 6:40 mark in the third quarter. Junior Kambrin Scott sank two free throws with 2:11 left to make the score 54-48.

Pampa called a timeout with 1:29 to go in the game with the score resting at 54-48 Randall.

Pampa had a couple of chances in that final minute to score but couldn't get the shots to fall. Randall made their free throws to ice the game.

Final: Randall 56, Pampa 48. As a team, Pampa shot 12-18 from the free throw line which is 66 percent.

Head coach Matt Embry said it was the third quarter that helped Randall win the game.

"We got outscored 17-7 in the third. We always says if its a close game at the half, the first four minutes of the third quarter are going to dictate the winner," Embry said. "They built the lead from one to 12 in that first four minutes. Fairly evenly called game. Our big thing is we want to run and want to run a lot. It got away from us in that third quarter. We got a little stagnant. That ended up being the difference."

Despite the loss, Embry was excited with the fight he saw from his team.

"I couldn't be more proud of these kids in the way they battled in the fourth quarter. The lead was 17 at one point for Randall," Embry said. "I think they towards the end we got it down to six. I've seen a lot of teams in the past that have been in that situation that 16 turned into 26, which turned into 30. But instead they made the choice to fight and to scrap and claw and dig their way back into that game. I was very proud of the guys."

Cade Engle, Bryson Burrell and Jett Gibson all finished with eight points to lead Pampa.

Engle was 4-5 from the free throw line. Shanoaha Bridges was 3-6 from the line and finished with five points.

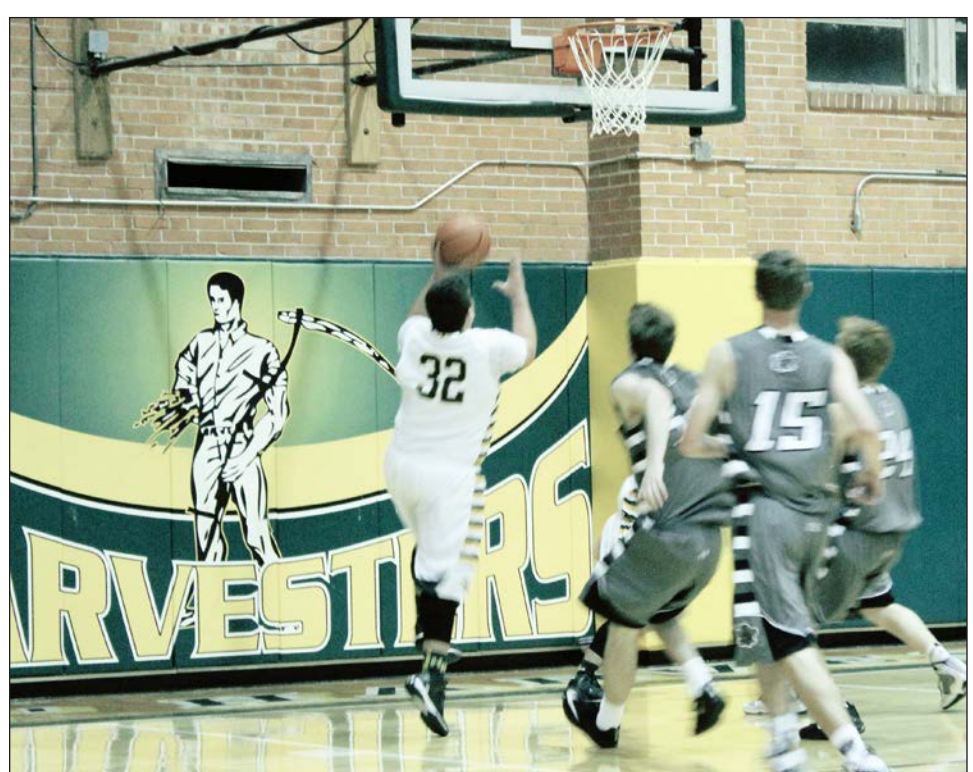

Adam Zuniga finished 1-1 from the line and with five points. Johnathan Stevens was 1-2 from the line and had five points.

Dante Jordan was 1-1 from the line and had three points. Brendon Woelfle and Brandon Sieck each had two points. Kambrin Scott was 2-2 from the line and had two points.

Pampa falls to 6-1 on the season. They play Panhandle JV, Highland Park and Wheeler in the Panhandle Classic starting today through Saturday. Pampa will be home again next Friday when they host Caprock.

Embry is excited to play Highland Park again. He also said the reason we are playing Panhandle's JV team is that a team dropped from the tournament at the last minute, so Panhandle threw their JV in there.

"We need to prove to Highland Park that we're a much better team than they are and not let them hang around like we did the other night," Embry said.
