Bill Carnes Trial Is Set for Oct. 8

Bill W. L. (Bill) Carnes, a 42-year-old man, was charged with the murder of his wife, Edna, in Memphis on Sunday night, April 1, 1945. The trial has been postponed until the October term of district court.

The continuance of the case was announced Thursday, following a conference here Wednesday between attorneys and District Attorney Luther Gribble.

Carnes, 42 years old and a pioneer resident of Turkey, was arraigned by the grand jury in April on a charge of "murder with malice."

The body of his 18-year-old mother of a two-year-old child was found in the living room of their home on the Sunday afternoon, shortly after Carnes reported Constable J. E. Arnold that he had killed her. The couple quarreled violently, officers reported, after they had decided to separate.

Her body were two bullet wounds, one through the heart and the other through her chest. Her body was a .38 caliber bullet, also a butcher knife.

Carnes was released the following day by Justice R. L. Alexander, who conducted an examining trial on bond of $3,000.

The murder trial will be presided by the law firm of E. Simpson, John Fullingim and Clayton of Amarillo.

District Attorney Sam Hamilton and Sheriff Anderson made an investigation of the killing on the second day after it took place and obtained statements from various persons. They were not notified at the time by officers in Turkey and were handicapped in obtaining first-hand information.

Alton Edwards Former POW, Now Home With Family

Alton Edwards is home with his family. He arrived here this week from Fort Sam Houston, where he was given a 30-day furlough following his liberation from a German prison camp on April 29. He had been a prisoner of the Germans since Sept. 25. He was a member of General Hodges' First Army and went overseas last August.

He is here with his wife and children, Vernon, Barbara, Joan, and his father, Zeno Edwards of Boyd, Texas.

Hall County Men Enter Armed Service in June

Twenty-two Hall County men entered the Army and Navy at home City June 3, in response to the call of Selective Service. The Navy accepted four of the men.

Going to the Army were: Albert Clair Williams, Nels Anthony, Hubert Duncan Melton, Sam Beryl Blackshear, Obie Thompson, Delbert Joe Wat-Richard Maurice Jones, Henry Gossett, James Elbert, Lee Fay Morris, Ray Bruce, Eldred Childress, Marvin Duan Jr., Lloyd Harold, Robert Lee Payton of Okla., and Cleo Kirkland. Inducted into the Navy were: William Carr, Lacy Afton, J. E. Beeson, and Cecil Evans.

Been Fighting Japs Ever Since Pearl Harbor— Sgt. Paul Frisbie of Marines Can't See Any Signs of Early Victory

It was four years ago on Saturday of next week, July 7, when Sgt. Paul Frisbie volunteered in the Marines and he has spent all but six months of that time overseas fighting the Japs.

Starting out at Pearl Harbor, when he was standing watch aboard the West Virginia when that battleship was badly smashed as sister ships were sent to the bottom, Sgt. Frisbie has been slugging it out with the Japs, on both the land and sea, ever since.

He's just home from Okinawa, his first leave to the states in two years—and he's not too optimistic about an early victory.

From what he's seen and from the knowledge he's gained in close combat with the enemy in the Pacific—in the Naval battles of the Coral Eea, Santa Cruz and the Marshalls, and the Marine invasions of Guam, Saipan, Tinian and Okinawa—Sgt. Frisbie hasn't observed any signs that would cause him to believe that the Japs will give up.

"There are all kinds of predictions that they'll give up when they see they are licked", he says, "but there haven't been any signs yet that they won't fight to the end; they already know they are licked, but they didn't give up on Okinawa, did they?"

The young Marine veteran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Frisbie, is home on a 30-day leave visiting his parents. His wife, Mrs. Joey Frisbie of Seattle, is with him.

As to when the war will be over he thinks it won't happen until the Japs have been completely crushed as Germany was, after an invasion of their home islands and all the other territory where they are rooted in; he hopes he's wrong, but he can see about two years more of fighting.

Some 20 pounds under weight since he suffered serious shrapnel wounds in a hand grenade battle with the Japs on Tinian last fall, Sgt. Frisbie otherwise is in good physical condition. He re-

Weddel Youth Is Near Death From Mystery Injuries

Suffering from injuries received in an unknown manner, Elmer Weddel, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Weddel of Deep Lake, is in a critical condition in an Amarillo hospital.

Quiet July 4 Is Seen for Memphis

The youth was found last Friday morning on the road leading from the S. C. Denton place to the Weddel home. He was unconscious and has remained so since that time.

He and Clarence Denton had been fishing the night before and the Weddel boy had left the Denton home by horseback about 8:30, saying he had to go help his father with some farm work. A passing neighbor found his horse and tied it to a fence, not knowing the boy was nearby. Noticing the horse about an hour later, Mr. Denton went to investigate and found the youth beside the road. He was brought to a Memphis hospital, and on Monday was taken to Amarillo.

No marks or bruises of any description were found on his head, or body, but doctors are confident that he suffered a brain hemorrhage from a fall or possibly from a horse's hoof.

Star Johnston On Team Coached By General "Ike"

Starr Johnson of Brice once took orders from General Eisenhower.

That was back in 1916 when the Brice man was playing football on the Peacock Military College team and General "Ike" was the coach.

He has a copy of the College annual showing pictures of the team and of the coach, a man who 29 years later earned an immortal place in history as the conqueror of Hitler's war machine.

Lt. Kinslow Helped Down Suicide Plane

Home from 19 months combat duty in various theaters of the Pacific, during which time he participated in six invasions of Japanese islands, is Lt. (j.g.) C. W. "Billy" Kinslow, of the United States Navy.

Lt. Kinslow, a gunnery officer on an LST, has tangled with Japanese suicide planes on more than one occasion and helped shoot one of the "death divers" from the sky off Okinawa, but despite his close scrapes came through without a scratch.

Aboard an LST, which transported troops and equipment to the invasion beach-heads, Lt. Kinslow participated first in the American landings on Green and Emirau Islands, then at Guam,

Spent 28 Months Trailing Jap Subs And Hauling Men

Soundman 2-c Clyde E. Morris, Jr., has been in the Navy 34 months and for 28 months he has been constantly on the move—tracking down Japanese submarines and transporting American troops to the fighting fronts at the same time.

