Not Much in; Lot of Weather'

Memphis and Hall County had a day of "weather" during the last 24 hours, but despite mist, drizzle, snow and sleet the moisture was little more than a quarter of an inch.

Friday and the sun was seen until late Wednesday night; the temperature hovered slightly above freezing, and moisture fell on all of the days, but the official measurement was .23 of an inch; except on Friday and Wednesday the days registered only traces of snow and sleet fell Wednesday morning, giving way to a light wind at noon and the rain through briefly late in the afternoon.

Wheat were kept out of their fields for the week, and remaining in the fields and feed crops suffered loss.

Wheat are scattered fields in the county where cotton and feed crops gathered and at least two inches of dry weather is needed to dry the remaining crops.

It is agreed that the winter has been agreeable weather than from the standpoint of crops gathered. There has been a full week of dry weather for cotton pull.

Curfew To Close Midnight Shows

Saturday midnight shows apparently are the only local entertainment events affected by the order of War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, establishing a midnight curfew on all entertainments.

The order will become effective next Monday.

This week-end will be the last of the midnight shows in Memphis, said Hollis Boren, owner of the Palace and Ritz theaters.

The order covers the entire nation and affects night clubs, dance halls, cafes, bars and all places of entertainment. Cafes serving only food are not affected.

Purpose of the order is to conserve fuel, transportation and manpower.

Lt. Baldwin Goes Back To Coast

Lt. (jg) Russell Lee Baldwin has returned to San Francisco after visiting here with Mrs. Baldwin and children, and his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Baldwin and other relatives. Lt. Baldwin was medical officer aboard a destroyer which was sunk in the battle of the Philippines off the coast of Leyte in October.

New OPA Orders On Beef Cattle Are Explained

New OPA regulations on the marketing and slaughtering of livestock, as explained to cattlemen, slaughterers at a meeting in Amarillo on Monday, will not materially affect retail market outlets, believe Memphis grocers who attended the meeting.

The new regulations were effective on Feb. 1, when a ceiling of $16.25 on grade A cattle was posted. All cattle must be sold by the pound hereafter, under the new regulations, and when meat is graded A or AA, the purchaser must pay the $16.25 ceiling price.

Wholesalers appear to be hard hit than retailers by the new regulations as their margin on resale is less and some of them who attended the meeting at Amarillo declared they would be forced to quit business.

Quotas on beef slaughtered for the local market are the same as last year, and slaughterers are held to 50 per cent of Grade A or better livestock. This will work no hardship locally, it is pointed out, as very little Grade A beef is killed and sold through the local markets.

Attending the meeting from Memphis were Bailey Gilmore of the Farmers Union Supply Co., John Vallance of the M System and Gus Rasco of the Frozen Food Lockers.

Claims Stolen Car; Promises Sheriff Fruit

Thos. Yeomans, grocery man of Lakewood, Fla., came here Tuesday night for his 1941 Ford coupe which had been stolen on Feb. 6 by Marvin L. McKensie and Phillip J. Cook and which Sheriff W. C. Anderson held for him after arresting the two soldier-convicts who had escaped from an army field stockade at Tamua.

The two youths, each under a five-year courtmartial sentence escaped from the stockade at Drew Field, and after stealing the car from in front of Yeoman's store, drove across four states before being apprehended here a week later.

The men were delivered to army authorities at Childress after they had signed written statements as to their escape, theft of the car and related a series of thefts along the route. Two suitcases and a quantity of clothing are held by the sheriff pending identification by the owners.

The youths said they stole the suitcases from railroad depots at Jackson, Miss., and Fort Worth. Charges of automobile theft could have been filed against them here but Sheriff Anderson and District Attorney Sam J. Hamilton decided against such action after FBI authorities advised that they turn the men over to the army.

We're Not Backing Up Our Heroes

The Marines who stormed ashore on Iwo Jima are suffering casualties by the thousands, one out of seven having been either wounded or killed in the first two days of fighting.

By contrast, the people of Hall County are buying only one out of five war bonds in their quota set for February.

We subscribed our quota in the Sixth War Loan in November, but since then the county has fallen down woefully in regular monthly purchases, reports O. V. Alexander, county finance chairman.

The January quota was $54,900 and our purchases were $16,601.

February quota is $36,300—and about one-fifth of the sum had been accounted for up to Wednesday, with only a week to go.

Chairman Alexander hopes the people of the community will make an extra effort in this direction during the remaining seven days in February. The Marines on Iwo probably hope so, too.

Bill Coursey Is Now Manager of Water Company

Bill Coursey this week became manager of the Community Public Service company in Memphis.

