Medals Come Thick and Fast— A. B. Stuart Is Cited For Rescue at Sea

Honors are coming thick and fast to Seaman 1-c A. B. "Turkey" Stuart, Jr., who at the age of 20 years already has six bronze battle stars for as many important naval engagements in the Pacific, all the way from Midway to Okinawa.

Latest recognition given this young veteran of three years service in fighting the Japanese is a citation for heroic action and total disregard of his own safety in rescuing a mate who had fallen overboard.

Young Stuart and four other crew members of the USS Lackawanna have been cited by their commander for the Navy and Marine Corps Medal and for the Navy's Life Saving Medal.

The citation recounts how the sailor was rescued by Stuart, P.
P. Battaglia and H. Green, who plunged into the rough waters and how two other seamen lowered a life-saving tripod to the water's edge. All of the men were in constant danger of being crushed between their ship and a merchant tanker.

"Turkey," who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stuart, volunteered in the Navy when he was barely 17. He was aboard the Lackawanna when it stood off Tokyo bay at the time of the Jap surrender and the entrance of General MacArthur's occupation forces.

Although he has been in all the major naval battles in that area, including a 3-day engagement at Okinawa, he has come through without injury.

His parents had a letter from him, written Oct. 4 from Tokyo Bay, stating he might get to come home soon with the "Victory Fleet".

He had been awarded six battle stars up to last account and his ship and crew were recently cited by Admiral Halsey "for outstanding performance during operations against the enemy off Okinawa and the Japanese home land, July 4 to Sept. 3, 1945."

The citation for the Life Saving Medal, as forwarded by his commanding officer, reads:

that the names of the above enlisted men be submitted to the corner of the building. The Quotas Set For Victory Loan Drive

Committees have been named, quotas set and all preliminary work done for the opening of the Victory Loan Drive in Hall County next Monday, reports County Chairman O. V. Alexander. This will be the final bond drive of the war.

"It's our last one," said Alexander, "and we want to do our part, just as Hall County always has made its quota in the war bond drives."

The county's quota is a third less than in the last loan, the overall quota being $285,000 of which $140,000 is to be in E bonds.

National quota is 11 billion dollars.

The county has been divided into five districts. Letters pointing out the need for the new bond drive and how the Treasury is to use the money, are being mailed to tax-payers and other residents in each community this week-end.

"We feel," said Mr. Alexander, "that the people of Hall County need no high-pressure solicitation.
They are patriotic and they know that the cost of returning service men to their homes, their hospitalization and rehabilitation, and the maintenance of the armies of occupation, is heavy."

Memphis Offers To Aid Childress In Keeping Field

An offer by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce to give every assistance it can to Childress in its effort to retain the Army Air Field, has been accepted by the Chamber of Commerce there with enthusiasm.

Directors of the local organization voted to tender its help to the Childress group and President Horace Tarver so notified Paul Ord, manager of the Childress chamber of commerce.

The field now is designated as a separation center, which will mean that it will be in operation for several weeks, Childress people say, thus giving them more time in which to submit briefs to the War Department.

A committee may be sent to Washington to ask that the field be kept as a permanent installation.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Crews, Among First Settlers in This Section, Observe 60th Wedding Anniversary on October 15

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Crews, among the first settlers in the Lower Panhandle, observed their 60th wedding anniversary at their home in Memphis on Monday of last week, Oct. 15. It was a quiet observance and "we spent it like any other day," Mr. Crews reports.

Mr. Crews is 85 and his wife is 83. They were married on Oct.
15, 1885 at Liberty Hill in Williamson county, and the following year came to what is now Childress County, and filed on a section of land. It is the section where the Childress Army Air Field is located. His father, T. A. Crews, and two brothers, J. W. and T. L., filed on adjoining sections. The present town of Childress had not been organized and the Denver railroad stopped at Harrold, near Vernon.

Their closest neighbors were six miles distant, the OX ranch headquarters.

Saw Buddies Die, But Was Helpless— Rayford Harris Is Home From 3 Years Hunger and Misery

To Cpl. Rayford Harris, member of the 131st Field Artillery (Lost Battalion), the most agonizing experience of his three years and five months as a prisoner of the Japanese was "seeing your buddies die, and being helpless to do anything for them."