Aboard an old destroyer converted into a transport ship, he was a member of a sound and radar crew which sailed all "corners" of the Pacific waters, hunting for submarines, but helping out in the transport job.

In all of the major invasions from the Solomons to Okinawa his destroyer-transport was on hand; it circled the convoys and fighting ship forces, went into dangerous waters ahead of the assault units and landing parties, and kept constantly on the move.

In fact, it was so much on the move that the first chance he had at a leave was when the old ship came into the West Coast for its first overhauling since he went aboard 28 months ago; it is his first leave since he entered the service in August, 1942.

He escaped a couple of "near misses" from Japanese suicide planes off Leyte and a submarine once almost got the destroyer with a torpedo, but he came through without injury.

He is here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morris and family and will be home for 30 days.

Jack T. Baldwin Is Raised to Captain

It's now Captain Jack T. Baldwin. The Memphis officer, now serving with the Third Army in Germany, was promoted from first lieutenant on May 16, the ETO public relations office has announced.

Captain Baldwin is a dental surgeon with the 460th AAA battalion and participated in the Normandy, French and German campaigns. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baldwin.

S'Norwood Will Play Both Local Teams on Sunday

Samnorwood, feeling its oats, is coming to Memphis Sunday to take on both the Owls and the Eagles in a double-header at the local field. First game will be at 1:30.

The Collingsworth County aggregation swamped Johnnie Hancock's team last Sunday by an overwhelming score and at the same time the Owls were in Amarillo getting snowed under by the Army Air Field.

It was the second defeat for the Owls in two Sundays at the hands of the Army, having lost to Childress the week before.

George Thompson and his Owls got into something they hadn't bargained for when they went to Amarillo. They had matched a game with a squadron team at the Air Field, being careful to stay out of the way of the Sky Giants—but when they trotted out on the diamond they found they were playing the Sky Giants.

It was the same team, except for a new pitcher and catcher, which beat the Pampa Oilers earlier in the afternoon.

Well, the score was 17 to 4.

He was a good man, as husbands go, and as husbands go he went.

Heat Wave To 113 High; Water Shy

A serious heat wave moved in on Hall County and the surrounding area over the week-end and by Wednesday had sent the thermometer to 113 degrees.

Hot winds on both Tuesday and Wednesday damaged growing crops and were rapidly drying out the moisture which had been received in showers the previous week.

Skies have been clear since Wednesday of last week when showers and heavy rains in some sections covered most of the county. The thermometer soared to 100 on Saturday, went to 102 on Sunday, the same on Monday and up to 103 on Tuesday.

Unless there is relief soon the Fort Worth & Denver faces a serious water problem in the operation of trains through this section. The railroad company is virtually without water at Clarendon, Giles and Memphis.

Work is progressing on a new well by the Community Public Service company and the water company officials expect to have it completed within the next week or 10 days.

Only 2 Days Left To Get Car Stamp

Either there'll be a land-slide rush at the post office Friday and Saturday to pay the $5 auto stamp tax or a lot of local car owners will be subject to fines and possibly jail terms.

Less than 200 persons had acquired the stamps up to Wednesday, reported Assistant Postmaster Glynn Thompson; there are more than 2,000 cars registered in the county. Dead-line for paying the tax is June 30, which is Saturday.

Internal revenue officials warn that car owners without the stamp after July 1 will be subject to $25 fines—if not jail sentences. They say that investigators will be around shortly after the dead-line to make a check of cars found on the streets.

Milk Receipts for Past 3 Months Are Due July, August

Receipts for milk, butter and butter fat for the months of April, May and June, should be turned in to the local office of the Hall County ACA in July and August, reports W. M. Overton, secretary. The work of figuring subsidy checks will be facilitated if the April and May receipts are turned in separately from the June receipts, says Mr. Overton, as payments are made on different basis.

Cheese Plant Is Closed, Equipment Moved Away

The Kraft cheese plant, after less than four years operation, was closed down last Sunday, and this week machinery is being moved to Oklahoma.

Officials of the company said the Memphis plant was closed because it had been operating at a loss. They blamed the lack of raw milk in the area for the decision to close.

Efforts on the part of the Chamber of Commerce and of a committee representing farmers and other milk producers to get them to change their minds and keep the plant in operation, were unsuccessful.

W. B. Hooser, county agent, headed a committee which went to Denison, the Kraft regional headquarters, about a month ago to discuss the matter with officials of the company. The committee was told that the number of dairy cows in the area was not adequate to support the plant—and that it would be moved to a point in Oklahoma.

Some farmers also have declared that the prices paid by

County Over Top As Bond Buying Hits High Gear

Hall County took a mighty spurt in bond buying this past week—and put the Mighty Seventh war loan over with a bang. Setting on a figure of $265,895 a week ago, out of a quota of $435,000, official figures late Wednesday stood at $431,943.75 and chairman O. V. Alexander said several thousand dollars subscribed at a rally in Turkey were not included.

It's wonderful", said the County Chairman, "but we are over the top. It looked pretty bad a week ago, but the fine and patriotic people of Hall County did what they usually do—they came up with their part".

Hall County is near the top of the list of Texas counties having reached their quotas, according to figures released by State chairman Nathan Adams of Dallas.

The County's E bond quota had been over-subscribed a week ago. The quota was $210,000 and the total stood at $217,943.75—but the overall quota was $170,000 short.

With banks being prohibited by treasury regulations from buying bonds in the Seventh loan, investors this week started buying in large blocks. There were many large purchases by corporations and business firms.

A bond rally was held at Turkey on Monday night. The official figures have not yet been received by Mr. Alexander but he learned that "it was a big success", and knows that bonds purchased then were considerably more than was needed to put the county over the top.

Local Man With Seabees in Pacific

Six Texas men of a Navy Seabee battalion in the Marianas. These men all received recruit training at Camp Bradford, Va., and have been serving together in the Pacific theater since. They are: (left to right, top row) L. Schusler, carpenter's mate, first class, Memphis; E. W. Anderson, carpenter's mate, first class, Willis; H. C. Carter, carpenter's mate, first class, Big Sandy, and W. H. Amelunke, carpenter's mate, first class, Waco; (bottom row) Steve P. Gray, carpenter's mate, third class, Odessa; and Leo Blaschke, carpenter's mate, third class, 305 East 12th st., San Angelo.