He succeeds C. H. Wallace who was transferred by the company to Olney as manager of the plant there.

Joe M. Kinard Is Wounded in Battle On German Front

Joe M. Kinard is wounded in battle on the German front.

Mr. Kinard is a member of the 41st Infantry, and the last letter his parents had from him was written from Germany on Jan. 15.

Circumstances as to how and where he obtained the Nazi officers uniform were not related by the young soldier. He merely told his parents he was sending them a package.

The uniform is that of an air force officer. Bars had been removed from the shoulder and his rank is not known. The uniform is complete with blouse, trouser belt and cap. A copy of a German newspaper was taken from the cap.

The uniform and newspaper are on display at the Democrat office.

Young Kinard was reared in Hall County in the Brice community and finished high school at Clarendon.

Deadline Near For Cream, Milk Subsidy Checks

Milk producers have only a few days left to receive their subsidy checks, warns W. M. Overton, secretary of the Hall County Agricultural Credit Association.

Payment will be made in April and May for the months of January, February and March.

Subsidies of 10 cents a pound on butter fat and 70 per hundred on whole milk are now being paid.

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

There is an old saying, "when in doubt, talk about the weather," for we have more of that than anything else, especially at the present time, such as mist, fog, rain, sleet, snow, and what have you. If one doesn't like the weather, he can wait a few minutes.

Anyway, the farmers are nearly done gathering their crops, after one of the most hectic crop-harvesting seasons in the history of the Panhandle country.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

Being the kind of a lazy fellow I am, I'd like to see someone come along who can teach cows how to milk themselves. But I don't think this is going to happen, so right now I'm interested in the best advance in milking methods that's been made in a couple of thousand years.

The new and improved way of milking is called the "correct milking method." It is faster, aids sanitation, has helped build volume and is a most important part of mastitis control.

The system calls for a few simple steps, as outlined by extension dairy-men. First, wash teats and udder with a chlorine solution which feels quite warm when you put your hand in it. Next, take two full-hand squeezes of each teat, into a strip cup.

Start milking immediately. When teat cups crawl, pull them down part way, using the free hand to massage the udder. Remove machine as soon as milk ceases to flow. Leaving it on may cause injury.

In hand milking use full hand strokes and stop when the milk quits flowing. Milking takes about three minutes by machine and from four to seven minutes by hand.

Next, remove milker units and dip the teat cups into a chlorine solution before applying to next cow or, in hand milking, wash hands in warm, sudsy water.

I mentioned a short time ago that an article on this method of milking has been reprinted and is now available. A lot of dairymen have already written in and asked for this reprint and I suggest you get an order in for your copy right away. Write Uncle Bob at 500 Peshigo Court, Chicago, 90, Ill., and ask for "How to Milk a Cow—and Why."

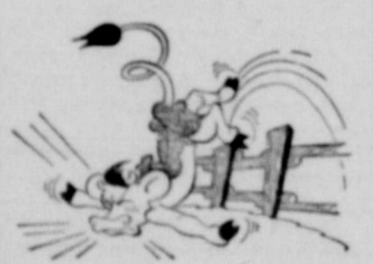

No doubt you have a bunch of educated cows, but I don't suppose they can write. If they could, and made out a list of the hay they like best, alfalfa would be at the top.

Hay and pasture are the foundation for your entire dairy feeding program. Now is the best time to make your hay plans for 1945 and even 1946.

I hope you will include at least an acre of alfalfa per cow. Illinois figures 25 pounds of high quality alfalfa hay will furnish all the protein required to produce about 30 pounds of 4 per cent milk.

Alfalfa will give your cows all the calcium they need. In winter it is the best source of Vitamins A and D. If you don't have alfalfa, look to some of the other legumes, such as the clovers, soybeans, lespedeza or good mixed hay.

Valuable suggestions for planning your hay program will be found in USDA Farmers' Bulletin 1626, Extension Bulletin 217, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., and Extension Circular 122, Mississippi State College, Miss.*

An ancient story in my collection is about a man who was marvelling at a friend, who he said, ran ten miles and then jumped over a six foot fence. "Yeah, but look at the long start he had," said the party he was telling this to.

The start your calves get is about the most important thing in their whole lives. If they are troubled with scours, colics, ringworm or other things which bother young stock, it may cut down their milk production in later years.

Scours generally results from indigestion. Improper feeding, drinking too fast, cold milk, sour milk and dirty utensils or dirty feeding troughs can cause scours.