He and the other 500 West Texans, boys from Wichita Falls, Memphis, Plainview, Amarillo—fell prisoners under the crushing force of the Japanese hordes that overran Java within 90 days after Pearl Harbor.

From March 7, 1942 until Aug.
29, 1945 they suffered, starved, starved and endured inhuman treatment at the hands of an inhuman enemy.

Approximately one third of the Battalion of former national guardsmen who went into combat within three weeks after the Japs struck at Pearl Harbor, fell by the wayside. They died of mal-nutrition, disease, brutality, at the hands of their captors and other causes.

Cpl. Harris survived. He is home this week for a re-union with his parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Claude Harris of Memphis, his sister Mollie Harris of Coleman, and his sister and brother-in-law in Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs.
Dwight W. Betts. His other sister, Jane, is attending college in Atlanta, Ga.

He arrived home late Saturday. His physical condition is good, Army doctors have told him, following 30 days in a hospital in Calcutta, India, and two weeks in Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C.

Cpl. Harris, who may be a master sergeant by now—he doesn't know just what his rating is and won't know until he reports to an Army post after his 90-day furlough, was in the medical detachment with Col. Blucher S. Tharp's heroic defenders of Java in the spring of 1942, and remained with the commander of the Lost Battalion through all of the soul-searing days and months in prison camps in Singapore, Malaya, Burma and Thailand. They were never separated until they were transferred from Burma to Thailand early in 1945.

After the death of Capt.
Hugh Lumpkin of Amarillo, the outfit's only medical officer in the harrowing days when the prisoners were on a pick and shovel gang building a railroad in Burma, Cpl. Harris and other members of the medical detachment did what they could for the sick and dying men.

There was little they could do, however, relates Harris, because they had practically no medicines or medical supplies.
Jap warehouses were full of medical supplies, sent them by the Red Cross and they had plenty for their own troops, but none of it was available to the American prisoners.

He was liberated on Aug. 30

Sgt. Jack Holcomb Is Civilian Again

It's just plain "Mister" Holcomb now—and Jack likes it. Former Sgt. Holcomb arrived home the first of the week from Germany.
He had been overseas in a medical detachment since the North African invasion, and saw action there, in the Italian campaign, in the invasion of Southern France and later in Germany.

He was with the Third Division of the Seventh Army.

Jack received numerous decorations and citations, among them being the French Croix de Guerre, for heroic action in Southern France, when he captured six Germans single-handed.

He is the son of Mrs. Maggie Holcomb.

Rites Monday for R. E. L. Snodgrass

Graveside funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Clarendon cemetery for Robert E.
Lee Snodgrass, former resident of Memphis, who died on Saturday at his home in Prairie Grove, Ark. Mr. Snodgrass was 79 years of age and lived in Memphis from 1933 to 1941. The services were under the direction of the Estes Funeral home. His wife passed away here on July 26, 1939.

Officers Answer 2 Calls Saturday Night at Hulver

Sheriff W. C. Anderson and Deputy A. B. Stuart answered two calls in the Hulver community Saturday night, both cases involving negroes.

One was a shooting scrape and the other a wreck. One negro suffered a flesh wound in his side when shot with a pistol. Officers said the wounded man was also attempting to shoot the other man but his gun jammed.

No charges have been filed pending action of the grand jury which meets on Nov. 2.

James Johnson, negro, was fined for driving on the highway without lights when a pick-up he was driving crashed with a truck on the highway. A negro woman and two men were treated in a local hospital for lacerations and bruises. A Womack ambulance answered the call.

City, County May Buy Fire Truck

Purchase of a new, streamlined fire truck with all the latest type equipment used in fire fighting, is being considered by the City Council, following a meeting Friday with S. W.
Horton of Fort Worth, representing the American Fire Apparatus Company.

Mayor C. C. Hodges and members of the council declared themselves as favoring the purchase of the truck, but that they did not feel that the city could stand the full expense.

They favored its purchase, however, if the county will stand half of the purchase price. Under that arrangement the city will agree to maintain, man and operate the truck and to use it in fighting fires anywhere in the county.