Kraft for Milk Were Not in Line With What Other Purchasers Were Paying, and That Kraft Would Have Obtained Sufficient Milk if Its Price Had Been in Line.

A thorough survey of the number of dairy cattle in the area was made before the plant was located here and it showed that sufficient cattle were on hand to more than support the proposed plant.

A. L. Wheeler, who has been manager of the plant for the past year, said the last milk was bought Sunday. Part of the machinery already has been moved to "some place in Oklahoma", he said, and the rest will be loaded out this week.

Sgt. Jas. B. Adcock Was Target for German Bomber

When a diving German plane picked out T-Sgt. Jas. B. Adcock and a small fire as his target, Sgt. Adcock thought his time had come. He is with the 7th Army, 42nd Infantry Division, and has been in the service 10 years. His wife and small son, "Boofie", who reside at 615 Harrison St., have received the following letter from him:

Haring, Austria

May 26, 1945

Dearest Elise and Boofie: As we are still on the move, and me trying to check property and clothing, and making out reports on different places we have taken, I don't seem to be writing much.

I had a letter from Mom and Pop yesterday. I also wrote them yesterday.

Well, now the story can be told. You asked me about being in combat, we were in combat one month to the day after we left New York, although our pay didn't start until in January. I may say we have all seen some bad times. One time in Germany, Polski, Finn and I went after supplies. We were pretty close to the front. On the way back to the company, we got on the wrong road. We came into a small town, there weren't any white flags flying, so we were too late to go back. We prepared ourselves and went through on the other side of town. All the Germans were being lined up and marched away by some of our regiment. If we had been thirty minutes earlier, it would have been the last of us. Lots of things happen like that to everyone in war.

One night we had our company in a valley. Everything was quiet and it was pretty cold so we had two or three fires. The cooks and I were sitting around talking when all at once someone yelled to put out the fire. As I was kicking dirt on it, I looked up and a plane was coming down, shooting and strafing, using me and the fire for his target. I just knew my time had come, but he came in so low that the wing hit the radio truck with two men sitting in it. Maynahan was standing on the other side of the truck. It knocked his helmet off. The plane crashed, scattering it all over the hill top. We got all the fires out and the plane didn't catch fire. His mate was up there flying around, and didn't know what had happened. I must say, we were all very lucky as we didn't lose a man, but had three wounded as some of the Krauts' lead hit. If that pilot had pulled out of his dive, the two planes would have emptied every gun on us, but as it is we have a plane to our credit. The good Lord was certainly with this company that night.

The company that Paul Sizemore was with at Camp Gruber was captured, also their guns and ammunition. They were lined up and shot. I was plenty ready to fight when I heard that.

You were speaking of my staying over here, I'd sign up to stay rather than to go to the Pacific. Maybe I'll be in the Army of Occupation and you and Boofie could come over. That would be swell.

I'm in a nice home now. I have my private room with my office in it. Finn stays in the supply and I have the paper work to do. The house is up on a large hill with a big lake in front. There are mountains all around the own. It is mostly a summer resort. It isn't much like summer though right now. It is pretty cold as there's snow on the mountains. The boys are out on the lake boat riding.

One of the Polish women made a flag. I'm going to try to keep it for a souvenir.

Sgt. Wintrode has put in for his discharge. He is 42 years old you know. He is on pass to Nancy, France now. I had a pass but the property check came up and I had to stay.

Well, as for points, I have 84 but not even wanting out, points don't mean anything, so looks like I might be her for a good while.

I have two German pistols. One for you and one for me, and I am going to try to find one for Boofie, too.

I have a pretty nice camera now. Some of the boys are picking up two and three hundred dollar ones. Here's hoping I find one.

I must close as it's getting late. I'm sending the "Rainbow Reveille"—our paper. With lots of love, Your

James E. Chappell Wins Commission in Overseas School

One hundred eighty nine former enlisted men, members of the 10th class of the Infantry Officer Candidate School in the European Theater of Operations, recently received commissions as second lieutenants, at their base in France.

Under the direction of Colonel Harold E. Rogers, of New York, commander the Ground Forces Training Center, the men completed an intensive training course to fit them as infantry platoon leaders.

Half of the group were former combat men and were returned to their old outfits as commissioned officers. The remainder of the class, from service units, were sent to reinforcement depots for assignments with infantry units.

Among the graduates was James E. Chappell of Memphis.

A total of 1,835 skilled workers were turned out under the engineering, science and management war training program conducted by the Division of Engineering at Texas Technological College since the fall of 1940.

There are only 1,103 strictly Texas Indians left, according to the 1940 census and only one distinct settlement, located in eastern Polk county.

Before a board of officers, Pvt. Wiley also displayed superior skill in marching, marksmanship and military courtesy. The soldier was among only a few men in his military outfit to earn the Expert Infantryman's Badge. In addition to the honor, earning the badge means an extra five dollars each month in the doughboys' Army pay envelope.

Many Is a Nation of Murderers Should Be Treated as Such, Says Hillis in Letter to His Parents

Many is a nation of murderers. In civilized circles thieves, robbers, etc., are imprisoned; but the same method applied to a nation as a person? Lt. Edward F. Hillis in a following letter to his parents, Mrs. G. D. Hillis of Lakeview, Mo., dated May 21 and was received by his parents on Saturday. We had a pleasant day. Two very good friends who were shot down last year came in. They are on their way home but there are so many more to go that it'll be a while before they go, so they are spending some time here. They are a little raunchy looking from staying there, and one got all his teeth knocked off when he was captured. They were glad to be home. It is raining now and has been for quite a while, in fact for two weeks now. We have such a lot of "Military Courtesy and Honor" medals. After 32 months in the States, they give us classes like "Somebody got the idea that we should be kept busy so that is the way they do it, by giving us unit classes. Needless to say, we don't go for it with any enthusiasm. I agree with Bailey Adams on what he said about the B-17. I like the B-26 because of its speed and maneuverability, however, it is not as safe as some of the other planes and one of another—if you ask me. You asked what the Allies should do with Germany and Japan. I think the Japanese problem won't be as great as the German problem was, for people dislike the Japanese more easily as they are not white people. In civilized circles a murderer and a thief are put in prisons. I believe that should go for a nation as well as a person. You'll hear people say the German people had nothing to do with Hitler. Hitler was a German who had German ideas and he was their leader just as same as Truman is our present

L. Schusler, CM Helping Build Bases in Pacific

L. Schusler, carpenter's mate, first class, of Memphis, Texas, is one of six Texas Seabees who have worked together for 25 months, helping build a chain of Naval bases to Tokyo. This veteran seaman entered the Navy in December, 1942, receiving recruit training at Camp Bradford, Va., and was assigned to the same construction battalion. They are now on their third "Island X", after 25 months overseas. Landing here during the island's occupation, they have worked long hours under trying conditions, in order to put the base into operation in record-breaking time. Schusler was employed by Bud Godfrey, general contractor, before his enlistment. You can't expect $1 an hour for your working time if you spend your leisure hours like they were worth a dime dozen.