You will get a lot of help on treating scours from a veterinarian and from the following bulletins: Extension Bulletin 377, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo., Extension Bulletin B-104, Texas A. & M. College, College Station, Texas, and Extension Circular 308, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisc.*

*NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state; but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

Paschall Tells of Hiking 17 Miles Snow Through German Lines After Being Lost for Six Days in Germany

Member of the famous lost battalion of General Hodges' First Army, Pfc. Raymond Paschall describes his experiences as "some of the worst I would ever have." He wouldn't take a million dollars for it, but relates in detail his treacherous hike through German lines the next morning. And, was glad to escape capture. What a Christmas present that was! I lost all of my personal belongings and those Christmas packages sure came in handy. Anyway, I think I have reaped the Krauts full of my troubles. I think it was through the grace of God and some of my officers that I made it through. Now don't think too much about what I have just written. I did not suffer very much in the way of hardships. In fact, I would not take a million dollars for the experience. Coming through the lines that night I came within a few yards of German artillery and a few yards of other German troops. Anyway, you can read the papers and find out the big picture of things now.

that is over with. I saw some pretty exciting times, such as being cut off about six days.

"Anyway, Christmas night I hiked about 17 miles over snow covered mountains, thick forests and underbrush and through barbed wire fences and reached our lines the next morning. And, was glad to escape capture. What a Christmas present that was! I lost all of my personal belongings and those Christmas packages sure came in handy. Anyway, I think I have reaped the Krauts full of my troubles. I think it was through the grace of God and some of my officers that I made it through. Now don't think too much about what I have just written. I did not suffer very much in the way of hardships. In fact, I would not take a million dollars for the experience. Coming through the lines that night I came within a few yards of German artillery and a few yards of other German troops. Anyway, you can read the papers and find out the big picture of things now.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel mucus, soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are your money back.

Some of my experiences, of a few months back, so far as I know and can figure I think I can say that I was with the second artillery gun into Germany. I helped shell the first German town, and pulled the string on the first artillery piece fired on the inside of Germany."

6 Nazi Gave Up To Sgt. Holcomb Day He Landed

The first day he landed in Southern France, six Germans came out of a canyon and surrendered to him, Sgt. Jack W. Holcomb relates in a letter to Sam J. Hamilton. Sgt. Holcomb, a member of the Army medical battalion, wrote from "Somewhere in France," under date of December 17.

"Mother wrote that the Wynn boy was home on furlough from here in France," he said, "and he was the only Memphis boy that I have met overseas. I've been with his unit some since he went home. There are lots of Hall County boys in this theater but it is difficult to get around to see them.

"I would give my right arm to get to see my family now. My two daughters must be quite grown up now. Sandra Kay was three years old the day we made the landing in Southern France. Since then I've seen and had a lot of experiences. The first day on the beach I had six Germans come out of a canyon and give up to me—a medic. I was really scared when I saw them come out and they put their hands up just before I was fixing to do the same. The officer had a fully loaded pistol in his holster. Now I have it.

"The only thing that kept us from advancing faster than we did was the lack of gasoline. They just couldn't keep up so we had to slow down. I'll have to admit that we had it easy in some places. The people simply went wild and the streets and windows were one solid mass of flags, wine, fruit and other things were given to us as we walked or rode through the streets of some liberated villages.

"This sounds like a fairy story but all of our advances were not so easy. Some places were turned into a living hell by artillery and mortar fire, not to speak of mines and booby-traps. These Jerries mine every place that we have to use to advance.

"In one place we knocked out a ferry convoy of more than 2,000 vehicles and artillery pieces and around 1,000 horses were killed. Several large calibre railroad guns were knocked out also. This gives you a good idea of what our artillery and air force can do for the enemy. This war leaves lots of debris in its wake, just like a passing storm. It's small though when you think of the lives taken so that the cause would not fail. I'd be appy if none of our boys had to see another day of combat.

"Thanks again for the letter and do write again. May God bless you folks."

Early Action on Youth Training Seen in Capital

Despite appeals from group opposing the enacting by Congress of a compulsory universal training law for youth it is known that plans are under way on Capitol Hill to guide the new Congress to the early enactment of a compulsory training law.

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum, chairman of the committee, said that hearings and studies would be conducted with a view to aiding legislative committees in the consideration of the bills, and other members of the committee spoke in terms of purely military programs in discussing the proposed legislation.

Speaking as the chairman of the Military Committee, Representative Andrew W. May predicted that if any measure was reported out by his group it would be "a purely military program. Mr. May remarked, emphatically, that "we do not want any CCC or NYA, or other combinations in this program."