The new truck would be equipped with what is called "fog type" of nozzles and accessories. The truck would carry 350 gallons of water, and according to records in other cities, such trucks are adequate to handle 90 per cent of all fires, without any extra water supply.

"It is the type of fire fighting equipment developed by the Army," Mr. Horton said, "and during the past year in Odessa the city reports that 99 out of 100 alarms answered it was necessary only once to connect with a fire hydrant."

The truck could get to a fire in Lakeview within 10 to 12 minutes and have men smothering out the flames without waste of time, it was pointed out.

Both the trucks now owned by the city are old and in a bad state of repair. If they are kept it will be necessary for the city to spend an estimated $1,000 to $1,500 to put the min first-class condition.

"They are too slow and cumbersome and are without the right kind of equipment to give the rural sections much fire protection," Mayor Hodges said.

Memphis and Lakeview, Both Losers Last Week, Meet Friday

Old Rivals Tangle In Eagle Stadium; Game Time Is 7:30

It'll be the Cyclone and the Eagles this week for local football fans, as these old-time rivals meet at Lakeview Friday night in their annual conference tilt. Game time is 7:30. Both teams lost last week, Memphis to the heavier Lefors Pirates, 29 to 6, and Lakeview to the superior Irish from Shamrock, 28 to 0.

Although both teams are in the lower half in conference standing this season, they're evenly enough matched and the natural rivalry that exists, will make it a ball game that promises plenty of interest to attract a capacity crowd.

Coch Coach Kelly and his Cyclone squad came back from Lefors "well pleased" with the showing they made against the highly-touted Pirates. The lop-sided score does not tell the full story of the game.

Fans who saw the contest were thrilled on several occasions by the sensational end runs and off tackle spurts by McElreath and McQueen.

The Cyclone's lone counter came in the third quarter when Memphis blocked a punt behind the goal line. On the play before the Cyclone had fumbled on the Pirates' 1-yard line.

Memphis made practically as many first downs as Lefors and the yardage gained was almost equal. On three occasions the Cyclone took the ball to the 1-yard line, but lacking the line punch to get it across.

The Lefors squad averaged 10 pounds per man heavier than the Cyclone.

Both McElreath and McQueen shone in end runs, McElreath once scampering 80 yards on a hidden ball play only to be forced out of bounds on the 2-foot line.

Coch Kelly had nothing but praise for all members of the squad, particularly mentioning Guards Oren and Monzingo on defensive work as well as McElreath, McQueen, Davis and Ford in the back field.

Wellington continues to set the pace in the district conference race, but most of the Cyclone squad members came home from Lefors with the report that Shamrock has a better ball club than the Pirates. Shamrock may not be out of the district running, to hear them talk.

Wellington has defeated Lefors but does not play Shamrock until Nov. 9.

Chesty Walker's Phillips Blackhawks "poured it on" Wellington Friday night, 20 to 7, in a non-conference game. At the same time Clarendon was taking Wheeler into camp by the tune of 19 to 0. McLean was idle.

Games this week are: Clarendon at Wellington. Memphis at Lakeview. Shamrock at McLean. Lefors at Wheeler.

THREE NAMES OMITTED FROM HONOR ROLL

Three names were omitted last week from the West Ward Honor Roll. They are Jimmy Dan Duncan, Norma Lou Thompson and Kelly Grant Moore.

Lt. Harrison Is Civilian Again

It's now Wendell Harrison of the Harrison Hardware company instead of Lt. Harrison of the United States Navy.

He arrived home last week after 43 months in the Navy, the most of which time was spent as an officer aboard an ammunition ship in the Pacific theaters.

He received his discharge at Camp Wallace and this week is visiting with his wife at Hamlin.

They will return to Memphis by the end of the month. He is the son of Mrs. S. T. Harrison and is associated with his brother, Carl in the Harrison Hardware company.

Padgett Writes From Philippines

Eldon Padgett writes that Mrs. Bessie Archer MAY be home by Christmas "don't look for me till he comes." He is in Philippines at the present.

Not too hard work! I have truck now. It is a 2 1/2 ton dump truck. It really runs good. I imagine you have seen some truck or ones like it. It has a canvas top over the bed of truck until I took it off to gravel. It has only 700 miles, so you can see it is rather

Cpl. Fred Meadows Expects Discharge At Early Date

Cpl. Fred E. Meadows arrived in the states Sept. 3 and spent a 45-day furlough visiting his wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Meadows of Parnell. Cpl. Meadows spent 28 months in the China-Burma-India theatre of Operations.

