C. of C. to Choose Eleven Directors In Annual Voting

The annual balloting for 11 directors of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce will begin this week-end, Horace Tarver, president of the organization, said this week.

Ballots are being mailed to members this week, Mr. Tarver said. The ballots must be returned within ten days of receipt, he pointed out, urging all members to vote. In the past, the number of members voting has been extremely small, Mr. Tarver said, and this year it is hoped the response will be much greater.

All members are eligible for the directorships. Three of those now serving as directors will be ineligible, since it was voted recently to drop three names from the ballots each year to enable more people to hold the jobs. The names of the three not eligible will not appear on the ballot forms.

Estelline Is Planning For Bank, Hospital

Recently reorganized for better civic development, the Estelline Chamber of Commerce has launched a campaign to obtain a bank once more for Estelline, and also to sponsor a cooperative hospital similar to the ones in Amherst and Elk City, Okla., it was announced this week.

A mass meeting of citizens was held at the Estelline High School auditorium recently to discuss the cooperative hospital idea. Citizens were present from Estelline, Tell, Farnell, and Newlin.

Representatives for the South Plains Cooperative Hospital were present for the meeting to participate in the discussion, and give information for such a project.

J. L. Darby, president of the Estelline Chamber of Commerce was chairman at the session.

Committees from the chamber of commerce were named to contact outlying communities to see if enough real interest can be aroused to begin selling the memberships at once. It was also decided that a good doctor be contacted on the possibility of locating in that section.

Another mass meeting will be held in the auditorium February 5 to continue the discussions.

Snow Beautiful—But Played Havoc With Many Trees

The snow Tuesday was beautiful—yes—but it also played havoc with a large number of trees in Memphis.

There were numerous limbs broken from trees as the snow weighted them down, and some tree trunks were split down the middle from the heavy weight.

Some people believed that the snow, if it stayed long enough, might have a freezing effect on their shrubbery of the ever-green variety. And some of these people went to the trouble of knocking the snow loose from the shrubbery.

A large number of smaller trees were bent to the ground, and in a few cases, bent limbs blocked auto driveways.

Temperature Low 14; Moisture Total Is 1.38 Inches in City

The much-needed moisture which Hall Countians, as well as most of the rest of those in West Texas, have been wishing for came this week in the form of rain and snow.

Total precipitation during the week was 1.38 inches, J. J. McMickin, local weather observer, reported.

Accompanying the rain and snow was a drop in the temperature from the relatively mild weather the county had been experiencing for the past few weeks. The low reading from the thermometer was 14 degrees, recorded by Mr. McMickin Tuesday night.

The largest snow of the year was ready for Hall Countians when they awoke Tuesday morning. The snow started early the night before, at about 8 o'clock, continued throughout the night, and left a white blanket covering the ground, trees, cars, and houses.

The wet weather started last Thursday morning, when first snow, then rain, then snow, then rain fell. The rain continued slowly during the day.

Dry days followed on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. Then on Monday morning, a slow and deliberate drizzle found its way to the earth, following a very light amount of snow before daylight. The heavy snow fell Monday night and Tuesday morning.

By 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, a bright sun was beating down on the snow and ice to begin the end of the beautiful white blanket and the start of the sloppy muddy mess which follows in the wake of a snow.

The reason was that three of the buses were stopped from going further north when they arrived here, and two others were sent back to Wichita Falls after they had unloaded here.

Altogether there were 104 passengers stranded in Memphis Tuesday, and all of them were put on a train that night for Amarillo.

Another bus was stalled by a snowdrift this side of Hedley Monday night, and the passengers, all but two of them, spent the night and most of Tuesday morning in the bus.

Two of the passengers walked part way and then caught a ride on into Memphis Tuesday morning, and told of the others' plight. Finally about noon, the bus made it back to Hedley, where the citizens of the town took good care of the passengers by taking them (Continued on Page 12)

"Hey, Ref—aren't you out of bounds?"

In basketball or business, Americans expect fair play all down the line. In basketball, the referee is there to see that the game is played according to the rules. But he's not a player.

In business, the referee is the government, which establishes regulations for fair practices.

But when government goes beyond governing and into business and competes with its own tax paying citizens, the American tradition of fair play is set aside. The referee then becomes a player, and he takes advantages that are denied to all the other players in the game.

Take government-owned or subsidized electric power systems, for example. They pay no taxes. When they need money, they call on our U. S. Treasury funds and get it at little or no interest. If they have losses, through political management, why worry? You, as a taxpayer, will have to take care of that.

Business-managed power systems, on the other hand, do not have these special government privileges. They pay their full share of taxes, pay fair interest on any loans.

It is a tribute to American self-reliance that tax-paying, self-supporting companies supply over four-fifths of the tremendous amount of electricity used in this country.