Representative James W. Wadsworth, of New York, co-author of the Selective Service Act, and sponsor of pending legislation on military training for youth said that in his opinion the House would not accept proposals for a universal service system other than military.

"Congress has been given the power to raise and maintain armies and navies for the protection of the nation," he said, "and in a program like this I do not believe it will set out to raise and maintain civic groups."

The studies which the House Committee on Post-War Military Policy expect to make will go beyond the general subject of an enactment of a universal program for youths, according to Chairman Woodrum.

"Our committee," Mr. Woodrum said, "will want to see what can be done about those groups of youths who are not equipped physically to undertake training for strenuous military and combat duty. We will want to see what training can be given them so that if war comes again they will be trained for a part in that war despite their physical shortcomings, rather than walking the streets as 4-F's. Also, we expect to see what can be done about conscientious objectors besides sending them to camps."

New Fat Salvage Program Begun

Salvage collections of tin and wastepaper must intensify beyond "Victory in Europe" day the War Production Board has announced. Drives for the collection of these materials must be intensified throughout the nation, WPB stated.

The Office of War Information has issued a review of the drive results based on a recapitulation of information obtained from WPB, the Office of Price Administration and the Office of Civilian Defense. The review shows that in addition to tin and paper, the drives for fats and old rags must be intensified.

OWI reports that the drive for old clothes for people in the liberated areas, now ended, was the only unsuccessful campaign launched to date.

The tin from salvaged cans is needed both for military and civilian use, and with the need for waste paper will not slacken until after the war in Europe has ended.

Salvage officials said that there was a notable falling off in tin collections following the announcement that it was no longer necessary to turn in old tubes when purchasing shaving cream tooth paste and kindred articles. The public apparently got the impression that the need for tin was growing less, although the reason for the order was that tin no longer was used in the manufacture of the tubes.

The collection goal for waste paper this year was set at eight million tons. More than 5,800,000 tons were received during the first ten months.

Salvaging household fats will be a necessity during all of 1945. Rag collection drives also will be continued.

Collection of scrap iron and steel is now centered on industry and farms, the two main sources of heavy scrap. Aluminum, for which the first metal scrap drive was organized, is now being produced in sufficient quantities and scrap is not needed.

OWI states that rubber, discarded silk and nylon hosiery drives have been discontinued. These materials are no longer needed.

Contrary to popular belief lettuce contains no opium.

Dealers Warned Not To Hold Back 1942 Model Cars

Buyers and sellers of both new and used 1942 automobiles have been reminded by the enforcement division of the Office of Price Administration that a dealer who refuses to sell a 1942 car to the holder of a certificate who offers the ceiling price for the car is in violation of rationing regulations.

This regulation has been in effect since November, but many instances have been referred to the district office of dealers attempting to evade the regulation by saying the car is for their own use or that it has been promised to someone else.

Dealers are required to post in a conspicuous place a complete and current list of all 1942 cars held for sale. If a dealer refuses to sell a 1942 car to an eligible buyer he may be prohibited from selling any rationed car to anyone other than a dealer.

4-H Club Week Observance Set For March 3-11

Hall County 4-H club boys and girls are making plans for observance of national 4H club week March 3 to 11—but there will be no unusual activities.

The national observance week however, brings to light some highly interesting figures on the report of 4H club members.

For instance, 4-H club boys and girls in America have cultivated 450,000 acres of Victory gardens. They are responsible for 47 million quarts of canned food, and they have produced two million head of livestock and dairy cattle for war-time use.

In addition, club members purchased or sold to others 14 million dollars worth of war bonds and have collected 300 million pounds of scrap material.

Magazine Will Carry Article on County 4-H Clubs

The Progressive Farmer is gathering data for an article on the work of 4-H Club members in Hall County in rural electrification.

Hall County was state winner in 1944 in the extension service contest for work in the rural electrification field. A full report on the activities of the 4-H Club members in this endeavor has been obtained from County Agent W. B. Hooser by the editors of the magazine.

Last week they wrote asking for additional data and photos.

One of the major activities of the clubs in Hall County in rural electrification last year was the series of demonstrations held at various places in the county, when club members were taught to handle minor repair problems or wires and electric motors and fixtures.

OUR NEIGHBORS GET THEIR ROADS APPROVED

From our exchanges we learn that many of our neighboring counties are busy with highway plans for the post-war development program. Highway construction projects are being submitted to the state commission and are being approved; the counties are providing the right-of-way, and engineering forces are making surveys and locations. These counties will have their road programs ready for immediate action when the "go" sign is given for new construction.

