RAIN VARIES FROM HALF TO 2 INCHES OVER COUNTY

May Save Late Cotton As Most Fields Planted

Rain, varying from a half to two inches Wednesday night over most of the county, following good showers Saturday night, materially changed crop prospects in this area. With a feverish rush during first of the week to get late cotton planted, farmers Thursday were confident that sufficient moisture had been received to bring up late crops—and cotton already up was assured of continued good growth.

Wednesday night's rain was heaviest south of the river, ranging from an estimated inch at Estelline to two inches in the Parnell section. Memphis had .31 of an inch but the slow drizzle, which set in about 8:30, was heavier to the west, with Eli, Lakeview and Plaska reporting a half inch or better. Moisture Saturday night ranged from .25 in Memphis to an inch in the Turkey area, and sent most farmers into their fields to plant late cotton acreage. The latest precipitation will be sufficient to bring crops up, farmers report. No damage was done to growing crops, as the rain was in the form of a slow drizzle. No hail was reported. Last night's rain seemed to be general over the Panhandle. Amarillo had an inch and Donley County reported a half inch. Below Memphis it was heavy from Estelline to Childress. Cotton acreage in Hall County will be considerably under the 1944 figure, regardless of how much it rains, reports County Agent W. B. Hooser. Many farmers are not taking chances on cotton planted this late and will put in larger feed crops. Wheat acreage in the county, too, was heavier this season than in recent years and is expected to show a further gain this fall.

Boy, 3, Eats Fruit, Dies

When Donnie Ray King's mother started peeling peaches to eat Monday afternoon the three-year-old boy wanted to help; she let him remain in the kitchen with her, but while she was busy at the stove she didn't know that he was eating the peaches, some of which were green. Donnie Ray ate too many of them—and died at 8:45 Tuesday morning in a local hospital. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. King, 423 Montgomery street, rushed him to the hospital about midnight when he awoke in great pain. Doctors worked over him for several hours but the effects of the poisoning were too far along and his condition gradually grew worse. Funeral services were held for Donnie Ray this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Estes chapel, conducted by Rev. R. D. King, pastor of the Church of God, assisted by Rev. H. M. Harlow of the Nazarene Church. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of the Estes Funeral home. Pall bearers were Ralph and Richard Limer, Elmer Childress and Eddie Gilchrist. Survivors are the parents, a brother, Willard P., two sisters, Beverly Lynn and Demarius Lee, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. King of Memphis and Mrs. Lessie Simmons of Midland.

Two Local Boys Meet In India

Meeting in India was a very interesting experience for Pfc. Ray Hearne and Mrs. J. L. Hearne, the following letter tells of a chance meeting with J. D. Wise of Estelline. Dear Mother, I received your letter and was very glad to hear from you again. I am making it just fine and hope this letter finds you in the best of health. Dear, I'm so happy I don't know what to do. I went over to get a cup of coffee tonight and met a boy from Memphis. He and I chummed around a little while before the war. His name is J. D. Wise. His mother lives at Estelline. He knew everyone at Memphis that I did. Believe me you will never know how happy I was to see someone from home. It was just like walking in on brother. We looked at each other a minute to see if our eyes were seeing correctly. We all but hugged and kissed each other and talked about everything and everyone in Hall County. Especially what we were going to do when we get home. That will be the happiest day of my life. I have been here about 12 months and hadn't seen anyone I knew from home. J. D. will be stationed here at my base, so I suppose we will see quite a bit of each other. Well, mother, it's 5:00 A. M. and I can't hold my eyes open so I must get to sleep. Tell everyone hello and write me often. Lots of love to all of you, Your son, RAY

To Protest New Route On Highway

Proposed re-routing of Highway 287 along the railroad through Memphis, will be protested by a committee which will appear before the city council at its meeting on July 3. Present routing of the Highway is on Noel and Tenth streets, but the highway department has for the past year favored a change and has asked the city commission to provide right-of-way beside the railroad tracks. Jim King of the highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce at the last meeting of the city council reported John Nabors, division engineer, was urging immediate action by the council. The highway department has plans drawn for paving of the new location, he declared, if the city will stand the cost of getting adequate right-of-way. There would be considerable property damages involved, and as yet the city has taken no action one way or the other on the proposal.