The same forethought and experience which furnished the required electric power to win a global war will continue to assure America dependable—and cheap—electric service for a postwar world. And businessmen can do the job better than bureaucrats.

aps Brutal, Says freed Prisoner

No matter how you look at it, guards in the Japanese prison camps were brutal, fiendish, and diabolically sadistic, says Tech Sergeant Joe W. True of Cheyenne, Ok., recently released prisoner from Japan, who is visiting this week the home of his father, J. W. True, of Memphis.

Sergeant True was with the man forces, and after the fall of Bataan, he went to Corregidor where he was with General Jonathan Wainwright's air group.

When escaping to Corregidor, he was forced to swim about a mile and a half before he was picked up by an American ship. Swimming was done in the face of bombing and strafing.

When Corregidor fell, he was held in the Bilbid prison hospital in Manila, then later was taken to Cabanatuan Camp No. 1, where he spent one and one-half years, and from there he went to Japan, for two years. At camp in Japan, located on the southern end of Kyushu, he was forced to work in a coal mine. The food we were given was not enough to give us the strength to work for a day," the sergeant said. "When night came we were so tired we could cause trouble and had to go to bed. We were always hungry. The food consisted mainly of rice, with a little made from fish being served occasionally—when the fish were available. On special occasions we were fed dog meat."

With scars to prove his punishment, True related one story about how he was caught smoking when he was not supposed to be. The guard who caught him drew on the cigarette until it was very hot, then pressed it to his leg until the stench of burning flesh became too strong. This treatment was repeated three times.

When asked about the atomic bomb which was dropped on Nagasaki, only 32 miles from the camp where he was a prisoner, True said the prisoners could feel the heat waves coming across the bay. They had become accustomed to large fires caused by American bombs, however, and thought nothing much of the heat waves. None of the prisoners were affected by the radio-active waves, he said.

The camp in which he was a prisoner was completely destroyed when American P-51's dropped incendiary bombs, and P-38's strafed the place about six weeks before the war ended, True related. Some American prisoners were injured by the bombs and strafing, but True escaped unharmed.

Prisoners of the camp were freed September 13, meeting the Americans at the air base at Koyonoy on Kyushu Island. True was flown to the hospital on Okinawa and then flown on to Manila. He was at sea between Manila and Pearl Harbor when the typhoon struck Okinawa in October.

The sergeant will remain here a few days more awaiting orders, then go to Florida for two-weeks recuperation. From there he will go to California, where he expects to be discharged in March.

He is well-decorated, and is entitled to wear three presidential citations, two from the late President Roosevelt and one from President Truman, the purple heart for wounds received during the invasion of Corregidor, the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with two battle stars, the Philippines defense ribbon with one bronze star and three white stars, the American defense ribbon, the good conduct medal, and the victory medal.

Fred Berry Asks To Be Re-Elected As Commissioner

Fred Berry of Estelline has authorized The Democrat to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of County Commissioner of Precinct No. 3, subject to the action of the democratic primary.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Berry made the following announcement:

"It is my sincere belief that my service as a county commissioner makes me more capable in the future to fulfill the duties of this office much more efficiently than in the past. I realize that the experience has been a great aid to me.

"I also wish to say that I believe I will be of more use to the precinct in my work, now that materials are becoming available once more. This will enable me, of course, to do a better job in maintaining the part of the county which will fall under my jurisdiction. I especially want to express my appreciation for the consideration the people have shown to me when I was unable to do the things I should have, due to the many shortages.

"It is my present intention to see personally each of the residents of the precinct to solicit your support, and I want to take this means of thanking you for your aid in the past. I feel that I am better qualified than ever to give you more service as a commissioner, not only in the precinct but also in my part of the administration of county affairs."

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

More About

Red Cross Work

It has been sometime since there has been any news from the production of the Hall County Red Cross. Due to cessation of hostilities, the needs of the Red Cross have been altered but the work of this far-reaching organization for good to all mankind continues in peace time as well as in wartime. There are still definite needs for clothing and knitted garments overseas and it is the Red Cross's job to supply these needs.

Already two million men have been demobilized and thousands more are awaiting passage home but hundreds more will remain overseas to help police Germany and Japan. Their needs for warm clothing continues. There is available now at the Red Cross rooms yarn for mufflers, socks, wristlets, and sweaters. If you can and will, please call for some of this yarn and help convert it into useful garments.

Also, an amount of woolen materials has been received and will be made into snow suits, capes, and overalls for the children overseas, victims of the privations of war. The local ladies clubs will be called on to help with this sewing program. Also it is to be hoped that the Hall County communities of Salisbury, Plaska, Turkey, Lakeview, Eli, Estel-line, and all other Hall County towns will assist with this worthwhile undertaking. Please contact Mrs. Murray Dodson (telephone 314) to learn more about this program.