The matter of funds for new roads is no longer a problem. The federal aid road bill was authorized by congress some months ago; the allotment to Texas has been made. Our state highway department is accumulating a large road building fund, which will be used in conjunction with the federal aid.

It boils down to this: The county that presses its bid with the highway department and gets all of the preliminary work out of the way in the meantime will be the one given first consideration when the state launches its vast program of new highway construction; that county that marks time, ignores its duty and fails to cooperate with the highway department, will be a long time getting any new roads.

In our opinion the paving of Highway 256 west from Mulberry creek is or should be top on the list of public projects in any program made up by the chamber of commerce of Memphis. We will get this road paved if and when we formulate a clear-cut program, press our case—and continually keep active in behalf of the project. The end of the war is now in sight and a vast road-improvement program soon is to be launched in Texas. We get what we go after—just as other counties do.

A MATTER OF BEING GOOD NEIGHBORS

Gardening time is here and the matter of chickens and dogs running at large again is a problem. City ordinances in this respect are all-inclusive; they simply make it obligatory upon the owner of livestock, poultry and pets to keep them at home, fenced in or otherwise under control. The burden is not upon the neighbor; he isn't compelled to fence his garden or flower beds to keep them from being destroyed by roving livestock or fowls.

Yet, in Memphis as in all other places, it is virtually impossible to enforce such ordinances. Rather than laws it is a matter of attitude that will control such matters. The owner of dogs and chickens or other animals or fowls, will, if he is a good neighbor, see that his animals stay at home; if he is as considerate of his neighbors as he would like his neighbors to treat him, there won't be any gardens or yards destroyed by chickens and dogs running at large. People who want to do right don't need too many laws, and if they don't care what happens to their neighbors, laws won't do much good.

Press Paragraphs

SELECTED FROM THE
DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGE

Undoubtedly the Number One problem of this part of the world during the next several months is going to be farm labor. That the solution of this problem will not be an easy one but that it can be at least partially solved or softened up is the belief of local farm leaders.

Provision is going to have to be made for quarters for any labor which is obtained from the outside, it seems certain, and the people of the country are going to have to work closely and plan ahead with the U. S. employment service. Right now with bottle necks everywhere in labor only those regular channels, work closely with the official agencies are going to get this labor. So believe the committeemen of the county ward board.

Quite likely they are correct.—Floyd County Hesperian.

Married women as teachers have long been a thorn in the side of superintendents and trustees. The woman with a husband proved too independent, too demanding, and too often reflected her marital troubles in the class room.

Now a married woman, a war-time development, has been found who is even more desirable as a teacher than a single woman.

The woman with a husband in the service, preferably overseas is making the best teacher in the public schools. She is married

HOW FREE MEN FIGHT

Ask any German or Jap. They'll tell you that free men are adaptable, courageous, invincible. Business and banking under the free-enterprise system are also unbeatable—responsive to America's needs, alert, progressive. Yet there are reformers who would "centralize" and "socialize" business and banking. You have seen how free men fight. You have seen how business and banking, serving in the free American Way, have made our country great. What do you think is the best American Way?

Judge Goodpasture Home from Austin Meeting of County Officials Opposing Division of Auto License Receipts

The public as a whole would be penalized through higher taxes if car license funds are divided between cities and counties under a legislative proposal, declares Judge M. O. Goodpasture, who has returned from Austin where he attended a called meeting of county judges and commissioners.

and settled without the interference of a husband. She is eager to keep occupied until the war ends. Her willingness to cooperate is more than the usual thing in the state school system. Last, her salary is augmented by the government allotment and the low pay of a teacher is not constantly on her mind.—Quanah Tribune-Chief.

While the country is in the depths of a man power shortage and the draft boards are being instructed to strip the farms of young men where already old men and women are working long hours to the point of complete physical exhaustion this one comes from Saint Louis: "Operators of Saint Louis movie houses last night asked the government to let them contribute to the war program the services of 167 union employees who drew high wages for doing nothing. Through union pressure, to operators contend, they have been forced to employ men for whom they have no work. All of the approximately 190 unionized movie houses in the city are compelled to employ two stage hands for each theatre, although more than fifty of them have no stages of any kind." What is true of Saint Louis is no doubt true in every city of any size in the country.—Foard Cluney News.

WOMEN WORK

By INEZ BAKER

The Red Cross drive in the residential section is coming on nicely. There is a friendly rivalry between the southeast section, Mrs. O. V. Alexander, chairman, and the northwest section with Mrs. Mae Tarver as chairman. I can't tell you just how much these sections have taken in because they are keeping it a secret from each other until all the work is completed. But if other sections do as well accordingly we shall have much more money to report than last year.