He entered the service Oct. 22, 1942 and received his training at Camp Wallace. Fred went overseas in May, 1943 and was assigned as a message center chief in Headquarters Battery, 18th Air Borne Anti-Aircraft Battalion, attached to the British 14th Army.

He reports back to Ft. Sam Houston Oct. 26 and expects to receive his discharge soon. Cpl. Meadows had four brothers in service, two having been discharged recently.

Lt. J. E. Masterson Writes From India

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Masterson of Estelline have received a letter from their son, Lt. James E. Masterson, Jr., with the Signal Corps in India. He writes the country is beautiful, at a distance, but that the beauty is deceiving because it is "infested with a thousand kind of insects, underbrush and falls, and crossing a canyon or gorge at 300 feet on a pair of rails, is something."

Dear Folks: Another month gone, and glad to get rid of it, we hope its a big step in getting us home. I don't see how we can stay on this job much longer. Three or four weeks at most, and of course we will have to go all the way back to Chahau in the upper Assau Valley. There we will spend endless time over almost needless details. There a long trip to port and 25 days on a ship when we get one. We have been told 2300 men will be shipped out this month, 400 by plane, and all American troops will be out of India and Burma by February.

Speaking of rain, we still get our share. This part of India is half under water, we are only 57 feet above sea level. On the second, I made a trip into the hills. We traveled steady for two days (by rail jeep). Paid all the men, and I had lots of money . . . for a while.

A funny thing happened on the way up. A big water buffalo came out from behind a pile of railroad cross ties. I burned a lot of steel, but its funny how these brakes don't work very well on rail jeeps. Well, we took one buffalo for a short ride. It's a good thing we were going slow or we would have had an engine in our laps no doubt. No, it didn't hurt anything except our dignity and it wasn't a buffalo I hit when I got my injury. Later, we almost got more than we could handle.

We have a signal corps radio in the Officers Basha and I built an amplifier, put in an out door speaker, and blast it all over the Camp. I got the parts from wrecked air plane radios. It's really nice and clear and we enjoy the American music we get. These strikes over wages really burn us up. We would like to get some of those guys over here at $50.00 per month. Then let them even act like they wanted an increase in pay. Love. JAMES

It was here that Cpl. Harris, who had been placed in charge of a so-called hospital ward with 44 patients, saw 11 of them die—and they died mainly because there was no medicine.
"To me," he says, "that was the most horrible part of our entire ordeal. Your closest buddies would get sick, lay for days in agonizing pain—and then die. We were so helpless.
There was plenty of medicine in the Jap warehouses, but they would give us none." Cpl. Harris said that the resourcefulness and fortitude of Colonel Tharp was respected by every man in the battalion. He told how Colonel Tharp not only kept detailed records on the men he had commanded but how he hid these records from the Japs and later recovered them. These records include maps and sites showing where the various men were buried—men who had died of tropical diseases and of brutality at the hands of their captors.

Dr. Lumpkin died in the Burma jungles on Aug. 1, 1943, but for the remainder of the year or until the prisoners were taken to Thailand, there was no doctor in the group. Cpl. Harris and others of the medical detachment divided the work; men were segregated into groups with a medic to administer to the wants of them the best they could, but mostly without medical supplies of any nature.

Is on Way Home
Mrs. Silas Wood of Memphis will soon have a reunion with her three sons and daughter-in-law, all in service.
Gunners Mate 1-c Hiram Wood arrived here Saturday night. He has been aboard the Battleship Mississippi in the Pacific since his enlistment into the USN in January of 1943. During this time, he participated in the landings at Leyte, Okinawa and various other places in the South Pacific. He expects to be in the Navy at least 16 months more.
T-4 Tommy Wood has notified his wife that he is on his way to a Redistribution Center in France and that his mail will not follow him. He has served in Europe about two years with the 333rd Engineers and has been in Rheims, France for some time.
Chief Petty Officer Si Wood arrived in Memphis Monday afternoon with his discharge which he received upon his arrival in California from Okinawa. Following his enlistment in the Navy in 1943 he was an instructor at Camp Elliott for 8 months and then left for the South Pacific. His wife, who is in the WAC, now nursing at Woodrow Wilson General Hospital at Staunton, Va., is expected home in the near future.