Furthermore, with the thousands of veterans swelling the Veteran Hospital enrollments, there is still urgent need for all hospital supplies.

Eugene Miller on Guam, Likes It So Far

Pvt. Eugene Miller writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller, that he has just landed on Guam. "It seems to be dreaming of a white Christmas," but says he rather enjoys tropical weather—least it's something different.

Guam, December 22, 1945. Dear Mom and Dad,

Well, here I am on the other side of the world. We left Los Angeles the 5th about 10 o'clock at night and woke up the next morning and could see nothing but water. That was also the first time everybody was so sick. I was so seasick that I couldn't eat anything all day. The second day I felt a lot better and managed to keep my food down pretty well. After that I felt O. K. all the rest of the way.

We came right on across when the fog started. Didn't stop for anything; in fact we didn't see anything but water until we got here. We saw Guam early Thursday morning (20th) and came on to harbor and spent the night in the boat. We got off yesterday afternoon about 4:30.

We celebrated Jiggs' birthday getting off and stepping on land. Really feels good. I'm exactly sold on the idea of these boat rides. They make living on one rather miserable. The first part of the situation was chow. Never did get enough to eat. What little we did get was "lousy" but we were so hungry that it tasted pretty good.

Right now, we are located at Harmon Field, sleeping in plywood barracks and on canvas. But that's better than a hole. We may stay here and may be moved to some other place. I think there are about 10,000 on the island. Some of them stay on the island all the time. Guam is also a redistribution center, so you can't tell what will wind up in Japan or the Philippines yet. There are a thousand places we could go.

It kinda like it here. We have some of the prettiest scenery here I have ever seen. Palm trees, single beaches, and Army, Navy, and Marine bases and installations. They certainly have made nice place out of Guam. These bases have been "carved" out of the jungle, but they left the palm trees. They are all over the island. The first thing I ate on Guam was a coconut. There are millions of them.

Well, I can't tell you too much. I've just been here one day. I have tropical weather but it's not so bad. I can't tell that it gets much hotter here than it does at home in the summer time. The temperature is the same the year around. The nights are plenty cool enough to sleep and no mosquitos. I'm really glad that, no matter of getting malaria. I've been hearing about the wave that's going on over here. Guess it was really cold. I thought to have a white Christmas this year. Doesn't seem like Christmas here with the warm weather and all but at least it's something different. Guess I'll lose this and tell you more another time. All's well.

Watkins Tells Football Squad Schools Need Well-Rounded Physical Program

A well-rounded physical education program should be established in all schools, particularly in the smaller organizations, Foster Watkins, former WTSC football star who was recently released from the U. S. Navy, told members of the Memphis High School football squad when they were given their annual banquet by the Memphis Lions Club in the First Methodist Church basement.

The banquet for the football squad, which has been given in the past early in December, was held Wednesday noon.

Mr. Watkins, guest speaker at the banquet, emphasized the need for better physical training for the youth of today by quoting figures on the number of men turned down by the armed forces during the war due to the lack of physical qualifications. He stated that at present most schools fail to take care of, physically speaking, about two-thirds of the students, those who do not play football or basketball, or compete in track events.

Following the address by Mr. Watkins, Coach Curtis Kelly, who just completed his first season as Memphis football coach, thanked members of the Lions Club in behalf of the squad for honoring them at the banquet. Although he would promise nothing on next year's football team, Coach Kelly said he believed the team would be much stronger, especially since he has 16 returning lettermen from the 1946 team.

The guest speaker and the coach were introduced by N. W. Durham, the club program chairman.

When the teacher asked son to spell weather the other day, he laboriously turned out "wethir." She maintained that it was the worst spell of weather they had had around there in years.

Meat to Be More Plentiful Than at Same Time in '45

United States civilians should find more meat in the butcher shops during the first quarter of 1946 than they did in the same three months one year ago. But the supply will not be more plentiful than it was in the closing quarter of 1945. This estimate does not, however, take into consideration the striking of packing house employees.

According to a statement from the Production and Marketing Administration received by the A. and M. College Extension Service, allocations of meat for civilians January through March "is virtually the same as that for the final quarter of 1945." But it is 18 pounds greater, measured on an annual per capita basis, than in the first quarter of 1945.

The statement said that 5,003,400,000 pounds, carcass weight, of the estimated 5,970,300,000 pounds allocated for all purposes was designated for civilians. This would provide for consumption at an annual average rate of about 150 pounds per person. To keep within this poundage, however, it may be necessary for some meat eaters to tighten their belts. The report said that in recent weeks civilians have been consuming meat at an average annual per capita rate of about 165 pounds.