Over in Morning Side the people are very interested and almost every one has contributed. Mrs. June Dickson who is the teacher of the Morning Side school has charge of that section and is really doing a good work. They are all very happy to have a part in this, the gifts to their sons who are fighting for their country.

Remember there are still many socks to be made. Call for the yarn. We have just received 288 more kit bags. The Parnell auxiliary has taken its quota of 25 of these bags and all others are urged to get their quotas as soon as possible. Mrs. Murray Dodson is very anxious that these bags be completed at an early date.

Forchheimer was charged with violation of OPA apparel and shoe regulations. Injunction was granted forbidding the violation of ceiling prices on apparel and the sale of shoes without collecting ration stamps at the time of the sale.

The $2,500.00 was made payable to the Treasurer of the United States.

A bill is now pending before the legislature to give cities a portion of the automobile license funds, but the county judges and commissioners association of Texas is opposing the plan. As a member of the legislative committee of the state association from the 31st senatorial district Judge Goodpasture was called to Austin last week.

He and possibly some of the county commissioners expect to be called back when the bill goes to the house.

The bill proposes to give to cities 40 per cent of the car registration fees now going to counties.

If the funds are divided would be necessary to raise proper valuations in order to provide revenue for adequate maintenance of county roads, in the opinion of Judge Goodpasture and whenever valuations are raised property owners pay that much more to the state. The state tax rates uses the same valuation basis as is used by the county. The county is restricted to 10 cents on the $100 valuation for

Methodist Church Revival Meeting Starts March 21

A revival meeting at the Methodist church has been announced for March 21 to Easter—Sunday, April 1, with Rev. P. E. Yarborough, the pastor, to do the preaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Erwin of Fort Worth will be in charge of the singing, young people's and children's work and visitation. Mr. Erwin is acknowledged as one of the best choir directors in the state and is an accomplished soloist and trombonist. Mrs. Erwin plays the piano. They are members of the Presbyterian church but have worked extensively with churches of all denominations.

The community at large is invited to participate freely in all of these services, Rev. Yarborough announces.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Memphis received the following letter from her son, Pfc. Ozie Polasek who is with a field hospital in Belgium.

Dearest Mother:

How are you all by now? Fine I hope. As for myself, I am getting so fat that I can hardly get around. I weigh 175 pounds now and if I stay here much longer I guess I will top 200 pounds but hope I stay like I am. I am healthier now than I have been in a long time and that's no hay.

Mother, I received the Christmas package yesterday that you and dad sent me. Thanks a million, those things sure will help out a lot and I don't mean maybe.

Mother, I don't think it will be long now until this war will be over. At the rate the Russians are going now, I would guess it to be over the middle of February and don't think I will miss it much and am sure I will guess it close. Just so its over before next summer is all I care so I can be back to get me a business started of some kind, and I don't think it will be farming either.

Mother, when was the last time you saw Genice and little Jim? I haven't heard from anyone in about 2 weeks but I guess the mail is tied up somewhere as usual. I write you, Genice, and Mom Travis every day now, and I guess I will from now on.

Mother, is Paul still at home? I wish I could hear from him. I wrote him the last letter, but looks as if I am going to have to write him again if I get an answer.

Mother, I guess you all are still pulling cotton. Does Paul still work at the gin? How does he like his job by now? Fine, I hope. I am still on guard duty. I still carry a gun and I like my job just fine.

Mother, that Christmas card you and dad sent me sure was nice, but it made me kinda homesick though.

Are the girls still going to school? I bet that Barbara Lynn sure is smart in her books. I can't think of much more to write so I will send you a little poem that I think is kinda cute. Let the kin folks get a gander at it. I made it up. Lots of love, Son Ozie

Soldier Overseas Asks Letters, Even From His Enemies

Pvt. Lee Roy White, who writes from overseas to his mother, Mrs. Pearl White of Amarillo and formerly of Memphis, wants to receive letters from the home-folks, even "my enemies," he stated.

Pvt. White, who is in the European theater, is a graduate of Memphis high school.

In his letter he said: "Tell everyone to write to me, even my enemies. They are my friends now, if you ever prayed for anyone, do it now. I have learned how to take and do a lot of things I never did before. I know how to now, believe me."

America Can Expect Any Next War To Be Fought Here, Say Army Chiefs

America probably will be the principal objective of the aggressor in any next war and the first engagements of that war will quite probably be fought in our own "backyard," the War Department said in reiterating its stand for a purely military universal training for the peace years ahead.