T-Sgt. H. L. Vaughn Wins Silver Star For Heroic Action

T-Sgt. Harlow L. Vaughn, with the 90th Infantry Division in Germany, has been awarded the Silver Star Medal, for heroic action against the Nazis. The highly-coveted medal was pinned on him by Maj. Gen. Lowell W. Rooks of the 359th Infantry regiment. During an attack in the vicinity of Nothum, Luxembourg, a platoon sergeant was killed by heavy mortar and machine gun fire. Without hesitation, Sgt. Vaughn (then staff sergeant) assumed command and at the risk of his life, reorganized the dispersed platoon while under the continuous mortar fire. Then organizing a team of five men, he led them in a flank attack on the hostile machine gun position where they neutralized the enemy emplacement, killing 16 enemy and capturing 10. Later while leading his platoon toward its initial objective he observed an enemy soldier about to fire. Quickly, Sgt. Vaughn fired from the hip and killed him. His gallantry and courageous leadership aided materially in his company's success and was in accordance with high military tradition. Sgt. Vaughn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Vaughn of Lakeview, Texas.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB
of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

Sing a song of dairymen
With pastures full of rye,
Lots and lots of green feed
Sowed in July.
When the rye is pastured,
The milk begins—and how!
Now isn't that a paying fare
To get before a cow?
(*Poetic license. Seed it in August in most states—but August don't rhyme.)
An increasing number of dairymen each year include rye in their grazing program, for several very good reasons. Every spring, I get an urge to get out and get into the open. Cows get a hankering for green forage.
Rye is the answer, since it gives about the first possible good forage in early spring. Rye should be seeded in late summer, so I bring it up now to remind you to include rye as you make your late planting plans.
Rye works in perfectly in a rotation grazing program. It gives forage in the fall, when your native pasture rests. After the spring grazing, the plot can be seeded to Sudan grass, for mid-summer grazing. In Indiana, they figure this system is worth $100 per acre—which tempts me to add "and that ain't hay."
Check with your county agent on the best rye variety for your county. Balbo is the most popular kind in many sections, but some other may be preferred in your area. There are some fine new varieties available which are proving much better than the older strains.
You've seen folks in the city who speed up when the yellow light flashes on a traffic signal, with the mistaken idea that the yellow is a sign to beat the red. I'm afraid somewhat the same idea has got around in a few places regarding the "correct milking" process.
I've heard of a few farmers who have speeded up the number of pulsations of their milking machines, thinking they were supposed to do this, to get done quicker. Maybe it is because the program was called "faster milking" at one time.
The folks who worked out this better way of milking did not intend to speed up the actual rate of operation. Massaging and washing udders with warm water starts the milk flowing. This means you'll get the same amount of milk in less time but at the same milker speed.
If you speed up the milker you may injure a teat. Such injury can lead to mastitis and create a lot of trouble.
Your county agent probably has a leaflet giving complete instructions on the steps to follow in the "correct milking" process.
Mowing your hair may not produce better brainwork, but clipping your pastures will surely bring more dollars in milk.
The Mississippi Experiment Station has just reported on a test which showed conclusively that a pasture which is mowed will produce more food per acre than pastures in which weeds are permitted to grow without check. Weeds do their best to get the food out of the ground before grass can get it.
Mississippi mowed only part of a pasture and then checked the amount of forage grazed. The cattle took 80% of the forage from the mowed area, but only 50% from the unmowed part.
The test showed cows got 1,000 lbs. more forage per acre from the clipped area than from the unclipped. Naturally enough, the greater amount of food produced more milk.
The time to mow your pasture is about the same as the time to get a haircut—when it is needed. When weeds begin to get some height, and particularly before they start to go to seed, then is the time to get the mower into the pasture. You'll get dividends in more milk.

Lt. Jim Chappell Writes His Aunt

Lt. Jim Chappell of the 36th Infantry Division writes his aunt, Mrs. J. H. Blanks of Lakeview, of his commission which he received May 19. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chappell of Plazaka. Lt. Chappell writes the following letter from Munich, Germany.

June 11, 1945

Dearest Aunt:
This is your nephew, Jim Chappell. Know him? Well, I imagine you do.
Aunt, I received your package day before yesterday and man-of-man, did it come in handy! The chow had been pretty slim that day, so the rest of the boys and I really made short work of the cookies and candy. You really got some compliments on the candy. I took it all in, then told them if they thought that was good, they should try some of your potato cake. Now I guess I'll have to sit up for the next three days and guard my address book to keep you from being flooded with letters asking for your cake recipe.

In the future, I'll have to refrain from so many advertisements or we'll have a flood of Yankees to get out of Texas after the war. No kidding, Aunt, I really did appreciate the box.

Aunt, did I tell you of my commission? I got it May 19. I am now a Second Lieutenant of the Infantry, 36th Division, the old Texas Division.

Well, this is about all I know at present so goodnight, and lots of love, your nephew,
JIM C.

Sweet Potatoes From Texas Are Popular GI Diet

Sweet potatoes from Texas will play an important part in the diets of Pacific G. I.'s this year. Approximately 2,400,000 bushels of sweet potatoes will be dehydrated in 1945 to produce 20 million pounds for overseas shipment, according to the War Department.

One of the most popular items on menus for the military forces, the potatoes are served about every tenth day in baked, candied or glazed form, according to the Quartermaster Department.