Weather Affects Selling, But Prices Still Holding Up

Cold wintry weather added its quieting effect to the seasonally dull market situation on southwest farm products during the past few weeks, but prices held up well, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration. Trade was limited largely by reduced offerings since demand generally continued very good.

Wheat and sorghum grains continued to sell at the ceiling plus all permitted markups. Most of the southwest peanut crop is already in the hands of shellers, who report difficulty in filling the demand for finished goods. Rice activity is now centered mostly at milling plants, with farmers already preparing their land for next year's production.

Cotton reached another new twenty-year high early in the week, but then sagged a little as spot market activity decreased. Sales in the ten markets amounted to only 158,400 bales compared with 190,000 in the preceding week.

Holiday demand for poultry was quite active. Young hen turkeys and light weight toms were in good request, but the heavier birds continued to move rather slowly. Offerings in the Southwest were reported adequate for trade needs but do not appear to be burdensome, and prices held firm throughout the week. A few dull easy spots prevailed on other poultry, including a slow demand at Denver and slight easiness on light weight and leghorn fowl along with young chickens at New Orleans early in the week.

Cold weather held down any appreciable increase in egg receipts, and demand was sufficient to maintain a firm trend on all offerings. Price reductions were limited to the required adjustment to lower OPA ceiling levels on some grades.

Supplies of vegetables for the holidays was reduced by the recent freezing weather which extended into south Texas areas and brought a sharp decrease in movement of sweet potatoes from Louisiana and of Irish potatoes and onions from Colorado. Hardy vegetables from the lower Rio Grande Valley moved fairly well, though unfavorable weather conditions tended to hold down the volume. Some of these items, like cabbage and carrots, are selling in competition with supplies from other sections of the country so that demand is not too keen.

Cattle markets generally featured light receipts, with cold rainy weather in the South and snow and ice further north the principal restraining factors. The quality of offerings was only fair at most markets. Southwest sellers found the light supply an inducement to ask higher prices and a generally strong market prevailed especially in Texas, where demand was active. Some markets further north reported a seasonally slow demand and uneven price trends. Nearly all grades at Chicago closed the week 50 cents to a dollar under the recent high time.

Hogs sold at the ceiling except for a dull easy trend on feeder pigs at several points.

Sheep and lambs were irregular. San Antonio was mostly steady under clean-up trading.

Canyon College to Honor War Dead

The college's war dead includes: Samuel Otis Archer, Bonner Baker, James Royce Barron, Munroe Belknap, Elver Brown, Jimmie Carr, Alva Clarey, Melvin D. Cleek, Ray Cox, Burton Culp, Glenn Davis, C. L. 4th Sunday Singing Here Discontinued Estelline to Hold Meets on 3rd Sundays

The fourth Sunday singing conventions which have been held in Memphis in the past have been discontinued until further notice, Bill Monzingo, local man in charge of the group singing meetings, has announced.

Estelline singers have recently organized a similar convention, Mr. Monzingo said, and all those who have been attending the meeting in Memphis are invited to attend those in Estelline.

The Estelline singing conventions will be held the third day of each month, Mr. Monzingo said. Jake Morrison will be in charge, and the meetings will be held in the Estelline high school building.

Large crowds have attended conventions here in the past, was pointed out, and it is hoped that the meetings at Estelline will be as well attended.

Housing Shortage Still Acute in City

Does anyone have anything suitable to live in which you wish to rent?

This question is being asked daily in Memphis as the housing situation remains very much adlocked.

A few weeks ago The Democrat in a "for rent" classified ad in the issue. But before that issue was ever printed that "for rent" sign had been taken down—the apartment listed was printed before the paper was ever printed. The housing situation has been acute for months now, and there seems to be no end to it in sight. Newcomers to the city are unable to find places to live, and many of them have trouble even locating a single room in which to hang their hats. There are some rooms available in private homes occasionally, but they are few and far between.

When a family moves out of a house nowadays, it seems to be that they are either leaving town or the house has been sold.

The Democrat has called every day asking for possible places to live, but there are none listed. Occasionally a "for sale" sign is hung on a house, and the newcomers are ready and willing to buy the houses—provided, of course, that they are listed for a reasonable price.

New houses are simply not being built, and mainly because there are no materials available for the houses. A number of business houses in the city are planning to either enlarge or remodel their places of business, but nothing can be done due to lack of materials.

It was believed by many residents that the housing shortage in Memphis would be helped by the closing of the army air field in Childress, but so far this has had no effect here.

Strangely enough, the housing shortage is prevalent throughout the nation. Even hotels are filled to the limit every night in the cities, and reservations have to be made weeks in advance.

Very few houses in Memphis have disappeared during the war. The cause of the local shortage has been blamed by the creation of many new families, since a large number of returning servicemen who postponed their marriages until after the war are now getting married and looking for apartments or houses of their own.