Jones Boys From Texas Show How To Fight Nazis

The two Jones boys of the 736th Ordnance Company of the 1st "Texas" Division, Sergeant Virgil Jones, Austin, Texas, and Corporal Barney Jones, Paris, Texas, are not related, but both have been awarded the Soldier's Medal for heroic action during the landing of the Riviera.

When an LST laying off shore was hit by a radio controlled bomb the Jones boys, without regard for personal safety, rescued many soldiers and sailors from certain death. Ignoring the exploding ammunition and burning oil that was the ship's cargo, they jumped into the water and made their way to the drowning men. Working indefatigably under a constant threat of enemy action, they carried the injured survivors to a place of safety on the shore. They made several hazardous trips to the burning vessel and administered first aid and evacuated the wounded to nearby aid stations.

And, after the excitement was over, Jones, the sergeant, remarked to Jones the corporal: "Well, Jonesy, I guess we were the first to take a dip in the Riviera."

Mrs. Virgil C. Jones, the sergeant's wife, resides at 1411 Clover Lane, in Fort Worth, Texas. Mrs. Barney Jones, wife of the corporal, lives in Deport, Texas. Both men mobilized with the Texas Division. They have seen action in Italy, Africa, and France, and have participated in the landing at Salerno and the Riviera.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation for the words of sympathy and kind deeds shown us in the loss of our husband and father. May God bless each of you as our prayer.

Mrs. H. F. Cunningham and Family.

Pneumonia Is More Prevalent During Early Spring

According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, pneumonia caused over 2,800 deaths last year in Texas, a reduction over the previous year but still too high. It is more prevalent during the winter and spring months.

Pneumonia is usually caused by a germ called pneumococcus which many of us have lurking in our throats ready to start trouble when our resistance to it is lowered. We can keep up our resistance by avoiding undue fatigue and avoiding unnecessary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go out into the cold, additional wraps should be sufficient to protect us. Keeping the temperature of our homes as low as is consistent with comfort will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we go out.

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is not to neglect a cold, for the common cold often results in pneumonia when neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home and call his physician as a precautionary measure. Then he should follow his physician's advice until the cold has disappeared.

The successful treatment of a pneumonia case often depends upon beginning treatment very early. That is why a physician should be called at once in such cases. A patient may really have beginning pneumonia when he thinks it is only a cold. If the physician's advice is sought for the cold he will have an opportunity to start treatment early if pneumonia occurs in such cases.

Making It Hot for the Luftwaffe

ON THE WESTERN FRONT where heavy snowfalls and extreme cold have severely hampered Allied air activity, RAF aircraft are given a special warming-up treatment before taking off in search of the enemy. Members of the RAF ground crew service a Typhoon fighter-bomber at an airfield just behind the front lines attach collapsible tubes which convey hot air from a pre-heating van to the plane's radiator.

Pvt. Luke Colwell Awarded Badge For Front Action

Private First Class Luke M. Colwell, son of Mr. Ira Colwell of Route 1, Memphis, has been cited by the 339th "Polar Bear" Regiment of the 85th "Custer" Division and awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge for actual participation in combat against the enemy with the Fifth Army in Italy.

Standards for the badge are high. The decoration is awarded to the infantry soldier who has proved his fighting ability in combat.

The handsome badge consists of a silver rifle set against a background of infantry blue, enclosed in a silver wreath.

Loss of John W. Hayes Is Told by Superior Officers

"The entire division has suffered a personal loss in the death of your husband," according to a letter received by Mrs. L. Hayes of Estelline from Brig. Gen. A. R. Bolling of the 84th Infantry division. Her husband Pfc. John W. Hayes, was killed in Belgium on January 4.

"He met his death while engaged in action against the enemy. During the stress of combat he remained cheerful and cool-headed, and was an inspiration to his fellow soldiers," wrote General Bolling.

Mrs. Hayes also received a letter from Col. Hugh C. Parker, commanding officer of the 335th Infantry, in which he declared: "We, the officers and men of the 335th Infantry, want you to know that as you are grieving the loss of a loved one, we are likewise grieving the loss of a valuable member of this command."

"John was well liked by every man in his Company and had many friends in the Regiment. He worked hard, did his share, or more, of every job assigned him and still found time to make himself beloved by all."

"John was killed in action in Belgium on 4 January 1945 when he served his country to his utmost and was greatly admired by all his countrymen."

"Please feel free to write to me for any advice or any other help in connection with the death of your husband."

SAFETY FIRST

for you and your car!

WARNING! The traffic toll in winter regularly amounts to a peak fifty per cent higher than the summer accident rate.