More Time Given Men Overseas on Income Returns

Secretary Morgenthau has announced that an additional extension has been granted to overseas members of the armed forces on their income tax obligations which were postponed because of overseas service.

The action is intended particularly to help servicemen who stop in the United States for a few months while en route from the European to the Pacific theatre of war.

The extension is embodied in an amendment to the income tax regulations and was issued by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., with the approval of the Secretary.

Specifically, the new regulation provides that the postponement granted an overseas serviceman will continue until he has been back in the United States for a continuous period of five and one-half calendar months (not counting the month in which he returns). In other words, an overseas serviceman will not lose his tax postponement if he stays in this country for a short period while en route to another overseas assignment.

Each list contains the ceiling prices for meats sold in Group I and II stores. These are the highest prices that may be charged regardless of what store you are in. The bulletins also outline the main facts on the wartime meat shortage.

A REQUEST OF OUR CUSTOMERS:

Due to the excessive demands of the Denver railroad for water at this time, we urgently request all of our customers in Memphis to use water as sparingly as possible.

The railroad company is now depending upon the Memphis supply for much of the water it normally procures from other sources, and it is essential as all of us know, that railroad operations be maintained without interruption.

We have two wells which are ready to produce water but until we can get pumps and necessary equipment, we must insist that our water users co-operate with us in curtailing their water consumption.

As the situation improves, which we hope will be at an early date, we will advise our customers.

McCullough County Girl Sets Pace In Club Work

A small blue-eyed blonde who looks like Bette Davis and divides her time between the sewing machine and the sheep pasture is this year's winner of the Maggie W. Berry Scholarship offered to Texas' most outstanding 4-H Club girl by the state organization of home demonstration club women.

She is Patsy Priest, 17, member of the Pear Valley 4-H Club in McCulloch County, according to the announcement made by Miss Maurine Hearn, vice director for women and state home demonstration agent of the A. and M. College Extension Service. Other outstanding candidates for the scholarship included Nell Wynne Guderian of Falls County and Marilee Dufek of Dallas County.

The 1945 scholarship winner has been a 4-H Club girl for eight years and has done most of her work under the direction of Mrs. Mabel C. Byars, McCulloch County home demonstration agent. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Priest of Pear Valley.

Patsy has been doing all of her sewing since she has been in high school and now sews for her mother. Many neighbors more than double her age consult her on sewing problems. She makes apparel such as hats and purses for gifts and for sale, and her friends predict she will make an excellent designer.

An outdoor girl, too, Patsy rides the range almost daily to look after about 800 sheep and lambs, assists with the feeding and doctoring, and especially does yocman work at lambing time. When her services are needed she can drive a tractor. Because of her help with livestock, her parents have given Patsy a tenth interest in the sheep, one third interest in the poultry flock, and one-half interest in the hogs.

Gardening, cooking, canning, and landscaping are among Patsy's regular activities, and with the help of her parents she has improved the entire house, adding a bathroom and ventilated pantry and kitchen cabinet work this past year.

Extension Service Planning Now for Distribution of Migratory Laborers

Texas migratory labor, chiefly of Latin-American descent, is expected to be a more flexible and efficient element in Texas agriculture during 1945 than at any time in its history.

According to D. D. Steele, assistant state farm labor supervisor, the Extension Service farm labor staff has devoted the winter and spring months to laying a solid foundation of confidence and cooperation between the more than 30,000 migratory workers and Extension county agricultural agents and staff of the State Extension farm labor office at College Station.

To acquaint the migrants with the plan and objectives of the Extension farm labor program, a group of experienced assistants who speak Spanish were assigned to 30 South Texas and Rio Grande Valley counties where the majority of these workers live. They have contacted more than 2,500 crew leaders, each having an average group of 15 workers, as the basis for spreading information about the program. In all contacts the function of county agricultural agents was explained, along with the services their offices are able to render to laborers. The purpose is to accustom crew leaders and workers to seeking placements through county agricultural agents, and especially depending upon them for accurate information regarding demands for their services. Farmers in parts of the state where this labor is used most largely are cooperating in providing reception centers and suitable housing for migrants.

Field assistants report contacting 2,350 workers through 50 meetings and more than 2,000 through personal interviews. Supplementing this, letters in English and Spanish from state Extension Director Ide B. Trotter emphasizing the services which Extension workers are prepared to render have been distributed to migrants. Steele believes that this preliminary planning should result in more equitable and economical distribution of migratory labor this year.

Questions on allotments, insurance, legal problems or other matters as they relate to Army personnel and their dependents will be answered in this column or by letter. Write Headquarters, Eighth Service Command, Dallas 2, Texas.

Q. If a sergeant went AWOL for four days just before his unit went overseas and he was reduced to the rank of private, will he get his rank back when he returns from overseas?

A. He will not assume his former rank when he returns from overseas. However, his organization may promote him if he again demonstrates the qualities of leadership for which he was elevated in rank before.

Q. I was discharged from the Army last month. I lost the honorable discharge lapel button I was given. Would it be possible for me to get another one?

A. Yes. You may obtain one from the nearest Army installation for a nominal fee of seven cents. Your honorable discharge certificate must be presented when you make the purchase.

THE UN-AMERICAN TACTICS OF OPA

The House last week extended the life of OPA another year, but before doing so virtually stripped it of powers over the nation's food supplies, transferring this control to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Despite the principles for which it was set up and the patriotic endeavor of countless local rationing boards throughout the nation in behalf of fair administration, the OPA was in such ill repute with Congress that it came near being abolished.

The fault is neither in the act nor with the local boards; it is due to stupidity in regional and district offices, to the high-handedness and arbitrary policies of these district administrators who would set themselves up as both a law enforcement agency and a court of justice, and of the un-American tactics of the enforcement branch in seeking to gather evidence.

A case in point was an OPA inspector in Amarillo last week who, seeking to pin something on grocers, used a negro woman as a stool pigeon—and we don't know of a better name, and sent her into a number of grocery stores to buy meat without ration points.

Carrying a small boy with her, the woman told the proprietor that the boy was sick, that she had just come from the doctor's office and that he said she must feed him meat, but she had lost her ration book. To those who asked her why she didn't go to the ration board and secure a new book, she explained she could not do so before the following day, but the doctor insisted that she find steak for her boy immediately. Five of the butchers or proprietors in one afternoon sold her a small portion of beef, accepting her plea of illness and hardship, but when the sixth turned her down the OPA inspector, who had been sitting out in front in his car, strode briskly into the store and congratulated the manager for being a law observer.