MRS. D. L. C. KINARD ATTENDS P-TA MEET

Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, president of the 8th District of the Parent-Teacher Association, returned last Saturday from Austin, where she had attended a meeting of the state board of managers of the P-T. A. Dates for the annual meeting of the 8th district were set as April 25-26. The meeting will be held in Dalhart.

Social Security Representative to Be Here Tuesday

A representative of the Amarillo field office of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance will be in Memphis Tuesday, January 22, it was announced this week. He will work from the Memphis Chamber of Commerce office.

The representative will receive applications for social security account number cards, or applications for duplicates from wage earners, applications for employer identification numbers from employers, and claims applications from persons over age 65, or from survivors of deceased wage earners, who were covered by the social security program.

Anyone desiring to see this representative may write to the social security board field office at Amarillo for an appointment; or leave word at the chamber of commerce office requesting the representative to call on him while in Memphis, it was explained.

Legion to Meet Twice Monthly

The Chas. R. Simmons Post of the American Legion will meet twice monthly in the future instead of only once, it was decided at the regular meeting last Thursday night.

In the future, regular meetings will be held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. Previously, meetings were held only on the second Thursday.

The Legion will sponsor a dance, open to the public, Friday night. Music will be furnished by Gibson's Legionnaires.

Dick Vallance Gets Army Discharge

Pfc. Dick Vallance has returned to Memphis after more than 11 months in Europe. Pfc. Vallance is the son of Mrs. C. J. McBride of Weatherford, and his wife and two children, Cherrye and Richard, have been making their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Dennis of Memphis, during his absence.

Dick entered the Army August 1, 1944, and received his basic training at Camp Robinson, Ark. He went overseas in January, 1945, and served with the 83rd Division of the 9th Army. He landed in New Jersey January 1 and received his discharge at Fort Sam Houston, January 9.

Prior to his entry into the Army, he was manager of the M System Grocery in Clarendon but has not decided what he will do at the present. He, his wife, and their children will visit this week-end in Weatherford with his mother.

that were doing business when Mr. McCool came to Memphis." It should have been, "businesses on the square." Now comes his statement:

"A correction, Claude—I plead guilty to all you charged 'the old barber' with as to the hair and whiskers cut by me making quite a lengthy string, but I don't know how far it is around the world. I said, or should have said, the following individuals are the only ones doing business on the square—Edwin Thompson, R. H. Wherry, R. S. Greene, Luther Barnes, S. S. Montgomery—just six of us left since 1913."

Anyway you take it, 33 years is a long time to be in one business in one town, and I hope C. W. stays well and active for many years more.

A perfectly healthy and growing drouth came to a sudden and magnificent end here first of the week when overtaken by Old Man Weather and given a knockout dose of rain and snow. And it all came about very unexpectedly to the organization of weather prophets, "one of whom of which," as Boyce House expresses it.

Winter wheat pastures should be greatly improved as a result of the fine season, and farmers will likely do a lot of plowing right away.

The Democrat received a post card last week from Mrs. Walter R. Lamb, the contents of which is given:

"My husband and I spent Tuesday night in Memphis. We wonder if the town realizes how very nice it is to have a manager of a picture show—The Ritz—who smiles and thanks one for attending the show. That is Texas hospitality of the first order, and as we have been out of Texas for years, I just wanted to tell you, for the town, we do appreciate that smile very much."

It is a good idea—one that all business people might adopt and put into practice. Make Memphis the Friendly Town at all times.

Can you top this? R. R. Thompson has two peach trees and an almond bush in his yard that all the freezes and frosts of this winter have not killed the leaves. They have the green foliage just like during last summer.

Red Cross Rooms Open on Thursdays

The American Red Cross rooms will be open each Thursday from 2 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon, Mrs. Virginia Dodson, production chairman, said this week, and all persons who can be urged to be present and help cut and sew for the children overseas.

"I will be glad if the chapter chairman from the out-of-town communities will call for material to be made into children's garments," Mrs. Dodson added.

J. W. Coppedge in Race for Office of Assessor-Collector

J. W. Coppedge of Estelline has authorized The Democrat to announce his candidacy for the office of County Tax Assessor-Collector of Hall County, subject to the action of the democratic primary in July.

Mr. Coppedge, recently released from the U. S. Navy, is 30 years of age, 27 years of which have been spent at Estelline. He is a graduate of Southern Methodist University with the class of 1940, where he took a number of courses in business administration.

While in the Navy, Mr. Coppedge was serving aboard the U. S. S. Barnstable, which participated in the landings on Palau, Leyte, Luzon, and Okinawa. He served 40 months in the armed services.

Following his graduation from S. M. U., Mr. Coppedge taught in state high schools for two years, and then entered the service after the outbreak of the war.