And this winter, because tires and cars are older, cars and lives will be wrecked at a rate far greater than ever, unless YOU do something about it! So take every possible precaution. . . Drive slowly and alertly, because it requires from four to seven times the usual braking distance to stop a car, without chains, wet snow or ice. . . Don't close on the car ahead. . . Slow down well before reaching crossings. . . Watch out for pedestrians picking their way in hazy twilight or darkness.

At any other time in our nation's history, there would have been something sacrilegious in discussing the saving of cars in the same breath as the saving of human life. Today, however, the country's war effort and well-being depend on an ever-dwindling supply of essential transportation. Lives are important, and so are irreplaceable automobiles.

Do your humane and patriotic part to save lives. Let your Phillips 66 Service Man do his patriotic part to help you save your car.

He has many engineered Tire-Saving and Car-Saving services. Some are free; some carry a small charge for materials and labor. All are a real aid in making your car and your tires last longer and go further.

Drive in at the Orange and Black 66 Shield, the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil. But for safety's sake, drive s-l-o-w-l-y!

to the Red Cross drive? If not make it now in order that Hall County may report "over the top" on March 1—the day the national drive is scheduled to start. For once, let's be the head, not the tail.

Then, there is the matter of the monthly war bond quota. We are woefully behind this very necessary aid to the war effort. This is not a time to let down.

It looks like union labor leaders have scored again. The work of fight bill, requested by President Roosevelt, is practically shelved in Congress, and will not likely come up for action. Yet America does not stop sending her sons into service, and at a pitiful wage, while labor unions get high prices and strike any time they think they can force wages higher. "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

The war gets worse in both the East and West. It has reached a point where people dread coming to town each morning because the new day may bring reports of another son being wounded, missing or killed. These sons cannot rest take a day off, or strike for more pay. There is something wrong when labor can demand and servicemen cannot.

Claims Stolen Car—

As the men already were under prison sentences the army would have claimed them before they could have been brought to trial it was believed.

Yeomans said the car had been marked in front of his store only a few minutes when it was stolen. Lakewood is about 60 miles from Tampa, where the men escaped from the camp prison. Yeomans said he notified the police at once and a description of the car was broadcast on the police radio.

Sheriff Anderson refused to take any pay from the Florida grocer for his trouble in recovering the car and taking care of it. "Do you like grapefruit and oranges?" the man asked.

"Who doesn't," replied Sheriff Anderson—and now he's waiting for a crate bearing a Florida shipping tag.

The brietest side of politics is on the inside.

A WARTIME APPEAL TO CIVILIANS

Conserve the Time and Energy of the Greatly Reduced Number of Doctors Through

VOLUNTARY RATIONING OF MEDICAL CARE

As more and more doctors join the armed forces the problem of serving the civilian population with adequate medical care becomes increasingly critical. The purpose of this message is to point out several ways to conserve the time and energy of the greatly overburdened doctors whose responsibility is to give medical care to those on the home front.

Your Cooperation Will Assure Better Medical Care for All

How can you and your family get the most from the limited medical services that will be available? Here are some suggestions for "voluntary rationing" that will assure better medical care for all:

Go to Your Doctor's Office If You Can

Avoid asking your doctor to call at your home. Go to his office if possible. This will not only save his time, but will save you money as well.

Phone for House Calls Before 8:30 A. M.

When house calls are necessary, phone your doctor before 8:30 o'clock in the morning if possible. Then he can plan his house calls efficiently and avoid back-tracking, thereby saving his time, gasoline and tires.

Be Patient! Doctors Are Very Busy

Remember, your doctor has almost twice as many patients as before. Please be patient if the house calls are delayed or longer waits are necessary at his office, and don't waste his time with foolish questions either at his office or over the phone.

Help Your Doctor Protect His Health

Your overworked doctor must have his sleep and regular meals to protect his health. SLEEP is important. Day calls are cheaper than night calls. Call your doctor before the sun goes down. Avoid night calls except in extreme emergency.

Don't Neglect Early Signs of Sickness

Watch for early signs of sickness. Don't try to "wait out" obvious symptoms. When children awake in the morning with 100 degrees temperature or more, phone your doctor at once.

Use the Phone in Minor Cases

Often a few minutes on the phone with your doctor will straighten out minor cases. Use the phone and let your doctor decide if a call is necessary.

It Is Your Patriotic Duty to Protect Your Health in Wartime

Watch your diet. Live sanely . . . get plenty of rest . . . drink lots of water . . . do all things necessary to protect your health. It takes a vigorous, healthy nation to fight and win a war.