Met His Death on Giant Carrier

Hall and his widow, Mrs. Charlene Hall and small son, William DeKalb, all live in Memphis.

Civilian Mob Awaits Him in Parachute Landing— Small Pistol Tucked in Shirt Saves Life of Lonnie Thompson

On last June 26 1st-Lt. Lonnie D. Thompson was lying prone in the middle of a street on the outskirts of Vienna, surrounded by a mob of civilians armed with clubs, knives and other weapons. He had dropped some 10,000 feet in a parachute from a B-24 Liberator bomber, which had been shot to pieces by Nazi fighter planes; he was suffering from shrapnel wounds about his body, in his head and face. He landed on his back and for a brief moment was unconscious. As he opened his eyes he saw a man's boots; he was being stomped in the face. As he tried to get to his feet, another man started swinging at him with a scythe. Lt. Thompson thought fast and acted in a hurry. Reaching inside his shirt he pulled out a .25-caliber automatic pistol and stood off his attackers until a detail of German soldiers arrived from a nearby air field and rescued him from the mob.

He believes if it had not been for that small pistol given him on Christmas Eve, 1943, by Chief of Police Sid Harper of Amarillo, that he would have been killed before the German soldiers reached him.

The small automatic was not part of his "pack," but he always took it with him when he went on bombing missions over Nazi targets from his Fifteenth Air Force base in Italy, stuffing it inside his shirt. "And, did it come in handy," he says now, since he is back home, having been liberated from a prison camp in Southern Germany on April 29 by the 14th Armored Division of the Third Army. That fateful June 26 was the "roughest day" he ever saw in the air and it was the fifteenth mission he had been on as flight leader. His plane was the first one jumped on, and the first one shot down in an air battle which saw 63 American planes knocked out of the sky. Four members of his crew were fatally wounded and were unable to bail out. There had been a "slip-up" somewhere down the line or Hitler's intelligence force was out. (Continued on page ten)

Tarver Is C-C Head

Horace Tarver is the new president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. He was the unanimous choice of the board of directors at a special meeting Friday night. Mr. Tarver, long active in civic affairs, was named to succeed C. T. Johnson, who last week moved to Plainview. Solution of the airport problem is a project which will receive his immediate attention, Mr. Tarver told the directors. As a member of the city council Mr. Tarver was named by Mayor C. C. Hodges on the council's airport committee and in this dual capacity expects to press for action in solving the airport problem.

Men Overseas Buy $9,500 in Bonds as E Quota Is Raised

Hall County men and women overseas not only are fighting a war; they're helping buy our quota of E bonds in the Seventh War Loan. They have bought $9,500 in bonds in the present drive, State Chairman Nathan Adams of Dallas reports. Although Hall County is still far from its overall goal of $435,000 in the Mighty Seventh Loan, the good news was received Wednesday that its quota in E bonds had been raised. The E bond quota was $210,000 and Chairman Adams wired County Chairman O. V. Alexander that "Hall County has exceeded its quota." The latest tabulation showed total bond purchases in the county at $265,895. "The E bond goals are our toughest hurdles," said Adams at Dallas bond headquarters. "In topping this quota Hall County has done a hard job, and done it well. We extend our sincere appreciation both to the people who have invested in American victory, and to the war bond leaders and workers who made this success possible. "Keep up the good work. The state hopes soon to bear that Hall County is over the top in its entire Seventh War Loan quota."