In announcing for the office, Mr. Coppedge, son of Mrs. Bess Coppedge of Estelline, made the following statement:

"It is my belief that I will be fully qualified to fulfill the duties of this office, since I have had considerable training in business and office work.

"I have never asked for public office before. It is my intention to see each voter of the county personally before election time if possible. I will, however, take this means of soliciting your help and support in the coming election. If elected, I promise to carry out the duties of the office in an efficient and courteous manner, and will always be helpful to those who have occasion to do business at the assessor-collector's office."

It writes under water, and is guaranteed to write 2 years without refilling. The Reynolds Pen at The Democrat.

Act of March 3, 1879

IF YOU'RE IN A HURRY — THEN SLOW DOWN

PROSPERITY is a wonderful thing, but that same feeling of well-being can bring about disastrous results in many cases, and often does just that.

At the present time there is a feeling of prosperity in the air; that air when inhaled has an intoxicating effect and that effect is showing itself in the way in which people are driving since the close of the war.

While the war was in progress, speed limits were drastically cut, to enable motorists to save gas, which was rationed, and tires, which were rationed. But rationing on gas and on tires is now off, the speed limit has been raised to 60 miles per hour—and most of the drivers are doing their utmost to make that limit or to exceed it.

Unfortunately the end of tire rationing did not mean the end of tire trouble. Tires are still hard to get, regardless of how much money you have, and some of the old tires just won't hold up at high speeds.

Tires, therefore, are causing many accidents today. Another good reason for many accidents is the scarcity of good automobiles. Most of the cars on the highways today are over six years old, and very few of them are of the 1946 vintage.

As a result of this, there are many defects in the cars you see on our highways today. These cars have withstood the days during the war, mainly because people were not able to replace the old jalopy.

A large number of the accidents on the highways today are caused by faulty brakes, bad headlights, no tail lights, faulty steering gear, etc. An old car simply is not as safe as a new one, especially when motorists continue to drive them as fast as they did when the cars were new.

The new car situation is still not rosy by any means. Even if the labor unions were willing to work for what they are getting, the auto situation would be a long time in being cleared. General Motors has not produced one new car for almost two months, and other companies are not doing much better due to the numerous strikes. So motorists cannot plan on buying a new car very soon.

Due to faulty tires and faulty cars, motorists should be careful in driving. Auto accidents have increased almost tenfold in the past six months. It is bad enough to ruin your car; it won't do you any good in a auto graveyard. But then you won't do it any harm—or good, either—if you are in a graveyard. Not even the jeep is small enough to drive around in a caasket.

Press Paragraphs

SELECTED FROM THE
DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Unrest

The Stanton Reporter: Much interest prevails among our own people . . . robberies, killings, drivers of automobiles rushing down the highways with throttles wide open . . . cars turning over and colliding taking an enormous toll of life. Labor and capital at dagger's point over the wage problem . . . factory plants idle. All this unrest is the aftermath of war. Conditions will adjust themselves, and the country will get back on an even keel. The earlier that period arrives, will not be too soon.

Quite True

Douglas Meador in the Matorador Tribune: Although the wolf and opportunity may both knock at the same door, they remain as strangers.

So Is This True

Ed Bishop in the Dalhart Texan: President Truman asks the people to express to their congressmen their opinion on legislation proposed to prevent inflation, deflation, unemployment, and race discrimination. This is democracy at work, but unfortunately less than one per cent of the people will respond. And ninety per cent of those who do "put the pressure on Congress" will do so for selfish interests and with little thought of the public good.

The Pay Off

The Tulia Herald: The country is facing the worst housing shortage in its history. The housing shortage is said to be due to the fact that too many people bought automobiles instead of building homes. The pay day has arrived.

The Bomb

The Quannah Tribune-Chief: Many people worry about their fate since the discovery of the atomic bomb. It is interesting as well as distressing to know that cancer killed more people, in fact twice as many, in the U. S. between Pearl Harbor and V-J Day than did the Japs and Germans and now the American Cancer Society seeks information from wartime research on atomic energy as a cure for the disease. The bomb is a success as an instrument of destruction, but if its development proves an aid in the cure of cancer, human society will be better off for the discovery.

Forgotten

The Ochiltree County Herald: One trouble with the theory that buying power can be increased by merely boosting wages is that it forgets the people who do not live by wages. The only effect they feel is the higher prices that sudden wage boosts help bring about. A large portion of Americans do not live by wages. Farmers are a good example. So are doctors, dentists, lawyers, and those who run small shops and stores. Even more seriously affected are such people as ministers, teachers, and government employees of all kinds—and the millions of men and women who live on insurance benefits, pensions, or life savings. Their buying power does not go up. It goes down. The fact is, the rising prices that follow general wage increases tend to eat up the gains that wage earners seem to have made. There are about a dozen sides to these wage-demand strikes—and they should not be forgotten.