This is not to say that grocers or anyone else should be a law violator, but if this incident is typical of how OPA gathers its evidence against hard-working grocers or butchers, who are just as patriotic as any other group, but who also are human, then we say it's high time to abolish the whole set-up and install a system where price control regulations can be administered along American principles and in keeping with American traditions—and where violators can be dealt with in the courts of the land.

The system of kangaroo courts and stool pigeons to spy on and harass the merchants of our nation is not a part of the American way of life for which our men at the front are fighting. Such tactics of OPA are antagonistic to all of our fundamental ideals and smack too much of a gestapo system to be tolerated in the United States of America. The OPA was lucky it got by Congress last week without being kicked clear out the back door.

Advantages of Diversified Farming

By WAYLAND MARCUM

This is the seventh of a series of prize-winning essays written by Hall County 4-H Club boys.

In the early days the farmer planted only two crops, a money crop and a home producing crop. Now the people plant many different kinds of crops, because if one crop fails he will have another to rely on and make them a living.

The livestock and poultry help the farmer out because the cattle serve as a meat to the farmer and if his crop fails to furnish food, he can sell his cattle and get money and buy food for his family. His poultry will furnish eggs and sometimes meat for the farmer.

Farmers can raise sheep to serve families meat. The sheep give wool to man and he can send it to the factories to make his clothes. In time of drouth sheep live on very little food and yet flourish on their limited diet.

The hog is next to the most productive animal on the farm because a hog usually has an average of about seven pigs. Hogs can be kept safe from disease by certain preventive habits in their care.

The farmers grow corn, wheat, and maize to feed the hogs through the winter. In the summer and spring the farmer will turn his hogs and cattle out on his green wheat, oats, rye or barley to graze.

Until a century and half ago, families produced their own food, but now the factories have developed and they now raise the raw materials and sell it to the factories.

Sometimes in the early days the boll weevil would destroy the cotton crops and that made the farmer want to grow more and different crops.

Improved roads have introduced the cheese factories' truck drivers out into the country. They buy the milk and that helps the farmer to buy poultry and cattle. Better roads have encouraged the raising of more cattle since, with tional columnists to short brains in the State Department.

Why doesn't someone tell the people of Russia's millions of casualties, suffered in the war.

Why doesn't someone tell the that she had more loss in property, food supply, cities destroyed and men killed, than all the rest of us put together.

Why does not someone remember that after France had been knocked out and England forced to her knees, there was no one but Russia between the foe and our defeat, until we could get ready.

Russia had the same kind of government when she was our hero as she has now when everyone is trying to scare us to death of the Russian Bear.

We do not need any part of Russia's government over here, but we would do a grand job to give them credit for saving our hide, keep our nose out of their affairs and quit trying to make a bogey man out of our Ally. —Moore County News.

Looking for Food Change, Find 30 Germans in Cave

No infantryman could blame five soldiers of Company "C", 346th Regiment, who had been eating "K" rations for ten days, when they anxiously started out for a cache of "10-in-1" rations hidden in the nearby woods, in Germany.

Someone had told Private First Class Malcolm Doherty, 4254 Eagle Rock Boulevard, Los Angeles, and four of his buddies, all in "C" Company, which is a part of Major General Frank L. Culin Jr.'s 87th "Golden Acorn" Infantry Division, that another unit had left those choice morsels of packaged chow in the woods.

The five infantrymen didn't find any "10-in-1's" in the woods but did find 30-in-1. Thirty Germans came out of a cave with their hands raised in surrender. That made the trip worthwhile for the five men although they were disappointed about not finding the "10-in-1's". Others in the five man crew were: Private First Class Frank Ortiz, Merced, California; Private First Class Martin Card, 518 Meadow Avenue, Jerantou, Pennsylvania; Private First Class Billy Reynolds, Lakeview, Texas, and Private Edward Mchalski, 921 East Locust St., Bloomington, Illinois.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardul is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

LOOK INTO this 2-way help! Try Cardul. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

No Salary Hikes Under New Law Proposed Here

No salary increases for county officials, made possible under a new law passed by the recent legislature, are contemplated here, reports Judge M. O. Goodpasture.

Under the new law county commissioners are permitted to grant as much as 25 per cent salary hikes to persons receiving less than $3,000 a year, provided there are ample funds in the county treasury, and provided further that the commissioners think the raises are warranted.

Governor Coke Stevenson vetoed bills proposing to raise the salaries of district attorneys and district judges. The Governor had urged the Legislature to re-organize the state's judicial set-up and eliminate over-lapping districts. The law-makers failed to act on his recommendation but passed a bill which would grant district judges a salary increase. The Governor vetoed it Monday, the last day for him to act on such measures.

Our Men at Front Had Best, Reports Rep. Gene Worley

By REP. GENE WORLEY

I think everyone is interested in the daily lives and welfare of our forces overseas. I had a chance to see how they lived behind the lines and also in the forward areas. We were in Germany shortly behind Patton's Third Army. And by the way, the Nazis never did know where Patton and his amazing Army would strike next.

Taken by and large, I am firmly convinced the American forces were better fed, better clothed, had better weapons and equipment and better spirits and morale than any others of the Allied forces. In the more active areas of course there was hardly time for anyone to carry field kitchens and serve three hot meals a day.

In those cases packaged, water-proofed rations were provided. Each package contained all of the vitamins and other forms of nutrition it is possible to pack into them. I cannot say that I would have enjoyed them as a steady diet for months—and neither would anyone else—and certainly they don't compare to a good steak or country fried chicken with all the trimmings, but they were good and they were healthful.

You know morale is a series of little things. The Army tried to provide everything such as cigarettes, cokes, reading material, and a thousand and one other things in the various post-exchanges which the boys could buy at a very low price. In addition, the Red Cross worked valiantly to provide recreation and entertainment. The camp shows provided by the United Service Organization in which various famous movie stars appeared seemed to be a great boost to the morale of the boys. However, the thing they enjoyed most was—and you guessed it—mail from home. And the next best thing was the hometown newspapers from which they could secure all the news of everything going on back home.