Rites Saturday for Mrs. Eliza A. Clark, Interment at Waco

Of this union four children were born, all of whom survive her. They are Dr. Clark and Mrs. Weathersbee of Memphis, John W. Clark of Waco and Lonnie E. Clark of Oklahoma City. ### Talks His Way Off Hospital Ship To Rejoin Troops Fighting on Iwo; Lt. Keith Wells Expects to Go Back

Although he has been on two overseas "missions" to fight the Japanese, first as a paratrooper in the Guadalcanal invasion and then on 'two Jima for 24 days with the 5th Marine Division—when only two men of his platoon escaped death or battle wounds, 1st Lt. Keith Wells of Lakeview, expects to go back in the near future. It was a detail from Lt. Wells' platoon which planted the first American flag on Suribachi Mt., but he had been wounded by or the rest of the campaign, beset by shrapnel and machine gun bullets the day before and was on a hospital ship at the time. He climbed Suribachi and re-joined his men the following day, however, after "talking his way" off the hospital ship—and remained on Iwo Jima for again being placed on a hospital ship and sent to a rear base. He is on a 30-day leave from the Naval Hospital at Norman, Okla., visiting his father, Delbert, but he had been wounded by

New Sewage Disposal Plant Faces City as Post-War Project

As a "must" project in the city's post-war program will be the construction of a new sewage disposal plant, Mayor C. C. Hodges has announced. "Our facilities at the disposal plant," said Mayor Hodges, "have deteriorated to the point that the city will be forced to take action as soon as materials can be obtained. "Cost of the project has not been estimated," he said, "but there is no getting around the fact that it will cost a considerable sum of money." Due to war conditions the state health department has not been strict in the enforcement of its regulations in regard to the disposal of sewage, Mayor Hodges explained, but he is confident that prompt action will be demanded by the state department as soon as materials are available.

Childress Airmen Smother Owls 14 to 0 for Second Pasting of Season; Play in Amarillo Sunday

Fans who saw Sunday's game between the Owls and Childress Army Air Field are of the opinion that the local nine won't be insisting on any more games soon with the Airmen.

For, Childress handed the Owls their second pasting Sunday for their only two defeats of the season and Sunday's drubbing was about the worst the Owls have had in many months.

It was simply too much Childress, in the field, at bat and especially in the pitcher's box. The Airmen paraded four classic twirlers to the mound. None of them was in trouble at any time, but apparently all wanted a chance to toss a few to the Owls.

The Owls were blanked Sunday completely smothered by the score of 14 to 0.

Jumping on Snooze Edmondson with fury in the opening frame, the Airmen pushed over five runs on six hits and came right back for four more in the second. Davis relieved Edmondson and held the Airmen fairly well in check for the rest of the route, but his team-mates were unable to click at the plate. What time the array of pitchers were not masters of the situation, the snappy fielding of the visitors soon snuffed any serious threats at scoring.

George Thompson will take the Owls to Amarillo Army Air Field Sunday for a game, and on the following Sunday hopes to play on the local diamond with the All-Stars from Borger.

Sunday's line-ups were: Childress—Mercury, 2b; Doerr, cf; Frew, lf; Senior, 1b; Chinn, rf; Yahcki, 3b; Salata, ss; Cagliano, c and Wise, p. Other pitchers were Myer, Craig and Katz.

"HOW'D THE UMP GET IN THE GAME?" WHETHER it's baseball or business, Americans expect to play all the way. In baseball, the umpire sees to it that the game is played according to the rules. But he is not a player. In business, government should be the umpire who forces fair rules. But when government goes into business and competes with its own citizens, the American tradition of fair play is aside. The umpire then becomes a player, and he enjoys advantages that are denied to all the other players. For example, government and municipal power plants are not required to pay federal taxes; often get money from U. S. Treasury at little or no interest; make up losses out of pockets of the taxpayers. Maybe you run a store or service station or beauty shop. Would you like to have a next-door competitor who has no rent, or taxes, or interest to pay, and who is kept in business partly by your tax money? Fortunately for America today, over 80% of the tremendous electric power in this country is produced by tax-paying, self-supporting electric light and power companies, owned and operated by several million folks like you. These business-managed companies are a big reason there is enough electricity to meet even the gigantic demands of war—and why, when most things cost more, electricity is delivered at low pre-war prices. ### Advantages of Diversified Farming