The Advantage

The Canyon News: The football season is over. Coaches whose teams won are being wined and dined. Those whose teams lost are looking for new jobs. At times we think we have a pretty hard job, and wonder whether it is worth while. But we have never heard of a football coach who was able to stay in the same college for 35 years. Being a country newspaper man has its advantages, after-all.

What It Takes

The Foard County News: Towns cannot expect to gain in advantages or prosperity or population, without a good deal of pushing being done. A community is like an automobile, which does not move unless someone puts fuel into it. So a town in order to make progress, needs to burn a lot of fuel consisting of personal effort, organization, and enthusiasm.

Change Necessary

The Floyd County Hesperian: We just wonder if the cattlemen of West Texas are going to have to turn cotton growers in self-protection. The shortage of high concentrate of protein is making the cattlemen, including the dairy man, really go into a brown study. Whether his thoughts include the possibility that he will have to go to growing his own protein we do not know.

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, earaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

Hall County Has Huge Job Ahead in Repairing and Remodeling Homes

More than $491,000 is expected to be spent during the next five years by Hall County home owners on remodeling and repair work.

The year 1946 promises to inaugurate one of the greatest eras in American history for home repairs and modernization, according to estimates released by the Council of America. "Few developments will contribute more to employment and general prosperity in any community," according to R. E. Jordan, chairman of the Council's Residential Construction Committee.

Because of lack of materials and manpower during the war, majority of the county's 3,925 dwelling units are in need of some kind of repair or remodeling work. Kitchen improvements and modernization of bathrooms, installation of tiled showers, and in some homes addition of a second bathroom are among the most wanted major improvements, Jordan said.

Outside paint jobs are needed on more than 50 per cent of the homes, and addition of rooms and reconstruction of porches also rank high in remodeling plans, according to the report. New roofing

Housing, Highways Do Not Clash in Need of Material

Highway construction will not interfere with launching the sorely-needed housing construction program, according to a study of six groups of critical building materials just completed by the Federal Works Agency, Charles M. Upham, engineer-director of the American Road Builders' Association, points out in a bulletin sent recently to his organization. "The belief that road building might hamper housing is dispelled by this evidence," said Mr. Upham.

For 1946, FWA economists estimate the requirements of cast iron soil pipe and fittings at 160,000 tons. Highways require practically none.

Housing in 1946 will use 1 billion, 850 million unglazed brick. Highways will use 33 million or about one per cent of the total production.

Housing will use 250 million feet of structural insulation board in 1946. Highways have no requirements in this group.

Next year's requirements of gypsum board by housing will be 1 billion, 335 million feet. Again highways do not require this material. Structural clay tile requirements are estimated at 140,000 tons. None for highways.

Housing will take 61-2 billion board feet of lumber, exclusive of millwork and flooring, while highways will require only 270 million, or about one per cent of the total production.

"These figures indicate that from the standpoint of critical materials, both housing and highway programs can get under way at once without stepping on each other's toes," Mr. Upham's bulletin concludes.

Joe Allen of Dallas visited his son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Beckham and Mr. and Mrs. Harlie Taylor were Amarillo visitors Thursday.

Pfc. and Mrs. Jack Battle of Denver are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott. Pfc. Battle will report to Florida at the end of his 15-day furlough, and Mrs. Battle plans to remain in Memphis for the present.

Butter, Butter Where Is the Butter

Removing the point requirements for the purchase of butter has not made that product any easier to find. On the contrary, most housewives are finding their favorite spread harder than ever to get. This scarcity is causing these homemakers to ask what has become of the butter.

The answer is not hard to find, states the National Dairy Council. The removal by the government of restrictions on fluid milk sales sent consumption of that product, already at an all-time high, to still greater levels. At the same time the removal of restrictions on sales of fluid cream and ice cream sent consumption of these products soaring and made further inroads upon the amount of milk and cream available for butter manufacture.

In October only eighty-nine million pounds of factory-made butter were made in the United States as compared with one hundred million pounds in the same month of 1944, and over one hundred thirty-six million pounds in October of 1941. Even though milk production is at the highest levels in history, the demands for milk, ice cream and fluid cream, all of which return a higher price to the farmer, are so high as to leave less milk for the manufacturing of butter than at any time in the past twenty-five years.

The American people can't have their butterfat in other forms and have butter too. There is encouragement, however, for those who crave the flavor and the taste of butter as a spread, on vegetables, and in cooking. The seasonal low point in fluid production for the year is passing. The total amount of milk produced will increase gradually until next June, and with it butter production is expected to increase to nearly twice as much in the month of June as in November. add that they are fortunate too that the audience can't reach them.