I talked with GI's from Frankfurt, Germany to Casablanca, and no troops anywhere ever showed finer spirit than the American soldiers. They had some rugged going from D-Day until the Nazis finally gave up the fight. And it took the finest courage, skill, and bravery to beat the Nazi Army. The American doughboy had more ingenuity and initiative than any of the enemy. If he were thrown suddenly on his own he had the knack of taking full advantage of any possibilities provided—which wasn't true of the German Army because it had been regimented so thoroughly and so long they no longer possessed the initiative and versatility the American G. I. had in abundance.

I saw a sign somewhere over in Germany which read as follows: "Buy Bonds and Help Texas Win the War." Perhaps it sounds strange, but no matter where I was, somewhere in the neighborhood was anywhere from one to a dozen or more Texans. I honestly don't see how anybody is still left back in the Lone Star State. And I say in all candor the Texans rated Number One as fighting men.

All of us are acquainted with the dangerous but heroic actions of the 36th Division, both in the last war and this war. They fought all the way from North Africa through to the heart of Germany and every step was a tough and bloody one. No division stands higher in the respect of fighting men than does the 36th.

I landed at an airfield outside Frankfurt Germany and the first thing I saw was a Lone Star flag flying over the field. I immediately inquired from a GI driving a crash wagon where those Texans were. He quickly responded: "I'm one." He took me off to one side and said "We've got a few dambyankees here but we're trying to convert them." I learned later from the Commanding Officer, a Texan and a Colonel at the ripe old age of 27, that the Lone Star flag had been made out of a blackout curtain representing the blue; a bleached mattress cover for the white, and a red Russian flag had been used to fashion a mighty pretty Lone Star flag, which looked awfully good when you're so far away from home. These boys who flew P-47 fighter planes (Thunderbolts) had flown this flag all over Germany.

All the boys quite naturally were interested in Texas and what had happened since they left. I filled several notebooks with messages from the boys to deliver when I got back to the States, and which I gladly did.

To give you an idea how much the Texas influence has spread, I was present when some military government officials were talking to some German civilians. I asked one German girl in the group if she spoke English. In broken but intelligible English, she replied, "No, I speak Texan."

Orvell Gilbreath Is Back in States; Coming Home Soon

When Mrs. Geneva Gilbreath answered the telephone Tuesday and learned it was a "long distance" she was so excited she didn't learn where the call was coming from. She did learn however er the call had been placed by her husband, Pfc. Orvell J. Gilbreath, just back from two years with the Eighth Air Forces in Europe.

"I'm in Maine and I'll be home in about six days", he told her, but Geneva still doesn't know from what place in Maine he was calling.

The only way to bridle your appetite is to put a little bit in your mouth.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to the many friends who were so kind and helpful during the death of our small son and brother, Donny Ray. We do wish to thank many who contributed to the floral offerings. May we bless each of you, is our prayer. Mr. and Mrs. Buster Willard, Beverly and marius.

Robert Welch Writes of 26 Days at Crucifix Hill, and Then of All Sides When War Was Over

Bill at Aachen will be remembered by Pfc. Robert Welch of the First Division. Welch was on board a transport ship when the war in Europe was over. He has written Mrs. Velma Culp... months, then on Friday, March 13. I started on my journey back to my outfit, crossed the English Channel that day on Boat 413. We landed in La Harve, France and were put on a freight train, we call them 40 and 8's for the cars are so small that we say they will hold 40 men and 9 horses. I knew what combat really was and was really sweating that ride out for I knew the First Division was somewhere on line and I had been told they were at the Ruhr pocket. After two days and nights, all cramped up in those cars, we arrived at Aachen, where I first went into combat. I looked out and yes, I saw old Crucifix Hill but it was quiet and peaceful but it brought back memories of the 25 days and nights I spent there in foxholes under artillery and machine-gun fire, which never let up day or night. We then went to Stoleberg, stayed there two weeks, went back to Belgium, then back to Germany then to Holland, then back into Germany and this time really headed for the front. We reached the town of Nuremberg, pulled up to the station and a GI guard yelled to us "Say fellows do you know that Germany gave up?" None of us said a word for we did want to believe it but were afraid it was not true. That night sitting in the box-car door while the others were trying to sleep, I saw fire-works in the distant town. They were tracer bullets from our own machine guns and two machine guns let loose with those tracers, making a V in the sky. When I saw that a lump came in my throat and I just had to shed some tears for I knew it was over. I woke my buddies up and before long there were rifles popping from one end of the train to the other, but the old train was still rolling along.

Hospital for basic training. This consisted of eight hours daily work for four weeks. This is a beautiful place. It covers 95,000 acres, with six divisions of hospitals. We have a bank, post-office, swimming pools and other recreations, everything to amuse the wounded men and help restore them to normalcy. After four weeks here I was sent to Letterman General Hospital. That is an embarkation port. Shiphloads of wounded men come in often and we saw many things too bad to mention. Jungle diseases prevail. Bad skin diseases, caused by the jungles of the South Pacific, were seen everywhere. Those jungles certainly do things to the skin. After three weeks there I was returned to this place. But I dare not unpack because I may be moved at any minute. Our work consists mostly of orthopedic cases. Also paralyzed conditions and the Sister Kenny treatments. We also work with all gun shot and shrapnel wounds, amputations, broken backs, bad skin diseases, and neuro-surgery cases. All cases are diagnosed by the doctors before being sent to us for treatment. Our work will soar to the top after the war is over and during the rehabilitating period. Because that is our work, to make the boys whole again so that they can meet society. I love my work. It is a great joy to help the boys. They need it so badly and are appreciative. I must close now as I am always busy, never a minute to spare. But give my love to all my friends in Memphis.

WOMEN WORK

By INEZ BAKER

This is the story, in part, of how one girl fitted herself at great sacrifice for service to her country and humanity. The story of Lt. M. L. Baker, Physiotherapist, at the Madigan General Hospital, Ft. Lewis, Wash. Lt. Baker is a graduate of Memphis high school, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Baker of Compton Calif. and the sister of Morgan Baker of Memphis. Your reporter is proud to call her a very dear friend.