By JACK JOUETT

This is the sixth of a series of winning essays written by County 4-H Club boys. A century and half ago, farmers produced their own food, clothing and other necessities. Members including the young had to help do the work. Developed in Europe and the 18th century families in America began to specialize in a few forms of work. One made cloth and another wool. When a family specialized in one kind of manufacturing, they learned to do the work better. Diversified farming means raising several kinds of crops, fruits, vegetables and livestock. Today farmers have a few on the farm, they help keep down and furnish meat for the table. Also the wool is a great crop. Most farmers depend on the cow, sow and hen for their income. The advantage of well diversified farming is the fact that the farmer has worked the year around. A large number of the farmers think that a disadvantage lies in the fact that they must have the proper machinery and implements for several crops. If the farm is small, it means a very large investment. The disadvantage can be overcome if there are a number of small farms not too far apart. In such case, farmers can help each other through proper cooperation. It is a common practice for farmers to exchange equipment.

The faults of the single crop can be remedied by having several crops of different kinds. Dairy regions can be made by dividing the farm into different fields. Where only one crop is planted total failure is not unusual.

The farmer who raises different crops finds it easier if he will convert his many products into something more valuable and compact. Transportation is more economical and more profit is usually obtained. His peanuts and corn are excellent hog feed. His corn is the form of ensilage and his hay is easily turned into beef and butter.

If production is low for one crop farmer, his credit rating is lowered. Sometimes a farmer specializes in the raising of steers, hogs or horses. In fact, the greater part of several states, where the land is covered with a natural grass and where cattle are very profitable, there is too little rainfall to make this land good for crops, unless it can be irrigated. Here cattle and sheep

Pvt. Paul Dodson Tells of Crossing Remagen Bridge

A further account of action in his artillery unit of the First Army as it swept into Germany, is given by Pvt. Paul Dodson in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dodson. A portion of his highly descriptive letter was published last week and this week he tells of the Rhine crossing on the famous Remagen bridge.

The next haul was to dear old Remagen Bridge. I can testify that 88's (German) were landing in the water, we lived on the German end of the bridge. I could spit out the window onto the bridge. We had one good air raid and they fished a bunch of Heines out of the Rhine that were using rubber swim outfits and trying to blow up the bridge. We were then made traffic control on the famous Luedendorf bridge. This was where we saw the Heinkel estate. One of our officers was too far up and got a jeep machine gunned from under him. No casualties yet. Then we go to Puderbach where I acquired the Heinec coat and iron cross and all. Had two truck loads of champagne. Took the local doc to the country to deliver a baby. Was a boy. Moved on to Rosebach and lived in a school house. I got a pass to "Century", Rest Camp in Juy, Belgium. It was swell. April 6 moved to Emsdorf. We rounded up about 10 prisoners and I took them in to the cage. April 9 we went to Korbach where we had almost everything we wanted. We had to guard a Kraut hospital there. April 13 moved to Ramsbeck, still security guard.

April 14 moved to Dodenau guarding V2 plant in a tunnel factory. Went hunting and had a big time. We saw a small prison camp for Russian officers here. Some of them were still living here. They told some pretty bad tales. We relieved the 170th and were in direct support of the 86th division (Blackhawks). We rode all night the 19th. Passed thru Frankfurt and went into firing position. We found 4 dry rifles and a blanket that were still dry and it had rained all day up until we moved in so they had just left. That night one of them tossed a grenade at the switchboard. He missed and it didn't go off. Got message that SS. 600 of them were assembling in the woods. I had to go up and remove a Kraut machine gun. It was well oiled and ready. Also ran into a device that fires 8 rifle bullets and can be fired by a pull wire in another foxhole. All this was near Ansbach, 22nd and 24th. Quite a few POW's SS men etc., turned in by this time. Saw a dog fight over us, two German jet planes hopped a bomber flight but P-51's were all over them in no time. Also a Heinkel flew right over us so close you could smell his breath. He was headed home in great haste and left us alone though.