GREATER FIRE PROTECTION

Purchase of a new fire truck is now being considered by the city council. Present city equipment is both outmoded and inadequate. It is estimated that the repair work necessary to place one of the present trucks in serviceable condition will cost at least $1,000. The cost may be higher. Even if the equipment is overhauled it will not give adequate protection to rural residents. It is too slow and cumbersome and does not have the latest water-bearing and fog-type of equipment for use in fighting fires.

The truck under consideration is a light, stream-lined unit, with 350 barrels of water and the fog-type of installations. It is the type of fire fighting developed by the Army, and has proven its worth wherever used. It is effective in most fires without the necessity of ever hooking onto a fire hydrant. It puts out fires in a hurry and without water damage to merchandise.

With such a truck the Memphis fire department could give protection to all the surrounding territory. Council members are disposed to buy the new truck, provided the county will share half of the purchase price. Under such an arrangement the city will meet all expenses of maintaining, manning and operating the equipment. It sounds like a bargain for all concerned.

In the more densely populated areas counties either maintain their own equipment or operate jointly with the municipalities. Rural areas are entitled to protection the same as urban centers. Jointly owned equipment with the city maintaining and operating it, seems to be the solution for communities such as ours. We think it would be a forward step for the city and county to buy the new, modern and effective piece of fire-fighting equipment, and we think such a move would be approved by the voters and property owners as a whole.

OPEN FORUMS ARE THE AMERICAN WAY

The Open Forum type of program is regaining its popularity. The radio round table discussions are but a revival of the old fashioned town hall meetings. But, whether on the radio or in the school house, they bespeak a good trend. Whenever and wherever people meet and discuss issues or problems their time is well spent. The open forum holds the solution to most of our problems. There are two sides to all questions. The person who forms his opinion on prejudice and who is not willing to listen to the other side is a demagogue—and demagogery is a far cry from democracy.

The open forum is the American way of settling public issues. If it is observed all the way from the home community to the halls of Congress we have democracy functioning in its purest sense. If we have a sufficient revival of the open forum spirit in America we needn't worry about some of the issues that now loom as major obstacles to our future progress.

For that reason we are pleased to note that the Culture Club is sponsoring an open forum program next Tuesday night. We commend the example to all clubs, groups and organizations. And, while we think of it, we should like to suggest a topic for some forum meeting at an early date—that of adequate street lights and street markers for Memphis.

Press Paragraphs

SELECTED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGE

With 23 major strikes in seven weeks following V-J Day and between 300,000 and 400,000 persons jobless in the first week of October, it actually seems as though there must be "something rotten in Denmark"—to borrow a phrase that fits the United States. When you look back upon the record of the country for the past few years you will find that this situation is not due to so-called "unrest in labor." The wage earners who work in our manufacturing plants and outstanding industries are likely just as reasonable today as they ever were. The records show that the workers tried to observe the "no strike" pledge during the war—the same record shows a very small group of their leaders, most of whom make headquarters in the National Capital, pulled all the strings they could grab hold of to build up power-politics.

To accomplish this object they rounded up votes to keep the New Deal going. There has not been a time in more than a dozen years when the labor leaders have not been demanding higher wages, whether those demands were reasonable, or unreasonable.

So here we are at the very out-start of reconversion blocked by serious situations that stall all efforts to resume normal conditions of American life. Horaie Greely observed: "The only way to resumption it to resume," and Woodrow Wilson's advice was: "The way to resume is to resume."

The recent way in which the elevator strike in New York City was handled and brought to a close by Governor Dewey seems to indicate that it may be wisdom to turn over to the States plenty of power and authority to handle labor disputes. So far, the Federal Government in Washington has not been very efficient, because in nearly every case there has been too much dickering and juggling of issues between employers and employees, and too little regard for the interest of the Nation as a whole.—The Paducah Post.