"When war was declared," she wrote, "I wanted to do something worthwhile. For a time I did Red Cross Nurses Aid work at nights and on Sundays. The Cadet Nurses Corps was not organized at that time. I tried to get into several hospitals but could not qualify in certain subjects. But I felt that I must do something to restore the sick. Then one day I read how badly the army needed Physiotherapists. After a long search I found a school of physiotherapy in the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles. It was of twenty-five years standing and approved by the A. M. A. and the Surgeon General's Office of the Army. I determined to enter this work.

All I knew of physiotherapy was that it meant 'recondition' work. I am afraid if I had known how much work the course entailed I would never had the courage to undertake it. Certain changes had to be made in my life. I gave up a good secretarial position and collected all my savings, a little over $500. I moved into a cheaper room and cut myself off from all my friends and amusements for six months. I it was hard for me, since I had studied 16 to 18 hours per day, been out of school for twelve years. Over a period of six months I did 2,341 hours of work, not including home study. Then I took a test in National Registry, and am now wearing a registry pin of which I am prouder than anything I ever had.

The last six months were not so hard. We worked out in the physiotherapy departments of eight other hospitals and wrote our thesis. I had $275 for tuition and books, and there were other expenses as well as my living expenses. My money began to run short and I did typing at night to help me through. At last the course was finished and there were positions waiting for me in three different hospitals. I chose the Cedar of Lebanon, because it has the best physiotherapy department on the coast. After one year and two months there I decided to enter the Army.

I was sent to Madigan General

Era of Sunday Driving Not Yet Back, Warns OPA

"Sunday driving isn't back yet, and probably won't be for some time to come," District OPA Rationing Executive William G. Williams declared today in explaining eligibility requirements for increased gasoline rations.

Not every "B" coupon holder will be eligible for increased gasoline rations now that ceilings have been raised to 650 miles per month throughout the country, Williams said.

Only those "B" ration holders whose essential occupational driving needs exceed the present "B" ceiling of 475 miles a month will be eligible for an increase. The amount of the increase for eligible B-card holders will vary with their actual occupational driving needs, but in no case may their total rations exceed the new ceiling, he said.

Most "B" ration holders—such as home-to-work drivers who are getting what they need under the 475 ceiling—should not apply for any increase since their applications will have to be rejected and will only add to the work of the local War Price and Rationing Boards.

Farm Families Urged to Aid in Saving of Fats

The farm families of Hall County cooperating with the Farm Security program this week are encouraged to lend their support to War Food Administration and OPA in a vigorous fat salvage campaign, according to Wesley A. Foster, FSA supervisor at Memphis.

Recent reduction in raw materials for civilian supplies of margarine, shortening, and other cooking oils intensifies the seriousness of the fats and oils situation. Needs for high explosives in fighting the Japs and for other essential war items are greater today than ever before.

FSA families in this county should set individual goals to turn in as much waste fat as possible during the next three months. Families should encourage their merchants to participate by serving as depositories.

The young people of FSA families are cooperating through the 4-H Clubs and the Future Farmers of America to do their part in the drive.

"Many youngsters, now that school is out, could be using the time they are not needed in farm work in salvaging fat for war needs," Mr. Foster said.

Care of Shrubs Is Year-Around Job

It is well for home owners interested in the landscaping problems of their homes to bear in mind that keeping their shrubs healthy and attractive is a year-round job, and though winter is the time to give the shrubbery a general pruning, several prunings may also be needed during the growing season. After shrubs bloom early in the spring they should be cut back immediately so that they may begin to form flower buds for the next spring.

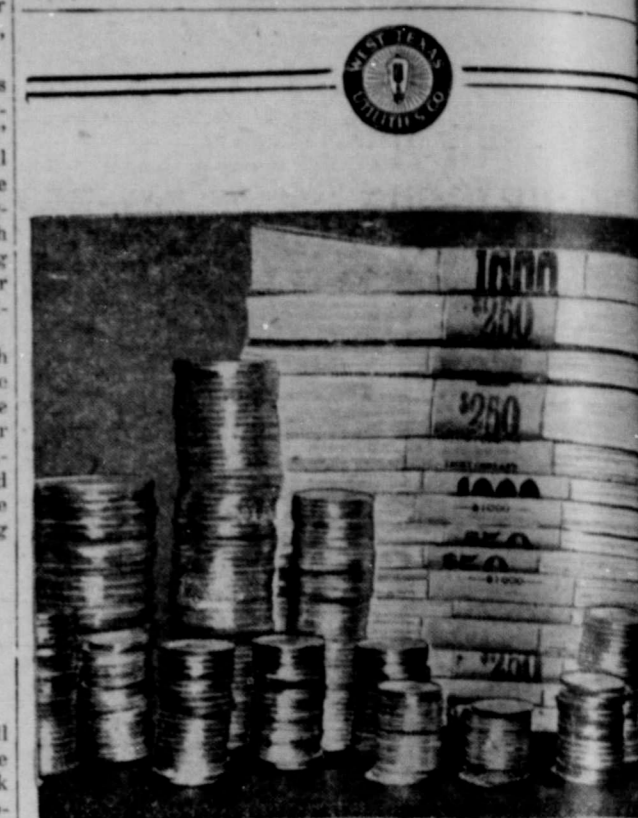

Shrubs and trees neglected during the winter may be pruned until the middle of July, says Florence W. Low, acting landscape specialist for the A. and M. Extension Service. However, heavy pruning during the summer, which produces an abundance of new growth late in the year, is dangerous. Suckers on tree trunks should be cut off, and if a second crop of flowers is desired from crapp myrtle, vitex and other late blooming plants, the flower tips should be removed before seeds are formed. When summer flowers such as petunias grow into unattractive forms they may be cut back. New growth will bloom before frost. Some kinds of pruning may be done any time during the year. Dead limbs, diseased limbs, limbs that rub and injure each other should be removed regardless of season.

Several rules should be kept in mind when pruning. For example: plan all large cuts before taking off any small limbs, use sharp tools, and leave no stubs as all cuts should be sharp. Cut all dead, dying, injured limbs first, with a spade, by the spade into the ground of 8 to 14 inches. Cut and repack the soil.

Practice and study carefully for satisfactory pruning, but mistakes ginner should not be made. Pruning soon cover them up. Ginner will know how to trim next time.