Pvt. Bobby Jones Has Combat Badge

Pvt. Bobby J. Jones of Newlin has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge while fighting with the Third Infantry Division in Germany and Austria. This badge, for "exemplary conduct under fire against the enemy", is awarded only to front line infantry who have distinguished themselves in combat.

Commanded by Maj. Gen. John W. "Iron Mike" O'Daniel, the Third made its fourth amphibious landing of the war on the beaches of Southern France, more than any other division of the ETO.

Since making their initial landing on the beaches north of Fedala, French Morocco, November 8, 1942, men of the Third Division have participated in the majority of campaigns fought in this theater. They fought in Tunisia, Sicily, southern Italy, four months on the dreaded Anzio Beachhead, Rome, southern France, crossed the Vosges mountains, eliminated the Colmar pocket, broke through the Siegfried Line at Zweibrucken, spearheaded the Seventh Army's crossing of the Rhine and participated in the capture of Nurnberg, Augsburg, Munich, Salzburg and Berchtesgaden.

Jane Burke, better known as Calamity Jane, was an Indian scout and for several years carried government mail between Deadwood, S. D., and Custer, Montana.

S-Sgt. Walter Hill In Unit Awarded Second Citation

At a V-E Day ceremony in Italy the 321st B-25 Mitchell Bomb Group of the 12th Air Force was presented its second War Department citation, highest honor attainable by a combat unit, and among those sharing the honor is Staff Sergeant J. Walter Hill, who has served as communication specialist with the twice-cited group. His wife, Lois, lives at 710 Virginia St., Amarillo. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wade H. Hill, live at Memphis.

The official citation published in Washington lauds the B-25 unit for an attack against shipping in Toulon harbor three days following the invasion of southern France. The giant battleship "Strasbourg", cruiser "La Galissonne" and a submarine had been moved into position to use their heavy guns against the Allied invading forces. In one smashing attack Mitchell bombers of the 321st sent all three warships to the bottom, an unprecedented feat in medium bombing attacks.

Don't Worry About Us!

We'll do it!

THEY tell us that the fat salvage problem has got to be licked in the small cities, the towns and on the farms.

Our country has to have one hundred million more pounds of used fats this year over last. And we're the people who must save it.

We've rolled up our sleeves! We'll save every drop and bit it is possible to scrape—and keep on doing it till the last Jap is licked.

HOW TO DO IT: Save all used fats in a tin can. Keep it handy to the stove. Scrape your broilers and roasting pans, skim soups and gravies, for every drop counts. Keep solid pieces of fat, such as meat trimmings and table scraps, in a bowl. Melt down when your oven's going, add the liquid fat to the salvage can. Take the can to your butcher as soon as it's full. He will give you four cents and two red points for every pound. Your County Agent or Home Demonstration Agent can give you full particulars.

100,000,000 More Pounds of Used Fats Are Needed This Year!

Approved by WPA and OPA. Paid for by industry.

Dairy Members Urged to Hike Output in 1945

Utmost efficiency on the part of milk producers throughout the nation will be required this year to meet consumer demands, according to government authorities. The 1945 national milk production goal is 120 billion pounds of milk, which must be met with fewer cows, as well as less labor equipment.

Rural youth in this state will help meet the goal through participation in the 1945 4-H Dairy Production Activity, in which they will contribute toward eight phases of the national program. These phases comprise: 1. Improve breeding and production capacity of dairy herds; 2. Assist in producing an abundance of high quality roughage; 3. Balance herd numbers with feed supplies; 4. Feed balanced adequate rations; 5. Keep production records on each milk cow; 6. Practice disease control methods; 7. Produce highest quality milk, and 8. Adopt labor-saving methods.