No system of government is going to work unless the people do. The degree of prosperity a nation enjoys is going to depend upon the amount of work done and the number of people who work. Notwithstanding the high flung theories that we can tax ourselves into wealth and provide a life of comfort and ease and big pensions for everyone the fact remains that there are only two courses of wealth in the world; the soil and labor. The people who work and the ones who contribute to a nation's wealth and to the world's wealth.—Ford County News.

The government has been forced to take over much of the refining end of the oil industry as a result of the fight to death being waged by C.I.O. and the operators.

The fight between the two had resolved itself, not to gain specific demands made by the union not to grant them by the operators, but is really a test of power as to whether labor will manage the business or the owners and stock holders.

Samuel Gompers, great labor leader, once said, when asked what his men wanted was, "more" when you get that what will you wish? he was asked. "More" he replied.

It has been proven that all labor wished to improve its condition. Once that condition is met, a new standard is set and ambitions aroused and new demands made. Nothing will satisfy less than management and ownership. Fear of post-war conditions that would result in less pay and less of jobs has caused all organized labor to make a last fight to become firmly entrenched to protect the job and the wartime pay.—Quantah Tribune-Chief.

Refresher Courses For Lawyer-Vets

Lawyers who have been in military service will have an opportunity to take refresher courses on recent developments in the legal profession, at the University of Texas February 11-March 9.

A. W. Walker, distinguished professor of law who has recently been discharged from the Navy, is in charge of the refresher courses and he has announced that the course will be open to all attorneys, regardless of whether they are University of Texas students.

Statutes, decisions, and regulations which have developed between 1940 and 1945 will be reviewed in the course, and tentative plans to place emphasis on Procedure, Oil and Gas, and Federal Taxation.

Lectures will be given by members of the Law School faculty, members of the Travis County Bar, the Texas Judiciary, and leading Texas attorneys.

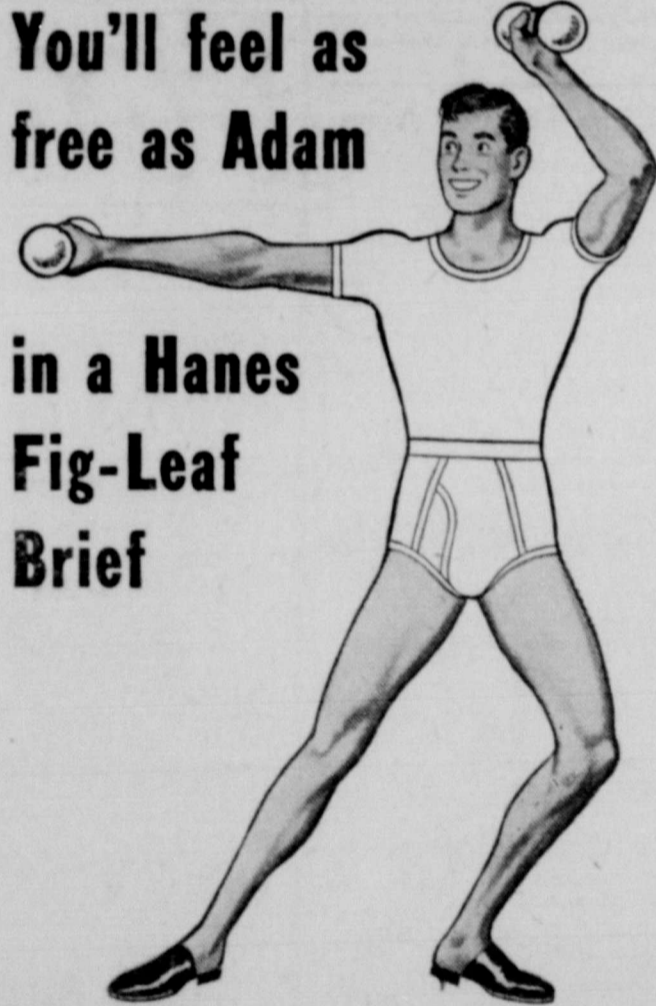

Lakeview Seniors To Present Play

Rehearsals are now being held on the play to be presented by the Lakeview High School senior class. It is a three-act comedy, "A Meddlesome Maid," with a cast of 10 characters. In the cast are Tommie Jo Bevers, Tack Moreland, Nell Mitchell, Dan Hancock, Betty Brown, "Skeeter" Wiley, Helen Riddle, "Poose" Denton, Joy Hoggatt and J. Moore. The date has not been set but it probably will be early in December.