H. W. Spear Seeks Precinct 2 Office Of Commissioner

H. W. Spear of Lakeview has authorized The Democrat to announce his candidacy for re-election as County Commissioner of Precinct No. 2, subject to the action of the democratic primary in July.

Mr. Spear, in announcing for the office, made the following statement:

"With my experience during the past three years as serving as your commissioner, I feel that I am much better qualified to act in this capacity than in the past. During the war, we were forced to do without quite a number of personal items, and this same shortage has been experienced by your county officials. It seems that the county commissioners have especially had a hard time trying to serve properly due to the extreme shortage of machinery and aid in keeping their part of the county in proper condition.

"Now with the war over, and materials becoming more plentiful, it is my sincere belief that I will make you a better official than ever before, not only in the work which I will carry out, but also in aiding in administering the affairs of the county.

"I want to take this means of expressing my appreciation for the support you have given me in the past, and also I wish to thank you for your consideration during the past three years when materials for necessary work have been short. I will try to see each voter personally before the election. I especially want to export for another term."

Three Memphians Given Discharges

Three Memphians were recently discharged from the U. S. Navy at the separation center in Norman, Okla., it was learned this week.

The three men were James Byron Baldwin, apprentice seaman who was attending the Baylor Dental Clinic while serving in the Navy; Cecil Clark Evans, seaman second-class, who has served aboard the escort carrier, U. S. S. Charger; and Edgar Ivy Jouett, carpenter's mate third-class, who has served ten months in the Pacific area.

Louis Browning Has 30 Days Home

Louis R. (Luke) Browning, yeoman second-class, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Browning, for the first time in many months.

Out of his 25 months in the Navy, Luke spent 23 months of that time in the Pacific. After he left Seattle, Wash., he sailed to the Aleutians, then to Panama, to several coastal cities of South America, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, Tokyo, and home.

After 30 days here, Browning will report to Dallas for further assignment.

March of Dimes Symbol

For millions of Americans, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who refused to accept defeat from infantile paralysis, symbolized the nation's fight against the Great Crippler organized and directed by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which the late President founded. The above poster was prepared by the National Foundation for its 1946 March of Dimes, January 14-31.

Former Residents In Cyclone Area

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allen, who left Memphis last summer to make their home a few miles from Lufkin, were in the path of the cyclone that swept East Texas Friday night, January 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen reported that the storm tore the roof and ceiling off the house, drenching them and everything they owned with rain. It tore all the window shades, curtains, and paper from the walls and blew the mattresses from the beds. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Allen were hurt.

Mr. Allen stated that at one time he was really worried, when a tree blew down on their car and they couldn't move the car. They then walked to a neighbor's and spent the rest of the night.

This year the Chanter groups have already been responsible for about 75 programs, including several week-end trips, a performance at the Messiah at Christmas time, several programs at the meeting of the Northwest Texas Conference, and many other local engagements.

Gypsy Ted Sullivan Wylie, head of the fine arts department of the college, is director of the group. Louise Spiegelmirre is the accompanist.

Officers Spending Terminal Leave Allowed to Work

The West Texas Army Recruiting Headquarters has received information which will be of importance to many commissioned officers now on terminal leave prior to separation from service Lt. Col. Robert L. Hardy, district recruiting officer stated recently.

Of importance to many officers now on leave is the information that under provisions of Public Law 226 dated November 21, 1945, personnel of the armed forces who performed active service since May 1, 1940, may accept civilian employment with the U. S. Government while on terminal leave pending separation and receive pay for such leave in addition to pay for civilian position. If such persons have already relinquished all or part of authorized terminal leave in order to accept civilian employment, claim for terminal leave pay may be presented to disbursing officer for payment if proper. This is also applicable to individuals employed by state agencies, or political subdivisions thereof.

to their homes and feeding them. The bus driver said that Hedley citizens were to be complimented for the fine treatment accorded to the stranded strangers.

Tuesday night one of the buses left in Memphis went to Hedley, picked up the passengers there, and took them on to Wichita Falls. As a result only the driver of the stranded bus was forced to spend the night here.

The local telephone company experienced difficulties when some of the poles between here and Eli were felled by the excess weight of snow and ice. The poles are being repaired as quickly as possible.

There were bruises galore on many Memphians as the ice and snow which had partially melted Tuesday froze hard Tuesday night, and the local citizens were unable to avoid falling in some instances. No serious injuries from falls were reported, however.

Local auto drivers likewise found the streets slick and hazardous, but no serious collisions or wrecks were reported as happening in town. Sloppy streets were due for two or three days, however, as the snow and ice began melting Tuesday morning.

The weather was so cold and disagreeable, with the snow still falling, Tuesday that few Memphians managed to clean their sidewalks. As a result it was not uncommon to see many people seeking the ruts on the streets as a place to make their ways home or to work.