As incentives for outstanding 4-H records of achievement in the activity, medals will be awarded to first and second place county winners, $25 War Bonds to eight top ranking participants in each state, and National 4-H Club Congress honors to 10 sectional champions—two from each of the four extension sections, and two at large. In addition, the Kraft Cheese Company also provides $200 college scholarships for six national winners selected from the sectional champions.

IN MEMORY OF
A. W. Francis

Recognizing the loss to this community, especially to our organization, we, the directors of the Farmers Union Supply Co. and the Farmers Union Cooperative Gin Co., take this means of lauding the work of our fellow-director and friend, the late A. W. Francis.

Mr. Francis was a man who was respected by all who knew him. He had worked faithfully and wholeheartedly for our two organizations, and was for continued improvement in service to our customers. He knew our problems. And he also knew—the needs of the people of this area. Therefore, when this broad-minded, straight-thinking man spoke, he was listened to.

In the death of A. W. Francis, we have lost a good and tried friend—the community has lost a great man. He cannot be replaced, and we shall miss his counsel. But the ideals he strived for will be carried on by our two organizations.

In memory of this man, we rededicate ourselves to the principles for which he stood. They were just and good. And as we lay our plans for another fiscal year, we shall remember the words he has spoken in years gone by. They shall be our credo.

Shell Lands but Two Feet From Herman M. Jones Killing Two Dies; Has Many Close Scrapes

Two feet is entirely too close to a German shell when it is landing, says Pfc. Herman M. Jones of the 83rd Division of the First Army in the following letter to his sister, Mrs. J. W. Jones, of Estelline, Pfc. Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones and wrote the letter from Germany.

May 20, 1945
Dear Sister and all,
I received your letter a few days ago and was very glad to hear from you. Hope all is well, as for me I am just fine. I got a letter from mother and Carolene the day I got yours. Mother and I said she made the trip over here.

It is something to have this war end soon in the is- also I am hoping that I can thank God for saving my life a few times over here. I had some very close calls. I was standing not over two feet from two of my best buddies who were killed. I don't know what I did. I don't remember that I did. I know the shell was five feet away and I was black with powder. A man has never seen anything like this in his life. I can think of it that is hell. I have probably heard of the mountains. If you have, I know I fought there and it was plenty darn rough. We were at the SS up there. The SS were over there ten days with- out coming out and we were plodding looking when we came out with our beards and all. One of our best buddies was killed up in the mountains.

those mountains. He was killed by machine gun fire, those dirty Nazis shot him fifteen times. A person over here, when he sees his buddies killed off, gets to where he don't give a darn about anything.

I want to tell you a little thing that happened while I was in the Battle of the Bulge. We had just taken a town and sent two platoons out to Company F for support. Well, we were going to meet them the following morning in another town that was supposed to have been taken previously. We started out at 5:30 that morning. As we came to the edge of town, there were a lot of our boys dead on the side of the road, also quite a few of our tanks knocked out. Well, we went on into town. As we got nearer to town, we could hear talking but we thought nothing of that. We went on into town and some Belgian people called to us. We went over and they pointed toward a building across the street. We went over and there were two German SS troops in there. We radioed Company F and got their location. We then went on up to where they were and found out that we had entered the wrong part of the town. We cleaned out the town later and took 110 prisoners. We were very lucky that morning. How we got through, I don't know. They could have killed all of us.

The first dead person I saw, it scared the heck out of me but a person gets used to it after so long a time. It doesn't bother me to see a dead German but when I see one of our boys dead, it really gets on my nerves. The thing that scares me most of all is a German plane diving at us. That is one of the most weird sounds a person can ever hear.

Well, Faye, I guess you are tired of reading this but what I wrote is just a little of what went on. Answer soon with a long letter. Love as ever,