The play is being directed by the senior sponsor, Henry Cunningham, Jr.

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by.

The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job.

But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost.

The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes. Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements.

That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and testing under actual operating conditions showed the specifications needed for efficiency and economy.

Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

Annual Mill Iron Sale on Nov. 1 at Cottonwood Site

WELLINGTON — Commercial cattlemen are manifesting greater interest than ever before in the annual sale of registered Hereford bulls of the Mill Iron Ranches. Lafayette M. Hughes has announced that the sale will be held as usual on November 1 at the Cottonwood headquarters two miles south and ten east of Wellington.

Mill Iron's truly original plan of selling registered Hereford bulls at stated and very reasonable prices is rapidly changing the quality of the herds on many ranches in Collingsworth, Hall, Donley, Cottle and adjoining counties. The results already can be seen on many ranches and farms in the southeastern part of the Panhandle. Mill Iron herd sires have produced herds of high quality and remarkable uniformity in a few short years.

To make sure that the quality of the 1945 bulls would be up to or above that of previous years, a 33 per cent cut has been made in this year's crop. No bull that does not measure up to the high standards of Mill Iron will ever be offered for sale for breeding purposes; but several cattlemen expressed a desire to buy some of the cutbacks that went to the feedlots for further proof that Mill Iron breeding is the key to high quality for the commercial cattleman.

It has been a long trail that has brought the Mill Iron herd to its present perfection. Careful and painstaking breeding over a period of many years has gone into the building of the present herd. Mr. Hughes has employed some of the most noted animal husbandry experts in the United States to assist Cleo Rothwell, herd manager, in seeing that the right bulls were used with the right cows.

From this work has evolved a registered herd of many cattle that is the envy of owners of small herds who breed show cattle. Mill Iron Herefords are noted for their exceptionally strong and beautiful heads, deep broad bodies, straight legs, compactness and strong bone structure. But in addition to this they have proven exceptionally hardy and sturdy on the range.

Recalls Hot Spot In Luzon Fighting

"I've been in some pretty tight spots," recalled Private First Class L. M. Wiginton of Lakeview, "but none as rough as when I was on Hill 505 overlooking the Villa Verde Trail in Northern Luzon. We were machine gunned and shelled almost at the same time then."

A Mortarman in the famed 32d (Red Arrow) Infantry Division, the Texan was telling in Luzon of an experience during the savage fighting in the Caraballo Mountains.

"Our mortar was set up in a bomb crater on the side of the hill," continued Wiginton. "It was a foggy morning and we'd been firing most of the time. In a short while the fog lifted, and some Nips who had sneaked up through the mist opened up on us with a light worse, one of their heavy mortars began to lob shells in on us.

"For six hours we were pinned down," related the Texan. "During that time we couldn't get to our weapons to knock out their machine gun. The slugs killed four of my buddies and wounded two others not ten feet away from me. We finally got out of that spot under cover of a smoke screen."

Prior to induction Wiginton was a farmer. "I plan to go right back to that work as soon as I'm discharged," he said.

In service since June, 1944, Wiginton trained at Camp Wolters, Texas, before departing for overseas duty in December, 1944. He holds the Combat Infantryman Badge, the Asiatic-Pacific Ribbon and the Philippine Liberation Medal. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dulah Wiginton, live in Lakeview.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE EYESTRAIN DAYS

REDDY KILOWATT Your Electric Servant

WITH the fall come shorter periods of daylight, and this calls for the use of more artificial light.

Ninety-five per cent of the children enter school with good normal eyesight. On leaving school twelve years later, twenty-five per cent will be in need of glasses, and upon graduating from university thirty-five per cent will require them.

A large percentage of defective vision is the result of eyestrain caused by inadequate lighting. Children give little thought to the care of their eyes. For instance, a favorite position when doing homework or reading the "funnies" is on the floor. Habits such as this should be corrected.

Good light is always important. Fortunately we can now purchase for a penny as much light as cost a dollar not long before our parents were born. Young eyes have years of work ahead of them and good lighting pays in dividends more precious than money.
